No Fresh Reserves.

News comes from the front that the hard-pressed German armies have no fresh divisions left to throw into the battle. They have no great reserves of ammunition. The German people are demanding peace at any price to save whatever they may from the wreckage in A few junker newspapers are still cryling for war to the last ditch, but the Socialists seem to have turned the scales decisively in the other direction. From a British viewpoint the greatest humiliation Germany will suffer will be in having her fleet surrender or pass out of the war without one great fight to the death. But news from Kiel makes it doubtful whether the sallors would go into battle if the officers decided to fight.

WASHINGTON AWAIT THE OFFICIAL

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7 .- Navy cable censors reported t day that an unofficial message had come through from abroa announcing that the Germans had signed the armistice terms de livered by Marshal Foch. No authority was given for the stat ment, and while it added to the air of expectancy everywhere, o ficials said nothing except an official dispatch could be believed.

Neither the American Government nor any of the Allies' er bassies or war missions had been advised even that Marshal Foo actually had presented the armistice terms. It was assumed, how ever, that the German envoys had been conducted through th French lines some time during the day.

Advertiser Ad. and Blue Bonnet Taxi Beat Stork Hollow

And Baby Is Named After Speedy and Courteous Service.

A few days ago, the stork, which has a habit of wandering far affield, paid a hurry-up call to the home of a returned soldier. This necessitated another hurry-up call. The soldier was a good deal more flustered than he ever was on the battlefields of France. The whistling of shells overhead was nothing, but the flap of the stork's wings scared him to death. He couldn't think of a friend who owned a car, and it was not until he thought of looking at the taxi service ads. In The Advertiser that the one way out appeared. vertiser that the one way out appeared.

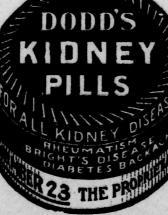

A call to the Blue Bonnet stand brought prompt response. "I'm broke," said the soldier, "but, the doctor says that I've got to get my wife to the hospital right away or she's going to die." Money didn't count. History shows that the trip to the hospital was made in such quick time that the stork was unable to keep up with the fastest machine owned by the Blue Bonnets, and not until the returned man's wife was safely tucked away in the hospital did the stork arrive breathless. The baby is to have "Blue Bonnet" as a middle name in token of gratitude.

"Just goes to show that The Advertiser and the Blue Bonnets can beat the stork any old time, but once in a while it's a tough race," declared the driver, who broke all speed records in his trip to Victoria.

ASSESSMENT CUT DOWN ON INCOME OF THE LATE

SIR GEORGE C. GIBBONS

About $10,000 has been cut off from the assessment of the late Sir George C. Gibbons by the court of revision at lts present sitting. Thus the city will lose practically $10,000, as the amount of the assessment was about $20,000. The appeals against the public and separate school taxes have been laid over until Tuesday of next week. The breweries are also appealing against the tax on property, and these cases will be decided next Thursday.

RUMOR SAYS PENNA RAILWAY HAS PLAN TO ENTER DETROIT

May Construct New Tunnel Across Border.

A rumor in circulation among offi-cials of the C. P. R., given for what it may be worth, is to the effect that the may be worth, is to the effect that the Pennsylvania system is planning to secure an entrance to Detroit.

The story, as repeated in London, is that the Pennsylvania is approaching the C. P. R. to bring about the construction of another tunnel from Windsor to Detroit, and the establishment of a Canadian connection with the C. P. R. The Ojibway steel plant is said to be a factor in the proposals, Carnegie money largely controlling the new Canadian enterprise, as well as the Pennsylvania Railway.

Exceptional Value in Dress Fabrics

There has been so much about advancing prices on woolen dress goods that many are fearful as to the prices they expect to have to pay. It is true prices at the mills today are higher than this generation has ever known, and never was the market so critical, yet the goods now ticketed on our counters and the prices listed below for staple lines of dress goods seem to disprove these statements. A large proportion of our present stock being purchases of some seasons past is the explanation of these special prices, and with few exceptions this season's stocks are far below present market values. [By E. O. Graves, Poet Laureate, Team 2, District 1.] Mary had a little lamb, who didn't buy a bond, To help to lick the Turks and Bulgs and Huns across the pond;
Now Mary's head was level, and she tried to do her bit—
She made comforts for the soldiers, and she also knit to fit.

So she took the lambkin by the hand and whispered in his ear: "Go thou and mingle with a bond, or your middle name is "Queer";
Get busy now and hustle, or you'll have yourself to blame remove your pedigree from my little hall of fame."

So lambie did get busy and hung up his surplus suits, Likewise his "Ingersoll" and his shiny Sunday boots.
Then he hastened to Reid's Temple

Then he beat it back to Mary, with his bond, also his glory,
But his effort, tho quite heavy, did not fill her heart with glory,
And Mary said: "Oh, laddie, your sacrifices have not hurt,
You'll have to do much better, hike right back and sell your shirt."

P. B. Fetterly looks like a vacuum cleaner when it comes to extracting large amounts for bonds. Yesterday Mr. Fetterly averaged $800 for 15 applications. Neat work.

Luck in odd numbers? Not according to J. G. Tennant. He and his side-kick, H. H. Kirby, were assigned to a block having 6 houses. Mr. Tennant looked after the odd numbers, and didn't even sell a postage stamp, while Friend Kirby sold just $1,800 worth of bonds from the "even" side of the street.

George H. Davis and A. McAuliffe are leading the industrials. They are a hard pair to beat.

WHAT CAN I DO

TO HELP WIN THIS WAR?

I want Canada to win.

I want to be able to hold my head high in after years and say: "I did all I could for my country."

If it didn't involve some personal hardship it would be an empty honor indeed.

I have not been called to fight.

I go home each day to my loved ones.

We have good clothing, good food to eat, happy surroundings and our pleasures.

I haven't had to give up my business-nor shatter my ambitions-nor suffer the loneliness and pain of separation from those dearest to me. They live in no mortal agony over what may some day be my fate in the trenches.

The war hasn't hit me as hard as it has millions of others

Do I appreciate it?

If brave mothers can loan their only sons-if loyal wives can loan their husbands-if little children can loan their fathers-

Can I hesitate to loan a few of my dollars?

Can I permit my family and myself to be pointed out after the war-ean I let it be scornfully said that "They wouldn't even buy Canadian Government Bonds to help us win?"

Buying Victory Bonds is little enough for me

I simply loan what money I can spare to the

As a gilt-edge investment it has no equal

My security is absolutely safe-because the bonded indebtedness of Canada is much smaller than that of other great nations, even in peace

I receive 51/2 per cent interest-$5.50 a year, $2.75 semi-annually is paid to me for every $100 I loan my country.

Any time that I should become hard pressed I can borrow around $96 on every $100 Victory Band

Or, I can "spend" my Victory Bonds as if they were gold.

Many firms will even accept my Victory Bonds as cash for more than their face value!

I can buy Victory Bonds on installments-"easy payments"—in many places.

Until they are paid for my money draws regular interest the same as in a savings account.

I am teaching myself to save.

I am laying by a "nest egg."

And all the time I am helping my country to win-I am doing my share-I am living up to my duty as a Canadian.

What can I do?

Here is my answer-

I shall enlist every dollar I can spare during the coming months.

I risk nothing.

I can always have my money back with interest at any time, should I need it.

And then I will ask every member of my family and ten of my friends to do the same.

And I will do it today that my order may be in early; that it won't help swamp the already overworked clerks at headquarters.

AFTER BOOZE MEN.

The famous car of scrap iron that contained much good booze, discovered by Detectives Harry Down and Robert Egelton, some three months ago, on a C. P. R. east end siding, has been transferred from Beattie Bros., to whom it was consigned, to the London Iron and Metal Company. The car was consigned by a G. Johnston of Montreal, and License Inspector J. E. Keenleyside has reason to believe it is a fictitious name. The inspector has not yet given up hope that the unknown man for whom the whiskey was intended may yet be brought to justice.

The constitution, with changes suggested will be considered in the near future with a view to final adoption of sylaws at an early date.

The name of the new organization is to be chosen by a majority vote of the membership in a referendum to be submitted by mail not later than November 15.

Doctor's Advice to Men Who Have Worked or Played Too Hard

There is searcely a man who at some time or other in his life does not find himself feeling old before his time, as the result of overwork or overdoing, overeating, or overdrinking, or overexcess in some form or other.

Dr. Briggs is authority for the statement that at such times there is a simple medical agent that will repair lost vitality and energy and create new vitality and energy and create new vitality at once, in a safe, natural manner. It is Brigham Young's original and private formula, but now obtainable by the public for the first time. Even elderly men who have tried it say it has made them feel young and capable once more. Chaplain for the Toronto military district, and a former Londoner, who has had two years of overseas service, appeared on behalf of the Victory Loan, instead of Mr. Somerville.

In the course of his heart-searching appeal, Major Burtch declared emphatically that Germany is not yet properly defeated, whatever may be true of the armies of her allies. By means of a dramatic description of a scene and incident during the Somme offensive, he drove home the idea of what support means to the gallant men in the forefront of the battle, in the "mud, the slime, the indescribable smell of the hell of the battlefields in France and Flanders."

A Personal Matter.

A Personal Matter.

He put up to each individual as a personal matter the support of the fighters who are bearing the brunt of the enemy's blows and winning the fight for justice and truth, and that love enemy's blows and withing the right for justice and truth, and that love may dwell in the world.

"I challenge any man who has made any careful study of military tactics and the strength of the fighting armies to say that the time is ripe for a decision," said Major Burtch, adding, "Whatever armies have given way, the German army is uncrushed, and so are the armies of France, Britain and the United States. An immediate settlement, would mean that the years of struggle were simply like the fight that takes place between two school boys who go into it without any meaning and end where they began. There can be only one settlement, and that the complete humiliation of the race of brutes, the complete abdication of the powers that control in Germany."

Holding Out Financially, Germany, the speaker claimed, has the company of holding out financially.

In the West bank of the Meuse the Germans have been driven entirely from the Bois de Hosplee, two miles north of Beaumont.

"Along the heights of the Meuse in the region of Sassey and between Milly and Dun the Americans made progress despite heavy machine gun and artillery resistance on the part of the Germans."

The British official report on operations in Belgium tonight says:

REPUBLICANS SURRENDER OR DIE ONLY ALTERNATIVE LEFT FOR GERMANY

Whatever Kaiserland Saves Be Saved by Negotiations, and Peace Conference Is Next War Front To Give Allies Concern.

enemy front broken by the manoeuvre.

Events Move Too Fast.

Unfortunately for Ludendorff events moved too fast. He had not calculated upon a Bulgarian surrender, a Turkish collapse, an Austrian debacle. All of a sudden all of Germany's 'allies disappeared, the whole face of things changed, the manoeuvre, made without sincertly or without intent to make peace, became a life and death pursuit of peace to escape internal revolution. The first proof of the change was the fall of Ludendorff himself.

Today Germany faces a situation which can neither be concealed from her people nor from her enemies. To continue the war is to risk invasion on the very remote chance of modifying Allied demands. There is no hope of victory, no fractional chance of anything resembling even a draw. There is, at best, only the hope of postponing the decision for a few brief weeks or months, with the moral certainty that as a result of the new burdens thereby placed upon a weary people, internal revolution will follow ultimate surrender, if it does not overtake it, as in the case of Russia and Austria.

Two Alternatives.

Russia and Austria.
Two Alternatives.

Russia and Austria.

Two Alternatives.

Germany must surrender or die; die as Russia has died. Her future depends upon her immediate escape from a war which is subjecting her population to exactly that sort of agony out of which revolutions inevitably arise. All Germany today is approaching the condition of Paris after the siege, the condition swhich made the Commune inevitable and terrible.

Whatever Germany saves from the wreck now, she will save by negotiation and not by fighting. The military phase of the war is already over and the problem which remains is whether Germany in the peace conference can repeat the triumph of Talleyrand at the Congress of Vienna and save by diplomacy what she has lost by arms. This is the great perli; this is the remaining danger for our alliance. Germany means to use the plan for a league of nations to save herself from punishment and payment as Talleyrand used the scheme of the holy alliance against democracy to save France from the consequences of the revolutionary and Napoleonic struggles.

Must Choose Surrender.

But today Germany must surrender and surrender promptly; the longer she is held up with her back to the wall the more patent becomes her helplessness and the longer the strain of the war is kept upon her civil population the more terrible will be the consequences, when this civil population at last gains the power it is bound to gain now. It is impossible for Germany to escape a measure of the Russian anarchy, a portion of the Austrian dissolution, save by swift surrender. Therefore, the surrender is assured.

The war is over. Not because the render is assured.

The war is over. Not because the German army is not capable of fighting another campaign. The collapse of the nation behind the army means that in no long time the army itself must collapse, as did the Russian, the Bulgarian and the Austrian, once the home front was broken. Such a collapse means only one things; it means revolution, anarchy.

Diplomatic Fight Next.

Diplomatic Fight Next.

Germany will surrender. The surrender will not be long delayed, in my judgment. Instead of haggling over the terms of the armistice Germany will abandon the fight in the field and turn all her energies to the fight around the green table. On the military side she must surrender or die. It will be different around the green table. The war is over, but the struggle gained for mankind in the war has only just begun. We have won the war, but we may yet lose the legitimate fruits of victory. Diplomatic Fight Next.

PEACE BEFORE CHRISTMAS.

A. German delegation to conclude an armistice and take up peace negotiations has left for the western front .- Official Berlin dispatch.

EVELOPMENTS run swiftly to a climax Development are convinced that the coming Christmas, not much more than a month distant, will see the return of an era of peace on earth, good-will toward men. A world set free from the bondage of militarism will sing the anthems of the Yuletide not with the mechanical chant of phonographs, but with the glad voice of angels. With unbared heads the people may stand and send their abundant thankfulness to the heavens.

The peacemakers of the earth, the warriors who struck in the spirit of freedom, shall be praised by millions of men, women and children.

With Wilhelm every other ay has an "abdication" all its own. He has abdicated" at grand quarters, Brussels, Bingenn-the-Rhine, and Munich, where the beer comes om. Compared to him Constantine and Ferdinnd are pikers. The best they could do was a litary abdication. Wilhelm, however, will have dozen to his credit—count them—a dozen when takes his place on the penitent bench alongde his brother-in-law and the Fox. But that air may feel peevish at the stealing of their own ecialty and refuse to push over. Or again they ay consider it no joke to make of royal self erifice a commonplace habit like shaking down

e furnace, gargling or changing one's socks. Posterity will not accord any glory to this ecious trio for relinquishing their crowns "for e good of their subjects." There have been dications sincerely made to the end that a tion should benefit. The word and act we have sociated with a certain selflessness and generity. Nothing of this applies to Constantine, erdinand or the kaiser, should the war-lord ally step down. For "abdicate" read "fired" "bounced" or "kicked out." Not one of the rty lot considered abdication until a high exosive bomb was placed beneath the throne. If e supreme secondrel finally lays down his out it. FOUR JOCKEYS DIED WITHIN THREE WEEKS

This Season One of III-Luck for Steeplechase Riders.

The autumn of 1918 will go down as season of ill-luck for the steeplechase jockeys. Within three weeks four of them were beckoned by death, and the quartet composed practically the cream of the cross-country riders. Those who will never again hold the reins over a thoroughbred are: Willie Allen, J. Craig, Booth Bryant and Johnny Clark. The latter, a soldier at Camp Meade for the past couple of months, was called away on Sunday. He was a victim of influenza.

Telegraphic information from Brooklyn, N.Y., states that H. Alex, a flat rider of more or less prominence, died Monday. Alex was alling last Saturday a week when he piloted A. H. Marris' 2-year-old Ticklish in a race at Laurel Park. That evening he made an effort to enter a local hospital, but was unable to do so, owing to the crowded condition of the institution in that city because of the prevailing epidemic. Then he decided to go to Brooklyn, where his sisters reside.

Seasoning is the open sesame to good cookery. But it is just as important to know when not to season. Some housewives have a penchant for certain specific seasonings—like curry or cinnamon, or, as in certain parts of the Northwest, saffron goes into every kind of bread and cake, and almost every other dish.

The right kind of seasoning in the right proportion will make a delectable dish out of the simplest food. But one must season with discretion. If you use many seasonings or too much of any one, the palate requires more and more in order to be stimulated into a recognimust season with discretion. If you duse many seasonings or too much of any one, the palate requires more and more in order to be stimulated into a recognition and delight in it. And excessive seasoning is by no means healthy for the digestive system.

When shall you use seasoning? What seasonings shall be used? What are the proportions?

In the first place, know when to omit seasoning. Many housekeepers make the mistake of seasoning heavily foods that have a naturally good flavor. For example, in the baking of apples many women use cinnamon, ginger or other foreign flavors. Now, there is no flavor more delicious than the natural flav and her last caustic reference to the manner in which, according to her notion, physicians' wives kept their children quiet. I drew forward a chair as I spoke, but she put out a peremptory arresting hand.

"Sit down!" she exclaimed tragically. "Sit down!" she exclaimed tragically. "Sit down and sew calmly while that blessed little angel is suffering like that! I'm not a Hindoo mother, thank you, to look on calmly while a baby is thrown to the crocodiles."

I bit my lips hard to keep from smiling, she was so evidently pointing her allusion with me.

"He isn't suffering," I returned. She interrupted me hoarsely.

But my stay there was brief. Next day the storekeeper totalled us up, and I heard him say to his assistant: "Collec-

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Hay was plentiful at the local market today, selling from $17 to $19 per ton. Potatoes were $1.65 to $1.70 per bag by the load, or ten-bag lots, and $1.75 to $1.80 per single bag. One farmer's 42 chickens brought him $48.36 this morning. Nearly every farmer who came to the market today brought a few boxes or bags of apples with him.

Grain. Cwt.—
Oats, per cwt.....$2 10 to $2 13 New York, Nov. 1—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Further signs of early peace were the chief influences at the strong opening of today's stock market. The buying was again very general, but rails of the investment class were most in favor at average gains of a point. Oils, motors, coppers and some of the peace industrials rose 1 to almost 3 points. Marine preferred was the only important stock to register an initial loss.

Adarine preferred was the only important stock to register an initial loss.

Noon.—Peace prospects were heightened during the morning by reports of revolts in the German army and havy. There was also much discussion regarding further cancellation of war orders. Moderate selling of popular munitions and specialities resulted in reactions of 1 to 4 points. Leaders among rails and industrials also fell back 1 to 14 points, but the heaviness of shippings was assoribed to rumors of another hitch in the mercantile marine deal. The noon rally was led by oils, Mexican Petroleum showing a gain of 5 points.

Chicago, Nov. 7.-Reactions took place chicago, Nov. 7.—Reactions took place in the corn market today from yester-day's wild advance. Efforts to realize profits explained much of the selling. Besides, there appeared to be but little fresh support for the market, and there fresh support for the market, and there was a disposition to await tangible evidence that the export movement of grain would be materially increased. Opening declines of 1%c were followed by additional recessions.

Signs of an active shipping demand, however, tended to check weakness. After opening unchanged to %c lower, with December at 70% @70%c, the oats market underwent a moderate further setback.

Winnipeg, Nov. 7.—Oats opened ½c higher to unchanged for December. Barley opened ¾c higher for December at $1 09½.

Flax opened unchanged for December.

Mrs. Briss, Aumane stream live chickens legs, blamed a farmer. Mrs. Briss, who spoke with a strong Jewish accent, declared that she didn't know it was against the law to tie up the cacklers. The magistrate told her that it was a true cruel thing to do. "When you and put the fowl very cruel thing to do. "When you buy again, be sure and put the fow in a basket or a bag," said Mr. Gray-

Tired of Postponements.

"I'm getting tired of these postponements," declared the magistrate when told that P. M. McEvoy would not be present to defend the liquor case of Wm. J. Milton, and A. H. Burrows, proprietor of the Central Garage. "It isn't right that the business of this court should be held up the way it is," he continued. "I'm always willing to accommodate counsel as far as possible, but there is a limit to even my endurance." E. W. Scatcherd asked for a postponement, and finally it was arranged to have the case argued Monday next.

BLENHEIM, Nov. 6. - A striking eximple of a soldier's wife doing her bit is shown in the action of Pte. William Haggard's wife, who has just given her life to assist in saving the wife of another soldier, Pte. James Reid, who died in London on Sunday, October 27.

Mrs. Reid visited her husband while he was ill with the influenza. She contracted the disease, and at her home here was without any help.

Mrs. Haggard and another soldier's wife, Mrs. (Pte.) P. Ryan, volunteered to attend her. Mrs. Haggard contracted the disease, and after a few days' illness passed away today, after porforming to the best of her ability what she deemed to be her duty. Mrs. Reid is recovering. Deceased leaves besides her husband, who is overseas, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Brumby, several grown-up sisters, and one brown the present of the pres Haggard's wife, who has just given

HUNS EXPOSED IN STARTLING PLAY AT MAJESTIC THEATRE

Dorothy Gish in "The Hun Within," an Artcraft Production.

COMEDY AND WEEKLY "Jack" King, "the Boy With the Voice and Songs," in Vaudeville.

vent the destruction of the transport by sending a wireless message to the captain—and just in the nick of time, too. When Wagner learns of his son's treachery, he upraids him, only to be the shot for his pains, but this results in the arrest of the spies after they have been saved from lynching at the hands of a mob. All ends happily for Beth of a mob. All ends happily for Beth and Douglas, who now realize that they love each other.

In addition to the above production, a Harold Lloyd Comedy, "Swing Your Partners," and a Majestic News Weekly film are presented.

In vaudeville, "Jack" King, "the boy with the voice and the songs," was tendered another enthusiastic reception.

One of London's best-known physicians remarked several days ago that hundreds of people who have had influenza will contract pheumonia this winter if they do not build up their systems properly. The germs of this dread malady impoverish and poison the blood, and as a result the system is left in a weakened condition. The limbs feel weak, and the man or woman recuperating from "Fluind they have no inclination to perform their outles.
