Mackenzie will take place in the following order: After a short service at the residence, St. Albans street, at 12 o'clock on Wednesday, the remains will be taken to Jarvis Street Baptist Church, where a public funeral service will be held at 1 o'clock. The casket, however, will not be opened at the church. After the service the cortege will proceed to the Union station. The remains, accompanied by the family, will leave about 3:30 by G. T. R. special via the southern division to Sarnia. At Sarnia the body will remain at Mr. Chas. Mackenzie's house till the following day (Thursday), when it will be removed to St. Andrew's Church, whence the funeral will proceed to the family burying plot in Lakeview Cemetery at 5:30 p.m.

KIND WORDS FOR THE BEREAVED.

Among the telegrams of condolence received by Mrs. Mackenzie were the following from the Governor-General at Ottawa: "I have received the following message from Lord Knutsford, Secretary of the Colonies: Please convey to Mr. Mackenzie's family the expression of my deep regret at the loss which they and the Dominion of Canada have sustained."

From Hon. Wilfrid and Madame Laurier: "Accept from my wife and myself our heartfelt sympathies in your sad bereavement."

From. Hon. Thomas Greenway, Premier of Manitoba: "On behalf of myself and colleagues in the Government of Manitoba, I desire to express sincere sympathy with you in your sad bereavement."

A cable message from Pitlochrie, Perthshire, Scotland, says: "Athol mourns her son."

Among others who sent condolences were: Hon. Justice MacMahon, Ottawa; Judges Jette and Taschereau, Montreal; East Lambton Reform Association; Hon. C. A. Pelletier, Quebec; Hon. A. S. Hardy, Brantford; L. J. Seargeant, general manager Grand Trunk; Hon. D. A. Macdonald, Montreal; New Glasgow, N. S., Liberal Association; Sir Donald A. Smith, Montreal; Hon. A. G. Jones, Halifax.

The executive of the Toronto Young Men's Liberal Club held a meeting at the Reform Club this evening and passed a resolution of condolence with the family of Mr. Mackenzie.

The Liberal convention has been postponed till Thursday.

MR. MACKENZIE AND THE WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The following confidential and now most valuable and characteristic letter was written shortly after the close of the Parliamentary session of 1875, when Mr. Mackenzie was in the hey-day of power as Premier of Canada. We are now permitted to publish it, and gladly avail ourselves of the opportunity, for it discloses the inherent integrity and sterling sense of duty which were the characteristics of the dead statesman:

"Confidential.

"OTTAWA, April 27, 1875.

"My dear H——, I have your note regarding C——. I will endeavor to employ him within a few days at Thunder Bay on the commissariat staff, though I fear he his rather old, especially as his chief (B's. father) is older. I have sent Mr. Kingston's letter to Mr. Laird to consider.

"I am quite concerned about the dinner. I can hardly go to speak freely at present, and I always like to have it in my power to speak without restraint or stint.

"I would like much to be relieved of the Public Works Department; but I cannot see my way to that at present. It is the great spending department, the possible great jobbing department, the department that can make or ruin a Government at such a time as this, when $25,000,000 are in the power of its head to spend on public works. Friends (?) expect to be benefited by offices they are unfit for, by contracts they are not entitled to, by advance not earned. Enemies ally themselves with friends, and push the friends to the front. Some attempt to storm the office. Some dig trenches at a distance and approach in regular siege form. I feel like the besieged lying on my arms night and day. I have offended at least twenty Parliamentary friends by my defense of the 'citadel.' A weak Minister here would ruin the party in a month, and the country very soon. So I must drudge on as best may and carry out the experiment of doing right whatever happens, and trusting to have a majority in the House to sustain me, and when that fails I will go out cheerfully if not joyfully.

"Let me know the current talk and your opinion about the filling of the Supreme Court.

"I am, yours faithfully,

"A. MACKENZIE."

A FREE TRADE ADVOCATE.

"Mr. Mackenzie's most memorable appearance in Toronto," said Mr. A. F. Jury in the course of a talk about the dead statesman, "was at the great meeting in the Adelaide Street Rink, at which he opened the campaign of 1878 by an address on the tariff issues, with special reference to the interests of labor. I have taken part in many political meetings, but never before or since has it been my lot to preside over one at which such a deliberate attempt was made to intimidate a speaker or at which the mob was fought so successfully. The circumstances were peculiar. A period of world-wide depression was at its worst, and Canada was not exempt from it. The National Policy cry had been raised with great effect in the industrial centers, and Mr. Mackenzie was asked to deliver an address before the workingmen of Toronto in defense of free trade. Admission was by ticket, but our opponents forged the tickets, and when Mr. Mackenzie rose to speak the entire front part of the hall was in possession of the obstructionists. For an hour they howled as only paid howlers can, and shook their fists and sticks in the Premier's face. Dauntless he faced them, and waited until the storm had time to spend itself. Mr. Mackenzie at that time was a man of magnificent physique, with a frame of steel. Few could have stood the strain of such an occasion as he did. At length he secured a hearing and made a splendid address that formed the party platform in the election. He stood by the principles of free trade as the best for Canada, a principle he never swerved from till the end. This steadfastness was perhaps the finest trait in his fine character."

TOKENS OF RESPECT.

Sir John Thompson, as leader of the House, and Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, as one of the senior Privy Councilors, will represent the Government at the funeral of the late Alex. Mackenzie.

The flags on the business houses and prominent residences in Hamilton are at half-mast to-day out of respect to the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie. The local newspapers each have an editorial of a very eulogistic character.

The news of the death of Hon. Alex. Mackenzie caused profound regret in Petrolea. Mayor Simmons issued a proclamation calling upon all places of business to close on Thursday between 2 and 4 o'clock, the hours of the funeral. Flags are at half-mast on prominent buildings.

A meeting of Montreal Liberals has called for Tuesday to take action in connection with Mr. Mackenzie's death. Flags have been at half-mast over the city hall and other public buildings out of respect to the memory of the deceased.

The Montreal papers, both English and French, are very eulogistic in their comments upon the character and career of Alexander Mackenzie.

The Grand Trunk Company will issue return tickets at single fare from Toronto and all stations west to Sarnia upon all trains on Wednesday and upon morning trains on Thursday, good to return until Friday, the 22nd, for the convenience of citizens desirous of attending Mr. Mackenzie's funeral.

The mayor of Toronto has called a special meeting of the council to attend the funeral of the late Hon. Alexander Mackenzie.

The Toronto Ministerial Association has passed a resolution of condolence with the family of the late Mr. Mackenzie.

The mayor of Toronto has issued a proclamation asking that merchants close their offices and stores on Wednesday during the hours of Mr. Mackenzie's funeral.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the East York Conservative Association a resolution was passed expressing sympathy with Mrs. Mackenzie in the loss of her husband, and also expressing, on behalf of the Conservatives of East York, their appreciation of the public services of their late member. The officers of the association, together with their candidates in their two last elections, will attend the funeral as representatives of the association.

An Ottawa dispatch says: "The attendance of members of the House of Commons at the funeral of the late Hon. Alexander Mackenzie will be exceedingly large. The Liberal members who have returned after Easter will attend en masse."

From Ottawa, Hon. Justice MacMahon telegraphs: "Please accept Mrs. MacMahon's and my heartfelt sympathy in your great bereavement."

From Mayor MacPherson, Kincardine: "Sympathetic and deep sorrow pervades this community on the death of your husband. May consolation from on High support you."

RECREANT READ

Deserts His Wife and Six Children for a Brantford Girl—His Career Checked.

BRANTFORD, April 18.—This afternoon a man named John Read was arrested on a charge of bigamy. Read came here about a year and a half ago and began paying his respects to a young woman named Mary J. Lefler, of Waterford, who was living here at that time. On the 20th of May, 1890, the two were married by the Rev. James Awde. It seems that before he came here Reade deserted a wife and six children, who have since been living in the county of Cardwell. The first wife arrived here yesterday and made inquiries for her husband which resulted in his arrest.

TEN VICTIMS!

Terrific Explosion in New Jersey—Seven Powder Mills Destroyed—Sad Loss of Life.

NEWARK, N. J., April 18.—The Hector Decastro & Co.'s forcite powder mills, near the landing station of Lake Hopatcong, blew up this afternoon. Ten men are reported to have been killed, among them Superintendent Smith, who was in charge of the buildings and works.

The report of the explosion was terrific. Buildings in the vicinity rocked on their foundations. The main building of the works was completely torn asunder. Huge pieces of timber were sent flying through the air and landed hundreds of feet distant from the wrecked structure.

THE VICTIMS.

The names of the killed as far as learned are: Superintendent J. P. Smith, David Carlsen, Godfrey Water, Henry Pierce, James Bath and Benjamin Passamere.

SEVEN BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

The nitro glycerine mill was the first of the buildings to blow up. Within a few minutes afterward six other buildings were rent by terrible explosions.

Piles. Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. A Cruel Crush.

Terrible Sequel to an Easter Holiday Excursion.

Two Women and Six Children Trampled to Death.

Cartridges in Cigar Holders.

LONDON, April 19.—A railway guard named Brandt found to-day in the Wernigerode station what he at first supposed was an ordinary cigar and holder, but which, on closer inspection, proved to be a dynamite cartridge inserted in a cigar holder. While an official was examining the cartridge it exploded, tearing his hand to pieces.

Work for Woodchoppers.

LONDON, April 19.—The London firewood choppers have come to an amicable arrangement with the Salvation Army respecting the size and price of the bundles. It came out in the course of the negotiations that the army has from the first lost money in the woodchopping business, and that it is kept on chiefly to find work for the 4,000 men who nightly sleep in the Salvation shelters in London.

Catastrophe at Hampstead.

LONDON, April 18.—A terrible catastrophe took place at Hampstead Heath this evening, by which two women and six children were killed, and thirteen other persons were seriously injured.

Hampstead, which is a favorite holiday resort, about four miles from London, was visited by thousands of excursionists today, and as the day closed there was a great rush of people to catch the trains to return home.

In the crush somebody fell at the foot of a staircase of the railway station, and in a moment hundreds of persons above were thrown into a struggling mass. The police at once closed the doors and set to work to extricate the dead and injured.

Four of the dead have been identified as Emily Hamilton, aged 55; Annie Eaton, aged 40; John Connor, aged 9, and Thomas Longford, aged 14. The other bodies are those of boys of from 9 to 15 years. Many were injured.

Continental Notes.

The Austrian press protests strongly against the semi-official statement that the budget will provide for a large increase of the army.

Austin Lee, secretary of the British Legation in Paris, is engaged to marry Mrs. De Wolf Taylor, an American lady.

The Spanish squadron now at Barcelona has been ordered to remain there till after May Day. It is reported all demonstrations on May Day will be prohibited.

The London Standard's Berlin correspondent says the chief of the St. Petersburg police has received an anonymous letter to the effect that the Nihilists have practically rejected Anarchist overtures for an alliance of forces.

The Prussian Premiership.

Chancellor Von Caprivi has been dropping out of sight since his withdrawal from the Prussian Premiership. He seems to have no wish to retain the Chancellorship. There is every probability that within three months, and perhaps less, Count Eulenburg will be installed at the Reichskanzler, and there is reason to believe that the new Prussian Premier has decided to lean chiefly on the Conservatives, who will of course have to join hands with other parties if they are to maintain their influence. Among his friends he has the reputation of being an astute and a more skillful man than his blunders might lead one to suppose.

An Emperor's Whaling Trip.

BERLIN, April 19.—Preparations for Emperor William's whaling trip are completed, and the Imperial yacht, Hohenzollern, which the Emperor usually commands in the uniform of an admiral, has been overhauled. The Imperial party will reach Bodoe harbor on July 9, and thence will proceed with the Graver brothers to their famous whaling station in Skaaroe, north of Tromsoe. The fleet of whalers will put out on July 12, and the Emperor will ship in one of the common boats, as his original plan to accompany the fleet in the Hohenzollern has been abandoned. The Emperor will follow the advice of his physician and will "rough it." He hopes thus to improve his health and stay the progress of the disease in his ear. His departure has been deferred until July, so that he may remain in Potsdam until the Empress shall have recovered from her accouchement, which is expected to occur early in June.

PRESBYTERIANS IN SESSION.

The Synod of Hamilton and London at Stratford.

STRATFORD, April 19.—The Synod of Hamilton and London met last evening in Knox Church, Stratford, at 7:30 o'clock. The Synod is one of the largest in the church, comprising nine Presbyteries and all the ministers and congregations from Niagara Falls west to Windsor, Sarnia and Goderich, including the branch lines of the G. T. R. Stratford being a central place, the attendance promises to be very large. Some 200 members have already been billeted among friends. Among the more important items of business to come before the synod are the following: The erection of a new Presbytery, to be called the Presbytery of Algoma, comprising the mission stations and congregations along Lake Superior, Georgian Bay and Algoma district; the transference of certain congregations in the Presbytery of Hamilton to the Presbytery of Paris, from the Presbytery of Bruce to the Presbytery of Maitland. A reference from the Presbytery of Hamilton in regard to a complaint of James Watson that occupied considerable time at the last meeting of the Synod; several overtures from different Presbyteries in regard to the matters of law and discipline. The reports from the Committee on State of Religion, on Temperance, on Sabbath Schools and on Sabbath Observance will be given on Tuesday evening. Rev. Wm. Burns, Toronto, will be heard on behalf of the infirm and aged ministers' fund. Drs. Laing and Cochrane will be heard in reference to the augmentation fund. The report of the Brantford Ladies' College will be presented by Dr. Cochrane. The meeting promises to be an interesting and lengthy one, as in addition to the items of business mentioned intimation has been given of other important matters to come before the Synod.

THE NEW MODERATOR.

Rev. Andrew Tolmie, the retiring moderator, opened the Synod with an eloquent sermon from II. Corinthians, v., 21, after which it was duly constituted by prayer. The roll was then called. Rev. Hector McQuarrie, Wingham, and Rev. John Gray, Windsor, were nominated for the position of moderator for the ensuing year. An election being held, Mr. McQuarrie was declared elected. A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring moderator. Committees on bills and overtures to examine records, etc., were appointed and the Synod adjourned, the moderator pronouncing the benediction.

LAURIER, THE LEADER.

Mr. L. H. Davies Disposes of a Current Roorbach—Political Points.

MONTREAL, April 18—Hon. L. H. Davies, who is in Montreal, speaking of the reports that he was to succeed Mr. Laurier as the Liberal leader, stated they were without foundation. "True it is," said Mr. Davies, "Mr. Laurier offered to resign if any of his followers were dissatisfied with his readership, but no dissenting voice was raised against him, and the party will follow Laurier to victory or defeat."

NOTES.

The Supreme Court at Halifax delivered judgment on Monday in the election cases of McColl vs. Tupper and McGillvray vs. Thompson. In the former case Judge Wetherbee gave judgment dismissing the motion to set aside the order extending the time of trial. The case will be tried at Pictou on April 29. In McGillvray vs. Thompson, Judge Meagher gave decision granting the motion to dismiss the petition. The chief justice concurred, Judge Ritchie dissenting.

The Supreme Court of Nova Scotia has delivered judgment in the election cases against Hon. C. H. Tupper and Hon. John Thompson. In the latter the petition was dismissed, and in the former the order extending the time of trial was sustained.

Conservatives in Kingston are angry because R. J. Elliott has been selected by the Executive Committee of the Conservative Association to fill a vacancy in the customs department. He was a letter carrier, and did not immortalize himself in the elections, but he is related to Capt. Gaskin, the leader of the party there, and through his influence Elliott will get the position.

Have We a Grain Ring?

The Matter Mooted at the Council Meeting.

The Hobbs Bonus Proposal Relegated to No. 1 Committee—No License Needed for the Roller Skating Rink.

Mayor Spencer, Ald. John Heaman, Yates, O'Meara, Moule, Jones, Wm. Heaman, Gartshore, Hannah, Connor, Fitzgerald, Leonard, Garratt, Dreaney, Bartlett, Judd, Shaw and Parnell, City Clerk Kingston and Sergeant-at-Arms Merritt attended last night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen. Communications were received as follows:

The Hobbs Hardware Company asked for free water and tax exemption for ten years on the Elliott plow works property, Ridout street. They propose starting a nail mill and beveling and plate glass silvering works. They would begin with a staff of 25 hands, and in a few months would probably employ 75 or 100. Mr. Hobbs stated that the firm had completed the purchase of the property. The business was a growing one. They had carried on business in the city for fifteen years, and had never asked a favor from the Council before. The nail industry was a large one, and the company hoped to cope successfully with other firms.

Ald. Parnell was not in favor of granting bonuses and exemption from taxes, but this was an exceptional case. He moved, and Ald. Wm. Heaman seconded, that the prayer of the petition be granted.

Ald. Judd moved in amendment that the matter be referred to No. 1 Committee, although he was in favor of helping the firm in some way.

Ald. O'Meara seconded. He would not object to granting exemption from taxes, but the free water clause would have to go to the water commissioners.

Other members spoke in the same strain, and the amendment carried.

D. Dodd asked for permission to be heard regarding his tender for the weigh scales, which had been accepted by No. 3 Committee. He held that the highest tender—his own—should have been accepted. There were five tenders higher than the one that the Council had accepted. No action.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

A clause in No. 3 Committee's report recommending the placing of an electric light on the corner of William and Gray streets was struck out by a vote of 9 to 7. A clause regarding the appointment of W. Berry as city chimney sweep was referred back to the committee. The balance of report, as already published in the ADVERTISER, was adopted.

Ald. O'Meara objected to clause 1 of No. 2 Committee's report recommending the acceptance of the tender of A. Gardner & Co., of Toronto, for artificial stone walks. He moved that Mr. Douglas' tender be accepted. His tender was ½ of 1 cent per foot higher than the accepted one. The clause was adopted. The clause recommending the raising of the Victoria bridge breakwater seven feet caused some discussion, but it was finally adopted.

The clause referring to advertising for sidewalks was amended, so that the walk on Dundas street shall be to Burwell street instead of Colborne. The committee referred the communication of Love & Dignan, claiming on behalf of Contractor Wm. Howie extra payment for cedar posts on the Dundas street payment, and it was filed. The committee will get the cost of continuing Marshall street to Lyle.

No. 1 Committee recommended the following accounts for payment:

The Star Fire-Lighter Company objected to the action of No. 1 Committee in recommending in clause 5 exemption of taxes for A. Keenleyside & Co., who propose starting a fire-lighting manufactory.

Ald. Judd moved that clause 5 be struck out and the Star Fire-Lighter Company's communication be filed. Carried. The report as amended was then adopted.

At 10:15 the electric light in the Council Chamber went out for some reason or other, and the gas had to be lighted. Ald. John Heaman asked when the contract for electric lighting expired, and was informed that the date was November, 1893.

Ald. Parnell moved that as D. Dodd had made charges regarding the market and market weigh scales the matter be referred to No. 3 Committee to look into the charges.

Ald. Judd thought it was entirely unnecessary for the Council to take any steps in the matter. Mr. Dodd could lay informations and have the case taken before the courts. The Council was not to be used as a judge and jury.

Ald. O'Meara thought that the whole thing should be treated with silent contempt.

Mr. Dodd had stated that there was a grain ring on the market, and Ald. Gartshore thought that the matter should be ventilated.

Ald. Parnell's motion was lost. Yeas—Ald. John Heaman, Gartshore, Wm. Heaman, Leonard, Fitzgerald, Shaw and Parnell. Nays—Ald. Connor, Yates, O'Meara, Moule, Jones, Hannah, Garratt, Dreaney, Bartlett and Judd.

Ald. Judd moved that walks be constructed in Victoria Park so as to preserve the grass plots. Carried.

Ald. Leonard moved that a bonus in the shape of a tree guard be furnished any ratepayer who plants a tree on a public street, and that the matter be referred to No. 2 Committee. Carried.

BYLAWS.

The bylaw regarding stamping and seizing of bakers' bread came up for its second and third readings.

Ald. Garratt and Judd moved that it be amended so that bakers shall be compelled to carry scales in their wagons so that any customer may weigh any loaf Carried.

Ald. O'Meara moved that the third reading be deferred twelve months. The bakers and not the citizens had brought about the introduction of this bylaw. Ald. Bartlett seconded this motion.

Ald. Moule moved that the reference to 1½-pound loaves be struck out and that only 2-pound loaves be made. Lost.

Ald. Judd agreed with Ald. O'Meara regarding the carrying of scales, but thought that if citizens wanted 1½-pound loaves bakers should be allowed to make them.

Ald. Parnell did not object to carrying the scales. If 1½-pound loaves must not be made, Vienna loaves would have to be abolished for they could not be made to weigh two pounds. It would result in a large number of men being discharged.

Ald. O'Meara moved that the clause regarding the weighing of bread twelve hours old be struck out. Lost.

The bylaw as amended was passed.

The bylaw to fix the assessment of Geo. White & Sons received its three reading and was passed.

The bylaw to repeal the bylaw providing for the annual letting of the market weigh scales was laid over.

The Council adjourned at 11:05 for want of a quorum.

Notice to the Public.

CONTRARY TO THE CITY BYLAWS—Shop-keepers and others are making a practice of distributing dodgers depositing waste water, ashes and the sweepings of their shops and houses on the city streets and the Market Square, thereby making it impossible to cause the city to have a clean or orderly appearance.

It is therefore requested that the public will refrain in every way from this practice, and assist in making the streets look clean.

Any infraction of the bylaws in this or any other respect will be strictly enforced and dealt with as the law provides.

WESTERN ONTARIO.

IRANT.

William Calhoun Palmer, eldest son of John Palmer, proprietor of the Palmer and Kensington Hotels, Toronto, and late proprietor of the Kirby House, Brantford, died Sunday night. The totally unexpected and sudden character of the death of the young man, who was only in his 24th year, add additional sadness to the melancholy event. Mr. Palmer only complained of indisposition on Tuesday last, and took to his bed the following day. He became rapidly worse, and it was then found that he had a malignant attack of diphtheria. Despite every effort of his physician and attention of skilled nurses, the unfortunate young man passed away on Sunday night. The deceased was very popular, courteous and obliging, and since assuming the management of the Hotel Kensington displayed business tact and ability of a high order.

They pay the Dominion Government $400 per year for the exclusive privilege, while a caretaker and the buildings costs them $500 per year.

He fell through the bridge to the ground, a distance of 25 feet, alighting on his feet. Spence was carried to a hotel, where he lay unconscious for some time. The doctors state that no bones were broken by the fall, but are unable to say whether he has suffered internal injuries or not.

PERTH.

Robert Sproule, of Stratford, while crossing the track at the station Friday night, slipped from a rail, giving his leg such a wrench as to dislocate the ankle joint, as well as break one of the bones.

At Osgoode Hall, in the case of Scott vs. McEwing, judgment has been given as to a claim by the defendant against one Knowles in a replevin action tried at Stratford. The goods in question were seized on the plaintiff's premises by the defendant as landlord of certain premises at Listowel of which Knowles was tenant and from which the landlord claimed they were clandestinely removed by Knowles and the plaintiff. The defendant, in addition to other relief asked, asked an order against Knowles (who was not a party to the action) for the amount of rent overdue. This the learned chancellor refuses, no order having been made under rule 328 or otherwise directing that the matter of rent should be determined.

The death has occurred at Milverton of Samuel Attridge. Seven or eight years ago deceased was employed as school teacher in school section No. 5, Downie, where he taught for three years. He had been ailing for a long time with consumption, from which he died.

Wyndham T. Spearin, C. E., son of Mrs. James Spearin, St. Marys, has been promoted to the position of inspector of land surveys for the State of Washington.

SIMCOE.

At Osgoode Hall, in the case of Holt vs. Township of Medonte, judgment has been given in an action tried at Barrie which was brought by the plaintiff Holt, a ratepayer, and by the Board of School Trustees of the township of Medonte to restrain the levying of a school rate over part of school section No. 4, as proposed, and for a mandamus to compel the levying of the rate over the whole of the assessable property of the section which the township council had assumed to divide. The learned chancellor finds that the bylaw which purported to divide the section is invalid. Judgment for the plaintiffs accordingly, with costs subsequent to the filing of the defense as against the defendants the trustees of the de facto new school section. The costs against the township.

WENTWORTH.

The Bell Telephone Company pays $1,500 a year to the city of Hamilton for the privilege of planting poles in the streets.

ZOPYRUS.

An Old Persian Nobleman.

Zopyrus was a nobleman of Persia, who, when Darius had long besieged Babylon in vain, maimed himself by cutting of his nose and ears, and fled to the Babylonians; they, being moved with pity, and taking him to bear a deadly hatred to the king, made him their general; and he, taking a convenient time, delivered the city to his master, who gratefully said, "he would rather have Zopyrus whole, than take twenty Babylons."

Strange it is, but all too true, that even at the present time we have men and women around us who prefer health, name, position and rank to strong and rugged health. How can a sane mortal enjoy the wealth and luxuries of this world, when he or she is enchained with disease and suffering? Riches possessed by such individuals seem to mock their possessors owing to their incapacity, weakness and misery. Health, without lands and gold, is still wealth—it is true life, peace and contentment.

Could every wealthy sufferer realize the fact that weakness, nervousness, sleeplessness, morbidness, moroseness, dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism and bad blood can be swept away by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, they would not hesitate a moment about using it. With many, who doubt, the reason seems to be that the remedy is too simple—the treatment is not complicated enough, and the cost is too insignificant. They look for something more costly and elaborate. This, of course, can be had by placing themselves under the long-suffering care of some physicians. The end of such a course, what does it mean? Often, very often, it means failure and death. Paine's Celery Compound is simple, but it is effective—strong—powerful—mighty to cure.

There is no royal road to health for the wealthy; they must submit to the same agent that works with such great power on their brethren.

It is with pleasure that we note the fact, that our best and wealthiest people are now making Paine's Celery Compound a family medicine. It has been found honest, and worthy of confidence as a true life restorer.

BORDER STATE BRIEFS.

The earnings of Michigan railroads during January have just been reported by the commissioner of railroads, and amounts to $7,759,225 42. For the same month of the preceding year the earnings were $6,986,081 30.

The jury in the case of Moiles vs. "Little Jake" Seligman, at Saginaw, rendered a verdict of $5,000 in favor of the plaintiff. Moiles had been arrested on a charge of obtaining money fraudulently, and sued for false imprisonment.

Mrs. E. Banister, who lives two miles north of Almont has six sisters living, the the eldest being 93 last January, the next 90 this month, the next 88, the next 84, the next 82, the next 80, being a twin of Mrs. B. She also has one brother, who is 72. The united ages of this family is 669 years. All are able to wait on themselves. It is doubtful if such another family record as this exists in the United States.

The Michigan crop report for April, which was issued by the Secretary of State, shows that up to April 1 wheat in all parts of the State had suffered no material injury. As in all open winters, the top has been more or less injured, and in some localities badly browned; but the root is believed to be but little damaged. Even on heavy clay ground that is liable to heave from freezing and thawing, it is not generally injured. It is not, however, up to the standart of last year, the figures for April, 1891, being 97 per cent. in the southern and 92 per cent. in the central counties, while for this year they are 90 and 89 per cent. respectively, the comparison being with average years.

'Lloyd," the World's Greatest Tenor, on May 13.

Writing of Mr. Lloyd's appearance in Cincinnati, the Commercial Gazette said: "He made good all the promises of the festival directors. These hardened gentlemen, with Mr. Hobart, Mr. Laurence Maxwell, jun., and Mr. Robert B. Bowler at their head, have sung the praises of this gentleman to the music of sackbuts and all manner of 'psaltery' for three months past, but he so far exceeded expectations that some professional grumblers are inclined to reproach the directors with 'not letting them know about Lloyd.' He sang the aria, 'Be thou faithful unto death' with a simplicity and emotion that approached sublimity. Every syllable fell from his lips like gold fresh coined. Let nobody say hereafter that the grand old Saxon speech has no music in it. Set to such music, sung by such a voice, it deserves to be the language of the future." The subscription list for Mr. Lloyd's appearance in this city opens to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock at the Bell Piano Company's store, 211 Dundas street. Prices to subscribers: Parquette and circle, $2; family tickets, to admit three persons, $5—this applies positively to subscribers only. Balcony, $1 25. With the exception of Patti, Lloyd commands bigger fees than any other vocalist in the world, Albani included, and with the excellent supporting artists the concert promises to be the finest in the musical history of London. Subscribers will have first choice of seats in the order in which their names appear on the list. The list will close positively on April 30. Be early for good seats. b

THE FOISON KILLED THE DOG,

But a Mustard Emetic Saved the Man.

BOBCAYGEON, April 18.—A startling occurrence took place in North Verulam a few days ago. Andrew Finley, Mrs. Finley and David Walker, who is working with Mr. Finley, sat down to breakfast. There was hot and cold meat placed on the table. Walker took a piece of the cold meat and so did Mr. Finley. No sooner did Mr. Finley take the meat in his mouth than he remarked the extreme bitterness of it and spat it out on the floor, taking a drink of tea to remove the taste.

Breakfast proceeded, and the dog coming in found the meat that Mr. Finley had spit on the floor, and ate it. The two men went out to the field with a team and stone boat, and on the way out Finley began to feel strangely queer. He got into a most profuse perspiration, as he says, the perspiration running into his boots, and a burning sensation in the stomach. Then a sort of cramp came on, but he continued on his way. Shortly another attack of cramp, more severe, led him to believe that something serious was the matter, and it struck him that he was poisoned. He immediately turned to go home, but quickly became helpless and was taken to the house by Walker on the stone boat. In the meantime, the dog, not fifteen minutes after taking the piece of meat on the floor, made a few spasmodic jamps and fell dead.

Mrs. Finley summoned medical aid, and Finley was saved from death from poisoning by strychnine. Subsequently the man David Walker was formally charged with the attempt to poison Andrew Finley and was remanded to Lindsay jail.

A month ago he married a Newark girl, stole her jewelry and her brother's overcoat and deserted her. He was decoyed to Newark. Abbott admits being a bigamist, but denies the larceny. The Brooklyn wife says he had six wives besides herself.

A Seasonable Explanation.

The Husband—So this is the garden that you've told me so much about! Where are the flowers?

The Wife—You see those lathes stuck in the ground, with pieces of paper stuck in them?

A CARD.
To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

A THIEF.
The most insidious of all is the one who robs us of health and vitality. If one's blood does not circulate properly it ferments, becomes sour, in fact becomes like so much foreign matter in our systems, producing inflammation, the cause of rheumatism, eczema, blood poisoning, ulcers, sores, erysipelas, tuberculosis, and all kindred diseases. Call them what you may, they are all produced from the same cause.
Brunton's Curative Fluid internally, and Curative Absorbent externally, neutralizes the acid produced by the fermentation, purifies the blood, and nature performs a cure. Try it. For sale at druggists.

—[BROWNING.

London, Tuesday, April 19.

For carrying marble blocks on their heads from the quarries, Italian women receive 25 cents per day, and have struck for 3 cents more. Italy has a high protective tariff.

The grand Trunk Railway will issue one-fare round trip tickets to Sarnia to-morrow and Thursday, to all who wish to attend Hon. A. Mackenzie's funeral. This arrangement will be welcomed by many admirers of the dead statesman.

A Liberal citizen of Kingston has been fined $5 for disturbing a Conservative meeting. In the late campaign he asked Hon. Mr. Bowell a question. For this he was arrested and fined. He is a poor politician who cannot bear to be "heckled" by the electorate. That is the life of old world public gatherings. It is not surprising to learn that the judgment in this case will be appealed.

What a gulf there is between the views of what is or is not right entertained by the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie and some of the men who have succeeded him in the Government of Canada. Mr. Mackenzie was always ready and willing to have every accusation against himself personally or against his Cabinet fully investigated. Read what he said at Kingston when accused of nepotism in letting a contract:

"I state as a matter of fact that it is utterly false that any relation or connection of mine had any interest or share in this contract. And I hereby challenge them to ask for a committee and have witnesses examined on oath."

No beating about the bush, or cavilling at alleged lack of particulars, or shielding himself behind some man of straw in that declaration. An honest man can afford to be courageous at all times, and the ex-Premier was honesty personified.

THE SUGAR COMBINE.

Sir Richard Cartwright, in his speech at Ingersoll, exposed the fallacy of the contention of those who assert that sugar is not now taxed, and charged that Senator Drummond and the other members of the combine draw an enormous sum of money every year out of the Canadian consumers. Senator Drummond has since written indignantly denying the truth of Sir Richard's contentions, and alleging that they had "not the shadow of a foundation."

The Canadian Manufacturer, while announcing that it is no friend of Sir Richard Cartwright, and as a "protectionist" organ cannot be expected to favor the policy of freedom to buy and to sell, defends Sir Richard from the attacks of Mr. Drummond, and says the sugar combine has deliberately placed in Sir Richard's hands a club which he would be but a poor politician or debater if he did not use unsparingly.

The Manufacturer asserts that Mr. Stairs, who is a member of Parliament and also head of one of the largest sugar refineries, stated in Parliament that "the Canadian refiners could manufacture sugar quite as cheaply as the American refiners." Accepting this fact, the Manufacturer points out that the McKinley tariff imposes a duty of $10 per ton on sugar entering the United States, whereas the duty on sugar entering Canada is $16 per ton. Why, asks the Manufacturer, this difference of $6 per ton—60 per cent.!—higher duty in Canada than in the United States? Can any of the advocates of the unnecessary sugar tax explain it? The Manufacturer asserts that none of them have ever attempted to explain it, and it further maintains that on the 125,000 tons of sugar used by Canadians every year there is "an extraordinary and unnecessary additional duty of $6 per ton above what the McKinley tariff allows American refiners representing $750,000 per year, which the Canadian tariff allows Mr. Drummond, Mr. Stairs and a few other gentlemen, to wring out of the consumers of sugar."

"Another remarkable feature in this sugar question," says the same authority, "is that the limit of free sugar is that which is not higher than No. 14 Dutch standard, while in the United States the limit is No. 16. Our readers will understand that No. 14 raw sugar, which is the only sort imported into Canada duty free, is entirely unfit for human food, while No. 16, which is the sort imported free into the United States, is a beautiful light brown sugar which is well adapted for many domestic purposes and would constitute probably at least 25 per cent. of the consumption if it were allowed in duty free." Of this brown sugar about 30,000 tons would be imported every year but for the duty, which amounts to $180,000. Why should this tax not go into the pockets of the consumers, instead of into the coffers of the refiners already enjoying great advantages.

The Manufacturer has good cause to be ashamed of its fellow-protectionists in the sugar ring, but they do not stand alone by any means.

SWINDLES THAT INJURE CANADA.

The good name of Canada was dragged to the dust once more by the Canadian Pacific Colonization Corporation (limited), the doings of which have been laid bare in the High Court of Justice at London. Miss Knox, a monied spinster, had been induced to take stock in this "corporation" by the misrepresentations contained in a prospectus issued by Canon Hayman and others, directors of the organization, and she brought suit to recover £300 paid in for stock. Hayman, the defendant, is a canon of Carlisle Cathedral and an ex-head master of Rugby School; but it was in his quality as chairman of the Canadian Pacific Colonization Corporation, Limited, that the reverend gentleman was attacked. This company owned certain concessions which were sold to the Sweet Water Ranch Company for £3,000; this company sold out to the New Canadian Crown Lands Syndicate for £10,000, Canon Hayman being chairman. This latter company made a pretty handsome profit, selling out to the defendant company for no less a sum than £60,000. How much of this splendid profit the reverend chairman got for selling his old company to his new one is not stated; but the new company has found the bargain such a poor one that it is in hopeless litigation. The company was registered in 1888, and in 1889 plaintiff received a prospectus stating that the capital of the company was £500,000, the objects of the company being to found and colonize the town of Queenstown, in Northwestern Canada. The plaintiff applied for 30 £10 preference shares, on which a minimum dividend of 5 per cent. was guaranteed for two years, and paid £300 in respect of them. The company was wound up on Feb. 7, 1891.

The precious prospectus described a "wealth of goldfields and inexhaustible mineral resources," but it did not state that the company did not own any rights to the minerals. The prospectus also stated that the "spiritual life of the settlers would be cared for," and this probably attracted a good many investors who hoped to draw a good dividend and act the philanthropist at the same time.

In giving judgment, Mr. Justice Kekewich said that the plaintiff alleged that she was induced to take the shares by two statements in the prospectus, and he had no reason to doubt her. Taking first the statement as to the coal and other minerals, he came to the conclusion that that statement was false. But though the persons who sanctioned the prospectus had been careless, with a carelessness which he called disgraceful, he believed that the directors thought the statement substantially true, and the plaintiff failed on that point. As to the guarantee of the dividend, the statement as to the security was distinctly false. Taking the defendants in order—first, Mr. W. H. Richards was a director and a trustee, and, in his lordship's opinion, he knew that the statement was false. As to Canon Hayman, his case had given him great anxiety. Canon Hayman was chairman of the Board of Directors and a trustee, and his lordship was placed in a dilemma of either finding Canon Hayman a party to this false statement, or of believing him to be a fool. Canon Hayman could only escape the liability for issuing such a prospectus by asking with Dogberry to be written down an ass. But that was not probable with a gentleman of his position and attainments, and his lordship was therefore forced to hold that Canon Hayman knew that the statement was false. He came to the same conclusion with regard to the defendant, Mr. J. F. Harrison. As to Mr. George Whitla, he naively confessed his entire ignorance of business. He had no more right to be on the board than a little boy in Chancery Lane. He had been careless, but it was the carelessness of ignorance; his lordship, therefore, could not fix him with liability. He gave judgment against the defendants, Richard, Harrison and Hayman, for £700, less £42 received by Miss Knox, with costs, and dismissed the action against Whitla without costs.

Commenting on this case, the Trade Bulletin says:

"Such a mischievous way of defrauding investors naturally brings this country into great discredit, and there ought to be some way of preventing such swindles from being foisted upon the public. Could not the Canadian High Commissioner interfere in cases where the fair name and genuine advantages of Canada are being dishonored and discredited? It is certain that the investors who have been swindled by Canon Hayman and his fellow-conspirators will not be easily induced to invest in any Canadian land scheme, even with the additional inducement of the care for the spiritual lives of the settlers."

The strictures of the judge and of our contemporary are none too severe. But how can Sir Charles Tupper seriously oppose speculative swindles of this sort after his own laudation of the Dead Meat scheme, which a short time since brought Canadian investments into disrepute?

The pagans of China accuse the Christian missionaries of stealing Chinese children in order to take out their eyes for use as medicine; and the Christians of Crete recently accused the Jews of stealing Christian children to be offered up as sacrifices; and the Hindoos of Bombay have lately suspected the English residents of kidnapping a Hindoo child in order to slay it secretly in the ceremonies at the new Bombay waterworks. We are prepared to assure the Chinese pagans that missionaries do not use children's eyes as medicine, and to assure the Cretan Christians that the Jews do not offer human sacrifices, and to assure the Bombay Hindoos that the English do not slay babies at their secular ceremonies. We cannot permit false reports to be circulated in any part of the world without correction.

TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

A new feature in the Detroit Evening News is the publication of a department of carefully edited Canadian telegrams, supplying for the readers of that paper a newsy budget daily from all parts of the Dominion. Michigan readers are fairly well posted on Canadian affairs, but a large majority of the people of the United States are poorly informed on Dominion topics. The enterprise of the News is commendable.

Now we learn by the European papers that the malady known as "black smallpox" has become epidemic in those parts of Russian Poland from which many people are coming to this continent. They have had quite a number of cases of a very malignant kind of smallpox in New York city during the present month. From the British medical journals it is learned that other epidemics are alarmingly prevalent in Western Russia, engendered by the famine, and that there is reason to apprehend their spread in other countries of Europe. Our quarantine officials will have to be vigilant.

Rev. Dr. Vaughan, the new Archbishop of Westminster, is, like his predecessor, Cardinal Manning, a strong advocate of temperance, though, unlike the Cardinal, he is himself a total abstainer. He visited the United States in 1871, when he came in charge of a number of Catholic priests who had been commissioned to do missionary work among the negroes. Dr. Vaughan is a man of phenomenal energy and a firm believer in the utility of ministerial work outside of the pulpit. He has accomplished much good in waging war on the sweating system, and is leading a crusade against the unsanitary condition of the houses of the poor in London and Manchester.

THE CARON CHARGES.

An Independent Journal Calls for Their Investigation.

[Toronto Week.]

What would be thought of a trustee of a private estate who should first cause a portion of the trust funds of which he was joint custodian to be appropriated for a certain purpose, and then by dint of improper and confidential relations with the persons to whom the money had been thus handed over receive a large part of it and apply it to personal and dishonorable uses? Yet this is the alleged transactions which Sir John Thompson and some of his colleagues would have the House of Commons pass by as an offence beyond its jurisdiction, though the accused is one of its members and a colleague of the honorable gentleman himself. If the Minister of Justice really believes that the charges ought not to be investigated by the House he surely ought, as the official embodiment of the spirit of righteousness in the Government, to feel sufficient indignation at such a charge to point out in what way it can, if proved, be unpunished. May we not hope that many of his own supporters will unite with Col. O'Brien in pressing this view of the case upon the Ministers? Nothing less surely is demanded in the interests of justice; for the good name of the Dominion, already sadly compromised; above all, for the sake of the reputation of the accused Minister, if he be, as he solemnly vows, innocent. If the case is quashed by Government action, nine out of every ten honest Canadians will, in their hearts, believe him guilty.

FITLY ANSWERED.

[Hamilton Time .]

In his somewhat fiery speech on Canadian independence the other night, Mr. Laurier said:

"When I learned that Mr. Farrar was an annexationist, I felt like writing to the Globe and demanding his removal."

But he didn't do so, and the question arises, why?—[London Free Press.

The question was answered before our contemporary raised it. In his "somewhat fiery speech" Mr. Laurier said:

The honorable gentleman accused him of being an annexationist. If he were an annexationist he would not hesitate to say so. As to Mr. Farrar, who had been referred to, when he learned his opinions on this subject he had thought of writing to the Globe management asking for Mr. Farrar's removal, but he reflected that perhaps that gentleman would become the leader of the Conservative party some day, the Premier of a Tory Government.

Why should the Free Press want Farrar deposed and Abbott retained?

"August Flower"

Mrs. Sarah M. Black of Seneca, Mo., during the past two years has been affected with Neuralgia of the Head, Stomach and Womb, and writes: "My food did not seem to strengthen me at all and my appetite was very variable. My face was yellow, my head dull, and I had such pains in my left side. In the morning when I got up I would have a flow of mucus in the mouth, and a bad, bitter taste. Sometimes my breath became short, and I had such queer, tumbling, palpitating sensations around the heart. I ached all day under the shoulder blades, in the left side, and down the back of my limbs. It seemed to be worse in the wet, cold weather of Winter and Spring; and whenever the spells came on, my feet and hands would turn cold, and I could get no sleep at all. I tried everywhere, and got no relief before using August Flower Then the change came. It has done me a wonderful deal of good during the time I have taken it and is working a complete cure." ⊙

Miss Etta Hilbert
of Lawrence, Mass.

Her Parents were in Despair

But She Was Brought Into Healthy Girlhood by

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

Mr. Edward Hilbert, of 183 Broadway, Lawrence, Mass., sends us the following:

"Ten years ago our child was born. Having lost six children we were naturally anxious as to the health of this one. What was our dismay and sorrow to find that she was apparently doomed to the same fate as the others. She had little strength as a baby, and did not improve as she grew older. When about 2 1-2 years old she began to have

Fainting Spells,

dropping wherever she happened to be. At these times she would turn black and appeared at the point of death. Doctors told us she was in a very bad way from

Heart Trouble

Nothing that we gave her did any good until, in utter desperation, we began giving her Hood's Sarsaparilla. She gradually began to improve, the fainting fits became less and less frequent and finally ceased entirely. Her general health improved until at the end of a year, having taken seven bottles, we stopped giving it to her. At this time she was 4 years old, and, although anxious lest the troubles might return, we ceased to worry, she seemed so well. She is now 10 years old and is as a child as you will find anywhere and has never shown any indication of a return of the heart difficulty. During the past 6 years perhaps she has taken 3 bottles in all, we only giving it to her irregularly at times when she has complained of feeling tired in the spring and early summer. We feel that we owe a great deal to and cannot say too much in favor of it." EDWARD HILBERT, Lawrence, Mass.

Healthy and Rugged

PERNICKITY PERRY.

The Lyons Train Robber Gives His Guardians a Heap of Trouble.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 19.—Oliver Curtis Perry, the Lyons train robber, is causing his keepers no end of trouble. Since his attempt to escape on March 12 he has been confined closely in his cell, except for a short time daily. His confinement has made him savage, and he has made several attempts to kill or injure Deputy Collins, who arrested him.

He has made a collection of crockery which he has retained when food has been sent to him, and he has thrown cups at Collins on several occasions. Yesterday morning he attempted to empty a bucket of slops over Deputy Collins, when the officer drew his revolver and threatened to shoot if Perry threw the slops. Perry desisted.

The jail officials believe that Perry still has possession of a strong knife, which he made from a piece of one end of the steel slats of his bed.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

Eighty Thousand Dollars Worth of Choice Horseflesh Roasted.

JEFFERSON, Ind., April 19.—The large barn on the stock farm of Elihu Carr, near Charlestown, Ind., was struck by lightning early yesterday morning, and the building valued at $2,000 with a stock of thoroughbred horses valued at $80,000 was consumed. PEDESTRIANISM.

Hamilton Times: After the dust of the city streets had been left behind yesterday was a prime day for walking and a good many young men tried long turns. Six persons arrived at the St. Nicholas, who had footed it from Toronto. Three of them started on Thursday and divided the journey, but the other three went it straight through. They were Messrs. Albert E. Dennison, Alfred Wright and E. A. Thompson. Wright is a walker from away back, and has done the journey more than once. There was a $50 wager on the event yesterday. Dennison and Wright were to do the trip in a certain time, and Thompson was referee. He was to have driven behind the others, but decided to walk, as he has a reputation in that line, too. The three left the subway at Toronto at 7:57 o'clock. They carried their provisions, which consisted of eggs principally, and did not stop anywhere except at an occasional stream on the road. Dennison and Wright arrived at the St. Nicholas at 4:45 o'clock, having occupied 8 hours and 48 minutes on the road. Referee Thompson kept up until Oaklands was reached and then fell behind. He got there just twenty minutes after the others. Dennison was very stiff last night, and went to bed as soon as he got washed up. Wright seemed fresh, and Thompson was around during the evening, though a little stiff.

At a late meeting of the London Athletic Club 28 men stasted in the 3-mile handicap. Sid Thomas and H. A. The time was 15:01 3-5. Heath was beaten by Wade in the mile race in 4:31½.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion or Dyspepsia.

RECORDS OF A YEAR.

Annual Vestry Meetings of the Anglican Churches.

Rev. A. H. Rhodes Resigns the Curacy of St. Paul's.

Interesting Information in Connection With the Various Congregations —The Reports Indicate Progress.

As usual the annual Easter vestry meetings of the various Anglican congregations in the city were held last night, the members convening to receive reports of the year's work, to discuss the temporalities and make enactments affecting the interests and the management of their respective churches.

St. Paul's Cathedral.

The Dean of Huron presided at St. Paul's vestry meeting, and among those present were: W. J. Reid, J. S. Pearce, churchwardens; A. G. Smyth, vestry clerk; Messrs. R. Bayly, E. Paull, G. F. Jewell, M. Jarvis, J. Barron, A. G. McWhinney, John Labatt, Dr. Sippi, Thos. Beattie, G. B. Harris.

The churchwardens' report for the year ending March 31, 1892, says: While the pew rents have been well and promptly paid by the large majority of the congregation, yet there are some who seem to treat this indebtedness in a very indifferent manner. There is a large sum in arrears (much too large), and your wardens would recommend some steps be taken to try and remedy this evil. The collections on each Sunday are fairly good, but on those days on which special collections are taken up they are not what they should be. Woodland Cemetery is yearly improving, and if the present plans are continued we feel satisfied that this cemetery in a few years will be one of the most beautiful burying grounds in the Dominion. Mr. Clark, the superintendent, has been most careful and painstaking in carrying out our wishes and instructions. The greenhouse has added very much to beautify the grounds, as well as being a source of income. We hope our successors in office will continue the work of beautifying and improving the cemetery. Your wardens again thank the rector and congregation for many acts of kindness and appreciation, which have made their duties a pleasure. To Messrs. Barron and Mitchell are due the thanks of the wardens and congregation for their kind assistance. The sexton has performed his duties in a careful and attentive manner. The financial statement shows:

Complaint was made that pew rent was not paid up as promptly as it should be by certain pew-holders. The vestry was instructed to use all reasonable means to collect the same promptly and prevent any arrears if possible. Some of the members spoke warmly on the subject.

The Memorial.

There was a large attendance at the vestry meeting of the Memorial Church. Rev. Canon Richardson presided.

Mr. F. P. Betts, the rector's church warden read the annual report of the churchwardens. The receipts for the year totalled $6,000, and the disbursements $5,734 54. This statement will be submitted in detailed form by the auditors two weeks hence.

A motion to increase the sexton's salary by $50 will be considered hereafter. Repairs will be made to the ceiling of the church subject to the churchwardens' discretion. The ladies, Mr. Betts (the retiring rector's warden), the organist and choir and the Sunday school superintendent, J. G. Wright, were tendered votes of thanks. Messrs. V. Cronyn, T. H. Luscombe and W. C. L. Gill were elected delegates to the Synod.

The pastor submitted an interesting report. During the year baptisms numbered 82, marriages 17, burials 39, services 179, Holy Communion administrations 34. On Easter Day 277 took communion and 34 were confirmed. All the societies connected with the church were flourishing.

Vestry adjourned for two weeks.

St. John the Evangelist's.

At the annual vestry meeting of St. John the Evangelist Church last evening, Rev. W. T. Hill was in the chair, and a large number of the members were present. Prior to the business of the meeting W. J. Imlach read a resolution of condolence to be forwarded to the widow and mother of the late organist, Dr. G. P. Jones, which was unanimously passed. Another motion to erect a memorial window or tablet to his memory was also passed, and a committee will take the matter in hand. W. J. Imlach and H. Macklin were re-elected as lay delegates to the Synod. The minutes of the last vestry meeting were read and approved. The rector's address was read, and it spoke in glowing terms of the success of the last year. It showed that in the parish, which has been reduced in size, there were 220 families. There have been 47 baptisms, 7 marriages and 19 deaths; 45 public celebrations of the Holy Communion, and 1,571 communicants; also, seven private celebrations. The financial affairs of the church were found to be in a very encouraging condition. The election of wardens for the coming year resulted in the return of Mr. Chas. Shanly for the rector and Stephen Grant for the people. The sidesmen appointed were Dr. Woolverton, Wm. Anthistle, H. Macklin, H. McBeth, T. Allardice and E. Manigault, and the Junior Churchmen's Association will supply the ushers. The auditors are Messrs. Savage and Allardice. A vote of thanks was tendered to C. S. Complin and E. S. The heart without the mouth is timidity; the mouth without the heart is hypocrisy.—[Hedinger.

The Extravagance of Mud.

[From "Our Common Roads," by Isaac B. Potter, in the April Century.]

We have in the United States something like 16,000,000 horses and mules above the age of two years upon our farms, and at the moderate estimate of 25 cents as the cost of feed and care of each of these animals, we see at a glance that the aggregate expense of maintaining them is about $4,000,000 per day. If, by a similarly moderate estimate, we say that they are kept in the stable in a condition of enforced idleness by the deep mud of spring and fall for a period averaging twenty days in each year, we may easily compute that the loss, in this respect alone, will amount to $80,000,000 per year, a sum sufficient to build 16,000 miles of excellent highway. Of course, considering the great variety of conditions, and the consequent number of factors to be regarded, it is impossible by mathematical formula to compute the loss entailed on any community by the continued toleration of these dirt roads in their present condition; but the error in the result of any computation is more likely to show a loss smaller than actually exists, and in whatever way the matter be regarded, it is certain that with the imposed burden of extra help and extra draft-animals, loss of time, wear and tear of wagons and harness, the drawing of light loads, and the depreciated value of farmlands, we are pursuing a short-sighted policy in permitting the present system to continue. Besides the actual loss, which a moment's reflection will serve to show, we are gaining nothing and saving nothing in that great department of agricultural industry to which the condition of the dirt road is of such marked importance.

By dwellers in cities the actual condition of these country roads during the wet season is scarcely known; while with farmers, to whom all roads are dirt roads, and who have never seen nor known of a highway better than that which they have used from boyhood, the dirt road is an accepted fixture, which long habit and use have impressed upon them as a natural and necessary adjunct to farm life. In the spring of 1891, in the State of New York, the country newspapers were printing long editorial complaints of the hopeless condition of the rural highways, and the consequent paralysis of country trade, while commercial reports were published from week to week in which business embarrassments and failures were charged directly to the impassible condition of the country roads. Half-loaded farm-wagons were stalled in deep mud almost in the shadow of the magnificent $20,000,000 capitol at Albany, while, as if to show to what ridiculous ends the perversity of the human mind will sometimes lead us, the good farmers of Albany county were actually sending telegrams to the Legislature, asking for the adjournment of a committee hearing, because the roads of Albany county were too bad to permit them to get to town in time to oppose a bill which promised to make them better!

Was It Chance?

In the published journal of the celebrated English preacher, Frederick Robertson, occurs the following singular passage:

"If I had not known a certain person I never should have given up the profession of arms to become a minister; if I had not met a certain lady I should never have known that person; if my dog had not disturbed that lady's invalid child at night I should never have met her. It is true, then, that if my dog had not barked on that particular night I should now be in the dragoons, or fertilizing the soil of India. Who can say that those things were not ordered?"

One of the most eminent of [illegible] ventors said lately:

"My father was a poor [illegible] who set out to go to the Cape of Good Hope to seek his fortune. [illegible] on the streets of Liverpool he saw an old gentleman a cripple, trampled down by a horse in a hansom.

"My father who was a young giant, picked up the old man and literally carried him to his hotel. He was an American, wealthy and interested in scientific pursuits. He asked my father to dinner. The men liked each other.

"My father gave up his African plans, and went with his new comrade to the New World. He married, and I was born in the midst of machinery, new inventions and a scientific atmosphere. I naturally became an inventor. If that horse in the hansom had had a quiet temper I should not have been born."

Many middle aged men are fond of retracing their steps through life to point out the trifling impediment or circumstance that changed their path in the world or urged them to follow it.

Then they cry out "Kismet! This is fate. If I had turned down another street I should not have met the man who led me into crime, or the woman whom I married."

They forgot that the circumstance always puts a choice before them. Robertson had always power to turn his back on the ministry. A man accepts crime, happiness, misery, even a wife of his own free will.

The little incident designed by fate, as we believe, to open a certain path in life to us, never compels us to enter into it.

Drawing an Inference.

Not every man can draw an inference. Two men see the same fact; one draws from it another fact, the other man draws nothing. The observed fact makes no more impression upon his mind than a landscape does upon an ox. The Duke of Wellington could draw an inference, and his ability won his victories.

One day he was fox-hunting. The hounds, on reaching the bank of a small river, lost the scent. The master of the hounds apologized to the duke.

"I'm afraid, your grace, our fun is over. The dogs can't pick up the scent."

"Ten to one," replied the duke, "the fox has passed to the other side."

"Not very likely, my lord. A fox hates water."

"Aye, aye!" urged the duke, but he may have crossed over by some bridge."

"I don't believe there is a bridge," answered the master of the hounds.

"Well," continued the duke, "unless you know to the contrary, though I was never here before, I will wager a trifle you will find one within a mile."

The two men followed by the hunt, pushed on, and less than a mile off came upon a rudely constructed bridge. The dogs crossed it, again took up the scent and killed the fox.

A nobleman who had overheard the talk about a bridge, asked the duke how, if he was not familiar with that part of the country, he came to guess that there was a bridge in the neighborhood.

"Why," he answered, I saw three or four cottages clustered together on each bank of the river, and I thought that the people living in them would be tempted by their social feelings to contrive some means of visiting each other. That same inference of mine won me one of my Indian battles."

Couldn't Place Him.

Remarkable stories are told of the gift which many public characters have for remembering the names and faces of comparatively unimportant persons. It may be consoling to persons who lack this pleasant faculty that they have distinguished company. Mr. Joseph Jefferson has difficulty in remembering names. He told this story to a friend:

"I was coming down in the elevator of the Stock Exchange building, and at one of the intermediate floors a man whose face I knew as well as I know yours got in. He greeted me very warmly at once, said it was a number of years since we had met, and was very gracious and friendly.

"But I couldn't place him for the life of me. I asked him as a sort of a feeler how he happened to be in New York, and he answered with a touch of surprise that he had lived there for several years. Finally I told him in an apologetic way that I couldn't recall his name.

"He looked at me for a moment, and then he said very quietly that his name was U. S. Grant."

"What did you do, Joe?" his friend asked.

"Do?" he replied, with a characteristic smile. "Why, I got out at the next floor for fear I should be fool enough to ask him if he had ever been in the war!"

Must be Improved.

She—Oh, it's fun, I tell you, to flirt with a man till you get him to propose, and then say "No."

He—Yes; but I should think it would be a greater joke on him to say "Yes."

Will and Won't.

"Is you gwine to let dat mewel do as he pleases?" asked Uncle Ephriam's wife. "Whar's yoh will power?"

"My will power's all right," he answered. "You jes' want ter come out hyur an' measure dis here mewel's won't power."

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., Toronto, is in the city.

—J. W. Jones, auctioneer, of this city, is in Toronto to-day.

—Professor Tagg, of St. Catharines, is in the city this week.

—Israelites yesterday celebrated the crossing of the Red Sea.

—Hugh Macbeth, of New York, spent Easter at his home in this city.

—Rev. Wm. Martin, of Exeter, is at the Grigg House. He is going to England.

—Rev. Geo. Brown, of this city, at one time pastor of the Askin Street Methodist Church, will shortly leave on a trip to England.

—John Wood, of London township, has been fined $2 and costs by Squire J. B. Smyth on a charge of assaulting Harriet Ann Metcalfe, of the same place.

—Messrs. C. W. Davis, of the Tecumseh House, and W. S. Ireland, of Toronto, will transform the Sulphur Springs property into an attractive resort. They have leased it for a term of seven years.

—There was a protest entered against the decision of the judges in the sawing match at Delaware on Friday, and Referee Bruce Wallace, of this city has decided that the London team is entitled to last place.

—Two young men were passing Marshall's tea store on Dundas street this morning when they heard a sudden crack, and on turning around saw the large plate glass window smashed in the center. The stone that struck it came from the other side of the street, but could not be found.

—Mayor Blaicher, of Hamilton, intended to sail from Nassau for home yesterday. Though much improved, he writes that he "is not altogether freed from the effects of the grip. He adds: "Mrs. Blaicher and Mrs. Sterling are enjoying themselves immensely, as there are so many Canadians here."

—A number of young men from the city went to a dance at St. Johns last evening. Most of them, it is alleged, were alcoholically hilarious on the return trip, and made night hideous for the residents of the north end. Tin pans, horns and lung exercise were blended into a frightful combination. Most of them belonged to ultra-respectable parents.

—Between 40 and 50 ex-employes of the Ontario Casket Factory, Ridgetown, have arrived in the city, and are looking around for houses in which to place their families. They start work at the new casket factory here as soon as the Globe establishment is in shape. The machinery has arrived, and part of it has already been put up.

—This morning at 1 o'clock, at 440 Simcoe street, Mrs. William Murray, wife of Wm. Murray, checker, freight sheds, G.T.R. passed away. She was taken sick last Wednesday with rheumatic fever, and suffered very much. She leaves three small children. Deceased was a sister of William and Edward Martin, contractors, of this city. The funeral takes place tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. The family have the sympathy of many friends.

—One of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences ever assembled in the Wellington Street Methodist Church greeted the "boys" of the school last night to hear their concert. The school room was tastefully decorated with evergreens, flags, bunting, etc., in a way that was not surpassed by anything of the kind before. The encores were numerous, so much so that the chairman had to stop it, or it would have taken until midnight to have finished the programme. The following is the array of talent who assisted to make the affair such a grand success: Messrs. Skinner, Dr. Zeigler, Matthews, Forsythe, Wooster, A. George, Bradford, Howlett, and an orchestra with Professor Pocock as musical conductor. Mr. Kingsley Evans and Frank Harding acted as accompanists. Rev. G. W. Henderson was the chairman.

The Ex-Premier's Remains.

The remains of the late Hon. Alexander Mackenzie will be conveyed to Sarnia by the G. T. R., leaving Toronto at 2:50 p.m. to-morrow. The train passes through this city with the body at 6:50 o'clock in the evening. A number of Londoners will attend the funeral Thursday.

The Conductors' Trouble Settled.

To-day G. T. R. Superintendent Stiff, of Hamilton, arrived in his special car and was met by a delegation of the train conductors in this division. The conference lasted some time, and when it concluded a definite understanding had been arrived at, apparently satisfactory to both sides. This clears up the conductors' grievances all along the line.

A Newspaper Wedding.

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the Sherbourne Street Methodist Church yesterday afternoon by the Rev. C. E. Manning, when two members of the journalistic profession were married—Mr. Joseph E. Atkinson and Miss Ella S. Elliott ("Madge Merton"), both well-known members of the Globe staff. The bride and groom were assisted in the ceremony by Miss Kate Eva Westlake, another member of the fourth estate, and Mr. Frank Yeigh. Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson left for Ottawa, where Mr. Atkinson resides during the Parliamentary session.—[Toronto Mail. The couple are well known to many Londoners and hearty congratulations will be tendered them.

LONDON LIQUOR LICENSES.

The Motion to Quash the Reduction Bylaw Dismissed.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

TORONTO, April 19.—Mr. Justice Ferguson has given judgment on the case of Jennings vs. City of London. He is of the opinion that the bylaw is perfectly good, and consequently dismissed the motion with costs.

The plaintiff Jennings, who is a hotelkeeper, brought action to quash a bylaw carried on Feb. 15 last restricting the number of tavern licenses in the city of London to 34 and the number of shop licenses to 6. The plaintiff claimed that the bylaw should be quashed—first, because the question was not submitted to the people at last municipal election, but was passed upon the petition of not more than 1,000 ratepayers; second, because the commissioners would refuse to grant more than 40 licenses upon the assumption that the bylaw limits the number of licenses to 40 under the Liquor License Act; third, that if the proper number of licenses are not issued serious loss will be sustained by those who may be refused; and fourth, on the ground that the passing of the bylaw was not a reasonable exercise of the power of the municipality. Mr. Justice Ferguson, however, has refused to entertain these objections, and holds that the provisions of the bylaw are strictly legal. The reduction in the number of places licensed to sell liquor must therefore take place.

WORK AND WAGES.

Nine Non-Union Molders Persuaded to Leave Hamilton—The May-Day Demonstration Dreaded

The union molders of Hamilton succeeded in persuading nine of the imported non-union molders to leave the city on Saturday evening. The union men are as cheerful and confident as ever of the ultimate result of the fight.

The brick layers who have been working on the St. John street sewer, Quebec, for $2 50 a day have struck for 50 cents advance.

It is expected that the workingmen will not be allowed to hold processions anywhere in Germany on May Day.

The chief demand of the May Day celebrants will be for an international eight-hour working day. The leaders expect that 2,000,000 socialists alone will take part in the processions in the different towns on Monday.

It is reported in Jersey that there will be a strike on the Philadelphia and Reading railway. The company it is said has decided to reduce the wages of its employes and the men will not submit to the proposal.

The strike of alamagated associations of iron and steel workers has at last been declared off, says a Lebanon (Pa.) telegram.

Mrs. (President) Harrison is reported to be better.

United States Secretary Tracy is confined to his home with bronchial troubles.

Chief N. B. Clark, inventor of the deflective armor, now used on war ships of all nations, died on Monday at Washington.

New cases of smallpox were reported at the New York Health Board Monday. They are all from the tenement house district.

A telegram says the Russian famine relief fund, of which Drexel & Co. are treasurers, now amounts to $135,131, and it is steadily growing.

A Rangoon special says the British column has had continuous fighting along the Kankkive River. Six men were wounded in carrying Tyng Gram. Two were killed and four wounded in a fight with dacoits.

On April 17 at sunrise, at a point 46 miles north of Rio Grande, W. W. Shelly, sheriff of Star county, and seven men suddenly came upon a detachment of 20 revolutionists. Both sides stood their ground and a fight ensued. Sheriff Shelly was shot badly in the right hand, and Joseph G. Caroline, a Mexican deputy sheriff, shot in the head. The revolutionists were too strong, and the officers being unable to cope with them successfully beat a retreat. Two of the revolutionists were killed.

Cordial.

The following extract is taken from a letter of thanks sent by a bride to one of her husband's friends: "Your lovely etching is received and gives us both great pleasure. It is now in the parlor hanging above the piano, where we hope to see you very soon, and as often as you find it agreeable."

Happily Described.

"What a stir Belle and her young man are making down stairs," said Mrs. Brown as the sounds of laughter came floating up from below at a late hour.

"A stir!" said Mr. Brown. "That's very natural. They're having a spoon."

TRAGIC JOKING.

A remarkable story of practical joking is related of a young Frenchman in the "Souvenirs d'un Vieux Librairie." The old fable of the boy who cried "wolf" too often has had a few tragic illustrations in fact. Oswald, a witty and original Parisian, had a mania for practical joking. He was very amusing to his friends, but when his talents were exerted to avenge some wrong there was more bitterness than fun in his wit.

One evening when a man who had not treated him politely gave a reception, he revenged himself cruelly. The man was slightly deformed. All the hunchbacks of Paris, 500 in number, presented themselves at his reception. They had received notices from Oswald that if they would go to his address, on this evening, they would learn of a legacy which had been left them.

When a play, written by a man who had roused his anger by reading a newspaper at the wedding of one of his friends, was produced, he prevented its success by inducing 250 of his friends to attend it carrying great books. These young men who occupied prominent seats, read their books while the performance was going on, and whenever there was any applause, each one of them, as they moved by clockwork, turned over a leaf. The rustling of the leaves, and the spectacle of the men absorbed in reading, made the performance a complete failure.

Oswald's friends were always on the lookout for some ruse. He once notified them that on New Year's day he should get the best of them all in some joke, and New Year's morning each received this notice: "Remember." They were on their guard.

As they were leaving a house where they had breakfasted, Oswald suddenly slipped on the steps, and fell on his back on the sidewalk. His friends rushed to his assistance, but paused before they reached him. "This is his ruse," someone said.

Clearly, the man who was so proud of his talent for mimicry was bent on deceiving them all into thinking him a dying man, for he lay there moaning pitifully, his face drawn and twisted as if with terrible pain.

His friends stood around, and made jokes and puns, and hummed lines of comic songs, assuring him all the while that they were not deceived by his acting. At last he gave a hoarse, mournful cry, looked at them sadly, and then ceased to moan or writhe. In a never-to-be-forgotten moment of horror and sorrow his friends realized that Oswald was dead.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

The Little Minister.

By J. M Barrie,

AUTHOR OF "WINDOW IN THRUMS," "WHEN A MAN'S SINGLE," "MY LADY NICOTINE," ETC.

"Nevertheless," he said, ultimately, "my duty is not to do what is right in my people's eyes, but what seems right in my own."

Babbie had not heard him.

"I saw a face at the window just now," she whispered, drawing closer to him.

"There was no face there; the very thought of Rob Dow raises him before you," Gavin answered reassuringly, though Rob was nearer them at that moment than either of them thought.

"I must go away at once," she said, still with her eyes on the window. "No, no, you shall not come with me; it is you who are in danger."

"Do not fear for me."

"I must if you will not. Before you came in did I not hear you speak of a meeting you had to attend to-night?"

"My pray——" His teeth met on the word; so abruptly did it conjure up the forgotten prayer-meeting that, before the shock could reach his mind, he stood motionless listening for the bell. For one instant all that had taken place since he last heard it might have happened between two of its tinkles; and suddenly, instead of Babbie, he saw a congregation in their pews.

"What do you see?" Babbie cried in alarm, for he seemed to be staring at the window.

"Only you," he replied, himself again: "I am coming with you."

"You must let me go alone," she entreated with the cunning of love; "it not for your own safety, then for the sake of Lord Rintoul. Were you and I to be seen together now, his name and mine might suffer."

It was an argument the minister could not answer, save by putting his hands over his face. His distress made Babbie strong; she moved to the door, trying to smile.

"Go Babbie!" Gavin said, controlling his voice, though it had been a smile more pitiful than her tears. "God has you in His keeping; it is not His will to give me this to bear for you."

They were now in the garden.

"Do not think of me as unhappy," she said; "it will be happiness to me to be all you would have me be."

He ought to have corrected her. "All that God would have me be" is what she should have said. But he only replied, "You will be a good woman, and none such can be altogether unhappy; God sees to that."

He might have kissed her, and perhaps she thought so.

"I am—I am going now, dear," she said, and came back a step because he did not answer; then she went on, and was out of sight at three yards distance. Neither of them heard the approaching dog-cart.

"You see I am bearing it quite cheerfully," she said. "I shall have everything a woman loves; do not grieve for me so much."

Gavin dared not speak nor move. Never had he found life so hard, but he was fighting with the ignoble in himself, and winning. She opened the gate, and it might have been a signal to the dog-cart to stop. They both heard a dog barking, and then the voice of Lord Rintoul:

"That is a light in the window. Jump down, McKenzie, and inquire."

Gavin took one step nearer Babbie, and stopped. He did not see how all her courage went from her, so that her knees yielded, and she held out her arms to him, but he heard a great sob and then his name.

"Gavin, I am afraid!"

Gavin understood now, and I say he would have been no man to leave her after that. Only a moment was allowed him, and it was their last chance on earth. He took it. His arm went round his beloved, and he drew her away from Nanny's house.

McKenzie found both house and garden empty. "And yet," he said, "I swear some one passed the window as we sighted it."

"Waste no more time," cried the impatient earl. "We must be very near the hill now. You will have to lead the horse, McKenzie, in this darkness; the dog may find the way through the broom for us."

"We must feel our way cautiously" McKenzie answered; "there is no call for capsizing the trap in our haste."

But there was call for haste if they were to reach the gypsy encampment before Gavin and Babbie were made man and wife over the tongs.

The Spittal dog-cart rocked as it dragged its way through the broom. Rob Dow followed. The ten o'clock bell began to ring.

CHAPTER XXIX.

I must now try to show what was happening in various parts of Thrums while the o'clock bell rang.

In the square and wynds: weavers in groups.

"No, no, Davit, Mr. Dishart hadna' felt the blow the piper gave him till he ascended the pulpit to conduct the prayer-meeting for rain, and then he fainted awa'. Tammas Whamond and Peter Tosh carried him to the session-house. Ay, an awful scene."

"How did the minister no come to the meeting? I wonder how you could expect it, Snecky, and his mother ta'en so suddenly ill; he's at her bedside, and the doctor has little hope."

"This is what has occurred, Tailor. Mr. Dishart never got the length of the pulpit. He fell in a swound on the vestry floor. What caused it? Oh, nothing but the heat. Thrums is so dry that one spark would set it in a blaze."

"I canna get at the richts o' what keeped him frae the meeting, Fenie, but it had something to do wi' an Egyptian on the hill. Very like he had been trying to stop the gypsy marriage there. I gaed to the manse to speir at Jean what was wrang, but I'm thinking I telled her mair than she could tell me."

"Man, man, Andrew, the wite o't lies wi' Peter Tosh. He thocht he was to hae sic a terrible rain that he implored the minister no to pray for it, and so angry was Mr. Dishart that he ordered the whole session out o' the kirk. I saw thim in Couttie's close, and mighty dour they looked."

"Yes, as sure as death, Tammas Whamond locked the kirk door in Mr. Dishart's face."

"I'm a' shaking! And small wonder, Marget, when I've heard this minute that Mr. Dishart's been struck by lightning while looking for Rob Dow. He's no killed, but woe's me! they say he'll never be able to preach again."

"Nothing o' the kind. It was Rob that the lightning struck dead in the doctor's machine. The horse wasna touched: it came tearing down the Roods wi' the corps sitting in the machine like a living man."

"What are you listening to, woman? Is it to a dog barking? I've heard it this while, but it's far awa'. What a fearsomely still night it is!"

In the manse kitchen:

"Jean did you not hear me ring? I want you to—why are you staring out at the window, Jean?"

"I—I was just hearkening to the ten o'clock bell, ma'am."

"I never saw you doing nothing before! Put the heater in the fire, Jean. I want to iron the minister's neck-cloths. The prayer-meeting is long in coming out, is it not?"

"The—the drought, ma'am, has been so cruel hard."

"And, to my shame, I was so comfortable that I almost forgot how others are suffering. But my son never forgets, Jean. You are not crying, are you?"

"No, ma'am."

"Bring the iron to the parlor, then. And if the minis——Why did you start, Jean? I only heard a dog barking."

"I thocht, ma'am—at first I thocht it was Mr. Dishart opening the door. Ay, it's just a dog; some gypsy dog on the hill, I'm thinking, for sound would carry far the nicht."

"Even you, Jean, are nervous at night I see, if there is no man in the house. We shall hear no more distant dogs barking, I warrant, when the minister comes home."

"When he comes home, ma'am."

On the middle of the hill; a man and a woman:

"Courage, beloved, we are nearly there."

"But, Gavin, I cannot see the encampment."

"The night is too dark."

"But the gypsy fires?"

"They are in the Toad's-hole."

"Listen to that dog barking!"

"There are several dogs at the encampment, Babbie."

"That one is behind us. See, there it is!"

"I have driven it away, dear. You are trembling."

"What we are doing frightens me, Gavin. It is at your heels again!"

"It seems to know you."

"Oh, Gavin, it is Lord Rintoul's collie, Snap. It will bite you."

"No, I have driven it back again. Probably the earl is following us."

"Gavin, I cannot go on with this."

"Quicker, Babbie."

"Leave me, dear, and save yourself."

"Lean on me, Babbie."

"Oh, Gavin, is there no way but this?"

"No sure way."

"Even though we are married to-night——"

"We shall be married in five minutes, and then, whatever befall, he cannot have you."

"But after?"

"I will take you straight to the manse, to my mother."

"Were it not for that dog, I should think we were alone on the hill."

"But we are not. See, there are the gypsy fires."

WORDS THAT BURN.

A LAST PRAYER.

[This poem was written four days before the author's death.]

Father, I scarcely dare to pray,
So clear I see, now it is done,
That I have wasted half my day,
And left my work but just begun.

So clear I see that things I thought
Were right or harmless were a sin;
So clear I see that I have sought,
Unconscious, selfish aims to win;

So clear I see that I have hurt
The souls I might have helped to save,
That I have slothful been, inert,
Deaf to the calls Thy leaders gave.

In outskirts of Thy kingdom vast,
Father, the humblest spot give me;
Set me the lowliest task Thou hast.
Let me, repentant, work for Thee!

—Helen Hunt Jackson.

INDECISION.

I've decided I shall marry,
Only I'm so hard to please;
'Twixt two maidens fair I tarry,
One is Wynnie, one Louise.
Both are pretty appellations,
But by fashion disenthralled,
In their intimate relations
Wynn and Lou they're often called.

But a quandary I'm in, then,
Should I win Wynn's heart, you see,
I lose Lou's—should Lou's I win, then
I lose Wynn's—which shall it be?
Very hard it is, this choosing;
Lou's I win, or Wynn I lose,
Names like theirs are so confusing
I'm uncertain which to choose.

—Vanity Fair.

DREAMING OF HOME.

It comes to me often in silence,
When the firelight sputters low—
When the black uncertain shadows
Seem wraiths of the long ago;
Always with a throb of heartache
That thrills each pulsive vein,
Comes the old, unquiet longing,
For the peace of home again.

I'm sick of the roar of cities,
And of faces cold and strange;
I know where there's warmth of welcome,
And my yearning fancies range
Back to the dear old homestead,
With an aching sense of pain,
But there'll be joy in the coming,
When I go home again.

When I go home again! there's music
That never may die away,
And it seems that the hands of angels,
On a mystic harp at play,
Have touched with a yearning sadness
A beautiful, broken strain,
To which is my fond heart wording—
"When I go home again."

Outside of my darkening window
Is the great world's crash and din,
And slowly the autumn shadows
Come drifting, drifting in,
Sobbing, the night wind murmurs
To the splash of the autumn rain;
But I dream of the glorious greeting
When I go home again,

—Eugene Field, in Chicago News.

"Who hath not own'd with rapture-smitten frame
The power of grace, the magic of a name?"
asks Campbell, the poet, in his "Pleasures of Hope." Pleasures of Hope, forsooth. Many and many a woman knows them no longer. They are in despair about their health. They are run down, debilitated, suffering from what they know not. It may be dyspepsia, heart disease, liver or kidney disease; any or all of them. The sicknesses of women are cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That's where the magic of a name comes in. This improves digestion, invigorates the system, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, produces refreshing sleep, dispels nervousness and melancholy, and builds up both the flesh and strength of those reduced below a healthy standard. It is a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no sugar or syrup to sour in the stomach and cause distress. It is as peculiar in its composition as it is marvelous in its remedial results.

Sir Walter Raleigh introduced the use of tobacco in Europe centuries ago, but if he could to-day smoke a Highland Lassie cigar manufactured by H. McKay & Co., London, he would assuredly consider himself one of the greatest of public benefactors. It is a five-cent cigar and has no superior on the market. The composition is of the choicest tobacco, the workmanship of the best and the flavor delicious. Try them.

—A member of the Loyalty Circle Dramatic Company, of this city, which gave a performance on the evening of Good Friday in St. Thomas, writes complaining of the disturbance made in the opera house there by a number of drunken men aided by some small boys, whose disorderly conduct became so outrageous that many respectable people in the audience were compelled to leave the hall in disgust, while it was impossible for the company itself to carry out the programme advertised. The janitor of the opera house assured the members of the company before leaving that the ringleader would be arrested and punished for disorderly conduct in a public hall.

Rev. T. C. Oliver's Benefit.

Rev. T. Clement Oliver, the esteemed pastor of the B. M. E. Church, Grey street, was tendered a benefit by the stewards of the church and his many friends last evening. The attendance was very large, manifesting the esteem in which he is held by his parishioners. The old folks turned out in large numbers and enjoyed the programme of twenty jubilee and temperance songs. Mr. Oliver opened the evening with prayer and a few introductory remarks. The affair was a success artistically and financially.

The singing was conducted under the able leadership of the reverend pastor. Miss Moorehead sang a number of solos, and the efficient chorus was composed of Misses Berry, Kelly and Miller, and Mr. Brown. Mrs. Charles also supplied a pleasing solo, and was accompanied by Mr. Charles on the guitar.

Fire in London Township.

About 10 o'clock on Monday forenoon fire was discovered in the barn of Peter Cox, lot 7, con. B, Hamilton road, which was entirely consumed, together with all its contents, consisting of grain, implements, etc., belonging to the tenant, E. R. Schmidt. The origin of the fire is unknown. Each had a partial insurance.

During the progress of the fire a strong wind was blowing in the direction of the barn of Thomas Flynn, about 75 rods away. No dander was anticipated at such a distance, but suddenly Mr. Flynn, who was assisting on the premises of Mr. Cox, noticed that fire had ignited his own barn., and before anything could be done to stay its progress fire had enveloped the building, and with it destroyed a cow, two tons of hay and a quantity of farming implements owned by the tenant, Wm. Hyslop, who had just arrived on the premises this spring. On this barn and its contents also there was a partial insurance.

In the Toils of the Law.

An interesting case was to have been ventilated at the Police Court this morning, but the clerk had allowed the parties to settle it, and none of them appeared. Last Friday night Mrs. Mary Brown, who lives in a cottage on the corner of Clarence and Horton streets, heard somebody rapping vigorously at her front door. She opened her bed-room window, and claims to have spied Clare Ferguson, of this city. She told him he could not get in and then, she says, he put his foot through the window, knocking in frame and all. Without waiting to dress she rushed out of the house and told a policeman, who happened to be near by, what had happened. The result was that an information was laid against Ferguson charging him with having done malicious damage to property. The defendant at first claimed that it was all a mistake on Mrs. Brown's part, and that he could prove an alibi. However, he afterwards paid $3 damages and costs.

John Hazlewood, Cartwright street, was putting his wife and family out of the house shortly before midnight last night when the patrol wagon put in an appearance. John was brought to the station and charged with being disorderly. The police magistrate this morning remanded him for a week.

Two drunks were discharged.

A Pioneer Settler's Demise.

Yesterday there died on lot 7, concession 10, London township, one of its oldest and most respected residents in the person of Mrs. George Sanborn, aged 71 years. Deceased's maiden name was Eliza McDonough. She was born in Tipperary, Ireland, and came to Canada in 1830, living for four years in the Lower Provinces before coming to this city. She was accompanied by her father, a member of the Irish constabulary, who located and died here.

In November, 1839, deceased married George Sanborn, who survives her after a happy union of upwards of half a century, during which time they have resided continuously on the farm in London township. Their family comprises Thomas, George and William, all married and in business in this city, two sons and three daughters at home, and Mrs. Richard Harris, London township.

Deceased had enjoyed excellent health until about six months ago, and though her illness has been severe her suffering has been born uncomplainingly and with Christian fortitude. She had for a long time been a consistent member of the Methodist Church. She remained conscious until she breathed her last.

Thomas J. and Wm. McDonough, city, are brothers of the deceased, and John, another brother, with Tena, a sister, live in Leadville, Colorado. Miss Annie McDonough, city, and Mrs. Shoebotham, London township, are also sisters of deceased.

The funeral will be held to-morrow to Siloam Cemetery at 11 a.m. Services will be held at 10:30 a.m.

SLUMBERING SIDE-SPLITTERS.

Dr. Flint's Exhibition of Hypnotism at the Grand Opera House.

There was a fair attendance last evening at the Grand Opera House, when Dr. H. L. Flint made his first appearance in this city, and all were agreeably entertained until 10 o'clock by that mysterious force known variously as mesmerism, animal magnetism or hypnotism. The operator was very successful in his experiments upon about a dozen subjects, who were mostly well known young men of the city. They were brought under complete control before the close of the evening, with perhaps one or two exceptions, and in their somnambulistic state they labored hard to lift an empty box, to open their eyes or to disengage their clenched hands; they sang to imaginary ladies in the balcony or fancied themselves nursemaids and fondled and sang sweet lullabies to imaginary babies; and they danced gleefully, drove imaginary race horses, bellowed with pain from an imaginary toothache, and performed a score of other ludicrous actions that kept the audience in a continuous fit of laughter.

One of the most interesting of Dr. Flint's experiments was this: A youth was quickly put into a cataleptic sleep, during which his body was so rigid that, his feet being on the back of one chair and his head on another, and nothing supporting his body, Dr. Flint (who must weigh nearly 300 pounds) stood on the lad's stomach without causing any perceptible depression of his body.

Dr. Flint delivered a brief lecture before introducing his subjects, who were invited and selected from various parts of the hall. He said those least susceptible to hypnotism were fools, insane men and idiots, while healthy people were most susceptible. Those who in their normal condition can sing, dance or perform any special action, can be made to perform these acts more perfectly when successfully hypnotized. There is a mystery about the act, but hypnotism is really nothing more nor less than a subject being operated upon and influenced by the will of another. Men and women who purchase goods are frequently hypnotized in a mild form by salesmen whose wills are more powerful than their own.

Dr. Flint will introduce the same subjects to-night who were operated upon last night, and every evening this week except Friday he will give an entirely new programme, never repeating the same feature a second time, and inviting new subjects at every entertainment to join those who have already been operated upon.

BOOTS AND SHOES

Marked in Plain Figures and Sold at One Price Only.

Hubert Ashplant, having for some years past felt dissatisfied with the bantering two-priced system of dealing, which has so long been prevalent in the retail trade, has decided to mark all his immense stock of Boots, Shoes, Slippers, etc., in plain figures, to be sold at one price only, and at such low cost that no customer can fail to see good value. While obliged to meet a demand for all grades, I shall not study the shoddy or sheepskin lines, but cultivate such goods as can truly be recommended. I am daily opening out new and stylish spring goods. These new lines are bought right and are all being marked at lowest possible cash prices, and in the course of a few days all goods previously in stock will be re-marked in plain figures on the same system. I believe this one-price dealing will be appreciated by my old customers and by the general public. I desire my customers to be dealt with honorably, and I allow no willful misrepresentation of goods. If any shoe does not turn out satisfactory for its cost, please return to me and I shall be only too pleased to make it right, as no retailer manufactures his own goods, and errors may always occur unavoidably. Notice my address and sign of the big boot on the window in Market Lane.

PLUMBERS, Etc.

—THE—
Crescent Hydrant.

has two pipes, one covering the valve rod (dry pipe) and the one conveying the water to the spout (wet pipe). The rod in this hydrant is actuated by a brass screw and handle above, and raising plunger the smallest fraction of an inch, closes waste before any water can enter discharge pipe. With the valve open we have the full and unobstructed flow of water through the hydrant which can well be compared to a straight way valve or round-way cock. Closing the valve empties all water from wet pipe through dry hole. To repair hydrant or washer remove top cap or plate and withdraw plunger valve. It can be readily repaired without digging up.
