Plymouth, Oct. 16.—The Canadian contingent arrived in England today. Britain's mighty power on the sea was shown in its full reality when the great fleet sailed in.

The passage could not have been more pleasant for the troops.

The most exciting incidents were the arrest of a supposed German spy and two British, that of a man who fell overboard at sea from one ship, and that of another who died from exposure after attempting his rescue.

German Efforts Slackening At Several Points

SITUATION REVIEWED

The Fighting of Last Few Days Has Been Strongly in Favor of Allies—Little Danger of Germans Reaching Channel Port Unless Heavily Reinforced

London, Oct. 16.—The Paris correspondent of the Times in a review of the situation on the French battle front says:

"The German army corps which drove the French from Lille, had little effect upon the whole situation. Between the river Lys and the town of Labasse, thirteen miles southwest of Lille, the situation remains unchanged.

"The German effort to envelop Verdun from the north and from the southeast, has been defeated. The position of the German wedge, pushed through from front points of view, is becoming more and more uncomfortable."

London, Oct. 16.—"The severe fighting of the last few days, mainly in the north-west of France," says the Paris correspondent of the Express, "has resulted in a tactical situation which is strengthening their lines."

"Between Roye and Landevy the battle is still undecided. Many of the towns have been reduced and none of the civil population remains."

"The excellent services on the French railways has been a heavy asset for the allies, enabling them to move troops rapidly and smoothly, whenever needed."

Eighty thousand see the body of King as it lies in state

Bucharest, Oct. 16.—The funeral of King Charles of Roumania was held here yesterday morning. Later in the day the body was placed in a crypt in the cathedral in Curtea De Argea, one of the ancient capitals of Wallachia.

The last benediction was pronounced early in the morning. The service for the dead in the orthodox church followed and at its conclusion the body of the king was placed on a gun carriage drawn by six horses.

A salute of 101 guns was fired and all the church bells by Bucharest tolled while the funeral procession, under military escort, started to the railway station. Two special trains carried the funeral party to Curtea De Argea, where the cortege again formed and proceeded to the ancient cathedral, where the body was entombed.

Funeral services were held simultaneously in all the churches in the kingdom. More than 80,000 persons viewed the body of King Charles while it lay in state in the palace here.

GERMAN TORPEDO SENDS TO BOTTOM ANOTHER BRITISH CRUISER, WITH 350 MEN

The Hawke Sunk by Submarine in North Sea and But Fifty of Her Crew Saved—Disaster But Three Weeks After Loss of Aboukir, Hague and Cressy

London, Oct. 16.—The British cruiser Hawke has been sunk in the North Sea by a German submarine. Out of a crew of 400 men, fifty were saved. The statement has been officially confirmed.

The Hawke was a sister ship of the Edgar, Endymion, Grafton, Theseus and Gibraltar, and was launched in 1891.

Her armament consisted of two 9.2 inch guns, ten six inch guns, twelve six pounders, five three pounders, two machine guns and two torpedo tubes. Her complement is given as 544 men, but she may well have had fewer on board when she went down.

The Hawke was commanded, according to the British Admiralty list of September, 1914, by Captain Hugh P. E. T. Williams, and among her officers were Commander Bernard A. Pratt Barlow and Lieutenant-Commander Robert R. Rosoman.

This disaster to the Hawke follows, by about three weeks, the sinking of the British cruisers Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy in the North Sea. These vessels succumbed to the attack of a German submarine, and with them some sixty British officers and 1,400 men went to their death.

While the Hawke was laid down in June of 1889, she was launched at Chatham on March 11, 1891. Among her officers at the time of the disaster were eight naval cadets.

Other British warships lost since the outbreak of hostilities are the cruiser Amphion, which was sunk in the North Sea by a mine, August 6, and the cruiser Pathfinder, torpedoed in the North Sea on September 10. The loss of the Hawke makes a total of six British cruisers destroyed by Germany in the North Sea since the beginning of the war.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The admiralty has given out the following announcement: His Majesty's ship Theseus, Captain Hugh Edwards, was attacked by a submarine in the northern waters of the North Sea yesterday afternoon, but was missed. H. M. S. Hawke, captain M. P. E. T. Williams, was attacked about the same time, and was sunk. Three officers and forty-nine men of the crew have been landed at Aberdeen from a trawler.

UNKNOWN MAN THROWS HIMSELF BEFORE ST. JOHN TRAIN; IS KILLED

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 16.—An unknown man was run over by the St. John express outward this morning at Bedford and instantly killed. There was nothing by which he could be identified. His clothing seemed to indicate that he might have been a seaman.

BACK TO ST. JOHN; SEES OUTLOOK BETTER HERE

Harry L. Beaman, who left St. John about five years ago, has returned to the city and is being warmly greeted by friends. After leaving St. John he spent a year in New York, and then left for the Canadian west. He has been located in Vancouver. Dull times in the west have not been favorable for the feature film business in which he has been engaged, and, hearing of better prospects in the east, Mr. Beaman has returned with the idea of operating in the same lines in the maritime provinces. He has been looking over the field, and has been delighted with conditions, as he has found them here, business showing more stability and money being easier than in any of the other places with which he is in touch. It is probable that Mr. Beaman will make his headquarters in St. John in the future.

"It seems from the spreading of this report that it has come to the knowledge of the Germans that the destruction of the Cathedral has been less thorough than they contemplated and that they mean to perfect their work, placing as usual, the blame on the sufferers."

THE MIND OF GERMANY

Two Remarkable Books Which Have Proven Prophetic—Plan of World-Empire For Germany But Britain The Great Obstacle

Two remarkable books on the mind of Germany are now being widely read. They are "Germany and the Next War" by F. Bernhard, and "Germany and England" by J. Cramb (John Murray). These volumes have proved to be a correct forecast. Before the war they would have been looked upon as incredible, but now a veil is raised and the foresight of the authors is vindicated.

T. B. ROBINSON IS DEAD; CITY LOSES WORTHY CITIZEN

The city lost one of its most prominent citizens today by the death of T. Barclay Robinson, which occurred this morning. Mr. Robinson's health had been failing for several years and for the last year he had been confined to bed. Recently his condition became still more serious and the end did not come as a surprise.

He was a life long member of St. Paul's church and a member of one of the oldest and most prominent families, being a descendant of one of the earliest families who came here in 1788. Before his retirement he was engaged in the fire and life insurance business as the senior member of the firm of T. B. & H. B. Robinson. In addition to his business activities he was prominent in almost every movement for the advancement of the city, and the welfare of its people, and won the sincere respect of all who knew him and the deep esteem of those who had the privilege of being numbered among his friends.

From 1896 until 1906 Mr. Robinson represented Victoria ward in the common council and served as deputy mayor for the year of 1897-8.

CANADA IN THE WAR

Large orders for war material and military supplies are now being placed in Canada by both the British and the French governments. An officer of the Ontario government reports that the Admiralty is expending $500,000 through the Ontario government for a supply of evaporated apples for the use of the fleet.

That mysterious Man in Black, who is he?

Shackleton says:

"The question of the concentrated beef supply is most important—it must be solved."

Shackleton knows. He is taking no risks. He chooses Bovril because the food he takes must yield every ounce of nourishment to his men.

Follow Shackleton's example. Into a single bottle of Bovril is packed the nourishment value of many pounds of beef, and even a plain meal yields much more strength and nourishment if you are taking Bovril. Remember Shackleton's words: It must be Bovril.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Thick

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

LIGHTER VEIN.
This is a bad year for kings. Even King Cotton is not able to produce much more. - New Orleans States.

From an ad. in a tailor store: "If the smallest hole appears after six months' wear, we will make another absolutely free."

Mrs. Commuter, basely deserted by her maid at the eleventh hour, mobilized the Swedish reserve in desperation for the dinner party. All the English the new domestic understood was the sign manual, but an hour's drill put her in shape for service. The dinner went well until dessert. The Swede forgot the finger bowl. Mrs. Commuter employed the sign manual under cover of the table illustrating the washing and drying of hands. The Swede nodded, went out and returned.

A clergyman, noticing the simple appearance of the pair he had just married, decided to give them a few words of advice. He explained to the young man his duties as a husband and then told the young lady how she should conduct herself, winding up with the old injunction: "Remember, my dear, to be kind to your mother-in-law."

German Forces Are Checked; Allies Gaining In Centre

London Oct. 15—On the whole, the British military critics consider yesterday's communication "a most cheerful one." They believe that the German advance to the French coast has been checked, and that the advances reported elsewhere show that the Germans have been compelled to weaken their centre and left in order to strengthen their right again.

However, although the Germans have failed to break the allied line, and have themselves been compelled to give ground, they are now in a better position, having a front which stretches from the Swiss frontier to Antwerp and Dutch territory, so that there are no flanks which the Allies can turn.

The Allies can attempt to break it, and this is believed to be what they are trying to do on the Belgian frontier.

The Germans have occupied Bruges, and are probably at the present time, near Ostend. The main German force, however, is believed to have proceeded to the French coast. With the forces of the Allies occupying Ypres, and doubtless other troops between that city and Nieuwport, ten miles southwest of Ostend, they will probably be compelled to fight their next serious battle along the roads and railways running eastward from the coast. Again they may join with Gen. Von Kluck's army, who occupies Lille and the country north of that city.

The population of the country affected are rapidly making their way to the coast ports and to England, and bring reports of the prevalence of panicky conditions.

There has been more fighting south of Przemysl, in Galicia, on the Stry-Sambor-Medzka line, which disposes of the report that Lemberg had been evacuated by the Russians, and also throws doubt on another report that Przemysl has been relieved.

London, Oct. 15, 2 3/4 p. m.—Regular traffic on the main lines in Germany has been suspended for the past four days, according to a Copenhagen despatch to the Daily News, to allow of the transportation, as quickly as possible, to the western field of an army of 90,000 freshly trained men.

The Austrians say they are attacking the Russians in this position, while the Russian report claims victory over the Austrians from whom, it says, the Russians captured seven officers, 500 men and several machine guns.

In East Prussia, the Russians also say, there is no change in the situation. The Germans have, according to Berlin newspapers, reoccupied Lyck, and for military reasons have moved the town out of Gollub, which is the centre of the region where the Russians are advancing from Suwalki.

London, Oct. 15, 4 3/4 p. m.—The admiralty announces that the British cruiser Yarmouth has sunk the German Hamburg-American line steamer Markomannia in the vicinity of Sumatra, and has captured and is taking into a harbor the Greek steamer Pontoparis. Both the Markomannia and the Pontoparis have been reported previously as accompanying the German cruiser Emden. The Yarmouth has sixty German prisoners of war on board.

The Markomannia had a gross tonnage of 4,205 and was engaged in the African service.

Classes in Building Trades Will Make Their Own Bricks and Then Build With Them—Finest School in Canada

(Toronto World.)

Toronto's $2,000,000 school underwent its first examination yesterday afternoon by a force under Colonel Britton, South Africa, in an engagement with the rebels under lead of Col. Maritz. Col. Britton is the officer appointed by General Botha to suppress the rebellion, which has resulted in Botha's taking the field in active command of the African troops much earlier than he had intended. General Herioux, leader of the political opposition in South Africa, has placed his services at the disposal of the premier.

Recently a Pittsfield family found their electric bell entirely out of order. Later it developed that the ingenious boys of the household had removed all the doorbell batteries and utilized them in rigging up a wireless telegraph station in the attic.

One room which is of particular importance is one in which students of the building trades will build two complete houses. Estimates will be tendered by the students for every branch of the work and every class will undertake the building of its particular branch, and even the bricks which will be used will be manufactured on the premises by pupils of that class.

There is to be a theatre capable of holding 1,000 people, fitted with a stage and a motion picture cabinet. Another large lecture hall suitable for 200 is also fitted with a motion picture cabinet.

The large swimming tank is to be fitted with shower baths and a splendid gymnasium will be equipped, around which is built a running track. In the basement are to be seen machine rooms of exceptional interest. Engineering apparatus to the value of $40,000 is to be installed. There are two large dining rooms and a large room for exhibition purposes.

Some idea of the size of the building can be learned from the fact that there is one and one-half miles of hall, 175,000 feet of electric wire and twelve miles of iron piping.

After the inspection the members of the party were entertained by four members of the advisory committee at the National Club.

THE FARMERS HELP TO RELIEVE THE POOR.
Produce Donated by Growers is Being Distributed in London, Ont.

London, Ont., Oct. 15—Mayor Graham's scheme for the distribution, among the poor of the city, of farm products being donated by farmers of the district is working out well. The cellar of the city hall is being used as a receiving station and distributing centre. Farmers and vegetable growers are generous in their contributions. One farmer offered 100 barrels of apples free of charge.

DOCTORS SCARCE.
Quebec, Oct. 16—Dr. H. S. Beland, M. P. for Beauce County, writing to friends in Quebec, from St. Elizabeth, Antwerp, September 25, says that the wounded returned by thousands from the fields, and that there are not enough doctors to attend to their wounds.

Since the fall of Antwerp no news has been received from Doctor Beland.

40,000 Ties as Free Fuel.

London, Ont., Oct. 16—Forty thousand old ties from the London & Port Stanley Railway, the city's railway running between here and Port Stanley, which is now being rehabilitated and electrified, are to be divided for fuel purposes among the deserving poor of London and St. Thomas, according to an announcement by Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the commission in charge of the work.

THE VICTROLA AND THE FAMILY NO. 1

and the Victrola are great friends. "I like to sit back and dream of the days gone by, while the Victrola, through its magic, recalls the old songs and singers to me.

"There's Tamagno and Plancon, Patti and Melba who still sing for me just as I used to hear them, at their best, although two are now dead and one has permanently retired from the stage. And the younger generation of singers, although I have never had an opportunity of hearing them personally, seem like old friends to me, so familiar have their voices become through their wonderfully beautiful Victor Records.

"All the rest of the family enjoy the Victrola just as much as I do. They all have their favorite music and their favorite singers and musicians. It don't seem to me as though there could be anything that could give so much pleasure to everybody as the Victrola does."

CONCERT WAS BIG SUCCESS Splendid Amateur Programme in Imperial FOR PATRIOTIC FUND As Musical Affair and Social Event Concert Was of Historic Interest - Congratulations Due To Daughters of Empire

A splendid display of a worthy form of patriotism was given last evening at the Imperial Theatre when an audience which filled the house from top to pile joined with those taking part in making the concert, given under the auspices of the Daughters of the Empire in aid of the patriotic fund an immense success.

As everyone knows, heretics and witches were burned alive, while, until early in the nineteenth century, to steal above the value of one shilling was punishable with death, as were some 800 other offences, ranging from murder to the heinous crime of being found in the company of gipsies.

That Canada went into long pants quite a while back is proved very effectively by the big Canadian contingent that went to the front a few weeks ago. Let us keep things moving so that these patriots will return to prosperous times. To do this we will have to spend our money, patronize Canadian Industries, help those that need it, and take a man's size, optimistic view of the present situation which--after all--could be a whole lot worse for us than it is.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; HOME AND ABROAD

BASEBALL

The New Champions

(By Joe Page)

Boston, Oct. 15.—The greatest ball team that has yet come down the pike are the Braves under the guidance of Stalling and Evers. They have not only won a World's Championship but they have without doubt put the dopists wrong throughout the entire piece of four acts. Again, these two have taken a minor league baseball club and put it out the Athletics, one of the greatest ball machines ever assembled. The hundred thousand dollar infield looked anything but the goods when stacked up against Evers, Maranville & Co. The latter showed a brand of goods that had not been seen previously upon a ball field.

The climax came with today's game. From start to finish the Stallings crew was the masters of the situation. The not only outgated but outgeneraled the Connie Mack men from start to finish, but in addition they showed them a brand of ball that they had not before seen. The American-League class has, to a more or less extent, been given precedence over the National League but it has taken a Stallings, the conqueror of McGraw, to demonstrate to the only Connie Mack that he is indeed the Wellington of them all in the baseball game. The generalship tonight showed the Stallings. The greatest of all World Series has been won by a team that is collectively the best ball team that has yet won a World Series and Manager George Stallings and his able lieutenant, John Evers are the Wellingtons of the game.

World Series News

One of the greatest disappointments of the series was the failure of the $100,000 infield to do any effective work with the bat. Baker was the best of the four, but his average was only .250 and not a home run in the bunch to sustain his title.

Joe Connally also fell down badly, after leading his club all season with the bat and in the field he made only one hit in 9 times up in the series, and had a fielding average of .888 which was next to last, Moran being anchor man with .966.

Johnny Evers boasts of the "ragging" the Braves gave the Athletics all during the series in order to unnerve the ex-champions. The captain of the Boston club says this method was effective, which probably justifies it in his opinion.

John McGraw draws a salary of $18,000 a year as manager of the Giants. He affirms that it is all spent in keeping his family. Probably the family counted on world's series receipts as a savings bank margin, and started to live up to the salary limit. This will be a tough winter for the McGraws.

Homecoming Sad

Only a few loyal rooters were at the railway station in Philadelphia to greet the former world's champions when the latter arrived from Boston, where they had lost their title to the Braves. There was a long line of disappointed ticket holders, however, at the department store where the admissions for the third game that would have been played in Philadelphia had the Athletics succeeded in taking one game, were refunded. More than $6,000 was refunded by the club's management.

Joseph Leslie Bush, who pitched on Monday for the Macrons was married soon after his return to Miss Sylvia E. McMahon of Borien Town, Ga. The ceremony was performed in St. Columba's Catholic church, James Walsh, one of Bush's team mates was best man.

Bush and his bride set yesterday for Chicago where they will join other members of the Athletics team who are to tour with the All-Stars.

Three witnesses of alleged grafting on the part of policemen at the preliminary sale of tickets appeared on Wednesday before the committee, which is investigating the charges. They told of seeing uniformed policemen receive money from persons anxious to secure preferred places in the line of ticket purchases.

Charged With Faking

St. Louis, Oct. 15.—Jack Dillon, claimant of the middle weight championship, his manager, Sam Marburger and his second, Robert Stoker, all of Indianapolis were arrested here on Wednesday night after a bout between Dillon and George "Knockout" Brown was stopped in the fourth round by the referee who declared the fighters were merely feigning. The bout was scheduled for ten rounds. The trio from Indianapolis were arrested at the request of the manager of the club at which the fight was staged. The police declared they were to hold Dillon and his manager and second for investigation by the chief of police. Throughout the bout the fighters were hissed by the crowd for their lack of aggressiveness.

Blood Poison in Hand

Irving Stanwood, center on the Colby football team, returned to Waterville, Me., on Wednesday from his home in Needham, Mass., where he has been spending the first part of the week. He relates that since his absence he has been suffering greatly from blood poisoning in his right hand, caused by bruises received during practice. At present his hand is in a very bad condition and he will be unable to take part in practice for some days.

CONSERVATION

An Interesting Summary of Progress Along Several Lines in Canada

That the conservation movement has made distinct progress during the last year is clearly indicated in the "Fifth Annual Report" of the Commission of Conservation, which has just been issued. In his annual address, Hon. Clifford Sifton, covered the commission's activities with respect to water-powers, minerals, fisheries and fur-bearing animals and forests, indicating clearly and succinctly several of the problems that had been grappled with and the advances that had been made in their solution.

With respect to water-powers, lengthy reports are presented covering the work in connection with the water-power surveys carried out in western Canada. Two volumes will be issued later giving the results of these surveys and will prove of great value to those interested in the development of the water-powers of Canada.

The commission's committee on minerals has been further strengthened by selecting as chairman, Dr. Frank D. Adams of McGill, an outstanding authority on the minerals of Canada. The report contains an excellent review by W. J. Dick, mining engineer of the commission, on the "Importance of Borehole Records and the Capping of Gas Wells."

Several aspects of the problems of public health are dealt with by well known authorities. Doctor Hodgetts summarizes the work of the committee on public health, and presents reports on such vital problems as "Infant Mortality," "First Aid to the Injured," and the work of the city-planning conferences held in Chicago and Boston in 1913. G. Frank Beer, president of the Toronto Housing Co., develops the housing and city-planning question in Canada, with special reference to the work of the Toronto Housing Co., and Col. J. H. Burland outlines the legislative requirements for town-planning.

The work of the committee on lands is described by F. C. Nunnick, the commission's agriculturalist, who pays special attention to the progress of the experiments with the growing of alfalfa in Quebec. Mr. Nunnick also describes in detail the commission's "agricultural survey" for 1913, showing in concise form the farming conditions in the several provinces as ascertained by the commission's investigators. Dr. James W. Robertson and John Flaxter describe the work of the illustration farms of the commission.

J. Walter Jones follows in detail the progress in fur-farming in Canada during the last year. The work of the committee on fisheries was confined, during 1913, chiefly to the development of the oyster industry. Hot. A. E. Arsenault describes the new method of leasing oyster beds in P. E. Island. This method was advocated by the commission two years ago and will do much to regenerate the oyster industry in the maritime provinces.

An exceedingly interesting paper on the "Protection of Migratory Birds" is given by a prominent American authority, W. S. Haskell, who urges Canada to join with the United States in providing sanctuary for these birds.

Considerable advance has been made in the conservation of forests during the year. The commission has co-operated with the Board of Railway Commissioners and the several provincial and federal forest services concerning the prevention of forest fires, with the result that much has been done to prevent forest fires along railway lines, especially in western Canada. In addition to the report of the chief forester, Clyde Leavitt, there are addresses on forestry by Dr. B. E. Fernow and R. H. Campbell. The report contains splendid illustrations and gives in concise form much information that is of value to all Canadians interested in the conservation of our natural resources.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When Cross, Feverish and Sick Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

THE 11-INCH GERMAN SIEGE MORTAR

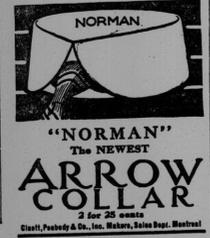

Something of that terrible new engine of war, the great 11-inch field mortar with which Germany is battering the magnificent old cities of France and Belgium into heaps of useless rubbish, and how it is transported, is told by a gunnery expert in the special war issue of the Scientific American of October 27, as follows:

The German 11-inch mortar marks a great stride in power and weight, and particularly in mobility, over any other mobile artillery as yet constructed. The outstanding feature of this great mortar is that it is so mounted that the gun and its carriage can be hauled either by motor or by horse-power at a speed approximating that of the lighter siege artillery, and that when it has reached the designated position, it takes but a short time to have the gun in battery, ready for the attack.

The barrel of the gun is made of steel, and it consists of the inner tube and an outer jacket, the total length of the gun being 11 feet. The breech is opened and closed by turning a handle through a horizontal arc for about 135 degrees; and a safety device operated by hand is provided which prevents premature firing or accidental opening of the breech. In spite of the fact that the breech mechanism weighs over 1,100 pounds, the construction is such that the opening and closing of it can be effected easily with one hand and in a few seconds time.

The gun is transported on two separate vehicles, each of which can be hauled as shown in our illustrations by a single motor truck. During transportation one unit consists of the gun carriage, slide, recoil cylinders, trail, and permanent axle and wheels, the last-named being fitted with broad, flat feet after the manner of the Diplock pedrail. The other end of the trail during transportation is mounted upon a pair of wheels as shown in the illustration. The gun itself is transported upon a carriage upon which it is placed in such a position that the majority of the weight will come upon a pair of pedrail wheels.

To mount the gun when it has reached its assigned place, all that is necessary is to back up the section carrying the gun against the section constituting the mount, and then, by means of wire cables, draw the gun forward into the sleeve and bolt the lug to the piston rod of the recoil cylinder. The gun transporting section is then drawn away, the trail is lowered to the ground, and the gun is ready for firing.

KILLED 18 HIMSELF

Ooh-La, Black Fighter From The Senegal in French Line

Paris, Sept. 29.—(by mail to New York)—I am not allowed to give any information to the German soldiers, but if you have any friends in the German army you'd better tip them off that they see among the enemy a medium-sized black man with a big smile who answers to the name "Ooh-La," they'd better shoot first or beat it.

My friend Ooh-La, in spite of his smile and his ivory teeth, is one of the most terrible men I have ever known. Senegal is his home, and Ooh-La is as black as the ace of clubs.

Ooh-La came up from Senegal three weeks ago with thousands of his black brothers to help the Allies against the Germans. No one paid Ooh-La any particular attention for a long time. He fought at dozens of places, but his black brothers all fought about the same, so he didn't stand out anything extra. It takes superlative murderousness to make a fighter conspicuous in a crowd like Ooh-La's.

Ooh-La, the Terrible

At last there came the battle with the Germans on the Ourcq, near Meaux where with ten to one against them, the men from Africa fought with bullets, knives, bayonets, and fists, singing like devils, treating German bullets and shells as if they were only mosquitoes. The result was that the Germans went away from there and that about ten o'clock that evening the American ambulance corps in Paris got word that there was need for them at Meaux. The American doctors reached the deserted town about midnight and were led to an aged peasant straggler to the church. It was an inferno of pain. Three hundred and fifty black men were stretched about the stone floors, all wounded.

The building was in pitch darkness except for one candle which was being about in ghastly fashion at the altar end of the aisle. The doctors found it was carried by a peasant woman who was doing her best for the wounded by washing their ghastly injuries with arsenic, her household remedy for all aches and pains. The doctors sent out for their auto lamps.

The groans which filled their ears had been almost as much as even a doctor could endure, but the sight that met their eyes in the glare of the lamps was almost paralyzing. One doctor noticed a man whose torn clothes were black and stiff with blood. He turned his light on him. The man turned the whites of his eyes, showed his white teeth and a huge smile and said: "Will you kindly give me a cigarette?"

It was Ooh-La. The doctors took him first. He had nine wounds, all bad and painful.

"Get a stretcher," ordered the doctor. "Don't trouble," said Ooh-La. "Carry me out in your arms. Time is precious for the other men."

The ambulance men picked him up. Outside the church Ooh-La said: "Now you fellows put me down and give me a cigarette."

They were not going to obey until Ooh-La swore in Mohammedan, showing that he meant what he said. They followed orders. They put a cigarette between Ooh-La's lips and lighted it. He drew a massive pull to the very bottom of his lungs, closed his eyes in blissfulness and then blew out a torrent of smoke.

"All right," he said, "now I am ready."

They put him in the dark ambulance where the butt end of his cigarette glowed on his smiling black face, and they went back for more sufferers.

Three hours later Ooh-La was in bed in the American hospital in Paris, sound asleep. They say a turtle has no nervous system. The doctors had to waken him from a deep sleep to dress his wounds. They found his left arm shattered by a bullet, among his other injuries. Ooh-La never groaned during the probing. Half an hour after the doctors were through, he was sound asleep again.

Smoked and Smiled

The next day his fever was 105, but all day long he smoked and smiled, and he had killed eighteen Germans by bullet or bayonet. Everyone of Ooh-La's friends had kept scores and they all agreed that Ooh-La with his eighteen Germans, led them all.

It killed the nurses a little at first, I think. Most of them are American girls who have ideas about killing and Ooh-La wouldn't understand. Still they also have the characteristic American worship for efficiency, so Ooh-La's stock is above par.

Ooh-La isn't his real name either. They found his real name is doesn't matter. What his real name is doesn't matter, but he had to be called something, and when the following incident occurred he got the "Ooh-La" name:

His Work Made Easy

"The Germans are very obliging," said Ooh-La, to his doctor one day.

"What do you mean," asked the doctor.

"Why, when I started at one with my bayonet, he got down on his knees and raised his hands upward toward me so that they were out of the way of my bayonet. Most men put their hands across their stomachs when they see my bayonet coming."

"And what did you do?" asked the doctor.

"Ooh-La," said the black patient, making the motion of a man pitching hay with a fork.

The doctors say that Ooh-La, the smiling, super-killer will be out of the hospital and back on the job again within a few weeks.

FAIRVILLE NEWS

Today's Event at the New Bridge—Why Not Some Official Recognition? A Hold-up

If weather conditions permit the lower connecting cord to join the eastern and western halves of the new steel bridge over the reversing falls will be set in place this afternoon and thus establishing a continuous stretch from shore to shore. The work on the eastern section has been rushed in remarkably short time, twelve panels being set in sixteen days, and much credit is due Foreman Fitzsimmons and his crew of fifty men for their excellent showing. It is simply a case of knowing what to do and how to do it in the best and quickest manner by experts at the business.

When the halves are lowered to the same height by the pneumatic jacks at either end the cord will be put in position and bolted. Minute measurements next will be made and wired to the works at Lachine, where the top cord is even now resting on a lathe in readiness to be finished to the exact size and that operation is expected to take the best part of a week.

This bridge is the largest single span in the world and to date the erection has been pushed forward without accident to human life, though the danger is very great, and a waiting host of always on the alert to pick up a workman who should be unfortunate enough to drop off.

So far as can be learned neither the city nor county authorities are planning to recognize the completion of this important feat by any special celebration.

Across the line our neighbors to the south would have seized the opportunity to have at least a little official ceremony and no doubt a moving picture man would have been on hand to record the scene for Canadians to view in one of the weekly news films.

It will be one of the interesting sights and features of St. John for years to come, this great bridge crossing the ever wonderful falls and any advertising it offers should be used to the best advantage.

The street car service both here and elsewhere has often suffered a slight holdup because some chap, filled with beverage refused to get off the truck until the car was stopped, and this morning about eight o'clock a wagon held up transportation quite a few minutes. The wagon was loaded with beer.

There is a very bad piece of road on the Fairville side of the C. P. R. track which should have been properly built up with some substantial material. That was not done and the horse founded. On extricating the animal the wagon remained on the track, one wheel down to the hub, so the load had to be removed before the wagon would budge.

LOCAL TRADE MATTERS

The secretary of the St. John Board of Trade has received a communication from a firm in Glasgow, asking for the addresses of exporters of wood.

A short time ago the board of trade was asked if a fine quality of rye straw for use in stuffing horse collars could be secured through St. John. Mr. Armstrong took up the matter with the provincial secretary of agriculture and has been informed that, although the conditions here are favorable and small quantities are grown, the rye is not produced on a sufficiently large scale to furnish a regular supply of the straw.

PROMINENT A.O.H. MEMBER DEAD

W. P. Hayden, Provincial Secretary, Passes Away in Halifax

A wire received in the city last night from Halifax by Rev. C. J. McLaughlin, brought news which caused sorrow among members of the A. O. H. here and throughout the province as well as among other friends of William P. Hayden, for it gave the word that he was dead. He had been ill, but a few days. Mr. Hayden, who had frequently visited St. John and other points in the province as provincial secretary of the Hibernian order, was about fifty years of age. He was educated first at St. Joseph's College, Memramouc, and later at Fort-Ham University, New York. He was well liked by all with whom he became acquainted and, having a genial personality, easily retained the friendship of those who knew him.

Rev. C. J. McLaughlin, provincial chaplain of the A. O. H., said this morning, "In the death of Mr. Hayden, Halifax has lost one of its representative citizens. The Church a devoted member and the A. O. H. one whose place will be difficult to fill. Mr. Hayden was a man well versed in the questions of the day, a splendid and energetic worker and not a little of the prosperous growth of the order within the last four years is due to Mr. Hayden. In his death the Federation has lost one of its greatest champions."

Father McLaughlin was at noon today for Halifax to attend the funeral tomorrow. Others from New Brunswick to go include M. F. Haley, provincial treasurer; E. C. Barry, Fredericton, provincial president, and other representatives of divisions throughout the province.

A dispatch from Halifax to the Times follows: Halifax, N. S., Oct. 16.—Announcement of the death of William P. Hayden, at his home, 14 Creighton street, was received with regret by many friends. He was well known in Halifax and highly respected by all who knew him. For several years Mr. Hayden had been an inspector of the city health department and he proved himself to be a most efficient official. He was a son of the late Patrick Hayden, a Brunswick street dry goods merchant. Mr. Hayden was a member of the C. M. A. Branch 160, and of the St. John A. O. H. He died at the time of his death the provincial secretary. He is survived by his wife and a sister, Miss Mary Hayden.

A CABLE FROM LIEUT. HAYES

First Direct Word to St. John About Landing of Canadian Troops in England

The first direct word of the landing of Canadian soldiers in England to be received in St. John, came this morning when Mrs. R. T. Hayes of Mount Pleasant, received a cablegram from her son, Lieutenant Ralph St. Clair Hayes of the 3rd Regiment Royal Canadian Artillery, bearing the good news that he had landed safely and were well.

Mrs. Hayes's last letter from her son was dated yesterday at Devonport, England. The message was very brief but contained information which is good news to Mrs. Hayes and will be to all mothers who have sons in the same regiment and have not heard anything during the weeks since they had the last word before leaving Valcartier.

Mrs. Hayes's last letter from her son was written on board the C. P. R. steamer Megantic, just before embarkation. Captain McEwan and several others from St. John were in the same steamship.

DELHI STREET; DELAY; DANGER TO CHILDREN

A Complaint About the Situation—Commissioner Makes Statement

Citizens are complaining of the seemingly unnecessary delay in finishing the excavating and general road building started in Delhi street and wondering how much longer they will be required to keep a close watch upon their children passing about lest they sustain dangerous injuries by falling into the several holes which have been dug. On the side of the street next to the hospital is a steep jagged hill, the front of which is almost perpendicular and on the face of this hill children of the neighborhood have been wont to play.

Some parents have been anxious to see the roadwork finished so that the hospital authorities might fence in the danger line, but it has not proceeded very quickly. The members of the chain gang have been employed in the excavating and road-clearing for some time, but during the last fortnight the number of men engaged on the work has been greatly lessened. Reason of the delay is that the job will not be completed this fall and are none too pleased at the prospect.

Commissioner Potts said this morning that he realized that the people living around Delhi street might feel that they had grounds for complaint. He understood the trouble that might arise, and was doing his best to alleviate it. The plans, he said, were made and put into execution before he took office and he had simply been completing the task. While the work might have been slow, he thought the people might remember that it would not have been undertaken at all in the ordinary way as the cost would have been greater than the value of the completed street. In order to improve the street, however, the jail gang had been put to work there as an opportunity offered and this was the way in which the work has been carried on. The work has slackened lately because the sheriff had been employed as the prison work around the jail and there were no men available, but as soon as they are ready for outside work again they would be sent to Delhi street and he hoped to see the work finished before long.

The danger to the children arose, he said, because the men who were employed in the street were not in uniform, and the city could not prevent this. He had taken the matter up with the police and the night ago in an effort to arrange for the construction of a fence to prevent accidents.

ROBERT MCCONNELL PASSED AWAY TODAY

For 43 Years He Carried on Business in Main Street

The death of Robert McConnell occurred this morning at six o'clock at his residence, 605 Main street, after an illness of nearly a year. Mr. McConnell was one of the best known residents of the North End, having conducted a grocery store at the same stand in that section of the city for more than forty-three years. He was born in Ireland seventy-two years ago and came to St. John when a young man. He opened a store in Main street forty-seven years ago and conducted an extensive grocery business at the same stand for forty-three years when he retired and the business was taken over by his son Robert who has carried it on since. Other sons are Rev. J. W. McConnell, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, and the son of the St. John Board of Health; George, a traveler for Jones & Schofield; Charles, who conducted a men's furnishing store in Main street and Allan, of Van Buren street. There are also two daughters, Misses Lily and Carrie, both at home. Mrs. McConnell died more than a year ago.

Mr. McConnell was an active member of Portland Methodist church and had many friends who will regret to learn of his death. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon with service at two o'clock.

SOLDIERS IN UNIFORM CAN NOT GET DRINK AT LOCAL BARS

All the soldiers on guard or other duties about the city have had their names linked prominently with the temperance movement. There are a few, or perhaps more, who do not appreciate the efforts of the pure-water advocates, and that is why their friendship for some proprietors of local wine shops has been rudely severed of late, because the latter would not serve them. There are many others, however, in the water ranks who are not warring in the matter, as they are quite well satisfied with sarsaparilla or other mild fluids.

Inspector J. B. Jones, when asked about the matter this morning said that there had been no amendment to the liquor license regulations providing that a soldier in uniform should not be served, but proprietors of saloons were not anxious to risk a heavy fine under the criminal code for serving him. The criminal code had a clause bearing on the serving of soldiers in uniform while on duty, and this was probably the reason why those of the men who were so inclined had been refused, even though perhaps they had not actually been on duty at the time.
