The Weekly Monitor.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 8th, 1896.

The extraordinary and progressive management of the Dominion Atlantic Railway has given their numerous patrons something novel this time. The new arrangement of trains, which began last week, is meeting with universal approval...

From the west, the mails and passengers reach town two and a half hours earlier and create nearly as much excitement as the early arrival from the east. One noticeable advantage derivable from this is the arrival of the St. John and American mails before the closing hour of the bank.

But the advantage to the through passenger is to be found in the "Flying Blenoes," which leaves the city at a more moderate hour, the passengers by this train starting at a quarter past seven in the evening, and Boston the next day at noon, making the complete trip in twenty-four hours.

It is a matter of regret that the Blenoes trains do not stop at our station, for no doubt many summer visitors would appreciate here at the prettiest little town in the province. Little valley of Nova Scotia—if these two trains were advertised to call here; but, although efforts have been made to secure this privilege, it has not been conceded as yet.

There is the suburban train running between Digby and Annapolis each morning and evening which is a great advantage to the residents of those two towns and intermediate stations. In order to make the travel facilities symmetrical and leave no quarter unprovided for we have the new time table slightly rounded off with a semi-daily service across the Bay. This makes the Prince of Wales train at Digby with both mail trains and also both Blenoes. This fine steamer leaves St. John at eight in the morning and makes four trips across the Bay, reaching St. John the last time at a quarter of eight in the evening.

The great question agitating the minds of the democratic party in the neighboring republic is whether or not their platform shall contain a 16 or 17 free silver plank. The delegates of the party to nominate a candidate for the Presidency are already elected and are commonly known as the "silver men" and the "gold men," so great is the division of opinion among the rank and file of the party. The delegates from the southern and western states are the "gold men," while the "silver men" come from the west and south, and the great preliminary question to be determined is whether the silver or gold delegates shall triumph.

Last August there was organized the bi-metallic democratic national committee at Washington, and this committee has been laboring industriously on behalf of the 16 to 17 plank, and their labors have not been in vain, for the silver men are thoroughly organized and now control more than six hundred votes. There is a standing rule in the democratic code, formulated as long ago as the national convention of 1852, when Andrew Jackson was nominated for President, that their candidate must be chosen by a two-thirds vote, but the present indications are that an alternative cannot control so large a following. They claim to have delegates from every state and territory west of the Alleghenies and are making every effort to get a candidate out who will support the free coinage of silver, and if they succeed it will become a serious question whether the gold men of the east will accept the situation and pull weight in the harness or remain inactive. Should a schism arise in their ranks they will be doomed in the great contest now so near at hand, for the signs of the times are very favorable to the republican party.

McKinley, the republican candidate, has made strong declarations against the bi-metallic system, having stated that the national currency must be of such a nature that it will be worth its face not only in the United States but also in every commercial center in the world. This plank is generally acceptable to the republican and may catch some gold voters who will break away from the democratic ranks if a silver man is put up by that party.

It is rumored that H. B. Dodge, Esq., M.P.P., for Kings, has resigned his seat to accept the Registration, and that J. W. Langley, will be offered the vacancy.

The confession of Wheeler, given to the public last Saturday, has elicited various opinions as to the truth of its details as well as the object of the condemned man in making and publishing it. Many people were already satisfied of the guilt of the prisoner, but it is extremely doubtful if this confession will at all tend to strengthen their opinion, for it does not appear to be the penitential confession of a man so soon to be punished for an atrocious crime. It does not seem the right thing about it. It is not the open confession good for the soul. There is an air of bravado about it scarcely compatible with a sincere desire to subserve a guilty conscience and there is much that is unnecessary to convince a public of his guilt.

Dominion Day.

EXCELLENT HORSE RACING—LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE IN TOWN. During the early morning hours of Wednesday last the threatening appearance of the clouds led many of our citizens to believe that the day was going to be propitious one for carrying out the programme of races on the Bridgetown Driving Park and for the enjoyment of pleasure seekers to take advantage of the special train arrangements, but towards nine o'clock a slight breeze sprang up, clearing away the light but ominous clouds, and at ten o'clock it was bright and beautiful.

In the mean time many teams had arrived, and long before the noon hour our streets presented a lively appearance. The crowd was then largely augmented by the special trains from the east and west, and shortly after noon it was estimated that some four thousand persons were in and about the town. The spectators, combined with the recent sitting of the supreme court, had considerably frustrated the desire on the part of our townsmen in preparing pleasing and attractive for the visitors, and the appearance of a few of our youth in genuine californian attire there was but little to interest all the hour for the horse racing draw near.

The well filled race, however, had brought hundreds of visitors, and the spirited and exciting contests of the afternoon simply repaid them for the coming, as it is universally admitted by all present that the orderly conduct of the great gathering, the entire absence of any kind of rowdiness and the splendid afternoon programme, not only reflected great credit upon the management of the track, but augurs well for its popularity and patronage in the future. At 2:30 the 6th Batt. Band formed up on Queen Square, and after favoring the vast concourse of people there assembled with two or three of their best selections, proceeded to the band stand on the riding grounds, where they furnished music for the Boston of the day.

When the hour for sounding the gong had arrived it is estimated that upwards of a thousand men, women and children were on the grand stand, most of whom remained till the conclusion of the races. The officers were: Judge, Jas. McEivern, Dr. J. H. Harris and Theo. Simpson, Messrs. J. Magroes; official times, W. S. Pisco and Robt. E. Poling; clerk of the course, H. Rogers; Geo. A. Taylor, of Halifax, acted as weigh-in, and Frank Vidito as distance judge.

The first race called was the 3 minute class, and at the call of the bells five horses responded and were given their positions and colors. After very lively racing the horse got away. Frank having the pole, May Blossom 2nd, Bonnie B. 3rd, Black Eagle 4th and Belle Willett 5th. Black Eagle and Belle Willett were the favorites in this race before the start, but Frank proved himself a winner by capturing the 1st, 2nd and 4th heats, closely followed by Black Eagle, who took the first place in the third heat. Belle Willett made a race for a half but did not seem able to keep up her speed. May Blossom was sick and all out of condition but she is estimated to improve. Frank fought and had her feeling as sticky as sticky and she was feeling as well as she could after the summary of this race would have read as follows: Frank took 1st money, Black Eagle 2nd, Bonnie B. 3rd and May Blossom 4th.

The next race called was the 2.35 class when six horses responded, and a fair field of horse racing was the result. Lookout was the favorite before the start, with Mand G. and Andrew for close company. Belle Willett and Gipsy Pilot were on by some, but Mand M. was thought to be a hind on the hill. Belle Willett could make a race with the others as she took the first place in the third heat. Belle Willett made a race for a half but did not seem able to keep up her speed. May Blossom was sick and all out of condition but she is estimated to improve. Frank fought and had her feeling as sticky as sticky and she was feeling as well as she could after the summary of this race would have read as follows: Frank took 1st money, Black Eagle 2nd, Bonnie B. 3rd and May Blossom 4th.

The 2.45 class was called, but after the first heat it was a procession for Harry Smith's beautiful chestnut horse Michael, who, although a little unsteady in the first heat did some fine trotting. Michael has beautiful style and action and was admired by every one. He took 1st money. Belle Willett, Little Fred 3rd and Blanche 4th. Following are the summaries: 3 MINUTE CLASS—PRIZE $100. Belle Willett—A. S. Hood, 4 4 5 5 Black Eagle—William Wain, 2 1 2 2 May Blossom—W. F. Gibbons, 5 5 3 3 Frank—H. Lyford, 1 1 2 1 Bonnie B.—W. Rockwell, 3 2 4 4 Time: 2:30, 2:42, 2:40, 2:37.

2.45 CLASS—PRIZE $125.00. Michael—H. Lyford, 3 1 1 1 Red Lion—William Wain, 2 1 2 2 Blanche—W. F. Gibbons, 4 4 4 4 Little Fred—W. Rockwell, 2 3 3 5 Time: 2:37, 2:36, 2:30, 2:44. 2.35 CLASS—PRIZE $150.00. Lookout—William Wain, 3 6 6 6 Andrew—W. F. Gibbons, 2 2 4 4 Little Hope—T. Bowles, 4 4 5 5 Gipsy Pilot—T. Lyford, 6 5 3 3 Mand G.—H. Lyford, 2 1 2 2 Mand M.—John Hall, 2 1 1 1 Time: 2:37, 2:35, 2:29, 2:32.

Well-Known Land Surveyor Dead.

JOHN BERNARD CALNEK, OF GRANVILLE, CENTRE STONE TOWN, passed away on Monday, July 7th, at 8 o'clock, of heart disease, at the age of 72 years. He was a native of Halifax, and was a son of the late Maurice Calnek, a former resident of the same vicinity. The deceased was educated in the academy of instruction presided over by the late Mr. Henderson, at Annapolis, and he sides his other studies commenced early in life that of surveying, a branch in which he rapidly progressed, and became very proficient. In 1878 he was appointed Government Surveyor, and was the mediator in establishing—our readers will know—a large number of disputed land titles, settling or favoring any man or owner. During the same year he was also appointed a Justice of the Peace, and his many other engagements detracted him from devoting much of his time to the business of calling for survey judgments on all legal points was looked upon as sound and reliable. Mr. Calnek was a devout adherent of the Church of England, and his church and daily walks through life were correct. He was a member of the Odd Fellows, and passed his last Monday night, at 8 o'clock, of heart disease, at the age of 72 years, honored and respected as he was, when he was home at five o'clock, a.m., his wife, a widow, two sons and four daughters, were with him. He leaves besides an aged mother carrying the weight of upwards of ninety years, a widow, two sons and four daughters, and a large circle of immediate relatives.

Serious Carriage Accidents. On Saturday afternoon, while a party was returning from a picnic that had been held by the people of Melvern Square at Margerville, a serious accident occurred, as is known as the Vault. In coming down one of the steep paths, a small bi-cycle party, Mr. Riss Baker's horse took fright and became unmanageable, and in order to save the other team in front by leaving it, he reined his horse out to clear them, upsetting the carriage. Mrs. Baker was thrown out on her head and received a severe injury, producing concussion of the brain and spine. The right leg was broken, and she is universally admitted by all present that the orderly conduct of the great gathering, the entire absence of any kind of rowdiness and the splendid afternoon programme, not only reflected great credit upon the management of the track, but augurs well for its popularity and patronage in the future.

Another painful carriage accident happened at Melvern Square on Saturday evening last at seven o'clock, and though so serious as that referred to above, is not so dangerous. As Dr. and Mrs. Andrews were on Queen Square, and after favoring the vast concourse of people there assembled with two or three of their best selections, proceeded to the band stand on the riding grounds, where they furnished music for the Boston of the day. When the hour for sounding the gong had arrived it is estimated that upwards of a thousand men, women and children were on the grand stand, most of whom remained till the conclusion of the races. The officers were: Judge, Jas. McEivern, Dr. J. H. Harris and Theo. Simpson, Messrs. J. Magroes; official times, W. S. Pisco and Robt. E. Poling; clerk of the course, H. Rogers; Geo. A. Taylor, of Halifax, acted as weigh-in, and Frank Vidito as distance judge.

The change in Post Office Hours. The pleasing train arrangements of the Dominion Atlantic Railway have wrought a great change in our citizens' habits of coming and departing mails at the post-office in this town, and readers having mail to forward from this office should bear in mind that the hour for closing for west-going mail is now 10, and that for east-going 12.15, local time. The change above mentioned will also be going into effect on the 11th of the month earlier on the day of publication than has been the case heretofore, and our papers must be ready for the press on Tuesday nights. Advertisers will please bear this in mind and furnish us with copy for changes not later than Monday noon.

Eliah Tyler Recovering. The colored man, Eliah Tyler, who was dangerously sick of the abdomen by Dr. Roney on the night of the 25th, is now completely recovered, and is able to get about. Dr. Grant, and unless an unexpected change takes place within a day or two, his complete restoration to health appears assured. On Sunday he was able to sit up a few hours, and on Monday he was about the house, the exertion manifesting no change for the worse. Dr. Grant has been uniring in his treatment, and is a bold and almost fatal wound, and to his professional judgment and kind attention has the life of Tyler been saved.

The laying of the cornerstone of the new Oddfellows Hall, at Digby, on Wednesday last, was one of the leading attractions of the day's program. The ceremony was the Order was observed in the evening. Past Grand Short officiating with Chaplain Rev. Mr. Dykeman leading the prayers, and parts of the exercise. Mr. Dykeman also addressed the assembly in a very interesting and as at the close, referring to the many good features of the organization. The cornerstone, which is a block of granite, was presented by Mr. J. A. Craig, of Yarmouth. Moving a Methodist Church. J. B. Chase & Son, of Bear River, began their contract of moving the Methodist church from Lower Middleton to the town proper on Thursday morning last, and are now pulling the large structure along from day to day towards their destination with all possible despatch. The new site chosen is on what is known as North's hill, a short distance to the east of the town, and is one of the most commanding and picturesque to be found in our charming sister town.

The Death Roll. Mr. Godfrey P. Payson, for many years president of the Commercial Bank of Windsor, N. S., was seized with the stroke on his 28th ult., and died at 4:30 last Wednesday afternoon. He was 85 years of age, and leaves a widow and one daughter. William G. McEivern, formerly of the well known banking and mercantile firm of McEivern & Co., Halifax, died in that city on Sunday. He leaves a family of five boys and two girls. He was 73 years old.

Exciting Yacht Race at Pilmney Cove. It was the good fortune of the writer to be on board the yacht Three Bells, owned by Capt. Norman Hamilton, of Pilmney Cove, which contested with the Sun, owned by Mr. Barrett Chute, of the same place, on the afternoon of July 2nd. The race necessitated the boats being towed out, and was a three mile course, and the victory was won by the Three Bells. The yachts were handled with unusual dexterity, and proved conclusively that our hardy coastmen are true sailors.—Cont.

The Torbrook Baptist Church. During the last year the Baptists of Torbrook have spent nearly $1000 in repairing and remodeling their church. The greater part of this amount remains as a debt on the church. They have also set a praiseworthy example in making the pews free. They extend them a liberal patronage at the coming tea-meeting. See ad.

The Great Aquatic Carnival.

Professional rowing will have a big general at this season and the international regatta at Halifax, July 28-31, will be a reminder of old times. It seems fitting that Halifax should be the place for the inauguration of a new era of professional regatta as it is the home of the famous and famous Liberator crew who won at the continental regatta in 1876. The 4-oared race will be the principal event this time, a 1000 yds. course, and will be participated in by representatives from England, United States, Canada and the Maritime Provinces. The English crew sailed from England, July 4th to Halifax, and will be the same crew that won at Annapolis last year with the exception of Haines, who will be replaced by Emmet. The Canadian crew will probably be Gaudary, Haines, Dunbar and Hackett, and are looked upon as a strong team. Rogers may also have a place, Tom Eyck, Covey and Casey is the personnel of the American crew. St. John and Halifax will both have fishermen crews. Elisha Ross is handling the St. John men and Jerry Holland is looking after the interest of the Halifax men. Many of the oarsmen mentioned above will compete in the singles and doubles. Other attractions, destruction of mine war ships, bicycle parade, horse races, etc., will make the capital a city of great pleasure during the aquatic carnival.

A. C. P. R. Conductor's Awful Crime. Winnipeg, July 3.—William Warren, a well known C. P. R. conductor, yesterday committed suicide by shooting himself in his own throat.
