OUR SCHOOL DAYS.

BY T. HAGAN.

Crowded back, we look upon them—
Past, yes, past—forever gone—
Scenes of pleasure, hours of treasure,
Sweet to gaze and look upon;
Past, yet, like a fleeting moment,
Oh they constitute an age;
Butling forth from earliest childhood,
Soon we turn life's gayest page.

Mingling with our infant comrades,
Life stamped naught upon our mind;
But when school days dawned upon us,
Footprints, then, were left behind.

Traces of a new-born era
On the way by which we trod
Like the plough which marks its furrow,
Leaves behind the upturned sod.

Thus do we gain peace and silence
Wander thoughtfully through the field,
Gathering flowers of early childhood,
Fragrant with life's morning seal;

Straight, perhaps, our course has led us,
Sweety smells each glowing flower,
Panted well and watered duly,
Index of a happy hour.

Not alone we find we're laboring,
Manly hands came to our aid;
Cheering words, like dew of heaven,
Gave a vigor not to fade.

Helping hands and loving comrades
Made our interests all but one,
While our troubles, light and narrow,
Soon were lost in blissful fun.

Deeds we're now the span of boyhood,
With its memories flooding on,
Like the hoison of a river,
Ever bears its tide along.

Laundered upon more mild waters
And benet by greater fear,
Swit our bank floats down the current,
And the verdant leaf grows ere.

Fame no then—yes, step to ponder
How our happy school days sped;
Years sold by and days long number'd—
Would we could again but wed.

Thus we look upon life's morning,
Eclipsing in a moonday sun;
Veering round, it should leave us—
Thus the face of life is run.

END OF A FEUD.

In a certain quarter of Kentucky, noted for family feuds, there lived, some years ago, a young man named Martin Hazen. The Hazens had been through many years of enmity with a family named Morgan, by a member of which Martin's own father had been killed in a desperate encounter, while he was yet a child. Martin was now the only male member of the family left, and he had grown up to manhood with the bit of honor and the careful guardianship and teaching of his widowed mother.

She had not taught him the lesson of hatred. She had told him of his impetuous father's death—that she hoped to see no more tragedy—and admonished him, although he might never like the Morgans, to cherish no thought of revenge.

The Morgans were four in number—Henry, a desperate and revengeful man, by whose hands old Mr. Hazen had fallen; his two sons, James and Ephraim, much like him; and his daughter Esther, who was not like him, but who, with a lovely face, possessed the sweet and gentle nature of her mother, whom sorrow had years before hurried to the grave.

The two families lived in the same community, Martin and Esther frequently met—in the village at church, and at social parties, and notwithstanding the feud that had cast a shadow on both homes, they loved each other; and to the unbounded rage of Henry Morgan and his sons, who hated Martin for his father's sake, they deliberately went and got married.

Esther and Martin well knew that she must not care to visit her old home again after that, so she went with him to the home of the Hazens, and they did not see any of the Morgans for months.

But Martin was warned that he was in danger, and he knew the Morgans too well to doubt it. While he desired to live at peace with them he determined not to fall as his father had fallen if he could help it. Like most people in that section, and at that time, he went armed when away from home; and besides being one of that class of persons scarcely susceptible of fear, he was one of the best shots with a rifle or a pistol in that community.

One evening in autumn, just at dusk, a few months after the marriage, he was riding home from the village on a spirited horse, when the Morgans suddenly came into his mind. He thought over the strange history of the two families, and began talking to himself as he rode leisurely along.

"How unfortunate—how foolish it is," he mused, "that this enmity should exist through whole generations, merely because remote ancestors quarreled over a line of fence, or the ownership of a tract of pig!—They hate me; I do not fear them, yet I'd like to be reconciled. I think I shall see them and talk it over. I believe I could reason them into fairness. How to approach them though—"

He was then riding by a little grove of timber, from which three men sprang into the road. One grasped the bridle-rein, while two stood with their rifles leveled upon him. It was not yet so dark but that he recognized his assailants. They were the Morgans. It was Ephraim who held his bridle-rein, while his father and James menaced him with their rifles.

"Oh, Hazen!" said the old man, with an air of triumph, "we've got you! You won't see the sun rise to-morrow, you independent young dog! You'll be with your father before that. What's more, you'll steal no more daughters of mine. Stop that. Don't offer to reach for that shooter!" he said, as Martin's hand moved toward his pistol pocket. "At best you're but a minute to live while I tell you why I am going to shoot you, and how glad I am to wipe out the last Hazen; but none of your ticks, or you won't live a second!"

Martin Hazen, sitting in the saddle with the calmness of the tall trees by the roadside that looked in the gathering darkness like grim spectres frowning upon the terrible scene, felt that it was no time now to reason with his enemies, and he dismissed the thought. He waited, motionless, for Henry Morgan to speak again, for he knew that the revengeful man would love to gloat over him before slaying him, and that his sons would wait his command. Henry Morgan, with the rifle still leveled, went on:

"Yes, young Hazen, the last of your race—"

Quick as a flash, Martin snatched his revolver from his pocket, and dropping his face up at the foot of the tree, which stood in the center of the road, and placing himself in a low chair near the door, and just as he had attained his favorable position, the Morgans discovered the trick that had been played upon them, and found themselves surrounded with a large revolver in the hands of a very cool and brave man.

"Henry Morgan," said Martin, "you and your sons are at my mercy. Don't move. You know how I handle this revolver. Move but a hair's breadth, any of you, and I fire to kill."

They stood transfixed. They were not cowards, but they did not possess the cool moral courage of Martin, and the surprise to which they had been treated completely unmanned them. To complete their confusion, Martin gave the signal, and Mrs. Hazen and Esther came in.

"Why, girl!" exclaimed Henry Morgan, "how in the—"

"Not a word, the talking now. There are chairs near you; sit down. Do you hear?" said he pointing the revolver at each one in return, with such rapidity that he seemed to cower all at once.

"Mr. Morgan," Martin proceeded, "I have all your lives in my hand. Our families have been at enmity for generations—God knows for what. You certainly have no reason to hate me. I have never harmed you. I have only offended you by marrying Esther. This should rather have made us good friends. You killed my father, and have twice tried to murder me. Now I have you in my power, but I am not going to kill you. I am willing to forget and forgive the past. Although you are a revengeful man, Henry Morgan, I believe you have a generous nature. Now attend: If after this you try to harm me, I will not spare you; but if you will be reconciled, take my hand a say so: I will trust you, for I know that you and your sons are men that will not lie. Will you do it, or will you depart with the same old hat on in your hand?"

Henry Morgan had been sitting with lowered eyes, his empty rifle poised up in one knee. He had fronted at first, apparently with suppressed rage, but now his better nature seemed to possess him, and after a moment of thoughtful silence he arose, left his rifle standing against the wall, walked across the room, took Martin by the hand and said:

"Hazen, you have made me ashamed of myself. There's my hand. Let's forget and forgive all round. Now you are my friend and son-in-law."

The young Morgans, catching the same true spirit, shook hands with Martin, and between the brave youth and those rough men there was a reconciliation that was sincere and abiding. They had tried to murder him; now they would have killed a dozen men to defend him. Martin tossed his revolver on the bed, for he knew he could safely do so. Rough men as the Morgans had been all their lives, there was truth in them—Martin knew it. And the feud between the Morgans and the Hazens was at an end forever and ever.

AN INGENIOUS PLEA.
An Old Story—Which bears Repeating.

A soldier by the name of Richard Lee, was taken before the magistrates of Glasgow, Scotland, for playing cards during divine service. The account of it is this given:—

Sergeant commanded the soldiers at the church, and when the parson had read the prayers he took the text. Those who had a Bible took it out, but this soldier had he said neither Bible nor Common Prayer Book, but pulling out a pack of cards, he spread them out before him. He looked first at one card and then at another. The sergeant saw him and said: "Richard, put up the cards; this is no place for them."

"Never mind that," said Richard. "When the service was over the constable took Richard a prisoner and brought him before the mayor."

"Well, what have you brought the soldier here for?"

"For playing cards in church."

"Well, soldier, what have you to say for yourself?"

"Much, sir, I hope."

"Very good; if not, I will punish you more than ever man was punished."

"I have been," said the soldier, "about six weeks on the march. I have no Bible or common prayer book; I have nothing but a pack of cards, and I hope to satisfy your worship of the purity of my intentions."

Then spreading the cards before the mayor he began with the ace.

"When I see the ace it reminds me that there is but one God."

"When I see the deuce it reminds me of Father and Son."

"When I see the three it reminds me of Father, Son, and Holy Ghost."

"When I see the four it reminds me of the four evangelists that preached—Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John."

"When I see the five it reminds me of the five wise virgins that trimmed their lamps. There were ten, but five were wise, and five were foolish and were shut out."

"When I see the six it reminds me that in six days the Lord made heaven and earth."

"When I see seven it reminds me that on the seventh day God rested from the great work he had made, and hallowed it."

"When I see the eight it reminds me of the eight righteous persons that were saved when God destroyed the world—viz., Noah and his wife, his three sons and their wives."

"When I see the nine it reminds me of the ten lepers that were cleansed by our Saviour. These were nine out of the ten who never returned thanks."

"When I see the ten it reminds me of the Ten Commandments which God handed down to Moses on the tables of stone."

"When I see the king it reminds me of the great King of Heaven, which is God Almighty."

"When I see the queen it reminds me of the Queen of Sheba, who visited Solomon, for she was as wise a woman as he was a man. She brought him her fifty boys and fifty girls, all dressed in boys' apparel, for King Solomon to tell which were boys and which were girls. King Solomon sent for water for them to wash; the girls washed to the elbows and the boys to the wrists, so he told by that."

"Well, said the mayor, you have given a description of all the cards in the pack except one."

"What is that?"

"The knave," said the mayor.

"I will give your honor a description of that, too, if you will not be angry."

"I will not say the mayor, if you will not term me to be the knave."

"Well, said the soldier, the greatest knave I know of is the constable who bro't me here."

"I don't know," said the mayor, if he is the greatest knave, but I know that he is the greatest fool."

"When I count how many spots in a pack of cards I find 365—as many as there are days in the year."

"When I count the number of cards in a pack I find there are fifty-two—the number of weeks in a year."

"I find there are twelve picture cards in a pack, representing the number of months in a year; and, on counting the number of tricks, I find thirteen, the number of weeks in a quarter."

"So, you see, sir, a pack of cards serves for a Bible, almanac, and common prayer book."

THUNDER! WHAT A CAT!—A few evenings ago Alvy Moody was paying a visit to his daikmen. She had smuggled him into the parlor, and the darkness only served to conceal her blushes while Alvy told his story of love.

The muttered words reached the parent's ear, and coming suddenly into the room, he demanded to know of Mary who it was she had with her.

"It's the cat, sir," was the mumbling reply.

"Drive it out! here!" thundered paterfamilias.

"Scat!" screamed Mary; and then, sotto voce, "Alvy, neow a little."

Alvy set up a woful yell.

"Confound it! bring a light," and scaro the the thing out."

This was too much, and poor Alvy made a leap for the window, carrying glass and frame with him.

"Thunder! what a cat!" exclaimed the parent, contemplating the ruin after the light was brought. "I have never seen anything like it! Its tail is made of broadcloth!" as he viewed a fluttering remnant hanging from the window.

A RARE PIECE OF PROPERTY.—Young Toddeley was a true-hearted and promising youth. He had graduated with honor at Yale, and was studying law with Mr. Lofter. It so happened that Toddeley became acquainted with a beautiful young lady, daughter of old Digby. He loved the fair maiden, and when he had reason to believe that his love was returned, he asked Mr. Lofter to recommend him to the father, Lofter being on terms of close intimacy with the family. The lawyer agreed, and performed his mission; but old Digby, who loved money, asked what property the young man had. Lofter said he did not know, but he would enquire.—The next time he saw his young student, he asked him if he had any property at all.

"Only health, strength, and a determination to work," replied the youth.

"Well, said the lawyer, who believed the student was in every way worthy, let us see. What will you take for your right leg? I will give you twenty thousand dollars for it."

Of course Toddeley refused.

"The next time the lawyer saw the young lady's father, he said—

"I have enquired about this young man's circumstances. He has no money in bank, but he owns a piece of property for which to my certain knowledge he has been offered, and has refused, twenty thousand dollars."

"This led old Digby to consent to the marriage, which shortly afterward took place. In the end he had reason and good ones, to be proud of his son-in-law; though he was once heard to remark, touching that rare piece of property, upon the strength of which he had consented to the match, "If it could not take wings, it was liable at any time to walk off!"

A boy was asked which was the greatest evil, hurting another's feelings or his finger. "The feelings," he said. "Right, my dear child," said the gratified priest; "and why is it worse to hurt the feelings?" "Because you can't tie a rag round them," exclaimed the child.

A fastidious English lady, on her travels stopped temporarily at the big cabin of a literary trapper in Oregon, and seeing the essays of Carlyle and Macaulay on the table, asked the frontiersman what the tho't of those authors. "Oh!" said the frontiersman, then fellers is some pumpkin.—"They kin sling 'em; they ken, now I tell you."

A French paper tells the following: "A Frenchman who had purchased a country seat was complaining of the want of birds in his garden. 'Set some traps,' replied an officer, and they'll come." I was once in Africa and there wasn't supposed to be a woman within two hundred miles. I hung a pair of earrings and a bracelet upon a tree, and the next morning I found two women under the branches."

A Wife's heroic Devotion.

On the 31st of October, at about three o'clock in the morning, Mr. Rambo of Leavenworth was aroused by cries of distress coming apparently from the river. The voice was that of a woman. He at once unfastened a skiff and rowed out in the direction of the sounds. He soon came in sight of a dark object floating down the river, which he overhauled and found to be two skiffs lashed together and bottom side up. A woman clinging to them and called to him for God's sake to be quick as she was nearly exhausted. Mr. Rambo pulled alongside and discovered further that she was holding to one of the skiffs with one hand and with the other clutching firmly the hair of a man's head, which she was with heroic nerve trying to keep above the waves. With much difficulty the inanimate form of the man was taken into the skiff into which the woman followed, and not stopping to secure the boats asked to be set on shore, where the man was taken out and found to be still insensible. Restoratives were procured, and after several hours' hard work he was saved. The pair gave their names as G. Foster and wife, and said that they, in company with a man, had started from Omaha in the two skiffs for some point down the river. Several miles above later, about 10 o'clock on Monday night, the boats struck a snag and were overturned. The stranger was drowned at once, and in the attempt to save him Mr. Foster became so exhausted as to sink, but was close enough to the boats in which his wife was hanging to be caught by her, but being unable to change her position, was compelled to float down in the wild waste of waters, expecting to meet death every instant, until she was heard and rescued. For five hours she endured the torture of her constrained position, and risked her own life to save her husband's—and succeeded.

Campaign against the Sioux.

A Detachment, under command of General Crook has been organized to make a winter campaign against the hostile Sioux. It has been fitted out with great care and efficiency, and ought to be able to accomplish something of lasting advantage to the country. But after the recent experiences of Indian campaigns a doubt naturally arises whether it can or will achieve anything more than its predecessors; and if it could, there is still the further question as to whether this is the best mode of subduing the Indian tribes, and winning their confidence and respect? A more humane and generous policy might possibly prove more effective; and, indeed, experience has shown that what the Indians need is not so much arbitrary compulsion as just and merciful treatment. They will rebel to the last against the sword and the cannon; a gentle spirit and a kindly word may disarm them at once.

The Number that attended the Centennial Exhibition.

According to the official returns more than 8,000,000 persons have attended the Exhibition. This is a larger number than was at one time expected; and it has been made in fair proportions by people from all parts of Europe, the States, and Canada. As a result of this, the financial returns are eminently satisfactory. The Committee reports an actual surplus over the working expenses of at least $2,000,000. This is more than the most sanguine expected; and the question is now raised whether, out of this sum, the appropriation made by Congress shall be returned, or whether it shall be devoted to some great object in memorial of both the Centennial and the Exhibition itself.

Some anxiety has been experienced, respecting the non-arrival of the steamship Prinkin, which is supposed to have crossed on board. According to all calculations she should have arrived at New York three weeks since. The suspense has been removed by a telegram announcing that the Prinkin put into St. Thomas on the 5th inst. for repairs. She had a very stormy passage, and had run short of coal. It is still asserted that the man in custody is the veritable "Boss," and that he may now be expected to arrive in New York very shortly. The interest attaching to his arrival, however, is completely overshadowed by the more engrossing topic of the Presidential election.

The public prosecutor of Hamburg has instituted proceedings against Ferdinand Keyn, late master of the German steamer "Fraucowia," for manslaughter in running down the British steamer "Strathclyde" and causing the death of a number of persons through culpable negligence. Captain Keyn has already been tried and convicted in England where, it will be remembered, sentence was not pronounced because the chief Justice ruled that an English court had no jurisdiction.

One gratifying announcement is made in the midst of all the political hubbub and commotion. It is that Mr. F. D. Moulton has abandoned his suit against the Rev. H. W. Beecher for malicious prosecution. The reason assigned for this sudden termination of the suit are that the change of venue by Judge Westbrook from Kings to Delaware County, would involve an amount of inconvenience and expense which the plaintiff is both unwilling and unable to bear, and that he consents to have vindicated himself against the charges of being a blackmailer. The order of discontinuance of the suit is accompanied with an offer to pay the defendant's tax costs. It is a perfect relief to read such an announcement.

hoped that society will be saved from any renewal of this, or any other similar scandal.

Cardinal Simoni has been appointed as the successor to the late Cardinal Antonelli as Secretary of State.

LATEST NEWS.

The Eastern Question like the Presidential contest in the United States is yet undecided. The latest telegrams from London, state that "The papers of the 20th generally take a more hopeful view of the situation. The Times says: This morning opens so fairly that we are, perhaps, led to be too sanguine in holding that peace is assured. It is hard to believe that when ten persons, all representing Powers deeply interested in keeping peace, meet in council, they will not maintain peace unbroken."

The late cyclone in India was very destructive to life and property. Three islands near the estuary of the river Megna, Eastern Bengal, were overwhelmed by the cyclone, with a population of 349,000, of which number it is estimated 215,000 lost their lives. A wave swept over the country to a depth in many places of twenty feet. Cattle, boats, and everything was swept away. The government is relieving the survivors.

The Indian Government is preparing to send a strong contingent of troops to Egypt, if it was declared in Europe.

There was a heavy northeasterly storm all along the United States coast on Sunday and Monday last.

The French Protestant Church at Quebec, was opened on Sunday last.

THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT has been made to do duty on all occasions recently. The election at St. John was decided upon sustaining the Government. The School Question had nothing whatever to do with it. This we gather from the journals of the city. Some of our contemporaries have also been hammering at the Government policy, condemning their Financial, Public Works, Immigration, and Crown Lands management, their want of ability, and even go so far as to accuse some of its members of a want of political morality. We have felt friendly to the present administration, principally for their having been instrumental in carrying the School Law, and their policy on that important matter—which recent events, we regret to say, leads us to believe, is becoming a secondary consideration; no candid, honest man, can successfully contradict the fact; public utterances and recent events warrent the belief. It is no part of our duty to be either an apologist or defender of any administration. They are elected to office to perform certain duties, and their constituents rely upon their faithful performance, and when they are dissatisfied with their acts, it is made known through the Legislature, and should a majority of the members agree, a vote of "want of confidence" is passed and the rulers resign. It does not always follow that better men fill their places, but the change satisfies the people for a time. It is probable that there will be some lively scenes in the House during the approaching Session. It is not "all gold that glitters" nor are all the charges likely to prove correct. On another occasion we may refer more particularly to some of them.

DENTISTRY.—Dr. J. E. Grant, has been doing some excellent work in this profession, in this town, which has given great satisfaction, so much so, that he has been invited to visit the place professionally at stated periods, which he has consented to do. The Dr. extracts, fills, and makes from one to a whole set of teeth.

"WELCOME HOME."—Under this heading we notice in the Daily Standard published at Eureka, California, a very complimentary notice of the arrival of our young friend Mr. Jas. T. Keleher. "On the arrival of the steamer he was greeted by hosts of friends and the Eureka Band saluted Mr. Keleher. He was driven in a carriage to the Vance Hotel. He must be very popular."

VALUABLE PROPERTIES.—We direct attention to the sale of valuable properties to take place on Saturday next, C. E. O. Hatheway, Auctioneer.

The weather still continues mild for the season; no snow and very little frost; farmers are ploughing and some of the crops are not yet out of the ground.

The St. John Election which took place on Saturday last resulted in the return of Mr. MARSHALL. The votes stood as follows:—

Marshall 1351. Everett 1163. Majority for Marshall 188.

The constituency have decided two matters; first, that the so termed government candidate is their choice, and secondly—that they were more anxious to support the Government than the School Law, which they choose to do. Henceforward the question of non-Sectarian Schools can not enter into an election contest. We trust now that the election is over, bickering will cease and kindly feelings prevail. It is probable that Mr. Everett will, at another time be elected; a man of his ability and record, will take his place in the political arena.

WINTER GOODS.—The "Manchester House" has now open and for sale, a large and varied assortment of fashionable Winter Goods, just received direct from the English and other markets.—See advertisement.

CHARLOTTE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Annual Meeting of the Charlotte County Agricultural Society, was held in Paul's Hall, Friday, Nov. 17th at 2 o'clock p. m. The President, R. Stevenson, Esq. in the chair. There was a large attendance of members. The minutes of the last annual meeting, and those of the meetings of the committee of management during the year, were read and approved. John S. Magee, Esq., Treasurer, submitted the accounts and vouchers, showing a balance to the credit of the Society of sixty-four dollars. The following gentlemen were appointed a committee of audit: Thos. Hipwell, James Mowatt, Thomas Finlay. They reported, that they had examined the accounts of the Treasurer, and found them strictly correct.

On motion of Alex. T. Paul, Esq., seconded by Mr. Overy—report of audit committee was received and adopted by a unanimous vote.

Moved by Alex. T. Paul, sec. by James Russell, That for the future an audit committee upon the accounts of the current year, be appointed upon the day of the annual cattle show, and that the Secy's-Treasurer hand his accounts to that committee, three days before the annual meeting. Carried.

The annual report was then read.

GENTLEMEN.—At the expiration of another year the fifty sixth since the Charlotte County Agricultural Society was inaugurated; we are pleased to meet you, and submit for your information the accounts and vouchers of the Treasurer together with a review of the Society's work for the past year. It is very satisfactory to state that there are no unpleasant reminiscences connected therewith and that its work has been carried on quietly, harmoniously, and successfully. During the past year the committee of management met on occasion required, and gave their best effort towards carrying out the well understood wishes of the society's members.

The annual ploughing match was held on the 12th October, on Mr. Thomas Hill's farm, Hills Point Parish of St. David, in a field kindly placed at the disposal of the Society, for that purpose by Mr. Hill. Seven horses and one ox teams were on the field; the work performed was such as to elicit the warmest commendation of the judges Messrs. William Connors, Robert Denmore and Hugh Wilson. The President Robert Stevenson, Esq., and several members of the committee who were in attendance, were very much gratified with the successful result, and beg to tender to Mr. Hill, their best thanks for the hospitable way in which he entertained them, the judges and ploughmen. They also desire to express their sense of obligation to the gentlemen who acted as judges.

The annual cattle show and fair which was held on the 15th October was one of the most successful ever held by the society. A large concourse of pleased spectators were in attendance and the award made by the judges in the various departments, met with general approval. The society is very much indebted to the ladies and gentlemen, who acted as judges whose work was done with discrimination and impartiality.

The past summer was remarkable for the long continuance of dry weather, fears at some periods there were entertained that the crops would be a great deficiency in the crops, particularly in what may be termed the principal crop of this district, viz—grass and turnips, of the former the yield was less in quantity than the average, but the quality made up for any deficiency in that respect; the yield of turnips was simply magnificent, far exceeding in quantity and quality the expectation of the most sanguine; the same remark will apply to the potato crop, the samples shewn at the fair were of marvelous size firm and dry; the yield was most abundant; the tillers of the soil have indeed received an ample reward for their labours.

A want long felt in this section of the county has been filled, through the enterprise of Mr. W. B. Morris, a member of this society, who has established an agricultural implement depot in the town of St. Andrews, where may be found the newest patents in every kind of agricultural implements, all of Dominion manufacture, and in quality to, and much lower in price than implements of the same kind imported from the United States.

The farmer has with other classes of the community felt the depression of the times, but through the bountiful provision of Providence, by the medium of abundant crops, feels its effect in a much less degree than does his neighbors in mechanical and mercantile pursuits. Truly we may say, that peace and plenty prevails in all our borders, which happy state of affairs it is to be hoped may long continue.

R. STEVENSON, President.

JOHN S. MAGEE, Secy.

By a unanimous vote report was approved of and ordered to be placed in the records.

Mr. Charles E. Mowatt moved and James Russell, Esq. seconded the following resolution, which after discussion was adopted, viz:—

Whereas unscrupulous parties have made statements in the press and otherwise, in reference to the quality of turnips raised at the Bay Side, Parish of St. Croix, calculated to convey the idea that they are inferior to those grown in other sections of this county.

Therefore resolved—That we unhesitatingly affirm that the turnips raised in the parish aforesaid, are not excelled in quality and flavor by those grown in any other parish in this county.

Moved, seconded and adopted—That the committee appointed to invest the proceeds of the Justice's note, place the amount in the Savings Bank, for the present.

Moved by Alex. T. Paul, Esq., sec. by James Russell, Esq.—That the owners of the Alderney Bull, "Dan Godfrey," now at the Alma House farm, be authorized to sell him to any parties in the province who will undertake to keep the animal three years for breeding purposes only, and give security to that effect satisfactory to the committee appointed for that purpose by this meeting. The President and Secretary were appointed as the committee.

The president then vacated the chair, and A. W. Smith took it. When it was moved, seconded and unanimously adopted—

That the thanks of the meeting be and are hereby tendered to the president for his able and valuable services as president, and that the meeting signify the same by unanimously re-electing him our president for the ensuing year.

Mr. Smith in felicitous terms, conveyed the expression of the sentiments of the meeting to the president, and expressed his pleasure at vacating the chair in his favor. The other officers for the ensuing year were then elected, the list being as follows:—

Robert Stevenson, Esq., President; Alex. T. Paul and James Russell, Esquires, Vice Presidents; John S. Magee, Esq., Secy.; Treasurer, George S. Grimmer, Esq., James McFarlane, John Curry, Benj. Pettigrove, Robert Denmore, Charles Kennedy, William Rollins, Geo. Mowatt, John Emery—committee of Management.

Moved by George Mowatt Sec. by James Russell, That the society as usual have an annual dinner.—Carried.

Messrs. George Mowatt, William Rollins and Robert Denmore, were appointed a committee to make arrangements for the same.

The Annual Dinner is to be held on the evening of Thursday November 30th at Mr. Kennedy's Hotel. Tickets $1 each which may be had from any of the committee.

[ We are indebted to the Secretary, Mr. Magee, for a copy of the proceedings.]

HOW THE CENTENNIAL REVIVES BUSINESS.

Much has been said by the press throughout the country about the visitors to the Centennial, and the advantages to be derived by the Exhibition. But the American Builder advances an idea which we have not seen alluded to elsewhere:

Every merchant and most well-to-do farmers have visited some of our large cities. But never before did they bring their wives and families. This last is the marked feature of the travel this year. For the first time in a number of cases, the wife, mother and daughter, have passed the borders of their native States. To them the crowded car, the well lighted hotel, the thronged streets, the new customs, are a revelation. They will carry back to their home new wants and desires. Inevitably, perhaps, there will be a change in household and personal habits. The furniture of the parlor and sleeping room will have additions and changes. Clothing once esteemed as tasteful will be replaced by other styles, not more expensive, but of different shades and shapes. The mechanic or the farmer will have new and enlarged ideas of his power as a part of our political and economical forces. This increased knowledge is one of the principal reasons why such exhibitions are encouraged; and it is to play no unimportant part in the present marked revival of business activity.—Scientific American

A VESSEL BURNED AT SEA.—A Sydney, C. B. despatch says:—Capt. Letteny, of the brig John Good, reports that on Monday, 6th inst. at 10 a. m., when off Scatarie, sighted a ship on fire. Bore down upon her and attempted to board her with the long boat. The mizen-mast had gone over and the flames had reached the main hatch and her yards were adrift. We had to abandon the attempt. She proved to be the Russian bark Prita, from Liverpool bound to Miranichi, 51 days out. Meantime we saw a brigantine bearing down also, the Hebe, from Lanilla, Wales, bound to P. E. I. She hoove to and attempted to board the bark. She wished us to take part of the crew, as she had picked them up in an open boat a few hours before. We took three of them and brought them to this port.

Representative and Champion of American Art Taste.
PROSPECTUS FOR 1875—EIGHTH YEAR. E.
THE ALDINE,
THE ART JOURNAL OF AMERICA.
ISSUED MONTHLY.
A MAGNIFICENT CONCEPTION, WONDERFULLY CARRIED OUT.

The necessity of a popular medium for the representation of the productions of our great artists, has always been recognized, and many attempts have been made to meet the want. The successive failures which so invariably allowed each attempt in this country to establish an art journal, did not prove the indifference of the people of America to the claims of high art. So soon as a proper appreciation of the want and an ability to meet it were shown, the public art journal, with such a gratifying and commercial triumph—THE ALDINE. THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has some of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, plain, and graceful literature; and a collection of specimens of the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number adds a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it is bound up at the end of the year. While other publications may claim superior elegance, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume can not dispute the quality of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for the same cost, and then, there is the chromo, besides!

The national feature of THE ALDINE is its publication in so narrow a space. The artistic population, while THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art. Its mission is to cultivate a broad and appreciative art taste, one that will discriminate only on ground of intrinsic merit. Thus, while placing before the patrons of THE ALDINE, as leading characteristic, the productions of the most noted American artists, attention will always be given to specimens from foreign masters.

The artistic illustration of American scenery, or original with THE ALDINE, is an important feature, and its magnificent plates are of a size more appropriate to the size of the treatment of details than can be afforded by any inferior page. The judicious interposition of landscape, marine, figure, and animal subjects, sustain an unabated interest, impose this upon the scope of the work confines the artist too closely to a single style of subject. The illustrations of THE ALDINE is a light and graceful accompaniment, worthy of the artistic nature, with only such technical disquisitions as do not interfere with the popular interest of the work.

PREMIUM FOR 1875

Besides the chromo, every advance subscriber to THE ALDINE for 1875 is constituted a member, and entitled to all the privileges of THE ALDINE ASSOCIATION.

The Union owns the originals of all THE ALDINE pictures, which, with other paintings and engravings, are to be distributed among the members. To every series of 5,000 subscribers, 100 different pictures, valued at over $2,500 are distributed as soon as the series is full, and the awards of each series as made are to be published in the next succeeding issue of THE ALDINE. This feature only applies to subscribers who pay for one year in advance. Full particulars in circular sent on application enclosing a stamp.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of WALKER'S BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Insignifier of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of WALKER'S BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Biliary Diseases.

If men will enjoy good health, let them use WALKER'S BITTERS as a medicine, and avoid the use of alcoholic stimulants in every form.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their disease is not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair. Grateful Thousands proclaim WALKER'S BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system. Biliary, Rheumatic, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invasions accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon the various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulder, Cough, Tightness of the Chest, Blisters, Bowel Evacuations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Biliary Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the Region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful affections, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Gout, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Scab Eruptions, etc. In those, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Blisters, Rheumatism and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases, or Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Nerve. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Spots, Pimples, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scour, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors, and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally long up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuge, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Jandice.—In all cases of jaundice, rest assured that your liver is not doing its work. The only sensible treatment is to promote the secretion of the bile and favor its removal. For this purpose use WALKER'S BITTERS.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
