Daily Hints For the Cook

OYSTERS AND CORN BREAD Strain the oysters, roll in sifted corn meal, dip in beaten egg, salt, and fry brown in hot lard. Serve with a sauce made of half a cupful of tomato ketchup and the juice of half a lemon, seasoned to taste with sugar, salt and pepper. Served with hot corn bread and fresh butter, these oysters are delicious.

SPICED WALNUTS Run a needle through soft walnuts, cover with a strong brine of salt and water, and let them stand in the brine for a week, draining off the brine every day and covering again with fresh. Then drain and wash walnuts, cover with vinegar and boil 10 minutes. Add a bag of spices, cover closely, and keep in a cool place for three weeks. For the bag of spices mix four tablespoonfuls of whole cloves, peppercorns, mace, celeryseed and mustard seed.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH GAMBON

DESPITE the cry of hard times which we are hearing on every side, a dressmaker declared the other day that never in all her life had she had so much work as this season. When asked why that was, she answered: "I think it is because people have to have so many gowns nowadays. They want something different for every separate occasion."

Then she went on to explain that the time had passed when a woman of moderate means in possession of two or three inexpensive house gowns, an afternoon dress, a tailored suit and an evening gown had reason to think that her wardrobe was competent for every occasion. This is the age of differentiation in clothes. Every year fashion narrows down the number of functions at which any particular gown can be worn. For instance, a few years ago a young woman in moderate circumstances was satisfied if she had a stylish and attractive evening gown, and considered herself prepared for any evening function. Today she must have at least two; one reception gown with a long train, and one shorter dress for a dancing frock.

Again, the middle class woman's afternoon gown of a few years ago did service for home wear, for any afternoon function, for church and for the less dressy evening function. Today her dress has been subdivided into at least two frocks. One is called a house gown and is supposed to be worn at home, or to "very informal gatherings." The other is a much more elaborate affair and is worn to teas, afternoon receptions, concerts, bridges, etc.

Mind you, clothes differentiation such as this is not simply for the wealthy. If I were to try to chronicle the occasions or which the real society woman must have separate gowns, I should use the rest of this column. But the frocks I have mentioned must be in the wardrobe of the distinctly middle class woman, if she wants to be properly dressed at the functions which middle class society offers to her.

Do you remember your mother's best dress of twenty years ago? Do you remember the innumerable occasions for which it did duty—the church supper, the high school graduation, the afternoon tea, the ladies' aid social, the concert, the formal call, the woman's club meeting? Again I could fill this column if I were to chronicle the occasions for which that gown was a considered perfectly proper.

Compare that with today, and then prophesy what we shall have twenty years from today—if you dare. While I am on this subject, I can't forbear to pass on to you a method which the dressmaker whom I quoted above has invented to eliminate one extra gown. It may help some young women who want to keep up with the times, but finds herself breathless, or rather penniless, in her efforts to do so. This dressmaker made a combination dancing frock and reception gown for one of her customers in the following way: She made a dancing frock with the tunic effect, which is so popular, and hanging about four inches from the floor. Under the tunic, where it wouldn't show, she put a broad-tuck and she also fastener a train which was to fall from the waist. When her customer wants to go to a reception she lets down the tuck and sews on the train, and behold, a reception gown!

Perhaps by telling you this I am helping on the cause of this outrageous clothes differentiation, but I guess I am willing to risk it.

Noted Man in Delegation From France to Visit Canada and States—The Career of Mr. Hanotaux

(Copyright, 1912, by the Brewster Company.) Of all the delegations sailing from Havre a fortnight hence to convey to the United States Auguste Rodin's bronze representing France, which is to be placed at the foot of the monument of Samuel de Champlain, next June, the most distinguished will be Gabriel Hanotaux, for many years one of the most powerful figures in European politics, going, to his mastery, director of the department of foreign affairs in Paris. He is celebrated from one end of Europe to the other, not only as a great statesman—when in office his countrymen endowed him with the name of "Richelieu"—but he is also celebrated as the greatest of living historians.

In fact, appearances are somewhat against him; and when he was first appointed as secretary of embassy at Constantinople he incurred the ill will of his ambassador, the late Marquis de Montebello, through his complete lack of distinction of manner and appearance, and by his stooping gait. Private advice was at the same time sent to the ambassador and the marquis warning them against Hanotaux as a man to beware, as high in the favor of the leading republicans at Paris, and liable to quickly ferret out anything that might not be strictly republican at the embassy. The Marquis de Montebello, being a shopkeeper's daughter, was, of course especially offended at the idea of having a man of such bourgeois birth, name and appearance, as a member of her husband's staff. Yet before Hanotaux had been there for six weeks, he had managed to ingratiate himself with the ambassador to such an extent that he consulted him in all his affairs, and to win the confidence of his chief to so great a degree, that the latter, when he went away on his annual leave, entrusted the whole conduct of affairs to him, in lieu of the chief secretary.

Gambetta had a great idea of Hanotaux and declared of him: "En voila un homme!" The only thing against him is his irritability, and somewhat sour manner, which he was most advantageously prepared, not only by taste and experience, but also by the fact that as a former minister of foreign affairs, he had access to all sorts of official documents at his disposal, which were not at the disposal of the ordinary student. He continues to enjoy the loftiest esteem of his countrymen, and in foreign countries, as the most erudite of historians and as the most vigorous and accurate of statesmen, was invited to preside at all sorts of national committees and official commissions and was continuously mentioned by the general public as the most suitable candidate for the presidency of the republic.

But he suddenly did something, which while it furnished a striking evidence of his goodness of heart, was considered to have destroyed his chances of ever obtaining the presidency, for he suddenly announced his marriage, in a quiet village near Mantos, to Mile, Victorie Meyadelle, the mother of his two children, then in their teens. The marriage was with the object of legitimizing his offspring; and although his friends deplored the marriage, as the ruin of his presidential possibilities, yet they could not but applaud the generous motives by which he was prompted, in offering this tacitly repudiation to his children and to their mother.

The prestige of the republic suffered so much during the presidency of Jules Grevy, from the fact that he had married Mile. Grevy, who had been his cook, only when their daughter (now the wife of Daniel Wilson) had attained her womanhood, that the French made up their mind that no one should ever again be permitted to occupy the presidential chair, the antecedents of whose wife were not entirely above criticism and reproach. It was for this reason that Leonie Leon the devoted woman who was the Egeria of Gambetta, persisted to the last in refusing to marry him, taking the ground that it would wreck his prospects of becoming president of the republic. He repeatedly urged her to wed him, especially during the latter part of his life, but she always refused, and it was in a quarrel following one of these demands on his part that, exclaiming that she was an obstacle to his political success, that she attempted to kill herself. Gambetta, in endeavoring to arrest the pistol from her, received the wound which brought about his death a couple of days later.

It is said that, like this Egeria of Gambetta, Mile. Victorie Meyadelle refused for many years to wed Gabriel Hanotaux, less she should injure his political career; thereby, that if the marriage was so long delayed, the fault was hers rather than his own and that she finally yielded to his entreaties and to those of her children, with the utmost reluctance.

There are a large number of other similar instances of devotion, and unselfish abandonment on the part of women, in the private lives of French statesmen, a condition of affairs arising largely from the Franco-Russian alliance, which has been the keystone of France's foreign policy for so many years. In fact, he was regarded as the only possible minister or foreign affairs. It was to this Fashoda incident that his retirement from office was due. The blow came doubly hard since the dispatch of Major Marchand's expedition across Africa to Fashoda was undertaken in defiance of Hanotaux's protests by his colleague, M. Delcasse, who was appointed to succeed him at the foreign office.

Mme. Gabriel Hanotaux survived the marriage only two years, and died in the morning her husband and children, happy in the consciousness of having been his lawful wife, and of nevertheless leaving him with his prospects of succession to the presidency of the republic unimpaired, since her death had the effect of removing the only obstacle that could have possibly existed to his elevation to the chief magistracy of the republic. After his mourning, Hanotaux entered public life once more, with the additional prestige of having done the right thing by his wife and children, and at what appeared at the time to be the sacrifice of his entire future political career. There is no one who will not think more highly of him today than formerly. The delegation will also visit Canada.

LOST CONTROL OF HIS TEMPER Once there was a man whose liver was not working right. When dressing in the morning he had trouble with his collar. Then he lost the collar button. Then he said something. By the time he got to breakfast he was so irritated that he had no appetite and quarrelled with his wife. He went to the office with a headache and when he had some important business to transact he bungled it. When you find yourself easily irritated and lose control of yourself and your temper, look to the condition of the liver, and take one of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills at bed-time. The dark-brown taste will not bother you in the morning, the tongue will clear up, digestion will improve and you will not have the tired, worn-out feelings which accompany a sluggish condition of the liver. New York, April 8.-An inquest into the death of Walter J. Snyder, editor of Sports of the Times, who died yesterday from stab wounds inflicted by scissors in the hands of his wife, was planned by the coroner's jury today.

Mrs. Snyder, who is held on a homicide charge, declares that her husband inflicted the wounds himself, by seizing her hands while she was manicuring her nails, and drawing her scissors to him. They were quarrelling at the time, she declared.

MAN AND TWO CHILDREN BROWNED

Compton, Que., April 8.-One of the worst drowning fatalities ever reported here was that last evening when E. Poulin, his wife and two children named Velleux, aged eleven and seven were drowned. Mr. Poulin, his daughter, Mrs. Velleux, her husband and seven children were returning home after visiting friends, when near a

Meadow where water from the Castineau river had broken on to the road, the vehicle driven by Poulin and that occupied by the Velleux family were upset and the occupants thrown into the water.

The father and three children were rescued, but the mother and four children were carried some distance out, and she clung to a stump of a tree and the children hung onto her. She and the children were in the water more than four hours and were rescued by a boat. Rescuers found the two children dead and her unconscious, while the mother was in a state of collapse. Poulin's body has not yet been recovered.

IN DREAD OF CROUP

The inexperienced mother is always in dread of croup. There is seldom any reason until the child awakes at midnight with the hard, mottled cough and gasps frantically for breath.

There is no time to send for a doctor, no time to go to the drug store, even; relief must be obtained at once. If you are not so fortunate as to have Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine in the house, cause the child to vomit with a spoonful of warm lard or by tickling the throat with the finger.

Then get Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine so as to prevent the more serious attack which usually comes the second night. This treatment is wonderful relief for croup, bronchitis and croup in the throat or chest. Mothers who have a practice of always keeping it in the house find that they can depend on it in case of emergency.

FASHION IN THE THEATRE

Obstruction of People's View by Women's Headgear Again Causing Trouble

Paris, April 8.-The headresses of the women of the audience are again causing trouble in the Paris theatres. No hats are worn by women in the stalls or the dress circle, but the craze for big hats and the abundance of added hair worn by fashionable women in the evening are making it as difficult for the audience to see the stage as it was when hats were worn.

At the dress rehearsal of a new play, "On Guard," at the Renaissance, numbers of protest against women's headgear were heard. One prominent dramatic critic caused much amusement by rising in the stalls after the first act and calling on the masculine members of the audience to "wail the feathered heads which obstructed their view."

There was nothing in the nature of a riot. Everybody knows everybody else at these dress rehearsals, and the matter was treated as a joke. But the big hats and high headress question is becoming serious in Paris.

How To Mark Your Ballot Tomorrow

The Ballot sent by the Citizens' Committee is an Official Ballot and can be deposited in the ballot box tomorrow!

It is not necessary to secure a ballot paper at the polls, if you already have one at home marked in favor of the Citizens' Candidates.

Don't Let The least desirable candidate slip into power because you split your vote between better men. Vote the straight Citizens' Ticket.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 8, 1912

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Campbell Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

TOMORROW'S VOTE

It is to be hoped that every citizen who has a vote will exercise his or her franchise tomorrow and do it for St. John. The city is entering upon an era of great expansion, and has adopted a new system of civic government.

ST. JOHN DEVELOPMENT

Before the winter steamship traffic at St. John had attained large proportions, men prominently identified with the Canadian Pacific Railway told the citizens and repeated it many times that facilities at West St. John could not be provided to rapidly accommodate the growing traffic to and from the west, by way of St. John. It is doubtful if the majority of people accepted this statement as one of fact.

Mr. McNeill told the Times on Saturday the same story that he and other officials of the railway had told on former occasions. Despite the steady enlargement of the terminals at West St. John the company cannot handle all the traffic that offers. Mr. McNeill says that the road could handle twice as much traffic as it does at the present time, but there are not enough facilities at this port to handle it properly.

Mr. Wm. D. Lewis, a prominent educator in Philadelphia, writes a very interesting article in the Saturday Evening Post on "The High School and The Boy." The most interesting part of the article is that which relates to the boys who are not fond of the ordinary course of study, and for whom so little is done.

MAKE IT PRACTICAL

Mr. Wm. D. Lewis, a prominent educator in Philadelphia, writes a very interesting article in the Saturday Evening Post on "The High School and The Boy." The most interesting part of the article is that which relates to the boys who are not fond of the ordinary course of study, and for whom so little is done.

Mr. Lewis tells of an experiment with 50 boys who had proved absolute failures in the traditional course. They had become typical school loafers, and were deriving no benefit whatever from school attendance. They were placed in a thoroughly equipped wood-working shop in charge of a man who was not only a good teacher, but had a thorough knowledge of wood working.

FARM LABOR SCARCITY

In a review of the general situation the Toronto Globe states that the outlook this spring is anything but bright for the farmers of Canada who are dependent on hired help. It says there will be a great scarcity of experienced farm labor. Railway construction is to be pushed this year on a more extensive scale than ever before in Canada, and there will also be a great demand for labor for building operations and public works in cities.

With regard to the province of New Brunswick, there will be a great demand for men for railway construction and other large works, and it is quite probable, that in this province also the farmers will find difficulty in securing experienced help.

The coal strike crisis in the mother country is over, and the next matter of importance to command the attention of parliament will be the Home Rule Bill.

Moncton is about to launch a publicity campaign. The time is opportune, and Moncton certainly has something to offer. The desire for more publicity should be general throughout New Brunswick.

The great demonstration in Belfast tomorrow, in opposition to Home Rule, will be harmful or otherwise according to the tone and the utterance of the speakers. If there is further talk of rebellion it will be harmful.

Mr. Norton Griffiths says that "St. John will become a big, prosperous shipping and industrial centre, under a good, determined and energetic administration. The citizens are to vote tomorrow for or against such an administration as that described."

In New York Mr. Borden spoke in the highest terms of the American settlers who are coming into Canada. The same persons, when in the states, are dangerous characters, with whom Canadians should not get on too familiar terms commercially. Any flag-bagger will tell you so.

Any hope the Conservatives in England may have had of making political capital out of the coal strike has been dashed to the ground. They will be rather sorry now that Mr. Balfour spoke. The moderate but firm attitude of the government has been justified by the results.

Referring to the negotiations for better trade relations between Canada and the West Indies, the Toronto Globe says: "Had reciprocity carried, the task of mutual trade exchange would have been easier, but now the West Indies have to walk warily, so as to avoid offending their best customer, the United States."

An Ottawa despatch to the Standard says that Mr. A. B. Morine has resigned the chairmanship of the Public Service Commission, and his resignation will be accepted. This is a result of Mr. Carvell's exposure of the record of Mr. Morine. Mr. Borden was not in ignorance of that record when he made Mr. Morine chairman of the commission, but he ignored it until Mr. Carvell brought it public to his notice. The Liberals have scored again.

DID WHAT SHE HOPED

It is a real pleasure to find that something you have bought is just as good as you hoped it would be, and Mr. Charles Porter of West Scranton, Pa., writes a letter to tell others his experience. She says: "I was all run down and very weak, and had been so for three years. I am sure that Vinol has helped very much for the bottles of it have brought back my strength, which is just what I was told it would do."

When we recommend Vinol for all weak and run-down people, and those who have tubercular coughs, lack of appetite, sleeplessness and nervous conditions, we do so because we are absolutely convinced that it is just what they need. Then if Vinol does not satisfy them perfectly we give back the money. You ought to try Vinol if you wish to be strong and well for you take no risk at all. Wasson's—100 King Street.

When the first forgery was discovered the fact was kept a secret, only the principal banks being confidentially advised by the National Bank of Egypt. These days later, however, two forged notes turned up and then the matter became public.

So far about thirty false notes have been discovered, many of them at the different banks, and the majority of them actually at the National Bank of Egypt itself. They are a most perfect imitation of the genuine note, and the excellence of the workmanship is proved by the fact that even the cashiers of the National Bank of Egypt were deceived.

The National Bank of Egypt has the monopoly of the bank note issue in Egypt and the Sudan. The notes are issued in the denominations of $50, $20, $10, $5, and $1.

All the 8000 notes are cancelled on their return. It was the fact that a duplicate number came in to be cancelled that caused the forgery to be discovered.

DEV. DR. J. A. MORISON GIVES EVERY DAY CLUB TALK AND JOINS IT

The audience which filled the Every Day Club hall last evening heard an inspiring address by Rev. Dr. Morison. He said he had read about the Every Day Club when he was in Chicago, and had felt that it was a good thing to have such an institution in the city. Though a preacher he found fault with the churches because they were not open every day in the week. In Chicago he had opened a mission in a quarter where there was one small church on a square mile of city that had a mission and a dance hall at every corner. Dr. Morison's story of the beginning of the mission and of the man who was the chief in the work was intensely interesting. The mission is now prosperous and doing a good work. "It's a man's job," said Dr. Morison, referring to the work of helping those who are down. "God's gift is the way, and it is ready to come to our aid, but it is a man's job." Very earnestly the speaker urged the men in the audience to join the Every Day Club and with God's help influence other men for good. "Do you know why I do not drink liquor?" he asked. "Because it has injured too many good friends of mine. Because of that I hate it." Dr. Morison laid emphasis upon the need of taking Jesus as an example. In former days emphasis was placed only upon the Divinity of Jesus, but now we recognize also His humanity and same not to be ministered unto but to minister. The musical programme last evening included a duet by the Misses Lane, a vocal solo by Miss Hill, a flute solo by Walter Stokes, and a whistling solo by Walter Nixon. In urging men to join the club, Dr. Morison himself became a member and expressed his full sympathy with the work.

C. N. R. MAY SPAN NIAGARA FALLS

Buffalo, N. Y., April 8.—An outlet through Buffalo to New York, either the Leavansville or the new bridge over the Niagara River at Niagara Falls in conjunction with the International Railway Company is the plan of Sir William Mackenzie, of Toronto, head of the Canadian Northern, who was in Buffalo yesterday with a party of capitalists and officials interested in the steam and electric system in which the Canadian Northern is the principal feature. The plan, it is stated, includes the extension of the Canadian Northern, which now stops at Hamilton, to Hamilton, and thence to Niagara Falls (Ont.), where the international boundary would be crossed.

NEW BRUNSWICKER IS SHOT AT PORT ARTHUR

Port Arthur, Ont., April 7.—James Gratton, of Newcastle (N. B.), railway laborer, is in the hospital at the point of death, as an Italian named Bruno Damasci, is in the police station charged with shooting him in the abdomen. The affair took place in Water street last night. Gratton claimed that the Italian fired on him without a quarrel after he had inquired for direction to a house.

BELFAST NOW SCENE OF A DEMONSTRATION AGAINST HOME RULE

London, April 17.—Belfast is to have another great anti-home rule demonstration on Easter Tuesday, two days before the day set for the introduction of the home rule bill in the house of commons. This time there will be no necessity of moving troops into the city, as was the case at the last demonstration. Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, held his now historic meeting in the chief town of Ulster. An Irish member to make sure that Belfast would not again be put under practically what amounted to martial law, to enable a prominent politician to speak, will be the house of commons. The reply of Augustus Birrell, the Irish secretary, was that he would not interfere with free speech. The head and centre of the demonstration is Andrew Bonar Law, the leader of the Unionist party. While he will be speaking before the bill is introduced in the commons, the scope of the bill is now fairly well known. The bill itself will not be issued until after the prime minister has delivered his speech in introducing it. Strictly speaking, this introduction is a formal application to the house for leave to introduce the bill, and although the commons never refuse this leave, the bill is not issued until this has been granted. The demonstration in which 150,000 men will take part will be held at the Royal Ulster Agricultural Society's grounds. Since the beginning of the year meetings have been held all over Ulster to protest against home rule, and the meeting on April 9 will be a climax to the series. Then men have been carefully drilled so that the parade and march past will be drawn from the Unionist clubs of Ireland and the Loyal Orange Order. The Unionist clubs organized to fight against Gladstone's home rule bill of 1886 and after that gradually died out. After the last election home rule, having been placed as a plank in the Liberal platform, the clubs were reorganized and there are now 266 of them. The Loyal Orange Order is an older and more powerful organization and is besides permanent. It is estimated that one person in every thirty in Ulster is an Orangeman, while one in fourteen of the Protestant inhabitants of the province belongs to the order. It is rather interesting to note that the name "Gladstone" again appears among the list of Englishmen who are trying to convert the masses of England to the principle of self-government for the sister isle. W. G. C. Gladstone, grandson of the "The Grand Old Man," and member for Kilmarnock Burghs, has been taking a prominent part in the campaign in England and Scotland. Not long ago he spoke at a demonstration in Trafalgar Square and he has also been addressing meetings of working men. Mr. Gladstone preaches that home rule is a working man's question. According to his views, not only do the working men of Ireland stand to be benefited but the working people of England stand to benefit by the economic expansion which home rule would give to Ireland. MAY SELL SOME FARMS. H. D. Buchanan and family left Sussex last week for Amherst where they will locate. On April 8th he will leave for England in order to be present at the golden wedding of his parents on April 24th. While in the Old Country he will act as the representative of a well known New Brunswick real estate firm and endeavor to sell some New Brunswick farm properties.

William Lawson, who was assisted by the choir of Zion church. W. W. Lee, immigration secretary of the Y. M. C. A., delivered a lecture on the "World's Red Letter Day," in the Y. M. C. A. yesterday. The lecture was very interesting. Alex. Langley, of the local post office staff, will again be in charge of all the post offices in the militia camps in the maritime provinces this year. He will have the rank of lieutenant. The General Public Hospital has benefited to the extent of $30 through the generosity of the Pierrot troupe of the Empress of Britain as a result of the concert which they gave in the Opera House on Wednesday. George McAvity was the host at an informal luncheon at the Union Club on Saturday. D. McNeill, vice-president of the C. P. R., and J. J. Carriac, M. P. for Thunder Bay (Ont.), were the guests at a home and several prominent citizens were also present.

ELECTRIFY ALL THE ROADS

Geneva, April 8.—Nineteen Swiss deputies, representing all parts of the country, have presented a motion to the federal council to examine the question of accelerating the introduction of electric traction on all the railways in this country which belong to the state. One object is to render the Swiss railways independent of the importation of coal from abroad. The deputies received the assurance that the question would be discussed by the Swiss parliament at an early date. Electric power is very plentiful in this country.

VOTE FOR WIGMORE

A LAST WORD TO ELECTORS

In tomorrow's election vote for the man whom you honestly believe can give you the best service in City Hall. Don't pay any attention to talk of tickets of more or less business ability. Vote for the independent man who will not be at the beck and call of any favored set.

Be Your Own Citizen's Committee

Don't let others exercise your rights for you. Vote for the man you know will give you a square deal. If you do I will be elected.

VOTE FOR WIGMORE

Ladies and Gentlemen—

Electors of The City Saint John:

I will be a candidate at the coming Civic Election. I am a man who has been in favor of the Commission Form of Government, and firmly believe that an honest effort in giving it a trial will meet with success.

I respectfully solicit your support.

A Candidate for the Office of Commissioner Appeals to the Electors as an advocate of clean civic government with favors to no class.

Ladies and Gentlemen: Electors of the City of Saint John.

I will be a candidate for the office of Commissioner at the coming civic election. Having had four years experience in Civic Affairs I feel that I can administer the affairs of our city to the best interests of the whole with special privileges to none.

Yours respectfully, W. E. SCULLY.

ELECTION CARD. Ladies and Gentlemen, Electors of the City of St. John:

Having been selected as candidate for the office of City Commissioner by the Independent Labor party, and being unable to interview each elector personally, I hereby solicit your support.

I pledge myself to give the best service which I am capable, should you elect me. GEORGE H. MAXWELL.

FREDERICTON I. C. R. YARDS.

The work of enlarging the yards of the I. C. R. in Frederiction will be started about May 1. Tenders are being called for the purchase and removal of the buildings on the lands recently expropriated by the railway for the purpose of enlarging the yards and the tenders will be received up till April 10.

A FINE RALLY FOR CITIZENS' CANDIDATES

Large Assemblage of Electors at Smoker in Keith's a Prediction for Victory Tomorrow

An enthusiastic rally of the workers for the Citizens' ticket was held in the assembly rooms of Keith's theatre on Saturday evening. More than 400 electors were present and a large number of them pledged themselves to work for success of the ticket on election day. Rousing speeches were delivered by the four candidates for commissionerships and D. F. Pidgeon also spoke. From the earnestness of purpose displayed by these present and from the reports received from every section of the city it was easy to predict victory at the polls for the cause which they are supporting.

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES

In the city churches yesterday large congregations attended the Easter services. In Charlotte street Baptist church fourteen candidates were baptized.

Rev. James Smythe of the Royal University, Ireland, pronounced a cantata, "The Angels' Song," was given in Fairville Methodist church. The choir vestments were used in the St. John (Stone) church yesterday for the first time. The singing and music were exceptionally pleasing, and the choir was assisted by Edward Fandis of Toronto.

More than $800 was received in special collections and subscriptions at Centenary church yesterday and this, with the large amounts subscribed during the last two years was sufficient to cancel the debt of $11,300. Two years ago the young men of the church undertook a campaign with this end in view and the final effort yesterday crowned their work with success.

The provincial department of agriculture, at Frederiction, has just issued a valuable illustrated leaflet on the forest tent-caterpillar, which does so much damage to trees, and especially fruit trees, in May and June. Last year in parts of Charlotte, York and Sunbury counties large areas of poplar, oak and maple, as well as some orchards, were stripped bare of foliage. The bulletin issued by the department describes the insect and its development and habits, and tells how to prevent its ravages. Copies of the bulletin can be got from the Provincial Forestry Department, Frederiction.

Timely action this season may prevent such damage as was done to orchards last year by the forest tent-caterpillar.

ALDERMAN F. L. POTTS The Peoples' Candidate for Commissioner on the Single Tax Shows How He Will Turn One of the City's Yearly Income of $796 Into $250,000 Towards the Bonded Debt With An Income of $10,000 Per Year; Also Answers Questions in Reference to Proposed Tax Question, and the Flat Rate Which is Continued in Force

Ladies and Gentlemen: In asking your kind consideration and support in the coming campaign I do so, feeling that these who supported me in the past two campaigns should have a short statement of how I have attempted to legislate in civic affairs in the interest of our city. Having been to the Capital four times in the last two weeks, fighting for the interests which I profess, I would uphold, considering it my first duty to the electors, thereby limiting my time so it was impossible to make a personal canvass in my own behalf, let me take this opportunity to thank all of my warm supporters and trusting I will merit your confidence and support. I am, ladies and gentlemen, Respectfully yours, F. L. POTTS.

In offering myself three years ago as a candidate for civic honors, I discovered that the enormous interest paid on the bonded debt for the city was a tremendous drawback to the progress of good results from the amount of money assessed in taxes for the management of our civic affairs. I immediately endeavored to find out how I could best reduce that bonded debt and still inflict no greater tax upon our citizens. Being familiar with real estate and its value, I turned my thoughts towards the land owned and controlled by our city, and discovered the system worked for so many years by civic legislatures was entirely opposite to those that I, as a private citizen doing my own business, would tolerate or that any financier would follow were he desirous of getting best results. Before I could get my own bearings along lines of business it became necessary for me to have repealed a law of the Provincial Legislature whereby you could not sell any piece of land for a less sum than the amount stated by that Legislature. This took time, as first I had to work to have it passed through the Committee; second, to the Common Council itself; third, to the Bills and By-laws Committee; fourth, back to the Common Council; fifth, to the Legislature of New Brunswick. This, in time, I succeeded in doing and will now give to you a statement of present results with a statement of what the City of St. John has actually received in the past.

Referring to Lancaster lands, the total Rentals and buildings ..... $2,785.00

I simply fooled the people and used it for an election campaign, and let me say to him who has signed his name like $200 could sign it--"tax payer"--that his letter only made me the more determined to spend my time the last two weeks in fighting before the local legislature for the keeping of this flat rate in force, and I am pleased to say I have been successful in doing so, and am straddling no fences, but am out on the policy in the interest of the masses and would rather fall in the election of Tuesday, the 6th day of April, than to be elected as a man without a platform of a policy, and, if elected, this same flat rate of taxation with my experience as a real estate broker and commissioner will enable me to see that the vast quantities of vacant lands owned by a handful of people will be placed on the assessment of 1913 at something near their relative values which will cause, in my opinion, a lowering of even the tax rate of $16.

REGENT DEATHS

The death of Frank L. Lahay, a well known pilot, occurred at his home, 37 St. James street, yesterday. Mr. Lahay had been in ill health for some time. He was 41 years old and leaves behind his wife and three small children, his father, Pilot William Lahay, mother and four brothers. The brothers are Harry, George, Edward and Fred. The late pilot was of the pilot boat Howard D. Troop and was well and favorably known at this port. He numbered a wide circle of friends who will regret to learn of his early death.

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth, widow of James Emery, occurred yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at her residence 227 King street east, after an illness of nine months, heart trouble being the final cause of her death. She is survived by two daughters, Miss Ada and Miss Laura, and three sons, J. Herbert and A. Wallace Emery, of the firm of Ebery Brothers, all living at home, and Frederick B. Emery, of Boston. Mrs. Emery, who before her marriage, was Miss Elizabeth Phillips, was born in Leeds, England, sixty-five years ago, and came to St. John with her parents when eleven years of age. She was a member of the church of the Disciples of Christ, and has many friends throughout the city who will learn of her death with sincere regret. The funeral will be held from her late residence on Tuesday afternoon, the service commencing at 2:30 o'clock.

Robert Moffat of Glasgow, Scotland, who came to St. John about a week ago on the S. S. Casanaria, died in the General Public Hospital yesterday. He contracted pneumonia on the trip across and was taken to the hospital when the steamer arrived here. He was twenty-eight years of age.

The death of Mrs. Helena M. Campbell, wife of Robert J. Campbell, occurred in Calgary on April 5. She was the daughter of the late James and Ellen Galbraith of Lorneville and had been residing in the west for about six years. Her husband, one son, three brothers and three sisters survive. The son is Elmer of Calgary and the brothers are T. J. Galbraith, of Lorneville, James A. Galbraith of this city and S. H. Galbraith of Calgary. The sisters are Mrs. D. McCavour of Lorneville, and Mrs. D. McDermott and Mrs. W. McCavour of this city.

The death of Mrs. Julia Donovan occurred at her home, 30 Pond street, yesterday, after a short illness. She was the widow of John Donovan and is survived by one son and three daughters. The son is Michael Donovan, of this city, and the daughters are Misses Kate and Minnie, at home, and Miss Nellie, a trained nurse of Brookline (Mass.). The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 from her late home.

Walter McCurdy, son of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel McCurdy, was buried on Saturday at St. Stephen. He had been sick for some time. A brother, Arthur, is in the employ of T. H. Estabrook, St. John.

The death of Mrs. Mattie J. V. Drake, wife of Rear Admiral Franklin J. Drake of the U. S. navy, retired, occurred in Baltimore on Thursday last. She was the youngest of three daughters, and the only survivor of the family of the late Timothy McCarthy, a former St. John merchant and ship builder.

Annie Atkinson of Sackville, is dead, aged seventy-one years. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Jane Chase of Sackville. Three sons and two daughters by this marriage survive him--Percy of Amherst, John and Fred at home, Miss Nina and Mrs. Hazel Barnes, of Moncton. The second Mrs. Atkinson was Miss Elizabeth Tower of Rockport. She and three boys and one girl survive.

The death of Miss Mary Fry, one of the oldest residents of Sunbury County, occurred at the home of her nephew, George S. Gilbert, in Burton, on Friday morning. She was born on June 2, 1830. She was a daughter of the late Dr. Fry of St. Andrew's. Her family was among the earliest English settlers in the province coming some years before the Loyalists. The late Henry Fry, sometimes mentioned as the provincial legislator, was a brother. Mrs. George Currie of Burton is the only surviving sister.

FLOWERS SENSITIVE TO MUSIC

Munich, April 8--Professor Hans Teilgen has discovered that flowers are sensitive to music, and betray their individual nature by expanding their petals under the influence of certain melodies.

Automobile Develops Chest

New York, April 8--A Fifth Avenue tailor, after observing for five years those of his customers who ride daily in automobiles, has come to the conclusion that automobile riding develops the chest. The chest measurement of the average man, he declares, increases at the rate of one inch in two years after he begins to ride in motor cars regularly. The tailor thinks the increase in development is due to the deep inhalation taken while automobiling.

A WASH-OUT
Heavy rainfall in some sections of Quebec west of Farnham, caused a washout on the C. P. R. which will require some hours of difficult labor before repairs can be completed. In consequence of the flooding of the tracks the Atlantic express due at twelve o'clock noon today will probably not reach the city until early to-morrow morning, being more than twelve hours behind schedule time. A special was made up in the Union depot replacing the daily express train leaving at 12:45 and passengers from local centres as well as those who came in on the Boston, were carried east on this train. The Boston was half an hour behind time.

ONTARIO FLOODS CAUSE THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS DAMAGE; FACTORIES DOWN

Toronto, Ont., April 8—Damage amounting to many thousands of dollars has been done by a flood in the Credit River. Within twenty miles fourteen dams and several bridges were swept away, the railway and highway bridges at Port Credit were endangered and considerable damage was done to small shipping in Port Credit harbor.

Barber's paper mill at Georgetown and other factories along the river were flooded, while others will be closed for lack of power, due to the destruction of their dams.

Reports of extensive damage also come from Paisley, Durham and Southampton on the Seaboard River, Beaverton on the Beaver River, and Meaford on the Big Head River.

Brantford, Ont., April 8—The worst is over. Such was the welcome news which Brantford people received early this morning from the watchers who kept an all night vigil of the dyke which protects the life and property of 2,000 West Brantford residents from the annual spring runnings of the Grand River. At two o'clock this morning the water commenced subsiding and by six o'clock had gone down several inches.

By Sunday night the river had risen to twenty-eight feet, three inches above normal, and the water was just oozing over the top of the embankment for which Brantford spent $20,000 a few years ago. There is not a house in the city today with gas, a huge main having been carried away early on Sunday evening near Cookshutt's Bridge. Until the river subsides, repairs will be impossible.

The river came within three inches of flooding the boilers in the city pumping station and causing a water famine. The Canada Gilt Co. and other factories closed today as a result. About fifty houses in Parkdale are surrounded by water, four to six feet deep. City Engineer Jones estimated the volume of water which passed through Brantford on Sunday equal to twice that which passed through in six months of ordinary conditions. Had it not been for the work of a couple of hundred men, headed by Mayor Hartman and city officials, the dyke would have given way in several places during the night, and the results would have been appalling. The dyke held in check a torrent of twenty feet of water which would have swept through a thickly populated district.

SAYS INTENTION IS TO SHUT UP ALL THE ROAD HOUSES

Another Case in Police Court Today, Arising Out of the Northrup Evidence

That it is the intention of the authorities to stamp out the road house evil was evident in the police court this morning when Florence Ayres, of the Sydney House, near Coldbrook, was called upon to answer to a charge of keeping a bawdy house and also to the charge of selling liquor illegally. The information was made by Rev. W. R. Robinson, and was the result of evidence which was given in a previous case in which the Ayres woman was the complainant. In the first case Frederick Northrup was charged with assaulting her in her house at Coldbrook. The case had been given several hearings, but was adjourned until this morning. Northrup, in his evidence, said that he went to the Sydney House on the night of Jan. 5, and while there bought several drinks of liquor. He remained in the house all night, but had no recollection of having struck the woman. He had been in company with a man named Woodhouse whom he wanted to call as a witness. He asked for a further adjournment in order to secure this witness. E. S. Ritchie, for the prosecution, objected to any further adjournment and asked that the case be finished this morning. His Honor granted the adjournment.

At the conclusion of this case Rev. W. R. Robinson laid the informations and also one against Ethel White, charged with being an inmate of the house. Mr. Ritchie objected to his client having to plead to the charges this morning, saying that she was in court merely as a witness. His Honor ruled to the contrary, however, and both pleaded not guilty to the charges.

A question as to whether or not the defendants should make a deposit across, but the court finally allowed them to go on condition that they would appear on Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Robinson said that he was willing to proceed with the case at once, but the adjournment was granted. He told the court that it was the intention of the reform people to proceed against all the road houses near the city.

The Northrup case will also be continued on Wednesday morning.

Three prisoners, charged with drunkenness were fined $8 each. An eighteen year old boy, charged with acting disorderly in Waterloo street last night was fined $8 or thirty days in jail. The fine was allowed to stand against him.

Daniel Gilson, aged twenty-one, and Josephine Murphy, aged fifteen, charged with lying and betting in a box car near Long Wharf last night, were also before the court. Both pleaded guilty to the charge. Gilson was fined $5 or thirty days in jail, and the girl was sent to the Good Shepherd's Home.

JOHN A. MACKELVIE, ST. JOHN MAN WHO HAS MADE HIS WAY

(Printer and Publisher, Toronto.)

The Vernon News, which anyone in British Columbia, unless he be a disgruntled Celt, will tell you is one of the finest weeklies in the province has as its brains a man by the name of MacKelvie. The name is very well known indeed throughout the length of the famous Okanagan Valley and even beyond it. MacKelvie, in his veins, but he himself is a native of St. John, N. B., where he came into existence one September day in the year 1866.

When he was eighteen years of age and had just got through the grammar school, the father, who was engaged in the ship-building industry, took it into his head that he would like to go to that new western Canada, which was beginning to be talked of in the papers. It was very wild and woolly in those days, but the MacKelvies, senior and junior, struck out and got as far as Calgary, where they took up some land. The senior partner in the concern did not hold out long and returned east, but young MacKelvie decided to stay by the west, and a westerner ever since.

Working in the harvest fields, taking an odd job as a surveyor and making himself generally useful, he managed to subsist satisfactorily, and when W. R. McEwen opened his store in the town, MacKelvie became its manager.

In those days Price Ellison, who is now British Columbia's minister of finance, was coming into prominence in the valley and he and the young easterner struck up an acquaintance. While neither of them had had any experience of newspaper work, they were both confident that, given the chance, they could run a paper. MacKelvie had breathed a whiff or two of journalistic atmosphere down east, where he had met John Livingston, who was related to him on his mother's side, and had that much on the credit side of the ledger. In 1893 the two-year old Vernon News was put up for sale and the ambitious pair snatched it up. Ever since, with the exception of four years, Mr. MacKelvie has edited the News. The Hon. Mr. Ellison, owning the bulk of the stock in the subsequently formed publishing company, controls the paper.

If you should happen into the town of Vernon in quest of information you will be referred by everyone to the News office. In the person of John Armstrong MacKelvie is deposited all the lore and all the knowledge, not only of Vernon, but of the entire valley. He is, so to speak, the Encyclopedia of Okanaganensis.

This Wholly About Men's Spring Suits

Because we have for so many years represented this country's highest standard in men's ready-to-wear clothing is no reason why we should stand still.

It is a very good reason why we should go ahead.

We should try to lift that standard higher and higher every year.

This year we believe it is higher than it has ever been, but we do not wish you to take our word for it. Sometimes people are apt to be partial to the things that are their own.

We invite you to look at our New Spring Suits with clear, searching, critical eyes and satisfy yourself.

We would value your opinion as to whether they look like suits that will echo in service the statements we make about them here.

The hope of good merchandise is that the people have eyes—and memories.
