killed. Neal Dow's 90th Birthday. LONDON, March 20 .- The temperance societies throughout England are to-day celebrating the 90th birthday of Gen. Italian Palaces for Sale.

VIENNA, March 20.-It is reported here that the deplorable state of Italian finances has induced King Humbert to very considerably reduce the civil list. The King is said to have directed that several of the royal palaces and grounds outside of Rome be sold immediately. The palaces at Turin, Venice, Florence, Naples and Palermo, will not be sold, and a few hunting parks will be retained. The expense of maintaining royal properties is so great, it is said, as to be burdensome. Hon. Robert Reid's Mission. LONDON, March 20 .- In the case of the Bank of British North America vs. Buxton in the High Court of Justice to-day judgment was given for the plaintiffs with costs. Hon, Robert Reid, of Victoria, Australia,

Death of Kossuth.

TURIN, March 20 .- Louis Kossuth. the Hungarian patriot, died at 11 o'clock tonight. His son, sister and other relatives were present when he died. He passed away holding the hand of the Hungarian deputy Karoly. The agony of his death was extremely harrowing. The body of Kossuth will be interred in Genca near that of his daughter. Edmond De Amicis, the Italian author, will deliver a funeral oration in the name of Italy. The obsequies will be imposing, and will be attended by a great gathering of Hungarians. Kossuth was born April 27, 1802.

Parnellite Fulminations.

LONDON, March 20 .- The Irish National-League (Parnellite) has issued a manifesto concerning Lord Rosebery's explanation of his attitude towards home rule. The manifesto declares that the explanation is insufficient, and that Irish members of Parliament who accept it are trucklers, cowards and traitors, who ought to be driven out of public life. It calls upon Irishmen to rally at the old call, and make an immediate demand for an Irish parliament and executive, possessing all the attributes of the English Parliament and executive. How Italian Boodlers Are Dealt With. Gallina is to be imprisoned for two years and eight months, to be excluded from public office for two years more and to pay a fine of 3,000 lire. Two men implicated in the fraud received similar sentences and two were acquitted.

Knighting a Scholar. LONDON, March 20 .- It seems rather a droll way of recognizing scholarship to make a man a knight, but if he likes it there is none deserving the distinction more than Prof. Seeley, who henceforth will be Sir John. It is now admitted that he is the author of "Ecce Homo," which occasioned such religious flutterings in 1866. Both his classical and historical studies are of the first order of merit, but it is supposed that Rosebery selected him to lead off his first honor list rather on account of his "Expansion in England," by, the new Premier among them. Protection Cripples India. LONDON, March 20 .- Gen. Lord Roberts, ex-commander-in-chief of her Majesty's forces in India, was a guest of the city of Newcastle to-day. In a speech, acknowledging the freedom of the city, Lord Roberts took occasion to express his views upon certain imports by the Indian Government, and his views on Indian affairs. He deplored the fact that protection was hindering the growth of commerce with India, but it was a fact, never-

He thought it a great deal more necessary to strengthen the army than to augment the navy, though he thought both needed strengthening. There was nothing the navy could do, he said, to prevent Russian aggression in Afghanistan, but the army could do something. Unless the natives are overawed by an effective army, he declared, the Indian Empire was Six Elections. London, March 20 .- Beginning with Hawick on the 27th, there will be a halfdozen bye-elections-three Scottish, two English and one Welsh-coming in a bunch, which will deeply excite the whole British political world. In five of them the Liberals are on the defensive, and as two are decidedly close they view the cutlook They knoy themselves up, nervous!y. however, with the fact that Rosebery's popularity in Scotland may increase majorities in the north, and in their one English seat their candidate for re-election, Brand, has a beautiful young wife, who goes about during campaigns with a parlor organ, singing songs. Five Persons Killed in an Arkansas Village.

Great Destruction Caused by Storm and Flood in Several Sections.

TEXARKANA, Ark., March 20 .- A report reached this city last night that a tornado had visited Saratoga, Ark., and the surrounding neighborhood, killing five persons and severely injuring many others. A great deal of damage was done to property, the village being almost totally wrecked. This city and its surrounding locality have been visited by one of the heaviest rainfalls known here for many years. MONROE, La., March 20 .- A strong wind coming down from the northwest yesterday evening, blew down a number of dwellings and stores in this city. No lives were lost, but several persons were seriously injured.

PURVIS, Miss., March 20 .- At 5 a.m. a destructive storm passed through this section. A great deal of timber was leveled and some houses were wrecked. No lives have been reported lost.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 20.—Damage to property in the Mississippi Valley by storms and floods during the past 48 hours, is beyond calculation. Bridges have been washed away, houses wrecked, railroad tracks displaced, farms flattened out and crops delayed.

OMAHA, Neb., March 20.-Reports from the northwestern part of the State says an unusually severe blizzard is raging this evening, and that it is the worst storm of the winter. The blizzard seems to be general and the loss to stock will be great. The Black Hills are getting a good share of the storm, and a 40-mile wind is blowing from the northwest. A telegram from Millette, Wyo., says that the blizzard is the fiercest ever experienced. Loss to range cattle is estimated to be at least 75 per cent., as the stock was without shelter and greatly weakened by privation.

GONE UP IN SMOKE.

Destructive Fires at Port Hope, Bowmanville and Other Points.

PORT HOPE, Ont., March 20 .- The loss by the destruction by fire last night of Barritt's flour mill is $15,000. BOWMANVILLE, Ont., March 20 .- Fire was discovered early this morning in the large and handsome brick block owned by G. Mason. Considerable damage was done to the building and to the stock of T. In Congress-The Tariff Bill. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20 .- The Tariff Bill, as modified by the Senate committee on finance, was reported in the Senate to-day and was ordered to be printed and placed on the calendar. Mr. Voorbees (Dem., Ind.), who made the report gave notice that he would ask the Senate to begin the consideration of the bill on Mon-

Two Sessions Taken Up in Debating the Fee System.

Mr. Woods' Amendment Voted Down by Twenty Majority.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) PARLIAMENT HOUSE, TORONTO, March 20. - Dr. McKay (Oxtord) resumed the debate on the budget. He referred chiefly to Mr. Woods' amendment, relative to the abolition of the fee system, and criticised took his place. The latter was outclassed the Opposition's action in springing such a resolution upon the House in connection with the motion to go into supply. The Opposition claimed that they wanted a straight vote upon the principle, and that if they made a separate motion on the which every Imperial Federationist swears question amendments would render such a dictum impossible. This was absurd. The Opposition could demand a separate vote upon each amendment if any were moved. He then went on to refer in eulogistic terms to the system of inspection now in vogue in respect to registry offices. It was the best, admittedly, in the world. Opposition speakers appeared to be fond of pointing to the United States for models of the manner in which the Government should administer affairs. He feared that "The Old Flag" must be loosing its charm, The Opposition members and their friends had not always been against the fee system. The father of the amendment, Mr. Wood (Hastings) stood in this position. From the Auditor-General's report of the Dominion, the speaker found that Mr. Wood received in 1890 $3,895 for 200 days' work; in 1891, $3,236 for 185 days' work; and in 1892, $4,274 for 262 days' work. The Government at Ottawa were evidently in favor of the fee system. He would give the House one instance. From the report referred to he found that a Daniel O'Connor received in the past five years $71,423 for law fees, or an aversge of $14,284 yearly. (Cheers.) Mr. Clarke (Toronto) made a lenthy speech in favor of the amendment. Mr. Cleland (Grey), rising amid cries of "Question!" "Question!" said that the people who required registrars should be the only ones asked to contribute to the salaries of these officials. Mr. Balfour (Essex) wanted to know how the salaries of the various officials would be provided if the fee system was abolished. Was it the intention to place the combined revenues in one general fund and then pay salaries? Mr. Balfour intimated that he favored the election of registrars. He characterized the amendment under consideration as an omnibus resolution to hoodwink the Patrons of Industry. which ought to give the Liberals an in- He was not going to be hoodwinked any more than the Patrons would be regarding they are fairly hopeful of really winning the matter. these sources of patronage. Mr. White (Essex) killed time for several minutes.

Mr. Hardy said that the Opposition wanted to make everybody think that they were tremendously in earnest about the fee question. It was noticeable, however, that night, "A Friend" kindly donated a silver Mr. Wood was yearly in receipt of fees: that Mr. Clarke received fees from the Ottawa Government; and that Mr. Whit- who has tied twice previously for the Ottawa Government; and that Mr. Whitney also made his living through the fee principle. (Cheers.) The Minister of Education, Mr. Hardy said, had a are the scores of the second and third class bill in hand to rectify cases in which shots (five shots at 200 yards kneeling and abnormal salaries were secured in the 500 yards prone): larger centers of population. He had corresponded with the proper parties in a number of the States of the Union, and had found that the general practice there was to pay by fees. A good deal had been said about a certain office being left open. Why not? The law provided that whenever a registrar or sheriff died the deputy sheriff should perform all the duties of the office. And as long as the duties were satisfactorily performed no reasonable exception could be taken. Nearly all the Opposition speakers had cheered each other with the assurance of success at the next election. Dr. Willoughby, he said, smiled benignly in the House, but he did not smile when in East Northumberland. He went about the concessions of that constituency in his seven-league boots, "seeking rest and finding none." Then there was the member for Muskoka. He had no friends. He was like that fabled character the Wandering Jew. He rambled from constituency to constituency, looking for friends, but securing instead new foes, Themembers of the Opposition who were now going forth so valiantly, conquering and to conquer, would be after the election-in his prophetic estimate-nothing but extinct volcanoes, from whose mouth would flicker not a spark of hope. (Continued applause.) It being 6 o'clock the Speaker left the chair. EVENING SESSION.

The debate on Mr. Woods' resolution, favoring the abolition of the fee system, moved as an amendment to Mr. Harcourt's motion to go into supply, was continued this evening for over three hours. The vote on the amendment was lost by 49 to 29. Mr. McCallum and Mr. McNaughton voted with the Opposition.

Sir Oliver Mowat intimated that when the House rose at 6 o'clock Thursday next it would stand adjourned till the following Monday.

ATHLETICS.

THE CITY CHAMPIONSHIP. The final bouts for the medals and city championships were sparred last night in the Forest City athletic rooms before several hundred sports. Messrs. Reid, Sare and Chapman acted as referees and awarded the light weight championship and medal to Mr. Alex. Furness, the middle-weight championship to Mr. Joe Reidy and the heavy-weight class to Mr. Jack Smart.

The light-weight contest was the prettiest exhibition of the evening and was marked throughout by clean hitting. Shain was unable to appear and Mr. Walsh in every way and the medal was pinned on Mr. Furness at the end of the third round amid applause. Birmingham was out of condition and did not show up as well as expected in the middle-weight bout. There was a great deal of pushing and chasing during the centest and Reidy appeared to have greater staying powers. Birmingham had the best of the second round but went to smash on the third and the championship was awarded to his somewhat shorter opponent, Joe Reidy. A year's fun centered around the fight for the colored championship, when Tracey's colored attendant, Matthews, and Fountain faced one another for the gold medal. When the lads were not chasing one another they were either fanning the air or getting their gloves tied on. However they worked hard and ran the points up to 30-33, the odds and medal going to Matthews. The heavy-weight contest developed the fact that Thomas Greenbrook, while comparatively new in city athletic circles, is no slouch. He made a first rate show against his heavy and hard-hitting opponent Jack Smart, and showed himself to be an adept at recovery and nimble on his feet. But Smart had weight in his favor and won the

The windup was a scientific exhibition between Jack Crawford, instructor of the club, and George Harding. Each round was vigorously applauded.

Next Tuesday night will be Harding's benefit, and among other entertainment promised is a bout between Jack Stewart, Canada's champion, and Jack Crawford.

MITCHELL A TEETSTALER. Charlie Mitchell says that he has joined the ranks of the teetotalers. He added that he had taken the pledge for one year, and casually remarked that if anyone caught him in the act of indulging in any intoxicating liquors they could punch him on the nose. Charley says if he had thought of this years ago he might still be champion of England, and probably champion of the world.

Wednesday was fixed as the club shoot day, and the adoption of rules was left to the manager and executive committee.

A rifle club was also organized with the same officers, only with W. Godwin as manager. Tuesday is their shoot day. BASEBALL.

FIRST MATCH OF THE SEASON. The management of the Alert Baseball Club are already at work and have made arrangements for the opening match in this city on May 24. The club secured is that of the University of Illinois, which lovers of baseball will well remember as having visited London last year. The game played then was pronounced the most brilliant of the series, the visitors only winning by one run after eleven innings.

Several changes will be noticed on the Alerts this year. Hutchinson, who was always greatly admired his good work on the diamond, will be replaced by Frank Farnsworth, of this city, whose abilities as a player are well known. Pitcher Sheppard will not occupy the box, the home team having decided to have none but local pitchers. Hiscott and Sheere will be on deck, and Michael Carney, a speedy leftpaw twirler on E. Leonard & Sons' team. will be given a trial. Burton has entirely recovered from his attack of rhoumatism and will again hold down first bag.

Weber and Burton will attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Baseball Association to be held in Toronto on

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 20.-The steamer City of Peking arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohama this morning. When the steamer left Hong Kong the steamer St. Asaph, with a cargo of coal for that port, was six days over duefrom Japan, and it was generally believed that she had foundered after being in collision with the steamer Hangehow. remedies dispensed under a physician's prescription alone. Its most characteristic and painful symptom, however, the terrible aching pain, can be greatly relieved, and the patient made very much more comfortable, by a thorough rubbing of the body, wherever painful, with Pond's Extract, diluted with hot water. This treatment will also tend to prevent catching cold.

Of Personators and Others Making False and Malicious Statements.

Through exercising every effort to establish a business upon the principle of giving Good Teas and Coffees at moderate prices, it has come to my knowledge that I have been subjected to personation, untruthful and disparaging comments, at the hands of various parties, who apparently wish to damage the good reputation my Delicious Blends of Pure Indian Teas and Finest Blend of Coffees are gaining amongst a large number of consumers. I hereby warn the public against the practices of those who stoop to such mean methods. My own agents carry with them convincing proofs of representing me. I simply invite the public to try my goods and judge for themselves.

McCarthy Brings in His Dual Language Bill.

Discordant Notes Struck by Members of the Happy Family.

Mr. Devlin Takes Mr. Wallace to Task for Offensive Language-Mr. Muloch Introduces a Bill to Offset the Cattle Freight Combine.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.] OTTAWA, March 20 .- The chief feature f the sitting of the House was the introduction of Mr. McCarthy's act to amend the Northwest Territories Act by relegating to the Assembly the exclusive control over education and abolishing, as he said, the last vestige of the dual language in that country. The original section imposed duality of language in four mattersthe publication of the ordinances, the proceedings of the Assembly, the publication of those proceedings and the proceedings of the courts. In 1890 the Assembly was given power to do away with the French language with respect to its own proceedings and the publication of the journals, leaving the use of the French language legal in the courts of the Territories and imperative as to the publication of the ordinances. "I do not bring this up in any spirit of hostility to the interests of our fellow French citizens," said Mr. Mc-Carthy, "but because I believe that the interests of the country will be served by the adoption of this bill. I do not believe that we should perpetuate two languages in that country. Recently the Government has found some difficulty in dealing with the subject of education in the Northwest, and I believe that they have since realized that the people of Manitoba and of the Northwest are perfectly comthemselves, uncontrolled by Parliament, and that it is better for the peace and welfare of this country. Therefore, I have much pleasure in introducing this bill, which will take away the disability with regard to education and remove the last vestige of the dual language in the North-

Mr. Devlin, the member for Ottawa after the prior consent of Parliament has county, Que., made a warm speech, being called to his feet, he said, by Mr. Mc-Carthy's assertion that Quebec was responsible for the hard feeling existing in Canada to-day. It was Mr. McCarthy who was responsible for such feeling. Since 1887 he had labored with a project to close Manitoba and the Northwest against the Catholics of Quebec. He told them that if they wished to go there their language would be proscribed and their rights trampled upon. It was his hatred against the Catholics of Canada and the French-Canadians of Quebeo which formed Mr.

McCarthy's stock in trade. Mr. McCarthy here rose to correct Mr. Devlin by saying that he had not said that Quebec was responsible for the hard feeling existing. What he had said was to hope that they were not going to perpetuate in the Northwest the racial divisions which unhappily existed in the Province of Quebec. "Well," said Mr. Devlin, "let us see about divisions;" and he went on to point out that Ottawa county, which was over-whelmingly Catholic, had until the last election always returned a Protestant to this House. Hull, the most Catholic city in Canada, elected a Protestant mayor for many years. There were other Catholic constituencies in Quebec which showed their generosity by returning Protestants to the Legislature. What had Mr. Mc-Carthy done for this country? Nothing but to make a few despicable attempts such as he was making to-day. Here Mr. Mc-Carthy smiled genially across the House.

Mr. Devlin declared that the schools established in Manitoba were Protestant Several members called out "No, no," but Mr. Devlin said he would prove it out of Mr. Devlin then read a quotation from a speech of Mr. Martin, in which that gen-tleman had said that religious exercises ought to be obliterated from national schools, and that was the only way in which such schools could be justified as constitutional.

Mr. Devlin alluded to a speech from the Commissioner of Customs last night, at an Orange banquet in this city, in which Mr. Wallace had referred to Catholics as being disloyal, and spoke offensively of the Roman Catholic Church as the Romish

Mr. Devlin objected to this, and spoke of Mr. Wallace as being actuated by a mean spirit when the Speaker called him to

They are making money figuratively and literally. It is said they realize 51 cents profit on every dollar produced. 'So clever have they worked that the cash drawers and banks of this city, Council Bluffs and South Omaha have been the receptacles for thousands of these homemade dollars. It is a "seigniorage" scheme on the sly, and has finally attracted the attention of the Government. The detectives are satisfied they have the counterfeiters where they can reach them. The most puzzling feature of the situation is how the output of the gang can be separated from the issue of the Government, as they are exactly similar.

Troughs with separate compartments are recommended. Public drinking troughs were established chiefly for the use of the careless, who were thus reminded of what they owed to their animals. No considerate horse owner will run the risk here indicated by veterinary experts. He will see that his horse is regularly watered, either from his own bucket or a running stream.

It will be replaced by a kepi, similar to the headgear worn by the Austrian infantry. ### PERSONATION.

Provincial Secretary Gibson has brought into the Provincial Legislature a bill for the more effectual punishment of personators at provincial elections. The "one man one vote" provision in the Ontario Act is a powerful preventive of personation in the rural constituencies, but it has been found that in the cities even the wholesome enactment which provides that a man should vote where he lives, and there only, does not fully meet the case. The bil brought in by the Provincial Secretary is labor market with men who are able to find intended to make the crime more difficult work in the country in the summer, but of accomplishment. It applies to Toronto, London, Hamilton and Ottawa, and sets forth that the returning officer, if information concerning personation is given to him, may at any time during election day issue a warrant for the arrest of the offender. He may swear in special constables to make the arrest, and even poll clerks are declared to be constables for this purpose. If the deputy returning officer does not perform his duty in this regard, he is liable to punishment the same as for other cases of neglect of duty under the election law. The county attorney is to provide the deputy returning officer with all the necessary forms of information and warrants, and is to receive $4 for each deputy returning officer so supplied. It would be well to have the provisions of this measure extended to municipal elections. Dishonesty in connection with the recording of the popular verdict should be severely punished, no matter who is the culprit. The liberty of the people is at

THE UNPOPULAR TREATY. Mr. Dickie, M. P. for Cumberland, N. S., voices the opinion of the supporters of the Canadian treaty with France when he says that "the Government is in honor bound to submit the treaty for ratification and to ask its supporters to stand by it." This is the view promulgated by Sir Charles Tupper, who has threatened all kinds of trouble for Sir John Thompson unless he commits the Conservative party to the indorsation of the one-sided bargain. A very large section of the people, however, are opposed to the treaty, and for different organ of the protectionists, for example, opposes the ratification of the treaty on these grounds:

"This journal has always opposed the ratification of the French treaty as a Tupperian freak that would greatly benefit France and greatly injure Canadian industries of great value. With grape growing and wine making industries of our own, upon which we could rely with certainty for domestic wines of absolute purity, and which give profitable employment to so many of our people, it would not be an act of wisdom to give free entry into our markets of the wretched so-called cheap wines of France.

This feeling is especially strong in the Niagara Peninsula and in Western Ontario, where the grape industry is a large and growing one. But the temperance people join issue with the Tupper wing of the Ministerial party, and oppose the completion of the treaty because it encourages the importation of intoxicants and ties the hands of the Government no matter how the question of prohibition for the whole Dominion may be finally disposed of.

It is true that a few Canadian products are received into France at a reduction of the present rate of duty, but no one so far has seriously advocated that the swapping would be equitable. Then the "favored nation" clause in the treaty is emphatically objectionable. If France reduces the tariff on the article mentioned in the treaty to any other country, Canada will have the advantage also; but in future and the French colonies generally, the full benefit of any commercial advantages that may be entered into with a third contracting nation.

Sir Charles Tupper's pride was wounded because the Government at Ottawa did not at once lay the treaty before Parliament for ratification last February when he sent it to Ottawa. It was the first product of his brains as a European diplomat. He was bound to see it indorsed, and to obtain perial authorities to a successful diplomat, When, in face of hostile criticism, Mr. Foster last year refused to lay the treaty that the Government by accepting a draft treaty consented to the agreement finally reached. The Administration has had over a year to consider its course. But it their agent professed to be armed with full powers, they are now unable to command a majority for the treaty in Parliament. The dilly-dallying but tends to convince the people that the treaty is not one that should be ratified. Will Sir John Thompson dare to force it through ?

LABORERS FOR CANADA. Canada suffers a great deal from the publication of such injudicious statements as that which follows:

"In any part of Canada a farm laborer may earn from 4s. to 5s. a day, and with ordinary intelligence have an independent farm of his own in a few years."

This is from the London Canadian Gazette, a paper to which the Dominion Government pays thousands of dollars a year. There is not a farm laborer in this the most favored section of agricultural Canada, who does not know that the assertion is not well founded, and the same may be said of Quebec, New Brunswick and other parts of Canada. Farm laborers may get $1 25 a day during the short and busy summer season, but no such wage can be guaranteed to them during the winter months. This winter young immigrants have been working at various points for their board, and glad to get it. The effect of drawing the long bow about the prospects of farm laborers is to flood the Canadian who troop into the cities in the winter, causing such a competition among city workmen as to lower the rate of remunera. tion beyond that which is necessary to keep a wife and family. The great need of Canada at present is not moneyless laborers, sent here with the ill-founded assurance that they can get plenty of work, the year round, at good pay, but men with money to take up land and cultivate it. There will always be plenty of workmen it the remuneration is ample.

For Wiping Out the Debt of Prince Edward Island-Fancy Salaries Must Come Down.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. J., March 20 .-At Mount Stewart last night Premier Peters laid down his plan of taxing before highest grade, is manufactured by a large audience, amid great enthusiasm. 🕾 He will devote the proceeds of the land office to wiping out the debt. He said it was a wrong principle to tax industry, thrift and enterprise.

He will revert to the old system of a tax on land, 21 or 3 cents an acre. Farms will be valued in three classes, $500 to $1,000 and $2,000 each. No commissions or discounts will be allowed, and the taxpayers will not be called on.

He will abolish statute labor and impose a poll tax instead. A bill to license banks, insurance companies and commercial travelers will be introduced. He will economize on every point, beginning with his own salary. All holding ornamental positions will have their salaries reduced.

Tuesday Afternoon.

The opening meeting of the convention was held in Wesley Hall, and began at 2.30. Rev. J. W. Annis was chairman. The building was filled to the doors, not a seat remaining vacant. During the entire session the deepest interest was taken in the proceedings by the large assemblage. After the usual devotional exercises, the chairman made a short address, heartily welcoming the delegates and wishing them a pleasont stay in the Forest City. Mr. Annis then introduced a young and promising worker in the Methodist Church—Mr. Ivor E. Brock, of Chatham-who spoke on "District Organization." The subject was handled in an efficient manner, and several times the speaker was applauded. They were assembled, said Mr. Brock, as Methodist young people's societies of Ontario-misject the development of the young life of the church, and to give them an experience and training which will, when they reached maturer years, make them heroes and giants in the work? This being the case, there was no doubt that all such societies should become Epworth Leagues of Christian Endeavor. There was no mission band or gleaners' society which could no. do better work were they junior leagues, I because, while they could do as much mission work as formerly, the important enterprise of developing the young Christian life of the church along other lines could be better carried on. The same could be said of literary societies and reading circles. Taken this as granted, then it must appear that all Methodist young people's societies in Ontario should be organized as Epworth Leagues or Christian Endeavor Societies, or, better still, as both. However, to have a strong, healthy district organization, one name must be adopted. As Epworth Leagues and Endeavor Societies, all have emanated from the same body, but on some account some have diverged into different societies, until the trunk of unity has been ruptured. But should they not by a strong band of fellowship draw those sections closer together, and grow into a vigorous Epworth League of Christian Endeavor organization? He decidedly advised county and district conventions, because in the smaller gatherings delegates who were not gifted with a flow of language were not too timid to voice their good practical ideas. He favored the inauguration of a journal to fill the place in Ontario that the Epworth Herald does

Long before 7:30 last night crowds dist Church, and not until 8:15 did the influx cease. The platform was tastily Ziegler also sang a solo in a very sweet and clear voice, and was loudly applauded. The chairman was Mr. F. W. Daly, the popular president of the Young People's Union, who discharged the duties of the position in a manner which would reflect eredit upon a person of much wider experience. In a few happy remarks Mr. Daly cordially welcomed the delegates and that they would be present at the remainder of the sessions.

ADDRESSES OF WELCOME. There were several addresses of welconvention that during their stay in London anything belonging to the church could be put to their use. (Applause.)

Mr. Daly next introduced Mayor Essery to reply on behalf of the citizens of London. He said the success of the country and of the people depended greatly upon the manner in which their forefathers had rallied around the Union Jack (cheers), and if the coming generation followed suit it would continue so. He hoped that when the delegates returned home they would take with them many happy reminiscences of their stay in the Forest

"The Methodist Young People's Union" was represented by Mr. W. J. Wattam, of London West. Mr. Wattam extended a most cordial welcome and hoped that the convention would prove a great blessing to all who attended.

A REPLY. Rev. Dr. Withrow, general secretary of the Epworth League, Toronto, raplied to these words of welcome. Dr. Withrow was well received. He said that the hospitality of Londoners was well known from one end of the Dominion to the other. During the past year no less than six conventions had been held in this city, so it must be pretty hospitable. The eyes of the whole Dominion were at present on London, on account of the present convention. Dr. Withrow paid a high compli-ment to two Londoners-Mr. John Cameron and Mrs. May R. Thornley-for the great help rendered by them at the held that the church since the introducrecent prohibition convention at Toronto, tion had not added as many members as it both of whom were on the deputation which waited on the Ontario Government. cited the figures in proof. In speaking of safeguards, Dr. Carman said ing but a league; second, it must have its connections right; and third, it was to maintain spiritual power, for which he admired the Christian Endeavor. Rev. T. A. Moore, superintendent of the department of junior work, read an interesting paper on junior work. It was referred to the committee on that work. "The ideal Methodist Young People's Society" was the subject of a paper read by Rev. G. H. Cobbledick, B.A., Brussels. Among the aims referred to were the promotion of piety, of missions, of Bible study, of spiritual worship, the accomplishment of definite work for Christ and for man by the use of personal influence in the church and Sunday school and daily life.

J. R. L. Starr, Toronto, followed with an equally interesting paper on "Its Methods.

Then came the general discussion on the papers read. It was introduced by C. P. Holton, Belleville. Among the many who took part was Rev. James Cook, M.D., Ripley. at Massillon. MASSILLON, March 21 .- The leaders of the Coxey army estimate that 1,000 men will be in line when the start to Washington is made on Sunday next. Reports from Canton, Louisville, Columbiana and other stations along the Pensylvania and Valley Railways are to the effect that the tramps are at last on the march to Massillon. One train from Akron was stopped four times to clear the cars of the vagabonds. Saturday and Sunday will be the big days in Massillon. Excursion trains will be run from a score of points, and it is expected that 5,000 strangers, many of whom will no doubt join the army, will witness the start of the crusaders. Late last night Coxey received a telegram from A. P. York, of Indianapolis, stating that 1,100 men were about to leave that place to join the army here.

THE FURNISHE

As soon as we were outside the town I fell back, permitting Franchette to take my place. For another league, a long and dreary one, we plodded on in silence, horses and men alike jaded and sullen, and the women scarcely able to keep their saddles for fatigue. At last, much to my relief, see-ing that I began to fear I had taxed mademoiselle's strength too far, the long low buildings of the inn at wichh I proposed to stay came in sight, at the crossing of the road and river. The place looked black and cheerless, for the dusk was thickening; but as we trailed one by ne into the court-yard a stream of firelight Jurst on us from doors and windows, and a dozen sounds of life and comfort greeted our ears.

Noticing that mademoiselle was benumbed and cramped with lour sitting, I would have helped her to dismount; but she fiercely rejected my aid, and I had to content myself with requesting the landlord to assign the best accommodation he had to the lady and her attendant, and secure as much privacy for them as possible. The man assented very civilly and said all should be done; but I noticed that his eyes wandered while I talked, and that he seemed to have something on his mind. When he returned, after disposing of them, it came out.

"Did von ever happen to see him, sir?" he asked with a sigh; yet was there a smug air of pleasure mingled with his melancholy.
"See whom?" I answered, staring at him, for neither of us had mentioned any one.

"The duke, sir." I stared again between wonder and suspicion. "The Duke of Nevers is not in this part, is he?" I said slowly. I heard he was on the Brittany border, away to the west-

"Mon Dieu!" my host exclaimed, raising his hands in astonishment. "You have not

"I have heard nothing," I answered impatiently. "You have not heard, sir, that the most puissant and illustrious lord the Duke of Guise is dead?" "M. de Guise dead? It is not true!" I cried astonished.

He nodded, however, several times with an air of great importance, and seemed as if he would have gone on to give me some particulars. But, remembering, as I fancied, that he spoke in the hearing of half a dozen guests who sat about the great fire behind me, and had both eyes and ears open, he contented himself with shifting his towel to his other arm and adding only, 'Yes, sir, dead as any nail. The news came through here yesterday, and made a pretty stir. It happened at Blois the day but one before Christmas, if all be true.

I was thunderstruck. This was news that might change the face of France. How did it happen ?" I asked.

My host covered his mouth with his hand and coughed, and, privily twitching my sleeve, gave me to understand with some shamefacedness that he could not say more in public. I was about to make some excuse to retire with him, when a harsh voice, apparently addressed to me, caused me to turn sharply. I found at my elbow a tall thin-faced monk in the habit of the Jacobin order. He had risen from his seat beside the fire, and seemed to be laboring under

'Who asked how it happened?" he cried. rolling his eyes in a kind of frenzy, while still observant, or I was much mistaken, of his listeners. Is there a man in France to whom the tale has not been told? Is

"I will answer for one," I replied, regarding him with little favor. "I have heard

'Then you shall! Listen!" he exclaimed, raising his right hand and brandishing it as though he denounced a person then present. 'Hear my accusation, made in the name of Mother Church and the saints against the arch hypocrite, the perjurer and assassin sitting in high places! He shall be Anathema Maranatha, for he has shed the blood of the holy and the pure, the chosen of Heaven! He shall go down to the pit, and that soon. The blood that he has shed shall be required of him, and that before he is one year older."

"Tut-tut. All that sounds very fine, good father," I said, waxing impatient, and a little scornful; for I saw that he was one of those wandering and often crazy monks in whom the League found their most useful emissaries. "But I should profit more by your gentle words, if I knew whom you were cursing.' "The man of blood!" he cried; through whom the last but not the least of God's saints and martyrs entered into glory on the Friday before Christmas.' Moved by such profanity, and judging him, notwithstanding the extravagance of his words and gestures, to be less mad than he seemed, and as much knave as fool, I bade him sternly have done with his cursing and proceed to his story if he had one.

He glowered at me for a moment, as though he were minded to launch his spiritual weapons at my head; but as I returned his glare with an unmoved eye-and my four rascles, who were as impatient as myself to learn the news, and had scarce more reverence for a shaven crown, began to murmur-he thought better of it, and cooling as suddenly as he had flamed up, lost no time in satisfying our curiosity.

It would ill become me, however, to set down the extravagant and often blasphemous harangue in which, styling M. de Guise the martyr of God, he told the story now so familiar—the story of that dark wintry morning at Bois, when the king's messenger, knocking early at the duke's door, bade him hurry, for the king wanted him.

The story is trite enough now. When I heard it first in the inn on the Clain, it was all new and all marvelous.

The monk, too, telling the story as if he had seen the events with his own eyes, omitted nothing which might impress his hearers. He told us how the duke received warning after warning, and answered in the very ante-chamber, 'He dare not!' How is blood, mysteriously advised of coming issolution, grew chill, and his eye, wounded at Chateau Thierry, began to run, so that he had to send for the handkerchief he had forgotten to bring. He told us, even, how the duke drew his assassins up and down he chamber, how he cried for mercy, and ow he died at last at the foot of the king's ped, and how the king, who had never dared to face him living, came and spurned nim dead!

There were pale faces round the fire when he ceased, and bent brows and lips hard pressed together. When he stood and cursed the king of France—cursing him openly by the name of Henry of Valois, a thing I had never locked to hear in France—though no one said 'Amen,' and all glanced over their shoulders, and our host pattered rom the room as if he had seen a ghost, it seemed to be no man's duty to gainsay him.
For myself, I was full of thoughts which it would have been unsafe to utter in that tompany or so near the Loire. I looked back sixteen years. Who but Henry of Juise had spurned the corpse of Coligny? And who but Henry of Valois had backed him in the act? Who but Henry of Guise had drenched Paris with blood, and who but Henry of Valois had ridden by his side? On the 23rd of the month—a day never to be erased from France's annals—had purchased for him a term of greatnesss. A second 23rd saw him pay the price—saw his ashes cast secretly and by night no man knows where!

Moved by such thoughts, and observing that the priest was going the round of the company collecting money for masses for the duke's soul, to which object I could neither give with a good conscience nor re-fuse without exciting suspicion, I slipped out; and finding a man of decent appearance talking with the landlord in a small room beside the kitchen, I called for a flask of the best wine, and by means of that introduc-tion obtained my supper in their company. The stranger was a Norman horsedealer, returning home after disposing of his string. He seemed to be in a large way of business, and being of a bluff, independent spirit, as many of those Norman townsmen are, was inclined at first to treat me with more familiarity than respect; the fact of my nag, for which he would have chaffered, excelling my coat in quality, leading him to set me down as a steward or intendant. The pursuit of his trade, however, had brought him into connection with all classes of men, and he quickly perceived his mistake; and as he knew the provinces between the Seine and the Loire to perfection, and made it part of his business to foresee the chances of peace and war. I obtained a great amount of information from him, and indeed conceived no little liking for him. He believed that the assassination of M. de Guise would alienate so much of France from the king that his majesty would have little left save the towns on the Loire, and some other places within easy reach of his court at

I was unable to use any food whatever except boiled milk and bread; my limbs were swollen to twice their natural size; all hopes of my recovery were given up, and I quite expected death within a few weeks. DR. WILD'S ALE

Causes Some Discussion at the First Congregational Church-He Will Beturn Next Month-Church Finances.

The annual meeting of the First Congregational Church Monday evening was very properly opened with a pleasant supper and social reunion, which fortified the members for the business which followed. The chairman, Mr. Langridge, read the estimates for the year. They looked for re-ceipts of $1,656, but it would leave only $167 remaining for a pastor's salary.

At this juncture there was a lively discussion. Mr. A. E. Harding, the acting secretary, said God would take care of the finances if they only trusted in him. Dr. Wild, who had filled the pulpit lately, was a sort of professional wind-bag, he said. Amid cries of order Mr. Harding went on to say that if Dr. Wild was forced to take stimulants and wandered from his subject in the pulpit he was not a man of God in the speaker's idea. Dr. Wild, he thought, had done more harm than good to the spiritual interests of the church, and the best members would leave if he preached again there. (Applause.)

The chairman and Deacon Marshall spoke a good word for Dr. Wild, Deacon Moule knew of an ex-infidel whose infidelity Dr. Wild had knocked out.

Mr. Langridge explained that Dr. Wild had told the deacons that he had been ordered by his doctor to smoke and drink stimulants, and that is why he could not accept a charge.

Deacon Marshall said there was no secret bout it, and that the doctor took a glass of ale, but drank neither tea nor coffee. Finally the deacons decided to accept

Dr. Wild's offer to preach here in April and May, and the congregation consented. The permanent pastorate will be decided by the deacons. Dr. Stembridge, of Springfield, Ill., is spoken of.

The financial statement, read by Treasurer R. Marshall, showed total receipts of $3,59587. The weekly offerings amounted to $1,318 62; plate collections, $726 38; Ladies' Aid, $192 42; special donations, $175; Sunday school, $189 39; balance of debt reduction fund, including Henry Mathewson's bequest, $533; proceeds of B. B. N. A. note, $300; small amounts make up the balance. The principal items on the side of expenditures included $1,372 for salaries, $1,017 being for pastor and pulpit supply; maintenance cost, $323 57; interest, $641 25; paid of mortgage, $500; Ladies' Aid, $131 84; Sunday school, $150 35. The year was begun with a deficit of $291 78, which this year was reduced to $64 94. The balance sheet showed assets of $32,677, the church preperty being valued at $31,500. The balance of assets over liabilities is $21,693 49, the main liability being a $9,500 mortgage.

Had the Fusiliers reached Batoche in season it is possible that Col. Williams might not have been in the city to-day, but they did not reach Batoche in season for fighting. Liquor Dealers in Session.

The wholesale and retail liquor dealers and license holders of the city and county to the number of 60 met in the Duffield Block yesterday afternoon. All parts of Middlesex were represented. The chief item of business concerned the coming Provincial Convention of the Publican's Protective Association in Toronto. All members were urged to attend. The present aspect of the temperance questien was discussed at length but no definite steps were taken. That rests with the convention. The city and county organizations are separate so far as local interests are concerned. The officers of the London association are:

President—John Labatt. Vice-President—Dan. Dewar. Treasurer-Harry Carling. Secretary-John Flaherty.

The Collegiate Conversazione. The Collegiate Institute is beginning to present a holiday appearance in anticipation of the great conversazione and promenade concert to be held there Thursday evening. The whole interior of the magnificent buildings, and particularly the two assembly halls, are almost completely decorated with flags, streamers, bunting, and the old standby school colors, gold and navy, all artistically arranged to present a pleasing effect. Two suitable platforms are being erected and all the other necessary arrangements are nearing completion. The seating capacity has been fixed at 1,000 to assure every ticket-holder of a seat, and visitors' apparel will be checked and well taken care of by a painstaking committee. Tickets are reported to sell at a good rate, and there is every prospect of a full house and a splendid time.

Joseph T. Marks Nominated. At a largely attended meeting of representatives from the various labor unions and legislative clubs in the city, held last evening in the Labor Hall, the question sent the city in the Local Legislature was thoroughly discussed and the following resolution was adopted:

"That a candidate be nominated by this convention on the understanding that the nomination be submitted for approval to the various labor unions and legislative clubs and that four weeks from to-night an adjourned convention be held to indorse the nomination finally or to decide not to take action at all in the matter of placing a candidate in the field." Messrs. Joseph T. Marks and Henry B. Ashplant were nominated, but before balloting Mr. Ashplant stated that he would pot he the means of causing any division in the ranks of labor if Mr. Marks consented to accept the nomination. Mr. Marks intimated his willingness to accept the nomination, and Mr. Ashplant thereupon withdrew. The nomination of Mr. Marks was then made unanimous, amid the enthusiastic applause of the delegates. Committees were then appointed to wait upon the several labor organizations to carry out the intention of the above resolution. THE OLD TYME TEA

And Capital Concert at St. Andrew's-

Interesting Presentation. The old tyme tea and the modern concert at St. Andrew's Church drew such a multitude last night that nothing but perfect management and unbounded culinary resources could have met requirements, and that is the way in which the good pecple of the congregation met them. The basement, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., was a huge dining hall, and all were fed and well filled. The tables were covered with many square yards of good old-fashioned dishes, which were emptied by old-fashioned appetites, and filled again as each successive array bombarded them. The ladies in scores waited on their guests and gave faultless service.

An adjournment was afterwards made to the church, which was filled, body and gallery. Proceedings were opened in a very interesting manner. Messrs. James Gillean and Donald McDonald, the esteemed honorary ushers, were called to the front by Mr. James Mills, who, in a brief speech, presented each of them with a handsome easy chair, upholstered in leather. Mr. Gillean has been an usher in St. Andrew's Church for 52 years and Mr. McDonald for 44 years. They were in active service long before the present fine structure was thought of and when St. Andrew's was a frame building, so that they have seen a new generation spring up in its history. Both expressed their gratitude for these magnificent recognitions. Mr. Gillean said it always afforded him pleasure to welcome new comers to the congregation and to make the stranger feel at home in their happy family. He was greatly pleased to find that they had appreciated his efforts. They needed no formal recognition at their hands as he considered he was rewarded by the consciousness that he had done his duty. In his old age he should treasure this testimony of their good will, and as opportunity presented itself he would strive yet to lend a hand to promote the welfare of this progressive congregation. Mr. McDonald spoke in the same strain, and both were loudly applauded. The star attraction on the programme was Master Willie Kerr, of Detroit, the boy singer. He looked very nice in a lace collar and cuffs, and revealed a sweet and well trained soprano, which had no suspicion of the falsetto about it. His three numbers were received with delight. The day en route to Regina, accompanied by other selections were a duet by Miss Gilmour and Mr. J. W. McIntosh; solos by Miss Lillywhite, Mr. W. T. Moffatt, Mr. E. J. Forsythe, Mrs. Ellis, Miss Walker, and instrumentals by C. E. Wheeler. Rev. J. A. Murray presided, and short speeches full of good humor good will and good advice were delivered by Rev. Mr. Cook, of Dorchester, and Rev. W. J. Clark, city. Mr. Murray thanked the people for their liberal patronage in cordial terms. The platform was beautifully decorated with down the South Saskatchewan on flat- flowers, donated by Messrs. Greenway concert committee.

POLITICAL POINTS.

North York Tories Fail to Agree On a Candidate. NORTH YORK TORIES.

A convention of the Conservatives of North York to select a candidate for the Local House was held at Newmarket Tuesday afternoon. A number of names were submitted, but it was decided that no action be taken for the present.

The New York Tribune says that Justice Newton, of Gravesend, has turned state's evidence, and will assist the prosecution in disposing of the cases of indictment of followers of John Y. McKane.

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered. For sale by W. S. Barkwell, city.

Dear Sir—I am pleased to add my statement to the great number you have alreadyreceived, recommending in the highest terms Willisms' Royal Crown Remedy and Pilis. A Mr. Scott called at my home about six years ago and told my wife of the virtues contained in this marvelous liquid, and my wife and he persuaded me to buy two bottles of the remedy. It did me so much good that I bought six bottles, and we nave found it a great remedy for many complaints and it has been of great benefit to us and our friends, and has lessened our doctors' bills from those of former years. We have kept some of the Royal Crown Remedy on hand ever since we first tried it (over six years), and we highly recommend it to all who suffer from any curable disease. Take no substitute.
