COST OF EATING ABOUT TO SLIDE

Yes—it's time. We've all read read poems on "where are those prices of yesterday" etc, but where are they?

A little feature that has surprised a great many St. John women is the price of the wonderful frosted spice cake, at the College Inn. Guess! Un-m, and oh, so good. It's only 25 cents a pound.

The appearance of our College Inn would seem to suggest abundance and optimism, also, wafers of extreme delicacy served with each order. And nothing less than the genuine Purdy Ice Cream.

A visit will do you good. You'll be getting a pre-war smile, coming out. The College Inn, is at 105 Charlotte street, just opposite the Dufferin Hotel. Come in today.

UNKNOWN MAN GIVES OUTING TO GIRLS OF U. N. B.

(Frederick Gleaser.) The girls who attended the U. N. B. during the term of 1919-1920 are to be the guests of an unknown host at Day's Point for a two weeks' outing, beginning tomorrow.

The gentleman in question belongs to the west and is an intimate friend of the McMonagle family in this city. So that his identity will not be known, the girls will have to pay their own fares to the camp, but he will pay their fare back to their homes, and two all expenses, and in addition will donate prizes of $30 for camp Amusements.

Those going to Day's Point are the Misses Helen Scott, Harriet Van Wart, Edna Van Wart, Helen Thurrott, Margaret Hall, Florence Murray, Edith Jones, Marjorie Tracy, Beale Morrison, Elizabeth McMonagle, Barbara Nickerson, and Kathleen Woods, of this city; Marion Long of Keswick Ridge, Blanche Turner of St. John, Louise Friel of Moncton, and Miss Amanda Quinn of Campbellton.

Mr. C. J. Tracy of this city will accompany the party and act as chaperone.

THE LORDS UPHOLD GEN. DYER; BIG FUND FOR HIM

London, July 24.—(Canadian Associated Press.) The House of Lords, by a vote of 129 to 86, carried Viscount Finlay's motion deploring the conduct of the government in the case of General Dyer, dismissed from the army for ordering the shooting down of natives during the Amritsar massacre.

The Morning Post fund for General Dyer now reaches £20,000.

ARMISTICE TO BE GRANTED, IS POLISH REPORT

London, July 24.—Private cables from Warsaw this morning say there is a strong report that Moscow has replied to the Polish representatives for an armistice as follows:

"We have directed our field command to arrange an immediate armistice in Poland."

Warsaw, July 24.—Having Grodno within their lines, the Bolsheviks have spread the tip of their right wing across the Niemen and into Poland proper. Bearing down upon the Sokoła region from the north, the Reds have sent patrols toward East Prussia and are meeting with little if any resistance.

GIRL, PLAYING WITH MATCHES, LOST HER LIFE

(Sackville Post.) Friends and relatives in Sackville will regret to hear of a fatal accident that suddenly occurred in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Wheaton, of Woburne, Mass.

On Thursday last their nine-year-old daughter, Verna B., was playing with her dolls in an upper room of the house. Suddenly the mother heard her scream and hastening to the stairway met the child, who had lighted a match and set it on fire.

The mother tried to beat the fire out, but was unable to do so, and the frantic child escaped through the open door into the street. Here she was caught and the fire beaten out, but she was badly burned. She was immediately rushed to the hospital, where everything possible was done for her, but without avail. The funeral was held on Sunday last, the interment taking place in Woodstock cemetery, Woburne.

The bereaved parents are both natives of Sackville, the mother being a daughter of Robert H. Ogden of Middle Sackville. The father is also well known here.

The shortest street on earth is the rue Papillon, in Paris, which runs from the rue Blue to the square Montholon, and has only four houses on each side.

AT FREDONIA, N. Y., THE CANNING FACTORIES are short of hands, and nearby farmers, whose big cherry orchards are solid masses of fruit, not knowing what to do with the cherries, are advertising for city folks to come to the farms and pick them at 4 cents a pound.

ST. JOHN'S GREATEST MERCANTILE EVENT ALL NEXT WEEK

St. John's Greatest Mercantile Event, which is Oak Hall's annual Mid-Summer Sale, has handed unusually large crowds during the first two days and great crowds have been made on the stocks; but this will in no way interfere with the continuing of this great event all next week as Oak Hall made preparations in a very big way, and each morning finds the various tables replenished with new, fresh merchandise, so that those who were unable to take advantage of this event during the past two days, need have no fears that the real opportunities have gone. There are just as many bargains now as there were the first day, and will continue to be throughout every day of this Great Event.

THE BREAD THAT IS ALMOST CAKE

Yesterday was the day that Moira—the Halifax bakers and confectioners were to ship a big order of their bread to the College Inn.

But it didn't arrive. Probably delayed in transit. However, the College Inn, 105 Charlotte street is expecting it today, and orders in advance have just about taken the entire lot.

Maybe, if you speak quick you'll get some. Regular lot price—16 cents. Just opposite the Dufferin.

The funeral will be held on Monday morning from St. Ignatius church, Petersville, Queens county.

IRISH LEGISLATION

London, July 24.—In the House of Commons, Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, announced that the government had introduced a criminal injuries bill which would enable it to intercept every grant from the exchequer to any person or authority in Ireland which was acting illegally, and he assured the House that the action of every council or other public authority in Ireland was being examined into end that most drastic action would be taken to maintain the authority of the crown.

Discussing the statement that a bill would be put forward setting up a tribunal to supersede the civil courts, which had failed to function, the Daily Telegraph editorially insists that the government's measure must be proceeded with. It declares that any other course would merely be a return to ploughing the sands in which so vast an amount of political energy has been utterly wasted in the past.

The Daily Telegraph says that all along the government has regarded the revolt as a fire which would burn itself out. It must, the Graphic says, drop this fatalistic mood and become a great deal bolder. It says there is no halfway between smashing conspiracy and surrendering to it.

The News describes the effect of the government policy as a failure of force. It says that the almost certain effect of the proposed measures will be to goad the exasperated people into more desperate resistance.

Alberta Recipe - Steak and Kidney Pie

REMEMBER those savory meat pies mother used to make? Flaky crust with delicious rich gravy and well cooked meat inside. Fairly melted in your mouth. Bake one to-day with ALBERTA Flour for a palate treat your folks will long remember.

How to Make the Crust! Take 4 ozs. butter, 2 ozs. lard, 8 ozs. flour. Put together in a chopping bowl, with a pinch of salt, and (in a cool place) chop together till the bits of butter are about the size of beans. Make a hole in the centre, and using about half a cup of ICE water, make it with as little pressure as possible, into a firm dough. Roll out half an inch thick, put into it any little bits of butter that have fallen from it, fold it in three, and roll out again, as quickly as possible. Dredge with a very little flour, fold again in three, roll out once more (three times in all), fold again in three, and set in the refrigerator for twenty-four hours, then use in the ordinary way.

TO LIFT SUNKEN SHIPS.
(London T.T. Bits.)
A method has been devised and successfully tried by which sunken ships can be salvaged with comparative ease. Instead of using heavy steel tanks whose weight must be added to the lifting force employed, the new way is to place fabric bags in the hull of the vessel, and inflate them with air. To augment the effect, a number of bags may be attached to the outside of the hull.

The bags are made of very strong rubber waterproof canvas, are from thirty to forty feet long and displace from fifty to 100 tons of water.

There is no difficulty in placing them inside the ship's hull. They are flexible, and can be folded to fit a small space during transportation, in this respect being very different from the more clumsy steel tanks ordinarily employed.

In order that the compressed air within the bags will not be formed to the bursting point, each bag is provided with an automatic blow-off valve. When placed in the ship, the bags are flat, and lie against the girders, and the vessel begins to rise when sufficient air has been blown into the bags.

Since the bags are placed just where Brocton, Mass., July 24.—Andrew R. The card was stamped in the post office at 7:45 on the morning of December 25, but where it has been the last thirteen years no one seems to know. It was delivered in the regular course of the carrier on the Perkins avenue route.

ATTAR OF ROSES DEARER.

PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS.

Mayor Schofield and the city commissioners will find ample justification for their playground policy in an article by Mr. Thomas Adams in the last issue of Town Planning and Conservation of Life, published by the Commission of Conservation of Canada. The first four pages are devoted to his article on Parks and Playgrounds in Cities, and he not only sets forth the value of these areas but shows what is being done in cities in Canada and the United States to meet the needs of the people in regard to healthful recreation. It is pointed out that whatever we may do to increase our agricultural population the cities will continue to grow, and if the health and morals of the people are not to deteriorate we must provide proper housing and recreational facilities. The motor car makes the streets dangerous for children and the dust of the streets is bad for their health. "We want bigger ideas about the provision we should make for parks and playgrounds."

But from the economic standpoint parks pay, because of their effect upon the value of property. For example: "It has been found in the case of Madison, Wisconsin, that new parks not only meet all charges but, by reason of the increased value of adjoining property, paid into the city treasury, not less than $10,000 a year in increased taxes. A similar state of affairs exists in New York, where the amount collected (in taxes) in twenty-five years on the property of the three wards (contiguous to Central Park) over and above the ordinary increase in the taxable value of the real estate in the rest of the city was $65,000,000, or about $2,000,000 more than the aggregate expense attending and following the establishment of the park in 1816. In other words, in addition to acquiring lands valued at $20,000,000, the city of New York has made $21,000,000 in cash out of that transaction. The original price paid for the 840 acres forming Central Park was $6,645,000. Baltimore has nearly 100 parks, with a total area of 2,492 acres, for which the city has paid a direct cost of only about $10,000. The cost has been met out of the city's percentage of the gross receipts of the street railway company."

Mr. Adams contends that "more ample facilities should be made in our parks for recreation, and more encouragement should be given to athletics." Among other things he advocates a public golf course, and adds that "we need to spend some of our money in getting utility as well as beauty." He declares that if public money were used to encourage athletics and develop the energies and physical fitness of our people it would be as beneficial as the money spent in improving farm stock. "Remembering that the planning of our parks and athletic grounds needs more attention he says: "In some of our newer building developments we are providing that not less than one acre in every ten should be left as an open space for public use. The laws of Alberta and Saskatchewan lay down this standard for new subdivisions. In the Ottawa housing scheme facilities are provided for outdoor recreation for the residents, from twelve to fourteen per cent of the area being reserved for open spaces. Much of the land that is usually wasted in unnecessary streets has been set aside for tennis courts and children's playgrounds. Parks and recreation grounds should be spread about our cities and neither too concentrated in one place nor too far distant from the homes of the people. Perhaps less could be spent on artificial adornment and more in making them useful. The greatest benefit from the parks will be derived from the increased health and, consequently, greater efficiency of the population. Parks are a better investment than hospitals and asylums, and if we do not spend the money on the one we shall be compelled to spend it on the other in greater degree than is needed if we exercise proper judgment and foresight."

Mr. Adams notes the fact that the city of Vancouver paid over $15,000 per acre for its parks, other than Stanley Park and in the case of the Woodland playgrounds the cost was $43,200 per acre. Compare this with the price the city of St. John pays for its north end playground, and what you might have had to pay ten years hence. In the case of Vancouver, Mr. Adams says that "if it had set aside its open spaces well in advance of development it might have bought 280 acres at the same price or less than the $9 acres it has purchased at $905,466." To hear of nearly a million dollars being paid for parks and playgrounds in a new city like Vancouver almost takes one's breath away, but it illustrates the fact that the people there are at least awake to the necessity of providing recreation areas, regardless of the cost. Let us quote again from Mr. Adams: "Probably there never was a time when it was as important as it is at present to develop outdoor recreation and to improve the park areas and playgrounds of our cities. In proportion as we close the saloon we must open and extend the park; as we shorten the hours of labor and extend manufacturing, we must provide facilities for healthy outdoor recreation; as we enlarge our cities we must enlarge their lungs. In proportion as we extend the uses of the automobile and develop good roads we must have playgrounds to enable the children to play in safety. This is wise counsel. If we apply it to St. John we find that the city council has made a splendid beginning this year in encouraging the development of neighborhood playgrounds and the preparation of the larger area at the entrance to Rockwood Park. But Rockwood Park is itself inaccessible to thousands because of a lack of means of reaching it, and Tucker Park is an unknown quantity so far as the average citizen is concerned. There is, therefore, need of a continuance and an enlargement of the policy adopted this year, in order that the people may enjoy to the fullest extent the benefits to be derived from healthy recreation in open spaces provided for that purpose.

On the subject of street trees Mr. Clyde Lovett of the Canadian forestry department writes: "The modern way is for this matter to be handled as a city or municipal enterprise, under the immediate direction of a thoroughly trained and experienced specialist. Some of our western cities have shown commendable foresight in their street policies. In addition to keeping sidewalks and roadways in good condition, the boulevards are made, the grass kept cut and watered, and shade trees planted and taken care of. The result is a uniformity and harmony in the appearance of the street, the trees are kept in good order, and are well protected by the municipality. Under such conditions the public take a just pride in the appearance of their streets, and are also influenced in keeping adjoining property in like condition."

Greek and Turk are fighting, Russian and Pole are engaged in a bitter struggle. France and Syria are at odds and the Allies may yet be forced to engage in war with Russia to save Poland. As the war correspondents used to say there is "a certain liveliness" in several directions. The greatest danger is in Russia.

Mr. Thomas Lipton's yacht was not fast enough yesterday. Perhaps he will have better fortune today. It is quite evident, however, that he has no mean antagonist, and the race will be well contested. Indeed the American craft is a favorite in the wagering on today's race.

If the city can get along without adequate hotel accommodation why ask for more railway or what accommodation? That of course the city will have the new hotel. It cannot afford not to have it when it is offered on such advantageous terms.

If the citizens do not back up the new hotel proposition it will be about the worst advertisement St. John could get. How other cities would laugh at any future pretensions of St. John that it was a live city.

The Commercial Club, the Board of Trade, the mayor, the premier of the province—all of them say the hotel proposition is a good one for St. John. Investors should not hesitate.

The Bolsheviks are making threats of terrible vengeance against British prisoners, based on an utterly false charge against the British government. The only weapon of those people is murder. They are a curse to civilization.

The city cannot afford to pay $66,000 more for the Spruce Lake water main than the work could be done for—it is true that there is this much difference between two tenders for the work.

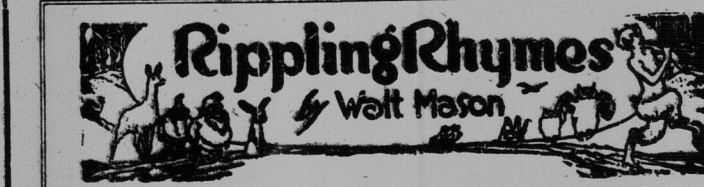

The British government faces grave problems at home and abroad. We are told that the cabinet yesterday was deciding issues "involving the welfare of millions of people and the prestige of the country."

FARMERS NOT KEEN ON GOING INTO POLITICS

Regina, Sask., July 24—Judging from the number of replies received to the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' circular letters sent out to every S. G. G. local and to many other organizations and private individuals, the farmers of the province are not enthusiastic about entering the provincial political field. Out of 1,170 letters sent out 102 replies have been received. Of these thirty-eight are opposed to any party being taken, 118 are indifferent, twenty-two are favorable to the preparation of a platform, but offer no suggestions, thirty are in favor of other suggestions, while only one received was non-committal.

Cobalt, July 24—Seven years ago, when he came with his parents to Cobalt from Italy, Pietro Giovannelli could not speak one word of English. This week the entrance examination results show that the boy, now only twelve years of age, passed with honors from St. Patrick's Separate School here. The runner-up in the same class was a Czech-Slovak.

Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason

LANG SYNE
When we grow old we all look back with longing o'er the traveled track, to days of auld lang syne; and we inform the younger men that better times today than in the dim years far away, when I was always broke; I'm living now in Easy street, but every morning I repeat the old gent's harmless joke. "When I was young," my yarn begins; then all was gold that now is tin, and brides were precious stones; then orchids grew on all our lawns, and guinea hens and geese were swans, and trees I cut with rusty tools; I swung an ax, I packed a hod, and broke my back, and carried kegs of nails and casks, to earn some meagre dime. I worked some eighteen hours a day on farms composed of rocks and clay, and miles of prairie sod. I pushed two sorely mules. I wouldn't do the old time chores for all the wealth the miser pours into his bin at night; but when I break some honest hearts, "When I was young," my story starts, "the world was gay and bright."

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

Domestic Happenings of Other Days

TAKING THE "ADAMS."
On July 23, 1814 Sir John Sherbrooke with rear Admiral Cochrane and a small land force sailed from Halifax in a search for United States ships of war. It was in the days of the three years' war between the British and the Americans. Five days later they fell in with the "Adams," a sloop of war from which they learned that the United States frigate "Adams" had entered the Penobscot and avoid attack had gone up the river as far as Hampden. Sherbrooke at once shaped his course for the Penobscot intent upon the capture of the "Adams." A fort at Castine was attacked to clear the way to Hampden. The Americans, finding they could not maintain possession of the place, blew it up. Then the attack on the frigate was renewed. Captain Barrie and Lieut.-Col. John were given charge of the expedition that had to advance about twenty-six miles beyond Castine. A fierce fight took place at Hampden, the casualty list for the day was large. In the various fights several hundred Americans were captured while the British lost about 100 men. Six choppers and three sloops were captured and brought out to the British. In the expedition, however, one British schooner and a sloop while several unfinished ships on the ways in various parts of the river were destroyed. Soon afterwards the expedition sailed back to Halifax, having almost cleared the river of the district from the district and leaving only one small port of the United States between the Penobscot and Passamaquoddy Bay.

FORGET A SONNET.
Forget at these, the barren fool in power,
The madman in command, the jealous fool,
The bitter world biting its bitter hour,
The cruel now, the happy long ago.

Forget all these, for though they truly hurt,
The dove's grey, the mist, the ruffled sea,
Men are gods; we tread the city dirt,
But in our souls we can be queens and kings.

And I, O Beauty, O divine white wonder,
On whom my dull eyes, blind to all else, peer;
Have you for peace, that not the whole world
Nor the world's wreck can threaten or take from here.

So you remain, though all man's passionate seas
Roar their blind tides, I can forget all else.
—John Mascheid.

GREY HAIR.
Your hair is grey—what then? The east is grey,
When the sun laughs it into living gold,
As Wisdom's sun in you betrays a day,
Even now, of lights mellow and manifold.

Grey are the loftiest turrets; grey the hills
In tender-pencilled twilight, and the sea
'Tis twilight and sunset, ere the first
Dove's grey, the mist, the ruffled sea,
And penetrates its beautiful mystery!
Like Lore's hand brushing back this frosted lock
To find the high-domed temple of thought behind!

The dove's grey, the mist, the ruffled sea,
And cool cloud, ruffled by the westering wind,
Grey hair! From Thought's white peak
The silver is caught; show me a gold as bright!
—S. Gertrude Ford.

POPE RECEIVES MISS HOLT.
Interest of the Pontiff Enlisted in Favor of the Blind.

Rome, July 24—Pope Benedict, who wishes to participate in any attempt to relieve the misery of humanity, especially that caused by the late war, has received in private audience, Miss Winifred Holt, president of an Italian-American committee for the protection of the blind, and also the founder of the New York State Association for the Blind. The audience occurred in the beautiful large private library of the Pontiff, who was most cordial, taking great interest in the work for the blind.

His Holiness was much impressed by work of the blind in America and France, and also admired the work done by the Italian blind.

The Pope bestowed his pontifical blessing on the work and also on a little cross which Miss Holt wore throughout the war.

Miss Holt also was received by the Papal Secretary of State, Cardinal Gasparri, who promised his support in favor of the blind.

Newton, N. J., July 24—Coroner James W. Mills picked a head of lettuce in his garden which was 73 inches in circumference. He declares it is the largest head of lettuce ever grown in New Jersey if not in the entire country.

SCOUT CAMP IN NOVA SCOTIA A MARKED SUCCESS

Headquarters Here Has Word from Mr. Eaman

More About New Brunswick's—Visitor from Honduras—Woodstock Scout Wins Silver Cross for Rescue in Water.

Word has been received by headquarters from Mr. Eaman in camp with the Nova Scotia Scouts that more than 100 boys are registered in that camp and leaving the best time of their lives. The N. S. provincial camp is situated on the Stewiacke River about fifteen miles from Truro, and is said to be ideal in many respects.

A further visit to the New Brunswick camp site by headquarters officers has convinced them of the excellence of this beautiful spot on the Bellefleur. In addition to the necessary features, the somewhat rare asset of being completely isolated, at the same time being quite easy of access by train, boat and road. Applications are coming in at a merry rate and an excellent camp is assured so far as numbers are concerned. The leaders' training course in connection with the camp is also proving popular and judging by the prospectus of that course it will be one of the most attractive features of the camp. All camp applications must be in by Saturday, July 31. Any boys who are in doubt as to any point in connection with the camp should visit headquarters at an early date and secure the information they desire.

A pleasing visitor to headquarters during the week was an assistant scoutmaster from Honduras. He reported that a large number of Scouts were carrying on in that country despite the loss of their scoutmaster and assistant scoutmaster during the war. The Scouts have to wait more than six weeks before they get their badges and awards. All St. John Scouts will wish good luck to their brethren in Honduras, remembering that a Scout is a friend to all and a brother to every other Scout. One of the statements of the visitor was to the effect that in his travels he has always been able to count on a friend in any port where he has seen the scout emblem.

Another British isle where Scouts are flourishing is the famous St. Helena. Scouts are urged to interest themselves in the Wolf Cub movement. These little brothers are carrying on in excellent style in several packs in the city and many more are eagerly awaiting the fall to form packs in their own localities. The Wolf Cub movement is not the Scout movement with color washed out, but is quite a distinct organization, having different laws and altogether different system of carrying on. Animal nature is copied a great deal and the cubmaster is called Akela, or the Old Wolf. Rudyard Kipling's Jungle Books are the basis for most of the games and ceremonies of the Cubs, and they try to follow the teachings of Akela as given in those books. Obedience is the first lesson that the young wolves learn, and therefore the Cub promise is "to give in to the Old Wolf, and not to give in to self." Any Scouts who wish to secure the very best of practice in leading before they are called upon to act as a patrol leader or second cannot do better than help a cubmaster with his pack of lively and eager Wolf Cubs.

Why Pearls are Popular
Pearls are today the favorite neck ornament of womankind. Just why they are so popular is little understood. Here is an expert's opinion:
"Pearls—because of their peculiar sheen—are 'complimentary' to every complexion. Blondes and Brunettes alike can wear them with equally good results. The roundness of the pearl and the soft drapes of the string add to their charm. Any colour may be worn with them."
"We have made a close study of the pearl situation and have been successful in acquiring a stock of the best grade hard to duplicate as they are extremely scarce."

RECENT WEDDINGS

Merzetti-Hanson.
In the Cathedral on Wednesday morning Miss Laura Hanson was united in marriage to Herman J. Merzetti, both of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Merzetti left by boat for Boston and New York and other American cities. On their return they will reside in Union street. They received many beautiful and useful gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a fine piano and substantial check. The good wishes of many friends are extended.

RECENT DEATHS

The death of Mrs. D. F. Maxwell occurred at her home in St. Stephen yesterday. She had left last week for a motor trip but was taken severely ill at Houlton, Me., and compelled to return home. Her death followed a surgical operation. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. A. E. Vesey of St. Stephen, and two sons, Reginald at home and Allen of Seattle.

MANITOBA TEACHING HER 6 WOMEN TO MAKE HATS

Winnipeg, Man., July 24.—The Manitoba government has inaugurated something new for the ladies. A thirty-two page bulletin "Lessons in Millinery," has just been published by the Manitoba Department of Agriculture. The bulletin, which contains 111 illustrations, describes very carefully and clearly the various operations in connection with hat making, and is not dependent upon the present millinery styles. The matter of styles is scarcely discussed at all—it is not a book of styles, but a book of instructions as to how to perform the various fundamental millinery operations.

CLERICAL FISHERMEN.

Sussex Record.—Rev. D. J. McPherson, besides being a great preacher is a great fisherman. He had a more than unusual pleasant expression on his countenance as he walked home from the river Saturday morning, carrying with him a nice salmon, which he had just caught. When the fish took to the air it also in some way got caught by another fish hook on the tail which made it quite easy for Mr. McPherson to capture his prize, and he landed the salmon in about five minutes. Dr. J. J. Daly last week caught a salmon weighing sixteen pounds. The one caught by Mr. McPherson while not as large as that was a heavy one just the same. It is quite an asset to Sussex to have good salmon fishing practically within the town limits.

Objects to Love Letters.

London, Eng., July 24.—Justice Lush, trying a breach of promise action in the High court, protested against the needless reading of love letters in court. "I do not think," he said, "that in these cases letters ought to be read unnecessarily. I do not think the reading of affectionate letters ought to be encouraged."

Winnipeg, Man., July 24.—(By Canadian Press)—Col. Henry A. He may be addressed at "Millton Lodge, Gillingham, Dorset, England."

WHY COX AND HARDING WILL MAKE LEAGUE CHIEF ISSUE

Both candidates on the Democratic ticket declare that they will make their chief fight on the League of Nations issue. Replying, Senator Harding says that since "the President demands a campaign on this issue," since "the Democratic platform makes the issue paramount," and since "the Democratic candidates unqualifiedly acquiesce," then "the Republican party and candidates gladly accept the challenge."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, July 24th, throws many side-lights upon the reasons why the candidates are pushing the League of Nations to the front as a dominant issue, and it will be highly interesting and instructive reading to the American voter just now.

Notable Sight Was The Gathering of 300 V. C. Men At King's Party

Two Small Boys Represented Hero Fathers—Variety of Uniforms in London—The Sinn Fein Courts—Topics of Week in Empire Metropolis.

(From our own correspondent.) London, July 1.—The King's V. C. reception and garden party at Buckingham Palace on last Saturday stands by itself. It was unique. There were more than 300 wearers of the famous "ten penny worth of bronze" who accepted the royal invitation. They assembled early in the afternoon on the parade ground of Wellington Barracks, the best windows of which were stuffed with off-duty Guardsmen, keenly alive to the professional interest of the occasion. It was a remarkable experience to be outside the barrack railings in Horse Guards Walk about the hour of assembly. A crowd of men and women of all sorts, but with a strong element of both ex-service men and ex-service women, thronged the roadway and pressed against the rails. And one was continually being jostled by V. C. heroes intent on making their way through the gates.

traveled a lot, and besides being run down in a yacht by a cruiser in the Mediterranean, was one of the party visiting Jamaica during the great earthquake upheaval. Her untimely and peculiarly sad end has come as a shock to a great many people in Mayfair, who knew and admired her in her happier days.

Comopolitan London.

In spite of the opposition to Mr. Churchill in favor of khaki remaining the clothing of the British army, there is a post of variety in uniforms in London clubs and hotels at the present moment. Cavalry officers from every part of Europe and from the United States are taking part in the competitions at the horse show, and the other day I saw at the Ritz a bunch of the most convivial kind, presided over by an extremely genial and heavily-gilded officer, and where the host, no doubt feeling that he must take up the mantle of Mary Pickford, kissed everybody before he left the table. What with the horse show and the tennis at Wimbledon, where Japan seems likely to wipe the floor with America, we are more cosmopolitan than we have been at any time since the beginning of the war.

of men and women of all sorts, but with a strong element of both ex-service men and ex-service women, thronged the roadway and pressed against the rails. And one was continually being jostled by V. C. heroes intent on making their way through the gates.

It is rather a new experience to bump into a dozen or two men with the coveted honor up in one crowd in a quarter of an hour. All branches of the fighting services were represented, and the assembled company of the brave included old veterans of past wars, as well as young veterans of the present great war. All social and rank distinctions were obliterated by the common aura of valor transcendent.

On the Guards parade ground and on the march through splendid and cheering crowds to the palace, though the navy and army were segregated, officers and men mingled and chatted with out restraint. There were glittering peers who were staff officers and generals and admirals, and beside them marched the dustman V. C. from Wandsworth and the Bermondsey slum hero. Some wore in uniform, some in mufti, and the mufti varied from a correct attire for a royal garden party, even to immaculate white spats, to a cheap ready-made lounge suit and a bilcock hat. The only passport to that company was the modest-looking dark ribbon and the inconspicuous cross on the coat.

The Tea Staff.

While waiting for the "fall in" to sound, the V. C. secured each other's autographs on the backs of their invitation cards, colonels signing for sergeants and blue-jackets and privates, and lance-corporals for generals and fleet-commanders. And as the gallant company marched slowly down the Mall behind a Guards band, playing one of the old western front march tunes, to which the grand army set words known to every man present, but riotously "imposed" for a royal garden party, the universal thought was, "How many bright and thrilling epics of human achievement are masked behind those strong, brown, smiling faces with the modest, shy glances."

Parade was a great condemnation of contemporary art portraiture. Nothing was more incongruous than the figures and faces in Saturday's march of the V. C. From the leading rows of cavalry officers in blue and gold, interspersed with a blue-jacket in uniform, one in mufti, and a fine young blue marine in the following khaki and mufti files of the army, which included many a brave silt and balmeral, to the firm face of the blind officers who the motor at the end, riding amid the subdued cheers with head slightly bowed, these were the elect of spirit and physique—a noble last remnant in their eye—the still undaunted remnant of the legion of the brave.

One padre limped gamely along with the company. Two small boys, hand in hand, with grave faces, held the simple wooden cross. The second oldest V. C. present was his cross at the feet of one of the boys. Piper Findlater was there, blind Captain Towns, of the Gordon; Private Wilson, of the Pembroke; bonneted Lieut. Michael O'Leary of Guinness, and, selling chocolates to the crowd along the Mall route, was one-legged Mons "ribbon-with-star" veteran. He stopped "trade" and doffed his cap when the band came to a halt.

The New Governor-General

The appointment of Prince Arthur of Connaught to be Governor-General of South Africa was not unexpected. It probably entails on the part of Prince Arthur himself a real sacrifice. Through his hands has gone a great deal of traveling abroad on various ceremonial missions for the king he is more typical Londoner, living in Mayfair, and to be seen any day walking about like any ordinary resident in that quarter. The suggestion has been made that Prince Arthur should be made Duke of Devonshire, highly unlikely that anything of the kind will be done, as unlike all other royal princes, he, himself, being a knight of the Thistle and not of St. Patrick, and he holds his commission in the Scots Guards, whose uniform he always wears on ceremonial occasions. No doubt he will be made a general of some rank or other before he goes out to the Cape. In spite of the congenial lameness from which he suffers, for he has a club foot, he is not only a rider constantly, but is a very good cricketer.

The Theatrical Garden Party

The theatrical garden party is not so much a garden party as a corker designed to produce a continuous flow of money from everybody who has his wits enough to get within reach of the gates. This season it was no exception, being wisely enough to hire, I went slowly down the main avenue of the Chelsea Pensioners' Garden, in the middle of which, past various side-shows, each of which, in the best interests of the plans of the theatrical profession, assured me that Mary Pickford was inside. I did catch one glimpse of the famous lady as she was being hurried into a motor-car, and left the impression of someone rather of a bright yellow hair and a quite markedly olive complexion, the sort of complexion which is found on people who act for the cinema and who acquire it by means of the make-up. And one camera man told me that it is just this kind of tint which comes out well in a photograph, and it would not surprise me to hear that Mary Pickford is able to act without make-up at all.

As for the garden party itself, it must resemble the kind of thing which used to happen at Vauxhall Gardens near by, and Cremorne, still nearer by in the times when our grandfathers enjoyed themselves rather more exuberantly than we ordinarily do now. Drums were beating all round the place, immense crowds who, ordinarily speaking, go to matinees, were vainly seeking for the people whom they are enthusiastic about when the footlights are between them.

One of the oldest things about the party was the fact that, although people crowded into Gerald du Maurier's fit-up theatre, where he was doing a series of short plays, and cheered to the echo, Miss Iris Hoey, Robert Lorraine, Miss Laurette Taylor and Mr. du Maurier himself, they passed them outside without any sign of recognition, when they were making their way through the crowd. If I were an actor or an actress and wanted to go and play inconspicuously, I should go in the pit.

The Dead Countess

Following so quickly on the unhappy domestic revelations recently made in the courts, the tragic death of the Countess of Dudley while swimming out to sea, has created no ordinary impression. She was, in sober fact, both a beautiful and a remarkably gifted lady, and she was for some time a brilliant figure in London society. The dead countess was proud of her pure Quaker ancestry. She was the daughter of Charles Gurney, a Quaker banker, and her mother was a sister of Val Prinsep, an artist. Her father surrendered all his fortune to the creditors of his bank when that concern failed more than sixty years ago, and the future countess was adopted as ward by the Duke and Duchess of Bedford. She was trained in singing by Toselli, and her philanthropic interests developed by the duchess a most capable organizer and worker. She was hostess to King Edward twice during her husband's term as Irish Viceroy, and had that king, as well as the present king, as godfathers to five of her children. She might greeting was like thunder. The "movie" business is a newspaper "stunt." Not one Londoner in twenty thousand knows anything about the American film stars' doings—except from the newspapers.

It is really astonishing how convincing can be the efforts of a few sensationalist journalists, a dozen or two of press photographers, and a cute publicity agent. A few empty-headed Cockney flappers do not make a real London crowd. And the normal life of London goes on quite normally in spite of all these photographic surging mobs of half a dozen, the exciting snap-shots from hotel windows, and the rest of it. In sober reality not even the Cockney public is quite like that. But the modern Cockney press is certainly about the most vulgar and most dishonest thing since the South Sea Bubble.

Spectacle at Drury Lane.

Robert Hitchens' most popular romance, "The Garden of Allah" will find the Drury Lane dramatic version quite good. It is, however, mainly a spectacular affair, with sweeping desert glimpses, sand storms, flocks of real goats that caper most realistically over the burning sand within a hundred yards of Waterloo Bridge, live camels that teach the London gallery patrons how to defy the lightning and dawn effects, and sombre Trappist architecture. The African scenery is really very like, and the stage settings are marvellously done, and the acting is good enough for anything. What more could the most devout admirer of Mr. Hitchens want than Miss Madge Tithcradle, Miss Poppy Boddadill, Beat Gill, Godfrey Tearle in the chief parts, and innumerable Moors and other African natives to furnish the complete local color. The Drury Lane camels are a great success. I heard one lady utter pitiful lament over their being "rather thin." But I think she over-estimates the indigenous corpulence of the desert camel. Long-distance trottoleers are addum really fat people. The piece will certainly have a good long run at Drury Lane, and should not be missed by those play-goers who like dramatized Hitchens done in terms of real sociology.

The Sinn Fein Dilemma.

The Sinn Fein courts in Ireland are working much more extensively than most people in this country realize, and are answering their purpose marvellously well. There can be no manner of

TORONTO STREET RAILWAY FINANCES
Toronto, July 24.—All stockholders of the Toronto Railway Company have been put back into the system, with the exception of $1,000,000, according to Manager R. J. Fleming, who appeared yesterday afternoon before a board of conciliation which is hearing the demands of the shop trades of the Toronto Railway for eighty cents an hour for machinists and sixty-five cents for helpers.
"Some years ago," Mr. Fleming said, "we gave the stockholders a bonus of $1,000,000. That's the amount, and its value will have to be determined when we come to distribute the assets."
Mr. Fleming assured the board that the company was willing to pay any increase which was just. "Other men have received increases," he said, "and I don't want these men to suffer any more than the others." He said the company was digging into the assets to meet the obligations involved in increased wages.

HEALTH FIGURES FOR PROVINCE
June Reports of Department Are Issued
St. John City and County Second Highest in Marriage Rate — Percentages of Births, Marriages and Deaths.
(Special to Times.)
Fredericton, July 24.—The department of health of New Brunswick has issued statistics for June. Fredericton again heads the three cities of the province in birth rate, marriage rate and death rate. Also the greatest difference between birth rate and death rate, and also has the lowest death rate of the three.
Of the sixteen sub-districts furnishing statistics, Restigouche county has the highest birth rate, 84.8 and Sunbury county shows the lowest birth rate, 16.6; Gloucester county is second with 41.1; Madawaska county third with 36.6; Fredericton city fourth with 38 and York county a close fifth with 32.1. Fredericton, in May, had the third highest birth rate. As usual counties with a predominantly French population have the highest birth rate.
Fredericton has the highest marriage rate of the province, 28. The lowest marriage rate is 1.8 for Sunbury county. Northumberland with 5 is the next lowest. The second highest in St. John city and county, with 18. St. John city by itself has a rate slightly higher, 18.5. As before, Fredericton has the highest death rate, 16.4, accounted for by the fact that Victoria Hospital draws a large number of patients and operation cases from outside Fredericton with a resulting high percentage of deaths of non-residents. Sunbury county has the lowest death rate, 5.5. Other high death rates are St. John city and county, 15.6; Charlotte county, 15.4; Queens county, 12. The rate for the three cities of the province is as follows:
St. John—Births, 29.2; marriages, 18.8; deaths, 12.2.
Moncton—Births, 29.2; marriages, 19; deaths, 9.1.
Fredericton—Births, 33; marriages, 24; deaths, 16.5.
The rate in all cases is based upon one thousand of population per year. The rate per thousand per year for the province—Births, 26.4; marriages, 12.8; deaths, 11.8.

HAD DIAMONDS WORTH $50,000
New York, July 24.—Unset diamonds said to be worth $50,000 were seized by custom officers here yesterday when a sailor of the steamship Stockholm attempted to smuggle them ashore. He had secreted the jewels in his clothing. The sailor said that he did not know personally who had given him the diamonds. They had been delivered to him before sailing for the United States, he asserted, by unidentified persons and he did not know to whom they were to be delivered. Because of his unsatisfactory explanation he was taken into custody by the custom officers.

Wood Beds Are Becoming More Popular Every Day
There seems to be something especially inviting about a Wooden Bed—and just now they are becoming very popular. Our stock is right in step with the increasing demand, and we know you will be pleased with this showing.
The line is extensive—including in it all the popular woods and finishes. A particular attractive feature is the steel rails with which the beds are equipped, thus ensuring solidity and freedom from that looseness sometimes characteristic of the old-style wood bed. These steel rails keep spring and mattress in position, and give all advantages of iron or steel beds, together with the further attractiveness of wood.

WAS DEMPSEY BUT NOT HE OF FAME IN RING

K. of C. Outing Party Hoax Fellow Passengers on Lake Steamer Trip.

Port Arthur, Ont., July 19.—(By Mail, Special Correspondence of the Times)—It did not take long for the news to spread about town this morning that Jack Dempsey was aboard the Naronic and before the big lake boat was firmly docked at her pier a large crowd of interested and inquisitive spectators were gathered on the quay anxious to get a glimpse of the world's heavyweight champion. Cameras were there in profusion, all poised ready to snap the pugilist as he came down the gangplank. At last a group of white-hatted passengers appeared and amongst them towered a fine big chested six-footer whose bearing spoke of his intimate acquaintance with the snapping and clicking of cameras and immediately a buzz of "Here he is!" "That's Jack," and other exclamations were heard on all sides. The big fellow seemed pleased with the reception and smiled a hearty white-toothed smile for the admiring throng while a group of youngsters surged forward and grasped the heavyweight's hand.

Your representative was amongst the crowd and recognizing the name of "Jack Kearns," the fighter's manager, pencilled on the white hat band of a small smoked-spectacled man who followed in the wake of the big champ made himself known. "No," Mr. Kearns replied to the reporter's question as to whether the visit had anything to do with a bout or with the search for local color for one of Dempsey's celluloid thrillers. "This is purely and simply a pleasure trip. We came over on the Naronic this morning and leave for Duluth tonight and then home. This afternoon the party is making a trip to Kakabeke Falls." Asked if the champion was likely to be called upon to defend his title in the near future, the manager replied in the negative. About this time the newsmen noticed an amused smile playing over the features of the visitors and he grew suspicious. A burst of hearty laughter from the "manager" gave the game away and a full explanation followed. It developed that the party was composed of 200, all of them members of the fourth degree assembly of the Detroit Council, Knights of Columbus, and their friends. By coincidence the party included one "Dempsey," apparently of the heavyweight dimensions but boasting of punching in his life time no more retaliatory object than a time-clock, and a "Joe Kearns" who would not know what the terms of a fight contract would look like. But the people of the boat outside the party, of course, had fallen for the hoax and had even gone so far as to arrange a bout for tonight aboard the boat. The passengers are due for the same abrupt awakening as experienced by the newsmen. In California, the paying of a bonus by automobile dealers to chauffeurs (to influence the sale of cars or supplies) is strictly forbidden.

as it is working in line with the general forward movement policy for this province. The government has started the construction of a road from Calais to this city. The benefit to the merchants of the city generally will be incalculable, and the combination of good roads and a good hotel cannot have other than the effect of bringing in here many hundreds of thousands of dollars annually, which will be spent with our merchants and local institutions," said the premier. "The Commercial Club has my warmest support, both in my capacity as premier of the province, and as a citizen of St. John."

H. R. McLellan, secretary of the Commercial Club, has received a letter from the board of trade with the resolution passed by the council heartily approving of the hotel project.

GREAT FUN FOR THE COMMODORE
(Chatham World)

When yacht racing was popular in St. John, some years ago, we used to get much amusement out of detailed reports written by men who knew nothing practically or theoretically about the sport and had no acquaintance with its literature. But the "buckwheat reporters" of St. John were hardly as bad as the men who are reporting the America cup races for the Associated Press. These gentlemen, for instance, tell the public that Shamrock, when to leeward of Resolute, made attempts to blanket the latter, and was prevented from doing so by the skill of Captain Adams. Fancy a boat to leeward position trying to blanket its opponent! And again, when a friendly puff sent Shamrock forward until she "was only 100 yards to leeward of the defender, it looked as if the Shamrock might go through the Resolute's weather"—that is, when she was 100 yards to leeward it looked as though she might pass to windward! Wonderful! We are also soberly told that Captain Burton tried his boat "with three jibs and two headsails" and failed even with such a rig to get around the windward stake! No wonder he failed. A time-honored prescription for colds is to hang a hat on a bedpost and drink whiskey till the patient sees two hats there. What must this New York reporter have taken to enable him to see three for grown-ups as well as infants

A MENNEN PRODUCT—It is bringing quick relief to thousands who suffer from skin irritation, chafing, blistering, sunburn

KORA-KONIA is a healing powder that was prepared originally from a physician's formula to give relief from unusually severe skin irritation due to external causes.

MOTHERS, doctors and nurses, who use it on babies for diaper rash and teething rash, say it is almost miraculous in the way it soothes and quickly heals the raw, inflamed baby skin. The remarkable thing about Kora-Konia is that it doesn't wash away quickly, as it is waterproof and clings to the skin for hours—preventing chafing from the friction of damp coverings.

Its medicinal properties, antiseptic and protective, aids Nature in healing and in giving quick relief. Dusted over the tender skin, it forms a thin protective film.

There will be trap and rifle shooting, log burling, log chopping, canoe racing and rescue work, moose calling, story telling and other contests that make the Guides' Tournament the event of the year in Nova Scotia sport.

The winners in the shooting events for the past four years have all shot Dominion Shells.

Any information required will be gladly furnished by Mr. Fred Graham, Halifax, President of the Association, or the Secretary, Mr. Harry Allen, Yarmouth, N. S.

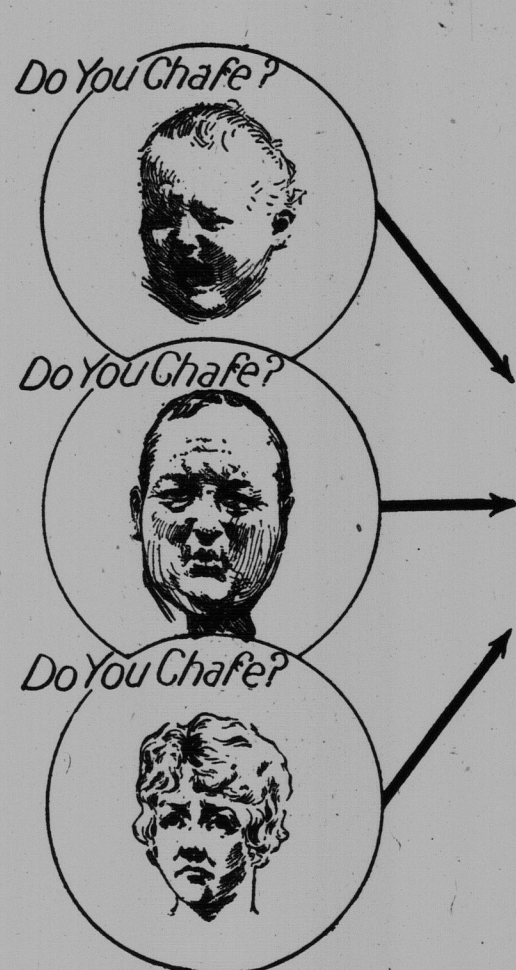

Call at the Dominion Cartridge Company's tent and see Jack Learment, who will put you wise to what's what in guns and ammunition. Ask him about the new Dominion 30-30's with 200 feet per second more velocity. Inquire about the 250 Savage, 33 Winchester, 30, 32 and 35 Remington, the .351 self-loading and other new Dominion sizes.

Of these, sixteen have won first, and the seventeenth, a second prize. That seventeenth might have been awarded a first also but for the fact that he was already on record as first prize winner with that concern. More evidence is in the fact that the windows pull like motor trucks. The firm considers them not alone as ornamental features, but as sales agents. Recently the stores found that they had about a half car of a certain brand of pineapples. It was going too slowly to be in line with the store's rate of turnover. Miettloff was called to the rescue.

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

"Never Put More Than One Item in Any Window."

Eric Miettloff, window decorator for the three Albert Cohn stores, Los Angeles, is as likely to get an idea for a window trim on the outside as in the store—possibly more so.

His ability to catch ideas that are made in the store is responsible in a large measure for his success, which may be judged in a way from the record he has made in the seven prize contests he has entered. Of these, sixteen have won first, and the seventeenth, a second prize. That seventeenth might have been awarded a first also but for the fact that he was already on record as first prize winner with that concern.

More evidence is in the fact that the windows pull like motor trucks. The firm considers them not alone as ornamental features, but as sales agents. Recently the stores found that they had about a half car of a certain brand of pineapples. It was going too slowly to be in line with the store's rate of turnover. Miettloff was called to the rescue.

"At your convenience kindly call and see us. We have a little present for you. Please bring this card."

A few days later she steps up to the office and presents the little card that came in the envelope. A pleasant girl in the office hands her a large tan envelope.

velope. Opening this she draws out a deck-edge folder and orders the printer to make it in R. It is an order of the best photographer in town or a portrait at the store's expense. That is something that she is made to think that time she steadily makes use of and usually orders extra prints.

It is only natural when she is ready to think about furniture she thinks of the Pasadena Furniture Co. When she gives in her name to receive the portrait order it goes on to the firm's mailing list and thereafter, once a month, she receives the little magazine, Beautiful Homes, which is designed to interest families in the better furnishing of homes.

Who Knows More About Babies Than a Grandmother?

In 1917 Captain W. C. Groom, of the firm of Groom-Teichman Co., Aurora, Ill., dealers in tea, coffee, china and glassware, had to leave his business and join his regiment of the Illinois National Guard in the war.

Right then the captain's mother, a gray-haired little woman past sixty years of age, decided to go to business. She wanted something to occupy her mind besides worry about her soldier son, so she took one window and twenty feet of space on one side of the store for a stock of infants' wear.

The first month was not encouraging. She sold only $83 worth and most of that was absorbed by advertising. All her advertising has been confined to the local daily newspaper, three inches twice a week from six to twelve inches on Sunday.

"The Baby Shop" and in all the advertising "Mrs. Groom" has been the "keynote." It has all been built around her personality—a motherly mother who has raised a family of her own, and is helping raise two families of grandchildren.

"A woman who knows what a baby needs and who takes an interest in the problems of young mothers and can give good advice about things a young mother should know."

"If you cannot come yourself send friend husband. Mrs. Groom can make up such satisfactory a layette under his instructions as your own."

"She has good taste and carries only the kind of garments a mother wants to dress her baby in, the best and beautiful needlework, etc., etc."

These were some of the slogans used. There is no doubt that her method of handling customers is what has made the sales in that little baby shop grow from $83 to $1000 a month in the short space of thirty months. The $500 however was paid long ago and she carries a stock of between $200 and $400 and still within that small space of twenty feet on one side of the store.

PEACE RIVER PETROLEUMS, LIMITED OIL IN No. 1 WELL LOCATED IN PEACE RIVER TOWN

By the Progress Reports which have been issued from time to time, the public have been able to follow the efficient and business-like development that has been made in the drilling of the Wells at Peace River.

From the day the first Machinery was purchased, no stone was left unturned to crown the Company's efforts with success. We question if any other Oil Company in Canada has made such wonderful progress in six months as Peace River Petroleum, Limited.

Every Shareholder and Friend of the Company has good reason for congratulations when it is known that No. 1 Well has Oil and plenty of it. Our Superintendent is preparing to make a Pump Test within Thirty Days, when the quantity of Oil will be announced.

The proof of Oil in No. 1 Well is a discovery of immense importance to Canada, and Peace River Petroleum, Limited, will, therefore, derive the greatest benefit in supplying Oil for Canadian Industry and Commerce.

Because of the knowledge that we have Oil in our No. 1 Well and the fact that the Victory Company's No. 1 Well is also in the Oil, will add wealth to Peace River Petroleum, Limited, through Royalties that will be paid to our Company, the shares of Peace River Petroleum, Limited will be advanced to $1.00.

It will be interesting for you to know that operations at No. 2 Well have commenced, and our Superintendent expects to report another discovery of Oil in our No. 2 Well within Ninety Days.

Mr. Thomas A. Cain, Director of the Company, and Mr. W. C. Goffatt, recently visited Peace River to investigate conditions on behalf of the Company, and while there received a request for 20,000 barrels of Crude a month for two operating Companies on the Peace River Country, who fully believe we will have Oil to sell at an early date and lots of it. The question of "What will be done with the Oil" is, therefore, settled through the huge local demand.

More Wells will be drilled in proven territory, so as to secure Oil to fill available orders and substantially increase the revenue of the Company.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

We have a small unsold block of shares of the original allotment which we now offer at 50c. a share.
Don't forget this is your LAST CHANCE to buy Shares at Fifty Cents. Forward your Order immediately.

We will fill subscriptions for shares in the order received, until this allotment has been disposed of.

HEAVY IMPORTS FROM THE STATES

Bank of Commerce Review of Conditions in Canada—Labor an Important Factor.

(Bank of Commerce Circular.)
Imports into Canada are still increasing and their chief source is the United States, although the premium on New York funds during July averaged 18-1/2 per cent. For the twelve months ending May last the value of merchandise imported was $1,181,000,000, of which $88,000,000 represented imports from the United States. Exports to that country for the same period were valued at $478,000,000, leaving an adverse balance of $703,000,000. The prevailing high premium on New York funds has not so far checked the tendency toward a balance in trade with other countries. For the twelve months ending May last, many exports declined slightly, while imports increased 88 per cent. A scrutiny of the principal articles imported will show decided increases in the value of chocolate, motor cars, tobacco, sugar, silks, ribbons, musical instruments, jewelry, furs, books, cotton and wool. It is also noticeable that imports of meats and breadstuffs—typical products of the Dominion—have increased.

During the three-year period ending May last, Canada's exports to the United States amounted to $1,885,000,000, with imports from that country valued at $2,815,000,000, leaving an adverse balance of $930,000,000. The prevailing high premium on New York funds has not so far checked the tendency toward a balance in trade with other countries. For the twelve months ending May last, many exports declined slightly, while imports increased 88 per cent. A scrutiny of the principal articles imported will show decided increases in the value of chocolate, motor cars, tobacco, sugar, silks, ribbons, musical instruments, jewelry, furs, books, cotton and wool. It is also noticeable that imports of meats and breadstuffs—typical products of the Dominion—have increased.

Recent despatches from the central wool markets of Europe indicate a slight better demand, but as yet there is no established price. The outlook for growers is not, however, wholly pessimistic, as stocks of finished textiles are being rapidly depleted, and slightly lower prices are bastening that process. In the short time manufacturers will be compelled to obtain raw wool, and as they again become buyers, a price will be set that may not approximate that of last year, but will nevertheless be relatively high as compared with the prices current prior to the war. On the basis of 1919 prices, Canadian woolen mills use of materials to the value of $15,000,000, to obtain a finished product valued at $25,000,000. The range of goods is extensive, including tweed suitings, serge, broadcloths, homespun, cloakings, and overcoatings. Those in close touch with the industry look with confidence to the future, and have no doubt but that their home trade will be retained even should pre-war conditions return, with intense competition from European mills.

Labor and Business Conditions.
Some of the important metalliferous mines have been compelled, either temporarily or partially, to suspend operations because of the scarcity and the high price of labor. So great is the demand for workers that agents are maintained at the ocean ports to secure men as they land. In the west the coal mines have great difficulty in securing men, and in consequence there are fears of fuel shortage during the winter. Already farmers are seeking to obtain help for the coming harvest, and the wages offered are above the high level of last year. The slight dullness in retail business during June, therefore, cannot be attributed to any falling off in employment. Generally speaking, lower prices have had the salutary effect of restricting the building, for which there are definite prospects. There are evidences of this from many sources. In Quebec some road-building projects have been definitely postponed because of the high cost of construction, and in the west the erection of a number of hotels is pressing need, has been postponed until the cost is well within the limits of the capital provided. Shipping companies are withholding orders for new ships because of the high cost of shipbuilding. Building permits all over the Dominion are in greater volume than a year ago, but the buildings under construction are far from meeting the demand for dwellings, or providing adequately for the expansion of business.

Banking and Finance.
There is an insistent demand for money from prospective borrowers on mortgage, but capital is difficult to obtain. Rates in Eastern Canada are now only slightly below those prevailing in the west. While the larger lending organizations are continuing to lend to farmers at 8 per cent, there are others which find no difficulty in obtaining a 9 per cent. rate on what funds they have for this purpose.

The May bank statement showed a further increase in deposits payable after notice, the aggregating being $1,250,000,000, while loans in Canada were approximately the same as at the end of the previous month. Call loans abroad were greater by $7,700,000, the aggregate being $48,894,182.

Other steamers assigned to this trade are the Eastern Merchant, West Mingo and West Conoh, all modern steel freighters of large cargo capacity.

While no definite schedule has been arranged, the service will probably be a monthly one for the present. The frequency of the sailings will be increased just so soon as the business warrants.

PLANT DESTROYED.
Medicine Hat, Alta., July 20—The Saskatchewan Bridge and Iron Company's building and plant was entirely destroyed by fire during the night. The company held extensive contracts with the Alberta and Saskatchewan governments. The equipment represented an investment of $200,000.

Resolute Defeats Shamrock. The defender Resolute defeated Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger Shamrock IV yesterday afternoon in the fourth race of the 1920 regatta for the cup.

Yacht, Resolute, owner, R. W. Emmons et al; start, 1.01.33; finish, 4.39.25. Yacht, Shamrock, owner, Sir Thomas Lipton; start, 1.01.56; finish, 4.43.06.

Elapsed Corrected Time. Resolute 3.37.02 3.31.12. Shamrock 3.41.10 3.41.10.

Resolute wins by three minutes eighteen seconds, elapsed time; nine minutes fifty-eight seconds, corrected time.

Elapsed times on legs: First Second Third. Resolute 1.18.14 51.02 1.13.26. Shamrock 1.18.02 50.18 1.15.50.

Comment. New York, July 23—This is what Commodore Amelius Jarvis, of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, has to say of today's race.

"Shamrock was running in bad luck today. After getting the better start she immediately ran into a soft spot in the wind. Resolute was just coming about in the same tack when she saw her position and came back at once on the old tack. The result was that she never ran out of the wind and sailed around her rival, gaining many minutes thereby.

"Afterwards Shamrock lost nothing in her windward work, in the reach she gained a little.

"On the last leg a heavy squall was brewing and both yachts pulled sails but Resolute hung onto her club top-sail while Shamrock pulled hers and later set a small working sail.

The squall did not develop and the wind shifted from westerly to easterly several times and fell very light. On each occasion Resolute's luck was best. While luck was much against Shamrock it is doubtful whether today, had she not have worked off her time allowance.

It was good judgment of Mr. Burton's part to take in Shamrock's club top-sail at this stage of the race it was impossible to work off her time without an accident to Resolute. Had a squall materialized this was quite possible with the latter swinging her top-sail while Shamrock snuggled down and prepared. She might have snatched a victory at the last moment."

Following the degree work there was an entertainment, to which Bush contributed songs and Mike McNally, second baseman of the Red Sox, readings. Games This Afternoon.

If weather conditions are favorable the following games will be played this afternoon: St. Peter's grounds—G. W. V. A. vs. St. Peter's in a regular league game.

THE TURF. Grand Circuit. Kalamazoo, Mich., July 23—Racing in a gale of wind that roared down the stretch, the grand circuiters staged four events on the get-away day card this afternoon. It was a session of discomfort to horses, drivers and audience alike and fast time was out of the question.

Tootsie Tootsie won the 2.12 trot from a field of ten starters after losing the first heat to Fara's Hall. Valentine annexed his fourth race here by capturing the staking event for 2.05 pacers with Edna Early. John Henry won the first heat in this event. The three-year-old pace was a hollow victory for Lon Mc Donald's Kife Grenade, while Geers took the 2.06 pace with Lecco Grattan.

WILLYS-KNIGHT

Long Use Improves This Motor

CANADIAN owners who have driven their Willys-Knight sleeve-valve motors thousands of miles, say the motor's only change is improvement with use.

These owners speak with enthusiasm of this motor's exertionless, unflinching response.

The extra advantages of owning this fine car are undeniable. Its roominess, its luxuriousness, its classical design and other refinements more than compensate for the additional amount so wisely invested in the Willys-Knight.

Why Have "Millbanks" Become So Popular?

Because every introduction leads to lasting friendship. It is a case of "love at first smoking."

One smoker offers "MILLBANKS" to a friend. The friend is delighted with these mild, fragrant Virginia Cigarettes and buys a package for himself. This is happening many times a day in every section of Canada. The reason is easy to find.

WHY BUILDING IS SO COSTLY

Some Figures That Show How Materials and Wages Have Advanced.

Illustration of the unprecedented rise since 1914 in the cost of materials and labor which enter into New York city building construction are provided by Charles A. Chase, a member of the subcommittee on building of the mayor's housing conference committee, in a special report submitted to the committee. The findings of Mr. Chase cover every phase of the construction cost situation. They indicate advances in prices of building material ranging from 10 per cent. to 800 per cent. The increased cost of but one item out of 115 is 10 per cent., while the majority of the articles have advanced well over 100 per cent. Of the 115 items, twenty-six have advanced upward of 200 per cent. since 1914, and the rise in the cost of fourteen items has been above 300 per cent. Labor costs have gone up, but not nearly as much as material prices. The biggest advance in wages has been granted to common laborers and to plumbers' laborers, whose rate of pay has increased 300 per cent. Common labor, paid at the rate of 18-4 cents an hour in 1914, is now receiving seventy-five cents, and plumbers' laborers, formerly receiving twenty-five cents an hour, are now paid $1 an hour. Of the forty-nine kinds of labor listed, workers in twenty-two industries have received increases of 100 per cent. and more since 1914, while those in twenty-five other industries have had their wages increased between 50 and 90 per cent. The highest wage per hour is $1.25, and is received by bricklayers, freestone setters, freestone carvers, marble carvers, metal lathers, plasterers and stone masons. Those who received $1.21-2 an hour are bluestone cutters, carpenters, cement finishers, electricians, freestone cutters, granite cutters, iron workers, marble cutters and setters, painters, plumbers, roofers, steam fitters, sheet metal workers and the setters. In the $1 an hour class freestone planers, freestone derrickmen, iron-workers' helpers, mosaic workers and plumbers' helpers.

The percentage of increase in some of the principal building materials above the 1914 cost are as follows:— Pressed chestnut, 80-2-3; pressed plain oak, 80-2-3; pressed hard, 80-1-8; pressed whitewood, 80; pressed cypress, 30; pressed white pine, 80; maple oak flooring, 80; plate glass, 80; 4-inch C. Fog! Fog!
"Give me some more fog!" That was what the stage manager shouted to Larry, his "boob" stage hand. Larry gave him the fog, but not with the same technique that old Jupe Pluve distributes it. Two barrels of good, thick "home-brew" fog — barrels and all landed on the stage manager.
That's one of the hundreds of stunts that will make you roar when you see—

AS human as the call of love; as thrilling as the lightning blast; as tender as the warm kiss of a babe. A Wonder Picture, produced by a Master Director, from a Wonder story.
NO stage ever made could be a thousandth part big enough to depict the costly splendor of "The Virgin of Stamboul," or give room to its far-flung action, which sweeps through the dark, mystery-hung streets of sacred Stamboul across the blazing sandy wastes of the great Arabian Desert.
YOU must see this picture because never before have you had such an opportunity to lose yourself in the enchantment of Asiatic harems, with their favorites, their dancing girls and slaves; to learn the strange customs of the Near East; to mingle with Bedouins and their fleet footed horses; Arab Sheiks and their camel caravans; hookah-smoking Turks and their forbidden mosques. Come to his theatre and learn why this picture is proclaimed as the Screen's greatest triumph.
