BRILLIANT SUCCESS OF RUSSIA AGAINST TURKEY ENEMIES' SUBMARINES RUSHING TO DARDANELLES

SIGNAL HONOR PAID TO PATS

Canadian Force One of First Officially Mentioned For Gallantry.

PROOF OF REPUTATION Men Themselves Denied the Earlier "Moonshine" Stories Sent Out About Them.

[Special Cable to Advertiser.] London, March 3.—We learn a large proportion of the Canadians now in France were recently inspected. The references made by Sir John French's dispatch yesterday to the fine work of the Princess Pats may be taken as a very special compliment to this force. These dispatches are really in the nature of bulletins published twice weekly. They have only just been instituted to answer one chief complaint regarding the censorship that there has been so little heard of gallantry in individual units.

LOSING GAME FOR TEUTONS IN EAST

British Believe Germany and Austria Getting Beaten Along Whole Line.

[Canadian Press.] London, March 3.—According to what appears to be the latest news from the front, the British believe that Germany and Austria are fighting a losing game along almost all the eastern front.

The situation, judging from official and official dispatches from Petrograd, still appears to be unsatisfactory, while the Russian, it is said, have definitely checked them in Eastern Galicia. Furthermore, London advices continue to indicate success of greater or lesser degree for the Russian army in its operations against the armies of Field Marshal von Hindenburg.

Report Not Confirmed. The allied fleet again bombarded the Dardanelles yesterday, according to dispatches from Athens, but the British press bureau has not confirmed this report.

The Athens message says that four ships shelled the interior forts from the Gulf of Saros, and that the shelling at Constantinople is increasing. The attitude of the neutral powers over Great Britain's proposal to shut off submarine warfare forms the basis of most of the political comment being published today in England. The London papers, together with the London correspondents, all have been told that the United States will protest vigorously, and protests are expected also from Holland and the Scandinavian countries.

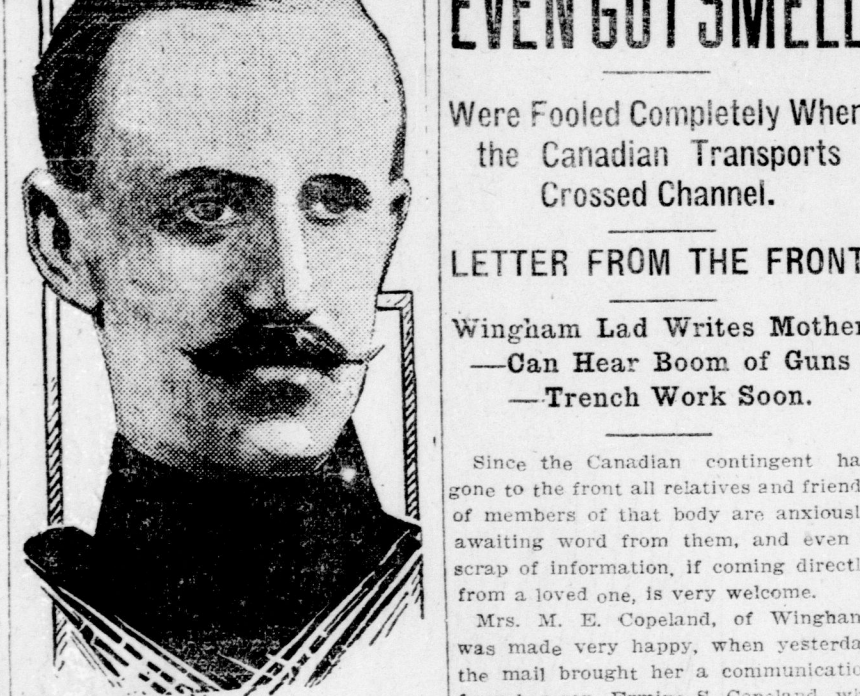

No Receding Likely. Yet it is not believed that Great Britain will recede one whit from her announced intention, but that, if necessary, she will define her blockade measures and seek to make them effective. It is argued in London that Germany, without domination of the sea, and carrying on an attempted blockade by means of submarines, is quite naturally willing to make concessions regarding her marine zone in return for Great Britain's relaxing the pressure designed to cut off her supplies. The British view is that Germany has everything to gain and nothing to lose. Nevertheless, Great Britain is still considering the American note and a reply to this communication, together with a further pronouncement concerning details of the blockade of the German coast, may be forthcoming.

ENEMY'S FLEET OFF FOR DARDANELLES?

Geneva Paper Says It Has Reliable Information That Submarines, Torpedo Boats and Destroyers Have Left Pola For Mediterranean.

[Canadian Press.] Geneva, via Paris, March 3.—An Austrian fleet, consisting of six Austro-German submarines, accompanied by several torpedo boats and torpedo-boat destroyers, left Pola, the Austrian naval base, at dawn yesterday for the Mediterranean, bound for the Dardanelles, according to the Telegram, which bases its report upon what it characterizes as information received from a reliable source from Trieste by way of Innsbruck. The fleet is said to have been last reported off Corfu.

COMMANDS CANADIANS PRAISED BY FRENCH

Admiral Farrington, commander of the regiment which is earning praise on all sides for gallant conduct.

DETECTIVE FOUND TRAIL OF BLOOD

New Evidence Given in Trial of Dr. Robinson For Murder.

LEAD FROM HIS HOME In One Place Lay Pool As If Someone Had Stood Still.

[Canadian Press.] Napanee, March 3.—The first mention in evidence of a trail of blood spots leading from the house of Dr. Robinson to the direction of the home of Blanche York was first brought out in evidence at the continuation today of Dr. Robinson's trial for the murder of Blanche York. The first to see them, it seemed, had been Detective Miller, who had noticed the stains on the cement sidewalk on Monday, July 15. Bruce Richardson, who saw them later in the pool, however, followed them up, and was able to give rather fuller details.

Pool of Blood. He said that in front of the Methodist Church there was a large stain, as though whoever had left the red trail had stood there for some moments, leaving a pool of blood to collect. One witness admitted that this blood pool might have been about at the point where Frank York had heard Blanche York's footsteps half before he heard returning footsteps along the sidewalk, the night of her disappearance. The crown's case was still uncompleted at this point, the evidence given by Dr. Wilson, of Tamworth, now in a Toronto hospital, was put in and read by Mr. Hutteliner.

BOMBS PEDDLED AS "LUBRICANT"

Dr. Bruce-Smith Warns Convalescent Home To Beware of Agents.

A DIABOLICAL SCHEME When Cans Are Opened Explosive Takes Effect.

There is a quiet and widespread scheme abroad in the Dominion for the destroying or damaging of public institutions and factories, and presumably many lives as well? This is the question that is occupying the minds of a number of London citizens at the present time. And that the provincial authorities have been warned of some such dastardly intent on the part of a person or persons yet unknown, seems to be proved by the following letter, received yesterday by the superintendent of the Convalescent Home, 444 York street, from Dr. R. W. Bruce-Smith, provincial inspector of institutions and factories:

"Sir—I am instructed to advise you that notification has been received from high authority that agents have been instructed to call on engineers and plumbers at different institutions and factories throughout the Dominion of Canada, asking the institution or firm to try a lubricant, of which they will leave a sample in a box. It is reported that this box, when it is opened, will explode with great power, and do damage to persons and buildings, as instead of being a lubricant it contains a very high and powerful explosive.

SHOWS AMERICANS READY TO TAKE SIDE OF CANADA IN WAR

United States Man Was Insulted, So Proves Stuff Americans Are Made Of.

An American, who recently claimed to have been insulted by a Londoner, and who sent a letter, got into a friendly language to uphold the honor of his native land, has offered to enlist in Canada's army in order to show that Americans are ready to take the side of the oppressed.

BEHIND FIRING LINES. We are now somewhere in France, about 14 miles behind the firing lines and we can hear the big guns booming quite distinctly, as they are not far from where we are billeted.

A month or so ago the Germans shelled a church and, as usual, the steeple was ruined. The whole structure, which was of antique design, was completely destroyed.

DRAINAGE SCHEME IS TURNED DOWN

Liberal Plan To Help North Ontario Frustrated By Government.

BUDGET DEBATE RESUMED

Algoma Member Says Rich and Poor Will Share War Burden Alike.

(Special to The Advertiser.) TORONTO, March 2.—In the Legislature this afternoon, the Government refused to give ear to a suggestion from the Opposition that money be set apart out of the Northern Ontario Development Fund of $5,000,000, to provide $100,000 for the drainage for settlers to be advanced along the same lines that it is proposed to advance seed.

Benefit Large Areas. Malcolm Lang, Liberal member for Coburn, introduced the proposal by way of amendment in committee to the seed bill, and declared that large areas in his district would be benefited by the enterprise. He estimated that at the rate of 25 per acre, 4,000 acres would be provided with adequate drainage. In support of his contention he cited statements from the agricultural colleges that where the drainage was installed seedling was possible three weeks earlier in the season.

Budget Debate Resumed. When Mr. Lang's motion was rejected another was brought up by Z. Mageau (Sturgeon Falls) wanting a similar amount for open drainage. The Premier intimated that this work was now being done in connection with road construction and the needs of the districts were being fairly well met, and while he was not ready to ask the House to accept the clause just now it was entitled to some consideration.

DOCTOR, ARRESTED, TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Peterboro Man Was Charged With Criminal Operation On Young Girl.

PETERBORO, March 2.—As the result of the death of Helen Brown, aged 18, here, which, according to the finding of a coroner's jury, resulted from a criminal operation, Dr. Ernest W. Brown was arrested this afternoon, and a few hours later committed suicide by taking strychnine.

After his arrest, Dr. Brown sent for his solicitor to make his will. The chief of police was present at the time and saw him set down a glass from which he had evidently taken a drink. The police had examined witnesses in Brown's presence and Brown spoke of the evidence with great bitterness and said an attempt was being made to incriminate him, though he was perfectly innocent. The doctor said he was very tired and the chief locked him in the cell. Returning later with a clergyman, he heard a shriek, and found Brown in convulsions. By the time a doctor arrived Brown was dead. Dr. Brown was about 55 years of age, and a graduate of Trinity Medical School, Toronto. He had been practicing here about twenty years. He leaves a wife, one son and one daughter.

MORE ECONOMY IS PLEA OF LIBERALS

Government Expenditures Mount High in Year of War.

ARMSTRONG UPHOLDS TAX

Lambton Member Thinks People Are Glad To Foot Bills.

(Special to The Advertiser.) OTTAWA, March 2.—More economy and less taxation, was the advice which the Government today received from Hon. Dr. Pugsley, in a speech upon the budget. He said that before the session ended and the taxation proposals were made law, the Government would do well to revise its plan. Instead of taking from twenty-five to thirty million dollars out of the people by new and irksome taxation, they should cut down their expenditure by that amount. Any one who looked over the spending program of the Government would see that this could be done. When the Laurier Government left office, four years ago, the country was getting along very well upon an expenditure of $200,000,000 a year. This year, in spite of war and hard times, the Government was asking $140,000,000 from Parliament to spend upon the running of the country. The Government preached economy and practiced extravagance. In the estimates this year were millions of dollars removed. These items were in the estimates last year. They were for works for which there was so little urgency that they had not been commenced, yet the Government in this year had times was asking them of the Government again. It was clear that they were designed to catch votes in the various constituencies to which they were assigned.

Burden on Poor Man. The Government's new plan of taxation did not what the burden. It proposed to take the greater proportion out of the poor man. Why had extra duties been imposed upon cottons, woollens and linens and not upon silks, velvets and ribbons? The attack upon the British preference which practically destroyed it, Dr. Pugsley characterized as an Canadian, un-British and un-patriotic.

That it was the duty of the Opposition to stop all criticism and let the Government do as it saw fit, was the claim of Mr. J. E. Armstrong of Hamilton, who followed. He advised the Government to appeal to the country in a general election, and predicted that but few members of the Opposition would be returned. He maintained that the people would gladly pay the new taxes which the Government proposed to collect from them.

A favorite cry of the Conservatives was that the Liberals lacked loyalty. Mr. L. J. Gauthier, of St. Hyacinthe, but what was the record in the present war? Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the autumn, was addressing recruiting meetings, while the ministers, instead of getting out and urging young men to enlist, were preparing for an election.

Mr. Scott's Maiden Speech. Mr. Stewart Scott, of South Waterloo, made a very favorable impression upon the House in his maiden speech. After paying a tribute to his predecessor, Mr. George A. Clark, he took up the Liberal charge that the new taxes were being paid by these least able to bear them.

The Bank of Montreal, he said, would pay $150,000 a year; the Bank of Commerce, $135,000; and the Imperial Bank, $260,000. Mr. Scott added that he had been in the office of a general manager of a bank in Toronto just after the taxes were announced, and that gentleman had told him that the banks would not try to shift the tax to the public. They would pay it, he had said, willingly, feeling that they owed it as an ob-

What Is the Story of Fashion For Spring?

This store, at least, is splendidly ready to meet all inquiries on this subject, and to illustrate it by great numbers of actual present examples in all our style departments. Every section is able to make every minute of your visit unusually interesting and pleasantly profitable. Foremost among which are the Ladies' Ready-to-Wear, Spring Dress Fabrics, and particularly the Millinery Section, where such a maze of styles present themselves, that the only possible problem is to choose correctly out of so many that are equally proper, smart and becoming. Style is the supreme point in millinery buying; the woman of style individuality abhors the mediocre, avoids the ultra extreme, and is doubtful about the ordinary. In presenting this ensemblage of English, French and American hats, comprising exact copies of Periot and Georgette models; also the Military, Shepherdess, and the smart little Chin-Chin shapes, you will be impressed with the exactness and detail of combination of the right materials, with trimming adjusted neither one inch higher or lower, nor to the right or the left, but "Just So." It must be done under the direction of milliners, not merely of skill, but with true fashion knowledge and correct judgment in color and refinement. Tomorrow is an excellent opportunity to inspect these styles at their best, for they will be here in full strength and great variety.

The New In Dress Goods

Varied assortment in Weight, Design and Color. Many materials may come and go, but Serges and Worsteds go on forever. They have become year-round fabrics, suitable in their varying weights to meet the demands of our ever changing climate, and the seasons as they swing around on the calendar. Plain colors in shades of those of our mothers' day are claiming first attention. Navy, brown, greys and myrtle. Other prominent fabrics for street wear are the Black and White and Grey and White Checks and Stripes, some of which are shown in the large decided patterns, to those of the small designs that at a distance have the effect of a plain material. Silk and Wool Mixtures.—These are to be seen in a profusion of weaves and weights, shown in the new colors and black. They are particularly adapted to the overdress and pleated effects, and are recommended as an ideal spring dress fabric. San Toy, Poplin, Charmaline. The New Polo Coatings.—The coming season will find this novelty coating in great demand. The ground colors are mostly of the light order, with broken plaid effects, comprising shades of Sand, Tipperary Green, Blue, Peach and Tan. Black Dress Goods and Suitings.—Gabardines, Whipcords, Serges, and Worsteds, Black Dress Fabrics, Silk and Wool Poplins, San Toy, Henrietta, Charmalines, Meteors, All-Wool Armures, Tricotines, Crepes, Wool Satins, Crepe de Chine.

French Kid in Pique Sewn will be among the leaders this coming season. To be had in Tan, Navy, Grey, also White and Black.

New Cotton Dress Fabrics

What a change for better cotton goods has been made in recent years. The demand and continual improvement for higher class lines have now brought them to a level of beauty with wool and silk materials for summer uses. The exhibits comprise a series of Voiles in checks, figured and embroidered. Another display of White Figured Crepes and Crepons, Honeycomb Cloths, Mercerized Poplins, Plain and Crepe Ottoman Cords, Checked Repps, Organdies and Scotch Zephyrs, and many others. Do not fail to visit this section.

The New Ready-to-Wear For Ladies

The offerings show an unmistakable tendency to put aside the old and welcome the new models for the coming season. Thus the coats go "a-Luring," in straight lines from the shoulders, or ripple away in graceful folds, which are sometimes pleated and again gathered. There is a tendency to shorten the length of skirts. The general-effect of many suits is of the Military order, having a swagger flare and characterized with braiding across the front, terminating in buttons or ornaments.

New For the Children

The lines laid down for adults have been faithfully carried out for the little ones—Military effects predominate. In the children's spring styles, skirts are slightly above the knee, a style more comfortable for spring and summer than winter. A pleasing range that is sure to satisfy particular people will be found in this department.

What Is New In the Silk Department

New shades in Silk Crepe de Chines for street and evening wear; new shades in Pappillon or Pussy Willow Taffetas for street wear; new shades in Meta Messalines. ## WOUNDED GERMANS ON THEIR WAY HOME

Trainload of Cheerful Cripples Taken From France In Exchange. [Canadian Press.] Geneva, via Paris, March 2.—The first trainload of maimed German prisoners of war, who are to be exchanged for wounded French soldiers, arrived here from Lyons, homeward bound, at 9:15 o'clock last night. The cars were immediately boarded by Red Cross nurses in their uniforms of white, who distributed gifts of oranges, chocolate and other delicacies among the sufferers, relieving their French co-workers of the responsibility of caring for the passengers. All Cheerful. Swiss Government physicians went rapidly through the train, but found that none of the 249 Germans aboard required medical attention. All of them seemed cheerful and contented. They accepted gratefully the gifts showered upon them. There was no demonstration, as the public was excluded from the station while the special was there.

Many Lack Limbs. Most of the Germans had been crippled by the loss of a leg or an arm, and many of them had lost two limbs. Most of them were smoking cigarettes, and all were making the best of their misfortune. They paid tribute to the kind treatment they had received in France's hospitals, but all declared they would be glad to reach home. After a long stop the train left for Schaffhausen, at the northernmost point in Switzerland, where it will pass the train carrying incapacitated French prisoners on their way home.

PRODUCTION CAMPAIGN FOR NEW ONTARIO TORONTO, March 2.—So successful has been the patriotism and production campaign in Ontario, that the TAKING OF THE DACIA.

WHETHER by intention or accident, instead of being arrested by a British warship, as expected, the Dacia has been stopped by a French cruiser and taken to Brest, where a French prize court will settle her fate. As the case bristles with possibilities of awkward, if not perilous complications, no doubt the British Government is glad to get it off its hands. Owned by Germans at the opening of the war, she was bought by a citizen of the United States, registered in the United States, and was flying the American flag when taken. As she was taken with cotton, which has not been declared contraband, her seizure raises a delicate question. It was at first believed that the Washington Government was behind the venture, wishing to make a test case of it, but later, following requests that the ship be allowed to reach her destination unmolested, Washington washed her hands of the whole business. One thing that the incident makes plain is, that the Allies are in accord. The seizure of the Dacia a week ago would have been of much greater importance than it is today. Now it is overshadowed by the bigger and more serious situation, due to Great Britain's announcement of a blockade of Germany.

JUGGLING.

IN its recent financial report, the Ontario Government has achieved some remarkable juggling in order apparently to deceive the public as to the real condition of the provincial finances. The Government admits a net deficit of $690,000, while as a matter of fact the net deficit for 1914 is over $4,000,000. As a study of the public accounts clearly shows, the deficit admitted by the Government, $690,000, is deceptive. It does not include expenditures on Government House and other buildings. The Government will, no doubt, declare that it includes war expenses, but the expenditure on this score amounts only to $294,896, $15,000 to the Belgian Fund, $372,596 as the gift of flour. This makes the admitted expenditure, apart from war expenditures, $462,000. The case of the T. N. O. Dominion Government subsidy illustrates the reason of the big difference between the Government's admitted deficit of $690,000 and the actual deficit of over $4,000,000. Under current receipts of 1914, the Federal subsidy for the T. N. O. This item is counted out on the expenditure side, but it appears there under the heading of capital expenditure. In other words, the sum of half a million is credited on the receipt side to current accounts, but on the expenditure side to capital account. This makes the ordinary receipts half a million more than they should be, and makes the Government's admitted deficit on current account of $690,000 too small by this one item alone of over half a million dollars. As a matter of fact, this half-million subsidy should not appear in the accounts at all. This is the view taken by the provincial auditor, who, in a foot note, explains that there were no receipts or payments in connection with this item. The truth of the matter is that this sum was received the year previous, and was credited to capital receipts. An attempt has also been made to make the admitted deficit appear smaller, than it should be by the inclusion, under the heading of capital expenditures, of a large number of accounts for buildings and other items which, under the system of accounting in 1914, were made to pay for themselves out of the current revenue.

HOLLAND PREPARES.

FROM Holland comes the news that the Government is considering calling to the colors the recruits not due until next year. This radical proposal mirrors the fear of the Dutch that they will be driven to take part in the war. Germany has not yet replied to the Dutch protest in regard to the submarine war zone, and meantime Holland prepares. As a matter of fact, Holland has been on a war footing for months, being ready to fight at a moment's notice, but all-night activities of the Hague officials and frequent conferences with the foreign representatives indicates that the situation is rapidly becoming acute. In normal times the German Government would probably give scant attention to whether Holland liked or disliked their methods, but the way the war has gone makes it of importance that the Netherlands remains friendly. Holland's position is strategically such that if she were suddenly to take the field for the Allies it might mean quick and complete disaster for the Kaiser's armies. The Dutch army, which is estimated at 400,000, and well equipped, acting with British and French on the German right flank, would sweep them off their feet. The coast of Holland would also be thrown open to the British warships and transports. In the face of these possibilities Germany is likely to make

JAMES GEIKIE.

PROFESSOR James Geikie and his elder brother, Sir Archibald, were the grand old men of geology. Their very names savors of their science, looking like a word from the Greek meaning "of the earth." The elder of this noble pair of brothers still lives to mourn his loss, but to anticipate in the wreaths laid upon James' bier the funeral panegyrics upon himself when time shall be ripe.

James Geikie, born in 1839, is, perhaps, the more solid contributor to geological knowledge of the two. His "Great Ice Age," "Prehistoric Europe," etc., are landmarks of the science. He was active to the last as professor in Edinburgh University and as author. Only two years ago he published "Mountains: Their Origin, Growth and Decay," and "The Antiquity of Man in Europe." It is interesting to remember that with the versatility common to the great men of Britain, Geikie brought out in 1887 a translation of Heine's songs. The same graceful versatility marked his elder brother when, in 1912, he published a little book on "The Love of Nature. Among the Romans," a proof of classical scholarship as well as of scientific lore. Medals and honors have been showered on James Geikie. He is one of the giants of science. Groping in the dark mysteries of earth, he delivered to the light a history of ages which dwarfs the written page of human chronicle to vanishing point in comparison. Geikie is a name that lives with Lyell in the fairy book of science which nourishes our youth sublime.

NO CONSCRIPTION.

AN ARGUMENT of the conscriptionists is that if Great Britain had a national army the war would not have come about. Perhaps not a war exactly on the present alignment. But it should be noted that if the arming of all Europe did not prevent the mere addition of one more "nation in arms" is not likely to secure the millennium. The addition of Great Britain to the ranks of Prussianism would only have produced a different alignment. Great Britain is ordinarily more popular with continental peoples outside Italy, Greece and Portugal, especially with the autocracies of central and eastern Europe. A conscripted Britain with a conscript empire snarling behind her would not and could not have made the conscriptionist Kipling inveighed. The line-up would sooner or later have been Great Britain and France against Germany and Russia, the latter agreeing to agree until they got the free nations swept from their path. This would have been a heavy battle for Britain.

THE LITTLE AFFAIRS.

THE stupendousness of the operations in the main zone of the war overshadow the numerous little wars that are raging at half a dozen points in Africa, but it requires just as much, if not more, of steadiness, stamina and courage to combat the forces of "kultuur" in the jungle or on the veldt. There will be some thrilling, inspiring tales to be told of the fighting at the outposts.

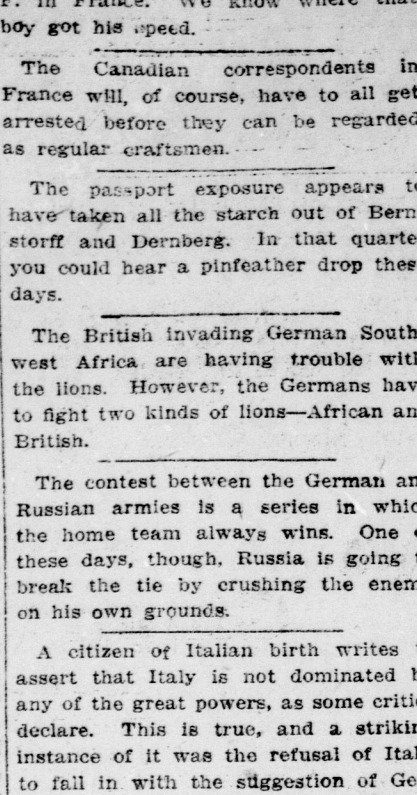

THE WAR IN THE GARDEN.

AMONG the minor departments of life into which the influence of the war will intrude we may place the amateur's garden. A very considerable trade has been done in Austria and Germany in growing flowers for our gardens, and these sources of supply are shut off now, of course. In the Black Forest, for instance, a great many of our cheaper rose-trees were raised for importation by large nurseries in the British Isles, and this work will be open to English and French growers. German firms have done a great business, too, in sending over the cheaper varieties of seeds, particularly pansies. Many bulbs, which we expect to see in spring, will be missing this year, also because of the war. Among the tulips, "Kaiserkrone" and the "Prince of Austria" will probably be less in evidence than usual, but "Le Belle Alliance" will have a new significance. A new interest will also be given to the hyacinth known as "The King of the Belgians," and the rose-tree "Victory," while optimists may still grow the pure white bells of "Paix de l'Europe."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The "Pats" continue to hit well above 300. The war came home to Alisa Craig yesterday. Lent seems to have effectually blocked the forces of frivolity. The Kaiser is still singing "Has Anybody Here Seen Calais?" Rather soak the Germans in Flanders than soak ourselves at Salisbury Plain, say the Canucks. Private O'Leary, of the Pats, who cleaned up eight Germans, is due for another big bag on March 17. Illinois' social reformers would raise the marriageable age to thirty years. The suggestion will raise Cain. A former Advertiser messenger is Announced Programmes. I have noticed that Mr. Jordan, our brilliant organ recitalist, never submits a program to his public unless it is freely supplied with analytical notes. This is a practice which is most commendable, and one which the public appreciate very highly. The average music listener has not had the training of the expert, and ordinarily can only judge of a musical work by the impression it makes on his emotional perceptiveness. He is denied the intellectual appreciation of a great work, because he has not had the opportunity of study that the professional musician has had. By means of such annotations as Mr. Jordan provides, at least, a certain amount of insight into the structure, harmonic design and other beauties are made possible to the average listener.

AN IRMAN'S IDEA OF SAFETY. A story an army airman's idea of danger was told by Mr. R. T. Glazebrook in a lecture on aerial navigation at the Royal Institution on Saturday. As usual, his hearers of the safety of the British aeroplane, Mr. Glazebrook said: "Only a short time ago the son of a very intimate friend of mine who is flying at the front asked me if he might be allowed to go back to his regiment. When his people at home wished to know the reason, his reply was 'I can't bear to see my friends and pals undergoing all the difficulties and dangers of the trenches while I have a safe job flying above them.'"

THE MOTHER'S PART.

Have you not men enough? I hear them day and night, Marching away from home, marching away to fight. Marching from mother love, marching to cruel fight. Have you not men enough? I hear them day and night, Out on the country road, here in the city street. Sirs, you must hear it, too—the tramp of those young feet. There in the marching ranks my two dear lads go by. Willing enough were they, not so willing was I. Willing enough to go, ready if need to die. All that I had to give there in the ranks go by. Have you not men enough? What is there still to do? I who am left alone have given my only two. All the youth of the land, all the flower of the race. Wrenched from the mother breast, flung in the foeman's face, Torn from pity and care, hurled in an iron race. All the youth of the land, all the flower of the race: Surely you've men enough to end this war lord's reign: Only the babes are left, only the old remain. What! are there men still left, young men, sturdy and strong? Where are their mothers, then, for these have done the wrong? How can such mothers breathe, doing such coward wrongs? Still left in the home! young men, sturdy and strong. If I had more to give, sir, I would give you more: Endeavor to love my house if you make an end of war.

Answers to Correspondents. Questions sent to this department must be addressed "Musical Editor, London Advertiser," and should be brief and to the point. They must also be of general musical interest. Do you think it would injure a piano to bring it out from England? I have heard that English pianos do not stand the Canadian climate. Is this so?—Reader. The actual bringing out of your piano would not do much harm, but it is an undeniable fact that most foreign pianos cannot withstand the greater extremes of heat and cold which are experienced in this country. I would advise you to dispose of your piano in England and buy one of Canadian manufacture. There are several makes that will give you every satisfaction.

What worries ye poor organists do have? I attempted to re-arrange the seats in my choir a week or two ago, and immediately got into trouble. Did you ever try? If you want to have a first-class row on your bench, just ask about half a dozen of your church members who have been in the choir for some years to change their seats. It's surprising what awful discomforts you will suffer if you get them as far moved as to try the new place. There won't be room for their feet, or the light will be bad, or it is impossible to sing next to Miss So-and-So, or they can't see the preacher's face; in fact, they simply can't sing in the new seat. So if you positively have to rearrange your choir, it generally ends by the good-natured ones being bundled about and the others retaining the seats they had.

It's there you long for mother and wish that you were there, Knowing that she loves you, and you miss her tender care. It's mother who will share with you her own, It is she who cheers you, when others leave you all alone, And oft times mid your troubles, you almost wish you were no more— But it is just because it's mother's love you hunger for, It you only could tell her all your little cares, and sorrows, too, How your heart would stop its yearning, as well you know, 'twould do. LIBERALS HAVE HELD TRUCE

The Montreal Gazette (Conservative) has a word of praise for the stand taken by the Liberals in declaring and holding the truce now existing at Ottawa. Here is what it says: "There is no fault to be found with the Liberal party in Parliament or out of it. Its attitude has been in general keeping with that of the Opposition in Great Britain. Its leaders recognized that when Great Britain was at war Canada was at war. They recognized also that the responsibility for action rested upon the Government of the day and quietly assented to all that it proposed to do. In this they strengthened the minister's hands for the great work placed upon them. In the first time since Confederation it may be said a great political issue arose and was dealt with by Parliament as something not to be used to help or hurt a party cause. All this was well and is duly appreciated."

LONDON WOMEN THANKED FOR CAR

Sent Clothing and Food to Aid of Belgians—Hector Prud'homme Writes.

From Hector Prud'homme, honorary treasurer for Canada for Belgium relief work, this letter has been received by the Local Council of Women:

"Dear Mrs. Boomer.—We beg to acknowledge the receipt of your kind letter of February 25, inclosing bill of lading for car 203205, containing five cases of clothing, eleven cases of arrowroot biscuits, and 275 cases of condensed milk, which your Local Council of Women shipped from London, Ont., on February 23 to Col. Curran, Belgian consul at Halifax.

"We note that money and outfits have been sent to you not only from your own city, but also from several sections of Ontario. We cannot tell you how very grateful we are to all the kind contributors for their very valuable and useful donations, and for the trouble they have taken in making these outfits for the Belgian children. If you can do so without too much trouble, will you please be so good as to thank each one of them in our name.

"With very many thanks to yourself, faithfully yours,

"HECTOR PRUD'HOMME," The Local Council of Women are hoping to send a third carload of babies' food and clothing in the near future. The Twins' Trouble.

Dear Cynthia Grey.—I am a daily reader of your column, and enjoy it greatly and receive many useful hints out of it. I would like to give those hints to some friends who are all the time thinking about beaux. Now for a few questions:

1. What dates did the following days occur—February 14, 1901; May 17, 1902; August 3, 1899; May 3, 1902?
2. What are the meanings of the following names—Ada, Marnie, Bella, May, Dora, Edna, Edna, Marion?
3. I am thirteen; am I too young to go to high school?
4. Will muddy blouses be worn next summer?
5. When do you think the war will end?
6. I have been asked if a girl of fourteen is too young to go to a party or to walk with a boy of her own age for a half hour to an hour. What do you think?

Two Twins.

Ans.—1. Thursday, Saturday, Thursday, Saturday. 2. Ada, a princess; Marnie, same as Mary, meaning sorrowful; Bella, consecrated; Marnie, same as Mary, or else name given after the month; Dora, gift of God; Edna, pleasure; Marion, same as Mary; Edna.— 3. Yes, I believe she is. At fourteen "die hard" before it is entirely eliminated from the schoolgirl's costume. 4. Yes, to certain degree I think they will, but the coat dress and baquet styles are threatening to oust the very useful "midie," which will, I think, "die hard" before it is entirely eliminated from the schoolgirl's costume. 5. Have given up useless surmises. 6. Yes, I believe she is. At fourteen a girl's "chum" should be her mother or older sister, and her chief thought, studies. This does not mean that she is to be barred from parties or outings with boys and girls of her own age; these are very necessary to any wholesome, fun-loving girl, but leave the "beaus" idea out for two years longer.

She's Only Ten.

Dear Miss Grey.—This is the first time that I have written to you. Please answer the following questions:

1. What is the meaning of the following names: James, Gladys, Malvina, Angela?
2. I am ten years old. What do you think of my writing? BLUE JAY.
3. I am ten years old. What do you think of my writing? BLUE JAY.
4. I am ten years old. What do you think of my writing? BLUE JAY.

Human Heads, Hearts and Hands.

Dear Miss Grey.—I have thought a good deal of Miss Grey's letter; it has been my lot this winter to live in the country among strangers. As we came available before winter set in, I managed to get acquainted with the neighbors in the immediate vicinity, and must say I have found them very friendly and good to a stranger; more so, I am sorry to say, than with some of their old acquaintances. Also Miss Grey, we have no phone; now, mostly speaking on a private line in the country, where they all know another can listen, does not seem immediate vicinity, and must say I listen without their knowing. This came to me; being decidedly "under the weather," I seldom go out: One neighbor rings up another—"Halloo! Say was Mrs. So and So talking to you today?" (Ans.) "Yes." "Well, what did she have to say?" (Ans.) "Oh, not much of anything, although she was talking all the time. It was just a little chat to cheer one up, for it's pretty quiet sometimes in the country. About the time I started writing to you page, a young lady asked me if I thought the letters tedious. I assured her they did not seem like it, and now I have proved, as you know it from really human heads, hearts and hands, and is indeed an oasis in the gathering gloom of a winter in the country away from all one's relations.

Old Woman in Tire Shop.

Ans.—Yes, really human heads, hearts and hands that send the letters to this page; I believe for a while some folks thought I was in my "cubbyhole" of an office and wrote them all myself. Now, though, I think everyone knows better. If it helps any to write the corner-don't hesitate, Mrs. Woman in the Shoe!

Re Second Marriage.

Dear Miss Grey.—I am another interested reader of your page, and enjoy it very much. This is my first visit to the Mail Box, so hope I will not bother you too much. I am sorry for Lonesome and Discouraged, but hope the letter will soon change. Now for the questions you ask me:

1. Could you tell me where I could get a Wander C. sewing machine shuttles?
2. What do you think of second marriage? What would you advise?
3. What do you think of my penmanship?
4. What do you think of a boy 14 and a girl 13 getting married?
5. Could you advise me as to a place to send two bad boys that their parents cannot manage?
6. What day did May 13, 1897, and March 15, 1899, fall on?
7. What is the meaning of Lillian, Josephine, Jennie, Lloyd, Dorothy, Emma, Annie, Cecile, and yours.

Mrs. Jiggs.

Ans.—1. Referred to our readers may be someone may know. 2. Under certain circumstances it is often a very wise proceeding, sometimes second marriages are happier than first ventures, on the whole. 3. I am not necessary to write names of one woman and vice-versa. 4. It is very good. 5. Not sure if this question is asked in seriousness or not. How old are the boys, and have their parents expressed any influence for good that they possibly can? 6. Saturday, Tuesday. 7. Lillian, a Lily; Josephine, consecrated; Jennie, gift of God; Dorothy, gift of God; Emma, energetic; Annie, great; Cecil, dim-sighted.

An Interesting Letter.

Dear Miss Grey.—I am sending some old-fashioned cure for the reader who is bothered with earache. The cure is as follows: Take a handful of cornmeal or some live coals. Let the cornmeal and heat pass through a funnel, the small end of which you must hold as close as possible. 2. Place a funnel over a quart-pail of boiling or hot water, and let as much steam get in your ear as possible. I hope these will help. I always use them when I have an earache, and find them a sure cure. 3. Companies with "American Reader." I am one of the tall ones, being 5 feet 7 inches in height, and weigh 120 pounds. I know how mean used to feel when at a party someone would say: "My goodness, Alice! but ain't you tall? Where do you expect to grow to?" I feel like creeping into some corner and have a good cry, instead of staying in the crowd and pretending to enjoy myself. Perhaps you are a little bit foolish, and very sensitive about it, but I'm sure there are lots of girls who feel just as I do. Of course, now that I'm married, and I don't care a snap what people say. I have also found out that in making and trimming your dresses you can do a good home and am happy, so you see the old saying, "Marry in haste repent in leisure," has at least one exception. I will also send a recipe for snow-ball doughnuts: 1 cup white sugar, three tablespoons melted butter, 2 well-beaten eggs, 1 cup of sweet milk, 2 teaspoons of baking powder, orange or nutmeg flavoring, and flour enough to admit of handling. Roll to the depth of one inch, then instead of the usual cutter, use a jelly-glass, and a thimble to make the center hole. The glass will cause the edge to be uneven, and the small hole will almost closed when done, allow some what longer time for these to fry than for the ordinary doughnut, being careful to turn them often and not have the fat too hot. Lift out upon crumpled paper, which will absorb the outside grease. When cool dip in powdered sugar, and you will have delicious melt-in-the-mouth snow-ball doughnuts. It is set before the King, only be careful that hubby and the babies do not get them or there won't be any left for the King. 4. Last of all what do you think of my writing? HAPPY-GO-LUCKY.

NEEDS FOURTH NURSE FOR VICTORIAN WORK

Three Nurses Cannot Cover Field-Splendid Year's Work. At the annual meeting of the board of management of the Victorian Order of Nurses for the past year showed much good work done by the nurses; in fact, the nurses' report might almost read "continuous nursing," for it gives the total number of cases nursed as 908, grand total number of visits made 4,929. The greater number of these visits were long-distance trips to the outlying and scattered districts of the city, the nurses depending only on exceptional cases—on the street car. More Child Welfare Work. With the coming of the third nurse the board had hopes of doing more child-welfare work, but they find not yet have they a sufficient staff to do this very necessary work as they would wish, or, as Miss McCullagh, superintendent of the order, urged, "it is undoubtedly the most important branches of the nurses' work, because of its education and its abiding worth. To further this feature of the work, and to relieve the stress in the other departments of the work here, they are facing the necessity of a fourth nurse. It is hoped that the many claims made upon each and all for patriotic and relief work may not affect the support of the splendid, necessary and charitable work of the Victorian Order, which now, more than ever, will be a help, a very necessity, in dreary, desolate and needy hours. Generous Sums Contributed. From many sources in the past year generous sums have been contributed to the support of the Order. The Men's Press Club, under the auspices of the Lord Elgin Daughters of the Empire, gave entertainments, from which the Victorian Order received $408. The Ontario Commercial Travellers' Association gave a check for $150. The young girls of Park school gave $25; school girls, girls' clubs, and Sunday schools, sent clothing and new-made garments; fraternal societies sent generous Christmas donations, and many contributed who asked their names withheld. The board of management is truly grateful to all who have helped in any way to advance the work in this district. Special mention must be made of the splendid assistance rendered everywhere by the Daughters of the Empire in London each year they give substantial and practical help to the order: in the districts of St. Johns and Ixworth—Quebec branches—have assumed all responsibility for the first years; now these two towns have five nurses. They established the work in Brockville, likewise in Sherbrooke, and so it is all over wherever there is a chapter, always the Daughters of the Empire to the rescue. Approved by City Council. The approval of the City Council, which each year gives a grant to assist the work, and those interested in the work in the near future to have the expense of at least one nurse borne by the council, believing it would be an investment which would yield excellent results to the public health department. Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the nurses for their faithful work. The report for last year shows the average

MOLLY McDONALD

A TALE OF THE FRONTIER (By Randall Parrish.) Copyright 1912 By A. G. McClurg & Co. "Yes," smiling now. "Love is no mystery to a woman. I do not care because you are in the ranks; that is only a temporary condition. I knew you out there at the front, and I saw gentlemen, I have never doubted you. Here, in this wilderness, I am not sure if it is not because I have been dead, or because he has been guilty of a crime, that I say this. I would have said it before, but you had not then in Dodge, had you asked me. It is not the uniform I love, but the man. Can you understand?" "Will you marry me—a sergeant of cavalry?" She was still smiling, her eyes frankly looking into his own. "I will marry the man," she answered truthfully, "let him be what he may." She met out her suppressed breath in a sob of relief, his eyes brightening with triumph. "Molly," he cried, "I cannot tell you what this all means to me. There is no past nor to my life, but all future." "And that to you?" "That? Yes, and a thousand times more! I had ambition, once, opportunity even wealth. They were swept away for a man's life, a woman's perjury. Out of that wreck, I crawled into the world again a mere thing. I lived simply because I must live, shunning in obscurity, my only inspiration, the hope of an honorable death or an opportunity for vengeance. Mine was the life of the ranks in the desert, awaiting orders and that far from brilliant—as he remembered the long desert trail from the distant cow camp of the Chinaman—lay in immediate capture, very moment of delay served to increase their peril. Even beyond the danger of Dupont's report to Black Kettle, this

Old Songs and Poems

THE BOSTON FIRE. [Published by Request.] Lone and weary through the streets we wander. For we have no place to lay our heads. Not a friend on earth to give us shelter. For our parents both are dead. Mother died when we were both young. Now he's killed by falling timber. And we are left here, all alone. CHORUS—Lone and weary through the streets we wander. For we have no place to lay our heads. Not a friend on earth to give us shelter. For both our parents now are dead. Who will pity us and give us shelter Through this dark and sad and lonely night? Little brother how is cold and hungry. And the tears roll down his cheeks so white. Oh, if our mother now were left us. Then she would care for us tonight. But angels they have borne her. Up to a home where all is bright. Come, good angels, take us to that bright world Where our parents now have gone to dwell. Where the cruel fates will never reach us. And the orphan has no woes to tell. For, oh! our mother did tell us. When she was with us here on earth. That God would wipe away all sorrows. That did not have in six their birth.

The Supreme Test of a Healing Agent

Psoriasis or Chronic Eczema Defied All Treatment Until Dr. Chase's Ointment Was Used.

Mrs. suffering with the terrible itching of Psoriasis for five years, and being told by physicians that she could not be cured. Mrs. Massey turned to Dr. Chase's Ointment and was entirely cured. You will find this letter interesting, and will not wonder that the writer is so enthusiastic in praising this ointment. Mrs. Nettie Massey, Comstock, Ont., writes: "For five years I suffered with what three doctors called psoriasis. They could not help me, and one of them told me if anyone offered to guarantee a cure for $50.00 to keep my money, as I could not be cured. The disease spread all over me, even on my face and head, and the itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment and I am glad to say I am entirely cured, not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this ointment enough." Can you imagine a more severe test for Dr. Chase's Ointment? This should convince you that as a cure for eczema and all forms of itching skin disease Dr. Chase's Ointment stands supreme.
