CHAPTER XXI.
AN ASTOUNDING LETTER.

The whole of the Eastbourne party were, of course, present, hoping, in spite of their own opinions, to see Kenneth score another triumph; so, too, Messrs. Ashley, Redham, and Montagu were very interested spectators. Lord Overbury occupied a seat on the bench, and Mr. Edward Burnett, as he said afterward, watched the case in the interests of both parties.

When Lillas entered the box, radiant with beauty, and very quietly yet exquisitely dressed, an irrefragable murmur ran through the crowded court. If anything, her loveliness was heightened by a faint flush on her cheeks, and perhaps a brighter gleam in her eyes. In an instant every man in the audience had decided in her favor. If the law didn't give the disputed fortune to this lovely woman, well, then, in Mr. Weller's immortal phrase, "the law was a haas."

The verdict of the women was by no means so unanimous, possibly for the reason that although there were many pretty and even beautiful women present, there was not one of them who would have cared to challenge comparison with the incarnation of absolute loveliness which stood in the witness box, facing them with a subdued confidence to calm that it almost amounted to an affront.

"Your name is Lillas Ashley, and your maiden name was Castellian, I believe?" said Kenneth, in his coldest professional tone.

"Yes, you state the truth!" replied a voice whose sweetness seemed like notes of music falling through the silence.

"When you were between seventeen and eighteen, the late Sir Arthur Eversley, who was then a lieutenant of lancers, fell in love with you, and asked you to marry him?"

"Yes."

"You refused his offer, under pressure from your father and other relatives, chiefly on account of your youth and his lack of prospects?"

"Yes."

"And you subsequently married your late husband, also under family pressure?"

"Yes."

"You became a widow under very painful circumstances, I understand?"

"Yes; my husband shot himself because he was ruined by the failure of the Markham group of mining companies."

Was this the absolute candor of perfect innocence, or a transcendent stroke of dramatic genius? Clearly and softly spoken as the words were, they fell like so many hammer strokes on the ears of the astounded audience. Even the judge gave a perceptible start, and most of the assembled lawyers looked straight down at the tables in front of them.

There was a moment's pause of intense expectation, and then Kenneth asked, in exactly the same tone as before:

"And about three months after your husband's death you met Sir Arthur Eversley quite by accident, outside Swan & Edgar's, in Regent Street?"

"Yes."

"And you refused?"

"Yes."

"On what grounds?"

"I told him that he needed a nurse rather than a wife, and that I absolutely declined to fill both positions."

"Good again!" murmured Mr. Burnett to himself. "Never saw a better witness! Clever and well coached. Jarvis won't get much out of her."

"Did you afterward consent to act in conjunction with your aunt as his nurse, on the understanding that if he was restored to perfect health you would marry him?"

"Yes."

"And Sir Arthur then agreed to be treated at Doctor Mathews' house at Hampstead, where he died?"

"Yes."

"Now, Mrs. Ashley, I am going to ask you a question which, although it is a somewhat delicate one to put to a lady in your position, I know you will answer truly. During the time that Sir Arthur Eversley was a patient at Doctor Mathews' house did you use, or allow to be used any means whatever of persuading him to make a will in your favor?"

"Hang it all," whispered Nevil Jarvis to the junior sitting next to him, "this is rather too clever! They are not going to leave me a question to ask; but it's admirably got up."

"After dinner did Sir Arthur ask you to marry him?"

"Yes."

"And you refused?"

"Yes."

"On what grounds?"

"I told him that he needed a nurse rather than a wife, and that I absolutely declined to fill both positions."

"Good again!" murmured Mr. Burnett to himself. "Never saw a better witness! Clever and well coached. Jarvis won't get much out of her."

"Did you afterward consent to act in conjunction with your aunt as his nurse, on the understanding that if he was restored to perfect health you would marry him?"

"Yes."

"And Sir Arthur then agreed to be treated at Doctor Mathews' house at Hampstead, where he died?"

"Now, Mrs. Ashley, I am going to ask you a question which, although it is a somewhat delicate one to put to a lady in your position, I know you will answer truly. During the time that Sir Arthur Eversley was a patient at Doctor Mathews' house did you use, or allow to be used any means whatever of persuading him to make a will in your favor?"

"Certainly not. I never knew that such a will was in existence until Sir Arthur was dead."

This time the voice which had so gently repeated the monotonous "yes," had a note of anger, almost of de-fance, in it.

"Thank you," said Kenneth, sitting down.

Nevil Jarvis rose, amid the intense hush of an audience expecting great things.

"Mrs. Ashley, I shall not detain you very long," he began, speaking in a full, deep, rather hard, tone. "I shall only trouble you to tell me whether, on mature consideration, you are prepared to repeat, on your oath, that you did not, in the language of my learned friend, use or permit to be used, any influence to persuade Sir Arthur Eversley to make a will in your favor, and that you did not know that such a will had been made until he was dead?"

"Why not be candid, Mr. Jarvis, and accuse me of perjury at once?" she said, with a splendid flash of indignation. "Of course I am."

"Thank you; that will do," said Nevil Jarvis, and sat down to the accompaniment of a murmur of mingled merriment and disappointment.

The next witness was Mr. Arthur Ashley, cousin of the testator, who swore that he went with Sir Arthur Eversley to his solicitors and saw the will drawn up, witnessed, and signed. To the best of his belief, Mrs. Ashley had no knowledge of the making of the will. As the testator's cousin, he was naturally disappointed in the provisions of the will. There was no doubt that the will was the real expression of his cousin's wishes, and there was an end of it.

Again the brilliant Nevil Jarvis utterly disappointed his audience by saying that he had no questions to ask.

Then followed the senior partner of the eminent firm of solicitors who had charge of Sir Arthur's affairs, and deposed that, to the best of his belief, the testator was both in the legal and the moral sense absolutely capable of making a will, and, in fact, very much better, both in mental and physical health, than he had known him to be since his return to England. He had not the slightest doubt as to the validity of the will.

Again Mr. Jarvis had no questions to ask.

The distinguished solicitor was followed by Miss Holroyd and Doctor Mathews, who both swore positively they knew nothing of any influence being brought to bear on Sir Arthur; and Miss Holroyd added that she was just as ignorant as her niece was of the existence of the will till after his death.

That was the case for the respondent.

After this it was plainly evident that the case for the respondent was overwhelmingly stronger than the somewhat feeble case of the petitioner, which had been heard the day before. The learned leaders indulged in another hour's dignified wrangle, and then, after five minutes' whispered conversation, their lordships delivered judgment in favor of the will.

That evening Kenneth dined at Othello Mansions, Miss Holroyd, overcome by the fatigue and excitement of the day, begged him to excuse her immediately after the dinner, and retired.

Then, in the little drawing-room, Kenneth reminded Lillas of the permission she had given him on that moonlight evening at Eastbourne.

She looked up at him, with smiling lips and eyes radiant with delight, and her smile was more dazzling to him, at that moment, than any golden remark.

"You have made me a rich woman, Kenneth, but you have done more than that—you have made me a happy one."

Then, with a boyish laugh, to express a man's deep joy, he took her in his arms.

Kenneth went home that night, as he firmly believed, the happiest and most blessed man on earth.

When he got to his chambers the next morning, he found among his letters one from his learned leader, which ran thus:

"My Dear Markham: I have just received notice from the home office that the home secretary has granted an application to have the grave of the late Sir Arthur Eversley opened, and the body exhumed, sufficient prima-facie evidence of the administration of poison having been laid before him to justify him in taking this step. I hope that this is not the real reason for the extraordinary conduct of Nevil Jarvis in refraining from all cross-examination yesterday. Yours faithfully,

"Ah!—no! no! Lillas—"

General Sympathy Strike Called Off.

Irish Hunger Strikers Released From Gaol -- The Emerald Isle Has Many Troubles--Lord Byng Heads London Police Force -- German Reichswehr Murdering Civilians.

BYNG BECOMES CHIEF OF LONDON POLICE.

LONDON, April 14. The Daily Chronicle says Lord Byng, formerly Canadian Commander, will succeed General MacCreedy as Chief of the London Police. General MacCreedy arrived in Ireland today as the new Commander-in-Chief.

IRELAND'S TROUBLES.

DUBLIN, April 14. The general strike declared yesterday in protest against the treatment of Irish hunger strikers in Mount Joy Prison, continued today with added tenseness and increased fears of serious developments. Sixty thousand workers in Dublin alone are on strike and a feeling of pronounced excitement prevailed throughout the capital. The general expectation hereabout with regard to the hunger strikers, based upon last night's debate in the House of Commons in London, is that the Government, although refusing to release the political prisoners, will make some concessions in their treatment to secure the termination of the hunger strike. Reports were that the general strike was gaining ground meanwhile.

CORK, April 14.

The strike situation was not much changed to-day, but the feeling is becoming more intense. Shops were opened for a few hours this morning for the sale of foodstuffs.

BELFAST, April 14.

Soldiers fired ball cartridges over the heads of crowds gathered at Londonderry Station to-day and two civilians were wounded by ricocheting bullets.

LONDON, April 14.

Andrew Bonar Law, Government spokesman, said in the House of Commons to-day that the Irish Government had decided to treat those prisoners in Mount Joy Prison, who were arrested on suspicion by competent military authority differently from other classes of prisoners and that they would receive ameliorative treatment.

DUBLIN, April 14.

All hunger strikers among political prisoners in Mount Joy Jail, who are considered in danger by the prison doctor, will be released the Lord Mayor, in addressing a crowd this afternoon said the Viceroy had informed him. It is understood that the strike will be declared off to-night. It was reported that four of the prisoners had collapsed and deaths among them might be momentarily expected.

LONDON, April 14.

Most of the morning newspapers do not comment on Andrew Bonar Law's address in the House of Commons, in which he announced that the Government would not alter its policy with regard to hunger strike of Irish political prisoners held in Mount Joy Jail in Dublin. The Times, however, condemned the Government's policy.

REICHSWEHR MURDERS.

ESSEN, April 14.

(By the A.P.)—Twenty-six persons were shot dead and two seriously wounded by members of the Reichswehr, who got beyond control of their officers last Wednesday in the Triangular District between Dotrop, Essen and Mulheim, according to a statement made to a correspondent by Col. Von Baumbach, Commander of the Reichswehr.

ANOTHER SERIOUS EXPLOSION.

BRUSSELS, April 14.

Two hundred persons are believed to have been killed as a result of an explosion in the chemical factory at Stolberg, near Alex-la-Chapelle, Rhenish Prussia.

THE RAILWAY STRIKE SERIOUS.

BOSTON, April 14.

New England was confronted today with almost complete isolation so far as rail transportation of food, coal and raw material was concerned. The situation caused by stringent freight embargoes on through lines of railroads, due to the strike of railroad workers outside the district, hourly was becoming more serious. Industrial establishments in every New England State have begun to feel severely the inability to procure raw materials and warehouses are filled with finished products that cannot be shipped out of the district.

Volcanic Eruptions Common and Uncommon.

On Thursday, April 15, 1906, commenced one of the violent eruptions of the volcano of Mount Vesuvius, close to Naples, on the south west coast of Italy. It was in A.D. 79 that one such buried the cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum, and more than two hundred thousand persons, including Pliny, the philosopher of Nature, who had gone to inspect this scene. The buried remains of these cities have since been repeatedly visited and explored. Thirty-four more eruptions of this volcano occurred up till 1767, and about twenty more before this one in 1906, when the village of Bosco-Tre-Casse was destroyed by streams of lava from a new crater, fifty persons losing their lives. Naples was darkened by a shower of ashes, whose weight caused the roof of its Monte Olivet market to sink, killing twelve persons and wounding more than one hundred and twenty others. The church of San Giuseppe (or Saint Joseph) suffered a similar collapse, about two hundred being slain in it; and about five hundred injured. On April 27 King Edward the Seventh and Queen Alexandra visited Naples and gave £300 towards a relief fund. King Alfonso of Spain and Queen Eugenie made a similar visit of sympathy. Besides Etna, in Sicily, and Hecla, in Iceland, more than two hundred volcanoes active in modern times, are now known to Europeans in different parts of the world. They serve as apparently the safety-valves of the earth, whose metals, melted by its internal heat, rush towards them to find an outlet. But occasionally, when the surface of the earth from some cause has fallen off, these molten substances have appeared in most unusual spots, causing great surprise. This happened on Saturday, March 31, 1733, on the sea-coast of Ireland. In the county of Kerry, where the river Shannon enters the sea, pieces of the cliff up to 500 feet in height, sometimes fell into the water, and on this occasion smoke was noticed with a strong, sulphurous smell. Science could distinguish the alum that is used for dyeing, and coppers, that is employed for making ink, amongst the melted matters issuing from this fountain.

Wedding Bells.

STAFFORD-WYATT.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized by the Lord Bishop of Newfoundland at the Church of England Cathedral last evening at 7 p.m., when Lily Louise Stafford, youngest daughter of the late Dr. Stafford, was united in Holy Matrimony to Herbert Ernest Wyatt, Chief Electrician in the Western Union Telegraph Co. Heart's Content, and son of H. R. Wyatt, Liverpool. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. Hitchcock, and attended by her sister, Miss Amy. The groom was supported by Mr. Bennett Stafford, brother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt leave by the S. S. Sachem for an extended continental tour. The Telegram joins with the numerous friends of the contracting parties in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt a pleasant and lengthy voyage on matrimonial seas.

OVERWORKED RUN-DOWN MEN

Vinol Will Enrich Your Blood and Restore Your Strength, Vitality, Energy and Vim

Recommended by Physicians, and Guaranteed by Druggists

Men who are over-worked, run down, nervous, lack energy and working strength, we know that VINOL is just what you need, as it increases the red corpuscles, enriches the blood, quickens the circulation and imparts strength and vigor to every organ and muscle in the body. The reason VINOL is so successful is because it is a combination of the oldest and most successful tonics known. Iron, Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Glycerophosphates, etc., and what VINOL did for Mr. Joseph J. McDougall, of Cape Breton, N. S., it will do for every weak, run-down, nervous, over-worked man.

Mr. McDougall says: "I am a farmer and was over-worked, run-down and weak. My druggist recommended VINOL. It built me up and made me strong. I also gained in flesh. Other members of my family have also used it with splendid results." For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, over-worked men, feeble old people and delicate children there is no remedy like VINOL. Your druggist will return your money if it fails to benefit you.

Methodist National Campaign.

The enthusiasm manifested on Monday and Tuesday evenings, was as evident at the gathering in the College Hall last night.

Every Divisional Commander and twenty-four Team Captains, with their teams almost 100 per cent. strong, were in attendance. A conference held earlier in the day with Revs. Arnup and Bryce, brought into the city many of the Ministers from Conception Bay and Trinity Bay Circuits. The Conference was presided over by the President of the Conference, and will result in a clearer understanding of the magnitude and importance of the M.N.C. which will reach the people on the Circuits represented, and make for ultimate success.

These Ministers were also present in the College Hall and were much interested by the Reports submitted and the methods of the City Campaigners. The programme of the evening consisted of a light repast, then reports of the canvases for the day and addresses by Mr. W. Drover and Mr. W. H. Hollett, of Burin.

The Question of the Hour!

WHAT IS HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GOING TO DO?

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—All about the town, people are asking what is His Excellency the Governor going to do in the matter of that serious charge made under oath against Hon. R. A. Squires and Hon. M. P. Gibb. Surely it is high time that action were taken. If we are to continue our belief that under the British flag justice must be meted out to rich and poor alike, we must feel assured that the representative of that flag and all it stands for is not a man to close his eyes to his duty. We see the Union Jack, that grand old flag for which we all have respect and for which our sons laid down their lives, daily flying at Government House; and while it flutters in the breeze, a feeling of assurance that fair play to all, irrespective of class or creed, will be dealt out. Take that feeling out of the community, aye, even cause the least little bit of doubt as to the sincerity of this assurance, and dismal is the outlook for us in the future. Time is passing. Even now we hear mutterings among the people of one law for the rich and another for the poor. Stop this sentiment in its infancy, or we may awake to find a condition of doubt existing in the minds of the entire country that can only lead to a grave situation.

All we want is square dealing. We do not desire that any man be convicted without a trial. But we do not want a serious charge of crime winked out of sight. And the sooner that trial is called, the sooner the people will be satisfied, and feel Justice is alive in Newfoundland to-day, and not as some people openly aver—a thing of the past, as far as the rich and those in high places are concerned.

Yours truly,
SINCERITY.

April 14, 1920.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Paddon are leaving by the Schem on a visit to the Old Country.

The Governor and Lady Harris are this afternoon holding an "At Home" at Government House.

DID WELL WITH COLLECTION.—Gratifying success was experienced yesterday by the ladies who were collecting for the purchase price of the battlefield of Beaumont-Hamel, in France. The canvas was carried on thoroughly and with energy.

K. of C. Ladies' Association.

ORGANIZED ON SUNDAY LAST.

A meeting of the lady friends of the Knights of Columbus was held in Columbus Hall on Sunday afternoon last. About 250 ladies attended and intense interest and enthusiasm was manifested in the formation of a Ladies' Association to further the social activities and the educational and philanthropic work of the Council. The Grand Knight, Mr. C. J. Cahill, presided, assisted by the members of the Executive and House Committees, and he explained to the meeting the nature of the proposed organization, setting forth the aims which it is hoped may be accomplished with the active aid and co-operation of such a valuable auxiliary. The Council has undertaken the work of erecting a Memorial School to commemorate the valor and self-sacrifice of members of the Order who gave their lives in the Great War, and this undertaking, with other activities of a social and philanthropic nature in which the Council is engaged, will form an object worthy of the best efforts of the Council and its lady friends. The meeting decided to organize an association to be known as the Columbus Ladies' Association. The following officers were then elected:

President—Mrs. C. J. Cahill.
Vice-Pres.—Mrs. W. H. Tobin.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. V. O'Dea.
Asst. Treas.—Mrs. J. A. Mackenzie.
Secretary—Mrs. C. J. Howlett.
Asst. Secy.—Miss M. Mansfield.

A committee of the following ladies was also appointed to assist the Executive:

Mesdames J. Higgins, J. Kelly, A. Hiscock, T. H. Carter, W. P. Shortall; Misses Alice Byrne, May Cook, Rose Donnelly, May Kelly, Ida Howlett.

With such an energetic Executive and Committee, backed by the capable and competent members of the Association, the success of the new organization is a foregone conclusion, and practical results may confidently be looked for in the near future.

HOW YOU CAN TELL GENUINE ASPIRIN

Only Tablets with "Bayer Cross" are Aspirin—No others!

If you don't see the "Bayer Cross" on the tablets, refuse them—they are not Aspirin at all.

There is only one Aspirin, that marked with the "Bayer Cross"—all other tablets are only acid imitations. Look for the "Bayer Cross"! Then it is real Aspirin, for which there is no substitute.

Aspirin is not German but is made in America, and is owned by an American Company, all rights being purchased from the U. S. Government.

Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" have been proved safe by millions for Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—also larger "Bayer" packages, can be had at any drug store.

Aspirin is the trade mark (Newfoundland Registration No. 781) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

Friendly Society Had a Successful Sale.

The annual sale of work by the Girls Friendly Society held yesterday afternoon in the Presbyterian Hall proved a splendid success. Lady Harris attended and was met on arrival at the Hall by Lady Horwood and Mrs. H. Outerbridge, President and Secretary, respectively, of the Society, and introduced by His Lordship Bishop White, who spoke of the good cause for which the sale was being held, in aid of the Society's rooms and C. E. Orphanage.

In a brief speech in which she eulogized the work of the Friendly Societies, Lady Harris formally declared the Sale open. The wandy, jumble, tea, home cookery and children's tables, presided over by the officers and members of the G.F.S., were splendidly stocked and business was brisk all through the afternoon. The proceeds were even larger than last year. Among the visitors were Rev. Canon Jeeves, Rev. Canon Field and Rev. (Capt.) Clayton.

The annual Festival of the G.F.S. will take place on the 22nd inst., beginning with service at the Cathedral at 7 a.m., at which His Lordship Bishop White will deliver an address. In the evening a social hour will be spent at the Synod Building, and the prizes be presented by the Bishop.

Ladies' Costumes reduced to about quarter the original cost. Our prices are: $6.95, $8.95 and $12.95. We wish to make room for new goods to arrive, hence the reason for above reductions.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

YOU CAN DO IT.

RUTH CAMERON

I am very proud of myself to-day. I overcame a temptation yesterday—a temptation to have a cold in the head. There was a time when if I thought a cold was coming upon me I was fatalistic about it. I said, "Oh dear, I'm going to have a cold," and promptly had it.

When people told about remedies for colds, I listened with lack lustre eyes. I had tried different ones spasmodically and I had never had any success.

But in the past two years, when colds have been in such terrific dispute that a sneeze made one an object of suspicion both to oneself and everyone who heard it (can you imagine anyone taking snuff these days?)

At the first sneeze he would find people turning their backs on him and presently he would be left completely alone. I have adopted a different technique for the battle with a cold.

Why Colds Get the Better of Us.

I have gradually come to realize that cold germs are so well generalised that they are apt to make a counter attack when you attack them in any one direction. While you are attacking the germ army on one flank with pills, the other flank marches in and takes possession of throat, lungs or—least dangerous perhaps, but most miserable of all—your nose.

The thing to do is to attack on all flanks at once.

First and most important—attack the germs with all the rest you can get. Get a good long sleep. Take your breakfast in bed if that's possible (it's worth some inconvenience; cold would cause more). If you are a working man or woman, at the first sign of a cold, go home (at once, if possible; if not, at quitting time) and go right to bed and have your dinner in bed. Lie there and read and put your light out an hour earlier than usual. If you stay in bed for a day, so much the better. That rests you and keeps you from draughts.

Don't Get Chilled.

Second—keep warm. It's a good thing to have fresh air, but when you have that shivery feeling down your back, don't let yourself get the tiniest bit cool.

Third—use a good gargle and nose spray. Keep them constantly on hand and use them the second you feel the symptom of a cold, even if you have to get up in the night to do it.

Above All Things be Prompt.

Take a cathartic if you think there is the slightest need.

Do everything promptly. In nothing is time so much the essence of the contract as in fighting a cold.

Of course I'm not a doctor and perhaps I shall be reproved by the medical profession. You needn't take it too seriously if you don't want to, but those are my methods for simultaneous attack. And whether they are professional or not, they have one great merit—they work.

Unaccompanied Singing.

In the Sistine Chapel at Rome no musical instruments are permitted. The singing is purely vocal "a capelle." Since the earliest times this choir has been the model for thousands of other choirs throughout the world and it has been the ambition to have its character and quality unsurpassed.

In addition to this choir that of St. John Lateran is also renowned. This church was, according to tradition, started in the fourth century by Constantine himself.

The choir of St. Peter's was founded by Gregory the Great. For a time it served as a preparatory school for the choir of St. John Lateran. Many of the most famous musicians of Italy—Palestrina, Nanino, Anerio, Giovannielli and others—were identified with this choir.

WEIGHT REDUCTION.

MR. MACHO

I'm trying to reduce my weight. I'm eating many things I hate, attempting to grow thin; by following the diet game I hope to shrink my ample frame, and lose my double chin. I've cut out bread, and butter, too, and all things sweet, and liquid glue, and milk and clotted cream; and while I hope to lose a ton, the stunt I'm doing is no fun, existence is a scream. Oh, others seek the groaning board, and whack off victuaries with a sword, and eat whatever they please; and they may fill themselves with jam, indulge in gravy, pie and ham, and forty kinds of cheese. And I alone must sadly browse on fodder that was meant for cows, and shun the tempting things; the dinner bell for me no more bring tidings of good grub in store, it jars me when it rings. The dweller in the crowded flat, the artisan, the plutocrat, may eat whatever they wish; but I must boil a mess of straw, or feed on germproof prunes and slaw, and cheap denatured fish.

And while the mash of bran is mixed, my eyes are on my waistline fixed, and fixed thereon in vain; I do not lose a single pound, I starve where wholesome pies abound—is weight reduction sane?

Just Folks

THE POINT OF VIEW.
I can stand off and sneer at the conduct of Brown When Brown's winning fortune and local renown; I can say it's too bad that he's worshipping gold, And is losing the joys he will miss when he's old; But the fact still remains, when I'm through with his case, That I might do the same were I put in his place.

Oh, it's easy to talk and it's easy to preach And frown at the fruit which are out of our reach; It is easy to say that my neighbor is wrong In driving his horse, 'stead of jogging along; But the fact still remains, when my whining is through, That if I'd a fast horse, I might gallop him, too.

I fancy, while fortune still smiles from afar, That I wouldn't be as some other men are; I stand up and talk of the happiness which I would scatter about if I ever got rich.

But I know in my heart that if wealth came my way, I might be the same sort of rich man as they.

The man on the mountain sees more and may know Much that is missed by the man down below. And I in my station may well govern By the light that I have and the path I can see; But no one should say what another should do.

For Little Tots on Chilly Mornings.

For a Consideration

The opening of the House of Assembly is set for Tuesday next, 20th inst. Less than a week therefore is left for the Prime Minister to make refutation of the charges contained in the Woodford affidavit, wherein is made the amazing declaration that for a consideration, at the request of Messrs. Squires and Gibbs, the one Prime Minister, the other a member of the Legislative Council and a Solicitor of the Court,—being a King's Counsel, to boot,—Mr. Woodford was prepared to resign his seat in the Assembly as the duly elected representative of the District of Harbor Main, and did so tender his resignation to His Excellency the Governor, in accordance with the terms of the agreement, which resignation was accepted.

No denial of the three straight and specific charges has been offered by either of the legislators concerned. The story going the rounds that the Prime Minister has promised to make a full explanation—including some new and startling disclosures—when the House meets, is not satisfying to the electors of St. John's West, who are demanding that their representative, twice elected, clear his skirts or stand by the results of his piece of political jobbery. St. John's West cannot tolerate the conduct of the man, who posed as a very paragon of political purity in the general and bye-elections, a testimonial of which is given in the affidavit, made upon oath, by Mr. William Woodford, ex-Minister of the Crown, and St. John's West is not going to put up with any sidetracking of the issues at stake. Either Messrs. Squires and Gibbs are guilty of corrupt bargaining or they are innocent. So far neither of them have affirmed innocence or denied guilt, therefore the affidavit stands as their condemnation.

The consideration to be received by Mr. Woodford was the appointment to a position in the service of His Majesty's Government of Newfoundland, at a salary of Two thousand five hundred dollars per year, payable out of the general revenue. Not a bad little yearly screw at all, and who could blame Mr. Woodford for swallowing such a nicely gilded bait? But the men who entered into this bargain had no compunction whatever in saddling the taxpayers with the expense of their iniquitous transaction. Calmly and deliberately they made this offer, with no thought whatever of and for a defrauded public. The public pays, and when jobbing politicians want to purchase support they have no scruples whatever of making drafts on the Treasury to meet their nefarious desires. Alleged scandals were unearthed by the present Government upon their assumption of office, but neither the celebrated Green Peas nor the Plank exposures, which were proven to be manufactured for a purpose, pale into insignificance—even had they been genuine—beside this very newest involvement of the Prime Minister in a piece of political jobbery, more barefaced and salacious than any which have hitherto smirched the records of Newfoundland politics.

Police Court.

An outport man who was before Court yesterday charged with being drunk, was up again to-day. Yesterday his head was cut and bruised and he went to a doctor and got a script. The result was that he got drunk, got into a row, and made his head worse. He had to pay the doctor's fee.

A painter and a tailor were charged with breaking into the European Cafe last night. The chief offender was fined $25 for breaking in the entrance door; his chum for being drunk only paid $1. The midnight occurrence startled the Chinese Staff, who, however, manfully defended their dwell ing.

Young-Adams Co'y.

In the Great Society Drama "East Lynne."

To those present at last night's play in the Casino, who have read Mrs. Henry Wood's famous novel "East Lynne," the staging and acting must have thoroughly appealed. To those who have not read the book, there was presented to them a précis of the whole theme of a story which took England by storm at the time of its publication. "East Lynne" is a sentimental, sensational drama filled with thrilling climaxes, and grips an audience from start to finish, and as produced by the Young-Adams Company leaves nothing to be desired. Pathos, tragedy, comedy, love, true and mistaken, are corollaries of this play, and in the part of Lady Isabel, Miss Marjle Adams most capably maintained the role. Her wonderful acting at the close of the third act was superbly carried out, and in the subsequent scenes, she again proved her ability in the demonstration of the dual character of the misled wife of Archibald Carlyle (Mr. H. Wilnot Young) and Madame Vine, in which character she returns from Paris to watch over the children whom she deserted at the instance of the villain of the piece, Sir Francis Levison (Mr. Percy Norman), who played the part of the heartless lover to perfection. Miss Vivian Mayo as Barbara Hare, for jealousy of whom, Lady Isabel left her husband, and who married Carlyle after the granting of divorce, most splendidly delineated her role, but the award of the gods, last night at least, must go to Miss Gladys Butler, who played the mid-Victorian old maid, in the person of Miss Cornelia Carlyle, sister of Archibald, to perfection. Joyce, the lady's maid, taken by Miss Marguerite Young, was irreproachable and Dill, Mr. John J. Gregory, who also added a bit of the comic as the policeman who arrested Levison, was great. Lord Mount Severn, Lady Isabel's guardian, and Richard Hare, brother of Barbara, whose unjust imprisonment caused all the trouble, were ably and characteristically borne out by Messrs. Geo. C. Denton and Donald Mack. From beginning to end the audience thoroughly enjoyed the production, and during the passage of the acts, there were at times, but few dry eyes, spontaneous tribute to the powerful portrayals of the living characters. To-night "East Lynne" will be repeated. To-morrow and Saturday evenings, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," dramatised from the novel of John Fox, Jr., of the same name, will be offered. The C.C.C. band plays its usual excellent music and the vaudeville between the acts will be of the highest class.

Our Dirty Court House.

For some weeks, last summer, the Telegram kept hammering home to the Council the fact that the Water Street side of the Court House was in a disgraceful condition—a condition decidedly disgraceful to the city and trebly so to those whose duty it is to attend to it. On the west side of the Court House is a gigantic pile of clay. This could be smoothed over and sodded as easily as winking, and shamed-faced citizens would not be forced to avert their heads every time they passed along there with visitors. Then a neat iron fence could be run along at the inside edge of the sidewalk and a row of trees planted just inside it. The enclosure could be sodded over and the result would be a splendid improvement in the appearance. Now, then, councillors, what's doing? The Telegram spent weeks last summer in endeavouring to enlighten your consciences and it is prepared this summer to spend months. If, after that, the improvement is not effected, the Telegram might be tempted to open up a public drive to get it through.

Obituary.

HENRY C. WINSOR.
Mr. Stan Winsor, of the Customs Long Room, received a message this morning from Aguaforte, conveying the sad news of the death of his father, Henry C. Winsor, Esq., J.P., which occurred following a brief illness, at his home early this morning. The sudden passing of so well known a person, comes as a great shock to his numerous friends in the city and along the Southern Shore, all of whom knew him for his splendid traits of character, his honesty in business, his genuine friendship and for his willingness to lend a helping hand to those in want. For a number of years Mr. Winsor has carried on a successful business at Aguaforte and was well and favorably known to business men in the city and elsewhere. Deceased was a devoted member of the Anglican Church. To the sorrowing relatives the Telegram offers deep sympathy.

A Cloud of Witnesses.

As there are some two hundred and seventy witnesses to be called in the Harbor Main Election petition case, it has been intimated that if the evidence to be brought forward is similar to that already given, the number will be limited.

Public Meeting at Bell Island.

At the L. O. A. Hall, Bell Island, a public meeting gave every encouragement to the erection of a suitable Club-House for its returned heroes. Magistrate P. F. Power occupied the Chair, and introduced the special speakers—Capt. Leo Murphy of "Ours," and Corp. John G. Higgins, B.A., of the Canadians—who had come from St. John's for the occasion.

The C. L. B. Band, under the direction of Sergt. T. J. Martin, was in attendance, and after playing several patriotic selections, Mr. Higgins addressed the gathering, pointing out the objects of the G. W. V. A., and the value of the Clubrooms in St. John's; emphasized the spirit of appreciation for the men who had participated in the world war, and wished the Bell Island branch every success.

Capt. L. Murphy, one of Bell Island's first volunteers paid tribute to the heroic dead of the Iron Isle and made a stirring appeal for the whole-hearted support of the community in the effort being made by the men who had come through the ordeal of battle, and had lived up to the best traditions of the British Empire. An original poem, entitled, "The Valley of the Dead," was read by Mr. Higgins.

Votes of thanks to the Chairman, the visiting speakers, and the C. L. B. Band, moved by President N. G. Lodge, Secretary C. G. Butler, and Mr. P. F. Power, were carried by acclamation, and the National Anthem brought an impressive patriotic session to a close.

Progressive Cities.

ARE SYDNEY AND VANCOUVER.
With mingled feelings will the people of St. John's read that the little town of Sydney has—through its Municipal Council—appropriated one million dollars ($1,000,000) to civic improvement. This sum will be used in improving streets, bridges, etc., and in extending the subway. The Knight of Columbus there, also, are erecting a new building, which is intended to be a credit to the town. A new $800,000 hotel is also to be built.

In Vancouver, B.C., the enormous sum of $10,000,000 has been appropriated for the same object, and spectators are asked "to watch Vancouver grow."

Reids' Boats.

Argyle, Sagona, Petrel at St. John's. Clyde arrived at Placentia at 6 p.m. yesterday and left for here at midnight.

Glencoe left Placentia at 8.30 p.m. yesterday.

Factory Hands Practiced Fire Drill.

Tobacco Co's Employees Take up American Idea. Interested Spectators Were Witnesses.

The employees of the Imperial Tobacco Company's City Factory had a unique (for St. John's) drill at eleven o'clock yesterday morning, when, under an instructor, they engaged in Fire Drill. This consists, mainly, of inducing discipline and order on the part of the hands, so that if a fire should break out they would leave the factory with as little loss of time and as little excitement as possible. In a factory with a large number of employees this disciplining is very valuable, and the idea, borrowed from America, should be widely adopted here. The form of Fire Drill follows:

At the sounding of the Fire Signal—two short and one long blast from the Factory whistle—the foreman in each of the four floors, takes up an appointed position; all employees immediately drop work and line up two-deep behind him. A special squad of men open all approved exits and remain at their respective stations to preserve order. The employees are then marched orderly to the street. The foremen and men in charge of the drill are thoroughly instructed as to the number and position of exits in each department; a plan of each floor being furnished them. A fire brigade, independent of the "Safety First" committee, takes up special positions at fire buckets and hose line posts around the factory, and await instruction from the Chief Engineer, who is in charge of the automatic sprinkler system. In the initial drill performed yesterday morning, all of the 210 employees of the factory were in the street exactly three minutes after the sounding of the fire signal. Fire is always a cause for panic, but when employees are disciplined in fire drill, receiving signals at unexpected moments, the tragedies of chaos and confusion are less likely to occur.

Wedding Bells.

O'DRISCOLL—CHAPLIN.

A very pretty wedding took place at the R. C. Cathedral yesterday morning, when Amy Allison Chaplin was united in the bonds of matrimony to Joseph P. O'Driscoll, by Rt. Rev. Mons. McDermott, V.G., Administrator. The bride was given away by her father, Mark Chaplin, Esq., and wore a travelling costume of navy broadcloth with white fox furs, black picture hat, and carried a bouquet of carnations and fern. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Marion Chaplin, while Jack O'Driscoll supported the groom. After the ceremony the wedding party motored to Topsail, where Mr. and Mrs. O'Driscoll will spend their honeymoon. The Telegram extends congratulations.

Notice to Farmers.

It is possible that the Civil Re-establishment Committee may be looking for a number of farmers in the early part of May who may be willing to take on one or two farmer students for six months. Farmers who are willing to do this patriotic duty by returning men are invited to notify the undersigned at as early a date as possible of their willingness to help the Civil Re-establishment Committee by taking one or more students. They should state clearly what facilities they have for giving the students training, and should state minimum and maximum wages that they are willing to pay for beginners and for men who have had previous agricultural experience. They should also state if they are able to board the students. In each case they should state clearly the terms.

Ballot Boxes Unlocked and Unsealed -- Bay de Verde Election Case Takes on New Phase -- Supreme Court Proceedings.

HICKMAN vs. CAVE.

In the matter of the election petition between A. E. Hickman and W. H. Cave, the Chief Justice intimated that the Court had reached conclusions on all matters submitted, but before the scrutiny finished, he wished to see certain ballots which must be assented, and the Registrar of the Court would proceed with the assenting. The ballots will be held by the court and only the Judges must know how any elector had cast his vote. Mr. Mews, Deputy Colonial Secretary, had been subpoenaed and brought into court the nomination papers, and 4 boxes containing unused and spoiled ballots and accepted ballots. Mr. Mews intimated that he would like to make a statement with regard to the ballot boxes. Permission being given, he said that when the case containing the ballot boxes was opened, it was found to be not tightly packed. The accepted ballots were scattered about, the large case was not sealed. The ballots were collected and sealed in the ballot boxes afterwards. The ballots were not put back and sealed in his presence. Three or four marked ballots were found loose. He was not sure if they were spoiled. These were put separately in an envelope. Questioned by Mr. Mews, he states that the counterfoils are at the Colonial Secretary's office with the original seals intact. Justice Johnson here remarked: "This looks like a serious matter and the whole handling should be gone into. If the least irregularity is allowed all kinds of rascality will be practiced." The assenting of the ballots, which was to take place, was stopped and the matter of the handling of the case containing the ballot boxes was taken up. The court had no intimation that events would take this turn, as it had not been communicated to them by Mr. Mews, Deputy Colonial Secretary. The latter, however, anticipated events, and had the Returning Officer for the District of Bay de Verde on hand. Mr. Isaac

King, Returning Officer, taking the stand described how he took the ballot boxes, locked and sealed them and placed them with all the papers in connection with the election in safe keeping until the morning when he got them ready for shipment. The boxes, with the accepted ballots, counterfoils, spoiled ballots were placed in a small case with the cover screwed down, labelled and shipped by express from Western Bay, he coming along with them. He could not account for how the boxes got broken. The case was shipped on Thursday's train, after polling day, and was delivered at the Colonial Building on Friday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock. It was left in the hallway in custody of two or three employees. The case was lying at the railway station all Thursday night. The case was delivered to the Express Co. at Western Bay Wednesday evening or Thursday morning. He was told by the Deputy Colonial Secretary to deliver the case at the Colonial Building. Chief Justice Horwood here asked the witness:

"How many cases in all came by express?" The witness replied 5, and stated that rough handling might account for the ballot boxes being open. He was sure they were locked when sealed in the proper manner, when he shipped them. He could not swear to sealing the counterfoil boxes and unused and spoiled ballot boxes. Four screw bolts were used to keep the cover on the case. Examined by Mr. McNeilly, the witness said the outside case could easily be opened by anybody. Mr. F. Mews, "Did you indicate on the outside what the case contained?" Witness, "I might have done so, but don't remember." (To the Chief Justice.) "I don't remember if the case was packed tight." Mr. John Brocklehurst being called, stated he was employed in the Colonial Building with Wm. Godden, Wm. Sparkes and Michael Nolan. He was in his office when the case was opened. Nolan and Sparkes opened the case in the hallway. When the broken boxes were discovered, he went out into the hallway to see if any loose ballots were left in the case. He stated that the Boxes were not locked and the seals were broken when they were brought to his room. One of the four boxes was found intact. The key accompanied the boxes. Examined by Mr. Mews, he stated that he put the ballots back in the accepted ballot boxes and sealed them up. The court ordered that the counterfoil boxes be brought to court. The Chief Justice complimented Mr. Brocklehurst on his behaviour in the circumstances. The further hearing will be continued this evening, when Sparkes and Nolan will be examined.

Does Prohibition Prohibit?

The Case for the Moderates.

(By WARWICK SMITH.)

ARTICLE III.

"We want what is best in practice; not what is best in theory."
In my last article I showed that there are only two remedies for the state of affairs in which we find ourselves under Prohibition. One is a stricter enforcement of Prohibition by amending the Act so as to make it more stringent. The other is to amend the Act so that it will be less harsh. Before I take up these questions again, let me state that I have barely touched upon the question of the right or wrong of Prohibition. I am speaking now only of what is the best possible way to cure intemperance. The question of right and wrong will be argued later. There are times when it is right to take the potatoes out of a man's cellar and distribute them amongst others. There are times when it is wrong to do so. My argument in these articles is addressed to those who do not regard it as a matter of absolute right or wrong, but as one of expediency. They are the people who act on the famous saying of Abraham Lincoln: "If you cannot get the best, get the best you can." There is another saying which might be considered in this connection: "The best is often the enemy of the good." In fact the best way to obtain the "best" is often to accept the "good" and gradually improve upon it. There is such a thing as over-running one's objective, and thus losing the "good" by grasping at too much. Now all will allow that temperance is good. The question is how may general temperance be best attained. There are many who contend that total Prohibition defeats its true object, which is to make a nation temperate. It causes resentment in the minds of many persons who very seldom drink alcoholic beverages, but who dislike being classed with children and those who lack self-control, as if they were persons who could not drink without eventually becoming drunkards. Such people rightly regard this as an insult. Then there are others, total abstainers by choice, who cannot see the justice of denying a respected neighbor the right to choose for himself whether he shall be a total abstainer or a moderate drinker. Most of these people, however, if they were convinced that there is no other remedy than total Prohibition, would apply that remedy. But you have to convince them first, and this will be difficult in view of the fact that there are other alternatives which should first be tested.

Now we have tried with marked success in various parts of this country a modified form of Prohibition. I refer to Local Option. It was successful in very many places, because the control of the liquor was in the hands of the heads of families. They purchased their jars of liquor in St. John's and controlled its consumption. Had a system of control by law been in force there would have been no necessity for prohibition. The truth was that there was no legal control sufficiently strong to combat the greed for gain on the part of those who dispensed liquor in St. John's. Had the publicans formed a live "Victuallers' Association," I question very much whether Prohibition would have been a live issue.

The remedy that I and those associated with me suggest, is controlled dispensing of liquors. How it shall be controlled and how dispensed I shall deal with in detail in my next article.

PAIGE
The Most Beautiful Car in America

A New Development in Light Sixes

Before we began experimental work on our new six-cylinder motor three years ago, we made a very thorough investigation of the light six field.

We found out just what qualities car owners desired in the power plants of their motor cars and then we designed an engine to meet these requirements.

The wisdom of our method is attested by the unanimous approval given our five-passenger "Glenbrook" model. With its first appearance, it immediately won the enthusiastic support of motorists.

And, by its dependable and economical performance, it has so clearly demonstrated its high character as an investment value that our production schedule is already proving unequal to the demand.

The "Glenbrook" is a truly remarkable development in five-passenger cars. Won't you arrange for a demonstration while our dealer is in position to meet your requirements as to delivery?

WHAT ONE OF THE BEST KNOWN TRAVELLERS IN CANADA SAYS.

"Now I am going to give you an unsolicited testimonial, as they say in the patent medicine advertising. Heretofore I have had a profound contempt for patent medicines, particularly so-called liniments. Perhaps this is due to the reason that I have been blessed with a sturdy constitution, and have never been ill a day in my life. One day last fall after a hard day's tramp in the slush of Montreal, I developed a severe pain in my legs, and of course like a man who has never had anything wrong with him physically, I complained rather bolsterously. The good little wife says: 'I will rub them with some liniment I have.' 'Go ahead,' I said just to humor her. Well in she comes with a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT and gets busy. Believe me the pain disappeared a few minutes after, and you can tell the world I said so."

Cathedral Parish Annual Meeting.

The annual Easter meeting of the parishioners of the C. of E. Cathedral parish was held in the Parish Rooms, Synod Building at 7.30 last night. The Rector, Rev. Canon L. G. Jeeves, occupied the chair, supported by the wardens, Messrs. Geo. Davey and T. A. Hall. The Wardens of St. Michael's Mission Church, Casey St., Messrs. W. H. Ewing and J. M. Carberry, were also in attendance. The financial reports were submitted by People's Warden G. Davey, received and adopted. These showed the sum of some $26,000 had been raised by the parish during the year, and were very satisfactory. The Church collections were the largest in the history of the Cathedral parish. Mr. J. M. Carberry presented the financial accounts of St. Michael's, which were also received and adopted. The Cemetery Committee reported through Mr. S. G. Collier, but through some oversight the Secretary had not sent in a copy of the annual report. The Financial Committee's report was presented by Mr. Wm. Godden in the absence of Capt. C. B. Dicks, the Secretary-Treasurer, who is away from the country, being at Kentville, N. S. Following the adoption of the accounts and reports the election of a People's Warden was held, Mr. G. Davey being re-elected. Mr. Hall was nominated as Rector's Warden, Mr. Carberry was re-elected People's Warden for St. Michael's, and Mr. Ewing re-appointed Rector's Warden. The Cemetery Committee was elected as follows: Hon. S. D. Blandford, S. G. Collier, F. C. Grant and W. N. Gray, and Select Vestry: Sir Jos. Outerbridge, Sir W. H. Horwood, J. W. Withers, J. House, G. R. Williams, Jas Gould, C. McK. Harvey, S. G. Collier, F. C. Grant, Edwin LeMessurier, W. N. Gray and Hon. W. B. Grève. Representatives of the Parish to the General Protestant Industrial Society were elected, viz: T. Peel, J. Davey, and Geo. Morris. The new Finance Committee will be: Hon. S. D. Blandford, W. Godden, Walter Gardner, E. H. Shears, E. T. Snow, W. Hitchcock, Edgar Antle, R. Learning, G. Davey, Stanley White, Stanley Gill, R. Gabriel and Alex. Feaver. Messrs. S. W. Cornick and G. A. Hutchings were elected Auditors. The meeting passed a resolution strongly recommending the Select Vestry to raise the stipends of the parish clergy. A resolution of thanks was also accorded His Lordship Bishop White for presenting to the parish a large subscription during the year, and at the close of the meeting a resolution of sympathy, proposed by Mr. J. W. Withers, was passed the wife, mother and relatives of Hon. John Harvey, a prominent member of the Cathedral Parish. The meeting then adjourned, matters in connection with the completion of the Tower not being discussed as the hour was late, the time having been taken up by the large amount of routine work.

Passenger Missing From Kyle.

The following message was received by the Reid Newfoundland Co. from the Purser of the Kyle last night:—Robert Mews, a passenger from North Sydney to South Branch, holding a ticket for Port aux Basques, is short-landed at Port aux Basques. He was last seen when entering the harbor. Search has been made by the police and members of the crew. Mews slightly demented. Presumed to have jumped overboard between Channel Head and wharf.

FISHERMEN!

Here's the Boot for You:
"Excel" Boots

HAVE
Pliable Uppers. Weather Proof and Wear Resisting. Tough Tire-Tread Soles. Hard to Wear Out. For Men and Boys.

Pliable Uppers, Weatherproof and Wear-Resisting, Tough Tire-Tread Soles. Hard to wear out.

You know from experience what happens to ordinary boots when used in fishing. You've seen how salt water causes to take the life out of the rubber and how the rubbers crack and the soles wear through in a surprisingly short time.

The "EXCEL" is a different and better kind of boot. It has been made especially to stand up under the unusually hard use a fisherman's boot gets.

The rubber and fabric in "EXCEL" boots are of the very highest quality. But it is the special method of curing, under tremendous pressure, that makes the "EXCEL" so wear-resisting. The pressure forces the layers of rubber and fabric together so that they are actually "one-piece", without losing the least bit of the life of resiliency of the rubber. Salt water has practically no effect on "EXCEL" boots. The UPPERS remain pliable and weatherproof, and resist the drying-out action of sun, heat and cold far longer than other boots, consequently they don't crack anywhere so quickly. The SOLES are almost wear-proof, because they are made like an Auto Tire, with 8 plies of rubber and fabric welded by tremendous pressure into a "tire-tread" sole that rivals an automobile tire for toughness and durability.

These are exclusive features of "EXCEL" boots.

The picture at the left, of an "EXCEL" boot, with every detail of construction visible, shows how "EXCEL" boots are reinforced at every point of strain. There is not a single feature but what has been proved necessary and desirable by tests of severest use. Your own experience will tell you that a boot with these features simply must be a better boot.

Study this picture. Learn these features. Remember them when you compare "EXCEL" boots with ordinary boots. And remember, too, that very important point which the picture cannot show, namely, that "EXCEL" boots are cured under tremendous pressure which leaves the rubber pliable, weather-proof, and wear-resisting. It is only by the use of this tremendous pressure combined with highest quality materials that the best results are obtained.

Below are listed seven special features which make "EXCEL" boots superior. Read them carefully so that when you need boots you will know how to get the best value for your money.

Seven Special Features that make the "Excel" Best.

FEATURE No. 1—The entire boot is cured under heavy pressure, forcing all parts together in "one-piece", and retaining the full life and resiliency of the rubber.

FEATURE No. 2—An 8-ply double sole of tough, durable rubber, made like an Auto Tire, running all the way under the full moulded heel. This sole and heel are so wear-resisting that they are commonly called the "tough on rocks" sole and heel.

FEATURE No. 3—A heavily reinforced boot which will withstand the hardest kind of wear.

FEATURE No. 4—Six plies at the instep relieves strain and prevents wrinkling or cracking.

FEATURE No. 5—Reinforced five-ply leg for extra wear. Just the right amount of strength to stand up, yet not be uncomfortable.

FEATURE No. 6—Four-ply top, very pliable.

FEATURE No. 7—Heavy duck lining, and a heavy insole prevent dampness and keep feet dry and comfortable.

Most reliable dealers sell "EXCEL" boots. Be sure to look for the name "EXCEL". Substitutes and "just as good" boots will not give you "EXCEL" service. If your dealer does not have them in stock, write us for name of nearest dealer.

COLGATE'S RIBBON DENTAL CREAM

A COPY of these instructions, printed on good paper, will be mailed free upon request to any address. To have this sheet when it will be a practical guide to proper care of the teeth—in bath-rooms, schools, etc. Write for Teeth-Brushing Chart.

How to Brush Your Teeth

With Pictures especially posed for this announcement under the direction of a Dentist of long experience.

SLAP-DASH tooth-brushing allows food particles to lodge between the teeth. Decay sets in, protective enamel is destroyed, a cavity appears and finally the nerve is exposed. Proper brushing of the teeth twice a day with Colgate's Ribbon Dental Cream and seeing the dentist twice a year will prevent serious trouble. The simplest rule is the best—"Brush the teeth the way they grow"—from the gums.

Follow the pictures. Then, with a brushing of the tongue, gums and the inside of the cheeks, your mouth will be refreshed and wholesome. Everyone in your household should read this instruction sheet.

Start the Day Right— with COLGATE'S

The normal condition of the clean mouth in perfect health is mildly alkaline. Colgate's Ribbon Dental Cream is mildly alkaline and is opposed to the acid condition which causes tooth decay. And it is so deliciously flavoured that its use twice a day is a treat, not a task—especially for the children. Colgate's brightens the morning smile.

.... and go to Bed with a Clean Mouth

When you go to bed with teeth unbrushed, you give the germs an eight-hour start on their work of destruction. These enemies of the teeth are most active while you sleep because the mouth is at rest; they work undisturbed. Colgate's is recommended by more dentists than any other dentifrice. It is safe to use every day, because it contains no harmful drugs or harsh grits.

ARBOR MAIN ELECTION TRIAL.

Kelly vs. Woodford.
James Whelan was called and examined by Mr. Mews, cross examined by Mr. Howley, he stated that he had called on Mr. Kennedy regarding a road to the wharf. This was in August and the first part of September. He was an opponent of Woodford and Jones in the election. He is a member of the F.P.U. He knew all this when he advanced the payment of $21.00. He did not remember Dr. Jones saying that when a cheque came from the Board of Works that he should return the cheque and take the cheque. He did not swear that he never saw a cheque, nor that he never signed (Here a pen was handed him and was asked to sign his name). The crossed cheque and signature were in evidence. The Return sheet the witness sent in showed that he had expended $22.00 the amount of the cheque. He examined by Mr. Mews, he stated that he asked for the money before the election was over, because he was afraid that he would get it afterwards. Nicholas of House Cove was next called.

He stated that he stopped a few minutes talking to Woodford and Jones. When asked what the conversation was about, he said that he did not keep a journal of conversations, and did not remember this particular one. Woodford asked witness if he would support him, and he replied "yes." Questioned further, witness said he would say the same to every candidate that would ask him, but who he would vote for lay to his own conscience. He received $20.00 from Mr. Woodford for working on the roads, the work to be done where he pleased. Cross examined by Mr. Higgins, witness said he saw Woodford occasionally during the past 36 years and did lots of work. He never took a government sop for the past 10 years. The money has not been used yet, but he will use it in front of his own place, if it is left to his election. He was notified by Mr. Harris not to do any government work between Nomination and Polling days. The money was received before the campaign started. Terrence O'Brien, Topsall, being called, stated he saw Woodford and Jones on Nomination day at Harbor Main. He received $30.00 last fall. Asked how he got the twenty dollars, he replied, "by working for it." Mr. Mews, "I mean how did you get the work?" Witness, "Oh! Pat O'Brien got me the work." Mr. Mews, "Where was this work done?" Witness, "Near Snow's Pond." Mr. Mews, "How far is that from Topsall?" Witness, "I don't know, I never measured it." Mr. Mews, "About how far?" Witness, "I said I don't know, and then I don't." Mr. Mews, "What repairs did the road need?" Witness, "I don't know that. I know it wanted to be done, and I did it to my grief." Mr. Mews, "What did you do to the road? Witness, (in surprise) "What did I do to the road? I did nothing to it. I put stones and clay on it." Mr. Mews, "Where did you get paid?" Witness, "at the Board of Works Office, and had a job to get it too." Mr. Mews, "Did you see Mr. Woodford when you went for your money?" Witness, "No." Mr. Mews, "Did you not speak to anybody?" Witness, "I don't know. I have not got it marked down who I was talking to last year. I said I don't remember. So there!" Mr. Mews put some further questions to which Mr. Howley objected. Mr. Mews protested and said the witness was hostile. The Court upheld Mr. Howley's objections. A further question by Mr. Mews brought the answer that his head was not a school book and that he did not remember. (No cross examination.) Lawrence O'Brien, Topsall, states he saw all the candidates at Harbor Main on Nomination morning. Held no conversation with Woodford and Jones, except to bid them "time of day." He received $20.00 last fall, sometime during September. He applied at the Board of Works office for the job. He received his payment after he had worked it out. He received another cheque, but this was for vegetables.

Mr. Mews, "What work were you sent to do?" Witness, "Oh, nothing easy you may be sure." Further examined the witness said that he was putting a bridge across a river at Snow's Pond Road. He sent in his Return Sheet when Mr. O'Neill went out collecting unpaid monies. Cross examined by Mr. Howley he said. The work was of benefit, as without the bridge nobody could cross it. He did not remember if there had been a bridge there before.

Herbert Easton of Manuels, examined by Mr. Mews. I am a voter of Mr. Main and know the candidates at the last election. Met all the candidates during the election. Got $110.00 for road work during the year 1919. Went to Board of Works Office and explained about the wretched condition of the road called Rocky Road. Work was done before money was paid. This was a long time before Nomination day. Got paid by cheque. This related to a $25.00 amount. He got a $38.95 amount to build bridges on the same road. He built the bridges and got the money when the work was done. It was long before the elections were on. Money was paid by cheque at the Board of Works office. Work was badly needed and road should have been done long before. Didn't know who would be the candidates when work was done.

Court adjourned till 3 p.m.

Obituary.

MRS. MARY JOSEPH McGRATH.

There passed away, at St. Patrick's Cove, Cape Shore, on March 21st, Mrs. Mary Joseph McGrath, in the 65th year of her age. The deceased was stricken with the flu, followed by pneumonia, and despite all aid rendered, after an illness of one week, her immortal soul passed through the portals when the message of death called her to the life beyond the grave. She received the rites of the R. C. Church from her P.P., Rev. Fr. Ryan, who was in attendance during her illness. She leaves to mourn her a husband, Mr. Michael McGrath, and five sons at home, a brother, James Walsh, and two sisters at Brooklyn, New York. A sister, Mrs. Phillip McGrath, at Cuslett and three daughters at New York, one at St. George's, Nfld., and one at St. John's. The deceased lady, during the last few years visited New York twice, spending some time there with her many friends and near relatives. Mrs. McGrath was a general favorite with all who knew her, quiet and unassuming in her manner. Her good life was rendered more religious at its close by the saving graces of the church she faithfully served. And while her family mourn her sad death, they can look forward to a reunion in the hereafter, where parting shall be no more. The deceased was a native of Petty Harbor.—Com. St. Bride's, April 12, 1920.

MRS. (CAPT.) W. STRONG.

There passed away Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock Mrs. Strong, wife of Captain W. Strong, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. E. G. G. Cousens. Mrs. Strong was operated on last week for internal trouble and in a few days passed away, on the anniversary of her son's death, Capt. Chas. S. Strong, who died of wounds received in battle on April 13, 1918. Two daughters, Mrs. Cousens, and Mrs. G. E. Taylor, and one son, Mr. W. H. Strong, of Ayre & Son's Office, are left to mourn. To them and to Capt. Strong the Telegram extends sincere sympathy.

MUTT AND JEFF—

JOE HAD BETTER ENGAGE ANOTHER TUTOR.

Rv Bud Fisher.

Now, Joe, to make certain that you'll pass the examination and get your naturalization papers, I got a list of the questions they'll ask you!

Oh fine! What's the first question, Jeff old dear?

The first question is your name and your age. Can you answer it?

Easy as pie! My name is Joe Spius and I'm 34 years old.

That's mighty fine of Jeff. I'm anxious to see Joe become a U.S. citizen myself.

Question No. 2 is: What is the fourth of July?

Gee! Now you got me! You'll have to help me out on that one!

The ignorant fish. Every school child knows the answer to that question!

The fourth of July is the day we shoot fireworks. Remember that.

Oh fine! Sure!

To-day's Messages.

PRINCE TAKES A SURF RIDE.

HONOLULU, April 14. The Prince of Wales rode the surf at Waikiki Beach yesterday in an outrigger canoe, piloted by Duke Kahana-moku, the world's champion sprint swimmer. After the ride was finished the Prince expressed regret that his program permitted only one days stay in Honolulu.

QUEBEC AND FRANCE.

PARIS, April 14. Sir Lomer Gouin, Prime Minister of the Province of Quebec, was this afternoon received by President Deschanel. Sir Lomer was accompanied by Lord Derby of Great Britain.

EN ROUTE TO AUSTRALIA.

HONOLULU, April 14. The Prince of Wales resumed his journey to Australia to-day, when the British battle cruiser Renown steamed for Suva.

MACCREADY'S INFLUENCE.

DUBLIN, April 14. An indication of universal sentiment regarding prisoners, apart from political bias, is shown by an appeal from Chief Rabbi Hersog to the Viceroy for clemency for "the unfortunate men at grips with death in Mount Joy." There is much speculation regarding the motive of the Governments sudden change of policy, two hours after Bonar Law's uncompromising speech in the House of Commons. Public rumor attributes the decision to the influence of General MacCreedy, who has just taken up his duties as Commander in Chief of the forces in Ireland. He is said to have hopes of making military rule in Ireland more effective and more tolerable than heretofore, and he did not want to start with deaths and inquests in Mount Joy.

A MATTER OF EXPEDIENCE.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 14. An order was issued to-day by Secretary Wilson, suspending the Immigration Law so as to admit laborers from Canada and Mexico. "For the exclusive purpose of cultivating and harvesting sugar beet crops in the States of Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Iowa and Nebraska." The order was issued, it was said, after the Department had been informed that Congress could not act in time to save the sugar beet crop in the Western States.

JOINED BATTLE.

NOGALES, Arizona, April 14. Federal troops, under General Carranza, are in battle with a part of the army of General Flores, at El Puert, on the border of Sinaloa, according to a despatch received in Nogales, Sonora, this afternoon.

QUEENSTOWN PORT REOPENED.

NEW YORK, April 14. Queenstown, Ireland, closed to passenger traffic in October nineteen fourteen, when it was taken over by the British Government as a naval base has been reopened to passenger liners, it was announced here to-night. The White Star and Cunard Lines have arranged sailing schedules to enable several of their largest ships to call there for passengers.

RELEASED UNCONDITIONALLY.

DUBLIN, April 14. Sixty-eight hunger striking prisoners have been released, apparently unconditionally, and as a result the strike is considered off. The Lord Mayor, who went to see Lord French at the Vice Regal Lodge when hitch arose at Dublin Castle, through the stipulation that the prisoners must return to their captivity on their recovery, stated on his return that the prisoners would be released unconditionally. Prisoners had refused to accept any stipulation on the ground that it was a reapplication of the "cat and mouse" policy.

CIVILIANS GETTING BUSY.

NEW YORK, April 14. Civilian volunteers to break the strike of rebellious railroad workers here, were drilling in New York and New Jersey terminals to-day, and railroad officials announced that scores of several hundred men would be utilized to operate suburban trains.

TRAINS HELD UP.

CHICAGO, April 14. Improvement of freight traffic conditions in the Central West continued to-day with insurgent railroad men returning to work at several points, but the industrial situation in Ohio and Michigan reached a crisis as the result of the stopping of fuel supplies and in the far west, where a dozen passenger trains were reported stalled in Southern California the situation became increasingly serious.

ONE WAY OUT.

WASHINGTON, April 14. An armistice between the Unionists in Guatemala and the forces of President Cabrera, has been signed and a proposal made that President Cabrera leave the country, according to advice to-day to the State Department.

Personal Mention.

Mr. E. Collishaw, who has been on an extended trip through Canada and U.S.A., is returning to the city by the S.S. "Kyle" to-morrow.

We have in stock a number of Rebuilt Organs, piano case, six octave, by Bell, Doherty, Thomas, etc., which we are offering at the same price practically as five octave parlour organs. Every instrument guaranteed.

Owing to its limited scale the five octave organ is only suitable for sacred music. The advantage of the six octave instrument is apparent since its larger scale will accommodate any piano selection, while the finish, style and tone of these instruments should appeal to everyone.
