Jacob's Ladder.

Ah ! many a time we look on starlit nights

Up to the sky as Jacob did of old.

Long looking up to the eternal lights,

But nevermore, as to the Hebrew boy,

Each on his way the angels walk abroad,

And nevermore we hear, with awful joy,

Yet, to pure eyes, the ladder still is set,

Many bright messengers are moving yet

And angel visitants still come and go ;

Thoughts, that are red-crossed Faith's outspread-

Heart-wishes, making bee-like murmurings,

Spirits elect, through suffering rendered meet

Disobedience. By the gate of the garden near the wood, A brother and sister together stood, "Beyond the gate you are not to roam," Their mother had said as she quitted home ; But, tired of playing within the bound, Frank opened the gate and they looked around "O Jessie," he cried. " how I long to go To play for awhile in the wood below !"

"But, Frankie, what did our mother say ?" Said the little one tempted to go astray, "She thought in the wood we might be ha ed.

Said Frank ; but we need not be alarmed ; There is nothing to burt us, and oh ! just see That beautiful equirrel on vonder tree ! And away ran Frank to the green retreat. While Jessie followed with flying feet.

They chased the squirrel with laugh and shout, They gathered the flowers and played about, And then, as they feared it was getting late, Returned unhurt to the garden gate. No questions were asked, and nobody knew What Frank and Jessie had dared to do, Till Saturday night, as they sat alone, Frank to his mother the truth made known.

"But mother," he said ;" tho' we went in wood

We got no harm as you thought we should ; Into the water we did not fall, Nor did we injure our clothes at all." " My son," was the answer, " it may be so; Yet something you lost in the wood, I know ; Think well, and then tell me," the mother said As she laid her hand on Frankie's head.

" My knife, my ball and my pence," thought he "I have them all safe-and what could it be? I know," at length he said with a start-"I have lost the happy out of my heart! I have not feit easy since then," he sighed, "And I could not be merry, although I tried. Mother, I'm certain not all my play Made up for the loss that I had that day."

Frank's tears fell fast as the summer rain, But the happy came back to his heart again, As he to his mother his fault confessed, And her pardoning kiss on his lips was press Dear children, remember this simple lay, For if in forbidden paths you stray, Though you seem unburt, and your fault be hid, You will lose a treasure, as Frankie did.

Hysterics, Nervousness Cured. NEWARE, N. J., Oct. 10th, 1862. DR. RADWAT: Your Fulls and Keauf Keilef have saved my daughter's life. In June last she was eighteen years of age, and for three months her memers were suppressed. She would frequently vomit blood, uffer terribly irom headache and pann in the minail of the back and thighs, and had frequent fits of hysteries. We commenced by giving her six of your Fills every hight, and rubbed the Keady Keilef on the regime. Back, when to our joy she was relieved of her difficulty. She is now well and regular, and has been so ever since. In any attack where prompt action upon the sys tem is required, the Pain Killer is invaluable. It-almost instantaneous effect in Relieving Pain is truly wonderful; and when used according t ctions, is true to its name.

A PAIN KILLER

is, in truth, a Family Medicine, and should be kept in every family for immediate use. Persons travelling should always have a bottle of this remedy with them It is not unfrequently the case that persons are attacked with disease, and before medical aid can be procured, the patient is beyond the hope of recovery. Captains of vessels should always supply themselves with a few bottles of this emedy, before leaving poit, as by doing so they will be in possession of an invaluable remedy to resort to in case of accident or sud (n attacks of siokness. It has been used in

Severe Cases of the Cholera, and never has failed in a single case, where it was thoroughly applied on the first appearance of the symptoms'

merits of our article, we would say that we shall continue to prepare our fain Killer of the best and putest materials, and that it shall be every $w \pm y$ worthy of their approbation as a family medicule IF Price 25 cents, 50 cents, and \$1 00.
