Morale of Fighting Forces Suffered Drop When it Came in Contact With Poles' Wire and Artillery.

POLISH ARMY WELL EQUIPPED

Men Moving up in Order to Their Positions in Good Spirit and Fighting Trim.

(Leder Cable Copyright)

Warsaw, Aug. 20.—The Red Army suffered a drop in morale as soon as it came into contact with the Polish barbed wire and artillery fire before Warsaw. It is suffering also from the distance from its base and from exhaustion created by long marches at top speed. Desperations have been very heavy, so machine gun units have been placed behind the Reds to force them on.

The Polish casualties are surprisingly small. General Lacroix believes that the situation of Warsaw today is identical with the situation of Paris in 1914, at the opening of the Battle of the Marne. He predicts the same result. The town is singularly quiet considering the Reds are within 12 miles.

Good Spirits

A former American colonel of the regulars, who spent a day on the Modlin line and beyond, has returned much pleased with his observations. He found the men moving up in order to their positions in good spirit and with fair equipment. He was particularly struck with the activities of the Polish Boy Scouts now rechartered into the army who, although they had made an early morning march of 12 miles, were keen for the contest. Mild martial law has been proclaimed but the city is still illuminated in the evening.

PHARMACEUTICAL ASSN. TO MEET IN ST. JOHN

Novel Feature for 1921 Convention is That All Meetings Will be Held Aboard Ship.

It was added that it would possess the novel feature in that business sessions would be held aboard ship. The proposal is for the delegates to assemble either at Montreal or Quebec and proceed to St. John by steamer, advantage being taken of the time taken by the trip to get through all business. During the trip delegates will call at Charlottetown and then be taken for a cruise through Bras D'Or Lakes after which they will go to Halifax, finally reaching St. John.

FRENCH GENERAL GIVES POLES ALL THE CREDIT

Paris, Aug. 20.—The success of the Poles in throwing back the Bolsheviks in the Battle of Warsaw was a "Polish victory," the French General Wayand, told the delegation at Warsaw who had come to tell him he was the most popular man in Poland and was proclaimed by all as the "Saviour of Warsaw."

HOUSING PROBLEM BECOMES MORE ACUTE

Large Centres Unable to Find Homes for All — Federal Aid to be Invoked.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—(By Canadian Press)—With the return to the cities within a few weeks of thousands of city people who have been spending the summer months in the open, the housing problem in all the big centres is becoming more and more acute. Reports from many Canadian cities indicate that very little house building has been done during the summer months, owing to the high cost of labor and raw materials. There are not nearly enough new houses or new apartments to supply the summer's crop of newly married couples, and in scores of cases the roses of newly weds are already bristling with thorns that come with vexatious, unsuccessful house hunting. The owners of such accommodations as are available are asking unheard of prices, supposedly justified by the big demand and the high price of fuel. Provincial governments and municipal councils have so far, been unable to solve the problem though many of them have "taken a whack at it." It has been suggested that the Dominion government should take the matter up.

Returned soldiers and other organizations have on several occasions, mentioned the matter incidentally before the Federal Government, and it is expected that during the coming fall, a determined effort will be made by such organizations to have the Dominion government take the housing problem as a Federal measure, necessary to the proper reconstruction of the nation.

PITY THE POOR GERMAN WHO IS SO MISJUDGED

Have Every Intention of Carrying Out the Treaty Terms.

By VIGGO TOEPPER. (Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic.)

Berlin, Aug. 20.—Two German leaders, members of opposite camps, appeal to the world to understand the difficulties the German Government is laboring under in carrying out its treaty obligations and to make all allowances for these difficulties. Philipp Scheidemann, the majority Socialist leader, and Herr Gressler, the Minister of Defense, make the same appeal.

"One of the saddest facts brought out at the Spa conference," said Scheidemann, "is that it will take a very long time before the outside world learns really that there is no reason to distrust the New Germany. Her former enemies will not believe the government wish to assume their obligations to their utmost capacity. They have no faith in Republican Germany because we tolerate too many old supporters of the Kaiser remaining in high positions. They do not believe our earnest desire for peace, nor see how utterly defenceless we are from a military point of view, otherwise, how is it possible to explain the way Lloyd George treated Herr Gressler at Spa."

"The Spa conference was a tragedy. We thought we did everything to convince the Entente powers that not a soul in Germany thinks of, or could possibly think of, revenge, because we are absolutely crushed, possessing neither men who are willing to sacrifice their lives, nor guns and munitions and because it would be utter madness to think of a new war. We thought the British, French and Italians would surely see this, but we met a most pronounced distrust."

"Our former enemies evidently fail to understand the magnitude of the Herculean task imposed on the defense departments," said Gressler. "Germany is a perfect Aegaeon. Although I have only very slight hopes of success that I shall succeed in convincing our former enemies of the earnestness of our effort to carry out our promises for peace, the principal difficulty is that even where our orders are apparently carried out we have met all kinds of trickery and deceit. We are now strong enough to deal with open refusal, but other things are discouraging. This is why I insisted at Spa that we must have fifteen months to carry out the order for complete disarmament of all civilians in semi-military duties."

PEACE TERMS PRESENTED BY BOLSHEVIKI

Willing to Recognize in Full the Independence of Polish Republic and Right to Establish Gov't.

ACCEPTS CURZON FRONTIER LINE

Demand That Poland Grant Complete Political and Military Amnesty.

London, Aug. 20.—The terms submitted by M. Danilevsky, head of the Bolshevik delegation at Minsk at Thursday's session of the Russo-Polish Peace conference, are given in a despatch from M. Tichtcherin, Bolshevik Foreign Minister, and was issued by the Russian delegation in London tonight.

Article 1 announces that Russia and the Ukraine recognize in full the independence and liberty of the Polish republic and solemnly confirm full rights of the Polish people to establish their own form of government.

In article 2—Russia and the Ukraine renounce any form of contribution.

Article 3—Gives the frontier of Poland in accordance with the note Earl Curzon (British Foreign Secretary), with more territory east of Bialystok and Cholna.

Article 4—Stipulates that the Polish army be reduced to sixty thousand men, to be supplemented by militia, made up of workers, organized to preserve order and for the population's security.

Articles 5 and 6 and 7 and 8 deal with the demobilization of the military and industries and the prohibition of importations of war materials.

Article 9 says that hostilities will cease seventy-two hours after the signature to these terms, armies remaining on the line occupied, but not east of the line indicated in Earl Curzon's note of July 11. The Polish army will retire fifty verstas (33-1/3 miles) west of Russian and Ukrainian frontiers.

Article 10 declares that Poland must give Russia right to the free transit for men and goods through her territory, with Volkovisk-Bialystok-Grajew railway remaining in full possession and control of the Russian republic.

Article 14 says that Poland must immediately publish the treaty and proclaim it to the world.

"CROWNED KING BEFORE KING GEORGE"

So Declares a Man Who Was Picked up by Police While He Was Wandering About Moncton.

Special to The Standard.

Moncton, Aug. 20.—An aged man named Wyath, hailing from P. E. Island, who was questioned by the local police when found aimlessly wandering about the city, declared in justification for his strange actions, that he had been "crowned king before King George" and he could go where he liked. The aged Islander had money and said he was en route to Newfoundland, and expected to get a steamer at Moncton. The stranger is being held here awaiting inquiry into his case from P. E. Island. During his tour of the city he went through private houses and inspected several departments in the C. N. R. offices.

RAILROAD BRIDGES BURNED IN FIRE

The Forest Fires North of Kamloops Did Tremendous Damage.

Kamloops, B. C., Aug. 20.—Passengers on the Canadian National Railway are still being transferred across streams where bridges were burned in the great forest fires which occurred over a large territory north of Kamloops on Monday night and Tuesday. Latest reports received from the district show that thirty ranchers or homesteaders were absolutely burned out, and many people had a very narrow escape with their lives. At one time sixty fire fighters were in an exceedingly precarious position. They were trapped by flames, but successfully sought refuge in the Thompson River. More than forty employees of the Pemmell mill, which was burned, had to cover four miles of burning territory, threatened every moment with the flames.

RAILWAY RATE HEARING GROWS INTERESTING

Maritime Representatives Fighting Earnestly for the Industries of These Provinces.

CAN. PEOPLE SHOULD ASSUME DEFICIT

Of National System and it Should Not be Taken up by Percentage Increase, is Argument.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 20.—(By Canadian Press)—This afternoon's hearing of the application by the Canadian Railways for increased rates, Robert Finn, representing the government of Nova Scotia, not only protested against any increase in the rates on the International but argued that the rates at present in effect should be rescinded and those of 1912 restored.

He declared that one of the foundations upon which the Maritime Provinces entered Confederation was that there should be a connecting link between them and the rest of the Dominion, and that rates should be such as would enable the industries in maritime provinces to ship their goods to competitive points. He said that the minister of railways had intimated in the House of Commons that, even if the International was placed under the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission, it would not be subjected to such rates as would tend to cripple industries in the maritime provinces.

Mr. Finn expressed the view that the people of Canada should assume the deficit on National systems, and that it should be taken up by the percentage increase.

The Canadian Pacific Railway should, in his view, be taken as a basis for consideration by the Railway Commission in considering increased rates. If the increase requested were put into effect, it would mean an advance of 350 per cent. over rates in effect from Montreal to Halifax in 1912.

In an interchange between the chairman of the Board, Mr. McMaster, who represented the Toronto Board of Trade and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association as to the advisability of deficits on railways being taken from the public treasury under existing circumstances, Mr. McMaster was put to the test by Mr. Finn's reference to the present operation of government railways. Mr. Carvell advised Mr. McMaster that he go down to the maritime provinces and study conditions on the International during which reference was made by Mr. McMaster to the present operation of government railways.

Mr. Carvell went on to observe that he should probably not say these things, but it was a factor in the situation that the Board had to consider. In the last three years, they had undoubtedly been a great improvement in the conduct of the Government railways. An honest effort was being made to do better, but there was still something in the temperament of the railway and it made it difficult to get good results.

SOVIET DELEGATES IN LABOR INTRIGUE

Krasin and Kamenev, Though Having Given Pledge Not to, Active Among British Workmen.

By CARL W. ACKERMAN. (Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger)

London, Aug. 20.—I received information last night at the House of Commons, from a personage close to the cabinet, that the Government had made a most important discovery regarding Bolshevik propaganda in England involving both the Soviet trade delegates to this country.

While Messrs. Kamenev and Krasin both gave bond upon their arrival here not to engage in Bolshevik intrigue they have, quite reliably reported, been in such intimate touch with British radical leaders that the creation of the British laborite "council of action" and the revolutionary aspect of the miners' strike, now expected in September, can be traced directly to the influence and certain actions of these men since they recently returned from Moscow.

The nature of the charges is known to your correspondent, but specific statements may not be made until the British cabinet docket upon a policy. The reason given for withholding information for the present is the desire of the British Government not to take any step which might impede the Polish-Russian armistice negotiations.

KINGS COUNTY FARMERS MEET AND ORGANIZE

Nine of the Sixteen Parishes Represented by About Seventy Farmers.

MIGHT TAKE UP POLITICS LATER

Are Now Planning to Market Their Produce Without Aid of the Middle Man.

Special to The Standard.

Sussex, Aug. 20.—At the call of the President of the United Farmers of New Brunswick an organization meeting for Kings county was held here this afternoon. Only short notice of the meeting was given but, despite that fact and also the fact that today was perfect hay day about 70 farmers from the various parishes of Kings met for organization. The meeting was called to order at 3 o'clock and Sterling J. Keith, of Havelock, was elected chairman. Nine of the sixteen parishes and towns were represented.

Thos. A. Caldwell, M. P., president of the U. F. of N. B. was introduced. He spoke of the rapid progress of the movement in the province. He said he came among the farmers of Kings to organize for better conditions socially and financially, and afterwards, if the farmers should think the politics of the country needed bettering, it was up to them. He said there were two bodies, as it were, the United Farmers and the United Farmers' Co-operative Association. In the latter the farmers pooled in and organized to open stores to buy dry goods cheaper and to market their products. Up in Carleton they had already established a good selling connection in Boston for potatoes. The purpose was to kill the middleman and sell direct to consumers. The wholesaler, the distributor and the retailer must go. There were too many toll gates from the farm to the consumer.

Mr. Pratt, of Winnipeg, then spoke on organization, showing its need in farming as well as in the labor world or among the manufacturers.

It takes nine pecks of potatoes to market one barrel. The farmer does not receive intrinsic value for the farm products. He then asked if the meeting was in favor of organizing. The following resolution was then moved, seconded and unanimously carried.

"Be it resolved, That we organize a county branch of U. F. of N. B., A. I. Pariseau, of Lower Norton, was elected president, and M. Kenneth Raymond, Central Norton, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Pratt then called on all present who wished to do so to pay $10 to the fund. Twenty-five paid their fee.

Mr. McKee, of Toronto, spoke briefly of the work done in Ontario in marketing the farm produce, and its success and asked that the farmers of N. B. mark their produce there to be marketed by them.

On motion it was agreed that at a near date a further meeting would be held in Sussex when the organization would be perfected.

COMPANY ACTED TOO HASTILY

Labor Accuses Canadian Car and Foundry Co. of Ulterior Motives in Closing Plant.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—President J. G. Foster, of the Trades and Labor Council, states this morning that it appeared to him and to the men that the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, Limited, in closing their shops had taken a more or less tactical advantage of their employees in order to break their contract existing between the two parties. A meeting of the employees last night decided to appeal to the Minister of Labor at Ottawa to have the company re-open their shops.

The troubles originated by the walk-out of thirty-four young men, who went on strike without the agreed notice. Following this action the company immediately closed down, throwing thousands of men out of work.

FURTHER SUCCESSES FOR POLAND'S ARMY

They Are Rapidly Following up the Retreating Enemy Northeast and East of Warsaw.

Warsaw, Aug. 20.—Poland's army is rapidly following up the retreating enemy north east and east of Warsaw and further successes for the Poles are reported.

Recaptures of Sokolow, Drohobyz and Blala, with thousands of prisoners and great amounts of war material, is reported in today's official communiqué. At Siedlce, the Poles captured armed volunteer Jewish detachments composed of local Communists.

To the north west of Warsaw, Bolsheviks attacked the Poles in a drive designed to carry the macross the Vistula, where there is a pontoon bridge but the Polish counter stroke broke the attack. In this operation the Poles were aided by civilians who fought side by side with the infantrymen and did fine work.

Today's communiqué announces recaptures by Polish infantry, of detachments of General Budenny's Soviet cavalry, which had reached Winniki, nine miles south east of Lemberg. Peasants in the region of Lipno, south east of Thorn, reported fighting the Bolsheviks with axes and scythes.

GERMANS WANT MEDIATION FROM THE POPE

Believe His Influence in Saar Valley Dispute Would be of Great Advantage.

(Special Cable Despatch Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co.)

Berlin, Aug. 20.—The influential role the pope is again coming to play in European diplomacy—one of the most conspicuous post-war reactions—has been further emphasized in an appeal which Gerngany sent yesterday to the vatican for mediation in the Saar valley dispute with France. While the German government issued this appeal simultaneously to other European powers, special significance attaches to the communication to the Holy See, as it marks the partial recognition of papal influence in diplomatic affairs by Germany since the overthrow of the monarchy.

Germany, though republicanized, is continuing the traditional policy of the monarchy in working in the closest union with the vatican, in many ways transcending the former empire's recognition. The republic has sent an ambassador to the vatican, who represents not only Prussia, as before, but the whole empire.

The Centrist, always a powerful element in German parliamentary life, are chiefly responsible for the prestige enjoyed by the vatican here, and the present important Centrist bloc in the Reichstag can be counted upon to seek extensive use of the vatican influence in many questions pertaining to German foreign policy. Their recent declaration, in which they express confidence in the restoration of the pope's temporal power, tends to substantiate this view considerably.

Many Germans, however, have looked in the direction of Rome with some suspicion and misgivings, for it was felt that the vatican was not unemphatic to certain French suggestions that Catholic Bavaria, Austria and the Rhenish provinces would unite against Prussia and Saxony.

In its note to the vatican Germany drew attention to a series of alleged abuses by the French in their mandate in the Saar, charging excessive by French soldiers, particularly the black troops, and maintaining the right of the German government to conduct "national cultural propaganda" on strictly German territory and among a strictly German population. Germany invites an examination of the nature of its propaganda and insists it cannot be accused of intrigue against the League of Nations, which it will be remembered, is the nominal sovereign in the Saar valley.

The Germans point out that the French are making an even more intense propaganda not alone cultural, but political and economic as well. Finally the Germans warn that unless an arbitrary regime instituted by the commander of the army of occupation ceases serious results may ensue.

Incidentally, the state of Rome now definitely lifted in the region, but there seems no tendency on the part of the strikers to return to their jobs.

THE DOMINION MUST BE KEPT FOR BRITISH

BRITISH PRESS WORKS FOR EMPIRE

Lord Burnham Describes it as a Crime That More from England Do Not Visit Dominions.

Calgary, Alta., Aug. 20.—(Canadian Press)—"We found this country British and British we will keep it," said R. B. Bennett, K. C., addressing a big crowd of Calgaryans and their guests of the Imperial Press conference last night, following the dinner given by the city to the visiting newspaper men. Mr. Bennett spoke of the difficulties in preserving intact the British spirit in Alberta in the light of the fact that 75 per cent. of the new settlers in the province during the war came from the United States.

Viscount Burnham and Hon. S. C. Mewes, of Newfoundland, acknowledged for the visitors the welcome accorded them. Today the newspaper men were taken by motor a Banff for a two day stay followed by another day at Lake Louise and Lake Windermere.

In response to an appeal by R. D. Bennett, K. C., who asked the British "if they desire to keep their markets from us, to do so by means of a tariff and not to publish to the world that our animals suffer from disease when you know they don't."

Viscount Burnham emphatically declared that the press of Great Britain would be the first to stand up for the rights of Canadians in this matter. This was cheered to the echo by the visiting newspaper men. The main purpose of the visit of the press men to Canada, he said, was to learn by friendly association more of this country than could be learned in many years from the reading of blue books.

"I wish," he said, "that others could follow the footsteps of an am very sorry that the rumor that Lloyd George was coming to Vancouver has proved untrue, for it is altogether regrettable that the greatest statesman in Europe should know this portion of the Empire. He would find in this new world relief from the depression which the constant strain of the contemplation of the ruin of Europe must mean even for a man of his buoyant spirits. It is a reproach and a scandal that so few of our public men know the Empire, and lack of that knowledge should be a disqualification for political office of any but a purely parochial kind."

"England also is largely ruled by its permanent officials. What can a clerk in distant Whitehall know of the Empire? I believe that these officials should travel in the Empire too. The argument does not apply on one side only. No statesman, who is not acquainted with the strength as well as the weakness of Great Britain, is fully qualified for public affairs in any part of the Empire. This blunder, worse than a crime, should not be allowed to continue."

MYSTERY OVER NON-PUBLICATION

Of French Note to United States—Divergence in Text Given as Cause.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Bureau.)

Washington, Aug. 20.—Confidential exchanges of views are in progress between the allied and associated powers for the purpose of ascertaining how and when Poland can be helped. The United States is an active participant in the discussion. Such will be the burden of the assurance given by President Wilson and Secretary Coby to the imposing delegation of Polish citizens of the United States who are calling at the White House and State Department tomorrow.

Still a Mystery.

The mystery of the nonpublication of the French reply to our note on Russia, bolshevism and Poland has not yet been cleared up. The latest official explanation is that there is a certain discrepancy between the version of Premier Millerand's communication as carried to the State Department by the American embassy in Paris and the text submitted by the French chargé d'affaires in Washington. The real reason for delay in answering the American public with the French note was disclosed in these despatches last night.

France having made the first reply of any kind, it appears that the United States is trying to make it a "100 per cent reply." We are now engaged in endeavoring to persuade the Paris government that, having swallowed, so to speak, the hook and line of the American proposal, there is no valid reason why the answer should not be gulped down too.

This refers specifically to the non-dismemberment of Russia. The State Department is evidently proceeding on the theory that, although France's record with regard to the partitioning of Russia may not be entirely spotless, she may find it consistent to commit herself in some degree at least to the policy of keeping Russia intact in the future.

On that programme the American government is insistent. It is the acid test of our readiness to cooperate with Europe and Asia in any sort of procedure for the rescue of Russia from the red menace now sweeping it.

Full Powers for U. S. Admiral. Full powers have been given Rear Admiral Harry Melville to take whatever naval strength may be necessary into the Baltic it was announced today by Secretary Daniels. Mr. Daniels said the number of destroyers that would be sent with the cruiser Pittsburgh would depend entirely on future developments.

The despatch of the vessel, officials of the State Department said, was not for the purpose of extending aid to Poland or of putting a blockade in force against Soviet Russia. The primary purpose would be to see that the rights of Americans were not violated. The question of a blockade has not yet reached the state of discussion, officials said, but it was acknowledged that such action could be taken without the declaration of a state of war. Precedent for such a step lies in the blockade of Venezuela by three foreign powers and the steps taken by the United States against Mexico at the time of the Vera Cruz incident and since then.

Lived On Light Diet Ten Years

St. John Woman, Now Able to Eat Anything She Wants, Is Overjoyed by Recovery.

"Ten years is a long time to live on bread and light diet. That's what I had to do, but Taniae has put an end to my troubles and I am once more enjoying just splendid health."

The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Emma Antonick of 48 Clarence street, St. John, N. B. Mrs. Antonick has a wide circle of friends in Halifax, also where she resided before coming to St. John.

"I guess I suffered from every disagreeable symptom that anyone can have with a in-stable case of stomach trouble. My stomach hurt so bad I could hardly bear for my clothes to even touch me and I had pains and cramps that nearly drove me double. Gas would form and press up around my heart and there was such a tight feeling across my chest I could scarcely breathe. I had awful pains in the region of my heart and at times just felt that I couldn't stand them any longer."

My appetite was extremely poor and I had to be very careful about every bite I ate.

"I had frequent spells of biliousness and quite often, for several days at a time, could not retain a thing on my stomach. My back ached terribly and it was impossible for me to walk upstairs, and when I tried to get up out of a chair the pain was almost unbearable. I was as nervous as a witch and if someone even spoke to me unexpectedly I would just tremble and shake. I had sick, nervous headaches that nearly drove me hysterical, and many times I had such awful attacks of dizziness that I fell right down in my tracks. Sleep was almost out of the question; why, lots of nights I heard the clock strike every hour. My feet even became affected and often when I got up they were so swollen that I could not get my shoes on. During the day I often broke down completely and had to go to bed. This is what I had to go through with all these years and I was the most discouraged and despondent person you ever saw."

"But, thank goodness, those days of suffering are over now, and the credit for it all belongs to Taniae. I am simply overjoyed, for my stomach is in such splendid condition that it never gives me the least bit of trouble. The gas has stopped forming and my breathing is free and easy. My appetite is just fine and everything I eat agrees with me. My back doesn't hurt me at all and those headaches and dizzy spells have all disappeared. My nerves are as steady as a can and the swelling has practically gone from my feet. I enjoy some of the best food I have ever had and I feel so much better and stronger that I can do my housework with ease. Taniae has brought me health and happiness, and as long as I live I will feel grateful for the wonderful good it has done me."

Taniae is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co. and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Taniae representative—Advt.

RED MESSAGES SHOWN IN HERALD SPREAD

Intercepted Wireless Telegrams Organ in British Capital of Lenin and Trotsky

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Company.)

Copenhagen, Aug. 20.—The Public Ledger Foreign Service today contained from very trustworthy sources copies of official secret dispatches changed by M. Chicherin, Bolshevik foreign minister, and M. Litvinov, Soviet representative in Denmark.

These messages, which were in code, have been decoded by experts and their authenticity established by full investigation in this country and elsewhere.

They established the fact that the London Daily Herald, the only Socialist newspaper in the British capital which has been leading toward the Left in its politics and has been taking a leading part in Bolshevik propaganda in England, has been under the special protective wing of Lenin and Trotsky. These telegrams reveal also how propaganda was to be sent to American and illustrate the policy of Bolshevist methods.

George Lansbury, the editor, visited Soviet Russia. While there he began negotiations for white paper. His conversations with M. Chicherin led to a much more important result as the dispatches themselves disclose.

Editor Visited Moscow.

Following are translations of the code wireless messages which were picked up by receiving stations in several European countries. In order to understand the message these facts should be borne in mind. George Lansbury, editor of the Daily Herald, visited Helsinki, Finland, on July 27, for Russia. He was in Moscow during February, and had frequent interviews with the Bolshevist commissaries. He sent frequent communications from Moscow to the Daily Herald and returned to England from Russia, March 18, 1920.

"Glimlund" referred to in the message is a Swedish Bolshevist, who is one of the heads of the Rosta News Bureau in Stockholm, and has traveled between Sweden and Copenhagen where he has had interviews with the Bolshevist delegation. "Strom" referred to in the second message is Frederick Strom, unofficial representative in Sweden of the Soviet Government.

The first message reads: "From Copenhagen to Litvinov, February 11, 1920."

"Lansbury is particularly anxious for help in obtaining paper. It is suggested that Glimlund's advice on paper in Stockholm be taken into consideration in view of buying fresh paper. Glimlund considered this an advantageous transaction."

"Lansbury now speaks of a sum which he will in time repay. He loses now amount to £1,000 a year but will greatly increase with the rise in the cost of paper. It is necessary that an editor should be printed in Manchester for the next and a Sunday paper edited for the who only read papers on Sundays."

The second message reads: "From Chicherin to Litvinov, February 23, 1920."

"Lansbury does not wish to depend on us financially, but wishes purely commercial relations should be established between us. He therefore wishes to pay us a small sum as commission for the credit we are opening for him for purchasing paper in Sweden and Finland. It will pass through Strom. Inform us when Strom has enough money. Chinese papers will be sent to 'Reval' (The Chinese papers are Chinese bonds mentioned later).

Plan to Supply Copies

The third message reads: "From Chicherin to Litvinov, February 23, 1920.—Lansbury will commit you with regard to details of publication in England. Point out who will give the orders and regulate the number of copies. It is not now able to send legal pamphlets to America. Start-up scrips will be sent to him through Strom and through Reval. How much money must we send Strom for Lansbury's orders? We now pay 20 Swedish crowns for paper. Strom will gradually repay this sum. We, on the other hand will continue to pay for the paper until the whole of the 500 tons have been paid for. He will pay a small sum as commission."

The fourth message reads: "From Chicherin to Litvinov, February 23, 1920."

"Please reply soon as possible how much you consider we ought to give the Herald. Lansbury seems particularly anxious about obtaining paper. Would it not be cheaper to buy paper from him in Sweden instead of making him a present in money?"

The fifth message reads: "From Litvinov to Chicherin, March 8, 1920."

"The British minister here (Copenhagen) is trying to induce the Danish government not to allow the delegation to stay here, but to despatch them from the steamer to the station. The British papers write that all measures have been taken for complete isolation of the delegates if a negative answer is received from London about me. The delegation shall not bud until a definite promise is forthcoming granting permission for them to stay for the purpose of discussion without any time limit being imposed."

"The Daily Herald telegram, inspired by me, reports that the delegation in Copenhagen will only decide whether to go on further or to carry on negotiations here with the Allies. A fine line right from the beginning is highly essential."

In order to understand the next set of messages, it is necessary to state the following facts: On May 15, 1919, Francis Meynell, a member of the staff of the Daily Herald, who had visited Copenhagen and Scandinavia in September, October and December, 1919, had his passport seized from Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Germany. Early in July he visited Litvinov in Copenhagen. Rehestain referred to in the last message of the series is Theodore Rothstein, who has for many months been known in Copenhagen as the unofficial representative of Lenin in England.

No Hope of Communist Paper

The sixth message reads: "From Litvinov to Chicherin, July 11, 1920."

"If we do not support the Da-

RED MESSAGES SHOW HOW LONDON HERALD SPREAD PROPAGANDA

Intercepted Wireless Telegrams Reveal How Socialist Organ in British Capital Has Been Under Protection of Lenine and Trotsky.

Copenhagen, Aug. 20.—The Public Ledger Porevost today contains from very trustworthy sources copies of official secret dispatches exchanged by M. Chicherin, Bolshevik foreign minister, and M. Litvinov, Soviet representative in Denmark.

"Lansbury now expects of a sum which he will in time repay. His losses now amount to £1,000 a week, but will greatly increase with the rise in the cost of paper. Moreover, it is necessary that an edition should be printed in Manchester for the north and a Sunday paper edited for those who only read papers on Sundays."

The third message reads: "From Chicherin to Litvinov, February 23, 1920—Lansbury will consult you with regard to details of publication in England. Point out who will give him orders and regulate the number of copies. Is he not now able to send legal pamphlets to America? Manuscripts will be sent to him through Strom and through Reval. How much money must we send Strom for Lansbury's orders? We now pay 2000 Swedish crowns for paper. Strom will gradually repay this sum. "The British minister here (Copenhagen) is trying to induce the Danish government not to allow the delegation to stay here, but to depart by the steamer to the station. The British papers write that all measures have been taken for complete isolation of the delegates if a negative answer is received from London about me. "The Daily Herald telegram, inspired by me, reports that the delegation in Copenhagen will only decide whether to go on further or to carry on negotiations here with the Allies. A firm tone right from the beginning is highly essential."

In order to understand the next set of messages, it is necessary to state the following facts: On May 15, 1920, Francis Meynell, a member of the staff of the Daily Herald, who had visited Copenhagen and Scandinavia in September, October and December, 1919, had his passport vised from Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Germany. Early in July he visited Litvinov in Copenhagen. Rethstein referred to in the last message of the series is Theodore Rethstein, who has for many months been known in Copenhagen as the unofficial representative of Lenine in England.

Herald which is now pending through a fresh crisis, the paper will have to turn "right" trade union. In Russian questions it acts as if it were our organ. After Lansbury's journey it has gone considerably more to the left and decidedly advocates direct action. It needs 50,000 francs for six months. Then it hopes again to be on firm ground. I consider the work of the Daily Herald as specially important for us.

"I advise, therefore, that this help be afforded from funds of the commissary for foreign affairs, not from those of the international commission, and that it be payable in several instalments. The journal has not obtained any paper in Stockholm, but has recently had 6000 francs from us. I beg for an early favorable answer, especially because there is no hope of the establishment of a purely Communist paper."

The seventh message reads: "From Chicherin to Litvinov, July 20, 1920.

"If you have not enough ready money for the subsidy, it will be paid by those who have authority to organize the financing of our institutions abroad. The subsidy for preservation of control must be paid by degrees."

The eighth message reads: "From Litvinov to Chicherin, July 25, 1920.

"I have given instructions that the Chinese bonds, which are there, be handed over to the Herald. Is Rethstein included in the delegation, for if not he can be arrested and deported."

FATAL RESULTS FOLLOW CRASH

Aeroplane, Carrying Three, Drops, Killing One and Injuring Other Two.

Quebec, Aug. 19.—News of a fatal aeroplane crash north of Chateaufort, near Lake Onatchkewicway on Wednesday afternoon, reached here today in a telegram received by the firm of Price Brothers, Limited. The victim was a guide named Gauthier, who was instantly killed with the pilot aviator, Captain Paul Morency, who served overseas with the Imperial Air Force, suffered fractured ribs and an arm and a photographer named Nesbit had ribs broken and was reported unconscious this morning.

The telegram added that Pilot Verina with a doctor had left Chateaufort in an aeroplane for the scene of the accident.

Essex Makes A New Transcontinental Record

Crosses Continent in 4 Days, 14 Hours and 43 Minutes; Carries U. S. Mail.

Essex now holds the coveted transcontinental record. On August 9th an Essex five passenger touring car reached New York from San Francisco, covering the distance of 3,347 miles in just four days, 14 hours and 43 minutes, beating the best previous record of another car by 12 hours and 48 minutes.

At the same time an Essex traveling from New York to San Francisco made the transcontinental run in four days, 19 hours and 17 minutes, beating the best time this way by over 24 hours.

Two other Essex cars also made the run, one from San Francisco to New York in four days, 21 hours and 56 minutes, and the other from New York to San Francisco in five days, six hours and 13 minutes. Both of these cars, however, encountered heavy rain storms and deep mud in the west.

Aside from the fact that this is a new record, it is also the first time in history that an automobile has been permitted to carry mail across the continent. All cars carried bags of first class mail and every driver was, in the eyes of the government, a postman, properly sworn in and under bond to the government.

The cars were not driven, at any point, by professional drivers. The entire trip was supervised by Essex distributors and dealers along the route, and they furnished drivers from their own organizations. In all, probably 25 drivers took the cars across the continent, which is an even greater testimony of the performance and reliability of the car.

The second westbound car was diverted from its route on the way to San Francisco long enough to establish a new record from New York to Chicago of 24 hours, 42 minutes and 59 seconds, beating the best previous record by over two hours.

FEATHERED VISITOR

King Square was visited by a young crane yesterday and its client created a great deal of interest among those in the vicinity. A good hearted citizen was present and supplied the bill with a fine luncheon from one of the nearby fish stores.

GERMANY TO HALT CLOSING OF MILLS

Serious Economic and Employment Situation Responsible for Decision—State Will Run Factories if Owners Won't.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Company.)

Berlin, Aug. 20.—The seriousness of the present German economic situation was emphasized at a special session of the official economic council—known as the Economic Parliament—where measures to prevent panics and disorganization in German industry were discussed and proposals to check the widespread shutting down of factories were submitted to the government.

So many plants have been closing their doors recently that a grave unemployment situation has arisen, menacing seriously the political outlook.

It has been proposed that before any German industry is allowed to shut down it must first show a reason for this and then obtain the assent of the special government board. Experts representing the government, employers and employees, are then to proceed to an examination of the circumstances. These experts may propose measures for the maintenance of industry with government help in the form of government contracts with low cost, long term credits on raw materials, etc.

The government may also be called upon to furnish capital and make special dispensations as regards the lifting of export restrictions on certain articles.

The owner of a factory insists on closing his business without the consent of the mediation board, the latter is to be empowered to confiscate his property, run it for the public good or force the owner to operate it for the profit of the state fund for the unemployed.

One cause not previously reported in the present crisis has been found after investigation to be tax fixing evil existing in German industry.

High prices are attributed to this system which forbids German industry to sell a product below the price agreed upon by a concert of the manufacturers under penalty of a severe fine. It is believed the suspension of that rule may result in a general cutting of prices which in turn would create a greater demand for goods.

LIBERALS AND THE GOVERNMENT

It is being charged against Hon. Mr. Meighen that his Government is a Conservative one, and that in inviting men of other political views to support it, he does so under false pretences. There has never been, as far as we are aware, any attempt on the part of Mr. Meighen, or anyone else on his behalf, to deny the fact that the Government is pro-conservatively Conservative. Just how far those Liberals who have thrown in their lot with Premier Meighen have been deceived may be gathered from the following remarks made by Major Mowat, M. P., who spoke on behalf of himself and his fellow Liberal members at St. Mary's, Ont., a few days ago. He said:

"A statement has been made in the press, and I want to repudiate it. That Mr. Meighen has been trying to bring the Liberal Unionists into the Tory fold. I can repudiate any such feelings on the part of Mr. Meighen. Since we lined up with the Conservatives, we have had nothing but open hostility and courtesy shown, and not a word said indicating a desire that we should change our ideas. There has been a little cocking and also some chucking, and the principal hen is in the city of Toronto. We went into this thing with those men to save Canada's honor. Do you suppose we are going to desert them just when the time has come that the victories of peace will be won the same as the victories of war? For my part I am going to follow Hon. Mr. Meighen, for the rest of this Parliament at any rate."

Whatever the circumstances may be under which these Liberal members lined themselves up with the Government, no man who can read need be under any misapprehension as to what the Government stands for, for its programme and policies have been announced and published far and wide. On the other hand, no one knows just what the so-called Liberal party under Mr. Mackenzie King stands for: in fact the Men and Emblems declare that about the best way to ascertain this is to "take note of what he is opposed to." Well, he is opposed to the inquiry the Government is now making as a means of obtaining data for the revising of the tariff. "What we want in Canada," he says, "is not more inquiries." He would not count the people as to their wishes in the matter of tariff revision, but would put an end to protection by his own fiat. We cannot wonder that he is against the idea of getting into touch with the people on the subject, for he must know well that the people would make short work of his proposal to strip home industry of the protection that has been afforded to it for the last forty years. The Toronto Globe, always against protection, notes with disapproval Mr. Meighen's remarks on the fiscal policy on which the Australian Government was recently returned to power. The aim of that policy is to protect and encourage and extend the industries of the Commonwealth. That must continue to be an object of tariff policy in this Dominion, and such tariff propositions as that made by Mr. King the other day are a warning to the producing and enterprising people of this country against taking any chances with such men. Canada has benefited greatly from the National Policy. To abandon that policy at this moment in the country's history would be in the highest degree disastrous. Everything now favors Canada except the talk of the reckless experimenters in free trade. These, however, will have no chance to do any harm.

SOME PROHIBITION MATTERS.

There is an old saying that when rogues fall out, honest men get a chance to come into their own. We are not suggesting that the men who have until recently been acting as sub-inspectors under the Prohibition Act, are rogues, for a minute, but they seem to have fallen out among themselves, and honest men will now perhaps get a chance of finding out some inside information in connection with the manner in which the enforcement of the Act has been carried out. When it comes to one inspector laying a trap to catch a fellow inspector in order to be able to report him to his chief, the average citizen is not apt to be very favorably impressed with the general degree of honesty of purpose of these men. An inspector who has no higher sense of esprit de corps than to liberally entangle one of his fellows, cannot be expected to be very particular in his methods of procedure as far as the public is concerned, in the enforcement of the Act. It is alleged, and apparently with every semblance of truth, that conditions in regard to the enforcement in this city are in a very bad shape. In this state of affairs to be wondered at when one comes to contemplate the lovely bunch who are charged with the work? Is it any wonder that Prohibition is regarded with contempt?

THE FARMER'S MOTOR CAR.

A U. F. O. candidate says that agriculture loses $110,000,000 a year on its tax-payment. Are the farmers paying for automobiles with their losses? This observation, by a Toronto contemporary, whether or not intended humorously, falls short of being clever. Even in a non-profitable, or possibly a bankrupt business, the purchase of an automobile might be justifiable and necessary, under certain circumstances. But to anyone who gives to the matter a second thought it must be apparent that the farmer's motor car is as much a part of his working equipment as his hayrack or a set of harness. It would be surprising, as the London Free Press says, if the motor car had not achieved its present popularity with the farmers, when one considers the increased price of horses, their feed, harness and the vehicles they haul. Then the scarcity of competent farm labor has a strong bearing on the situation. With his car, the farmer may make a necessary trip to the nearest marketing centre and return to his work without serious loss of time, whether travelling light or with a load. Or another member of his family may take the wheel, and leave both the farmer and his horses on the land. The motor car eliminates the necessity of a driving horse, which costs as much as any other and is usually unsuitable for work ahead of the plow or binder. It does not have to be curried, and it is always "hitched up." It brings the physician or the veterinary quickly in emergency, and cuts down expensive delays in waiting for machinery parts or other supplies in busy times such as harvest. But aside from these and the many other points which might be brought forward in the case of utility, the automobile as a pleasure car is by no means indefensible. It cannot be denied that it has become a valuable feature in that community life so much to be desired if young people are to retain their interest in the farm. It is helping to solve the problem of the rural church and school. It permits the farmer, his wife or children to attend gatherings to which they would not think of going if the journey involved the use of horses tired by farm work. From other standpoints the investment in a sound one and pays dividends. Possession of a motor car by a farmer is no indication of either wealth or extravagance.

CARTE BLANCHE.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, defending the Irish Restoration of Order Bill in the British House of Commons recently, argued that it was not unreasonable to ask the House to give the Government carte blanche. That is a frank and accurate way of putting the situation. That is the effect of the Bill. It was right and proper that the House should scrutinize it very jealously. Suspensions and invasions of the ordinary law are thoroughly unpopular in our free democracy. They can only obtain the nation's consent if the justification is absolute. It cannot, we think, be questioned that the state of Ireland today is sufficient justification. Meanwhile we should not lose all sight of the hopes, however shadowy, of a return of sanity. Lately, when lawlessness and crime had reached their summit, the Roman Catholic Church has been moved to denounce assassinations. The Freeman's Journal has pleaded for a truce. A rather melodious depiction of southern Irishmen has been received by the Prime Minister. It would be easy to make too much of all this. It would also be easy to make too little.

WHAT NEXT?

Toronto Globe: "In stating that the Liberal policy is tariff reform, not free trade, Mr. King got after one of the calculated deceptions of the new Toryism. No Canadian Government in our time will be able to finance the country's needs without substantial tariff taxes. Free trade is not an issue in Canadian politics." What will the Globe say next? The "eccentricity" of which Hon. Charles Murphy some years ago accused The Globe, seems to be still very much in evidence.

The Liberal Toronto Globe's statement that "free trade is not an issue in Canadian politics" is enough to drive the editor of a local contemporary to the ditch.—Ottawa Journal.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Too Much for the Post. (Toronto Globe). The gentlemen of the Imperial Press Conference can now make allowance for the eminent Englishman who, coming to the Falls with the object of putting his feelings into verse, could compass only two lines: "Oh, Niagara! Niagara! Thou art a Niagara."

A Clean Town. (Acton Free Press). The Council, the municipal officers and members of our institutions and citizens are trying to make Acton the neatest, cleanest, most attractive town in Ontario. Won't you all help? Make a resolution that you will hereafter cease that little careless habit of dropping the envelopes of your letters, the wrappings of your papers, the empty candy and fruit bags and those cigarette wrappers on the streets. Pick up occasionally what the other fellow drops, and he'll begin to feel mean and do it himself or not drop it.

Much to Charm. (Toronto Globe).

The Imperial Press delegates, many of whom are visiting Canada for the first time, will see the country to advantage in a season of beautiful growth in every province. They have already travelled through the Maritime Provinces and Quebec. They should be interested in the highly developed industry and agriculture of Ontario, and in the wonders of Hydro-electric, to which they are being introduced at Niagara. They will find the Prairies reaping a golden harvest, and in British Columbia will pass into another new world. The tour cannot but be profitable to the delegates, and it will be of advantage to Canada that so many trained observers from other British countries, whose business it is to keep their eyes and ears open and report their observations, will view the Dominion under conditions so favorable.

A BIT OF VERSE

GOOD NIGHT. The sun has sunk behind the hills, The shadows o'er the landscape creep; A drowsy hum around the woodland dells, And nature folds her arms to sleep; Good night—good night! The chattering jay has ceased his din— The noisy robin sings no more— The crow, his mountain haunt within, Drowsily 'mid the forest surly roars; Good night—good night!

THE LAUGH LINE

Safe-Guarding Himself. The Justice of the Peace—Do you take this woman to be your lawful wedded wife? The Bridegroom—I do. The Justice—Then I pronounce you man and wife. And, remember, you asked me to do this. Don't ever blame me.

Household Economics.

"Josh," said Farmer Cornstossel to his son, "I wish, if you don't mind, you'd cut out to yourself instead of with the summer boarders." "Isn't my society good enough for them?" "Your society is fine. But your appetite costs a terrible expense."

Most Praiseworthy.

"Oh, Mr. Mark, please buy a ticket to our entertainment. It is for a most worthy cause. I assure you." "Certainly, Mrs. Clatter. And what is that cause?" "Paying the expenses of the entertainment we gave last week for a worthy cause."

Power of Suggestion.

The critic seemed struck with the picture. "This snowman painting is very fine, indeed," he said to the artist. "It almost makes me feel cold to look at it!" "Yes, it must be realistic," admitted the other. "A fellow got into my studio one day in my absence, looked at the picture, and unconsciously put my fur overcoat on before he went out!"—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Watch Baby Exhibit Exhibition Week

Management Has Arranged Attractions During the Baby Clinic Hour.

In making arrangements for the Baby Clinic at "The Home Care of Baby" booth at the Exhibition, it has been decided to have the babies who are examined at the above mentioned booth, assemble in the "Red Cross Hut," upon the days and hours arranged for, to the left of the Carmarthen street entrance, which has been kindly loaned for that purpose. While the children are here assembled waiting for their turn to come for examination, it will be most interesting for those in attendance at the Exhibition who are so interested to drop in upon them. It will be arranged to have a picture taken each day of the group of "These Young Citizens," which will be used later in relation to the General Child Welfare Work.

Parents, kindly carefully note the following:
That the Child Welfare executive, instead of allotting prizes for the best looking baby, intend granting a nicely lithographed certificate to each baby between three months and two years, who passes a satisfactory physical examination. This little trophy will be much appreciated by the parents, and in after years, no doubt, by the subject of the certificate. In order to get in line with this complete physical examination, and successful certificate, it will be necessary to send in your application to the secretary of the executive, Mrs. A. W. Estey, 321 Douglas avenue.

Your application should read: Mrs. A. W. Estey, 321 Douglas avenue, St. John, N. B.

"Dear Madam:—
I hereby make application to have my child or children examined at the Baby Clinic, being held in connection with the Child Welfare section, St. John Exhibition, Sept. 4-11. If you will kindly assign a day and hour for me to be present, you will greatly oblige."

Upon the reception of the above application, a reply will immediately be sent out in return indicating the exact time to be present.
There will be a nurse in charge at the Red Cross Hut, who will care for the comfort of these little ones, and see that they get to and from the Clinic.

CELEBRATE THEIR 21ST ANNIVERSARY

Portland Lodge Sons of England Benefit Society Indulge in Most Enjoyable Occasion

The members of Portland Lodge, Sons of England Benefit Society, celebrated the 21st anniversary of the founding of the lodge in their rooms in the Orange Hall, Simonds street, last evening. The Worthy President, H. Sellen, was in the chair, and special guests were H. C. Vanwart, District Deputy, and R. J. Curless, President of Marborough Lodge. The wives of the members were also invited as guests.

The chairman extended a cordial welcome to the visitors, and referred to the special occasion that they were celebrating. Portland Lodge had been founded on the 27th day of August, 1899, and its record from that day until now is a very creditable one. Addresses were also made by H. C. Vanwart and R. J. Curless. These several addresses were heartily applauded.

The following interesting programme was carried out:
Piano solo—Mrs. T. Smith.
Violin solo—Mr. Baxter.
Song—T. Smith.
Song—Miss Brown.
Piano solo—Miss Gladys Angel.
Song—Mrs. Ernest Chapman.
Recitation—Mr. Gibson.
Song—E. Brittain.

Refreshments were served by a capable committee at the conclusion of the entertainment, and a very enjoyable evening closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Anselm Molins.
Moncton, N. B., Aug. 20. — Death came suddenly this morning to Anselm Molins, a well-known citizen who conducted a shoe-repairing shop in the West End of the city. He had been stricken with heart trouble while mending a pair of shoes. Deceased, who was about seventy years of age, was a native of Elgin, Albert County, but had resided in Moncton the last twenty-five years. He is survived by a widow, three sons and four daughters. The sons are Albert J. Molins, C. N. R. fireman; Edward, of Moncton, and Leslie Molins, Lowell, Mass. The daughters are Mrs. Arthur Wells, Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. Ernest Dummer, Miss Rena, C. N. TRADING IMPROVES ON MONTREAL

Business Yesterday Was Confined to a Few Favorites Which Held Gains.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—There was some more activity and a continuation of the improved tone noticeable yesterday in trading today on the local stock exchange. Business was again confined to a few favorites which either held yesterday's gains or added somewhat to them.

The largest gains went to Spanish River issues, of which the common closed at 118, a net gain of 1.7-8 points. The preferred sold up four points to 126 and retained three of them at the close.

Sugar sold as high as 147 3-8 and closed at 147, up two points. The preferred was bid 146, ex dividend 38 per cent.

Laurentide added three points at 116; Canadian Cottons was up two points at 94; Steamship common added a point at 65; bridge a point at 86, and Breweries 7-8 point at 85 1-2.

Bracthian showed an increase in trading, but no change in price. Only three issues showed a decline. Ames preferred and Steamship preferred fell each down a small fraction, and Bank of Commerce was down a point.

There was little feature elsewhere in the list. Stronger stocks included Abitibi, Bromington, Dominion Steel and Steel of Canada, each fractionally higher.

Total transactions: listed, 9,320; bonds, 111,300.

NEW PULP CO. FOR CANADA

American and Canadian Interests Behind New Proposition.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—The organization of another large pulp co. in the St. Maurice district is indicated by the formation of the Manouan Pulp Paper, Ltd. The directors behind the new corporation includes a number of prominent American and Canadian interests who are already largely identified with the pulp industry.

Prominent among them are Frank L. Moore, president and managing director of Newton Falls Paper Corp., of Watertown, N. Y., and former president of the American Pulp and Paper Association, the first of the Continental Bag Co., of New York, and several pulp and paper companies, both in Canada and the United States, and George R. Smith, M. H. manager of the Shell Asbestos Mines.

The company is now preparing its plans for the acquisition of very valuable lands in the St. Maurice district, and also of a large power known as the Allard Falls on the St. Maurice River.

It is expected the organization of the new company will be completed within the next few days.

BOUNTIFUL CROPS ASSURED SASK.

Bumper Yields Are Expected — Farm Labor Below the Demand.

Prince Albert, Sask., Aug. 20.—Northern Saskatchewan is now harvesting what will prove to be one of the best crops in its history. Late season developments have turned what in mid-July looked like a failure into a splendid revival, the results of which are astonishing to the farmers. Wheat will average 22 to 25 bushels to the acre; Oats 40 to 120, and barley from 35 to 50.

Potatoes, field roots and garden products were never better. There has been an enormous return of wild fruits. Farm labor is slightly below the demand, but the situation in this regard is not such as to seriously hamper harvesting.

Dear Champs— What is more fun than a picnic and doesn't everything taste fine out of doors? I know a man who says that his wife can't make half as good coffee on the stove at home as he makes over the wood fire. Isn't it wonderful what big meals we can eat with fresh air for a tonic, and the pleasure of having our tea on the floor or by the roadside. On one of the lovely days which we have had I went to a picnic on the shore of our beautiful St. John River, and it is a treat to me to tell you about it.

Answers To Letters

LEON B.—I will remember that you are a big boy of thirteen, next time I come to talk about ages Leon. Sorry the puzzles were too hard, but I would not be much am if they were too easy would it? Hope you have as good a time at the picnic as I had at my last one. I am sure school will be just as nice as ever when you get back to it. Glad to hear from you and write soon again.

ROBERT R.—What a splendid garden you must be and what a fine crop to be so busy helping with the potatoes, the hay and with the wood. I am glad you go in swimming and am sure you must be growing big and strong with such good work and play. Thanks for your neat letter which was a pleasure to read and it was very nice of you to write to me on such a hot day. Let me hear how those beans turned out. I shall be much interested.

JENNIE S.—I hope you have a nice birthday Jennie, though perhaps you will like it better next year when I do not come on Sunday. It is indeed a long time since you have remembered your Uncle Dick and written to him. I am glad to know that you are having fun in your holidays and that you like the G. V. Write soon again and all good wishes to you for the coming year.

SMOKE.

I was sitting beside the nursery fire, as quiet as I could be. Watching the pictures that broke and grew, while Jane had gone to her cue. When suddenly out of the firelight glow came a long, thin trail of smoke. It grew and it grew, and it grew, till it made me cough and choke. Till it filled the whole room, and touched the ceiling, and bent and twisted and curled. And then grew as suddenly quiet and still as the Wood at the End of the World.

Out of the beautiful silver spire a Wizard as old as old. With a gown as fine as a frosty leaf, and a cap of shining gold. Somehow or other I wasn't afraid, so I took his thin, grey hand. And we walked right through the nursery fire to the beautiful Day-dream Land.

Oh! that is the country where dreams come true, where all the castles High in the air or deep in the fire can never tumble and break. Where beautiful ladies in silver gowns ride by on their palefours white and white, and where the knights in their armor go sailing past on their steeds at twelve o'clock of a night.

Where the Gold Princess of the fairy-tales with her eyes like deep blue flowers. And the Prince who's able to kill any Dragon fire in their high Castle Towers.

Hand in hand with the old grey Wizard, I wandered away and away. Out to the land where dreams come true, from our country of every day. At last we came to a Silver Sea, where the Blue Moon always shines. And the trees are full of Christmas trees in long, long, glittering lines.

And for every child in all the world a little green fir-tree grows. And the Wizard vanished, and I could see a long grey spire of smoke! —Thore Stovell.

Rebuke.

Robbie was in the habit of running errands for an old gentleman next door, who never paid him except in effusive thanks. He had just returned from the third errand one morning, and the old gentleman, patting him on the head, said: "Robbie, I am very much obliged to you. You're a fine little fellow. Thank you, my boy, thank you." Robbie looked up in his face wisely, and apologetically replied: "Mr. Jones, you don't know how I wish I could thank you for something."

THE WESTMONT BOYS' CLUB STORIES

The Amateur Detective

(Continued from last week.) "It's not as bad as all that, is it?" asked Leslie sympathetically. Then a thought striking him he added, "Why not advertise a reward?" "My love I'll do that," Mr. Sharpe exclaimed. "A hundred dollars or so reward for the recovery of my property, ought to waken the police up. Ah here's a policeman at last," he added, hastening to the door. "Left to himself Leslie idly wondered what he could do if he had a hundred dollars given to him. Musing thus, he wandered over to the empty safe. He idly glanced at it, and turned away. Suddenly he stopped short and gazed closely at the floor. Stopping over he picked up something and then his brow creased in thought he examined his find. "Gee," he thought at last visions of a hundred dollar bill floating into his before his eyes. "I've certainly struck it lucky if only it pans out all right." Then remembering Mr. Sharpe's trade against the Westmont Police Department, Leslie muttered, "It wouldn't do to let them in on this, they might cop the reward for themselves." "My love," and his face lightened up, "I may be all wrong, but anyway I'm going out to Redbank myself and see what I can pick up."

UNCLE WIGGLY AND BILLIE'S BALL

Uncle Wiggly and Jimmie, the duck went one day to call on Billie Wiggly, the squirrel who had the toothache. They found Mrs. Bushytail trying to amuse Billie and not having very good luck. Billie was rather cross and fretful. I am sorry to say. "Now, Billie," said Uncle Wiggly, when Mrs. Bushytail had gone out and the three friends had the house to themselves, "what would you like to play?" "I'd like to play ball," answered Billie. "Well, I don't very well see how we can play ball in the house," said the rabbit gentleman. "We might have some of your mother's things."

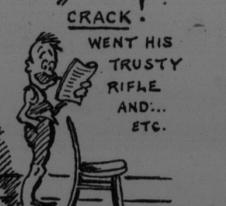

CHARLES DICKENS' CAT

Charles Dickens was a lover of animals, and like all true lovers he was likely to become the slave of his pet. Williamina, a little white cat, was a favorite with the entire household, and showed an especial devotion to her master. She performed a number of tricks for her kittens, and brought them in from the kitchen one by one. Mr. Dickens had them taken away again, but Williamina only brought them quietly back. When they were removed, but the third time of their return she did not leave them in the corner. Instead, she placed them at her master's feet, and when her stand beside him, looked imploringly at him. That settled the question. Thereafter the kittens belonged to the study, and they made themselves royally at home, sitting on the curtain, playing about the writing-table, and scampering behind the book-shelves.

"Auntie! Sylvia! Quick! Look what I've found!" cried Eric. "Do look! I believe it's a real fairy!" There, perched upon a clump of magnolia, was a dainty little figure, in a delicate, flowery dress. "Oh, what a darling!" exclaimed Sylvia. "I do hope she won't fly away too soon. It's funny, though, for a fairy to stand so still!" "She seems so tame that I think you might take her in your hand," said Aunt Alice. "Yes," said Sylvia. "I thought I'd have a little fun with you when you found her." "But how did you make her?" asked Sylvia. "I'll show you. Wouldn't you each like to make a fairy for yourself?" "Oh, please!" cried both the children at once. "Well, here are some poppy heads," said Aunt Alice. "Each pick a nice, brown, dry one, and a top one of dry stem. That's right. Now we will go indoors and ink in their faces."

Ring Lardner on Pitching

By Ring Lardner. This is just a few items of information about a ball player that you haven't heard of him. I will tell his name in the first paragraph, and his name in the second paragraph, but they call him Babe on account of him being over 6 feet tall and pretty hard to hit, and he is a great pitcher that don't pitch. Well, one day in May I went out to Polo's grounds and went down on the bench, and Mr. Gleason was sitting there, and he says hello to me, I just made a face at him; but he asked me to sit down a minute, and he named Wilkinson was going to pitch, and he was out there warming up.

Auntie Sylvia Quirk! Look what I found! I do hope she won't fly away like it's a fairy!

There, perched upon a stump of gnarled wood, was a dainty little figure, a delicate, flowery dress.

Now we must dress them, said Auntie. First we will put their collars on. Now for the bodies.

Stick it in the top, and twist it and till you have made a big, rough hole.

Oh, thank you, Auntie! cried the children. The garden will be a fairy-land in future!

Ring Lardner Gives Advice on Pitching to Babe Ruth

By Ring W. Lardner To the Editor: This is just a few items of information about a ball player that maybe you haven't heard of him, so I will tell his name in the first paragraph, and his name is George Ruth.

Well, one day in May I had seen a whole lot of different sporting events that bore you to death and the White Sox from old Chicago was playing in New York city.

Yes, said Aunt Alice: "I thought I'd have a little fun with you when you found her!"

I used a masticum, said Auntie, at I think it would be interesting each of you thought of a fresh kind of hat.

So Wilkie sit down and Mgr. Gleason said to him: "You're a man on this New York club named Ruth and he isn't Cobb, and he isn't Speaker or Sisler, or Jackson."

So Wilkie said, yes, sir.

Well, they started this game in the first inning and the White Sox didn't do nothing, and it came the N. Y. club's turn to get their innings and there was two out and Papp got on first base, and sliding came Ruth.

So the next time Babe came up all as he got was a three base hit, because they were pitching more carefully.

How a B. B. Writer Lost a Qt.

For instance, the last time the White Sox was here, a certain prominent Chicago baseball writer was sitting next to Col. Huston, and this George Ruth comes up and the Colonel says to him, how much will you bet that he don't crack 'em out of the park on this occasion.

Well, here are some poppy heads. I Aunt Alice. "Bach pick a nice, warm, dry one, and a few bits of dry up they don't pick 'em out of the park."

 Supply.

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and duties do not tempt her appetite you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams'
 Pink Pills, which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the road to worse fits. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anaemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs are reproaches if you are not taken the best step to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. William's Pink Pills.

New rich red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new rich blood springs good health, an increased appetite, new energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.,
 Brockville, Ont.

Body Washed Ashore At Chance Harbor

Thought to be That of Carl Evans Who Was Drowned July 24th While Swimming at Saints' Rest.

A phone message received by Dr. F. L. Kenney from Chance Harbor last night, recalls the tragedy that occurred on July 25 when Carl Evans, an employee of the Atlantic Sugar Refinery, was drowned. The message stated that a nude body had been washed ashore there yesterday. It was not stated in what stage of decomposition the body was, but the fact that it is nude, and the further fact that no drownings have been reported from that section this summer, strengthen the belief that it is the body of that unfortunate young man.

The police are investigating the case and are endeavoring to obtain some particulars about Evans that will serve to identify the body. It is felt, however, that on account of its being in the water so long that this will be difficult.

Liberal Meeting Ended in Wrangle

Moderates Not Favorable to Placing Candidate in Opposition to Hon. R. W. Wigmore—Adjourned to Tuesday Next.

The St. John Liberals have not yet decided whether they will oppose Hon. R. W. Wigmore in the coming by-election or not. A meeting of the executive of the party, augmented by several representatives from the various wards, was held last evening in the Forester's Hall, but after over three hours' wrangling the meeting adjourned without making any decision. Fred Hayes, chairman of the executive, was in the chair and among those present were Premier Foster, A. B. Copp, M. P., for Westmorland, Hon. W. P. Roberts, Minister of Health in the Provincial Government, as is well known the Liberal party in this city is made up of two factions, the "last ditchers," who want a candidate brought out for the by-election, and the moderates who counsel no opposition. From what could be learned of the meeting it was mainly a wrangle between these two factions. Both are quite stubborn and neither would give way. The spokesmen for the moderates were the Premier, Dr. Roberts and A. B. Copp. It is said that the time Mr. Copp's speech came along the other element was rather fed up, and when he began to preach no opposition the already ragged edge became more ragged. It is said that before Mr. Copp was through he was won over to the side of the pro-candidates. The speeches were rather warm at times, and there was considerable cross-fire between the delegates. What with smoke and hot air the room in time became uncomfortable, and one-by-one the delegates began to slip out. The only thing probably that broke up the meeting was the lateness of the hour as otherwise the discussion might be still going on. As the meeting broke up and those present began to troop out, the press made a rapid dash up the stairs to find out the latest news. However, there was no news to give. The decision had not yet been made. The only statement that could be obtained was that the meeting had adjourned until Tuesday night and the final decision would be made then.

PLAYING THE OLD ARMY GAME

Someone Passing As Provincial Constable Holding Up American Tourists.

According to a prominent citizen some one is posing as a provincial constable and holding up American tourists who exceed the speed limit with their cars. He said that he had heard the report before but had given no credence to it. However, several days ago it was told to him that an American tourist had made the remark that he had been held up by a constable near the city while he was motoring through to Nova Scotia. The constable showed his badge and told the tourist that he was liable to a fine up to $100. He told the tourist further that if he wished to save time he could save appearing before the magistrate and pay him. The American, glad to get out of it so easily, handed over the money to the constable. The story is certainly plausible and the wonder is that it had not been worked before. For the information of tourists it may be stated here that no constable has the right to receive money for a fine. The matter is being investigated.

The First Street Sewer Trouble

Commissioner Jones Will Bring Proposition Before Council Monday Which Will Remedy All the Trouble.

The sewer on First street has been giving the department and those living on that street a good deal of trouble, and on Monday Commissioner Jones will bring before the council a proposition which will remedy the trouble.

This sewer leads from Hawthorne Avenue down Parks street and across First to Cranston Avenue and down Cranston Avenue to Rockland Road. For a portion of the distance on First street it runs on very nearly a dead level and at times there is not force enough of water to carry off the waste material, which stagnates and causes offensive odors to arise. On an evening of three times a year it has been found necessary to send the employees of the department to this section and clean out this part of the pipe. The commissioner proposes to change the line of the sewer a little which will give a good drainage all the way to Rockland Road. About half way along First street the sewer will be diverted through and across the lots fronting on Rockland Road, joining the Rockland Road sewer at the Corner of Cranston Avenue.

Boy Scouts Return From Jenkin's Cove

All Were in Fine Fettle, Showing Benefits of Two Weeks in the Open—Valuable Instruction Given in Scout Work.

The Boy Scouts returned yesterday on the steamer Hampton from their two weeks' camp at Jenkin's Cove. The boys were all in fine fettle as they marched from the boat, and every one of them showed the benefits of the excellent training that he received at the camp. The Sussex scouts, 15 in number, in charge of J. P. Atherton, returned home on Thursday by auto. The camp had been demolished on Thursday, and the boys moved in a body to the landing wharf, where they bivouacked for the night. There were sixty-five boys in camp, all told. Three-fourths of them came from St. John. Other towns represented were Moncton, Fredericton, Woodstock, Hillsboro, and Sussex. The camp was in charge of the Assistant Commissioner, H. O. Raman, assisted by G. H. Estabrooks, V. C. Timberly, of the Nova Scotia B. S. A., A. Watson, T. Cramp and L. H. Narraway. Troop Leader Tommy Proctor, of Sussex, acted as camp bugler during the period of the camp. The Standard was informed by one of the officials last night that the camp was an unqualified success, and the results experienced were very gratifying. A large number of the boys had to be diverted, as intended, that is they were without any qualifications, but at the conclusion of the camp all but one or two had passed as first-class scouts. Many special badges were issued to the boys. The badge that was most popular and the one most sought was the pioneer badge, and to gain this a boy had to have a knowledge of building, bridge-building, fire-place making, etc. It was won by a large number of the boys. B. H. Estabrooks gave instructions for the starman badge, and 28 boys passed for this decoration. A large number also passed for the swimmer and rescuer badges, instruction for which was given by V. C. Timberly. At the beginning of the camp there were several boys who could not swim a stroke, but before the camp was over, those same boys had qualified for the first-class swimming badge, to qualify for which they had to swim fifty yards. The final camp-fire was held on Wednesday evening. A number of the farmers and other residents in the vicinity were in attendance. Several of the boys on this occasion tried for the entertainer badge. The camp report, which had been prepared by S. Adams and C. Sharpe, was read at the camp-fire. It was followed by a show farewell chat by the director, H. O. Raman.

Cases Heard In Police Court

Morris Aranoff Was Fined $200 on Liquor Charge Yesterday—Other Charges Dealt With.

The sequel to the seizure of liquor on Thursday night was that Morris Aranoff was fined $200 for having liquor in his possession other than in his private dwelling and his father, David Aranoff, was fined $50 for having liquor in his premises for illegal purposes. Louis Budovitch had been jointly charged with M. Aranoff but he was dismissed. Aranoff had pleaded guilty to the charge while Budovitch denied it.

Inspector Merryfield testified that he and Inspector White were near the Suspension Bridge about 9:30 Thursday night when they saw auto No. 3084 cross the bridge and stop near one of the Foundation Co.'s sheds. Aranoff got out and they went up to the car and found in it twelve bottles of Scotch whisky which they seized. This evidence was corroborated by Inspector White.

Louis Budovitch said that he had no idea that there was any liquor in the car. He called a witness to prove that he had intended going to a dance. Budovitch was allowed to go.

David Aranoff appeared before the court in the morning on the charge of having liquor in his premises for illegal purposes. He was allowed out on a $200 deposit. He was called again in the afternoon. Inspector Merryfield testified that armed with a search warrant and accompanied by Inspector White they had gone to Aranoff's residence on Main street. They found Mrs. Aranoff on the door step and proceeded to make a search of the premises. Going along the hallway they found a door secured by a padlock. He asked Mrs. Aranoff if she had a key. She said that she did not have any and they were about to break the padlock when she procured the key. They went into the room—a bedroom—and found some liquor there which they seized. Inspector White corroborated this evidence.

Mrs. Aranoff explained that the reason that she was out so late was that she had just come from the store. It was also stated the padlock was on the door before the Aranoffs had come there. As previously stated the Magistrate fined David Aranoff $50 on the charge.

As an aftermath of Mathias Larsen's joy fest Wednesday night, Robert Anderson appeared in the court yesterday on the charge of supplying liquor without a license. He pleaded guilty. Larsen stated that he had been given several drinks of gin by Anderson. He did not remember paying for it but he had $10 or $15 when he first met the defendant but on his arrival at the station he only had $1.75. The accused was remanded.

E. S. Ritchie appeared for Anderson while W. M. Ryan acted for the prosecution of all three cases. Joseph Blois, from the fair province of Quebec made his second appearance before the court after a slight sojourn in the province. He was charged with wandering about and not giving a satisfactory account of his declaration that St. John would not feed him and for a second time ordered him out of town.

Laura Irvine, of Carleton, aged 18, was charged with vagrancy. She said her mother was dead and her father in Boston. The magistrate sent her below pending an investigation. One drunk was remanded.

In the case against Wm. Bell, Union street, E. S. Ritchie, for the defendant, asked for a settlement and Bell was fined $75 for selling liquor unlawfully.

SAMUEL COHEN STILL A MEMBER

Mr. Justice White Yesterday Gave Judgment That the Dismissal of Cohen from Hazen Avenue Synagogue Was Void.

Judgment was delivered yesterday by Justice White in the suit of Samuel K. Cohen vs. the congregation of the Hazen Avenue Synagogue. Action had been brought by the plaintiff to have his dismissal from the congregation declared void. His Honor in his judgment found that the meeting that had expelled Cohen had been improperly called, and the proceedings void. He found on these grounds that the plaintiff was not legally expelled and was still a living member of the congregation. In giving this ruling His Honor expressed the opinion that the plaintiff's conduct would have warranted an expulsion. No costs were allowed.
