THE SOUDAN SITUATION.

Dervishes Quarreling - Alleged Change in the British Plan of Campaign. London, Oct. 1.-The Chronicle asserts that the Ministeral Committee of National Defense has been summoned to London for the end of the week to consider affairs connected with the Soudan. It is probable that Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, commander-in-chief of the army, will be in attendance.

Advices received at Suakim from the Dervish headquarters show that disputes have broken out among the Khalifa's lieutenants, and that in consequence the various emirs are keeping their own followers around It is added that the influence of the Khalifa is shattered.

THE CZAR'S VISIT.

Nicholas opends a Fortune in Tips -Romance Recalled.

London, Sept. 30 .- The cost of the Czar's visit in the way of mementoes, gifts and tips is enormous. When Nicholas I. visited London and Windsor in 1844 he gave £3,000 ($15,000) in charities, £3,000 to the servants at Windsor, £3,000 worth of diamonds to the court ladies, twelve gold snuffboxes set in diamonds to the lords, grooms in waiting and equerries, and over 100 watches, brooches, rings and other presents. The present Czar is less severely damaged by the hurriexpected to at least equal his ancestor in the munificence of his gifts. It is understood that he will confer the Order of St. Andrew upon the Duke of York and the Marquis of Salisbury, while the Duchess of York change in Brooklyn caught fire from and Princess Beatrice will receive the Order of St. Catharine.

The visit has revived a romantic story, first published in England in jured. 1854 and periodically revived. It runs that the Crar Paul, while visiting in London, became enamored of a beautiful Scotch woman named McGregor and took her to Russia, where she became the mother of Nicholas I., greatgrandfather of the present Czar.

Scotland Yard detectives guarding the Czar at Balmoral report that he is enjoying the deer drives more than anything else. All accounts agree that he is delighted with the domesticity serts that P. Six Children Burned to Death by the Upsetting of a Stove-Death and Disaster on Every Hand.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 1.-The great hurricane worked vast damage in this city. The full extent of the losses will not be known for several days. In the business and residence sections not a single building escaped serious damage. Every church, hospital, asylum and school building in the city was more or less damaged. The Savannah, Florida and Western Railway suffered the greatest loss. passenger depot is a total wreck, and six new Pullman cars were badly damaged.

AT LEAST FIFTY LIVES LOST. It is a conservative estimate to say that 50 persons have lost their lives from the hurricane, and the number may run much higher. News comes slowly from that portion of the State where the storm first struck, for wires are down and railroads are impassable. The hurricane struck Florida at Cedar Keys, and reports show that it passed in its path of destruction over twenty towns and villages, and that between 30 and 40 persons have certainly been killed. Cedar Keys, with 1,500 innabitants, is about 100 miles southwest of Jacksonville. The report is that the town has been swept away and many lives have been lost. Moving northeasterly, the storm struck Williston, a small town, where eleven houses were blown down, one person was killed, and several are believed to be fatally hurt. Near there is a large turpentine farm, where State convicts are employed. Twenty of these were huddled together in a cabin. A heavy tree was blown across the cabin, and six of the conviets were crushed to death. In Gainesville the Methodist Church and about twenty residences and business houses were destroyed.

At Lacrosse fifteen buildings were destroyed. A clergyman and a mother and her babe are reported killed. Near there four laborers who were in a cabin were crushed by falling trees. Newberry, in West Alachua, is to-tally wrecked. At High Springs, a number of people took refuge in a box car which was in the path of the cyclone. It was blown along the track, and then off it a distance of 50 feet, and every person in it was badly injured. Two have since died. At Gracy, a small place, twelve houses were blown down, a woman was killed, but a babe at her breast was uninjured. At Lake City eight business houses and thirteen houses were destroyed. county considerable destruction is reported. Five children were killed in teacher had her arm broken.

Ter persons were in this building when its walls fells in, but they escaped with out serious injury.

IN VIRGINIA. Alexandria, Va., Oct. 1.-The storm relativel was more severe in Alexandria than in Vashington. There were four fatalities and three persons more or less injured. The dead are: W. D. Stewart, Mrs. Holt (a visitor from North Carolina), an unknown colored woman, Tillman Diles (colored). The injured are: Lester Corbin, Charles Adams, and Miss Stewart, sister of W D. Stewart. Alexandria churches suffered severely. The First Baptist was completely demolished, St. Elmo Baptist was also wrecked, and Robert's Chapel, M. E., south, lost its spire. Nearly every business block in was more or less damaged, and hundreds of private houses lost their roofs. The loss in and around Alexandria is estimated at $400,000.

Disastrous Wreck

On the Baltimore and Ohio Railway,

One Man Dead, Two Dying and Several Missing.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 1.-Two freight trains collided last night at Philson, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railway, 124 miles east of Pittsburg, making one of the worst wrecks in the history of the road. One man is dead, two are fatally injured, and several others are missing. The latter are doubtless lying dead under the wreck. Details of the wreck are meager and difficult to procure. The storm has left telegraph lines in a terrible condition. The property loss to the railway company was very heavy.

WORK AND WAGES

The Masons' Strike at Windsor Not Yet Settled.

Windsor, Oct. 1.-The strike of masons and bricklayers in the employ of George A. Goodman threatens to be much more serious than at first expected. The other unions have promised to support the strikers. The 'longshoremen propose to put every obstacle in the way of Goodman's unloading stone sent to him by boat, and the strike will probably extend to the other buildings for which he has contracted. Goodman offered to discharge the Detroit masons if the unior could supply him with twelve good Windsor men, but it came out that there were only seven masons in the union, and that two of these had steady work in Walkerville. When the Windsor men absolutely refused to go back to work, he hired anybody he could get, and now he has twelve masons at work, two of whom do not belong to any union. Leadville, Col., Oct. 1.-The mine operators here are preparing for the worst. Bullet-proof stockades are being built around all the principal mines preparatory to resuming work with non-union miners. BICYCLE RIFLEMEN. Germany has been the first nation to experiment with bicycle riflemen. It is not yet known whether the experiment will prove a success. Indeed it would be strange if it did. The man who can guide a bicycle, carry a rifle, take aim, fire and hit a mark while riding, and then turn and whirl away, would be a man too gifted to be a common soldier. The bicycle corps could, however, do effective work by dismounting quickly from their wheels and then firing and loading. New York, Oct. 1 .- Just two years ago Miss Hattie Hashagan, whose de-corative paintings have delighted thousands at the art exhibitions, arranged with an Indian named Thundercloud to pose as her model for a picture of wild eastern life. Thundercloud, who is a big, strapping fellow, straight as an arrow, with piercing black eyes, a brighter face than most Indians, and altogether a noble representative of his race, fell in love with the artist, and now they are married. Thundercloud was born in the Caughnawaga country in Canada, about 40 years ago. A few years later he was carried as a papoose to Northern Minnesota. His mother was a fullblood Sioux, and his father a half-breed Chippewa. When 20 years of age he was taken to Europe by Buffalo Bill, and was the most admired of the red skins who appeared with the Wild West show before the nobility. Since his return to New York he has earned a good living by posing and selling Indian curios. In the city directory Thundercloud's name appears as Dominick Plante, but to the friends the couple are known as Mr. and Mrs.

The Minister of Agriculture said the House would find the Government pretions in the report so far as lay in their power. In the matter of quarantine of thoroughbred stock, he had reason to believe that the United States Government was prepared to meet Canada on common ground. As regards the shipment of Canadian cattle from United States ports, he presumed like concessions would have to be granted for shipment of American cattle from our ports. The report of the committee was adopted. TARIFF REVISION.

Upon the motion to go into supply Mr. Davin moved in amendment that when the revision of the tariff is made the Government is bound in honor to place agricultural implements, binder twine and coal oil on the free list. Mr. Laurier said that he understood that there was a protest in Western Assiniboia, and that in the near future there would be an election. Whatever might be the merits of the proposition to put binder twine and agricultural implements on the free list, and it was a question that was debatable, upon which parties on either side of the House might have views, he wanted to ask Mr. Davin if he thought seriously that the House should give six months' notice of what should be done on Tuesday night at Chatham gave a in the revision of the tariff, that deal-banquet in honor of Mr. Hugh John ers in binder twine and agricultural implements should have six months' Mr. Richardson declared that he was heartily in favor of putting binder twine, agricultural implements and coal oil on the free list, but he could see the object of Mr. Davin in bringing this proposition forward at the present time. There was to be a bye-election in Western Assinibola, and Mr. Davin hoped to overcome the majority of one.

Mr. Mulock spoke just a few words He said that it was true he had in 1891 moved a resolution declaring that binder twine be placed on the free list. He had failed to obtain a majority of the members of the House in its support Eighty members had voted for it and 100 against. Among the hundred was the noble mover of the present resolution. (Laughter.) Mr. Craig said he thought the Government was pledged to put binder twine on the free list. He did not himself believe in it, and would therefore oppose the resolution. When the yeas and nays were called, Mr. Speaker declared that the navs had it.

On the vote the Ministerialists voted down Mr. Davin's motion. A number of Conservatives who, in 1891, had voted down free binder twine availed themselves of the opportunity, swallowed themselves and voted with Mr. Davin. Their leaders, however, would not do the same. The result was the defeat of the resolution by a majority of 102, the vote standing 26 to 128. Rain Did Its Level Best to Spoil the Annual Show,

And Was Partially Successful, but Exhibits Were Up to Previous Years.

Spectators Were Scarce - Attractions Wanted-The Prize List.

Special to The Advertiser

Ailsa Craig, Oct. 1.-The brilliant sunshine so essential to the success of the average fall show was sadly miss-An Unbiassed Opinion Regarding the ed in Ailsa Craig yesterday, when the 31st annual Northern Fair was held. The Irish Race Convention, held in The downpour of rain the past two days dampened the ardor of intending visitors, at the same time rendering roads almost impassable, and as a consequence hundreds who usually take in this old-established show remained away, choosing disappointment rather than a ducking on a cheerless day. But the exhibitors, with their entries, came, despite the miserable weather, filling up the spaces in the small half fairly well, the occasion, and set a standard of eloquence and intellectual power which was not afterwards departed from. and made a display which compared very favorably with years gone by. Exhibitors showing cattle do not en-The assembly was, further, great as to its purpose, which was to impart solidarity, to the Irish cause. It may safely be said that in this respect joy the same accommodations provided in larger centers. Being in open pens, the sheep-particularly the longthe convention was a great success, The Irish people, so prone to respect what they regard as legitimate authwooled varieties — appeared to very poor advantage, with their coats plas-tered with mud, and soaked with water; but all being treated alike by the elements, none suffered injustice at ant note of the proceedings was that the true Irish Nationalist must acthe hands of the judges. cept the principle of majority rule,

The display was good. Horses never appeared to better advantage. Seven splendid teams entered, the unusually large money-$20, $10, and $5-bringing out the animals in the carriage and roadster classes. Other departments were well filled. The exhibit of grain was very light. Fruit was never known to be so plentiful, and the quality of the exhibits was excellent. Roots were shown in abundance. Muddy roads prevented manufacturers from dis-playing their wares. As is usual at the smaller fairs, fancy work was much in evidence, the display being above the standard in many respects.

Taken as a whole, while the attendance was such as will put the directors behind in their receipts, the fair, from the standpoint of excellence and number of exhibits, was a success. No attractions had been provided, in the shape of the usual horse races, for which the home of the famous Nellie Bruce is renowned. A strenuous kick was made by a few near-sighted exhibitors, it is said, who claimed the money usually given to speeding should be diverted into the pockets of farmers, as an encouragement for them to largely enter their goods. So the only pleasure the visitor had to enjoy consisted of sedately looking at the various exhibits, which several people expressed to an Advertiser man on the grounds as being entirely insufficient to draw people from a distance. Of course, the rain would have settled the races had there been any arranged for. But, with the splendid half-mile track-some claim the fastst in Canada—lovers o when, perhaps, "Old Probabilities" will be more propitious, and the attendance as large as the excellence of the show deserves. Entries continued to be made late in the afternoon, though the regulations provided they should be in hours earlier. As a result, judges were late in completing their awards. The Ailsa Craig Brass Band furnished music during the afternoon, giving some excellent selections for such a small organization. In the evening the town hall was well filled with people, who enjoyed the concert given under the auspices State- Electors.

of the band boys. Harry Knowles (Ailsa Craig), Miss Alice Galbraith and Sandy Drenman (London) furnished the programme, which was a good NOTES.

There was only a fakir or two who braved the elements to look for the nickels of the sturdy farmer. The hotels were not troubled with a great deal of business. Provision had been made in both houses for a large number of guests. The officers worked hard, even though their efforts were not crowned with success. Their names are: President, J. R. Anderson, M.D.; first vice, J. D. McEwen; second vice, David Robinson; treasurer, James Rosser; secretary, D. A. Stewart, M.D. The surplus of last year will about even matters up. The carousal was doing business in the usual way, the same old familiar tunes being tolerated good-naturedly. The combination left for Donnybrook. Judges on draft, agricultural general purpose horses and pigs mysteriously disappeared with the books containing the records of the prize-winners, and the list is incomplete in the omission of those classes.

Sir Oliver's Retort.

A Conservative Senator deemed it policy to attack the new Government at Ottawa because Premier Laurier chose to call to his assistance, as Ministers, statesmen who had up till then been at the head of the Administration in their respective Provinces.

It was not good politics to quibble over those appointments.

Sir Oliver Mowat, one of the statesmen whose translation to Ottawa was objected to, made an effective answer to the attack in the Senate last night. He pointed out that Mr. Chapleau and Mr. Angers both gave up the Premiership of Quebec to become members of an Ottawa Conservative Government; but the politicians who now raise a clamor against a similar transference of energy and ability on the part of Liberal statesmen, had then not a word of condemnation against their own leaders.

Sir Oliver very justly contends that It is in the highest interests of the country that the best available men shall be chosen by the Dominion Premier to guide the destinies of Canada.

The women voters in Wyoming, Colorado and Utah are taking a great interest in the present Presidential election. Like their sisters in other parts of the world who have no votes, they want good money and plenty of st.

The Danger of It.

Chinamen introduced leprosy into British Columbia, necessitating the essablishment of a lazaretto on an island n the Pacific coast. A Chinaman has tust died in Montreal from the same iread disease. Some people object to further restriction of Mongolian immigration, on the would resent the restriction of their liberty to settle in China or Japan.

If Canadians went to these eastern lands, taking with them leprosy, small-Dox and other loathsome diseases; if Canadian settlers lower the standard of living among the workers in China and Japan, we would willingly concede that there was an analogy between the two cases. As it is, there is no analogy. A man's first duty is to his household; a State's first duty

The law of nations compels no country to encourage settlers within its bounds who are clearly a drawback

The oil producers and refiners of Canada must be interested to know that a motion to sacrifice their interests, by the entire removal of the was moved by a Conservative of the Canadian House of Commons last night, indorsed by Sir Charles H. Britain Holds Her Own. Those Canadians who have so detested Britain's trade policy that ruld not say a good word of it, have an effective answer to their arguments in the trade returns for the first even months of the present year, just completed. The increase of the exports from Great Britain to foreign countries in the corresponding period is $68,300,000 over that of last year. The imports are, of course, increased as well. A very large portion of the railway material required by China, Japan and the Argentine Republic have been supplied by Great Britain. Four-fifths of the trade of China is et present done with Great Britain. and if her manufacturers and merchants are careful to study the wants of their customers that proportion may be maintained in the trade of awakened China. Important Sewerage Decision. Mr. Justice Meredith has just renplained that certain private parties in structed, "discharging noxious or deleterious water or substances into a heard at the recent Lambton assizes in Sarnia, and judgment was reserved. Judge Meredith has now delivered judgment, dismissing the case against ing judgment against the corporation of the town, and $50 damages; suspending the operation of the injunction to close the sewers for nine months, to give the council time to abate the nuisance and comply with the requirements of the judgment.

The moral of this decision, as was the effect of the decision of the Supreme Court at Ottawa in regard to the South London sewerage case, is that corporation councils must provide proper means for carrying off the sewage from municipalities under their Petrolea, it is made manifest, must provide needed sewerage, as well as waterworks, if it is to take its proper place as a progressive town.

It is given forth as a significant fact that of the existing United States pensioners of the war of 1812 only 21 were surviving soldiers or sailors, while 3,826 were widows. Thus is the truthfulness of the story of "The Amnesty" maintained. It must not be forgotten, however, that wives always average considerably younger than their husbands, and it is not to e wondered at that a great many of them survive men who were wounded or broken down in health in war. Nevertheless, the disparity is remark-

Canada in Paris.

A correspondent of the Montreal Star writes to ask why the Canadian consulate in Paris is not to be found in the directory now in the pocket guides with which Parisian policemen are armed? He says that he searched in vain in the directory for the name of M. Fabre, the Canadian agent. The Dominion, he concludes, has lost prestige through this neglect. Under the late Government, the Canadian agencv in Paris cost several thousands of dollars annually, but it appears that it has been of very little value to this

Either the consulate should be abolished, or a live agent, who will see to it that it is made a force for the benefit of the Dominion should be placed at its head.

C. P. R. Officials Claim That the Strike Is Over-

The Operators However Insist That They Will Probably Win.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 1.-The C. P. R. officials here contend that the tele-graphers' strike has proved a failure, and that there is nothing further to fear from it. Supt. Leonard said yesterday: There were only two men out between Toronto and Smith's Falls, and between Smith's Falls and Montreal two regular and two relieving agents and their operators have gone out. Out of 63 men between Toronto and Windsor and Toronto and Owen Sound only seven men are out. Here and there freight trains are tied up for a few hours, and passenger trains re not as punctual as usual, but there ppears otherwise to be no appreciable esult of the strike, save an enormous amount of worry to the officials. Out west the difficulty appears to be greater, but not much can be learned here of that section.

At Appin Junction, Guelph Junction and Streetsville Junction the places of the strikers had been filled. At Tilsonburg, Thamesford, Innerkip and Melrose the places of the strikers had not yet been filled. East of Mon-treal to Newport regular passenger trains are running on time. On the Sherbrooke division through to the border freight trains are delayed. Passenger trains are, however, running on time. Mr. Leonard received up to noon some 75 applications for positions in his district. Out of this number 30 were sent out. Mr. Williams, assistant superintendent here, returned from Windsor, and reported everything in good working

THE MEN'S SIDE.

The strikers are out with a statement in which they reiterate their grievances, and say: "It has been stated that employes at all times, according to the regulations, are at liberty to lay their grievances before the general or district superintendent. through whose hands the said grievances would filter to the head office in Montreal. To pursue such a course individually on the part of the station agents, dispatchers and operators would be to invite displacement and replacement. Specific instances could be cited to show that the course of dealing with subordinate officials is for a good many years. It is with proper with reference to a grievance respect to the visiting card which outside the regulation category, but we claim that the widespread nature of the ills suffered are such that redress only comes from the fountain Now, a word as to the train dispatchers. These men are under-paid and over-worked, and the multifarious duties assigned their operators hamper and distract the dispatchers, so that their lives spent in safeguarding the lives and interests of others become a burden and a weari-

Chief Pierson, when asked last night what the latest was in connection with the strike, said that the situation remained practically unchanged. He had received advices from a large number of points which showed that the men were standing to their colors. It was true that the company had suc ceeded in getting a few scabs, and in some instances they had put guards offices who were not operators at all but were simply on guard over the property. As to the result of the Pierson said he was confident. The situation is more favorable now for the men, he said, than it has been at any time since the ordering of the strike.

WAGES.

Speaking of the men's wages, Superintendent Leonard said W. H. Allison, who was chief dispatcher here and who is one of the members of the men's executive committee, received $85 per month, others under him received from $70 to $80 per month. Six dispatchers at Smith's Falls received from $70 to $75 per month, and two first hour men $85 per month. The regular operators along the line received from $35 to $40 a month. Each operator at small stations is allowed $1 extra each month toward the clean-

ceived a Right Royal Welcome - Important Decision of the Severign Grand Lodge

Dr. Cl. T. Campbell has returned from Dallas, Texas, where he has Leen attending the seventy-second annual convention of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Oddfellows. This body is legislative, and contains not more than four representatives from each State or Province. There were four members from Ontario present, besides Dr. Campbell, who attended as past grand sire. Thousands of Oddfellows and Daughters of Rebekah from all parts of the States and Canada were also present, and a demonstration of great magnitude was held. Nearly five thousand Oddfellows participated in the parade on Sept. 22.

"We received a warm southern wel-come," the doctor told an Advertiser reporter this morning."The local members treated us in a very hospitable manner, and with great courtesy and kindness. They saw that we had comfortable quarters at the hotels, and provided entertainments, balls, etc., during our stay. On the trip there in company with a party from Chicago, we visited Hot Springs, and were treated to a very cordial reception by the fraternity of that place. The party were driven around that interesting city and feasted by their brother Odd-fellows. Among the Chicagoans were two prominent politicians on opposite tickets, and both personal friends of Dr. Campbell. 'Speaking in confidence and to a stranger in the country, when there would be no reason for exaggeration," said the doctor, "my Republican friend was sure McKinley would carry Illinois by 150,000, and my Democratic friend was just as positive Bryan would get a majority of 60,000. These estimates were from men who should know something of the prospects. The Central States are very doubtful."

Around Dallas is very rough country. There is considerable cotton grown, and everywhere may be seen shiftless lot of negroes sitting on the fences. The south is strong for demonstrated," said the doctor. "Six-teen loafers looking at one man work." The people were very boastful of their State, and bragged a great deal of its vast extent, etc. The doctor thought it would be better if we Canadians talked up Canada more than we do. Among the important decisions of the Sovereign Grand Lodge were some that affect Canadian Oddfellows particularly. In the past Canadians have been obliged to pay a duty on vet-eran jewels, blank books, charters, etc., which are manufactured by the Sovereign Grand Lodge, and from which they get a revenue. The lodge decided to pay the duty themselves, or make provisions for having the work done in Canada. Another change was one that Ontamembers, who wish to visit lodges across the border, must get. These cards cost from 25 to 50 cents. The change enables them to visit on pro-ducing a receipt for payment of dues. The women's branch of Oddfellows have long desired a sign of recogni-tion in common with the main order. The Sovereign Grand Lodge granted reports all showed fair prog-The ress of the order, considering the hard The membership numbers 825,000, and the women's branch makes an additional number of 144,000. The total revenue for the past year was eight and a half million dollars, and the expenses for relief were three and a half millions. The order was started in 1819 in Baltimore, but no statistics were kept till 1830. Since that time it has received $185,000,000, and paid out for relief purposes over $71,000,000 On the second evening of the convention Dr. Campbell presided at a reunion of the past grand representa-tives, which was held at the opera house and largely attended. Dr. Campbell has been president of the association for a couple of years.

WHERE IS WILLIE?

News of Young Buckingham Anxiously

Awaited by His Sisters in This City. No word has yet been received from Mr. Wm. Buckingham, of whom his sisters are anxiously awaiting to hear. Miss Tillie Buckingham died at the residence of her uncle, R. C. Ross, 368 Simcoe street, and was buried on Sunday. She left no will, and the remaining two sisters are awaiting their brother's return to look after the deceased girl's property. The sisters are Miss Jennie Buckingham, who has been in bed for some months with softening of the brain, and Miss Rosa Buckingham. The father died about ten years ago, and the mother married Mr. Howie, of the Gore road.

The young man from whom the sisters want to hear is about 19 years of age. He had been engaged at the Hurst Hotel, Holly Mich., for three or four years. A short time ago he went to Detroit, where he lived for about a month, and then came to this While here his deceased was in the best of health. Medical Arts and Divinity Students at Work.

All Departments of London's University in Full Swing.

The Prospects Bright-Large Freshmer Classes in All Courses-Opening

The college halls of the city again resound with the happy voices of the Lectures.

Today saw the reopening of every department of the Western University-arts medicine, divinity. It also ushered in the second year of the university in its entirety. The prospects in every branch are most encouraging. Scholars have come from as far east as Nova Scotia, and as far west as Manitoba, for the medical course. In divinity and arts, the majority of the students are residents of London, but a considerable minority are from other Western Ontario points. It is gratifying to note that the freshmen's classes in all three departments were larger than ever before.

At the university building in the North End, such well-known undergraduates as Bart. Howard, W. E. V. McMillan and S. P. Irwin assembled at the main entrance and bade the new comers a cordial welcome, with-out the physical force accompaniments that terrorize the unsophisticated freshmen. About 40 students attended the opening lectures today, but many more have yet to arrive. Prof. Sykes will have an exceptionally large class in English literature this term. For the special benefit of teachers, he will lecture after regular hours on Monday and Thursday afternoons (4:45 to 5:45 o'clock) on "Lear" and "Romeo and Juliet." He will also conduct English readings on Saturdays from 3 to 4. AT THE MEDICAL SCHOOL.

The merry medicos started work this morning without any ceremony. They have a more able-bodied ritual for freshmen than their arts and divinity brethren, but it will not be exemplified until the classes are full. The attendance today was fair, but the large majority will not arrive for a day or two. The freshmen's class last year numbered 23. This year it will number over 30. The Medical School is beginning to cut quite a figure in HONORING A PROFESSOR. The faculty and students of Huron College gathered last night to say farewell to Rev. G. F. Sherwood, B.A., who is leaving to take charge of the Bothwell and Thamesville (Anglican) missions. Prof. Sherwood has been a popular member of the college faculty, as lecturer of "Westcott on the Canons." Provost Watkins presided at the meeting, and warmly eulogized Mr. Sherwood, who, he said, had been allied with the institution, both as a student and colleague. He was a true son of the college. He treated his allma mater as a mother, and not as a step-mother, as was too often the case. The provost voiced the regret felt by all at Prof. Sherwood's removal, and praised his services to the unviversity. Prof. Sykes read an eloquentlybehalf of the faculty. It stated that in the interests of the Western Uniand Huron College, Prof. Sherwood had given his energy, en-thusiasm and ability to such an extent that a goodly measure of their growing power and influence were without doubt due to him The faculty wished godspeed to one of the loyal sons and best friends of the university.

Rev. Prof. Burgess, Prof. Sykes, and Rev. George B. Sage also paid enthuslastic tributes to Prof. Sherwood. Mr. Sage acknowledged the readiness with which Mr. Sherwood responded to pulpit calls, and the acceptance of his services to all. Prof. Sherwool responded very grate-

METHODIST MISSIONS.

Report of the General Board for 1896

More Encouraging Than Usual. The report for 1896 of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church is perhaps more encouraging than any of its predecessors. In Japan, Christianity, though still the religion of a minority of the people, is fast receiving the recognition of advanced minds as the important factor in the uplifting of the nation, and it is likely to receive a greater and more sympathetic attention than heretofore. Revs. John Scott, D.D., of the Hamilton Conference, and A. C. Borden. B.A., B.D., of the Nova Scotia Conference, left during this month for the Mikado's Empire, where they will carry on the work.

The state of things in West China is greatly improved: the storm of persecution has subsided and the Chinese authorities have made reparation for the atrocities committed by the mob they failed to control.

In the Indian missions, the blending of the educational and evangelical agencies employed by the church is being divinely indorsed by their beneficial and comprehensive results. The French work seems to be moving but surely on the upward grade, but meets with many discouragements.

On the home field there are no special developments, but a few missions are self-supporting, while others are American Produce Markets.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Yesterday's break in wheat was due to false alarms, the bulge resuming operations this morning and keeping them up with fittle relaxation throughout the day. Several houses had large foreign purchasing orders, which, waga supplemented by the energetic buying of local professionals, soon carried prices to the highest point in mouths—681c for December. This was 2½c over yesterday's close, and ic higher than the hest previous reco d during the resent boom. Moderate recessions occurred before the close, brother better part of the advance was retained.

It will be pleasant news to many of the friends of Mr. Thomas Ranahan, formerly of this city, to learn that he has been engaged by the Metropolitan Opera Company, of New York, for the coming season. This is the largest and highest salaried opera company in America, and seldom appears but in four or five of the largest cities in the States. Such celebrated singers as Melba, Scalchi, Nordica and the reare members of the company. It is understood that through the influence in the States, Mr. Ranahan was allowed the privilege and monor of sing-ing two solos before the entire company. He was immediately engaged, and will appear in all the famous operas. A continuous run of twelve weeks will be put on at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, this year. Mr. Ranahan's vocal talent has been frequently exercised to the pleasure of London audiences. He has a tenor voice of fine, rich texture, particularly adapted to solo work. In opera it will have illimitable scope, and will enjoy cultivation in the best school. Mr Ranahan's services in St. Peter's Cathedral choir will be greatly missed.

The Sewerage System.

Plans Will Be Formulated Tonight by the Board of Works.

Letter From Engineer Chipman -Wherein He Differs From Engineer Rust.

Mayor Little, Dr. Cl. T. Campbell and Ald. Parnell had a conference in COUGHS AND COLDS and Ald. Parnell had a conference in the mayor's office today anent the sewerage construction. They will meet the Board of Works tonight, when plans will likely be approved, and the work undertaken as soon as possible. The mayor has received a letter from Willis Chipman, C. E., of Toronof the best and most satisfactory nature, and he is possibly the best man to, whose report on the local sewerage system preceded Mr. Rust's. The later, it will be remembered, suggests some amendments to Mr. Chipman's report recommending larger pipes, and some slight changes in the routes of main sewers. In his letter Mr. Chipman sticks to his own report. He estimated that the population in 1920 would be 60,-000; Mr. Rust, that it would be 75,000. Mr. Chipman is inclined to think his prophecy the more accurate, and maintains that the pipe sizes he viously named will prove sufficient for the city's requirements. He does cottage on Grey street east, to cost not feel justified in recommending enlargements, unless the council considers that his estimate of the increase -Mr. Wm. gested that the north main sewer be deviated on Ridout street, west of the buildings on the west side, so as to avoid deep cuttings on the street. Mr. Rust suggested the opposite.

As for the South London, sewer, Mr Chipman contends that there would be no difficulty in crossing the ravine at the corner of Elmwood avenue and the Wharncliffe. He argues with Mr. fair travel. The round trip tickets but only in residential portions. Storm from London to Detroit and Port water could be carried by the present storm sewers, the natural water courses, and the river, by comparative ly unexpensive storm drains, through such streets as were sewered upon th separate system. There was no reason why cellars should not be drained into the propoed sewers. He did not advise building a large sewer up Carling's Creek. If sewerage still found its way there they could construct a comparatively small sewer flood only. The natural watercourse would take flood water.

"A message I am going for my mother," she said, as she firmly refused his escort. "Then with madam, your mother, I will sit until you return," he replied cheerfully; and Katherine answered:
"That will be a great pleasure to her,

A little further she walked, but suddenly remembering that the Dominie's visit would keep her mother in the house, and, being made restless by the gathering of the night shadows, she turned quickly, and, taking the very road up which Hyde had come the night Neil Semple challenged him, she entered the garden by a small gate at its foot, which was intended for the gardener's use. The lilacs had not much foliage, but in the dim light her dark, slim figure was undistinguishable behind them. Longingly and anxiously she looked up and down the water-way. A mist was gathering over it, and there were no boats in the channel except two pleasure shallops, already tacking to their proper piers. The Dauntless had been out of sight for hours. There was not the splash of an oar, and no other river sound at that point but the low, peculiar "wish-h-h!" of the turning tide.

In the pettiest character there are unfathomable depths; and Katherine's, though yet undeveloped, was full of noble aspirations, and singularly sen-As she stood there, alone, watching and waiting in the dim light, she had a strange consciousness of some mysterious life ante-dating this life; and of a long-forgotten voice | Cohen?" filling the ear-chambers of that spiritual body which was the celestial inhabitant of her natural body. "Richard! Richard!" she murmured, and she never doubted but that he heard

All her senses were keenly on the alert. Suddenly there was the sound of oars, and the measure was that of steady, powerful strokes. She turned her face southward and watched. Like a flash a boat shot out of the shadow -a long, swift boat that came like ε. Fate, rapidly, and without hesitation, to her very feet. Richard quickly left 4t, and with a few strokes it was carried back into the dimness of the central channel. Then he turned to the lilac trees.

It was but a whisper, but she heard He opened his arms, and she flew to their shelter like a bird to her mate 'My love! My wife! My beautiful wife! My true, good heart! Now, at last, my own! Nothing shall part us again, Katherine. Never again. I have come for you-come at all risks for you. Only five minutes the boat can wait. Are you ready?"

"I know not, Richard. My fathermy mother-"My husband! Say that, also, beloved. Am I not first? If you will not go with me, here I shall stay; and as I am still on duty, death and dishonor will be at the end. Oh, Katherine! shall I die again for you? The boat is here. Even I must obey or disobey orders. Will you go with me, your husband, to love and life and honor; or shall I stay with you for disgrace and death? For from you I will not part again."

She had no time to consider how much truth there was in this desperate much truth there was in this desperate statement. The boat was waiting. Richard was wooing her consent with isses and entreaties. Her own soul urged her, not only by the joy of his presence, but by the memory of the anguish she had endured that day in the terror of his desertion. From the first moment she had hesitated; therefore, from the first moment she had yielded. She clung to her husband's arm; she lifted her face to his; she said softly, but clearly: "I will go with

CHAPTER X.

During that same hour Joris was in the town council. There had been a stormy and prolonged session on the Quartering Act. "To little purpose Quartering Act. "To little purpose have we compelled the revocation of the Stamp Act," he cried, "if the Quartering Act upon us is to be forced. We want not English soldiers here. In our homes why should we quarter

All the way home he was asking himself the question, and when he found Dominie Van Linden talking to Lysbet, he gladly discussed it over again with him. Until after 9 o'clock Joris did not notice the absence of his daughter. "She went to Joanna's," said Lysbet, calmly. No fear had yet entered her heart. Perhaps she had a vague suspicion that Katherine might also go to Mrs. Gordon's; and she was inclined to avoid any notice of the lateness of the hour. If it were even 10 o'clock when she returned, Lysbet intended to make no remarks. But 10 o'clock came, and the Dominie went, and Joris suddenly became anxious about Katherine.

His first anger fell upon Bram. "He ought to have been at home. Then he could have gone for his sister. He is not attentive enough to Katherine, and very fond is he of hanging about Miriam Cohen's doorstep."
"What say you, Joris, about Miriam

"I spoke in my temper." He would not explain his words, and Lysbet would not worry him about Katherine. "To Joanna's she went; and Batavius is in Boston. Very well, then, she has stayed with her sister." Still, in her own heart, there was a certain uneasiness. Katherine had never remained all night before without sending some message or on a pre-vious understading to that effect. But the absence of Batavius, and the late hour at which she went might acservant had been sick and might be unfit to come. She was determined to excuse Katherine, and she refused to acknowledge the dumb doubt and fear that crouched at her own heart. In the morning Joris rose very early and went into the garden. Generally this service to nature calmed and cheered him. But he came to break-fast from it, silent and cross. And Lysbet was still disinclined to open a conversation about Katherine. had enough to do to combat her own feeling on the subject; and she was sensible that Joris, in the absence of any definite object for his anger, blamed her for permitting Katherine so much liberty.

"Where, then, is Bram?" he asked, testily. "When I was a young man, it was the garden or the store for me, before this hour. Too much you indulge the children, Lysbet."

"Bram was late to bed. He was on the watch last night, at the pole. You know, Councilor, you, in that kind of business, have encouraged him." "Every night the watch is not for "Joanna is nothing at all in this world but the wife of Batavius. Send for Katherine home. I like her best to be with her mother."

As he spoke Bram came to the table, looking a little heavy and sleepy. Joris rose without more words, and in a few oments the door shut sharply behind "What is the matter with my

Yet ever since you were a little boy you have heard your father say one thing, 'Late to breakfast, hurried at dinner, behind at supper,' and I also have noticed that when the comfort of the breakfast is specified than all the day its had fast is spoiled, then all the day its bad influence is felt."

Interesting Letter From a Vancouver, B. C., Correspondent.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: Your excellent article on the anti-Mongolian movement has been reproduced in the Vancouver World, and meets with universal favor here. We are painfully aware that the people in the Eastern Provinces have but little knowledge of the Mongolian evil as it exists in British Columbia, therefore your article is most timely, and more especially so as the views expressed therein are so much in accord with those we entertain, and upon which we base our petitions to the Dominion Parliament. The only influence of any very great importance we have against us here is that of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and they are doubtless doing everything possible to stultify our efforts, but as we estimate that fully 90 per cent of the white population are antagonistic to the Mongolians, embracing all classes of society, it will be fully understood that it is not a spasmodic ebullition of feeling, but a deepseated, earnest determination to get rid of these most obnoxious people from our mid, t, if possible; or, at any rate, prevent a further influx of them in the future. An island is set apart for those afflicted with leprosy, which fact is likely to injure the reputation of the Province abroad, and deter respectable immigrants from coming to the country. The Chinese have absorbed almost the entire canning in-dustries, and the Japs are fast driving the white fishermen from the Fraser River, and unless very strong efforts are put forth by the Government before another season there is every indication that an outbreak of violence will take place, as the Indians, as well as the whites, are exceedingly hostile to the Japanese. Should it become known in Great Britain and other European countries that British Columbia salmon is all fingered by Chinamen, it will doubtless create disgust amongst the people of those countries, and seriously injure, even if it does not ruin, the trade. Why should we have cast loose upon us the scourings of Chinese jails and the lowest scum of their towns for the exclusive benefit of the slaveowning Tyhees and a monopolistic despotism, to the ruin of the entire white population of British Columbia? If the people in the East could only come and see the Chinese in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, they would not wonder why we want to get rid of the Mongolians, but be appalled that we have put up with such sinks of iniquity so long. Mongolians import into this country They have not sufficient money to get are the opium habit, gambling hells, smallpox, leprosy, and immoralities of the most odious kinds.

In my official capacity I have had much opportunity of gathering information relating to Mongolians, not only here, but from China and Japan, and it is a curious fact that persons who have resided many years in those countries are among the most prejudiced against them. In the early days of our movement there was a very strong attempt made to create a sentimental diversion in favor of the Japanese in consequence of the results of the late war with China, and our committee thought there would be many favorable to them, but our petitions tell quite a different tale, and my own personal experience gained from fishermen, miners, loggers, mill hands, etc., teaches that the Japs are even more disliked than the Chinese, and will and do accept a lower rate of wages than the latter.

The Japanese Consul in Vancouver, has, with some want of good taste, taken very active part in opposing the Anti-Mongolian Association, and has not hesitated to stigmatise its most prominent members by using epithets which were the reverse of gentlemanly and certainly not diplomatic even if they were true, but being false, his conduct in meddling with the internal affairs of a nation to which he is foreign has given rise to strong remarks of an unfavorable nature towards him. His statements published in the Vancouver World relative to the rates of wages in Japan were so absurdly exaggerated that I was constrained to refute them on the public platform by direct official evidence obtained from Yokohama. I was delegated by the association to interview the consul relative to the Anglo-Japanese treaty, and found him to be exceedingly hostile to us and the reverse of diplomatic, as he threatened that unless we desisted from our efforts we would quickly feel the mighty power of Japan. The unwisdom of such a remark does not tend to show that he is acquainted with the diplomatic courtesies of and usages of civilized

It has been the great desire of the Anti-Mongolian Association to carry out their movement on strictly constitutional lines, and to base our contentions on purely economic grounds, and without inflaming the passions and Belf-adjusting. No Pain. Whispers h. Hissor Co., 868 B'way, N.Y., for Boo prejudices of our people, or to exaggerate one single fact, and I think it is admitted on all hands that our petitions have been drafted on the most conservative lines in that regard. It cannot be denied that the Mongolians now form an alarmingly large proportion of the population of British Columbia, and increasingly so, whereas the immense number of empty houses, vacant stores and offices in Victoria, Vancouver, Nanaimo and New Westminster show that there has been a considerable depopulation of the whites. It is estimated that the Chinese deport about 90 per cent of their ese deport about 90 per cent of their earnings to China, and thus divert annually a large amount of money from circulation in the country and amongst the people from whence it sprung. As upwards of 99 per cent of the Mongoliene are males the criof the Mongolians are males, it is evident that their numbers are kept up and increased by direct importation. There is no possibility of their assimilating with or being absorbed into the ordinary Caucasian population of British Columbia, and, what is more, they have no intention of so doing they have no intention of so doing, and merely come as parasites and go away as soon as glutted with a portion of the wealth of our country. They trade almost entirely amongst them-selves for food and raiment, and import as much of that as possible from China. As one instance of the low price they will work for, I have it on the undoubted authority of a large clothing merchant that they make working men's overalls for 75 cents per dozen. Is it not a blot on our Anglo-Saxon escutcheon that we permit slavery and "high binder" courts to exist in our midst, and the edicts of the latter to be carried out even if it be assassination?

We desire that a law similar to that in force in Australia shall be enacted and rigidly enforced. In that country the per capita tax is £100, and the captains of the vessels bringing them in are held responsible for the duty. Vessels are limited to convey one Chinaman to every 200 tons register, and any infringement of this regulation is severely dealt with.

We who worked hard in the Liberal cause during the late elections did so on the distinct understanding that the Mongolian question was to be the first $5 50 Coats at $3 50. and foremost efforts of our members in the new Parliament, and should we he disappointed, hard thoughts will arise and feelings engendered which will not easily be allayed either in the present or the near future. The question is more to British Columbia than the school case was to Manitoba, as it affects the daily read of our people, and therefore will o longer brook delay. The questic is a very burning one here, and I an assure you the people are terribly in earnest on the matter. Yours faithfully,

J. G. V. FIELD-JOHNSON. Secretary Anti-Mongolian Association of British Columbia. Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 21, 1896

Paterson, of Denfield, acted as bridesmaid. The bride was given away by her father. The presents are both numerous and handsome. The happy couple, after the ceremony, accompanied by a large number of friends and relatives, partook of a rich repast. They left on the evening train for Detroit and other places on their honeymoon. On their return they will reside in this city. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh have the best wishes of their many friends in their new step in life.

"THE THREE GUARDSMEN." Opening with the performance of Friday night, the Grand Opera House has in its attraction one that possesses in itself all the qualities of entertaining and more than satisfying the composite tastes of the amusement-going public. When Alexander Dumas wrote his famous book of The Three Guardsmen," he contributed to literature one of its best offerings; and when the celebrated French romantic actor, Charles Fechter, had it dramatized he gave to the stage the best specimen of the romantic drama. The require ments of the piece are so many, the principal role so difficult of interpretation, that very few players have essayed the part. Aside from Salvini, the young romantic actor, Paul Cazen-euve, is the only one touring the country that gives a stage presentation of the story that contributed more than any other in immortalizing its famous author. The production, as will be seen at the Grand, is said to be the best given in this country. All the opportunities for a proper and faithful scenic and costume embellishment are said to have been taken advantage of. The engagement is for two nights and a Saturday matinee.
