Germans Driven Back All Along Line

BRITAIN TO ADD HALF MILLION MEN TO ARMY; ASQUITH TELLS OF CALL

Announcement in Parliament by Premier—Official Statement by Russian War Minister Gives Details of Marvellous Successes Against Austrians

London, Sept. 10—Premier Asquith today asked parliament to add another half million men of all ranks to the regular army. The supplementary estimates, issued in the form of a white paper, asking parliament to vote this increase, say it represents the probable excess beyond the similar increase voted on August 5, which will be required for the army service.

This will bring the total of all ranks in the army, to 1,186,400 men, an unprecedented figure for Great Britain.

MARKED SUCCESS OF RUSSIANS

Petrograd, Sept. 10—General W. A. Soukhomlinoff, Russian minister of war, issues the following—

The Russian troops, having repulsed all the attacks which the Austrians, with a constantly increasing obstinacy, directed against our front between the Vistula and the Bug, to the south of Lubin, during the last nine days, and having inflicted upon the enemy tremendous losses, have now reached a situation as follows—

The Fifteenth Austrian Division has been entirely captured, including three regimental standards, twenty-three guns, eighteen machine guns, two aeroplanes, 150 officers and more than 12,000 men of the ranks.

As far back as August 22, the centre of the Austrian army was broken and the movement of German reinforcements along the left bank of the Vistula was stopped. The entire Forty-Fifth Austrian regiment was captured.

Our offensive action still continues. The Austrian army retreats daily. Lemberg, the capital of Galicia, is now occupied by our forces, and no fewer than 240 guns, thirty locomotives, 150 freight cars filled with war material and many thousands of prisoners have fallen into our hands.

Every other operation in which our forces have been concerned within the territory of Poland has had merely the aspect of an insignificant skirmish.

Germany Give Up Lunenburg

Paris, Sept. 10—The Temps publishes a despatch from Nancy stating that it is rumored there that the Germans evacuated Lunenburg, fifteen miles east of Nancy on September 6.

The Temps says that what seems certain is that the Germans had to abandon the heights surrounding Lunenburg.

Others Tell of Russian Troops

New York, Sept. 10—Two steamships arrived from Southampton yesterday—the first ones to leave there since the war began—and three left New York for European ports.

The Japanese destroyer, even Chinese officials in the territory occupied by the Japanese are prevented from communicating with Peking, while telegraphic communication with Tsing-tsin has been interrupted for a week.

aps to Fight to End

Petrograd, Sept. 10—A despatch from Tokio states that Japan has joined the grogram of the allies, not to conclude race without the consent of the allied nations.

Canadian Hospital

London, Sept. 10—The scheme for the establishment of the Queen's Canadian Military Hospital is now well under way.

THIS MAY RESULT IN INTERVENTION BY ITALY

Rome, Sept. 10—Prince Mohammed Burhan Edden Effendi, fourth son of Abdul Hamid, Turkey's deposed Sultan, is to be proclaimed Prince of Albania under the sovereignty of Turkey, according to the Giornale D'Italia.

This violation of the decision of the conference of London, says this newspaper, may induce Italy to intervene. Ships and troops, it says, are kept in readiness for any eventuality.

SUNSHINE IN CITY; RAIN AND SNOW NEARBY

St. John developed another natural weather phenomenon yesterday afternoon between 4.30 and 5.30 o'clock when, with the sun shining brightly in the city, parts of the surrounding country were treated to a generous down-pour of rain, accompanied by hail and snow.

From the three most houses all the way out the Marsh road the residents say that the rain came down heavily and mixed with it were snow flakes and hailstones, some of them as large as grapes.

ALLIES BEATING ENEMY ALL ALONG THE LINE OF BATTLE

London, Sept. 10—(2.50 p.m.)—The official press bureau has given out the following statement:

"The battle continued yesterday. The enemy has been driven back all along the line. Sir John French reports that our first corps has buried 200 German dead and taken 12 Maxim guns. Some prisoners and a battery also were taken by our second army corps. The Germans suffered heavily. Their men are stated to be very much exhausted.

British troops have crossed the River Marne in a northerly direction.

The entire German battle line is in retreat. The allies are everywhere pushing the invaders back, and the enveloping movement of the German right wing continues steadily.

The Austrians have been crushed in Galicia, driven out of Russian Poland and have evacuated Cracow.

The Russian army is marching direct into Germany from Russian Poland. The siege of Breslau is imminent.

GERMAN REINFORCEMENTS DEFEATED.

The defeat of the German reinforcements sent to the aid of the Austrians in Galicia has been complete, and they are now cut off from their lines of communication.

The German war office reports capturing Russian troops as prisoners, this proving that Russians have already reached the battle line in France.

Expect Austria to Sue For Peace Soon; Meantime The Russians Are Sweeping On

Further Losses Sustained by Enemy—Czar's Armies Have Them at Last Stand—Western March Across German Empire Next Looked For

London, Sept. 10—A despatch to the Chronicle from Petrograd says: "In Russian and foreign diplomatic circles it is believed that Austria will sue for peace within a fortnight as the only means of avoiding a complete break-up of the empire, owing to rapidly growing internal troubles."

A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Rome says: "Despatches from Vienna state that the advance guards of the Russian centre, are marching toward Berlin. The Russian troops have invaded Silesia and the capture of Breslau is imminent."

London, Sept. 10—A despatch from Rome to Reuters says: "According to Galician advices the Austrians have made several attempts to resume the offensive against the Russians, with disastrous results. There were further great Austrian losses."

London, Sept. 10—A despatch to Reuters from Vienna dated Wednesday, and reaching London by way of Amsterdam says: "It is officially announced in Vienna, that a new battle began around Lemberg today."

AUSTRIANS IN LAST STAND

London, Sept. 10—Telegraphing from Petrograd, the Morning Post's correspondent says: "The Russian armies are moving forward driving the Germans before them on the western bank of the Vistula River. The retiring Germans have Cracow behind them on which to rely."

"Cracow is on about the same meridian as Koenigsberg, and the Russian forces are almost levelled up to this meridian with armies in East Prussia 200 miles from the point where the Austrians are now fighting their last fight."

"When Austria is disposed of, Russia will immediately begin a westward march on a front 200 miles wide... will sweep like a tidal wave across the German empire."

"The key to the whole situation is at Rawa, where the Austrians are making a desperate struggle to prevent the Russian advance movement. It is the last stand of an outnumbered army and it means annihilation."

"The Russians also are attacking Grodek, sixteen miles west of Lemberg the fall of which will bring the Russians on the Austrian rear at Rawa."

AUSTRIANS ADMIT LOSS OF 120,000

London, Sept. 10—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Rome says: "A message from Vienna states that it is officially admitted there that Archduke Frederick lost 120,000 men in the recent Galician battles, or one-fourth of his entire command."

"The Germans are marching south towards Poland to assist the Austrians, but before this aid can be given they must cross the Vistula River, where the Russians are preparing to check them."

Poland, and are in touch with the Austrian column advancing through Kielce (a province in Russian Poland bordering on Galicia).

"The Germans must now be immediately before Ivanograd, and if the columns at Lodz and Petrikau advanced they also must have reached the Vistula with their left wing, touching the fortress in the district of Warsaw. If indications do not deceive, we are in the presence of a German offensive across the Vistula river which will co-operate, timely and strongly, with the Austrian offensive at Lublin."

Serians in the Fighting.

Paris, Sept. 10—A Nish despatch to the Havas Agency says: "Numbers of Serians crossed the river Save on September 9, and are advancing in a satisfactory manner in the country of the enemy."

"A detachment was repulsed by the enemy while crossing near Mitrovitsa, in Croatia-Slavonia, near the frontier, and has retreated. The enemy captured supplies and some prisoners."

"The Serbian and Montenegrin armies have taken Pojania."

PART OF GERMAN FLEET IS REPORTED IN GULF OF BOTHNIA

London, Sept. 10—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Copenhagen, announces that a German squadron of thirty-one ships, including battleships, cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers, has been observed at various points along the Gulf of Bothnia steaming east.

Copenhagen, via London, Sept. 9, 10.80 p.m.—The Swedish steamer Ganteholm, which has arrived at Gelle, on the Gulf of Bothnia, from Bano, reports that she was held up in the Finnish belt by a German torpedo boat, and that twenty-two English passengers, ranging from twenty to forty years of age, were arrested.

SOUTH AFRICA TO FIGHT FOR EMPIRE

London, Sept. 10—A Capetown despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that General Louis Botha, premier of the Union of South Africa, delivered an eloquent speech in parliament in which he emphasized South Africa's determination to assist in maintaining the integrity of the empire.

Premier Botha promised the wholehearted support of the union to the imperial government in the present war and declared that the radical hatched had been buried. He announced that the government had undertaken to carry through military operations in German Southwest Africa.

"The empire is at war," the premier declared, "and consequently the Union of South Africa is at war with the common enemy. This assembly must realize that South Africa's future is being decided on the battlefields of Europe, and although there may be many who in the past have been hostile to the British flag, they would today ten times rather be under that than any other flag."

The premier revealed that German forces already had entered upon union territory. They were entrenched at certain points in kopjes and a large armed German force was on the frontier of the union. He also said that the imperial government had come to the financial assistance of the union by lending it £2,000,000.

Sir John French, In Report To Earl Kitchener, Tells of British Fighting

Detailed Report of Operations From Time of Landing and Covering Earlier Movements—Tribute to Smith-Dorrien

London, Sept. 10—The text of the report of Field Marshal Sir John French, in command of the British forces in France, covering the British operations since they landed in France, was made public today.

The report is addressed to Earl Kitchener, the secretary of war. It follows: "Landing of the Troops

"The transportation of the troops from England by rail and sea, was effected in the best order, and without a check. Concentration was practically completed on the evening of Friday, August 21, and I was able to direct the movement of the first corps, gradually to withdraw to the new position and to have taken Mons. The second corps halted on this line, where they entrenched themselves, enabling Sir Douglas Haig with the first corps, to have had a rest operation from Barvaux to Maubeuge about seven in the evening."

"The third division on the right of the corps, suffered considerable loss in this operation from the enemy, who had repulsed the second corps on the evening of August 22, and 23, the advance squadrons did some excellent work some of them penetrating as far as Soignies (a town of Belgium ten miles northeast of Mons), and several officers took place in which our troops showed to great advantage."

"On Sunday, the 23rd, reports began to come in to the effect that the enemy was commencing an attack on the Mons line apparently in some strength, but that the right of the position from Mons was being particularly threatened."

"The commander of the first corps had pushed his flank back by some high ground, south of Bray, and the fifth cavalry, evacuated Binche, moving slightly south. The enemy thereupon occupied Binche."

"The right of the third division, under General Hamilton, was at Mons, which formed a somewhat dangerous salient and I directed the commander of the second corps, if threatened seriously, to draw back the centre behind Mons. This was done before dark."

The Enemy in Force

"In the meantime, about five in the afternoon, I received an unexpected message from General Joffre by telegraph, telling me that at least three German army corps were moving on my position in front and that a second corps was engaged in a turning movement from the direction of Tournai. He also informed me that the two reserve French divisions and the fifth French army corps on my right, were retiring, the Germans having on the previous day, gained possession of the passage of the Sambre between Charleroi and Namur."

"In view of the possibility of my being driven from the Mons position, I had previously ordered a position in the rear to be reconnoitred. This position rested on the fortress of Maubeuge, on the right and extended west to Jenlain, southwest of Valenciennes on the left. The position was reported difficult to hold because standing crops and buildings made the sighting of trenches very difficult, and limited the fire in many important localities. It nevertheless, afforded a very good artillery position."

"When the news of the retirement of French and the heavy German force threatening on my front reached me, I endeavored to confirm it by aeroplane reconnaissance and as a result, of this I determined to effect a retreat to the Maubeuge position at daybreak on the 24th."

"Certain amount of fighting continued all along the whole line throughout the night, and at daybreak, on the 24th, the second division from the neighborhood of Hainaut, made a powerful demonstration as if to retake Binche."

"This was supported by the artillery of both the second and third divisions while the first division took up a supporting position in the neighborhood of Peasant. Under cover of this demonstration the second corps retired on the line of Dour, Quatreborn and Frenoy."

"The third division on the right of the corps, suffered considerable loss in this operation from the enemy, who had repulsed the second corps on the evening of August 22, and 23, the advance squadrons did some excellent work some of them penetrating as far as Soignies (a town of Belgium ten miles northeast of Mons), and several officers took place in which our troops showed to great advantage."

EAST INDIANS IN STURDY RALLY IN EMPIRE CAUSE

Another of Kaiser's Calculations Has Been Upset

WESTMINSTER STIRRED

Gaekwar of Baroda Among the Princes Making Splendid Offers—All India Ready to Fight Against the War Lord

London, Sept. 9—The Kaiser's most astonishing miscalculation in regard to the present war was based on the supposed disloyalty of Great Britain's Indian empire. Yet, amid all the demonstrations of imperial unity that this crisis has evoked none has been more splendid than the spontaneous offers of help in men and money showered on the imperial government by the Indian potentates.

Parliament was roused to the most intense enthusiasm yesterday as a government official detailed a few examples of the lavish offers coming from India, where the Kaiser had been advised, Great Britain's entanglement in a European war would be a signal for a repetition of the horrors of the Indian mutiny.

Gaekwar to Fight

The Gaekwar of Baroda, one of India's most powerful princes, has volunteered to fight at the head of a native contingent. Another prince has offered thousands of horses, another 10,000 men fully equipped and to be maintained in the field, while yet another has placed his vast collection of jewels at the service of the state. "To wage the war in the interests of civilization," he said.

Even in England some fear had been entertained about the loyalty of certain Indian princes and people and the House of Commons cheered itself hoarse as the stirring catalogue of these great and timely gifts, marked by an opulence rarely oriental, was unfolded.

A. Bonar Law, opposition leader said he wished that the great tidings should be published to the whole world.

These demonstrations are not confined to India the people are equally united and enthusiastic and so great is the desire among the native troops to go to the front that those unavoidably left behind have to be placated with all manner of diplomatic apology. These were the troops on whose indirect support the Kaiser's advisors had taught him to reckon in his scheme of disrupting and destroying the British Empire.

Wheat Higher Today

Chicago Sept. 10—Although wheat opened with a price advance, it made a quick rally, extending to 2 1/2 cents over Tuesday's close. Bullying on the part of a prominent house caught the pit almost bare of selling orders and caused the rapid advance.

A bullish reaction at Liverpool had some effect and so also did wet weather in the northwest, tending to restrict the movement of the crop in the spring wheat belt. After opening half to 1 1/2 lower and then springing upward, the market steadied at an average advance of 1/4 as compared with Tuesday night.

THE KAISER'S ILL-TREATED SISTER

A Family Quarrel Among The Hohenzollerns SHE HAD HIS MEASURE

Ridicule of Him For Conceit and "Omnipotence" Brought Matters To The Breaking Point—Forced Into Marriage (London Idea.) By the death of the romantic old Grand Duke of Saxe-Meiningen, the Kaiser's eldest sister has been elevated to the position of a "crowned head," for she is the consort of the new ruler of the state of Saxe-Meiningen, which, in other days, earned throughout the German Empire the title of "Happy Meiningen." Only one other of the Kaiser's sisters is a sovereign, and she is the wife of the present King of Greece. The Kaiser's eldest sister, the new Grand Duchess of Saxe-Meiningen, is a lady of rare personality, and one of the most interesting women in Europe. She has caused her imperial brother some tempestuous moments and many a hard word during her fifty-four years, and now that she is a sovereign princess and, as it were, "on her own," she may cause him more. It is more than likely, anyway.

Diamonds Are Cut In Belgium

Antwerp is the centre of the Diamond Cutting industry. There is no business in Antwerp now. Many of the cutters of that and other Belgian cities are with the colors. What effect this will have on the future of Diamond cutting we are not prepared to say. It is hardly likely that it will bring about an improvement in the quality of the work when peace is declared, or cause an increase in the number of skilled workers. Very likely the New York Diamond cutting industry will be stimulated, but it costs more to cut Diamonds in New York than in Belgium. If you desire a Diamond, now we conduct under the auspices of New Brunswick Lodge No. 1, Knights of Pythias. Rev. J. H. Anderson officiated at the house, and at the grave services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Anderson and by Colonel Moulton, past supreme prelate. There were many beautiful floral offerings, including the Knights of Pythias emblem.

THE BREAKING POINT

For many years it had been the Princess Charlotte's habit to keep a diary of daily events, as did Queen Victoria and her mother. Ten years ago Charlotte of Saxe-Meiningen allowed this diary to fall into her brother's hands, or, at any rate, it did so all. And then "the fat was in the fire!" From the first page to the last the diary was full of scathing references to her brother's conceit and "omnipotence," and Wilhelm II had the most wretched hour of his life as he eagerly removed the painful pages in the hands of his own sister. From that hour the Kaiser washed his hands of Charlotte of Saxe-Meiningen! From that hour Charlotte spared no pains to show her brother the contempt she feels for him. And some of her tricks in this direction have been as subtle as they have been funny. Here is one typical instance. When the present boxing boom began the infection quickly spread to Berlin. Boxing being peculiarly English sport, its immediate vogue with the officers brought down the censure of the Kaiser. His sister, who was staying at Cannes, at once secured seats for herself and friends at a great fight—the first and only occasion on which any of the female descendants of Queen Victoria have been seen at a prize-fight. The Kaiser's ire when he heard of his sister's latest trick to annoy him, must have been a picture worth remembering.

ST. JOHN BOYS ARE ANXIOUS FOR THE WORD TO START

Doctor Godsoe, Home From West, Tells of Visit to Camp at Valcartier. After a pleasant trip through western Canada and the states, Dr. Frank A. and Mrs. Godsoe returned to the city last night. Doctor Godsoe was a delegate from New Brunswick to the supreme convention of the Knights of Pythias in Winnipeg and following that and his wife visited Chicago, Toronto, and other cities. They also went to the big military encampment at Valcartier, where they spent an interesting day. H. R. Gantner was another delegate from St. John to the K. of P. convention. Doctor Godsoe said today that it had been remarkably successful, and all who had attended it had come home feeling well satisfied with the trip. Many matters of importance to the order had been dealt with. The delegates had been royally entertained by the Winnipeg members. Doctor Godsoe said he had been greatly impressed with the big camp at Valcartier. It was a wonderful sight to see so many men, about 35,000, bivouacked in the open air. The improvement that had been wrought about the grounds, which had been speedily converted from a barren field to a bustling military centre. The St. John boys with whom he had chatted had appeared most cheerful and contented, but were very anxious to be started on their way to the old country to get into action. This was the only source of complaint from them—they were anxious for the hour when the orders for departure would be given. It had rained almost steadily at the camp for ten days but trenches had been dug in the damp ground, thus reducing the depth of the mud. Cantennas about the grounds were being liberally patronized, and though each day brought an active round of routine duties, the lads from St. John and other centres through Canada were filled with a true soldierly spirit and entered into their rather arduous drill with cheerful countenances.

RECENT DEATHS

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. George O'Reilly, of Fairville, will sympathize with them in the loss of their little child, Mary Grace, aged thirteen months, who died at the residence of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boyne, of Lepreaux, on Monday, Sept. 7.

The death of a very well known resident of the city occurred yesterday in the person of Thomas Foley, a much respected merchant of the North End, where for thirty years he has been the proprietor of a grocery store at 891 Main street. Of late years he has resided in East St. John. Besides his wife he is survived by two sons, Thomas and Joseph, both at home.

The funeral will take place from his late residence in East St. John, which is situated directly opposite the East St. John post office, on Friday morning at 9:15 o'clock, to St. Joachim's church, Silver Falls, where high mass of requiem will be celebrated. For the benefit of those friends of the deceased who wish to attend the funeral, coaches will meet the city friends at King square shortly after 9 o'clock on Friday morning and convey them to Silver Falls in time for the service of the mass, which will commence at 10 o'clock.

Allan Hill, son of Mrs. John Hill, of Williamsport, N. B., died on Tuesday. He was fourteen years of age and leaves his mother, five brothers and three sisters. Watson Hill of this city is a brother.

KHAKI FASHIONS IN ENGLAND

London, Sept. 10—The war spirit has already begun to affect our fashions. One of the most dashing tradesmen of the West End has devised a tricolor tie—red, white and blue—in quite "wearable" proportions; a broad dark blue band, a medium broad red band, and a narrow white band alternate in pleasing rotation. A competitor along the street pins his faith in the moment to khaki. There are in his window khaki ties of knitted silk, plain silk and flowered silk; khaki shirts in both wool and cotton, and some of a silk and cotton mixture.

Women's veils seem to offer great scope to the war enthusiast. One veil has just one figure in the centre of each cheek—a tiny aeroplane. This pattern, no doubt, is the forerunner of patterns carrying crossed swords, field telegraphs, machine guns and the rest.

An effective golf jacket for women is made of khaki trimmed with a narrow "tri-color" edging. Khaki scarfs of both silk and wool are also to be had trimmed in this way.

The new treatment for tender skins

Many people with tender skins have been misled by the superstition that washing the face with soap and water is bad for the complexion.

"Dr. Pusey in his book on the care of the skin says: 'The layer of dirt and fat that such persons accumulate on the skin is a poor substitute for a clean, clear skin and is a constant invitation to various disorders.'"

The following treatment with Woodbury's Facial Soap is just what a tender skin needs to keep it attractive and resistant.

Just before retiring, dip a soft washcloth in warm water and hold it to the face. Do this several times. Then make a light warm water lather of Woodbury's and dip your cloth up and down in it till your cloth is "fluffy" with soft, white lather. Rub this lathered cloth gently over your skin until the pores are opened and thoroughly cleaned. Rinse the face lightly with clear, cool water and dry carefully.

Use this treatment persistently for ten days and your skin will show a marked improvement—a promise that Woodbury's steady use of Woodbury's brings to a tender, sensitive skin. Woodbury's Facial Soap costs 25c a cake. No one hesitates at the price after their first cake.

Do this today—now! Tear out the illustration of the cake below and put it in your purse as a reminder to get Woodbury's and try this treatment. Tear out the cake soap. Take it to your druggist today. Begin tonight to get the benefits of this Facial soap. For sale by Canadian druggists from coast to coast, including Newfoundland.

ADVANCE MADE IN WARFARE IN THE AIR

Only Six Years Since Wrights Astonished World With Flights

So much attention has been drawn to the astounding feats of skill and daring displayed by aviators within the past year that the surprising advances in aeroplane design seem to have been comparatively unnoticed by the general public. Some of these show a degree of confidence in the immediate possibilities of the art of mechanical flight that is almost incredible.

The evolution of the military aeroplane, especially, appears wonderful. The new sea-plane with folding wings, intended to be carried on warships, is offset by half a dozen new types of army-planes. And that these are no mere theoretic inventions is shown by the fact that they are in actual use in the present European struggle.

Yet it is only six years since the Wrights astonished the world with their first public flights which now seem childish play.

In addition there are "reconnaissance aeroplanes," equally speedy on a horizontal course but capable of more rapid climbing, one of them being able to mount 3,500 feet in seven minutes and their speed ranges from forty-five to seventy-five miles an hour.

First, we have two "fighting aeroplanes," one to carry, in addition to the pilot, a gunner, and, of course, a gun, with ammunition up to 300 pounds in weight, and the other to have not only a gun but 100 pounds of bombs. The first can transport enough fuel to drive it 200 miles, and the second enough to go 300 miles. Both of them are designed to climb 3,500 feet in ten minutes, and their speed ranges from forty-five to seventy-five miles an hour.

Finally there is the "light scout," a very Ariel for nimbleness and agility, capable of being started by its pilot single handed, having a range of speed from fifty up to eighty miles an hour, and able to climb 3,500 feet in five minutes. It carries no armament and no telegraph apparatus, but is counted upon on account of the velocity of its evolution, to dart over an enemy, discover his secrets, and return to its base all within the space of a few minutes.

It could go ten miles and return in a quarter of an hour. Its small size would render it inconspicuous as any consider-

Very Effective Method for Banishing Hairs

(Modes of Today)

At very little cost any woman can rid her face of hairy growths, if she will use the delatone treatment. This is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This paste is spread upon the hairy surface for two or three minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. When every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm results from this treatment, but care should be used to buy real delatone.

THE BANKS AND BUSINESS

(From the Ottawa Citizen)

Most business men will agree that the time has come when the minister of finance should take steps to ascertain what the banks are doing to help the business interests of the dominion tide over the present crisis. The government has made the banks safe. A bank failure at this time is as remote as the North Pole—the government simply could not afford to see a financial institution in danger at this moment, nor for a long time to come. This being so, the query arises: What are the banks prepared to do for the people; what is the policy of the association of banks towards the business community? The question will not down, and the public will insist upon an answer from either the banks or the finance minister.

BERLIN FEELS PINCH OF THE WAR IDLENESS

Factories Are Closing Down or Short-Handed. Trades Are Suffering

Berlin, Aug. 27—War has brought in its train widespread involuntary idleness, in spite of the millions of men withdrawn from productive employment. Factories are closing down or running short-handed, and the pinch of unemployment is felt everywhere among the working classes.

Symptoms of it are seen in the numbers of workmen appearing in the streets as newshoys or seeing other unusual employment and in the heavy calls for assistance from the municipal and labor union funds.

A picture of the extent of the non-employment is given by the statistics of the Greater Berlin Employment Register. The largest labor union in the Berlin district, that of the metal workers, with 88,000 members, reports 11,000 unemployed, although some 16,000 members are with the troops in the field. Of the 52,000 members of the Truckmen & Transport Workers' Union, one-tenth are idle.

The Wood Cutters' Union reports 14,000 of its 27,000 members out of work. Of some 7,000 unorganized woodworkers, largely employed in the piano industry, only 140 are at work. The Bookbinders' Union has 3,300 of its 8,800 members to support. Other branches of industry report similar conditions.

Some trades, however, are affected in the opposite direction. Bakers and butchers are being advertised for, so many having been called into service with the troops that for a time interruption of the city's supply of bread and meat was feared. Brewers also are in demand, breweries being in full operation to supply increased demands from the cafes and restaurants, where the public gather to await the war news; and saddlery tailors and carpenters are working overtime to supply the needs of the army.

MISS ANNIE SYNOTT OF CHATHAM, WHO IS WELL KNOWN IN THE CITY AS WELL AS ALL OVER THE PROVINCE, AS ONE OF NEW BRUNSWICK'S MOST ACCOMPLISHED MUSICIANS, IS IN THE CITY FOR THE EXHIBITION. SHE RECENTLY ACCEPTED THE POSITION AS PIANIST FOR THE CAMPBELL OPERA HOUSE, AND HAS ALREADY BECOME VERY POPULAR WITH THE MUSIC LOVERS OF THAT TOWN. A CAMPBELL EXCHANGE, SPEAKING OF MISS SYNOTT'S TALENT AND HER ENGAGEMENT IN THAT TOWN SAYS:—'As a player and musician, Miss Synott stands in a class by herself, and has been eagerly sought after in many places, and what was Chatham's loss has been our gain. Miss Synott's playing itself will be an attraction and will be appreciated as such by all who recognize good music.'

THE KING'S MESSAGE

The message of King George to the overseas states of the Empire is such a message as no ruler has ever before been able to send forth since the world began.

THE WAR NEWS.

Immense armies still face each other in France, along the line between Paris and Verdun. The left wing of the allied armies has forced back the German right some twenty-five miles from the neighborhood of Paris.

The military correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph thus sums up the situation: "For the first time in the campaign the allies are fighting with the advantage on their side from a strategic standpoint, with equality or superiority in numbers, and under the circumstances there is very faint chance of the Germans obtaining a decisive victory."

Success continues to attend the movements of the Russian armies in Galicia; but while the despatches yesterday stated that they had renewed the forward movement in East Prussia on a large scale the difficulties there appear to be greater and progress less rapid.

The news that comes from the Balkans shows that the Serbians are successfully continuing their offensive movements against the Austrians; that the Montenegrin troops have achieved further successes in Bosnia, and that in various parts of Austria there are indications of internal troubles which will help to paralyze that country as a factor in the war.

THE RESPONSE OF INDIA.

The most remarkable evidence that has ever been given to the world of the popularity of British rule and of the integrity of the British Empire has just come from India. Even the members of the British parliament were amazed by the remarkable outburst of loyal enthusiasm throughout India, as revealed by the simple statement read by the Hon.

ENGLAND

(William Wilfred Campbell.) (This noble poem was written some time ago, but its spirit will find its fullest response now.)

England, England, England, Girdled by ocean and skies, And the power of a world and the heart of a race

The first half million men of Kitchener's army will have been enrolled by the end of this week.

The military correspondent of the London Times, referring to the steady diminution of the German forces by the loss of men in battle whose places cannot be taken by other men, thus contrasts the position of Britain: "We shall raise 1,000,000 men the first year, 2,000,000 the second year, and 3,000,000 the third year," and he adds that "it is really most tactless of the Germans to talk of peace when it will take us such a long time to get into our stride."

The Gawkwar of Baroda has been heard from. There were many, remembering the amount of space devoted to the newspapers and magazines to this Indian Prince at the time of the great Durbar, who awaited with something more than curiosity the announcement of his attitude in the present war.

TO STRIKE QUICKLY Fight, since thou must; strike quick and fierce. So when this tyrant for too long Hath shook the blood out of his ears He may have learned the price of wrong.

Strike, England, quickly; make an end Of him who seeks to trade with thee. If he would bargain for thy friend, What would he trade for Liberty? —Maurice Hewlett in the London Times.

And ye who dwell in the shadow Of the century-sculptured piles, Where sleep our century-honored dead, While the great world thunders overhead,

And far out, miles on miles, Beyond the throbs of the mighty town The blue Thames dimples and smiles; Not yours alone the glory of old

And ye who dwell in the shadow Of the century-sculptured piles, Where sleep our century-honored dead, While the great world thunders overhead,

Yes, England, England, England, Wherever the daring heart By artie foe or torrid sand Thy heroes play their part.

MORNING NEWS TELLS OF CONTINUED SUCCESS OF THE ALLIED ARMIES

Latest official reports from the French government indicate that the offensive tactics undertaken in the last day or two by the allied armies have had the effect of forcing the Germans back at various points in the battle line, which extends from a few miles east of Paris to Verdun, a distance of about two hundred miles.

Bordeaux reports officially that the British army has crossed the River Marne, and that the Germans have fallen back twenty-five miles. The efforts of the Germans to break the French lines on the Oureq river are likewise officially reported to have failed.

Seemingly the Germans are short of ammunition at the front, and are having difficulty in provisioning, and the French war department officially announced, "that on the whole the Germans appear to be beginning a movement of retreat."

The Russian and Austrian arms continue to oppose each other in a long drawn-out engagement in the Luglin district, Russian Poland. An official statement, issued at Petrograd, declares that both Austrian and German troops have been dislodged from their fortified positions in that section, and have retired towards the south.

The battlefield in France is that over which Napoleon fought in 1814, with entrenched camps on both wings and the center. Paris covers the left wing, Chalons the center and Verdun the right, while mobile columns of troops are ready to join in the fighting wherever the line is threatened.

Vitry Le-Francois and Montmirail seem to be the points of the chief engagements, and there the carnage has been the heaviest. The Allies aim at preventing the German turning movement, with a mass of troops composed of many army corps.

King George has addressed a message to the British dominions and colonies, in which he protests that the war was not of Great Britain's seeking and expresses his warmest thanks for the assistance rendered by them.

Maubeuge, a French fortress has fallen into the hands of the Germans, and according to the report the Germans took forty thousand prisoners and four hundred guns.

The British official press bureau announces the wreck off the coast of Scotland of the White Star liner Oceanic. Officers and crew were saved.

GAUZE TRIMMED WITH JET.

Evening gown in white gauze trimmed with black jet and built over delicate pink satin.

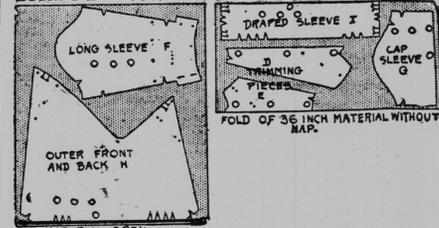

The decidedly new note in frocks for formal wear is struck in the jet-trimmed gausers. Jet beads form borders for tunic skirts, and the bodices are elegantly decorated with the same trimming. White and black form the color scheme of this frock, which, however, has a foundation of delicate pink satin. To make it requires 3/4 yards of gauze (already jetted), 48 inches wide, 1 1/2 yard plain white satin to face foundation, 2 yards 40-inch pink satin for lining and 3/4 yard all-over lace for vest and sleeves.

Either a square, V-shaped or round outline may be used for the neck by following perforations indicating the shape preferred. With the exception of the outer front and back (H) and long sleeve, in case it is liked better than the short, the waist is cut on a fold of the material. After finishing the underbody it should be fitted and draped upon it. Close shoulder seam of lace (or trimming piece) as notched; then arrange on the satin lining. Close seam of lace sleeve as notched; then ease into armhole of underbody with a little fullness as possible.

For the outside, first close shoulder seam of outer front and back as notched; close seam of draped sleeve as notched and gather along seam between double "T" perforations. Sew to front and back section. Gather lower edge of front and back between double "T" perforations and two inches above. Arrange on underbody, centers even, lapping in front and back as illustrated; stitch lower edges together, single small "o" perforation at under-arm seam. Tack shoulder seam along seam of trimming piece. Turn hem at back edge of pelum at notches, close front seam. Sew to lower edge of waist, centers even, notch at under-arm seam.

A rich finish is supplied in the soft girde of black satin, though later in the season velvet will take the place of satin.

THE ONE BRIGHT SPOT.

Everyone was pleased to hear that the Prince of Wales, keenly anxious to prove his patriotism by serving his King and country in the present crisis, had been given a commission in the Grenadier Guards. He was chatting the other day with one of his brother officers on the subject of the war, and quietly remarked: "Well, there's one really good thing that will come from this war." "Whatever's that?" asked the rather astonished officer. "Well," replied the Prince, with rather a pathetic little smile, "I suppose I shan't have to marry one of those German princesses now!"

AN IMMENSE VOID TO FILL

Begin by Buying in Empire What Germany and Austria Sold Before—Need of Co-operation

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—An appeal to Canadian producers and manufacturers to win a bloodless, but effective victory, by capturing the trade of Germany and availing themselves of other opportunities to which the outbreak of war has given rise, has been issued by Sir Geo. E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce.

"Canadians are intensely interested in the gigantic struggle now staged on the battlefields of Europe," says Sir George. "There is being fought out, and there will be decided the mastery of the old world—the control of the seas—the question of liberty and democratic government in Europe." The minister then goes on to point out that Germany's industrial output has wonderfully increased in past years, owing to her superhuman efforts to build up a strong industrial system and a vast overseas trade. Her sea tonnage has increased from $1,111,579 in 1898 to $3,153,724 in 1913, and her foreign trade from $1,678,780,000 to $4,868,000,000. In 1913 her exports were as follows:

To Great Britain.....	$ 342,291,600
Canada.....	14,478,833
Australia.....	21,068,000
British South Africa.....	11,692,200
New Zealand.....	2,546,600
United States.....	169,741,600
France.....	187,890,200
Russia.....	208,440,000
China.....	29,226,400
Japan.....	29,202,600
South America.....	157,960,000
All other countries.....	1,227,862,987
Total.....	$2,402,967,000

Lost Bulk of Trade

"Under present conditions," says Sir George, "she has lost for the time being all this trade, her industrial production has been greatly reduced and her commercial marine has been practically swept from the seas. What this means to Germany we all can see; a total loss during the continuance of the war and a long period of struggle after ensuing peace to regain even a part of her former proud and profitable position, and a probable total loss of her expensive and hard-to-bought colonial possessions.

"What we do not so clearly see is that this immense void in production and distribution must be filled—others must step into her place to make and distribute what Germany has for the time being been forced to surrender. For the British Empire—home and overseas—the instant pressing duty is to possess itself of a generous share of the production and trade thus lost to Germany, and so to reap advantage of a great industrial and commercial victory which shall in some measure compensate the costly

THE BRITISH TEMPER.

(Toronto Globe.)

Sir Algernon Firth, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Great Britain, speaking recently at Bradford of the stern conflict before the nation, said he had been asked his opinion as to the formation of distress committees. Speaking for his locality and Yorkshire, he said they did not want distress committees at present. What was wanted was continued employment for the people. Full employment could not be expected, but if partial employment for three or four days a week could be provided there was no need for starvation. As employers they could not expect to come out without loss, but they had got to suffer their loss like men and stand their corner. In Yorkshire they were going to stand by the workpeople and continue industry.

There speaks the Briton with his bulldog tenacity and his sense of human brotherhood. The factory gates will stand open so long as the manufacturers can find markets anywhere for their products. They will forego profits rather than see their workmen dispersed and left to shift for themselves.

In Canada our captains of industry can best show that they, too, are of the true British breed by devoting all their thought and energy not to hunting safe places wherein they and their hoarded wealth may find shelter from the storm, but to fighting the battle of industry with courage and fortitude and bringing those under their keeping safely through the crisis.

PATRIOTISM.

(From the New York Times.)

Something of the primitive "fire and steel and stone," save which, for England, there seems "nothing left today," pervades the verses of Rudyard Kipling, that in a single day have reached and been read by more millions of people around this earth than any other poem written since the dawn of history. There is a Spartan strength and intensity about the lines, a grim monosyllabic leaping forth "for all we have and are," different from the majestic cadences of the "Recessional." It is no prayer for a nation calm in its vast dominions, but a "farewell to the 'ages' slow-bought gain," and counsel.

To face the naked days In silent fortitude.

Of all the lines written Britain—whether by Stephen Phillips, or William Watson, Alfred Noyes, or by the forgotten Laureate Bridges—these by Kipling alone speak from the British heart a real sense of the Empire's emergency, and a courage that grasps it.

The great wheat crop means an impetus to trade in every part of this country. Between $225,000,000 and $300,000,000 in cash will be paid to the farmers of Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Misery and Want Are Now Haunting Montreal Homes

Five Hundred Destitute Families of Soldiers Are Known to the Relief Committee and, Although There Are Impositions, The Number of Needy Astounds the Workers

(Montreal Mail) Five hundred destitute families of Montreal men who answered the call to arms were helped last week by the Relief Fund Committee. Two thousand dollars have been given out in small sums and numerous investigations started into the cases of all who thronged the committee rooms in the Drummond building. I never knew there was so much misery in Montreal, declared Alexander Rough, who has been placed in charge of the distribution department. Mr. Rough and the ladies assisting him will take a well-earned rest after noon today, and the rooms will only be open two hours on Labor Day from ten o'clock in the morning on Tuesday the afternoon sessions from two to three o'clock will be inaugurated. The situation of many women who with children hanging to their skirts come frequently to Mr. Rough is the harder because their husbands were penniless when they joined the service. They had been laid off from their regular positions when the first sign of hard times appeared, and had been able to earn money only at intervals. The families of the British and other reservists are in serious plight. The reservists pay amounts, but little, and the upkeep of a great proportion of their families has been left to the patriotism of those who have not been called.

FIVE DAYS ON MARCH WITH GERMAN ARMY

(A. J. Ashton, Special Correspondent of the Mail and Empire and the London Daily Mail) Boulogne, Sept. 2.—I have just arrived here after being escorted from Mons a prisoner to the French frontier. I traveled with the German army for five days. I tried in vain to rediscover the personality of the German civilian in the big fields, heavily laden with dust clinging to their stubble beards and which like whatever atrocity was ordered. At noon I was handed over to the officers, and got a seat in a char-a-banc full of officers, so I was able to observe the marvelous organization. The pace was a walk, but was continuous. Ammunition wagons, field pieces, carts filled with four, whole trains or enormous pontoons drawn by heavy horses, great traction engines pulling siege guns, landaus, automobiles filled with doctors, all advanced at the same pace. Some of the vehicles were chafed "Berlin to Paris." Sometimes an enormous grey motor-bus would carry on its roof staff officers bending over maps. Every driver and service man carried weapons. The great wagons simply bristled with rifles. Raise Hats to Invaders We passed crowds of peasants returning to their ruined homes, children and women in wagons, many men trudging, carrying their boots. It was pitiful to see them, humbly raising their hats to the invaders. We passed many villages in ruins. The locked houses were instantly broken open and searched. The few courageous enough to stay lost their estates. The better class of houses were pillaged for wine. Every soldier had bottle necks sticking out of his knapsack. A French aeroplane flew daringly overhead. German shrapnel burst ineffectively like balls of thisledown underneath. Night came, and detachments prepared to bivouac on cornfields, flattened by the infantry. Some dug holes. Plenty of Provender Near the French frontier I was set down in a littered marie. At a long table officers were busy writing. Great bundles of detailed maps were brought in and distributed for the following day's march. Then the room was left leaving afterwards. Both from the field kitchen, a brick-like chunk of black bread, a bottle of felled Burgundy made an excellent supper. The next morning I got papers to return, and the columns started off again the infantry moving first, then the cavalry, then the guns, and the officers last. The impression left from conversations with officers was that they were angry and surprised at England. One said he was sorry for the Belgians and even for the French, but never could forgive England. Even the superior officers were under the illusion that the war had been thrust upon them. The soldiers dipped aluminum cups as they swung along with the other men in a similar way they helped themselves from biscuit tins and from sweets and prunes and such things, but the march went on. It was remarkable to see the post-office working. Armed men as postmen gathered cards from soldiers as the columns marched past.

The German Bubble Brilliant In Hue But Liable To Burst

In the London Magazine, dated August, but put to press before war was imminent, there is a remarkable article on the German Military Bubble, written in June last by one who has obviously been a close student of the Kaiser's military forces. "In spite of all the alarmsists say we are told, there is much hope in the idea that German military power is a highly inflated bubble, of brilliant hues, but susceptible of being pricked and burst." The writer adds: "I admit that on paper the German army is not only the greatest but the most perfectly organized army in the world, but battles are not won by flourishing sheaves of statistics in the enemy's face. The German system of organization and military training is not designed to encourage individual effort, but rather to stultify it, and to reduce the individual to the state of a disciplined automaton." The German army is like a nicely adjusted machine; but the more nicely adjusted the machine the more fatal the catastrophe when anything unforeseen occurs—and it is always the unexpected that does occur in war time. Discipline is necessary, of course, but equally essential are individuality, courage, and devotion. War Lessons Ignored "The German officer relies only upon discipline, and he runs the risk of being badly let down at the crucial moment. Courage, determination, 'amour propre' and individual enterprise are all stronger than the fear of death, but it has yet to be proven that the modern educated man will risk death rather than contravene discipline. Wherefore, I maintain that in our present state of civilization the German system of organization and training is fundamentally wrong." The writer has been seven times present at the German grand manoeuvres during the past ten years, and has been much impressed with the vast massing of troops and all the pomp and circumstance of mimic warfare, but he has never seen elsewhere manoeuvres carried out with so little disregard to the possibilities of modern warfare. At manoeuvres the German soldier or officer is taught to do things which he could not possibly perform if the enemy were using ball cartridges. Whole brigades of cavalry sweep down upon infantry in most gallant fashion, and the umpires encourage the sport. It is perhaps 'magnificent, but it is not war.' Initiative is another quality that is lacking in the German soldier. I have seen a whole brigade captured just because the brigadier was waiting for orders from the General to with-

THE UNITED STATES AND THE WORLD'S COAL MARKETS

(Coal Age) The annual production of coal in the entire world is approximately 1,850,000,000 short tons. The United States produces 875,000,000, or more than 47 per cent. Great Britain produces about 305,000,000, or 22 per cent., while Germany produces 265,000,000, or 19 per cent. Other countries in their order of production are Austria-Hungary, 50,000,000; France, 45,000,000; Russia, 28,000,000; Belgium, 25,000,000 and Japan, 16,000,000 short tons. It is true therefore, that of eight countries producing 97 per cent of the world's coal output the only one not now engaged in war is the United States. Great Britain is still producing a large tonnage, and is endeavoring to maintain her place as the world's most important exporter of fuel. Her foreign business in coal amounts to approximately 110,000,000 tons annually, leaving 195,000,000 tons for domestic use. There is no doubt that production in Great Britain will be curtailed, but it is likewise certain that her domestic consumption will materially lessen, so that considerable coal will still be available for export. She has ships, and commands the sea, so that she must be regarded still as a most formidable competitor for the export business. The chief condition against her is the recent order prohibiting the export of her best Welsh grades. We doubt if importers will be satisfied with an inferior English coal. In Germany, Austria-Hungary, France and Belgium, the coal industry is completely demoralized, only enough colliers being left in the mines to supply fuel for the railways, armament mills, and the more important national requirements. Japan can hardly supply enough coal for her own uses, so it is evident that the United States and Great Britain must furnish the world's fuel while the present war continues. The average consumption of coal in the principal countries of the world (excluding tropical countries) is approximately four tons a head of population. In the United States the consumption is greater than anywhere else, being 5.3 tons per inhabitant. Four million men are employed in mining the world's coal, of which number 1,100,000 are British, 850,000 American, 710,000 German and 200,000 are French. South America alone needs 370,000,000 worth of coal annually, of which amount at present the United States furnishes $5,000,000 and Great Britain, $45,000,000.

If the present time is not the supreme opportunity to make the United States the chief coal exporting nation of the world, then surely the chance will never come.

THIS WOMAN'S SICKNESS

Quickly Yielded To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Baltimore, Md.—"I am more than glad to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I suffered dreadful pains and was very irregular. I became alarmed and sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until I was without a cramp or pain and felt like another person, and it has now been six months since I took any medicine at all. I hope my little note will assist you in helping other women. I now feel perfectly well and in the best of health."—Mrs. AUGUST W. KONDOR, 1632 Hollis Street, Baltimore, Md.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact. For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You

Eating meat regularly eventually procures kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get agitated; clog up and cause all sorts of stress, particularly backache and miseries in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, sleeplessness, uric acid and urinary irritation. The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Salts from any good pharmacy; it is a tablespoonful in a glass of water fore breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes, lemon juice, combined with lithia, it has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate their normal activity; also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Salts cannot injure anyone; makes delightful effervescent lithia-water which millions of men and women use now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

countries. However protracted the suspense of this war may be, we trust that the steadfastness of all citizens of the British Empire will remain proof against Kaiserism. Neither in this country nor in any other under the British flag should there be any weakening of faith in the strength of the allies or in the stability of the foundations of trade. The idea that this imitation of Alaric can win or even save himself and his nation, must not for a moment be entertained. Against the more insidious forms of mental depression all our people must be on their guard. They must put from their thoughts apprehensions, even what may seem experiences, of harm of any kind from Germany. The moral effect of the war upon Canada is really a nerve one. Upon the defensive spirit its effect has been in the highest degree rousing. It has stirred the manhood of the country and has given rise to volunteering for defence on a scale never before approached. Upon the industrial and commercial spirit of the country it ought to have an equally tonic effect. Germany must not be allowed to win any victories in this country. Our business men must not lose heart and become less strenuous in the struggle because Germany's armies are advancing in France. To do so would be to surrender to the enemy. No such victory of matter or manner over mind must be achieved here by Kaiserism. By our thinking, by our feeling, by our common intercourse with our fellows we can fight against the demoralizing tendency of the War. Lord's operations with which Britons at the front are fighting him. These valiant souls ought to be an example and inspiration to the men at home. We should at least be able to keep the flag of trade and industry flying and keep busy the workers who are to bear the cost of the expeditionary forces we are sending to Britain's aid. If our business men keep up heart, the rays of disturbance set going by the German Emperor will not add any of the trade or industry of this country to the wreckage of his war.

India's Aid.

The princely rulers of the several provinces of India have offered men and money to the Imperial government, and have shown a fine spirit of loyalty to the Motherland in her crisis. The several chieftains have made bounteous individual gifts towards the funds being raised in India, and offered personal services to the king-emperor. An official statement from the Viceroy of India, read in the House of Commons, London, yesterday, told of this encouraging condition of affairs. Even private jewelry had been offered for sale by some of the princes in order to swell the funds, and one of them had volunteered to raise a regiment of 1,000 good fighters for active service. Six princes and native soldiers from twelve states are now enlisted for the front.

It is the seat of an archbishop, and the ancient archiepiscopal palace, which for many years has been the city hall, will be occupied by President Poincaré and his cabinet. Bordeaux's commercial power rests chiefly on its wines and its brandy. The claret, sauternes and other Bordeaux wines are known the world over. Its vineyards also yield vinegar and dried fruits. Much of the printed calico used in America comes from Bordeaux.

OWES HER LIFE TO "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

Cured Both Stomach Trouble And Headaches

Palmerston, Ont., June 20th, 1918. "I really believe that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-lives." Ever since childhood I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctor's bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help. The same old Stomach Trouble and distressing Headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago, I got a box of "Fruit-a-lives" and the first box did me good. My husband was delighted and advised a continuation of their use. Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked the reason. I replied, "I am taking Fruit-a-lives." He said, "Well, if Fruit-a-lives are making you look so good, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can."

It arose on the motion brought forward by Mrs. Macdonald, which was as follows:—"That in the opinion of the select vestry, the engagement of women police to discharge defined duties, is essential in the interests of women and the community generally." The employment of women has been adopted by other countries with excellent results, said Mrs. Macdonald, and some work, such as for instance, the inspection of public lodging houses for women can be done more efficiently by women police. There is also, she added, considerable work in the police courts which should be performed by them.

SIR JOHN FRENCH TELLS OF FIGHTING BY BRITISH TROOPS

(Continued from page 1) ed General Allenby with the cavalry, to act vigorously in advance of my left front, and endeavor to take the pressure off. About 7.30 in the morning, General Allenby received a message from Sir Charles Fergusson, commanding the fifth division, saying he was very hard pressed and in urgent need of support. On receipt of this message, General Allenby drew in his cavalry brigade though he saw a good opportunity to paralyze the further advance of the enemy's infantry, by making a mounted attack on his flank. He formed up and advanced for this purpose, but was held up by wire about 500 yards from his objective and the Ninth Lancers and the Eighteenth Hussars suffered severely in the retirement of the brigade.

the morning of the 24th, they were moved out to a position south of Quarrubrou, to support the left flank of the second corps. With the assistance of cavalry, Sir Horace Smith Dorrien was enabled to effect his retreat to a new position, although having two corps of the enemy on his front and one threatening his flank. He suffered great losses in doing so. "At night-fall, a position was occupied by the second corps to the west of Vavay, the first corps to the right. Effort to Surround British. "The night was protected by the fortress of Meubeuge, the left by the nineteenth brigade in position between Jenlain and Bruay, and cavalry on the outer flank. The French were still retiring and I had no support except such as was afforded by the fortress of Meubeuge, and determined efforts of the enemy to get around my flank assured me that it was his intention to hem me against that place and surround me. "I felt that not a moment must be lost in retiring to another position. I had every reason to believe that the enemy's forces were somewhat exhausted and I knew that they had suffered heavy losses. I hoped, therefore, that his pursuit would not be too vigorous to prevent me effecting my object. The operation, however, was full of danger, and difficulty, not only owing to the very superior forces in my front, but also the exhaustion of the troops. "The retirement was recommenced in the early morning of the 25th to a position in the neighborhood of Lecateau and the rear guard were ordered to be clear of Meubeuge and Vavay by 5.30 a. m. Two cavalry brigades, with the divisional cavalry of the second corps, covered the movement of the second corps and the remainder of the cavalry division with the nineteenth brigade, the whole under command of General Allenby, covered the west flank. Reinforcements. "The fourth division commenced its detachment at Lecateau on Sunday, the 28th, and by the morning of the 29th, eleven battalions and a brigade of artillery, with the divisional staff, were available for service. I ordered General Snow to move out to take up a position with his right flank to the east, his left resting on the Cambrai-Le-Cateau road south of La Chapelle. In this position the division rendered great help to the effective retirement of the second and first corps to new positions. "Although the troops had been ordered to occupy the Cambrai-Le-Cateau-Landreis position and ground had, during the 28th, been partially prepared and entrenched, I had grave doubts, owing to information I had received as to the accumulating strength of the enemy against me, as to the wisdom of standing there to fight. Tribute to Smith-Dorrien. "I cannot close this brief account of this glorious stand of the British troops without putting on record my deep appreciation of the valuable services rendered by Sir Horace Smith Dorrien. I say without hesitation that the saving of the left wing of the army under my command on the morning of the 26th, could never have been accomplished unless a commander of rather unusual coolness, intrepidity and determination had been present personally to conduct the operations. They have furnished me with most complete and accurate information which has been of incalculable value in the conduct of operations. They were fired at constantly, both by friend and foe, and not hesitating to fly in every kind of weather, they have remained undaunted throughout. ENLISTING FOR HALIFAX DUTY

None From St. John Fusiliers Are To Go There

NEWS FROM VALCARTIER

Germans and Austrians, Held Prisoners in St. John, Are to be Taken to Halifax - Thanks From A. S. C. Men

To relieve the garrison in Halifax, composed in part of men from the Royal Canadian Regiment, enlisting is now well advanced with the 71st and 74th regiments which will send two companies of war strength, fifty-nine men each, leaving for the sister city in a few days.

Word received yesterday from Valcartier indicated that there seemed every reason to believe that the appointment of Major Frank Magee to the command of the heavy artillery brigade, noted a few days ago in the Times, would be confirmed soon.

Major McGowan has been given command of a detail at the base of the ammunition column, quite an important post, while Lieutenant Hayes has been appointed in charge of another section.

A guard of four men from the garrison at Halifax arrived in the city this morning and will leave on their return there this evening, having in custody two Germans and two Austrians taken captive here by men under command of Col. J. L. McAvity some days ago.

These prisoners of war include Gustav, a young German who was thought to have been a spy, as he had several important papers and documents. The prisoners have been kept in custody here since their examination by the local militia, and now will be taken before the staff at headquarters in Halifax to decide what will be done in their case.

As the Times announced some days ago there have been a few rejections of members from local units at Valcartier although the statement was contradicted. The rejections have been expected, considering the very large force of men mustered at the camp, as there are nearly 10,000 in excess of the number required. It is satisfactory to note, however, that the number turned back from St. John is not large. One man from Fort Pigeon has been rejected, while two who were rejected from the Army Service detachment are expected in a few days. That only two of the thirty-eight men taken from here with this body should be eliminated in the weeding process is very complimentary indeed.

The following is an extract from a letter received this morning by the secretary of the Soldiers' and Families' Patriotic Fund from Lieutenant Olliphant, who left here in charge of the volunteers from the Army Service Corps now O. C. detachment No. 7 Co., C. A. S. C., at Valcartier.

"May I take this opportunity of tendering both for myself and for the men of No. 7 Co., sincere thanks for all that your organization is doing in our behalf. It was my intention to write immediately on my arrival here to thank you for the gift of cash of $75 for comforts for the men in my command, and I do so now with apologies for so tardy an acknowledgment of the kindness. I trust that your committee will accept same and make known to the subscribers the appreciation of the St. John boys in my company of the help and support so readily given to them and theirs by their fellow citizens."

COMMISSION IN ONTARIO REGIMENT. Jack Wandless, formerly of Fredericton, has received a commission as lieutenant in the 36th Regiment, now drilling in Toronto. Lieut. Wandless went to South Africa with the draft of the first contingent and was later on a sergeant with the constabulary.

HONEYMOON ON HUNTING TRIP. In Fredericton yesterday Miss Mary A. Howard, of Upper Kingsclear, was united in marriage to J. Garfield Caverhill, of Upper Caverhill. Mr. and Mrs. Caverhill left to attend the St. John exhibition, and on their return will spend three weeks on a hunting trip at Magallowick Lake.

DEATH OF MRS. S. BUSTIN. The death of Mrs. Sarah Perry, widow of John W. Bustin of Stanley, formerly of Newcastle-on-Tyne, occurred Tuesday at her home at Nashwaakiss. She was seventy-one years of age and is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Catherine Bailey, Misses Margaret and Minnie, of Montreal, Mrs. Jessie Evans, Misses Anna and Agnes at home, and one son, William, of Salino, British Columbia.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN DROWNED. A woman well known in police circles was found by some young men last evening lying on the mud flats near the Ballast wharf at low tide, well out beyond high water mark. The woman, in a state of intoxication, was carried to the bank and left there. She was afterwards taken to a policeman. Mr. and Mrs. Stoughton before the magistrate this morning and fined $8 or two months in jail with hard labor.

THEY ARE WELCOME. The St. John Board of Trade received an enquiry from a New York business man this morning asking if American tourists were desired "in the Province and Canada," and if there was any inconvenience to them in their experience. The secretary informed the writer that American tourists were as welcome in the province as the flowers in May, that transportation was proceeding without interruption, and that a discount of 1 per cent on United States currency, in respect to the United States, was about the only inconvenience from which they were likely to suffer and this one might be removed any day.

QUICK MOBILIZATION

One of the military marvels in the European crisis was the quick mobilization of great bodies of troops.

There is a lesson in that for the aggressive business man. Newspaper advertising is superior to any other medium because of its quick attack.

There are no long waits between preparation of copy and publication. A message can be printed when the news is fresh and the time is ripe.

Such a message has double force—and results are immediate. National advertisers are finding by experience that newspaper advertising produces greater results at less cost than any other form of publicity.

Buying Clothing Should Be A Profitable Investment, Mr. Man

You want to get all that's coming to you when you spend your money, don't you? But do you get it? If you buy your clothing anywhere outside of Oak Hall we emphatically say you do NOT.

Now a man spends considerable for clothing in the course of a year, and a saving of five dollars or ten dollars on a purchase is too important a thing to be side stepped in these days of the increasing cost of living.

And you are side-stepping just such savings when you fail to buy your clothing at Oak Hall.

Of course you know that when you buy of us you buy of the makers. You thus SAVE the middleman's profit, which profit you must pay at other stores. You see, therefore, the reason for the difference between our prices and other stores' prices.

And besides saving money you will get clothing that has no superior in quality, style and durability.
