HUNDREDS REPORTED LOST IN WRECK OF FRENCH SHIP

Goes on the Rocks Off the Coast of Uruguay and Many of Passengers and Crew Perish.

BUENOS AYRES, MAY 7.—A DISPATCH FROM MONTEVIDEO PUBLISHED HERE TODAY SAYS THAT THE FRENCH TRANSPORT MARITIME STEAMER POITOU, FROM MARSEILLES APRIL 6 FOR THIS PORT, HAS BEEN WRECKED OFF THE COAST OF URUGUAY. ONE HUNDRED OF HER PASSENGERS AND CREW ARE SAID TO HAVE PERISHED.

MONTEVIDEO, URUGUAY, MAY 8.—THE FRENCH STEAMER POITOU, FROM ALGERS, IS AGROUND OFF SAN JOSE, IGNACIO. IT IS FEARED THAT THERE HAS BEEN SERIOUS LOSS OF LIFE. IT IS UNDERSTOOD THAT THERE ARE 200 PASSENGERS ON BOARD THE VESSEL, AND THAT HER CARGO WILL PROVE A TOTAL LOSS. NO FURTHER PARTICULARS ARE OBTAINABLE AT PRESENT.

THE POITOU STRUCK 300 YARDS FROM SHORE AT RINCON DE HERRO. PANIC ENSUED, AND MANY TERROR-STRICKEN PERSONS JUMPED OVERBOARD. SOME OF THEM SWAM ASHORE, BUT MANY WERE DROWNED. CUSTOMS OFFICERS AT RINCON DE HERRO SAVED 50 OUT OF THE 300 PASSENGERS, WHO ARE SAID TO HAVE BEEN ON BOARD. HOW MANY OTHERS HAVE BEEN SAVED IS NOT KNOWN.

A NUMBER OF STEAMERS HAVE LEFT HERE FOR THE SCENE OF THE WRECK, AND THE GOVERNMENT IS DOING EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO SUCCOR THE SHIPWRECKED PERSONS.

ANOTHER CHAPTER OF ANOTHER BIG BLAZE PALERMO TRAGEDY AT HAILEYBURY, ONT.

Young Man Who Escaped From Burning Hut Commits Suicide.

Haileybury, May 8.—This town was again visited by a disastrous fire last night, when seven stores and buildings were wiped out. O'Gorman's general store, Budd's drug store, D. Johns, assayer, a Chinese restaurant and a laundry were destroyed. Loss, $25,000. Fire originated through the explosion of gasoline.

DOUBLE MURDER IN NEW YORK

Two Italian Women Slashed to Death by Razor and Relative Arrested.

New York, May 8.—Mrs. Maria Vito, a comely Italian matron of 24 years, and her mother, Mrs. Maria Brignoli, aged 55, were literally slashed to pieces with razors in their East Side home today. Giovanni Vito, the husband of the younger woman, is under arrest charged with the crime. It is alleged that he killed the women after a quarrel which followed their refusal to give him money. Vito, however, stoutly maintains that the women were killed by two men who broke into the home, and with whom he himself had a fierce struggle. In support of his story he exhibited to the police a cut on one of his hands, which, he declared, was inflicted by one of the men. His story is substantiated by his 3-year-old daughter. The police gave the story little credence, however, as Vito and the child were the only persons in the apartment when the police, who had been informed of the murder, forced an entrance. All the doors of the apartment had been locked. Inside they found Vito, fully dressed, standing in the center of the room, which resembled a shambles.

INQUEST THIS AFTERNOON

Investigation of Death of Muncy Indian in Progress at Longwood.

The coroner's investigation of the death of Absalom Fox is being held this afternoon at Melbourne. High Constable Hughes and County Detective Northgraves left at 2:30 p.m. for that place, in charge of Thomas Noah, the Muncy Indian who is being held in connection with the fatal stabbing of Fox, which occurred at a dance at Muncytown early on Friday morning last. The crown is being represented by Crown Attorney McKillop.

Ever since his incarceration Noah has exhibited the greatest indifference over the case. In fact, he is the most unconcerned prisoner in the county jail, for he laughs and talks with the turnkeys as if he were being detained on the most trivial charge.

WANTS FREE DELIVERY.

St. Thomas, May 8.—Ald. Chant introduced the following resolution at the city council meeting last night: "That this council petition the Postmaster-General to grant St. Thomas free postal delivery, at the same time calling attention to our population and the great necessity for a postal delivery on account of our peculiar geographical layout."

Fifteen Die in Riot at Sea.

San Diego, California, May 8.—It was reported late last night that two sailors, who have escaped from the British steamer Maori King, which arrived here yesterday, from Shanghai, make sensational charges of brutality against the captain and officers of the ship. Rumors are in circulation to the effect that fifteen Chinese were killed during the riot on board and their bodies cast into the sea.

International complications are likely to result, and it is believed that most part of the charges remain yet to be told.

FARMER KILLED BY FREIGHT TRAIN

Allan McGinnis Meets Instant Death on G. T. R. Near Lucan Crossing.

A special dispatch to The Advertiser from Clonaboy states that a farmer named Allan McGinnis was killed between Lucan and Lucan Crossing about 11 o'clock last night.

McGinnis was either crossing or walking on the track of the Grand Trunk Railway, when he was struck by a westbound freight. His death was instantaneous.

Nothing was known of the accident until 7:30 this morning, when McGinnis' body was found by sectionmen. McGinnis was 35 years of age, and lived at Shipka, Huron County, a short distance from Parkhill.

BIG DEAL PROBABLE

Reid & Co. Secure Option on Shuttleworth Warehouse.

The firm of W. J. Reid & Co., who have leased their present premises on Dundas street to Peter Snirries, have secured an option on the warehouse property of J. R. Shuttleworth, on the east side of Clarence street, near Dundas.

The price is private, but it is understood that the Reid Company will purchase the property and greatly improve it.

Reid & Co. attempted to purchase a piece of land in the rear of James Malloch's carriage shop on King street, for the purpose of erecting an addition to the Shuttleworth building, but it is said that Mr. Malloch's price was too high. If the Shuttleworth deal goes through, Mr. Shuttleworth may erect a warehouse on the lot adjoining the First Congregational Church.

The property on the corner of Clarence and King street, which is used for a marble yard is being frequently sought these days.

It belongs to Mrs. C. M. R. Graham and the other day she was offered $15,000 for it.

The offer was refused.

SUES TEN FARMERS

Standard Bank Hold Notes Which Defendants Say Are Fraudulent.

Glencoe, May 7.—In a case before Judge Elliott at Glencoe today ten farmers of the township of Elfrida were sued by the Standard Bank of Canada, Durham branch. The bank holds notes made by these farmers for the amount of $20 each in favor of the Farmers' Manufacturing and Supply Company, of Durham. The defendants claim that the notes had been obtained by fraud and that no value had been received for them. In one of the cases the claims were non-suited, in the others judgment was reserved. Geo. S. Gibbons, K.C., of London, appeared for plaintiff, and T. G. Meredith and D. A. McDonald for defendants.

PEACE MOVE AT FRISCO

Labor Men and Civic League To End the Industrial Strife.

San Francisco, May 8.—At the special meeting of the San Francisco Labor Council last night the first step toward securing general industrial peace here was taken. A committee of prominent members of the council was appointed as a peace committee, and an invitation was extended to the Civic League to appoint a representative body to meet the peace committee this afternoon at the Labor Temple.

MANY HORSES FOR WOODBINE.

Detroit, Mich., May 8.—Local interest in the northern racing circuit is indicated by the assurance that from one to two hundred horse followers are planning to go to Toronto to be present at the opening of the Woodbine spring meeting. There is a special interest in the Woodbine meeting, the spring apart from the King's Plate and the fine racing and the social features of that track, in that a new style of betting must be adopted in lieu of the old ring system. It is expected that whatever system is adopted there will be seen throughout the northern circuit this season.

SENATOR ROSS WEDS MISS PEEL

Former Premier of Ontario and Celebrated Artist United in Marriage.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, May 8.—The marriage of Hon. Senator George W. Ross, former premier of Ontario, to Miss Mildred Peel, daughter of the late John R. Peel, one of the founders of the art school of London, was quietly celebrated at half-past two this afternoon in 3 Elmley Place, by Rev. Dr. Milligan, pastor of Old St. Andrew's Church. The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. R. B. Belden, was attended by her two nieces, Misses Claire and Mildred Belden. She wore a beautiful gown of French creation, cream lace over taffeta of same shade. Later in the afternoon the bride and Mr. Ross left for a trip of some months' duration through the Western States.

Miss Peel is an artist and sculptor, well known in Canadian art circles. One of her most notable art productions in this country is a bronze bust of Laura Secord, erected by the Ontario Historical Society at Lundy's Lane. A life-sized portrait of the same subject from her brush, as well as portraits of Sir Matthew Crooks, Cameron and ex-speaker of the House of Commons, are in the collection in the Normal School are many busts of prominent men modeled by her. Miss Peel, like her distinguished brother, the late Paul Peel, whose gold medal salon picture, "After the Bath," is so well known, received her art education in Paris.

FAR EAST TREATIES BLOCK THE GERMANS

Great Britain, Russia, France and Japan to Keep Status Quo.

Paris, May 8.—M. Kurino, the Japanese minister, in an interview today is quoted as making the important statement that the series of treaties between Great Britain, France, Russia and Japan, guaranteeing the territorial status quo in the far east, implied an engagement to prevent other countries from acquiring territory there.

Minister Kurino denied that the Franco-Japanese alliance was in any way aimed at the United States.

Continuing, M. Kurino said that as Germany had no possessions in the far east, Kiau Chou being simply leased Chinese ground, a treaty with the act of aggression between Japan and France would be useless.

HAYWOOD LOSES A POINT

Motion for a Bill of Particulars Denied by the Court.

Boise, Idaho, May 18.—The motion for a bill of particulars filed by the defense in the case of W. D. Haywood, secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, was denied this morning by Judge Fremont Wood.

CANNED STUFF INSPECTORS

Forty-five Appointed To Begin Their Duties on Aug. 1.

Ottawa, May 8.—This week's Canada Gazette will contain a proclamation stating that the act to provide for inspection of canned food products, meats and fish, passed at the last session of Parliament, will come into force on August 1 next. Regulations in respect to duties of inspectors, methods of inspection, etc., are now being drafted. The government will appoint about 45 inspectors, who will be under Dr. Rutherford as inspector-general. The cost of enforcing the act is estimated at $75,000 a year. The salaries of the inspectors will be $1,200 per year.

THE CHESTER CUP.

London, May 8.—The Chester Cup, a handicap of 2,500 sovereigns for 9-year-olds, was run today, and won by Quaido. Bibiani was second, and Toppoint was third. Twelve horses started.

MAYOR SAYS "NOTHING BETTER THAN THE KOMOKA SCHEME YET"

PERTH COUNTY SHERIFF IS MR. THOS. MAGWOOD

Ex-M. P. P. for North Perth Succeeds the Late Mr. Hosie.

Toronto, May 8.—Mr. Thos. Magwood, of Stratford, ex-M. P. P. for North Perth, has been appointed sheriff of Perth County in succession to the late John Hosie. The new sheriff was first returned to the Legislature for North Perth at a by-election in 1890. He was born in East Flamboro Township in 1851. Mr. Magwood is a farmer. He was defeated in the general election of 1898.

PRESSMEN WAIT ON MR. LEMIEUX

Ask for Some Modifications in New Postal Convention With U. S.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, May 8.—A delegation from the Canadian Press Association is here today, and will meet Postmaster-General Lemieux to present this afternoon resolutions passed at a meeting of the executive of the association in Toronto in reference to the new postal convention between Canada and the United States, which went into operation today. The resolutions asked for delay in putting the convention into effect. This, however, cannot be granted, as the United States would not consent to any delay.

The resolutions also asked that the department give publishers stamped wrappers for single newspapers by paying for the cost of the stamp, and also for certain reduction on domestic rates on newspapers.

The delegation comprises J. J. Clarke, of Saturday Night; J. T. MacKay, Toronto Globe; H. B. Donley, Simcoe Reformer, and C. W. Young, Cornwall Freeholder. It is understood that Mr. Lemieux is willing to do whatever he possibly can to meet the views of the delegates.

BANDITS CAUGHT

Desperadoes Who Held Up North Coast Limited Were Mere Boys.

Helena, Montana, May 8.—A dispatch to Sheriff Shoemaker here says that the men who held up the North Coast Limited yesterday have been arrested at Basin, a few miles from Woodville. They are mere youths.

LONDONER NAMED FOR BIG POSITION

Mr. G. A. Somerville Said To Be Slated for Management of Manufacturers' Life.

It is announced in a dispatch from Toronto that Mr. G. A. Somerville, manager of the Huron and Erie Loan and Savings Company, of this city, has been offered the position of general manager of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, to succeed Mr. J. E. Junkin, who has resigned to open a financial office in Toronto.

Mr. Somerville was seen by The Advertiser today, and said he was not in a position to make any statement. Mr. Somerville came to London from Waterloo about eighteen years ago, to succeed Mr. Stanley in the management of the Huron and Erie. He has been eminently successful here, and his name is well known in financial circles throughout the Dominion of Canada.

The following official circular has been issued regarding the resignation of Mr. Junkin, whose place it is said, Mr. Somerville will be called upon to fill:

"Mr. J. F. Junkin, who has been for twelve years managing director of the Manufacturers' Life, is resigning that position with the intention of opening a financial office for the purpose of dealing in bonds, debentures, and other securities.

"Under Mr. Junkin's management the Manufacturers' Life has made tremendous strides. During the twelve years its business in force has increased from a little over $3,000,000 to almost $50,000,000. Its assets from slightly over eight hundred thousand to eight and a half millions, and its income from about a quarter of a million to over two million dollars a year.

"Mr. Junkin has for several years believed that he would have greater personal scope in business for himself, and has finally decided to take the step of opening an independent financial office.

"It is not yet decided who Mr. Junkin's successor will be in the Manufacturers' Life."

GREAT FIRE AT HAMBURG.

Hamburg, May 8.—A large fire broke out at noon in the suburb of Steinwerder, in the territory of the Free Hanseatic City of Hamburg, on the North Elbe. The Schlemmer mineral wash factory will probably be a total loss. The flames threaten to leap over the middle channel and ignite the lumber yards.

NEWFOUNDLAND WINS TEST CASE

Supreme Court Decides the Bay of Islands Dispute.

MODUS VIVENDI NOT INVOLVED

The American Owners Cannot Engage Islanders Within the Three-Mile Limit.

St. John's, Nfld., May 8.—The supreme court of Newfoundland, in upholding yesterday the Colonial Government in its contentions respecting the so-called Bay of Islands herring fisheries case, in which the right of Newfoundland fishermen to be employed by American vessel owners within the three-mile limit, was involved, decided that the treaty of 1818 and the modus vivendi of 1905 between the United States and Great Britain had no bearing on the issue, although sections of both agreements were considered in the arguments.

The hearing of the case, which is one of the most involved ever considered by the court, has occupied a period of more than two months. The case was a test one. Under the enforcement of the colonial bait act, the Americans were prohibited from engaging Newfoundlanders within the three-mile limit, unless the colonial fishermen held a license. To circumvent these regulations the Americans engaged colonial fishermen outside the three-mile limit, but afterwards continued them in their employment within the limit. The Americans held that they had a perfect right to do this under the terms of the modus vivendi, arranged last year between the American and British Governments.

In carrying out the bait act the Colonial Government last year arrested two Newfoundland fishermen, named Crane and Dubois, at Bay of Islands, on the charge of violating the law in putting herring aboard the Gloucester (Mass.) fishing schooner Ralph L. Hall. In the local court they were convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $500, each or spend three months in jail.

When the case was appealed in its decision, the court held that the men were rightly convicted, and are bound by local laws. The court held that the treaty of 1818, and the modus vivendi are not involved, as the appellants are not American fishermen, and enjoy no exemption from colonial laws under these arrangements.

The Newfoundland Government regards the decision as a great victory, but its final effect on the American frozen herring industry will not be determined until the points involved are passed upon by the highest court of Great Britain.

GREAT CONVENTION OF IRISHMEN TO DISCUSS THE COUNCIL BILL

THE TEACHERS' EXCURSION

Ho! For Cleveland on May 22 Via M. C. R. and Boat.

Some people are under the impression that the trip to Cleveland with the London teachers for May 24, will cost only $3.40. This is erroneous. The fare to Detroit and return will be $3.40; to Cleveland and return from Detroit, $1.50, making a total for the round trip of $4.90. If state rooms on the boat to Cleveland are engaged, they will cost $2.50 per berth each way. In a circular issued to the teachers, Mr. Edwards also gives the following information:

"Leave London at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday, the 22nd.

"Leave Detroit at 10:15 p.m. arrive in Cleveland about 6 a.m. Breakfast on boat, if desired, or at restaurant.

"Hotel rate, $1 per day. European plan—meals where desired; rates in Cleveland very reasonable.

"Thursday and Friday, visiting schools, to which teachers will be assigned by Superintendent Elison, to whom information has already been given as to the number of teachers who will probably go, and the department or grade each wishes to visit.

"Return, leaving Cleveland at 11:15 p.m. Friday, arrive in Detroit at 6 a.m. Saturday in Detroit, leaving for home at 6:30 p.m. Those who wish may remain earlier or remain over in Detroit. Friends of teachers who may wish to accompany them will please send their names to me as soon as possible, so that arrangements can be made to secure the necessary accommodation."

Delegates of All Parties and Religions to Gather at Dublin.

London, May 8.—The Nationalists have called a great convention, to be held in Dublin May 21 and 22, to consider the Government's bill. All the Irish city corporations and the borough and city rural councils have been invited to send delegates irrespective of politics. The branches of the United Irish League in Ireland and England also will be represented, and all the clergymen of Ireland, irrespective of denomination, will be ex-officio delegates. It is expected that more than 2,000 persons will attend the convention.

John E. Redmond, as leader of the Nationalists, will set forth Mr. Russell's proposed bill, and ask the convention to pass its opinions thereon for the guidance of the Irish members of Parliament.

At the conclusion of Mr. Redmond's speech in the House yesterday, interest in the debate dwindled. Thomas W. Russell, Liberal member for the southern division of Tyrone, expressed the conviction that there had been a change of opinion, and that the mass of the people at Ulster would be found supporting the measure, which, he said, had excited the opposition of the Ulster Unionists, because they feared it would put an end to their reign of patronage.

R. Barry, solicitor-general for Ireland, repudiated the suggestion that there had been a private treaty with the Nationalists in respect to this bill.

J. M. THOMSON.

IT IS A LIVER PILL.—Many of the ailments that man has to contend with, which have their origin in a disordered liver, have a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbances that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there is none superior to Parke's Vegetable Pills. Their operation, though gentle, is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

The Crime of Kissing Again Discussed
SOME OF THE YOUNG PEOPLE ASKING RATHER EXCITING AND EMBARRASSING QUESTIONS—BUT IT IS NOT A JOKE.

The question was recently asked in these columns, "Will kissing be prohibited?" The writer has been much embarrassed by many questions on this subject. In reply to these inquiries, the highest scientific authorities in both Europe and America, and of the honest and sincere opinion that legislation on this question will have to be passed for the protection of the children. People who are strong and well may be able to resist the malignant microbes of which Dr. Nalpas has counted upon a square centimeter of the lips of a perfectly healthy individual; but if you are run down, then look out for the danger. To those who prefer kissing to health they say: "Use some first-class germ-destroyer and system-builder, such as Psychine. It is a perfect protection not only against all germ diseases, but is the most remarkable tonic and restorer of waste tissue known to medical science. If you must kiss, you must be strong and free from disease. Psychine is your greatest protection. La grippe, colds, catarrh and all such diseases are very infectious, through kissing. They all yield readily to the power of Psychine, which is a perfect protection against all germ diseases.

"Two years ago, when living in Lincoln, Ont., I suffered from an attack of la grippe, which left me with a pain in my chest and severe cough which sometimes lasted for hours. I tried several kinds of medicine, but they did not seem to do me any good. I took one bottle of Psychine and one of Coughsore Expectorant. The pain and cough left me entirely and have never returned. I think Psychine is the best medicine I ever used.—Mrs. Samuel Barker, Saginaw, Mich."

Psychine cures coughs, colds, la grippe, bronchitis, catarrh, pneumonia, chest aches, stomach troubles, and wasting diseases, and is highly recommended for consumption. For sale at all druggists, 50c and $1 per bottle, or at Dr. T. A. Slocum's, Limited, 379 King street west, Toronto.

AWAIT GOULIN'S RETURN

Supreme Court Grants Postponement of Fire Insurance Case.
Ottawa, May 7.—In the supreme court this morning, when the test appeal case of the C. P. R. vs. the Ottawa Fire Insurance Company was called, Mr. H. Gervais, M. P., for the province of Quebec, asked that the hearing of argument as to the rights of the provinces in the matter of incorporating private companies doing federal business be postponed until Premier Gouin of Quebec had returned to Canada and could take part in the argument. The court granted a postponement until June 3.

An imposing array of counsel was on hand when the case was called. Deputy Minister of Justice Navin appeared for the Dominion; the province of Ontario was represented by C. H. Ritchie, K.C., Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., and Mr. Mulvey; Deputy Provincial Secretary Frank Ford appeared for Saskatchewan; Mr. Gervais, M. P., for Quebec, and Premier Pugsley for New Brunswick. The C. P. R. was represented by Messrs. J. S. Ewart and Angus MacMurphy, and the Messrs. Shepley and Magee.

The supreme court this morning handed out judgments on a number of cases heard last March. In the case of Comptoir d'Ames, the appeal was allowed with costs. In the case of Andrews vs. Calvin, the appeal was dismissed with costs.

PATRICK CLAIMS WAS TRICKED.
New York, May 7.—The American states today that Albert T. Patrick, now serving a life sentence for killing Millionaire Rice in 1900, contemplates asking for a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that he was tricked into withdrawing his application for an appeal to the United States supreme court while he was under death sentence and accepting commutation to life imprisonment from the late Governor Higgins.

The announcement is made on the authority of Mrs. Patrick, wife of the prisoner.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF THE SCHOOLS

June 20, at Springbank—Plan to Receive Teachers From Lamton.

At the regular meeting of the board of education yesterday, it was decided that the annual school picnic should be held on June 20, at Springbank, and that in other respects it would be conducted on much the same lines as last year. The usual committees were appointed to take charge of all the arrangements, and nothing will be left undone that will go to make a grand success of the big outing. The committees chosen were as follows:

Street cars — Trustees McCormick, Graham, MacRobert, Tillmann, Strong, and English.

Band and printing — Chairman Fitzgerald, Trustees Teasdale, Westervelt, and Weekes.

Sports — The same as last year, which includes members of the board and principals of the various schools.

The question that took up most of the board's time was how they should assist in the entertainment of the West Lamton teachers, who are coming here tomorrow for the purpose of holding their association meeting, and looking about the city schools. Many suggestions were made, and finally it was moved by Trustee Weekes, and seconded by Trustee Graham, that a mid-day luncheon be served to them at the city hall.

This suggestion met with the approval of some of the members of the board, but Trustee MacRobert pointed out the fact that by serving a mid-day luncheon, they would be working in direct opposition to the hotels, which he thought would not be just.

Dr. English moved an amendment to the effect that the luncheon be served at the Normal School, in the evening, after the entertainment there. Dr. Teasdale seconded the motion, and it carried.

The following committee was then appointed to make all the necessary arrangements for the serving of refreshments: Trustees Dr. English, Dr. Teasdale and Graham.

It was moved by Trustee MacRobert, and seconded by Trustee McCormick, that a committee be appointed to pass upon the reports made by the medical examiner on teachers, who have been appointed to the staff.

Trustee Weekes suggested that a small committee be appointed to pass upon pupils whose sight or hearing was defective, but his motion found no second.

Principal Radcliffe presented the report of the L. C. L., which showed that the number of pupils on the roll at the general school is 437, while the average attendance is 422. In the commercial department the number of pupils on the roll is 100, while the average attendance is 87. The total in both departments is 537, while the total average attendance is 509.

It was reported that Trustee Strong, who has been ill for some time, is recovering rapidly and will soon be able to attend meetings of the board.

A complaint was entered that a thoroughfare is being made through the Collegiate Institute grounds, and that such is objectionable. The matter was left in the hands of No. 2 committee with power to act.

It was also reported that several windows have been broken in the Worthy road school, and that the persons who caused the damage have been located. The solicitor has been instructed to take the necessary steps to prosecute the offenders.

Trustee Teasdale announced that tenders for the improvements at St. George's school will all be in by the 14th of May.

The following were present at the board meeting: Chairman Fitzgerald, Trustees MacRobert, English, McCormick, Graham, Teasdale, Tillmann, Westervelt and Weekes, Inspector Edwards, Principal Radcliffe and Secretary McIlhennan.

JOINED THE METHODISTS
120 Armenians Leave a Presbyterian Church for Lack of Room.

St. Catharines, May 7.—At the Hamilton Presbyterian meeting here today the congregation of the Sherman Avenue Church, Hamilton, applied for permission to mortgage the present building and to build a new church. Pastor Rev. Vanwyck urged that the present structure was inadequate for the needs of the congregation, stating that 120 Armenians had been driven to a nearby Methodist church, and in one day $700 had been contributed to the Methodist church by them.

The Presbytery commended the congregation for its good work, and promised to sanction the work when the formal request is made.

The application of the Rev. P. W. Currie for translation to Warsaw, in the Peterboro Presbytery, was granted. The call to Rev. Thomas Patten, Merriton, from Lucan, was next considered, the pastor and Merriton congregation agreeing to it, and the Presbytery granted the translation. Rev. J. H. Ratcliffe being appointed moderator. On motion of Rev. J. H. Ratcliffe and Mr. Thomas Taylor, the moderator was instructed to visit Port Colborne and Crowland and report before call is made.

ST. PETER'S COURT VISITS ST. THOMAS

Catholic Foresters Spend Pleasant Evening as Guests of Railroad City Brethren.

About 150 members of St. Peter's Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, of this city, last night went to St. Thomas on a Pere Marquette special, and attended a social given by Holy Angels Court, C. O. F., of St. Thomas. The affairs proved immensely successful, and the St. Thomasites and Londoners spent a most enjoyable evening.

The London Foresters were met at the depot by a reception committee, consisting of W. H. J. Kelly, E. H. Best, Charles Corbett and P. L. M. Egan. A procession was formed, and the visitors marched to the parish hall, where a public reception was tendered them. Chief Ranger M. J. O'Hara presided.

A hearty welcome was tendered the guests by Rev. Father West on behalf of the Foresters and the congregation of the St. Thomas Church. Collectively and individually he invited them to make frequent visits to St. Thomas, where they would always be well treated.

Rev. Father O'Neill, of London, formerly of St. Thomas, said that some of the happiest days of his ministry were spent in the latter city. From what he knew of St. Thomas he could assure Londoners that they would always be sure of a hearty welcome there.

Rev. Father White, chaplain of St. Peter's Court, said that a good Forester was always a good citizen. The sterling acts of charity exemplified by the brethren of his own court told him that the teachings of the Catholic order were such as tended to make a man better and nobler, and the tenets of the society were of a kind that those supporting them were laying a foundation of happiness in the household, giving evidence of purity and morality abroad and influencing society towards a better and glorious end.

Rev. Father Perron, assistant rector of St. Thomas, also addressed the gathering. He complimented the members on their intelligent and respectable appearance. He said he was proud to be a Forester.

Bro. Joseph Crumney, chief ranger of St. Peter's Court, London, stated that his court in London was the banner lodge in the Province. He said that, judging from outward signs the St. Thomas court would have as big and as influential a lodge as his.

Bro. T. G. Murphy, of London, said the St. Thomas visit reminded him of old days, because in the past he had had the pleasure of being one of Father West's altar boys.

It was reported that the establishment of the court of Foresters, and predicted success for the officers and members.

Bro. Gould, of London, also made a brief address.

Songs were rendered during the evening by Bros. M. J. McCormick, Charles Ford, Ed. Flannery and John O'Meara, of London.

A splendid supper was served by Caterer Jessop, of the Palace Cafe, and at 11:30 the visitors left for home on the Pere Marquette, having spent a very pleasant time in the Railroad City.

DEATH OF MR. JEFFRIES

Old and Greatly Respected Resident of London Township Passes.

William Jeffries, an old and highly respected resident of London Township, died at his residence, lot 8, concession 3, Monday. Deceased was for 25 years a resident of London Township, having been engaged in the wholesale butcher trade and being well known in this city. He was a native of Gloucestershire, England, and is survived by two sons, William H. and George Edward, of London Township. His wife, the late Mary J. Jeffries, predeceased him by eight years. The funeral will take place from his late residence, lot 8, concession 3, London Township, today, at 2:30 p.m. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Thompson at 2 o'clock.

DON'T DIE AT FORTY-FIVE

Cure the Indigestion Which is So Liable to Lead to Apoplexy.

Rush of business, eating too fast, and too much, excesses of any kind, soon result in indigestion. Then when the digestive organs cannot care for the food properly the contents of the blood vessels in the brain get little nourishment, become brittle, and finally yield to the force blood pressure. One is then said to have a "stroke," to be paralyzed, or to die from apoplexy.

People suffering with headache, giddiness, palpitation, sleeplessness, bad taste in the mouth, drowsiness coated tongue, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, and any other of the many distressing results of a weak stomach, should profit by the discovery of M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets.

In recent years the greatest advance in medicine has been in the study of diseases of digestion and nutrition and no other prescription has proven itself as much value as M-I-O-N-A. It is relied upon as a certainty today in relieving the worst troubles of digestion and assimilation and making a complete cure.

The strongest proof that can be offered in substantiation of the claims that M-I-O-N-A will cure the worst forms of stomach trouble, cancer excepted, and give immediate relief in indigestion is the guarantee that W. T. Strong gives with every 50-cent box of M-I-O-N-A. A guarantee like this must insure. A guarantee like this must inspire confidence in M-I-O-N-A. W. T. Strong takes the whole risk, and the remedy will not cost you a penny unless it cures. 25-c-vxx

THE IRISH COUNCIL BILL.

It was a dramatic moment in the life of the mother of parliaments when Mr. Birrell rose yesterday to outline the Government's Irish policy. It revived in the memory of the British nation two historic scenes within the same walls. The first was the introduction of Mr. Gladstone's home rule bill of 1886, and the second his last attempt, in 1893, to pay what he believed to be England's debt of justice to Ireland.

The first bill created a schism in the Liberal party which has not been healed to this day. The second bill, adopted by the House of Commons and thrown out by the House of Lords, was soon followed by the downfall of the Liberal Government and the exclusion of the Liberal party from office for ten years. What effect upon the same party will this present measure have? Conjecture on this point intensifies public interest. Three of the strongest men in the Campbell-Bannerman Ministry, Mr. Haldane, Sir Edward Grey, and Mr. Asquith, are outspoken opponents of home rule, but they have apparently decided to support a measure which falls far short of home rule in the Gladstonian sense.

Mr. Gladstone's bill of 1893 provided for a creation of an Irish Parliament consisting of a legislative council and legislative assembly, both bodies being on an elective basis. The council was to be chosen by electors owning or occupying land or houses of the rateable value of more than £20. The assembly was to consist of 103 members returned by the ordinary parliamentary suffrage. The Irish parliament was to make laws in subjects relating exclusively to Ireland, except in matters of peace and war, public defense, treaties and foreign relations, taxation, commerce, navigation, coinage, weights and measures, and other imperial interests, or interests which Ireland, Scotland and England have in common. The Irish customs revenue was to go to the imperial exchequer, but the excise duties, local taxation, postal revenue, and other miscellaneous taxes amounting in all to nearly £5,000,000 were to go to the Irish parliament. The latter assumed the charges for the constabulary, civil administration, inland revenue and postal service. It had also the power of levying taxation other than existing taxation. In the matters reserved to it the Irish parliament was to have full legislative and executive power, but every act was subject to the approval of the Queen, or, in other words, the British Government. The Irish representation in the House of Commons was to be reduced to 80 members, who were not to vote on matters relating exclusively to England, Scotland or Wales.

The bill introduced by Mr. Birrell is radically different from Mr. Gladstone's. As Mr. Birrell explained, it contains no trace of new legislative power, and does not authorize the levying of a single tax or rate. An Irish council, consisting of 82 elected and 22 nominated members, will be created to administer several departments, which relate to exclusively Irish affairs. The lord lieutenant of Ireland, the representative of the Imperial Parliament, is given power to reserve his consent to any resolution of the council. By this means, the supremacy of the Imperial Parliament is safeguarded. A special fund, amounting to a little over £20,000,000 yearly, is to be created by the British Government and paid into a separate Irish fund for the purposes of the Irish council. The control of the Royal Irish constabulary—a sore point with the Nationalists—is retained by the imperial authorities. Under the Gladstone bill all police powers were to be vested in the Irish parliament. The Nationalists regard the Royal Constabulary as an an-English institution, and a symbol of English domination and distrust, but the Unionists in Ireland regard the force with different eyes.

The fate of the bill will depend upon the attitude of the Nationalists and the House of Lords. The Unionists in the House of Commons will, of course, oppose it tooth and nail as an installment of home rule, but the Unionist majority in the House of Lords may hesitate before furnishing the Liberal party with another provocation to a crusade against the Upper Chamber. The Nationalists may also accept the bill as a vantage ground in the fight for home rule. At any rate, the Government may well claim that it can go no further at the present time, in view of the Unionist control of the House of Lords.

FAILURE OF COMPULSORY ARBITRATION.

New Zealand has just passed through three labor strikes, and the result has been to demonstrate that compulsory arbitration as a means of maintaining industrial peace is far from being infallible. For over twelve years the compulsory arbitration act has been in operation, and it has been lauded as the best, if not the only, solution of the labor problem. But there have been those who have expressed doubts of the efficacy of a law so contrary to economic theory. True, for years after the passage of the arbitration act, affairs went along smoothly enough in the New Zealand labor world, and it was not until November of last year that any strike of a serious nature occurred. The tramways of Auckland were the scene of trouble, and the victory of the workmen was gained without the arbitration court being appealed to, which was a defiance of the law. Public sympathy was with the men, however, and this is given as the reason for the Government's failure to prosecute. The next strike was that of the sheep butchers of Wellington, who in February last quit work to enforce a demand for higher wages. The companies were at the mercy of the strikers and were compelled to yield, for not only were the yards full of sheep, but thousands were on the way to the works or awaiting slaughter. Meanwhile, another strike broke out at the freezing works at Paeroa, South Island. Non-unionist butchers' assistants precipitated this strike, and they had the sympathy of the unionist butchers. Consequently, the works were closed down, and before operations could be resumed the proprietors were compelled to agree that, in the event of the arbitration court increasing the rate of wages, the increase would date from the beginning of the strike.

The Minister of Labor, naturally enough, is by no means pleased with this turn of affairs, and has announced his intention of acting hereafter with greater promptness in the event of a strike or lock-out. This, however, has not relieved the anxiety of employers of labor, for the reason that in case of a strike such as those referred to no fine that could be inflicted upon a labor union or an individual could begin to compensate for the loss employers would suffer should the strike be prolonged for any length of time. Besides, few of the workmen would be able or willing to pay a heavy fine, while to enforce the alternative of imprisonment would be to rob the labor market, now none too well stocked, to that extent. The law, while providing for punishment of those violating it, makes no provision for keeping going an industrial concern which is suffering as a result of the violation. When men make up their minds not to work it is useless to attempt to compel them. Neither is it easy to prevent a lock-out where the employer feels he can better pay a fine than run his factory at a loss. When a few years ago there was a lock-out of the workmen at Auckland the then Minister of Labor held that it was the duty of the Government to furnish employment for those locked out, but when asked whether, if conditions were reversed, through a strike, the Government would compensate the employer for running his establishment at a loss, the minister was not prepared with an answer. With their recent experience fresh in mind, the New Zealand workmen are not what they want—so convinced, indeed, that it is believed many of the unions will cancel their registration under the act, and thus be free to strike whenever they believe they can gain their point by that means. Possibly the New Zealand Government, realizing that its much-extolled arbitration law has broken down, may be forced to abandon it, and turn to conciliation as embodied in the Canadian industrial disputes and investigation act. The benefits of that act have just been illustrated in the settlement of the western coal miners' dispute.

"The freest country under the sun," is Laurier's tribute to Canada. Sir Wilfrid is a living testimony of the fact.

A glance at the business streets shows that London is becoming more cosmopolitan. Is the city becoming more metropolitan?

It now remains for the prosecution in the London election case to demonstrate why the trial should be held in Toronto. So far there has been nothing in the evidence to warrant it.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as usual, carried his point in the Imperial Conference, with regard to preferential trade. The Canadian Premier is not only the Beau Brummel and the Bayard among the colonial representatives, but is foremost in council. Canada may be proud of him.

The German and Austrian press continues to fume against King Edward because he is hobnobbing with the rulers of the Latin countries. He is pictured as carrying treaties in his vest pocket, and gradually weaving a chain around Germany. The whole fact of the matter is that the British King inspires confidence and can act the good fellow because the part is natural to him, while the Kaiser is an object of distrust, and whenever he moves abroad people imagine that he has some other motive than friendship and goodwill.

ANKLE DEEP.

(Illustrated Bits.)

"Mr. Murphy, Mr. Murphy!" cried an excited farm hand to his master, "will ye be sending six men with me with spades? Pat Delaney has stuck in the bog."

"Well," responded his master, "let him walk out."

"But," cried Mickey, "he's in up to his ankles!"

"In what of that? As I said, let him walk out."

"But, begorrah, sir, he's in head first!"

Wilson—Really? How did it happen?

Smithson—The baby slept the whole night.

AN EVERYDAY MIRACLE.

(Sam Kiser.)

He scoffed at the Christian's hope and he sneered at the poet's song.

He passed the beautiful by and noticed only the wrong.

All things under the sky—mountain and plain and sea—

Were planned by a bumbling hand, he said in his mockery.

The lay of the lark to him was only a dismal screech.

Wealth was the only heaven, he thought, that a man could reach.

He turned from the murmuring brook, wearing a hopeless frown,

And hid in a dismal nook in the heart of the dismal town.

On a day when the clouds were dark and the world was cold and wet,

She passed where he paused a while, and he turned and their glances met.

She smiled ere she hurried on, humming a glad, sweet air.

And he saw that the clouds were gone, that beauty was everywhere.

He that had scoffed at those who hoped for a home above

Learned, being taught by her, that God was a God of love.

Mountain and plain and sea, all had become sublime

Ere the moment that he and she met for the second time.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

(Pick-Me-Up.)

Artist—Be careful of that picture; the point is scarcely dry.

Porter—It doesn't matter, sir; my clothes are old.

LOVE GOES.

(Cleveland Leader.)

"Oh, mother, Jack doesn't love me any more!"

"What makes you think so, my dear?"

"He ran out of maccaroni, and he wanted to borrow some of that p-pudding sauce I made today."

NOT UP TO EXPECTATIONS.

(Chicago News.)

My clothes I always choose with care.

The cloth with judgment I select.

And money I will never squander.

To have all my attire correct.

My tailor gives me good advice.

His word, indeed, should carry weight.

But though he sets the style and price,

I don't look like the fashion plate.

I have my fittings—two or three.

I tell the man to shape my pad.

He's most particular with me.

And what he does is not so bad.

But though he uses all his skill

And tries to make up to no date,

And though I always pay his bill,

I don't look like the fashion plate.

No matter whether it's a frock,

Or business suit, or outworn.

My feelings always get a shock

In spite of what my friends may say.

They'll tell me it's a lovely set.

And that the pattern's simply great.

I try to like them, too, and yet,

I don't look like the fashion plate.

THE FAILURE.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

Out-at-elbows, devil-may-care,

Vagabond, loafer, free of air.

Friendless, penniless, void of pride,

(Glad that the "dear dead past" had died),

Brother, here to the wastrel wind

And the open sky—and he found them kind.

Unloved, unloving, a nameless rover,

Wandering aye the wild world over.

Now north, now south, now east and west,

Where living is a struggle, and death

Headless of soul and wind and rain,

Scornful of toil, of worth and gain.

Wayfarer on the endless road,

His home the world-free man's abode—

His wealth the wealth of earth and sky,

His deed a beauty-loving eye;

Ever the guardian of change he trailed,

And who shall say that he has failed?

THE COLORED SUPPLEMENT.

(Brookville Times.)

We have frequently criticized the colored supplement abomination which some of the Canadian newspaper publishers import from the United States, as being devoid of art, wit or refinement—without a solitary redeeming feature. We have also drawn attention to the fact that the educated intelligence of the United States has become disgusted with the hopeless vulgarity of the colored supplement, and awakened to a realization of its injurious effects upon children from the educational point of view.

LORD CROMER'S RETIREMENT.

(London Spectator.)

No man has ever served his country and the empire with more devotion and more wisdom, and none has achieved a greater success as the result of his work and his self-sacrifice. It was finely said of the Duke of Wellington by Lord Brougham: "That man would serve his country with a pickaxe and a shovel if he could serve her in no other way." The words apply with equal force to Lord Cromer. Though, with the proud reliance of the Englishman, he has consistently avoided the rhetoric of patriotism in his writings and speeches, and has felt too deeply and too keenly to do lip-service to his country, his devotion to his native land has been shown at every stage of his career. The most loyal, as well as the most devoted of public servants, he has never hesitated to speak the truth as he has seen it to those above him. It has never been part of his conception of public duty to make things seem smooth or pleasant for the home government when the facts were neither smooth nor pleasant, and demanded to be faced.

THE MODESTY OF MARY.

(Bohemian.)

Mistress—Why, Mary, this figure of Venus is covered with just.

Mary—Yes'm.

Mistress—Didn't I tell you to brush it off?

Mary—Yes'm.

Mistress—And why didn't you?

Maid (blushing)—Because, mem, I thought it needed something on it.

KEPT THEM GOING.

(The Bellman.)

A story is told of a Scottish minister who arrived at the Kirk without the manuscript of his sermon. He could not preach without it, but it lay in his manse, a mile away when the pulpit. Here was a poser mount to be solved by giving out the 119th Psalm. While the congregation were singing it, off to his manse for the sermon galloped the minister, and with equal celerity galloped back. When he returned the congregation were still at it, and he asked of the clerk with some trepidation how they were getting on.

"Oh, sir," was the answer, "they're got to the end of the eighty-fourth verse, an' they're just cheepin' like wee mice."

ONE TRAINING FOR THE EMPIRE

Imperial Conference on Education To Be Held at London This Summer.

Toronto, May 7.—It is understood that Hon. J. J. Foy, the attorney-general, may be appointed to represent Ontario at the imperial conference on education to be held in London this summer. It is believed to be the intention of the Provincial Government to take an advanced stand in educational matters, and the conference may be of much importance to Ontario.

The conference will be a representative of all the British dependencies. It will have for its premier object the general desire for uniformity in educational training throughout the empire. It is the first conference of the kind which has ever been held, the plan being formed about two years ago in England with the Imperial League and being carried out under the auspices of the Imperial Government.

Among the matters to be dealt with are two which will be of especial interest to Ontario at the present time. An effort will be made to secure a standard of uniformity in the qualifications for teachers, and the subject matter and mechanical character of text books and their grading will also be discussed.

University matters will also have a prominent place in the deliberations and special attention is to be paid to institutions for educating the deaf and dumb and blind.

It will be the aim of the conference to reach unanimity in the outstanding features of educational training. Such reports by the representatives of their respective Governments and the advisability of legislation on the lines recommended will be considered.

It is understood that Hon. Mr. Foy will take with him a full outline of the prospective plan of the Ontario Government relative to educational advancement and progress, and these may be still further enlarged if deemed advisable as a result of the conference.

ENGLISHMEN'S OUTING

Gigantic Gathering at Port Stanley on June 15 Appears Certain.

At a meeting of the Englishmen's picnic committee reports were heard so that there will be no doubt that the event was furthered. Everything is going satisfactorily and the prospects for a giant demonstration are very bright.

It has been decided to hold the picnic at Port Stanley, and to raise a sum of $700 to cover the expenses. The ways and means committee is now hard at work on the collection of funds.

The money must be secured before June 15, and to help along the committee's efforts, a meeting will be held in the city hall shortly, at which Mayor Judd will be asked to preside.

Prizes are being donated every day, so that there will be no lack of offerings for every event on the programme. Bandmaster Slater, of the Seventh

There is only one child's shoe in the country that has the name stamped on the sole.

That's the Instructor Shoe. We've put that name on the sole because we're proud of our product and want you to know it when you see it. The Instructor is the only shoe made in this country that is designed to give freedom to children's growing feet. It is modelled on exact anatomical lines. It is the only shoe that permits the toes to lie out flat and straight. The soles of Instructor Shoes are cut from oak-tanned leather from the centre of the hide where the grain is tough and wear-resisting. The soles are sewn by our special process of locked stitches sunk in a channel so that constant wear will not cut the threads.

The Instructor Shoe is the only child's shoe that is made in several widths—a perfect fit is certain. Instructor Shoes will out-wear two pairs of any other make of children's shoes. That's the result of good solid leather all the way through, expert workmanship and careful finish.

Ask your shoe dealer to show you a pair of Instructor Shoes, if he can't, write to us and we'll tell you who can. We know you'll recognize their superiority at once.

Out of the Darkness

"I have no wish to interfere in other people's business," said Rotha slyly. "You have always treated me so as one of the family, that I have grown to consider myself as one of you—that is all." Rotha was more than ruffled, she was positively aggrieved now; the tears stood in her eyes. She was certain now that something was the matter—something probably in which Robert or Garton was concerned, and which she (the little sister), was not to know. She drew herself back from Mrs. Ord's caressing arm with a little dignity.

"The bell is stopping now. Don't you think you had better go?" she said presently. She had her face averted when Mary stooped and kissed her. She took all her friend's affectionate exhortations as to her cold with perfect coolness. "You are feverish—a bad cold always makes one feverish," said Mary, with a placid sigh. "You must take care of yourself, and we shall see you about in a few days." Rotha shed a few tears when she was left alone. A positive sense of injury took possession of her. She had only been a prisoner two days, and already something had taken place at the vicarage which she was not to know, and then it was so strange of Garton. She determined nothing should keep her indoors on the morrow, but when she awoke the next morning she was forced to reconsider her resolution. A damp drizzle of mist and rain threw a metaphorical wet blanket over everything, her cold was still obstinate, and it would be a short of madness to stir from the fire-side.

Rotha thought it the longest morning she had ever spent in her life. Mrs. Carruthers was induced to agree with her, too. Rotha was a trifle contrary; she would not open her lips or be interested in anything. Meg was quite relieved when it was time to go down to the schools. When she had gone, Rotha drew her chair to the fire and was miserable to her heart's content. The whole world was against her, and the weather, too. What was this thing they were keeping from her? Rotha had not long to ask herself that question, for just then, to her surprise, the doorbell rang and Reuben Armstrong came in.

It was not a half-holiday, but he had come up to Eryn with a message. As he gave it—standing cap in hand, as though in haste to be gone—he noticed the boy's eyes were red and swollen, and his face flushed with crying.

"Why, Reuben," she said reproachfully, "you have not got into any trouble with Mr. Denton, surely?"

Reuben shook his head and looked rather indignant at the supposition. "You father has been near you?" But again the boy shook his head.

"What is the matter, then?" she continued impatiently. "Reuben, you must tell me; you look as though you have made yourself ill with crying."

Reuben's eyes brimmed over.

"Don't you know? Haven't they told you?" he began eagerly.

"No one has told me anything," returned Rotha, with a touch of the old soreness; "there is some mystery. I am quite aware of that; but no one has thought it worth while to tell me anything."

"And you don't know that they are sending him away?"

"Sending whom—do you mean Mr. Garton?" Something sharp seemed to shoot through Rotha's heart then, she caught her breath once or twice. "Why don't you speak out plainly, Reuben? I think you are afraid of some mistake. If this were true, don't you think they would have told me themselves?" said the girl, with a little natural impatience.

"Perhaps Mr. Garton told them not to," Miss Maturin, he is so unhappy; he could hardly speak to me last night when he told me about it. I think, I do think, they will break his heart between them."

"Reuben you are very wrong," said Rotha rebukingly; her face was very pale, and she spoke hurriedly. "My dear boy, I don't think you know what you are saying. Why should they send him away?"

"Of course, it is his own doing; he is too noble to eat another man's bread—don't I know that?—but all the same, they have driven him to it. He is never to be a clergyman—never, and he is going away to the very end of the world."

"Oh, Reuben, God forbid!" and a hot flush of pain came to Rotha's cheek. "We must not let him go, Reuben. You are right; it will break his heart. Why did you not come to me last night and tell me this?"

"I thought you knew," returned Reuben mournfully. "It is no use; they will not let you do anything. Miss Maturin—it is all as good as settled. One of Mr. Robert's friends is to give him a free passage to New Zealand, and he is going to Thornborough tomorrow to get his outfit."

"Without telling me!" exclaimed Rotha. She was indignant, even in the midst of her trouble, but Reuben was too miserable to heed her.

"It is all Mr. Robert's doing—every bit; he will try to prevent my going out to him, I suppose, but I will go if I work my way for it; in a few years I shall be a man." He cheered up for a moment at the thought, and then in an instant broke down again. "He saved my life," said the boy. "I can't bear to see him go away. Oh, what shall I do? what shall I do?" And Reuben laid his head down on the table in a perfect agony of crying.

Rotha could not have cried for worlds; her eyes were hot and dry, and her throat ached; her pain almost bewildered her. He was going away—her friend and companion, her honest friend. No more pleasant morning visits; no loitering on the shore; no more happy excursions to Burnley and Leatham woods; no lingerings under the lily-gate to look at the stars; no tall form striding up and down the dim aisles; the dark face missing from the choir-stall. Rotha thinks stonily of these things; through it all she hears Reuben sobbing with a sort of impatience. "What shall I do? what shall I do?"

Rotha goes up to him and gives the lad a little shake.

"Reuben, leave off crying. Can you give a message from me to Mr. Garton?"

The boy nods his head. Rotha's hand is very cold, and it lies like lead on his shoulder. A dim hope creeps into his heart; perhaps, after all, she may do something.

Rotha clears her voice; it is scarcely so sweet as usual; but it is wonderfully steady.

6905—A MOST GRACEFUL KIMONO
The kimono is perhaps more relied upon for negligee wear than any other style of loose garment, and its style is as numerous as can be imagined. Here is a kimono made with its yoke and sleeves in one, giving a long, graceful shoulder line and a true Japanese style. The front and back are gathered full to the yoke, so that a pretty sweep is assured. The kimono may be finished in wrapper or dressing sack length or developed in any lawn, washable silk or Japanese stuff. For the medium size 3½ yards of 27-inch material are needed for the wrapper and 3½ yards for the dressing sack.
6905—Sizes, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100.
The price of this pattern is 10 cents.

ing visits; no loitering on the shore; no more happy excursions to Burnley and Leatham woods; no lingerings under the lily-gate to look at the stars; no tall form striding up and down the dim aisles; the dark face missing from the choir-stall. Rotha thinks stonily of these things; through it all she hears Reuben sobbing with a sort of impatience. "What shall I do? what shall I do?"

Rotha goes up to him and gives the lad a little shake.

"Reuben, leave off crying. Can you give a message from me to Mr. Garton?"

The boy nods his head. Rotha's hand is very cold, and it lies like lead on his shoulder. A dim hope creeps into his heart; perhaps, after all, she may do something.

Spring Advice

Do Not Dose With Purgatives and Weakening Medicines—What People Need at This Season is a Tonic.

Not exactly sick—but not feeling quite well. That's the spring feeling. You are easily tired, appetite variable, sometimes headaches, and a feeling of depression. Or perhaps pimples and eruptions appear on the face, or you have twinges of rheumatism and neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order, that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble. Don't dose yourself with purgative medicines in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system, and weaken instead of giving strength. What you need is a tonic medicine that will make new, rich, red blood, build up the weakened nerves and thus give you new health and strength. And the one medicine to do this speedily and surely is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood which makes weak, easily tired and ailing men and women feel bright, active and strong. If you need a medicine this spring try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you will never regret it. This medicine has cured thousands in every part of the world, and what it has done for others it can easily do for you.

The headquarters for the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in Canada is Brockville, Ont. So-called pink pills offered by companies located at other places in Canada are fraudulent imitations intended to deceive. If your dealer does not keep the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People send to Brockville, Ont., and The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company will mail the pills to you at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

STOP DRINKING!

Orrine Will Destroy All Desire for Whisky or Beer.

A Michigan druggist, H. G. Coleman, has made a thorough study of the various cures for the liquor habit, and gives this as a result of his investigations: "Before taking the agency of Orrine, I went to a considerable trouble to learn about it and become confident that it was a thoroughly honest preparation and put out by a reliable firm."

Write for free book on the cure of alcoholism to the Orrine Company, Washington, D. C. Mailed sealed, Orrine costs but $1 per box. Orrine is sold by C. McCallum & Co., corner of Dundas and Richmond streets. Read what Messrs. McCallum & Co. say about Orrine: "We are having some good reports. We believe the remedy has merit and is helping a number of cases."

Special Three Days' Showing of Newest Wall Papers Commencing Wednesday, May 8

Commencing today, and continuing for three days, we will make a special display of newest Wall Papers.

In addition to our own immense collection you will have the privilege of selecting from a great range of samples brought here direct from New York by a representative of one of the largest New York concerns.

Our own stock is a very complete one and embraces the newest styles and ideas in the Wall Paper world. We are showing, we believe, many designs that are quite new to Londoners and very popular in New York and the larger American cities at present.

For Drawing-Rooms we are exhibiting a magnificent line of the panel effects, as well as a superb series of all-over effects in silk papers, and an elegant showing of handsome velvets.

For Libraries—Among the many different kinds of papers suitable for libraries, the heavy imitation leathers are conspicuous for their richness and stylish appearance.

For Dining-Rooms and Living-rooms we have a host of different patterns, including some especially desirable gothic designs.

For Bedrooms—Allow us to show you the latest ideas in stripes and the pretty panel effects. If you want Mission or Old Colonial styles, or a paper suitable for a Dutch Room, we can please you.

Also a splendid line of papers used for dados for halls.

We make a specialty of Interior Decorations and use these papers to form part of the decorations. We also make a feature of stenciling designs on burlap. Call in and honor us with a visit.

Trifles Make Perfection But Perfection Is No Trifle.

It is by the most careful attention to every trifling detail in the milling of "FIVE ROSES" FLOUR that we have been able to bring this brand up to its present state of perfection, and are able to maintain it.

Every single bushel of grain which enters our mills, every single bag and barrel of flour which leaves them, is tested and re-tested at every stage of the milling, in order to insure the absolute purity and uniformity for which "FIVE ROSES" FLOUR is noted the world over.

This attention to trifles is costly, but it enables us to maintain a reputation for perfection, which is no trifle, and users of "FIVE ROSES" can rely upon getting the "flour of perfect quality" for all household use. Ask your grocer for it.

"NERVILINE" THE BEST RUB FOR ATHLETES AND WORKERS

A bottle of Nerviline in a pint of water makes the best rub-down. It's wonderful how soothing Nerviline is to over-strained or tender muscles. Ing and straining is relieved at once. Pleasant to use, has an agreeable odor and makes it impossible to catch cold after you use it. Nerviline is the acme of perfection, and athletes and leaders say there is not a pain, ache or bruise it won't cure. Not a liniment on earth with Nerviline's penetrating and pain-subduing power; try it.

As soon as Reuben had gone she went to the window and took a calm survey of the weather outside. The prospect was not very promising. The damp drizzle had ceased, but a gray sea-fog was creeping over the sands. A raw mistiness pervaded everything; it was scarcely an evening for an athlete. Nevertheless Rotha felt no doubt of the prudence of her undertaking.

She communicated her intention to Mrs. Carruthers with admirable sang froid. She only shrugged her shoulders with pretty petulance at that excellent woman's dismay. Meg's remonstrances fell on deaf ears.

"When one has a duty to perform, one must fulfill it at all risks," she repeated, with a little dignity. She nodded at Meg with wide-open anxious eyes. Two bright spots of color were in her cheeks. There was repressed impatience in her movement. She scarcely listened when Meg pleaded a sick headache as an excuse for not accompanying her.

"You had better go to bed early," Rotha said to her. "You ought to speak to some doctor about these headaches." She was not indifferent to her friend's sufferings; she was simply self-absorbed. She sat in a fever of excitement while Meg slipped her tea; an intolerable mixture of pain and pity filled her heart to overflowing.

"What is the good of making friends if one must lose them?" she thought. Meg on her part was sorely bewildered by the girl's impatience and willfulness. A dim suspicion of the cause kept her in sympathizing silence. She sat with throbbing head while Rotha roamed hither and thither in her gray dress. "It must come to her, as it must come to all of us," she thought, and a pitiful feeling came over her as she remembered her own miserable past, a longing to take the girl in her arms and shelter her from all possible trouble and disappointment. She was a little indignant at the way things had gone. "She has seen no one else, and she does not know her own heart," thought Meg sadly. The young man's peculiarities repelled and annoyed her. In common with many other people she was inclined to undervalue Garton Ord.

Meg, in her wise experience, thought that she saw how Rotha's possible future was shaping itself, and was inclined to be angry at the sorry result. She thought Rotha, with her sweetness and cleverness, ought never to have one. The young people's pretense at friendship did not blind her in the least. "They will go on talking and laughing till they find they are necessary to each other, and then one or other of them will wake up." She did not know that the waking had already come to poor Garton, and that he was finding it very bitter. She was thinking rather of Rotha's restlessness these three days, of her unusual pettishness and caprice. Rotha's wide-open eyes, shining with impatience, her glowing cheeks, and hot hands were so many signs to the watchful woman of all that was going on in the reality and truth of her surmises.

Rotha, on her side, knew nothing of her friend's suspicions. She was a little chagrined at her scant sympathy; that was all. She went up and kissed her, almost penitently, before she left the house.

"You must go to bed before I return," she said, with some remorse. "I would rather have the headache than the heartache," she thought as she struggled through the damp fog.

She went to her usual seat behind the pillar and knelt down for a long time. It could hardly be for a long time, for her prayer was in some such fashion as follows, for she said over and over again, only in different words:

"If Garton Ord refuse to take my advice, what shall I do? and if he refuse to accept my help, what shall I do? And then he is my friend, my very own friend, and I cannot let him go away; and once, 'God forbid!'" very energetically. I do not know whether Rotha added an "Amen" to these clauses, but it certainly struck her with the pillar and degree of shame that there had not been much reverence in her petitions. She sat and looked toward the chapel very humbly at this point of her reflections.

"I ought not to have been here tonight," she said, with a sigh at her own shortcomings; "I am as bad as those who bought mercy for a sold their souls." And as these salutary thoughts prevailed, she chose the longest hymn she could find in her book and read it three times over without taking in a word of its sense. And why? Merely because a tall dark figure had brushed past her as it went down the aisle to the vestry, and she had looked up and seen Garton Ord's face, looking sad and pale and worn, as she had never seen it before.

And after that it was all no use. "Mr. Murphy, Mr. Murphy!" cried an

MORMONS' PRESENCE A MENACE TO LAND

London Presbytery Would Arouse the Whole Church to Danger.

The regular May meeting of the Presbytery of London was held in St. Andrew's Church, yesterday, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Rev. A. W. Reede, B.A., of St. Thomas, was in the chair, and Rev. A. Henderson was clerk. The attendance was not as large as usual. Among those present were Rev. Messrs. J. G. Stuart, W. Moffat, T. H. Mitchell, and H. Mackay, London; W. H. Geddes, Alisa Craig; A. Jameson, Wardville, and Drs. McCrae, Westminster; Munro, of Birr, and Nixon, of Hyde Park, ministers; and Messrs. A. S. Macgregor, John Lawson, H. F. Jelly, James Robb, D. Fletcher, elders. Mr. R. M. Stevenson, a student of Queen's College, who is supplying St. Andrew's Church for Dr. Ross, applied to the presbytery to be taken on trial for license.

Rev. R. W. Lettich, of Delaware, was elected by rotation to the General Assembly.

Rev. A. Henderson reported that he had declared the pulpit of the First Church vacant, and asked leave to moderate in a call when the people were ready. The presbytery granted the request.

A request from Port Stanley to sell the manse and build a more suitable building for the residence of their minister was granted.

A student has been sent for the summer to Mount Brydges to be under the care of Rev. Mr. Lettich and his session.

Arrangements were sanctioned for the opening of a Sunday school mission on Egerton street under the auspices of the Presbyterian Council of London. A building will be erected, and leave was granted to mortgage the property for $1200. The following trustees were appointed: Rev. Messrs. Rollins and Stuart, and Mr. J. Bryan. Mr. Geddes, Dr. Munro, T. Stuart, K. C., and A. S. Macgregor were appointed a committee to bring in a report on the Mormon question.

Rev. Dr. McCrae, J. G. Stuart and P. J. Thompson were appointed a committee to bring in a resolution in regard to the illness of Rev. Dr. Ross, of St. Andrew's Church.

Rev. J. Currie presented the augmentation report. All grants were made in full, except that of Wardville, which was reduced. Presbytery will renew the application for the full amount to Wardville at its September meeting.

The members of the presbytery are still supplying Mr. Shearer's pulpit. All the ministers have been most kind and generous in their help to their sick brother.

Mr. A. Stuart, K. C., reported a pleasant visit to the congregation and spoke kind words of Mr. Shearer's people.

The Mormon Question.

At the afternoon meeting of the Presbytery, the question of the Mormons in Canada was discussed in connection with the following overture to the general assembly, submitted by Rev. W. H. Geddes, of Alisa Craig:

"Whereas, the presence of the Mormon element in certain parts of the Dominion, and the danger thereby of the perpetuation of the practice of polygamy is a serious menace to the morals of our land, and

"Whereas the people of the United States have, for years, suffered very seriously from the same element,

This presbytery overtures the assembly to take such action as will arouse the whole church to the peril of those parts of the Dominion affected, and at the same time approach the other branches of the Christian church to take joint action in the matter."

The overture was supported by Mr. Geddes and Rev. Mr. Jamieson.

Dr. McCrae was not able to see that the Dominion Government had power to apply any religious test in admitting immigrants into the Dominion.

Mr. Currie, Mr. Stuart, and others thought the presbytery had better wait until it had the facts.

Ultimately, the overture, as given above, was adopted.

Resolution of Sympathy.

Dr. McCrae presented a resolution or expression of the sympathy of the presbytery with Rev. Dr. Ross in his illness. The presbytery unanimously agreed to forward the resolution to Dr. Ross.

Applications were received from six clergymen of other churches to be received as ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Notice was given by the Presbytery of Montreal of the continuance of the suspension of the Rev. J. M. McLaren, of Lachute.

The report on statistics was presented by Dr. Nixon. On the whole there has been good progress in all departments of church life and work.

It was arranged that an adjourned meeting of the presbytery be held on the 21st of May in St. Andrew's Church at 10:30.

Dr. McCrae presented an invitation to meet in July at the First Church, Westminster. Mr. Jelly gave notification to Port Stanley. As the Presbytery had not met at Port Stanley for many years, and had been at Westminster, it was carried to meet this time at Port Stanley on the first Tuesday of July at 10:30.

ALISA CRAIG.—In voting on a by-law, where it takes a majority of the property owners on the last revised list, but now its territory is wide spread. Those who first recognized its curative qualities still value it as a specific, and while it retains its old friends it is ever making new. It is certain that whoever once uses it will not be without it.

A person sells his property and leaves the municipality. Does his name count on the list and can he come back and vote? Ans.—No; he has no vote after he has sold his property.

SURVEY.—A purchased a lot from B. Who pays for the surveying? Ans.—The purchase or sale of a lot does not ordinarily involve a survey. When it does, it depends upon the circumstances as to who must pay for it. If the vendor cannot describe the land in the deed which he is to give, without a survey, he must pay for it, and if the purchaser cannot locate the land from the description in the deed without a survey, then he must pay for it.

The cinematograph has demonstrated its usefulness to the science of medicine in more ways than one. Dr. W. G. Chase, of Edinburgh, used it to procure films illustrating the convulsions accompanying an epileptic fit. The thoroughness with which the subject has been pursued may be judged from the statement that the films exhibiting epileptic seizures measure 1,550 feet and contain nearly 23,000 minute pictures of attitudes assumed during the convulsions. The value of such records lies mainly in using them to instruct medical students so that they may recognize the character of a fit when encountered by actual practice. It seems very possible that the cinematograph will be used extensively in the future to make permanent record, but only of such seizures as those described, but that difficult and unusual surgical operations will be thus depicted.

IT RETAINS OLD AND MAKES NEW FRIENDS.—Time was when Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil had but a small field of distribution, but now its territory is wide spread. Those who first recognized its curative qualities still value it as a specific, and while it retains its old friends it is ever making new. It is certain that whoever once uses it will not be without it.

CONSTIPATION CLOGS THE BOWELS

No other cause produces so much sickness as constipation, and therefore it is dangerous to allow the bowels to become clogged up. Bad blood, dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, boils, pimples, and piles, are all caused by constipation.

Avoid all of these troubles by the use of BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS, nature's remedy for all diseases of the stomach, bowels and blood. It acts on the bowels and promotes their free and regular action, curing constipation and all troubles which arise from it. It has been on the market for over thirty years so you are not using a new and untried remedy. B.B.B. has cured thousands of others and will cure you. Mr. B. Woodcock, Nashua, N.H., writes: "For over two years my wife was troubled with constipation. She tried several physicians but could get no relief, but after taking three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters she was completely cured and is to-day in good health. My wife and I cannot speak too highly of B.B.B."

THE BRANTFORD

Will save your time. "Ask your friend who rides one." It's the Reputation that counts, and a reputation for years of faithful service is the guarantee behind every sale. In choosing your bicycle, price is not the first consideration. It is satisfaction, service, quality. The best is the cheapest in the end, but the best is not gauged by price. The safest standard of merit is record. So it is with the Brantford. It is not by any means the most expensive, but it has the record. Therefore ride a Brantford.

The proposed Dominion Day meet at Queen's Park in all probability will be a joint one. Although representatives from the East End Athletic Club and the Canadian Club have not as yet met and talked the matter over, the consensus of opinion is that an amalgamation will take place. To all lovers of good, clean sports, the co-operation of the two clubs looks like a good move. In the first place, no outside runners can be obtained for any meet here not sanctioned by the C. A. A. U., and it stands to reason that an old-time, bona fide athletic club like the Canadian could obtain a sanction over the head of a new club like the E. E. A. C. The matter will be discussed pro and con tonight at the Canadian Club's open meeting in the city hall, at which representatives of the east end organization will be present. Every citizen who cares anything at all about sport for either his own or his boy's sake—if he has one—should make it his business to be on hand.

First series of the city championship bowling games tonight on the Ideal alleys. Are you on?

Tonight at Los Angeles our own Noah Brusso will exchange pokes on the nose with Mr. J. J. O'Brien, of Philadelphia. Reports differ as to the amount of green goods the pair are scrapping for, but even on a percentage basis the winner should get enough of it to keep him in press agents for a year at least. The rumor that a $30,000 purse would be divided between the winners must be taken none too seriously. The largest purse ever fought for was $40,000, and about $35,000 of that never reached the winner's hands. Of course, the usual talk of what the fighters will do to the other is floating about, and is being gulped down in large quantities by the Pacific coast fight fans, who seem equally divided in opinions as to which is the better man. Mr. O'Brien says he will make Sir Thomas howl "Enough!" in fifteen three-minute sessions, while Noah promises to make O'Brien look like a feeble like a Straits Settlement 10-cent piece in the hands of a London grocer inside of ten rounds. All of which means—nothing. The scrap may be on the level—and it may not. Whichever way it goes, however, both men will probably be found on their feet at the end of the twentieth round.

Rochester "got to" Toronto yesterday, and the Hogtown fans are sad. It was confidently expected that Kelly's Koits would wallop Rochester three straight, and the chances are that some good Canadian money departed for parts unknown as a result of the outcome.

BURNS AND O'BRIEN MAY BATTLE FOR MORE THAN TWENTY ROUNDS

Five More Possible if No Knock-Out in Twenty Prescribed by Agreement.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 8.—If the light-heavyweight championship of the world is not decided at the end of the twentieth round tonight, when Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and Tommy Burns are expected to meet before the Pacific Athletic Club it is probable that the men will fight several additional rounds by mutual agreement.

No official understanding at this effect has been arranged, but O'Brien and Burns have both declared themselves willing to continue the bout for at least five rounds in addition to the twenty prescribed by the articles of agreement.

The advance sales of seats for the fight promises to break every record heretofore established by a pugilistic contest in this city. It now seems likely that the odds will remain unchanged up to the time of the going, and that O'Brien will remain favorite at 10 to 8. Betting is quite brisk, and many good-sized wagers have been made upon the result.

Los Angeles, May 7.—From present indications, Burns and O'Brien will enter the ring tomorrow night with less than five pounds difference in weight. For nearly a week Burns has remained at 171 pounds, and yesterday it was announced that O'Brien had tipped the beam at 166 pounds. Nolan, "Battling" Swanson and Bob Ward were with O'Brien's second, Abdul, at the opposite corner will be on Wood, Jimmy Burns, Young Brusso and Professor Lewis.

Jack O'Brien and Tommy Burns finished the hard work of training with yesterday's tasks and from now to the hour of climbing under the ropes, will take only such exercises as are necessary to keep them on edge. O'Brien has issued a statement, predicting a knockout within 15 rounds. Burns goes back one better and predicts the latter's defeat within ten rounds.

The battle is scheduled to go twenty rounds and the size of the purse is advertised as $30,000, hung up by Tom McCarey, of the Los Angeles Club. Among the men at the ringside will be one never before seen at an American fight gathering—that of Bill Squires, the Australian champion, who right now is the most talked-about pugilist in the world. It is Bill's purpose to hurl a challenge at the winner and later to haul him into the ring and pummel him for the world's championship.

When Burns and O'Brien met at Los Angeles last November the latter was a warm favorite. It was not seen how the French-Canadian could cope with him. The outcome was a surprise, inasmuch as Tommy all but scored a knockout in the fifth round and thereafter held Jack as straight as a string to the end of the scheduled twenty sessions, when the referee proclaimed a draw.

THE TURE

MAHER "LIVING HIGH."

London, May 7.—England must seem a paradise to American jockeys, who are able to ride horses and to win fame, wealth and social prominence of a sort come to them in large measure. An interesting example is Denny Maher, who is living like a lord in a fine house in Mayfair, astonishing everybody who knows him by the extent and elegance of his establishment and entertainments. Ring his bell and a liveried servant opens the door. Dine at his table and a pompous butler directs the service of a dinner fit to put a colonial premier. It is said that Maher's income is $200,000 to $250,000 a year.

LILIES WITHERED; PACE WAS TOO HOT

Tender Ones Were Not in the Same Class With the Century Plants.

"Cap." Adams' "Lilies" are no more. For many weeks have they bloomed about the corridors and bowling alleys of the Liberal Club, and to say that the captain was proud of them would be putting it mildly. The story of the sudden death of the "Lilies" is indeed a sad one.

Captain Murray, of tennis fame, has ever watched over his plants with a watchful and hopeful eye—and when they broke forth in full blossom last night, his enthusiasm knew no bounds. Five bowlers, known as the "Century Plants," however, completely overshadowed the Lilies. Next spring the Lilies may break forth again, but for the present they are dead ones, and are in direct line for a permanent membership in the Down-and-Out Club.

In the meantime, "Cap." Adams is making the atmosphere hum in explaining to his friends just how it all happened. In the first place, according to the captain, the Plants counted points that no fair-minded band of sportsmen would chalk up for him. His further allegations that a strong wind blew in from the open windows along the alleys and knocked over pins galore for the opposition. When his bunch got busy, the wind died down. The captain doesn't say that the pinstickers "bunched" the pins for the "Century Ones," but he looks black whenever a pinstickers gets close to him, and actions sometimes speak louder than words.

Mr. Adams also alleges that the Century Wonders got their bluff in on the umpire first, and, although both sides abused that unfortunate individual in true tennis fashion, the advantage of an early lead was too much of a handicap for his Wall Flowers to overcome.

The Plants haven't, as yet, challenged the Champion Londoners, but they all carry chips, and, we if any, body seem fit to knock the splinters off—that's their lookout.

Old members of the club say that a team never stood on pins that could travel faster than did the Century Plants last night, and they know—or ought to.

The details of the affair are as follows:

| CENTURY PLANTS. |     |     |           |
|-----------------|-----|-----|-----------|
| Ross            | 182 | 175 | 169—526   |

GIANTS' CATCHER SAYS HE HAS A NEW PLAY

New York, May 7.—Roger Bresnahan has discovered a new play, by which, in a pinch, a run is certain. Roger made the discovery last week, but just as he was to work a strike-out ended the game.

The play can only be made when the bases are full and there are two strikes and three balls on the batter. As all fans know, it is customary for all the runners in that case to start to run as the ball is pitched, for it is bound to be a strike-out, a base on balls or a fair ball.

Bresnahan has figured thus: The man on third starts as if to steal home. Naturally the pitcher will "pitch out" so the catcher can get the runner. When such a ball is pitched it does not go over the plate, and therefore makes four balls and the runner is forced, anyway.

"That's clever thinking. It will work, too."

AQUATIC.

MOTOR-BOAT RACES FOR REGATTA.

St. Catharines, May 7.—The St. Catharines Rowing and Canoe Club has for some time been considering a suggestion to hold motor-boat races in connection with the Canadian regatta in August and at a meeting last night the matter was referred to the central committee of the C. A. A. O. for a decision as to the advisability of carrying out the suggestions.

LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP.

Newcastle, England, May 7.—The fifteenth annual tournament for the ladies' golf championship commenced here today with dull, threatening weather. There were 110 entries. Miss Margaret Curtis, of Massachusetts, defeated her opponent at the 20th hole, and Miss Harriet S. Curtis won her game by 5 and 4.

SPECIAL REGARDING LARDER LAKE.

We are ready to stake our reputation and standing, both present and future, also our money, on the present conditions of Larder Lake as to its being a wonderful Gold Field in every sense of the word. We are very cautious as to what we recommend for investment. We have many propositions presented to us that do not come up to our requirements.

We have gone to a great deal of expense in ascertaining the true merits and real condition of the Blue Bell properties at Larder Lake. In order to satisfy ourselves beyond question we despatched three different crews of men to make examinations. They were supplied with dynamite to blow out the ore at various localities of the Blue Bell properties and ship direct to us. Neither of the crews knew or were aware of the others being in the field. We have received ore and reports from each crew. We have received hundreds of pounds of ore and can say we are astonished at the results.

There is not a single piece, from the size of a hickory nut to the largest piece, weighing two pounds, that does not contain free visible Gold that will assay anywhere from Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) to Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00) to the ton; these are facts which we can verify if required.

Men with large quantities of materials are now on the ground, establishing camps for the Blue Bell Company. There will be no time lost in installing Stamp Mills. We cannot here take space to tell all the pains and expenses we have gone to in order to satisfy ourselves as to the real merits of the Blue Bell properties in order that we would not mislead the investing public in misplacing their investments.

We are satisfied beyond question as to the Blue Bell properties and can recommend without reservation investments therein. We believe that the memberships consisting of 1,000 shares, which can be purchased to-day for One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), will be worth in one year Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) each.

We strongly urge the immediate purchase of these memberships; we are willing to stake our reputation and standing on this proposition; we are placing our own funds in it, and have no fear of the ultimate results.

The rate at which these memberships are being taken exceeds our most sanguine expectations. We appreciate the confidence the investing public place in our recommendations. We pledge loyalty to every client and the near future will demonstrate that their confidence has not been misplaced.

To all our clients and friends we desire to impress upon them this fact: Larder Lake will undoubtedly be one of the greatest, if not the greatest, Gold Districts in the world. We have taken every precaution and have made thorough and systematic investigations and can say that the Blue Bell is the opportunity of a lifetime.

before the big advance. On or about May the fifteenth Blue Bell shares will be advanced to 50 cents per share. They can be purchased now in our Syndicate Pool in 1,000 share lots at 10 cents per share, requiring an investment of $100.00. On or about May 15th (this month) the market value of 1,000 shares of Blue Bell will be $500.00. This is a profit of 400 per cent. We are of the firm belief that within one year 1,000 shares of Blue Bell will be worth $2,000.00. Blue Bell consists of 28 40-acre gold claims (one 40-acre claim having been recently purchased near the Reddick property), 1,120 acres in all. Fully paid for. No indebtedness. Blue Bell shares have no personal liability and are forever non-assessable. Men are now on the Blue Bell properties establishing camps and preparing for the stamp mills. Blue Bell will be sending out gold this summer. Now is the time to buy—before the advance—at bottom prices.

LOOKS LIKE TOUR WITHOUT DEFEAT

Caps Record Their Ninth Consecutive Victory in Old Land—Their Record.

By defeating Mr. Batt's team on Saturday, the Capitals recorded their ninth consecutive victory, and now look like completing their tour without a defeat. Three of Capitals' victories were obtained without the opposing sides scoring, an extraordinary record in lacrosse, where shut-outs are few and far between. In all the Minto cup holders have scored 90 goals, and been scored on but 23 times. Capitals' heaviest scoring was against the West of England at Bristol, when they won 13 to 0. The tightest game played was that of Saturday, when they defeated Mr. Batt's team at Manchester 4-1. The first game played can hardly count for much, as only nine men were on each side. The Capitals' record to date is as follows:

| Goals.           | For. | Agst. |
|------------------|------|-------|
| Essex            | 11   | 10    |
| South of England | 8    | 0     |
| Bristol          | 13   | 0     |

FOOTBALL.

WALLOPED THE OUTLAWS.

It is almost a shame to cite what took place upon Carling's Heights yesterday afternoon, when the McClary soccer team fell upon the Outlaws and plastered them with whitewash in a loosely-played contest which ended 7 to 0, in favor of the former aggregation. The winners out-kicked, out-ran and out-scored them. That's all.

GOLF.

LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP.

Newcastle, England, May 7.—The fifteenth annual tournament for the ladies' golf championship commenced here today with dull, threatening weather. There were 110 entries. Miss Margaret Curtis, of Massachusetts, defeated her opponent at the 20th hole, and Miss Harriet S. Curtis won her game by 5 and 4.

SCHRECK SIGNS TO MEET HART

Cincinnati Fighter and Kentucky Heavyweight to Clash in Tonopah.

Chicago, May 7.—Tired of waiting for a definite answer from Jim Corroth, of San Francisco, regarding a match there May 30 with Bill Squires, the Australian champion, Mike Schreck's manager, Billy Hogan, yesterday signed articles of agreement to fight Marvin Hart, of Louisville, Ky., at Tonopah, Nev., on that date. The contest will be at catch weights, and will go to a finish.

Hogan wired Corroth Saturday that he would wait only 24 hours longer to get definite word, and if he failed in that time he would close with the "Casino people at Tonopah. Hogan was tired of having his man made a cat-paw for the San Francisco promoter, fearing that he would be thrown over at the last moment, and then left without a match at all.

Jack Curley, the local agent for the Nevada people, came to the front yesterday with word from Hart that he was willing to accept the fight on a percentage basis, and, getting Hogan on the phone, the deal was closed in a hurry. Both fighters get a fat sum for traveling and training expenses, and Schreck will leave for Nevada within 48 hours.

Hart has not been fighting lately, his most noteworthy battle being his defeat at the hands of Tommy Burns, in which fight Burns afterward claimed the championship.

BASKETBALL.

THREE TIED FOR HONORS.

They are having a difficult time in getting the junior basketball tournament wound up at the Y. M. C. A. After playing two schedules, there are three teams tied for the honors. It is likely a sudden-death series will be played on Tuesday and Wednesday next week. The teams still in are the Shamrocks, Vics and Tornados. The Tornados have been playing pretty good ball lately, and are picked to win out, but the other teams claim to have something left to finish with.

ONLY THREE WENT IN THE HANDICAP

Buttling the Winner by Length and a Half—60 to 1 Shot Lands Race.

New York, May 7.—Trainers were adverse to running their horses over the morass into which the heavy rains had turned the Jamaica track, and scratches were numerous in all the races today. But three starters faced the barrier in the King's County handicap. Buttling was made an odds-on favorite, and justified the reckoning of the layers by beating out Philander, the second choice, a length and a half.

Rye led the way to the stretch, where both Buttling and Philander passed him. Col. White proved himself a veritable mudlark by taking the second race at odds of 60 to 1. He was bid up to $1,000, but his trainer gave the usual and kept him.

Summary:
First race, selling, 5 furlongs—Thomas Calhoun, 101 (Musgrave), 9 to 1; 1; Belle Willis, 106 (Mountain), 13 to 1; 2; Astoria Belle, 99 (Garner), 8 to 1; 3. Time, 1:03 3-5. Acree, Shirley E., Inauguration, Glauco and Marlon Moore ran.

Second race, selling, mile and sixteenth—Col. White, 109 (Doyle), 60 to 1; 1; Reldmore, 106 (Lloyd), 6 to 1; 2; Shenandoah, 101 (Musgrave), 12 to 1; 3. Time, 1:42 1-5. St. Valentine, John Smulski, Lord Badge, Wers, D'Arkle and Palette ran.

Third race, 6 furlongs—Zethus, 107 (Miller), 8 to 1; Tim O'Toole, 112 (Martin), 4 to 1; 2; Belcast, 115 (Notter), 5 to 1; 3. Time, 1:16. Acrobat and Umbrella ran.

Fourth race, the King's County handicap, mile and sixteenth—Buttling, 114 (Notter), 15 to 20; 1; Philander, 109 (Miller), 9 to 5; 2; Rye, 108 (Finn), 7 to 1; 3. Time, 1:43 3-5. Only three horses started.

Fifth race, 5 1/2 furlongs—Royal Onyx, 103 (Lowe), 9 to 20; 1; Anna May, 101 (Preston), 5 to 1; 2; Flowaway, 120 (Pickens), 15 to 1; 3. Time, 1:09. Reside, and Ruth ran.

Sixth race, 5 furlongs—Rucma, 106 (Mountain), 6 to 1; 1; Divorcee, 106 (Miller), 7 to 5; 2; Spring Heel, 108 (Preston), 5 to 1; 3. Time, 1:04. Dottie S., Retrospect, Glorious Betsy, Vithala, Tea Leaf, Eruption and Minnie G. ran.

THE PROBLEM OF RECTORY CROSSING

An Overhead Bridge at Egerton Street May Dispose of Dangerous Point.

The question of what will be done with the dangerous crossing at Rectory street when the tracks in London are elevated is beginning to loom up again, several of the aldermen having been approached by East Londoners on the matter.

It was stated on excellent authority today that the Grand Trunk would be willing, elevation or no elevation of tracks, to build an overhead bridge over Egerton street, provided the London Street Railway Company will agree to divert the cross town line from Rectory street, and leave the matter of the amount the street railway should pay the Grand Trunk for the use of the bridge to arbitration.

That the street railway people are heartily sick of the delays caused to cars at Rectory street there is no room to doubt, and there is a likelihood that they would have no objection to diverting the line to Egerton street, as the Hamilton road cars now run as far as that thoroughfare, and the Ottawa belt cars could be sent up the Hamilton road just as easily as at present, the only difference being that the connection with the Hamilton road would be made at Egerton street, instead of at Rectory street.

Where the shoe will pinch, however, will be in regard to the question of the payment by the street railway of a part of the cost of the bridge.

It is said that if the city of London cared to go into the matter thoroughly the railway commission could be appealed to and the companies could be compelled to erect the overhead bridge, but in such event the city might be called upon to pay a part of the cost.

Needless to say, under the circumstances, the city might not be out of place to drift along until such times as the Grand Trunk and the street railway, with the consent of the city, get together and come to an agreement.

A member of the railway committee stated today that the draft agreement now in progress, and which was framed by the committee, asks for full width street on all 66-foot thoroughfares, and not less than 90-foot openings on Wellington, Waterloo and Colborne streets.

As already stated in The Advertiser, the suggestion was also made to the company that it might not be out of place to erect the new depot at a point east of the present location.

EARLY CLOSING FAILS, BUT PRICES GO UP

Barbers' Association Comes To Life Again, and Does Things.

The London Barbers' Association has come to life again. After a lapse of two years or more, in which it did nothing whatever, the association held a meeting last night, elected officers, decided to raise prices, and also to make no change in the hour of closing.

A movement was started to have the barbers close their shops at 7 o'clock in the evening, and a canvass of the employers indicated that the change would meet with approval. However, when it was thoroughly discussed last night, a vote was taken and it was found that the majority of the change. From 7 to 8 o'clock p.m., there was a majority of two against the change. From 7 to 8 o'clock p.m., one of the busiest hours in the barber shops, and it was felt that to close an hour earlier would mean quite a loss of revenue.

The new president of the association is John John Cambridge, vice-president, John Slater, secretary-treasurer, Thos. Taylor, executive committee, Messrs. H. Crellin, J. Frezell, George Burrows and the officers.

The present scale of prices was discussed, and it was unanimously agreed to in future charge 25 cents instead of 15 cents for a massage. When patrons desire to have their neck shaved, they will now have to pay 5 cents additional. This was formerly done free of charge. Heads of families will, in future, do well to have their children's hair cut on any day in the week except Saturday. Fifteen cents will be the fee for the first five days of the week, but on Saturday the rate will be 25 cents.

HOODLUMS TO BLAME

Why Grand Trunk Has To Shut Down on Track Walking.

A prominent official of the Grand Trunk, referring to the summoning of over 50 persons for trespassing on the company's property, stated to The Advertiser today that it is not the desire of the company to embarrass the efficiency of London or to deal harshly with them. It is realized that a great majority of those who have been walking down the tracks to the cove and Hyde Park for weeks past have been doing so simply to witness the great improvements being made in the line, but it has been found that the tool houses have been broken into, tools thrown into the river and other depredations committed. The prohibition of the track-walking was merely to put a stop to these practices. The work of the hoodlums was alone responsible for the action of the company.

New Camp at Belmont

A new camp of the Woodmen of the World is being organized at Belmont tomorrow evening by Deputy James McGregor, of this city. The work will be put on by Uniform Rank No. 6 of this city, under Capt. Bailey, C. C. Hodgins, M. P. P., and other head camp officers will be present.

HAD A CLOSE CALL

South London Carpenter Narrowly Escapes Being Fatally Injured.

Mr. J. A. McKellar, a carpenter, residing in South London, narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon when he was walking after a building on which he had been at work, a bricklayer began to throw some bricks from a scaffold. The first barely missed Mr. McKellar, and the latter was in the act of calling to his fellow workman to be more careful when he was struck by one of the missiles.

The blow was on the forehead, and as the brick dropped a distance of 40 feet it inflicted an ugly wound. A doctor was called and he stated that had the brick struck an inch higher it might have resulted in McKellar's instant death.

DEATH OF REV. A. McFADYEN

A Veteran Baptist Minister Passes Away—Leaves 12 Children.

The death occurred in this city today of Rev. Alexander McFadyen, a veteran minister of the Baptist Church. The late Mr. McFadyen, who was 76 years of age, was a native of Scotland, and for the past 40 years had preached the gospel in Kitchener, Tipton, Brantford, Fingal and other towns in this part of Ontario. His last charge was at Fingal, where he remained until about three years ago, when he came to live a retired life at 137 Elmwood avenue, city. Deceased, who had been ailing for a little over two years, is survived by twelve children, eight sons and four daughters. His wife predeceased him by about twelve years.

The children are: Dr. McFadyen, of Bay City, Mich.; John McFadyen, of Indianapolis; Alexander and Stephen, of Columbus, Ohio; Neil, of the Merchants Bank, Toronto; Hugh, of this city; Atkins, of the Merchants Bank, city; and Spurgeon, of the Government office, Regina; Mrs. Thomas McCullough, of St. Marys, and Misses Kate, Minnie and Lucy, at home.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, but it is likely that the funeral will take place to Tipton, where interment will be made. The pallbearers will be the eight sons of the deceased.

"400" SET IN LONDON?

Schools Inspector Receives Request Which Causes Him Some Thought.

School Inspector Edwards runs across some queer people in his line of work.

Today a lady called upon him and asked to have her children removed from a certain school in a not exactly fashionable district of London.

"What is the trouble?" asked the inspector.

"Well, to be plain," said the lady, "I don't like my children to be associated with the class of children who attend the school. They are not at all refined."

Mr. Edwards took the matter into his secret deliberations, and he was questioning of whether the children shall be compelled to remain in the school. He has already settled that question. But he's worrying over the evidences of the establishment of a "400" set in London, and the consequent drawing of the line of caste in the public schools.

COBALT NEWS

A new discovery, a very rich vein, has been made on the Trethewey. It is the continuation of a vein already developed on the Coniagias, which has been picked up on the Trethewey.

The Nipissing Company has struck vein 25 in cross-cutting from the new shaft near the vein at a depth of 112 feet. The vein is thick with ore where struck, and is rich, but assays have not been made.

The two last blasts in shaft No. 5 on the Argyle Silver Company's property in Bucke County, Cobalt, blew free silver in quantities at a depth of only eight feet from the surface. The vein assays 1,000 ounces to the ton. This shaft was sunk on the footwall of the vein.

The Copper Cliff Smelters has refused to treat high-grade ore of the Temiscaming and Hudson Bay Mining Company on account of extraordinary high silver values. They expressed a willingness to treat the second-grade ore. The Temiscaming Mining Company has a car ready for shipment which is expected to be the richest shipment made from the Cobalt camp. The township of Bucke, which is located in the township of Cobalt, is producing almost fabulous values as the shafts sink deeper, and the experts are of the opinion that this camp will "out-Cobalt Cobalt" this summer.

The Green-Mechan, The Red Rock, Big Pete, Argyle and other well-known properties are doing systematic and scientific mining, sinking shafts, blocking out ore and making ready for heavy shipments this season. The Argyle especially is showing up values which more than bear out the Government reports of Professor Willet G. Miller, the Dominion geologist, that in the Kewatin and Diabase formation of this particular section, 15 of 2 Bucke, will be found silver values of unprecedented richness.

LONG-WANTED MAN CAUGHT A LAST

P. C. Lucas Effects the Arrest of Fred Maudsley, Pal of "Shorty Billy" and "Texas."

A young man who has been sought by the city police for nearly a year was put behind the bars today.

The individual is Frederick Maudsley and he was arrested by P. C. Lucas on a charge of having stolen $31 from a man named Joseph Ward on May 22, 1906, in the yard of a King street hotel.

A warrant was issued for Maudsley shortly after the theft, but until today the police had found it impossible to lay hands on him, although he had made many short visits to this city in the meantime. Maudsley answers the description of the thief and was identified by Ward as a picture in the possession of the police.

P. C. Lucas first saw Maudsley at an early hour this morning on Wellington street. Maudsley, however, was wide awake and made off at such a rapid rate that Lucas decided that there would be no use following him. About 11 o'clock Lucas spotted Maudsley going south on Richmond street at King. Lucas was at this time about half way between Clarence and Richmond, on King street, and he ran at top speed down lanes, over ashpiles and packing cases toward York street, where he hoped to overtake Maudsley. But Maudsley had made exceptionally good time, and was opposite the G. T. R. station on Richmond street when Lucas reached York and Richmond. Lucas, however, ran in the direction of Maudsley, who was standing with his back toward him, and soon had a grip on the much-wanted customer.

Maudsley fought to get away, but to no avail. Later at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, he made a second attempt.

Lucas has before figured in the arrest of Maudsley, and his associates, among the latter being "Shorty Billy," "Texas" Burdell and Steve Doyle. "Texas" Burdell and Steve Doyle, a brother of "Shorty" Steve Doyle was rounded up in a shed on Thames street by Lucas at an early hour in the morning with a large amount of stolen property in his possession.

Maudsley has figured several times in the courts, and it was while executing a search-warrant for goods supposed to have been stolen by him that Detectives Nickle and Egelton came across "Texas" Burdell and Steve Doyle. Maudsley's home, who was standing victed of having burglarized Taylor's pump shop on King street and was allowed out on suspended sentence.

W. C. T. U. WILL BUILD; DECISION IS REACHED

Contracts for New Home for Union To Be Let at Early Date.

At a meeting of the W. C. T. U., held yesterday, it was decided to go ahead with the erection of a building for the union on Park avenue, just north of the Bell Telephone office.

The union has already purchased and paid for the site, and now finds itself in a position to proceed with the building.

Plans were gone over and discussed, and it was decided to give the contract for the work at an early date.

It is expected that the building will be begun about Oct. 1.

$1 FOR ABUSIVE LANGUAGE.

The dispensing of justice at the police court this morning occupied but a short time. There were only three cases, and all were of minor importance. Two butchers, scattered savdust broadcast about the market, and when Market Clerk Mackay objected, one of them said several very uncomplimentary things about him. The man with the abusive tongue was fined $1, while the other was allowed to go. The drunk, a first-timer, was discharged.

MRS. THAW MORTGAGES HER PITTSBURG HOME

Extraordinary Efforts Made to Keep the Matter a Secret.

Pittsburg, May 8. — "Lyndhurst," the pretentious home of Mrs. William Thaw, in the east end section of this city, has been mortgaged for $100,000, according to the Pittsburg Leader. The mortgage was secured some time ago, but the book containing the records has been hidden according to this newspaper, and information concerning the document did not become public until yesterday. The interest charged is 6 1/2 per cent, and the mortgage is held by the Fidelity Mortgage and Trust Company. The paper was drawn in New York city on March 7, 1907, and was witnessed by Attorney Clifford W. Harbridge, of Harry K. Thaw's counsel, and John P. Meagher, a notary, who did the necessary work of witnessing and putting the official seal of the commonwealth upon the document.

Extraordinary efforts were made to keep the mortgage secret. It is the only one recorded in mortgage book No. 128, which is in the county recorder's office, is still in the transferring room on the third floor of the Allegheny county courthouse.

MAY USE DRASTIC MEANS

Council May Put Sewer in East End by Compulsory Means.

All schemes so far advanced to securing sewer accommodation for the new works of George White & Sons on Rectory street, have failed, and there is talk around the city hall of putting a sewer on Rectory street or Cheesestown, in spite of the wishes of the property owners, who have knocked out every indignation and every petition which has been resorted to.

Under the new act the council has the power to lay a sewer anywhere if a two-thirds vote of the aldermen can be secured.

CANNOT SECURE OUTLET

Proposed Sewers on Queen's Park Is Giving Trouble.

The matter of securing an outlet for the new sewer which is to connect with the lavatories, booths, etc., at Queen's Park, is giving the city engineers a great deal of trouble. It appears that a proper fall to the King street sewer cannot be secured, and that it will be necessary to run the sewer straight through to the corner of Dundas and Quebec streets to secure an outlet.

An addition of 20 feet is to be built to the administration building this year, and a building to provide accommodation for 260 dogs, which are expected to be entered for the dog show, will be erected.

NO LAWYERS ALLOWED

Arbitrators in Toronto Milk Dispute Decide Upon the Procedure.

Toronto, May 8.—Judge Winchester and Mr. C. J. James, the arbitrators agreed upon to settle the dispute between the milk producers and the retailers, held their first session this morning to decide upon the method of conducting the arbitration. It was decided that committees of six from each side should appear before the arbitrators on Tuesday next and state their case. Then if they cannot come to an agreement, evidence will have to be taken. No lawyers are to be allowed to appear for either side.

THE COBALT OUTPUT

One Hundred and Forty Tons of Ore Handed by T. and N. O. Last Week.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, May 7.—Cobalt shipments assumed normal proportions again last week, nearly 140 tons passing over the T. and N. O.

Four mines shipped as follows: O'Brien (2 cars), 130,290; Townrite, 40,070; Silver Queen, 40,000; Coniagias, 62,000. Total, 276,460.

It may be noted that two of the cars, one from the Townrite and one from the Silver Queen went to Copper Cliff to be refined. The others, as usual, went across the line.

THE RUSSIAN INUNDATIONS

One Hundred and Eighty Towns Flooded by Dnieper Overflowing.

Kremenchuk, Russia, May 8.—The high water on the Dnieper has inundated no less than 180 villages. Dwellings, stores of grain, and cattle have been swept away by the flood. The people of this town are in flight. The prison has been inundated and it was with difficulty that the prisoners were released.

STOCK MARKETS.

H. C. Beecher, stockbroker, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

New York, May 8. — Noon. — Most of the early advances had been lost by noon. Specialty movements in Delaware and Hudson simply indicated that the bear news was out. The weakness in New York Central is given as the bear argument. Sterling Exchange was offered down. New York drawing gold from Paris on railroad note credits. The wheat market and the Government report Friday are dominating the stock market, making it dull, with professional selling on the bulges, all based on damage reports to the crops. Union Pacific was expressionless, and gave no indication of any developments. The bond market is at a standstill and even bullish theories have ceased prophesying. Sales to noon $1,400.

BREACH OF PROMISE

Montreal Young Woman Gets Her Money Back With Light Damages.

Montreal, May 7.—Mr. Justice Curran today heard a suit for breach of promise which offered some unusual features. Miss Alexina, alias Amanda, Jasmin, dressmaker, sued Mr. J. E. Durocher, a young business man, for $1,999 on the ground that after obtaining from her $500 on notes and giving her in return a policy in the French-Canadian Artisan's Society, he abandoned her and refused to carry out the arrangements for their marriage, and for loss of time, caused because she gave up her ordinary work a short time after their engagement, because Durocher did not want people to say he had married a working girl. The plaintiff was given $155 damages and the amount of the loan.
