"Heaven and earth," sang the tenor, Mr. Henry Wallace, owner of the Wallace garage. His lyrics which gave him somewhat the appearance of having swallowed a crab-apple and got it only part-way down, protruded above his low collar.

"Heaven and earth," sang the soprano, Mrs. Rossiter, of the colonial house on the Ridgely Road. She sang with her eyes turned up, and as she reached the flat she lifted herself on her toes. "Of the majesty of thy glory."

"Ready," barked the choir master. "Full now, and all together. I go around by Station Street every chance I get."

"I should think you could guess why," said Clara. "You're so funny, Elizabeth. I've got to tell somebody. I go around by Station Street every chance I get."

"I'm just thinking. Your voice was so queer," she said. "The flow of Clara's confidences had ceased, and her eyes were calculating and a trifle hard."

"I don't believe it," Elizabeth flared. "This town hasn't anything else to do, and so it talks. It makes me sick."

MORNING STOCK LETTER

(McDougall & Cowans) New York, April 10.—The market yesterday indicated nothing except there was no liquidation. Several factors which were probably holding the market back were the impending steel wage advance and the cut in crude oil. The dragging market may run for a while yet but by the end of this month there should be another move forward which will carry prices to new high levels. There has been no indication of the end of the bull market as yet and we do not expect it to end for at least several months. If the steel wage advance and the cut in crude oil were to be followed by further reactions. The steel wage advance has been expected for some time and has been discounted by the trade itself in much higher prices for finished steel prices. The effect of wage advances, moreover, will probably be balanced by the unfilled tonnage which will be out this month and which is expected to show an increase in forward business of about 100,000 or 200,000 tons. The earnings statement for the first quarter will be out the fourth Tuesday of this month and is expected to make a very good showing. On weakness the steel seem a buy, particularly U. S. and Gulf States. Current earnings of the latter company are said to be running at the annual rate of well over $20 a share. It is understood in addition that Republic Iron and Steel will show about $5 a share for the common for the first three months of 1923. The equipment seems to be the best group in the list, however, and on all soft spots we would buy Amn. Loco, Baldwin, Lime, N. Y. Air-Brake, Ry. Steel Springs, Amn. Steel Foundry, Amn. Brake Shoe. On the next forward movement, Stn. looks like it would reach about 130 on a final move for the stock. Chandler and White also look higher. The rubber shares and tires, U. S. Rubber, Kelly Springfield and Goodyear should have a very substantial move. Livingston & Co.

Wind Blows Ball Into Cup. Pinehurst, N. C., April 10.—A freak windstorm forced Ralph A. Sweet of Binghamton to play twenty-one holes before he could vanquish William M. Hager of Resale, N. J., in a twelfth sixteen match here. Hager's fourth shot for the ninth hole came to rest within a few inches of the cup and laid Sweet a dead stymie. Before the argument was finished as to whether Hager should lift the ball the wind blew Hager's ball into the cup. Later the officials ruled that Hager holed out in four.

GIBBONS DECIDES TO BOX RENAULT

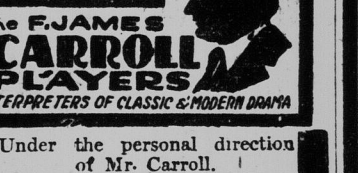

If He Decisively Wins Bout Early in May He Will Jack Dempsey.

New York, April 10.—Tom Gibbons has decided to accept the opportunity afforded by the recent ruling of the New York State Athletic Commission that should he decisively defeat Jack Renault, he would be permitted to fight Jack Dempsey for the world's heavyweight championship in this State, and that he has agreed to box the Canadian heavyweight at the Yankee Stadium on May 8 or May 11. This was disclosed yesterday when Tex Rickard, on his first day in business since his recent hunting trip, announced that after a conference with Leo Flynn, manager of Renault, Flynn had signed articles for the bout. Gibbons has been clamoring for a chance to meet Jack Dempsey for some time. He has claimed persistently that he is in line to fight the champion for the world's title. It seems that as soon as the St. Paul boxer learned that he could fight Dempsey providing he decisively defeated Renault he proceeded to negotiate for a match with Dempsey's former sparring partner. Should Renault succeed in defeating Gibbons, Rickard announced that he

HEART PALPITATED AND WAS SHORT OF BREATH

Through one cause or another a large majority of people are troubled, more or less, with some form of heart trouble. Many people may be unaware of having anything wrong with their heart till some little excitement, overwork or worry starts it to palpitate and throb, skip beats, beat fast for a time and then so slow as to seem almost to stop, then it causes great anxiety and alarm.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief. Mrs. Alice Bishop, 18 Hawthorne Ave., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I take pleasure in recommending Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills to all persons troubled as I had been. 'I suffered from palpitation of the heart and shortness of breath; my heart would skip beats, and in the night, at times, I would have to sit up to get my breath. I could not go upstairs without my heart fluttering, and my nerves were all unstrung, but since using your famous Pills I have felt like a different person.'"

VETERAN PILOT IN RETIREMENT

Thos. Traynor Nearly Fifty Years in Service

Must Give Up Active Work Under Age Rules—Never an Accident in His Career—Others of Family in the Same Occupation.

The local pilots and shipping men in general will regret to learn of the resignation of Pilot Thomas Traynor from the St. John district pilotage force. He has been a pilot in and about St. John harbor for very little short of fifty years and has had an excellent record. Probably one of the best known men in shipping circles and a member of a family of pilots, Mr. Traynor will be missed greatly by local shipping men and vessels that make St. John one of their ports of call.

After an active service since October, 1878, Mr. Traynor must retire from the service on account of having reached the age of seventy years. He and his family are nevertheless glad to give up any active part in the work of the pilotage department. He was appointed a pilot by the Common Council of the City of St. John in October, 1878, and his appointment was ratified in December, 1874, when the work came under the control of the pilotage commission.

Mr. Traynor's record is a notable one, not only for this district but for any of the larger ports of the world. In all his service of nearly fifty years he did not have a single accident and never a ship on which he was in command even scrape ground. He took the recent eye test for pilots and came through with flying colors to spite of his age.

Mr. Traynor's whole life, practically all of it, has been spent along the waterfront. While no longer on active service it is hoped that he will enjoy his rest. His advice in guarding the safety of St. John's shipping will always be of value.

Mr. Traynor was a son of the late Patrick Traynor, who served as a pilot for nearly as long as his son and who received two medals of honor for his services as the only member of the family serving as shipping guides for the district. Mr. Traynor's son, William, is now a member of the force. There is also a chance that the younger generation of the family, in the person of Mr. Traynor's grandson, also a Thomas Traynor, may become well known in the Loyalist city where his forebears have made good names for themselves. William Traynor shows signs of following in his father's steps and his record so far is a very fine one.

George Kirsop Dead

Black River Man Whom Many Knew and Thought Well Of.

George Kirsop of Black River, St. John County, died in the General Public Hospital early this morning, following an illness which developed early in the winter. He was a native of Black River and was widely known throughout the province. He was a keen fisherman, a crack gunsman and a lover of the great outdoors, in some respects a unique character.

Following the closing down of ship-building activities, for which at one time the little village of Black River was known in many lands, Mr. Kirsop gave up his trade as a carpenter and shipbuilder and gave his attention to fishing. He built himself a substantial cabin on the beach at Black River, a few hundred feet from the water and the fishing ground both on the sea and in the lakes, and his hunting trips as well were always marked by success. An exceptionally high tide one spring completely demolished his cabin and he was compelled to build another, this time choosing a spot a little farther from the mark of the waves. A few years ago he lost his second house by fire and reluctantly he was forced to build for a third time, in the village proper. He often said that he missed the roar of the waves and the cry of the sea gulls in his latest and last home.

Mr. Kirsop was well versed in the affairs of the country. He served as both game and fish warden for several years and always took a keen interest in live topics. He had always been a Liberal in politics and, typical of the old-timers, he loved a political argument. He had a heart full of goodness for his friends, of whom he counted many, and was noted for his keen sense of humor. He will likely be buried in the little village where he lived for so many years. One brother, Robert, survives him.

CROWDED COURT FOR OPIUM CASE

Mounted Police Officer Tells of Find in Raid

Equipment and Celestials Taken in North End Visit—Counsel Raises Question About Entry of the Charge Against the Defendants.

The police court was crowded this morning to hear the case in which nine Chinese are charged in connection with an alleged opium find on Sunday night by a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and some members of the city police force. Charlie Lum and Wei Get are charged with having, in a room at the rear of the store, the place had been full of opium smoke.

The R. C. M. P. officer said he visited the premises of Charlie Lum in Main street on Sunday night. He had gone about 8:30 and had rapped the front door. Charlie Lum had come to the door and lifted the blind and then returned to the back of the store. Later the witness had noticed several Chinese running to and fro and heard a great scuffle. He had gone to the back door and gained entrance. He had found seven Chinese, at present in court, in a room at the rear of the store. The place had been full of opium smoke.

Accompanied by Detective Saunders and Plainclothesmen Kilpatrick and McBrien he had searched the Chinese for drugs in the vest pocket of Wei Get. McBrien had found something which had been forwarded to the Dominion analyst for a report. In addition they had found a tray, the bowl of an opium pipe, a needle and a small tin that apparently had contained opium. Further search had revealed opium ashes, opium seeds, and small tins of opium and other paraphernalia used in smoking opium.

A Trap Door

They had discovered a trap door in a small room and, looking down, had seen a tray and shades of lamps used in smoking opium, which were all broken. There had been bowls and three complete outfits including two opium pipes and a can containing a small amount of opium, several tins containing opium and in the floor two bottles containing a liquid which he believed to be an infusion of opium.

Further search revealed Charlie Lum and Hum Jung and some more bottles containing an infusion. They had found two small bottles of the infusion at the bottom of a set tub about three-quarters full of water. They had found a dark brown substance similar to the residue of an infusion of opium and made from opium seeds. The premises were occupied by Charlie Lum and another Chinese as a laundry and there was accommodation for about nine Chinese. There were beds for about a dozen. Two of the Chinese had been found lying down in the mud under the floor twenty-five or thirty feet away from the trap door.

To W. M. Ryan, for the defense, the officer said he could not swear positively that any of the accused had been under the influence of any drug. He had not performed all the work himself. Saunders and McBrien had worked well. At first he said to the best of his knowledge and belief that four of the samples produced in court contained opium and the residue of opium. He did not swear that they did. He had had the place under observation for the last four months. A great many Chinese had visited the place on Saturdays and Sundays. He said that the Chinese frequented the place where opium was smoked in the city, and Mr. Ryan pressed him for the names of these places. He refused to answer and was upheld by the magistrate. He said he believed that the Chinese were guilty of committing an indictable offence by being in possession of the drugs.

Question of Charge Entry

Mr. Ryan demanded the production of the police sheet and the Magistrate said that could not be received as it was only a copy of a copy. It would be necessary to have the original produced. His Honor commented very caustically on the manner in which the charges were entered and laid the blame on "the big beast, who came out of the west" and those who had fed the beast. He said he had warned the officers time and again that some day a lawyer who knew his business would demand the sheets and now the time had come.

Continuing, the witness said he had written out a charge against these men and given it to Policeman Thomas, night desk-man. He did not know any of the defendants personally, but one of them had escaped from him during the progress of an opium raid on a place in Brussels street some time ago. He did not remember the outcome of the case.

Mr. Ryan contended that the accused were unlawfully arrested and improperly before the court. There was no charge of proprietorship and therefore could be no charge of resorting to a place of which there was no proprietor. The charges, as stated, were not indictable offenses, but punishable merely by summary conviction. The case was postponed until three o'clock this afternoon when the magistrate said he would hear further evidence concerning the entry of the charge and decide upon the points which Mr. Ryan had raised.
