One Dead, One Seriously Hurt In Fall At Long Wharf
NEW RULE POSTS ST. JOHN TRADE

MEN TUMBLE 30 FEET TO SHIP HOLD

A. Smith Killed, B. Thorne Injured, on Steamer Kentucky.

JUST START WORK

Strong Back Gives Away and Hurls Men to Ship Hold.

One man lost his life and another was seriously hurt in an accident at 1.20 this afternoon on the steamer Kentucky, berthed at Long Wharf, where she was taking on a load of flour.

The men had reported for work at 1 o'clock and had just started at the main hatch when the strong back gave way and precipitated them into the hold of the ship, clear to the skin, a distance of about 30 feet.

It was found that Mr. Smith was unconscious, but his comrade, though suffering intensely, was still conscious.

On arrival at the hospital it was found that Mr. Smith was still unconscious and he passed away a few minutes after being admitted to the institution.

The home of Mr. Smith is at 10 Summer street, West Side, and that of Mr. Thorne at 62 Frederick street. The steamer is owned by Messrs. McLean, Kennedy & Co. and is loading flour for the United Kingdom.

The examination of Mr. Thorne had not been made at the time of going to press and the full extent of his injuries could not be ascertained.

EDISON MAY TEST SUNSHINE LAMP

Tomadelli Wants a Practical Inventor to Investigate His Device.

New York, March 17.—The name of Thomas A. Edison was suggested recently by Justice Mitchell Erlanger in Part I of the Special Term of the Supreme Court as a possible investigator of the claims of Juan Tomadelli, who asserts that he has invented an electric lamp which will glow brilliantly years after electricity has been "bottled" within it.

Mr. Tomadelli's counsel, Captain N. Taylor Phillips and Vincent Leibel, told Justice Erlanger that they wanted a practical inventor to examine the apparatus and not "an expert with a lot of degrees who has never invented a carpet tack."

Regarding charges by Attorney General Sherman that there has been false statements in the prospectus of the Tomadelli Corporation, Tomadelli's counsel presented contrary affidavits by the secretary and treasurer of the company.

The main question, in the words of Mr. Tomadelli is "Did I construct in my laboratory at Harrison, N. J., apparatus which draws energy from the air? Do I transmit this energy from the generating to a receiving apparatus? Do I produce any glow or light in the bulb which is attached to the receiving apparatus?"

SAYS THREAT IS HURLED AT BRITISH

Montreal French Newspaper Says Abandoning Singapore is Resented.

SEEK ALLIANCE?

Australians Would Link Up With a Powerful Foreign Nation.

British United Press. Montreal, March 17.—Le Canada, a morning newspaper, printed in French in Montreal, publishes today a special despatch received by radio from Paris which says:

"The Australian Prime Minister, Mr. Bruce, has declared that if the British Government abandons the naval base at Singapore, the Australian Government, in order to protect that country's interest in the Pacific, will seek an alliance with a powerful foreign nation."

London, March 17.—This week promises to be the liveliest known by the Labor Government since the announcement was made regarding the future disposition of Singapore and the abandonment of the great dry dock scheme.

The statement with regard to the plans of the Government regarding Singapore will be made tomorrow.

Canada still maintains her neutral attitude on this matter, but Australia and New Zealand are most anxious to continue the scheme as put forward under the Baldwin regime. The Government has decided to take up the full time of the House in the debate of public matters and not to allow opportunity for the introduction of private bills.

Irish Land Here ON PATRICK'S DAY
Several on Marburn, Which Brought 523 Passengers—Cupid Busy.

With sprigs of Shamrocks prominently displayed in honor of their patron saint a number of men and women from the Emerald Isle landed in St. John this morning from the Canadian Pacific steamship Marburn, which arrived in port last night from Glasgow and Belfast.

The large liner brought out 523 passengers, 64 cabin and 311 third class passengers from Glasgow, and 11 cabin and 137 third class from Belfast. The majority of the passengers were young men and women who have come to Canada to seek a livelihood and are destined for Toronto and west. They were sent forward to their destinations in two special trains, which left West St. John at 10:30 and 11:30 o'clock.

The voyage across the Atlantic was uneventful and aside from one day no stormy weather was encountered. On the trip across Cupid was apparently "right on the job" for it was an open secret on board that a number of romances were started between young men and women, who are going to make Canada the home of their adoption. As far as could be learned no weddings were booked for the near future, but as one "bonnie lassie" explained there undoubtedly will be wedding bells sounding for some of them once they get located.

Among the passengers was a special party of 33 young men and women, who are booked for Toronto. They were in charge of Major R. L. Goodliff, who is a representative of the Ontario Government. They were a fine looking lot of immigrants and the majority have had experience on farms.

A retriever dog belonging to the children tackled the bullock, which then charged Barnes, who received his injuries in trying to beat it back. A police officer rushed to Barnes' help, and the animal was driven off.

Last year there were 315 mixed marriages at the cathedral against 228 strictly Catholic.

"Carried away by the ardor of passion," the bishop declared, "inexperienced youths and maidens are apt to be impatient of anything that may come to stand between them and the object of their desire, and consider they would see that nothing is more sure to breed discord than disagreement upon so vital a matter as religion."

ASK PRINCE TO GIVE UP HUNTING

Latest Accident to Heir to Throne Brings Many Protests.

PRESS IS OPPOSED

London Daily Mail Maintains Wales Should Not Endanger His Life.

BY HARRY N. MOORE (British United Press). London, March 17.—The latest accident to the Prince of Wales has renewed the demand of a few months ago that he cease risking his life in the hunting field and racing world. It is well known that the Prince does not possess the firm steady seat of the master in horsemanship and it is felt that it is wholly unnecessary for him to continue giving demonstrations of his pluck by partaking in steeplechasing.

London Daily Mail maintains that the Prince of Wales has no right to imperil his life save in the defence of his country. Everyone knows it continues that his royal highness proved that his courage was of the highest order on the fields of Flanders and Italy and that he was ready to face every danger with the humblest soldier in the ranks.

The Prince mastered a great many difficult accomplishments in the early years of his manhood by sheer determination but no degree of assiduity can give a man a safe seat on a horseback. King Edward hunted for twelve years with the West Norfolk hounds but always displayed a wise discretion in the field thus giving his grandson a fine example which it is earnestly hoped the Prince will follow.

"The advice would be unwelcome to the Prince but his duty is to the public responsibilities and should not risk his life beyond reason." His healthy spirits have carried him a little over the borderline of safety.

The London newspapers this morning are full of letters from all parts of the country urging the Prince to desist from taking such grave risks in the future.

WRIT IS SERVED AT NEWCASTLE

Inspector Hawthorne Takes Action in Connection With Statement at Meeting.

(Special To The Times). Newcastle, March 17.—As an aftermath of a temperance meeting held in the Baptist church here last Wednesday evening at which the principal speaker was Donald Fraser, president of the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance, papers were served on Edward Megraw, of Newcastle this afternoon by Sheriff Skidd on the instance of Chief Inspector Hawthorne charging libel. During an address before the meeting Megraw is alleged to have made libelous statements against Chief Inspector Hawthorne and also the local inspectors.

It is understood that there were several other charges laid by speakers, one of whom, Sydney Casey, is alleged to have charged the local vendors of violating the law by selling without prescriptions.

Casey will appear before sitting Police Magistrate Demers tomorrow on a charge of being drunk and resisting arrest on March 8, and may be called upon to answer an old charge of jailing without a warrant. Casey was appointed to get evidence from Casey and others against the vendors who will submit the result of their labors to the government or to the inspectors.

Baker, Warned as Typhoid Carrier, Haled to Court as a Public Menace

New York, March 17.—Alphonse Cotila, 44 years old, owner of a bakery and restaurant, who has been handling food under a permit of the Health Department for eighteen years, is a typhoid carrier, according to testimony before Magistrate Cobb in Municipal Term Court. Cotila was arraigned on a charge of violating Section 164 of the Sanitary Code relating to the handling of food by typhoid carriers, and it was testified that, despite warnings from the Health Department, he had been discovered preparing a strawberry shortcake. Cotila pleaded not guilty.

This case is the first to be presented to a court since the notable case of "Typhoid Mary" Mallon, a former cook, now virtually a prisoner of the Health Department on North Brother Island. She first attracted notice seventeen years ago.

Dr. Arthur L. Blau of the Health Department, testified that the records showed Cotila was a pronounced typhoid carrier and that he should be restrained from handling any but his own food. Once a carrier always a carrier, he said.

The Health Department has under observation 150 known typhoid carriers. The law against handling of food by typhoid carriers provides for a $500 fine or imprisonment for one year, or both for infractions.

TRAFFIC TO PORT TO BE INCREASED

Canadian Millers on Same Basis as United States, Report Says.

BOOSTS SHIPPING

St. John Board of Trade Receives Word of Steamship Action.

Word was received today by the St. John Board of Trade that action had been taken by the Canadian millers on the same basis as United States millers in the matter of rates on flour to the United Kingdom, and thus remedied a condition which the Canadian mills had complained of for some time.

It is felt among the shipping people here that this action will tend to increase the shipments of flour to the United Kingdom through this port, and they are naturally much pleased at the success which has attended the efforts of the High Commissioner to have the millers of both countries placed on an equal footing.

The matter of rates on wheat had also been taken up, but this was a matter very hard to deal with. The Imperial shipping committee was trying to have the flour rate based on the wheat rate which would mean that the miller in the United Kingdom would not have as big an advantage as he had under the present conditions.

Mr. Larkin stated that the matter of marine insurance had also been under consideration by the committee and he was hopeful of some result. He said that the chairman of the committee, accompanied by the secretary and one other member of the committee, would be in Canada this spring to make a first hand study of conditions, according to the communication received.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES IN CASE OF EDGAR FARRIN IS LIKELY

The relatives, it is understood, allege that the winches on the vessel were defective and were the cause of the man's death. J. Starr Tait is solicitor for the family.

Footholds, 50c.

Thus Francis & Vaughan got five hundred pairs of Ladies' Foothold Strap Rubbers in most all sizes and shapes at a price permitting them to offer Dollar Rubbers for 50c.

That it has proved a profitable and safe investment is instanced in numberless cases. A well located power plant is a splendid property, and that is why we recommend for investment the 6 1/2% First Mortgage Bonds of the Avon River Power Company.

Its location is ideal; there is no other available power to interfere; it has been carefully and economically constructed; and it is able to render a service to the community at a fair and reasonable cost.

The issue is not large and you should secure your bonds without delay.

THIS SPRING.

A few more weeks will bring the new carpet of grass, and still a few more all the glories of the northern summer.

Locally this spring will find St. John a bit ahead of the game in several important respects as compared with the last few years.

The great dry dock is not only finished but up to its eyes in business—new business for the port, and business which will go on in summer as in winter—a definite and lasting addition to our business activities.

This spring the new hotel will be in course of construction, an enterprise the direct value of which to the city will be undoubtedly be immense. Its completion will mean the annual distribution of much money in the city, and it will be a great factor in making St. John known to a tourist army now too little acquainted with the attractions of the city and the province.

The new hotel, too, will stimulate other construction in its neighborhood. Already a new theatre in that locality is projected, and there will be other building changes and additions more or less directly due to the hotel.

These are a few of the things which help to give a better tone to the general feeling as the winter passes. There should be more, it is true—for example, the extension of the breakwater should be undertaken, and the Canadian National should be busy on the too long deferred new station, and on the new piers it needs.

has grown in like proportion. More than ever the short haul to and from winter tide water should influence those in charge of the publicly-owned railways, if, as should be the case, it is the intention to keep faith with the people and act more and more in accord with the repeated declarations of the leaders of both the old political parties that Canadian freight should be kept in Canadian hands.

These matters have already been the subject of some plain speaking in the House of Commons at the present session, and when discussion of the estimates and of the tariff begins it may be expected that other Maritime members will go on record in support of a more thoroughly all-Canadian transportation policy.

The Maritimes have a right to expect much more direct benefit from the railways to the cost of which they contributed so extensively. They would like to see more of that national justice which Mr. Forke rightly says is the basis of national unity, and more of that sort of railroad enterprise which enters confidently upon the building up of the territory through which the national lines run. The government lines should be used to the utmost as levers of progress throughout the Canadian territory they serve.

RADIO ANNIHILATES DISTANCE

Some of the performances of radio which baffle the imagination are related by David Lawrence in the course of an exhaustive article in the Saturday Evening Post. Two may be cited, the first telling how President Coolidge pressed a button on the Atlantic and so caused a signal whistle to be blown on the Pacific; the second telling how South American audiences 6,000 miles or more from New York, heard the Dempsey-Pirpo fight described blow by blow, learning of the "Wild Bull's" downfall fifteen seconds after the referee counted him out.

The President was on board the Mayflower, coming along the Potomac. By touching a button he released a telegraphic wave. This wave passed to the shore and was carried through a telegraph line to a station in New Jersey, which broadcasted the same wave at such strength as to cause a whistle to blow on the steamship President Harding, lying at its dock in San Francisco Bay. For ten seconds the whistle blew, signalling the departure of the first of seven American vessels on a cruise around the world. The radio impulse leaped 3,000 miles, covering the distance in less than one-fiftieth of a second. A special electrical mechanism connected with the ship's whistle was in tune with the radio wave sent out by the President by the touching of a button on his yacht. The whole process was automatic with the exception of a light stroke of the President's finger on the controlling button. The radio impulse was sent on what is known as a wave length of 18,000 meters. When it is considered that all amateur broadcasting is done on wave lengths of five hundred meters or under, some idea of the power used in sending that impulse can be gained.

The radio wave when received in San Francisco on board the President Harding, and suitably amplified, actuated a lever which pulled the ship's steam whistle.

There is a jump from 3,000 miles to 6,000 and more in the case of the fight news. More than 6,000 miles from the ringside in New York, people of Argentina listened to a description of the fight, blow by blow, almost as quickly as the two pugilists delivered their punches. The announcer stationed at the ringside in New York had a telephone in his lap. Each movement of the fighters was described over the land-line telephone, which was connected with a powerful sending station several miles from the scene of the fight. An operator listening over the telephone to the story of the fight put it into the dot-and-dash language and it was flashed instantly through the air and received in Buenos Aires on a wave length of 17,000 meters. There it was broadcasted by an announcer who spoke the Spanish language, and radio fans, not only in Argentina but in Chile, Paraguay and Uruguay heard the intimate details of the fight. It is estimated that fifteen seconds were consumed from the moment the referee reached his count of ten, while Pirpo lay on the canvas, until the news was transmitted into the countries in South America just mentioned.

The world, as has been remarked from time to time for hundreds of years, is getting to be a small place. The wonders of radio give the familiar saying new point. Also, they cause one to wonder what fresh marvels the brain of man will devise during the next fifty or one hundred years.

Canadian fat cattle may now be sent to Britain via Manchester, as well as store cattle for slaughter. This morning's cables foreshadow the end of recent interruptions of the Canadian cattle trade due to the existence of the foot and mouth disease in the United States. Presumably the Canadian cattle will go from the ports of Canada and export business of the Dominion will be more than ever sharply defined.

THE HORSE REMAINS.

(Ottawa Citizen.) About 10 years ago, the day was foreseen when the motor car would have relegated the horse to the zoo or the racetrack. But the Dominion agricultural census for 1921, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, tells a different story. The horse population of Canada in June, 1921, was 6,824,262, as compared with 2,598,958 in 1911. Which seems to show that old Dobbin is still flourishing. Other domestic animals have also increased. There were 8,519,484 cattle in Canada in 1921, as compared with 6,226,958 10 years previous. Sheep increased from 2,174,300 to 3,203,966 in the same period. Chickens show the biggest increase. There were 48,021,847 in June, 1921, and only 29,939,291 in 1911.

REPORT ON PENITENTIARIES.

(Montreal Gazette.) In the thunderous attack on the abuses of the Victorian prison system which Charles Reade delivered, he made palpable with his denunciation of the practice of discharging prisoners in such a way as to offer them every temptation to revert to the trade of crime. We have travelled for since "It's Never Too Late to Mend" was written, but it may be doubted whether the public are yet aware of how much is being done and how much could be done to enable the criminal, when his term of imprisonment is served, to recover a useful and honorable place in the world. The report of the Superintendent of Penitentiaries for the Dominion of Canada makes interesting reading in this connection, and particularly where Mr. W. S. Hughes recommends, among other things, classification of inmates by institutions; segregation of habitual criminals; opening of mental disease hospitals for treatment of feeble-minded and insane patients; more government work for inmates; payment of wages to well-behaved inmates; and the appointment of a parole officer in each penitentiary area. The warden of the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary, and generally what Mr. Hughes suggests, with further detailed elaboration.

TORONTO AT PLAY.

The description of golf as a rich man's game, an exclusive sport for club men, the recreation of the privileged few, is no longer true in Toronto. The two public courses already have a membership of 1,763, with 1,200 applicants for admission. The figures show that there is need and room for the third public course which is projected. The royal game has been brought within the reach of a multitude at an almost nominal fee by the public spirit of a few enthusiasts who wished to share their pleasure with others. The occupational classification of more than a thousand members shows a fine democracy: 938 clerks and salesmen, 237 mechanics, plumbers and masons, 73 school teachers, 57 bank men, 96 stenographers, 19 nurses, 13 factory superintendents, 46 engineers, 11 university professors, 18 clergymen, 66 doctors, 44 merchants, 9 contractors, 23 bookkeepers. One would expect to see clergymen, professors and teachers on

IT IS NOT FOR EVERYBODY.

(Toronto Star.) Those representatives who form the farmer bloc at Washington have been endeavoring to secure for farmers a share of that tariff protection which has made the cities big and portions of every city rich.

They have secured tariff protection for the farmers. But somehow it does not benefit them. The cure-all does not have its accustomed effect. And the reason for this, no doubt, is that it is impossible that it should. Protection is a form of taxation. By means of it a manufacturer gets higher prices for his goods, and the consumer of the goods pays those higher prices. The people are taxed so that the protected industry may flourish. This is a favor shown the protected industry, and to a corresponding extent, a disfavor done the consuming public. This favor may be extended to many industries, but always there must remain a public capable of enduring the correlative disfavor. If everyone was favored equally, all would be in the same position as if none was favored. There is no room inside the charmed circle for agriculture. If agriculture climbs in, as it attempts to do at Washington, the charm is broken, it doesn't work. It doesn't work because they have not imported to fear; but exports for which to find a market. And as everything they sell abroad is as cheap as foreign conditions make it, while everything they buy is as dear as high tariff home conditions make it, they can't pay their way at all. They are in a bad way all over the western States.

Of 657,705 persons subject to income tax in Russia, the majority receive less than $1,000 a year.

BORN IN NEW YORK, IS HELD AS ALIEN

Woman Ordered Deported as Wife of British Guiana Man.

New York, March 17.—Argument was heard by Federal Judge Bondy on a writ of habeas corpus obtained in behalf of Mrs. Gertrude Gomes, a native of Brooklyn, who became an alien by marrying a native of British Guiana and who has been refused admission to this country on the ground that she is an insane alien.

According to the story told in court, Mrs. Gomes was Gertrude McGovern and was employed as a stenographer by the law firm of Stockbridge & Borst, when she met Gomes and married him in the early fall of 1921.

Assistant United States District Attorney James C. Thomas argued that when the defendant married an alien she became a native of her husband's country, and that as he had been declared insane by a competent authority she must be deported.

Time Woman Was Thanked For Household Reforms

By MARIAN HALE

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 17—Man has blamed woman for supporting delictious shops, going into business, producing a race of flappers and what not, but so far no one has thanked her for putting an end to that semi-annual reign of terror—housecleaning.

ELIZABETH CONDIT. knows how much she has to spend and what she has to do with it. "She has learned to combat drudgery with her head instead of her hands."

"Women have changed their attitude toward housework in the last few years," she says. "They have simplified it. They clean as they go. They keep things aired, cleaned, scoured and renovated week by week, so their homes never need that complete overhauling that used to make life so hard for them and so unbearable for others."

"Today even cheap, soft-wood floors are painted or oiled so they are as easy to keep clean as hardwood floors, and are equipped with rugs that may be cleaned weekly.

One of his series of sermons on the Lord's Prayer was preached by Rev. Robert G. Fenton yesterday in Centenary church. "Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors" was his theme.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN Eat AND-- Lose Weight-- Gain Weight

One-half grapefruit, 1 cup navy bean soup, combination cabbage salad (1 cup), 1 broiled lamb chop, 2 tablespoons diced carrots, 2 tablespoons canned strawberries, 2 small nut cookies, 1 pint buttermilk, 4 thin pieces gluten toast, 1 gluten roll, 1 scant tablespoon butter.

One-half grapefruit, 2 slices broiled bacon, 1 fried egg, 1 cup navy bean cream soup, 4 tablespoons creamed salmon on toast, 1 cup combination cabbage cutlet, 2 tablespoons creamed potatoes, 2 tablespoons diced buttered carrots, 1-6 lemon meringue pie, 1 tablespoon grape preserves, 2 toasted corn muffins, 2 slices brown bread, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon sugar, 4 tablespoons cream dressing for cabbage, 2 Parker House rolls, 1 pint whole milk, 2 tablespoons canned strawberries, 4 small nut cookies.

When the beans are thoroughly cooked and tender rub through a puree strainer. To three-quarters cup bean puree add one-quarter cup boiling water and one teaspoon freshly tilled water and bring to the boiling point and add one teaspoon chili sauce or catsup. Stir well and serve very hot.

The sugar is planned for the grapefruit and the preserves to accompany the toasted muffins.

Community Plan All Off

Community housekeeping may be all right when tried out with a group of chorines, but it's absolutely "no go" at all when there are a couple of husbands around to complicate matters.

"on a community plan and with a budget system." But it took only six weeks for the quartette to learn that a kitchenette is rather crowded when presided over by two brides. So now the "community house" is no more.

FAMOUS CRIMINAL DEAD IN FRANCE. Proved Patriotism During Late War by Stealing Important Paper. Paris, March 14.—One of the most picturesque criminal careers on record has come to an end at the Ile de Reconvict prison, on the Bay of Biscay, with the death of Baptiste Travall, who was recently sentenced to ten years' imprisonment as a member of the notorious bandit gang of La Villette. Among the exploits of this expert French cracksmen were the holding up of the Indian mail train between Paris and Marseilles, and a theft of 200,000 francs from the strong-room of an ocean liner. But Travall had at any rate two redeeming features—patriotism and courage in his country's service, for on one occasion he exercised his criminal skill in the cause of France and her Allies.

HEAVY WEEK END ON N. Y. MARKET

Foreign Buying Orders Continue to Send French Franc Upward.

New York, March 17.—Heavy week-end accumulation of foreign buying orders continued to send the French franc upward to a new high for the movement at 4.91 cents at the opening of the foreign exchange market today, a gain of 16 points from Saturday's closing.

Montreal Market.
Montreal, March 17.—A fair amount of business was transacted during the first half hour's trading on the local market today, although the price trend was weaker. Spanish Rivers were the most active issues. The common came out with a weak-end loss of 1/4 to 1/2, while the preferred registered an advance of 1/4 to 1/2. A good demand was made for Anitih. That stock was up 1/2 to 3/4. Other price changes included—Brazilian up 1/4 to 1/2; Cement off 1/4 to 1/2; Breweries off 1/4 to 1/2; Steel of Canada off 1/4 to 1/2, and Smelters up 1/4 to 1/2.

Neon Report.
Influenced by the decision of the House ways and means committee to report $2,000,000 bonus bill and the reduction in the Pan-American dividend, bear traders launched a series of attacks against the general list, the volume of trading during the morning being the largest for weeks. Selling pressure was particularly effective against the oils, motors, rubbers and tobaccos. Fisher Body and Stewart Warner each broke five points. Eldorado 4 1/2 and United States Realty, Sugar and Houston Oil sold off more points below Saturday's closing figure. Bulls held firm with few issues such as New Orleans, Texas and Mexico, which advanced 1/4 to 1/2. Erie First Pfd. up 1/4, and Lehigh Valley and Chesapeake and Ohio each up one, showing independent strength. Money continued easy, call funds renewing at four per cent.

PROVINCES WILL ACT ON BLUE SKY LAWS.
New Brunswick and other provinces with Blue Sky Laws that have been found by the courts to be ultra vires insofar as their control of companies incorporated under Federal Acts are concerned are likely, says the Prediction Gleaner, to unite in asking the Federal Government to bring such companies within the jurisdiction of the Blue Sky Laws of the various provinces in which they may operate.

Steps in that direction have been discussed, according to information which comes to the Gleaner from official sources, and definite action is expected to be taken at an early date.

Crimean Veteran
Praises "Fruit-a-tives"

MAJOR GEO. WALKER
Major George Walker, now a familiar figure in Chatham, Ontario, is one of the men who went through the terrible Indian Mutiny. As he says: "I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, serving under Lord Roberts. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk. My bowels were so constipated that I was in terrible shape until I began to use 'Fruit-a-tives.' They relieved me both of the Rheumatism and the Constipation. Today, I enjoy perfect health—no more Rheumatism or Constipation."

And in another letter written December 1st, 1923 (eleven years after), Major Walker says: "Fruit-a-tives are keeping me in the best of health and I shall never be without them."

"Fruit-a-tives" are the famous Fruit Treatment—intensified fruit juices combined with tonics—that make you well and keep you well. 25c and 50c—at all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

POSTAL CLERKS VIEWS.
To the Editor of The Times-Star:
Sir—There has been considerable discussion recently in the press regarding the civil service employees, stating one of the causes of the excessive taxation is the great overmanning of the service and crying out for retrenchment.

As the post office employees come more or less into this argument, may I, on behalf of the postal clerks, point out to your readers justification for the staff and some observations regarding salary, duties, hours of work and examinations, which they are required to pass each year in order that they may render to the public the best and greatest service of any public institution in Canada.

There has been no general increase in salary since 1912 and approximately 90 per cent of postal clerks receive a salary of $1,200 a year. Postal clerks work a forty-four hour week with very irregular hours, including night and early morning, the clerks being divided up into several staffs beginning their duties at 6, 7, 8, 9 a.m., 12.30 and 5 p.m., finishing their eight hours at 8, 6, 8.30, 9 and 11 o'clock p.m., when night staff comes on duty till 7 o'clock next morning, giving to the public a continuous service for 24 hours, including the staff working on statutory holidays. General delivery window opens from 6 a.m. and closes at 9 p.m., fifteen hours. Money order branch is open for service from 8 a.m. till 6 p.m., ten hours. Registration branch is open from 7 a.m. till 7 p.m., twelve hours, with clerks on duty for the other twelve hours, receiving and despatching mails; therefore you may readily understand by early morning and late evening hours, Sunday and statutory holidays, that it requires a large number of clerks to man the several staffs and give to the public the service that is demanded by the large amount of mail matter that continuously passes through the post office from time to time.

Postal clerks upon entering the service are required to pass a civil service examination equal to high school leaving, and for thirty years, or until they attain the age of sixty, they are required to pass two examinations a year to qualify for their annual increase and retain their positions. These examinations are held by the district examiner for the Maritime Provinces, and consist of postal laws and regulations and a sortation test on distribution of mail matter and train service for the Maritime area, N. B. and P. E. I. and Nova Scotia, city delivery and box holders, requiring an average of 75 per cent. and 80 per cent. to pass; therefore each clerk must keep himself fully posted by study, study, study, and this study must be done when off duty. Surely under these rules laid down by the department, postal clerks have a great claim for more compensation.

I do not know of any industry, public institution or mercantile establishment, business of any kind, where the employees are required to pass two examinations a year on the quality of goods, size and weights, or their prices, or keep the name and address of their customers at their finger tips the same as postal clerks had with postal laws and regulations and the distribution of their district.

We trust that the public will be liberal in their thoughts towards postal clerks and to all postal employees, including railway mail clerks, letter carriers, postal porters, transfer agents, etc., for there is more to their duties than just going and reporting for work, and if a little enquiry were to be made by those in doubt regarding their duties, the critics would find that the post office is a working institution, and we believe a paying institution, therefore our claim for a decent living wage. Thanking you for your valuable space in your paper,

I am, sincerely yours,
St. John, March 17.

By No Means Allow Your Bowels To Get Constipated

If you allow your bowels to become constipated you will have bilious attacks, sick headache, coated tongue, foul breath, sallow complexion, specks floating before the eyes, whites of the eyes dull and yellow, heartburn, water brash, etc.

After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills I have felt much better as they certainly did me a lot of good."

Play on Emotions Is What Makes Movie Dogs Act

(By Jack Jungmeyer) Hollywood, March 17.—Audiences invariably marvel at the screen performances of dogs, notably of Strongheart, when they simulate human emotions and motives.

STRONGHEART AND HIS BRIDE, JULIE. INSET, LAURENCE TRIMBLE.

This amazement, says Laurence Trimble, owner and director of Strongheart, and authority on animal behavior, is due to the fact that humans, while associating with the spawn of the golf from earliest time, have come to know him only superficially.

We were talking about the "acting" of Strongheart, his wife Julie, and their wild cousins, the wolves, in "The Love Master," Trimble's latest production.

Wolf's Own Traits

"The human being," declared Trimble, "flatters himself that the dog has, in the course of ages, taken on human characteristics. As a matter of fact, the dog differs essentially very little from his progenitor. The further fact is that humans have deeply imbedded within themselves the fundamental nature of the wolf and his tamed offspring."

"If people recognized their own basic nature better, they would not marvel at the aptitude of dogs to simulate their moving impulses."

Acting might be defined as the assumption of character or deportment artificially provoked and sustained. It is approximated in animals by applying any stimulus necessary to transform the mood to the end desired.

"It requires," explained Trimble, "a deep knowledge of the fears and rages of the beast—those very fears and rages which form the matrix of human social evolution. I began to comprehend animals when I began to understand, early in youth, that my own timors were exactly like those of wolf and dog. And dogs act, they are not stimulated by something entirely different than the stimulus suggested in the motion picture."

For instance, in "The Love Master," where Strongheart seems with uncanny tumult to sense and bristle at death as an actual occult presence stalking his sick master, he actually was excited by the soft side presence of a bulldog.

For those who will see Strongheart's latest performance, I hope this transcript of Director Trimble's comment on the kinship of man and the son of the wolf will provide additional pleasure.

Remember its gist when you see the primitive amour between Strongheart and his bride Julie amid the majestic snowscapes of the North. Mind Julie's timid approach and retreat when she is wooed away from her wolf pack.

DIRECTORS AGREE THAT GOOD FIGHT IS BACKBONE OF SUCCESSFUL FILM

Battle Over Heroine is a Thrilling Feature of "Wild Oranges."

(By MAURICE HENLE)

New York, March 17.—Movie directors may disagree on many things, but on one point they are united: A good fight will put a picture over.

VIRGINIA VALLI.

Fighting in the movie threatens to replace baseball as a national pastime. A picture without a fight these days is as rare as a news photograph of a beautiful woman without her knees crossed.

It doesn't matter if the photoplay is a romance of the 18th century, whether it is a story of New York Bowery life, whether it is a society picture or an ordinary love tale. The fight between two men must be there or it lacks the punch, so the directors think.

Beautiful Virginia Valli is the girl Mayo wins. Few actresses on the screen today have more charm than Miss Valli. She, unfortunately, has been overlooked by the public, but one picture of the right kind could make her as popular with the fans as Lillian Gish. She's developing fast in her art.

Gloria Swanson is back in the role which made her famous. Again she is the society butterfly with full quota of smart looking clothes. She stepped from this role in her last picture, "The Humming Bird," and her characterization of an Apache gained instant popularity throughout the country.

"The Covered Wagon," Paramount epic, has completed a solid year's run at the Criterion Theatre on Broadway. Not to have seen "The Covered Wagon" is to have missed as fine a production as ever made.

No one may claim the name of the picture was chosen for its dramatic power. "The Covered Wagon"—its name, we mean—is anything but sensational. It has, in itself, little box office pulling power. It lacks the power of the names: "The Ten Commandments," "America," "The Birth of a Nation," "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," and other excellent films. It stood on its merits alone and lasted as it did (it's still going at the Criterion) because it is, in itself, a great picture.

His One Opportunity "Did you ever win an argument with Mrs. Dubwalter?" "Once," said Mr. Dubwalter. "What about?" "I don't remember, but I have a vivid recollection that her mouth was full of hairpins at the time."

PATRON SAINT OF IRELAND HONORED

Special Services in Catholic Churches Mark Feast Day of St. Patrick.

Today the feast of St. Patrick, patron saint of Ireland, is being celebrated in all of the Catholic churches special services were conducted and sermons appropriate to the occasion preached.

The members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians are holding a literary and musical programme this evening in honor of the occasion in the headquarters of Division No. 1, Union street, at which addresses will be delivered by Rev. Roy McDonald, spiritual director, and John Stanton, president.

Entertainments, the proceeds of which will be for the aid of the orphans are being given in St. Vincent's auditorium and in the West End and Fairview.

At The Cathedral

Grand high mass was celebrated at the Cathedral at 10 o'clock in honor of the feast of the patron saint of Ireland, Rev. W. M. Duke was celebrant with Rev. Roy McDonald, deacon and Rev. E. Reynolds, subdeacon. His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, occupied his place on the throne. Before mass was said and at the offertory plaintive airs of old Ireland were played by the organist, Arthur S. Godsoe. Under his guiding hand, also, the Cathedral chimes rang out the message of the day in The Dear Little Shamrock and St. Patrick's Day.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Father Brown. He opened with presentation of a contrast between the life in Heaven and on earth. In Heaven were the saints, while on earth man was battling the baptismal innocence for sin; in Heaven were the martyrs, on earth people grumbled over little troubles; in Heaven were the virgins, while on earth men and women sought the occasion of carnal pleasures; in Heaven was the multitude of those who fasted and prayed, on earth were many choosing the paths that led to sin. To be with the saints in Heaven it was necessary to live as them on earth.

St. Patrick

One saint was in the minds of the whole world today, St. Patrick. The story of his life had often been told but, like children, people liked to hear it again. The speaker then reviewed the saint's life briefly. As a result of his teaching, he said, Ireland today was dotted with countless chapels and cathedrals upon which loving Irish hearts had flung aloft the cross of Christ. St. Patrick's great gift to the Irish people, he said, was that of the faith. Had he obtained for them great property, wealth and worldly fame, all that would have been but little compared with the gift of the faith, something that had been denied to many nations. What were they doing to show their gratitude to God for this? Were they keeping the faith alive or were they lukewarm?

They were a wonderful race, particularly blessed by God, those of the land of Mother Machree, one of the dearest spots in creation. He might speak of the beauties of Ireland, its babbling brooks and its hills and dales, but his message to his hearers was that in the city making an inspection of the local terminals, G. M. As Hiram Sees It

"I see the town's look'n' up," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter. "It is," said the Times reporter. "Things are improving. We are to have the new hotel—and there's a good prospect of a huge coking plant. There's a lot of lumber to cut and ship. The building trade ought to pick up some this year. They say the sawing factory will be operated. Merchants are feeling better about trade. There will be a big tourist traffic next summer. Yes, sir—the town is looking up." "That ain't what I was think'n' about at all," said Hiram. "I don't understand," said the reporter. "Take a walk," said Hiram. "Then you'll see for yourself." "You puzzle me more than ever," said the reporter. "It ain't no puzzle," said Hiram. "If the town don't keep look'n' up it might get knocked down." "Please explain," said the reporter. "Icicles," said Hiram. "Oh," said the reporter. "Safety first," said Hiram. "Quite so," said the reporter.
