GOALS NEAR FOR FAST TIME AT MEET

KEEN ICE, NO WIND AND CLEAR SKY FAVORABLE TO SKATERS AND FANS

Big Exodus From City to Lily Lake Anticipated—Record Breaking Crowd is Expected at Tomorrow's Session With Half Holiday Generally Observed.

IDEAL skating weather, with the thermometer well above the zero mark and the wind at a standstill—a splendid condition for record-breaking time—greeted the classiest field of amateur speed-skaters ever gathered together on this continent, this afternoon at Lily Lake for the opening day of the world's championship meet with Gus Thunberg, Olympic champion, defending his crown. Had the committee in charge been able to choose at will the day for the races, they could not have made a better choice than today. Early this morning the temperature was 9 below zero, and shortly after 11 rose to 6 below. At 11 o'clock this morning, as the whistles and sirens throughout the city announced that the races would be held, the mercury was touching 10 above and still rising. Joe Tabin, from Lily Lake, reported the ice could not be better, being as smooth as bottle glass.

Thus, every factor to make for fast time and big crowds are present today.

TOMORROW'S EVENTS. Prospects for tomorrow are equally as good and with practically all the stores and institutions declaring a half-holiday, the committee in charge confidently expects that from 20,000 to 25,000 will view the events carded, they being the three-quarter mile, the 800 yards and the two mile in the seniors.

The first race of the day tomorrow will be the first heat of the 800 yards. Charlie Gorman makes his appearance in the second heat, while Gus Thunberg, Finland, is in the fourth heat. First, second and third in each heat qualify for the semi-finals. There are five qualifying heats for this event.

There are five heats also in the three-quarter mile, Thunberg appearing in the first heat and Gorman in the final heat. First, second and third will skate in the semi-finals. The entire field will be sent away for the mile, the final event on tomorrow's card. All told, there are 35 events tomorrow.

LAP PRIZES. It was announced this morning at skating headquarters that lap prizes had been donated for the three laps by the following: The three laps were donated a sweater for the mile race today while for the two-miles there will be a pair of breeches from W. H. Murray & Rising Ltd., for the leader of the most laps in the two-miles. A club bag will be the lap prize for the five-miles, the gift of Manchester, Robertson, Allison Ltd.

This evening, the visiting press representatives and skating officials will be entertained at a dinner at the Admiral Beatty Hotel with acting Mayor Frink in the chair. Tomorrow night, the visitors will have dinner at the C. P. R. Hotel, Montreal, and following that will take in the Halifax-Saint John hockey game at the Arena. Following the banquet tonight, the visitors will be guests on the Skating Association at the Armory house.

MARKET TO CLOSE. It was announced the city market would close tomorrow for the whole holiday. The members of the Wholesale Grocers' Association also will close as well as most of the city stores.

K. J. MacRae, secretary of the local boxing commission, announced this morning that everything in connection with the Armory bouts tonight was O. K. All the boxes were on hand and licenses issued for the bouts.

Another big feature tonight will be the choosing of "Miss Saint John" for 1926 at the Arena tonight. The winner will be picked from among the lady skaters on the ice by a committee of judges, the names of which will not be announced until after the selection has been made.

Suzanne And Helen Are Not Ardent Lovers

CANNES, France, Jan. 26.—The social amenities between Helen Willis, the United States tennis champion, and Suzanne Legien, French star, are rigidly correct off the courts, say their friends, but they are anything but intimate. Cool nods are exchanged by Helen and Suzanne as they pass one another. Friends declare that they are studiously avoiding each other and withholding oral bouquets regarding the superb tennis each is capable of.

THREE VESSELS IN DISTRESS; MORE DELAYED

Two Seamen Drown Trying Rescue in Atlantic Storm. A TERRIFIC GALE. More Than 6,000 Passengers Aboard Two Big Ships, Delayed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Taking toll of life and property, a powerful gale swept trans-Atlantic shipping lanes last night. The steamship Leviathan was barely able to make progress against the storm inland bound.

The Aquitania was battered almost to a standstill, and blinding snow and fog were adding to the perils of the gale.

Reports also came from Norfolk, Va., that a ship believed to be the Corvus, en route from Portland, Ore. to New York, was in distress off Martinique.

LEVIATHAN O. K. A message from the United States liner Leviathan to the Associated Press, last night reported "all well and happy, no accidents."

The first S. O. S. call from the Leviathan was picked up at 7 o'clock last night, and broadcast on the Atlantic coast was immediately stopped.

Among other liners in the storm are the Caledonia, Columbus, Dullio, Edison, France, Giuseppe Verdi, Lithuania, Montreal, Regina, Transylvania and Zealand. The Lithuania and Zealand, due in Halifax yesterday, were held up by the rough weather off the Nova Scotia coast.

Tragedy and science shared the air again last night. While the cur language of dots and dashes told of the death of two men in the raging Atlantic, in a futile rescue effort, and of the plight of sinking ships, music broadcast in the third international broadcasting tests sang above the storm of disaster.

DROWN IN RESCUE. The two drowned seamen were volunteers from the United States liner President Roosevelt, who were washed from lifeboats as they tried to reach the battered and flooded British freighter Antonio to rescue the crew. Further north, the British steamer Larian was allowed in the menacing seas with her bulkheads stove in, while the German steamer Bremen raced to her side.

THREE PLEAD GUILTY. Those pleading guilty were Mrs. D. Martin, in whose home Nusbbaum's body was concealed after he had been lured into an automobile and beaten to death, and Edward Goff, and Marion Stringham, who have declared that they killed Nusbbaum.

Winn, in an alleged confession, accused Goff of the actual killing.

UNITY OF QUEBEC CONSERVATIVES SEEN

PLEAS FOR CO-OPERATION EXPRESSED BY FAUTEUX AND PATENEAUD AT BANQUET. Canadian Press. MONTREAL, Jan. 26.—Unity among the Conservative elements of Quebec was foreseen last night when a complimentary banquet, tendered to Arthur Marcotte, of Pontec, Sask., there were gathered at the same table Hon. E. L. Pateneaud, Hon. Andre Fauteux, Arthur Sauve, leader of the provincial Conservative opposition in the legislature, and others.

A telegram was read from Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, expressing best wishes for the banquet.

Mr. Fauteux in a brief address said the meeting permitted him to foresee soon, the most complete and the most absolute unity.

"The sooner it comes, the better," said Mr. Fauteux.

Hon. Mr. Pateneaud emphasized that he desired unity of doctrine, of direction and of authority, because in that lay real strength.

The results of the last elections in Quebec had been extraordinarily good, he said. Out of every seven electors in the province four had gone Liberal and three Conservative.

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands, Jan. 26.—Commander Franco and two other Spanish aviators today resumed their flight from Spain to Argentina. They hopped off for the Cape Verde Islands, a distance of 1,050 miles, at 8:20 a.m. in their plane.

The take-off was made from the surface of Gando Bay, south of here, where the aviators flew yesterday.

BIG JUMP AHEAD. After two days' rest will come a big jump across the Atlantic to Pernambuco, Brazil, a distance of 1,711 miles. The plane last Friday left Pinos, Spain, whence Columbus sailed to discover a new world. The first leg of the flight, about 870 miles, was accomplished in eight hours.

The fliers are aiming for St. Vincent, which they hope to reach this evening. The start was auspicious, the seaplane circling the bay for several minutes before pointing its nose toward the southwest.

All the ships in the lane of flight were notified by wireless of the aviators' departure. The Spanish gunboat Infanta Isabel is stationed about midway.

The woman was left there, she reported to the police.

She was picked up, unconscious, by a passing motorist and brought back to the city for medical attention.

He modified the total forfeiture of pay and allowances, however, to permit Mitchell to receive during his suspension half of his non-flying pay and certain living allowances "at the pleasure of the President."

RUSS-CHINESE WAR BELIEVED AVERTED. Railway General Manager is Released by Order of Gen. Chang. Canadian Press. Moscow thus feels immensely relieved by the favorable outcome of the controversy which threatened to disturb the peace of the whole Far East.

AGREEMENT SIGNED. An agreement was signed yesterday between the Russian consul-general at Mukden and the Chinese authorities for an immediate resumption of traffic, and the transport of Chinese troops on the financial basis heretofore existing.

The question of compensation for the losses Russia has sustained through the action of Chang Tso Lin and the Manchurian authorities will be fixed later by mutual agreement. Other questions connected with the dispute will be subject to further discussion.

Vocational Classes Enrollment Reported 75 P. C. Over Strength

Steady Growth in Attendance Means Much to New Brunswick

The vocational trade courses being held in the machine and motor mechanics shops of the new Vocational School, under the Provincial Board, are now in full swing with an enrollment of more than 75 per cent. over strength.

STEADY GROWTH

"Every year the enrollment has enlarged and men who would otherwise have been lost to the province have been kept at home and at the same time given an opportunity to improve themselves in their trades," said Mr. Main, of the Provincial Vocational Department, as an experiment and since that time the work has expanded and become recognized by the trades concerned.

CONFIDENCE OF TRADE

In both departments numbers of outside repair jobs have been taken which shows the confidence of the trade in the work being done and it is hoped that the local welders and motor mechanics will visit the classes and take an active interest in the work going on.

STORAGE BATTERY COURSE

In the storage battery course a special feature this year will be the introduction of the new and latest method of battery charging in eight hours instead of 48 to 72 hours with the system now in use.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN relieves constipation because it is 100% BRAN

Mr. McEnery tried part-bran substitutes — but only ALL-BRAN brought complete relief. Here's what he says: "For fifteen years I was constantly bothered with constipation. About two years ago I tried out mixed bran and corn flakes but did not get much relief. Some eighteen months ago, I began using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. From the first week to this good day, I have never had to take a dose of any laxative medicine of any description."

THE MARITIMES AND THE WEST.

An interesting feature of the situation at Ottawa is found in an invitation from the whip of the Progressives to the Maritime Province members, suggesting a conference with the western group in order to talk over Maritime demands, and, incidentally no doubt, to give the Progressives a chance to submit their principal needs and wants to the Maritime delegation.

Odds and Ends

Left-Handed People are Said to Be Brainer.

IF YOU had lived at any time in the period 2500 B.C. to A.D. 1500, and had been left-handed, you would have been regarded as one highly favored by the gods and far superior to ordinary folk.

Whether nature compensates the left-handed by endowing them with special talents is a matter of speculation. The fact, however, remains that the left-handed are, in brain power, far superior to the right-handed.

Princes and Kings strut out their little day; Proud empires crumble 'neath Time's withering breath; Systems and creeds wax cold and pass away.

But thou—Auld Scotia's humble plowman bard! What potent magic fires thy native That can the powers of Time and Death retard;

Still 'fresh and fair' as Doons own 'bonnie brigs.' A goodly throng have struck the tuneful lyre;

Their songs grow faint and perish from the mind, But thine abideth, still a living fire, To charm and cheer the heart of all mankind!

The Best of Advice

—BY CLARK KINNAIRD.

MR. RUPERT HUGHES, for stating some things about Washington that are neither new nor remarkable, is being criticized by some of the unthinking Patriots.

Why try to place a halo around George Washington? He was a man, a soldier, a capitalist, typifying the Southern gentleman of his time.

When we think of Washington, and Lincoln, too, let us consider them not as super-men, but as humans, with weaknesses of men, but with more strength than most of us.

THE school books (and most of their biographers) paint us portraits of a Washington and a Lincoln that never existed. The Lincoln we know is more real than the popular conception of Washington, but even the Lincoln of our time is different in many vital respects from the Lincoln who lived.

WASHINGTON and Lincoln were great, but they also were human!

Timely Views On World Topics

FOR every college matriculate whose lack of brain ability, or lack of preparatory training, wrecks his college career, at least ten failures because they were totally unprepared for the intoxicating freedom, the fascinating diversions and 'animal temptations' of college life during the 'fool kid' period which so often precedes and initiates real manhood," contends Dr. Henry Louis Smith, president of Washington and Lee University.

Dr. Smith has framed a list of examination questions which he believes every young man about to enter college should ask himself:

"Are you enough of a grown-up, well-bred man to carry through a gentleman's daily personal routine, with out a word of advice or suggestion or command from anybody? Let us examine a few leading items of this daily routine, and test your preparation.

"Do you, with reasonable regularity, go to bed at some fixed hour and rise punctually at some fixed time, with no one to remind you or order or awaken you?"

"Have you formed the settled habit of personal cleanliness, with thoroughly washed hands and ears and head and body all the time, with clean linen and shoes and nails properly cared for every day, with the habit of attending to your laundry and knowing where your various personal belongings are?"

"Are you in the habit of gorging your food in big mouthfuls, washing each down with a gulp of liquid, and eating ten or twelve minutes long enough to eat plenty of grub till the next feeding time?"

"I meant, what did you and the defendant talk over?" "Yes, sir," was the calm rejoinder of Pat. "We talked over the tilphoo, sir."

HENRY's wife had gone to another city to consult a doctor. Henry celebrated the occasion by sending the children to their grandmother, and inviting some friends out for a poker party. While the game was in session the telephone rang.

"Western Union speaking," said the impersonal voice on the phone. "Telegram for Mr. Henry Smith."

"Read it," said Henry, nervously. "Regret to hear your wife has tumor signed F. B. Hopkins, M. D." Smith dropped the receiver and turned a white face to his friends.

"My God, boys," he said, "my wife has twins!"

THE POLITICIANS. (Ottawa Journal.) Speaking in Toronto the other day Mr. Justice Riddell paid his respects to the people who look down, or profess to look down, upon politicians and politicians. Thus: "A politician is one who takes an interest in the affairs of his country, in how it is governed and how its revenues are spent."

Many people who think themselves among the best people in this country could profitably cut out these words and pin them in a conspicuous place in their offices or homes.

Maritime Members Asked To Meet Westerners on Wednesday

WILL BE REQUESTED TO OUTLINE PROBLEMS

Reduction of Grain Rates on Transcontinental Urged By Ports

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—The first move to aid the Maritime Provinces in the gaining of their rights has come from the Progressive group. H. E. Spencer, whip of the Western group, issued this morning an invitation to all the Maritime members, Liberals and Conservatives alike, to meet the Progressive group in a conference on Wednesday.

It is not known whether or not the Maritime members will accept the invitation. In a sense it would mean the breaking down of party lines and this might prove to be an insurmountable obstacle. If the conference takes place, however, there will be a mutual interchange of views and the Progressives will lay before the Easterners the reforms which they have nearest their hearts.

Meanwhile, a concerted movement by the Maritime Provinces at the port of Quebec for the purpose of obtaining a reduction of grain rates east bound on the National Transcontinental to make possible the justification of that railway and the increase of business through the Canadian Atlantic ports has started.

HEARING APPLIED FOR

Applications have been received by the Dominion Railway Board from the Quebec Harbor Commission or Quebec port interests and the Maritime ports for a hearing on this vital question and it is expected that the board will very soon announce a date for the hearing.

OTHER PLANS SUGGESTED

Two other solutions that have been suggested are: First, have parliament establish a statutory rate for this grain eastbound over the Transcontinental, but there would be considerable opposition to such a move as it would in the end mean a repetition of the Crow's Nest pact trouble. Another is that the Canadian National of its own volition should lower the rate, but those intimate with the situation look for the readiest and most satisfactory solution from the railway board in which is vested ample power for dealing with such an emergency.

It was reported here today that the Montreal interests who applied for the revision of the Pacific rates order and whose application was last week thrown out owing to a tie vote on the board, are not likely to appeal from that decision to the Supreme Court of Canada, in spite of the statement to the contrary made by Eugene Lafleur, K.C., counsel for the Montreal Central Exchange, on the last day of last September's hearing on this case.

This decision has been reached by representatives of about 2,000 Canadian sardine fishermen at meetings held at several places in New Brunswick by John F. Calder, Canadian Fisheries Inspector.

YARMOUTH, Jan. 25.—When he tried to separate two fighting dogs one of them grabbed Alvin L. Mr. Chipman had gone to the post office, taking with him his half grown Boston bull terrier, which at the office got into a fight with another dog. Mr. Chipman went to stop them and as he did so the other dog caught him by the leg and took a very firm hold. He was unable to make the animal let go its hold and was forced to pry the dog's jaws apart with his right hand, which was also very severely injured about the thumb and fingers.

ONE DIES AS HOME BURNS

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 25.—Robert Ramsay, president of the Ramsay Searlett Company, steamship agents, was burned to death when fire destroyed his home Sunday night.

$12,000 DAMAGE IS DONE IN STIFF FIRE

Bakery, Store and Apartments Destroyed in Campbellton Blaze Yesterday CAMPBELLTON, Jan. 25.—Fire destroyed the two-story Gillis Building, owned by J. Elias, early this morning. The total loss, including that of A. Thomas, who conducted a store on the lower floor, damages to the fixtures and stock of the Smith Bakery, and the loss suffered by the tenants of the flats upstairs, has been estimated at about $12,000. The building was covered with tin and asbestos and the smoke from the blaze, coupled with the low temperature, the thermometer hovering around the zero mark, made the firemen's task a difficult one. They fought the blaze for six hours. The alarm was rung in at 2 a. m., and the firemen quickly responded. At once they set five streams of water on the blaze. The origin of the fire is unknown but it had taken a good hold in the kitchen of the Smith Bakery, which occupied the eastern store, and spread rapidly to the flat upstairs. The all out was sounded at 7.50 a. m. W. R. Scriven, of Halifax, and Wm. Sharkey, of Boston, arrived in the city yesterday to be present at the world's skating championship meet.

The Middle-Aged Wife Who Has Turned Flapper—Advice to an Ambitious Young Man Engaged to a Pleasure-Mad Girl—Hints on How to be Popular.

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married for thirty-five years and have done my best to make my wife happy, but for some reason it seems that I have failed. She is more than 80 years old. We have four married children, and one grown daughter at home, not married. Now nearly every night my wife goes off with my daughter to a card party, or dance, or somewhere, and leaves me sitting at home alone.

DOROTHY DIX

The middle-aged wife who turns flapper isn't so common as the middle-aged man who turns shak, but she occurs now and then, and the poor man who has done his best to be a good husband and make his wife happy is just as bewildered and helpless in the situation as is the poor woman who has tried to be a good wife, and who has never dreamed that her John wasn't satisfied until he is up and bolted.

The reason why so many men and women who have been sane and sensible for fifty years suddenly seem to lose their poles, and let go all hold on their common sense and their morals, and do foolish and silly things they spend the balance of their lives regretting, is easy enough to understand.

It is a violent reaction against the monotony of domesticity, for one thing. For another thing, they realize that it is their last call to the dining car. Their youth is almost gone. They are nearly done with any possibility of romance. The twinges of rheumatism and the stiffness in their joints warn them that this is their final dance. And, for another thing, it is the first leisure they have had to enjoy themselves since they married. They have been too busy making money and bringing up children to have had time to think about their own pleasures.

But, at 50, the strain cases. The man who turns rounder has gotten on Easy Street. Otherwise, he stays in the straight and narrow path, because the girls who want to play around with a middle-aged man are expert gold diggers who waste no effort on poor prospects. The woman's children are settled in life. Her hands are idle. She becomes restless and dissatisfied, and she begins to wonder if she has not done her best. So she looks her hair and paints her face and buys foolish clothes, and tries to work up a synthetic youth by running with young people.

In both cases it is as pitiful an exhibition of human folly as we ever called upon to witness. And it is heart-breaking experience for the poor husband or wife who are left behind. But if they will fight the patient, and let their prodigal spouses have their fling, they will come home to them, humbled and chastened, and thoroughly cured of the belief that there can be two springtimes in a life. They have found out that they are old; that they cannot tread a measure with youth; that they have nothing in common with youth, and that the old faithful wife or husband and the old home are best.

So bide your time. Your wife will recover from her temporary madness, and all will be well with you. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am engaged to a young lady, and expect to marry her in about two years. But this is my trouble. She is very fond of guyet, wants a big time all the time, while I work in the daytime, and am studying at night the profession which I am going to make my life work. Do you think we will be able to get along together after we are married when we have such different ideas and aspirations? She takes no interest whatever in my future. Just wants to enjoy herself now. S. P. C.

ANSWER:

I do not think that an ambitious man has a chance of happiness if he marries a pleasure-mad woman. And the match is equally unfortunate for her since she is balked as much in her heart's desire as he is in his.

When a poor and ambitious man marries an ambitious woman, she makes of her shiner on whom he climbs to success. She goes down him on by her enthusiasm. She braces him up with her courage when his own falters. Her belief in him stimulates his every power to the nth degree. There is no sacrifice she is not willing to make to help him on.

But when an ambitious man marries a woman who has no ambition, and who merely wants to have a good time, she pulls him down into the pit with her. She kills his faith in himself by always prophesying failure and minimizing his talents. She throws every obstacle in his way. She nags him about the time he gives to his work, and weeps foolish, jealous tears because he doesn't think more of her than he does of his career.

And so at last, disheartened, discouraged, he gives it up, and does the thing that will bring in the quickest money that she is so greedy for, and that gives him time to take her around to cabarets and picture shows. Many a silly wife has sold out a great genius for a few foolish little parties, and running with a cheap little crowd.

"Like to like" is a good motto in picking out a wife. Marry a woman who has the same aims and aspirations that you have if you want to be happy and make a success of marriage and of life. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—How can I acquire the gift of getting along with people and making friends? RAYMOND.

ANSWER:

The old adage says: "If you would have friends, you must show yourself friendly." I doubt if any one can improve upon that recipe for popularity.

We all instinctively like those who show that they like us, whose faces brighten at our coming, who seem to enjoy our conversation, and who show by a thousand little ways their thought of us, and their desire to promote our pleasure and happiness.

Cultivate a cordial manner in meeting strangers. Learn how to be a good listener. Lend a willing and attentive ear when people discourse to you about themselves and their affairs. Charge your memory with the things they tell you so that when you meet Mr. Jones you can ask him how he is getting along with his new radio set, or inquire of Mrs. Smith if her darling Fido has recovered from the mange.

Nothing does more to promote popularity than the religious observance of the little niceties of life, which most people are too busy and too rushed to consider. But for all that, the little note of condolence when we have had a misfortune; the flowers when we were sick; the telegram of congratulation; the postcard from some place that has some special significance to us; the small gift that shows a remembered taste or whim, make a hit with us out of all proportion to the trouble for which they call.

The golden rule for getting along with people is never to argue with them; never to try to force your opinions on them; never to interfere with their rights and privileges; never to borrow from them. The secret of popularity is treating other people as you would like them to treat you. DOROTHY DIX.

CONSTANTINOPLE DEAD.

Constantinople, that erstwhile gayest and most carefree of all cities, today is the deadest city in the world, says "The Detroit News." What were once the playgrounds of picturesque groups from all over the world are now nothing but vacant rooms, dim and gloomy. Shops that were the mecca of affluent tourists are all shut up.

The change has been brought about by the Turkish policy of excluding Greeks and other foreigners from many of the occupations they formerly loved. The closing of the Dardanelles and the Turkish restrictions hamper and interfere with transactions of every kind.

MAKE PLANS FOR MEETING HERE

Municipal Chapter I. O. D. E. Members Discuss National Conference

Project Afoot For Memorial in Honor of Sir George Parkin

Tentative plans for the annual meeting of the National Chapter of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, to be held in Saint John in June were discussed at a meeting of the Municipal chapter held yesterday afternoon in the Government rooms with Mrs. Heber Vroom, regent, presiding.

Mrs. Vroom and the first vice-regent, Mrs. F. R. Taylor, will extend the meeting of the National executive in Toronto on Feb. 3 and from that meeting will bring back full information with regard to the wishes of the National body with regard to the annual meeting arrangements.

SEEK CO-OPERATION The Municipal chapter has been in communication with the various local organizations and sent a delegation before the City Council yesterday to solicit co-operation in the entertainment of the delegates to the National meeting.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting a committee was appointed to receive nominations for officers to be elected at the meeting next month. At a meeting of the National Executive of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire held at head of

Woman Plays Poker While Hubby Toils

TAHITI, Jan. 23.—It's poker for the ladies in the South Sea Islands, while fond husbands are out at work gathering nuts or diving for pearls.

All is O. K. while the ladies win, but when Mrs. Tahamok's full house is beaten by Mrs. Tohera's ace, she is up to her eyes in tears. For when "the old man" comes home after a hard day of diving, the news that his wife has lost many lovely coconuts is apt to precipitate a wallowing. But if the gambling one can win many coconuts, so as to buy friend husband a nice plug hat, there is peace and happiness forever after.

In the game besides coconuts the natives use pearl shells.

Recently, members learned with great satisfaction of the desire on the part of the Islands of the late Sir George Parkin to create a permanent memorial in commemoration of his great services to the Empire in the field of education, this memorial to take the form of a Parkin library in the Rhodes House, Oxford.

The late Sir George Parkin was a staunch imperialist, an ardent Canadian and its affectionately remembered as a former Principal of Upper Canada College.

Sir George Parkin was a distinguished son of New Brunswick and the chapters in this province will be especially pleased that the memorial project has been undertaken.

LADY BYING BACKS MIGRATION POLICY

Says Canada Wants Races That Fit in With Saxon Stock

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—Canada's policy of encouraging immigration from Great Britain since the World War has been successful in the opinion of Lady Byng, wife of Lord Byng of Vimy, Governor-General of Canada.

"The question of settlers," she said in an address at a women's luncheon here recently, "is the vital question in Canada just now. You don't want those races that will not fit in mentally with the Anglo-Saxon stock. What you want is folk you will get from the Old Country."

"People used to say that the soldier settlement scheme failed. I find it not so. I went and saw the settlers on their farms. On every trip which His Excellency and I took in the West we visited our forces and each visited settlers—not only soldiers. We went sometimes two hundred or more miles from the railways."

The first year I visited English wives of Canadian settlers. I saw the wives alone and they said entirely what was in their minds. There was not one of them who was not glad to be there. They were homesick, naturally, but they wanted to stay. Let me here tell you that when the women want to stay that means that the men stay. The woman's attitude is the pivotal point of the settlement scheme. Get your women happy and the family stays, but otherwise, no."

"I used to be announced ahead, but now they do not know I am coming. The last time I paid surprise visits. As to furthering the men stay, that is it is no use trying to get the older people. They must be young. You can't transplant a full grown tree."

"The members of the Women's Institute in the West band together to give the settlers welcome. It is the warmth of the welcome that makes them feel at home."

Lady Byng said that she and the Governor General had covered more than eighty thousand miles in the Dominion by boat or train and in addition had gone eight or nine thousand miles more by motor car.

"No one has any right," she added, "to speak with authority about Canada who has only seen the East. Let me try to halt the book for you to go West in order to learn more of it. West. Some people say the trip is tiresome. I do not find it boring but very attractive. My first view of the Canadian Rockies was a great inspiration. I do so regret that people who can afford it will go to the South of France and some seaside resort rather than view the beauties of their own Canadian Rockies."

"We must take off our hats to the pioneers of Western Canada. No doctors, no nurses and no telegraph, but they came through courageously. Now the people in the West have the motor car, the radio and the telephone. I do want to see a telephone in every farm home. And then, too, a garden and some trees to make a break in a woman's view of farm land as well as protect the farm."

Hydro Heading Towards Still Lower Rates

Let us look at the Accountant-Secretary's report for the last six months. We see that for the same period a year previous that there was a deficit for this newly launched business of $19,597.13. We now see this figure cut down by nearly twelve thousand dollars. We count one thousand new customers. We find last December itself showing a profit of over four thousand dollars. We find Your Hydro now entering the six best months of its year. We find Hydro gaining ground. We see ahead a time to cut the light and power bills to a new low record.

That time cannot come any too soon. We find further that 40 per cent. of the current Your Hydro pays for on its contract has yet to be taken up by the Public. It can easily be taken up if those, who should do their duty to themselves and City, rise to the occasion. When they do in fair numbers, then look for a substantial drop in rates—still cheaper lighting, still cheaper electric cooking, still cheaper everything electrical, including vastly cheaper power for present and prospective Business and Industry.

Let us all BE TOGETHER in this our own personal and patriotic affair. Patronize our own business. Put over this final pull for greater and quicker prosperity, the kind that helps all our pockets both directly and indirectly.

SURPRISE MATCHES FASHION IN LONDON

Many Expected in 1926—Weddings of Interest Scheduled For Near Future

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Surprise weddings will bring the fashion in 1926. Debutante brides like to withhold the date of their wedding from their friends until the eleventh hour. The date and the hour are told by telephone a day or two before the ceremony. The bride and bridegroom in a recent exceptional case sent out invitations for their reception at the hotel had been secretly married some weeks.

An actress is often married a year before she informs her friends. Widows who marry again dislike publicity, and the favorite hour of the wedding seems to be before 9 a. m., so that only a few intimate friends will have the courage to be present.

Brides who will shortly marry include Lady Gweneth Baring, whose engagement to Captain R. Cavendish, only son of Brigadier-General E. J. Cavendish, was recently announced. Lady Gweneth is the widow of the Hon. Windham Baring.

A pretty and youthful bride will be Miss Pamela Gladstone, whose engagement to Eustace Tennyson-D'Eyncourt has interested a wide circle of friends.

Miss Gladstone, who made her debut two seasons ago, is the younger of the two pretty daughters of Mrs. W. B. Gladstone, and granddaughter of the late Sir Stewart Colvin Balfour. The bridegroom is the only son of Sir Eustace Tennyson-D'Eyncourt, formerly Director of Naval Construction at the Admiralty.

C. N. R. Will Place 120,000-Ton Order, Hon. Charles Stewart Tells House

NEEDS OF PITMEN IS AIRED IN COMMONS

Discussion is Started by Johnston; Meighen Joins Debate

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—Through immediate assistance in transporting 15,000 tons of coal to the Montreal markets and further definite placement of the 120,000-ton order for the Canadian National Railways, the Federal Government proposes to extend immediate relief to the Cape Breton coal miners, who with their families, are suffering seriously from unemployment.

This was announced by Hon. Charles Stewart in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

Precipitated into discussion before the orders were called in Parliament yesterday afternoon, unemployment conditions among Cape Breton miners occupied the attention of the house throughout the whole afternoon and evening. It was brought up by L. W. Johnston, Cape Breton, North Victoria, as a "matter of serious national importance."

To secure discussion of the House, the adjournment of the House, Cape Breton members who took part in discussions asked two relief measures, first that the government set to it that an apparently more or less tentative order for 120,000 tons of coal from Cape Breton to be banked this winter and shipped to Montreal in the spring be confirmed and put in regular form and second, that a rate corresponding to the rate granted Alberta coal to Ontario last year be given Cape Breton coal to Montreal, to the extent of 15,000 tons, on which the rate reduction would amount to $1 per ton.

They declared that the Cape Breton miners, still far in debt from the strike period last year, had no work in sight and were actually starving.

MEIGHEN ASSAILS HEAPS.
In the course of debate Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Opposition, referred to the statement made by Mr. Heaps earlier in the discussion to the effect that he was he had sent troops to Winnipeg in 1919 and sent down men, women and children in the street.

"The honorable member has early entered into the service of the Liberal party," said Mr. Meighen. "A blindness of facts, and a want of light make him a boon companion of the honorable gentleman opposite."

"The statement of Mr. Heaps," said Mr. Meighen, "for malignity and utter disregard of truth is, in my opinion, without precedent in this House."

NO TROOPS SENT IN 1919.
The government of 1919 had not sent any troops anywhere. No troops had been sent for and the government of that day took no action whatever.

"Under whose authority did the Mounted Police act?" asked J. S. Woodsworth, (Labor, Winnipeg North-Cent.).

Mr. Meighen explained that the municipality had taken it upon itself to act by enlisting voluntary forces.

CALLED OUT BY MAYOR.
Mr. Woodsworth again asked under whose direction these volunteers were recruited, to which Mr. Meighen replied: "They enlisted for the protection of their own city because they felt the need was there. Troops were called out by the Mayor of Winnipeg, who deemed the peril sufficiently imminent. The troops never fired a shot."

The situation which had arisen in Cape Breton was quite different from the circumstances of 1919. In Nova Scotia men acted because they were hungry and starving. A Government

Canadian Canoeist Returns

G. H. G. Smith, Canadian canoeist, landed in New York after having paddled his canoe 4,200 miles. The voyage required 26 days. Starting from Nova Scotia, he went to Rome via London and Paris. He returned to New York on the S. S. Bankale, then paddled from quarantine to South Ferry, after being passed by customs officials.

should not be forced fault with when, after all other means had been exhausted, it resorted to military power to maintain law.

SITUATION SERIOUS.
A serious situation existed in South Cape Breton and Cape Breton-Victoria. There had been no work for a long time, and from ten to fifteen thousand people were now on the verge of starvation, and in instances had resorted to force to secure food.

The resources of municipalities were exhausted, and the Province had taken its share of responsibility.

If the 120,000-ton order of the National Railways was a reality, it would solve the question, so far as the southern section was concerned. In regard to North Cape Breton, all that was asked was that Besco be permitted to ship its 6,000 tons per month for two and a half months at $3 per ton to Montreal.

WHAT CAN BE DONE.
Mr. Meighen said he had never argued that the Government should take the company by the scruff of the neck and command them to carry coal at certain rates, but the Government could instruct the railways to carry coal at its lowest rate and the Government itself could make up the difference. In 1919, in order to relieve conditions in Nova Scotia, the Government had taken action and made up the difference in cost by several thousands of dollars, thus keeping the people of the district from hunger.

"This goes to the kernel of the entire coal problem." Nothing would be done as long as governments were in constant fear of action by the United States.

MUST AID TRANSPORTATION.
"We must assist transportation by strong protection for base industries, make it part of the great general policy."

"What did the Government propose to do? 'Is your policy starvation?' he asked.

The Minister of Public Works had said this was not the time to bring the question in this matter, and he hoped he would not be charged with having put forward a policy that was not constructive.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, asked Mr. Meighen if that was his whole solution for the Cape Breton difficulty.

"No, besides assisting transportation, every industry should be put on a solid foundation," replied Mr. Meighen.

CONSUMPTION REDUCED.
Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Interior, congratulated Mr. Meighen on the moderation with which he had put forward his proposal. Mr. Stewart pointed out that in the past seven years, the consumption of coal in Canada had been reduced by 25,000,000 tons through the introduction of electricity and oil burning methods.

Mr. Stewart did not doubt that the situation in this matter, and he hoped the Opposition reported it to be and this being so, "the Government will do had stated he would take 120,000 tons of banked coal from the Besco, but the contract had not been concluded.

Mr. MacDoughall paid a tribute to the qualities of the Nova Scotia miners. He himself was a member of their union, and worked with them in their organization. They wanted work, he said, not public charity.

The Progressive and Labor members in the House had the power in their hands to insist that something should be done to provide work for the men.

PRACTICAL ACTION URGED.
J. A. MacDonald (Conservative, Cape Breton South) urged that something practical be done. The offer of Sir Henry Thornton's had apparently not been closed. The miners must be given work and to provide work, there must be a means of reaching the Montreal market.

There should be a reduction in the coal rates from Sydney to Montreal. The sending of troops to Cape Breton last year had cost Canada far more than the subvention of rates which would have provided work for the miners.

NOVA SCOTIA PAYS.
Hon. E. M. MacDonald, Minister of Defence, pointed out that no troops could be sent by the Federal Government to Nova Scotia, but that it was Nova Scotia which bore the cost of the troops.

Five townships in Nova Scotia produced coal, he said. Cape Breton coal had never reached central Canada by rail. It had always been mined in the coal fields in the west and there, the men, and banked there to be taken away in the spring by boat, but Besco would not now bank its coal in the winter to keep the men employed.

Mr. MacDonald said that the Canadian National Railway was prepared to take 120,000 tons of banked coal and it was for Besco to proceed with the work this winter.

NOTHING BUT GESTURE.
Col. Thomas Cantley (Conservative, Pictou, N. S.) said that Sir Henry Thornton's offer to assist, in connection with the movement of the small quantity of 15,000 tons which has been mentioned, if it would do what honorable gentlemen opposite say it will do, I am anxious to assist in getting it to the markets. But I am more anxious to carry out the larger proposal for the 120,000 tons for the Canadian National Railways, which will make a real relief.

"This Government does not propose to increase duties on coal at the present time," said Mr. Stewart in another of his statements. "Within a few days the Government will name a committee whose duties it will be to investigate industries and duties and advise where we stand in respect to these things."

Adjustment of the House "discuss a matter of public importance," namely, the condition of the coal miners in Cape Breton, was moved this afternoon by J. W. Woodsworth, Conservative, Cape Breton-Victoria.

Mr. Johnston said that he would not interrupt the debate on the address were it not that the miners were becoming acute and that many of the coal miners and their families were on the verge of starvation.

At Sydney Mines, said, Princess No. 1, one of the best coal mines in Canada, had closed down. This threw from 900 to 1,000 miners out of work. For two years the miners of Cape Breton had not had enough work, and last winter they had passed through a long strike.

CORPORATION SEEN.
Mr. Johnston said that he went to Montreal in company with another member from his constituency, and interviewed the British Empire Steel Corporation.

Officials of that organization informed him that they had over 150,000 tons of coal stockpiled in Montreal, and required no more at present. Finally, however, they had agreed to promise to get out 16,000 more tons of coal on condition that the Canadian National Railways granted a rate from Sydney to Montreal as low as the rate from Alberta. An interview was immediately arranged with officials of the Canadian National Railways in Montreal in an effort to obtain the reduced rate. Mr. Johnston said. The officials promised to take the matter up with Sir Henry Thornton, but later stated that the president could not grant the reduced rate. The Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals had promised to take the matter up with Sir Henry, but he had met with no more success.

Mr. Johnston said that this coal order would mean work of from two to two and one half days a week for the miners. Everything in the town of North Sydney depended on it. The men wanted work, not charity.

"They want to be treated like human beings, and not slaves," Mr. Johnston said.

L. D. MacDoughall, (Conservative), Montreal, if the Canadian National Railways would grant the rate equal to the rate on Alberta coal or about $1 per ton to central Canada. Sir Henry Thornton had turned down the proposal. Mr. MacDoughall wondered, if Sir Henry Thornton, with a sack of $25,000 a year, was able to sympathize with men who were almost destitute. House, he would have got a coal policy which would have been a definite step towards the solution of the problem.

G. B. Nicholson (Conservative, East Algoma) said it was the duty of the House to pass a resolution instructing the National Railways to purchase the coal which would make it necessary for the Nova Scotia miners to work.

MACDONALD INTERRUPTS.
Mr. MacDonald, Minister of Defence, interrupted to say that Sir Henry Thornton was willing to do that, but that it was up to the coal company to continue to bank its coal throughout the winter.

W. D. Eiler (Liberal, North Waterloo) also interrupted Mr. Nicholson to ask if he thought the Canadian National had a special responsibility.

Mr. Nicholson replied that it had, because it was the only railway which tapped the coal area and because the line had been originally built to carry the same policy as its competitor, it would provide work for the winter months.

MARITIME SERVICE.
Dr. O. B. Price (Conservative, Westmorland) said in the matter of railways, the Maritimes owed nothing to the rest of Canada. Those provinces had paid heavily and got little from the National Railways. Since the National Railways had been run by Sir Henry Thornton, the Maritimes had been forgotten, and practically backed off the map.

"You can buy hotels in Paris and golf clubs, but the people living in suburbs in the Maritimes cannot get railway service."

URGES IMMEDIATE ORDERS.
Until the Government "wakes up to the idea" that her natural resources must be protected, Canada is going to keep sliding over into the United States. Dr. Price declared that millions of dollars were being spent in the United States today which should be coming into the pockets of the people of Canada. And orders should be given immediately for coal from the Cape Breton mines.

A. Dewitt Foster (Conservative, Hants-Kings) declared that a situation such as this involving "starvation and hunger" ought to be dealt with promptly by members of the House. He believed that the conditions in the Cape Breton coal fields had got out of hand through the late Armstrong Government in Nova Scotia and the Federal Minister of Labor in the last Parliament. The chief plank in the platform of Premier Rhodes of Nova Scotia in last year's provincial campaign was that he would effect a settlement of the trouble then existing between the miners and the company. This promise Premier Rhodes had redeemed.

HUMAN LIFE AT STAKE.
"Human life is at stake," declared Mr. Foster, "bands have been raised against politics on the other. It was the duty of honorable members of the House 'not to play politics.' The cables he declared should not close until the Government gave some indication of its intentions."

calon in respect to the request now before it, "in order that they may have some relief at the moment or as soon as possible."

TO CHAMPION EAST.
A. A. Heaps (Labor, Winnipeg North) described himself as a "Maritime Fighter" because he proposed to champion the cause of a very large section of the residents of the Maritimes. He was in favor, he said, of any policy that would make it possible to market the output of Nova Scotia mines in competition with the United States coal in central Canada. It was not sufficient that the representative National Railways should order coal from these mines. The problem remained and the wider and bolder policy would have to be inaugurated if the problem was to be solved.

LABOR TROUBLES SOURCE.
Discussing the persistent labor troubles in Cape Breton, Mr. Heaps said that he thought the source of the trouble lay nearer to Halifax and to Ottawa than they did to Cape Breton. A year ago the House had been promised that if the strike was settled, all the miners' troubles would be ended. Today the most distressing conditions still existed amongst the workers down there. Mr. Heaps believed that "so long as Besco remains in Nova Scotia the same situation is going to exist."

CORPORATION BLAMED.
Mr. Heaps had been told on good authority that before the British Empire Steel Corporation came to some agreement with Cape Breton, poverty had been known. Since that corporation came there had been continual fight, with Besco fighting either with the Government or with its employees. A year ago Besco had boldly threatened the city of Sydney that, if the corporation did not get its way, the grass would be cut under the feet of the Canadians must face the question of whether they were going to be bullied, or whether Besco was going to rule Nova Scotia and whether the people of that province would prevail.

Mr. Heaps spoke of his surprise at hearing a Conservative member stating that he represented Besco.

Mr. Meighen rose at once to a point of privilege, declaring that no member had the right to represent a company in the House, and that no member could ascribe such representation to another.

When asked who the member was who had so described himself, Mr. Heaps said he believed his name was Col. Cantley (Pictou).

Col. Cantley declared, he had made no such assertion. Anyone who knew him would know that he was opposed to Besco since Besco was created.

Mr. Heaps accepted the statement and hoped that the honorable member would continue his opposition.

PLEASED TO SEE CHANGE.
Mr. Heaps said he was pleased also to notice "the awakened interest" among Conservative members in the condition of the workers in this country. Yet it was to be regretted that the poverty and suffering of miners had been turned during the afternoon into an attack on the Government on the question of whether it should have been in power or not.

Why should Sir Henry Thornton be referred to so frequently during the afternoon, asked Mr. Heaps. He wondered whether or not the miners of Nova Scotia weren't merely a smoke screen from which to attack Sir Henry Thornton.

"Instead of being attacked, he ought to be supported," said Mr. Heaps.

DEFENDS THORNTON.
Sir Henry Thornton was trying to turn a railway which was a liability to the people of Canada into an asset. How could he establish confidence in the Canadian National if he (Sir Henry Thornton) and his employees were at all times to be the subject of criticism in the House of Commons. Mr. Heaps said that he thought perhaps the great trouble with Sir Henry Thornton in the minds of some people today was that the Canadian National Railway was becoming too great a competitor of the C. P. R. If anyone thought Sir Henry Thornton was not running the road properly, that person should get up and say so. Otherwise, he should not indulge in unfair criticism. The members representing the coal mining constituencies in the last parliament has been quite indifferent. Some of them were now dispensing justice in Nova Scotia, she remarked.

Easy To Gain Weight
With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast With Vegetable Iron Builds Up Weight in Three Weeks

This, run-down and underweight men, women and children can improve their health, increase their energy and put on from five to twenty pounds of good solid flesh in three weeks. A new combination of yeast vitamins with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight. For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but not until this perfect "iron yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to combine yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight. Vegetable "Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast. Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. It makes no difference how old you are—or how young you are—how long you have been underweight—how much underweight you are, "ironized yeast" tablets are positively guaranteed to work you right up, and add from five to twenty pounds of good firm flesh in three weeks' time. If they fail get your money back. Sold by druggists, at $1 for a large 60-tablet package. F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., Toronto, Canada.

HOME ORDERS ONLY HOPE

Orders for soft coal in Canada were the only hope which these men had. "We must work or starve. You must buy our coal," stated the memorandum. It was the duty of the government to take action and do something to provide the means necessary to feed the Glace Bay miners this winter.

Mr. MacDoughall said that the British Empire Steel Corporation had agreed to transport 6,000 tons of coal per month from Sydney Mines to Montreal at the rate of $1 per ton to central Canada. Sir Henry Thornton had turned down the proposal. Mr. MacDoughall wondered, if Sir Henry Thornton, with a sack of $25,000 a year, was able to sympathize with men who were almost destitute. success. Miss MacPhail thought that the man whose name "should have been dragged before this House is McLurg and not Thornton. If there is one man for whom I have absolutely no respect, it is McLurg," said Miss MacPhail. She suggested that there would need to be a complete reorganization of the British Empire Steel Corporation before it could be made an effective company exploiting a Canadian industry.

W. W. Kennedy, Conservative, South Centre Winnipeg, expressed the hope that the whole debate on this motion and any decision the House should arrive at, would rise above party politics. He believed the electorate of the whole country were more interested in a solution of the miners' problems than they were in mere party politics. Any member who could forget party considerations and come out boldly in the matter would gain in the affections of his fellow Canadian more than he could in party kudos.

The miners of Nova Scotia asked for no doles, but for a means of livelihood. He thought that the duty of the House was to seek a remedy for the troubles of the Nova Scotia miners. Hon. J. P. King, Minister of Public Works, expressed his sympathy with the motion before the House. He could not help thinking, however, that the matter did not lie directly within the scope of the Federal Government.

Dry Agents Adrift;
Land At Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR, Jan. 26.—Two American prohibition agents named Charles Henry Smith and Frank Silvers Mitchell were landed here from the British steamer Newby Hall, which picked them up at sea 300 miles from the American coast. The men left Boston in a motor boat on prohibition duty. The engine broke down and they drifted twelve days in a stormy sea.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Because the 86 wives of Achram Bey, one of the richest and most distinguished Turkish aristocrats, failed to fulfil their duties to their lord and master, he determined to get rid of them all. Finding that his threats to dissolve his harem met with strong opposition from the authorities concerned, Achram Bey, according to a correspondent, hit upon a terrible plan. On Christmas day he donned his gala robes and invited his 86 wives to a sumptuous feast. While the banquet was proceeding he surreptitiously sprinkled belladonna in the food and drink.

On the following morning the 86 ladies of the harem, and Achram Bey himself, were discovered, lying dead in the banqueting room.

London and Lancashire Are Found to Be Most Popular
Marrying Areas

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Nearly twice as many people were married in the summer last year than in the spring, according to the annual report of the Registrar-General. The City of London and the County of Lancashire appear to be the "marrying areas." There were 39,268 weddings in Lancashire, of which 13,093 were celebrated in July, August or September.

Hampshire, although a small county, apparently believes in single blessedness, for there were only 102 marriages there during the year. The marrying age is earlier among women. Two were wedded at the age of 14, the men starting at 16. There were 53 men of over 80 years of age married, while only 7 women of that age formed new ties. From 81 to 80 in men and between 21 and 24 in women are the most popular ages. More than 20,000 widows remarried, 12,000 of them being under 40 years of age.

GIFT OF NEEDLES
GIVEN AT DINNER

Custom Originating in "Prince Hal's" Time Followed at Oxford Banquet

LONDON, Jan. 26.—A custom originating with "Prince Hal," afterwards Henry V., was observed at Queen's College, Oxford, at the annual dinner. A needle and thread was presented by the bursar to each of the distinguished guests with the injunction, "Take this and be thrifty."

The needles were threaded with three colors—blue for law and medicine, black for divinity, and red for arts. Each guest received the thread which represented his degree.

"Prince Hal," according to the accepted version of the custom, proved himself a spendthrift when he was sent to Oxford to study under the monastic rule there. When he returned home his royal father demanded whether he had been as careful of his money as he ought. The prince replied by turning back his scholar's gown and showing three needles. "I have been so thrifty," he said, "that I have even tried to mend my rent."

President Herbert C. Cox Reviews Progress

The Annual Meeting of the Canada Life was held at Home Office, and the following address delivered by the President, Mr. Herbert C. Cox, contains much valuable information for policyholders and the public generally:

We are becoming so accustomed to the unbroken that there is danger of our falling to attach full significance to what is happening at our doors. Upon the completion therefore of the first quarter of the new century it may be useful to recall very briefly some of the developments which have marked it, and which are so profoundly impressive in their bearing and effect.

In its infancy at the beginning of the century, Wireless Telegraphy, given to the world by Marconi, has expanded beyond the dreams of its inventor, has covered him with glory, and in addition to becoming a great factor in the commercial world has materially lessened the danger of travel by sea. The Wireless Telephone, with its latent possibilities; the wireless transmission of photographs, enabling simultaneous publication on two continents; the radio, making available to millions the latest news of world events, and the elevating influence of the great masters of music, and very recently the beginning at least of the transmission of motion pictures through the air, are all developments of the original conception.

Germany gave us the X-ray, which has revolutionized modern surgery by bringing to its aid scientific photography, thus adding greatly to the possibility of prolonging human life.

The element of contact so essential to the growth of a community or nation has been immeasurably increased by the arresting expansion of the motor car, which in so short a time has become so indispensable in all our activities that some twenty-one millions of them are constantly in service on this continent alone, while they are daily growing in number in Europe, and making their way to the furthest corners of the globe. The first double-decked motor bus was licensed by the London Police Department in 1904. During five years it displaced 25,000 horses and 3,200 horse omnibuses. Could Daimler, the inventor of the first internal combustion engine, have foreseen even in small measure how the product of his brain was to alter a world's living conditions and affect its transportation problems? In its train has come a system of highways enabling an intercommunication before undreamed of, and entailing the outlay of countless millions of dollars to the advantage of other industries.

Consequently there has been the development of the undersea ship and the aeroplane. While the former has demonstrated its utility only in war, the latter is adapting itself to peace, and has already almost annihilated time and distance for a limited amount of travel and mail transport. The more recent discovery that these can be controlled and guided from land will extend their field as offensive weapons. The colossal steamship in which one can now cross the ocean in luxury and physical comfort is distinctly of this period, as is also the transcontinental train de luxe with all its appointments, which appeal to the fastidious traveller.

Motion pictures have brought amusement and instruction to millions beyond the reach of the old-fashioned drama, have created an industry with an investment of perhaps two billions of dollars, and receipts for admissions approaching one billion dollars annually. In the field of manufacturing there has been a constant improvement in machinery and process, and the great tyre industry is a development of this century created and fostered by the motor car. The insignificant but industrious silkworm, unable to cope with the demand for his product, has had to submit to human competition, and we have today an almost unlimited supply of artificial silk available for garments of all kinds. Sugar beets are menacing cane in the making of sugar; cement is crowding stone from our buildings; steel is replacing timber in heavy construction; while electricity is driving coal as a fuel from appreciation by our people of more and greater comforts in living, and of the necessity of making sure, as far as may be, that those amenities shall be maintained in the family. That the companies and their members are functioning well in this regard is indicated by the fact that there has been paid to beneficiaries on this continent in the past year ten times as much as in 1900, or one and one-half billions of dollars. Life assurance is perhaps the greatest example of co-operative effort the world has ever seen.

1925 has yielded new records for our own Company, and registers improvement in every feature denoting progress. New assurances issued and taken up reached the important total of $128,500,000. This is an increase of 23% over the previous year, and again indicates a well distributed, well equipped and thoroughly active organization, taking advantage of its specific opportunities and of the general growth in sentiment favoring life assurance. We have continued to add to our force without enlarging our field, feeling that for the present at all events there is desirable and feasible a more intensive cultivation of that already occupied. An important portion of the increase for the year has occurred in Canada, while the branch in Great Britain, benefiting by a persistent campaign for agency organization and for direct approach to the possible insured, has added to the extent of $11,335,000 in ordinary assurances and $1,271,000 in annuity considerations. We are steadily consolidating our position there, and have now some sixty million dollars of business in force. Our branches in the United States, fifteen of them, are all making progress compatible with their respective ages and circumstances, and we are happy in the type and ability of the men whom we have been able to associate with us. Competition is keen, but clean, and the name "Canada" is no longer a detriment in the eyes of the public.

Government experimentation in Western Canada has just resulted in the new Garnet Wheat, which will reduce the growing period to one hundred days, or ten days less than that required by the famous Marquis variety, perfected by the same agency in 1903. In a land of the magnitude of Canada, where weather conditions are naturally variable and conflicting, the value and importance of this development cannot be overestimated, and Garnet Wheat, when available in sufficient quantity for seed, as it shortly will be, will mark another advance, not only in the progress of Western Canada, but toward a more dependable supply of a world's demand for food.

While all this material growth has been proceeding great headway has been made in the lessening of preventable disease. Death from tuberculosis has been reduced fifty per cent, while the danger from diphtheria and fever of various forms has been minimized. The modern hospital adds much to the efficiency of the physician and surgeon in their application of a constantly enlarging knowledge, fed by the successful research effort of many able scientists. Our own country is proud to claim the most recent achievement of this kind in the discovery of Insulin, which has in three years noticeably reduced the mortality from diabetes. With this almost extravagant advancement in industry, in agriculture and in science, the new vast undertaking of life assurance has kept pace. Since 1900 the assurances in force in Canada and the United States have multiplied by ten to eighty billions of dollars. The Assets have increased sevenfold to thirteen billions, while the total income is eight times greater at four billions.

Though the people of this continent spend lavishly for motor cars and luxuries of all kinds, they do not neglect the more important matters, as the above figures indicate that they have bought more life assurance than all the rest of the world. Nevertheless they have not nearly fulfilled their obligation or their destiny in this regard since they are as yet insured for only one-sixteenth of their capitalised earning capacity. That we have progressed so far is due to the constantly broadening service offered by the companies and the better informed effort of their representatives, which together have, since 1900, more than doubled the average amount of insurance held by the nearly sixty millions of people insured in Canada and the United States. This increase reflects, too, in some measure the

Mr. A. Gordon Ramsay, respectively. They have been for some years operating most effectively, more particularly in the process of agency building, and the present advancement, while placing a greater burden of responsibility upon each, will enable them to give even more important and valuable service to the Company.

During the year the Medical Department suffered severely through the untimely and most regrettable death of our highly esteemed fellow officer, Dr. George S. Strathairn, whose devotion to his profession had made him invaluable to this Company. Partial reorganization of the Department became necessary, and this has been accomplished by the association with Dr. Scadding, the chief medical director, as assistant medical directors, of Dr. S. J. Stright and Dr. J. A. Roberts. They are both highly equipped and energetic young men, whose whole time will be engaged by the Company, and we shall be further aided by the continuation of Dr. H. B. Hutchinson to give a portion of his time in a consultative capacity.

Your Directors have to record another deplorable loss in the death of their friend and colleague, Sir James Logghead. Sir James has been for many years an unusually active and helpful member of your Board, and his great personal charm and marked ability had endeared him to all in the Company whose good fortune it was to feel his contact. The two vacancies upon the directorate have been filled by the addition of Mr. C. A. Egger, Vice-President and General Manager of the Dominion Bank, and Mr. A. E. Ames of A. E. Ames & Company, Limited, Investment Bankers, respectively representing the shareholders and the policyholders. Both have had wide experience, and their knowledge and judgment, which they have been good enough to place at our disposal, will add substantially in the conduct of your business.

Since 1900, and indeed since its very inception, this Company has had ever before it the ambition to be useful to the country which shelters it, and to the people who surround it with their savings. These charged with its management have always exercised a lively optimism and imagination in the prosecution of their undertaking, but he would have been courageous indeed who in 1900 had ventured to prophesy anything approaching what has been accomplished by it in the subsequent quarter century. Our assurances in force have multiplied seven times, from $1,000,000 to over $78,000,000; our annual issue has multiplied twenty times, from $6,300,000 to $128,000,000; our assets five times, from $22,000,000 to over $114,000,000, and our income seven times, from $4,237,000 to over $30,000,000, while payments to policyholders or their representatives are six times greater, being $13,983,000, as compared with $2,350,000.

At the same time the insurer has progressed very markedly in what the demands of the insuring company by way of broader coverage and personal attention to the needs of his individual case. We believe our representatives have met this challenge with alacrity and with ability, and that they will continue to interpret the aims of the company and the desire of the assured to the advantage and profit of all concerned.

CARE NEEDED. "The hair being a part and parcel of the body, it demands just as much care and attention as other parts. This care should begin in childhood. It is not necessary or advisable to wash too frequently a child's scalp when it is in a normal condition. Cleanliness is the only purpose of the shampoo. The normal scalp of the child is usually fairly free of fat, so it is well to apply a grease such as olive oil after washing to prevent abnormal dryness. In children the scalp should be washed for the appearance of scalliness and when this occurs suitable treatment should be instituted.

It has been shown that if, in the accumulated combings of three consecutive days, the number of hairs under six inches in length form one-third of the total number lost, there is a disease of the scalp which requires medical attention. Of course, this only applies to the female sex, not including those who have boyish bobs. In the case of the latter and of males the distinction is made by differentiating those hairs which show traces of the barber's scissors from those which have a pointed end. one-fourth of the total hairs four inches in length. "When thinning of the hair becomes apparent most people accept the advice of the ever ready barber or hairdresser, who talks glibly about the necessity of singeing the hair in order to seal up the pores after cutting. This is a perfectly ridiculous procedure and accomplishes absolutely nothing. One after another the whole gamut of so-called hair tonics or washes are tried, but all in vain. Many fall into the clutches of the non-medical self-styled beauty or hair specialists, people wholly ignorant of the most elementary principles of medicine. The hair seker is told that his hairs are coming out with their roots. Nothing could be more untrue than such a statement. The lowest part of the shaft has a small swelling, the bulb, always pointed out as the roots, but which really has no connection whatsoever with the growth of hair. "So, if your hair is disappearing, why not be sensible? Consult with your family physician. If he cannot help you or does not feel that he is qualified to advise you, he as your friend will surely direct you to some one else who will interest himself in your condition."

ST. ROSE'S CHURCH LOSES PASTOR WHO WAS 48 YEARS PRIEST

Very Rev. Dean Charles Collins Succumbs to Illness—Had Been Forty-one Years at Fairville Church.

VERY REV. DEAN CHARLES COLLINS, pastor of St. Rose's Church, Fairville, passed away this morning at 6:40 o'clock at the parochial residence, after a long illness. For the last few days he had not been able to speak, and he suffered a great deal, at times very severely, but he has had many periods of consciousness with his mind as clear as ever.

With him at the end were his curate, Rev. Wilfred Mallette, and his housekeeper, Miss Sarah Gifford. He had been frequently visited in his illness by the priests of the various parishes and His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc. The funeral will be held on Friday morning and the details are being arranged by Rev. Joseph J. McDermott, representing His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc. The funeral will be at 10 o'clock and Very Rev. Dean Carney of Fredericton has been asked to deliver the funeral oration.

Very Reverend Dean Charles Collins was a native of Carleton county. He was born in Sheffield, Sunbury county, N. B., and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Collins. He received his early education in Woodstock, graduating from the Woodstock Grammar School and later attended St. Joseph's College, Memramcook. On December 21, 1878, Father Collins was ordained by Archbishop Fabre in the Grand Seminary, Montreal, where he took his theological training. He was a member of a class of '45 ordained at that time. Father Collins was stationed at the Cathedral here until the spring of 1879, when he went to Milltown as curate to Rev. James Quinn. He remained there for 18 months and then spent six months at Sussex, and was curate at West Saint John to the late Mr. Connelly, afterwards returning to the Cathedral where he remained for three years.

GOES TO ST. ROSE'S. He then went to Chipman for one year and was later transferred to St. Rose's church, Fairville, in November, 1885, where he had been in charge for 41 years and had won the love of his congregation and the good-will of the whole community.

The 47th anniversary of his ordination on Dec. 21, 1878, was observed quietly by his parishioners owing to his illness, but gifts and loving greetings were conveyed to him at his home. If he had lived until April 24 he would have been 76 years of age.

APPOINTED DEAN. During his ministry he attended the Salmon River missions from Fredericton. He was one of the deacons appointed several years ago by His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc. He was one of the senior priests of the Diocese and in recent years he had been assisted by a curate, Rev. Robert J. Nugent who acted in this capacity for a brief period, and more recently by Rev. Wilfred Mallette.

MADE IMPROVEMENTS. Father Collins was the first priest of St. Rose's. The church and rectory had been completed just before he was appointed parish priest. Soon after his arrival a very graceful spiral staircase was added to the newly erected church. He also built St. Rose's Hall. He was much interested in education and instrumental in having St. Rose's schools remodelled. He was of a kindly disposition and took a deep interest in everything which pertained to the welfare of the community.

St. Paul's S. School Building Afire

Considerable damage to the front wall of St. Paul's Sunday school building was caused by a fire which broke out about 5 o'clock this morning. An alarm from box 221 was sent in. When the firemen arrived they found the blaze had gained considerable headway in the wall, and it was only after about three-quarters of an hour in which a great deal of cutting was necessary, that the "fall out" could be sounded.

COUNTY ASKING FOR $367,993

Interest and Sinking Fund Items Send Total Over 1925's

Lancaster Warrant is For $101,962—Conference Plans on Simplifying of Work

The warrant from the Municipality of Saint John has been sent to the city assessors, and the amount this year is $3,885.05 in excess of the warrant for last year. This year the municipality requires from the city $307,794.82 on general assessment and $60,198.93 for interest, a total of $367,993.75. Last year the amount was $299,769.47 for the court house and $68,224.28 for interest, a total of $367,993.75.

But for two new items in the interest and sinking fund account this year the warrant would have been less than last year. These are $3,241.05 for the west wing of hospital debentures, and $7,258.05 for the court house debentures. There is also another new item this year in the court house expenses, that of $1,200 for a janitor.

LANCASTER FIGURES.

The Lancaster warrant has been given to the assessors for that parish and calls for an assessment of $101,962.97. For the first time the highway assessment is included in the general assessment, the amount being required for that account being $24,288.41. One new item in this year's assessment for the parish is $6,790 on the debentures for the permanent sidewalks and streets. The debentures which have been issued for this work are payable in installments over a period of 10 and 15 years.

Yesterday the permanent officials of the parish and the county secretary and auditor were in conference to see if some way of consolidating the accounts could not be worked out. At the present time in making the assessment roll it is necessary to make out more than 40,000 separate and independent entries, and it is hoped to work out a plan which will reduce this number of entries materially.
