Epidemic Rages In Northumberland Co.

Upwards of Eleven Hundred Cases of Influenza Reported, With Fourteen Deaths Up to Saturday

The spread of the dreaded Spanish Influenza in Northumberland County has been very rapid, and all the physicians are busy from early morning until almost early morning again answering call after call, and with the large number of doctors from this district who have gone overseas the condition of affairs is alarming, beyond any extent yet realized.

During the past week no less than 703 new cases had been reported to the Chairman of the Board of Health, for the County, Dr. F. J. Desmond, and with 415 cases reported last week makes a total of 1118 cases at present, and of these 51 cases are complicated with pneumonia, while up to Saturday evening fourteen deaths had resulted, and several have occurred since that time bringing the fatal cases up to a high mark.

There is hardly a house in town where there is not one or more cases and many of our citizens are now almost at death's door with the disease.

As stated in last week's paper persons cannot be too careful to ward off the affliction, and in case of attack prompt measures should be taken to prevent pneumonia setting in.

Pte. Gordon Leslie Gives Life for Empire

Popular Newcastle Boy dies from Effects of Wounds—Buried at Aberdeen Scotland

The sad news was received in Newcastle on Saturday that Private Gordon Leslie, one of the original "Fighting 26th," had after lingering between life and death from wounds received in action, for the past month, had finally succumbed. The news which came in a cablegram from his uncle Mr. John Stables of Keith, Scotland stated that Gordon had died on the 15th inst and would be buried at the home town of his mother, Aberdeen, on the 21st inst. Pte. Gordon Leslie was one of the most popular young men to leave the Miramichi for overseas, and his genial disposition won for him many friends wherever he went and the news of his death was heard on all sides with deep regret. He was 28 years of age, and besides his widowed mother leaves five brothers, James and John in the west, William and George of Newcastle, and Sgt. Frank of the Depot Battalion, St. John.

Thirsty Ones Run The Blockade

Succed in Landing a Schooner Load of Liquor on Lower Miramichi says Report

Two hundred cases of whiskey in Prohibition Northumberland? Impossible! But according to information furnished The Advocate there is at the present time in the vicinity of that quantity that the officers of law are vainly searching every nook and corner for, for it was brought into the county contrary to law both Dominion and Provincial and its whereabouts is a mystery to all but who were in on the deal.

The report that reached The Advocate and seems very probable, was that one night last week a fishing schooner put into port on a small island down river, direct from Gaspe, Quebec, and before the strikes of dawn had illuminated the country, had deposited about two hundred cases of the best liquors obtainable in Quebec, and departed while the forbidden refreshments were packed into waiting cars and rapidly driven to a secret chamber prepared for its reception.

Just to whom, or for whom the liquor was intended remains a mystery, but there is little doubt, but that the hiding place will remain a mystery for sometime to come.

When will it end?

Thousands upon thousands, endless thousands, hold their lives cheap as the price of Victorious Peace.

And we—as we watch from afar their heroic efforts—may we be able to say, that the little we at home could do, we have done;

—that in so far as we could support them, lighten their burdens, bring them comforts, we have done it;

—that we have striven unceasingly to shorten their stay in the Hun-made Hell;

—that freely, fervently, unitedly, we have laid our humble offerings alongside their noble sacrifices on the altar of Victory—and Peace.

Another opportunity to lend your individual weight to the blow that will shorten the war comes with the offering of Victory Bonds about to be made. Let not the privilege to do your share find you unprepared.

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

Col. MacKenzie, D.S.O. Met Hero's Death

So Says Capt. Major In Letter Home From Overseas

Capt. R. A. Major, M.C. now in a convalescent hospital in England, in a letter home, pays a high tribute to his late commanding officer, Lieut. Colonel A. E. G. MacKenzie, D.S.O.

of the famous 26th New Brunswick battalion.

He writes: The colonel was indeed a splendid man, always used good judgment in the field, and was absolutely fearless. In fact, it was in disregard of his own safety that he got about seven bullets in him. He went ahead under fire to encourage the men, when a machine gunner got a range on him. He had never before received a scratch. On August 8 when I was last wounded, there were four of us together and within ten minutes all were hit except the colonel, who however three weeks later met his heroic death."

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of frezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, itching corn soon relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Chathamian man, who says that, while frezone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without burning or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whitening of his corns, but lift this out and make him say "Yes!"

Drastic Measures Adopted in Australia Regarding War Loans

Melbourne, Oct. 15—Hon. William Alexander Watt, acting prime minister and federal treasurer, explaining to the representatives in the federal parliament the bill for providing for compulsory subscriptions to the commonwealth's war loans, said the government could not risk any failure which would mean leaving still further upon imperial aid which had already been asked to do much. Therefore all persons whose taxable income exceeded £250 sterling yearly would be compelled to subscribe a sum equal to six times their yearly income tax. The government was well aware that many who were able to lend had not yet subscribed whilst others had not subscribed enough. All non-contributors would be liable to substantial penalties.

Under the federal scheme of compulsory contributions to the war loans companies and other bodies in case of income from property.

The federal government has taken over all woolen mills.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row
That mark our place, and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below
We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow
Loved and were loved, and now we lie

In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe,
To you from falling hands we throw
The torch—be yours to hold it high;
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

In Flanders fields.

—Lt. Col. Dr. John McCrae.
REQUIESCAT IN PACE

Know ye, who slumber row on row
America's ALL will she bestow!
We've caught your Torch—will hold it high—
We'll ne'er break faith with those who die

For Liberty!

Though we, too lie where poppies grow

In Flanders fields.

THE POSSIBILITIES OF IRRIGATION

Wheat on one of the Veterans' Farms, near Tilley, Alberta.

What surprises a person most when travelling through the irrigated areas of Southern Alberta is the wonderful variety of crops that can be successfully grown there.

Squash grows with irrigation at Brooks, Alberta.

Wheat, of course, is the dominant crop there as it is in those areas of Western Canada where irrigation is not practised.

and excellent flavor, cantaloupes, watermelons, tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers, to say nothing of giant cauliflower and cabbages, early and late, and all varieties, carrots, turnips, beets, all kinds of beans and many other vegetables flourish; and which produce the most delicious strawberries, raspberries, gooseberries and other small fruits—this land will, no doubt, be used to grow more of these things in the future.

The advantage to the farmer of great diversity of crops cannot be too greatly emphasized. He is able to make his plans for the future with greater certitude. He can devote his chief attention to crops that remunerate him best. He is not greatly influenced by the fluctuations of the markets, and when any of his products are down others are likely to be up.

Belgian Coast Now Cleared of Enemy

Ostend, Zeebrugge, Bruges and Lille all Occupied by Allied Troops Who Continue to Sweep Forward

Wednesday

Hostilities are proceeding without cessation, and as in days past the forces of the Allies everywhere are defeating the enemy. In Belgium Flanders, the British, Belgian and French troops under King Albert are sweeping forward for further material gains in the process of driving the invader from Belgian soil; on the front in France, the British, French and Americans are hard after the Germans and are making progress, although slowly as a result of the strenuous defence that is being offered.

In Albania the Entente troops are well to the north of Durazzo on the Adriatic Sea, and in Serbia a considerable distance beyond Nish, with the enemy falling back toward the frontier of Austria-Hungary.

In the Palestine theatre the British cavalry has driven far to the north and northwest of Damascus, having reached Tripoli near the Mediterranean coast, forty-five miles from Beirut and Homs, eighty-five miles north of Damascus.

In Flanders, Thourout, at the head of the railway leading to Bruges, and numerous villages to the south have been taken, while Courtrai, the junction point of the railway to Ghent, is almost entirely surrounded. Large numbers of prisoners and many additional guns have been captured by the Belgian, French and British troops, who are carrying out the operation.

To the south of the region the Germans are continuing to withdraw, closely followed by the British, who are within two and a half miles and three and three-quarter miles of Lille, respectively southwest and west of the city.

In the Champagne regions, where the French and Americans are driving their way northward, Reims, the important junction point for the railways running to Metziers and other points inside the enemy-held territory, is all but captured by the French. Eastward the Americans also have again pressed slightly forward.

Thursday

Over a front of forty miles, from the North Sea in Belgium to Lille, in northern France, the Germans are in general retreat before the British, French and Belgian armies. Likewise the enemy is being forced to concede defeat by retrograde movements before the British and Americans southeast of Cambrai; under the attacks of the French in the pocket between the Oise and Sambre rivers north of Laon, and by means of continued strong attacks by the French and Americans in Champagne and along the Meuse river.

Nowhere, however, is the enemy in disorder. In Belgian-Flanders his steps are being hastened by reason of the swift drives into his lines by the British at Lille just south of the Belgian border, and by the French and Belgians further north, which threaten to compel him to enter Dutch territory and face internment unless he is fleet enough to withdraw out of the entire pocket between the Scheldt river and the sea and reconstitute his line with its right wing resting on Antwerp.

Ostend, one of the famous submarine bases on the sea, is in British hands. Bruges is all but captured, while to the south from the region east of Roulers, the Allied forces are fast driving toward Ghent in an endeavor to seal the western Flanders sack and retain in it large elements of the enemy's forces. Strong opposition is being offered in the Courtrai sector to prevent the Allies from carrying out their manoeuvre, to the full. More than a score of additional villages have been liberated by the Allied troops and numerous guns and quantities of stores have been captured.

Southeast of Cambrai over a front of ten miles between Le Cateau and Bohain the British and Americans are delivering a violent attack against the Germans, and at last reports they were meeting with success, although the Germans were savagely resisting with machine guns and infantry and with artillery behind their line.

North of Laon in the sack between the Oise and the Serre rivers the French are endeavoring to drive out the Germans or capture them before they can make their way eastward to Hirson. Here also the enemy is using his machine gunners and artillery to stay the progress of the French, but nevertheless further gains have been recorded.

The greatest resistance of all, however, is still being imposed against the efforts of the French and Americans in Champagne and along the Meuse river where the holding of the line is essential to stave off a general retreat by the Germans all the way from Belgium to the Swiss frontier. The French in Champagne are still fighting hard to capture Reims, but the Germans thus far have been able to hold this important position in their own hands. North of Grand Pre both the French and Americans have made further progress over the difficult ground especially severe have been the hardships suffered by the Americans in encompassing the natural fortifications and the attacks by hordes of enemy machine gunners.

Before the Americans, the Germans are giving ground only inch by inch Saturday

The Belgian coast, again in Belgian Germany's dream of an invasion of England across the North Sea from Calais is ended.

Belgian Flanders is fast being evacuated by the enemy, and his line from the Belgian frontier to the Meuse river gradually giving way under the attacks of the British, French and American armies.

A haven of safety in a shorter and more compact line is being sought by the Germans in order to escape annihilation by their foes. Everywhere they are being whipped. But seemingly they are still far from defeat.

In Belgium the enemy is giving ground hastily in order to bring his armies safely out of the trap which menaces them; but from the French frontier to the Meuse river he still is fighting desperately to hold back the lower jaw of the great Foch pincher from closing in a great converging movement and entrapping in its maw the German fighting force in its entirety. And thus far he has successfully, through the use of picked troops and machine gunners who know defeat only in death, warded off the culminating blow.

Zeebrugge, Germany's second great submarine base on the North Sea, has gone the way of Ostend. The flag of Belgium once more flies over it. To the south Bruges has been evacuated and Turooting, Roubaix and other towns have been delivered.

Out of the great sack between the North Sea and the Lys river the enemy is fleeing fast in an endeavor to prevent capture or internment in Holland. His hope is that he will be able to reach Antwerp and there reconstitute his line from the Dutch frontier through Antwerp and Namur to some point in the south, probably Sedan or Metz, and stabilize it, for the moment, at least, to the Swiss frontier.

Sunday
Victory crowns the allied armies on every battlefield. Northern Belgium is being rapidly cleared of the enemy by British and Belgian forces. 15,000 Germans cut off from their retreat, are reported to have withdrawn into Holland, where they were interned. Ghent, it is predicted, will fall at an early date, and the French by a swift stroke along an extended line have put their forces within two miles of Tournai.

British troops have crossed the Sclde River, have reconquered Solesmes and have had hard fighting not

Mother is Well Now

Your Noise Does Not Disturb Me Any More—It is a Pleasure to Hear You Romp and Play.

"It is like a dream now to think of the long, weary months I spent in nervous helplessness. Some days I would be cheered by feeling better, but only to slip back again, and to be more than ever discouraged.

"I had always been very active. Had a wide acquaintance and did much entertaining. In addition to helping in whatever was going on at the church, there was Red Cross work to be done, and all the time I had my little family to look after and could not get help.

"I suppose I tried to do too much, for I got so I could not sleep at nights and always felt tired out in the mornings. Then I would have headaches and did not seem to care for my meals.

"Instead of the usual ambition and energy I found myself putting off the duties of the day. I got behind with the housework, and this worried me.

"I did not think that I was sick, but only tired. However, the time came when I did not get up in the morning. I simply could not. The doctor came and said, "Nervous Prostration." It seems I had kept on the go until the nervous system was wrung dry of all nerve force.

"Then came the long, weary weeks, and weeks dragged into months, without finding much improvement. I was completely discouraged and almost devoid of hope.

"But one day a friend told me of her experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and she was so sure that this treatment would do me good that I decided to give it a chance.

"I need scarcely say that there were some dark, discouraging days after beginning the use of the Nerve Food, but as my appetite and digestion improved I felt that I was gradually getting back the old-time vigor. Sleep became more natural and refreshing. The dark days passed and I began to take a more cheerful view of the future. Then I began to plan what I would do when I got around again. The house must be decorated and the children brought home, for I had to send them to my sister's on account of the way their noise disturbed me.

"Now I feel that I am entirely well again, and without hesitation give the credit to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I cannot tell you the pleasure it gives me to be restored to my husband and children after the long period of helplessness."

only in the sector around that town, but at St. Prihon to the east. Here the British have captured more than 2,000 prisoners.

Fighting desperately to hold their position to the north and south of Le Cateau, the Germans on a front of forty miles have massed nearly half a million men.

The British third army is smashing its way forward to the south of Valenciennes. Success so far has attended this effort. The American forces operating in conjunction with the British north of Wassigny have advanced to the Sambre-Oise Canal. They occupied Reput, east of St. Souplet, at the point of the bayonet.

On the front in Russia a severe defeat with the loss of 1,000 men killed has been inflicted on the Bolsheviks in the Yekaterinburg district by Czecho Slovak and Siberian forces.

Monday

Dr. Solf, the German secretary of foreign affairs has sent another message to President Wilson on the important question of peace. This time Germany professes to accept all the conditions for an armistice and eventual peace as laid down by President Wilson.

The reply though couched in vague and complex phrases, indicates Germany's willingness to evacuate occupied territory under an agreement to be reached by the military chiefs in the field. It is announced, in the note that all submarine commanders have been ordered to cease attacks upon passenger vessels. Denial is made that lifeboats and passengers have ever purposely been destroyed or that any authorized atrocities have been committed by German troops. It is declared that Germany now has a parliamentary form of government responsible to the people.

In the war theatre the Allied armies have taken no heed of the efforts under way for the re-establishment of peace, but are continuing to force back the Germans at vital points along the lines in Belgium and France.

The British have approached to within two miles of Valenciennes, and the Americans, to the northwest of Verdun have succeeded in occupying two highly important positions.

American and British troops have crossed the Oise Canal on a wide front in the face of desperate resistance.

The Valenciennes-Hirson railway has been cut off.

The west bank of the Scheldt Canal has been occupied by the British along an extent of ten miles to the north of Tournai, which city is being defended by masses of German armed with machine guns.

Belgium is gradually being reconquered, although now that the Germans have drawn in their lines, the British, Belgians and French are encountering much stiffer opposition than during the early days of the great drive for the re-occupation by the Allies of the Belgian coast. The city of Ghent, is yet seven miles away. Probably it will be outflanked from the north before it is taken.

Having cleared the Germans out of western Belgium, the Allied forces are standing on a line from the Dutch frontier to the Oise Canal that is virtually straight. A new movement has begun to the east of Courtrai, the object of which is to free the northern section of Belgium from the enemy.

French troops have reached the Danube River in the region of Vidin after offensive operations in the eastern theatre of the war lasting for more than a month. The economic independence of Hungary is to be proclaimed at an early date in a manifesto which it is reported, will be issued by Emperor Charles. Hungary will be permitted to maintain her own army and her own diplomatic corps.

Letters From Overseas Tell of
Death of Lieut. Fred Moore
In Action

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Moore, whose only son, Claude, made the supreme sacrifice in the service of the empire, have received the following letters bearing testimony to that which their host of friends know, the splendid qualities of their deceased hero. The letters which explain themselves read as follows.

August 30 1918
My Dear Mrs. Moore: By the time you receive this you will have been advised of Claude's gallant death in action while attacking the enemy line. Your heart will be torn with grief over your loss and to your dear friends and yours may I express my sincere sympathy in your bereavement.

Claude and I have pals and partners since November last and this is our first separation. He was the most genuine pal I could possibly have had and his cheerfulness and unselfishness were characteristics appreciated by his brother officers and men under him.

I saw him daily before his death and on Sunday night I had a few words with him: He was in the support trenches and was in command of (A) Company during the temporary absence of the company commander. He was just about to bring up the company to the point where the attack would commence. The Colonel had selected him to take command owing to his previous experience and thorough training. Later he must have been rejoined by his company commander for he was severely wounded in the same battle. Claude's servant is missing and as yet I have only been able to get scattered details. Later I will write again and let you know. With a party of men he had gone ahead of our front line and established an outpost to keep the enemy back. His position was in a valley and in the distance an enemy machine gun fired from his right flank up the valley. Death must have been instantaneous. The Colonel told me last night that Claude had done exceptionally good work during the attack and his fearlessness and courage in pushing on against the enemy had inspired all the platoon who would have followed him anywhere. At least half of them were in action for the first time and Claude was their leader and their example.

Death is hard to bear but it must be consolation to you all to know that he fell fighting hard and took part in a great battle, one of the greatest where we alone regained our frontage about 8,000 yards of French soil from the enemy who either surrendered or fled when we came up to them. No soldier could have a more heroic death, and it is the memory of such brave men as your son that will be handed down through history with reverence, respect and appreciation. We do not know what the next hour will bring and must be prepared to accept whatever responsibility may be put upon us.

I am writing now only a few hundred yards from the scene of Monday morning's battle but the enemy is miles from here today with fresh men of ours in pursuit. Today we follow in motor buses and lorries so I am writing you at once. Our own particular share was two days hard fighting and from my battalion fourteen officers are casualties. Yesterday morning our troops had their first bit of rest and my platoon sergeant, found Claude's body and had it brought to the battalion. I saw it yesterday afternoon before he was finally laid to rest and I can assure you he was not in any way disgraced or marred. His grave is with the others on the battlefield less than a thousand yards from Maricourt west side) just off the main road between Bray and Maricourt on the side nearest the Somme River.

The letters I enclose were in his pocket when killed. When I return to the battalion rest camp I will get together what personal articles of his I can, provided they have not already been forwarded to Cox and Co. 16 Charing Cross, London on your behalf. Cox and Co. are our bankers and agents.

I miss him greatly for he was always cheery and bright and we were never separated, so in your loss I share to a degree.

He always regarded me as a trusted confidant and I realize how deeply he loved you all at home and how happy he was when mail came from you all and how proud of little sister.

My work this trip has been of a different nature and less dangerous, so I have much to be thankful for.

In sincere sympathy and heartfelt consolation, I send you my best wishes.

Yours very sincerely,
E. STUART DAVIDSON

September 2, 1918
Dear Sir: It is with the greatest regret that I have to inform you of the death of your son, Lieut. C. L. Moore, killed in action on 26th August in an assault on the enemy lines.

He had only been with us a short time but in that time he had proved his worth and capacity as an officer. He held his platoon on the 26th with great dash and gallantry but unfortunately came under heavy machine gun fire and was shot down. His example and disregard of self was an inspiration to his men and I deeply regret the loss of such a very promising officer. We brought his body in later and he was buried near Bray.

Please accept my sincerest sympathy and I only trust it may be some consolation to you in your sorrow to know that he died a true soldier's death at the head of his men in action.

I am dear sir,
Yours very truly,
C. E. JOHNSTON,
Lieut.-Col.

3rd September, 1918
Dear Mrs. Moore: By the time this letter reaches you, you will have heard of the death of your son, Lieut. C. L. Moore, of this battalion. He was killed in the great British attack of August 25-26 whilst leading his men in action, and his death was instantaneous.

During the short time he was with us out here he was liked and respected by all for his good soldierly qualities and his death a great loss to us. His body is buried in a British cemetery near Bray and a cross is being erected on the spot.

I am sure officers and men alike, who know him will join with me in expressing our deep sympathy with you in your loss.

Yours sincerely,
C. F. RICHARDS,
Chaplain, 7th London Regt.

From: Lieut.-Col. Sir Peter C. van E. Stewart-Bam, Commanding 7th (Res.) Batt. The London Regiment.
To: Mr. F. H. Moore,
257 Lutz Street,
Moncton, N. B. Canada

Dear Mr. Moore:
I am writing to you on behalf of myself and my brother officers and all ranks of the 7th London to deeply sympathize with you in the death of your son, 2nd Lieut. Moore who was killed in action on the 26th August. It seems only a few days ago that your boy went overseas. He was with this Battalion for sometime, and I was able to see a good deal of him, and I always found him very enthusiastic about his work. I am sorry to say that our casualties have been very heavy.

I have not yet had a photograph of your son. If you have one to spare I shall be so glad if you can let me have it. I thank you in anticipation. Again in deepest sympathy and with kind regards,
Yours sincerely,
P. C. van E. Stewart-Bam.

You Need More Than A Laxative

To correct constipation, all organs of digestion and elimination should be helped. Try NR and see how much better you feel.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

To live and be healthy, your body mechanism must properly digest your food, extract all the nutriment from it and promptly throw off the waste that is left. This is accomplished by the processes of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the work of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. The failure of any of the vital organs to do its work properly attracts the action of all the others. A forced bowel movement does not help constipation; it only relieves for a few hours the condition that constipation brings about.

Now if you are used to taking so-called laxative pills, oil, purges and the like, you know exactly what you've got to be taking them all the time. Moreover, if you stick to any one laxative, you've got to be increasing the dose all the time. That can do you a lot of harm.

Stop dosing yourself with such things just long enough to give Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) a trial, and let the results show the difference. NR Tablets are not mere bowel movers, their purpose is to correct the condition that induces constipation and give you real, genuine, lasting benefit; to improve your digestion and assimilation, give you a good hearty appetite, regulate your liver and bowels, tone up kidney action and give your poison-clogged body a good cleaning out.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is not harsh; it is mild, easy, pleasant in action; no griping or pain ever follows its use; but it is thorough and sure. By its action on the digestive organs it promotes assimilation, which means extraction of full nutriment from your food, and thereby gives you new strength, energy, better blood, better appetites. By toning, not stirring your lazy liver, NR sends bile into the intestines, improving intestinal digestion. Lastly, by gently encouraging more vigorous bowel and kidney action, NR drives poisonous impurities out of and cleans up your body.

Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and just see how much better you feel in every way. Get a 25c box today and take one each night for a week. You'll say you never felt better in your life. NR is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

No Censorship On This Entertainment

Although the Provincial Health Department has put the ban on all entertainments, we are not of the opinion that it applied to a couple of love sick swains who held down a bench in the public square on Sunday afternoon, and gave a highly creditable exhibition, of hugging, kissing and love making in general for the benefit of the large crowd that had gathered to witness the performance. The young man, who, by the way, was dressed in khaki, and wore two service stripes on his arm, was no doubt the one, the author had in mind when he wrote that popular song, "If he can fight like he can love, Goodnight Germany"
