TRAIN SERVICE CUT ORDERED IN NEW ENGLAND

In Effect Tuesday Whether Coal Strike Off or Not

As Yet no Curtailment of Freight Service—Railroads Eating Into Reserves—Month to Recover After Miners Return

Boston, Dec. 8.—The most wide sweeping cut in train service that ever befell New England will begin a minute after midnight on Tuesday as a fuel conservation measure. In all nearly 300 trains are to be "side tracked."

It was believed by railroad men that because of the coal strike the coal strike the train cut would be postponed, but it was decided to carry out the original plan of fuel saving.

The heaviest passenger service cut is on the New Haven, because it is a passenger carrying road. The Boston & Maine curtailment will be the most drastic.

Officials of the New Haven road announced yesterday that half of the passenger trains would be cut.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Hundreds of passenger trains were withdrawn from service of the railroads of the country today, mostly in the middle west and southwest.

Montreal, Dec. 8.—Further cuts in the passenger train service of the Dominion are expected if the acute fuel situation caused by the coal shortage, is not adjusted, according to officials here.

The C. P. R. has not yet announced its intention to cut service on the week-end to drop thirty-five trains. They will principally be those running between local Quebec and Ontario points, it is understood.

MEN MAY HAVE PART IN C. I. R. MANAGEMENT

Sir Robert Borden's Statement to Legislative Board of B. of L. F. and E.

Ottawa, Dec. 8.—Sir Robert Borden, addressing the annual meeting of the Canadian legislative board, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers in Ottawa today, intimated the likelihood of employees representation on the managing board of the Dominion government lines.

"We must," Sir Robert said, following a reference to the government railways, give earnest attention to some means by which the employees shall have representation in the executive administration of this great system."

Such appeal, he added, would have his sympathy. Sir Robert, most of the necessity for devising some means by which work of transportation would not be interrupted by disputes between employers and employees. He referred to the accomplishment in this regard of board of adjustment No. 1, appointed in connection with the railway war board.

Allies Modify Some Terms; Expect The Huns to Sign Soon

Matter of Indemnity For Sinking of Ships Goes to Hague Tribunal—Paragraph Re Coercion to Ensure Carrying Out of Treaty Terms is Struck Out

Paris, Dec. 8.—The Allies have consented to modify some of the terms of the protocol putting the peace treaty into effect to which Germany has made objection.

Secretary Tamm and other officials refused to supplement the White House statement. It was learned, however, that the proposal made by the Germans was to have a memorandum written by him.

Indianapolis, Dec. 8.—The federal grand jury, summoned by United States District Judge Anderson to investigate alleged violations of the Lever act and anti-trust laws by operators, miners and coal deliverers including the bituminous coal strike, will not be empaneled today.

It is understood that the clause providing for indemnity for the destruction of the German fleet at Scapa Flow has been modified so as to refer to The Hague tribunal the question whether the delivery of the tonnage demanded will cripple Germany.

The understanding also is that the other features of the protocol most objectionable to the Germans have been eliminated, and the expectation here is that the German plenipotentiaries will sign the protocol without much further delay.

The final paragraph of the protocol, providing that, even after the peace treaty has gone into effect the Allies might use military measures of coercion to ensure the execution of the treaty's terms, has been eliminated.

According to the best information obtainable, the note to the German plenipotentiaries regarding the signature of the protocol, setting forth the changes proposed, will be handed to Baron von Reuter, head of the German mission, this afternoon.

Berlin, Friday, Dec. 8.—(By the Associated Press)—The government tonight publishes the text of the letter from Rear-Admiral Adolf von Trotha, chief of the German admiralty, written to the German Admiralty, Von Reuter, in the hands of the British admiralty.

This letter, dated Berlin, May 9, and marked "most secret," was received in the hands of the British admiralty. The German government, commenting on the letter, in relation to the charges emanating from London says:

"It is incomprehensible how the British admiralty can claim victory in the contents of the letter that the destruction of the ships in Scapa Flow occurred at the latest or within the edge of the German officials."

The primary purpose of the letter, it is declared, was to quiet the crew which had become impatient, and admonish them to stick to their posts. Not a single line of the letter, it is added, suggested or even hinted at a violent solution of the problem respecting the ships' future fate.

The von Trotha letter, according to the recent London despatch, was found in the safe of the Emden at the time of the salvaging of that cruiser. It was described as containing no actual instructions for the scuttling of the vessels, although it contained the sentence: "Their surrender to the enemy remains out of the question."

The British admiralty did not claim this as proof that the German government ordered the scuttling of the warships, but merely proof that the German government was able to communicate with von Reuter.

Andrew Bonar Law, government spokesman, declared in the House of Commons today that there was little reason to doubt that the communications proceeding between the Allied and the associated powers and Germany with reference to the immediate ratification of the peace treaty would have a satisfactory issue.

Sir Ernest Rutherford Declared to Have Leaned Secret of Transmutation of Matter

Paris, Dec. 8.—(Havas)—The Mathematics that Sir Ernest Rutherford, director of physical laboratories at the University of Manchester, Eng., has solved the riddle of transmutation of matter, the secret sought by the ancient alchemists.

Sir Ernest Rutherford is one of the best known physicists in the world, holding degrees from upwards of a dozen universities in the old and new worlds, and having received medals of honor from several institutions of higher learning. He has devoted much attention in recent years to radio activity, and has written books on the phenomena of radio active substances and their radiation.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter, to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I am going out of town for a day. If with you would stick around and see that nothing happens."

"What was you afraid of?" mildly queried Hiram. "For one thing," said the reporter, "the city council might raise the limit for its street programme to half a million."

"I'll do that," said Hiram. "That'll give me time to raise the turkeys. They'll be ready by the first of the month."

"Gobblers usually do," said the reporter. "You might also secure for me a few articles of clothing. The women were badly fooled by throwing themselves from the window, David Banks, while leaving the house, to avoid being killed by a piece of falling timber and knocked unconscious. He was carried from the scene."

Starting in the ill of the building the fire spread to the main building and burned for some time between the double roof, where it could not be mastered by the firemen. It was finally got under control but broke out several times after the firemen.

Nothing but a few articles of clothing were saved. What furniture was not burned was destroyed by water.

A committee of the Victoria Hospital Aid, composed of the Countess of Ashburnham, Mrs. Wm. Walker, Mrs. G. G. VanWart and Mrs. Daniel Richards, will confer with the hospital trustees and physicians on next Thursday to consider the proposed maternity wing towards which the hospital aid is to raise $50,000.

Mrs. Fred. Zohet, of the Brookline club, declared the engagement of her daughter, Ida Blanche and J. Chesley Hallett, warden of the County of York, the wedding to take place December 30.

London, Dec. 8.—The death of Sir Edwin Pears in Malta, on Nov. 27 is announced.

Sir Edwin Pears, lawyer, editor and author, was responsible for revelations of Moslem atrocities in Bulgaria which led the late W. E. Gladstone, then British premier, to lead popular demonstrations against Turkish rule in Europe.

These revelations were "made known" while he was the Constantinople correspondent for the London Daily News. Sir Edwin graduated from London University with highest honors in Roman law and jurisprudence.

NO VESSEL YET TO TAKE ARANMORE SUPPLIES

Halifax, Dec. 8.—Up to noon today the marine department officials here had not succeeded in getting a steamer to proceed to the wreck of the Aranmore. A take of the winter supplies needed at the government stations along the Straits of Belle Isle as requested by the Montserrat, now standing by the wreck. C. H. Harvey, the agent here, said that he was hopeful a steamer would be secured before tomorrow. According to advice from the crew of the Aranmore, at present camped on a neighboring island, are in no danger. Should the occasion arise they would be able to reach the Montserrat, lying a mile off shore.

MORE FOR HALIFAX

Some 700 passengers went through the city yesterday morning to Halifax for the steamer Granman. Another crowd went through today at noon. No. 14 train going out in two sections to accommodate them. They were mostly foreign-born and some of the European centres. Few Britishers were amongst them.

Hope To See Coal Trouble Settled By Tuesday Afternoon

Washington, Dec. 8.—Hope for the settlement of the controversy of the miners, the operators and the government tomorrow afternoon was expressed in a formal statement issued today at the White House.

The statement follows: "It is hoped that there will be a settlement on Tuesday afternoon of the controversy between the miners, the operators and the government through the acceptance by the miners, of the plan for a definite settlement proposed by the president, which proposal was submitted to acting President Lewis of the miners by Attorney-General Palmer on Saturday night."

The government proposals for settling the strike are cloaked in a veil of mystery.

DEVON FIRE IN THE EARLY MORN

Women Injured While Escaping And Man is Knocked Unconscious

Moncton, Dec. 8.—The importation of liquor through the ports of Canada have become extraordinarily large. One day last week a train of seventeen cars with liquor for Montreal passed through Moncton from Halifax. Other cars are reported to have been on other trains.

On Friday afternoon a reverse shipment from Montreal to Cape Breton was robbed here at Moncton. Three barrels of whiskey out of a consignment of ten were being transported from Montreal to a medical man in a Cape Breton town.

To save the doctor trouble the stolen liquor was made up into 180 or 200 bottles. The car was in the yard here all day and yet in broad daylight the car was robbed.

NOSKE SAYS HE WILL NOT SIGN; "LIMIT REACHED"

German Defense Minister Makes Accusations Against Allies

Tells Britain And France to Inevitably Country if They Want to—Says They Are Deliberately Planning Destruction of Nation

London, Dec. 8.—Gustav Noske, German minister of defence, is absolutely determined not to sign the peace protocol handed Germany by the Entente, and is resolved to resist to the uttermost.

"Were such a treaty accepted, some what may, according to an interview he gave the Berlin correspondent of the Daily Mail on Saturday.

"The limit has long been reached. Let the Allies occupy the country if they like. The peace now presented to us is not peace, but a prolongation of the war."

"The German nation would rise up and avenge itself upon the man who signed it, and would be right. Great Britain and France are deliberately planning the destruction of Germany. All the confidence ever had in the pledges of the Allies is gone forever."

"By deceit and trickery, the British and French governments are working up an opinion in their countries to cripple Germany still further beyond the crushing of the first treaty. We have yielded too often, and now must resist. Let the Allies do what they please."

Asked whether he would resign if the remainder of the government decided to accept the Allied terms, Noske replied that he could not say what he would do a week hence, but that his present position had been deliberately adopted and was unchangeable.

The correspondent says that although Noske carefully emphasized that he only defines his own position, his words agreed with the intentions ascribed to the other members of the cabinet.

The two stanzas which Noske represents as having broken the back of German endurance, says the correspondent, are the demand for docks and harbor material, and the protocol empowering the Allies to enforce execution of the peace.

The correspondent says that during his talk with Noske he suggested that the Germans had not sunk the warships in the Scapa Flow because the Allies for long and officials would not have been made. To this, he said, Noske replied: "Oh, yes, they would. The British would have invested some money. Great Britain is out to cripple Germany and would take her last drachma and create as to prevent the revival of our mercantile marine."

Noske repudiated the German government's responsibility for the sinking of the warships in Scapa Flow, and accused the British government of publishing misleading and "slandering" extracts from a letter of Rear-Admiral Trotha, chief of the German admiralty, written to Admiral Von Reuter, who sank the ships.

Regarding the protocol, Noske said his signature would be giving Germany's assent in advance to unlimited future aggressions by the Allies.

"What more do you want?" said Noske. "You used to tell us if we chased away the Hohenollerns and adopted a democratic form of government, we would have an early peace, and now you are breaking every pledge such a crushing peace that it could not have been worse if the Hohenollerns had remained."

"The French doubtless will march into Germany. Let them come. The Allies know that Germany is without means of resistance. Allied officers are all over the country. Spies are shuffling about everywhere. All the secret talk about German armament is a deliberate press campaign to prepare public opinion for aggression."

Noske further hinted at a third objection Germany might raise to the signing of the protocol. "If the commissions established under the peace treaty will be taken over by the other Allies. If that means more Frenchmen, it would be most injurious to German interests, and we should not agree."

Dr. Gordon stigmatised it as the boldest and most ruthless piece of enticery he had ever known, declared the sum sought wildly excessive, and entered an earnest plea for sound business sense in the service of religion against all such schemes.

"ROSEBUD DAY" SUCCESS

Rosebud Day figures were not available early today but the results were thought to be very gratifying. A meeting of the executive of the council was held in the Children's Aid home during the latter part of the afternoon after the members had visited the seven children of Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Pierce who had been placed in the home on the previous day, having been taken from a home where their mothers had willfully neglected them, although one woman was in receipt of a pension of $88 and lack of money in no way accounted for the deplorable state of the children as to lack of nourishment and clothing. The members spoke with the Victorian order nurse who has special care of these children, who are kept isolated from the other inmates because of the contagious skin disease with which they are affected. The meeting passed a resolution of protest against the neglect of the mothers of these seven children. It was felt that, if there was no law on the statute books to deal with such cases, the women of St. John should see that such law should be passed and enforced. The censure of the council was doubly harsh from the consideration of the fact that lack of funds could not be made an excuse in the matter. A committee, consisting of Mrs. T. M. Vincent and Mrs. J. A. Mulcahy, was appointed to interview the S. F. C. in order to ascertain what ruling exists in order that preventive measures might be taken against the recurrence of such cases in the future. Hearty votes of thanks were passed to the editors of the local papers for generous assistance rendered in their appeals made in the editorial columns of their respective papers. The council felt that a great deal of the generous response received was due to kindness of the editors. Others to whom votes of thanks were extended were Steve Matthews for material appeal; W. H. Golding for advertising in the programme of the L. O. D. E. Ladies; St. Monica's Society, president, Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, for 250 boxes; Rev. J. C. Berris for assistance; Barnes & Co. for books, pencils and vouchers; the King's Daughters; K. Pedersen, for a bouquet of roses; W. H. Hayward and O. W. Warwick for loan of dishes. The gratitude of the council was also expressed to the generous donors of cars and automobiles, Mrs. Allan McAvity, Mrs. Ronald McAvity, Mrs. George McAvity,

It was announced that donations had been promised for the Rosebud Day effort by the Royal Standard chapter and the Royal Arps chapter of the L. O. D. E., the Y. W. P. A., and the Excelsior Club of St. Andrew's church.

Mrs. Smith expressed the council's grateful appreciation of the work done by the committees and all voluntary workers.

The organization and the carrying out of the tagging had been excellent and had helped to make the day so successful. Mrs. J. Willard Smith moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. E. Atherton Smith for her superlative as well as for the enthusiasm and interest with which she entered into the campaign.

Mrs. W. B. Tennant seconded the motion which was carried unanimously.

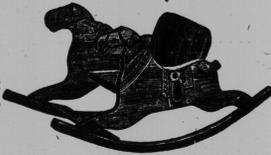

The efforts of the taggers Saturday, "Rosebud Day," in the interests of the Children's Aid, were crowned with success, and it is thought that the contributions of the year will exceed that of last year, which for the day itself amounted to $2,223.48.

The money was taken to the Bank of Nova Scotia and was counted today by a committee of the Women's Council composed of Mrs. W. E. Raymond, Miss

They will have lunch about 1 o'clock and afterwards will explain certain things connected with Rotary to the St. Stephenites, returning to St. John this evening. 12-17

When a beverage about a year old is in such demand that orders come in for it in carload lots it's a pretty sure endorsement of its worth, isn't it?

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., DECEMBER 8, 1919

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Waterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE C. N. R. AND ST. JOHN.

For some years past this city and province have submitted to a great deal of injustice at the hands of some officials, first of the Intercolonial, then of the Canadian Government Railways, and finally of the Canadian National Railways.

TWO KINDS OF FEAR.

"America," said President Wilson in his message to Congress, "will not be daunted by threats, nor lose her colonies." The attitude of the United States, he asserts, will be "in the hour of trial self-contained and sure."

THE REBELLION IN UPPER CANADA.

The rebels, marching south on Yonge street, met with no interruption until they reached a point now the corner of Yonge and Maitland streets. There Sheriff Jarvis had drawn up his guard.

SETTLING LABOR TROUBLES.

Sir Vincent Callard, president of the Federation of British Industries in addressing the association recently, said that the National Alliance of Employers and Employees had made greater strides during the past year than during any year of its existence.

THE IRISH PROBLEM.

In a letter to the London Times Lord Dufferin says: "It may be said that Irish Republican leaders realize that a republic can only be established by force."

RENTS IN LONDON.

"For more than thirty years," says a writer in a London journal, "a firm in the city paid a rent of £145 a year for offices consisting of five small rooms on the third floor of an old building in a well known street."

FOLEY'S PREPARED FIRE CLAY.

You can line your own stove with FOLEY'S PREPARED FIRE CLAY. It is the best fire clay in the world. It is made in England. The exact form of the gift will not be made known until his will is read.

NOTED INDIAN FAMILY.

St. Croix Courier:—The recent death of Hannah Sabbatis, a familiar figure in Calais and St. Stephen for many a century, takes one of the few remaining pure blood Indians from the St. Croix. Hannah was one of the ancient Sabbath or Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason. Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

LAW AND ORDER.

Give an issue sounding title, and it may cut grass enough; but the only one that's vital is this law and order stuff. Oh, I hear the statesmen chatter of small things and call them great, but such trifles do not matter.

CANADA—EAST AND WEST.

Domestic Happenings of Other Days.

THE REBELLION IN UPPER CANADA.

The rebels, marching south on Yonge street, met with no interruption until they reached a point now the corner of Yonge and Maitland streets. There Sheriff Jarvis had drawn up his guard.

Bear tribe, whose occupation of the inland and lead waters of the St. Croix Her great grandfather guided the colonial expedition from Port Western (now August) to the Richelieu river and afterwards followed the fortunes of that general in the province when he changed sides. The family merged with the general's in life, and her sayings were witty, will not be forgotten altogether.

THE LUSITANIA.

"The belated publication of the result of Lord Mersey's Lusitania inquiry confirms what a great many people have suspected," says London Truth. "Had Captain Turner followed the Admiralty wireless instructions, there was every reasonable prospect that the ship would have made port safely. Instead, he trusted to his own judgment, declined to zig-zag and permitted the foghorn to produce the vessel's precise whereabouts as she approached the land. But it must be remembered that this was in the earlier days of the war, when the mercantile marine still nursed its traditional prejudice against being taught anything by the Royal Navy. The two services learned a much better attitude towards one another before hostilities finished."

RENTS IN LONDON.

"For more than thirty years," says a writer in a London journal, "a firm in the city paid a rent of £145 a year for offices consisting of five small rooms on the third floor of an old building in a well known street. Twelve months ago the rent was raised to £190. It has now been raised again to no less than £250, and even at that a four years' agreement has had to be accepted. The firm asks me whether it can obtain redress for such gross profiteering. I am afraid not going up at this rate, I should think there will soon be an overwhelming demand for legislative protection."

QUAINT FORM OF OATH.

Reginald Farrist, who has been appointed stipendiary of Douglas and Castlemartin, Isle of Man, was recently sworn in the quaint form which has prevailed in the island for centuries. He swore to do justice between party and party "as indifferently as the herring's backbone doth lie in the midst of the fish."—London Mail.

CONGRATULATIONS.

Word received in the city yesterday of the arrival of a little son in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Ennesley Dunham in Moncton. The parents are formerly of St. John.

A man with a funny story had visited a dozen newspaper offices, at all of which his joke had been declined. He plodded wearily homeward. "There is such a thing as carrying a joke too far," he said.

SERVE THE FAR NORTH COUNTRY BY AIR ROUTE

Government Summoning Men to Ottawa for Conference

Those Who Know Northland
Possibility of Meat Supply
From There, and Also Matter of Establishing Air Service Over the Road of
"The Long Patrol".

(Special to Times.)

Ottawa, Dec. 8.—About the middle of this month the government proposes to summon from all quarters men who have intimate knowledge of conditions in the Far North. The subject to be primarily discussed is the possibility of increasing the country's meat supply by the increasing of the herds of musk oxen, buffalo, reindeer, and other wild animals fit for food, but in connection with the meeting it is understood that advantage will be taken of the presence of so many frontiersmen to discuss other matters connected with the development of the northern country.

The chief commissioner of the mounted police, for example, is known to have great faith in the possibilities of making use of the airship and the aeroplane in connection with "the long patrol" in Canada's northern hinterland. The recent successful flight across the Atlantic by machines of both types, has been sufficient to illustrate the practicability of the proposal put forward in parliament last session by the members for the Yukon, that Yukon and Mackenzie valleys could be navigated in the same manner.

Judging from the performances now being made by the R-33 and other airships, the round trip from Edmonton to Dawson City could be made in about thirty-six hours. She could do the journey from Edmonton to Herschel Island, (the most northerly post of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police) which is perhaps the worst of the northern patrols, in fifteen hours. The distance is about 1,500 miles. It took the gold seekers who went into the Klondike during the rush of 1897 just eighteen months to do the trip.

All along the Mackenzie River there are Hudson Bay posts established—some of them for more than a century—which would make suitable stations for an air service. From Edmonton an airship could make Fort Chipewyan in six hours; Fort Bellanca, 800 miles down the Mackenzie, in eight hours; Fort Simpson, in ten hours; Fort Norman, in thirteen hours; Fort Goodhope in sixteen hours; and Fort MacPherson, 1,400 miles, in from eighteen to nineteen hours. The air route could be operated the year around. There are few streams in that country, and the cold is not intense.

The question of a railway to the Yukon was recently discussed. In 1917 a survey of an all-Canadian rail and water route up the Stikine river and across to Lake Teslin, down the Hootaniqua and into the Yukon was made and a bill introduced for construction of the road by Mackenzie and Mann, but the senate killed the proposal.

Compared with a railway, an air service would be trifling in its cost. It is estimated that there are nearly a million miles in this part of Canada which have never been explored, but which has enormous possibilities and which is owned and controlled by the federal government.

In the finance department at Ottawa they have established a little private museum where they keep the folsom and jettson of coins which drifts in to them. The soldiers coming home bring with them a good deal of English money, on which it has been the custom to give them the benefit of the exchange when it consisted, as in practically all cases it has done, of their regular pay. In this way nearly $5,000,000 worth of English currency has been brought into Canada.

One of the coins turned in to the finance department not long ago was an English two shilling piece of the time of Charles Second, bearing the date 1673. It was in excellent preservation.

Rev. (Capt.) Harrison preached a very fine sermon at St. David's church yesterday, when a large congregation gathered to hear this convincing and eloquent speaker. In the evening he addressed the congregation of St. Andrew's church. At the evening service in St. David's church, Rev. J. A. MacKiegan took the pulpit and in his usual forceful manner delivered an excellent sermon. At the morning service in St. Andrew's church, Rev. F. S. Porter addressed the congregation.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

Unique Theatre Today; Mary Pickford In "Capt. Kidd Jr."

Once before has Mary Pickford played a Scotch role, in "The Pride of the Glen." One of her most popular Artcraft pictures, in Captain Kidd, Jr., she is again Scotch, but transplanted from the heather to somewhere in America as the granddaughter of Angus MacAvish, keeper of a curio and bookshop, where the buried treasure which is the basic idea of the story is first noticed. And Mary is said to be the most winsome close-lipped lovable and at the same time irritating little person you would find from one coast to another. There are in this picture comedy, adventure, pathos, and wonderful romance, these four ingredients that count so largely in the success of all her pictures.

"Captain Kidd's Kids" Unique Today

Have you seen the last "Harold Lloyd" comedy, "Bumping Into Broadway"? If not, you have missed a wonderful treat. Today we are presenting the second of his $10,000 two-reel comedies, "Capt. Kidd's Kids," and it is safe in saying that it is a feature attraction on its own programme. You'll like being kidded by "Harold Lloyd," as he is the prince of kidders, of whom there is none other more capable of kidding. It bubbles over with real fun that is clean and wholesome and there are girls galore to delight the eye in their fantastic pirate costumes. Don't forget big two-in-one picture programme at the Unique, Prices slightly increased. Matinee 10 and 15; evening 15 and 25 cents.

LAST PERFORMANCE OF GREAT SHOW

If you have not seen Mang and Snyder, the two sensational athletes of the Opera House, you are missing one of the finest acts ever presented in this city. Their feats of strength are marvelous and, combined with this, they are finishing bouts, but which has enormous possibilities and which is owned and controlled by the federal government.

In the finance department at Ottawa they have established a little private museum where they keep the folsom and jettson of coins which drifts in to them. The regular Montreal train brought 322 steerage passengers to the city yesterday, bound to Halifax for the steamship Granpian. A special train took them to Halifax yesterday morning.

The speaker in Central Baptist church yesterday at both morning and evening sermons was Rev. W. J. Rutledge of South Baptist church, Boston. He delivered two strong sermons which were heard by large congregations.

At a meeting of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Checkers and Clerks, held in the Temperance Hall, West St. John, last night, J. A. Belliveau, general representative, addressed the meeting and said that the settlement with regard to wages will be retroactive to the date they recommenced work. He said last evening that the men were willing to continue working providing the promises made are fulfilled.

The congregation of Trinity church has undertaken to raise $6,000 during the coming week to pay for a proposed memorial to the nineteen members who made the supreme sacrifice in the war. Canon Armstrong announced from the pulpit yesterday that $4,000 already had been contributed to the fund and that the remainder would be raised by individual canvass. The memorial suggested included the panelling of the north and south sides of the chancel to correspond with the east end and the erection of a large bronze tablet on the north wall.

A rumor was current about the city over the week-end that J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., was to be taken into the Union cabinet as the holder of a portfolio from New Brunswick. It arose largely through his departure for Ottawa with Hon. H. H. McLean, M. P., and Senator W. H. Thorne. A wire from Ottawa yesterday said that these latter two with R. W. Wilmore, M. P., were in Ottawa to interview the government and urge upon them the necessity of going ahead with harbor improvements at St. John. The telegram added further that Ottawa had

LADY ASTOR'S RELIGION
(Toronto Star.)
We have been unable to verify the statement in an American paper that the new Viscount Astor is a Christian Scientist, but it is true that his wife, Lady Astor, M. P., belongs to that organization. There was shown to us today in the Christian Science Sentinel of Oct. 11, 1919, a letter signed "Mrs. Nancy Langhorne Astor, Taplow, Bucks," and beginning: "I wish to testify to the healing efficacy of Christian Science." The letter concludes with a reference to "our leader Mrs. Eddy," which goes to prove that Mrs. Astor (as she then was), is a member or adherent of the church founded by Mrs. Eddy. Eight days later, (Oct. 19), her husband, the Hon. Waldorf Astor became Viscount Astor on the death of his father, and his wife style changed from Mrs. Astor to Viscountess Astor, conventionally Lady Astor. (2) The wife of a peer, when signing her name, prefixes her given name to the distinctive part of her husband's title, hence Lady Astor's signature, "Nancy Astor" is correct. "Astor" here refers to the title. Before her husband became a peer, the last word in her signature meant her husband's surname. (3) She has six children, all of whom now bear the style of "Honorable."

Students of statistics at the University of Minnesota used dice to test a theory that with three dice it is a certainty that a given number will fall to turn up 125 times, and will turn up seventy-five times on one die, fifteen times on two and once on all three of the dice, out of 216 throws. The students found that the rule almost worked, for the dice came out 128, 74, 12 and 2.

A FRIEND TO THE AGED

When men and women get past middle life their energy and activity, in many instances, begin to decline, and their general vitality is on the wane.

The heart action is weak and uncertain, and the nerves become more or less unsteady. Little sicknesses and ailments seem harder to shake off than formerly, and here and there evidences of a breakdown begin to appear.

Those who wish to maintain their health and vigor, and retain their energy unimpaired, should use

EDITED BY MANSFIELD F. HOUSE

"Bundles Wrapped to Fit Your Pocket"

The Arcade, in Philadelphia pays attention to small trifles, like the proper wrapping of bundles. And small trifles, like the proper wrapping of bundles, pays the Arcade big dividends, according to F. Ehrbarich, manager of the store. "A man hates to carry a parcel," claims Ehrbarich. "I've noticed that whenever you wrap anything up for a man he invariably tries to shove it away somewhere in one of his numerous pockets. Sometimes he discovers that the package is too bulky for any of his suit pockets and he resorts to strategy by attempting to crumple or fold it up. Then he tries to tuck it again, and, unless it's altogether too big, he generally gets away with his pet aversion. "No man ever leaves this store with a parcel under his arm if we can help it. We always endeavor to make up the goods he buys into as compact a package as possible, and in nine times out of ten the customer is enabled to slip it into one of his pockets. They appreciate this little service and we believe that it has been the means of bringing quite a little trade into our store. "A man will go out of his way to be accommodated in the way he likes. If the rule works out the same in this instance. Certainly the male species never invented the shopping habit, because, as well known, men won't enter a department store unless their furnishings are displayed right next to the door, and this peculiar trait applies equally to their dislike of carrying parcels in their arms. If they can possibly get out of it by storing them away in hidden places. "It seems to me that this was probably the reason why the pocket was invented, anyway."

Saying "Fresh Paint"

Seeing a store front a few days ago which was turned over to the painters reminds me of the recollection of a clothing dealer in Mitchell, S. D., who refused to surrender unconditionally to the painters who were putting the new look on his store.

When these men were at the height of their work the store front looked far from inviting, with the result that men would walk by as quickly as they could, passing up the show windows. Noticing that habit, the clothier pulled from the back room one of his discarded dummies. On this he put an old suit, a hat and shoes.

"Here, Bart," he said to one of the painters, "put a couple of stripes across this fellow's back. There, just where he would strike the side of the window." Then he removed the dummy to the sidewalk and set him face to the window. At first glance it looked as if some careless person had backed against the painted woodwork and then turned to look in the windows. Soon a man came and stared and smiled at the misfortune of a fellow citizen. Then he saw that it was a dummy and smiled some more. "It may not have sold goods," commented the clothier, "but it did say 'fresh paint' in a new way and caused a number to talk about the store."

Explanations Help Increase Bank's Business

"Almost every day there are tips in the newspapers which the live advertising manager of a bank can turn into dollars and cents," said F. D. Connor, of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, of Chicago, recently in discussing the success of his newspaper advertising campaign.

"Too many banks," continued Mr. Connor, "rely upon the fact that they are the oldest or the largest institutions in the city or state, and let it go at that. They insist that their copy must be dignified, and they learn backward to preserve that attitude, while the experience of others can easily be made the guide post to the road of success. "Some time ago, for example, an old farmer was killed in a railroad accident not far from Chicago. Among other things the papers stated that he had made a will many years ago, and after a diligent search it was found that many things had happened and the will was broken.

"That story gave me an inspiration to run an advertisement on behalf of our trust department. The headline was 'Made a Will, But—' and went on to tell the circumstances about the will that was hidden away and was out of date. A few days later an old gentleman came into the trust department with this advertisement in his hand. 'This,' he said, 'struck me very forcibly, because I, too, am guilty.' The result was that his will was rewritten and our institution was named as executor of an estate which involved a sum in excess of $500,000."

Show Windows Open Into Movie House.

According to Albert Applegate, proprietor of Applegate's Furniture Store in Eugene, Ore., the fine interiors of the moving picture scenes have their effect on the women who see them. "We used to hear that the desperado pictures caused many a wild young man to hit the rail," says Mr. Applegate, "and we have suspected that the movie mania of the here has had its effect on the upper lip of young men. Now we know that there is a merchandise benefit to be derived from the beautiful scenes and that women's eyes are not altogether focused on the gowns of the heroines."

There is a moving picture theatre next door, and its stairway runs up along the wall of the Applegate store. Considering this, he has cut in that wall two large oblong windows, each almost as long as the average show window, and the lower edges of which strike the theatre patrons about the knees. Applegate leaves his interior lights on until almost midnight. This gives him a show window that includes his entire store. He hooks up by the use of picture show slides and about four newspaper insertions per week. And his business has grown from a low-water mark—when it was losing money—to a total of around $100,000, which he expects to hit this year.

Find No Beauty In Billboards.

Billboards were all right during the war, but are all wrong now. Consideration of this is the opinion of the League of Improvement Societies in Rhode Island, which has started a fight against the use of billboards. The organization proposes

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE HAD VERY BUSY YEAR

Attorney-General Palmer's Report to Congress

Many "Reds" Listed
War Has Brought a Great Deal of Work—Some Loop-holes in Many Statutes—Need For Some New Laws Referred to.

Washington, Dec. 8.—The department of justice is confronted with "increasingly dangerous medical activities," Attorney-General Palmer said in his annual report submitted today to congress. Mr. Palmer did not go into details as to "red" activities in general, but said that of the total of 865,295 index cards, 71,000 fingerprint records and 200,715 finger print records now in the department, some 60,000 represented data concerning "reds" and their work.

Mr. Palmer said that while other government agencies during the last year were rounding out their labors incident to the war, his department found itself in the only way through its scores of investigations and litigated questions. Countless hundreds of cases grew out of the war have been made against the government, he said, and must be fought through the courts. Cases in which the government seeks to recover funds paid out through error or fraud, provide another source of supply for litigation. Alleged infringement of patent rights by the government in its manufacture of war materials, as well as similar claims arising from private manufacture of war supplies on the coast—plus arrangements, also put litigation on the shoulders of the department's staff.

The department policy of resuming prosecution of trusts has restored to activity of other investigations and crime proving machinery, the attorney-general said in addition to these, he said the department will be burdened for months by the section and selective service acts. Under the latter, the number of cases runs high, he said. Department cases are engaged now in gathering all necessary data through records of local draft boards, which have been established in Washington and prosecution of the cases will proceed immediately upon completion of that work.

Quebec, Dec. 8.—Gen. W. B. King, late commander of the 4th Canadian Division Artillery, arrived in Quebec on Saturday en route for Halifax where he will take passage on Monday on board the Megantic for England. In England he will inspect and select some 300 18-pound guns for the Canadian artillery service. He will in all likelihood take over the command of the Canadians in England from Gen. MacBrien, who will return at once to take up his new duties as M. G. S. under Gen. Currie at Ottawa.

HERNANDEZ GIVES HIMSELF UP; SAYS VILLA'S BAND SMALL

Juarez, Mexico, Dec. 8.—Captain R. Diaz Martinez, commander of the aviation squadron at Chihuahua, who arrived here last night, reported the surrender of General Hernandez, until recently in command of Villa's personal body guards. He said Hernandez and thirty of his men rode into Parral four days ago and gave themselves up. Hernandez said Villa's personal following had dwindled to twenty men, and that the rebel leader was skulking in the mountains in the Guerrero district.

The Hague, Dec. 8.—Twenty members of the crew of the American steamer Liberty Glo, which struck a mine off Terschelling last week, are still unaccounted for. The vessel broke in two after she had been beached at Ameland Light.

Most Of Millions Left By Frick To Public; $25,000,000 To Family

New York, Dec. 8.—Henry Clay Frick, multi-millionaire iron master and collector of art, left all but $25,000,000 of his vast estate to public, charitable and educational institutions, according to the terms of his will made public here on Saturday night.

The value of the public bequests, after $25,000,000 is set aside for his widow, son and daughter, is $17,000,000, exclusive of 151 acres of Pittsburgh real estate, left for a public park. Princeton and Harvard universities and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology are bequeathed approximately $25,000,000, divided so that Princeton will receive about $15,000,000 and Harvard and Technology each about $5,000,000. About $5,000,000 is left to the educational fund commission at Pittsburgh.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Dec. 8.—At a meeting of 100 fur men in Summerside a resolution was passed favoring the holding of periodical auction sales of raw furs in Montreal.

Lorne Webster of Montreal, president of the Quebec Railway, submitted a proposal of Montreal capitalists, including Lord Shaughnessy, Sir Herbert Holt and others, to form a $5,000,000 company. It was suggested that stock in the company should be held by producers, the latter to have preferred participating shares. The new corporation represented by Mr. Webster has bought the Holt Kenyon Company, the A. & E. Pierce Company and other big Montreal concerns.

ALSATIANS MAKE DECLARATION OF GERMAN INTRIGUE

Paris, Dec. 8.—Jean Francois, youngest member of the chamber of deputies, in Alsace-Lorraine, born in 1844 in Moselle, will read the declaration of the Alsatian deputies to the French chamber to-day. Twenty-four deputies from the retrieved provinces met yesterday afternoon, decided upon the terms of their declaration and elected Francois as their spokesman.

The Germans have not renounced Alsace-Lorraine, the declaration will say. "The decision of the people against Germany has not reconciled the Germans to the loss of the two provinces. Germany does not understand the verdict of the election of November 18 last. By every artifice Germany has tried to falsify that vote. For ten months past she has been flooding the retrieved provinces with so-called autonomist literature. The nation of pillagers has one sentimental romance, the possession of Alsace, as ever a 'casus belli'."

Frederick Clemenceau, the last survivor of the national assembly of Bordeaux, which sat in 1871, will reply to the declaration.

"Took Your Wife But As Comrades Call It Square"

London, Dec. 8.—A very candid and artless letter, telling an Irish soldier's love story, was the chief evidence in a divorce suit when James Henry Hunt, of Bromley, was granted a divorce from his wife.

They were married in April, 1915, at Mitcham parish church. A few weeks afterwards, when the husband was in hospital with rheumatism contracted in the trenches, his wife met a former lover and married him in a Catholic church in Dublin, wearing the dress and the ring she wore on the former occasion.

The correspondence between the couple, wrote to the petitioner from the courts: "I met Liz in July, 1914. . . . and we became much attached to each other. I love Liz, and I am proud to say Liz returned my love. So we became engaged. . . . You have seen Liz wear my engagement ring many times when she used to go and listen to the band. At that time you were doing duty as a cook. Liz often told me of the time meaning you, but I never took any notice of Liz's flirtations, as love is blind and life too short to waste time in such a manner. . . . Last July I was making arrangements to get married, as I had re-engaged with Liz, when I was called to the front. . . . My regiment was four days in action. . . . We were surrounded and got cut up; but some of us were true Irishmen, and would not surrender, so we managed to get away, only to find we were inside the German lines. . . . We led the life of roaming brigands, driven by German patrols, hundreds of whom fell to our rifles. . . . Of course, we were reported missing. . . . All this played on my mind, so much that her life was made a proper misery by a chap of the 5th Lancers following her about. . . . What with this thinking I was dead, I suppose she made up her mind to go to you. . . . I thrilled to escape through Belgium. . . . I went to Dublin and got married. . . . I am going to ask you of the British soldier to leave Liz with me, and ask you not to tell the police. . . . The Germans are doing enough executing of women and children."

THE KING OF ITALY, who it is said, in a cable from Rome, seriously thinks of abdicating.

Fredericton, N. B., Dec. 8.—It was said today that the United Mine Workers of America are preparing for a long drawn out struggle in the Minto Coal Company's mines.

"We have our feet braced for a long fight, if necessary," declared William Hayes, of Springfield, N. S., board member in charge of the Minto situation for the U. M. W.

"I don't believe we will resort to the proposal to transport the miners from Minto to Western Canada as was suggested," said Mr. Hayes. "It was our intention to do that, but for the sake of the community, we don't want to have to resort to such extremes. There will be no suffering on the part of the strikers. They will always be something for them to get along on, so that neither the miners nor their families will have to go hungry."

In an attempt to provide fuel for the industries and other users with whom they have contracts, the Minto Coal Company are opening up a striping area in the coal fields near their mines from which it is expected large quantities of coal can be taken by means of steam shovels and without any mining operations being necessary.

"Everything is quiet and there is no indication of any bad feeling or any likelihood," said John Henderson, manager of the Minto Coal Company, this afternoon.

British Flyweight Champion
 Won Only Two of Ten
 Rounds — Welshman a Poor Judge of Distance.

Milwaukee, Dec. 6.—Jimmy Wilde, the British flyweight champion, making his first American appearance, was decisively outpointed by Jack Sharkey, a New York bantamweight tonight.

The defeat of Wilde was a surprise. He succeeded in winning only two of the ten rounds, Sharkey having the better of seven rounds and the first was even. The New Yorker started out to make it a rushing fight and brought the crowd to its feet in two rounds when he staggered the little Welshman with rights and lefts to the chin. He landed more frequently than Wilde and his punches had greater force.

Wilde lived up to none of his advance notices. His judgment of distance was bad and there was little force behind his punches. He got $11,000 for the thirty minutes he was in the ring.

Neither fighter was marked, although Sharkey was bleeding at the mouth as the result of Wilde's left jab.

Under the Wisconsin law, no referee's decision can be given but it was the unanimous opinion of the paper experts at the ringside that Sharkey had clearly the better of the match.

Offer For Dempsey.

Paris, Dec. 6.—M. Decoin, manager of the Wanderland Sporting Club of Paris, sent a cablegram to Jack Kearns, this afternoon, saying that he was ready to deposit in the New York branch of a French or British bank, or in any American bank in New York, whatever amount of money Jack Dempsey asks for a twenty-round fight with Carpenter on July 14.

Los Angeles, Dec. 6.—Jack Kearns, manager for Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, tonight reserved decision on an offer from M. Decoin, French promoter to give Dempsey whatever amount of money he asks for a twenty-round fight with Georges Carpentier in France July 14.

"I have received so many offers for a bout for Jack during the last few days," said Kearns tonight, "that I don't know what to say. I probably will go over each of the offers and after consideration decide which is the best to accept. It will simply be a case of who will give the most money."

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Cochrane, the English boxing promoter, has offered Jack Dempsey $175,000 to meet Georges Carpentier, champion of Europe, in London, according to a telegram from Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, to the Associated Press.

Kearns, who is in Los Angeles, where Dempsey is filling a motion picture contract also announced that Torbert, the New Orleans promoter, had offered $100,000 for Dempsey to meet Carpentier there.

T. P. O'Connor Issues a Manifesto Concerning Alleged Conditions in Emerald Isle

London, Dec. 7.—T. P. O'Connor, president of the United Irish League of Great Britain and member of the House of Commons for Liverpool, in a manifesto just issued, says:

"The tragedy of Ireland deepens hourly. Oppression grows cruel and more widespread and shameless. Civil law has ceased to exist in Ireland in all political concerns. Manu law, justified only in actual warfare, has taken its place. The government in Ireland is Prussian militarism and Orange in its policy, its methods and its instruments.

"I have come to the conclusion that we have nothing to expect from the present ministry; they have broken their pledges to Ireland almost in the same breath in which they were uttered. We are determined to make our organization an ally, independent, separate and self-governing of the British labor party.

"We have now had full opportunity of following the policy in every detail of which the Irish form a section of the population; they have thrown in all their energies, as well as their votes in favor of the labor candidate. We can only give satisfaction to the resentment felt by our people in Great Britain against the present Government of Ireland by striking a blow through our influence and in Great Britain against those responsible for Irish oppression."

HELD CONFERENCE ON WORK FOR BOYS

A special leadership conference was held at the Y. W. C. A., 23 King street, on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of hearing the views of several authorities on the training and conservation of the boys and young men of the country.

There was a large attendance of those interested in this work and a programme, that was interesting and edifying was carried out.

The conference was opened with a devotional period, led by Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, L. A. Buckley, of Halifax, the first speaker, outlined in a very clear and concise manner, the aims and organization of the C. S. E. T. This was followed by a discussion of this subject and Mr. Buckley explained to the audience many points in connection with this organization. A. M. Gregg next delivered a lecture on the "Chartering Interview," and Rev. R. P. McKim spoke on "Records, Badges, Health and School Cards."

Captain S. B. Stokes, who was to have spoken on "How to teach the Bible to boys," was unable to be present, so his place was taken by Mr. Buckley. This finished the first session of the conference and a very enjoyable supper was served at 8.30 in the "Chartering Interview," and Rev. R. P. McKim spoke on "Records, Badges, Health and School Cards."

again spoke, this time on the subject of the "Sunday school boys' department" and the new era was explained by A. M. Gregg, who was to have spoken on a discussion on the St. John Mentor's Training class in its relation to the local co-operative work, by F. Woodworth.

The conference was promoted by the St. John local advisory committee for co-operation in boys' work, of which the officers are: A. R. Crookshank, president; E. E. Thomas, secretary; F. L. Woodworth, secretary-treasurer, and Rev. R. T. McKim and R. H. Parsons.

ROTHESAY CHAPTER'S TEA.

The Duke of Rothesay chapter held a very successful Christmas tea and sale in the school room of St. Paul's church on Saturday afternoon when it realized $250 for the chapter's funds. The tea and sale both had many patrons amongst them a large number from St. John and all of the girls and boys from Netherwood and the Collegiate school. All of the members of the chapter and the regent, Mrs. W. S. Allison, took an active part in making the event so pleasant and so successful. The room was prettily decorated with greenery and flags artistically displayed and tea was served at many small tables. The conveners for the tea were Mrs. Thomas Bell and Mrs. Malcolm Mackay; for the gift table, Mrs. Kenneth Forbes; for the home-cooking, Mrs. John McIntyre, and for the candy table, Mrs. Jack Davidson. The Victorian order nurse, Miss MacNevin, whom the chapter is maintaining in Rothesay, commenced her active work two weeks ago and is being greeted with appreciation of her services by all in the community.

A fall of sleet, which lasted for more than an hour last night slowed up the street car traffic to a great extent, especially when folks were returning to their homes from the church services. Poor contact with the overhead wires caused a greenish-white flare to light up the sky, and while the blinding light gave a most spectacular effect, the lost power delayed traffic on every line in the street car service.

Proposals Made.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—The proposal, presented to John L. Lewis, acting president and William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers, by President Wilson and Attorney-General Palmer in Washington last night included a fourteen per cent wage advance to miners and the appointment of a commission to study wages, profits and all conditions surrounding the industry up to resumption of work by the striking miners, according to private advices from the national capital received by Dr. F. C. Honold, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators Association today.

THE CONTROVERSY OVER CORSETS AND THIN CLOTHES

Dr. Florence L. Meredith, Girl Health Expert, Gives Her Opinion.

New York, Dec. 7.—"Like a gallant knight errant, Dr. Copeland has rushed to the defence of whom? His sisters in the upward march of civilization? No! to the defence of the girl who is so stupid and vain and sex-centered that she will sacrifice anything, even the health of her body, to win his gallant admiration; the girl who is so ailing that she has to use rouge to present a counterfeit of health, who is so dirty that she has to use powder to cover up her unwholesome skin, who cares so little about being of use in the world that she is willing to cripple herself falsely believing, as hundreds of girls have told me, that 'men wouldn't like to see in what they consider unappealing clothes.'"

"This was the comment on Dr. Florence L. Meredith, on reading an account of an interview with Health Commissioner Copeland, in which he defended wearing high-heeled shoes, corsets, thin silk stockings and the use of rouge, on the ground that these things have not shortened the lives of women and are not harmful."

Has Had Wide Experience.

Dr. Meredith is a girl health expert. She has made physical examinations of 12,000 girls in her experience, including four years of incoming freshmen of Wellesley College, the employees of a large factory in Boston and 700 business and professional women examined at the Y. W. C. A. Health Demonstration.

at the same time making profit for her figure from the sugar shoddy, keeps on with her indolent habits and self-indulgent eating, depending on the question of thin clothes, provided the health is not such that the body can keep itself warm. And if the health is not such it should be made so. My objection to very thin clothing is entirely a moral one.

Responsibility of Dress.

"Most women have very vague ideas about their responsibility in the matter of tempting men away from what their own ideals would have them cleave to. They still believe in the old theory that perfectly innocent and unoffending girls are seduced by depraved men, and will admit what they could observe with College Girls' Feet.

"The high-heeled shoe is another matter. It is positively harmful, and it is the more insidious because the results do not show principally in the foot. Backache, headache, and a long train of minor disabilities of women follow in the wake of the wrong posture which high-heeled shoes necessitate.

"It is not true that the new ideas are not gaining many converts. Practically all the girls who have come to the health centre in bad shoes have said: 'I ought not to wear these shoes.' Most of them realize that they do not have correct posture. The feet in Wellesley College are beautiful. The girls there almost uniformly wear foot-shaped shoes in general. I should say that about 25 per cent. of incoming freshmen at Wellesley do not wear corsets, and a much larger per cent. take them off in the course of their college education. Among the younger actresses, also, there is a great deal just now to go corsetless. Factory girls, on the other hand, nearly all wear them. It is a matter of education.

"I take no issue with Dr. Copeland on the question of thin clothes, provided the health is not such that the body can keep itself warm. And if the health is not such it should be made so. My objection to very thin clothing is entirely a moral one.

Responsibility of Dress.

"Most women have very vague ideas about their responsibility in the matter of tempting men away from what their own ideals would have them cleave to. the greatest ease, that a good percentage of hitherto innocent and well-meaning boys have been carried to the point of loss of self-restraint by girls who did not, perhaps, know better, but should have.

"And I think the best type of girl generally feels that if she has no way of interesting men except by deforming her feet and her figure and painting her face, she will go husbandless—believing singleness would be a blessedness in comparison to living with a man who could stand such a woman.

"Only the man who has low ideals for women and who does not care how far they get in life or how much comfort they get out of living—a somewhat hard-hearted and soft-hearted man—a short-would care for such a girl."

ST. JOHN IS COMING INTO ITS OWN AT LAST

Important Statement by A. P. Barnhill, Director of C. N. R.

A change for the better so far as this city is concerned is noted in the December folders issued by the C. N. R. in that the name of St. John is added to that of Halifax and the Sydney in the heading for the through service to Vancouver. A. P. Barnhill, K. C., one of the directors of the C. N. R., who has just returned after a meeting of the directors in Toronto, when asked last night as to whether this was not in line for greater recognition for the railway, said:

"Yes, St. John is on the map and will remain there. St. John has been formally introduced by President Hanna to the patrons of the government railways as one of the important ports reached by that system and he will see that no further injustice is done to this city. There has been a decided change and that in the folder referred to by you is only one of the evidences of the change for some time been exhibited in our local ticket office and no doubt has also been exhibited in ticket offices throughout the system by which those connected with the former management of the government railways gave their idea of the nine principal points reached by the system as being Sydney, Halifax, Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Prince Rupert and Vancouver."

"It seems inconceivable that St. John, ranking as it does next to Montreal in the value of its exports and imports, could be omitted from such a list."

"The policy of ignoring St. John will now be a thing of the past as President Hanna has personally taken the matter in charge so that the people of St. John may rest assured that hereafter St. John will receive a fair deal but without any preference. This is as we seek."

"After having served for a year on the board of the Canadian National Railway I am in a position to assure the public that every member of the board is earnestly desirous of promoting the

Another Epidemic OF THE Spanish Influenza

A great many authorities have predicted a return of that terrible plague which swept Canada from one city to the other not long ago and left so many deaths in its wake, and those who did survive were left in a great many cases with some serious after effect such as weak heart, shattered nerves, impoverished blood and a general weakened and exhausted condition of the system.

If you are run down, heart not just right, nerves a little shaky, take a few boxes of Millburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and fortify your system against this terrible plague.

If you had the "Flu" before and it left you with any bad after effect Millburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will bring you back to health and strength.

Mrs. W. H. Keppel, Sask., writes: "I wish to inform you of the great good Millburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. I had the Spanish influenza my heart and nerves were left in a very bad condition. I got two boxes of Heart and Nerve Pills and they cured me. I have taken a great many different kinds, but I will always keep Heart and Nerve Pills in the house."

best interests of the whole system and of every point reached by that system, and I also wish to make particular mention of President Hanna, Vice-President Mitchell and Vice-President McLeod, the three officers of the company with whom I have been brought most closely in contact. I think President Hanna most admirably fitted for the discharge of the duties of the great office to which he has been called. His great ability and long experience, such with his undoubted integrity and genial disposition make him, in my opinion, the one man for the job. He is well as all should be said of vice-presidents Mitchell and McLeod. These three men may be relied upon to give Canada the best service and the best results from its government railways system.

"Now that the setting policy of 'all off for St. John' has given place to 'all aboard for St. John' as well as all aboard for every other important point in the Maritime Provinces reached by our system, let us forget the past and let us look to the future with the utmost confidence."

"Personally, I hope to see the time when, not only of the Canadian National Railway, but also of its competitors, the policy of starting through trains with through cars at Montreal or Toronto, will start such trains at the Atlantic coast. It would seem to me that the time has arrived when the Maritime Provinces should be considered as an essential part of the Dominion and that our great railway systems do not commence at either Montreal or Toronto, but commence in the Maritime Provinces.

"The important matter now for the city of St. John is not so much the railway service as terminal facilities for ocean business. The facilities for ocean business which must soon be provided for St. John, if it is to be considered in the allotment of steamers to the ports of the coast, is a matter of the greatest importance. It has been expressed that there will be competition at this port. That is, the facilities for the shipping of the ships which are scheduled to arrive here. While I am assured by the harbor master and by others having knowledge of our facilities that these are adequate for the present year, yet it is apparent that there must be greatly increased attention to take care of the business of the immediate future.

"I believe that the government of the day will see to it that St. John is treated fairly in this matter and I believe that the policy of the Liberal Conservative party in the Maritime Provinces, as set forth in the platform of that party, is a policy of the Liberal Conservative party and has been so declared on repeated occasions. The thorough and efficient equipment of St. John harbor is part of our policy. I desire to emphasize what I declared at St. John on the 5th of September, that the Liberal Conservative party will not retard, hinder or prevent in any way the development of terminal facilities at St. John, or the equipment and development of that port so one of the great national ports of Canada."

"In a speech delivered by Sir Robert Borden at St. John on September 5, just prior to the above mentioned declaration, he declared that the Liberal Conservative party had been re-elected to power in 1916 and 1918, the declared policy of nationalizing the ports of Canada would have been even better equipped than it is. The policy of the Liberal Conservative party in power is to nationalize the ports of Canada."

"The war may, and no doubt does, account for the delay in proceeding with developments at this port but I have confidence that Sir Robert will redeem the pledge so given to the people of St. John in respect of both the railway and the steamship business."

WATER POWERS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Commission of Conservation Report Shows Nature Ready to do Big Part in Development

According to a comprehensive report just issued by the Commission of Conservation on the water powers of British Columbia, it is estimated that 3,000,000, twenty-four hour, horse-power may be developed from the waters of the province. This estimate is, admittedly, not conclusive and may be misleading, especially if compared with other localities where "no real basis for comparison has been established." The mountain systems, glaciers, snow fields and widely variant precipitation make the power question in British Columbia a unique one and render difficult comparisons with other provinces. There are already about 250,000 horse-power developed, also estimated on a twenty-four hour basis. For various reasons some of the possibilities on such rivers as the Fraser, Thompson, Skeena and Nees cannot be economically developed under present conditions. Moreover, it was not possible to make adequate estimates of the power potentialities of the more arduous portions of the province. As the country becomes more developed considerable additional power may be found to be available.

The author of the report, Arthur V. White, deals fully with the relationship between the water power and the use of power for domestic and municipal supply, agriculture, irrigation, navigation, fisheries, milling, forestry and rapids. These problems are too frequently neglected in surveys of water powers. The development of the country's natural resources can best be carried on when each of them is given adequate consideration. It is a mistake to concentrate on any single resource such as water power, or the soil, or the forests, to the exclusion of all others. They are naturally interdependent.

As every engineer knows, it is necessary to obtain records of stream flow, precipitation and natural storage for a period of years to arrive at average conditions, before attempting to estimate the amount of potential power. Power possibilities at present must be based on the minimum flow of streams. In many instances, however, artificial storage may be used economically and perform a double function of reducing floods and increasing the amount of available power. The report deals at length with historical aspects of water legislation in British Columbia. A useful feature is the chronological key to water legislation in British Columbia from 1858 to 1917. The chapter devoted to power developments discusses the subject from an historical standpoint which adds materially to its value and interest.

Detailed descriptions are given of the topographical features on the larger watersheds, such as the Columbia and Fraser and Mackenzie River systems. Vancouver Island mainland Pacific coast. A large amount of stream flow data has been assembled and carefully analyzed. Meteorological data has been compiled with similar care, a feature that adds much to the value of the report from a technical standpoint.

A convenient set of hydraulic conversion tables as well as a list of benchmarks on the Vancouver Island and Pacific mainland coasts are given in the appendices. As a work for reference purposes the report is greatly enhanced by the inclusion of a full bibliography and an index.

While relating particularly to British Columbia, this publication presents a thorough examination of the economic, legal and other problems common to the efficient development of water resources throughout the Dominion.

MOBILIZATION OF THREE CLASSES IS EXPLAINED

London, Dec. 7.—The Czech-Slav legion here with reference to reports that mobilization of three military classes had been ordered by the Czech-Slovak government, declares the measure is designed merely to safeguard the frontier against Magyar aggression and is similar to an order issued eight months ago. The legion disclaims knowledge of reports of a general mobilization, saying but a small force is affected and that the move is not connected with treaty enforcement developments in Paris.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY HIGH SPRING TIDE

Mill Pond Area is Again Flooded -Necessity For Flood Gates

The necessity for control of the tides in the old mill pond at West St. John was impressed again on the residents of Rodney, Winslow, Ludlow and Watson streets yesterday when the high tides did considerable damage in the district. Dr. F. H. Neve was put to the most inconvenience, as considerable wreckage was floated on his front lawn, while he suffered about $200 damage to his cellar and the foundation of his house. Mrs. Sophia Long, who conducts a grocery store, had about $100 worth of stock destroyed as the water found its way into the building. The Wright and Pollock homes were somewhat effected as the water flowed over their front door steps. B. A. Olive's drug store was flooded to a depth of four inches. Along Winslow street, which was made a veritable Venice throughout, buildings were flooded and in stables several rescues of animals had to be made, while debris floated down the street. In the stable of an Larsey two horses had to be rescued, while in a barn owned by Miss Annie Fullerton, and used as a stable by V. F. Campbell, the planking was torn up and the horses, which were up to their bodies in water were rescued with some difficulty. In the barn of Henry Ewart a similar incident occurred. In the residence of James M. G. Campbell the water rose to about three feet and flooded the kitchen floor and coal shed, destroying goods to the value of $250. Under the skillful management of Cliff Ford, superintendent of streets, traffic was resumed shortly after the water had gone to its former level. The Coletton ferry had to battle with a swell of twenty-eight and one-half feet, but was not damaged. The tide in the flooded districts in West St. John rose to a height of three or four feet and people were not able to be on the streets without some inconvenience. A tide of a month ago was similar to this one.

POETIC FIRE

Brings Verses Dire as Milford Poet Twangs The Lyre

The budding poet of Milford is at it again. This time his muse has been inspired by indulgence in the popular outdoor pastime of skating—seeing the boys and girls of the neighborhood enjoying themselves on the merry blades has caused him to submit another effort to the Times. His last of this nature was a blaspheous churning about the new hemlock sidewalk in Milford which caused such a glow of pride in the breasts of its citizens but which they can find now only with the aid of the snow shovel. It is not known whether there is any particular metre in the "poem," and perhaps there will be some unkind and perhaps untrue remarks made about it. He calls it "The Waterfall Rink." Here goes: "The Milford boys and girls from the size of a smelt to a whale, skate on a puddle the size of a pall, and just of the length of your finger nail. But of course a rink like that will do, for Milford's only a two by two. In rain or snow or sunny weather, though some of them are light as a feather, you see them skate on the ice together. The girls with the curl give the boys a twist—the boys won't squeal, for they know they can turn on their heel, and make a date with the Milford girls. They look so any, but my, oh my, look out for them when they throw their eye—it's about time to turn and say good-bye."

RED CROSS MEETING. At a special meeting of the Provincial and local Red Cross Societies on Saturday afternoon Mrs. J. A. McAvity presided and many matters of interest were dealt with. Mrs. Murray MacLarch, who has been the society's representative in London, was welcomed back. Miss Ethel Jarvis, secretary, reported on the work done and spoke of the transfer of the depot to the synagogue, now the property of the board of school trustees. A vote of thanks was extended to A. C. Skelton and officials of the Bank of B. N. A. for the use of their building in Chipman hill for the last five years. A letter was received from Mrs. J. B. Travers, secretary of the Women's Hospital Aid, thanking the society in behalf of the General Public Hospital, for a gift of pajamas. Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts addressed the meeting on the value of the Red Cross in peace times.

BRIDSON GREENE GETS NEW APPOINTMENT

Receives Offer to Wrestle in Salt Lake City—Denn Says He is One of The Best (Boston Post). The appointment of Bridson Greene as instructor at 1401 means that the M. I. Lake City—Denn Says He is One of The Best. Bridson Greene, the Tech instructor, has received an offer to wrestle in Salt Lake City for a good purse. Greene trained with Ira Dern, when the latter was in the east, and Dern then expressed the belief that Greene was one of the best welterweights he had ever seen. He must have passed the word along in the Mormon country. Crude Oil Fuel Advocated.

A session of the fortieth annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in New York. Professor Lawrence F. Seaton of the University of Nebraska outlined a series of tests made on a high-speed, heavy-duty type of kerosene motor with the object of determining the distribution of the heat evolved by the fuel. Despite the study which already has been made of the use of kerosene as fuel in internal-combustion engines, Professor Seaton pointed out that the matter has yet to be settled owing to the discussion among engineers and scientists as to the correct design for a kerosene vaporizing system. In his opinion a kerosene motor will be successful commercially with the piston displacement designed higher than at present, if intake passages were shorter and wider, and if the incoming gas were heated to a temperature several degrees above the boiling point of kerosene. E. B. Blakeley of the Sears-Roebuck Company, Chicago, gave a detailed description of his progress in the development of a successful crude oil burning engine. Mr. Blakeley pointed out that in his light-duty engines unrefined oils, such as petroleum as it gushes from the ground, could be used after having been strained to eliminate sand and other foreign matter. The cost would be at least one-fourth of the operation of gasoline motors at present prices. David H. Ray, formerly a United States appraisal officer for the New York district and at present on the faculty of Throop College of Technology, Pasadena, Cal., read a paper on "Appraisal and Valuation Methods."

Sugar Refinery Wins. On a snow-clad ground, but under admirable football weather conditions, the East End and Sugar Refinery teams met to decide their scheduled league game on the East Side grounds last Saturday afternoon. The East End team were short three men at the start of the game, but they turned up shortly after the kick-off. The Refinery lined up as previously published. The game closed with the Refinery winners by the good margin of 6 to 1. It was a good clean fast game and several good plays were made. ## Capital And Labor

How Greater Co-operation In Crisis May Be Effected

(American Architect.)
Realizing that definite steps must be taken at once to avert further serious upsets of industry in this country are to be avoided, architects and builders this week discussed many practicable plans whereby stronger co-operation may be effected between capital and labor. The necessity for prompt action in cementing a closer relationship between these vital industrial factors has been thoroughly proven. There must be no more time lost in maintaining the advantage already secured by the United States in many lines of business enterprise.

The decided lack of a spirit of democracy in the industrial world in the United States has been one of the most insistent retardants since the signing of the armistice to the quicker resumption of business on a wider scale. It has also been one of the most insistent retardants since the signing of the armistice to the quicker resumption of business on a wider scale. It has also been one of the main causes of lessened production, particularly at a time when the cry everywhere has been for production and still more production. Co-operation should rank with thrift and work as an essential in effecting future adjustments.

Speaking of the necessity for closer co-operation between capital and labor, former Justice Charles E. Hughes recently said: "The perpetuity of democracy depends on the sentiment of brotherhood. Let us reason together, is the watchword of democracy. It should be the watchword of our industrial life. Labor has a right to the security of the processes of reason and so has capital. We have made little progress in providing the machinery for industrial justice, and in this respect we are still uncivilized." This salient point in Mr. Hughes' remarks has caused much discussion in the architectural and building profession as to how capital and labor can co-operate and each be satisfied that it is getting a fair share of the profits. Much has been said both for and against profit-sharing, bonus and stock systems for employees, but it is thoroughly agreed that neither profit-sharing nor bonuses can be made an excuse for unreasonably low wages.

The National Council of the National Economic League which recently expressed an opinion concerning labor problems in this country, voted 6 to 1 favoring the sharing by employees in the profits of industrial undertakings. The active participation of employees or their representatives in the management, with regard to matters affecting the workers, was favored by a vote of 4 to 1, while a 10 to 1 ballot was cast in favor of the "open shop".

The action taken by the men comprising this council, which includes some of the clearest thinkers on economic topics in the country and men who have the interests of the country at heart, clearly shows what must be done before industrial peace on anything like a permanent basis can be secured. It points straight to the fact that the United States must strongly align itself against the attitude so unfortunately taken by leaders of organized labor which in their demands are in so many instances unfair and in virtual defiance of the law of the land. Organized power, either of capital or labor, cannot be allowed to work its will to the injury of the public. As former Justice Hughes so fitly expressed it, "It is of no use to discuss liberty with those who plot to destroy the essential institutions of liberty."

Unfortunately, there is an element in organized labor that has exceeded itself in its autocracy and threatening attitude. The radicals in labor's ranks, however, have overlooked a very important factor. They have not given sufficient consideration to public opinion. If they continue their course they may soon expect to feel the brunt of an outbreak from the public. The right of many individuals in organized labor to combine for purposes of enforcing unreasonable demands, cannot be longer tolerated. We have necessary laws that should be enforced. Present conditions may be largely attributable to their non-enforcement.

HALIFAX STATISTICS

(Halifax Recorder.)
From the report of D. MacGillivray, president last year of the board of trade, we call the following facts concerning Halifax: The present estimated population of the city is 63,000 or more, the census of 1911 giving 46,619. The school registration is about 11,000. The assessments total $4,035,750, while the tax exemptions are nearly one-half of this, or 19,000,000. The tax rate has reached the high water mark of $2.54 and revenue is $1,010,670. It will thus be seen that Halifax is a highly taxed city and is altogether too generous in her exemptions, thus robbing herself of nearly one-half her possible revenue. The net debt is $4,016,222, while the reliable assets are $5,278,165. The net interest charge is 15 per cent of the revenue. All these are interesting figures and go to show that Halifax is by no means a dying city.

Big Loss For Soldier And His English Bride

(St. Croix Courier.)
Soon after the war broke out, Albert E. Greenlaw, of Bayside, bought a farm about a mile from his father's home there, and the first cry for "increased production" started in to bring it into good condition. He was just a young man, unmarried, but still living at home. He bought some stock, put in what crop he could and hoped for good returns for his labor later on.

Then came conscription and he was sent overseas. Soon after reaching "the front" he was badly wounded in the right arm. At first it was feared he might lose it; but, after many months spent in English hospitals, thanks to skillful surgeons and his own splendid physical condition, his arm is very nearly as good as ever. A few months ago he returned, and made another start at farming. The first of the present month his little English sweetheart arrived, and on the 4th inst. they were married in St. Stephen by Rev. Dr. Goucher, and returned to the farm. They started in housekeeping. He had furnished the house comfortably, and, no doubt, they were looking forward to quiet, prosperous life, far removed from the danger zone.

But, early on the morning of November 10, a young man, Merrill Mears, chanced to be coming over "Curry's Hill" when the flames came through the roof of Greenlaw's house, down in the valley. Swiftly he ran, shouting to the neighbors, but before he reached the house it was a mass of flame. He could not rouse them by shouting, but broke in a window of their bedroom. The smoke poured out and, partially stupefied as they were by the smoke, they were hurried out of the house just in time to save their lives. Greenlaw the day before and young Mears caught up a watch and a few trinkets near the window, and the bride's trunk which was partially empty, then had to jump for his life, for the building fell in a mass of fire. He was thrown off his coat, but vest and shirt were practically burned off him. He too, had a narrow escape. Even today in the house was smoldering for hours. Fortunately it was a calm morning and his barns and stock were saved.

It was a sorry experience for the poor little bride, so far from her childhood's home and friends, and just at the beginning of a winter so much more severe than the last. Much sympathy has been expressed for them, both in words and deeds. Last evening an entertainment was given in the old "Red Hall" for their benefit. There was a large attendance in spite of bad roads and about $140 realized. A purse was made up for them by the residents of St. Croix and St. Andrews, the Red Cross Society in the old shire-town sent them $50.

SOME GIANT FLAGSTAFFS

Longest One of All Could Be Secured in Australia.

In the year 1861 British Columbia presented New Gardens with the tower of flagstaffs which many of us have seen and which was 159 feet high, says Pearson's Weekly.

This, after a life of more than thirty years, is no more, and the Dominion has replaced it with another, which is even larger. It is 214 feet long, and is actually higher than the Monument in London by a matter of ten feet. It is nearly three feet through at the base and twelve inches at the top, and is a single stick of the splendid Douglas fir which grows in Vancouver Island.

Huge as it is, this staff is not the biggest in existence. At the Panama-ORIENTAL IVORY is the most exclusive line of Toilet goods made. Each article has a beautifully grained surface not obtainable in any other brand of Ivory. Oriental Ivory has the distinction of being the original ivory goods which you always see on the dressing table. It may cost a little more than others, but it is genuinely good.

WAS ROUGHLY HANDLED.

W. D. Euler, M. P. for North Waterloo, who was badly battered by a mob at Kitchener because he refused to kiss the Union Jack. Returned soldiers and their sympathizers found fault with an editorial he published in his paper with reference to the Prince of Wales.

Pacific Exhibition, held in San Francisco in 1914 to celebrate the opening of the Panama Canal, a flag floated at the top of a pole which was no less than 246 feet long—half as high again as the Nelson column—and sixty-six inches in diameter at the base. It weighed over forty tons, and was cut in the Nebalem Valley of Oregon. It was also a fir, not one of the giant Sequoias of California. It was impossible to transport it by land, so it was towed from Astoria, Oregon, to San Francisco.

From Australia it would be possible to procure an even larger spar. On the west coast there grows a species of gum tree which reaches 400 feet or about the same height as the spire of Salisbury Cathedral.

These trees are taller even than the giant red woods of California, though not of anything like their circumference. The record redwood is on the King River near Visalia. It is 322 feet in height and its circumference at the ground just 100 feet.

RECONSTRUCTION IN FRANCE.

Progress Made in Repairing the Damage Done by Invasion.

Between November 11, 1918, and September 1, 1919, France had restored 90 per cent of the double-track railroad and 88 per cent of the single-track road which had been destroyed by the Germans, who had torn up 945 miles of double track and 468 miles of single track line. Out of 550,000 houses partially or totally destroyed by the invaders, 156,225 had been repaired or temporarily replaced. Preparations had been made for resumption of cultivation on 1,550 square miles of territory, out of 6,090 square miles laid waste. These facts are taken from a booklet on the reconstruction of France, published by Brown Brothers & Co.

U. S. Ship Strikes Mine

London, Dec. 6.—The American steamer Liberty Glo, which left New York on November 22, for Bremen and Hamburg struck a mine off Terschelling, Holland, during the voyage and is now anchored off Ameland light. It is reported that the vessel is in no danger of sinking. The Liberty Glo is a vessel of 8,562 tons net.
