Mr. McMaster's tariff resolution is as follows: Whereas, in order to meet the great expenditure necessitated by our national obligations...

Whereas it is advisable in the public interest that taxation should be borne by those most capable of sustaining the burden...

Whereas the reciprocal trade agreement negotiated with the government of the United States in January, 1911, has been accepted by that government...

Therefore, he it resolved, that it is the opinion of this house: (a) That the increases of duties of 7.1 per cent. and 5 per cent. enacted by the statute of George V., chapter 3, should be repealed.

(b) That the offer of reciprocity contained in the reciprocal trade agreement now under consideration of the United States of America should be immediately accepted in its entirety...

(c) That without derogation from the provisions of paragraph (b) hereof, all staple food and food products now free with the exception of luxuries and domestic animals and tools should be admitted into Canada free of duty...

(d) That without derogation from the provisions of paragraph (b) hereof, all farm and garden implements, machinery and tools, including farm tractors, all mining, flour and saw mill machinery and repair parts therefor...

(e) That having regard always to the requirements of the hospitals and the necessity of affording reasonable opportunity for adjustment to those affected by the proposed changes...

Dr. Edwards interrupted Mr. McMaster to ask if the trend from the rural parts to the city had been greater in Canada in the last ten years than it had been in the United States.

Mr. McMaster: In the United Kingdom free trade has built up the cities.

"And," Mr. McMaster replied to the outburst of laughter from the government side since 1911, when the Liberal party was defeated in trying to reduce the high tariff...

He asked if the tariff was to be left as it was and if reciprocity was to be left alone. He believed in party government and he would like to see a party in power with strong principles and a clear program.

The acting prime minister said that he realized the importance of tariff matters to the country, and he expressed the belief that the policy of the government on the tariff would be the subject of a debate in the House of Commons in the next few days.

Stand of McKenzie. D. D. McKenzie, leader of the opposition, said that the resolution having been moved before the House by the member for Bromo, he would devote no time to discussing it. He wished to deal with the point raised by the member for the government as to the effect of the resolution.

Mr. Carvell confessed that he was very much at sea as to what should be the policy of Canada on taxation. The debt of the country he pointed out, had increased by nearly a billion dollars, since the Olive amendment was introduced into the House.

Dr. Clark declared that the amendment was a simple matter, and that it was a matter of confidence in the government. He stated that an amendment introduced on the motion to go into supply, did not need the support of a majority of the House.

Mr. Devlin, who was the desk mate of Dr. Michael Clark when the latter was a member of the Liberal party, said he wondered as to the sincerity of the member for Red Deer. Had he changed his views on free trade simply because he had changed from one side of the house to the other?

ISSUES VALEDICTORY TO PRINCESS PATS

Col. A. H. Gault, D.S.O., Commander, Sends Message to His Soldier Comrades.

An impressive and historic valedictory has been issued by Lieut.-Col. A. Hamilton Gault, D.S.O., to the officers and men of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, whom he organized, and with whom he fought in France, and led home in victory.

The message is in the form of a "Special Order of the Day" to the Battalion, on demobilization. After referring to the raising of the corps, under the patronage of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, he says: "During the war the battalion has ever carried out its duty faithfully; in defence, in attack, in retreat, in the early days of the overwhelming German offensives, and when the time came to attack and the initiative passed into our hands, it never failed to capture the objective allotted to it."

The memories of our fallen comrades who have so gallantly given their lives for the great cause in which we have been engaged, will ever be present in our lives, and amongst the sacred recollections will be foremost those of our gallant leader, Lieut.-Col. F. D. Farquhar, D.S.O., who fell mortally wounded in front of Shelly Farm in those early days of the war.

The committee appointed in connection with the erection of the monument have selected T. E. Mitchell's design, and are now waiting for Park Commissioner Chambers to look into the matter and place his official approval upon the selection.

WORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

TODMORDEN EDIFICE BOARD WILL BUILD CHURCH

Baptist Edifice Will Not Clash With Anglican Neighbor.

Regarding the proposed erection of a new church edifice for the Todmorden Baptist church, Rev. C. H. Schutt, secretary of the Baptist church extension board, stated to The World yesterday that the Baptist community had not noticed but the kindest feeling for their Anglican friends and did not expect trouble when the lot was selected.

The ground is now bought and paid for and we intend at the present time to put up a school building on the back of the lot," said Mr. Schutt, adding that it would be far enough removed from the Anglican church not to interfere with the reverential rendering of other services. "I know of a situation where there are three churches close together and there is no question of interference, and if the two churches are too close in the Todmorden district we have equal cause for complaint. However, it may be many years before we erect the church building, and then perhaps we may be erecting our new school building. I do not think the new site is too near our Anglican brethren. I am writing to Rev. A. A. Bryant in reply to his communication on behalf of the church extension board.

Credit to Section. Rev. W. F. Roadhouse, a member of the Baptist church edifice board, stated that the Todmorden community would not object to the erection of a handsome edifice to credit to the section. They had decided to contribute $3000 towards the erection of the building, and the edifice board would advance the balance required.

Mr. Burns, the pastor in charge, has for a long period, worked indefatigably on behalf of the community in Todmorden.

MONEY THROWN AWAY

A huge sum is wasted in this country every year through strikes and lockouts. This represents lost wages and lost profits.

Ex-President of the United States Taft says that the side which beats the other side to it in generous action is bound to have the advantage in the end. When capital feels itself injured by rules of the unions, let it rest its case on concessions and fair dealing. When employees want to get ahead, let them give a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

The Golden Rule is Good Enough for Everybody

There never was a time when the principle of conciliation was more needed in application than now, for if we are to hold up our present scale of wages, we must keep all the wheels turning. Every strike throws sand into the gear box; sometimes the employer is at fault, sometimes the union. Whatever happens, the public suffers.

The Problem of Establishing Right Relations Between Employer and Workman Was Never so Acute as at Present.

The principle of give and take must rule in all differences between labor and capital, or industrial progress must stop. There are two sides to every dispute; both can't be right.

Let all these differences be brought out into the light and settled on a basis of Justice and Right.

Square Dealing Would Save a Huge Sum Each Year.

PHILIP GIBB GIVES PICTURES OF WAR

Famous Correspondent Tells of Canada's Part in Great Struggle.

An audience, flattering both in proportions and enthusiasm, greeted Philip Gibb, the celebrated war correspondent, in Massey Hall last night. He spoke under the auspices of the Newman Club, whose president, H. J. Burns, was the chairman.

Sergeant Frank O'Leary, who lost a foot in the war, was called upon to introduce the lecturer, and did so in an admirable little speech.

Philip Gibb, said the sergeant, did not get news second hand, but was in some shell-rocketed bullet in the forward area. When he had met him at Hill 70 he had heard an English voice saying: "By Jove! What wonderful men you Canadians are!" and, turning, found a tall Highlander relating his version of the capture of a trench to a spell-bound audience.

Consisting of one war correspondent, it was by such personal contact that Mr. Gibb had acquired his knowledge of the British Tommy, and the workings of his mind which he has put better than Tommy himself. He introduced Mr. Gibb not only as the greatest war correspondent, but as the greatest champion of the fighting man.

Mr. Gibb has a singularly clear and audible voice, with a cultivated English accent, but a somewhat monotonous delivery with little emphasis or modulation. Conceptions of the war varied. He had seen one letter from a Tommy, which read: "Dear mother, this war is a bloody business. Tell Auntie, she gave a general account of the war, beginning with the old black days in the Ypres salient after the retreat from Mons. He described trench feet, of which he had seen 400 cases in one Yorkshire battalion. Many came out with their feet rotted black. He was proud as an Englishman to think that 68 per cent of the army was from England, but he paid tribute to Scottish, Irish, Canadians and Australians. At the end of the battle of Ypres a Canadian officer asked a British brass band: "Do you think the Canadians did pretty well?" The staff officer replied: "By God, the Canadians today have helped to save the old empire." (Applause.)

Canada had to learn some pretty hard lessons in those days, but by their own hands they made themselves complete masters of the ground in front of them, and no German dare show his nose in their "No Man's Land." (Applause.) The Canadians suffered heavily. He saw the 8th Brigade going in 2,000 strong, and returning having lost 2,000 men in battle. One battalion was 150, and another 122 strong.

He told of Connetote, and how after the village had been taken, some Redskins with the French-Canadians found some German fire-water, and drank long and deep. They started a war dance with Scotch and Blackfoot war whoops, and a German counter-attacking party was so impressed with the appearance of the party dancing in the flames, that they went back.

The capture of Vimy Ridge was described as a wonderful attack, and Pashendula a glorious victory which did very little good. "It came too late," he said. "The British army had lost 800,000 men that year in casualties, and that made it weak."

CRAWFORD SCHOOL WILL NOT RELIEVE PARKDALE

Prof. Smith has reported against attempting to relieve the congestion at the Parkdale Collegiate by holding two of the classes in the Crawford Street School. It is a mile and a quarter from the Parkdale Collegiate, would be difficult to supervise, has the lack of rival spirit to confer, and has a number of other drawbacks.

PARADE AT OSHAWA; DEMOBILIZE HERE

One Hundred and Sixteenth Will Detrain at Exhibition.

A reception, but no parade, will be given the 116th Battalion, which was engaged in disembarking from the Olympic at Halifax yesterday. The reception will be held at the Exhibition, where the men will detrain and be demobilized.

It is understood, however, that a demonstration will be held in Oshawa, consisting of a march thru the streets and a civic reception if the battalion can reach that town before evening. If, however, it is dark when they pass thru Oshawa, the train will be brought direct to Toronto, where they will be discharged immediately. Toronto men will be allowed to go to their homes for the night, motors being provided to carry them and will report at the dispersal area for discharge in the morning.

In the case of a demonstration being held at Oshawa the men will detrain, leaving their kits on board and after the reception will again entrain and continue the journey.

They will not arrive before Thursday and probably not before Friday.

MERIT AND MONEY MADE ALLEN FILM

"Unpardonable Sin" Is Most Pretentious Ever Produced in Toronto.

Much has been written about the cost of big photoplay productions—and because not a little of it has been pure "press agency," it is, perhaps, no longer the best of form to attempt to gauge the merit of a photoplay production by the amount of money which was expended in making it. And yet the engagement of Harry Garson's "The Unpardonable Sin," at the Allen Theatre, beginning Monday, ought not to be made without the perfectly warranted statement that this picture is one of the most pretentious and most expensively produced which have ever been exhibited in Toronto. The production is in ten reels, and this alone means lots of money. Cutting into the exchequer of Harry Garson, the producer, to a greater extent, however, were the salaries of such people as Marshall Nellan, Blanche Sweet, Wallace Beery and others whose services were enlisted in the screening of the story. Mr. Nellan, conceded to be one of the finest directors in the business, commands a fancy salary, and Miss Sweet, the star, was secured for the production only after extra inducements had been offered her to forsake the comparatively quiet life, away from moving pictures and moving picture people, which she has been leading for the past couple of years after having established herself as an international screen favorite.

Oarber, comedian; Nelson Kelly, ventriloquist; and Bella Johnston, soprano.

JUDGE WINCHESTER WAS NOT PRESENT

Board of Commissioners Adjourn Finding of Pape Ave. Liquor Probe.

In view of the fact that the city has struck off the money for a soldiers' memorial, Chief of Police Grasset yesterday recommended to the board of police commissioners that in the meantime an album be prepared which will contain the names and a photograph of each member of the force who served in the army.

The board will recommend to the board of control that the Children's Shelter not be closed at the end of this month. This institution is the only means of accommodation for juvenile delinquents. Permission was granted by the commissioners for the allowing of a member of the force to attend the International Police Convention at New Orleans.

Two Tag Days

Permission for the holding of two tag days was allowed. The W. C. T. U. will hold a tag day on April 5, to secure funds for enlarging the building and school. The Humane Society will hold one on May 7.

Judge Winchester was unable to be present at the meeting owing to ill health and, as previously stated, the commissioners did not deal with the result of the probe into the Pape avenue liquor case.

P. C. Donohue was given a merit mark for arresting a motor thief, and recovering a stolen car. Ex-Constables J. Hall, R. Cook and E. Holmes, applied for reinstatement on the force.

PIANO RECITAL BY JESSIE M'ALPINE

Young Pupil of W. O. Forsyth Shows Virile Touch of Master.

Interest in the piano recital of Jessie McAlpine was shown by the large attendance that greeted her program in Foresters' Hall, last night. Miss McAlpine, who is from the studio of W. O. Forsyth, showed marked development in her work, which she executes with an assurance that speaks of the mastery which studious attention to detail and an intellectual grasp of the compositions, which she interprets alone, can give. Miss McAlpine has a virile method, seldom displayed by a young player; and this with the flexibility of her fingering, make further, runs and great chords, instruments of telling effect through her playing.

The opening number, "Pocahontas and Fingee in D Minor" by Beethoven, was filled with rushing phrases in which time and rhythm were well emphasized, giving promise in the opening number of the good work of the evening. The "Etudes Symphoniques," Op. 13 (Schumann), in its varied moods, followed, and was given a spirited interpretation. In the second group, the "Colonial Song" by Percy Grainger, introduced something of the spiritual element, which was done justice to by the player, the last long-sustained note being a particularly impressive finale. Among the other numbers on the program were "Reverie Among the Trees," dedicated to Miss McAlpine by W. O. Forsyth, a Nocturne, Foponaise and Berceuse, by Chopin, the "Gavotte Intermexzo" from "Love Episodes," dedicated to W. O. Forsyth by Louis Victor Saar, and "La Campanella" (Etude), by Liszt.

WHY WALTER JOHNSON IS LOSING HIS SPEED

The poor quality of baseballs which have inflicted themselves on players everywhere may be the undoing of Walter Johnson, the Washington star, if there ever will be such a thing as undoing the big pitcher.

This intelligence is brought by Eddie Ainsmith, the new Detroit backstop, who has caught the Senators' great slaban almost constantly for about eight years. "War has prevented ball manufacturers from using the same standard of goods in the balls as formerly," says Eddie. "They will not stand the wear and tear that the old ones did, and become worn and fuzzy after they have hit the ground or stands a couple of times. In that condition they are bound to be thrown as fast, the action of the air on the ragged edges lessening the speed."

Johnson suffers more than most pitchers thru this because he depends so much on his speed. These throwing slower balls and relying on curves are much better off than Walter as long as the war quality balls are in use.

Ainsmith is positive his old battery partner is the greatest pitcher in the majors, but points out that he has not been so effective in the last few seasons, and all because of the poorer baseballs.

Johnson uses his head less and worries less over studying a batter than any pitcher in the game, Ainsmith says. "Walter knows his speed alone will get him thru and win the big majority of games for him," comments Eddie, "and pays less attention to what a batter will do than I do. That is his weakness, not because he is not smart enough to pick up this feature of pitching, but because he has never been compelled to do so on account of his wonderful fast ball."

WOMEN ROWING AT CAMBRIDGE.

London, March 25.—There will be two races between crews from Oxford and Cambridge Universities in the Henley regatta this year. There will be a race between the first crews of the two universities, the second crews. The Cambridge rowing team have begun practice and have four trial entries in the water, coached by old Blues.

For the first time in the history of rowing at Cambridge, the students at Newnham College for Women, have taken to rowing and frequently have three four-oar boats afloat. The students at the Girton College for women at Cambridge have not yet taken up rowing.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

who was raised on a farm and had a deep sympathy with farmers, declared a tariff producing sufficient revenue for the support of the general Government and adjusted to protect American industry was "indispensably necessary to the prosperity of the American people."

"I believe if we could have a moderate, carefully adjusted protective tariff, so far acquiesced in as not to be a perpetual subject of political strife, squabbles, changes and uncertainties, it would be better for us."

"The abandonment of the protective policy by the American Government must result in the increase of both useless labor and idleness, and so in proportion must produce want and ruin among our people."

Under a national tariff, the United States has prospered and become great. A national tariff is essential to the development of the Dominion. Canada cannot exist if legislation for one section is stretched to a point where it ruins another. Tariff is necessary to our industrial development. Industrial development is necessary to agricultural and general prosperity

New Training System Won Welterweight Championship for Britton From Lewis

According to Jack Britton, who has just removed the welterweight crown from the dome of Kid Lewis, the chief factor entering into the victory was an entirely new system of training. Asked for particulars, Britton said:

"I have noticed for some time past that as a result of the short decisionless bouts nearly all the boxers have fallen into the habit of confining their training to a little boxing to loosen the muscles and train the eye. In consequence, while the contestants boxed pretty well they lacked staying powers and especially they were unable to fight or hit with vigor. They were also unequal to the task of taking punishment."

"Quite naturally the rapidly with which the leading boxers engage in short bouts precludes time for systematic training, as they are compelled to hop about the country for great distances and hence are at a great disadvantage if they happened to bump against a fighter who has prepared himself for the contest."

"I have been handicapped by this system, but I determined the first time I was matched for an important fight I would get in trim even if I had to cancel half a dozen other matches."

"The chance came when the match with Lewis was ratified, nearly a month in advance of ringtime. I at once asked my manager, Dan Morgan, to make no matches in the interim, as I wanted to punches, and the thumps I got from Lewis had no effect on me.

"A boxer who trains with a shampoo and a shoe shine cannot fight with vigor for more than a round or two, and then he is compelled to ease up for a round or so till he gets his wind. This is what makes so many bouts uninteresting. It would be a good thing if bouts were longer and to a decision."

Britton also called attention to the fact that the published records flatter him in reference to his age. The date of his birth is set down as Oct. 14, 1885, whereas it was in 1883, which shows that he is nearing his thirty-seventh year.

He has been engaged in ring contests for seventeen years and apparently is good for several years to come.

The assertion that came from the west to the effect that the match between Britton and Lewis was at catch weights, which of course precluded the title changing hands, is denied by Dan Morgan, who said:

"The original agreement was for 145 at 3 o'clock, which was the weight governing the first fight between the boys at New Orleans. The articles sent me by the club called for 145 pounds at 3 p.m. and I signed them and sent them."

"As a result of this work I felt like a two-year-old when I got into the ring at Canton, and I fought like a whirling dervish from the tap of the bell in the opening round until I had Lewis on the floor in the ninth. I never tired for a second, and I put up the best fight of my life. I also had much more steam behind my was not that Montreal was not fast, but that Seattle was faster. At times the heavier weight of the visitors told and the game was not at all free from tumbles and penalties.

Vancouver defeated the visiting Ottawa team here at Vancouver under the easterners' own rules, the score standing 4 to 2. It was the second game of the series and each team has one victory to its credit, necessitating a third game which will be played Friday unless an all-star east versus west game is staged instead. Barney Stanley, for the millionaires, scored three of their four goals.

Seattle and Canadians Play Third Game Tonight

Seattle, March 25.—With two games to their opponents one, the Seattle Metro-Hockey League, today looked forward to a third victory and the world's championship. Last night the locals won their second victory, defeating Montreal Canadiens, 7 to 2. Seattle's men speeded their way to victory. It was the fastest and also the roughest game of the three. Playing under western seven-men rules, the locals excelled in combination play and teamwork. Canadians were handicapped by the fact that the game was played under western rules, which calls for seven men on a side. The Seattle three-man defence again puzzled the visitors, accustomed to the two men. Montreal won Saturday's game, which was played under eastern six-men rules. Wednesday's game, the next of the series, will be under the eastern rules. But eastern rules or western rules, Seattle's speed tonight did the work. It
