Sweet Eva!

CHAPTER XLIV.
"Then—then why did you come back here last night?" Philip asked in a strangled voice.

She looked at him without answering. Then suddenly she broke into a little wall:
"Oh, I don't know—I don't know. I suppose I was afraid. I don't remember how I came back or why."
"You came because you are my wife," said Philip agitatedly. "You came because you knew that neither Calligan nor any other man could come between us. You came because in your heart you knew that I love you—you know that I adore you."
He caught her in his arms. He held her fiercely, crushing her to him, almost robbing her of breath.

"I'll never let you go till you say that you love me. I'll never let you go till you say you've forgiven me. Even if I were sure that you hated me I'd never let you go. You're my wife."
"I don't love you."
"I'll make you. You can't look at me and still say that. . . . He felt that this was the last desperate fight for his happiness. His love for her and the fear of losing her made him cruel. He held her so that she could not escape him or even turn her face away. It gave him a sort of exultation to see the way the colour faded from her cheeks and how for a moment her eyes closed before the passionate insistence of his.

No Appetite

Nervous exhaustion leads to distaste for food. The nerves of the stomach are weak, digestion fails and you become generally upset and out of rest.

The secret of complete restoration is in getting the nervous system fully built up.

Mrs. R. Cheney, 208 Richmond St., Chatham, Ont., writes:

"I was troubled with indigestion, which caused me many sleepless nights. I would be in terrible distress at times, and would get no relief for two or three hours. For sixteen months I ate nothing but Shredded Wheat biscuits, as I dare not eat anything else. I did not know what to do, as I had tried so many different remedies as well as doctors' medicines, without gaining permanent relief. Finally I got some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and while on the second box noticed that I was improving. I continued the treatment until I am now fully restored, and have returned to my regular diet. My husband has also taken Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with splendid results, so we are glad to recommend it to others."

His voice broke, but he struggled on.
"And we've wasted all this time. I've been such a fool—I ought to have made you listen to me."
Eva—you said . . . was it true when you said that—the man you . . . you told me about that night—was it really me?"

The Broken Circle!

CHAPTER II.

The time came when she stood appalled at what she had done—when the clap-trap sentiments that she had once thought so heroic and grand appeared to her in their true light. The knowledge brought on a severe illness, and she died, leaving her two little daughters, Leah and Hettie. But, before she died, she wrote a letter to her far-off brother, who had never seen her since she was a child, owning to him that her marriage had been a fatal mistake, and praying him to take charge of her children—to save them, to rescue them, if he could, from a fatal and unwholesome atmosphere, and do the best he could for them.

He was Colonel Hatton when he received the letter. He placed it with his papers, intending to do what she asked, and in the whirl of his busy life forgot all about it.

CHAPTER III.

No two girls ever had a stranger education and a more unequal life than Leah and Hettie Ray. Sometimes they found themselves in the midst of comfort and luxury, with apartments at the West End and at the seaside, ponies to ride, servants to wait upon them, the best of masters, for "accomplishments," and of governesses for ordinary teaching, the prettiest a home for more than three months together.

Martin Ray was very kind, loving, and indulgent to them. He loved only three creatures during the whole course of his life—his wife and his children. He shared all he had with them. When strikes were plentiful, and the masses full of discontent; when the "workman's penny" rolled in; when men invited him to come and make their discontents greater and their misery more unendurable by depicting both in their blackest of colors—then he lived in luxury, and his daughters shared it with him. There would come poverty, squalor, common lodging-houses, common clothing, the want of even the necessities of life. There was one thing that amid all their ups and downs was never forgotten—study. No matter what happened, they always preserved their books and never missed their lessons. It was a strange life, most unuseful for young girls; but it was the only one they had ever known. During their mother's lifetime they had been more settled, they had lived longer in one place, they had been more uniformly comfortable; but now they never had

QUEER FEELINGS AT MIDDLE AGE

Women Should Know How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps at This Trying Period

Sheboygan, Wisconsin.—"I was run down, tired and nervous. I could not even do my own housework, could not sleep at night and all kinds of queer thoughts would come to me. Finally I gave up going to the doctor and a friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After the first bottle I could sleep better and I have kept on improving ever since. I have taken seven bottles now and am so happy that I am all over these bad feelings."—Mrs. B. LANGER, 1639 N. 3rd St., Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

For the woman entering middle age Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can be of much benefit. During this time of life certain changes take place which sometimes develop into serious trouble. Melancholia, nervousness, irritability, headache and dizziness are some of the symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a natural restorative, especially adapted to assist nature in carrying you safely past this time. Why not give it a fair trial?

Produce and Provisions.

(From Saturday's Trade Review.)

Codfish—The exports of codfish this week amounted to 21,878 quintals, of which 4,866 qtls. were shipped by S. S. Rosalind to New York for West Indies, and 12,844 qtls. from Belleoram from Harvey & Co., as follows:—By schooner John Llewellyn, 4,657 qtls. to Oporto; by schooner Gay Gordon, 3,500 qtls. to Oporto, and by schooner Sunset Glow, 4,687 qtls. to Malaga, and Friday from Messrs. Geo. M. Barr by schooner Annie C. Warren to Bahia, 4,228 quintals. The consumption in Oporto is over 1,000 qtls. per day, and the prospects of more profitable marketing in Southern Europe are greatly improved all round. The exchange situation is getting better, and there is very little codfish left in this market now to go forward.

Cod Oil—The export of Cod Oil this week amounted to 32,170 gallons to New York by the S.S. Rosalind from Messrs. Bowring Bros., Ltd., and A. Ebsary. The leather manufacturing plants of the New England States are getting busy and will, it is expected, soon be working in full capacity. The demand has improved in consequence, and it is expected that new oil will command a much better price. The local holdings are now very small.

Cod Liver Oil—A small shipment of 420 gallons was made to Halifax this week by A. E. Hickman, Co., Ltd., by the S.S. Bornholm. The New York quotation for Norwegian Cod Liver Oil is $21 per barrel this week, an allowance of $2 over January price for oil of No. 1 quality ready for the Druggist. This shows an improvement and that the tendency of new oil prices is upward. Newfoundland oil is not quoted this week, but the previous week it ran from $19 to $20 per barrel, and will likely run within a dollar of the new Norwegian oil. Further advance is expected.

Flour—The wheat market week eleven points this week between Monday and Thursday for May Wheat in Chicago, viz: from 147 1/4 to 136 1/4. This sudden reverse was quite unexpected and many dealers believe that it is only a temporary weakening, and that general conditions are not such as to warrant a decline of this nature that will be lasting. Winnipeg quotations also dropped four cents. It is rumored that an attempt is being made by certain big speculators to corner the wheat market, and that an envoy has arrived from Australian farmers to complete the deal. Leading brands in St. John's are $10.50 wholesale.

Pork—The market is quiet at last week's prices. The imports this week were nil, but there are fair consignments ordered for April and May shipment. The rising wave in Pork that was in evidence the past month seems to be easing off somewhat, and many dealers believe that prices will not go higher. Prices in the local market are the same as quoted last week, viz: Fat Back $29; Meats $31; Ham Butt $32; Spare Ribs $30; Family Meats $45; Boston Butt $32 per barrel, wholesale.

Beef—The market continues quiet at the comparatively low prices prevailing all the season. The fact that Pork seems to be taking a downward turn after the New Year, is regarded as a good indication that Beef will continue at the present low prices throughout the spring. The imports are 5,140 barrels to date, showing an excess of about 2,000 barrels over last year at this date. The prices in the local market to-day are, Bos Flank $26, Bos Packet $29, Family Special $21, and Boneless $21.50.

Melasses—Very little doing in the Barbados new melasses yet, as there is a feeling amongst Canadian dealers in this product that the price must decline. The new crop is now ready and a few shipments have been made to satisfy the immediate requirements. The importers in Halifax, St. John's and Montreal seem determined that they will not operate to any extent till the price at Barbados comes down. The Czarina is now on the way from Barbados with a cargo of oil, melasses. The local price is still 50 cents for Brandy.

Sugar—The Cuban surplus is being absorbed at a much better rate than was regarded possible in sugar circles a month ago, and there is no apprehension that the coming-on crop will be likely to carry any surplus into the coming year. The world production for 1922 will be seriously short, and it is now regarded as providential that Cuba should be able to make up the shortage. The St. John's quotation still remains $11.25 per hundred lbs. wholesale for American white granulated. The future trend of prices is so far very uncertain.

to-night will empty your bowels completely by morning and you will feel splendid. "They work while you sleep." Cascarets never stir you up or raise like Salts, Pills, Calomel, or Oil and they cost only ten cents a box. Children love Cascarets too.

Potatoes—Imported potatoes are now holding the local market and are selling at $3.50 to $4.00 in sacks of 180 lbs. and $2 for the 90 lb. sacks. Local potatoes from the nearby outposts were brought to the city this week and sold at $3.50 per barrel, and $1.80 the half barrel. We would advise local farmers to get forward their stocks and sell as soon as possible as big shipments have been ordered from P.E.I. and Nova Scotia.

Hay—There is no change in the market worth recording, and the firm tendency reported last week still prevails at home and in the Canadian market. The local quotation is $54.00 wholesale per ton, and three cents per lb. in single bales. The local supply is running short, but some large consignments are due next week. The sales of car lots of No. 2 Timothy at $29.00 and No. 3 at $26.00 in Montreal. The price is likely to hold up at present high levels till the grazing season opens.

Oats—The market is steady at last week's quotations, viz: $2.90 for Mixed and $4 for White, wholesale. No shipments arrived during the week, but some consignments are due next week by the Sable I. and Canadian Sapper. The Montreal market prices this week are slightly lower for car lots, but it is likely that these were not high grade oats. Some of the latter kind have reached the St. John's market and have been refused at the contracted price. It is generally believed amongst dealers that oats will hold around $4.00 per sack in this market till summer freight rates are available.

Bluebeard Guillotined.

LANDRU PAYS PENALTY OF MURDER OF 11 PEOPLE AT PARIS—WALKED FREELY, NEVER uttering a word.

VERSAILLES, Feb. 25.—Henri Desiré Landru, "Bluebeard of Gambais," convicted of the murder of ten women and one youth, was guillotined this morning. His head fell into the basket as the first rays of dawn gleamed in the sky.

The triangular knife fell at 5.05 o'clock, twenty-five minutes after the time originally set for the execution. The delay causing many to express the erroneous opinion that Landru was making a confession.

Mysterious until death, Landru resembled Father Lodelles' query as to whether he had any confession to make. "It is an insult to a man like me," was his reply. "Had I any confession to make I would have made it long ago," but never did he utter the word "innocent," as he had failed to utter it during his thirty-four months of imprisonment and the twenty-one days of his trial. The slayer refused the Sacrament, but conversed a few minutes with the priest.

The guillotine was erected only a few feet from the main entrance of the jail. Landru appeared, clad in dark trousers and white shirt. His beard, one of his most striking characteristics had been trimmed, his head was shaved, and his neck and face were deathly pale. He walked exactly five steps before the executioner's assistants caught him around the wrist and levelled him on the table, which was immediately suspended; the heavily weighted knife slid down, and the whole affair was over in less than twenty seconds. Landru never faltered from the time he appeared in the door, he gave the guillotine one look, squared his shoulders, and walked erect, uttering not a word. The crowd, which had been kept at such a distance that it saw nothing of the details uttered no cry, and the silence was only broken by the bugles sounding reveille in the nearby barracks, and the Angelus bells. # South African Strike Verging on Revolution.

Soldiers Fired on From Ambush--Aeroplanes Drop Bombs on Mal-Contents-- Montagu Attacks Lloyd George and Curzon--Political Unrest Amongst Sikhs.

STRIKERS BOMBED BY AIRMEN. PRETORIA, March 12. Aeroplanes have twice dropped bombs on revolutionary commandos, inflicting severe casualties and a large number of strikers have been killed or wounded in an attack against Curzon at Ellis Park, says a communication issued to-day. Revolutionaries are still very active, the communication adds; they have been burning houses at Benoni and Boksburg, apparently in retaliation for the bombing. All aeroplanes now carry bombs in order that every advantage may be taken on discovery of revolutionary commandos. Yesterday two direct hits were secured, the revolutionaries suffering severely.

SCOTTISH DETACHMENT SMASHED BY STRIKERS. JOHANNESBURG, March 12. A Scottish detachment was smashed at Benoni yesterday by strikers hidden in a plantation who suddenly poured a heavy fire into the soldiers, killing eighteen and wounding twenty. Most of the detachment were service men.

REVOLUTIONARIES CAPTURED. JOHANNESBURG, March 12. Troops have captured 1500 revolutionaries at Sophia Town and Brinxon Ridge, besides clearing the neighboring ridges, an important achievement as the positions were strongly held by the rebels. The rebels were surrounded by police in Brinxon area, causing numerous casualties and wounding others, many of whom were arrested. The Smuts Government yesterday issued a long statement declaring operations were proceeding very satisfactorily and that strong forces were rapidly converging.

MONTAGU UNREPENTANT. LONDON, March 12. Edwin Montagu, former Secretary for India, in a bitter speech before his Cambridge constituents hit back to-day at Premier Lloyd George and Lord Curzon regarding his enforced resignation. The speech was delivered before the Liberal Club. Mr. Montagu showed no penitence for the publication of Earl Reading's despatch from India, and scoffed at the "new creed of collective responsibility of the Cabinet." He asserted that he had been ignored on various occasions by the Prime Minister himself and likewise Lord Milner in connection with the Egypt report, and Mr. Churchill. India, said Montagu, would win her appointed destiny of freedom within the British Empire to which there was no obstacle except disloyalty and non-co-operation. He pleaded that there should be no vaccination in the Indian policy, saying, "we have been spreading western education in India for 150 years. Don't let us turn round now and say to the Indians we have lost faith in our Democratic institutions and all our teaching was a mistake." The meeting, which was attended by numerous Indian students, unanimously voted confidence in Mr. Montagu.

LOCKOUT IN ENGINEERING TRADES. LONDON, March 12. The lockout in the engineering trades, brought about by the failure of the negotiations between the employers and unions for adjustment of their differences, largely concerning shop management conditions, became effective at noon to-day as far as the amalgamated engineering unions with 300,000 members are concerned. Some fifty other unions indirectly involved, namely shipyard men, have accepted the proposal of the employers to take a ballot on the proposed managerial control agreement. In pursuance of this agreement 1,300,000 ballot papers will be sent to the Unions on Monday, the ballots to be returned by March 23.

ANOTHER INDIAN DANGER.

LONDON, March 12. Apart from the Non-Co-operative movement which is most active in the United Provinces, the worst feature of the Indian situation is the unrest among the Sikhs in the Province of Punjab, says a Reuter despatch from Delhi. The political movements seeking the re-establishment of the Sikh supremacy in the Punjab is becoming inextricably mixed up with an internal religious quarrel over the guardianship of the shrines. Many members of this religious organization are enrolling as volunteers in the Anil Par, which is a political military force armed with native axes, clubs and sporting guns. Rebellious activities in this organization are increasing daily, owing to the appeal made to the warlike tendency of the Sikhs by Non-Co-operative agitators. South of Udaspur the notorious extremist Motilal, has organized an army of several thousand men which last week collided with government forces of British. Twenty-two rebels were killed and 28 wounded before they were dispersed.

GREATNESS.

OUR Leading Citizen is dead, the greatest man in P u n k ville town; no more we mark his stately tread, no more we shrivel at his frown. He used to think—and so did we—that when he died all things would stop; oh, where would poor old Punkville be, without its anchor and its prop? And now he's resting in the shade, he's done with every mortal game; and Punkville reaches out for trade, and things go on about the same. The cars are scooting everywhere, at filling joints the gas is sold; men sit around the village square, and chew and argue as of old. The young folk breathe the same old tale of love and sunny days to come, and Abner Jinks has gone to jail, accused of peddling stone-fence rum. The farmer scours his rusty plow, the woods are full of candidates, the Blue Front store announces now a special sale of sleds and skates. A fire alarm still draws the throng, as does a scrap betwixt two dogs; the solar system humps along as though it hadn't slipped some cog. Our Leading Citizen is dead, the pride and bulwark of our town, and o'er his calmly sleeping head we rear a shaft to hold him down. Oh, what a hollow dream is pride, and what a hollow thing is fame! Our great man laid him down and died, and Punkville seems about the same.

Bix Boxing and Wrestling Tournament

UNDER AUSPICES A.A.A.

The War Memorial Sports Committee, who so successfully conducted the Championship Ice Meet a fortnight ago, had a luncheon-meeting at the West End Restaurant on Saturday afternoon where plans were formulated for a big boxing and wrestling tournament to be held at the C.L.B. Armoury on Thursday, April 6th. Through the courtesy of Lieut. Col. Goodridge the Armoury and services of the C.L.B. Cadets were placed at the disposal of the Committee. As the Ice Meet a few days was the first serious attempt to award championships, so in the forthcoming tournament the winners of the various events will be recognized as champions by the A.A.A. and certificates awarded them. In addition special gold medals will be presented. The rules to govern the Tournament were those presented by Mr. Fred Marshall and are the same as those which governed the Inter-Allied Meet at Paris two years ago, and which are now recognized as the official A.A.A. rules all the world over. There are six classes as follows: Bantam—118 lbs. and under. Feather—125 lbs. and under. Welter—135 lbs. and under. Middle—147 lbs. and under. Heavyweight—Over 160 lbs. On the Monday previous to the Tournament preliminaries will be run off at the Armoury, so that the finals will witness 6 boxing and 6 wrestling bouts, for the championship in each class, as well as an athletic display by Mr. Holmes and his class. Entries should be made as early as possible at the office of J. A. MacKenzie, Law Chambers. It is good to see these mainly arctic coming to the front again (especially under the well defined and protective amateur rules) and it is to be hoped this will be but the forerunner of an annual meet embracing representatives from every athletic club in the country.

George Dale's Farewell Performance.

SPECIAL WEEK OPENING SHOW AT THE NICKEL. The vocal program at the Nickel to-night is one of more than ordinary interest. Miss Chase and Mr. Dale will be heard in celebrated solo numbers and will repeat that very popular duet Le Misereere from "The Bohemians." To-night, Mr. Dale's rare-well performance and patrons who have been enthusiastic in their praise of his splendid work join with us in wishing Mr. Dale great success in his future musical career. The big feature to-night is Katherine MacDonald's famous picture, "Curtain." A story of the stage, it tells a pretty romance of a popular actress, who gives up her career to wed the man of her choice. Later she discovers his infidelity and returns to her profession. How she works out her problem and eventually finds happiness furnishes one of the most delightful stories the screen has produced in a long time. In this photoplay Miss MacDonald is at her best.

Then and Now.

Hon. W. F. Coaker opposed the Products (Humber) Corporation Scheme in 1915, when the promoters were only asking powers. He supports a similar scheme in 1922, when the promoters, having the powers, want public money also.

In the year 1920, Mr. Coaker ordained the Fishery Regulations, and fixed prices for the whole world. In 1921 the same Mr. Coaker repealed these same Regulations. His newspaper, the Advocate, says that this repeal was harmful, but does not propose that the Regulations should be reimposed.

If this scheme should be made law, why is not Dictator Coaker here to make it so? If the fisheries will not maintain the people: if the Humber Proposition will maintain them, why is Mr. Coaker ranging over the face of the earth instead of being at his place of duty, in his seat in the House of Assembly?

Trouble Over Colors.

FLAGS WILL NOT BE PRESENTED TO-MORROW—COLORS OF REGIMENT WILL BE PLACED IN GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

The proposal of the Government to formally present the King's Colours to the Royal Newfoundland Regiment before the opening of the House tomorrow, with a view to having them placed in the Legislative Council Chamber, has caused considerable trouble, and the result is that the colours will not be presented to-morrow, but will be lodged in Government House.

A more detailed account of the trouble was given the Telegram by the G.W.V.A. These colours are what are known as renewal colours. That is, they are replicas of the original colours and are presented to the various regiments by the Colonial Office.

Farewell Dinner.

Captain Hayes, the popular commander of S. S. Schem, is being given a dinner by a number of his friends at Wood's West End Restaurant to-night. This partakes of the nature of a farewell function in honor of the gallant captain, who is now making his last trip to St. John's, and on arrival at Liverpool retires from active seafaring life after a very eventful career.

Wonderful Aerial Achievement.

Five Hours From Cartwright to St. John's--Major Cotton Flies Farthest North--Is First Airman to Fly to Labrador.

After covering the distance from Cartwright to St. John's in five hours, actual flying time, Major F. Sidney Cotton landed at Quidi Vidit at 5.05 p.m. yesterday. He used the Martinside plane for the flight and his average speed throughout was 130 miles an hour.

THE FLIGHT TO ST. ANTHONY.

Major Cotton left Botwood at 10.15 a.m. on March 2nd. He was accompanied by his mechanic, J. R. Stannard, and a trapper named Hart, who is a permanent employee at the Botwood Hangar. The flight was made through great masses of cloud which lessened the visibility considerably.

THROUGH A BLINDING SNOW STORM.

The machine took off for Battle Harbor at 3.45 p.m., tipping over to one side as it rose. This was caused by the engine skid which could not be repaired at St. Anthony. Fifty minutes after the start, the coast of Labrador was reached and as he passed over the rugged coast line, Major Cotton had the satisfaction of knowing that he was the first airman to ever do so.

OPERATOR FRIGHTENED.

The snow froze on to the pilot's goggles, and in spite of the intense cold, he was compelled to remove them, baring his face to the lash of the storm. At last the wireless mast at Battle Harbor came into view and turning the machine, Major Cotton flew up the tinkle and landed on the ice at 6.13 p.m.

Musgrave Harbor Appreciates Air Mail.

Airplane landed here yesterday with mail. Action greatly appreciated. T. W. ABBOTT.

Settlement Reached.

We understand that the trouble which arose around Conception Bay over the unemployment situation has been settled and satisfactory arrangements have been made to place 300 men from the main land and 600 residents of Bell Island at work in the mines.

Shipping Notes.

S.S. Watchful returned from Trinity and Catalina yesterday, having made all ports of call. The Watchful towed the schooner Charles Bryant from Port Union. S.S. Sable I. left Louisburg at 10 a.m. Saturday and is due here this afternoon.

Paulina. While at Battle Harbor, Major Cotton stayed with manager Parsons of the Hudson Bay Company's trading post and his companions were looked after by Mr. Porter, the representative of an American firm of furriers. Battle Harbor is not a very large settlement, but is the furthest point in Labrador in touch with civilization by wireless. Nevertheless, the airman found that goods which could not be bought in St. John's, could be obtained there. The injured skid was repaired with galvanized iron while at Battle Harbor.

FLYING FARTHEST NORTH.

On the following day, Major Cotton attempted to take off for Cartwright, which is 140 miles from Battle Harbor. The machine was not able to rise owing to the heavy load it carried and the softness of the snow. Hart was consequently left behind. Soon after the start, a terrific blizzard was met and the airman was compelled to return. So fierce was the storm that even the komatiks were unable to move. Cartwright was finally reached at 3.45 p.m. The flight was made at a high altitude and through thick clouds. The only map which Major Cotton had to guide him was a chart prepared for him by Dr. Grievie. The use of this chart made the flight possible.

THE RETURN FLIGHT.

At 10 a.m. yesterday, the return flight began. Battle Harbor was passed at 11.05 and the machine came down at St. Anthony at 11.50 a.m. This place was left at 12.50 p.m. and Botwood was reached at 2.45 p.m. and a short stay there, the final hop to St. John's was made. The aeroplane started at 3.25 p.m. and arrived in town at 5.05 p.m. making a splendid landing at Quidi Vidit. The actual flying time during the journey was five hours, a truly wonderful achievement.

Loss of Schr. Asquith.

ONE MAN DROWNED. Captain Thornhill and crew of the schr. Asquith, who arrived home by S. S. Schem, tell of a trying time experienced before they were taken off their sinking schooner by an American steamer. The Asquith left here last September for Quirpon, where she loaded fish for Seville. After discharging, the vessel loaded salt at Bonanza and in company with the schr. Optimist left that port on Jan. 1st for here. The Optimist was lost sight of after a short time out and the Asquith made a good run until coming within 400 miles of the coast, when a fierce storm arose.

'The Little College Round the Corner.'

An Address Delivered by the Rev. Canon Smart, R.D., to the Members of Heart's Content Lodge, No. 1, S.U.F.

goods having proven good, people buy, use and recommend them.

Some P.P. of "The Little College" on Forest Road.

A Succession of Well-Qualified Principals have presided over the destinies of Queen's College—"The Little College Round the Corner." It was Bishop's Field's dream that the institution where the students could live with the Principal would be the means of producing men duly and fully qualified for the sacred Ministry in the Diocese. Those who love the College, and not least those who revere it as their Alma Mater, acknowledge that the "statesman Bishop's" dream has not, even yet, been fully realized. It must be confessed that it has never to use an epithet which has been hurled against the College—been more than a "one-man show."

Yet those who love Queen's College are able to confess, and thankfully do so, that a wise Providence has raised up a succession of good men—the world might reckon them average men—to preside over, and guide, its destinies. It may be true that most of these College Principals have been teachers and trainers of men, rather than organizers of material resources. It is true too that these Principals have been, without an exception, men well-qualified to develop the church's greatest resource, "Men for the Sacred Ministry." Indeed, that was the raison d'être of their being College Principals. These men felt that it was the work, and the duty, of other men to develop the financial resources of the Church, and find money to train the men. In all the long succession of Principals there must have been only two, previous to the present occupant of the position, who have been double-barrelled men, i.e., men as capable of organizing material resources as they were of developing the intellectual and spiritual parts of the students entrusted to their care.

The first of these was that "fancie princeps" of clerical organizers, and a devoted parish priest, the Rev. Joseph J. Curling, M.A., whose name and "good works" will never be forgotten while Bay of Islands is on the map. The second, the Rev. Charles Knapp, D.D., the sound scholar, the inspirer of his students to high purposes, the builder of the Principal's Lodge, a very necessary addition to the College. Among the Principals since Bishop Jones' succession to the Bishopric, are such men as the Rev. Edwin Davis, M.A., Rev. Ambrose Heygate, of whom it was said, "the longer you knew him the better you liked him," Robert Holland-Taylor, B.D., Charles Knapp, D.D., Thomas Wilson, M.A.—the keen logician, the deep thinker, the man of many tongues, and as his students and their after careers bear witness, the man, par excellence, who taught his students to really love learning for its own sake, and Courag Barton, M.A., the master of the spiritual life: the mighty intercessor. No body of men, in any walk of life, ever worked more devotedly, conscientiously, and successfully in the interests of the "common" than did these poorly remunerated College Principals. All alike were actuated by the highest of motives—that of being careful imitators of the Great Teacher and Trainer of the first body of recruits for the Christian Ministry. They were also actuated by the strongest of incentives—that of producing such results as would, not only satisfy the expectations of their ecclesiastical superior, the Bishop of the Diocese, but would "stand the test" in the Great Day of final testing. These Principals produced on the whole, a splendid lot of capable and self-denying clergy. Yes! ever since "The Theological Institution" originated by Bishop Spencer developed into "The Little College Round the Corner" planned by Bishop Field, a splendid body of clergy—some native, and others of imported stock—have been developed and trained for the Work of the Sacred Ministry in Newfoundland. There is not a Bay, nor a stretch of coast line in the triangle formed by Cape Race, Cape Ray and Cape Bauld—nay, beyond from Battle Harbor to far Inuvav—without some eloquent testimony to, and shows enduring memorials of, the life's work of men trained for the Sacred Ministry in the Institution known as Queen's College, St. John's. There has been no flimsy or boyant boasting of the quality of men "we will turn out." The steady production of good and faithful "preachers of God's Work and dispensers of the Sacraments," has gone on quietly for eighty years, with one or two intermissions. These Queen's College graduates without self-advertisement, without carefully engineered publicity, have faithfully prosecuted their sacred calling, commending their College, commending their Ministry, commending, above all and chief of all, their Lord and Master, the Saviour of Mankind, to His people. Satisfied with poor pay, content to endure the world's reproaches if only they could lead their people to love the Lord, and to love and give themselves for the Church Christ loved, and gave Himself for.

Some P.P. and Their P.P.—Some Outport Parsons and Some Productions.

I make no invidious distinctions. It is not a question of native and alien. Nor is it a matter of English trained versus Queen's College trained clergy. My purpose is to show the worth of Queen's College training; the qualities of the men trained there; the excellence of movements initiated by them, and the value of their productions to the Church and general community. A notable stream of persons has been trained and sent forth from "The Little College Round the Corner"—more than 140 all told. Average men. Yes! average men. This is true of most of them. It is equally true that the victories of Christ's Church, from Pentecost on, have been won by average men under the leadership of average men. The Queen's College trained persons that are here singled out as illustrations to prove a point, appeared to the men of their day as "average men" doing the average outport parsons' work. Who of us can express in terms of dollars and cents, or devotion and service, the sum total of what these average men trained at "The Little College Round the Corner" have accomplished for Christ? For Church? For Community?

Archdeacon Botwood—Pioneer in Economic and Moral Progress.

First take Edward Botwood—there was a period in his career when he was not the Rector of a city parish: the Ecclesiastical dignitary; the valued counsellor of Bishop and Synod Executive; the "power behind" much civic and national progressiveness. He was first the hard-working missionary at Porteau on the Labrador side of the Straits of Belle Isle. I leave out of account in this address the spiritual and intellectual values of his ministerial life and centre on what he did for the economic and moral uplift of the country. Go to the Deputy Minister of Customs and Finance and ascertain the value in dollars and cents of the lumbering industry of Newfoundland to-day. Look behind the screen of dollars and visualize the comfort and contentment, the moral and mental uplift, the push and progress, the incentive and inspiration that are the direct and acknowledged results of that industry. What have the things here enumerated to do with the parson trained at the despised—"Little College Round the Corner"—Queen's College, Forest Road, St. John's? Much every way. Was not Edward Botwood a worthy son of Queen's College, an alumnus she will always honour, one of the earliest men to show his faith in the resources of Newfoundland and to back his faith with his money and his influence? The "Alliance and Winsor steam saw-mill at Dominion Point, on the Exploits River "blazed the trail" for the Horwoods, the Manuels, the Drovers and ultimately, for such great concerns as the A.N.D. Co. Parson Botwood was "the power behind" this venture as the present name of Botwood bears witness. Not only was Queen's College trained parson a pioneer in commercial development he was a champion for moral progress. Edward Botwood was a scholarly preacher, a forceful debater, a contender for principles—the ecclesiastical Hampton of Newfoundland for he possessed "the moral greatness which is a sine qua non of success in the Ministry." If James Baird championed in the courts and at the Bar of the House of Lords the rights of Newfoundlanders in the full enjoyment of land and harbor privileges on the so-called French Shore, so did Edward Botwood contend in the courts against those who would encroach upon the moral and religious rights of the people dating from the institution of the Sabbath Rest after the creation, re-granted under charter from Mount Sinai and reaffirmed at the Resurrection, has gone further than did James Baird, and went to the Throne of Grace, the Bar of the Lord of Lords and King of Kings and pleaded there by the power of Intercession. Edward Botwood was a pioneer in 'Community uplift' and 'Social and Moral Reform' long before these phrases became a part and parcel of religious terminology.

Rev. George Gardner—Founder of "S. U.F." and "C.E.W.A."

George Gardner was a graduate of Queen's College, the son of a Colonial and Continental Church school-master, and one time the Missionary at Heart's Content. An average man moving and working amongst average people. We need the perspective given by the lapse of more than half a century of years and jubilee celebrations and the Church of England Women's Association, to see the triumphs won for Church and Community by this "outport parson" trained for his life's work at "The Little College Round the Corner." George Gardner's practical mind, and his faith in the laity of the Church led him through the men and women of such families as the Farnhams, Rendells, Rows, Youngs, Moores, Hopkins, Legges, Georges and Warrens of Heart's Content; the Pittmans, Whites, New Perleas; the Parrotts, Spicers and Pinhornes of Scilly Cove; the Redds, Solesys, Casses, Crookers, Hobbs, Fosters and Bryants of Heart's Delight to organize these two Orders—the "S.U.F." and the "C.E.W.A." Again who can estimate the sum total of benefits to Church and Community in Newfoundland resulting from the establishment of these two societies? Little did the Rev. George Gardner think when he organized the Heart's Content that a day would come when that Association by devoted good works, generous self-sacrifices and persevering prayers would play an important part, under the first native Bishop of the Diocese, in the consolidation of Queen's College, the "Alma Mater" from whose portals he went forth to play his part in Church Development and Community uplift.

Three Conception Bay Parsons and Their Production.

Look again at the three strong men of Conception Bay Deanary—Noel of Harbor Grace, Shears of Bay Roberts, and Robert Holland-Taylor of Brigis. The two first named stand among the ablest of Queen's College alumni, the last named was one of the Vice-Principals of the Institution. To these three men under the Providence of God, the Church of England in Newfoundland owes its Missionary Movements of to-day. The big-hearted William J. Shears moved with compassion for the men, women and children who were down to the Labrador fisheries, and who, in the colloquial speech of the day, "left God behind when they passed to the northward of Boscailleu Tickle." John Monk Noel, the hard worker and born organizer who felt that the Church must push out to the "uttermost parts" after her children, "or lose her candlestick; Robert Holland-Taylor the apt teacher to whom "the faith once delivered to the saints" meant everything worth while, and who felt that everything worth while should be attempted to spread it; these three went through the length of Conception Bay Deanery from Brigis to Bay-de-Verde addressing meetings of Church people, and mixing appeals for money to send a "summer missionary" with the people to Labrador. The Rev. W. C. Shears over an empire of human hearts and for more than 40 years the greatly lives."

The speaker went on, not heeding the interruptions. He exclaimed passionately. "There is only one flag for me, the flag of the people, the red flag of international socialism."
 A hundred Rotarians clamored for the floor. "Give him the hook," shouted one. "Treason," shouted another. "Lynch him," cried a third. "Let me answer him," cried several.
 "There was pandemonium for a minute. In the midst of the hub-bub the speaker twisted half way around and away from the audience, tore off his glasses, cap, Bolshevik tie and false front gray shirt, and stood smiling and serene in a white shirt and white collar, his thin brown hair combed nearly back.
 "Soap-Box Jack O'Brien will answer the last speaker," announced the chairman.
 The former "Bolshevik" minus his "make-up," then delivered an impassioned Americanization speech that was greeted with as much applause as his previous speech had been condemned.
 Socialism a Failure.
 "Socialism is no new thing," he began. "It has been tried out a number of times. What happened to the other experiments in Socialism? They were all abandoned because they failed to carry out their purposes."
 "And now they have tried it in Russia and that also has failed. The Russians are now appealing to their capitalist masters to please come back and help them to rebuild their country."
 "This is the land of opportunity. This is the land of freedom. In what other country in the world could a man find the opportunity to attain financial success as great as in this country?"
 "The Socialists say that the worker produces all. That is not true. Production requires the worker, the machinery, capital and brains behind the machinery to manage and supervise the operations that results in production. The worker alone, without capital and the executive brains could not produce anything."
 When O'Brien concluded he received an ovation. It was said that the American Defence Society was considering engaging him for an anti-radical campaign. O'Brien is head of the Constitutional Defense League organized in Racine, Wis., and has managed anti-radical campaigns in communities in the Middle West and other places.

SIDE TALKS.

By Ruth Cameron.

WHEN WE CALL OUR OWN NUMBERS.
 Can you really blame? Blaming oneself is such an unsatisfactory outlet! I can already see where some wives are going to get the Dickens when himself calls some number and it fails to answer, or the line is persistently busy. He will feel quite sure it is her fault, because her aunt is a Presbyterian. Or if it isn't her fault individually, it will be her fault as a sex because "some foul woman is probably possessing over that line."
 There is no greater convenience in the world than the telephone and there is no device that seems so capable of arousing people to irritability.
 How a Ghost Must Feel.
 I suppose it is the baffled sense of not being able to get at anyone that give us this feeling. I think perhaps the most trying of all telephone experiences, the most baffling, is to have someone answer the telephone, promise to get the person we ask for and then disappear, and either because they are distracted and forget, or because they are otherwise prevented, fail to call anyone. I had that experience the other day when I called a garage. I waited ten minutes on that line. Actual time, not time as measured by a person waiting at the telephone; according to that standard it would have been an hour and a half.
 All the time I could hear people talking, and the noise of pounding and various activities, and yet was absolutely unable to make myself heard. I got some idea of the way a ghost must feel if he hears all that goes on around him and can not make his presence felt. I do not think I shall ever come back as a ghost. I am sure ghosting would not appeal to me.
 Why We Get the Wrong Number.
 Of course the telephone girl was in no way to blame for this episode and I told myself so very firmly when I called upon her for aid, but I have a suspicion I did not manage to keep all the irritability out of my voice.
 Another highly delightful experience is to be very haughtily told, "No, this is not 6294, this is 3317" by the voice at the other end of the telephone. Needless to say you are not any more pleased at the extraordinary substitution than she is. However.

she may have had to come down from the attic, so doubtless she has the greater right to be cross.
 And to think there is coming, and coming soon, a day when we will have no one to blame such misunderstandings on but ourselves! Doubtless it will be good practice in the habit of self-blame.

INDIAN SENTIMENT.
LONDON, March 12.
The Bombay correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company says that, generally, Secretary Montagu's resignation eclipses interest in Gandhi's arrest. The moderates take a gloomy view and await with anxiety the announcement of his successor.

EXPECT HE WILL.
LONDON, March 13.
Asked by a representative of the Sketch at Crickleth, where the Premier is on a vacation, whether he would say anything in reply to the speech delivered on Saturday by Mr. Montagu, Mr. Lloyd George is quoted as having said "If Mr. Montagu has anything he would like to say in the House of Commons, when I return to London, I shall be prepared to deal with it." The correspondent adds that Mr. Lloyd George, obeying his physician's orders, remained in bed until noon Sunday, but later attended divine services in the Chapel.

CIVIL WAR.
JOHANNESBURG, March 12.
At least one hundred persons are believed to have been killed in Saturday's fighting, and the wounded is expected to number over 600. Desperate efforts are being made by commandoes of the strikers to gain possession of the town before the forces under Major-General Vandevanter arrive here. A communique from Pretoria says large forces will be available shortly. A shot was fired at Premier General Christian Smuts, as he was being driven towards the Rand on Sunday. He was uninjured though a bullet struck the car.

McMurdo's Store News.
MONDAY, March 13.
March winds are hard and drying, and before going out into the wind, it is well to use a little Cream of Lilies, which is a great protection against the effects of these cutting winds. Cream of Lilies is greasy and vanishes immediately, but it has great protective value nevertheless, and can be trusted to do what is necessary to keep the hands and face from becoming dry and sprayed. Price 30 cents a crock.

This is an application on the part of the defendant for an order that the plaintiff give security within 10 days to the amount of $500 to answer costs in this action and that in the meantime all proceedings in this action may be stayed. Mr. Bradley for defendant is heard in support of the application. Howler, K.C., for plaintiff is heard and agrees to give security for costs but wishes the amount to be settled by His Lordship. It was ordered that security to the amount of $500 be given as costs in the cause.

A Falling Meteor.
Many People Witnessed Rare Phenomenon.
A rather unusual occurrence was witnessed at about 8 o'clock last night by a large number of citizens when what is supposed to be a meteor coming out of the void exploded with a deafening noise and disappeared out towards Petty Harbor Bay. As described by those who witnessed the incident the meteor appeared first in the N.E. as a huge fiery ball moving slowly. Gaining momentum a long tail or streamer shot out from the body and lighted up the surroundings in brilliant contrast to the pale light of the moon, which shone in a clear sky. The explosion which followed the disappearance was like the booming of a distant cannon. Whether the meteor fell in the ocean or on the land towards Petty Harbor could not be ascertained, as the Southside Hills obscured the view when it neared the earth.

Coughs

Mr. W. O. Kideff, R.R. No. 1, Noyan, Que., writes: "I think Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is just wonderful for coughs and colds. Two bottles entirely relieved my cough after I had tried every other cough medicine I knew of. I feel sure it saved me from having pneumonia, and I cannot recommend it too highly."

Curliana.

The "Tommy Hallett" Memorial Medal will be played for in a Point Game this afternoon and to-night. Currier Thomas Hallett presented this medal to the Association in memory of what he considered, and many other curlers, a great day, the 15th of February, Curlers' Memorial Day, which will long be remembered by every member of the Curling Association, more particularly those who participated in the various events of the day, wherein the curlers raised $3800.00 towards our great Memorial to be erected in memory of our gallant lads. No doubt a great many curlers will participate in this game as the medal is to be won outright.

On Wednesday night about 9 o'clock a five and forty Tournament will be played. Every member of the Association is invited to participate in this, as the prize is a very handsome, costly and useful one, and the proceeds will be devoted to a most worthy object. Therefore, Curlers, remember Wednesday evening, commencing 9 o'clock sharp, a progressive five and forty. Arrangements are in charge of Capt. James Chalke, Chairman, and the House Committee. The B. B. Statford Cup has arrived, and although we have not yet had the privilege of inspecting it we have been informed that it is indeed a handsome one. Currier W. F. Joyce, who had the proud distinction of being the winner, is to be congratulated. The Committee of Management has in contemplation this season having a regular Trophy Night within a couple of weeks, and presenting the Trophies to the various winners, and also other matters of interest will take place on this Trophy Evening. The Musical Director Currier James MacKenzie will again be to the front with a popular musical evening. However, in the meantime, remember this afternoon and night for the "Tommy Hallett" Memorial Medal.

"Be Up And Don't Be Short."

Our Puzzle Column.

1. The Two Aeroplanes.—A man recently bought two aeroplanes, but afterwards found that they would not answer the purpose for which he wanted them. So he sold them for $200 each, making a loss of 20 per cent. on one machine, and a profit of 20 per cent. on the other. Did he make a profit on the whole transaction or a loss. And how much?
2. A Deal in Apples.—I paid a shilling for some apples, but they were so small that I made the seller throw in two extra apples. I find that made them cost just a penny a dozen less than the first price he asked. How many apples did I get for my shilling?
3. The Market Women.—A number of market women sold their various products at a certain price per pound (different in every case), and each received the same amount—2/4d. What is the greatest number of women there could have been? The price per pound in every case must be such as could be paid in current money. (The answers to above will be published to-morrow.)

ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S PROBLEMS.

- When the sun is in the horizon of any place (whether in St. John's or elsewhere, he is the length of half the earth's diameter more distant from that place than in his meridian at noon. As the earth's semi-diameter is nearly 4000 miles, the sun must be considerably more than 8000 miles nearer at noon than at his rising, there being no valley even the hundredth part of 1000 miles deep.
- The first day of a century can never fall on a Sunday, nor on a Wednesday or a Friday.
- One is in secure and the other is insecure.
- The distance is 1760 yards or one mile.

Nfld. Poultry Association.

At their monthly meeting to-night the Association hope to finalize matters for four speakers to go to Bay Roberts on St. Patrick's Day and lecture on Poultry Culture there in order to stimulate interest in this interesting subject. They will also have the first reports of their egg laying contest started March first, and discuss their model plans of a poultry house especially designed to suit the Nfld. climate. Some new members are also joining to-night. The lower price of poultry feeds is doing a lot in increasing the numbers kept as compared with the flocks kept during the war. Eggs have been selling all winter at a dollar and twenty per dozen.

And so it has come to pass that the thinking women of the country as well as serious minded men have come to the conclusion that the development of thrift is necessary to the development of national character. But if you are going to make last season's clothes do for a while it does not mean that you cannot have them dry cleaned and thoroughly retouched, and that you must not change the shape or color of them. Our dyeing system is a perfect one.
