THE RADIUM RAYS MAKE BLIND SEE

Results of Experiments Told by High Authority.

A SIGHTLESS BOY WHO READ

The Direct Rays Have a Blighting Affect Upon All Living Tissues of the Human Being.

Vienna, July 28.—A celebrated St. Petersburg scientist, Prof. E. S. London, who is the highest authority on the new radium rays—which are pronounced the greatest discovery of modern times, because they may make the blind regain eyesight—has published an article on this engrossing subject, of which the following is a translation:

"Radium has all the charm of the unexpected in science, which had no premonition of its existence in nature. Radium had never been foreseen nor foretold. When it appeared it seemed to protest against some scientific principles, such as the theory of the indivisibility of atoms, etc. And the physiological and pathological qualities of radium when they were discovered were quite as great a surprise again.

"The effect of radium rays upon living organisms is shown in two ways: In one case the effect of the rays is felt immediately; in the other it is felt after being latent for a longer or a shorter period. The first case refers to the eyes, the second to all the other organs.

"I shall speak of the effect upon the eyes first. If we gaze upon a preparation of radium under ordinary circumstances in daylight we see a brown granulated powder something like snuff. But we have a very different view when we cover our eyes with a black bandage and wait five of ten minutes until we get accustomed to the darkness. If the box with radium is approached to the right eye we feel that a bright sphere has been opened to our sight—the brighter the nearer te box is approached. We have a similar but a much weaker impression in the left eye, but when the radium is applied to the left eye the right eye has the weaker impression.

"It makes no difference whether the box with the radium is closed or placed in an outer metal box, or whether many hands are laid upon it to conceal it. The same effect of light is felt when the box is approached to the temple or the forehead, or, in the case of persons with small heads, to the back of the skull.

"Of course, the box and the powder are not visible, only the light caused by the radium. The experiment can be made in a dark room, and then the eyes need not be blinded.

"The next question which arises is whether a person with covered eyes or in the dark will perceive the objects upon which the rays of radium are directed. The answer is, No; because, the rays having reached the object, they pass through it and are not thrown back; they consist of material atoms, and run in a straight line without deviating to any side.

"But a blindfolded person soon learns to perceive where the radium is held up to his eyes, whether from above, below or from either side.

"This suggested trying to make blind persons obtain perceptions which could not be procured for them by any other means hitherto adopted. But experiments soon showed that a direct influence of radium upon the retina of the eye might do more harm than good. Indirect influence had to be resorted to.

"It was found that when radium was approached to a screen of barium-platin-cyanide the screen shone with greenish fluorescence. The objects which are to be applied to a blind person are applied in any non-transparent material on the fluorescent screen. The screen is held close to the eyes of the blind person, who will feel the difference of light and darkness, and by degrees will learn to distinguish the dark figures on the screen. In this manner the blind can be taught to write, read and draw.

"These theories have been practically applied already. A boy of eleven who lost his eyesight when he was twelve months old, but who retained a slight perception of the difference of light and darkness, learned the letters of the alphabet first, and then learned to read.

"There is no living tissue in the world upon which radium rays have no effect. Experiments have been made with the seeds of plants, bacteria, ovum cells, frogs, worms, guinea pigs, rabbits and human beings. Radium rays were noticed to do all these different organisms harm.

"The germs of plants and animals exposed to radium rays lose the power of growing. The skin of animals and human beings exposed to radium will show no effect at first, but after a time a swelling sets in which becomes an open wound that refuses to heal. White mice placed in a box with radium sickened after a few days and died of congestion of the lungs.

"Lupus and other skin diases have been treated with radium rays and encouraging results have been obtained.

"There is no knowing what the future has in store for humanity after the discovery of radium."

LIPTON IS PLEASED

A Choice of Reliance—He Wants to Beat the Best.

New York, July 28.—The news that Reliance had been selected to defend the cup pleased Sir Thomas Lipton. He said: "I am very glad to hear this news. Had I been a member of the New York Yacht Club committee I would have voted for the selection of Reliance. I believe that she is the best boat.

"In Shamrock III. I know I have the best yacht that ever crossed the Atlantic to challenge for America's Cup. If I win I want to compete against the best that America can produce. I believe that in Reliance you have a perfect type of an American boat. I am confident as ever I will lift the cup."

The bodies, including that of Mrs. Baur, were not found until yesterday.

Mr. Hays at the Capital to Affix His Signature—Announcement for Thursday.

Ottawa, July 27. — The Grand Trunk Pacific scandal has been finally completed and now awaits the signature of Mr. C. M. Hays, who will be here tomorrow. If that gentleman signs the contract upon its submission to him, the salient features will be embodied in resolutions to be given notice of tomorrow, and the country will then be made officially aware of the Government's proposition. The resolutions will be introduced by Hon. W. S. Fielding, as they involve financial obligations, but the speech explanatory of the Government's policy, will be delivered by the Prime Minister. The date fixed for this is Thursday next. It will probably be a much more extended address than has been heard from Sir Wilfrid within recent years, and may occupy some hours.

MUST REMAIN UNMARRIED

Officers Below Captains to Remain Bachelors.

Ottawa, July 28.—A militia general order, just issued, provides that officers of the permanent corps, befow the rank of captain, will only hold their commissions so long as they remain unmarried. The rule does not apply to officers appointed prior to 1901, and may be relaxed in the case of officers who have served six years as lieutenant, when the general officer commanding is satisfied that the officer has means "to maintain himself; that the officer's means are such as will enable him to maintain his family in a manner befitting his position as an officer."

The imperial army regulation regarding salute has been approved for the Canadian forces. Hereafter "salutes by soldiers will be returned by all the officers present, and not by the senior only."

It having been ruled that the use of any motto or title, other than the motto, "Honi soit qui mal y pense," on the garter surmounted by the crown,is incorrect and improper, the garter will be inscribed with the motto of the order on all badges and devices when the garter and crown are worn by authority.

The following warrant officers of the permanent force have been granted medals for meritorious service:

Master Gunner J. Maher, Royal Canadian Field Artillery; Sergeant-Major R. Cumming, Sergeant-Major J. B. Munro, Royal Canadian Regiment.

In future, brigades of the several arms will be officially referred to as "cavalry brigade," "field artillery brigade," "heavy artillery brigade," and "infantry brigade," respectively.

A lieutenant-colonel's command in the Canadian Field Artillery, which has hitherto been known as a "brigade division," will in future be designated a "brigade."

A "subdivision" of a battery will be styled "sub-section."

GENERAL HUTTON IN HOT WATER

His Attempt to Discipline an Australian Editor Fails.

REFUSED RETENTION OF RANK

But the Minister of Militia Decided in Favor of the Newspaper Man.

London, July 28. — The London Daily Chronicle of July 16 has the following: Reference was made in this column a couple of months ago to the curious case of Col. Reay, the news-editor of the Melbourne Evening Herald, and its war correspondent in South Africa. A series of military articles published in the Herald gave offense to General Sir E. Hutton, the commandant of the Commonwealth forces. The general summoned the colonel to appear before him and asked him a number of questions as to the authorship of the articles, how far he was responsible for their insertion, whether he regretted their publication, etc. To all these interrogations the colonel refused to make any reply, contending that in his journalistic capacity he was responsible to his employes alone. The general thereupon relieved the colonel of the command he held in the Victoria Mounted Rifles.

The papers in the case have just been presented to the Commonwealth Parliament. It seems that Colonel Reay applied to be retired with permission to retain his rank and wear his uniform. General Hutton refused to recommend the granting of the application on the ground that the colonel had expressed no regret for the publication of the articles. But the ministerial head of the Commonwealth military department, Sir John Forrest, took a different view. In his minute Sir John said there was nothing to connect Colonel Reay with any certainty with the Herald articles, and the colonel would hardly be expected to injure his position with his employers by expressing an adverse opinion on what had appeared in the paper. "It would be difficult," added Sir John, "to hold an officer of the citizen forces earning his living on a newspaper responsible for what appears in it unless it is established that he is knowingly a party to an attack subversive of discipline, for to do so would prevent anyone employed on the press becoming a citizen soldier." Sir John concludes his minute with the decision – a decided and thoroughly well deserved snub to the general—"I therefore feel unable to deny to Colonel Reay, on retirement, after seventeen years' exemplary service, the right to retain his rank and wear his uniform."

RED HOT STONES

Used by Schoolboys at Hazing—Victim Will Die.

Barton, Vt., July 28. — A hearing that promises to continue several days is in progress before Justice Guild at Barton Landing concerning injuries received by a boy at the hands of his schoolmates a few weeks ago which caused his death.

Raymond Waterman, Raymond Adams and Alva Day, aged 9, 10 and 11 years, had read of a college hazing, and decided to try it on Ralph Canning, a young companion. They heated stones red hot in a pasture back of the schoolhouse in Brownington and made Canning stand on them and sit on them, until he was badly blistered. Then, according to reports, two boys held him and nearly rendered him unconscious before releasing him. He was taken sick at once with great pains about the stomach and died two weeks later.

The boys are so young that they probably did not realize the enormity of their acts. The lads are members of prominent families. The hearing will determine their punishment. There are about forty witnesses on each side.

SEPARATION ENDS ODDLY

Mother and Son Strangely United After Thirty Years.

New Brunswick, N. J., July 28.—After a separation of 31 years Mrs. Aleta McCullough has been united with her son John in a manner suggestivce of the modern novel. When an infant the son was adopted by Mrs. Ellen Smith, of Plainfield, N. J. Mrs. Smith nursed the child tenderly, but did not conceal from him the fact that he had been adopted. He spent years in an unsuccessful endavor to find his mother, seeking her in several parts of the country. Ten months ago he arrived in New Brunswick, and sought work at the carpet weaving establishment owned by Mrs. McCullough. Recently he discovered that his employer was his own mother, and made known his identity to her. At first Mrs. McCullough refused to believe the relationship, but was finally convinced and has taken him into her household as her son. For a long time mother and son lived within thirty miles of each other without knowing it.

GUN PLAY IN GOTHAM'S STREETS

Policeman Fatally Shot While Protecting Girl From Murderous Lover.

New York, July 28.—In full view of hundreds going to work, Patrolman Cornelius Mulvey was shot and probably fatally injured on the corner of Avenue B and Seventh street today while trying to prevent a soldier from shooting his sweetheart. The soldier is Adolph Schloss, 22 years old, of the Eleventh Battery, field artillery, stationed at Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn. After shooting the policeman the soldier turned the revolver on himself, but without serious injury. Mulvey was shot in the center of his forehead, the bullet passing entirely through his skull and out at the back of his head. Schloss was arrested immediately. His sweetheart, Louisa Freedman, 18 years old, ran away screaming after the shooting, and the police are looking for her. Just what led up to the shooting is not known. Schloss has been in the army for two months, and was on leave of absence. He declared that he had been away four days over his leave, but said he had no intention of deserting. Policeman Mulvey is 40 years old, and has been several years on the force.

The girl was found later, and told the detectives that her father wished her three older sisters to marry first, and she had therefore broken her engagement with Schloss, who shot at her after she had refused to renew the engagement.

Gagarin, a former member of the Russian court, was severely wounded recently by peasants, is still living. His injuries are not likely to prove fatal. CZAR AND MIKADO HAVE AGREEMENT

Russia to Recognize Japanese Interests in Korea.

WAR IS QUITE IMPROBABLE

Says the Japanese Minister to London—Cordial Relations Between the Two Powers.

London, July 28.—Viscount Hayashi, the Japanese minister here, in an interview, declared that the alarmist reports regarding the relations between Russia and Japan are baseless. He said that Japan is in exactly the same position as the other powers in the Far East, and has had no special disagreement with Russia. If she had such a disagreement it would doubtless be settled by arbitration. Japan is guarding her interests and Russia is guarding hers. In doing so both are necessarily taking measures which certain people interpret as preparing for war. Viscount Hayashi added: "It can be stated positively that there is no occasion for alarm. War is very far off. Japan would have to be greatly provoked before she would think of going to war with any power."

Berlin, July 27.—What purports to be the text of the Russo-Japanese agreement, which is alleged to have been signed on the occasion of the visit to Tokio of Gen. Kuropatkin, Russian Minister of War, last month, is published here. The preamble declares that the parties are actuated by a desire to avoid a conflict between their political and commercial interests in Manchuria and Corea, to observe cordial relations in the future, and also to promote their own interests without prejudicing those of other nations. The agreement stipulates that Russia will effect with all possible speed the second phase of her evacuation of Manchuria, but that she will be allowed to maintain a policy of force to protect the Chinese Eastern Railway, as well as the legal rights she has acquired there, without, however, threatening the independence of China, or prejudicing Japanese trade. Russia has no objection to the opening of Fengtien, Yenking and Tatsankgong to foreign trade, agreeing that Japanese consulates may be established at those points. The system of administration in Manchuria will remain unchanged for the present. The legal liberty and interests of the Japanese will be respected. The immigration of Japanese into Manchuria within certain limits will not be hindered. Russia recognizes the development of Japanese influence in Corea. She acquiesces in Japan obtaining a concession for the Seoul-Jiju Railway, and the appointing of a Japanese as first adviser to the Corean crown. She also recognizes the right of the Japanese to the wood-cutting privilege at Quelpart. The agreement will be temporarily valid, pending its final signature at St. Petersburg by Count Lamsdorf, Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, and M. Kurino.

There were 1,650 collisions and 1,181 derailments, causing $2,491,046 damage to cars, engines and roadways.

RESUMED WORK

The Flooded Nova Scotia Mines Are Pumped Dry.

Halifax, N. S., July 28.—Operations in the mining of coal were resumed at Dominion No. 1 colliery at Glace Bay yesterday, some 40 tons being raised from the bottom of the shaft. This pit has been idle since March 19 last, when fire broke out in it, which raged for over several weeks before it was got under control. It required 600,000,000 gallons of water to drown the flames, the water being procured by cutting a sluice into the Atlantic Ocean. When the fire was ascertained to be out a system of 20 pumps was installed, and the work of pumping this subterranean lake begun. There are now only a few million galions remaining in the lower end of the pit, which the company expects to have out by Aug. 15.

BLOWN UP BY LAKE

Match Touches Off Natural Gas Oozing From Waters.

Rochester, N.Y., July 28.—Sewage-laden rivers have recorded many curious explosions and fires, but it remained for a fisherman to cause an explosion in the clear waters of Seneca Lake. Incidentally the century old mystery of the booming noises in the lake, which have come to be known as the "Seneca lake guns," has been solved by William Prosser, of Dresden.

Prosser alleges that while he was fishing at Long Point he struck a match to light his pipe. The blazing of the match was immediately followed by a flash and a deafening roar. The next thing Prosser knew he and his boat were flying through the air, landing among the trees on the shore many yards distant, bruised and bleeding.

Prosser says his match ignited one of the "guns" which, he says are nothing more nor less than natural gas oozing from the water from subterranean caverns, of which there are many in the lake.

The Governor escaped. Tried to search the consulate, but intercepted. Took refuge at the house of an American. Streets lined with soldiers. Arrested Secretary of State, chief of police and departmental employes. Department has money." Another dispatch was received from Mr. Gudger, saying the Governorship has been tendered, but it is not known to whom. He added that the situation is grave. Acting Secretary Loomis has decided to await further advices before taking action.

CHINESE FOR AFRICA

Mr. Chamberlain Would Prohibit Them if Colony Objected.

London, July 28.—During the course of the debate in the House of Commons yesterday, on the second reading of the Transvaal loan bill, Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, referring to the proposal to introduce Asiatic labor into South Africa, declared that so long as public opinion was hostile to the proposition he would not consent to it. He believed, however, that opinion on the subject was changing, and if the majority demanded the importation of Indian coolies, he would not object to it. In regard to Chinese labor, Mr. Chamberlain said that not a single suggestion looking to the employment of Chinese in South Africa had ever been officially brought to the notice of the Transvaal Government.

ELECTRICITY THE FUTURE CURE-ALL

Parisian Savant Claims Great Things for It.

IT WILL RESTORE VITALITY

And Destroy the Deadly Microbe—A Therapeutic Revolution in the Near Future.

Paris, July 28. — Electricity will be the sole medicine of the future, according to M. d'Arsonval, a well-known savant of the Psychological Institute of Paris.

At a meeting of the institute he made an exhaustive address on "The Action of Electricity Upon Human Beings." He spoke of the sudden shocks of electricity, as well as the slow method by which it pervades the human system without the patient being sensible of it. He showed that electric treatment is excellent for certain maladies of the skin, and that electricity has a powerful effect on microbes and accelerate circulation and respiration without fatigue to the person operated on. Moreover, what is most important, he said that it acts strongly on cellular vitality. He added that electricity will bring about a therapeutic revolution.

The Psychological Institute, which has been in existence about three years, counts among its members some of the most conscientious and brilliant men of letters and science in France, among them Th. Ribot, Sully-Prudhomme, Seilles, Tardes, Duclaux and Brouardel.

Picton, Ont., July 28.—The inquest into the death of the negro Johnson was resumed last night. The room was crowded almost to suffocation. Not much new evidence was offered. The jury handed in the following verdict: "That Edward Johnson, otherwise called "Yellow," on July 2, 1903, at Picton, in the county of Prince Edward, came to his death by a wound of the heart, and from the evidence we are strongly of the opinion that the wound was inflicted by one Edward Clark, otherwise known as "Side Show Shorty." Clark is in custody.

FOUND FAMILY CAT

How a Wagon Load of Policemen, All Armed, Were Fooled.

New York, July 28. — Detective-Sergeant Farrell was routed out of bed at 2 a.m. yesterday at police headquarters, Newark, N. J., and sent with a wagon-load of reserves to No. 64 Thomas street, for which a burglar alarm had been sent in.

When the bluecoats reached the house they found the family of John H. Townsend awfully flurried.

"They're in the cellar," whispered one of the family. "Listen and you can hear them moving about."

"Get your guns ready, men, and follow me," ordered Farrell.

After placing guards at the front and rear of the house, Farrell led the way to the cellar, armed with a revolver in one hand and an electric bullseye in the other.

From the corner of the cellar came sounds as of someone moving.

"Throw up your hands or you're a dead man," exclaimed Farrell.

All the pistols of the raiding party were leveled at the corner. Then Farrell flashed his bullseye. The light revealed a dark form and a pair of very luminous eyes. Suddenly the form moved again and a dark flash shot by the policemen.

It was the family cat.

Battleship Kearsarge Crosses Atlantic in Eight Days.

Bar Harbor, Me., July 27.—The United States battleship Kearsarge, which, after being admired by Emperor William of Germany, and King Edward of England, was ordered by the Secretary of the Navy to make a race against time, is believed to be off Bar Harbor.

There are flashing searchlights, throwing wedges of white light over the water, about five miles outside this harbor.

The run was ordered to be made from Portsmouth, England, to Frenchman's Bay. It was the first time in the history of the navy that any trial of the kind had been suggested.

The run of the Kearsarge, which was on a "great circle" of the earth, has been made in a little more than a week, or on mail steamship time.

The distance from Portsmouth, England, to Frenchman's Bay is 2,852 knots, or about the same distance as from Boston to Liverpool.

The time test of the Kearsarge recalls the famous trip of the Oregon around Cape Horn during the Spanish war.

It was on July 14 that Capt. Hemphill, of the Kearsarge, the officer of whom Emperor William remarked, "He understands his business," received his cabled orders at Portsmouth to clean his propellers, fill his bunkers with the best Welsh steaming coal, and go at highest speed at natural draft to Frenchman's Bay, Me.

Divers at once began work, and 1,500 tons of coal were delivered on the first day of the grooming.

At 9 o'clock on Friday, July 17, the Kearsarge began her race against time.

Her actual time, allowing for the difference in longitudes, appears to have been a trifle over eight days.

Her speed appears to have been between 14 and 15 knots an hour, without forced draft.

AT THE VATICAN

Speculation in Regard to the Papal Candidate.

Rome, July 27. — Nearly all the cardinals of the conclave have now arrived. Their time today was mainly occupied with a lengthy meeting of the congregation. After the meeting the cardinals received numerous visits at their various residences. In well informed circles Cardinal Angeleo Di Pietro, prodatory of the late Pope, is being talked of as a compromise candidate in the event that Cardinals Oreglia, Gotti, Rampollo or Serafino Vannutelli is unable to secure the necessary votes. Should Die Pietro be elected pope, he would, it is said, be the representative of the Rampolla-Gotti faction, and yet would be more acceptable to all. Cardinals Michael Logue, Archbishop of Armagh, who with Cardinal Gibbons will be the only English-speaking cardinal in the conclave, arrived today from Ireland. Speaking of Cardinal Gibbons, the Irish cardinal paid him a glowing tribute, though, like all the prelates here, he held out no hope that the American cardinal had the remotest chance of election. "Indeed," said Cardinal Logue, "I think Cardinal Gibbons would be a subject for consideration if the selection should devolve upon him, for no American would care to spend the rest of his life confined within the precincts of the Vatican."

Alabama Peonage.

Montgomery, Ala., July 27.—The jury in the case of the United States against R. B. Franklin, charged with causing Patrick Mills, a negro, to be held in peonage, Saturday brought in a verdict of guilty. Judge Jones imposed the minimum fine of $1,000, which was promptly paid. Judge Jones thanked the jury for their verdict.

WHY

RHEUMATISM

The manufacturers of Bu-Ju, the Kidney Pill, do not claim that it will cure everything. They assert, however, with a confidence borne out by many testimonials that for all kidney troubles, of which Rheumatism is one of the consequences, there is nothing before the public that can in the least compare with its efficacy. Bu-Ju has cured so many cases of Rheumatism — not giving temporary relief alone, but effecting a radical cure of the disease—that it has more than substantiated all that was ever claimed for it. A trial box of the remedy will soon convince any sufferer that relief and cure are at hand, and druggists will refund the price if this is not proved by its use. All dealers sell Bu-Ju in boxes of 50 pills, 50 cents. Substitutus should be rejected and only Bu-Ju accepted.

A CALIFORNIAN JAIL DELIVERY

Thirteen Convicts Make a Break for Liberty.

KILLED TURNKEY AND A GUARD

And Seizing Rifles and Pistols Made for the Mountains—Troops Called Out.

Sacramento, Cal., July 27.—A dispatch from Folsom says: "Thirteen desperate prisoners, confined in the Folsom penitentiary, made a successful break for liberty at the breakfast hour today. After a fierce fight in the captain's office, during which Turnkey Cochrane was fatally stabbed, Guard Cotter was killed and Officer Palmer was cut in the head, the convicts seized arms and ammunition, and using the warden and other officials as shields, escaped. Tonight, it is believed, they are making for the Bald Mountains. State troops, ordered out by Governor Pardee, have gone to the scene.

The fight took place after the convicts had gone to the office of R. J. Murphy, captain of the guard, and seized Warden Wilkinson, his grandson, Harry Wilkinson, Captain Murphy and several other officers and guards. The convicts were armed with knives and razors, and with these they assaulted Warden Wilkinson and his officers. The warden's clothing was slashed into shreds, but he was not wounded. Turnkey Cochrane fought the convicts with a chair, raining blows upon them right and left. Finally he was felled by a knife thrust in the back. Guard Cotter was disembowled by a cut in the abdomen, and he died a few hours later. Palmer was severely cut. The floor of the office was covered with blood.

The officers were outnumbered and soon relieved of their arms. Then, using the officers as shields, the convicts started for the armory on the outskirts of the penitentiary grounds. They passed a Gatlin gun on one of the walls, but the guards were afraid to shoot for fear of killing the prison guards. When the armory was reached officers there attempted to interfere, but were quickly overpowered, and the convicts took a supply of ammunition and weapons, and made a dash for the country. The convicts marched beside Wilkinson, and the officers were told that if any of the pursuers took the life of one of their number that they would retaliate, life for life.

At Mormon Bridge, about a mile from the penitentiary, the warden, his grandson and Capt. Murphy were released and sent back. The others were marched along with the convicts. Further on the convicts went to a farmer's house, seized his four-horse team and wagon, robbed the house, took the farmer with them as a driver and headed for Bald Iron.

All the convicts are still at large tonight. Among the officers carried off by them is General Overseer McDonough. Some fears are felt for his safety, as he bears the especial illwill of the convicts. Governor Pardee ordered a militia company to the scene later.

The several hundred remaining prisoners made no attempt to get away. Warden Wilkinson, after his return to the prison, told his story as above. The warden says the guards still in the hands of the convicts include General Overseer McDonough, Guard Klensendorf, Guy Getter, foreman of the rock quarry, Tony Brown, stage driver, and Guard L. S. Vetres, with three others whose names he has not at hand.

Placerville, Cal., July 27.—According to a report received here, a fight between the escaped convicts from Folsom and a posse has taken place near Pilot Hill, in which Fred Howard was killed and A. Scabio wounded. Both men are convicts. The convicts are said to have scattered. A company of militia is en route to Pilot Hill. Before the fight took place, the convicts, who has picked up a number of citizens en route, and had compelled them to join their party, and plundered a general merchandise store at Pilot Hill.

San Francisco, July 28. — Troops and posses organized by the sheriffs are keeping in close touch with the convicts who broke out of the state prison at Folsom, and their prisoners, the guards and jail officials, whom they have taken with them. The party is moving towards Coloma, where the citizens have armed themselves and are preparing to resist attack. They have been warned of the advance of the convicts, and will unite with the authorities in the effort to put an end to their existence. It is reported by the driver of a stage which passed between Pilot Hill and Coloma, that he saw the convicts walking close together. They all wore citizens' clothing, and were accompanied by men who were evidently residents of the vicinity, whom they had apparently forced to go with them as guides. A posse from Placerville, under Sheriff Bogtwick, was reported not far behind them, following their trail.

The result of the fight between the convicts and the officers at 7 o'clock last night, near Pilot Hill, in Eldorado County, was the death of Fred Howard, a convict, killed outright, and the wounding of another convict, a negro, named Seavis. The coroner at Placerville, at the request of the prison officials, will hold an inquest on the dead convict. When last seen the convicts were in citizens' clothing, while the officers wore the stripes.

The latter appeared to be having a hard time of it, as they were heavily laden with bundles and ammunition.

The latest information is to the effect that another encounter has taken place between the fleeing convicts and their pursuers, resulting in the death of John Allison, a convict, and of another whose name is unknown. The posse and militia are closing in on the desperadoes and it is expected they soon will be surrounded on all sides.

Sacramento, Col., July 28. — Governor Pardee has authorized the offering of $100 each for the arrest of the convicts who escaped from Folsom prison yesterday. The state prison commissioners have a standing offer of $50 each for the arrest of escaped prisoners, so this makes a total of $150 each for the men at large.

Fell Across Saw.

Midland, Ont., July 28.—H. Williams, aged 22, an employe of Chew Bros., fell across a saw table in the mill here at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and was instantly killed. His body was cut to pieces. He was a brother-in-law of Mr. Chew, the manager of the firm, and much respected by all who knew him.

Slot Macqine Inflates Cushions and Takes Up Collection.

Sioux City, Ia., July 27.—A device which is calculated to make long sermons by ministers of the Gospel more endurable, and which will afford comfort to the person who wishes to take a nap in church, has been invented by Hans Niemend, an eccentric character, of Ida Grove, Ia.

The contrivance promises to attract national attention, and the inventor believes it will some day be in universal use. Patents are now about to be issued. The device operates on slot-machine principles. Niemend intends the machine to take the place of the time-honored contribution basket in the church.

The apparatus consists of an air compressor, which can be placed in the basement of the church. From the compressor pipes will be run to each seat in the various pews, the seats being upholstered with individual pneumatic cushions, and each one provided with a slot machine device. The insertion of a coin will permit a limited amount of air from the compressor to inflate the cushion.

The more coins dropped into the slot the more inflation will be secured for the cushion, and consequently the more comfort for the occupant. By this means the longest and most tiresome sermons will be most productive of financial returns for the church.

BLAZE AT SOURIS

A Serious $10,000 Fire in a Manitoba Town.

Souris, Man., July 28.—Sunday night the most serious fire in the history of Souris broke out in the feed and sale stables of William Watt, and immediately spread to the large stock stables of McCulloch & Hirst. This carried the sparks far and wide, burning Wm. Watt's house and most of the contents; also T. H. Petrick's lumber yard, in which was piled 100,000 feet of lumber, 30,000 shingles and 50 cords of dry cordwood. Only heroic efforts of the citizens and a fortunate change in the wind saved the remaining business section of the town, as nearly all the stores in town were on fire at different times during the conflagration. The losses are as follows: W. Watt, dwelling and contents, feed stables and contents, loss $3,500; insured about $1,000. McCulloch & Heriot's stable, loss $4,000; insurance $1,000. T. H. Patrick, lumber yard and contents, $2,000; small insurance.

PROVINCIAL MORTALITY

Deaths From Scarlet Fever and Smallpox Greatly Decreased.

Toronto, July 28. — In the past six months of this year there have been almost as many deaths in Ontario from scarlet fever as there were altogether in 1900 and 1901. The total for this year to the end of last month was 482. During all of 1902 there were only 282 deaths from scarlet fever, and in 1901 only 268. However, according to the latest statistics published by the provincial board of health, the scarlet fever epidemic in the province is subsiding somewhat. For June 295 new cases were reported, as compared with 391 reported in May. Deaths from the disease numbered 52, as compared with 43 in May, and 35 in June of last year. Smallpox cases also show a decrease. Last month 30 cases were reported, as compared with 66 reported the preceding month.

The total deaths in the province last month numbered 1,844, as compared with 1,748 for the same month last year. Deaths from diphtheria numbered 26, from measles 14, from whooping cough 20, from typhoid 13, and from tuberculosis 175.

Ontario's health for the half-year seems to have been pretty good. The total number of deaths reported for the first six months of 1903 is 13,028, which is 54 less than were reported for the first half of 1902.

A new system of warming the passenger compartments on an English railway is being tried. It consists of cylinders charged with chemicals.

Mrs. Meloche Dead.

Windsor, Ont., July 28.—Mrs. Joseph Meloche, wife of Capt. Joseph Meloche, of the Government fishing tug Ranger, died at her home in Sandwich yesterday of Bright's disease.

'TIS WELL TO KNOW A GOOD THING, said Mrs. Surface to Mrs. Knowwell, when they met in the street. "Why, where have you been for a week back?" "Oh, just down to the store for a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil," and Mrs. Surface, who hates puns, walked on. But she remembered, and when she contracted a weak back there was another customer for Eclectric Oil.

The March output of Lake Superior copper exceeded 17,000,000 pounds, a record for a single month.

HE SAW THINGS DOUBLE

But Ald. Cooper Has No Reason to Try the Keeley Cure.

This Time They Were Candy Jars, Not Used by Snake Collectors.

"Cooper was wrong for once," shouted the alderman auctioneer of that name this morning when selling a bankrupt confectioner's stock. The crowd that was watching the different articles getting "knocked down," agreed.

This is the way it happened. He was selling a number of glass candy jars, which were arranged regularly in line in front of a large mirror that occupied one of the walls.

"How much am I bid for these,—two, four, six, eight, ten, twelve, fourteen—jars?" called the dignified father of the north end, in his most persuasive tone.

Then came the various bids and the final, "third and last" time. Some one had bought the jars at a bargain, so the auctioneer thought.

"Just count them and see how many jars there are, please," requested the man who bought.

"Why, there are two, four, six, eight, ten, twelve, fourteen," said the auctioneer, pointing with his finger as he counted, slightly exasperated.

"Ha, ha," laughed a spectator who saw the bottles at a different angle. "You are counting the reflection in the mirror. There are only seven bottles."

The crowd laughed, guffawed, split their sides, took the pressure off the mirth gates, snickered fit to kill, become all broken up, or whatever you like to call it. It was an awful noise. Ald. Cooper did nothing but adopt his usual reserve and use the expression with which it was convenient to start this addition to the literature of the dog days.

THAT CURSE CALLED RUMOR

Between the Incendiary who fires his neighbor's barn in secret vengeance, and the Worthy who starts a "run" on a Bank with malicious gossip, there is only a technical difference.

Gossip-with-a-purpose has too often been used to stab character and to wreck fortunes, and it is a great pity the law cannot better reach those who employ such intangible and insidious methods to achieve their ends.

Scarcely any enterprise, or individual, no matter how deserving, is safe from the subtle dangers of the Gossip-monger, and human nature so loves a morsel of such "news" that it can be relied upon to "push along" a rumor when once it has been judiciously started.

A vivid illustration of the gross injustice such a rumor can do is seen in the "Force" Food Company's advertisement of this date, wherein a reward of $5,000 is offered for the conviction of the parties who initiated the suggestion that "Force" was drugged.

A further offer of $5,000 for evidence that a single package of the fifty million sold contained anything except Wheat, Barley and Table Salt is, of course, a complete refutation of the rumor, even if the State Supervision of Foods was not in itself ample protection.

People who love fair play in business, as well as in other matters, will read with indignation that it has cost The "Force" Food Company over $50,000 to publish a refutation of this "rumor" in the newspapers of the United States and Canada, and, probably, as much more in loss of sales resulting from the baseless gossip which did the harm.

The absurdity of the rumor is apparent when it is known that the public has consumed fifty million packages of "Force" without a single instance of any ill effect upon anyone of the users.

The "Force" Company are evidently suffering the usual penalty for success.

INNOCENT NEGRO LYNCHED

Man Mob Was After Now in Hands of Sheriff.

Savannah, Ga., July 28.—An innocent negro was lynched by the mob which thought it had followed Ed. Clauss through several counties from Darien Junction to the southern part of Dodge County, where the supposed fugitive was captured, tied to a tree and his body riddled with bullets, despite frantic protests of being innocent.

A young white woman of Darien Junction, Miss Susie Johnson, was attacked by Ed. Clauss in a most brutal manner, and a posse at once took the warpath in pursuit of the negro. Following him, as they thought, for days, the track was kept and at last in a swamp, the negro whom they were chasing was found asleep. The mob would accept no denials and short work was made of the black. Now Clauss, the negro who attacked Miss Johnson, has been found in a small village near Darien Junction, and is in jail.

If the citizens succeed in getting Clauss from the officers two negroes will pay for the crime he committed instead of one.

AFTER INFORMATION

English Journal Sends Man to Study Labor Question.

Toronto, July 28.—Labor conditions and requirements are being looked into by J. H. Vinnicombe of the Sheffield Daily Telegraph.

Mr. Vinnicombe came out with the last lot of English and Scotch molders, who were somewhat disappointed at the incorrect information they had received before sailing. The Sheffield newspaper man has been in Ottawa and Montreal collecting information on both sides of the labor case and he hopes to satisfy his paper when he has done Toronto and some Western Ontario towns.

Mr. Vinnicombe said that the conflicting reports which came to them in England had caused the News to send him out to Canada expressly for the purpose of obtaining "as far as possible the actual facts as to the number of men and different trades that there were openings for here. When called on by the World last night Mr. Vinnicombe declined to speak definitely as to what facts he had gathered or how the situation struck him, giving as a reason that he was barely in the middle of the task assigned him.

He had a talk yesterday with Robert Glockling of the Ontario labor bureau, in quest of information.

Society for Lunatics.

Pottsville, Pa., July 28. — Professor Jabez Burks, a veterinary surgeon, is organizing a society for lunatics, which, it is believed, will be the first organization of the kind in the country. No members will be admitted until a committee on qualifications has first passed on their lunacy. In response to an advertisement for members many persons have responded, general interest being awakened all over the country.

THIS EQUINE'S IN DOTAGE

He Gets Away From Home and Raises the Mischief.

Mrs. Baldick Says So, and It Was Her Beans He Destroyed.

Robert Hill has a horse that he must think a lot of, for he thinks it is worth his while coming up to police court often enough to defend its character. This morning Mrs. Baldick once more complained of what this horse could do, and it is likely that it will cost Mr. Hill in the neighborhood of $5 or $6 for allowing it to run at large. When asked about this horse, which, it is claimed by Mrs. Baldick, is a vicious one, he said that it was not on the street, but if it was on the street it would not hurt a worm.

The poor horse is getting old, and the owner says that it has no teeth. How could it eat? argued Mrs. Baldick, and, anyway, it had feet, she added, when the discussion of its viciousness came up. Mrs. Baldick was certainly indignant when the matter came up this morning. She is getting almost as used to the dear old walls of the court-room as the defendant Hill, for it is only a few weeks ago that she had him summoned on the same charge, of letting his horse at large. Then she was satisfied with the promise that Hill made to the magistrate that he would not allow this vicious horse to run at large again. This time she is insisting that the defendant pay the damage to her cabbages, her beans and her beets, that has been caused by the horse. The magistrate upheld this view, and ordered an adjournment of the case for a week, in which time the amount of the damage will be ascertanied.

It was too bad, said Mrs. Baldick, that this horse should be allowed to run at large, especially when nobody could get near him with a ten-foot pole, and yet that very day they were in court last time the horse had been allowed his freedom. Probably Mr. Hill has a weakness for the horse, as the animal is twenty years old. It had never hurt anyone yet, he stated, and he kept a man and two boys to look after the place, so that he could not see how the horse could have done any damage. Mrs. Baldick supplemented her evidence as to its nasty tricks by saying that she could bring proof that the boys in the field had to keep the horse away from them with their bats. She did not state whether the horse's intentions were to join in the game himself, or to interfere with the umpire.

AFTER TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

Maxime Boucher's Kidney Disease Was Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hunterstown, Que., July 27. — (Special).—For a quarter of a century Maxime Boucher, of this place, suffered from Kidney Disease. Today he is a well man, and he has no hesitation in saying Dodd's Kidney Pills did it. Here is Mr. Boucher's statement regarding his cure:

"For 25 years I suffered of the malady of the Kidneys. I felt always feeble. I tried many remedies but with no success, till reading of cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills led me to give them a trial. I took in all 25 boxes and I am perfectly cured."

No case of Kidney Disease is too firmly planted for Dodd's Kidney Pills to root out. They always cure.

HE JILTED THE WIDOW

And She Has Him Arrested for Marrying the Daughter.

Bloomington, Ind., July 28.—Having wooed the mother and wedded the daughter, it is alleged, the local police were requested yesterday to arrest James Ponard, of Pontiac, by the elder woman, whom he jilted. Mrs. Mary Noys, of Pontiac, not only wants Ponard arrested for alleged abduction, asserting her daughter is only 13 years old, but she also wants both of them arrested for having contracted an illegal marriage.

The marriage license showed the ceremony was performed on Wednesday evening by a preacher in Pontiac, and the angry widow asserts it contains her name instead of that of her daughter, and that the marriage, therefore, is illegal.

SHORT IN ACCOUNTS

A Recorder's Clerk of Montreal Is Missing.

Montreal, July 28.—A. Fournier, an accountant in the office of the recorder's court, is missing, and a shortage of $900 has been discovered in his books. The city holds a guarantee from a private individual of $500, so that the net loss will be small. Fournier has been missing since last Thursday. It is alleged that he left a note for his wife, confessing his guilt and stating that he had lost the money in stock speculation. His operations in this direction began in January, and appear to have been prompted by the advice of a friend, who was an insurance agent. Fournier was at one time manager of a branch bank at a salary of $800 per year, but lost the position and obtained a post in the recorder's court. He received the payment of fines, and in this way was enabled to secure possession of the money.

THE CRICK IN THE BACK.—"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin," sings the poet. But what about the touch of rheumatism and lumbago, which is so common now? There is no poetry in that touch, for it renders life miserable. Yet how delightful is the sense of relief when an application of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil drives pain away. There is nothing equals it.

In Ireland there are 211,000 widows, as compared with only 88,000 widowers.

THE FLAGGING ENERGIES REVIVED.—Constant application to business is a tax upon the energies, and if there be not relaxation, lassitude and depression are sure to intervene. These come from stomachic troubles. The want of exercise brings on nervous irregularities, and the stomach ceases to assimilate food properly. In this condition Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will be found a recuperative of rare power, restoring the organs to healthful action, dispelling depression and reviving the flagging energies.

CUCUMBERS AND MELONS are "forbidden fruit" to many persons so constituted that the least indulgence is followed by attacks of cholera, dysentery, griping, etc. These persons are not aware that they can indulge to their heart's content if they have on hand a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, a medicine that will give immediate relief and is a sure cure for all summer complaints.

The Reciprocity Movement.

Canadian reciprocity continues to make headway in the United States. The furniture makers in convention this week declared for it. Reciprocity organizations are at work in the New England and Western States. The latest movement by commercial men in Minneapolis and Duluth is the most significant of all. They have adopted a new plan. Hitherto the friends of reciprocity have been conducting an educational campaign by means of literature and public addresses. The Duluth and Minneapolis men intend to work in secret. They will raise a fund of $100,000, and the first step will be to form an organization in every state which will devote its energies exclusively to promoting the cause. In a circular letter they say: "This organization should seek to do its work quietly and without parading its efforts before the public, in fact its existence should not be given greater publicity than it is possible to avoid. Members of Congress must be pressed unceasingly to support reciprocity with Canada." The promoters are wise in their generation. They believe the average congressman is more responsive to a private pull than a public argument. They are probably familiar with the methods needed to secure an increase in the tariff and intend to employ them for another purpose. It will be a case of fighting the protectionists and anti-reciprocity forces with their own weapons. The most potent of these is the lobby. "Congressmen must be pressed unceasingly." The expert lobbyist can reach them sooner and exert more pressure of a "practical" kind than pamphlets and public meetings. There is an air of business about this scheme that others have lacked. It promises to do something besides talk.

The Wall Street Crash.

The New York stock market showed a slight recovery yesterday and it is possible that bottom has been touched at last. The Toronto and Montreal exchanges also had a more cheerful tone, in sympathy with Wall street. The crash in American industrial stocks has been a process of deflation. Trust promoters capitalized their enterprises for two, three and four times the actual investment. Money was plentiful; times were good; people were caught by the glitter of a great name, and eagerly purchased vast quantities of this watered stock. They soon found to their sorrow that there was no magic in the name of Morgan and no supernatural power in a trust which could wring dividends from capital which existed only on paper or found its way into the pockets of promoters. Confidence is the chief pillar of the stock market, and when confidence became undermined the market fell with a crash. Sound and stable securities, which are probably worth far more than present quotations came under the general suspicion and fell with the others. The steel trust stock presents an anomaly. The common stock has regularly paid a dividend of 4 per cent and the preferred stock 7 per cent. The trust has so far fulfilled all its promises; its net earnings show no decrease and it has orders booked which will keep all its plants running for nearly a year without new business. Yet the common stock is quoted at 23 and the preferred at 71. At this rate the former is paying nearly 18 per cent interest and the latter nearly 10 per cent. But public faith in trust financing has been shattered. People refuse to believe that the steel trust can go on paying dividends on a capitalization of $1,500,000,000. Any slackening of the present extraordinary prosperity of the steel industry would, it is feared, wipe out the dividends on common stock. This view may be too pessimistic, but people once bitten are twice shy. Today Morgan finds it impossible to sell the securities of his new steamship merger. The public will not touch them at any price. It has lost confidence, for the time being at least, in Morgan and all his works. The present reaction was inevitable. It is necessary to the restoration of the market to healthy and normal conditions. The water is being squeezed out of the saturated stocks, and it is the only way in which the market can find its level. Happily the legitimate industry of the country does not seem to have suffered from the panic. The factories are running to their full capacity and agriculture is flourishing. The trusts may weather the gales on Wall street, but they have to undergo a sterner test. The next period of industrial depression in the United States will decide the problem.

Southern mobs have now taken to lynching women. Hanging is the only method of "elevating" the negro that some of the whites are capable of.

The cities of Toronto and Stratford are not in a position to resent Mr. Carnegie's anti-Canadian attacks. They are holding out their hands for his alms.

Laurier's "hatred" for Ontario. This ought to be passed up alongside Sir Charles Tupper's political gem, "Laurier is too British for me." They stand in beauty side by side.

"The short road to wealth has no attractions for me," said the Canadian Minister of Justice in the recent discussion on stock speculation. This is a motto which many wish they had observed.

The effect of the recent decision of the Privy Council on the Sunday laws of the Province is set forth in a letter from the secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, which appears in another column. It is a question in which every good citizen is interested.

Frank Yeigh in a sketch of Sir Richard Cartwright in Saturday's Globe says that "very few foresaw that the coalition of Brown and Macdonald would pave the way for confederation." That was the sole and only object of the coalition. Mr. Yeigh had better furbish up his Canadian history.

The Hon. George Peel writes to the London Times quoting Mr. Foster, Mr. Monk and Mr. Tarte as authority for the statement that Canada will increase her tariff shortly. Fortunately for the country none of these gentlemen will have a hand in the making of Canada's tariff—shortly.

Englishmen propose to place a statue of George Washington in St. Paul's Cathedral, and it is suggested by Americans that the compliment be returned by erecting a statue of Pitt in the city of Washington. A statue of Burke would perhaps be more appropriate. Pitt thundered against the American war in speeches of incomparable power; but they were addressed to the moment and the particular occasion, and were intended for immediate effect. Burke's speeches, on the other hand, were more reflective, and dealt with general principles applicable to all times. They are preserved and universally read, while Pitt's are almost forgotten. Americans should not forget what they owe to the great British statesmen who fought with voice and pen for their cause.

Van Horne's Beginning.

[New York Times.]

Sir William Van Horne, chairman of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, was interviewed in New York not long ago by a young gentleman who insisted in treating him like a foreigner. The Montreal capitalist took it as a matter of course until the interviewer asked innocently:

"Did you ever have anything to do with our American railroads, Sir William?"

The good knight's eyes sparkled as he answered: "Oh, yes. I served on both Alton and Illinois Central."

"In what office?" ased the scribe, with pencil ready.

"I sold books on Alton and oranges on Illinois Central," said the chairman of the Canadian Pacific quietly; "but that was some little time ago."

Handicapped.

[New York Times.]

"I suppose your sister isn't old enough to go to parties?"

"No; but mamma says she's nearly old enough, because she's beginning to complain of having nothing to wear."

What a Gathering That Will Be.

[Toronto Telegram.]

Kingston is going to have an Old Boys' reunion, and if all the Old Boys who ever lived in the big stone pen attend, what a gathering that will be.

A Good Record

[Canadian Gazette.]

Sir Percy Girouard, the well-known Canadian engineer, has done much for the empire in various parts of the globe, and not the least striking of his services is his administration of the railways of the Transvaal and Orange River Colonies. As Commissioner of Railways for those two portions of the empire, he had a wonderful story to tell the Intercolonial Council at Johannesburg the other day. He stated that the railway receipts for the year ending June 30 were £5,349,230, and the expenditure £2,825,253. The net receipts for the forthcoming year he estimated at £2,350,000.

Papa's Disappointment.

[Aylmer Express.]

An envelope addressed to "The Papa Editor of the Aylmer Express" was received a few days ago, and on opening it, instead of finding a $10 bill, as was expected, we found the following:

"Aunt—The little darling! He's just exactly like his father, too.

"The Mother—Yes, indeed. So fond of his bottle!"

It sounds a good deal like one of the Tilsonburg Observer's jokes, and we have laughed ourselves almost sick over it.

Waiting for the Wild Goose.

[Cy. Warman, in Field and Stream.]

In the shelter of my wigwam I am waiting for the spring,
For the forest flowers to blossom in the vale:
I am watching from my wigwam for the wild goose on the wing,
When I'll gather up my traps and hit the trail
To the Highlands of Ontario, in the balmy berry-moon,
To the haunts of Hiawatha that are nigh;
To the banks of Athabaska, where it's always afternoon—
O, I wonder when the wild goose will go by?

While the first black crow is calling in the dawning down the dell,
I am dreaming of the summer; in my dream
I can hear the Mudjekeewis sighing softly; I can smell
A wild rose blooming near a northern stream;
I am skirting Nova Scotia, that is gaily garbed in green,
With the cool Atlantic billows breakin' high,
Or I sit and sigh where Gabriel kissed his fair Evangeline—
I wonder when the wild goose will go by?

Then away to Western Canada—big fish on the line,
A quaking aspen quivering in the breeze;
Again good Mudjekeewis comes a-crooning through the pine,
And blows my little bark o'er Lake Louise.
Won't you come and camp in Canada? It's not all snow and ice
(I thought I saw a shadow from the sky)—
It's the only Unstaked Empire—the Camper's Paradise—
Adois!—I see a wild goose going by.

The Party Press.

[Ottawa Journal, Independent.]

"A party paper is compelled to at least keep tolerably well within party lines. It is not at the beck entirely of any individual or any group of individuals. It must to a considerable extent remain dominated by certain broad principles as regards public questions. An "independent" paper is not thus limited in its views, and because it is not so limited, it may perhaps become a source of greater public danger than a party paper can be. It may become the mere tool of some moneyed individual or moneyed interests that care less for the public good than any political party has to. The Journal presents with its compliments this bouquet to the party press."

THROUGH DYNAMITE SHED

Runaway Freight Scatters 12 Tons of Giant Powder.

Victoria, Col., July 28.—On Sunday morning at the Ajax mine an accident occurred on the surface which for a few moments threatened to result in terrible loss of life and total destruction of the immense shaft-house, with its plant of machinery.

A freight car loaded with ore got away, ran a distance of 350 feet down a 3 per cent grade and jumped off the end of the track. Charles Clever was on top of the car when it started. He made heroic efforts to stop the runaway by applying the brakes.

Close to the end of the railway track where the car jumped stood the powder magazine of the Ajax Gold Mine Company.

This building contained twelve tons of giant powder. The walls of the structure were solid brick, two feet thick. After the car attained its terrific momentum, the men who were on the outside of the shaft-house realized the awful danger that was imminent. They ran and shouted to those in the shaft-house to get out, but the men there were unable to retreat before the freight car reached the magazine.

The car struck the brick powder house with a deafening crash, went clear through it and scattered 486 boxes of dynamite in all directions, without causing one particle of the powder to explode. The boxes of powder were twisted around and ground down under the car wheels and the ruins of the brick walls.

The powder house roof was lifted clear from its foundations and carried along with the car.

Just before the impact Clever jumped from the car to the roof of the powder house and rode upright on the powder house roof as it was carried along by the freight car over the rocky surface, and escaped without a scratch.

SYMPATHY FOR MRS. McKEE

Windsorites Will Petition To Have Her Pardoned.

Windsor, July 28.—The desperate attempt of Mrs. Ellen McKee, the ex-postmistress of Tubbermore, Ireland, who embezzled about $2,000 of the Government's money, to escape from the county jail at Sandwich, has not been so fruitless as her speedy return to imprisonment might indicate. Her suffering and exposure during two days and a night in the Sandwich marshes, and her subsequent capture on Saturday morning, have touched the hearts of Windsor people, and it is likely a petition will be addressed to the British postoffice department asking that she be pardoned.

A. W. Joyce proposed that a subscription to reimburse the Government and buy the woman's liberty be taken, but the idea has been abandoned, as a similar offer by the people of Tubbermore was refused. It is thought a well-signed petition, giving Mrs. McKee the moral support of Windsor, will have more weight than a pecuniary offer. Among those interesting themselves in the matter are Rev. J. C. Tolmie, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and ex-Mayor Smythe.

RUSSIA'S SCHOOL SYSTEM

Teachers Who Act as Government Spies.

London, July 28.—A Times Russian correspondent, criticising the Russian school system, quotes the case of a Russian student who had difficulty in producing a clean moral bill of health for his entrance to the university. The gymnasium director, when pressed, said, "You are a Socialist."

"How do you know I'm a Socialist?" the student asked.

"At 15 years," was the answer, "you were seen in the streets with one of Herbert Spencer's works under your arm."

It is needless to multiply the details, as Russian literature abounds with the evidence that the average scholar regards school as little more than a prison and the teacher as little better than a jailer and a spy.

Unhappy Finland.

Helsingfors, July 28.—Eighteen Finlanders have now been exiled. The latest is Stenstrom, the burgomaster of Hango until last April, when he was summarily dismissed. Thereupon the municipal council of Hango desired to secure his services as legal adviser. Governor Kigorodoff commanded Stenstrom not to accept. Stenstrom declined to comply and was then served with an order of expulsion.

NO SHADOW

Of outward misfortune can darken the smile of the loyal wife and loving mother. But when disease comes the smile slowly fades, and in its place comes the drawn face and tight closed lips which tell of the constant struggle with pain.

When the delicate womanly organism is diseased the whole body suffers; the form grows thin, and the complexion dull. The first step to sound health is to cure the diseases which undermine the womanly strength.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries disagreeable drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. The wonderful cures of womanly diseases effected by the use of "Favorite Prescription" place it at the front of all put-up medicines specially prepared for the use of women.

"I was troubled with female weakness for eight years, and suffered more than I can tell,' writes Mrs. Gust. Moser, of Ovando, Deerlodge Co., Montana. "My disposition was affected to such an extent that to say a pleasant word to any one was almost an impossibility.

"I had two operations performed by one of the most skilled surgeons of the West, but did not get relief. Then, against my doctor's strict orders, I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery,' and also followed the advice given in the Common Sense Medical Adviser.

"I continued this treatment for three months and to-day am as healthy and well as a woman can be. I cannot thank Dr. Pierce enough for his kind letters to me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

Sick Headache—Lack of Appetite.

Its glorious to feel right in the morning—ready for work. But how seldom one does. Sick headache, lack of appetite, disagreeable taste in the mouth—these are the usual morning feelings of most people—even of careful livers. This morning illness shows that the organs of digestion are not working properly. They need a tonic. Take a teaspoonful of in half a glass of water as soon as you rise—you'll be ready to do justice to a good breakfast.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt

Abbey's Effervescent Salt cleanses the bowels and intestines, invigorates the fagged out stomach and energises the torpid liver.

PRIVATE BILLS READ

Commons Gives Third Reading to a New Railway Bill.

Ottawa, July 27.—Most of this afternoon in the House of Commons was spent on the bill to incorporate the Brockville and Sault Ste. Marie Railway Company. It is a measure to incorporate a new company which has taken over the assets of the Brockville and Westport Railway, 45 miles long. Mr. Pringle wanted a clause inserted in the charter to save the rights of creditors under litigation now pending.

The bill was finally given its third reading after several hours' discussion.

On the bill to incorporate the Alliance Bank of Canada, Mr. Henderson proposed an amendment to prevent banks from lending money, without the consent of the shareholders on stocks of companies to incorporate under the laws of Great Britain or of the Dominion or in provinces of Canada.

The amendment was lost and the bill was read a third time.

On the bill to incorporate the Canadian Telegraph and Telephone Companies, an amendment was proposed by Mr. Clarke compelling the company to make connections with other companies and mutual arrangements for the transmission of messages.

The amendment was lost and the bill was read a third time.

A MOTHER'S TESTIMONY

"LACTATED FOOD Saved My Baby's Life."

A mother's statement as to how her baby's life was saved, may induce many mothers to ask themselves the question: "Am I using the right food for my baby?"

A lady, the wife of a Montreal merchant writes as follows:

"My baby was never breast fed; it had to be brought up on prepared foods. When the little one was two months old, it was so thin and weak that doctor said it would not live many days. Reading about Lactated Food, I bought a package and tried it. There was new life for the baby in the first meal. After using Lactated Food for ten days, I found that baby was brighter and stronger. I continued with the food, and my baby now five months old, is fat and healthy. Your Lactated Food saved my dear baby's life; it is worth its weight in gold."

TO TUNNEL BERING

Scheme to Provide All-Rail Route to Europe.

Washington, D. C., July 28.—By rail to Russia with a tunnel under Bering Strait connecting the United States and Siberia, is the scheme exploited by the Trans-Alaska-Siberian Railroad Company, which has just filed a petition with Secretary Hitchcock for approval of the proposed route across Alaska.

The projectors of the new road are French and Russian capitalists and American bankers. The petition to Secretary Hitchcock will undoubtedly be followed by an application to Congress for a land grant through Alaska conditioned after the Northern Pacific grant.

Count de Lobel, of Paris, and John J. Healy, the Klondike millionaire, head the list of incorporators of the company, which has taken out a charter under the laws of Maine, with offices to be established in New York, Chicago, Seattle, London, Paris, St. Petersburg, cities in Europe, and Irkutsk. De Lobel is a representative of the Paris Geographic Society, and Healy is the man who discovered the Klonkide and established the Northwest Transportation Company, in which former Secretary Gage, the Cudahys, of Chicago, Baron Rothschild and August Belmont are heavily interested.

Col. James Hamilton Lewis, of Chicago, Holmes Conrad, former solicitor for the Department of Justice, and Charles H. Aldrich, of Chicago, are attorneys for the projectors. The petition, it is believed, is a forerunner to asking the United States to neutralize the straits as between nations, so that, in the event of war with China and Japan or Russia, no advantage will be given to enemies of Russia.

Mme. Humbert's Trial.

Paris, July 28.—The Humbert trial has been set to begin Aug. 8, if Mme. Humbert's health admits of it, which is regarded as doubtful. Maitre Labori, who has been retained as her counsel, complains that when he consults her on knotty points, she replies:

"Don't you bother about that. I will explain that point of the jury myself."

Sunshine Furnace

PROPRIETOR—"Well Tom, how did that new furnace work this winter—save any coal?"

JANITOR—"Yes, sir! put in two tons less than last winter and have about half a ton left—guess it paid you to throw out that old coal-eater and put in this up-to-date SUNSHINE."

PROPRIETOR—"Yes, I think so; and I noticed the house was comfortable in all kinds of weather. Easy to take care of?"

JANITOR—"Yes, sir! just had to attend it twice a day—never had any trouble with the fire going out, and didn't have to spend half my time sweeping, cleaning, shaking, dumping ashes, and all that sort of thing—wish all my customers had SUNSHINES."

In the end you pay more for fuel than the furnace in which you burn it—a furnace that saves fuel saves it's cost.

QUEBEC MIRACLES

Wonderful Cures Reported From St. Anne De Beaupre.

Quebec, July 28.—A number of miracles took place at St. Anne de Beaupre Sunday. It was the occasion of the feast of the Mother of the Blessed Virgin, and was specially observed with an imposing religious ceremony. Notwithstanding that no organized pilgrimages are allowed on that special day, which is specially reserved for the fathers in charge of the shrine and the residents of the village and surrounding parishes, there were fully 7,000 people present, including the Archbishop of Quebec, Mgr. Begin, and Mgr. Lynch, Bishop of Syracuse, N. Y., together with several hundred priests from all parts of the United States and Canada.

During the morning the cures took place. Among the parties who left their crutches behind them in the church was Mr. Stevens, from North Bay, Ont., who was the victim of an accident seventeen years ago, and now can walk perfectly well.

A boy named Daniel Hoey, whose father keeps the Forest Hotel at Conshohooken, Pa., who was badly deformed from the effects of sickness and had to wear an iron brace around his body, was cured and left the brace behind him in the church.

Francois Benoit, from Pleasant Point, Me., lame from an accident which happened in April of last year, was also cured and left his crutches behind.

A woman totally blind had her sight partially restored, and a cripple from Halifax named McIntyre was also cured.

The "Soo" Company Makes Another Appeal for Assistance.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 28.—President Shields, of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, has made another appeal to the stockholders of the company for financial assistance. In a circular letter sent he announces that unless the proposed $12,500,000 bond is taken, the whole property must pass into the hands of the creditors. The creditors are New York and Philadelphia banks, headed by Speyer & Co., of the former city, who hold all available collateral securities of the company for loans of $5,650,000. The Lake Superior Company is capitalized at $102,000,000, of which $70,000,000 is held in this city.

Even during the warmest weather Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is pleasant to take, and agreeable to the stomach. For this reason it is the ideal remedy for consumption. Made of odorless and tasteless petroleum, glycerine and hypophosphites, it is better in every way than emulsions made of fish oils or other fats.

The idea of curing rheumatism in horses by the means of brine baths is receiving the support of veterinary surgeons.

Few people know that Baron Munchausen, the hero of so many extraordinary adventures, was a real person, a member of an ancient Hanoverian family. He served in the Russo-Turkish wars of the latter half of the eighteenth century.

RUSSIA KEEPS RIGHT AT IT

Ignores China's Laws Persistently and Cares for No Nation's Opinion.

London, July 28.—Manchurian affairs occupy a great deal of attention in the London papers this morning. An interview is published with Director Hartwig, of the Asiatic department of the Russian Foreign Office, which attracts serious comment. Comparisons are drawn between the peaceful and dignified attitude of the Japanese officials and the "insulting, provocative character" of the remarks of the Russian director, whose statements are regarded as demanding a disavowal on the part of the Russian Government.

The Graphic says unless he (the director) is taken severely to task the situation will become exceedingly delicate, for Japan is not likely to sit quiet under the threat of annihilation.

The Chronicle takes a milder view and thinks, stripped of grandiloquent phraseology, that the director's statement, on the whole, makes for peace on the ground that he gives very clear and solid assurances about the proposed open ports, and that it is needless "to pay much attention to his claim for straightforward honesty on the part of Russia and duplicity on the part of Great Britain."

The Times this morning prints a Tokio dispatch, which says that the leading Japanese journals regard the increase in the Russian military and naval forces in the Far East as merely intended to intimidate, and that they write in a calm, confident tone.

Pekin, July 27.—The Russian administration of New Chwang has stopped the exportation of wheat to Japan. The export of grain from Chinese ports is illegal, but the Russians heretofore have ignored the law. During the past week the Japanese obtained many special orders from New Chwang, apparently preparing for war contingencies. The prohibitory order was issued by the Russian officials last Thursday.

General Kondradovitch has been placed in charge of six armored commercial boats and the navigation of the Liano River, which is construed here as another sign of Russia's intent to retain New Chwang and the command of the river. Great numbers of Russian civilians and soldiers' families, it is reported, are being brought to Manchuria, it is believed, in pursuance of a comprehensive plan to rapidly colonize the province. At the present rate there will be almost 100,000 Russian civilians in Manchuria, including Port Arthur and Dalny, before the date fixed for the final evacuation next fall.

SLEEPLESSNESS.—When the nerves are unstrung and the whole body given up to wretchedness, when the mind is filled with gloom and dismal forebodings, the result of derangement of the digestive organs, sleeplessness comes to add to the distress. If only the subject could sleep, there would be oblivion for a while, and temporary relief. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will not only induce sleep, but will act so beneficially that the subject will wake refreshed and restored to happiness.

Every year Germany's population increases at the rate of 800,000.

COULDN'T PROVE IT

The Adventures of a Young Englishman in Toronto.

Toronto, Ont., July 27. — An aristocratic-looking Englishman, who calls himself Ellis M. Charteris, was sent to the Central by the police magistrate today for four months for vagrancy. When Charteris struck Toronto he registered at the King Edward Hotel as Hon. Ellis M. Charters, late of the Coldstream Guards, and attempted to work Lord Minto for a loan.

The Governor-General, who knew the family of the real Charteris, wired the King Edward Hotel management to advance Charteris $100 after making sure of his identity, and Lord Minto also invited Charteris to come to Ottawa and visit him. Charteris was not able to establish his identity to the satisfaction of the hotel people, and in the meantime he was arrested.

WHAT IT MEANS

If You Don't Stop That Feeling of Discomfort That Marks the Coming of Indigestion—Dodd's Dospepsia Tablets Will Stop It.

Do you know what Dyspepsia means? Do you know what that slight pain or discomfort after eating will develop into unless it is attended to at once? Hene Trudel, of Three Rivers, Que., will tell you. He is a student. He was attacked by Dyspepsia. He says:

"Sometimes I had slight attacks of Indigestion. Then for some weeks it made alarming progress to the point that I was discouraged and weak. I was almost in despair and decided to give up my studies."

It was while in this deplorable condition that Mr. Trudel decided to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Notice the difference in his tone:

"I tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," he says; "they made me better. Now I have no headache, no weariness, no pain. I am cured."

If you have Indigestion it won't cure itself. It will keep right on getting worse. It will fill up your days with despondency and headaches. You can cure it at any stage by using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. You can buy them from any dealer.

A DEVOTEE OF DIANA

She Bags Big Game in the Wilds of the Himalayas.

London, July 27.—That fervent devotee of Diana, Lady Constance Mackenzie, who is well known in New York society, and whose exploits in the chase are quite as well known in the United States as over here, has been seeking new hunting grounds in the snow-clad Himalayas and wild passes of Kashmir.

A large bag of snow-leopard, moufflon and other fearful wild beasts that constitute the big game of the country has been made.

She has visited Srinagar on her trip through Kashmir; since then she has been to Skardo, doing the distance (a matter of 50 marches) through the rough route, sleeping on the snow-clad heights in the huts provided by the government, without an escort of any kind.

She braved all these dangers in spite of telegrams from the viceroy, Lord Curzon, advising her against such an adventurous undertaking.

U. S. POLITICS AND DOMINION

The National Convention of Both Big Parties May Have a Reciprocity Plank.

New York, July 28.—American statesmen and politicians are awakening to the fact that reciprocity with Canada is a necessity of the times. Canada's enormous development during the past few years has surprised, if not alarmed, economists on this side of the line. Facts must be recognized, and it is quite plain that Canada is being built up by the same spirit which animated the people of the States many years ago, and that she may become a dangerous rival for the Yankees in trade and commerce. Consequently, the best policy for the Americans is to be on friendly terms with their brothers to the northward, and with that end in view, it is said that both of the national conventions—Republican and Democratic—which will be held next summer, will declare in favor of reciprocity with the Dominion.

The Republicans are bound to take this action on account of the growing sentiment in the big farming States of the west and northwest for closer business relations with Canada. Minnesota has spoken openly and strongly on the matter, and the same sentiment prevails in most of the other states along the Canadian border. There is also a strong trend in the direction of lower duties on foreign articles needed by the farmers, and it is possible that the Republicans will come down from their high-protection horse and make some concessions.

The Democrats, of course, are in favor of lower duties than the Republicans, but they will not act as radically in this respect in 1904 as they did in previous years, and the indications would seem to be that they will favor only moderate reductions, so as to also placate the farmers of the west. The Democrats, however, will be very strong for reciprocity with Canada, as the present policy of the Republicans is considered senseless and extreme. The upshot will be that Canada will figure more prominently in the next Presidential contest in the United States than it ever did before.

Washington, July 28.—The American Protective Tariff League has begun a fight against the ratification of reciprocity treaties with Cuba and possibly with Canada at the coming session of Congress. It is declared that, with Cuba as an entering wedge, followed by Canada, protection will be riddled to splinters.

RADIUM IN ONTARIO

American Scientists Seeking for It in This Province.

Toronto, July 28.—Radium, the new metal which sends off waves of minute particles that will cure cancer and give flashes of light to the blind, and which is expected to supersede and surpass X-rays, is being sought on the American market by scientists of several universities. Although this magical metal is many times more costly than gold or diamonds, and the French company which manufactures it is charging $170,000 an ounce for it, the metal from which radium is extracted exists in Canada and in the United States, and a company has recently been organized at Buffalo to produce it for the various universities.

What radium has so far been discovered has been found in deposits of uranium and its compounds, which are also extremely rare, although, of course, their ocurence is common when compared with the minute particles of radium that have been discovered.

Uranium compounds have been found in two localities in Ontario, and it is quite possible that radium may be discovered if diligent search is made.

Prof. Miller, of the Provincial Bureau of Mines, said today that at Point Maimanse, on the north shore of Lake Superior, a uranium compound known as coracite was discovered some time ago. It occurs in small quautities, and only in a streak about 2 inches wide between the trap and the syenite, two well-known rock formations. This coracite is an oxide of uranium, and resembles pitchblende, another oxide, very closely.

WAVES OF EXPLOSIVES

Famous Russian a Martyr to His Own Experiments.

Paris, July 27.—M. Filipoff, the famous Russian scientist, editor of the Scientific Review, at Moscow, who was found dead recently in his laboratory, it is now proved died as a martyr for his efforts to abolish war.

It was first thought that he died from an apoplectic stroke, but a letter received from him by one of his friends here seems to prove that his death resulted from handling a most insidious chemical composition

He says in the letter:

"When I was still very young I read in Buckle's 'History of Civilization' how the invention of powder had abbreviated wars.

"From that very day I have been haunted by the idea that I might invent something which might make wars impossible.

'I think now that I have succeeded.

"I have made an invention by which it is possible to send waves of explosion thousands of kilometers.

"I can today without the use of wires stand in St. Petersburg and blow into atoms the Yildiz Kiosk at Constantinople.

"My invention is extremely simple and surprisingly cheap.

"It will make wars an absolute impossibility. I intend to explain my invention in all details to the Academy of Science at St. Petersburg in the beginning of September.

"I must, however, be very careful and work very slowly, as I am continually handling chemicals, some of which are terrible explosives, while others are extremely poisonous."

On the table next to Filipoff's body were found notes indicating that he had been handling anhydrate of prussic acid, and it is now thought that this terrible poison killed him.

The Russian Government is in possession of all his papers, and no one knows whether the Czar at the present time holds the secret of the scientist's invention.

If he does, he will certainly be able to force all powers to submit all their quarrels to his court of arbitration at The Hague, and the world will never see another war.

THE MARKETS.

STOCK MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carington today:

New York, July 28—Noon.—There is a healthy undertone to this market, apparently begotten of confidence in the belief that the prime cause of weakness in the speculative structure had been removed. There is a continuance today of that good buying which was evident yesterday, and the general tone is better, in that advances are not based so much on short covering. Short contracts are being covered today, of course, but there is some profit-taking also. No such suspensions have been announced—none is likely. Good buying of Erie, New York Central and Southern Pacific have been especially noticeable. Central buying has been for Vanderbilt insiders. The probability of Union Pacific interests taking over a large block of the Taylor Southern Pacific holdings stimulated the latter, which were very strong. Industrials are doing well. Metropolitan and Brooklyn Rapid Transit are evidencing marked strength. Pennsylvania will pay off $3,000,000 of its loans today. It paid off $5,000,000 on Saturday, and $573,000 yesterday. This will help Saturday's bank statement. Assignee Britt says today that Taylor & Co. will resume in a month. Sales to noon, 340,000 shares.

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Tuesday, July 28.

There was a moderate attendance at the market held here today. Dairy produce, garden truck and berries were the principal supplies. Sales were fair and prices, with a few exceptions, were unchanged.

Butter and Eggs—There was a liberal supply of butter, and a good demand, at 16c to 18c per pound for crocks and 18c to 20c for pound rolls in basket lots. Eggs were plentiful, while the demand was not so active, at 13c per dozen for crates and 14c for basket lots.

Vegetables and Roots—Potatoes were plentiful and a trifle easier, at 60c to 70c per bushel, more selling at the former than the latter price; tomatoes were scarce today, and the supply will be small for the next ten days; sales were made at higher prices, mostly at 7c to 8c per pound by the basket; cucumbers were lower in price, at 20c per dozen; cabbages were plentiful, at 40c per dozen; green corn sold at 12½c to 15c per dozen; peas, shelled, sold at 12½c to 15c per quart. The supply of other vegetables was large, at prices quoted.

AMERICAN MARKETS.

CHICAGO.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce Building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington yesterday:

Chicago, July 27.—Wheat—This was a strong market, with the news distinctly bullish. The recent estimates of the winter wheat crop were based on large yields in Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, and the threshing returns now show the crop in these states to have been overestimated. The spring wheat crop is not holding its own, and blight is now generally reported from South Dakota and Southern Minnesota, and the southwest anticipates a falling off in the receipts of new wheat, as the country is thoroughly alarmed over the corn situation, and likely to hold their wheat until something definite is known regarding the outcome. We believe there are big profits on the long side in the long run. We will, of course, have reactions from time to time, which should be taken advantage of to get long. The Liverpool market was ¾c to ⅞c higher. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 145 cars.

Corn—The corn market readily absorbed the long line on the early advance. Every commission house had buying orders, and the country were conspicuous on that side, confirming the current reports of the critical condition of the crop. The crop prospects are unchanged and the news continues discouraging from all sections. The weather is hot and there are no indications of any relief in sight. Just so long as these conditions prevail this market will keep on advancing. The Liverpool market was 1d higher. Receipts, estimated, 245 cars.

Oats—From the first the May option in oats were bought by the heavy long interest, the trade in other positions being general and not very large. Up to noon the May was given generous support by the longs, but the whole line eased off under very sick cash market and the heavy estimate of 405 cars for tomorrow. The July option was spectacular, opening at 41¼c; Saturday's last figure, and upon selling by commission houses on stop-loss orders, dropped to 39c, when generous selling by cash houses dropped to the price to 38¼c. Towards the close short buying found the offerings withdrawn, and on small trade advanced to 39¾c, where it closed, the other options following with moderate purchasing by shorts.

Provisions—The market has been weak and lower most of the session on heavy selling, credited to the lage packers of lard and ribs. The heavy receipts of hogs and lower prices helped the decline. One or two moderate upturns during the day by momentary lack of selling orders, with pit traders building up in order to sell, but the whole list joined in the weakness. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 17,000 hogs.

Wheat—Receipts, 48,750 bu; sales, 1,750,000 bu; wheat opened firm and active on higher French cables and bullish crop news, only to sell off later under realizing; Sept., 83 1-16c to 83⅝; Dec., 83⅛c to 83¾c; May, 84⅝c to 85¼c. Rye—Dull; state, 58c to 59½c, c.i.f., New York; No. 2 western, 58½c, f.o.b., afloat. Corn—Receipts, 115,400 bu; sales, 80,000 bu; corn also followed up an early period of strength by a sharp reaction due to profit-taking; July, 59½c; Sept., 58⅝c to 59c; Dec., 58⅝c to 59⅜c; May, 58¾c to 59c. HEARD NO GOOD OF HER

So Police Magistrate Sent Alice Saunders to Reformatory.

Had Her Reputation Been Better She Would Have Been Spared.

Six months in the Mercer Reformatory was the sentence imposed upon Alice Saunders by Police Magistrate Love this morning. When a person is brought before the magistrate of this city and the offense proves to be the person's first one, the magistrate generally is lenient with that person. He holds the view that when a young man or woman is convicted of a crime, if not too serious a one, the ends of justice are sufficiently served by a severe reprimand, providing it is that person's first offense. The sending of any one to jail sometimes hardens one who has not been there before, and the punishment does not accomplish what must be the ultimate aim of the law.

In the case of Alice Saunders this was the first time she had had her name on the calendar of the London police court. Yet her case was different. She was arrested by Detective Egelton a little over a week ago at her home near Seaforth on a charge laid by a young woman employed at the same hotel she worked at, the charge being that of stealing a gold watch and chain and a ring. The stolen goods were found and these returned to the owner. A week ago the young woman was brought to trial and she pleaded guilty. The magistrate remanded her until today for sentence and in the meantime he had inquiries made, the result of which, he said, he was sorry to report, were not good. He had found that she had proven dishonest previous to this occasion, not only in this city, but in Aylmer and St. Thomas. He asked her if she had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon her, but she could not say anything.

Before the court opened she had been in the room and had cried, so that she had to be removed until the magistrate was able to take up her case. When brought in the second time she was almost in hysterics, whether natural or assumed it would be hard to say. The magistrate told her that he thought it would be best for herself and the public for her to go to the reformatory for women for six months.

FINED JUST THE SAME

Two Defendants Punished Notwithstanding Protests.

The Familiar Name of Edgar Morden Placed on the Blotter.

Rectory street, of course, can be found in the di-rectory, but what Mr. J. S. Allan wanted was to find a directory at Rectory street. Hence he hastened along the sidewalk on his wheel in a hurry. He characterized his being summoned for a breach of the bylaw as being the result of a technicality, and a very frivolous one at that. His argument was that he had started himself on his wheel before going on to the road. The police officer, however, swore that the defendant had ridden about 80 feet on the walk. Then Mr. Allan wanted to know if the magistrate was not going to take into account his "intent." If he rode 80 feet, the magistrate replied, he thought the intention was to ride on the sidewalk. He fined the bylaw-breaker $1.

Another gentleman up for a breach of a bylaw was Mr. Edgar Morden, charged by P. C. Green with driving furiously. The latter's ability to tell how fast the horse was going was questioned by the counsel, Mr. McEvoy, who wanted to know if the rate did not get faster and faster the longer the men were on the police force. He admitted that the lawyers got to believe that all their clients were innocent. The weight of the load, the condition of the weather, the peculiarities of the horse and various other things were brought into the question, but to little avail, for Morden was fined $1.

John Prodgers was arraigned on a charge of assault, but the case was postponed.

An example of charity going wrong was presented in the case of John Shea, who has been going around the streets for a few days selling pencils. He is a cripple, and goes about on crutches. Yesterday he was begging, and later was found drunk on the streets, so was charged with vagrancy, as well as being drunk. He was allowed to go, however, promising to return to Toronto.

CRACKED HIS HEAD OPEN

London Blacksmith Seriously Assaulted Chatham Man.

Latter Had Put His Feet Up On Former's Seat in Car.

Because a man put his feet upon a car seat upon which a local blacksmith sat, coming home on the Detroit excursion, the latter struck him over the head with a heavy cane, and split it open almost from the top to the back. Serious results may attend the affair.

The man who was struck was coming from Chatham to London with the intention of going on to Wiarton. Seated opposite him in the same car was the blacksmith. The Chatham man put his feet on the seat opposite him and was instantly ordered to remove them. In fact the order was accentuated by a blow which he received across the legs from a cane in the London man's hands.

"I'll dare you to do that again," said the latter threateningly, according to the story of a bystander.

"Just watch me," said the Chathamite, at the same time carrying his words into effect.

Before he could move to get out of the way the other man was upon his feet. In a moment the heavy cane descended with great force upon his head. He was stunned and blood literally gushed from the wound. A number of his friends took up the quarrel, and but for the appearance of the conductor, who restored order, a serious melee might have resulted.

The Chatham man was attended on arriving here and proceeded to Wiarton. Although the injury is not causing him great pain, the seriousness of it cannot as yet be surmised. It is said that he will take legal proceedings against the blacksmith.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Several reports regarding nuisances from Medical Health Officer Hutchinson were received at the regular meeting of the board of health, which commenced at 2 o'clock today. Inspector McCallum also presented his report on the spring inspection of yards, and the annual report on the condition of London's dairies was received.

GOT WOODSTOCK CONTRACTS.

Two London firms have large contracts for municipal work at Woodstock. A vitrified brick pavement several blocks in length is being contructed on the main street of the town, and there are also a large number of sewers about to be laid. The contract for the pavement is in the hands of the Forest City Paving Company, of London, and Ben Johnston, also of this city, had the contract for the sewers. The cost of each work will be in the neighborhood of $25,000.

FUNERAL OF GEORGE W. DUNCAN

The remains of the late George W. Duncan, the former resident of this city, who died in Detroit, were interred at Woodland Cemetery this afternoon. The funeral was held from the residence of the deceased's son, Mr. Hodgin Duncan, 461 Philip street, the services being conducted by the pastor of the local colored Baptist Church. The funeral was attended by many of the colored residents of the city.

SMASHED TELEPHONE POLE.

An unusual thing occurred yesterday afternoon, when a team of horses drawing a heavy truck wagon ran away on York street, the force with which they struck the pole being sufficient to smash it. Very seldom does it ever happen that the pole is broken. Generally it is the rig, but in this case the telephone pole was put out of business, and with it a good portion of the Bell Company's service. The company are repairing the damage today.

AMBULANCE IS "SWELL."

The city ambulance was returned to the police authorities today. It has been in the hands of the painter for some weeks and now makes a fine appearance. This is the first time that it has needed anything in the way of repairs since it was presented to the city by ex-Mayor Little. The job, which has just been completed, is a thorough one, and reflects credit on the painter. It will also reflect the image of any person looking into the side of it, for it now has mirrorlike sides. The interior has been renovated and a new curtain put on the back.

WILL BE ENTERTAINED.

There has been some doubt expressed as to whether the Chamber of Commerce of the Empire delegates would be entertained on their tour through the city. It will be remembered that the board of trade, with whom all communications were at first directed, referred the matter to the city council, owing to their not having a fund for the purpose of receptions. Then the reception committee of the council considered the matter, and came to the conclusion that the city had not the money for the purpose either. Secretary Nelles, of the board of trade, assured an Advertiser reporter today that the board of trade would attend to the matter all right, and that the visitors would be entertained in a manner worthy of the city of London, the board of trade taking the responsibilities.

GOES TO LEAMINGTRON.

Arthur T. Rowell, one of the finest on London's first-class police force, leaves on Saturday for Leamington. For over twelve years Mr. Rowell has been driver of the patrol wagon, ever since the shocking death of his predecessor, William Pope. In all that time not an accident occurred while he had the reins, a record of which he should be proud. A steadier driver never piloted the patrol of any Canadian city, and it will be hard to find his equal.

In that twelve years, too, he has been successful in the matter of arrests, having made some important ones. His record as a police employe is certainly enviable, there not being a mark against him. The chief speaks highly of his faithful and able observance of his duties, and to this effect has given him a testimonial.

Mr. Rowell has purchased a hotel in Leamington. As a hotelkeeper he should be successful, as he is popular among associates and acquaintances. His numerous friends, who will regret to hear of his departure, will wish him much prosperity in his new home in Leamington.

A CHANCE MEETING.

An aged minister of this city, who lately returned from the great Epworth League convention in Detroit, relates an incident that occurred at one of the big meetings which greatly pleased him. He said that when he was at one of the monster meetings held during the convention the leader of the massed choirs assembled there came to him and asked him if he remembered a certain instance years before when he had told a young musician that if he would consecrate his talents to God his life would be blessed. The choir leader added that this remark started him thinking and resulted in his conversion. Needless to say the aged preacher was very glad to learn of the effect of his words had upon the young man, and he tells of it as an encouragement to young preachers, who often labor, they think,

GETTING THE LICENSES IN.

Inspector McCallum is not following the old custom in regard to the collection of the licenses for milk vendors. In the past it was the practice of the inspector or his assistant to collect the license fees from the drivers of wagons on the street, but this year he has served all with notices to the effect that the fee is due, and the best thing they can do is to call at his office and settle. Some of the milkmen have expressed themselves as being in favor of the old way, but they are fast coming to the inspector with their dollars. There are upwards of a hundred milk dealers in the city, and more are likely to be added to the list, as every person is liable, even if he only keeps a cow for the use of the family and sells to the neighbors.

ONE BLOCK AT A TIME.

The work of excavating York street, between Wellington and Clarence streets, for the new bituminous roadway, is doubtless a harder task than the contractors were figuring upon in the first place. The street is one of the principal thoroughfares for heavy teaming in the city, and it had a foundation of broken stone and gravel several inches in depth. So solid was it that it was necessary to have four horses attached to the plow, with several men on the latter to keep it from coming to the surface continually. The city engineer will allow only one block to be excavated at once, owing to the immense amount of traffic on the street. The cement curb has been constructed on both sides of the street in the two blocks, and the bricks for the driveways are on hand.

THE RELIANCE PREPARES

Will Receive Another Thorough Overhauling.

Newport, R. I., July 28.—With the selection of the Reliance as the defender of the America Cup against the Shamrock III., the racing season for large boats off this port is practically finished. The boat left today for Bristol, where she will have another overhauling in anticipation of the cup races.

Commodore Bourne today stated that the Constitution would remain in commission until the cup races, and will give the Reliance all possible assistance in tuning up, either off Newport or in the Sound.

In reference to the official measurements of the yacht about which there has been much speculation ever since the season began, Commodore Bourne said that all the figures would be given when the Reliance and Shamrock III. are measured just previous to the cup races.

The Rose of Wentworth

"Perhaps what?" Arley questioned, still regarding her closely.

"Perhaps," and her eyes were still fixed appealingly on the old lady's face, "you might be willing, since you believe me to be the child of your niece, that I should come to see you once in a while to learn something about my father and mother. Oh, you can never know how meager my life has been, and how I have yearned for love like theirs," and a little sob choked her utterance.

Without giving her aunt time to reply to this appeal, Arley got up from her chair and crossed the room to where the girl stood with her hand still resting upon the knob of the door. She laid her two hands upon her shoulders and looked searchingly down into her clear, earnest eyes.

"Did you not expect to come here to live? This would be your home—all these luxuries yours, you know, if you had been brought here instead of me. Did you have no thought of the fortune which my grandfather—your grandfather—left to his grandchild? Tell me," she added, almost fiercely, "you who have the face and eyes and voice of the woman whom I have always revered as my mother, did you not come here to wrest all these things from me, together with my name and birthright?"

The gentle girl shrank just a little from her questioner, with her intense gaze and tones, but she answered with exceeding sweetness, yet with a sort of impressive dignity:

"No, believe me, I did not; all that I wished for was the right to bear my father's name—to be acknowledged as his child. I wish to take nothing from you of all the comforts that you have been led to believe your own. I have made you unhappy enough by proving my claim to the name which you have always borne, and I will not make an enemy of you. Now I have told you why I came; let me go, and I will not annoy you again."

"But, child, I never heard of such a thing. All these things are yours—this beautiful home—alas! I believe I never realized until this moment how very beautiful and dear it is!" Arley said, in trembling tones, looking around upon all the luxuries which lay about her, "and the fortune which Dr. McAllister left, a fortune of twenty thousand pounds. It is yours by right of heritage."

"I know; Mr. Alden said something of this to me," Ina returned with a troubled, uneasy glance at her companion, "but I could not think of taking them away from you, who, all your life, have regarded them as belonging to you. Dr. McAllister always looked upon you as his grandchild; you grew up under his love and care; to you, the child of his affection, he gave this lovely home and his fortune, and not to me, of whose existence he was wholly ignorant."

"But the law will give it all to you. It will decree that it all belongs to you, the real heiress," Arley persisted.

"The law need have nothing to do about it," Ina answered, quickly, "and, oh, I do not wish to deprive you of one single thing. I should feel mean, degraded, to take from you what has become a necessity to you from the force of habit and expectation. You have been very tenderly reared, and led to believe that all your future would be like the past, since ample provision was made for you in Dr. McAllister's will. It would be cruel for me to wrest it from you and consign you to such poverty as I have known. You could never work for your living, while I have been brought up to take care of and depend upon myself."

"You are the strangest, most unselfish girl that I ever met in my life," Arley exclaimed, regarding her wonderingly, with a sort of reverence; and then, actuated by an impulse which she could not resist, she bent forward and kissed the fair, upturned forehead.

Ina caught her breath quickly at the act.

"I thought you would almost hate me," she said, "with a little sob, "and oh, you can never know how I dreaded to come to you!"

"Hate you; it would be impossible to hate such a sweet spirit as you have shown yourself to be," Arley answered, earnestly. "But you must not be allowed to wrong yourself; right is right. You are the child of the house. I am simply a usurper — an unintentional one, it is true, yet a usurper, none the less. Good heaven," she cried wildly, as if suddenly overpowered by the thought, "if you are the real Arley Wentworth, who and what am I? Where, in all this wide world, are my kindred, and how am I ever to find them?"

"But wait," she added more calmly, "I must not think of that now. Justice must be done first."

She moved with a quick firm step across the room and rang her bell again.

"Mary, send Mr. Paxton here immediately," she commanded of the girl when she came.

"Yes'm; he were inquiring about you a minute ago," she answered gazing curiously from one agitated face to another, and then disappearing to do her mistress' bidding.

Then, for a moment, Arley's forced composure gave way.

"Oh, auntie, auntie," she sobbed; "can it be possible that I do not belong to you at all—that all your care and affection for so many years have been given to an impostor?"

"Hush, hush, my darling," the old lady said, brokenly, while she fondly smoothed the bright head upon her shoulder with her trembling hand. "Do not call yourself such hard, such unnecessary names. Whoever you may prove to be, you will still be my dear child just the same. It cannot alter the fact that I have always loved you and shall love you just as long as I live."

"But I must give up everything to her. I must go away and surrender all that has been dear to me," said stricken Arley.

With a sudden rain of tears, she turned to Miss McAllister and threw herself into her arms.

"You must, and will, of course, do what is right," Miss McAllister returned gravely, "but it does not follow that our affection for each other will ever be any the less. You were going away from me anyway. Your husband has claimed you; and so, perhaps, God has sent me this other child, so that I need not be quite so lonely in my old age without you."

"What a comforter you are, auntie, and how selfish of me not to have thought of you in this connection. She will be a comfort to you, I know," the young wife said, looking up and trying to smile through her tears; and just then Philip Paxton entered the room.

"What does this mean?" he asked, stopping short as he observed his wife's tear-stained face, and regarding the young stranger with questioning surprise.

"I have some strange news for you, Philip," Arley said, going up to him, and laying her hand upon his shoulder.

"It must be both strange and sad to make you weep like this on your wedding day," he replied, tenderly, as he encircled her slight waist with his arm and regarded her anxiously. "What is it, dear?"

She told him in as few words as possible all the strange story, and her heart sank within her as she noted how the tender, anxious light died out of his eyes as he listened; how his face grew pale and stern, and a dogged, resolute expression settled about his lips. Instinctively she knew that he did not mean to acknowledge this stranger's claim, that he meant to contend for the name, position and fortune which rightly belonged to her by the ties of consanguinity.

$5,000. Reward for the Arrest and Conviction of——the parties who originated and circulated, the rumor that "Force" Food contained drugs or other injurious ingredients.

$5,000. additional will be paid to anyone proving that "Force" does, or ever did, contain any drug or other injurious or unhealthful ingredient, being composed solely of Wheat and Barley, with a seasoning of table salt, steam cooked, flaked, and roasted.

Do us the justice, if you question the absolute purity or healthfulness of "Force," to send a package to the Health Department of your city for analysis.

BOSTON, June 25, 1903.

The "Force" Food Company, Buffalo, N. Y.:

GENTLEMEN—A rumor having reached me that your product, "FORCE," contained injurious ingredients, I took the occasion to analyze it, in the interest of my own family and of some friends who are liberal users of it.

It may interest you to know that I found it consisted exclusively of Whole Wheat, Barley and Salt, and is absolutely free from any injurious elements whatever.

Permit me to express my sincere regret that such a serious and baseless rumor should gain footing with the public.

You are free to use this letter in any way that will help to do your product justice.

Yours truly,

WILBUR L. SCOVILLE.

Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

BOSTON, June 30, 1903.

To Whom It May Concern:

At the invitation of The "FORCE" Food Company, of Buffalo, I have visited their Mills and made a careful examination of the materials from which "FORCE" is prepared, and the processes which convert it into its finished condition.

I found that "FORCE" consists exclusively of what my previous analysis indicated, viz.: Whole Wheat and Barley, with a flavoring of Table Salt, flaked, cooked and sterilized by 300 degrees of heat.

A feature of the manufacture which impressed me considerably was the fact that the process is entirely mechanical, the food being prepared, cooked and boxed by machinery, without ever coming in contact with the hands or clothing of the mill operatives.

I was also gratified to note that an experienced Chemist daily supervised the entire output, and that each day's manufacture was also tested by an expert cook.

The "Force" Food Company, Buffalo, N. Y.:

GENTLEMEN—In view of the rumors regarding the alleged adulteration of "FORCE," it has been a satisfaction to me to visit your Mills, investigate, and analyze your product.

You are free to publish this statement made over my signature, that I found "FORCE" to be absolutely pure, consisting solely of Whole Wheat and Barley, flavored with table Salt, and free from any injurious substance whatever.

I examined, in detail, the various steps in the manufacture of your product, such as the steam cooking, the flaking and the roasting, as well as the packing, and find all to be remarkably clean and of absolute healthfulness. The final roasting is done at a temperature above 300° F., which, with the steam cooking, completely sterilizes the product, and the entire process, from the first step to the final sealing of the package, is a mechanical one, the product at no time coming in contact with the hands or clothing of the persons handling the machines or packages.

Very respectfully,
HERBERT M. HILL,
Chemist to the City of Buffalo.

Refer also to Canadian Government Bulletin 84 on similar subject, pages 6 and 29, for analysis showing that "FORCE" consists solely of the most wholesome and nutritious ingredients.

COPPERS LOOKED AND WORE BLUE

Red Coats Too Warm for City Peace-Preservers—The Latter Were Trounced.

It is quite appropriate to call the city policemen bluecoats after the game they played with the Wolseley Barracks sluggers yesterday. Not only did they wear the color, but they looked it, and no doubt felt it. The soldiers, on the other hand, though which hand that is is not known, had good cause to look and feel rosy. Red is a warm color, and the blending of it with blue never produces a satisfactory result for the latter. To unwind the technicalities, it was too warm for the cops. At the finish the Tommy Atkins bunch were 17 degrees to the cops' 6. It was felt that they would be somewhat consoled to receive an even half-dozen.

As well as they preserve the peace of the city, the coppers preserved their baseball qualities yesterday. All the limbs of the law proved to be affected with severe attacks of sciatica and cramps.

The soldiers made good to the extent of ten runs in the first inning. The cops made three before the soldiers called time, and then played the quiet-as-a-mouse act until the sixth inning. It is supposed that they just wanted to size their opponents up in the interval, and then having found out their weak points, to go in and wallop them. They made a good attempt to throw a searchlight on military discrepancies in the sixth, and three figure ones were rubbed off the chalk to their advantage. The soldiers proved, however, that they knew the science of making a scoreboard look artistic. Some cold-hearted wretch was heard to say that the only game the police were proficient in was that of "high-balling" those who chose to loaf around corners. The line-up:

Mr. George Thurling acted as umpire.

M'COY SAYS HE HAS QUIT RING

Has Done Too Much Training and Can't Get Into Good Shape Again.

Is Kid McCoy a has-been? According to the Hoosier boxer's own statement, he considers himself all out. He has announced his retirement from the boxing game, and he says that his decision is final, and that nothing can induce him to enter the ring again.

It would appear that McCoy, like Tommy Ryan and Terry McGovern, has done too much training, and the strain of constant work has weakened his system. McCoy was very much put out about his poor showing against Jack Root in Detroit recently, and it was this battle more than anything else that caused the Hoosier boxer to reach a decision.

"I am satisfied that I cannot get in the same good form as I could a couple of years ago," said McCoy upon his return to New York from Chicago. "I trained hard for my go with Root, still when I fought him I was unable to deliver the goods. There is no use training or fighting when you can't win, so I have decided to quit the ring for good. My decision is final, and I don't expect to ever put on the gloves again. There is nothing in the game even for a winner nowadays."

With McCoy, McGovern and Ryan on the retired list, the ring will lose a trio of great fighters. Each was a star in his class, and it will be a long time before others will be fit to take their places.

RELIANCE HAS PROVED WORTHY TO DEFEND CUP

She Will Race Lipton's Boat—Opening of Jamaica Race Meeting.

Before McChesney can start in the Saratoga handicap or in any of the big stakes for which he is entered at the Spa, it is probable that his ownership will be looked into by the stewards of the Jockey Club. This was the statement made by a man in authority at Brighton Beach, who said that several prominent owners had decided to protest McChesney's eligibility on the ground of illegal entry and disputed ownership. According to the story that was discussed in the Brighton paddock during the races, certain owners want to know whether E. T. Smathers is the sole owner of McChesney, or whether S. C. Hildreth has an interest, or in other words is a silent partner. According to the protesting owners in New York, Hildreth entered into partnership with Smathers and the latter entered the horse in eastern stakes, wholly in his name, because Hildreth was not in good standing with the stewards of the Jockey Club. If it can be shown conclusively, the local owners say, that McChesney is owned exclusively by Smathers well and good. Otherwise the horse will be declared ineligible because of the stringent rule relating to the registration of partnerships which has been rigidly enforced this year.

McGininty, of the New Yorks, says had he won the game he pitched against Pittsburg on July 17, he would have been in $500 which had been promised to him by a Pittsburg sporting man, who had wagered $4,000 against $5,000 that the New Yorks would beat Pitsburg. The Detroit Free Press, in discussing the matter, says the magnates might pay special attention to it, because "when baseball becomes a gambling proposition it will be doomed. It is the fact that baseball is the one professional sport in connection with which there is almost never a suspicion of crookedness that makes it appeal so generally. Some men like a trotting race, but do not care for the bangtails. Some men like a fight, but would not watch the horses. But every man who likes any one other form of sport also likes a good ball game. If these bettors are approaching players and offering them extra inducements to win, it is only a matter of time when they will be approaching other players with propositions of reward for efforts to throw games."

One of the greatest pacing matches ever decided on the turf is scheduled to take place at the Cleveland track next week, when Dan Patch, 1:59¼, meets Knox Gelatine King, formerly Anaconda, for a side stake of $50,000, the largest stake ever battled for by light harness stars. Mr. Knox started the ball rolling last week when he offered to match his horse against Dan Patch for a side bet of $25,000. The backers of Dan Patch immediately accepted the challenge. The fortune the horses will race for is even larger than that which went to the winner of the memorable match between Thomas Lawson's Boralma and E. E. Smathers' Lord Derby, when the owners wagered $20,000 on the result of the match.

Besides being a match for the largest side stake, the race should furnish a sensational struggle for supremacy. Both Dan Patch and Knox's horse are whirlwind pacers, and if both go to the wire in good condition it is not unreasonable to look for a new record before the race is decided. Dan Patch has already shown that he has lost none of his old-time speed which enabled him to share the world's pacing record with Star Pointer. He recently paced a half-mile in the wonderful time of :57¾, equalling the world's record made by Prince Alert last season at Memphis.

Anaconda, although unable to reach the two-minute mark, is a great pacer, and can repeat miles at extreme speed. He is being trained by Jack Curry, one of the cleverest reinsmen on the Grand Circuit, and one who can train and develop a horse as well as anyone.

THE JAMAICA TRACK.

New York, July 27. — The midsummer meeting of the Metropolitan Jockey Club was opened at Jamaica today under favorable conditions. The chief interest centered in the running of the Glendale handicap, at one mile and a furlong, which was run by Hunter Raine. Roe Hampton pulled up lame, and it is doubtful if he will race again this year. Hazelwood, under Bullman's ride, won the Youthful stakes for two-year-olds. After a miserable run of the favorite, Oom Paul, in the sixth race, the steward called Gannon, his rider, into the stand. Gannon said he was unable to make the horse run. He finished last by nearly an eighth of a mile. The stewards will investigate. Demurrer, Redfern up, fell at the start in the first race, but the jockey escaped injury.

TORONTO OPENS SEPT. 26.

Toronto, Ont., July 27.—At a meeting of the Jockey Club today it was decided to hold the autumn meeting from Saturday, Sept. 26 to Saturday, Oct. 3, in all seven days. The alteration in dates is made to avoid clashing with the Buffalo Racing Association, which precedes the Ontario Jockey Club meeting.

YACHTING.

RELIANCE IS THE BOAT.

Newport, R. I., July 27.—After today's race between the Reliance, Constitution and Columbia, in which the former boat again demonstrated her superiority over the two others, the challenge committee of the New York Yacht Club selected the Reliance as the defender of the America's Cup. It was also decided to discontinue further trial races as unnecessary. Commodore Bourne and Messrs. Forbes, Cormack and Robinson of the cup committee, and C. Oliver Iselin, managing owner of the Reliance; E. D. Morgan, of the Columbia, and August Belmont, of the Constitution, were at the meeting. Messrs. Morgan and Belmont were perfectly satisfied with the choice of the committee as both are of the opinion that the Reliance is the fastest of the trio. In every race Reliance has crossed the finish line ahead, and has lost but few events on time allowance. It is possible that the defender will proceed to Bristol for a thorough overhauling and then go to New Rochelle. What will be done with the Constitution and Columbia could not be learned. The three yachts sailed over a leeward and windward course today in a puffy 15-knot northwestener. The Reliance was first across the line with Constitution next and Columbia last. Constitution pulled rapidly by Reliance, and Columbia was on even terms with the new boat, when Capt. Barr, by a shift of canvas, got a favorable slant of wind and a mile from the turn passed Constitution and left Columbia astern. After rounding the outer mark Reliance pulled steadily away, while Columbia gained on Constitution. Time:

Name.	Start.	Finish.
Reliance	11:20.06	3.04.09
Columbia	11.32.09	3.10.11
Constitution	11.30.37	3.09.16

BOWLING.

THE CHAMPIONS' RETURN.

Clinton, July 25.—Never before or since the home-coming of the South African veterans has the town been so excited as it is tonight over the home-coming of the three rinks of lawn bowlers of this place from London, who captured everything before them in the great lawn bowling tourney in that city last week. John Ransford, president of the club here, told the citizens that they should give them a royal reception, and they generally do what he says, and they did it tonight when the citizens and Lacrosse Club, headed by the band, Highland pipers and the mayor and town council, marched to the depot and escorted the champions to the market square, which was decorated for the occasion, where the citizens listened to the speeches from the president, mayor and the skips of the three winning rinks. For two hours business was entirely suspended, so great was the enthusiasm. For ten men to win so much out of the 244 players was a thing they are proud of. Besides winning the prizes, Mr. W. Jackson was also made president of the Western Association.

THE GAME IN WATERLOO.

Waterloo, Ont., July 27.—Four lawn bowling rinks of the Caer Howells, Toronto, came here this afternoon via Berlin, where they defeated four Berlin rinks this morning by 72 to 69 shots; after visiting the town they turned up at the bowling green and met the crack Waterloos, the locals winning by 16 shots. A special feature was three close contest games between Skips C. L. Mead and E. T. Seagram, the former winning out by 3 shots.

CRICKET.

ENGLISH TEAM COMING.

It is now an assured fact that an English team of cricketers will visit America and play a series of games with the experts of Philadelphia before the snow flies again. F. F. Warner, who will captain the English team, which will play in Australia next winter under the auspices of the Marylebone C. C., has been negotiating with the managing committee of the Philadelphia eleven for some time.

He has finally agreed to bring a team here, but it will not be the eleven which will play in Australia. It has been stipulated that the Marylebone C. C. should have exclusive control of the services for Australia of C. B. Fry, G. L. Jessop, H. H. Marriott, C. J. Burnup, Hartyn Braund, Tyldesley, Hirst, Hayward and Butt.

The financial responsibility for the trip will be assumed by the Associated Cricket Clubs of Philadelphia, and it is probable that the usual three games will be played in the Quaker City, with one match each in New York, Baltimore, Chicago and Toronto. Mr. Warner is now engaged in the work of getting his team together, and this will be announced as soon as definite replies have been received from those invited to go.

RADWAY'S PILLS

ALWAYS RELIABLE — PURELY VEGETABLE.

The Great Liver and Stomach Remedy.

Cures all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Loss of Appetite, Headache, Constipation, Costiveness, Indigestion, Biliousness, Fever, Piles, etc., and renders the system less liable to contract disease.

DYSPEPSIA

RADWAY'S PILLS are a cure for this complaint. They tone up the internal secretions to healthy action, restore strength to the stomach, and enable it to perform its functions.

George S. Scally, of 75 Nassau street, New York, says: "For years I have been troubled with rheumatism and dyspepsia, and I came to the conclusion to try your pills. I immediately found great relief from their use. I feel like a new man since I commenced taking them, and would not now be without them. The drowsy, sleepy feeling I used to have has entirely disappeared. The dyspepsia has left me and my rheumatism has gone entirely. I am satisfied if anyone so afflicted will give Radway's Pills a trial, they will surely cure them, for I believe it all comes from the system being out of order—the liver not doing its work."

—A very beautiful flower service was conducted by Rev. T. E. Harrison, of this city, at the Belmont Methodist Church on Sunday. The church was lavishly decorated.

A FOOLISH THING TO DO.

REGIMENT DISBANDS.

St. Thomas Times: Quartermaster-Sergeant Rendle is busy collecting the uniforms and equipments of the members of the Twenty-fifth Regiment, and they will be shipped to London. The regiment has been disbanded owing to the resignation of Col. McLachlin. The sergeants meet Tuesday evening in the armory for the purpose of winding up their affairs.

FINE NIGHT FOR THE BAND.

It did not rain last night. This seems strange, when it is remembered that the Highland Cadets' band was booked for a band concert in Victoria Park. The Old Boys, however, were persevering, and once more they attempted to have the band give their many-times-delayed concert. The hoodoo was broken, for the evening was a fine one and a good-sized crowd attended, the collection taken up amounting to $78 75. The Kenwick Male Quartet assisted the band, rendering several selections which were thoroughly appreciated, the crowd tendering them encores. The band music was enjoyable, and their selection was a pleasing one. Perhaps the favorite one on the programme was "Hiawatha," which was enthusiastically encored and responded to.

WILL HAVE TWO TRAINS.

The Toronto Association of London Old Boys has arranged with the Grand Trunk for two special trains for the old boys' reunion, the first leaving the union depot, Toronto, at 3 p.m. on Saturday, and the second leaving on Monday morning at 7:15 o'clock. Both trains will make a three-hour run, coming through ahead of regular trains, with very few stops. The Saturday tickets are good to return on any regular train on Monday, including the Old Boys' special leaving London at 11:40 p.m. The Monday tickets are good to return on any regular train up till Tuesday, also on the Monday night special at 11:40. The fare for the round trip will be $2 25 for adults, and $1 20 for children. The excursionists are to be accompanied by one of the best bands in Toronto.

ATTRACTIONS AT SPRINGBANK.

The Springbank attractions this week are all that the press agent claimed for them. A fairly large crowd went to the park last night and none by a dyspeptic pessimist could have failed to enjoy himself thoroughly. There is nothing new nor remarkable in the juggling of Kelsey Moore, but his act is not tiresome and serves as a satisfactory curtain raiser. Josephine Floyd follows in parodies and monologues. The parodies had the monologues stopped last night, and were quite entertaining. H. V. Fitzgerald, a lightning change artist, is exactly what his advance paper says. The skill and rapidity of his changes from one impersonation to another were remarkable. Apart from this alone, his performance is highly interesting; Harris and Walters, two comedians, made one of the biggest hits of the Springbank season. Their act is extravangantly funny, and some of the cleverst work and sayings ever introduced at the little theater are in it. This act will draw business to Springbank. So, too, will the last one on the programme, that of La Gethe, aerialist. His performance is a thriller. This ends a bill that is one of the best the company has ever had. There is not a word or an action throughout the whole evening's entertainment that could possibly offend, and there is much that will amuse.

HANDSOME PRESENTATION.

Mr. A. G. McWhinney made a presentation last night on behalf of the office staff and mail clerks of the railway mail service, to Mrs. Day, formerly Miss Isabella Robertson, for some time stenographer in the offices here. The gift was a very handsome silver service, which was accompanied by the following address:

"To Mrs. Day.—The office staff and mail clerks of the railway mail service in the London district, and the staff of the postoffice inspector's office, beg leave to tender your their cordial congratulations and best wishes for your future happiness and prosperity in your new sphere of life. During the years that you have been with them you have won their respect and goodwill by your unfailing courtesy and careful attention to your duties, especially so in the case of the railway mail clerks, who have pleasant remembrances of the many acts of kindness performed by you in office routine. They feel that they cannot let you part from them without some slight token of their esteem and remembrance, and they therefore request your acceptance of these tokens of their good wishes, in the hope that they may serve to remind you of your connection with the railway mail service. (Signed), A. G. McWhinney, on behalf of the office staffs and railway mail clerks."

Letters to the Editor.

THE LORD'S DAY ACT AND THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

The decision of the judicial committee of the Privy Council, as printed in the London Times, has been copied by many of the newspapers of Ontario. We had hoped this decision would have upheld that of the court of appeal of this province. From information we have received, it would seem that the title of the Ontario Lord's Day act—an act to prevent the profanation of the Lord's Day—indicated that it dealt with religious matters, and therefore came under Dominion jurisdiction.

A careful consideration of the situation, forced upon us by the decision of the Privy Council, does not discourage us. The judgment declares that the act is ultra vires of the province. That leaves us the law which was in force at Confederation, and as a comparison reveals that, with the exceptions of sections 7 and 8, it is identical with the act now declared ultra vires. As to sections 7 and 8, which deal with excursions and electric railways, almost all their provisions and prohibitions have been enacted in the charters granted by the Provincial Legislature. The Lord's Day Alliance may find it necessary to seek a reconstruction of the law, and possibly may have to obtain amendments from the Dominion Legislature, but we rejoice that this province is still governed by such legislation that the Lord's Day is strongly safeguarded against the assaults of greed and passion.

Though disappointed, we do not confess a defeat, nor do we feel discouraged. Our battle is for the highest welfare of the citizens of this great Dominion. The Lord's Day Alliance has been seriously misunderstood by a great many people. The other day I read in some paper something about the efforts of the Lord's Day Alliance "to impose on us a blue Sunday for al ltime." We have no such idea. The purpose of the L. D. A. is clearly set forth in its constitution and literature. Here is the article from our constitution:

"The object of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada shall be to concentrate the strength of the alliances of the several provinces and territories for the more effective accomplishment of the ends which they have in common, more especially:

(a) To inform the public mind and arouse the public conscience in regard to the inestimable value of the Lord's Day, the dangers which threaten it, and the duty of preserving it unimpaired.

(b) To secure the faithful and impartial enforcement of laws which are intended to procure for all classes the weekly day of rest.

(c) To secure such amendments in legislation as may be necessary adequately to protect the quiet and rest of the Lord's Day.

Here is a quotation from one of our leaflets, of which hundreds of thousands have been distributed:

"The Lord's Day Alliance is a voluntary association of Christian people, having for its object the 'preserving of the Lord's Day in its integrity and securing to the whole community the right to its full enjoyment.' This the alliance seeks to do by educating, arousing and organizing public opinion on the subject, securing the observance of the day of rest, and, where necessary, seeking such amendment of legislation as will make it effective. It does not attempt or desire to enforce by law the religious observance of the day, but only to secure all the liberty to rest and the opportunity to worship."

The membership of the alliance is not confined to "a few persons and female agitators," whose tactics have "gained the resentment and opposition of thousands of persons," because they have "demonstrated themselves to be so autocratic, intolerant and lacking in consideration of others." On the contrary, in its 400 branches are found 25,000 members, among whom are many of the broadest, most liberal-minded and public-spirited of the citizens of Canada. Without any private ends to serve, but for the greatest good to the great mass of our population, they earnestly desire to preserve the Lord's Day for all Canadians as a day of rest, and to prevent it from the greed of the gold-getter, and the grind of the pleasure-seeker, they would safeguard the Lord's Day with reasonable laws.

Some people may imagine that the day may be observed without laws. All history proves the contrary. Look up the facts in the history of Germany and France. Neither rest nor religion can use the day to advantage without legtl protection against greed and passion. Where there are no Sabbath laws there is practically no Sabbath.

The labor unions of the Dominion are active in their co-operation with the Lord's Day Alliance. They recognize in it a great force, aiding them in their efforts for self-protection. Every man who works desires his rest of one day in seven. And too many corporations demand that their employes shall work simply to enable them to swell their dividends. Recently the Hamilton Times asserted that the Lord's Day Alliance was one of the strongest friends of the workingmen in this land.

As to the future policy of the alliance, I can only say that our work will continue with the same strenuous energy that has always characterized it. In all probability the executive board will shortly be called together, and inaugurate any change that may be necessary for pushing forward our work under the new conditions. I have had no opportunity of consultation with the leaders. Until our board meets, we will go right on agitating against Sunday labor and disturbances. We are not discouraged. Our work becomes more important because of this decision of the Privy Council, and with strong confidence in the cause, the people and in God, leaving every man's religious belief and practice as free as the air he breathes, we shall go right forward, seeking to bring about that desired end when every citizen of our glorious Canada will have a full right to the freest enjoyment of the weekly day of rest.

T. ALBERT MOORE.
Secretary Lord's Day Alliance.

CLEVELANDS ARE COMING

Old Boys of That City to Unveil Monument Here.

Other Plans for the Coming Week—Band Concert Sunday.

The Cleveland Leader publishes the programme of the London Old Boys' Association, of Cleveland, for celebration week. The paper says:

"The social organizations in and around Cleveland have no better exponent of true sociability and hospitality than that organization popularly known as the London Old Boys' Association, of Cleveland.

"Its members, being composed of former residents of London, Can., all have sympathies in common. To revive remembrances of bygone happy days and the fostering of a desire to make as much out of the pleasures of life as possible, are the club's cardinal aims. Throughout the year the members meet and smoke, dance and play summer time they forget the cares of life and hie themselves away for a week to the Forest City of Canada, where all arms and homes are open for their reception and entertainment.

"This year more elaborate arrangements and painstaking care have been bestowed upon the perfecting of the plans for the trip than ever before. The palace steamer City of the Straits will carry the excursionists from Cleveland to Windsor, Can., landing them there at 6 a.m. Immediately the trip will be continued over the Canadian Pacific Railroad in one of the fine vestibuied trains to London, arriving there at about 9:30 a.m.

"After dinner the Cleveland aggregation and friends will repair to Woodland Cemetery, where they will unveil a memorial monument to the late Sidney Ham, who was killed in an elevator shaft in Cleveland some two years ago. The Manhattan Club, of London, of which Mr. Ham was also a member, will assist in the unveiling exercises.

"On Sunday evening, Aug. 2, the Cleveland City Railway band, which will accompany the party, will give a concert in Victoria Park from 8 to 10 o'clock. The following three days and evenings have been given over to all kinds of amateur and professional sports and games, parades, concerts, sightseeing, receptions, banquets, etc.

"The Old Boys have reserved all the stateroom accommodation on the boat for the trip, and only those holding London tickets will be able to procure berth accommodations, which may be reserved at No. 335 the Arcade, care of Dr. J. George Layton. The tickets are good from Aug. 1 to 8, inclusive, excursionists having the privilege of staying in London part of the time and returning to Detroit at any time during the week and putting in the unexpired portion of the trip in that city. They may return on the City of the Straits on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, or on any day boat throughout the week.

VETERANS WILL WORK

Old Fire-Fighters Will Assist the Old Boys.

They'll Put Out a Fire as They Did in the Old Days.

The "boys" who worked the old hand pumps in the days when London could not boast of a waterworks system and an up-to-date fire department, will participate in the celebration of the Old Boys again this year. They wil have one of the "masheens" with them, and at Queen's Park on Monday afternoon will give the rising generation an idea of the way in which fires were fought here before the establishment of a paid force.

The veterans two years ago assisted in making the reunion a success. They will do the same next week. A call from President John Christie brought many of them together at the city hall last night, and found them one and a' in favor of "turning out." Possibly eighty or more will be in the parade. Many have still in their possession the uniforms they wore when serving the city as volunteers, and those who have will appear in them. Those who have not will wear another uniform, with badges.

Mr. Thomas Treleaven, master car builder at the G. T. R., has very kindly loaned the veterans the use of the company's fire engines, which will be nicely decorated for the parade. The exhibition of old-time fire-fighting will be given in the oval at the Queen's Park track, where a frame building will be burned. The decoration of the fire wagons was left with Messrs. Cater, Jarmain, Pratt, Chittick, Benson and Muckler. On Thursday the veterans will elect officers.

Among those in attendance last night were Messrs. John Christie, Richard McBride, Henry Pratt, Wm. Tackaberry, W. D. Benson, Wm. Chittick, H. Vincent, Wm. Angus, Jerry Collins, M. Muckler, W. J. Stinson, G. Terry, A. Clark, J. Muckler, Chas. Cater, S. H. Wood, Hugh Nolan Job Short, Reuben Short, Wm. Nichols, W. Beltz, J. D. Findlater. Wm. Spence, Henry Peters, Walter Fairbairn, Geo. Jarmain, H. Tozer, John Hyslop, Wm. Cater, J. Brown, Henry Strong, Abraham Tibbs, Hugh Arbuckle, Earl Gaze, Richard Watson, S. H. Craig, Robert Mason, John Hunter, and Charles Bragg.

A CHICAGO BUSINESS MAN

Cured by Peruna of Catarrh of the Stomach After Doctors Failed.

William N. Selig, a well-known business man of Chicago, Ill., in a recent letter from 43 Peck Court, Chicago, Ill., says:

"After having used several remedies for indigestion, without beneficial results, I was induced by a friend of mine to try Peruna, and I gladly say that it effected a positive cure.

"I have lately recommended it to several of my acquaintances as I firmly believe it is all that is claimed for it."

In catarrh of the stomach, as well as catarrh of any part of the body, Peruna is the remedy. As has been often said if Peruna will cure catarrh of one part, it will cure catarrh of any other part of the body.

Catarrh is catarrh wherever located, and the remedy that will cure it anywhere will cure is everywhere.

The following letter from Congressman Botkin speaks for itself:

House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.

Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, O.:

My Dear Doctor,—It gives me pleasure to certify to the excellent curative qualities of your medicines—Peruna and Manalin. I have been afflicted more or less for a quarter of a century with catarrh of the stomach and constipation. A residence in Washington has increased these troubles. A few bottles of your medicine have given me almost complete relief, and I am sure that a continuation of them will effect a permanent cure. Peruna is surely a wonderful remedy for catarrhal affections.—J. D. Botkin.

This is a case of catarrh of the stomach which had run for 25 years, according to his statement, and Peruna has at once come to his relief, promptly accomplishing for him more benefit than he had been able to find in all other remedies during a quarter of a century.

WM. N. SELIG.

It stands to reason that a man of wealth and influence, like a Congressman of the great United States, has left no ordinary means untried and no stone unturned to find a cure.

If such cures as these do not verify the claim not only that dyspepsia is due to catarrh of the stomach, but also that Peruna will cure catarrh of the stomach, it is impossible to imagine how any evidence could do so.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

SPECIALS WERE REQUIRED

Hundreds of Excursionists Came From Detroit Last Night.

Railway Authorities Ran Trains to East End to Help Patrons.

The last of the Grand Trunk car works excursionists to Detroit arrived home at an early hour this morning, tired, but pleased with their three days' outing.

The number remaining over until the last trains on which the tickets were good was exceptionally large—far greater than the management expected, but it went to show that Londoners have many friends in Detroit. It was the intention at first to run an extra to London with half a dozen cars, and give the excursionists a fast trip, but the calculations were upset when it was seen how many passengers had to be carried. About the time set for the departure of the train from Detroit they began to crowd into Brush stret depot by the score, and in a short time there were enough to fill three or four times as many cars as it was thought would be required. As fast as extra cars were put on the train just so fast were they filled.

The first train to leave Windsor for London was a special of nineteen cars, with over 1,200 persons on board. It had only one locomotive, of the 500 class, and despite the great weight of the train it made the run in three hours and three-quarters, reaching London at 12:15.

The second train was the regular due here at 10:40 p.m. This was held until after the special had left, and while it usually consists of three cars it had nine on last night, and every one was well filled. It was close upon 2 a.m. before it pulled into the depot. The regular via Port Huron also had a number of excursionists on board, as did also the express due here at 3:30 a.m.

As the street cars were not running when the special and the regular Windsor train arrived, the railway authorities had both trains run to the east end station, thus saving many of the excursionists long walks.

General Sir Hector Macdonald Memorial.

The general committee, of which the Duke of Argyll is president, formed to establish a memorial to the late Sir Hector Macdonald, is receiving considerable support. The following letter has been received by the committee:

"Having ascertained that the subscriptions to the General Sir Hector Macdonald memorial fund are likely to amount to about £4,000 within a fortnight, I take pleasure in informing you that my promised check of £1,000 will be placed at your disposal at that time. I also hereby renew my promise to send you a second £1,000 when your next £4,000 are subscribed. Yours very faithfully, (Signed), John Bannon."

Subscriptions varying from 1 shilling to £100 have been received, and the committee hope that all admirers of the late general who have not yet subscribed will do so immediately, so that Mr. Bannon's offer may be taken advantage of. The memorial is being enthusiastically supported by Scotsmen and the public generally in the "Britains over the Seas," as well as at home.

"It was for the British Empire he wrought the magnificent deeds which have added luster and glory to the martial history of the British army, and it is fitting therefore that in London a memorial worthy of his services should be established so that it may stand as an imperial monument, recording to posterity the gallant deeds of this great British hero."

To do proper justice to Sir Hector's grand record of work £10,000 are required, and the committee confidently appeal to intending subscribers in Canada, Australia, India, Africa and all the world over to forward their donations at once. Among the donations received already are Mr. Samuel Greenlees £165, Sir Malcolm McEachearn £50, Mr. Ralph Docker £25, the Duke of Argyll £10, Mr. W. H. Milligan £20, Prof. Dewar £10.

A Ride Against Death.

St. Paul, Minn., July 25.—Against death a bicycle run was made here by Edward O'Donnell, a young man, and he came near losing the race. While whittling at his home, the blade slipped, penetrating his left leg, severing an artery. He was unable to stop the flow of blood and immediately sprang upon his bicycle and started for a doctor's office. Along the road he left a trail of blood. Finally he fell unconscious from his wheel and lay in the road some time before found. He was taken to a doctor's office, and it is believed that he was rescued in time to save his life.
