many's Support.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 29 .-- By order of Emperor Nicholas, Count Muravieff, the foreign minister, on the 24th inst., handed to the foreign diplomats at St. Petersburg a note declaring that the maintenance of peace and the reduction of the excessive armaments now crushing all nations is the ideal for which all governments ought to strive. The czar considers the present moment favorable for the inauguration of a movement looking to this end, and invites the powers to take part in an international conference as a means of thus assuring real and lasting peace and terminating the progressive increase of armaments. The

THE NOTE. "The maintenance of general peace and the possible reduction of the excessive armaments which weigh upon all nations present themselves in existing conditions to the whole world as an ideal toward which the endeavors of all governments should be directed. The humanitarian and magnanimous ideas of his majesty the emperor, my august master. have been won over to this view in the conviction that this lofty aim is in conformity with the most essenti interests and legitimate views of all the powers; and the imperial government thinks the present moment would be very favorable to seeking the means. "International discussion is the most effectual means of insuring for all people's benefit a real, durable peace, above all, putting an end to the progressive development of the present armaments. In the course of the last twenty years the longing for general appeasement has grown especially pronounced in the consciences of civilized nations, and the preservation of peace has been put forward as an object of international policy. It is in its name that great statesmen have concluded between themselves powerful alliances. It is the better to guarantee peace that they have developed in proportions hitherto unprecedented their military forces, and still continues to increase them, without shrinking from any sacrifice. Nevertheless, all these efforts have not yet been able to bring about the beneficent result desired-pacification. "The financial charges following the upward march strike at the very root of public prosperity. The intellectual and physical strength of the nations' labor and capital are mostly diverted from their natural application, and unproductively consumed. Hundreds of millions are devoted to acquiring terrible engines of destruction, which, though today are regarded as the last work of science, are destined to-morrow to lose all their value in consequence of some fresh discovery in the same field. Natural culture, economic progress and the production of wealth are either paralyzed or checked in development. Moreover, in proportion as the armaments of each power increase, they less and less fulfill the object the government has set before themselves. "The economic crisis, due in great part to the system of armaments l'ountrance, and the continual danger which lies in this massing of war material are transforming the armed den which the peoples have more and more difficulty in bearing.

"It appears evident that if this state of things were to be prolonged, it would inevitably lead to the very cataclysm it is desired to avert, and the horrors whereof make every think-ing being shudder in advance. To put an, end to these incessant armaments and to seek the means of warding off the calamities which are threatening the whole world, such is the supreme duty today imposed upon all states.

"Filled with this idea, his majesty has been pleased to command me to propose to all governments whose representatives are accredited to the imperial court, the assembling of a conference which shall occupy itself with this grave problem. This conference will be, by the help of God, a happy presage for the century which is about to open. It would converge into one powerful focus the efforts of all states sincerely seeking to make the great conception of universal peace triumph over the elements of trouble and discord, and would at the same time cement their agreement by a corporate consecration of the principles of equity and right whereon rest the security of states and the welfare of peoples."

SUPPORTED BY GERMANY

London, Aug. 29 .- The Times correspondent in St. Petersburg says: The proposal for a conference, which was made by the czar on Wednesday, through the medium of the foreign ambassadors at St. Petersburg, had been kept profoundly secret until to-day, so that it might be first promulgated on the day of the unveiling of the monument in the Kremlin to Alexander II. There is reason to believe that it formed the subject of communications between the courts of Petersburg and Berlin some time previously, and in all probability the support of Germany at least was secured in advance. Russia, with her to Corea of M. Pavloff, the Russian CALL UP LONGON BRANCE. Phone 1.240

THE EASTERN CLOUD. The New York Post's London correspondent asserts that the ultimatum of Great Britain to China is, in effect, an litimatum to Russia, as the Tsung-Li-Yamen is a mere tool in the hands of Russia. He says his information is that Count Muravieff has been given clearly to understand that unless England's demands for definite formal guarantees in support of her rights in perpetuity in the Yang-Tse valley are fully satisfied forthwith, the British ministry will feel bound to proceed to the last extremity. Russia must climb down forthwith, or naval precautionary preparations, which the British admiralty has been making for weeks past at home and in eastern waters. will be turned to terribly practical

NEGOTIATIONS. A special from London says: Intricate and important negotiations are almost certainly going forward in Lon-Lon, Berlin and St. Petersburg toward delimitation and mutual recognition of spheres of influence in China. Englad and Germany seem near understanding, with prospect of amicable adjustment with Russia. England seeks to pre-empt Yang-Tse-Kiang valley, maintaining the open door there, but abandoning it elsewhere in China

A dispatch from Pekin dated Aug. 27 says the French, Italian and Dutch ministers have formally demanded a share for their respective nationali-

WAR PREDICTED.

London, Aug. 29.-A special dispatch from Shanghai says it is stated there the Chinese minister at St. Petersburg has reported to his government that in his opinion the China question will precipitate a conflict between Great Britain and Russia. This state of affairs, he says, is owing to the British ambassador putting a note at St. Petersburg of such a preemptory nature, demanding freedom of enerprise in regions where the Russian William in Jerusalem if the czar's adinfluence is supposed to predominate, that Count Muravieif cannot accept aux, had not forestalled the emperor's it. The Chinese minister indeed ex- project. The Chronicle says: pects that a conflict will certainly break out before the end of the year.

WHAT WILL RUSSIA DO? The Daily Mail's Pekin correspondent says: M. Pavloff, the Russian charge de'affaires in China, who has been appointed Russian minister to Corea, will be succeeded here by M. De Giers, who is at present accredited to Brazil. M. Pavloff's removel is generally attributed to Great Brain's sudden change of policy, the object of which was to impress Russia with the advisability of recognizing our paramountcy in the Yang Tse Valley. The Russian Government has been quite in accord with Great Britain's desire to delimit the matters of the sphere of the integrity of this sphere, it declined to give any guarantee. A prompt demonstration of the British fleet in the Gulf of Pe Chi Li was a ready answer to this equivocation. Now that Lord Salisbury has given a plain indication of his plan of action, it is not improbable that Russia will execute a masterly retreat from her present posi-

CORRESPONDENTS' VIEWS. New York, Aug. 29.—The threatening aspect of affairs in China is a topic on which all of the London correspondents of the leading dailing dwell today. Mr. Ford, cabling to the Tribune. What seems probable is the adoption of an aggressive policy for inforcing a demand for a British sphere of influence in China, which will be definitely reserved and from which foreign rivals will be warned off. If today's dispatches to the Daily Mail are fully confirmed, the naval demonstration has already begun, and the Yang-Tse sphere of influence has been preemptorily demanded by the British ambassador. This coercive movement is directed against the Pekin Government, but many suspicious complications point to a diplomatic understanding with Russia on give-and-take prin ciples. Apparently the "open door" phase has been abandoned. The first effective British answer to German and Russian aggression in China was the occupation of Wei Hai Wei. The second real measure of self-defense may be the acquisition of a definite British peace of our days into a crushing bur- sphere of influence in the richest section of China, in anticipation of the ultimate partition of the empire. The "open door" will speedily cease to be a conjuring phrase the European powers, one after another, are allowed to take out claims and to warn each other against poaching upon their national preserves. The correspondent of the Sun says: No one except the actual participators in the negotiations knows what is the latest phase of the international crisis, which still absorbs European attention. We are told today with equal emphasis two things which are of an exactly apposite tenor. One is that the Anglo-Russian relations are more strained than ever, and a rupture is close at hand. The other is that Great Britain and the czar have reached a complete agreement, and that Lord Salisbury has abandoned the policy of the open door, and China will be partitioned forthwith, Russia and Great Britain dividing the lion's share. There is a possibility that neither story is correct, but there are some indications that Lord Salisbury is tending toward the alternative policy indicated in recent dispatches. In other words, he is becoming convinced that it is no longer possible to maintain the integrity of the Chinese Empire, and is preparing to forestall his rivals by being the first to seize a share of the spoils. This policy will probably yield the largest results to Englishmen.

Harold Frederick, cabling to the Times, says: Today is difficult to see how the thunder-clouds can disperse without a general storm. A useful gleam of light is supplied, however, by that careful man, the London 'Times' correspondent at Pekin, who tells us of the approaching removal to Corea of M. Pavloff, the Russian

Pavloff and the British ambassador,

Sir Claude Macdonala, had become almost impossible. But there is another view of the matter. Russian diplomacy is never nearer attaining its ends than when it makes a polite and public show of backing down, and that M. Payloff's violent methods thus receive an official snub is no proof that he exceeded the spirit of his instructions. even if he forced the letter of them. In official circles here it is denied that there is any unusual concentrating or mobilizing of the vessels of the Chinese fleet, but the restless activity of the foreign office and the admiralty during this holiday time fill's men's minds with anxious puzzles, for which it is difficult to find a peaceful solu-

DISARMAMENT

Varying Views of the Press on the

Czar's Proposal. FORESTALLED THE KAISER London, Aug. 29 .- The Daily Chronicle's Paris correspondent that the disarmament "olive branch" would have emanated from Emperor visers, including, perhaps, M. Hanotczar's encyclical is assuredly one of the most striking documents of the century. It could only have been more dramatic if the kaiser has issued it from the birthplace of the prince of peace. Looking to the present attitude of Russia in the east, the proposal almost TAKES ONE'S BREATH AWAY. A cynical view is painfully obvious. Russia has just secured a series of vast territorial and political advantages which it will take years to assimilate. She is face to face with famine, a revolt of the Poles is threatened and she is threatened by other powers, and there are signs of a dissolution of the Russo-French alliance. Happily the humanitarian view influence, but when on last Thursday is equally clear and convincing. The it was asked permanently to respect czar, hitherto overborne by headstrong, obstinate advisers, has now asserted his natural desires. He is one. of only two men who could make the proposal without fear of being misunderstood. Great Britain and the United States will certainly welcome the proposal. If another great power does also, much will be gained in the desired direction." TOO MUCH TO HOPE FOR. The Daily Mail said if the czar would not the emperor should surely have been the dramatist. It is too much to hope for the realization, but some good ought to come out of it in the way of a better understanding of the powers.

BEAUTIFUL IDEA. The Daily Telegraph says: The idea is so beautiful that we are reluctant to throw cold water upon it; but what is to be the basis of discussion? A conference which should recognize that free and open markets are for the advantage of the entire civilized world, would indeed pave the way to universal peace: but short of this, we fear the gathering will prove abortive. THE PEN OF NICHOLAS, BUT COB-

DEN'S DOCTRINE. The Daily News says: The czar by this message has secured a more righteous and enduring fame than belongs to the proudest conqueror of his illustrious house. There is no quarter from which such a manifesto would produce a more profound impression. Hitherto the great obstacle was that nobody would begin. The czar cannot be suspected of making a virtue of necessity. We shall hardly be wrong in attributing the momentous policy to the czar himself. It is the pen of

Nicholas, but the doctrine of Cobden. WONT DO FOR ENGLAND. The Morning Post, discussing the difficulties in the way of the proposal, arrives at the conclusion that it would suit Russian needs and Russian designs wonderfully, but would not suit

[Toronto Globe.]

The question has been raised in various places whether or not bar-rooms may be kept open on Sept. 29, the day upon which the prohibition plebiscite is to be taken. Some correspondents of the Globe have held that hotels need not close their bar-rooms on the day in question. This view is founded on the assumption that the plebiscite is not an election, and that therefore the clause of the election act demanding the closing of such places on election days does not apply. This is an entirely erroneous view, and not at all borne out by the provisions of the plebiscite act, section 6 of which says:

"For the purpose of submitting the question to the electors, obtaining an answer thereto, and ascertaining the result of the vote, the same proceedings, as nearly as may be, shall be had as in the case of a general Dominion election, and the Dominion Elections Act and the Northwest Territories Representation Act and their amendments, and the Franc'ise Act, 1898, shall, subject to the provisions of this act, and of any regulations, orders or instructions made or given by the governor in council thereunder, apply, mutatis mutandis, to the conduct of such proceedings, and with respect to the powers to be exercised and the duties to be performed by, and the rights, obligations, liabilities, qualifications and disqualifications of judges, officers, electors and all other persons, and with respect to offenses and the penalties which may be incurred."

Section 83 of the Dominion Elections Act says: "No spirituous or fermented liquors or strong drinks shall be sold or given at any hotel, tavern, shop or other place within the limits of any polling district during the whole of the polling day at any election for the House of Commons; and everyone who violates the provisions of this section shall be liable for every such offense to a penalty of $100 and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months in default of payment of such penalty." The reading of these two sections would clearly indicate that bar-rooms must be closed on Sept. 29. A number of fall fairs are set for that date. and hotel-keepers in different sections of the province are therefore interested. Another point has been raised as to whether or not voters who voted on registration at the last provincial election would be entitled to vote on the coming plebiscite. They certainly are entitled, unless, of course, they have since moved into another electoral district. The same lists will be used as were used on the 1st of March last. Judges, sheriffs and other public officers and persons who under provincial law are disqualified from voting at provincial elections are nevertheless entitled to vote in the plebiscite if possessed of the usual qualifications of voters. If, because of the disqualification mentioned, their names have been left off the provincial voters' lists. they may still vote on making at the polls a declaration provided by the Dominion Franchise Act. With this exception no person is entitled to vote unless his name appears on the lists mentioned, that is, the provincial voters' lists used on March 1 last.

London. Aug. 29 .- A dispatch from Camp Hegair, opposite the Island of Gebel Rayan, says the Anglo-Egypt-ian expedition has suffered a rather serious loss by the sinking of the gunboat Zafir. The boat sprang a leak when near Shendy, and within a few minutes went down. All on board were saved. From Royan Hill here Omdurman is Amsterdam, Aug. 29.-The preparations for the coronation of Queen Wilhelmina continue. A photograph of her majesty in her coronation attire will be sent to every public school and barracks in Holland. The queen will wear a white silk dress covered with rich lace. The bodice will be squaredecollette, and trimmed with pearls on lace embroideries. There will be a large cluster of diamonds and pearls on the side of the skirt. A mantle of crimson velvet, embroidered with golden lions, will hang from her shoulders. She will wear a collar of diamonds, and a diadem of five points in her hair.

PRODUCES A SENSATION. London, Aug. 29 .- The Czar's proposition for an international conference lasting peace among the powers is likely to produce a sensation throughout Europe; and, coming from such a quarter and with such evident sincerity, it is likely to have important effects. There is no doubt that, with Russia taking the lead in such a step, Germany France and the other nations will be ready to follow. The Daily Graphic this morning, referring to the proposal of Emperor Nicholas, says: "It would be idle to attempt to ignore the many and grave difficulties standing in the way of the attainment of the czar's wishes, but it cannot be possible to doubt the sinerity of the magnanimous proposal. Rome, Aug. 29.—The czar's note has made a profound impression here. Some of the newspapers applaud, while others greet with distrust.

Most of them seem to exect that difficulties will arise over the ultimate disposition and control of the Philippines; but, as a rule, the arguents advanced are repetitions threadbare. The Koelnische Zeltung's editorial may be worth quoting, as there is the best reason for believing that it was inspired. It says: "Before a definite peace is concluded considerable time must elapse. BANK OF SPAIN

Sept. 1.

Would Be Seriously Affected by Repudiation of the Cuban Debt.

London, Aug. 29.-The Financial Spain, and the certainty that neither the United States nor Cuban Government will assume the public debt affects the Bank of Spain more serious-$234,068,800. The minister of finance in Madrid borrowed £34,00,000 from the Bank of Spain, giving as security £30,-000,000 of Cuban interior bonds. Apparently these bonds were issued without legal authority, and they are therefore mere waste paper.

With Cuba lost, the paper continues, the situation is aggravated by the fact that Spain will have to confess the manner in which she has misused her control of the Bank of Spain. The repudiation of the Cuban debt will tell severely upon the bank and the gigantic loss will perhaps compel it to close its doors. The government will exert every possible effort to prevent such a calamity, for if the notes which form the bulk of the bank's circulation should become worthless the popular outcry against every one in authority might produce unlooked for results.

Under the circumstances, the paper concludes, the Spanish Government is more likely to utilize such financial assistance as can be obtained from Paris to ameliorate the home situation han to maintain its credit with other

Immense Increase in the Trade

Empire at Large - Great Britain Is the Market - The Transportation Ottawa, Aug. 27 .- While the net results of the year's commercial transactions have been already announced, the more detailed returns that are now to hand offer some interesting figures which are well worth looking over. for the purpose of securing real and The immense increase in the total trade of the Dominion has already been made public, and received with unqualified satisfaction by all true Canadians of whatever political stripe, but with the imperial instinct strongly upon us, it is a matter of no small gratification to find how rapidly business is developing with the empire

> THE TOTAL TRADE FOR THE YEAR announced at the unprecedented figure of $304,091,720, as against $257,-168,862, or an increase of nearly $47, 000,000 in the year. Of this grand total the imports were $140,305,950, and the exports $159,485,770, giving a balance on the right side of nearly $20,-The balance is growing, for 000,000. while the imports of 1898 exceeded those of 1897 by $21,000,000, the exports have grown to nearly $25,500,000. this vast increase the duty collected increased $2,064,663, in spite of the con-

INTER-IMPERIAL TRADE. So much for the general figures! In the returns that have special reference to Great Britain we find that last year Canada imported $32,827,000, as against $29,238,000 for the previous year. But while imports from Great Britain were only $32,827,000, the goods she took from us ran up to $104,787,000, or a balance in our favor of nearly $72,000,000 With the United States the conditions were exactly the reverse, and, in spite of artificial obstructions, the Dominion imported from the South $86,587,000. sending back in return only $41,122,000, or, in other words, for every $1 the United States spent in Canada, Canada spent more than $2 in return. Of this $41,000,000, mineral and lumber make up more than one-half, agriculproducts and manufactured goods being only a small percentage

GREAT BRITAIN IS THE MARKET. That Great Britain is the market for Canada's vast agricultural supplies is most clearly shown by the fact that last year she took nearly $40,000,000 worth of animals, $37,688,000 in agricultural products, $15,638,000 in lumber, etc., $4,822,000 in products of the fisheries, or a total of $97,782,000 out of the grand total of $104,787,000. From these figures it will be seen that the tendency of trade is most perceptibly turning towards Great Britain, and when it is remembered that the full effect of the preferential tariff has only now become fully operative, it will be readily seen this tendency will be very largely increased in the immediate future. the meantime it is worthy of note that every additional return only emphasises the magnificent prosperity and unexampled progress which our country is enjoying these days.

THE TRANSPORTATION QUES-TION.

The transportation question, the most momentous problem which the western farmer has to solve, is steadily becoming simplified. Not only are the rates being reduced by the C. P. R., in conformity to the undertaking entered into when the Crow's Nest Railway contract was awarded, but direct competition is developing, which cannot but have a most beneficial effect. The Canada Atlantic Railway has completed arrangements by which it is in a position to carry western grain from Parry Sound to Coteau Landing, thereby connecting the boats running on Lake Superior with ocean boats News says that the loss of Cuba to from Montreal. In addition to the competition thus effected, the actual distance is considerably lessened, and so strong a competitor has the Canada Atlantic become that the Amerily than is realized by outsiders. The can boats are even now complaining Cuban debt amounts to £46,813,760 or of the manner in which their business is being cut into.

A BUBBLE BURST.

Reference was made in these letters a couple of weeks ago to the action of the department of the interior in leasing a portion of the water and it was then shown that the transaction was an excellent business deal, resulting in a substantial gain to the public exchequer. It now appears from information received through an independent source direct from Dawson City that Mr. Macdonald secured the franchise in public competition with five other tenderers, the successful bidder simply obtaining the privilege because he offered the biggest price. More than that, the lease is for one year only, after which the property reverts to the government. These facts have probably escaped the attention of those who have been declaring that the lease was granted in perpetuity and without competition.

HERE'S A BEAUTY. Here is a choice note in the Mail and Empire the other day: "Mr. Fielding has added five millions to the debt in one month." As experts in arithmetic, the editorial writtens of the temple were not up to expectations, not being sufficient to pay off the floating debt. Another reason given was that the gift fund had not been nearly as large as exother age. Of course, they will attempt to explain that "one month" should read "one year," but even then the ential of truth and the falseness of it simply becomes a matter of degree.

BASEBALL.

LONDON WINS. "Out of the game you go." was Umpire England's instructions to Dan Lowney in Saturday's game, after the agile shortstop had reached the initial bag on a pass in the fifth inning, and was caught napping off the bag by Hagerman. It was one of those deci- | score: sions that calls for quick judgmen and to many it remains only within the umpire's quick sightedness to de tect the play. It was a close decision and Lowney showed his disapprove by running into the diamond towar England and using such epithets that England told him he would have t get out of the game. The next ma was easily retired, making the sid out. Lowney picked up his glove an walked to his position, but Englan was firm and called to Lowney to com in. The latter doggedly accepted th turn of affairs and sent Morrissey t short field.

Up to this time London had score nine runs to two by the visitors, an Lowney probably was vexed at th wretched field work of his team in th fifth inning of the London side. Suc slipshod work has not been seen o the home diamond this season. Th Babes should change their appellation and assume the name of "The Muff ers." Two errors by Snyder, a mu by Jones of a difficult fly, two misplay by Phelps and a balk by Watkins al lowed London to score six runs o two hits. Only one run was sent acros the plate on a hit, and after the innin ended it was a welcome relief. The sixth inning also began with a base on balls and a muff by Conklin, both base runners scoring on Carey's three-bagger. Morrissey's only change of handling the ball was in the eighth, when he fumbled it. The two games played this trip by Chatham have been the worst since the organization of the Canadian League. The personnel of the team continues to undergo changes. Wat-kins, the twirler who was with the Bay City club, pitched his first game for the Chathams. He had an excellent drop ball, which fooled the home nine, and by better support would likely have pulled out the game. With three Chatham players on bases in the sixth he placed a ball between left and center, which was slowly fielded, and enabled him to take two bases_and score the three runs Kuehne was on first, but could do nothing with the bat, although he drew two passes. Phelps was behind the bat, and on a forced run in the fifth, with his foot on the home plate, he touched Keenan, the ball dropping from his hand in doing so. In the same inning, with the bases still full, Carey was forced out at the plate on Hagerman's hit to Watkins. Phelps endeavored to make a double by heading off Hagerman at first, and hit the runner on the back with the ball, which bounded into the field and allowed Lohman and Ward to score.

The only error by the home team was Carey's drop of Jones' fly in the fourth, the batter scoring on Phelps' triple. The tall fielder evened up the misplay in the ninth, when he caught one of the hardest line drives made this season by Jones. Lowney was disgusted, and called his men together at 5:30, and told England to call the game at the close of the eighth to enable them to take the 6:15 p.m. train west. Score:

GROUNDERS St. Thomas Times: The locals are getting their eye on the ball again .-The Saints are playing a good, snappy game under Frank Pears' management -"Pete" Tibald can get down to first quicker than any other player in the league.—There are other catchers in the league besides Lohman. For instance, what's the matter with Sully -The Cockneys only once attempted to take liberties with Sullivan's wing and that was disastrous, as Daniel B threw Carey out at second by a yard .-Oh, yes, Lohman is the brainiest catcher in the league, and many other things, but he gave two painful exhibitions at Atlantic Park on Wednesday and Thursday.-Pitcher Hardy is now quite anxious to fulfill his contract with St. Thomas and do slab work for the locals. Hardy, however, was suspended early in the spring for refusing to report for duty, and it is doubtful if the St. Thomas management has any use for him at this stage of the game. PITCHER BREAKS HIS ARM. Gananoque, Ont., Aug. 29.-While a baseball match was in progress here on Friday, Robert Thompson, pitcher, broke his pitching arm below the el bow. He was watching a man on the second base, and pulled his arm off quickly to pitch a ball, when the bone snapped with a report which could he heard outside the diamond.

ST. THOMAS PRICES RAISED. The directors of the St. Thomas baseball club have decided to raise the price of admission at the gate from 15 to 25 cents, the same as charged in other Canadian League cities. Ladies will be admitted free at the gate and charged 10 cents for the grand stand. Boys will be charged 10 cents at the gate. WASTEDN LEAGUE CATUDDAY

I, JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, do hereby certify that I have duly analyzed and tested several samples of "Abbey's Effervescent Salt," some being furnished by the manufacturers in Montreal and others purchased from retail druggists in this city. I find these to be of very uniform character and composition, and sold in packages well adapted to the preservation of the Salt. This compound contains saline bases which form "Fruit Salts" when water is added—and is then a very delightful aperient beverage, highly palatable and effective. and effective.

On European Topics===Anglo=Saxon Partnership === The Conference at Quebec === The Recapture of the Soudan.

Lord Beresford's Mission-Army Maneuvers-The Sultan Waking Up-Bank Suspension-A Terrible Crime.

the secession of Jamaica and other West Indian colonies from the British Empire and a disposition on the part dependence of Abyssinia, and warrantc. the United States to propose a game of barter, by which the Philipher advance further south will constipines can be traded off for them, have hardly caused a ripple on the stagnant surface of England's opinion. The Quebec commissioners are not expected to settle off-hand the series of complex questions which have occupied the attention of diplomatists for many years. The sing's point which impresses English observers is the good feeling prevailing in America and Canada, which facilitates a frank acknowledgment of views and opers the way for the adjustment of many wexatious controversies. The reports of an outbreak of annexation feeling In the British West Indies are not regarded in official circles here as any-thing more than a convenient expedi-ent for bringing the interests of the colonies prominently before the home government, and forcing it to adopt larger remedial measures. Even Chamberlain is at a loss to know what to do for the West Indian colonies. He has been inclined to favor temporary sugar duties to offset continental beet bounties, but has been forced to admit that the immediate effect of the imposition of such duties would not be helpful, since it would deprive the sugar islands of the advantage over bounty-fed sugars, which they now enjoy in the American market under the Dingley tariff.

KEENLY WATCHED. On the same subject another correspondent cables: The Anglo-American conference at Quebec is being watched here with keenest attention, for although they phase it differently, there is general appreciation of the fact here that Canada is a hostage for England's good behavior towards the United States. The question round which the most interest centers is, what will be the United States demand as the price of reciprocity? A New York telegram to the Morning Post positively announces that the States commissioners will not modify the stand they have decided to take on that matter. They will make concessions only in return for preferential treatment, exclusively in tavor of the United States, and will not pay for equal treatment to that accorded to Great Britain. If so, then reciprocity is absolutely impossible, for positive assurances were received in London from a member of the Canadian ministry that no treaty would be consented to by Canada that does not extend to the motherland all the trade privileges accorded to the States. The speaker says that Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, will visit the United States in the autumn. A PLAN THAT FAILED. The Spectator says it has reliable information "that M. Hanotaux, late French minister of foreign affairs, had designated a plan of intervention between Spain and the United States, which he in turn proposed to the continental powers. The latter agreed to the proposal, and it was presumed that Great Britain would also assent. The French Government heard with the most unfeigned surprise, however, that the only intervention that England would participate in would be that of placing her fleet at the dis-posal of the United States." Commenting on the above, Mr. Ford, in his cable letter, says: The optimistic Spectator is not satisfied with explaining today that the British Government, when approached early in the spring by M. Hanotaux on the subject of European intervention in the Cuban affair, gave warning that it would place its fleet at the disposal of President McKinley. It also goes to the length of advocating in a leading article the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and the substitution for it of another treaty, by which England and the United States shall mutually bind themselves to allow no government except that of the United States to make or control any canal across the isthmus between North and South America.

THE CANAL QUESTION. This article even goes beyond Mr. Blaine's famous letter to Mr. Lowell on the canal question, over which

Lord Granville squabbled and the English press raged and imagined vain things seventeen years ago. The Spectator's article, which deserves to be printed in large type in every American newspaper as a convincing de-monstration of English friendliness, if acted upon by the foreign office here, would remove the only serious question remaining unsettled between the two countries. It would leave the Suez and Nicaragua Canals subject to the same general principles of regulation in peace and war, with one under the control of England and the other under the charge of the United States. That would be an ideal Anglo-

Saxon partnership.

THE SOUDAN CAMPAIGN. The London newspapers are beginning to ask questions concerning Gen. Kitchener's plans after the dervishes are smashed at Omdurman. The sirdar is not going back to Cairo after doing what he set out to do, as Wolselev did in 1885, after failing in his last. The Daily News observes that the motto for the occasion is, surely, "Be not too bold," and timerously reminds the Times that King Menelek, jealous, angry and perplexed with the fear of change, will be on the flank of any British or Egyptian force moving as far south as Khartoum. But all this has been foreseen. British plans are based upon an amicable deal with King Menelek, and, failing that, he will be fought, not this year possibly, nor next year, but sooner or later. Unless Gen. Kitchener unexpectedly belies his record, he will be in Omdurman Sept. 5. Thereafter there will be likely to be plenty of material for the speculations and alarms of the political quidnunes.

> tute a menace to their protege. PARADE OF FRIENDLIES. A dispatch to the Central News from Wady Hamed camp, 53 miles from Omdurman, tells of a striking desert scene on the banks of the Nile at that place, last evening, when a horde of Jaalins and other friendly natives paraded with their commander, Major Stuart Wortley, before Gen. Kitchener. The friendlies were elated over the prospect of revenging themselves upon the dervishes. In their parade they executed some strange and picturesque evolutions, sweeping across the ground in circular formation, amid the deafening noise of numberless tom-toms and concluding with a war dance. The stalwart tribesmen impressively marched past in single file, and saluted the Egyptian flag, against which they had fought for years. A squadron of camelmen, armed with doubleedged Crusader swords of obvious antiquity, also executed evolutions equally strange and interesting. All of the natives gave unmistakable evidences of their devotion to Major Wortley, who expressed himself as delighted with the splendid physique and warlike appearance of his men, whose ranks were continually swelling by the arrival of recruits from the interior, including many from Omdurman.

DECISIVE CAMPAIGN. Another correspondent, writing on the same subject, says: English opinion is keeping abreast with the British army now advancing toward Omdurman, and forecasting a short, decisive campaign. The easy conquest of Khartoum is well-nigh certain, since fanaticism has lost its force in the deserts and Soudanists are more eager khalifa than they were fourteen years ago to revolt against Egyptian misago to revolt against Egyptian misment will end with the fall of Khartoum, but this belated vindication of Gen. Gordon's memory will be the signal for the opening of a new series of troublesome questions. One of these will be the limitation of the French activity in the Bahr-El-Ghazal district. Another will be the necessity for enforcing some restraint upon Menelek's dream of an Abyssinian em-

DISTINGUISHED SPECTATORS. Gen. Kitchener's force, operating on the Nile, contains an unusual number of sons and nephews of distinguished men. Lord Roberts, Lord Salisbury, Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood, the Earl of Derby, Lord Medway, the Earl of Lauderdale and Lord Loch of Drylaw, have each a son in the sirdar's cammand, and the Duke of Teck has two. The Earl of Durham has two nephews there, and Gen. Lord Wolseley, com-mander-in-chief of the army, has one. Chicago. Time, 4:38 2-3. mander-in-chief of the army, has one. MAY BE WORK FOR AMERICAN

But apart from the wild inventions hatched in the brains of those to whom all that is Chinese is mystery, there remains the fact that this clear-eyed and originalminded sailor has more than once seriously pronounced himself in favor of a joint understanding between England, the United States and Japan in Chinese affairs, and that his warm admiration for the doings of the American navy has not decreased his belief that there may be work for the American admirals still to do before the eastern problem is solved.

ABDUL AWAKENS. The sultan, having at last understood the serious danger which might arise from incidents that have taken place on the Turco-Servian frontier, from the bad treatment to which the Servians in the villayet of Kossovo have been subjected by the Albanians, has issued an irade, ordering a commission, under the presidency of Saadeddin Pasha, to proceed to the spot to make inquiries, punish the BRITISH ARMY MANEUVERS. The English Government, by the passage of the military maneuvers act last year, made a recognition of the fact that the real battle is prepared for and practically won during military maneuvers in time of peace. The act went into force about middle of the present month, and for a period of three months her Majesty's forces will be free to exercise over an area of 1,500 square miles from Salisbury Plain as a center. By the beginning of September, when the most important stage of the great sham battle begins, some 54,000 men, with 9,400 horses and 242 guns, will have been collected, and it is safe to say that never in time of peace has a force so efficient and so numerous been mustered on British soil. SWINDLING THE SAPIENT. The English police have ascertained that the Barcelona swindlers, who for years past have been running what is known as the Spanish prisoner trick, during the past six weeks have victimized credulous Englishmen to the amount of $50,000. The swindlers set forth that this particular prisoner had buried a vast amount of gold at Santiago de Cuba, to escape the rapacity of the cruel ranks. Money was asked to enable him to return to Cuba and unearth the treasure, now that peace had been restored. All the efforts the British police for years past to induce the Spanish authorities to help break up this impudent gang of swindlers have been fruitless.

ENGLAND HORRIFIED. All England is excited over the gruesome details of a crime at Leyton. Wm. Viney, a half-starved old man of 72, murdered three of his young children and made an ineffectual attempt to drown himself. He had lived all those years without exhibiting any criminal instinct, and then poverty unhinged a feeble brain. The most gruesome part of the story is the use he made of the little technical aptitude he seems to possess. He was brought up on a farm, and remembered how he had seen pigs killed. The eldest of the unfortunate children was 11 years old, and the youngest a babe of 2.

WHEEL. TAYLOR BEATS MICHAEL

New York, Aug. 27 .- "Major" Taylor, the colored cyclist, met and de-feated 'Jimmy' Michael, the little Welshman, in a special match race, est two out of three, one mile paced heats, from a standing start, at the Manhattan Beach cycle track, Saturday. Michael won the first heat easily, as Taylor's pacing quint broke down in the final lap; but in the next two heats Michael was so badly beaten and distanced that he quit each time in the last lap. Tylor's work was worderful, both from a racing and a time standpoint, and he established a new world's record which was absolutely phenomenal. Immediately after the third heat was finished, and before the time was announced, Wm. A. Brady, race Taylor against Michael for $5,000 or $10,000 a sid 100 miles. The Welsh rider was as pale as a corpse when he jumped off his wheel, and had no excuse to make for his defeat. At no time could he keep up with the terrific pace set by Taylor. Taylor's performance undountedly stamps him as the premier cycle sprinter of the world. Eddie Bald, the Buffalo flyer, won the two-mile L. A. W. championship

A Millionaire Trooper Dies for Lack of Proper Food.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.-Lieut. Wm K. Tiffany, of Roosevelt's Rough Riders, died here at the Parker House. His mother, Mrs. George Tiffany; his sister-in-law, Mrs. Perry Tiffany; his sister, Miss Tiffany; his brother, Belmont Tiffany, and his fiancee, Miss Maud Livingstone, were present at the deathbed. Lieut. Tiffany arrived in Boston on Tuesday, on the hospital Parker House, where he was met by his brother, Belmont. The latter had tried to have his brother. tried to have his brother disembarked at Montauk, and brought to New York, but the war department refused, offering the sick man a 30 days' furlough. Dr. F. M. Johnson was called in upon Lieut. Tiffany's arrival at the hotel. He was emaciated to the last degree, weighing only 90 pounds. Dr. Johnson's statement of the case is as fol-

"Lieut. Tiffany's death is due primarily to different fevers, yellow, intermittent and malarial, but the actual cause of death was starvationactual starvation. By this I do not mean he died from actual lack of food of any kind, but of food necessary for the recovery of a convalescent reduced to such straits as he was; of this he had none on the Olivette."

Lieut. Tiffany enlisted in the regiment of Col. Roosevelt, who is a personal friend of the family, at the first call for troops, in the Rough Riders, as a private. He was commissioned a lieutenant for conspicuous gallantry in action. He was a grandson of the famous founder of the house of Tiffany, New York. He was born on Nov. 20, 1868, and was unmarried.

How many people wear black! On the street-on the cars-everywhere-the number is surprising. Some wear it through choice, the majority though, in the case of ladies, owing to the death of relatives.

When true, when pure, black is an admirable color, there's a genteel, a dignified elegance about it which arrests attention and commands respect.

In home-dyeing no color has been or is in as great demand, but not till the advent of the now justly celebrated

Perfectly Cured

Weak and Low Spirited - Nervous Prostration - Appetite Poor and Could Not Rest.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla to others. It has been the means of restoring my wife to good health. She was stricken down with an attack of nervous prostration. She suffered with headaches and her nerves were under severe strain. She became very low spirited and so weak she could only do a little work without resting. Her appetite was poor, and being so weak she could not get the proper rest at night. She decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, as we had heard it highly praised, and I am glad to state that Hood's Sarsaparilla has perfectly cured all her ailments." G. LAKE ERIE TRAFFIC

U. S. Consul's Report on the Harbor at Port and the Connection With the P. B. & L. E.

Col. M. J. Burke, U. S. consul for the district of St. Thomas and Port Stanley, has prepared a report on "Harbor and Railway Improvements," in which he comments on the ferry connection between the L. E. and D. R. R. and the P. B. and L. E. R., pointing out the extent of the connection each of these roads have with other roads in their respective dis-

The report, as published in the tricts. St. Thomas Journal, states:
"The principal traffic at first will be in hard and soft coal for all points in western Ontario. It will be loaded on the cars at the mine's mouth, and laid down in the yard of the dealer thus saving all intermediate handling and consequent expense, which should result in a lowering of price to the consumer. The cost of transferring the coal from vessel to cars at Port Stanley has ranged from 8 to 10 cents per ton for steam power and 15 to 17 cents per ton for horse-power.

"The Dominion Government, I am informed, is about to expend from $15,-000 to $25,000 in dredging the Port Stanley harbor and retimbering piers, in order to give access to the heavy-draft lake vessels. The lack of passenger boat will be placed in service between Port Stanley and Cleveland, to supplant the steamer Flora, now operated by the Lake Erie and to be of unsound mind.

Many Brave Fellows Die on the Way -Admiral Dewey Is Not Hankering To Be a Commissioner.

New York, Aug. 29 .- The World has this cable from Manila: President Mc-Kinley wants Admiral Dewey to go to Paris to advise the American members of the peace commission. But the admiral believes he can be of more service to his country by remaining at his post here. He will forward by mail to Washington or to Paris a full report on the conditions here, with some recommendations, but he will not attend the peace commission's sitting personally, unless he is specifically ordered by his government to do so.

Gen. Merritt, however, will go to Paris at the president's suggestion. New York, Aug. 29.—A hospital train of two cars arrived at Jersey City on Saturday from Camp Thomas, Chickamauga. There were 41 sick men in the cars; 38 were down with typhoid fever and three with malaria.

New York, Aug. 29.-The States cruiser Harvard arrived on Saturday morning from Montauk, where she landed 675 men of the Thirty-third Michigan. The Red Cross arrived from Camp Wikoff with fifteen typhoid fever patients. The transport Leona arrived from Montauk after landing over 500 soldiers of Shafter's returning army. The transport Mortera landed 312 men of the Twenty-first Infantry from Santiago. New York, Aug. 29 .- When the transport Yucatan reached the pier and began to discharge the six companies of the Seventh United States Infantry, which she had brought from Santiago, was learned that seven men had died on the passage and three more died while the ship lay in the bay waiting her turn to unload. The Yucatan had 200 sick men on board. It is alleged that the ship left Santiago without a sufficient quantity of proper food or supplies for the sick. Madrid, Aug. 29 .- Negotiations have been opened with Washington to obtain permission for the Spaniards in the Ladrone Islands to go to Manila, as the situation in the Ladrones is extremely critical.

A semi-official denial is made of the statement that Admiral Cervera has written a letter, published in the American press, praising the American navy. His authorship is repudiated. El Liberal and El Imparcial think it will be impossible to maintain the suspension of constitutional rights and to continue the press censorship after the cortes has assembled.

The Typothetae Listens to Reasons Why Printers Should Have a Nine-Hour Day

Milwaukee, Aug. 29.-The feature in the business of the United Typothetae of America convention was the hearing of George W. Harris, chairman of a special committee of the Interna- erally wears cut short, but at the time tional Typographical Union, who came to Milwaukee for the purpose of advocating before the convention the proposition for a nine hours workday. Mr. Harris said that by a referendum vote of the union it was decided plain scar on forehead over left eye to enforce the short-hour work-day, though the time had not yet been fixed. The short day had been agitated good proposition for both the United the union would be willing to accept shall co-operate in that project or a reduction, but where the pay was low no change would be made. The fixing of the scale in different cities would be left to local unions. The main point, he said, was the reduction in hours; that the union did not believe in strikes, and that by co-operation an amicable agreement could be reached. executive sessions, during which the nine-hour day was the subject of warm debate, the Typothetae disposed of the question, for the present, at least, by the passage of the following resolution: "Resolved, that this body does not deem it practicable at the present time to recommend to its members any change in the hours of labor which constitute a day's work. Resolved, that a committee of five be appointed by the convention, to whom shall be referred the question what measure, if any, can be adopted by the employing printers which will make a shorter work-day practicable without endangering undue loss upon the employers, and that this committee be authorized to confer with the representatives of the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistants' Union, and International Typographical Union, and such other similar organizations as it may deem proper." New York, Aug. 29 .- More than 600 cloak-makers have returned to work, having received desired concessions in regard to an increase in the wage scale, as well as a reduction in the daily hours of labor. According to the United Brotherhood of Cloak-Makers, the number of operators now on strike is 1.500.

GIVEN A PURSE OF $100. Mr. John Callander, of York street, has been obliged, owing to ill-health, to retire from the position of traveler for Robinson, Little & Company, in whose employ he has been for the past twelve years. On Saturday night a surprise was sprung upon him by his former fellow employes. Seven gentle-men, heads of different departments in the big wholesale, establishment, paid a visit to Mr. Callander's residence, and, after the usual preliminaries, asked his acceptance of a purse of gold containing $100, as a slight token of the esteem in which he is held by his former fellow-employes on his retirement from the service of the firm through ill-health. Mr. Callander, who was taken completely by surprise, expressed his heartfelt thanks for the kindly reminder of the pleasant times spent during the past decade with the entlemen whom to know was to esteem. Although forced by illness to re-tire from the employ of the firm, he would ever look back with pleasure to the many happy years spent with the principals and employes, and hoped that the friendship and good-fellow-ships engendered during that time would be as lasting as life itself. He thanked them for the kindly references to Mrs. Callander and family, and, after spending a pleasant hour, the deputation retired. Mr. Callander, on retir-ing from the firm's employ, was the recipient of three months' salary from

GIRL IS GONE

May Belle Cook, or May Levis, as she is known to some, about 15 years of age, has mysteriously disappeared from her good home in South London. eases. sensation in Hensall in May last. After the death of her mother she was taken at a tender age to live with her aunt, Mrs. Levis, in Michigan. Her aunt and uncle died about four years ago, and May was left $500, and taken care of by friends. Her father, Mr. Cook, of Hensall, went to Michigan in the spring and brought her back. About this time the interest on May's money became due, and Mr. Cook desired that it should be paid to him, but the postoffice authorities declined to hand him over the registered letters. The girl disappeared very mysteriously from Hensall, while the money letters were lying in the Hensall postoffice, and this lead to a suspicion of foul play, many being of the opinion that the girl had been murdered or done away with. The people in the neighborhood had, it is alleged, even gone so far as to dig up a certain place, thinking her body had been buried. A detective was put on the case, and he located the girl here in London. Her reason for leaving Hensall so suddenly was that she didn't like the place. The Children's Aid had procured a good home for her in a very fine family, who are anxious to know where May has gone. She is well dressed, and has some money. The girl is said to have a roving disposition.

Four Pioneers Gone-Henry Anderson Thos. Churcher, Joseph Goldner, and Robt. Preston Passed Away.

An old pioneer of Westminster township passed away this morning in the person of Henry Anderson, at the age of 82 years. He had been the township clerk of Westminster for about 30 years, and secretary of the Westminster Insurance Company since its start. He and been ailing for some time with heart trouble.

Deceased came from Wiltshire, England, in 1833, and took up farming in Westminster, where he had since resided. Mrs. Anderson died some three years ago. Ten children survive to mourn their loss. They are: Mrs. Shipley, Strathroy; Mrs. Joseph Weld, Delaware; Mrs. Dan McKenzie, Hyde Park; Mrs. Walter S. Laidlaw, of Westminster: Maggie and Ethel, at home; Henry, of Strathroy; John and Fred, of Westminster, and Norman, at home. Deceased took an active part in the uprising of 1837. In 1859 he was appointed county auditor, and in 1867 was appointed deputy reeve. He was also president of the township agricultural society, and from 1867 to 1880 was secretary of the same society of Middlesex. He was the first general superintendent of the Western Fair, held in London, from 1868 1871, and at the latter date was appointed general superintendent of the Provincial Agriculture and Arts Association of Ontario. He was made a life member on retiring. He was trea-surer of the Reform Association of East Middlesex, and was president of the Dominion Farmers' Council. In religious views he belonged to the Church of England, and was a strong Reformer in politics. Mr. Anderson always occupied an enviable position in the estimation of the citizens of Middlesex county.

The funeral will take place from his late home on the fourth concession to the Glanworth cemetery on Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

THE LATE JOSEPH GOLDNER. Joseph Goldner, the well-known cigar merchant, of Dundas street, died at his home. 18 Hope street, this morning. The deceased was about 55 years of age, and came from Germany to New York, where he lived for a short time. After his arrival in London, 38 years ago, he embarked in the clothing business on Richmond street. For the last twelve years Mr. Goldner carried on a cigar business near the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, and other places. About two years ago he sold out to Mr Wr. Clarke deceased went to Galt and started business, but it was not successful, and he returned to London. He purchased the business carried on by Sam K. Stewart a few months ago, but failing health kept him away from the store the greater part of the time. He leaves four daughters. Mrs. H. Connor. Toronto, and Jenny, Bertha and Jessie, at home. May is the same girl who caused a DEATH OF THOMAS CHURCHER. Another aged citizen who passed this morning into the silent land was Mr. Thomas Churcher, for many years prominent figure in the commercial cles of the city. He had reached the advanced age of 87 years and three months, and up to a couple of weeks ago enjoyed remarkable good health. His death occurred at the residence of his son-in-law, James Busby, 519 Maitland street.

Mr. Churcher was a native of London, England, and came to the Forest City in 1856. During the first few years of his residence here he engaged in various lines of business, and subsequently was official assignee and secretary of the London board of trade for many years. In the latter position he was succeeded by the present sec-retary. He was also the proprietor of soap factory here at one time. When Christ Church was built Mr. Churcher was an active worker in the congregation, and later, when he removed to South London, took an active part in the building of St. James' Episcopal Church, in connection with which he was an official for about a score of years. He enjoyed excellent health for one of his years, and only two months ago returned from Minneapolis, Minn., where he had been on a year's visit to his daughter. He was a lifelong Conservative. The surviving children are Mrs. J. C. Glaschen. of Ottawa; Mrs. James Busby, of this city; Mrs. H. Wollett, Minneapolis, and Mrs. H. Frank Whetter, South London; Thomas, of New Mexico, and Walter, of Manitoba. Mrs. Churcher died 26 years ago. MR. ROBERT PRESTON. The death occurred yesterday of Mr. Robert Preston, who had reached the advanced age of 92 years. Death was due to no special ailment. Deceased came to this city from Dundee, Scotland, some twelve years ago. Two sons survive him—Alex., of the C. P. R. round house, city, and Mr. Preston, a mechanical engineer, of Toronto. The funeral will take place tomorrow from the C. P. R. station to Toronto for interment.

A party of four tourists, bound on the same rope, slipped over a precipice near Innsbruck and were killed. Five other fatal falls are reported from other parts of the Austrian Alps. No fewer than ten tourists lost their lives last week through falls from great heights. A Pole named Koloman Horvath succeeded in reaching the summit of the Rheinwaldhorn, in the Tyrol-an unprecedented mountaineering feat-and then fell down a sheer precipice fully 8,000 feet high. This terrible drop was witnessed by his wife, who had unsuccessfully attempted to dissuade him from undertaking so foolhardy an ascent. Among the other victims of the mountaineering craze was a young American lady, Miss Merrant, who attempted a very dangerous ascent on the Dreischusterspitze, not far from Innsbruck. She slipped when about 1,500 feet high, and was killed on the spot. IN DANGER OF STARVATION. Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 29 .- J. H. "And spoil everything, ma chere Stephine? Nonsense; when I leave here he will forget all about me. 180; I am so dull here, I can't forego the amusement of making love." "I wonder eef de Earl Lethrington finds de same, mademoiselle? London during de season is tres gai." Esmer, raising her head quickly, fixedly regarded the speaker.

"What do you mean, Stephine?" she asked, with asperity.
"I mademoiselle! Noting; only why should des gentilhommes not enjoy he amusement if des lady fiancees do?" "No," retorted Esmer, "the case is different. My cousin has plenty of other pastime, while I am buried here.

There, Stephine, both you and Mr. Laurence are insupportably stupid and tiresome today. I will go home." The innocent remark of Mademoiselle Stephine, who had a slight ten-dresse herself for the earnest young curate-in-charge, consequently felt pity for him, had awakened a serious train of thought in the girl's brain, fired by the undying spark of jealousy. Supposing Gerard did love somebody else? Supposing that was the reason he was keeping her in that out-of-the-way country place? Supposing he was kneeling at another woman's feet, when he should be at hers? Esmer's hands clenched. All the revengefulness of a suspicious temper was aroused. If she were only able to find out—if she only were? Why could she not go to London as well as he? Why should she not? By right was not all Lethrington, all its wealth,

"Esmer, dear," she said, "spare me a few moments. I have just heard from my nephew, Sir John. He has taken a house in London, and wants Prof. Robertson's Report in Re me, with my daughters, to visit him. Now I was thinking it would be a delightful change for you, if Lord Leth-rington did not object."

Esmer was radiant; never had she ooked so bright. 'What glorious news, dear Lady Davenant!" she cried. "My cousin object? He will be delighted. Only in a letter a little while ago he said I must the sights. See-see!"

Eagerly she drew out the letter and showed a small portion. "In that case, nothing could be better," said the elder lady, pleased to have no obstacle to her desire. "Shall I write to the earl, or will you?" "When do you go?" inquired Esmer, after a pause.

"We thought the end of this week." "Then do me a favor; let neither of us write. Let me take him by sur-prise. It will be so delightful." Lady Davenant regarded the girl in pleased amaze. This radiant being was surely a new Esmer, not the one she had known. How she must love her cousin!

"Well," she said, dubiously, "if you think the earl will not be offended—"
"Offended—at what?" A sharpness in the tone was quickly stiffed. will be glad, on the contrary. Had he not feared troubling you he would have proposed my visiting town be-Oh! do let me give him this surprise!"

"Very well, if you think so, and will accept the blame," laughed Lady Davenant, "I consent."

"Willingly. Thanks, my lady, for syself. I will leave Gerard to give myself. you his share." And with a singular laugh Esmer ran into the house to inform Mademoiselle Stephine, and bid her prepare for the journey.

At the end of the week Lady Davenant, her family and charge, were speeding to London, leaving Reginald Laurence disconsolate, the victim of Esmer Mortmain's selfish coquetry:

CHAPTER XII.

It was the evening following Lady Chudleigh's ball, and Lucille, attired for going out, sat waiting for Maria Saproni. Her pretty dinner-dress had been discarded for a plain black silk, its simplicity, however, being nullified by the rich velvet mantle and handsome dress bonnet. At the dinnertable, knowing that the marquis and Cecil were both engaged, she had casually stated her intention, being too fatigued for society, to attend an oratorio at Exeter Hall.

"But it is 'The Messiah,' my dear,' had remarked her adopted father. "You heard that not a fortnight ago." "True, my lord; but it is one of my favorites," responded Lucille, feeling a painful tinge rise to her cheek, while He obeyed, and again kissing her sloved fingers, a passion of love in his eyes, he walked from her "Still, I scarcely like your going alone," proceeded the marquis. mentioned it only a little while ago, Lady Langridge would have been delighted to have chaperoned

"Of course, my lord." So it was arranged. The marquis and Lord Carisford took their departure, and Lucille dressed to go quietly, as she stated, to the oratorio. At the same moment that Maria entered, the footman announced the carriage was waiting. The two descended, and were soon driven to Exeter Hall. There was a perfect string of carriages already waiting to put down their occupants. Lady Westbrook seized the opportunity. "Maria, pull the check-string for the footman. Say, as we have our bonnets, we will walk. This waiting is insufferable! You understand."

The young married couple who are crowned with good health are really a king and queen. They are possessed of an armor that enables them to withstand all the hardships enables them to withstand all the hardships and misfortunes of life. Accidents aside, they will live long, happy lives of mutual helpfulness, and they will be biessed with amiable, healthy children. They will sit together in the twilight of old age and look back without regret over a mutually happy, helpful magnetic encouraging the processful encouraging the helpful, useful, successful companionship. There are thousands of young couples every day who start wedded life with but one drawback,—one or the other, or both, suffer from ill-health. There can be no true wedded happiness that is overshadowed by the black cloud of physical suffering. The man who contemplates matrimony, and realizes that through overwork or worry or neglect, he is suffering from ill-health, should take the proper steps to remedy it before he assumes the responsibilities of a husband. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all medicines for men who have neglected their health. It makes who have neglected their health. It makes the appetite keen, the digestion perfect, the liver active, and the blood pure and rich with life-giving elements. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It invigorates and gives virility, strength and vigor.
No woman should wed while she suffers from weakness and disease in a womanly way. These are the most disactrons of disway. These are the most disastrous of dis-orders from which a woman can suffer. They break down her general health. They unfit her for wifehood and motherhood They make her a weak, sickly, nervous in valid. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of wisehood and motherhood. It transforms weak, suffering, fretful invalids into healthy, happy wives and mothers. Both medicines are sold at all good med-

The Vast Amount of Breadstuffs Im ported by Great Britain-Farm Labor in Canada.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.-Prof. Robertson, in his annual report to the departcome soon, and he would show me all ment of agriculture, says, speaking of the question of cold storage: One shipment of apples was sent forward, with 337 packages sent in cold storage and 116 packages sent as ordinary cargo. The fruit arrived in good condition. The apples shipped in cold storage were of the Baldwin Ribston Pippin, Cranberry Pippin and Northern Spy varieties, and were wrapped in paper. They were reported as sound and firm on arrival. The same varieties shipped as ordinary cargo and packed in the same way arrived in fair condition; but were reported as "not so solid and firm as the apples shipped in cold storage, and showing some signs of early decay." Where a spot or scab existed, signs of decay were seen under the skin. All the fruit from the cold storage on the steamship, while sound and firm, showed moisture on the surface when removed from the cold storage; while the fruit shipped as ordinary cargo in the hold of the vessel was quite dry, but not so firm and solid as the other. The moisture was no doubt produced by condensation from the air by the sudden change of temperature. When fruit is removed from cold storage to a warm, moist atmosphere the cases should be left closed until

Total.....$44,908,892 $212,051,422 Canadian wheat has an excellent reputation; but I fear that there is a good deal of truth in the allegation made by farmers, particularly in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories that the best qualities of Canadian wheat are degraded in transit through the United States, and are used to grade up inferior wheat before it is delivered to the British millers. would be of undoubted advantage to Canadian wheat-growers if the bul of the wheat crop could be handled through Canadian channels. Not only would the profits which arise from transportation be a direct source of evenue to Canadians, but the matchless quality of our wheat for breadmaking, if kept unmixed with lower grades, would soon win a more decided preference and a relative advance in

I found Canadian flour steadily gaining ground as flour from which bakers can make not only the best quality of bread, but also the largest quantity per barrel. The flour milling interest in Canada is intimately connected with agriculture and is a very important one. There are not less than 2,500 mills employing over 6,000 men, and the yearly output from is estimated at $50,000,000. Of course that depends a great deal upon the value of wheat per bushel and of the flour per barrel. If the largest part of the wheat available for export could be ground into flour before it is exported from Canada there would be a decided advantage in leaving the bran and shorts in this country to be fed to herds of cattle and pigs. In that case also there would be less liability of any mixing which would lower the grade and prevent the Canadian product from receiving credit for its own qual-

FARM LABOR IN CANADA. Available labor is improving in quality every year. The labor on Canadian farms has been characterized by diligence and every sort of forceful persistence under difficulties. But in many districts until recently it has not been of that quality that enabled farmers to turn out fine food products of the highest grade. It was largely concerned with the production of grain, fodder and primitive agricultural products, besides being employed part of the year in clearing land, in lumber-ing or in fishing. It had not the experience to turn out food products of animal origin, or of fruits, so fine, and of such low cost as to give the largest possible measure of profits. It would not be disparaging to the ability of a carpenter to say that his labor might be of poor quality as applied to the work of blacksmithing. He might burn

That would not mean that he shoes. could not do carpenter work very well. The farmers generally have had ability of a high order for the kinds of work they had to do. In the production of things on farms great deal of horse power has been used. Thus the cost has been reduced so far as the labor element that en-tered into the cost of production was concerned. grand body of the order in Hamilton. V. E. Sir Knight A. A. Campbell, the commander, has brought the corps to a fine state of proficiency, and their work in Hamilton is being looked forward to with interest. They will be joined here by the Sarnia, Windsor and St. Thomas preceptories.

-Mr. A. N. Pequenaght, a Brantford leweler, was badly bamboozled on Friday last by a fair damsel, representing herself to be a resident of London, and a guest of Mrs. Harris, who, she said, had requested her to go to his store, choose a gold pencil, and take it back for approval. This was done, and Mr. Pequenaght now mourns the loss of the pencil, and can find no trace of the audacious stranger.

-Mr. Andrew Drummond, who died recently at Ottawa, was at one time manager of the Bank of Montreal in that city, and returned to Ottawa in street, mother of George W. Smith, the 1866, after the city had become the well known butcher, of Waterloo street seat of government. From 1866 till 1885 he continued as local manager, and when he retired was presented by the city for 24 years, and for the last 22 citizens with a flattering address, inyears has lived in the house in which

A pathetic story concerning former Londoners comes from Detroit. Ilbert J. State, a young man of 20, was spending a week's vacation at the Flats, and on Saturday, while swimin full sight of his companions, his feet became entangled in the seaweed, and before a boat could reach him was drowned. Young State's father. Patrick State, was an employe at Mc-Clary's here at one time, but died shortly after the family moved to Detroit, and the boy, an only son, was the widowed mother's sole support. The young man worked in the compos ing room of the Detroit News and Tribune, and lived with his mother and young sister at 896 Congress street east. Miss Kate State, of this city, is an aunt of the unfortunate young PLEBISCITE MEETING. The initial open-air meeting of the South London Plebiscite Association was held on Sunday afternoon at Mrayboro Place, on the property of Col. Gartshore. Mr. J. A. Davis, from Kansas, addressed the large audience assembled, holding their close attention until the end of his discourse. Mr. Davis took for his subject "Will Prohibition Prohibit?" and cited numerous instances which had come under has personal observation, proving that prohibition in Kansas did prohibit. The liquor traffic, he said, was no longer considered respectable in Kansas; it was now an outlaw beyond the pale of respectability. Although four years in Kansas, engaged in a traveling business life, Mr. Davis only saw two intoxicated men during this entire time. The Caldwell brothers rendered two temperance duets in sympathetic manner. The association aims to continue, at the same time and place, the meetings each Sunday afternoon until the taking of the plebiscite, and purpose having a frank, free discussion of the different phases of the now all-important question.

PROVED FATAL

Angus McDonald, the G. T. R. Trackman, Dies From Injuries Received While at Work.

Angus McDonald, the trackman injured in the G. T. R. yard Saturday morning by being knocked down and run over by the yard engine, died on Saturday afternoon at the city hospital, about three hours after he received his injuries. At the time the accident happened, deceased was watching a dining coach, which was being shunted along another track. The yard engine, backing in an opposite direction, knocked him down, and he rolled underneath. His right leg was taken off, both collar-bones broken, a number of ribs broken, and pressed into the lungs, and his head badly crushed. After being removed to the hospital his last act was to make his will, in which he bequeathed all his earthly possessions to his only grand-daughter Annie, the 7-year-old daughter of the late Thomas Cole. The child, since the death of its parents, has resided with Mrs. Michael Currie, a sister of the deceased, at 143 Mill street. The bequest consists of insurance money and about twenty acres of valuable land on the Gore road.

The deceased Angus McDonald was for over 40 years a trusted and esteemed employe of the railway, and was one of those who helped turn the first sod for the G. W. R. through this city. He was a general favorite, and few railroad employes were better known than he. The funeral took place this morning from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Michael Currie, 143 Mill street, to the Roman Catholic Cathedral, and was largely attended. He was 62 years of age and a resident of Inverness,

DEATH'S DOINGS

Two Well-Known London Ladies Pass Away at Advanced Ages.

Two more of the oldest and most esteemed residents of this city have passed to the great beyond within the last two days. Mrs. Mary Ann Robinson, of 153 Bruce street, relict of the late H. S. Robinson, died last evening, aged 90 years, after an illness extending over two years. The deceased came to London in 1841, and had been a constant resident here ever since. Mr. Robinson died in 1874. Mrs. Robinson was well known and highly esteemed. She was a kind friend, and a loving and indulgent mother. Deceased was born in Ireland in 1808. Worst Enemy

Some hesitate before giving an answer, but those who know best will immediately say HEADACHE.

Thousands of women live in misery day after day, and week after week, suffering untold agony from these dreadful headaches. Husbands are disheartened, children neglected, and happy homes ruined. Most women strive to bear in patience the suffering which they consider part of life without looking into the cause or searching for relief. Food cannot digest without the bile which the liver supplies and hence the necessity of keeping the liver in good working order. To cure the headaches you must cure the liver and thus remove the cause of disease.

Dr. Chase spent years of his life in perfecting a medicine which acts directly on the kidneys and liver. Thousands of grateful women have testified during the past ten years to the effectiveness of this remedy for sick headaches. Many a home has been restored to happiness as a result. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the greatest

Mrs. Thos. Nickle Kicked in the Face by a Horse While Driving.

Mrs. Thomas Nickle, of Queen's avenue, wife of Detective Thomas Nickle, fancier, of Tilsonburg, has taken a met with a serious accident on Satur- splendid collection of 223 choice birds day evening, while driving along Dundas street, near William street, in company with the children, her mother,

When near William street the London Musical Society Band passed in a trolley, and this frightened the horse, which bolted. The animal began to kick, and as Mrs. Nickle leaned forward to secure a shorter line on the frightened beast, she received a kick in the face, which fractured her jaw, and knocked out several teeth. Mrs. Gammage received a kick on the arm, which is badly bruised, but not seriously hurt. The horse was stopped by P. C.'s Woolway and Johnston, who happened along at the time. Dr. English was at once summoned, and Mrs. Nickle was removed to her home, where she now lies in a critical condition. All Saturday night and yesterday she was in a delirium, but seemed better this morning. None of the children were injured. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr.
