

BLACK SEA MUTINY IS PETERING OUT; GEORGI SURRENDERS, NO PORT FOR POTEMKINE

Latter Puts in at a Roumanian Harbor, But Is Ordered Away—Quiet Reigns at Odessa.

London, July 3. — A private telegram received here today from Odessa says the town is quiet.

Bucharest, July 3. — The port authorities at Kustentzi, Roumania, have been instructed to call upon the 750 mutineers who are on board the Kniaz Potemkine to land from that vessel without arms, informing them that they would be treated as foreign deserters while in Roumania.

In the event of the refusal of the mutineers to submit to these conditions or of hostile action against the town, the Roumanian warships were ordered to use force.

Bucharest, July 3. — There is much excitement on board the Kniaz Potemkine, where differences of opinion exist between the leaders, some of whom advocate landing in Roumania, while others propose returning to Russia and joining the other mutinous ships. The prefect of Kustentzi permitted a delegation of the mutineers to enter the town and purchase provisions. The sailors report that the Black Sea fleet not only did not try to capture the Kniaz Potemkine, but that the crews of the ships openly rejoiced when the rebel battleship left Odessa.

The crew of the Russian gunboat Pashoupe, now at Kustentzi, met some of the crew of the Kniaz Potemkine ashore and fraternized with them, the sailors embracing one another.

The Kniaz Potemkine is accompanied by a Russian torpedo-boat.

About 200 Roumanian soldiers are being concentrated at Kustentzi in case of eventualities, and the cabinet ministers are proceeding there today to deal with the situation.

Turks Bar the Bosphorus.

Constantinople, July 3. — The Turkish officials at Anadolu-Kavak, Asia-Minor, at the entrance of the Bosphorus, are taking precautions to prevent the possible use of that port by the mutineers of the Kniaz Potemkine. The Turks will not permit the battleship to pass through the Bosphorus after sunset. They even stopped the Russian guardships at Constantinople with a blank shot when returning with Ambassador Zinovioff after a short cruise in the Black Sea. M. Zinovioff landed and proceeded to Constantinople, but the guardship was held until morning.

Georgi Has Surrendered.

Washington, July 3. — The state department has received a cablegram from Ambassador Meyer at St. Petersburg, saying that the battleship Odessa Pobiedonosetz has surrendered, and is now in the hands of the authorities.

More Trouble at Cronstadt.

Cronstadt, July 3. — The crew of the Russian cruiser Minin refused to put to sea today with the other vessels of the active squadron, alleging that the age and bad condition of the Minin prevented her participation in gun practice and maneuvers. The Russian leaders of this mutiny were arrested.

and the Minin was towed close to a fort where she is now anchored.

Seized British Ship.

Odessa, July 3. — 1:35 p.m. — The surrender of the Georgi Pobiedonosetz was formally carried out this morning. The warships returned from Nikolaieff, went on board and picked out the ring-leaders of the mutiny and several of their followers. All of whom were sent ashore. A torpedo boat destroyer and a gunboat arrived here during the night bringing Lord Admiral Choukine, commander of the Black Sea fleet.

The city is quiet. Many strikers have returned to work. The torpedo boat destroyer upon her arrival here fired a blank shot across the bow of the British steamer Cranley, lying off the harbor, for the purpose of taking the British subject of the vessel. The destroyer signalled the Cranley to accompany her inside the harbor. The Cranley complied, the destroyer in the meanwhile keeping her guns trained on the steamer. Later Russian officials took possession of the Cranley, and searched her for revolutionary refugees. The British consul-general protested to the governor, saying there was no reason to suppose that any revolutionary element was on board. The Cranley, it was presumed she will shortly be released.

St. Petersburg, July 3. — The unprecedented spectacle of powerful modern battleships cruising around in the Black Sea in the hands of a crew who, under the rules of international law, cannot be regarded as other than pirates, and of the admiral in command of the rest of the Euxine fleet, frankly confessing his inability to cope with the situation and ordering the crews of his warships to be drawn, has stupefied the Russian admiralty. The crews of the vessels of the battleship Kniaz Potemkine is unknown, no plans (Continued on page 5.)

ONCE MORE SIR TOMMY LIPTON WILL TRY TO LIFT AMERICA'S CUP

New York, July 3. — The Tribune says Sir Thomas Lipton has decided to challenge a fourth time for the America's cup. The news comes from England from private sources, and there is every reason to believe that Sir Thomas means what he says. He declared some time ago that he would wait and see the result of the performance of the Britonart, a boat designed by Alfred Mylne for the 22-foot class, but chiefly for the purpose of meeting Herreshoff's latest creation, the Sea-yea, built for Mrs. Farley, according to the new British rule of measurement.
If the Mylne boat proves a success at defeating the Herreshoff boat, it was understood that Mylne will receive an order at once to design a cup challenger for Sir Thomas.
Mylne was the partner of the late Geo. Watson, and it is now said that he has the assistance of all the plans recently used by the deceased designer, which were the result of many exhaustive experiments with models intended for the America's cup challenger.

Crushed Between Cars, Brakeman Meets Death

ARMISTICE OR BATTLE
George Lock, of This City, Instantly Killed On the G. T. R. at Petrolia.

The Mikado Pondering As to Which Would Benefit Him Most.
St. Petersburg, Monday, July 3. — Negotiations for an armistice between the armies of Russia and Japan, which are now in progress, but they have not reached a stage where any further announcement can be made. The decision seems to rest with Japan, which country is weighing the relinquishment of the prospect of bettering her present advantageous position against the enormous cost in lives and money of another great battle.
The chances for a decisive and final Japanese victory are no better now than before Liao Yang and Mukden. It is pointed out here that it is idle to talk of a Japanese victory falling like a ripe apple into Japan's hands before the peace conference meets.

WIZARD BURBANK'S LATEST
Produces, by Crossing of Different Varieties, a Fast-Growing Walnut.

Santa Rosa, Cal., July 3. — By crossing different varieties of walnuts, Luther Burbank has produced a tree that makes the fastest growth of any tree known. He regards this achievement as of immense importance commercially, for it will extend the use of walnut in the manufacture of furniture, and even permit its use as cordwood for stove or grate fires. His success was attained by crossing common English and native California black walnut, and also crossing two varieties of native black walnut. Walnut wood, for the usual black walnut, now costs $250 per cord of 120 cubic feet. When new varieties are grown in sufficient quantities the price will be greatly reduced.

CLERICALS WIN ELECTION
Unite With Moderates and Defeat the Liberals of Rome.

New York, July 3. — The municipal elections in Rome, Italy, have taken place, after a week's active campaign, says a cable dispatch from that city, published today in the Herald.
The Liberals were much divided, and the Clericals and Moderates made a firm union, the result being the defeat of the Liberals.
Much interest was shown, as the Clericals, for some time since 1870, went generally to the polls, taking part in the election. Many priests also took advantage of the recent encyclical of Pope, which had been in force since 1871, and prevented clerical participation in the elections.

Miss Sutton Wins Again.
London, July 3. — In the semi-final round of the ladies' championship singles at Wimbledon today Miss Sutton, of Pasadena, Cal., beat Miss A. M. Morton.

A Fatal Fall.
Kincardine, July 3. — A sad accident happened on Saturday in Huron township, when Mr. James Harrison, a leading farmer and president of the Huron cheese factory, came to his death.

It appears that while working in the new floor in his barn he fell between the joists to the cement floor of the basement.
From the place to which he was found it is thought death must have been instantaneous.

Mr. Harrison was from the county of Hastings, and was 52 years of age, of which 32 had been passed here. Besides his wife he leaves three sons and four daughters.

Secretary of State Hay Is Summoned By Death

The Distinguished American Diplomat and Writer Passes Unexpectedly Away After Prolonged Illness.

Newbury, N. H., July 2. — Secretary of State John Hay died at 12:25 Saturday morning. The signs immediately preceding his death were those of pulmonary embolism. Mr. Hay's condition during all of Friday had been entirely satisfactory.

The bulletin of Secretary Hay's death was signed by Charles L. Scudder, M. D., and Fred T. Murphy, M. D. Reports regarding Secretary Hay's condition had all along been encouraging, and only Wednesday Mrs. Hay wired her daughter, Mrs. Payne Whitney, that she and her husband need not postpone a proposed trip to Europe because of the secretary's illness. Mrs. Hay and Mrs. Scudder and Murphy were at the secretary's bedside when the end came. The secretary bade good-night to his wife, and to his attending physicians about 10 o'clock Friday night, at the close of one of the best days he had had since his illness. The local trouble was clearing up satisfactorily according to Dr. Scudder.

The secretary suffered none of the old pains in his chest which characterized his earlier illness. He had been perfectly comfortable all day and happy in the anticipation of leaving his bed for the greater freedom and comfort of a couch.
At 11 o'clock he was sleeping quietly. A few minutes after 12 he called the nurse, who at once summoned Dr. Scudder. Both Dr. Scudder and Dr. Murphy hastened to the bedside. The secretary was breathing with difficulty, and expired almost immediately afterward at 12:25.

His Early Work.

John Hay was born in Salem, Ind., Oct. 8, 1838. After graduating from the common schools of Warsaw, Ill., he went to Springfield for his academic education. From there he went to Brown University, from which institution he graduated with high honors in 1858. During his career he received many honorary degrees from leading eastern colleges.
After his admission to the Illinois bar, in 1854, his rise in the political world was rapid. He was one of President Lincoln's private secretaries, and was afterward assistant adjutant-general of United States volunteers. His next public service was as secretary of state, in 1889, when he was appointed secretary of state. At the international sanitary conference, in 1891, he was appointed ambassador to England. In 1897, he was best known politically as having served as secretary of state under President McKinley and President Roosevelt.

BAD BREAK IN RIDEAU CANAL

Westport Reservoir Breaks, Govt. and Opposition Endeavoring to Wind Up Before August First.

Doing $30,000 Damage—Dr. Johnston Worse.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, July 3. — A big reservoir of the Rideau Canal at Westport has broken, and it is understood $30,000 damage has been caused. The canal department are sending men to report on the damage.
Dr. Johnston, member for West Lambton, is reported this morning to be a great deal worse. The doctors now entertain the gravest doubts as to his recovery.

That Boycott Spreading.

Schengen July 3. — The Chinese merchants here have unanimously resolved to boycott American manufacturers pending the repeal of the Chinese exclusion act. This completes the boycott by the whole of the Chinese communities in the Straits Settlements.

The Fourth in London.

London, July 3. — Instead of canceling the events which had been arranged for the celebration of the Fourth of July in London, it has been decided to postpone them until July 8, out of respect for the memory of the late Secretary of State John Hay. These events include Ambassador Whitehead Reid's reception, for which 2,000 invitations have been issued, and the American Society, guests from the Forest City, and the Seventh certainly did its best to entertain the thousands of people who gathered to watch the crack corps go through its maneuvers.

Off for the Oil Town.

A few minutes after 9 o'clock the regiment marched out of the armories, headed by Drum-Major Cockburn and its two fine bands. Down Dundas and Richmond streets they marched to the G. T. R. station, watched by crowds of people. The special train, which was waiting on the second track, contained twelve comfortable coaches, a baggage car, two coaches for the bands, a car for each company, and one for the officers. Each company's number was pasted up on the car it was to occupy, and a guard was stationed at each door, so that there was no confusion in getting entrained. The regiment was booked to leave at three minutes after arriving at the station.

Gave the Townspeople "Their Money's Worth" Despite Showers of Rain.

The Seventh Regiment of Fusiliers had a splendid outing in Petrolia on Saturday, and certainly gave the citizens of that active town "their money's worth" despite the fact that the rain fell intermittently during about half of the day. Besides having its two new companies in line for the first time outside of London, the regiment had a remarkably large turnout of members, not being more than twenty short of full strength.

And never did the Seventh drill and maneuver in smarter order than they did in the streets and the park of Petrolia. Very luckily, the rain ceased for an hour or so, both in the afternoon and the evening, just at the time when the Seventh was booked to entertain its numbers on the programme. Outside of the death of the rain, the regiment was on its way to Petrolia, which fact was a credit to both the regiment and the railway officials.

The boys made themselves at home in the train as only holidaying soldiers know how. Rifles were stacked, side arms and bullets removed, and then a "fire" of jokes, songs and stories of all kinds was in order. Sgt. I. J. Isard, of the Twenty-ninth Waterloo Regiment, who was attached to the Seventh for the occasion, proved to be a great entertainer. Mr. Isard is acknowledged to be a first-class comedian, and he placed his attainments in the singing, dancing and fun making line at the disposal of the Seventh. With a good tenor voice, and knowledge of all the latest songs, Sgt. Isard took the lead in many an impromptu programme on the train during the spare hours of the day.

Shortly before the scores of oil derricks of Petrolia came into view, the train began to come to a halt. The regiment was met by hundreds of people at the station and given a warm reception. Gentlemen members of an active committee were to be "spotted" by their red badges of authority, as they hurried to and fro making sure that everything would run smoothly. Many of the soldiers had their sergeants' service jackets, with them and the (Continued on page 2.)

The Kaiser Is Victor In Diplomatic Battle

France Has Consented to German Proposal for Moroccan Conference.

Paris, July 2. — Prince von Radolin, the German ambassador, called at the foreign office last evening by appointment, and during a two-hour talk with the Premier, M. Rouvier, received from him the French response to Germany's last note concerning Morocco. The response takes into consideration the assurances Germany had given relative to French interests in Morocco, and modifies some of the objections at first raised against a conference.

The general tenor of the response is favorable to the principle of a conference.

Diplomatic circles, therefore, regard the negotiations as practically closed, as little now remains to be done except to adjust details. This, however, may take some time, as each side is tenaciously contesting every step.

SWEDEN TO FIGHT THE NORWEGIANS

Armies of Two Nations Face to Face and Battle Is Expected Hourly.

Christiania, Norway, July 2-6 p.m. — It is reported that a Swedish squadron is on its way here.

There is intense excitement.

Two armies of Norway and Sweden now confront each other along the frontier. An overt act may precipitate fighting at any moment.

Stockholm, Sweden, July 3. — Sweden tonight is preparing for war with Norway. The first hostile move was made today, when the Government issued a proclamation, to become effective immediately, declaring Stockholm, Karlskrona, Gothenburg and Farsund, to be war ports, and excluding all foreign warships from entering their harbors.

It is reported here that the Norwegian army is already being mobilized on the frontier, and that a clash may occur at any time. The movement of the Norwegian army began on Friday, but at that time Norway was in view. The explanation given out for this extraordinary movement of troops was that the annual reviews were in progress, and that nothing more was intended. Following close upon this, however, came the announcement that the Swedish Government had introduced in both houses of the national legislature a bill placing $25,000,000 at the immediate command of the Government to enable it to take such measures as it might deem necessary in the crisis with Norway.

It is now reported that orders for the mobilization of the Swedish army have already been given, and that the troops are beginning to assemble at their respective meeting places.

The military establishments of both countries are on an excellent footing, and are splendidly equipped and officered. The first clash, if it comes, is likely to take place in the mountain passes near the frontier, which have already been fortified. Sweden will be compelled to force her way across the mountains if she hopes to conquer her neighbor.

Dutch Cabinet Out.

The Hague, July 3. — The cabinet, headed by Dr. A. Kuiper, has resigned. The resignation is due to the defeat of the Government in the recent elections in Holland.

COME ONE, COME ALL, TO PICNIC

Liberal Outing at Queen's Park Saturday, Will Be an Immense Affair.

The committee in charge of the sports programme for the Liberal picnic next Saturday announce that entries for the horse races, running and trotting, close on Friday. All entries should be handed to Mr. W. E. Robinson.

Entries for the relay races—bicycle and foot—also close Friday. Entries should be handed to Mr. H. E. Buttery.

Both of these events are sure to be well contested, as already several entries have been received. The prizes are well worth competing for, and they will by Friday next bring out a large field.

Attention is also called to the baby show, which is to be held at the picnic. Every baby entered will receive a prize, so that no mother will be disappointed. The Liberals especially desire that every baby on the grounds shall be entered, and every mother in the city is invited to bring the little ones to Queen's Park next Saturday. It makes no difference whether 20 babies or 200 babies are entered—all will receive nice prizes.

Future Liberal voters and their baby sisters will be expected to be present in large numbers with their parents at the picnic.

Chairman John Stevely, of the entertainment committee, stated today that arrangements had been completed for the feeding of 10,000 people in two of the largest buildings on the park grounds.

Outside of the tickets which will be distributed to Liberals and their friends by the committee men of each subdivision, the Liberals desire to issue an invitation to all to be at Queen's Park Saturday. All will be the guests of Hon. Mr. Hyman, who, it may be remarked, has taken over the entire picnic, and is entertaining his friends and supporters at his own expense.

A handsome souvenir programme will be presented to every person on the grounds. The programme will contain a list of the sports, and on the cover will be a picture of London's favorite son, C. S. Hyman.

WARRANT ISSUED FOR SWINDLER AT REQUEST OF THIS GOVERNMENT.

London, July 3. — In compliance with the request of the state department at Washington the magistrate of Bow street police court issued a warrant for the arrest of Willoughby Middleton, who is wanted in New York for swindling on a large scale. The officials of Scotland Yard believe Middleton is in London.

Willoughby Middleton is the swindler who sold scores of people in this city lots in White Plains which he did not own. He was the head and tail of the New York Realty Corporation, which had an office in One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. He disappeared early in June and then his victims began to appear. When his record was looked up it was found that he was an ex-convict, having served a term for bigamy at Kingston, Ontario. There is a warrant out here for his arrest. The affairs of the New York Realty Corporation are now in the hands of a lawyer appointed by the creditors.

"Texas" Burdell's Case.

Toronto, July 3. — Detective Rogers has returned from Port Huron, where he instituted extradition proceedings against Harry Burdell, alias "Texas," who is wanted in London on charges of burglary, resisting the police and jacking. Argument will be heard three weeks from today.

Anderson, M. P. P., Ill.

Toronto, July 3. — Wm. Anderson, M. P. P. for East Peterboro, is seriously ill in his home in Ontario.

He is a farmer, 61 years of age, and a Liberal. He went home about two weeks before the close of the session suffering from pleurisy.

CANADA WILL INVESTIGATE.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, July 3. — Canada is going to make an independent investigation into the Agnes G. Donohoe affair. Sandford H. Pelton, K.C., of Yarmouth, has been commissioned to visit Uruguay, and ascertain the facts. Heretofore, negotiations have been carried on through imperial channels. This method has been found too deliberate. The captain and mate of the schooner are still in prison at Montevideo, on conviction of having stolen seals. Reports of the circumstances have been very conflicting to date.

CHAPTER XXVIII

Amicable Interviews.

The lawyer who never practiced reached the Tippecanoe Club every week-day thirty minutes past twelve o'clock. Within five minutes he had usually taken one sip from a martini cocktail, dry, after which he was ready to discuss the news of the day for ten or fifteen minutes before going to the grill-room for luncheon. A good figure of a man was Copeland. He had steady brown eyes in which a keen humor lurked, and his hair that had once been black was now white; but he was young and the sparkle in his eyes and the dark features was becoming. In a frock coat Copeland would have graced the Senate or the president's cabinet table.

He had telephoned Leighton to meet him one day near the end of September and Morris came in as Copeland finished his cocktail.

"Nothing? You reject my offer? It's better so at your age. When I was in the practice—"

"That was in the day," said Morris, "when a law library in the city meant the state decisions, a few text-books and a jug of peach brandy behind the stove. Our Supreme Court was held—"

"Our Supreme Court," began Copeland in his crisp level tone, "is supreme in nothing so much as in its own stupidity. They have established precedents in torts that are utterly opposed to the best English decisions. Why, sir—"

Leighton grinned and Copeland changed the subject abruptly. This matter of the idiosyncrasy of the Supreme Court was a joke of long standing between Copeland and his friends at the bar. They were forever mulling him catalogues of law books and abstracts of curious decisions from legal periodicals for diversion and enjoyed particularly suits involving the duties and obligations of common carriers.

Copeland, whom Leighton greatly admired, was a man of serious habits and pleasant fancies. He had, for example, a way of whisking away from a case or a question with a foreboding, and heavy with the sorrow of the world. He had made the acquaintance of the man of the corporation of which he was now president, which may explain his gravity. He was the originator of the plausible theory that the credit man in a refrigerator factory—Copeland's ice-boxes were sold in twenty states—suffers necessarily from intellectual chilblains. Copeland spoke in dry, tart way that lent weight to his dicta, whether he was talking at the club or addressing the directors of his company. He was thoroughly self-contained and with emotions that never got out of bounds. About once a month he received and declined an offer of the presidency of some bank or trust company. A business man who is a good fellow, and who, moreover, can say no to his best friend without offense, names his own salary in the golden age of commerce.

Copeland continued to speak with characteristic crispness.

"I have a customer up in the country who has made the acquaintance of your particular friend, Mr. Jack Balcomb. Do you follow me? A man of fortune, Balcomb, who does not cultivate people unless he sees something pretty good in them."

"I believe that is correct. Well, my customer, whose name is Jennings, has bought some stock in what is known as the Patoka Land and Improvement Company. Of which Balcomb is treasurer and one thing and another. There's a lawyer up there in his building—"

"An Cleve," suggested Leighton.

"That's the chap. His eyes look like a bowl of clam broth. He's the attorney for the company. The reason he holds the job is not difficult to determine. His father is a banker down here on the river somewhere and is well-to-do. Balcomb, I understand, is teaching Van Cleve how things are done in large cities."

"He's a competent teacher. Go on."

"Yes; but graduate work is a little stiff for a beginner."

"We wouldn't take that up now. Where do I come in?"

"Somewhat as follows: A client of your office is also in the game to a certain extent. I refer to Ezra Dameron, that genial, warm-hearted, impulsive old fellow. They tell me on the quiet that he's a monkey with his options. He's selling this company the old Roger Merriam property south of town at half its value and he's given them an option on his strip of land here on the creek. You know Balcomb's scheme. He's going to build an ideal flat out here at the edge of town—gardens, native forest trees—it's a delightful prospect. Dameron's corner is a great place for it. It makes no difference whether the scheme is practical or not. Balcomb makes it sound awfully good. It's been written up in the newspapers most seductively. It's so good that only the elect can get in."

"I know Balcomb and his habits of thought. How much is he paying Dameron for that property?"

"Balcomb has an option at sixty thousand. Jennings told me that the stockholders had already paid in most of their money so that the purchase is amazingly low. He must be hard up. Balcomb tells Jennings and the rest of them that he bought those lots merely to be able to get that creek and that's a bargain and they'll make a good thing out of the lots. But what's the matter with Ezra? I thought perhaps Carr's relations with Dameron were such that this information would interest you. The property is part of the Margaret Dameron trusteeship, and I hope Miss Dameron will get all she's entitled to. I believe that's the most curious will that was ever probated in our country," Copeland continued.

"The exasperation of which he has talked of legal matters. But that woman certainly had an extraordinary faith in her husband. Nobody else in the township would trust Ezra Dameron on round the corner with a hot base-burner. But Mrs. Dameron was as proud as Lucifer. She was a Merriam and she must have thought that by leaving her property to Ezra in trust for their daughter she would put a corner-stone under his honor."

"But, Scott, Thiele, 6 to 5; Tom McGrath, 3 to 1; Duell, 6 to 1; Rightful, 4 to 1; Mr. Jack, even; Monaco Maid, 3 to 1; Delmar—Don Hamilton, 5 to 2; Lone Wolf, 2 to 5; Sonny, 2 to 1; J. P. Mayberry, 3 to 2; Plantus, 3 to 5; play with and if he hasn't done well Dr. Schaeff, 10 to 1."

MURRAY & PUZZLE

Hit Safely Only Four Times—Clarke's Good Work for the Champions.

The rain which set in about noon on Saturday interfered considerably with the City League's programme for the day. Two games were scheduled for Tecumseh Park. One had to be called off altogether, and in the other—the morning match—only six innings were played. It was between the Blue Labels and the Londoners, and was a game of the game. The Londoners had some difficulty in getting a team together, and called a young chap, named Piers, out of the stand to fill a vacancy. He was placed in left field, and, by the way, he played his position in a manner that always tickles the fans. He was a busy time, too, accepting five chances, besides being at the business end of a very smooth double play.

The "cigar" started after Clarke very hard in the first, and it looked as if they would hit him "until the frost was on the pumpkin, Maggie, dear." They scored three runs on four hits, and three outs. One run came in the second on good hitting. After that, Clarke played the game all right. He had the Labels right on his staff all the while. That stout boy Murray, who was there with the goods for the Londoners, had all kinds of benders, good team, and nearly always good control. Jeffries was the only one who got into the game, and he was the Londoners' good single. The scoring ended there, for the rain was falling fast. Chester Stein and Jeffries were left with a couple of hits apiece. The Londoners played a good fielding game, and the Labels' only error was a fumble of a hard-hit grounder.

The Londoners were clear and unflinching on the ground on time, and avoid delays, such as have occurred in the last two games.

Reid De Potie. Because of recent hot weather in the family of the bride, the guests included only the immedi-ate members of the family and a few intimate friends. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, with plants and cut flowers, roses, marguerites, carnations and ferns being used in profusion. The ceremony was performed beneath an arch of marguerites
and orange blossoms by Rev. Arthur Carlisle, assistant rector of Croryn Memorial Church. Miss Ethel Garner, a young friend of the bride, acted as ring-bearer. The bride, who was given away by her father, was dressed in white silk eolienne, with satin and silver lace trimmings. She wore the conventional veil, with orange blossoms, and carried white carnations.
Among the many presents received by the bride was a fine piano, the gift of the groom. After the wedding luncheon Mr. and Mrs. De Potie left on the express for the east. Both young people are personally popular on the east side. On Tuesday evening Miss Yates was waited upon by her Sunday school class and presented with an address book and a gift of a china and an appropriate gift to the city
young couple will reside at 542 Ontario street.

RAIN SPOILED THE HOLIDAY;
CAUSED CITIZENS TO STAY HOMEThe rain of Saturday did one thing and did it up in shipshape. It spoiled the holiday. It did one other thing, too.
It gave those who wanted the holiday celebrated on Monday a chance to look exceedingly wise and say, "I told you so."Saturday played the weather game on the level. It took no mean advantages. As early as 7 o'clock in the morning it showed its hand, and the cards said "rain" was due, and when it came it was a real rain. The officials it was going to be a wet day.Consequently, the holiday was spoiled. Thousands of people who had expected to go to the park, to the theater, to the races, and to the Stanley simply remained at home and put in the time as best they could.
Down town but very few people were on the streets after 10 o'clock in the morning, and in the afternoon the crowds were still smaller.Strange to say, Port Stanley got the bulk of the excursion business Saturday. In the morning a couple of trains, heavily loaded, pulled out, and all day the crowds on the trains for the lakeside were rather thin. The officials say that something over 2,000 tickets were sold—a fact which appears to indicate that the people of London do not take much stock in the typhoidfever cry regarding the Port. On Dominion Day of last year only about 1,000 tickets to the port were sold, so that this year's business was about 100 per cent better than last year's.It is probable that the excellent service put on by the Pere Marquette had a great deal to do with bringing the people out. The cars are all first-class, and the time made was better than formerly. District Passenger Agent Britton is certainly looking after the Port Stanley business this year as it should be looked after.The London Field Battery fired a royal salute at noon.The holiday excursion business to outside points and into London was only fair, because of the rain.In the afternoon rain made it necessary to call off the baseball game in

HIS INAUGURAL
Rev. W. G. H. McAlister Preaches
First Sermon as Pastor of the Centennial.Rev. W. G. H. McAlister, M.A., began his ministry at the Centennial Methodist Church yesterday, and preached to large congregations, morning and evening. Mr. McAlister commenced his term under most auspicious circumstances.His first sermon was based on the text found in Luke IV, 18. He asked the question, "that would Jesus preach about in his initial sermon? We have a record of it, he said, of which the text proved a part, and we would do no better than to follow the same line of thought."Christ's first message was to the poor, the blind, the lame, and the philosophers had forgotten them; they had not paid their minds. The same was true of paganism, mammonism and moneyism. Christ lifted the poor
He exalted them. The common people heard him gladly.His second thought was to heal the broken-hearted. "That men die of broken hearts was no sentimental fiction. It is a fact. Men die of grief.
Men live a depressed life from a thousand different causes. Napoleon died of cancer, but grief hastened his end.
Dead sick men and they die. Many came with a message of hope and love to all such. Christ had a message also for the captives. That men are enslaved is a fact. Men are enslaved by evil associations surround them, and only the power of Christ is able to deliver and redeem them.Blindness was the last topic touched. It was an awful calamity to be blind. Never to see faces of loved ones, the blue of the sky, or any of the beauties of nature was something terrible beyond conception. Christ did not come to practice medicine or surgery.
He came to open men's eyes to duty, to opportunity, to life.Mr. McAlister's closing remarks were to impress upon his hearers the practical side of this question, and to urge men to work for the Master's cause.
