Invasion Chicago Territory For Game Today

BOTH TEAMS CONFIDENT

Cincinnati Fans Expect to Clinch The Series But White Sox Look For Victory on Their Home Grounds—The Line Up

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Carrying a two game lead, the Cincinnati Reds today invaded the home territory of the Chicago White Sox for the third contest of the world's series—the game baseball men believe will decide whether the American League pennant winners are to be serious contenders for the championship or face an overwhelming handicap during the remainder of the series. The two teams, accompanied by some 2,000 Cincinnati fans, arrived here early today, the Reds confident that they will return to Ohio Sunday night possessors of baseball's highest honor, and the White Sox determined to overcome their handicap while playing on their home grounds. Despite the fact that the White Sox, 8 to 5 favorites before the series started, lost two straight games to the National League's followers, the Cincinnati team were confident that today's contest would be the beginning of a winning streak for their favorites, and fans began to gather at the baseball park last night waiting in line to purchase the general admission tickets placed on sale at 9 o'clock this morning. In the little betting reported today on the series, the Reds were 8 to 5 favorites. On today's game there were some bets at even money, but in most cases the White Sox followers demanded odds.

The probable line-up and batting order follows: Chicago—J. Collins or Leibold, cf.; E. Collins, 2b.; Weaver, 3b.; Jackson, lf.; Felch, cf.; Gandil, 1b.; Ribberg, ss.; Schall, c.; Kerr, C. P. B. Cincinnati—Rath, 3b.; Danbert, 1b.; Groh, 2b.; Rousch, cf.; Dumasa, lf.; Karpis, 2b.; Neale, cf.; Bairden, c.; Fisher or Eller, p. Expect Rain to Hold Off. A few light clouds were visible this morning, but according to the weather forecast there will be no rain until night giving promise that the game of the world's series will not be interfered with by the weather.

The good news has at last been reached that an agreement has been reached for the operation of the St. John and Quebec Railway. The word came this morning in a message to Hon. W. F. Foster that the talks in proceeding had been overcome and instructions were received by Mr. Boyd, C. P. B., superintendent, to allow the running of the railway by the Valley road over the company's tracks between Westfield and St. John. The news will be received with pleasure by the people interested along the route as well as by all in the city. An accommodation train was made ready this morning and in charge of Conductor John Henderson pulled out this afternoon, the first of the long-looked-for Valley trains to leave the city. A passenger train will go tomorrow afternoon and from now on the schedule, as published a few days ago, will be carried out.

BOWLING PROSPECTS With baseball and other summer sports practically over for the season, bowling and football are being ushered in. In regard to the former game, St. John has become one of the leading cities in eastern Canada for candle-pin competitions, but football has practically died out and high school teams alone kept the game in existence. The three leading bowling alleys in the city, the Victoria, Blacks and the Y. M. C. I., have completed arrangements for the winter season, and games have already been played on the Y. M. C. I. and Victoria alleys. Blacks are to be opened tomorrow, after being put in first-class condition. While nothing definite has been done regarding plans for the formation of leagues, it is said that the City League will be reorganized on Black's and the Institute alleys, and that other leagues are forming and may play on Victoria alleys. There is talk of an inter-city league being formed to play on St. Peter's Y. M. A. alleys, but no statement regarding this has been made. From the present outlook the bowling season in St. John will be a banner one and it is understood that games will be arranged with outside teams in New Brunswick and Eastern Maine cities.

THE VICTORY LOAN At a meeting of the executive committee in charge of the Victory Loan campaign in the rooms of the Fire Underwriters in Canterbury street last evening, plans in connection with its launching were further discussed. R. D. Patterson presided. W. S. Allison was chosen vice-chairman of the central committee for the city and county. Another meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon.

Negotiations Resumed Today

Government and Labor Representatives Meet in Conference on Railroad Strike—Action of Government in Holding Back Pay and Decision That Men Must Return Before Their Case Can Be Taken Up Standing in Way of Settlement

London, Oct. 3.—Negotiations between the government and labor representatives and other railway men were resumed today in an effort to bring the authorities and the railway representatives together for a settlement of the railroad strike.

Crowds thronged Downing street this morning in expectation of a resumption of the conference between the transport workers' representatives and other trade unionists with Premier Lloyd George in the endeavor to mediate in the strike situation.

At an early hour a conference took place on the government side, in which Mr. Lloyd George, George H. Barnes, minister without portfolio; Sir Robert Home, the minister of labor, and Sir Eric Geddes, the minister of transport, participated. At that time no hour had been fixed for the renewed meeting, but shortly after noon it was learned that a deputation of the transport men and associated unions had gone to confer with the premier and the ministers.

Earlier in the day J. H. Thomas, secretary of the railway union, announced that the members of the deputation which took part in the Downing street conference yesterday were unanimous in support of the National Union of Railwaymen in refusing the government's offer regarding a settlement. The government had insisted that work must be resumed by the railway strikers before the negotiations could be opened, but it appeared that the labor leaders objected both to this proposition and to the carrying out of the government's order holding back the pay of the strikers for the last week they worked before the strike.

Instructions to the miners' organization as to their attitude toward the strike were issued by Robert Smillie, their leader, today. All the miners' federations were advised against precipitate action in the present juncture, but the miners were ordered not to undertake the duties of their normal work until the strike had been called off. C. T. Cramp, president of the National Union of Railwaymen, declared shortly after his return from the Downing street situation that the railway strike was still unshaken. He said reports were being received from the various districts showing the men to be more determined than ever to support their leaders.

The 'Bus Drivers The union of vehicle workers, who operate the buses and other vehicular traffic in London, are today balloting to determine whether to strike in sympathy with the railroad men. The result will be announced later today. The ministry of labor has in the meantime posted an urgent call for the services of volunteer bus-drivers.

London, Oct. 3.—(Reuters)—A timber shed in the southeast of London near a railway was gutted by fire last night and the city of London was again reminded of the danger of incendiary bombs. The fire broke out at about 11 o'clock and spread rapidly, gutting the shed and burning for some time before being extinguished. The cause of the fire is not yet known.

BACK TO ENGLAND. Charles A. Worell, his wife and son are planning to leave on Monday evening for Quebec where they will take steamer for the old country, there to resume their residence. They have been in this country about nine years. Mr. Worell is well known about St. John, where he served as a city detective for a time and also conducted a private detective agency. He joined the 104th Battalion as a lieutenant and went overseas with it, later transferring to the 20th N. B. Battalion, with which he was wounded in France. He will settle with his family in Bath, Somerset, England, where good wishes will follow them from friends here.

As Hiram Sees It

"I see," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, "that a fellow went to the police office to get a night's lodging, and he walked in the morning with a coat the policemen threw over him to keep him warm. 'Some nerve—what?' commented the reporter. 'He was as nery as a fellow that come out to the Settlement one time an' sold a dog to a man for five dollars. He stole the dog right back agin an' sold it to another man—an' jist when the two men was gitting about which of 'em owned the dog he stole it agin an' kep' on goin'. I s'pose he still makes a livin' out of that dog.' 'It may be,' said the reporter, 'that the man who took the policeman's coat had his lodgings and sawed hard winter ahead. You could hardly call him a nrother—could you?' 'An' according to the story as I read it,' said Hiram. 'But if he'd took the coat an' gone to proper meddin' an' stood up to say he'd been the lord for hev'n' prospered him—then I'd say he was a genuine prother. The fellow who took the coat out for, 'Ag' we got 'em—yes, sir—we got 'em right here if Noo Brunswick.'

A mass meeting of the women will be held next Wednesday at which the matter will be further discussed and thoroughly gone into. It is probable that a hospital will be established here.

Had Been Held For Manslaughter, Following Death of Little Marion Crawford—Boy Burglar in Court—Woman Sent Up For Trial

In the police court this morning a case against Robert Hickey, charged with manslaughter, was dismissed and the defendant allowed to go. B. L. Gerow appeared for the Crown, while Francis Kerr acted for the defence. Two lads were arrested last night by Sergeant Joseph Scott, and Police Constables Landon and Lyzeman for breaking and entering the store of T. Collins & Company at the rear of the Bank of Nova Scotia building in Charlotte street. The lads emerged from the skylight on the roof and were detected by the police, endeavored to make his escape but was caught while hiding under a platform in an alley in the rear of the Canadian Drug Company's building. The lads were charged with breaking and entering and stealing goods, cigarettes, to a value exceeding $10, from the store of T. Collins & Company. It was said in court this morning that these premises have been broken into six times. These lads are known to the police as they have been arrested before. The case was postponed until Monday or Tuesday and in the meantime the lads are being held in jail.

One man charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty, and said that he had been drinking lemon extract which he paid seventy-five cents for. The man was in a wretched condition, shaking and seemingly unstrung as a result of the lemon. After a severe reprimand by the magistrate, who pointed out the evils of drinking lemon, he was remanded to jail.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—At the urgent request of the Omsk government, the state department has instructed the delivery of fourteen thousand rifles held up in Vladivostok by Major General Graves, the American commander, in retaliation for the anti-American articles in an Omsk newspaper, and because of hostile acts of Cossack chiefs in the far east. Diplomatic efforts to persuade the Omsk government to suppress the newspapers or to compel a less hostile attitude towards the United States and the troops under General Graves are being made. An official notification of the calling of a state assembly by Admiral Kolchak has been received and is regarded as a step toward the establishment of a stable government in Siberia.

GIVING UP HOPE FOR A PERMANENT UNIONIST PARTY

Government Seems to Have Abandoned The Idea

IMPRESSION FROM CAUCUS

Premier Has Had Matter Under Consideration But Has Received Little Encouragement From Friends and Supporters

(Special to Times.) Ottawa, Oct. 3.—Somewhat rather than hard political reasoning, prevailed at the government caucus held yesterday. The expectations of those who thought that something would be done which would clarify the present situation where personal ambitions and old party affiliations have been darkening cloud, have been frustrated. If Premier Borden had a platform and a policy to present which would be great enough to weld all factions together and produce a permanent new party for Canada, with a broader outlook and more definite aim than any we have or have had, he did not present it. That he has been considering some such basis for permanent union has been known since last session, when a caucus had such a proposal forwarded to the attempt to form a permanent unionist party. It is known that some of his most confidential advisers—such as Sir Geo. Perley, who occupies towards the premier somewhat the same intimate position as does Colonel Howe towards President Wilson—are not warm for the attempt to form a permanent unionist party which would necessarily exclude Quebec and accentuate the attitude of aloofness which that province now maintains. It is unlikely, therefore, that anything further will be heard about a permanent unionist party.

Plain Speaking Over Matter of Overseas Votes

Both Sides of House Grew Warm—'A Threat by Cowards, Repeated by Cowards For The Benefit of Cowards'

Of the details of the caucus it is hard to ascertain a great deal as yet, because Sir Robert Borden made a specific request that those present give out no information of what had taken place. The caucus and appeared to require an extraordinary amount of discussion and revision before the statement was finally handed to the press at 10 o'clock, seven hours after caucus finished. There was even a hurried call to an emergency conference at the premier's residence at 7 o'clock to put the finishing touches on the statement which, when it finally appeared, was filled with vague generalities conveying nothing more than an echo of the undoubted sympathy and alleged enthusiasm of those present. Sir Robert leaves this afternoon for Hot Springs, Virginia.

TO BEAUTIFY OTTAWA Ottawa, Oct. 2.—The long continued dispute between the dominion government and the city of Ottawa as to the part the government should bear in helping to carry out Sir Wilfrid Laurier's dream of making Ottawa the "Washington of the North" was settled today when a five-year agreement was made between the city and the government providing for an annual grant of $370,000. As the contribution of the latter of this amount the Ottawa improvement commission will receive $150,000.

THE FIUME AFFAIR.

The views of the supreme council in Paris concerning Fiume are tersely stated in this paragraph by the Associated Press:
"By allowing Italy's claim to Fiume solely on the basis of its forcible occupation by d'Annunzio's irregular troops in the opinion of members of the supreme council in Paris would involve recognition by the Entente of Romania's claims in Hungary; Greece's claims in large portions of Turkey and even possibly Germany's claim to rich portions of western Russia. It is felt that admission by the council of the right of any nation to seize territory regardless of pledges to refrain from aggression would be regarded as tantamount to an abandonment of the basic principle upon which the treaty was assembled and as threatening a permanent peace."

would urge that the interests of the producer, dealer and consumer be safeguarded. Regional storerooms in farming communities and milk stations, convenient points, if constructed, would bring the producer and consumer into closer relation and would serve the double purpose of conserving food and cutting its cost to the consumer. Regulation such as outlined would eliminate many of the evils of distribution and profiteering which undoubtedly exist today. City commissions could do good work in co-operating with the larger body representing the state. It is said that the federal authorities at Washington are considering the practicability of such a plan. There is certainly force in Mr. Hodson's remark that the price of food is quite as important a matter as the price of gas or electricity, and his suggestion that it should be made the subject of legislation and state supervision will appeal very strongly to the great body of consumers. The Rotary Club will meet with a general and ready response when it sets out to secure St. John's quota for the first great community of Ormocote. Not only has a great deal of property been destroyed but there are elderly persons who are left penniless. Prompt and generous aid is needed, since winter is at hand. The provincial government acted with great promptness in providing the immediate cash relief needed, and the people of Fredericton have responded nobly to the appeal for food and other urgent necessities. Human nature is at its best when it responds to such an appeal in behalf of people who have been visited by sudden and great calamity. It is announced that the public schools of the United States were short 38,000 teachers at the beginning of the school term, and the commissioner of education has said that "to meet the shortage, due in large part to low salaries, it is estimated that approximately 65,000 teachers were employed who were below the standard requirements existing in the various school districts." On the other hand, all American colleges report greatly increased attendance. Obviously more attention must be paid to the question of getting teachers for the public schools. The people of the north and west should take advantage of the offer of free night schools, and without delay. The school board is ready to take a progressive step. All it requires is at least twenty students for each school. The Times-Star was told by a young returned soldier yesterday that he intended to avail himself of a night school in addition to learning a trade in the day-time. That is the spirit which should animate great numbers of working boys and men. Toronto Globe:—It is necessary to hammer home the statement that the Liberals elected to parliament in 1917 to support a win-the-war Union government had no authority to take part in the formation of a permanent Unionist party. Their constituents if consulted would make this plain. Women who have not registered should hasten to do so. There will be questions coming up ere long on which they will wish to vote, and it will be their own fault if they are not in a position to do so. W. L. Mackenzie King received a very hearty greeting in Summerside yesterday, and made a great impression by the speech he delivered to several thousand people. PACIFIC SALMON IN PASSAMAQUODDY BAY Humpback Variety Reported In Abundance and Being Good Prices Secretary of Commerce Redfield has received the following report from the Commissioner of Fisheries respecting the attempts of the Bureau of Fisheries to establish Pacific humpback salmon species in Maine waters: "There is now in progress a run of humpbacks in the section between the Penobscot River and Passamaquoddy Bay. Quite a number of fish have been caught or observed at the dam in the Penobscot River at Bangor but the principal run is in Passamaquoddy Bay and streams tributary thereto, especially in Denys River and Pembroke River. The herring weirs in Passamaquoddy Bay are taking considerable numbers of humpback, and it was reported some days ago that an Eastport herring fisherman had a boatload of humpbacks which were sold at sixteen cents a pound; more recent reports are that these fish are bringing the fisherman twenty cents a pound and are being retailed at forty to fifty cents a pound. One of the bureau's superintendents who has been investigating on the spot writes that people who have eaten humpbacks claim them to be as good as Atlantic salmon. This is probably true of the fish just running in from the sea, but rapid deterioration of the flesh ensues after the humpback enters fresh water. The bureau is making arrangements to take the humpback eggs on both Denys and Pembroke Rivers and there is reason to believe that the work will be quite successful. A card just received from a fisherman at Denysville says the humps are here by the thousands."

AFFAIRS AT OTTAWA.

The question of a permanent Unionist party goes over till the next session of parliament. Sir Robert Borden has laid before the caucus his views concerning the matter, and will go south for two months to recover his health, the date of which now prevents him from taking an active part in public affairs. Members of all parties will sincerely hope that the premier's health will be fully restored when he returns. So far as can be gathered from reports of the caucus there is a general disposition to carry on as at present, but whether there is to be a permanent Unionist party will not be decided in any case by the gentlemen at Ottawa. They will sound their constituents between now and the next session of parliament, and when they attend the next caucus it will be to give expression to the views based on what they regard as the sentiment of the people. No platform can be made that will hold high tariff Conservatives and low tariff Liberals. A new party may emerge, but if it should be a sort of stand-pat organization the people will have no objection to it. The country is weary of generalizations. It wants specific reforms, and the party that does not pledge itself to bring them about will find itself in a minority. PRESIDENT WILSON. The illness of President Wilson is a cause of world-wide regret. With the fall of the cause he advocates, the president had appealed from the senate to the nation in the matter of the peace treaty and set out to deliver a nationwide series of public addresses. The strain was too great, and his nervous system broke down. He was making splendid fight, and his admirers heard by great audiences wherever he went. There can be no doubt that he has cleared the atmosphere and given the people a much clearer knowledge of the world situation and the duties and responsibilities of the United States in relation thereto. The Republican senators have been seeking to make political capital out of the peace treaty. President Wilson denies the right of partisanship to thrust itself forward in a matter affecting the honor of the nation and the welfare of the world. He knows the gravity of the task awaiting the great powers, and sees in the peace treaty and the league of nations the best available instrument to prevent wars and establish more firmly the principles of true democracy. His illness hails him in the performance of a great task. AN INTERESTING SUGGESTION Mr. D. P. Hodson, counsel for the Erie county food administration, advocates the appointment of state and city commissions to supervise the sale and distribution of food in New York state. He contends that there is no reason for public service commissions to deal with this question than with railroads, electric light and gas companies, and to fix fair prices. He says: "My experience as counsel of the Erie county food administration during the war and now as an assistant in directing the sale of army stores in Erie county have convinced me that it is time that a food commission be established for the whole state, with branches in many municipalities. I believe the commission should resemble and have practically the same powers as our present state public service commission, and that it should supervise the production, distribution and selling prices of all food products, including meat, grains, vegetables and milk." Mr. Hodson would have a special commission appointed, the laws relating to food production and sale co-ordinated and codified, and legislation enacted giving the whole control of food products under the commission. He says further: "In urging that a commission be named to supervise the food industry I

Rippling Rhymes by Wolf Mason. (Copyright by George Matthew Adams.) LOST LIBERTY. Still some lament, with language rude, the passing of Old Boos; the precious boon of getting stews they cannot calmly lose. "Our fathers fought at Bunker Hill, Toledo, and elsewhere, that we our tanks with gin might fill," they wistfully declare. "Our noble sires gave up their lives for all kinds of fun. George Washington flung forth his flag, and made the Great Seal, that we might buy a goodly jag, and sleep it off in jail. Where are our boasted liberties? They've shriveled up and shrunk, and our palladiums are cheese, and all our bulwarks bunk." The precious boon of getting stews is a queer thing to lament, and I, for one, don't know why any sane, well-balanced gent should weep for such a woe. The "liberty" that makes men bores to neighbors and to friends is better off kicked out of doors—I'm glad such freedom ends. The "liberty" that starves the kids and mortgages the coop, and keeps the girls from buying lids, is scarcely worth a whoop.

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

DOMINION HAPPENINGS OF OTHER DAYS

THE FATE OF THE MACLEANS

Colonel Maclean, upon whom so much depended after the defeat of General Carleton and the surrender of St. Johns, met with disaster, too. He had reached Sorel safely and was on his way march along the southern shore of the St. Lawrence with his 300 Highlanders when he encountered Major Brown and Major Livingstone with their Continental reinforcements with some of the Green Mountain boys as they were known in the American force. These pressed the British column back to Sorel. There was nothing he could do but embark his little force on the banks of the river and retreat. The balance of his little army he left to the upper St. Lawrence and returned to Quebec. The enemy set up batteries on the shore and so that no armed ships or forces could come up to Montreal to bring relief to the command of Carleton. When General Montcalm appeared before Montreal with his victors, the town capitulated but Carleton and his attempted to escape. The militia of ten or eleven small ships was stopped by the guns at Sorel and came to anchor above the town. Other militia ships were scattered and then in a little boat with half a dozen soldiers disguised as peasants succeeded in reaching Three Rivers while the small fleet surrendered. During the summer the Americans had taken Chambly, Sorel, St. Johns and Montreal.

CURRIE SPEAKS OF THE WAR'S CLOSING

Explains Absence of Tanks Because Tanks Were Casualties—Mons Entry—The General Again Pays High Tribute to Fighting Men

Winnipeg, Oct. 3.—General Sir Arthur Currie received hearty applause and a warm reception before the Canadian Club here yesterday. His speech dealt chiefly with the closing months of the war. Questions that have become the subject of public controversy, such as the absence of tanks in the final operations, and the charge that the Canadians had made an attack on Mons on the morning of armistice day, were dealt with by the speaker. The absence of tanks in the closing battles was due to the fact that there were no tanks. They had become casualties. As to Mons, Canadian troops had entered it at 3 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 11, two hours before the armistice was signed. The general commenced by paying a tribute to his colleagues, Brig-General Dyer of Saskatchewan, the late General Lippert of the 3rd Canadian Division, and Brig-General Ormond. The Canadian corps had done its work thoroughly. That is, it had held that portion of the line it was ordered to hold, fought the battles it was ordered to fight, and fought each until victory came. At the time the big German attack developed in 1918, the Canadians were holding 30,000 yards of trench, one-fifth of the total line held by the British army in France. That showed they were playing up to the mark commensurate with their strength. Grave days followed the terrific pressure of the German attack. General Byng had told the speaker on March 27 that he had put his last man in to the line. In those critical days, the Canadian cavalry brigade, and the first motor machine gun corps, who were thrown into the broken sector, had shown a courage and prowess equal to anything manifested by Canadian troops during the war. So much did the French think of the Canadians that the French civilians, about to leave their homes near Neuville Vitasse when the German pressure was especially emphasized in the training. In the battle of Amiens Canadian soldiers had said it was just as if the training area had been changed. He went on to say that he considered the winning of the battle at Cambrai the greatest in the Canadian corps. The total Canadian casualties during the final three months of the war were 46,000. When he considered that the Canadians were responsible for the defeat of one-quarter of the German army, and that to defeat the other three-quarters, it could easily be seen that the Canadian casualties were not disproportionately high. It had been said that the Canadians had been sent into battle at Mons on armistice day morning. The fact was that it had been planned to peacefully penetrate Mons after dark on the evening of Nov. 10. At 8 o'clock in the morning the Canadians had entered Mons. The armistice was not signed until 11 o'clock in the morning, and until it was signed, nobody knew it was going to be signed. By the terms of the armistice, the fighting was to cease at 11 o'clock. They did cease. No assault was ever ordered by the Canadians on Mons on Armistice day morning, and none ever took place. Canada's men of the forest, the farm and the office, leaving business and home ties had staked their all in the cause of freedom and the principals for which the British Empire stood. Fifty thousand dead, facing their living Canadian fellow citizens today, exhorted them to high idealism in service.

ORDERS MONTREAL TO PAY MORE FOR MILK

Montreal, Oct. 3.—The board of commerce of Canada has decided that Montreal must pay more for milk. The decision of the board, which met in Montreal last week and listened to a lot of evidence on the question, is that a gallon more for October, and ten cents more for November. The judgment means that the retail price of milk in Montreal will go up from thirteen to fifteen cents a quart in October, and to sixteen cents a quart for the rest of the winter. It is the subject of further inquiry.

WHY FIVE CENT FARES STILL ARE POSSIBLE

Washington, Oct. 3.—Electric railway troubles can only be cured if a cure is possible, by honest dealing, efficient management and effective workers. Thomas E. Mitten, president of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, told the federal electrical railway commission, when its hearings were resumed today. The co-operative plan of operation followed by this company, he said, was what had made retention of the five cent fare possible, and at the same time allowed increased wages for employees and dividends to stockholders.

"If the forces of labor and management will combine so effectively as to produce almost 100 per cent. more per man employed, as we are doing," he said, "much if not all that is required to overcome the high cost of living will have been accomplished."

Mr. Mitten predicted that reeveships would be instituted for street railways in many cities, and said that fares sufficiently high to pay the cost of service would have to be established. Valuations to determine investment charges on which to base cost of service charges, he said, should be fixed by the cost of reproduction now.

PREMIER CLEMENCEAU IS OF NOBLE DESCENT.

Paris, Oct. 3.—Georges Clemenceau, premier of France, is of noble descent, according to the Armorial Français, which has been looking up his pedigree. The Clemenceau family, it says, can be traced to Jehan Clemenceau, master printer and librarian of Lower Poitou, who in the fifteenth century obtained from Louis XII a patent of nobility and henceforth was known as Jehan Clemenceau de la Clemenceure. The arms granted to him consisted of "two keys argent crossed on a field azure."

SEES NO DANGERS IN ARMY TRAINING

Representative Kahn Declares Universal Service in U. S. Would Crush Desire For Prussianism—Would Improve the Race

Regular army that will fulfill the functions which cannot be fulfilled by a reserve force, and announces that he will do all he can to pass congressional legislation akin to the Swiss and Australian systems.

"I have seen statements in the newspapers," he says in his statement, "to the effect that those who advocate universal training are in favor of Prussianizing the United States. There is not a particle of foundation for such a statement. The Prussian system contemplates the induction of the youths of Germany into the German army at the age of eighteen. At first they were compelled to serve for three years uninterruptedly in the military forces of the German Empire. During this period, of course, they underwent military training. But long after they had learned the rudiments of the training required to make a soldier they were compelled to remain in the army for the full period of two or three years. After that continuous service they were subject to calls for manoeuvres for a further period of years.

"The American system proposed at the present time is more like the system prevailing in Switzerland and Australia. The Swiss system covers a period of about six months, spread over a series of eight years. Switzerland is a small country. A young man can travel its entire length in a few hours. Conditions in this country, where the distance is great, require that the training period be continuous. In other words if this country decides on a three or six months' period, the young man will be trained entirely within that length of time and within the year in which he is called for training. During the period he is training he will never be asked to join the army, unless, unfortunately, he should become involved in war. His service will be required only for training purposes under the usual peace-time conditions that exist in the United States.

"It is not the intention of those who favor the system that any youth during peace times shall be inducted into the army of the United States at any time during his training period, or ever thereafter. Service in the United States army in peace times is to continue as it always has been on a voluntary enlistment basis.

"Many opponents of universal training insist that the system will make for militarism. We have just trained 4,000,000 young men who came to the colors during the war. Most of them are now back in private life. Ask any of them whether they have been converted to militarism. Their answer invariably will be 'No'.

"But the overwhelming majority of them will tell you that the training served to build them up physically. They will tell you that they gained weight and that they never felt stronger in their lives.

"I believe that the system of universal training will give us a much more patriotic, a much more efficient, citizenship. If anything, I believe that such training will crush any desire for militarism in this country. I believe it will make for a sturdier manhood of the country, that it will give us a much more virile and rugged population."

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment. Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmit (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmit used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

GAMES TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP OF ST. JOHN CITY AND COUNTY

St. Peter's and Alerts to Play Deciding Game or Games on East End Grounds Tomorrow

While local fans are interested in the world's series between Cincinnati and Chicago, they are also awaiting with no less degree of interest the championship games, which are to be played on the East End League grounds tomorrow afternoon between St. Peter's winners of the City League, and the Alerts winners of the East End League. The former team has won the championship of the latter game. If St. Peter's win the first game tomorrow afternoon they will be the undisputed champions of the city and should the Alerts win the first and a double header is made necessary they will have an equal chance of clinching the title.

Stafford will be on the mound for the Alerts as in last game last Saturday a large number of fans are confident that he can duplicate the trick and win again tomorrow. If he does he will be asked to perform the iron man "stun" and pitch the double header, with Patzer and Lawler in reserve. It is not definitely known, who will pitch for St. Peter's but the Saints are hoping that Hanson or Dever will be on the mound. Both teams will have their regular line-ups and a rattling good game is expected as much as is to be expected.

"Pete" McAllister, the popular umpire, will be in charge of the arbitrating end of the game and will be assisted by William Howard, who has developed into a good reliable ump. An effort is being made to have John Gaudin, the official scorer of the St. John City League, look after that end of the game. The first game will commence at two o'clock and if necessary the second will commence five minutes after the initial contest has ended.

SIR W. G. ESMONDE ON THE IRISH PROBLEM

Distinguished Irishman Looks to Lloyd George For Action When Labor Troubles Have Been Settled

An interesting visitor to St. John today was a former member of the British House of Commons Sir Thomas W. Gratton Esmonde, who is on a holiday trip to Canada and who came to renew acquaintance with friends in this city which he visited about three years ago. He has also been here on former occasions. Sir Thomas, who is being heartily welcomed by old friends, was formerly a member of parliament for North County, Wexford, but was defeated by a Sinn Fein candidate in the last general election. He had represented the constituency for many years, long before it was known as the Irish question. He had always been an ardent home ruler and was a firm believer in the value of such a measure. He thinks that when Lloyd George finished the settlement of the troubles within England at the present time and the labor crisis through which the country is passing, that he will turn his attention to a definite solution of the Irish question. Ireland cannot go on the way she is, the people will never be content with being governed with the aid of an army of soldiers. The plan of Sir Horace Plunkett tending to self-government is greatly favored, although it is opposed by some in Ulster, not all by any means, as some of the newspapers would lead one to believe. I think if a referendum were to be taken in Ireland the people would be found favoring self-government by a large majority and it would prove that all Ulster was not so decidedly opposed to the scheme as many seem to think.

Sir Thomas said he felt that a change for the better in Irish affairs would come under Lloyd George's administration.

REUNION FOR OPENING OF WINTER WORK

Young People of Fairville Baptist Church Spent Pleasant and Profitable Evening

The young people of the Fairville Baptist church held a service in the vestry on Thursday evening to open their winter work carrying out the programme of C. S. E. T. and C. G. I. T. The young people enthusiastically turned out in force. For half an hour they enjoyed fun and a general good time. Cory Black the chairman then introduced the speakers.

Miss Harcourt of the Y. W. C. A. gave a most instructive and interesting talk on health. She advocated much sleep, much pure air and good nourishing food. Miss Ethel Brown attractively recited and responded to the invitation to give an encore. George Estey read a letter from the instructor, Mr. Long, outlining his proposed winter course in physical training for the young people. Mr. Gregg spoke earnestly, urging the boys and girls to turn little things into big things in the way of character, development and accomplishment. Charles Wasson spoke interestingly and effectively on loyalty and faithfulness. The amusing stories of Mr. Gregg and Mr. Wasson will not soon be forgotten and will serve to stir down their other remarks.

A donation of the work of $5 was made by Glendon H. Allen. Further remarks were given by the pastor and by the chairman of the evening. The winter work thus commenced most auspiciously. Refreshments were served by young ladies at the close of the programme.

DAY OF ATONEMENT OPENS THIS EVENING

Most Sacred and Important Holy Day in Hebrew Calendar Will be Solemnly Observed by Jews of This City

The Day of Atonement, the most sacred holy day in the Jewish religion, which is kept solemnly as a day of fasting and prayer by Jews all over the world, begins with sunset this evening and continues until sundown tomorrow. Special services will be held in the local synagogues and the Hebrew residents of St. John are being joined for the occasion by large numbers from other parts of the province, where the opportunity for their religious exercises are lacking.

The Day of Atonement brings home with great emphasis and force the doctrine of sin and repentance which is the basic principle of all religions. Just as the birth of the altruistic spirit marked the point of departure between man and animal, so the development of the doctrine of repentance marks a turning point in the history of the human race. Judaism has announced this moment of history which saw the birth of new hope for human progress.

Joins a host that man has the God-given power of repentance. Fate plays no part in man's life. The Day of Atonement gives eloquent testimony to this fundamental doctrine of Judaism, since it visualizes the fact that the doors of repentance are ever open.

The Day of Atonement is the supreme holy day of the Jewish religion. It reaches the heart of all the Jews and exercises upon them an influence unapproached by any of their other important holy days. It is above all others, the one day on which they lay aside their earthly affairs in order to spend the day of devotion in the house of God amid fasting and prayer.

REJECT MOTION FOR AN INQUIRY

Straight Party Division on D. D. McKenzie's Motion—Hon. Mr. Meighen Says Telegram Produced is Forged

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—At two o'clock this morning the commons on a division of seventy-nine to fifty-six, a government majority of twenty-three, rejected D. D. McKenzie's motion demanding the appointment of a parliamentary committee to inquire into the manner of the taking of the soldiers vote at the last general election as well as into the sending of a code telegram under the signature of Hon. Arthur Meighen to Sir Robert Borden in regard to the appointment of one thousand soldiers votes in Manitoba. The division, which was a straight party affair, was preceded by a motion by Mr. McKenzie that the original telegram, and Mr. Meighen, after looking it over declared that it was not in his hand writing and that he had not written it or initiated it.

MEXICO FINDS VIOLATIONS OF NEUTRALITY WORTHY OF GRAVE CONCERN

Mexico City, Oct. 3.—Complaints have been received by authorities here from customs officers in Juarez, Chihuahua, against the actions of American soldiers who are said to cross the border frequently without permits searching for liquor. In some cases, say the officers, the soldiers have entered private homes in their quest. Pedro Delgado, chief of the customs inspectors in Juarez, says that such violations of neutrality create an extremely delicate situation.

PARTED FEW DAYS AFTER MARRIAGE

Minors Run Away From Canada to Get Married in Canada—Marriage Annulled

(Montreal Gazette.) The story of a "marriage in haste" and "repent at leisure" is told in the record of and judgment on a case before Mr. Justice Gauthier in the superior court yesterday when the marriage of Hilda Sylvester and Albert Ogger was declared null and void, to be illegal and therefore was annulled.

Nearly eight years ago the parties, then sweethearts and both under age, left England in order to get married. Ogger was a Roman Catholic, Hilda Sylvester was a Protestant.

Examined by her counsel, petitioner stated that she came to Canada from England with defendant for the purpose of getting married here and they were married at Calgary on March 21, 1912. She was then nineteen years of age and had not the consent of her parents to get married.

"Did your husband declare that he was not of age?" "No, he did not."

"Were any of the formalities of the law, as required in such cases, complied with before you were married?" "No; not to my knowledge."

"You merely went to the Protestant minister with your husband and were married right away?" "Yes."

"Without any formalities of the law being published?" "Nothing."

"And you had no dispensation from the Church?" "No, it was all done in half an hour or so—even in less time than half an hour."

"It was to evade the law of England—you both being minors, and not having the consent of your parents to get married—that you came to Canada to get married?" "Yes."

"You have no children?" "No."

"Has defendant any objections to this action you have taken against him?" "No, sir."

"Does he live in Montreal?" "Yes, and he has received notice of this action."

In further examination, witness said she left her husband in Montreal when their marriage in 1912. "He left me and I left him."

"And you have not lived together since?" "No."

In his judgment annulling the marriage, Mr. Justice Gauthier said that the petitioner's demand is justified by the proof and by the default of defendant to answer the questions duly served on him and which have been declared proper on petitioner's demand, by a judgment of this court.

J. O. Lacroix, K. C., appeared for petitioner.

During the convention daily meetings on social service are to be held, and the Church League for Social and Industrial Democracy will complete its organization with Bishop Charles D. Williams of Detroit its leader.

Representatives of capital and labor will be invited to give their views in the open forum meetings on social service, preliminary to the launching of the new league. The purpose of the league, it is stated, is a country-wide educational propaganda for better co-operation of all walks of human life "for a state of society in which man will get all he earns and earn all he gets, where no man will live on the fruits of another man's labor and no man will be denied the fruits of his own labor."

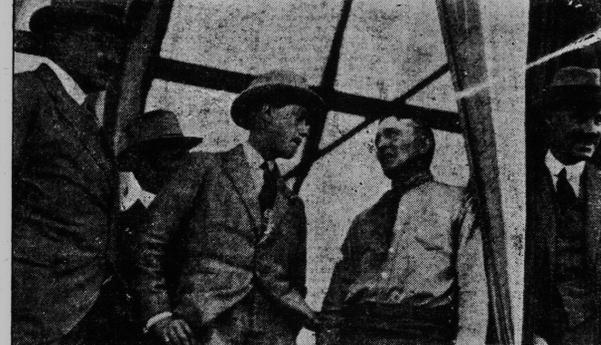

Church leaders anticipate that the question of open sessions of the league of bishops will again come before the convention as it has the past score of years. The proposal lost by one vote at a recent convention of the bishops.

GERMANS SEEKING GERMANS SEEK A FOOTHOLD

Customers Worth Billions Cannot be Turned Away, But French Want No Camouflage—A Recent Incident.

(Paris, Sept. 14.—)Correspondence of The Associated Press.—The impending resumption of commercial relations with the enemy of yesterday is causing the French republic at large a good deal of misgiving. Many would keep the German out at all cost, but cooler heads realize that France cannot afford to close the door upon a customer of a billion francs annually.

Incidents such as the following do not serve to put the public mind at ease. A woman of good social standing of Lille recognized yesterday, in the person of a cashier in one of the big department stores of Paris, a former German officer.

He had good reason to remember him, as one of the invaders who had been quartered upon her home in Lille.

Challenged as to his identity, the man stoutly denied his Teutonic nationality. He spoke French perfectly; his papers were to all appearance in order, and the cashier at first found scant evidence on the part of the management.

Then she remembered that the man had once boastfully exhibited his arm, on which the portrait of the former German Emperor was tattooed. The cashier officer was dismissed and the newspapers are now demanding that employers shall be held responsible for the civil status of their employees.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—France's declining birthrate has lately been a source of much concern, but a distinct improvement has been noticed during the past month.

More Canadians Study For Church

Montreal Gazette.—The resumption of the Montreal Theological College on a peace basis this year shows certain new features of interest. There are many veterans among the students who, having interrupted their studies to go overseas, are now taking up the thread of life at the point where they broke it, though in the meantime they have gained experience in the military or naval service.

MANY CONCERNS SEEK BUSINESS IN BRAZIL

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Aug. 17.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—That countries other than the United States realize the growing commercial importance of Brazil and the advantage of establishing new or more extended relations with the largest and perhaps the richest of all South American countries is indicated by the large number of foreign concerns establishing offices or agencies here, or seeking federal permission to carry on business in Brazil.

Every steamer from Europe and the United States brings its quota of business representatives who come prepared to embark in business at once, or to survey the situation and decide upon the desirability of entering the field.

During the last few months an unusual number of new concerns have been authorized to do business here. These include not only companies organized in Brazil with both local and foreign capital, but also many organized and financed from the eastward.

The new enterprises will cover wide fields of activities, ranging from banking, insurance and shipbuilding to the establishment of seaside resorts. The greater number of them, however, will engage in the business of importing and exporting. One of the new companies is organized with Lisbon and Oporto capital amounting to $8,000,000 and proposes to foster trade between Brazil and Portugal and her colonies in West Africa.

DON'T KNOW WHERE THEY'RE GOING BUT THEY'RE GOING ON THEIR WAY. Budapest, Oct. 3.—All Central Europe seems on the move. In a railway journal from the eastern Swiss boundary across German Austria, parts of Czechoslovakia and as far into Poland as Warsaw and Lemberg, back into Austria proper and thence to this city, an Associated Press correspondent saw dozens of long trains crowded even beyond the capacity of the cars and with every platform filled with men, women and children in the nondescript baggage of the European peasant. Bundles and chests and cloth bags and paper packages, straw and wicker baskets, rope tied up in bundles, were strapped on every available space.

Where the people are going or why no one seems to know. It is apparently a general reshuffling and milling about of the population.

The trains themselves are wretched enough. There is not a passenger car in Europe that has not been used for troops' transport. They are filthy beyond words, nearly all the glass gone and the windows filled with rough boards or rusty sheets of iron or tin.

The trains are long since gone, and some still bear the faded lines of early war camouflage. Lubricating oil is one of the scarcest of commodities in these regions and the cars crack along over rusted rails, drawn by shabby engines.

WIDE RANGE IN ESTIMATES ON THE SHIPPING STRIKE

Number of Men Out Said to be From 5,000 to 40,000 Men—Longshoremen's Association, Through Its Council, Henry C. Hunter, Asserted that Less than 5,000 Men were in Private Shipyard

New York, Oct. 3.—Conflicting claims were made today by labor leaders and shipping men concerning the various strikes affecting maritime industries at the port of New York. Figures on the number of men out ranged from 5,000 to 40,000.

The longshoremen's strike has become a contest on the part of a new organization, chiefly composed of Italian workers, for more pay. It is not sanctioned by the International Longshoremen's Association, which ordered its men back to work yesterday. The new organization today claimed a following of 10,000 men.

The towboat strike has affected all craft of that kind plying along the coast between Hampton Roads and Bath, Me., according to local officials of the marine engineers, and an official of the Atlantic Towboat Association said that most of the fleet of eighty craft operated by its members was tied up.

The maximum number of workers in all the yards of the emergency fleet corporation for the entire North Atlantic service does not exceed 500 men, according to A. G. Volck, assistant district manager while the Atlantic Shipbuilders' Association, through its council, Henry C. Hunter, asserted that less than 5,000 men were out in private shipyards.

Wireless Reports of Aircraft Expedition to The South Pole

London, Sept. 1.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—An airplane, hovering about the South Pole, may send back to London daily wireless reports relative to explorations or scientific researches by the South Pole expedition which is to be led by John L. Cope next summer.

The explorers, who have served as air-goon and biologist on previous south polar expeditions, believe the use of airplanes and wireless in probing the solitudes of the icebound ant-Arctic region will lead to revelations that will make the trip more important from a scientific point of view than any previous explorations of the earth's "under side."

Although new difficulties will be created by the use of aircraft, it is claimed the advantages to be obtained are so great as to be obvious to anyone equipped with such research. It is proposed to equip the airplanes used with wireless apparatus having a sending range of several hundred miles, ensuring communication with the "mother ship" of the expedition. From this summaries of the airplanes' exploits are to be flashed by more powerful instruments back to the civilized world.

London, Oct. 3.—Men's clothes the coming winter will be dear and bad, is the cryptic, gloomy forecast of a clothing trade journal in discussing the prospects of the forthcoming season. Increased production costs and mill shutdowns, necessitated by lack of coal, are the causes assigned.

FINISH RENEWALS BEFORE SNOW FLIES

Commissioner Jones Explains Why so Many Streets Are Torn up

MOUNT PLEASANT HAS COMPLAINT

No Water For Three Days and Commissioner Gives as Reason Magnitude of Renewal Work at Haymarket Square—Good Progress in Brussels Street and Douglas Avenue.

Commissioner Jones, head of the water and sewerage department, speaking to a Telegraph reporter, yesterday afternoon, said that in reply to certain criticisms, relative to tearing up so many streets at once, and of insufficient service on high level he would like to have it fully understood that the renewal work must be completed before the very cold weather sets in in order to avoid a repetition of delay and additional cost to the taxpayers that occurred on the jobs at Lake Fitzgerald and other big departmental work he was rushing the work of main and sewer renewals about the city as rapidly as possible.

Asked to give a detailed account of the extensive operations of his department, Commissioner Jones said that in the Douglas avenue the water main had been all laid and the sewer renewal were nearing completion. There had been about 400 feet of fifteen-inch pipe, 350 feet of twelve-inch and 1,100 feet of nine-inch laid in this section. There is still about 600 feet yet to be laid. The commissioner further stated that it had been found absolutely necessary to tear up the branch line of the street railway in Douglas avenue near the Main street junction. It has been discovered that the line lies in about twenty inches of solid concrete and to remove this it would be necessary to have recourse to dynamite. But to avoid this, the agency the branch line has been temporarily halted and repairs will be effected. The main road of the railway, up of the main road of the railway, there have been 1,700 feet of new 12-inch water main laid in Douglas street to replace the old eight-inch main.

Pipe in Bad Condition

On City road, operations for sewer and water main renewals have been commenced at the Marsh bridge and the pipe is being laid as far as Gilbert's in this vicinity owing to the depth of the trench. Great difficulty was encountered in this vicinity owing to the depth of the trench. Great difficulty was encountered in this vicinity owing to the depth of the trench. Great difficulty was encountered in this vicinity owing to the depth of the trench.

In Brussels street the main water pipe has been laid around the Haymarket Square corner into Brussels street for a distance of 1,200 feet, this being a thirteen-inch main to replace the old ten-inch which had been in use some eighty-one years. This pipe was found to be leaking very badly in many places. About 500 feet of rock has been encountered in a section of the Brussels street renewal, but as soon as this is passed there will be less excavation for the rest of the stretch and the commissioner expects to have the entire job in this vicinity finished within two weeks. The work in Duke street has been completed and is giving every satisfaction.

Get Back Your Grip On Health

USE The Want Ad Way. R. Burnett, T. J. McElroy, Martin Kimball, T. H. Estabrooks, J. W. Gilmour. The Rotary Club.

The inhabitants of Oromocto are in urgent need of outside assistance as a result of the fire, according to a message sent to this city last evening by T. H. Estabrooks, who got in touch with H. D. Paterson, president of the Rotary Club, and suggested that the Rotarians might do something at once towards raising funds. Mr. Paterson acted immediately. He communicated with members of the executive of the club, with the result that it was decided to make preparations for a spirited canvass of the city members of the club next Tuesday with the hope of raising $5,000. It is felt that no difficulty should be encountered by the Rotarians in this effort, for it is highly necessary that St. John should contribute this comparatively small amount to so worthy a cause. As a sufferer by fire in his worse form in days past this city is in a position to know what Oromocto has gone through, and the appeal by the Rotarians should be met by a ready and generous response.

Synod Appeal. The executive of the Synod met on Thursday afternoon and transacted much routine business in receiving and adopting reports. It was decided to make a diocesan appeal on October 10 for the church in Oromocto.

A resolution expressing deep appreciation of the late William Ewing and sympathy for his bereaved relatives was unanimously passed and will be forwarded to them. Adjournment was made until January.

HATE TO PART WITH PATRONAGE

Attitude of Members Revealed by Rough Passage of Civil Service Classification Bill.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 2.—How hard it is for many members of parliament to part with patronage is illustrated by the rough passage which the civil service classification bill is having. Hon. A. K. Maclean was endeavoring to steer it through its second reading this afternoon and it could be plainly seen that, although the members were a little diffident about voting too strenuous opposition, the undercurrent was strongly against it, while here and there some members with more hardihood than the average came out boldly against anything which would deprive them of a very convenient and useful aid to the winning of elections.

Back of it all is probably a realization of the difficulty of maintaining an active political organization unless there is something more tangible in sight for the game. The probability is that the bill will be sent to committee and never come members are very solidly in favor of it; and the chief opposition has not been coming from the Maritime Provinces which Ontario has always charged as being so strongly wedded to patronage. It might be pointed out that if patronage had not been so largely abolished the position of Liberals who supported the government would have been exceedingly unpleasant in connection with appointments in their own sphere of influence.

One honorable member, Mr. McCrea, of Sherbrooke, thought the whole matter should be referred to a commission to study the internal conditions of the civil service which, he thought, was very laudable. He was contacted by working long hours when he did work, and being frequently absent. Indeed, there would more sympathy for the principle of the bill were it not for the fact that the very words "civil service" connote to the average member of parliament something for which he has not very high respect.

The minister pointed out that it would be impossible to operate large national railway systems such as Canada is now doing, if politics were allowed to play such a part as they used to do with the I. C. R. We have now 83,389 railway employees all told, and it would be impossible to administer such a tariff except by some independent agency such as the commission. A short time would demonstrate the wisdom of the principle embodied in the bill. Hereafter, issues of the ten-inch which had been in use some eighty-one years. This pipe was found to be leaking very badly in many places.

Speaking generally of the work, Commissioner Jones said that the renewal, especially in the vicinity of Haymarket Square would tend to give higher pressure and a better service to the residents of Mount Pleasant. The Telegraph had a call, last evening from a resident of Mount Pleasant saying that some of the people there had no water for three days.

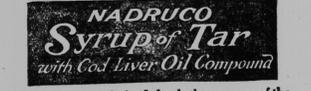

Commissioner Jones, called by telephone, said that he had already explained to several people in this vicinity that connections with the new main now being laid in Haymarket Square were being made as rapidly as possible. The commissioner explained that very few citizens have any idea of the difficulties encountered. The wretched condition of both the old water and sewer pipes was almost beyond belief and it had been found necessary to keep pumps going continually through the day and night, in order to keep the trench clear and allow the men to work. The connection was being made as quickly as possible and he expected by today to have it finished.

It is expected that this month will see the completion of all the work of water main and sewer renewals about the city, including the new system in Haselton avenue where complete water services are being put in.

A DOLEFUL WAIL FROM WIERINGEN

Former Crown Prince is Not Enjoying Exile

LEADS BLAMELESS LIFE

Because "One Has To"—Pines For Society of Cultured People and Scientific Lectures on Interesting Subjects

One gathers from an article in the New York Times by T. Walter Williams that the former Crown Prince of Germany is having rather an uncomfortable time on the little Dutch island where he is marooned partly through his own desire and partly because of the wishes of the German government. He is living in no guilty splendor, but in a four-roomed house, and the fact that it was formerly the residence of the village pastor is sufficient guarantee of the extreme simplicity of the surroundings. It has two bedrooms, one occupied by the prince, and the other by the two German officers who share his exile. His valets live in adjoining quarters. There is no bathroom in the house, of course, and the kitchen where a German chef presides, is situated in a small wooden structure built in the front garden.

A Tough Winter.

Hark to the wail of the Hohenzollerns: "The winter months from November to May are simply too awful for words. The cold nearly killed me and I still have to keep fires in the bedrooms on account of the north wind which blows cold at night. Then, the fogs, the rain and the snow with the ice jammed up on the trip of the Zuyder Zee, which cuts off Wieringen from the mainland make conditions so wretched that I thought I should die. It was literally impossible to keep warm. The nights were long and I missed the society of cultured people. I am fond, too, of the opera and good music and scientific lectures on interesting subjects—all lacking in Wieringen." Plainly the sort of people that the prince is having his horrors much greater than those to which he was personally exposed in the war.

Will Return to Germany.

Apparently the prince is not under surveillance. There are no sentries at his door, and he roams about the little island at will. To leave it he might require the permission of the Dutch authorities, and he has made just one visit since he took up his residence. That was to see his mother at Amersfort. He has not seen his father nor any other members of the family since last November. He plans to return to Germany when the peace treaty is finally signed and anticipates no objection raised in any quarter, but his father, he says, will probably stay in Holland for some time.

NOT EVEN A SCAR

Is left where my little son cut his forehead so badly by running against a cross-cut saw," writes Mrs. T. G. Miller of Winona, Ont.

"I had never used Zam-Buk, but had heard how good it is for injuries, so I got some and applied a dressing at once. It was quite wonderful the way it soothed the pain. I renewed the dressing twice a day for three days, by which time the cut was so much better the child was able to go without the bandage. From then I had no more trouble with the wound. It healed up very quickly, and not even a scar is left. Needless to say, I shall never be without Zam-Buk again."

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon, apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the fingers tips. Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

Not Changed by War

Mr. Williams says that the Prince does not take the war seriously and comments upon it in the detached manner of an observer, rather than as a conspicuous actor. He had turned the world topsy turvy, he said, and it will take fifty years before normal financial, living and industrial conditions are restored. If it had not been for the war, the United States took part, hundreds of thousands of lives would have been spared, and conditions would be better than they are today.

Gas in the Stomach is Dangerous

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

ENJOYING THE FAIR. More than a thousand people attended the Around-the-World Fair of the City Cornet Band last evening and the wet weather proved nothing in the way of a deterrent. In connection with the fair the band is showing a collection of photographs taken at various stages of its history and these prove very interesting not less so than the variety of uniforms in which the band appeared at various stages in its forty-five years of existence. These pictures are a never ending course of interest.

LIBERAL LEADER IS GREETED WITH WILD ENTHUSIASM

Refutes Criticism That He Failed to Help in War and Expresses Hope to Address Returned Soldiers on This Topic—Speaks of Last Election Scandal.

Summerside, P. E. I., Oct. 2.—The spontaneous and enthusiastic informal reception tendered Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King on his arrival in Summerside last night was but a prelude to the great demonstration which the brilliant young leader of the reunited Liberal party received as he entered the Crystal rink tonight to deliver his speech formally accepting the nomination for Prince county. The great audience of nearly four thousand people, as many as could squeeze into the building, rose as one person and loudly cheered Hon. Mr. King.

The latter who had attended the exhibition today met hundreds of people and made a splendid impression by his charming personality. Tonight he added thousands to his list of admirers by his magnificent address in which he dealt with the issues of the day in a manner worthy of the statesman destined to be premier of Canada.

Mr. King completely refuted the charges made against him of alleged failure to help in the war, by clearly showing that the services which he had rendered industry, and through industry, the fighting armies, at the front, was greater than any other service he could have performed in a military way at the front at his age.

This statement was greeted with rousing cheers. He said if there should be a contest he would welcome an issue on his war record, and would be glad to address returned soldiers on it.

The reading of the letter from the great Bethlehem Ship Building Company stating that his assistance in connection with the labor situation in the yards was of real value from the standpoint of helping to win the war was the signal of another outburst of applause.

Liberal Platform. Mr. King also dealt with the Liberal platform as framed at Ottawa and with the attitude of the Liberal-Unionists in parliament and in the country, stating that having acted from motives of conscience and the highest patriotism, conscience no longer being an issue, these men have the opportunity of joining the government from power and replacing it by one that will be Liberal and progressive and have a policy that it can call its own.

Mr. King's reference to the telegram from Mr. Meighen to Premier Borden re allotting the thousand soldiers' votes to various ridings also was very effective.

Other speakers of the evening were Horace J. Logan, ex-M. P. of Amherst and Premier Bell. An address in French was read to Mr. King by J. Boute, editor of L'Impartial, Tignish.

Robert Agnew, president of the last Prince Liberal Association, presided. Liberals from every part of the island including the premier and members of the legislature, were in attendance.

HIGH COSTS AFFECT EVEN THE BASEBALLS

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Eighty dollars for baseballs for each game played in the world's series. That sounds big, but nevertheless, that is approximately what it will cost to furnish the principal item for the baseball classic this year. As in other things, the high cost has hit baseballs, which now bring $20 a dozen. It is estimated four dozen balls will be used in each game. On this basis, if it is decided to play nine games in the series, and it becomes necessary to run the entire string before the winner is decided, it will cost close to $1,800 for balls alone.

The reason that so many are used is because balls fouled into the stands or balls which leave the playing field find their way back. Manufacturers blame increased prices paid for material and the high cost of labor for the present price. Horseshoe used in covering the baseballs has increased in cost during the past three years about 250 per cent. The wool yarn has jumped 200 per cent in three years. The official ball of the National League is made with a cork centre. The price of this cork has doubled and a special thread used has increased almost three times. The cork centre ball was patented August 31, 1909. It weighs five ounces and is nine inches in circumference. This ball will be used in all games played in the National League ball park during the series. Another ball, similarly made, and adopted by the American League, will be used in all contests in the junior league park.

SUCCESS, AND HOW IT IS MEASURED

Symposium Conducted by New York Paper Shows Vagueness of General Ideas on The Subject

A New York paper has been conducting a public symposium on "success," thereby reviving an ancient and still hotted question and providing much education for readers. There is no subject of such universal interest for we may believe that not merely all humanity but all conscious animal life is striving in some fashion to realize success. It is a yearning that is instinctive, and the lower orders of animal life respond to that urge quite as truly as do men. But it is only man who debates the question and undertakes to find a satisfying definition. And yet, after centuries of discussion and philosophical reasoning there are very few satisfactory definitions.

A symposium on this subject is interesting merely in the prevalent vagueness of human ideas that is revealed. And the majority of ideas are bound to be vague, probably, because of the tremendous variety of human aspiration in the matter of achievement. There is a mistaken notion that success is something tangible, with a definite measure and fixed rules for its attainment, and that somehow the success or failure of a man is to be appraised by hard and fast standards. This is not the truth for the reason that men are not moved by the same ideals and ambitions. Except in a few cases the most commonplace particulars of life they are not moving in the same direction. We hear a good deal about the success of human nature and that in most essentials men are much alike, but the view is misleading. There are great differences of people, and the differences in essentials men are much alike, but the view is misleading. There are great differences of people, and the differences in essentials men are much alike, but the view is misleading. There are great differences of people, and the differences in essentials men are much alike, but the view is misleading.

STANDARD PRICES FOR GOOD LIQUOR TO BE PUBLISHED

Premier Foster, yesterday, gave out a statement outlining exactly what the government had done regarding the sale of liquor. This statement follows:—
 "The government of this province has had under consideration for some time the best method to be adopted whereby those requiring spirituous liquors from time to time for medicinal purposes prescribed by physicians could obtain such at more reasonable prices than have prevailed, and which would at the same time ensure a better quality for the purpose named than in some cases has been dispensed.
 "It was thought that a wholesale dispensary controlled and managed by the government might be established where, by only those liquors of the best quality would be imported and sold to the retail vendors, and at the same time sold at fixed prices which would place the various kinds of liquors in the hands of the retail vendors at a less profit than now obtained. Because, however, of the uncertain conditions at present prevailing, due not only to the holding of a plebiscite which must necessarily take place shortly but also to the Dominion government order-in-council which is now in force under the War Time Measures Act, which order prevents the importation or shipment of liquor from one province to another and which, unless supplemented by Dominion legislation, must necessarily expire with the declaration of peace, it is felt that until those two important questions are determined the government cannot wisely define its policy or embark on such a radical change as the establishment of a government dispensary would entail.
 "Until these questions are decided, the government has come to the conclusion that it will be much better to endeavor to control the quality and the price through an arrangement with the wholesale and retail vendors. In an effort to obtain the ends desired, a conference has already taken place between Premier Foster and the wholesale vendors, at which it was proposed that the lieutenant-governor-in-council should set the price, or in other words, the advance over cost that will accrue to them and in turn will make an arrangement with the retail vendors for the handling only of liquors supplied through this source and the naming of what might be termed a reasonable and fair profit for the retail vendor over and above the wholesale price set by the governor-in-council.

 It is anticipated that this control, together with a system of checking and recording importations and sales will have considerable beneficial effect and that the difficulties complained of by the public and the physicians regarding the prices charged and quality of liquor supplied will be at least temporarily overcome until a definite policy, based upon a plebiscite, can be determined upon. It is further proposed that publicity to the prices set by the governor-in-council shall be given by means of an announcement made through the press, showing that the prices at which standard brands of liquor may be purchased from the retail vendors for legitimate use supplied only by medical prescription.

As a result of the enterprise fostered by these fundamental impulses, there have arisen some arbitrary and conflicting notions of the meaning of "success." No doubt in a primitive order of society the word would be unknown and there would be no conscious need of a definition. To have enough to eat, a place to sleep, a satisfactory amount of leisure, to enjoy fair health and to live for a reasonable span of years—that would be accounted success, although it would have no need of definition because it would be the normal condition.
 In civilized circles men have more definite and more expansive aspirations. Success varies according to the direction of their aim. In a loose sense it might be defined as the achievement of what one sets out to do. That fails to satisfy, because one might and one frequently does, set out to do something unworkable, and while that may be called "success" in its immediate application it is not the real meaning of success. They are various measures that seem equally narrow for, although there are enough of them whose ideas of achievement are really nothing more than an expansion of the views of savages who are content merely to live and follow out the cruder impulses of nature.
 The common tendency is to measure success in terms of money. The late James J. Hill once declared that no man could be called successful who did not regularly save something out of his income. Success is not, however, the getting out of the income, and the measure of it was by the bushels or quarts or half-pints of accumulated surplus.
 But most of us realize that a man may spend less than he gets and still fail to rank as a success in life. One New Yorker in this symposium has quoted a professor who not long ago declared that "any man who has trained himself and is able to supply the public with any of those things that it demands may be termed a success."
 By that definition we may judge that any competent baker, or honest saloon proprietor is a success, or was until an arbitrary nation put a stop to his laudable effort to supply the public with some of the things it demanded. It is easy to see that giving the public what it wants and asks for does not necessarily constitute success, for the people may want what is not good for it.
 It would seem that there are narrow limitations to nearly all the definitions of success that have been offered. They are altogether concrete and the true definition must be in a great measure abstract. To say that success is earning money and holding on to it, or doing this, that or the other thing, or achieving contentment, is like saying that happiness is living in a brick house with two servants and a washing machine and having leisure to go to the movies five times a week. And yet we do not doubt that there are women who cherish this ideal of happiness.
 The best definition of success we have ever seen anywhere was furnished by an other contributor. It was a prize essay on the subject, written by a Mrs. A. J.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1919

DISCUSS HOSTEL FOR CITY TO LOOK AFTER FEMALE IMMIGRANTS

Mrs. William Dennis, of Halifax, Tells of Aims of Newly Formed Council of Immigration of Women For Household Service

St. John to have a hostel for the accommodation of British immigrants and is New Brunswick anxious to have its share of the selected household workers from Great Britain?

These were some of the more important questions discussed at the meeting of the Women's Canadian Club held in the German street Baptist institute last evening when Mrs. G. A. Kubring, president, occupying the chair. The two principal speakers were Mrs. William Dennis of Halifax and Mrs. Robert H. Kneel, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Council of Immigration of Women for Household Service.

Mrs. Dennis gave an explicit account of the recent convention in Ottawa at which the council, of which Mrs. Kneel is secretary, was formed. She also suggested that an entirely different attitude must be taken in regard to household workers in the future if woman's problem in this regard was to be solved. She said that the most capable women should not be allowed to drift away from household tasks but that household workers must have a dignity of position and certificate of training. She suggested that organizations of household workers similar to the Victoria Order of Nurses should be formed to meet the needs of those families that were not able to obtain constant assistance. Mrs. David MacLellan and Mrs. R. T. Hayes were on the platform.

In opening the meeting Mrs. Kubring referred to the unveiling of the club's memorial tablet by the Prince of Wales and spoke of the coming annual meeting. She suggested that presidents should only be permitted to hold office one year. The non-paying committee for naming officers to be elected at the annual meeting was appointed as follows: Mrs. J. V. Anglin, Mrs. J. H. Jenner, Miss Homer, Miss Tingey, Miss Scamell, Mrs. T. H. Carter and Mrs. D. J. Bonnell with power to add. Mrs. Kubring also drew the attention of the meeting to the meeting of Canadian clubs to be held in Ottawa on October 17 and 18 and to the convention of the relation of education and citizenship to be held in Winnipeg on October 20 and 22.

As Mrs. Dennis had been asked to speak on immigration work representatives of St. John organizations which had been active in this matter in past times were asked to give an explanation of the nature of their past and possibly future work in this connection.

Aids to Immigrants. Mrs. Flagler, representing the King's Daughters, related how ten years ago that organization had been asked by the superintendent of immigration, Mr. Wilton, to give women immigrants shelter in their guild and how a government grant for this purpose had been accepted until the second year of the war. The society at that time found no immigrants were coming and asked the government to discontinue the grant. Mrs. Flagler thought the grant might be extended once more when immigration commenced if the work were again taken up. She told also of the "Travelers' Aid" work which the King's Daughters have carried on for fifteen years, its representatives being Mrs. Bullock and Mrs. Puddington.

Mrs. Owens, representing the immigration and travelers' aid committee, St. Monica's Society, told of the booth in West St. John and the rest room which the society had maintained and the care given immigrants by its members. Mrs. H. Lawrence, representing the "Travelers' Aid," formed in St. John under the University Girls' Club in 1908, spoke of the work done by that organization and of its merging with the Y. W. C. A. in order to have the use of the hostel belonging to that association.

The work of the port chaplains and of the Salvation Army was also mentioned. Mrs. Kubring then pointed out the special importance assumed by immigration problems in this city as being the gateway to Canada. She spoke most highly of Mrs. Dennis' many fruitful activities as lady of grace, president of the Nova Scotia Red Cross Society and of the Halifax Local Council of Women.

Need of Domestic. When she addressed the meeting Mrs. Dennis was listened to with the keenest interest. She brought greetings from the sister city and spoke in high praise of the war work done by the women of St. John, placed in the enviable position of being the last to say good-bye and the first to welcome the dominion's soldiers. Discussing the future problem of immigration, she said that Canada needed land owners, farm hands and household workers at present, not artists and laborers. The need for household workers was imperative as homes were being broken up through their absence. Canadian women preferring other work. She explained that England had 150,000 ex-war service women who were to be absorbed in different work. Many wished to emigrate and would be assisted by the government in the payment of their fares.

The Canadian aspect of the case Mrs. Dennis summed up by saying the east wanted household workers at once, the west did not wish them to be discouraged by severe winter conditions and would wait until the spring. In the meantime the absorbing of the returned soldiers was a serious problem all over the dominion.

Mrs. Dennis went on to explain how the government had sought the help of women in solving the woman's problem of household work and immigration and had called a convention of representatives of national bodies at Ottawa at which the following had representation: Y. W. C. A., National Council of Women, I. O. O. F., Women's Institute, Women's Inter-Provincial Farm Workers' Association, Social Service Council and Catholic Women's Societies, G. W. A. and others, also a few individuals actively connected with hostel work. At this convention the Canadian Council of Immigration of Women for Household Service was formed.

In presenting the suggestions made by this council, Mrs. Dennis said that it urged selection of immigrants on the other side to combat past unsatisfactory results of wages and social position that awaited her and to ascertain that she was fit mentally, morally and physically. She deprecated past immigration methods when agents had received bonuses for sending women to Canada. The council recommended the establishment of hostels in each province to be partly supported by a government grant and inspected by government representatives to give free board and lodging to immigrants for forty-eight hours and to be a place to which the women might return for help or instruction as well as social intercourse. It further suggested that the provincial employment bureaus should co-operate with the council in finding employment for the immigrants, and that immigrants should be kept under supervision while in employment, preventing their taking other occupations.

Mrs. Dennis told of the constitution of the council, its executive has six members and it is composed of representatives of eleven national bodies together with a representative from each province where a hostel is established or about to be established. Its duties are to supervise hostels and study problems regarding selection, care and placing of immigrants. The council decided that the words servants and domestics would not be used by it but that household workers would be the term applied to all such workers.

It recommended that household work be made inviting by standardization and qualifications of training required.

Women Responsible. Mrs. Dennis said the women of today were responsible for the fact that household workers were scarce and undesirable because they themselves looked down on household labor. She pointed out that skill and intelligence of no mean order were required to handle these tasks successfully and said that the more capable women should not be sent to office work, teaching, nursing and other branches of work to assist men. The women were needed in the homes and they must be placed there by elevating the position of the household worker to a dignity of uniform and instilling a regard for the dignity of service. In concluding she suggested that an order of household helpers similar to the Victorian Order of Nurses should be formed to give assistance to those who could not afford or did not require permanent help in this regard.

Mrs. Kneel was asked to address the meeting but said she had merely come to answer any questions or offer assistance in local immigration problems. In the discussion which followed Mrs. Kneel gave many interesting answers to queries. She related how in Halifax the Local Council of Women had given its hostel for the use of immigrants under the council for immigration for one year receiving a federal grant and per diem grant for each immigrant and having some expense paid by the provincial government. She recommended St. John, if it was considering such a hostel for itself and had a suitable building, to present a budget of probable expense and a statement of what it was willing to do, to the council of which she is secretary. She declared that it was not the intention of the government to interfere with private enterprise but that grants would only be given the recognized hostels one of which might be established in each province. She emphasized the importance of having a women's department of the provincial employment bureau.

Mrs. Kneel said there were 4,000 women dependents of soldiers still to come to Canada and that they must return by the end of the year or their fares would be charged. The women that were conducting the dependents would also have charge of the immigrants and Canada would receive only those to whom immigration the Canadian Agent General in the British Isles had consented.

Plans Under Consideration. Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor, as president of the Women's Institute in the city, said that the provincial government had planned for dealing with immigration problems here, but that the plans were not sufficient in nature, she said. She said, however, that the provincial government would carry on its immigration work through the institutes. She spoke of Mrs. Robson having been appointed the institutes' chief immigration representative for the dominion, and Mrs. H. Lawrence the New Brunswick Institutes immigration representative.

Mrs. Lawrence, being asked to outline the policy of the institutes regarding immigration, told of her pleasure in receiving the appointment as it enabled her to continue work in which she had taken an active part for ten years. She said the main purpose of the institutes in undertaking immigration work was to seek co-operation of all societies adhering strongly to a selective plan, but meeting the future Canadian with comradely. The institute was, she said, the largest non-sectarian and non-political woman's organization in the dominion, but its policy was not definitely outlined as yet regarding immigration matters.

Mrs. Kneel said that the Canadian Council of immigration aimed to be national, not provincial, and she spoke of the need of one in follow-up work by the institutes of the western provinces from which she came.

After hearty thanks had been extended to the two speakers they met to confer with some of the prominent women workers in the city on matters affecting immigration in St. John. A letter from Mrs. Richard Hooper of the St. John Local Council of Women was read, in which reference to the council's work with immigrants was made.

TWO OPINIONS ON HOME FOR ORPHANS

Directors Not Interested in the Valley Property, as Reported

GOING AHEAD WITH MARTELLO HOTEL

Financial Needs For Present May Not Exceed $20,000, it is Understood—Important Decisions Left For President's Attendance.

A largely attended meeting of the board of directors of the Protestant Orphan's Home was held yesterday afternoon in the absence of the president, T. H. Estabrook, detained at his summer home in Oranmore, and also of the first vice-president, C. H. Peters, Mr. David McLellan, the second vice-president, occupied the chair. As it was suggested that the president might be able to attend a subsequent meeting in a day or two, important decisions were left for that meeting and only formal discussion of various matters on the programme of business took place.

A large percentage of the directors having visited the Martello Hotel on the previous day, the discussion largely turned upon the possibilities in connection with that institution. Many valuable suggestions were offered and accepted.

Counter Movement Underway. During the meeting reference was made to a counter movement in this community in the matter of another Protestant orphanage. It was said by some of the directors that they had heard a property in the valley district had been purchased for this purpose. However, the directors felt that the public should know that this new plan was in no way connected with the Protestant Orphan's Home which exists under provincial charter and that any request for additional assistance for this additional new orphanage should be in no way confused with the larger and more comprehensive scheme which the British street and Carleton buildings are included.

The officers and directors expressed the opinion that the general public would be benefited by extending the work and facilities of the Protestant Orphan's Home in well in no way connected with the Protestant Orphan's Home which exists under provincial charter and that any request for additional assistance for this additional new orphanage should be in no way confused with the larger and more comprehensive scheme which the British street and Carleton buildings are included.

Not the Directors. Late last evening The Telegraph was asked by a member of the directorate of the Protestant Orphan's Home to say that a statement appearing in an afternoon paper to the effect that the directors had purchased the T. A. Linton property in Wright street, was incorrect. This property is that referred to in a foregoing paragraph as having been purchased in the Valley district of the city. The property had previously been considered by the Protestant Orphan's Home directors but had been thought unsuitable to the needs of an orphanage. At the meeting yesterday David Hipwell and Wilton Campbell said that the movement to start an orphanage in the Valley district originated with a portion of the order interested, and did not have the approval of the members of the order as a whole.

Plans Under Consideration. Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor, as president of the Women's Institute in the city, said that the provincial government had planned for dealing with immigration problems here, but that the plans were not sufficient in nature, she said. She said, however, that the provincial government would carry on its immigration work through the institutes. She said the main purpose of the institutes in undertaking immigration work was to seek co-operation of all societies adhering strongly to a selective plan, but meeting the future Canadian with comradely. The institute was, she said, the largest non-sectarian and non-political woman's organization in the dominion, but its policy was not definitely outlined as yet regarding immigration matters.

Mrs. Kneel said that the Canadian Council of immigration aimed to be national, not provincial, and she spoke of the need of one in follow-up work by the institutes of the western provinces from which she came.

Breeding Needs Betting

Toronto, Oct. 2.—Several spirited verbal tilts between the various witnesses called by the racing interests and Mr. Raney representing the Social Reform Association followed the morning proceedings of the second day's session of the racing inquiry here today. Secretary W. P. Fraser, of the Ontario Jockey Club, refused to allow Mr. Raney to inspect the books of the club and accused the latter of a breach of confidence when allowed to do so on an earlier occasion. Mr. Henderson Bond, manager of Mrs. Livingston's Coburg farm, stated that if the closure on racing was made permanent, breeding operations at this exclusive establishment would be discontinued. Francis Nelson, well known sporting writer and racing judge, said during the course of his examination, that racing alone could not succeed without systematic betting and that it was a national industry which required a big supply of funds to enable it to continue. Crowds on race tracks were the most widely in the world and the existence of betting did not attract unruly elements. The pari-mutual system he considered superior to any other form of speculation as it gave better racing and made higher purses possible. Racing at half mile tracks was necessarily inferior to that at a mile track. His patronage was entirely local. The witness did not think that four tracks were too many for Toronto but that there were too many at Windsor for the benefit of racing. He wouldn't admit that the owners of the Fort Erie track were professional racing men from the United States. On the contrary Mr. Madigan, the principal owner, was a British subject. W. P. Fraser said that the discontinuance of racing had affected the enjoyment of many people, and that the O. J. C. meetings were social events of the greatest importance.

Grand Circuit

Lexington, Ky., October 2.—Transylvania Day brought out the largest attendance of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association meeting and the race while it ended after three heats had been trotted under the three heat rule, was exciting. Prince Lorette after trailing his field into the stretch came like a shot at the finish and covering the last quarter in 29 seconds, won by a length from Holly Road Kate. The second choice, Royal Mac, went to a wild break on the back stretch and finished last after trotting a half in one minute to save his distance.

CINCINNATI WINS

SECOND GAME IN

WORLD'S SERIES

Defeat Chicago White Sox by a Score of 4 to 2—William's Wildness Responsible For Lost of Game

The Cincinnati Reds again defeated the Chicago White Sox by a score of 4 to 2 in the second game of the world's series, which was played in Cincinnati yesterday afternoon. The defeat was not nearly so decisive as that of the initial contest, but the victory was clean cut and the National League champions are given due credit.

Williams, Gleason's left-hand star, was on the mound for the Sox and the defeat can be directly attributed to his nervousness and subsequent wildness. He was in good form and held the Reds to four hits, but he walked six men and put himself in a bad hole. The White Sox hit Salley Bingen, who pitched ten innings, but "Slim" tightened up in the pinches and held them scoreless with the exception of one error.

The victory for the Cincinnati Reds has made a deep impression and they are in Cincinnati in a hot fever, although they entered the series on the small end of the money. They have played superior ball than their American League opponents, but it is possible that the White Sox will come back strong on their home grounds. Fighting will depend on their pitchers, and unless young Kerr, Gleason's sensational port slider, is in Cincinnati the Chicago team will be hard for the Cincinnati team to catch. The nervousness seemed to be the downfall of both Gleason and Williams and the eyes of fandom will be on Kerr, the youngest twirler of the trio when he steps on the rubber. While in Cincinnati the Chicago team were naturally playing at a disadvantage, the grounds being strange and the vast majority of fans hostile, but when they reach Comisky Park they should tighten up and give a better account of themselves. If the team was hitting and scoring runs weak pitching might get by, but otherwise crack twirling alone will be the factor to decide the world's championship.

If Gleason sends Kerr to the mound today he will in all probability send him crotch back tomorrow. For he seems to have no other choice. Cletche is asking for steeper chances and is confident that he can come back. Unless his arm is sore or weather conditions are both-ering, he should be ready to go. He is a natural pitcher and on his own grounds should not be troubled with nervousness. However, never say die. Every man and time alone can tell what the outcome will be.

The White Sox have not been beaten since the fact that they lost the two games to their opponents. As they are bound to depend on their hitting spirit, if their morale is on the ebb they are a beaten team at the present stage, but if they are still full of fight they have ample opportunity to turn the tide and live up to the predictions of the greatest sport critics in America.

The following is the box score and summary of yesterday's game:

Brain Muffins

Roger W. Babson of the department of labor said at a dinner in Washington: "Speaking of labor, it has been a tough job to eat some of the health foods that were turned out during the war."

"A young lady said to a young man at a Washington dinner: 'Are you the same young man who ate so many of my brain muffins at the Red Cross tea last fall?'"

"No," he answered, "and what's more, the doctor says I never will be."

The manager of a big downtown hotel in Cleveland, O., telephoned to the police station recently that: "I wish you would send a plain clothes man to my place here. There's a suspicious character loafing in front of the hotel." So they sent two detectives on the third time and the man arrived on the other side of the street one said to the other: "Now, I'll go over and brace the guy and you just stroll past a few times until I need you." And then the first detective went over and carelessly entered into conversation with the stranger. "Pretty hot, ain't it?" asked the minion of the law. "Yep," answered the stranger pleasantly. "It does get hot in Cleveland, don't it?" "Stranger in town?" "Yep. Come from Aurora. Had a little time off—trashin' all done—and thought I'd come up and see the sights."

By the time the other detective had strolled past for the third time and the stranger noticed him. "Who's that feller hangin' around here?" "Who's that feller?" answered the detective in a kidding vein. "That's Francis X. Bushman, the movie actor. Why?" "Why?" answered the stranger. "I'm kinder green an' I was fool enough to think he was another one of you detectives."

HANSEN LED

PITCHERS IN

CITY LEAGUE

HAD 118 STRIKE OUTS

Beatey Tied in Single Game Record, Lawlor Was Second in Number of Strike Outs and Beatey Third—Seely Was Second in Number of Games Won

According to figures compiled from the box scores of the St. John Baseball League, furnished by the official scorers, John Coughlan, Ray Hansen, pitcher for St. Peter's team, led the league pitchers in the number of games won, and also in the number of strikeouts. He won fourteen games out of sixteen and had a total of 118 strikeouts, an average of seven and three-eighths per game. Beatey of the Carleton nine tied the leader for a record number of strikeouts in one game, each having thirteen to their credit. Lawlor of the Y. M. C. I. came second in strikeouts, having a grand total of forty-two, with Beatey third with forty-one. Seely came second in the number of games won, clinching three out of four.

The list does not include those who worked in less than three games or those who acted as relief pitchers in a few games.

Mr. Coughlan is now working on the batting and fielding averages of the Y. M. C. I., Carleton and Fairville teams and will have them ready for publication in a few days. The task is an arduous one as he was unavoidably absent in a couple of games and he has to go over the figures of the substitute scorers carefully. His work during the season was most commendable and the figures recently published gives the fans an idea of the amount of work involved.

The following is the list showing the records of the pitchers:

Table with columns: Name, Won, Lost, P.C. S.O. Includes names like Hansen, Seely, Parlee, Stafford, O'Regan, Lawlor, Henderson, Beatey, Chestnut, O'Toole, Wright.

The Why? of Another Victory Loan

WHEN, on the morning of November 11th, 1918, the guns were hushed and glad tidings flashed across the world, there followed with the Nation's Prayer of Thanksgiving, one yearning query, which found echo in the faster-beating hearts of wives, mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts.

THAT query was, "How soon will our boy be home?"

AND, from France and Flanders, from Italy and Egypt, from Palestine and from far-off Siberia, there came an answering echo, "How soon, how soon, may we go home?"

CANADA caught the spirit of these longings, and at once resolved to satisfy them.

IT was an appalling task. Shipping was tragically scarce. The composition of the Army of Occupation had not then been settled. And other parts of the Empire as well as Canada were looking for the speedy return of their men.

THE problem was this. The half-million men that Canada had overseas had taken more than four years to transport to the field of battle.

TO bring them home in a few months was a gigantic undertaking—one to tax all Canada's ingenuity and resources.

CANADA solved the problem, but it meant crowding into a few short months, an expense for demobilization which it was impossible to foresee.

THEN, too, besides the sentimental aspect of the necessity for bringing the men home quickly, the economic side could not be overlooked.

THAT was, to transform efficiently and speedily the nation's army of fighters into a national army of workers.

Need Divides Itself in Two Parts

The answer to the question "Why does Canada need another Victory Loan?" divides itself into two parts.

- (a) To finish paying the expenses of demobilization, and the obligations we still owe to our soldiers.
- (b) To provide national working capital.

Obligations to Soldiers

The obligations to soldiers include:

That already incurred cost of bringing home troops from overseas.

The payment of all soldiers still undemobilized. This includes more than 20,000 sick and wounded who are still in hospital, and who of course remain on the Army payroll till discharged.

The upkeep of hospitals, and their medical and nursing staffs, until the need for them is ended.

These three items alone will use up at least $200,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1919.

Gratuities

There is also the gratuity which has been authorized, and has been and is being paid to assist soldiers to tide over the period between discharge and their re-adjustment to civil life. For this purpose alone, $61,000,000 must be provided out of the Victory Loan 1919, in addition to the $59,000,000 already paid out of the proceeds of the Victory Loan 1918.

Land Settlement

Furthermore, soldiers who desire to become farmers may, under the Soldiers' Land Settlement Act, be loaned money by Canada with which to purchase land, stock and implements. The money so advanced will be paid back; meantime each loan is secured by a first mortgage. Up to August 15th, 29,495 soldiers had applied for land under the terms of this Act; and 22,281 applications had been investigated, and the qualifications of the applicant approved. For this purpose Canada this year requires $24,000,000.

Vocational Training

For this work which, with the Vocational Training and Soldiers' Service Departments, embraces the major activities of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, an appropriation of $57,000,000 is necessary.

These national expenditures are war expenses. They will be accepted readily by every citizen who gives thought to the task which Canada faced following the Armistice, and to the success with which she has met it.

National Working Capital

Canada needs national working capital, so that she may be able to sell on credit to Great Britain and our Allies the products of our farms, forests, fisheries, mines and factories.

You may ask "Why sell to them if they can't pay cash?" The answer is, "Their orders are absolutely essential to the continuance of our agricultural and industrial prosperity."

The magnitude of these orders and the amount of employment thus created, will depend upon the success of the Victory Loan 1919.

The "Why" of Credit Loans

Farmers and manufacturers (and that includes the workers on these orders) must be paid cash for their products. Therefore, Canada must borrow money from her citizens to give credit, temporarily, to Great Britain and our Allies. Actually, no money will pass out of Canada. If Canada does not give credit, other countries will; and they will get the trade, and have the employment that should be ours, to distribute amongst their workers. And remember, we absolutely need these orders to maintain employment. If we don't finance them business will feel the depression, employment will not be as plentiful, and conditions everywhere will be adversely affected.

For Transportation

Money must also be available to carry on the nation's shipbuilding programme, and other transportation development work.

For loans to Provincial Housing Commissions who are building moderate priced houses.

These, then, are some of the things for which Canada needs national working capital. She is in the position of a great trading company, and her citizens who buy Victory Bonds are the shareholders.

Those who give thought to our outstanding obligations to soldiers, and to our need for national working capital, cannot fail to be impressed with the absolute necessity for the

LO. THE POOR INDIAN, WILL BE GIVEN THE VOTE.

Lo, the widely known poor Indian, who now, thanks to oil, smokes two-bit cigars and rides around in limousines, is about to have trouble thrust upon him. Dissatisfied over his placid existence as a ward of the United States government, a patronizing congress is about to thrust the vote into his hands. This action may not take place within the next month but the ways are being greased for it and, very soon, Lo will have the vote.

Forces such as previously mentioned, may be the last resort of a determined ward leader. Just now the Indian affairs committee of the house is planning a final survey of Indian conditions before they prepare a bill designed to give the Indian the vote. A sub-committee will visit the red brother, make sure that he is as prosperous and intelligent as most every one else knows he is, and then try to hand him the vote. With the passage of the bill, the Indian lobbyists who have for years been familiar sight around Washington, doubtless will disappear. They are among the last Indians in the country to wear derby hats and feathers—Washington Star.

THE BOOM IN MONCTON

In St. John, where no building permits were issued last month, it will be interesting to know that forty-one building permits were issued in Moncton for the month of September. Twenty-nine of these were for new houses, the total estimated being about $106,000. The other permits for remodeling and general improvements or property amounted to $100,000.

BIG PLANE STARTS SATURDAY.

(Halifax Chronicle.)

A telephone message from Parrsboro last night stated that the Handley-Page machine, which was forced to descend at Parrsboro three months ago in her flight from St. John's, Nfld., to New York, has now been completely repaired and is practically ready to resume the flight. The engines were tried out yesterday and worked very satisfactorily. Official announcement was made yesterday that the first trial flight will be made on Friday morning, October 3rd, and if weather conditions are good the Handley-Page plane will "hop off" for New York via Boston Saturday. Parrsboro is expecting a big crowd when the machine takes the air. The D. A. R. is running excursions across the bay and the Parrsboro Masonic Lodge is making arrangements to catch all visitors to the town.
