TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 14, 1911.

HASTEN ELECTRICAL CONSTRUCTION.

Friends of the Toronto Electric Light Co. are screaming aloud for help to prevent the ruin of the City of Toronto under the poor little unprotected corporation. We believe that public sympathy will no longer be extended towards the company. The city has made it a generous offer of double the amount the company's assets are worth to the city, and the company has scornfully refused it.

Not satisfied with scorn, the company's officials, whether unwittingly or not, have added mendacity to their dealings, and represented the city's engineers as willing to pay even more than double.

Loud cries were made for the publication of Engineer Dow's letter of comment upon Mr. Ross' report. Mr. Dow's letter proves that the company's officials were unable to understand a stock-broking transaction, or else that they deliberately misrepresented Mr. Dow's suggestion.

Sir Henry Pellatt thinks that $150 would have been agreed to by the city authorities as a price for the shares of the Toronto Electric Light Co., had not Mr. Ross reported adversely. This means adding another $1,000,000 to previous calculations, and would bring the total investment of the city up to $11,500,000. The city can do better than that.

Mr. Dow's suggestion was not to pay $125, but to pay $100 a share to the stockholders, the payment to take the form of 6 per cent. preference stock, which the shareholders might be able to sell on the market at $150 or $155, but which the city might also in periods of financial stringency be able to buy in at $70 or $75. Sir Henry and Mr. Blain and Mr. Brock and other financial veterans who wish us to believe that such a recommendation is better than Mr. Ross' proposal, must give the citizens credit for very little sense.

In order to pay $135 for the T. E. L. Company's stock, the citizens would have to pay enough more for their light and power to make up the deficiency. Instead of cutting prices by one-third, we could only cut them one-quarter. Fewer people would be able to enjoy the benefit of the service. The hydro-electric power union would suffer as a whole.

This is an aspect of the question which has not been sufficiently considered. Toronto owes a duty to the other municipalities in the power union.

The Hamilton Herald has something to say on this head, and Hamilton is entitled to speak, for the Hamilton system, up to date, is taking more power from the commission than any other municipality. The Herald dwells on the contract with the Electrical Development Company, which is such an embarrassing feat, and the negotiations between the city and the Toronto Electric Light Co. The Herald objects very strongly to Toronto taking power from the Electrical Development Co., which should be taken from the Hydro-Electric Commission, to the joint benefit of all the members of the union. It will not do to say that Hamilton is inconsistent in such a plea, and that Hamilton wishes to take part of its power from the Cataract Co., for no one objected more to that arrangement than Toronto.

The more the situation is considered, the more evident it is that the board of control should accept the company's refusal of the city's offer as final. The city can go into the competitive field which the company views with such delight, with a good grace after this refusal, and with a good heart, having the experience of Ottawa and other cities to encourage us.

The most costly and injurious factor Toronto now has to deal with is delay. We rely on the mayor and the board of control to face this fact. Toronto cannot afford to pour thousands of dollars down the drain in the calendar. Said holes, as our Bay-street contemporary would remark, should be filled with the putty of expedition.

GRAIN GROWERS AND RECIPROCIITY. Mr. James Bower, secretary of the Western Grain Growers, has written a letter published in this issue of the World, objecting to the statements appearing in a despatch from Ottawa printed on March 8. His letter ranges over a wider field than that properly belonging to his text and introduces other incidents of the reciprocity agitation with which the World has no direct concern. Excluding these, the grievances of Mr. Bower's complaint appear to be the statement that he and his colleagues, Mr. Mackenzie, are engaged in a political publicity campaign for the exploitation of the Liberal policy and that they are Liberal workers of the most pronounced type. The World, of course, accepts Mr. Bower's assurance that he has never taken any part in an election other than casting his vote, the fact does not necessarily exclude political activity at other times. But whether or not on his own admission, he and Mr. Mackenzie are at Ottawa to get both parties committed to reciprocity in natural products and to free trade in farm implements. Since he can hardly expect to get the Conservative party committed to this proposition, the conclusion that their energies are directed to the exploitation of the Liberal party appears natural and indeed inevitable.

According to Mr. Bower, the aims and objects of the association he represents are fair play to the people and the building up of a more prosperous Canada. Admirable both of them, but their excellence does not necessarily prove that the particular policy his association favors is calculated to secure them. The western farmers who are responsible for the reciprocity agitation were wont to accuse the manufacturers of caring primarily for their own selfish aims and objects. But the grain growers are now stand disclosed as occupying just the position they denounced in the case of the manufacturers. No one can object to their looking after themselves, but it sorely does not follow that their special interests coincide with those of the eastern farmers or with the welfare of the nation at large.

Western farmers have enjoyed many and great advantages—free land, often free seed, cold storage and subsidized railways—benefits quite as great as moderate protection afforded to other industries. Their lobby at Ottawa and their campaign in the country are not conducted without expense—whether they are the voice of the people is a matter of opinion which has yet to be proved.

THE CEMETERY TRUST AND THE PUBLIC. The Toronto General Burial Grounds Trust, controlling Mount Pleasant Cemetery, are making it almost impossible for a parallel street to be run thru that property, although it is absolutely in the public interest. It is time that a corporation that professes public service should show some public consideration.

Perhaps the easiest way to get the street would be to start an agitation to close Mount Pleasant Cemetery within the next year or two, and also close St. Michael's Cemetery, which is also on Yonge-street, and which as a matter of fact is about full. Our own view of this matter is that burial grounds of the city should be owned by the city and should be far enough away from the city never to interfere with its progress, and that they should be connected with the city by a first-class electric railway service. In that way large tracts could be set apart for burial purposes; the growth of the city would not be interfered with and the charges to the public would be actual cost. The burial trust in Toronto is rather an expensive institution, and is managed as far as we can see by a board who perpetuate themselves, and while professing public service, are very little under public control.

The Globe has advanced its appreciation of the anti-reciprocity movement. At first it was only staggered, but now it says "It is only a March thunderstorm, it will not last." The thunder season is all ahead of us yet. The Globe may need a cyclone cellar yet.

GRAIN GROWERS AND RECIPROCIITY. Editor World: An article appeared in the Toronto World of March 3 headed, "An Organized Campaign," to which I must take exception. The statements made therein are nothing short of absolute falsehoods. It is stated that Mr. R. McKenzie and myself are engaged in a political publicity campaign, committed not only to reciprocity in natural products, but also to free trade in farm implements and an increase in the British preference, as well as amendments to the Railway Act, to the Grain Act and the several other matters laid down in our farmers' platform on Dec. 15.

This article says that we are Liberal workers of the most pronounced type. I have been a voter in Canada for the last thirty years and have never taken any part in an election other than casting my vote. We are here now in the interests of a purely non-political association, the Canadian Council of Agriculture, which includes at the present time every provincial farmers association in Canada, and whose aims and objects are fair play to the people and the building up of a more prosperous Canada. The article insinuates that we are being paid by the government, which is absolutely false. The unspokeable meanness and low-down tactics of such an insinuation show to what lengths these anti-reciprocity workers will go. Who it was that instigated this article I do not know, but it has all the earmarks of having been inspired by the author of a like article that appeared in some of the protectionist papers during the time that our country-ers' delegation was here in December. It was then stated that J. J. Hill had financed the delegation to boost his cause. This was so absurd that I did not think it worth while to make any answer, but since that time a man who is called the Hon. Price Ellison has repeated the same statement on the floor of the British Columbia Legislature.

What a travesty on the name "Honorable" what a misnomer to be given to a man who, because he is immune from an action at law, would use his position on the floor of parliament to state such an untruth and thereby slander the farmers of Canada. The authors of the slanders dare not come out into the open and state what they are trying to get the public to believe. This article further says that we are calling on the farmers to pass resolutions wholeheartedly in order to stampede parliament into the idea that the agreement is universally popular. Let me tell you, sir, that these resolutions are no new thing. They are the voice of the people of Canada, that has been trying to make itself heard for many weary years, and that these resolutions are no longer, but will make itself heard more forcefully every day.

Another thing to be stated is that reciprocity members in the parliament will have to answer for their farmer constituents is that by their obstructive tactics they are depriving the farmers of the Railway Act amendments, the Co-operative Bill, the Elia-cator Bill and other things in the farmers' interest. It is not that they do not lay any venue. Motion dismissed with costs to plaintiff in any event.

OVER 100 CATTLE BURNED

Disastrous Fire at Montreal Stock Yards—Firemen Injured.

MONTREAL, March 13.—Over 100 head of cattle, mostly steers, were burned in the Montreal Stock Yards, St. Etienne-street, in a fire which broke out at 12.30 this afternoon, spreading so rapidly among the sheds, that a second alarm was necessary. Over 600 head of cattle were saved by the prompt action of the drovers. The total damage is estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000.

Chief Tremblay was being driven at full speed down McGill-street in his motor car, and the car crashed into an alleyway between the streets of McGill-street and William-street, and the motor car, the driver, a fireman, sitting in the front of the car, was hurled against the engine and his head was injured. The chief nor Charles Heaney, the chauffeur, was injured. The auto itself was badly damaged, so the chief had to be passing hose water in which he proceeded to the scene of the fire.

Fireman Harry McDonald of No. 9 station fell from the roof of a shed, fracturing his right arm and leg. He was removed to the Notre Dame Hospital.

BIG PRICE FOR CHURCH.

The Methodist Book Room is negotiating for the purchase of the Broadway Methodist Tabernacle. The Book Room has long felt the need of additional space, and has been thinking of moving northward for more spacious quarters. The church property fronts on Spadina-avenue 180 feet and on College-street a distance of 104 feet. The assessment department values it at $100,000, but the price at which the negotiations are being conducted is on a basis of something well over $200,000.

BANK MAY BUY MAIL BUILDING.

The Bank of Montreal is negotiating with The Mail Printing Co. for the purchase of the Mail building, Bay and King-streets. The price being asked is at the rate of $500 per foot frontage. This would mean a total of $55,000 there being 90 feet. In addition to the price for the building itself, forty feet of the frontage is cut off by the new street, and the present Club. Whether the $500 a foot rate would apply to the 40 feet is not known, but if not, the price would be much less. There is a total assessment of $18,000.

The growth of Prince Rupert, the Pacific coast terminal of the Grand Trunk Pacific, is illustrated by the fact that last year over 300,000 vessels with a tonnage of about 235,000 tons and crews numbering upwards of 21,000 men, called at that port, and, in addition, 1200 coastwise vessels with aggregate tonnage of 450,000 tons and crews numbering 25,000 men.

Simpson's Library

This is a small string of people compared with the steady stream that has poured into our Book Department during the past week to make enquiries about the library.

After their curiosity has been satisfied, they enroll as members and take home with them the latest volume of fiction. No wonder, for when one pauses to consider, good new fiction is expensive, and two cents is not an exorbitant charge for the privilege of reading a popular author's latest book. This is a far nicer way of getting the reading matter than borrowing from your friends. Few people really like to lend their books. We do.

Let us remind you, too, that in this department are to be found some very appropriate and pleasing things marked with a shamrock, and that the elevator close at hand will take you to our Sixth Floor, where a bunch of the genuine article may be obtained.
