SAD DEATH OF MRS. O. C. S. WALLACE

News of the death of Mrs. Wallace, wife of Dr. O. C. S. Wallace formerly of Canada in this county was received here with deep regret and sorrow for the afflicted husband. We clip the following report:

"So serious were the burns sustained by Mrs. O. C. S. Wallace, wife of Rev. Dr. Wallace, pastor of Westmount, Quebec, Baptist church, that she succumbed at the Montreal General Hospital on Sunday morning 20th. On Friday, Dr. Wallace was suddenly attracted by the screams of his wife, in the kitchen. Rushing to her aid, he found her enveloped in flames. Her clothing had ignited from the gas range. Dr. Wallace lost no time in extinguishing her burning garments, but not before Mrs. Wallace had received fatal burns. Mrs. Wallace was the daughter of the late John Moule, of London, Ont. Previous to her first marriage to Prof. James E. Wells, LL.D. of Toronto, she was principal of the Canadian Literary Institute. Later she founded Harding Hall, a girl's school in London, Ont. This work she relinquished to become principal of Moulton Ladies college, Toronto, where she remained until her second marriage in 1904 to the Rev. O. C. S. Wallace."

Mrs. Wallace was a great help to Dr. Wallace in the multiplicity of literary efforts which he undertook. Only by her united efforts could he accomplish all his writings besides the work of a pastorate.

DIED

OTTAWA LETTER

OTTAWA, May 25—Since the return of Sir Robert Borden from the Imperial Conferences and his visit to France, there is a noticeable change in the political atmosphere here. It is becoming changed with expectancy of important moves on the part of the government, and the possibility that big issues to be submitted may have surprising results.

Friday the 18th instant will be a memorable day in Canadian parliament history. The Prime Minister was in his place, and on both sides of the House the usual sight of full benches presented itself. A tense feeling pervading the happening of important events prevailed.

Sir Robert Borden had come back to Canada with a mind deeply impressed with vivid and inspiring scenes he had witnessed overseas, the knowledge he had gathered in conference with fighting men, wounded men, Overseas and British statesmen, and the need, most urgent and appealing, for greater effort on the part of Canada.

After reviewing, in his masterly address, and important proceeding of the Imperial War Conferences in which representatives of the Overseas Dominions and the British Government took part—and which Lloyd George tells us constitute a landmark in the constitutional history of the British Empire—the Prime Minister with impressive eloquence and gravity unfolded the message that he had brought back from our men in the trenches, our wounded in hospitals, and our military leaders—the call which must have quick and hearty response—that we immediately provide more men, and still more men, to support, sustain and reinforce the noble sons of Canada who for our sake and our country's safety are enduring and sacrificing in the trenches of Flanders.

In thrilling words the Prime Minister reminded the House of the tremendous responsibility that now rests upon this country; and declared his firm conviction that no true Canadian who realized the awful stake in this war could for a moment think that our efforts should be relaxed.

Drawing a living picture of the magnificent discharge of duty which has made us a Canada and has crowned it with glory that will never fade; and lifting the veil so that all can discern the great perils of the months immediately before us; the Prime Minister solemnly warned parliament and the country that there must be firm determination on our part to do our duty to the very end.

And the great responsibility and duty now, Sir Robert declared, is to supply the four Canadian divisions that are at the front with reinforcements.

And if we should fail in this what will be the end? The four divisions that today proudly bear the name and uphold the honor of Canada will dwindle to three; the three will dwindle to two; the two will dwindle to one; and finally the one, and Canada's name and Canada's honor, will be blotted out.

We may well rejoice in the knowledge that our great leader would never let the illustrious record of Canadian achievement be thus blackened, or suffer the blood of Canada's sons to be poured out in vain. He said:

"I bring back to the people of Canada from these men a message that they need our help, that they need to be supported that they need to be sustained, that reinforcements must be sent to them."

These were the burning words—the fiery cross—that Sir Robert Borden delivered before parliament. And then, with a directness that will appeal to every true Canadian here, he said:

"Common gratitude, apart from all other considerations should bring the whole force of this nation behind them."

And following that pronouncement of national responsibility and duty, never doubting that the hearts of Canada would cheerfully respond, the Prime Minister declared:

"I have promised in so far as I am concerned, that this help shall be given. I should feel myself unworthy of the responsibility devolving upon me if I did not fulfil that pledge."

Therefore, the Prime Minister announced that the government had resolved to submit to parliament proposals for compulsory military service with a view to raising at once reinforcements of 50,000 at least, and probably 100,000 men.

It is understood that the proposals will be ready be laid before parliament on the 28th instant.

Only three or four of the opposition side of the House gave outward token of approval of the policy announced by Sir Robert. Dr. Michael Clarke and Hugh Guthrie were the most emphatic. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and all his other supporters, sat through the whole address in dead silence.

On the government side the members cheered again and again, and when the Prime Minister was through they rose up en masse and made the House ring with applause.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Pugsley, Hon. Mr. Hazen and the irrepressible D. D. McKenzie spoke.

The leader of the opposition did not rise to the occasion. He did not think the Imperial Conferences were necessary. He did not think they had resulted in any good. While asserting that his party would remain in the war to the end and would do their duty to the best of their judgment, he would decide nothing about compulsory service until the proposals were before the House.

Mr. Pugsley and Mr. McKenzie both went off on the well beaten partisan track, making bitter attacks on the government Mr. McKenzie was very pronounced against compulsory service. Mr. Pugsley was more guarded.

Although there is room for question the better opinion at present appears to be that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his supporters, excepting a few, will support the government's policy. The government have a solid following in the House on this big question; and the leading Liberal papers are also backing them.

Sir Wilfrid undoubtedly has party difficulties. He is the man who has the troubles. Many of his Quebec followers are hotly against the government policy. These are engineering the outbursts of bad temper that are reported from Montreal and other parts of the Province. It should be carefully noted that the men who are making the noise in Quebec are Liberals who would oppose the government in any event. It should be as carefully noted that the noise makers do not represent or speak for the people of the Province of Quebec. They speak only for themselves. It is believed that there will be found to be a strong, common sense approval of the Government's policy prevailing through Quebec.

BELGIAN LABORER'S APPEAL

(From Pro-Belgia)

The Belgian laborers have sent the pressing appeal herewith to the workmen of all nations:

"In the name of the international solidarity of workmen, the laboring class of Belgium, threatened with slavery, deportation and enforced labor at the profit of the enemy, address a supreme appeal of the world. We do not ask for words of sympathy, but for deeds. Being human, we know you will understand.

Our situation is desperate. Germany, as you know, attacked and terrorized Belgium in 1914, because the latter defended its neutral rights, its sworn faith and its honor.

Since then, Germany has martyred Belgium. She has made it a prison whose boundaries are as guarded as those of the battle fronts by the trench.

WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana.—"My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 109 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy."—Mrs. Wm. GREEN, 332 S. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy.

If there is anything about which you would like special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

ches and electric wires and quick-firing guns. All our constitutional liberties have been abolished. Security is no more, and the lives of our citizens are endangered in the hands of arbitrary police, who know neither limit nor pity.

For nearly two years this infectious state of idleness has been maintained until the day in October, 1916, when Germany, short of laborers, bethought herself of the laboring forces of Belgium.

Yes! the Germans have created the state of idleness in Belgium, and have maintained it to their profit:

In refusing England, who consented to the exportation to Belgium of raw material, the diplomatic control to guard against seizure of same by Germany;

In preventing the Belgian communes, various associations and individuals, through the medium of terrorizing edicts, from contributing work to the unemployed, from organizing industrial schools for developing public utility service.

Thus, 500,000 laborers have been reduced to forced idleness and maintained therein.

Contrary to the rumors which the Germans spread abroad, these unemployed are not dependent upon the municipal budgets upon public charity. They have been attended to in all dignity and fraternity, by a private organization, exclusively Belgian, which complains not of its duties nor its mission. The solidarity of the Belgian social classes assures the life of this magnificent organization without precedent in the history of mutual relief societies.

To those 500,000 unemployed laborers,

the German authorities hold the following.

Either you will sign a contract binding you to labor for Germany or you will be reduced to slavery.

In either case, it is exile, deportation, forced labor to the enemy's profit, to the interests of this enemy, and against our Country; formidable punishments, the most cruel that tyranny has ever invented as penalty for crimes, and these as such, which were they? Involuntary blindness which despotism has created and maintained.

And, in spite of the most odious urging, the Germans do not succeed in obtaining the signatures which they dare to call voluntary in their official communication to neutral countries. They take our men by force, your brethren as well as ours; they are held up daily by the thousand; are torn away from their homes, their wives and families; at the point of the bayonet they are conducted to cattle-trucks where they are transported to France and Germany.

On the western frontiers, they are brutally forced to dig trenches, to prepare military aviation camps, to build strategic railroads, to fortify German holdings. And when these victims persist in refusing to accomplish such labor forbidden by International Law, the Germans starve and ill-treat them, beat them, fill them sicken often they are wounded and sometimes killed.

In Germany, they are thrown into mines, quarries and lime-kilns, regardless of age, professions or trade. Young men of 17 are thrown along with men of 60 and over. Is not this the slavery of antiquity with all its horrors?

50,000 workmen employed and unemployed have already been transported, as convicts or slaves. Each day, a new district is raided; it is accompanied by warring apparatus of quick-firing guns, numberless soldiers as for an attack, and the dismal military operation against these poor, disarmed people may terrorize them, but leave them always conscious of their violated rights.

Do not forget that the soldiers who are the tormentors of our Belgian workmen are German workmen. And 500,000 perhaps, 800,000 men will be deported if you do not bar the way.

After the men will follow the women, no doubt.

Another 500,000!

It is the entire Belgian working class which is threatened with slavery, with decay, and death.

Do you know, Brethren, what the Germans thrust upon our men as "salary"?

Thirty pennings per working day. (Six cents.)

And the food!—The Belgian civilian prisoners who return from Germany after three months detention, have lost the third of their weight. They are unrecognizable, anemic, invalid; many can never recover their health, and cling to life but a short time. If this is the fate of prisoners who do nothing, how awful the fate reserved to the deported Belgians who are forced to do the hardest labor!

We did our utmost to escape this burden of slavery.

Our very effort was in vain. Germany whose need for labor is extremely pressing, has not consented to put off the application of her edicts one day, even one hour. Her answer was more soldiers and more guns. Now, the Belgian working-classes look towards the Neutral Powers for aid.

Before this crime of lese-humanity, the hope is felt that Neutral Powers will be inspired the energy to act. Would not silence make them participants to this abominable deed?

The Belgian laboring class in anguish, wonders whether they will once more as Pontus-Plate under pretext that the German calumnies did not coincide of their victims.

Belgium, martyrs of Right, does not want any verbal assurances or platonic sympathy. Belgium wants acts. Will the Neutrals and their governing factions let do and ignore? Will they let civilization rush backward to barbaric ages when the vanquished were carried away into slavery with the victor. Will they allow the working class of a civilized nation to be crushed out of existence?

If others act thus, if the world must once more witness such cowardice, we beg you at least to be our friends, our saviours.

We do not doubt your sincerity, our cause is yours.

If seems that if we did not denounce the outrage which threatens you you would condemn us for it some day saying: "You had not the right to keep silent and suffer your wrongs in silence you are the depositaries for your portion of the honor of working-class conditions. If the people of a civilized nation are reduced to servitude, all working-classes are affected. It is a terrible precedent. We, workmen of Belgium, we would not have tolerated such an injustice. The present day labor has evolved from slavery; it cannot return to its former conditions."

It seems we hear these words bidding us hope. You are numerous, powerful and energetic!

You alone can prevent the entire working-class of a civilized country from falling into slavery.

From the depths of our distress, we count upon your assistance.

Now is the time to act. As for us, even though force will succeed in reducing our bodies to a state of servility, for the time being, our spirit will never be curbed.

We add one word: "Whatever our tortures, we do not wish for peace but in the triumph of justice and the independence of our Country."

THE BELGIAN LABORERS IN BELGIUM

THE GRAY-DORT VERSUS THE TRAIN

What do you do when you drive your automobile to a railroad crossing? Um huh. Oh yes; I see; you stop; look both ways to see that there is no train approaching; and then you proceed carefully across the track.

Now, Mr. Careful Motorist, you never realized how rare you are—how different from the other drivers, did you? Just to prove to you what a paradigm you are, so that you may have just and ample reason for buying a gold plaque, cast your eye over these facts which come from the Southern Pacific Railway as the result of two years' investigation:

525 drivers smashed through the gates when they were down at the crossings and the bells were ringing a warning.

69 1-2 p.c. of the 20,000 cars observed looked neither to the left nor right.

2.7 p.c. took the pains to look both ways.

27.8 p.c. looked one way along the track.

19.3 p.c. or 3,301 cars dashed over the track at a reckless speed. And—here is where you see how wonderful you are—35 drivers of the 20,000 stopped their machines before crossing the tracks, to make sure that no trains were approaching.

Mr. Annetias, you had better leave a membership card; the witness appears to be weakening.

If more testimony is needed, it can be obtained from other railroads. For example, the Illinois Central found that 55 per cent of the automobile crossings the company's tracks went at high speed, with drivers looking neither to left nor right, while two-thirds of all the cars observed, went over the tracks in excess of 30 miles an hour.

This testimony appears a strong indictment of the motorist and shows that the majority of railroad accidents and near accidents where motor cars are concerned in the coroner's report, may be placed at the door of the driver. A big percentage of deaths have been laid to the attempt of the driver to beat the train to a crossing—trying to save time but not trying to save lives. It can be seen that the Railroad's attempt to emphasize "Safety First" needs a co-operating enrollment of motorists.

The following is from Jamaica where Gin Pills enjoy a very large sale. 'I was a clerk in a store in Jamaica but had to give up my position on account of kidney trouble. I purchased one box of Gin Pills from a local Druggist and before it was all finished I was entirely better and able to return to my work. I recommended them to a friend who was also in a similar condition and he tried them with the same good results. I may tell you I tried many remedies in Jamaica before I got your Gin Pills. Yours very truly, Thomas Price, Bog Walk, Jamaica.' Or buy a box from your druggist—50c. a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited Toronto, Ont. U. S. Address—NA-DEU-00, Inc. 202 Main St., Buffalo, N.Y.

The Gray-Dort car took part in some train versus auto tests this week that demonstrate why the motorist must watch the railroad crossings and not leave the burden to the man in the cab or to a watchman that may or may not be on duty. A Southern Pacific train pulled by an Atlantic Type engine and made up of eight passenger coaches making a total train weight of 750,000 pounds was used in the test with the Gray Dort. An engine was not used alone because it would serve no practical purpose and for the surprising reason to laymen offered by R. J. Clancey, assistant to the general manager of the Southern Pacific, that an engine cannot stop as quickly as the engine and train.

The first test was made at 50 miles an hour and the train came to a stand in 1290 feet. This speed, although equalled by many on the highway, is an exception, and to make the comparison more practical, no similar test was made with the Gray-Dort. Following are the distances required to stop the train and car at speeds of 40 miles an hour, 25 and 15.

Table with 3 columns: Speed (40 miles, 25 miles, 15 miles) and 2 rows: Gray-Dort (22 feet, 12 feet, 4 feet), Train (900 feet, 500 feet, 300 feet)

In addition to demonstrating the worth of the Gray-Dort in braking power, the general proposition that the automobile driver is the one who has it in his power to avoid crossing accidents if he takes even small precautions. The engineer of a train traveling at 40 miles an hour must see the danger 900 feet away even if he knows the car will not stop. The driver of the car can avoid the danger when 22 feet away from the crossing. At all speeds the flexibility of the car over the train places the responsibility morally with the driver of the machine.

Miss Marie Dillon and Miss Mabel Heeman, two pretty young women who aided in the demonstrations to test the utility of the Gray-Dort's combination clutch and service brake, had no difficulty in making the quick stops and discover that the device is "excitement proof." "There is no need to change the position of the feet in stopping," said Miss Dillon, "and this makes the Gray Dort easy to drive either in traffic or on the highway."

Had Ship's anchor fall on my knee and leg, and knee swelled up and for six days I could not move it or get help. I then started to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and two bottles cured me.

SELECTIVE CONSCRIPTION

The proposal of Sir Robert Borden to raise 100,000 men by selective conscription is one that should appeal to all reasonable men. We have thrown our whole national resources into what we know to be a righteous war provoked by diabolical rulers of a great but misguided people, Canada's shame would be beyond measure if we sacrifice our noble heroes now in France and Flanders by refusing to lift our hand to maintain or assist them there.

One hundred thousand men for Canada means 6,500 for Nova Scotia, about 325 men for Kings County, 42 for Kentville and 26 for Wolfville. These figures are not actual, but according to proportionate population. As a matter of fact towns like Kentville, Wolfville, Berwick and Canning, which contain about one fourth the population of the County would be expected to raise one half of the proportion for Kings County. The needs of extensive and intensive cultivation of the soil for increased production would prevent many young men from being taken from the county which is really all one farming district. This war is to be won on the soil as well as in the ranks and strong husky farmers must not be taken overseas, but trained for home defence and compelled to work the soil with all their energy.

So from the towns must go young men of military age who are doing work not necessary to keep back German oppression. From the stores and offices, factories, railway shops, must go forth young men to answer to the call of our County, and their places filled by women or men of non military age or incapacitated by physical disabilities.

The registration under this selective conscription would presumably be of all men of service age from 18 to 45 years. From these would be selected those of 20 to 30 years from which the necessary draft for overseas forces some even of this age might be exempted as being of more use in some other employment, others through physical disability, some as being the only and necessary support of dependents, keeping them at home, and some should be exempt because their families have already been represented at the front and perhaps been called to mourn the death, wounding or reported missing of a loved one.

When the Government has consulted with the opposition leaders we will no doubt have a fair and impartial conscription bill which will commend itself to whole Dominion.

A SPARTAN MOTHER
 (From the Halifax Herald)

HALIFAX, May 24—Among the returned soldiers of the last arrival at Halifax, awaiting sailing orders, during his detention his father died. Friends at first it was thought that amputation would be necessary. A splendid constitution and a never-failing cheerfulness combined with surgical skill and careful nursing worked wonders towards recovery and the gallant lad is now at home and will be able to effectively help his widowed mother, his younger brother and his sisters in the care of one of the best farms in the Cornwallis valley.

There is an inspiring story in connection with the going overseas of young Blanchard. Here it is told for the first time:

About two years ago the battalion of which Private Blanchard was a member was held for a considerable period in Halifax, awaiting sailing orders. During this detention his father died. Friends of the family used their influence to get the young soldier discharged so that he could be of assistance to his mother in the care of the farm. This was done without the knowledge of the mother and finally certain documents reached her for her signature before the discharge would be given. SHE REFUSED TO SIGN.

Heartbroken the mother was at the death of her husband, badly as she needed the assistance of her stalwart son she would not give her consent to his drawing back after he had enlisted. Justly proud was the young soldier having such a mother and her decision filled him with a great joy and strengthened him in his determination to do a man's part. In the fact that he has been spared to return, crippled though he is, all Nova Scotia rejoices. There are many mothers in Nova Scotia like Mrs. Blanchard who set their boys honor or as even more precious than their own love.

"THE ETERNAL CITY" CROWDS THE LYCEUM THEATRE TO ITS INVITED AUDIENCE

(New York Telegraph)
In "The Eternal City" the Famous Players have turned out a film which it can be fairly said is the most pretentious production which any American concern has placed upon the market. The very artistic programmes which were given out to the invited audience which crowded the Lyceum Theatre last Sunday night portended an artistic performance. The audience was not disappointed. To the pleasure of seeing the very finished emotional actress, Pauline Frederick, in the leading role of the story adapted from Hall Caine is added the distinct pleasure of some of the finest backgrounds ever shown upon the screen. Much of the plot is set in Italy and England, and excellent photography assists in giving the audience a clear idea of just how beautiful Italian scenery—and particularly the country around Rome—can be. The lighting effects to be seen on the motion picture screen—notably those taken in front of the ruins of the Colosseum, in and about St. Peter's, and some of the bird's-eye views of the city—transcend anything of the kind which has heretofore been shown. There may be finer lighting effects to be seen on the motion picture screen, but it is doubtful if there are. The cast which interprets the story is obviously at war strength. The mob scenes in particular show the fine Italian hands of Directors Edwin S. Porter and Hugh Ford. Indeed, the whole picture is handled with attention to detail and combined with a knowledge of when and how to secure the best effects, which makes it a masterful production. In the role of Donna Roma Pauline Frederick is given a good opportunity to show the emotional stuff of which she is made, and she does not fail to produce the proof of the rapid increasing popularity. Miss Frederick lives in her role, if one may judge from the conviction which she gives it. Thomas Holding, the leading man who takes the part of David Rossi (David Leone), is a very forceful actor. He looks and acts the part he plays, and it is with the realization of having missed something good that the present writer admits the fact that he has not previously seen Mr. Holding's work upon the screen.

Although Miss Frederick, by her masterful acting and positive personality, wins great favor, she is nevertheless surrounded by so strong a cast that she merely appears as the largest star of the constellation, and not as the oft-quoted "bright particular star" of the performance. Among those whose work entitles them to at least a passing mention are George Jageroni (who, by the way, was one of the ablest thespians in "The Sign of the Cross") and Frank Losee.
It is, however, from the atmosphere of the play that the most powerful and pleasing effects have been gained. Not in any way discounting the work of the cast or the plot of the play, it is still true that without the superb beauty of the scenery and lighting of "The Eternal City" would have been far more ephemeral than will now be the case. The atmosphere of Rome and the Vatican have been used in the picture to great advantage. The scenes taken in the heart of the ancient capital of the world give a pictorial splendor to the production which could have been attained in very few other ways. It is a panoramic chef d'oeuvre.
The story deals with the life of David Rossi, who as a child has been left at the door of the convent. While still a young boy he is adopted by Doctor Roselli and becomes the companion of little Roma, the doctor's daughter. The two children are later separated, and the dramatic threads of their lives finally recross in Rome, where David is now a prominent Socialist and Donna Roma is the mistress of the great and unscrupulous villain, Baron Bonelli. After various vicissitudes the romances of David and Roma vanish and, largely through the influence of the Pope, the young couple are left to the contemplation of that "Eternal City, whose builder and maker is God."

The first showing in Nova Scotia of this superb eight reel photoplay will be at the Nickel Theatre, Kentville, on Monday and Tuesday, June 4th and 5th. Adults 25c, Children 15c.

OBITUARY

Mrs. John A. Jenkins

The death of Mrs. John A. Jenkins of Collinsville, Conn., took place on May 24th, 1917, at the Boston Hospital. Some years ago when she returned from the South, whither she had gone on an errand of mercy, she had a serious illness, from which she never recovered. A complication of diseases hastened her death. As Miss Annie Woodworth Best, she descended from the old Woodworth family of Connecticut coming from England in 1630.
On her father's side her ancestors were known in Murdoch's History as "The Good Samaritans." Messrs. Best and Burbridge, who could pity and relieve their fellow creatures, whether black or white. "These English gentlemen" came to Halifax in 1760, and their traits of Christian charity and kindness have passed down to Mrs. Jenkins in a marked degree. Numberless tributes from many places have been given of her generous nature, and loving devotion to those under her care. As a very successful teacher, and a graduate nurse of exceptional ability of the Massachusetts General Hospital, she is widely known and will be greatly missed. Besides her husband eight brothers and sisters survive her, five of whom came long distances to her funeral. The Hon. Clarence Woodworth Best, of South Dakota; Mr. Homer Best, of Minnesota; Mr. L. E. Best, of Vermont; Mrs. M. G. Foote, of Cornwallis, N.S.; Dr. B. F. Best, of Massachusetts; Dr. H. H. Best, of Maine; Mrs. R. S. Hood, of Massachusetts, and Mrs. W. T. Hallam of Toronto, Ont.

A Harley Davidson Surprise the New "Master 17"

For 1917 the twin cylinder Harley-Davidson models have a NEW MOTOR. We want you to see this new motor PERFORM.
A giant in power, this motor has the "jump," "punch," "getaway" and that extra burst of speed that will make it THE TALK OF THE TRADE.
"Pep" is the one word which best describes its performance.

Such SNAP has never been built into a motor before. Slowed down on a hill it will pull, AND KEEP ON PULLING.

We believe this motor will out-run and out-pull any other stock motor. We make this statement because the Harley-Davidson has won every big race of the past season and each one of these contests taught the Harley-Davidson engineers something new about motor performance, and all of this experience has been built into the 1917 twin motor.

Relaxing the Tension with a Good Gillette Shave

A day a-wing over enemy lines—scouting, observing, fighting, dodging shells and machine-gun bullets—is a nervous strain that has no precedent and probably no equal. When our airmen alight at last, after flights an eagle might envy, they certainly do enjoy the refreshing relaxation of a cool, smooth Gillette shave.

Nor is this appreciation of the Gillette Safety Razor limited to our airmen, or even to our own British armies. Every service has its own tense moments, hours or days, with its welcome intervals of relaxation when the Gillette is a friend indeed. Keen, compact, always ready for action, the Gillette Safety Razor is treasured in tens of thousands of kits on every fighting line on land and sea—and by no means least in the land of its birth, with the forces of our newest Ally.

Nor does its service end here, for "the man behind the man behind the gun", who in the factory, the office or on the land is bending every energy towards production—he too gets solid comfort and satisfaction out of the Gillette Safety Razor and its wonderful three minute shave.

Spend a five dollar bill to send a Gillette to one of your defenders—and get one for yourself to see how much he'll appreciate it!

Five Zeppelins Raid English East Counties, Doing Little Damage.

London, May 24.—Four or five German airships raided the eastern counties of England last night according to an official statement issued this morning. The airships dropped bombs and escaped, although pursued. The official statement reads:

Four or five hostile airships approached East Anglia shortly before midnight last night. The weather was overcast and a thick bank of rain clouds made observation difficult.

Four airships appeared to have penetrated inland into the eastern counties. They followed erratic course, and dropped a number of bombs in country districts, apparently being unable to locate their positions. The raiders were pursued by our airplanes but thick clouds enabled them to make good their escape. One man was killed in a Norfolk village. The material damage is believed to be negligible.

German Seize Four Steamers for Russia.

Petrograd, via London, May 25.—Four Swedish steamers with cargoes of varied character, bound for Russia, have been captured by a German submarine in the Gulf of Bothnia, the official news agency announces. Owing to the presence of submarines, it is added, traffic between Finnish and Swedish ports has been suspended.

Looking ahead to the distant day when Canada's soldiers will be called home, officers and men in the expeditionary force are being asked to answer questions relating to a scheme for agricultural settlement: Do you desire to take advantage of a scheme to assist in settlement after the war? Which province do you prefer to settle in? Would you work at prevailing wages on a farm to gain experience, provided your dependents were meanwhile given the same support as they now receive? The men are specially advised by headquarters to carefully consider these questions and be prepared for a final answer at an early date.

Visiting Nova Scotia

We had a call this morning from one of our subscribers in Dorchester Mass., Mr. R. S. Fitch, who is visiting his sister, Mrs. E. Watt, Mr. Fitch is a Kings County man and is in the Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Business in Boston. He has a son, a doctor, who has been in charge of a hospital in France since 1914. Mr. Fitch says that the New Englanders have hardly woken up as yet to the fact that they are in the big war, but that public opinion is being aroused rapidly and that soon the full force of Uncle Sam will be united with that of the other allies in the cause of freedom and democracy—Picton Advocate, May 26.

Another British Hospital Ship Sunk

London, May 29th.—The British hospital ship, Dover Castle, has been torpedoed and sunk, it is announced officially. The British armed merchant cruiser Hilary also has been torpedoed and sunk, and a British destroyer has been sunk, after a collision.

The Dover Castle, 8,271 tons gross and 476 feet long, was owned by the Union Castle Mail Steamship Company of London. She was built in 1904. The Hilary was a Booth liner of 6,329 tons gross, 418 feet long, built in 1908.

CROSS SICKLY BABIES

Sickly babies—those who are cross and fretful; whose little stomach and bowels are out of order; who suffer from constipation, indigestion, colds or any other of the minor ills of little ones—can be promptly cured by Baby's Own Tablets. Concerning them Mrs. Jean Paradis, St. Bruno, Que., writes: "My baby was very ill and vomited all his food. He was cross and cried night and day and nothing helped him till I began using Baby's Own Tablets. They soon set him right and now he is a fat, healthy boy." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Elder Brother Shoots the Younger.

Liverpool, May 24th.—At seven o'clock this morning Archie Tupper, of Milton, Queens country, aged 46 fired three shots from a 38 automatic colt revolver at his brother Francis Tupper, aged 38. Only one shot took effect, passing thru the shoulder. Archie Tupper has been brought to the jail here and the injured brother is at the home of Fred Freeman, in Milton.

Francis Tupper is a civil engineer at one time a student at Acadia and later a graduate of Dalhousie. He had been in the Canadian west for thirteen or fourteen years and had only recently returned for a visit to his native village, particularly to see his aged mother who has been residing with the eldest brother and his wife.

There was some trouble between the brothers and this morning Archie drew a revolver and fired point blank at Francis, the bullet taking effect in the younger brother's shoulder. Francis then turned and ran and two shots were fired after him from both of which he escaped.

Rio Janeiro, May 25th.—It is stated in official circles that Parliament will order the confiscation of all German ships in Brazilian ports as soon as the official report of the inquiry in the torpedoing of the Brazilian steamer Tijuca made at Bordeaux, is received. At the same time, Parliament will decree the revocation of Brazil's declaration of neutrality.

Sugar Drops in Price Again

The one important feature of the market during the last week has been sugar, which shows a decrease in price in all grades. Standard granulated is quoted at from $8.55 to $8.60 a decrease of about thirty-five cents per hundred. Potatoes are still selling at from $7.50 to $7.75 per barrel. There is no change in the price of fresh eggs. They are still selling at 34 cents per dozen.

Green stuffs generally have started to come in and the prices quoted are very high. The grain market seems to have taken a slight slump practically all lines, including bran, oats and middlings, have decreased in price. In sizing up the market generally there has been a decrease in the price of commodities and where changes have been registered it has been for the good of the consumer. No lines of importance advanced during the week.—St. John Telegraph.

Putting it up to the Judge

A negro was recently brought into police court in a little town in Georgia, charged with assault and battery. The negro, who was well known to the judge, was charged with having struck another. After the usual preliminaries the judge inquired:

"Why did you hit this man?"
"Judge, he called me a black rascal."
"Well, you are one, aren't you?"
"Yessah I is one. But, judge, s'pose somebody'd call you a black rascal, wouldn't you hit 'em?"
"But I'm not one, am I?"
"Naw, sah, naw, sah, you ain't one; but s'pose somebody's call you de kind of rascal you is, what's you do?"—Everybody's Magazine.

German Authorities Preparing to Take Away Belgian Girls.

Havre, May 27.—The Belgian authorities today made public a copy of an order served by the Germans on the city of Mons, as showing bad faith by the Germans in their announcement that deportations had been stopped at the request of Pope Benedict.

The order, which is dated April 15th, requires Mons to furnish six hundred young men at a German cavalry barracks before noon of the following day, equipped with clothing, shoes and provisions. The city is notified that it must pay three hundred marks for every man not furnished. The Belgian authorities say the indications are that the deportation will be extended to women, as the Germans are taking a census which includes women and young girls, as well as men.

The Turks are Panic Stricken

New York, May 25th.—A news agency despatch from Paris, published here today, says:

Turkey is swept with famine and pestilence, her people are panic stricken and her army's morale is utterly gone, according to information received here today via Berne. One hundred thousand desertions from the army are reported.

Realizing the loss of all Turkey fighting power 8000 Austrian troops have recently been sent to Palestine to attempt bolstering up the army in front of the British expeditionary forces. Four thousand German troops are said to be guarding the Government buildings, factories and bridges in Constantinople, while hundreds in the city are dying each day. Typhus is sweeping over the whole country, the reports declare. The deserters from the Turkish army, 100,000 strong, are said to have fled into the Anatolian Mountains and to be existing thru brigandage.

After Doctors Failed

A Well Known Resident of Port Hawkesbury is Restored to Health and Strength

One of the best known men in the town of Port Hawkesbury, N. S., is Mr. William Duff. He has been a member of the Municipal Council for 16 years, chairman of the school board, and held other responsible positions. Mr. Duff's words, therefore, can be taken as coming from a man who has the esteem and respect of his fellow townsmen. He makes no secret of the fact that he believes Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved his life, and that they restored him to good health, after several medical men had failed to cure him. Mr. Duff tells of his illness and cure as follows:—"About four years ago I was attacked with la grippe which left me in a condition difficult to describe. I was attacked with general weakness, and a constant dull pain in the stomach. I became so weak that I could not walk a hundred yards without sitting down to rest. The food I ate continually soured on my stomach. My nerves were all gone, and palpitation of the heart and a fluttering sensation all through my chest, especially at night was almost unbearable. I was finally compelled to go to bed, and called in a doctor, who said my heart was affected, and treated me for that trouble. After three months attendance, and feeling no better I called in another doctor. His treatment also failed to help me, and I tried a third doctor. This one said there was nothing wrong with my heart, that the trouble was due to my stomach. After treating me for a time he advised that I go to the hospital at Halifax. On a previous occasion when I had an attack of rheumatism I had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided that rather than go to a hospital I would again try this medicine. I got a supply of the pills and began taking them. In a few weeks I could feel my strength returning; my stomach was giving me less trouble, the palpitation of the heart disappeared, and after a further use of the pills I felt as well as ever I did in my life. I can truly say that I feel more thankful the words can express for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Profitable Beef Production

Experimental Farm, Nappan, N. S.
The results obtained at the Experimental Farm, Nappan, in feeding good butcher steers, heavy fed, versus good stockers, heavy fed, were as follows:—

Eight steers were selected and divided into two lots of four each, the four being in such a condition as would class them as good butchers, the other four as good stockers. All steers had the same treatment, that is, dehorned and fed a preparatory ration until they became accustomed to their feed and surroundings. The four good butchers, on Lot 1, heavy fed, weighed at the beginning of the period 4478 pounds, at finish 5355 pounds, an increase of 877 pounds in 93 days.

The good stockers weighed 4573 pounds at the beginning and at the finish 5295 pounds, an increase of 722 pounds in the same period. The original purchase price was, unfortunately, the same in both cases as the steers were purchased together under ordinary buying conditions or the good stockers would have been purchased at a cheaper price. The price was 6.25 cents per pound, live weight, and the selling price was 8.1 cents in both cases, as they were all sold together.

The gross profit for the good butchers was $153.83, for the good stockers $139.81. The total cost of feed for lot 1, good butchers, for 93 days, $99.16 and the same cost for lot 2, good stockers, length of period and feed being the same, having a net profit per steer of $13.68 for lot 1 and $10.98 for lot 2, a difference of $2.70 in favour of the good butchers.

The average profit per steer for three years for good butchers, heavy fed, was $18.38; for good stockers, heavy fed, $16.06, a difference of $2.32 in favour of good butchers, heavy fed.

The average cost for three years to produce 1 pound of gain in good butchers, heavy fed, was 10.33 cents; for good stockers, heavy fed, 11.08 cents, a difference of 0.75 or 7/8 cent per pound in favour of the former. The ration fed to both lots 1 and 2 was at the beginning of the period 60 pounds roots, 6 pounds meal, 1 pound molasses. At the finish 40 pounds roots, 16.5 pounds meal and 2 pounds molasses.

The meal mixture was made up as follows,—200 pounds grounds oats and barley, (equal parts by weight) 200 bran, 50.61 cake, 50 cotton seed. The cost of same was $1.50 per hundred weight. Roots were valued at $2.00 per ton, hay at $8.00 per ton, molasses 20 cents per gallon.

The above results would indicate that with selling prices the same, the greater profit would be realized from feeding good butchers, but the prices under ordinary conditions at purchasing and selling time would show a greater difference than the above, which would undoubtedly bring the good stockers up a little. In any case the better finish will give the good butchers a still greater advantage at selling time, so that we must conclude that they are the more profitable, more especially for a short feeding period.

A Copenhagen despatch on May 22 carried a report from Stockholm that three Swedish steamers had been captured by the Germans off Oorikder lighthouse and taken to a German port.

GERMAN SPIES TOLD BERLIN ABOUT SAILING OF U.S. SQUADRON

WASHINGTON, May 26—Four days before before the American destroyer flotilla arrived abroad, Berlin knew it was on the way, to what port it was going and on the day before the vessels steamed into Queenstown, German submarines had strewn mines about the harbor entrance.

This startling information revealing that German spies not only still are at their work in this country, but they have a swift and sure means of communicating America's war secrets to the fatherland came to the navy department yesterday in a cablegram from Rear Admiral Sims at London.

The admiral said his information was positive. His despatch was not made public and for obvious reasons nothing will be given out concerning how the news came into his possession or about the precautions which defeated the German's plans and enabled the flotilla to speed safely through the mine field.

An Eminent French Canadian

THE French-Canadians have always taken a close personal interest in the fortunes of what they call for short "Le Pacifique." Just as the English have abbreviated the Canadian Pacific Railway into the more familiar C. P. R. It is, therefore, only right that they should be represented on the board of directors, and no more fitting representative of the race could be found than Senator, the Hon. Frederic Lévesque, whose career has been one of such distinction in so many paths of life. Lawyer, business man, and philanthropist, interested in many charities, his days have been, and continue to be, full of useful labors in the upbuilding of his native country and in promoting the welfare of her people. His is one of those versatile natures, which, paradoxical as the expression may appear, is only at rest when in the midst of labor.

F. L. Bédou, the son of Louis Bédou, was born in St. Mathias, Riverview County, Quebec, on May 29th, 1846. Acquiring his education at the Collège de Ste. Marie de Lévesque, he chose law for his profession, and later became an LL.D. of Laval University. He was called to the bar in 1868, and made a King's Counselor for the Province of Quebec in 1886, and for the Dominion of Canada in 1888. Accurate knowledge, sound judgment and clear speaking made him one of the leading lawyers of his period. His brothers in the legal profession have recognized this. From 1891 to 1893 he was Barrister of the Bar in the district of Montreal.

Senator Bédou has been engaged as counsel in many celebrated cases. He repeatedly pleaded before the Privy Council in England; he was a member of the Royal Commission in the famous Whelan case of 1890; as counsel for the late Hon. E. Marier and his colleagues who were accused in connection with the Baie des Chaleurs Railway by the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, in 1891, he won a wide reputation; in 1898 and 1897 he was counsel for the Dominion before the Behring Sea Claims Commission. For years he had worked in partnership with Sir Louis Jetté, and he still energetically pursues his legal practice. Referring to Senator Bédou the "Montreal Star" says: "As a commercial lawyer he has few if any peers."

Not less successful as a businessman, Senator Bédou has been associated with numerous commercial enterprises. With the late David Morice, and the late A. F. Gault he took a prominent part in guiding the destinies of the V. Hudson Cotton Company, the Hochelaga Cotton Company, the St. Am's Cotton Company, the Canadian Colored Cotton Company (now the Canadian Cottons), the Dominion Cotton Mills Company; and as lawyer for all these concerns and a director of some of them, his influence has been strong in pointing out the channels through which business should be conducted. As a member of the board of directors of the Royal Electric Company he was one of those mainly responsible for its development. He promoted the Chamby Manufacturing Company, and with Sir Herbert Holt, was amongst the first to discover the possibilities of his hydraulic power.

Again, with Sir Herbert Holt, he was one of those mainly responsible for the building up of the Montreal Park and Island Railway Company; many real estate concerns owe their existence to this financier. He is vice-president of the Bank of Hochelaga and of La Beauvilliers Insurance Company. He has occupied and is occupying the position of director of the SENATOR THE HON. F. L. BÉDOU.

NEW DIRECTOR OF THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY. He is occupying the position of director in several other companies. It would be difficult to enumerate the different public welfare societies which have benefited by his zeal. During his presidency of St. Jean Baptiste Society the Monument National was erected in connection therewith, and the society became a powerful, useful and leading social and educational institution. It was also under his presidency that La Caisse Nationale d'Economie was established and became an important and evergrowing society. As a director of Montreal Technical School from its inception the work of Senator Bédou has achieved valuable results. In the care of the sick he takes a deep interest and in a government of the Montreal General Hospital and of the Notre Dame Hospital. He has been a Catholic School Commissioner, a director of the Parks and Playgrounds Association, vice-president of the Charity Organization Society, and vice-president of the League for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. He was formerly a director of the Montreal Citizens' Association. In 1902 he was called to the Senate by Lord Minto, where he has occupied the position of chairman of the Railway Committee. He continues to take a leading part on all the important committees and in everything that relates to legislation.

Senator Bédou has always been a believer in the Canadian Pacific Railway, and for many years has been a large shareholder of the company. On the directing body he succeeds the late Honourable Robert MacKay. If death has taken away one gifted in experience and wisdom has succeeded. In 1875 the then Mr. Bédou married ed Miss Caroline Angéline Desautels, Lady of Grace of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem in England, who takes a prominent part in many social spheres. They have been blessed with a family of seven sons, who are living, and two daughters. Captain Victor Bédou, one of the youngest of the boys, largely helped in the recruiting of the 68th French-Canadian Battalion, now overseas, and Captain Bédou is now fighting in the country from which his forefathers originally came.

"A marker of Canadian history." That is how the "Montreal Herald" has described Senator Bédou. The footsteps of the seventy-one years of his life have passed so lightly over his countenance that one would not think they had all trodden there. He is a man of active frame, medium height, and a physique that is more remarkable for its energy than for its strength. He moves with a quiet step, and the attitude in which you invariably find him is one of gentleness and kindness. The geniality of his manner makes the most timid of his interviewers feel at ease. He is an attentive listener, and is always capable of putting himself in the other fellow's place. One might say that he is one of those who would inspire men to do things because they are happy to follow his guidance rather than because they may feel it incumbent on themselves to obey his commands. Were it possible to build material monuments to generous deeds on the sympathetic side of existence, the spiritual course of Senator Bédou might be marked with memorials great as those which stand to his temporal achievements. French in his mother tongue, but he speaks English with a fluent harmonious voice.

Double Wedding at Berwick

Berwick, N. S., May 29—A very interesting event took place this afternoon in the Baptist church, when the marriages of Miss Nellie Erdine, and Miss Nina Burpee, daughters of the late Charles L. and Mrs. Illsley, occurred. The former became the wife of Lewis Leander Bishop, of Seamans, Sask., and the latter the wife of George Henry Merle, Magee, Somerset, Kings Co.

The church was prettily trimmed with evergreen, and an arch had been erected in front of the pulpit, which was also of evergreen and daffodils, and a white bell of flowers hung in the centre. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. W. Robbins, assisted by Revs. Messrs. R. H. Bishop and W. H. Spencer, Presbyterian, Waterville.

Punctually at half-past one, to the strains of the wedding march which was played by Mrs. R. N. Clark, sister of the brides, the wedding party came in. Miss Nellie was given away by her brother, Fred Illsley of Somerset, and Miss Nina by another brother, Earl Illsley, of Falmouth. Both brides were gowned in white silk and wore the conventional bridal attire. Nellie carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, and Nina American beauty roses. The ushers were R. N. Clarke, Berwick, and Harding Bishop, Wolfville.

Despite the heavy rainstorm the church was packed to the doors with friends, many of whom had come a long distance to witness the ceremony. Afterwards a reception was held in the vestry, and then the two couples left on the afternoon express for a short trip through the Province.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop will leave shortly for their home in the West, and Mr. and Mrs. Magee will reside in Somerset. Both brides' traveling suits were navy blue with hats to match. The presents were numerous and consisted of gold coin, cheques and other valuable articles.
