

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

NEW ACTS AT OPERA HOUSE MAKE BIG HIT

Programme Has a Pleasing Variety and is Enjoyed by Capacity Houses—Great Roller Skating Offering, Good Comedy, Tuneful Songs, etc.

The various acts in the new vaudeville programme at the Opera House last evening were enjoyed by capacity houses and the participants were accorded hearty applause.

The episode of "The Third Eye" was a usual interesting and amusing act, exciting scenes, but like all serial episodes comes to a conclusion just at the end when interest is running high.

The two Toms were the first to appear in the vaudeville bill and their singing and chatter were enjoyed. One is a pleasing singer and the other a clever character player and their duets were good.

Baby Iris made a big hit. She is a talented child actress and her songs with tuneful accompaniments evoked well-deserved applause.

Monahan and Company were one of the feature attractions with a scene of roller skating novelty. The difficult feats performed evoked appreciative applause.

Frank Allen and Grace Francis in a comedy surprise, won well merited applause. They have a pleasing act and their efforts evoked hearty laughter.

Sandy McKay, "The Scotch High School Ball" was also well received. His Scotch songs, etc., made a big hit, and his jokes took well.

The Investment Value of Newspaper Advertising

PROBLEMS of transportation and the high cost of selling and distributing goods at a distance, have prompted manufacturers to look for "logical markets."

"Logical markets" are places that can be served easily and economically. For example: This community is a logical market for many manufacturers whose plants are located here or hereabouts.

The manufacturer who can send his goods into this locality easily and regularly, ought to be building a permanent investment here through advertising in the newspapers.

Newspaper advertising will create popular demand. Dealer interest and support will come, too, because the dealer knows that newspaper advertising is a demand for him to fill.

You can easily establish now a good will and confidence for your product that will prove a permanent investment for the future.

Keep a tin of this great hand cleaner always handy.

A BISHOP'S MESSAGE

The first American to speak in Westminster Abbey since the war was the Right Rev. William Lawrence, bishop of Massachusetts. In the course of a thoughtful address he dwelt, as many other prominent British and American public men have done of late, upon the value to the world at large of active co-operation between the two great English-speaking peoples.

PRICE TRENDS

Although the wholesale prices of food show some decline in the United States, retail prices during June displayed on the average an opposite tendency. Wholesale prices of most articles of ordinary use in the United States have been falling somewhat, and though the consumer has not yet benefited the symptoms are indicating that the peak has been passed, and if such is the case a similar tendency may be hoped for in Canada.

THE WEST SERVES NOTICE

Representative newspapers in western Canada are serving notice upon Hon. Mr. Meighen that his government can expect nothing but defeat in that part of the country when the general elections come. The Meighen party is looking for encouragement in the eastern by-elections, but whatever may happen in that particular recent developments show more and more clearly that the west is in revolt over the tariff and that the new party's propaganda leaves Liberal Quebec hostile to the administration and anxious to record its view in a general contest.

THREE STORES

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS OF THE WEEK IN ST. JOHN

Society has been active this week, especially so at the fashionable resorts near the city. On Thursday evening at Government House, Rathesay, the governor and Mrs. Pugsley entertained at a bridge in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Pugsley, of Ottawa. The guests numbered among them many of the young married set, friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Pugsley, who, after spending several weeks with the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pugsley, are returning to Ottawa early next week. On the same evening Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holly were hosts at a dance for their son and daughter, to which many of the younger members of society, married and single, were invited. On Friday evening another brilliant dancing party was given by Colonel Weldon McLean and his brother, Mr. Hugh McLean, at the Manor House and invitations to this function included both the young and the younger married and unmarried members of society. For originality in the choice of an entertainment, perhaps the Westfield cotillion on Wednesday evening in the Westfield clubhouse proved not only that the entertainment was popular but that it was extremely enjoyable as well. Besides these delightful social functions on a large scale there were bridge parties and several small teas given for visitors in town, one at least of which was given in honor of a prospective bride. Altogether the week has been well filled socially.

In honor of her guest, Mrs. Miles Dixon, of Fredericton, Mr. Alfred Morley gave a pleasant afternoon at his residence on Wednesday afternoon at her residence.

Constance Campbell, Mrs. Rathbone were a becoming costume of white georgette crepe embroidered with crystal beads, a large black picture hat, black fox fur and carriage bouquet of red roses. Miss Campbell was smartly gowned in blue tulle silk and wore a broad brimmed white hat with flowers trimming. In the dining room, where Mrs. George McDonald presided, the pretty tea table had as central decoration a silver basket filled with red and pink roses, under which was a mirror covered with roses. Assisting with the refreshments were Mrs. Frederick Gilman, Miss Rosamond McAvity, Miss Marion Moore, Miss Blanche Heathey, Miss Louise Holly. Among those present were: Mrs. Rathbone, Miss Campbell, Mrs. Thomas Goy, Miss Jean Anderson, Miss Haddow, Dr. Doris Murray, Miss Isabel Jack, Miss Agnes Anderson, Miss Elizabeth Barnes, Miss Logan, Miss Jean Penton, Miss Gladys Gibson, Miss Doris Barbour, Miss Margaret Murray, Miss Doris Barnes, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Harvey Tapley, Mrs. Esther Miller, Mrs. Ronald Miller, Mrs. Grant Smith and Mrs. F. Lawson Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias McDermid have announced the engagement of their daughter, Audrey Elizabeth, to Mr. Louis Alberton, of Sussex, who is visiting in St. John to take place in September.

The marriage of Dr. Stanley Bridges, of the city, to Miss Allison Marguerite Alexander, daughter of Mr. James Alexander, of Campbellton, will take place on Thursday, Sept. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Thomson have returned home after spending the month of August at the Algonquin, St. Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose, Germain street, after a month spent in upper Canada and Quebec, have arrived home on Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Mary Tibbitts, who has been visiting Mrs. J. V. Ellis, Princess street, left on Wednesday for Boston.

Smart Frocks for Autumn

Make Their Appearance

To secure the slim lines demanded by fashion, women will find the one-piece frock is eminently successful—and frocks such as are mentioned below, abounding in charm of both fabric and style, now await your approval.

A Frock of Black Radium

This particular model is very youthful and becoming. It is a button back frock, with loose accordion pleated skirt panel, and pleatings to finish the short sleeves. The neck is low cut and round, with a frill of lace at the back. A wide crush girde, lined with sea green silk lends just the wanted touch of color.

Basques Are Very Popular

With navy crepe meteor for a skirt and a basque of heavily beaded mahogany georgette, another striking and lovely effect is carried out. This model has a soft tie-in-front sash, and a back over drape lined with mahogany to match basque.

This Frock is Unusual

The basque is fashioned of kumiskumsa silk in old brass shade. The skirt is of navy crepe meteor, and a narrow girde finished with heavy tassels crosses and ties in front. A full over skirt gathered to basque is another decidedly chic feature.

A Fascinating Serge Frocks

A long chemise tunic heavily embroidered is the striking feature of this frock. It also has an underskirt, girde and sash of black satin. A toast colored collar softens the plain round cut neck line at the back.

For all times when you appear without a coat you will find frocks of this kind most desirable. It isn't a moment too early to plan and purchase your fall and winter needs now.

Mrs. McMillan and Mrs. Heber Vroom after a delightful visit in St. Andrews arrived home on Thursday.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Maritime Golf Association in Miramichi, after deciding that the next annual meet be held on the Riverside Golf and Country Club in St. John the election of officers took place and Mrs. Busby of this city was elected president of the association; Mrs. Percy Thomson, vice-president; hon. secretary-treasurer, Miss Helen Smith. The executive committee included: Desbriay of St. John.

Sympathy is expressed by numerous old St. John friends for the family of the late Mr. Brooks Peters whose death took place recently in Australia. Mr. Peters was a brother of Mr. Wesley Peters of this city.

ANOTHER PHASE OF TRAFFIC IN CONTRABAND

It was learned when the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., steamer Governor Dingley arrived here yesterday from Boston and Maine ports that the arrest of one of the porters by liquor inspectors was indicative of a phase of the traffic in contraband right here in St. John which has just come to light.

Before the Governor Dingley arrived at her dock in Eastport, Sumner Sleeper, United States inspector of customs, had received some sort of a tip, possibly from the prohibition enforcement inspectors here, that considerable contraband was on board, and later will come to the colored employees of the steamer are quartered and soon located more than 800 worth of Canadian whiskey. These were twenty-four quart bottles in all. The liquor was taken to the Eastport customs house and deposited in a safe.

Inspector Sleeper, it develops, searched the quarters on the Governor Dingley early in the month and made a seizure of liquors. The Eastern Steamship Lines officers say that the liquor was taken on board surreptitiously and unknown to them at the time and that the traffic had been carried on in violation of the company's regulations. The seamen on the Governor Dingley say that they had no part in the traffic, and that the man arrested in St. John, and who forfeited a deposit he made, was not one of their number.

WHY SUGAR PRICES MUST COME DOWN

Situation Explained by Wholesale Dealer, Who Advises Consumers to Buy Only as Needed in Expectation of Further Reductions.

One of the leading wholesale dealers in the city sums up the present situation in the sugar market in the following statement:

"The sugar market since November, 1919, has advanced and declined with a rapidity and to an extent absolutely unprecedented. During that period raw sugars at New York have advanced from about 80 per 100 pounds to $28.75 per 100 pounds, at one time in May. Since May sugars have been poured into the United States from practically every known sugar producing country in the world. The American market apparently was willing to pay much higher prices than any other country and in some cases refined sugar originally exported from the United States to Europe has been returned recently to the United States, for the reason that it paid the holders better to return it than to sell it in their own market.

"The liberal sugar offerings of the last three months have forced a steadily declining market and for the last fortnight raw sugars have been practically unsaleable, for the reason that the refiners everywhere have ample supplies and refuse to take on more sugar, even at low prices, until the consumption of refined sugar improves.

"At the present moment it is practically impossible to estimate the value of refined or raw sugar, but supplies outside the refiners hands are not large and it is probable that the future prices of refined sugar in Canada depend on the refiners' action.

"Canada has been supplied with months ago during the last six months at prices much below those in the United States and Europe, as a result of the favorable purchases of raw sugar made by the Canadian refiners and the price control of the Canadian Trade Commissioners.

"Consumers can reasonably expect a steadily lowering market as low priced raw sugar comes forward. But in the meantime the price in Canada depends entirely upon the prices which the refiners may find it necessary to name to hold Canadian distribution against imported sugars.

"An examination of the local situation shows local wholesalers have been working on a hand-to-mouth basis for some time past and any loss which may result will fall on the refiners and until something new develops consumers are justified in buying only limited supplies with the expectation that prices will lower."

NOVELTY SHOWERS

About forty young friends of Miss Jennie Colwell called at her home, 209 Watson street, West End, on Thursday evening and tendered her a surprise and novelty shower in honor of her approaching marriage. Miss Colwell was the recipient of many gifts, including cut glass, silver and linen. A delightful evening was spent with music and games and refreshments were served. Miss Margaret E. Anderson, Mrs. Byron Fletcher and Mrs. William MacFarlane assisted with the serving.

Miss Marion Flagler has been receiving many attentions from her young friends during the past week, in anticipation of her approaching marriage. Miss Mildred Barnes first entertained at her pretty summer home at Grand Bay, where a novelty shower was tendered to Miss Flagler. She was made the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts for her new home, and many good wishes. On Tuesday she was delightfully surprised by the young ladies of the Kindergarten Alumni at her home in Princess street, where a pleasant evening was spent. When the guests departed they left many tangible expressions of goodwill and best wishes for the future. Others entertaining were Mrs. George Moore, at her summer home, Grand Bay; Mrs. E. A. Goodwin, at Loch Lomond, and Miss May Goodwin on a motor trip.

DUTCH TO HONOR
PILGRIM FATHERS

Tercentenary of Their Sailing to Be Kept in Leyden and Amsterdam.

A distinguished committee has been formed in the Netherlands for the observance of the tercentenary of the sailing of the Pilgrim Fathers. It includes several ministers of state, an ex-premier, the chief burgomaster and the leading governors of provinces. The universities are well represented on it—especially that of Leyden, as is fitting—and the historians are well to the fore. Dr. H. van Dyke of Princeton, and Dr. Rendel Harris of Manchester, are members from America and England respectively, as are Viscount Bryce, the great exponent of American institutions in Europe, and Lord Rosy, the Dutch statesman, who years ago was summoned to become heir to the MacKay estates in Great Britain.

The representative committee of management has already done much, having outlined the plan of the meetings for the celebrations and congress. The "congress" is the learned part of the festival and will be held chiefly in the Leyden University, where the scholarly side of Pilgrim history will be considered. After two days in Leyden the congress will move to Amsterdam, where a truly regal reception awaits it. It will visit the State Picture Gallery and take part in religious services in the ancient Bagijnkerk (the English Reformed church), where the remnant of the Pilgrim community, those that remained on in Amsterdam in 1620, finally sought church membership.

On Thursday, September 2, it is proposed that American members of the congress be carried by canalboats from Leyden to Delfshaven—or at least part of that way—along the exact route traversed on July 31, 1620, by the earliest group of Pilgrims that sought a home in New England. On arriving at Rotterdam (of which Delfshaven is now an integral part), the visitors will be taken by boat around the harbors, luncheon will be served on board, and afterward dinner. During the interval a service will be conducted in the venerable Dutch church of Delfshaven and a popular concert of American and Dutch sacred music will be given in the Cathedral of St. Lawrence. This edifice, recently restored, is one of the most stately and impressive in the Netherlands.

It is replete with historic mementos, and as it seats some five thousand hearers, one may judge what impression this function will make both on American and Dutch delegates. It will be the crowning event in this series. On the preceding Sundays devotional services have been arranged to be addressed by eminent American pastors in the ancient Scots Church of Rotterdam—the church of the exiled Covenanters banished by Charles II—and in the still more venerable English Reformed Church in the Bagijnkerk, Amsterdam. The latter is associated not only with Pilgrim history, but with the curious and heroic stories of the Reformed Church of America and the Reformed Church in the United States. It is expected that one of the events of the Amsterdam visit will be the unveiling of memorial windows.

No doubt also the plan to have a fitting memorial erected in memory of the Pilgrims of Delfshaven will be carried out. One can scarcely exaggerate what America, and indeed, the world, owes to Holland. And that debt is due to Holland not merely through the Pilgrims, but through the Dutch influence in New York and through the influence of the Reformed Church in the United States still further south. But the main subject of this sympathetic Dutch celebration will be the Pilgrims' heritage—and that is a marvellous one.

The Pilgrims loved liberty before they sought refuge in Holland, but in Holland they had their love of liberty immeasurably deepened and intensified. They learned tolerance (as the most tolerant nation then existing understood it), they learned representative government, freedom of press, personal care and concern for the poor and such practical concerns as the keeping of archives, the documenting of titles and deeds. And it must not be forgotten that the twelve years that the Pilgrims spent in the "Petition of States," now called Holland, taught them to analyze and think out the problem of states' rights and federal government.

The English celebrations begin at the conclusion of the Dutch congress and last a week. They will be held in part at Southampton and Plymouth and in part at Scrooby, the cradle of the Pilgrim community. Thus the two series of meetings are closely co-ordinated.—Argonaut.

DOMINION EXPRESS AIR SERVICE

In a recent issue of the Aeroplane and Auto Age, published in Montreal, there is an extended article dealing with the inauguration of an air service by the Dominion Express from London to the continent. This service is for passengers, mails and parcels. Two trips are made daily to Paris and tri-weekly trips between London and Amsterdam. The machine being used in this service is a Alceon which has a 450 horse power engine and has a maximum speed of a little more than 100 miles an hour. Arrangements have been made to insure passengers up to £2,000. The machine will carry one ton of mail or parcels.

A Conundrum.

The waiter in a railway buffet came to the table where a passenger was seated.

"Tea or coffee, sir?" he asked.

"Don't tell me," begged the passenger earnestly, "don't tell me, just let me guess!"—Pearson's Weekly.

WORK FOR HELPING THE RURAL SCHOOLS

Young Women in Training for Rural Leadership Under Recent Maine Legislative Act - Plan of the Work.

(Special Correspondence of Bangor Commercial.) August, Aug. 2.—Perhaps one of the most important movements for the betterment of rural schools is being exemplified at the present time at Castine. The last session of the legislature gave to the state superintendent of schools the right to select each year more than 100 leading rural teachers and place them in special training for rural leadership. Last year 92 young women received training and demonstrated the merits of the system which has attracted universal attention throughout the United States, and is said by educational authorities to be one of the foremost movements that has ever been tried out. This year there are about 75 young women in training. The regulations require that they be graduates of normal schools or colleges and have two years of practical experience as teachers or the equivalent. It has been rather difficult to find a sufficient number of teachers in the country schools who measure up to these high standards owing to the fact that the country schools, aside from presenting a long list of inconveniences, paid too small a salary to be attractive to the best prepared teachers who were in demand in city school systems. The plan of Dr. Augustus O. Thomas, the state superintendent of schools, requires that these young women be country bred, that they be in sympathy with rural life and that they are willing to remain in the country schools while they teach. These young women are carefully selected and must have shown unusual ability in the work already done. The plan contemplates that the rural teacher shall be both the best prepared of all teachers and the best paid. The rural school, in the opinion of Dr. Thomas, the state superintendent, presents the greatest educational problem today. The great necessity of maintaining a standard people on the farms and making the food resources yield 100 per cent of their possibilities present a national problem of unusual proportions. The law provides that the young women shall have their expenses paid while in training. When they get out into the service they receive a state bonus of 25 per cent of their salaries. They are employed as regular teachers in the towns of the state. Their first job is to put their own school in order and build a standard school as nearly as can be done with the material at hand and the conditions under which they work. After their schools are in order other teachers of the town may visit them in order to see what has been accomplished. These teachers may also visit other schools in the town and assist inexperienced and untrained teachers in finding themselves. Such teachers are a very great advantage to superintendents in getting at the instructional end of the work. They also become community leaders. Many of the young women trained a year ago have transformed the communities into which they have gone. Communities have been gotten together, musical organizations, literary societies and church work have been undertaken with a high degree of success, and much interest has been aroused in the communities in which these young people have labored. Country life movements, elementary rural surveys, community leadership, the discovery and development of leaders connecting the school with the life of the community and making it a part thereof form the basis of the course of study presented to these leaders in preparation. A full line of physical education is also carried representing the dramatic form of exercises for the younger children, formal setting up exercises for the older ones with the recreational plays and games together with the principles of hygiene and sanitation. Dr. Thomas, the state superintendent, gives personal attention to the work. He is directly assisted by Rural Agent Harold A. Allan and Florence M. Hale of the Department of Education, W. D. Hill, principal of the state normal school at Castine, Miss Alice Coffin and Miss Nellie Jordan of Presque Isle, Glenn W. Starkey, deputy state superintendent of schools and J. W. Taylor, agent for secondary education. Dr. Doris Kraus, Miss Agnes Higgins of the American Red Cross and Miss Doris Wilder, physical director in the schools of Augusta, have charge of the physical education programme. Dr. C. J. Galvin, former professor of rural economics at the University of Wisconsin and at present in charge of the Bureau of Agriculture at Washington, Miss Mabel Carney, professor of rural education at Columbia University and Dr. Lee Driver, in charge of the Bureau of Rural Edu-

LUMBER ECONOMY. How to Make the Most of Timber Pointed Out by U. S. Forest Service.

It is a mistake to saw up choice logs of white oak, ash, cherry and yellow poplar for rough uses at home or to use clear black walnut for gate boards or split up white oak butts for fenceposts. This fact is emphasized in many ways in a new publication, Forestry and the Farm Income, issued by the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. Farmers are told that many valuable logs go into crosscuts when they would bring the owner much more if sold as saw logs. Likewise, large numbers of rapid-growing trees are cut which produce only one small tie, whereas if left to grow for from three to five years they would yield more than double the profit. To avoid making such mistakes owners of farm woodland should familiarize themselves with the uses for which each kind of timber is best adapted, says the publication. Timber that is cut in the late Spring and Summer months should be handled with special care to avoid injury because freshly cut wood is then more likely to be attacked by insects and fungi than during the colder months. Seasoning proceeds more rapidly during the warmer season and may cause excessive checking, which is not beneficial to the timber. If rightly handled, posts, poles and logs may be cut at any season without their durability being affected. In no case should wood be allowed to lie in direct contact with the ground. The opportunity for insect attack and decay can be reduced to a minimum by peeling the timbers and open piling them off the ground in a shaded but dry place. This, however, does not retard checking of the wood. Logs are sometimes stored under water in the hot season to prevent blue stain, checking, insect attack and decay. Painting the ends of logs with yellow ochre or barn paint will very materially retard injury by end checking. Fainting peeled timbers with croseote will prevent sap stain and decay.

Allen Theatre Enterprises. Magnifying a Nickleodeon to a World Industry. With many theatres in Canada as yet in the early constructive stages or taking form in the architectural department, the Allen Theatre Enterprises already have invaded the amusement field in the United States and Great Britain. In this respect the Allen Theatre Enterprises are unique in the amusement field, extending their theatres, methods and Canadian influence into more countries than any other concern connected with motion pictures. Having a plan and an ideal for motion pictures and motion picture theatres—to stand by the master pictures, to influence production toward the finer art in pictures and to add something more in beauty of theatre architecture and the inspiration of music—means that the Allens are believers in and masters of their own policy. They have adhered to that policy. They built scores of theatres on that policy. They turned a deaf ear to the scoffers and a friendly ear to the humblest critic. They carried their theatres and their policy into every province and every city in Canada. The people responded. They are carrying their theatres and their policy into the great centres of the United States. And in the face of opposition worthy of any competing institution, the people will respond. They went over the ocean and secured theatre location in the heart of the British Empire. And in the name of welcoming Canadian courage and enterprise, the British people show themselves ready to extend a crowning greeting. Through the Allen Theatre Enterprises at home and beyond our borders radiates the influence of an all-Canadian achievement, born from an acorn of hope, courage and desire to serve, grown to a sturdy young oak of more potential strength.

Ocean-to-Ocean Transportation for $50

What This Economy Record Means To Canada

3442 Miles—25 Drivers

CANADIANS—The remarkable record for economy made by an Overland stock car in the United States means just as much to you as though it had happened in Canada.

In these days of increasing talk about the scarcity and cost of gasoline, this transcontinental drive—3442 miles from New York to San Francisco at a total cost of just $39 for transportation, or $50 for the same trip in Canada, cannot fail to have a pocket-deep interest for every man and woman who drives a motor car.

Day and night the car sped on its way over sand and through mud, over stony mountain passes and blistering deserts; passed from hand to hand of 25 different drivers who had never steered the car before.

The only stops it made were to exchange drivers and take on gasoline, which was purchased as roadside filling stations.

—And at the finish, after sweeping across the continent, the car scarcely showed any signs of its rough handling, although it had made a wonderful new economy record—32.64 miles per gallon (Imperial).

While speed was not the object, the car averaged 19 miles per hour, a record in itself for a car weighing less than 1900 pounds, performing this record without any mechanical trouble. It showed how Triplex Springs protect every part of the car from shock and damage.

This new accomplishment adds another victory to the long list of Overland triumphs.

It proves conclusively that economy is a part of Overland construction.

This wonderful trip again emphasizes in a truly dramatic way the wonderful riding qualities and the extraordinary economy of this great car.

You can see the Made-in-Canada duplicate of this car at our salesrooms.

If you want the car of economy, stamina and comfort, come in and see this car.

You should know what a great automobile can be had for such a moderate price—that will carry you anywhere with economy and comfort.

NO GAME.

The baseball game scheduled between St. Peter's and the Vets for this afternoon has been called off. The managers of both teams yesterday agreed to play a five game series. St. Peter's had previously arranged to bring Fredericton here today, but decided that a series with the Vets would prove more popular and wired to the capital, setting the date back. As a result of the present situation the manager of St. Peter's says he will have no further negotiations with the Vets.

SEIZE 60 CASES ON AUTO TRUCK NEAR LEPREAUX

Inspectors Merryfield and White and Policeman Thomas made a liquor seizure last night on the road near Lepreaux when they took sixty cases of liquor out of an automobile truck. On information received earlier in the evening the officials hired an automobile and overtook the truck. The truck, it was said, was owned and driven by Howard McCurdy, accompanied by Ernest J. Hyatt, and it is said, was loaded with "rye whiskey" and consigned to a man in Milltown named Haley. The car, it was said, was loaded in the city on Thursday afternoon but while proceeding to Milltown the steering gear was broken and the truck ran into a ditch. The contents was unloaded in the woods and one of the occupants of the car guarded it all night, while the car was removed to the city and repaired. They had only proceeded on their way a short time when the inspectors and the policeman overtook them. The two men were brought to the central police station and were taken to St. Stephen this morning. Inspector Merryfield accompanied them.

INDICATIONS OF SMALLER CUT IN OUR WOODS

Fewer Crews and Smaller Than Usual

Reason Assigned is Slow Movement of Product from Mill Yards - Look for Large Classes at U. N. B. and Normal School.

(Special to Times.)

Fredericton, Aug. 28.—A general curtailment in lumbering operations for the next logging season is observable at the present time. Crews now are being sent into the woods and men are being engaged for the crews which will go in later but these crews are fewer and smaller than usual. This is because of the slow movement of manufactured lumber out of the numerous mill yards of the province. Freight congestion on the railways and inability to secure steamer tonnage is responsible for that. It is not yet known if the recent drop in ocean freight rates will improve the situation to any marked extent.

Extra large entering classes are expected this year at both the University of New Brunswick and Provincial Normal School. Examinations will begin at the U. N. B. on Thursday, Sept. 16, with lectures beginning on the Monday following. The Normal School will open on Sept. 7. The increase in teachers' salaries is expected to attract more students to the Normal school. Chancellor C. C. Jones reports that already numerous inquiries from prospective new students at the U. N. B. have been received.

No appointment to the chair of modern languages at the university has yet been made. This was made vacant by the retirement of Professor Spaulding. Prof. A. F. Baird is to succeed Prof. C. S. McGinnis.

James Moulson, Who Has Just Retired as Grand Keeper of Records and Seals.

The Knights of Pythias, members among its members few who have given longer or more faithful service to the fraternity than James Moulson of 5 Sydney street, who this week, gave up the post of Grand Keeper of Records and Seals.

The organization of the order was effected on February 19, 1864, in Washington, D. C. The first lodge organized outside of the United States, being founded in October, 1870, at St. John was a charter member of this lodge and its first financial scribe. He held other official positions, passing through the chair of chancellor commander and becoming a past chancellor. Lodge of the Grand Lodge of the maritime provinces was organized in 1886 and Mr. Moulson was elected its first grand chancellor, and was re-elected at the close of his first term. He was also chosen as the representative to the supreme lodge in Toronto. On the occasion of his second attendance at the convention of the supreme body he was elected supreme inner guard, and at the end of his term as such was advanced to the position of supreme master-at-arms. He was later elected supreme prelate, the highest office in the body.

DIED IN WINNIPEG

Mrs. Charles E. Humphrey, Formerly of St. John, Passed Away Suddenly.

Many will regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Annie M. Humphrey, wife of Charles E. Humphrey, which took place suddenly at her home yesterday in Winnipeg, at the age of twenty-nine years. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Storm, of 11 Pine street, St. John, who had left to see their daughter, but who have been reached and informed of the sad news. A large circle of friends extend sympathy to the bereaved ones. Besides her husband and parents, Mrs. Humphrey leaves one brother, Frederick W., of the Toronto police force, and two sisters, Miss Jennie of the Canadian west and Mrs. Robichaud of the North End. The body will be accompanied by the husband to the city, where the funeral service will be held and interment made, but announcement of the funeral arrangements has not been made yet.

TOO MUCH SPEEDING.

It has been suggested that a fruitful field for a government official in search of convictions for auto speeding would be the Manawagonish road, where the speed demons recently have been particularly active. On last Sunday two automobiles, each driven by young men with several passengers, raced from the bridge right up through Fairville without any let up in their pace. The Manawagonish road, every fine Sunday is a mecca for motorists and berry-pickers by the hundreds have been going out towards the lakes.

In view of the crowded roads care should be taken in the matter of speed and it is said that the attention of the authorities has been directed toward conditions.

Making Automobile Pay Dividends in Canned Fruit

By Harry A. Stewart

A cheerful adventurous motorist crept up the coast road yesterday and camped in the walnut grove by the north orchard. I noticed the thin blue threads from his campfire waving lazily in the early morning sunshine and walked over to see.

He had parked the car by the gravel spring, among the ferns, and was in a bitter woodman's axe with vigor and dexterity against the trunk of a lightning blasted pine, adding to the neat pile of billets which lay by the fire jack. His wife was coaxing delicious odors out of a pan of flap-jacks and bacon. His old daughter (the one with the neat engagement ring) was invisible in the tent of balloon silk stretched between the car and the trunk of a big tree. His two boys, he informed me, were out picking raspberries for breakfast, and scolding small fruit possibilities of the region.

On sight of me he drove the axe into his khaki breeches, offered it to me, at the same time and simultaneously apologized for his use of my land, asking about my health—would I have some breakfast and tell them where they could get eggs, milk, and butter?

"And sugar," said the lady by the fire, "I got a dozen glass jars of the stage at the cross roads, and I want to send them back home from the next post-office, full of blackberry jam, and I forgot the sugar."

"And, added the man of the party, taking up the theme, "I see you have a great many cherries here more than you can use probably. I would like to

BECAME SO THIN SHE WAS AFRAID

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Made Her Well, Strong and Vigorous

MADAME ARTHUR BEAUCHER

"I suffered terribly from Constipation and Dyspepsia for many years. I felt pains after eating and had gas, constant headache, and was unable to sleep at night. I was getting so thin that I was frightened and saw several physicians who, however, did not seem able to help me.

"At last a friend advised me to take 'Fruit-a-Tives.' I did so and soon I felt some relief. I continued with 'Fruit-a-Tives' and in a short time, the Constipation was banished, I felt no more pains and headache or the disagreeable sensations that follow dyspepsia. Now I am well, strong and vigorous."

WOMEN AS BRAVE AS THE MEN

THEIR STRUGGLE SHOWS A REMARKABLE SPIRIT.

Talk of the bravery of men, but where can you find a finer spirit than among the half-sick women who are fighting and struggling to do their duty against the terrible odds of ill-health, and who will not give up.

One woman in every three is struggling against weakness. Most of them are not exactly sick, but, oh, how miserable!

The burden and misery of it all has its foundation in the blood which is thin and watery. The red cells are too few. The very stream of life is reduced in vitality. Weakness and inevitable ill-health are the certain result.

Every illness or weak woman can quickly regain her health in this very simple way. By filling the system with the nutrition that change for the better will result. To accomplish this, take the chocolate-coated Ferrerozine Tablets after each meal. You'll feel better immediately for the simple reason that Ferrerozine restores the blood. It gives you vim, vigor, endurance, restores a tired, worn-out system very quickly.

You'll feel like new all over once you get Ferrerozine working through your system. It will color into faded cheeks, brighten the eye, quicken the step, bring back that wonderful feeling of youth.

One of the finest things Ferrerozine does is to make you eat lots and digest it well. With keen appetite, sound sleep, strong nerves and lots of nourishing blood you're bound to regain robust health. Any sickly girl or ailing woman that Ferrerozine won't make well must be incurable. There is a secret power in Ferrerozine and it is worth a trial at all events. Fifty cents per box, six for $2.50. At all dealers, or by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Beautifully Curly, Wavy Hair—In Three Hours!

Girls, have you tried the silberine method of curling your hair? It's simply grand! Gives you the most beautiful, natural-looking curls and waves within three hours—keeps the hair soft, silky or glossy—and nothing harmful or uneasy about it. The curls will last the longest time—in spite of heat, wind or flying hair. It's foolish to singe and blister and deaden your tresses with a hot curling iron—and altogether unnecessary now.

Liquid silberine is pleasant to use, being neither sticky nor greasy. Get a bottle from your druggist today, follow the simple directions—the first trial will make it your steadfast friend.

How to Lose Your Tan, Freckles or Wrinkles

A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis court or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a water trip, often brings on a deep tan or vivid crimson, or more perplexing still, a vigorous crop of freckles. A very necessary thing then is mercerized wax, which removes tan, redness or freckles quite easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or inconvenience. As the skin comes off in almost invisible flakes, particles, no trace of the treatment is shown. Get an ounce of mercerized wax at your druggist's, one ounce dissolved in water, in a week or so you will have an entirely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a most delicate whiteness.

Wrinkles, so apt to form at this season, may be easily and quickly removed by bathing the face in a solution of powdered saccharine, one ounce dissolved in water, one-half pint. This is not only a valuable astringent, but has a beneficial tonic effect also.

Strange Ways of Some Rich Men

That possession of much of this world's goods is frequently attended by the weirdest eccentricities is amusingly illustrated by the following curious instances related by a London paper.

In Vienna there lived a wealthy man, a role of noble origin, occupying sumptuous apartments in the heart of the capital's fashionable quarter, who when he wished to summon his servants, did so by means of huge calls. A favorite pastime of this eccentric was to drive a stage coach, attired like any ordinary driver of such a vehicle, wherever he might find aristocratic cars to be most numerous.

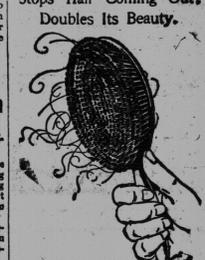

The Yoness asserted that while he spent a fortune each year upon his raiment, yet he was never clad in any except discarded garments of his valet. On one occasion the Pole astounded the guests at a ball by appearing in a costume of pure white, with the notable exception of shirt and tie, which were emerald.

To complete the oddities, it may be added that when dining, which he invariably did alone at a table d'hôte, he maintained his reputation for crankiness by reversing the usual order of things, beginning the meal with a dem-tasse and working backward to the soup.

It was not long ago that there died in an eastern European town a wealthy eccentric who, though he had never for years been outside the grounds surrounding his residence, was so certain to be absent each day that he had walked to certain towns, generally at a great distance from home, with a dem-tasse. He did this—Whenever he decided that it would be an excellent idea to visit a distant town, he ascertained its exact distance from his home and covered it on foot on a carefully measured walking track maintained on his premises for this purpose.

"The Little Nurse for Little Ills"

HOLY GEE, MY HEAD FEELS GOOD TODAY!

Pain Over Eyes is Gone, Headache Cured, Catarrh Relieved!

Catarrhozone

Remember this, Catarrh can never be cured or even relieved by a cough syrup, a spray, or tablet treatment. Trouble is these remedies slip quickly over the sore irritated membranes, drop into the stomach and do little else but harm digestion. It's different with "Catarrhozone"—you inhale it. Every breath sends healing balsams to the inflamed tissues. Tightness, soreness and inflammation are cured by healing gases inhaled. The cough dies away, throat is strengthened, hoarseness is cured. Nothing is so simple, so convenient, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. The dollar bottle includes the inhaler, costs $4, and is guaranteed to cure. Small size 50c. trial size 25c. all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Sunken Eyes Brighten Quickly Health Returns

In a Message to Ailing Women Doctor Hamilton Tells How It is Done.

In speaking of the ills from which women suffer, Dr. Hamilton points out that nine out of every ten women are by nature inclined to habitual constipation. Harsh purgatives are resorted to, which only intensify the trouble. Although not generally known, it is a compensated condition of the bowels that causes half the sickness and tired weariness with which all womanhood is so familiar. It was after long years of study that Dr. Hamilton perfected the pills which have been of such marvellous benefit to women the world over. In his pills of Mandrake and Balaizum every sufferer will find an absolute specific for constipation, sick headache and biliousness. It is safe to say that Dr. Hamilton's Pills bring better health and keep the system in a more vigorous condition than any other medicine ever discovered. At all dealers, in 50c boxes.

MALARIA RESPONSIBLE FOR "THE TWELVE-POUND LOOK"

At least one dramatist writes plays to enable him to forget his troubles. He is Sir James Barrie, whose absorbing owes its origin to an attack of malaria. "Barrie told me this tale with many quiet chuckles," says Mr. Isaac Macrae in "Adventures in Interviewing."

"As soon as he was taken ill he locked himself up. He did not feel like reading so he turned to writing. To while away the hours he wrote a play. A favorite pastime of this eccentric was to drive a stage coach, attired like any ordinary driver of such a vehicle, wherever he might find aristocratic cars to be most numerous.

MARIE VICTORICA, GERMAN SPY, DEAD

Succumbs in Sanitarium to a Second Mysterious Attack of Pneumonia

Stricken With Mme. Storch — Death Recalls Suspicion That German Agents Wanted Both Women Out of the Way.

(New York Times.) Mme. Marie K. de Victorica, the weird figure who arose out of the maze of intrigue unearthing when secret service agents delved into the activities here of Count von Bernstorff and his confidential agents, von Papen and Boy-Ed, died yesterday at Dr. Maluk's sanitarium, 41 East Seventy-eighth street, of pneumonia—the second mysterious attack since her arrest in 1918.

She was an important member of the German spy system here during the war. Only a week ago she made application to the United States District Court to return to Germany, but when United States Attorney Francis G. Caffey recommended to the court a surety bond of $5,000 be demanded to insure her return if wanted Mme. de Victorica withdrew her application.

She was removed to the private sanitarium on Monday from a convent which took her in following her release from custody in September, 1919. Mme. de Victorica was already suffering from pneumonia when admitted to the sanitarium, the nurse who attended her said last night.

On July 17, 1918, she was removed to the army base hospital at Ellis Island, Ill with an attack of pneumonia which government agents were fearful would end her life before they could learn what she could tell them about German spies, Sinn Fein plots and other activities hatched in America with German gold. Mme. de Victorica recovered and later revealed much the government wanted to know at various trials.

Another Spy Stricken.

Her first case of pneumonia puzzled the army surgeons because it became critical within a few hours after it was diagnosed and followed a sudden and mysterious attack of the same disease, which ended the life of Mme. Despina Daidovitch Storch, another alluring and unscrupulous agent of the German Intelligence Department. It was considered more than a coincidence that both these women should be stricken with pneumonia on Ellis Island just when they were apparently ready to confess all they knew to save themselves from possible death by a firing squad.

An investigation followed the death of Mme. Storch, but beyond the bare announcement that she died following a brief illness with pneumonia, nothing was made public.

It was believed at the time that the women either were the victims of self-injected pneumonia germs or were infected by some scientific murderer of the Imperial German government camouflaged in the person of one of the employees at Ellis Island. A specialist was summoned from Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore and two other surgeons came from Washington. The medical men worked heroically to save Mme. Victorica. Dead, her lips would have been cold. Alive, there was a chance she would reveal valuable information.

On the stand before Judge Learned Hand and a jury in the United States District Court at the trial of Willard Robinson in May, 1919, Mme. de Victorica told her life story, admitting that she had been a drug addict for twenty years.

William Daly, her attorney since she was released from custody in 1919, said yesterday that he had been called to the sanitarium, finding his client suffering from pneumonia. He declared he thought Mme. de Victorica had brooded over her inability to return to Germany. She had been unable to obtain the bond from surety companies, it was said, due to the fact that the companies have made

She said she was the daughter of a Prussian general. She lived a life of adventure, such as falls to the lot of few women. She travelled in all parts of the world and spoke German, French, Spanish and English, the last with piquant intonations, but with a regard for grammar. Her activities here came to light when she testified at the trials of the O'Learys, Jeremiah and John, and of Willard J. Robinson. She entered this country under a false passport accompanying Carl Rodgers, a German lieutenant commander, who came as the director of the German espionage system. The government later established that Rodgers made payments aggregating $40,000 to the woman. Her salary as a German agent was said to be $1,000 a month. She went under various aliases here, and was known from time to time as Mme. De Vussiere and Baroness von Kretschmann. The various indictments against her involved conspiracy to instigate war on the part of Ireland on the side of Germany, the destruction of American ships by bombs, the organization of a messenger system and various other acts, all of them intended to aid Germany in the war against America.

KAMENEFF CALLED POWER IN RUSSIA

Head of the Moscow Soviet Centre of War Negotiations in London.

A MODERATE BOLSHIE

Once Sent to Siberia, Arrested Seven Times, Has Picturesque Career.

ONE of the leading figures in the war crisis centering in London is Kameneff, representative of the Bolshevik Russian Government, who, with Krasin, his colleague, has been negotiating with Premier Lloyd George and the other allied leaders about the Polish-Bolshevik situation. Kameneff only landed in Great Britain a few weeks ago, when the Daily Express described him as the following: "A moderate Bolshevik, a specialist correspondent who had been months in Russia."

Leon Borisoif Kameneff, who is on his way to England as the head of the Soviet delegation to continue negotiations for the resumption of trade with Russia, is one of the most powerful personalities in the Bolshevik movement, and at the same time one of the most moderate. He will not come as the mere figurehead of a delegation, obliged to have his every step sanctioned by Moscow, as did Krasin, but he will come as a plenipotentiary, and I would not be surprised if he carried a full-fledged peace proposal in his satchel.

His selection also strongly indicates that the moderate section of the Bolsheviks are now in the saddle, and the other extremists and terrorists have had a set-back—whether temporary or otherwise remains to be seen. Kameneff, who is a power in himself as President of the Moscow Soviet, holds great influence in the Central Executive Committee of the All-Russian Soviet, and is the closest and most trusted adviser of Lenin, whom he regards as the only great man Russia has produced since Peter the Great.

He was born in Moscow, the son of a railway engineer named Rosenfeld. He entered Moscow University, and in 1901 became a Communist. He was quickly arrested, and almost as quickly escaped to Paris, where he studied the Sorbonne, and completed his courses in jurisprudence. Returning to Russia he became engaged in the underground revolutionary work, and was arrested several times. He was released after the February revolution, and he has since been in interesting—five times by the Czar, once by Kerensky, and once by the Finns, who exchanged him for twenty White Finns.

Expelled From England
THIS will not be his first visit to England. After the 1917 October revolution he came to London as representative of the Bolsheviks, but his stay lasted only a few days. He was expelled from the room where he was staying, and he was escorted to Edinburgh, where he boarded a ship bound for Finland. "All my money was taken from me before we started, but it was scrupulously returned to me when we reached the ship. Evidently the authorities were fearful I might finance a revolution en route."

Since he has become president of the Moscow Soviet, he has been constantly battling against the power of the Extraordinary Commission, that is the real power in Russia. He is the real head of the Bolsheviks in the fight against the Khodynka, the police the opportunity of crying "Bolshevik!" and thus retaining their noxious power. "He is a strong advocate, once exterior presence and words are removed, of instituting the fullest freedom of the press and the individual and extending the franchise to everybody. In fact, he is altogether a strange Bolshevik. Yet he fervently believes that communism will prevail, not by force or violence, but by education. In age he is in the late thirties, of middle height, with a light Van Dyck beard, blue eyes behind lenses, and a face and forehead bespeaking intellectuality.

In Moscow his offices are in the palace of the former Governor-General of Moscow. Access to him is easy.

"Give us an end of war and Russia will be the most happy and prosperous country on earth," is his most frequent saying. "It is the main part of his mission to England."

STILL HIS HOLE
CARDINAL O'CONNELL, the Roman Catholic prelate of Boston, who has created a flutter in feminine society in that highly-cultured city by asserting that American husbands are given to petting and pampering their wives overmuch, has the reputation of being a very witty man. Almost his sole recreation is golf, at which, however, he does not greatly shine.

One day, the story goes, he was badly beaten by one of his parishioners.

"Never mind, Father," said the latter consolingly; "you'll get your own back when you come to bury me."

"That's where you're wrong," sighed the rural prelate. "I'll still be your hole!"

RICH BUT RESPECTABLE.
NEVER ensure people because they are rich—they may be as respectable as you are.

HE WANTS CANADA TO VOTE A NEW WAY

Ronald Hooper of Ottawa a Champion of Proportional Representation.

WEST HAS TRIED IT

Mr. Hooper Says It Prevents Gerrymandering, Bribery, and Fair Deal to Minorities.

BY H. M. RIDLEY.
RONALD HOOPER, secretary of the Proportional Representation Society of Canada, has just returned from a lecture tour, following upon the successful testing out of proportional representation in Winnipeg. This young Canadian, whose energy and enthusiasm have done so much to bring this new system of voting before the public, is the editor of the Labor Gazette, published by the Department of Labor of the Dominion Government.

After a course at Queen's University, Kingston, where he studied mathematics and the theory of bridge design, he gravitated to the engineering service of the Federal Government, where he worked for some time side by side with C. A. Bowman.

"But both Bowman and myself," he said, "gradually became more interested in the framework of society and the ballot box. This was due, he believes, to the high quality of the personnel selected to do the work. They had no difficulty in finding men for this work—in fact, everyone was only too glad to assist and a pick was made from among such men as insurance actuaries, engineers, and engineering and law students.

"The recent P.R. test in Winnipeg," continued Mr. Hooper, "was the best individual test of the single transferable vote that has ever been conducted. Forty-one candidates contested for ten seats and over 48,000 ballots were cast. Without exception the Winnipeg papers, daily and weekly, have all testified to the success of the experiment and from the reports of the experiment it is reasonable to think that before long we will practically substitute the present single member constituency system of election in this country."

SENATOR HARDING STORY
AMONGST a number of amusing stories that are filtering through from America concerning Senator Harding, the Republican candidate for the Presidency, is one concerning an early experience in a mining camp in Montana, says Pearson's Weekly.

"The first meal I ate on my arrival," Mr. Harding told an interviewer, "was at a 'back' restaurant, with planks laid across crates in lieu of a table.

"The waiter was a half-breed Mexican. He came into the room with a revolver and a bowie-knife hooked around his neck. In one hand he carried a coffee-pot and in the other a teapot.

"When he reached the door he shouted, 'Cups up!'—meaning that those who wanted tea or coffee should turn up their cups, which were placed down upon the table tops in order to keep out the ants.

"One chap, a new man, called out, 'Water, please bring me some back.' The waiter put down his coffee pot and tea set, but his revolver and bowie-knife were still in his hands. 'What's that?' called out the other men. 'A tragedy was averted by the new man jumping out of a window.'

Amusing Lecture Experiences
MR. HOOPER has some amusing anecdotes to tell in connection with his lecture tour and the Winnipeg election. "I was addressing a city council meeting," he said, "when a certain city councillor in the audience raised an objection to the P.R. I had happened to mention the fact that they had used the system for some years in Belgium, and at the close of the address he said: 'Did I understand you to say that they had used P.R. in Belgium for some years?' I replied that that was the case. 'Oh!' he said, 'Look when Belgium is to-day!' This denoted a very curious line of reasoning. I recalled that Turkey had never used Proportional Representation and took where Turkey was to-day!"

"Another amusing thing happened at the Winnipeg election. One of the voters, who evidently had not taken the trouble to properly read the instructions, wrote across the ballot in bold script: 'Dixon every place.' It was not Dixon that time, however, as the ballot was rejected.

According to Mr. Hooper, one of the interesting things about the Winnipeg election was the absolute smoothness with which the counting

Millerand a Man of Power But No Gifts Who Always Muddles Through

French Premier Described as a Man Without Imagination or Vision, a Blunderer, But Resolute and a Hard, Plugging Worker.

FROM various points of view as different as those of the Manchester Guardian and the Paris Humanite we get the following description of the fundamental fact regarding Alexandre Millerand, Premier of France. He is everything but all wrong. This, considering personal impressions of him conveyed by French newspapers, is inevitable. Millerand in the first place, has no gifts. He has no imagination, without fancy, destitute of psychological insight. Furthermore, he is an obstinate as a mule, and has an amazing inaccessibility to ideas. He has no eloquence, a speech from his lips being a compressed, terse, encephalic deposit of a subject from which only the expert can derive enlightenment. Millerand is cold, reserved, chilling to the enthusiastic. He has no instinctive propensity of disposition that involves him in sudden controversies and personal feuds. He conceives himself to be a wronged and frustrated man, and when he has picked a political party in two or three weeks, he has no characteristic malice, he announces in his frigid fashion to the deputies that he bears no malice. The most amazing fact about him, however, is that his political career has been brilliant.

Lord Rayleigh
CONSIDERED to be the world's greatest authority on radium, a nephew of Arthur Balfour, Lord Rayleigh's pedigree was originally bestowed upon his great-grandmother, Lady Charlotte Sturt, daughter of the first Duke of Leinster. Lord Rayleigh's impending marriage to the widowed Mrs. J. H. Colthart has just been announced.

Tracking Another Eskimo Murderer
Sergeant Douglas of the Mounted Police Off on Another Arctic Adventure.

Sergeant W. O. Douglas, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, is now on his way north, having embarked at Montreal with his prisoner on the Hudson Bay steamer "Nasopoc" for Chesterfield Inlet, the new police outpost. On arrival there he will have covered about 8,000 miles with his captive, exemplifying again the tradition of the "Mounties" that they "always get their man." Sergeant Douglas is modest as to his exploit, with nothing of the poster about him, but states there is another Eskimo murderer he hopes to track and secure for trial at the same time as Cunnank.

An Anomaly in Politics
THE Rev. O. J. Quale is a village preacher and a convert to the political faith of the Nonpartisan League. His victory over Congressman Volstead in the Republican primary was an anomaly in politics in itself. A bitter enemy of the saloon, the Rev. Mr. Quale was nominated by the voters of those who favor a return to the good old days of wine and liquor, not because the wets hated Quale, but because they hated Volstead more.

BONAR LAW'S METHOD
SOMEHOW one does not exactly associate humor with Mr. Bonar Law. Yet, if the story told of him recently by a supporter is true, he must possess a certain fund of it.

It appears that at one of his meetings in North-West Manchester a very pertinacious and offensive heckler insisted on getting a direct "yes" or "no" to his questions, and Mr. Law promised to answer as desired on condition that "yes" or "no" was given to a question he wished to put to his interrogator.

"All right," said the heckler. "Well," said the candidate, "have you stopped beating your wife?" The man gasped in confusion and embarrassment, while the speaker's admirers

GEN. BOOTH'S STORY

GENERAL BRAEMWELL BOOTH, who is now on his first visit to Australia and New Zealand, tells a good story illustrating the change which has taken place in religious thought towards the Salvation Army since the early days of the movement.

When Dr. Church was Dean of St. Paul's, he made that a mass meeting of Salvationists might be held in the Cathedral, the proposal being that Bishop Lightfoot, who was a warm friend of the altar, should preside at the sermon and that Dean Church should read the lessons. The application was, however, rejected because the floor of the Cathedral had just been repaired and the Dean was afraid the hallowed boots of the Salvationists might damage it.

The Infant Terrible
MRS. PERKINS and Mrs. Johnson had met on the street and were discussing the income tax on his mutual friends when Mrs. Johnson's little daughter, who was interested regarding Mrs. Perkins' new spring business, suddenly burst out: "Mother, I—'Hush, darling,' said the mother. 'Mother—' 'Will you be quiet!' 'Mother, Mrs. Perkins' hat doesn't make me laugh."

WHEN IT'S PRINCE'S PAY DAY
THOUGH the King's two younger children receive only such sums as his Majesty may allow them privately, the elder ones all have their own incomes, guaranteed by Parliament.

At the time of the present King's accession the usual select committee was appointed to consider the question, and on its recommendations the amounts to be paid were adopted by the House of Commons.

For the Prince of Wales the revenues of the Duchy of Cornwall are set apart.

These amount to $1,000,000, but after deducting various charges and expenses of management the Prince receives only about $400,000 to maintain the dignity of his position, and to meet the modest calls on his private purse. Each of the other princes comes into an annual income of $50,000, to be increased at marriage by another $25,000.

Princess Mary, however, like the other princesses of the Royal House, receives considerably less than her brothers. Her annuity is fixed at $100,000, but she is also a daughter of the King either married or unmarried, and she receives the same amount as the three sisters and three daughters of the late King Edward.

Formerly the allowance was only half the present sum. One of George III's granddaughters, the late Grand Duchess Dowager of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, was the last recipient of the old scale.

No one who appreciates the part played by the younger members of the Royal Family in national affairs will consider their incomes too generous in these days.

Harding Courty and Commanding, Cox Dapper and Democratic —Harding Mellow, Cox Metallic—Harding Secure in His Opinions, Cox Feels Safest in His Own Experiences.

Yet Senator Harding, amid his simple surroundings, is a courtly and commanding figure; Governor Cox, for all his magnificent setting, is dapper and democratic. Nothing could be attained after his grand manner, nothing could turn Cox's level head or give him the grand pose.

Harding is very tall, rather slender, and slightly stooped; Cox is short, stocky and square.

Harding turns to you gently, and shyly, takes your hand warmly and holds it lingeringly, his whole manner framing the question. "What can I do for you?" Cox turns upon you abruptly, grasps your hand tightly and shakes it briefly, making a quick searching inventory of you, as if wondering, "What use can I make of this fellow?"

Harding is mellow; Cox is metallic. Harding lounges leisurely in his seat and likes to throw a leg over an arm; Cox seldom laughs; in Cox there is no genial glow but frequent bursts of laughter.

BIBLE MIRACLE AN ELECTION ISSUE

Minister Opposing Congressman Said Latter Was an Atheist for Not Believing Parable.

OTHER SAYS HE DOES

If He Can Prove It in Court Clergyman Is Guilty of "Corruption."

PROHIBITIONISTS have always drawn their main strength from the Church, and now prohibition in the United States comes down concretely to the parable of the Loaves and the Fishes, for it is on that parable that the return of Congressman Volstead, author of the Volstead Act, to the United States Congress hinges.

Mr. Volstead was defeated in the Minnesota primaries in June for the Republican nomination to Congress from the 7th Minnesota Congressional District. His victorious opponent was the Rev. O. J. Quale, who claims to be an even better prohibitionist than Mr. Volstead. Thus, on the surface, prohibition would win the day, but it wouldn't, for if Mr. Volstead does not go back to Congress the chairman of the House Judiciary Committee will be a wet, and the wets think that in that case there will be a new enforcement act to replace the Volstead Act and that the new act will permit a good deal more than one-half of one per cent. of alcohol in a drink.

CLOSING DAY AT THE PLAYGROUNDS

Regret at the closing of the playgrounds season was for a while forgotten in the enjoyment of the closing exercises in two of the city playgrounds yesterday. The Allison playground at the foot of Sydney street and the Carleton playground. The fine weather induced many more than usual to attend the closing exercises and both children and their parents greatly enjoyed the occasion. During the summer holidays the children have been kept busy making baskets, sewing for their dolls, working with red and white and making various other things.

At the Allison grounds the display of work was exceptionally fine. Pine needles were again introduced and the children in a very short time made with them baskets, fern baskets, trinket trays and flower baskets, many with very fancy handles. For the closing the play and work house was very prettily decorated with strings and ropes of cut paper, for the most part the work of the very little ones. A very interesting programme of exercises was carried out with great success, some of the most applauded of the exercises being the two drills in which sixty-five children took part. Races, games, dialogue and recitations were also among the items of the programme.

When the National Anthem had been sung the presentation of the prizes took place. Mrs. James H. Duddy making the presentation. Those who were fortunate enough to gain prizes were Irene Power, Lillian Daley, Eleanor McKim, Carmelita Condon, Frances Stirling, Ezie Magnusson, Doris Sharpe, Maimie Alward and Jennie McLeod.

Miss F. Edna Colwell was the super-

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

EDITED BY MANSFIELD F. HOUSE

Snyder Finds That a "Home Store" Pays

The question "When is a home not a home?" has been answered by Frank L. Snyder, in Hazelton, Pa., who has built up a most flourishing tobacco business in his parlor.

His answer is: "A home is not a home when you turn the parlor into a store-room."

The average impression of the retailer when he hears of a man running a little store in connection with his home is that the merchant is either sick, crippled, old or unsuccessful. Snyder belongs to none of these classifications and had no such ruling when he gave up his store in the central city to convert the front room of his home into his tobacco shop.

On the contrary, he believed he would cut down in clerk hire, save on rent and be able to handle business whenever calls came.

Snyder has specialized in tobacco, studies his trade journals religiously and is a firm believer in handling brands that are well known. He buys cigars in the tens of thousands and sells them by the box. Snyder won't handle the output of the manufacturer who expects the retailer to do the advertising. He sells cigars advertised throughout the country, both because he considers them the best and because they are the easiest to handle.

Inside his shop are chairs and benches, arranged for the comfort of the caller, and often the customer who drops in for a smoke stops to buy the newspaper or magazine he fancies and sits when to look over his purchase. A "home" atmosphere prevails that allures the chance customer, and the trade done is as good as that handled in many up-to-date establishments in the central part of the city.

Snyder knows the places where the different grades are grown, can tell what the wrapper should be and where it should come from, can discuss the filler, is able to decide without hesitancy if the cigar is real Havana and is well camouflaged with coffee and chocolate infusion, and in other ways makes the call of the patron one of pleasure and information.

All of these things in making the Snyder business pay. In addition to the casual caller, Snyder handles long-established trade, which makes it a point to go out of the regular route to get a supply of smokes at Snyder's or buy a magazine or a newspaper.

Furniture as You Like It Builds Big Success.

The little "hide-to-be" halted in front of a tempting window display of furniture. It was Saturday afternoon and clouds were beginning to gather on the horizon, but for one room had to be done in French gray with blue and the other simply must be in old-fashioned red. Prices were bad enough but the French gray was not to be had at any price.

"Somewhere," said the little woman, "I will have a place where they sell unfinished furniture and where I can get the things I need."

It was this determination, added to the quick business insight which is the call of the patron one of pleasure and information.

All of these things in making the Snyder business pay. In addition to the casual caller, Snyder handles long-established trade, which makes it a point to go out of the regular route to get a supply of smokes at Snyder's or buy a magazine or a newspaper.

Good Clothing

AT FAVORABLE PRICES

Our Made-to-order department has a full stock of good cloths which were contracted for when prices were much lower than they are at present. This means that we are taking orders for suits at prices which are $10 and $15 less than if we had to buy the cloth at today's wholesale prices.

Your order now before the Fall rush begins would be appreciated.

Our prices start with a selection of good cloths at $60 a suit and a wide range at $75.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, War Loan Bonds of the Dominion will also be accepted as security, or War Bonds and cheques if required to make up an odd amount.

Note—Blue prints can be obtained at this Department by depositing an accepted bank cheque for the sum of $10, payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, which will be returned if the intending bidder submit a regular bid.

By order,
R. C. DESROCHERS, Secretary.
Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, August 23, 1920.

GROCCERS NOW ERR ON SIDE OF SAFETY

Mrs. Edmund Flewelling, food inspector of the board of health, who has been on the warpath for the last few days after the grocers and fruit dealers, and through whose efforts two grocers were before the police court on Thursday morning, said yesterday that the two complaints meted out by Magistrate Ritchie must have had the desired effect upon other dealers. On her tour of the various stores in the city yesterday she found that everything in the nature of fruit was covered.

Some grocers, evidently grown much afraid of the law when they found it could touch their pockets to the next day, went so far as to carefully cover potatoes, corn and fruit with the red ink. She said it was not necessary for the grocers to be covered, although no harm could result from such care, but she insisted that any article of food which might suffer from exposure be carefully protected.

SEES DROP IN FOOD PRICES EVERYWHERE

Winnipeg, Aug. 27.—Following the start of the fall movement of the 1920 crop and the resumption of competitive dealing by millers, it is stated today on good authority, according to a local paper, that there will be a drop in the price of flour and shorts.

One prominent miller said that the drop in the price of flour would be $1.50 per barrel at least. It was likely to take effect probably next week. The price of flour per barrel now is $14.30.

The price of bran and shorts, it was said, would drop from $5 to $7 per ton.

LOWER RETAIL PRICES

Washington, Aug. 27.—Retail prices in the opinion of the federal reserve board, will decline slightly during the coming fall and winter months and will slump next spring to lower levels.

Summarizing recent changes in prices of various commodities in the United States, the board in a report issued today said "having afforded by manufacturers through lessened costs of materials and increased efficiency of production, the reduction in prices of raw products, having been especially marked."

The board stated that an "important downward tendency" in prices of all commodities except food had been evidenced throughout the United States, the reduction in prices of raw products having been especially marked.

This general lowering of the price level, it was believed, indicates a probable drop in food prices during the coming months.

NEW STAR CAUSED BY COLLISION IN HEAVENS

Vallejo, Calif., Aug. 27.—The new star in the constellation Cygnus, reported by Harvard Observatory, was caused by a collision in the heavens between a large comet and a comparatively dim sun, according to information which Capt. Thomas J. See of the Naval Observatory at Mare Island announced today.

The star forms a corner of the parallel of Alpha Gamma and Delta Cygni, so Capt. See said he had been advised. At present, he reported, it is of the second magnitude and the magnitude may be expected to increase for several days but will die down in the course of a few months.

Ontario Merchants Use 500,000 Pictures Envelopes

The retail merchants of St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada, have engaged in a unique campaign to advertise their city to the outside world and to induce industries and residents to make it their home. They are conducting, under the direction of the Retail Merchants' Association of the city, what is known as an "envelope drive."

St. Thomas, through its extensive horticultural activities, has gained an international reputation as "The Flower City of Canada" and it is this distinction that the business men are utilizing to allure outsiders into their midst. Generations meted out by Magistrate Ritchie must have had the desired effect upon other dealers. On her tour of the various stores in the city yesterday she found that everything in the nature of fruit was covered.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 27.—Dr. Fred Park, for many years mayor of Amherstburg and a magistrate of that place, was fined $1,000 and costs by Magistrate Alfred Miers in the city entered by Dr. Park to a charge of having on May 26 just been in possession of liquor in a place other than a private dwelling.

In explanation of the matter, Dr. Park told the court that the liquor in his barn was not his property and that he had merely had it put there in the public interests, so that it might not be stolen.

Good Contests at Moosepath.
A large and enthusiastic gathering of fans were in attendance yesterday at the second meeting of the Maine & New Brunswick Circuit, which is being held at Moosepath Park. Two events were run off, the 2.18 class trot and pace, and the 2.14 trot and pace. Both were keenly contested, five heats being necessary to decide a winner in the former and four in the latter.

The first two heats in the 2.18 class were won by Clay Watts, a Montreal entry, but the remaining three went to Bert Lint, who was driving Roy Volo, another Fredericton entry, won the 2.14 class event, taking three out of four heats.

In the 2.14 class Roy Volo had to extend himself to take honors from Touz owned by S. E. Rice of this city. These horses have a marked resemblance and to see them coming up the home stretch contesting every inch of the way was a real treat and brought the crowd to their feet enthusiastically cheering. The second and third heats in this event were features. In the former Roy Volo kept in the lead, but was challenged by Touz while making the lower turn and as they came into the home stretch almost neck and neck until the latter was able to pull ahead and win by a few feet.

The summary follows:
2.18 Trot and Pace, Purse $400.
Border Prince, 2.18 1/2, b.
Clay Watts, 2.18 1/2, b. s.

Today's Events.
Peter Farren, the St. John pacer, was even money against the field in the pool last night and was being heavily played, with Lady Gratton as second choice for the free-for-all. In the 2.24 trot Forester, another St. John horse, was favored by the favorite with Native Worthy and The Finisher as next in line. Dick O'Leary was being played to win the 2.27 trot, owned by Major McKinnon, Charles O'Leary, was being played to win the 2.27 trot, owned by A. J. Stewart's Simco Bell being second choice. Dick O., who is by Cochato, has a mark of 2.19 1/2 as a trotter but has been changed over to a pacer.

The races on the other two days have been so well contested that no doubt a banner crowd will be on hand today to see some fine racing. Efforts will be made to hold the track record of 2.15, now held by Peter Farren.

Grand Circuit Meet.
Walnut Price won the 2.11 class trot at the grand circuit meet in Poughkeepsie yesterday, taking two out of four heats, best time 2.09 1/4. Electron Dillon won the 2.15 class trot, taking two out of three heats, best time 2.08 1/4. The 2.20 class trot was won by Ted Border, two out of three heats, best time 2.09 3/4.

Bangor Races End.
Three races were run at the closing of the Bangor meet yesterday. Sandy McNab won the 2.30 class pace in straight heats, best time 2.16 1/4. The 2.22 trot went to Melvin, three out of four heats, best time 2.16 1/2. The 2.14 trot was captured by Charles W. in straight heats, best time 2.16 1/4.

GOLF.
Miss Bauld Champion.
Halifax, Aug. 27—Miss Edith Bauld, of Halifax, today won the ladies' championship of the maritime provinces when she defeated Mrs. W. R. DesBrisay, of St. John, on the thirteenth hole of the second round with six up and five to go. Miss Bauld played a splendid game. The competitor from across the Bay of Fundy offered a stiff game, and a thoroughly interesting opposition, but was outclassed in competing with a rival of more experience and skill.

Just so the Halifax Golf Club would not be able to put itself on the back for running away with everything that there was to be run away with, Miss Mary White of Amherst carried off the honor of the consolation final, defeating Mrs. M. E. MacLeod, three up and two to go. The other event of the day, a series of mixed foursomes, concluded with Miss K. Stairs and E. J. Murphy registering the highest net score for the eighteen holes played.

The prizes were presented by Lieutenant Governor Grant Mrs. G. MacGregor Mitchell, president of the association.

National Triple Tie.
Ottawa, Aug. 27—Douglas Edgar, of Atlanta (Ga.), present Canadian open champion; T. D. Armistead, of Edinburgh, Scotland, and Charles Murray, of Montreal, were tied at the end of today's play in the Canadian national open golf championship being played off here over the Riverhead Club's course. The triple tie ended with each having a score of 228 for the four rounds of eighteen holes, they will drive off the first tee tomorrow afternoon at 12:30 in a match that will decide the championship. Edgar went out in thirty-four and in in thirty-five.

YANKEES TO HAVE THEIR OWN PARK
National League Club Refuses to Extend Lease so Magnates Decide to Build.
Philadelphia, Aug. 24—The New York National League Club having refused to extend the lease of the Polo Grounds to the Yankees, the American League team shall have to own grounds in that city. Under the present lease the Yankees will play at the Polo Grounds next year, but on their own field in 1922.
Colonel Jacob Ruppert of the Yankees said three states are under consideration for the new grounds. He declined to say where they were situated. Details for financing the new home of the New York team were not announced.
Meeting so soon after the death of Ray Chapman, short stop of the Cleveland club, who was killed by a ball pitched by Carl Mays of the New York team, it was expected the club owners would take some action in the case, but the only announcement made regarding Chapman's tragic death was that resolutions of sympathy would be sent to his widow. Colonel Ruppert, William Richardson of Philadelphia, Vice President of the Washington club, and Thomas F. Shibe, Vice President of the Athletics, were appointed a committee to draft resolutions. There was only an informal discussion of the circumstances surrounding Chapman's death, so it was announced.
Five of the eight clubs were directly represented at the meeting. Proxies of St. Louis, Detroit and Cleveland were held by Canada Mack and William J. Fisher of Philadelphia.
JEFF SMITH AND ROBINSON MATCHED
They Will Meet in Halifax on Next Wednesday in Fifteen Round Bout.
(Halifax Echo)
The G. W. V. A. have completed arrangements to have George Robinson, a well known Boston middleweight, meet Jeff Smith over the fifteen round route at the Armories on Wednesday, Sept. 1. This looks like the greatest bout that the Vets have ever yet attempted to stage. George Robinson and Jeff Smith are considered two of the highest class performers in the middleweight division. Robinson has met every prominent middle and lightweight in the game today. He is a high class performer and his record will show that Robinson and Smith have met on two previous occasions, in both bouts staging wonderful contests. The local fans are looking forward to a wonderful bout.
FISHERMEN ALARMED.
Increase in Price of Nets and Net Twine.
Vancouver, August 28—Fishermen in British Columbia are faced with another serious advance in the price of nets and net twine. A net which has sold for $800 up to the present time will henceforth command $450. The scarcity of the basis of the twine, has, it is given as the cause for the increase. Many fishermen declare that they will be unable to follow their craft this fall on account of lack of capital to finance high-priced nets, unless there is an improvement in the market for salted dog salmon in the Orient.
