ASQUITH EMPHATIC IN DECLARING THE LORDS' VETO MUST GO

PROTESTANTS TAKE UP MARRIAGE DECREE OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Ottawa, April 20—Protestants throughout the capital are now widely discussing the new marriage decree and no less than three denominational bodies in which Ottawa members are interested will have something to say regarding it within the next few weeks.

It is almost certain to be referred to by committees of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of Canada when it convenes next week in Montreal, on June 1. It will come up in committee and probably be talked over by the assembly and a resolution opposing it may be voted.

An Anglican substitute committee some time ago was appointed to consider this and other marriage questions. They will meet at Laurier Memorial Hall in May and a resolution that they will draft will be presented at the annual meeting of the synod of Ottawa here in June.

The Methodists of the city are also very much interested in this new decree and a sub-committee appointed some months ago will report on it, and it will be fully discussed at the Ottawa district meeting to which they will draft, at the annual conference of the Dominion Methodist church on May 17 and 18. It will also come up at the Montreal Methodist conference at Montreal in June at which some twenty Ottawa delegates will attend.

There was a musical program between the speeches as follows: Harry Shaw and Victor Lee, solos; Fred Givran and Clarence Givran, duet; J. F. NATURE'S CURE FOR A COUGH

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is the Most Largely Imitated Medicine in the Country

What to give the children for cough and cold is the problem mothers have to solve. Most of us usually settle on Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and make it the only medicine we have in our house. In this medicine are linseed, turpentine and other well-known ingredients of up-to-date value in the cure of colds. It is pleasant to take, so much so that children do not resist it.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE WITCHCRAFT IN MASSACHUSETTS

From a speech before the state 'republican' convention at Worcester, Sept. 7, 1854. FELLOW-CITIZENS of Massachusetts—Our own local history is not without encouragement. In early colonial days the law against witchcraft, now so abhorrent to reason and conscience, was regarded as constitutional and binding, precisely as the fugitive slave bill, not less abhorrent to reason and conscience, has been regarded as constitutional and binding.

SIR WILFRID REPLIES TO HON. GEO. E. FOSTER

His Ideal for British Empire is Universal Free Trade Within its Bounds—Hon. Mr. Pugsley Nails Anti-Reciprocity Story

Ottawa, April 20—An hour's address by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in a briefer reply, agreed with Mr. Foster's essay on the great importance of the imperial conference, but thought that there was no necessity for Canada broaching new subjects for the coming conference in view of the fact that there were plenty of unsolved problems still left over from the agenda of the last conference to keep the overseas representatives busy for the full time of the meeting.

GORDON NAIL WORKS HERE IN NEGOTIATION WITH MEDICINE HAT

The following is from the Medicine Hat News of the 13th:

"At a special meeting of the city council held yesterday afternoon the consideration of the Gordon Nail and Wire Nail Works request to have the original draft of the agreement as presented them by the city modified, took place.

"The agreement forwarded by the city called for the erection of a building costing not less than $80,000 and for the employment of 100 men when the plant was running at its capacity. The company in returning the agreement objected to the clause placing an amount on the cost of the construction of the building and simply wanted to guarantee the construction of a plant with machinery installed sufficient to serve as equipment for 100 men when employed.

"The company in the original agreement were to be given exemption from taxes for three years and for the first six days for three years free of charge.

"A prominent official of the company in the evening of the 13th, stated that he and the mayor were instructed by the council to write him and ask him to continue his trip to Medicine Hat in order that the council might talk the matter over with him personally and see what could be done in the best interests of both the company and the city under the conditions.

"The feeling of the council is that it would like to secure the location of the company here but is adverse to making any unwarranted concessions.

"J. H. McLeod of the Gordon Nail Works when asked regarding the matter said that for the present he preferred to say nothing.

RUSKIN'S BAPTISM

John Ruskin was baptized in London by a Presbyterian minister. In the Russian Mission at Conston the following certificate is preserved: "Oehlrich Mans, 14th Nov. 1819, I hereby certify that John Ruskin, born on the 8th February, 1819, was baptized by me on the 20th February, 1819, at the house of his father, John James Ruskin, Esq., 54 Hunter street, London. ANIMALS THAT GO MAD

In Paris of a list of 193 of all kinds of animals which had bitten people and which were suspected of being afflicted with rabies, there were as many as 833 dogs, of the remaining animals in this official list there were 247 horses, 6 cats and 11 others of the various domestic animals. It will be seen from this that the dog is not the only offender, though he leads all others by a large plurality.

In Prussia, that country of statistical delight, there are numerous instances, officially listed, of bites from rabbit, cattle, and even from that mildest of animals, or poultry, the deer. In regard to Russia, one would naturally suppose that wolves would figure largely as a source of danger in biting other animals and man. Russian statistics substantiate the correctness of this supposition.—The Forum.

HON. C. W. ROBINSON

No leader of a party in the politics of any province in Canada enjoys to a larger extent the confidence and personal esteem of members of his party than does the Hon. Clifford W. Robinson.

The devotion of his followers to Mr. Robinson personally was very noticeable at the conference of representative Liberals, and especially the Liberal members of the legislature, in this city yesterday.

The Standard continues to argue that Mr. Lowell did not do anything in connection with the suspension bridge to make the Hasen government hasten its action in that matter.

The chief argument in the United States congress against reciprocity is that it would injure the American farmer.

Mr. O. S. Crockett would keep parliament in session till December 1912 before he would permit the reciprocity agreement to pass.

The St. Croix Courier says: "After the storm of ballots in Tuesday's election in St. John, when the people decided in favor of the commission form of government, it should be more difficult than ever to find the 'hidden hand' which was so prominent a factor in the campaign."

Hon. Dr. Pughley showed parliament yesterday that there was no truth in the statement that reciprocity would prevent United States manufacturers from establishing factories in Canada.

The citizens of St. John should interest themselves in the question of public playgrounds for the children.

affording scope for the instinct of children to play, and it will not let the city council forget its duty in the premises.

IMPERIAL FREE TRADE

The most ardent imperialist on the Conservative benches at Ottawa could scarcely go further than Sir Wilfrid Laurier went yesterday when he declared himself in favor of ultimate free trade within the empire.

There does not seem any possibility at the present time of a universal system of free trade throughout the United Kingdom and the dominions overseas, although, for my part, that is my ideal for the British Empire.

The New Brunswick Liberals are squared away for a vigorous provincial campaign leading to victory in the next election.

The Standard continues to argue that Mr. Lowell did not do anything in connection with the suspension bridge to make the Hasen government hasten its action in that matter.

The chief argument in the United States congress against reciprocity is that it would injure the American farmer.

"I should like to chat with you a while, Mrs. Duggan," said the young lady who has taken up settlement work.

"I want to talk to you about—"

"Are you one of them uplifters?" interrupts Mrs. Duggan, without taking her hands from the washbasin.

"Well, I've just this to say, I was one day behind with my washin's last week because of helpin' 'em committee ladies, an' from now on them that wants to improve my condition in life will either have to do 'em washin' while I sit and listen or pay me 50 cents an hour for hearin' them through with an interested an' aspirin' expression."

THE HOUSE OF MANNING
 ("Kit" in April Canada Monthly "Formerly Canadian West.")
 Queen Mary, when Princess of Wales, and no doubt at the present time, too, had many a gown built for her by the famous old Manning House in Dublin. To speak of the ancient shop for a moment, it is a regular cradle-house of robes and gowns of Royalty. The portraits of many British sovereigns hang on the walls in the little narrow, dark old rooms which no inducement could prevail upon the head of the great house to change. Their very quaintness is their charm, though the fitting rooms devoted to royalty and the "lady's" are large and well lighted. There are old corners filled with valuable pieces of furniture. From shadowy places you get gleams of the shimmer of gold and silver and faint rose. The management is justly proud of the many medals won at various exhibitions, and of other beautiful prizes.
 The head-woman of the dressing department—a dignified lady in a trained black satin gown and long gold chain, told the writer of the occasion when Her Majesty was being fitted for a wonderful gown for some Indian fete, or other assemblage. This forewoman, with her assistants, accompanied by the manager and head of the firm, was commanded to come to London, and there the gown was fitted. It was literally sewn with precious gems, diamonds and pearls, rubies and sapphires, and while the women were busy at their work two detectives stood in the room behind a curtain while four others remained on guard outside. The princess stood by suggestion but the one, though her lady in attendance, that the collar should be very high and fit very snugly.
 "The princess is very particular about her collars," said the fitter, "but though we have made many gowns for her, especially for the poplin of which she is very fond, we never had a dress returned for alteration." It is reported that Queen Mary is ordering several gowns of this famous fabric for her coronation and its festivities.
 Imagine yourself, as the French say, being "fitted on" and never being allowed to address directly your dressmaker. The mistress of the robes, who is always a personage, and who probably knows next to nothing about gown-building, is the one to whom the queen has to confide her woes.
 "Our sleeve is a little tight here," says Her Majesty, indicating a spot below the elbow.
 "Her Majesty's sleeve," echoes the personage in lofty tones, "is rather tight just below the elbow."
 "Her Majesty's sleeve," exclaims the head dressmaker, in a tone of extreme haughtiness, "is unduly narrow below Her Majesty's elbow."
 "There's a pin sticking in my person below the belt," says Her Majesty humbly.
 "A pin annoys Her Majesty somewhere below the waist-line," says the personage in a fretting tone.
 "A pin perforates Her Majesty's under-clothing just below the royal stomacher," and while the women were busy at their work two detectives stood in the room behind a curtain while four others remained on guard outside. The princess stood by

MASQUERADE BALL IN ASSEMBLY SUITE A GREAT SUCCESS

Some 200 in Attendance, Pretty Costumes, Fine Music and Admirable Management Throughout

As jolly and pleasant an evening as one could ask for was enjoyed by some 200 in Keith's assembly suite last night at the masquerade ball conducted by a very capable committee of young men. It was the first evening of the kind held in St. John in some years, was excellently managed in every particular and was voted a pronounced success.

At 8.30 o'clock the chaperones—Mesdames S. C. Young, Frank I. McCafferty, W. H. Golding, W. H. Holder, Robert B. Pease and W. S. Fairweather received those attending, this ceremony occupying the better part of an hour. There were dances of colonial days and various gentlemen of portly appearance and grave demeanor, flower girls, Indian maids, nurses, soldiers brave and naval officers, Pierrots and Rubes and other characters all in appropriate garb and the filled into the brilliantly lighted and handsomely furnished reception room there was presented a series of varied and pretty groupings pleasing to look upon. Then came the filling in of dance programmes and with the excellent music of Jones' orchestra dancing was begun with the grand march. There was a programme of sixteen numbers which were well made and carried out that one part of the programme followed another with commendable precision and it was seen to that no one was permitted to loiter during the hours pleasantly. The music was beyond criticism, the dining hall arrangements were perfect and in every respect the managing committee had done its work well. It was composed of Kenneth F. Bonnell, Percy King, S. Young, Galloway, W. Brown, Edwin W. Bonnell and W. H. Golding, who was a most energetic secretary.

THEY CONDEMN THE CO-OPERATIVE BILL

Montreal Retail Merchants Association Declare That It Is Dangerous Legislation

(Montreal Gazette.)

Resolutions condemning the co-operative bills now before parliament were adopted at the annual meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association here yesterday. These bills which have been introduced at Ottawa for three or four years back were declared to be dangerous legislation by the public. The general objection raised against the bills was that they would permit irresponsible persons to take over the working classes under promise that they would be members of a co-operative association, and upon forwarding their merchandise at reduced rates, but it was alleged that the history of these organizations has been one of failure and that the bills would permit the introduction of Socialistic tendencies, was that failure often came to their doors, and subscribers only found out after they had been duped.

During the discussion it was remarked that the bills were supplementary to each other, one authorizing the collection of funds, and the other the formation of the co-operative societies, but that either of them if adopted would permit the objectionable legislation to become effective. Opposition to the first bill which is sponsored by F. D. Monk, M. P., was to the effect that it provided for no efficient government inspection, that the money could be invested in any manner the committee of management might see fit, that there would be no limit to the number of societies, which can be operated. That any seven persons living in the Dominion might all out a blank form and upon forwarding it to Ottawa may secure the right of incorporating themselves without any cost, and thus start a loan company, or a limited. These shares are to be one dollar each and a million, or more shares might be secured by each society if they so desired.

It was further explained that no guarantee of money deposit was to be placed with the government, and that the whole scheme opened paths to speculative visions, and the old established savings bank and loan companies, which were conducted by experienced men.

The second bill objected to was that of Mr. Martin, M. P. for Regina. The first name of the bill was to be placed with the people, and the latter bill was to enable them to secure and invest the money in a co-operative society, so as to manufacture and do a wholesale and retail business. Practical by the same plan as the first bill, and could borrow money, and with this money, together with what was secured from the sale of shares, they would be able to manufacture or buy and sell at retail grain, land, timber, paper, coal, produce, cement, dry goods, hardware, jewelry, boots and shoes, etc. No restrictions are mentioned in the bill, it was declared, as to how the business shall be conducted, or how their business shall be inspected by the government.

It was further contended that, to induce the public to deal with them, so-called dividends were offered on their purchases to subscribers ranging from five to twenty-five per cent. In other words, it was the old trading stamp scheme dressed up in new garments.

The discussion was brought to a close by the expressed wish that the members of the house could do their utmost to throw out both bills in the interests of the commerce worked up by the association members.

At a long discussion during which the foregoing points were advanced, resolutions were adopted condemning the two bills now before the dominion parliament.

MORNING LOCALS

Rev. J. G. Shearer, general secretary of moral and social reform and evangelism for the Presbyterian church in Canada, was in the city yesterday. While here he held a conference with the members of the synod committee on these branches of church work. Rev. W. H. Smith, of Fredericton, the convenor, was in the chair. The other members are Rev. Gordon Lang, Rev. L. B. Gibson, St. Stephen, and Rev. G. McArthur, Newcastle. Rev. Mr. Dickie said last night that nothing of any importance was transacted as they were merely getting their work in shape for the meeting of the General Assembly.

It was said by station officials yesterday that Hattie LeBlanc, of Cape Breton, and her father, had alighted from the Halifax train yesterday morning, but whether or not they are still in the city is unknown. They left for Reed's point, evidently to take the Boston boat for that city, but the boat will not sail till tomorrow.

J. S. A. McKay, of Ottawa, reached the city yesterday to temporarily fill the position of paymaster in the customs house.

Her Face and Body Were Litterly Covered With "BOILS."

Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Them.

Mr. John H. King, of St. John, N.B., writes:—"Last winter I was very much troubled with boils, and my face and body were literally covered with them. A friend advised me to take Burdock Blood Bitters. I got the first one my bottle began to go away. I had just taken a few doses out of the last one when they all disappeared. My husband has also used Burdock Blood Bitters with benefit."

Boils in themselves are not dangerous, but still, at the same time, are very painful. They are caused entirely by bad blood, and to get rid of them it is necessary to put the blood in good condition, and for this purpose there is nothing to equal that old and tried remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters.

A COMMON SCENE IN PLAGUE-STRICKEN CITY

ARRESTING A PLAGUE VICTIM IN HARBIN. The Russian soldier, having noted that the Chinese is showing symptoms of the dreaded plague, is arresting him, keeping him at a distance with the aid of a sword, and whistling for the sanitary officials to remove from the streets one who is a danger to all he approached. Such scenes are common in Harbin.

Keep Baby's Skin Clear

Mothers, do you realize the importance of caring for baby's tender, easily irritated skin? Neglect or unsuitable methods may give rise to simple rashes or tiny sores. Torturing, itching, burning, itchy eruptions threaten to become permanent. Not only is Cuticura Soap the purest and sweetest for baby's bath but, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, it affords the speediest and most economical method of clearing baby's skin and scalp of eczemas, rashes, itches and irritations, and of establishing permanent condition of skin and hair.

WHAT'S THE USE. The spring will soon be here again, As sure as sure can be, I heard a robin chirp and then The very soul of me Was filled with joy. Oh, wondrous bliss! Yes, I am glad—so glad! At such a goodly time as this Can any heart be sad?

What joy to see the budding things, The greenery appear! The soul within the body sings— The world is full of cheer. We soon may walk in country ways— This thought should stir my blood, But roads upon the raw spring days Are ankle deep in mud!

I've lived for months on common grub— Beans, side meat, and the rest; I've even dined—oh, there's the rub!— On prunes in piecrust dressed, But now I'll turn my fancy loose And let it soar on high. It's almost time—say, what's the use? I don't like rhubarb pie!

SHE WAS SURPRISED

When Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured her Chronic Liver Complaint. Mrs. J. Smith of Worcester, Mass., tells an interesting story of relief from almost intolerable suffering. "I had been suffering for years with chronic liver complaint," she writes, "and my health was a daily source of grief to me. Every day I experienced the sickening effects of these ailments. I had tried for me medicine that should permanently give them away. Hearing of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, I thought they were worthy of a trial. My surprise was indeed great. From the very first I experienced relief. Continuing with them I found my troubles were slowly but surely leaving me, and before long I once more knew what it was to be free from the harassing effects of the ailments that had long sickened and weakened me. So great is my faith in Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills that I shall never on any account be without them."

QUESTION OF MOLASSES MIXING LIVE IN BARBADOS

Agricultural Society Takes it up—A Matter of Importance to the Maritime Provinces—Petition for Legislature to Prevent the Practice

(Barbados Standard) At a meeting of the Agricultural Society here, the president observed that the attention of the Committee of Management of the Society had been drawn to a matter which they considered of very great importance. It had come to their notice that mixtures were being made and exported as Barbados molasses; and he believed he was correct in saying that there was no buyer of molasses who was at the present constructing very extensive works for the purpose of mixing molasses. According to the information furnished him, what was being done was a certain quantity of fancy molasses was purchased and mixed with vacuum pan molasses and the mixture shipped abroad as Barbados molasses. They all knew what was thought of Barbados molasses in places where it was consumed. It was considered the best molasses in the world, and Barbados had a name for good molasses. If these mixtures were sent abroad as Barbados molasses, in time to come from Barbados having a good name for molasses, it would probably be avoided as an inferior article. It was utterly impossible for the mixture of fancy molasses and vacuum pan molasses to be anything like the genuine Barbados molasses in flavor, whatever it might be in color. As he understood, the object for which this mixture was being made was, to enable the dealer, connected with the said mixture, to produce an article at a very much smaller cost than the genuine Barbados molasses. This mixture was shipped abroad and sold at a less price than the real article could be purchased from other dealers in molasses in this colony. The result was, those merchants who dealt only in genuine molasses were placed at a considerable disadvantage and could not possibly compete with the dealer of that cheap and nasty mixture which was disposed of in Canada and Newfoundland. If such a state of things continued, the result would be, that in time to come, the entire molasses business of the island would be in the hands of one firm, who could give planters whatever they pleased for it. That would practically mean ruin to the molasses trade of the colony. In his opinion it was a very important matter, and a very serious situation had arisen. He thought the society should deal with the matter at once, and he did not think they could come to any other decision but that legislation was absolutely necessary. There should be legislation prohibiting any person in the island from making mixtures to be shipped abroad as Barbados molasses. That was the only way in which they could put a stop to the present state of affairs. By obtaining legislation, they would simply be prohibiting the mixture from going abroad as molasses. He was opinion that every person in the country should aim at shipping only genuine molasses in order to keep up the good reputation they had long since earned by their good quality article. (Hear, hear). The committee of management had drafted a petition which in case the society agreed that legislation should be resorted to in the matter and approved of the said petition, it would be forwarded to the governor-in-executive committee. They were of opinion that it would expedite matters by having the petition ready drafted.

What would be purchased, mixed with inferior vacuum pan molasses and then sold as Barbados molasses. It would be a very inferior article, and consequently could be sold at a cheap figure; and planters would then have to take whatever price they could obtain for their good molasses. There were plenty of honest and respectable merchants in Bridgetown who would refrain from going in for such mixtures, but if there were others who were doing it, he thought it time for the government to interfere and put a stop to it. Hon. G. L. Pile agreed with the remarks that had fallen from the last speaker. He was a producer of vacuum pan molasses, but he must tell the members of the society that he would positively refuse to sell vacuum molasses to any one, if he knew that they intended mixing it with a molasses of a different quality. He considered it necessary that the molasses trade of the country should be protected as much as lay in their power to do so, and there was not the slightest doubt that this mixture would interfere with it. Therefore he considered no step to be taken too drastic or too severe to prohibit the mixing of molasses. (Cheers).

Would be in One Firm's Hands. The president observed that he had been told by some one who certainly ought to know, that this mixture was being made and was being offered for sale to those on the other side, at a lower figure than the merchants here could purchase the genuine article at; and therefore, the merchants had considerable difficulty in disposing of the genuine article. If such a state of affairs continued, as he has said in his introductory remarks, it meant that the other merchants here would be put out of business and the entire molasses trade of the island would be in the hands of this firm or firms. Therefore, unless some step was put, the molasses trade would be sooner or later in the hands of a firm or firms and the result would be, they could give planters whatever they pleased for molasses. He considered it would be an abominable shame if the merchants on the other side using the genuine Barbados molasses could not be sure of getting it, owing to these mixtures being made. As long as it was known abroad that mixtures were being made by a firm or firms in this island, all molasses shipped from this colony would be expected as mixtures, and Barbados molasses would cease to have the name for good quality it previously enjoyed. In fact, it was the only thing that enabled them to continue making the muscovado molasses.

Colonel Trollope remarked that there was an act in force in the island called the Food, Adulteration Act, and he enquired of the board whether molasses did not come under the terms of that act. Professor D'Albuquerque replied that the act would only apply to molasses sold in Barbados, but would not be applicable to it, if it were exported. Mr. Robinson at this stage, moved that the president be authorized to write a letter to the governor-in-executive committee, asking that legislative action be taken to put a stop to any mixing of molasses. Hon. G. L. Pile seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

Raises Interesting Point. An interesting point is ahead of the authorities who are arranging the coronation ceremonies. The homage done by the people to the king after his crowning is nowadays reduced to the symbol of one peer doing homage for each rank. The peer to whom the duty falls is properly the holder, in each rank, of the oldest existing title. That has raised the interesting point, for the premier baron's that of the Ros. It is one which descends, falling male heirs, in the female line, and as the late Lord De Ros, the fine old gentleman who at the age of nearly eighty did homage to King Edward for the barony, left no son, the present holder of the title is his daughter, Lady De Ros, twenty-fifth of her line. It is curious that in these days of monarchism, a point like this should arise. Will Lady De Ros do the baron's homage? I imagine that such a case can never have arisen before, and it will be interesting to see if that course—an unattractive one—is taken.—Manchester Guardian.

DUPES 37 STORES BY NEW MONEY CHANGING TRICK

(New York Herald) "If the customer gives me a ten dollar bill and I take out for a twenty cent package of cigarettes, and the customer then asks me for five ones for the five dollar bill I have handed out, and he then pushes back the five dollar bill and the five ones and gets his ten dollar bill how much am I out and why? This is the question thirty-seven different employees of the United Cigar Stores Company were asking themselves yesterday, for a most affable stranger had been active with a new trick of the band-

order that had caught every man it tried on. "Here I've been behind a counter for twenty years and was certain I knew every trick that any man could spring, and I got me," said the only one of the victims who would talk. "As I figure it out, I am due to pay the company $4.80 out of my salary next week in order to make the cash register figures right. "I was worked on me like this:—While I was about as busy as I usually am at ten o'clock in the morning a tall, thin, amiable looking young man makes a quick dash into the store and gives the loud yell for a package of cigarettes which sets him back twenty cents. He shoots an old and crumpled ten dollar bill across the counter and then he busied himself lighting a cigarette. "Of course, I've got so I make change automatically and I dropped on the counter a five dollar bill, four ones and some small change. "Was that a ten dollar bill I gave you?" asked the "film-fam expert's" expression and when I told him it was he looked puzzled and slipped the four one dollar bills and small change into his pocket and shoved the five dollar bill back to me. "Give me five ones for that," he said. "I placed five ones on the counter and he shoved the five ones and the five dollar bill back at me and said:—"I guess after all I'd rather have the ten dollar bill; let me have it back, will you?" "And I let him have it back, honest, just tossed it on the glass top of the counter and threw the five ones and the five dollar bill back into the drawer of the cash register and he was a block away before I noticed it, and then it hit me like a case of the jumping toothache. I saw it in a minute, but it was a minute too late. "At four o'clock this afternoon one of the chaps in the headquarters telephoned me and started to tell me that there was a flim-flammer working one store, and that he was sending an expert out to explain the thing to all of us so that we wouldn't be caught, but I cut him off. I learned afterward that he caught thirty-seven of our clerks and many barkeepers on the upper west side. "If you would discover a man's sore spot, keep quiet and let him talk. There is one woman a man can depend upon under all circumstances—his mother. A man cannot get out of sight quicker than by forging ahead of his tious."

ST. JOHN MAN IN WEST SAVES LIVES OF FIVE

Capt. Arthur L. McLean, Now of Vancouver, Comes Upon Upturned Craft With Five Men Clinging to it

Five men saved from a watery grave in the record of a St. John man who has been in the west hardly two weeks. He is Captain Arthur L. McLean for many years captain of the tug Westminister is now in command of the tug Westminister of Vancouver.

On April 9 Captain McLean made his latest rescue. He was approaching Vancouver in the Westminister with two stone lighters in tow when he was able to distinguish three men clinging to the bottom of an upturned yacht. The tug and her tow boat down the Esplanade and as they came closer two more men were seen clinging to floating wreckage.

Word reached the city in a letter from Captain McLean to a prominent shipping man here. While he has much to say of the country and his opinion of it he modestly makes little of his gallant act.

WILL HELP IN LOCAL OPTION CAMPAIGN TO COME IN FAIRVILLE

St. John District lodge, I. O. G. T., met in annual session in Fairville last night with District Chief Temple E. N. Stockford in the chair. Reports showed the order to be in a healthy condition. It was reported that a new lodge had recently been organized at Baywater.

A resolution was adopted pledging the order to assist the ministers of Fairville in their proposed campaign for local option. A number of enthusiastic speeches were delivered by prominent temperance men.

BACK EAST AND WILL STAY IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Sussex Record—Stanley E. Moore, who has been a resident of Cranbrook, B. C., for some time past, has returned to his home in Mechanic Settlement and will remain in the east. Mr. Moore is convinced that New Brunswick is good enough for him. The west is becoming more and more a country in which capital is required to make good. The "dead easy snap" days are over and those who have an idea that gold dollars are to be picked up in the streets should remain where they are. If a man without capital is prepared to go west and rough it, he will eventually win out but he will be forced to pick up with conditions that he would not tolerate in the east.

Hartland Observer—Two farmers, former residents of Victoria county are returning one after a trial in Aroostook county. One declares that the west is painted in far too glowing colors and that conditions are not at all as represented. The other is strong in the belief that Victoria county is as good as the best of places for the farmers.

These are cases of men who are able to return. Those who cannot or would prefer returning but feel ashamed to do so are innumerable but we never hear of their conditions. It would be well for the New Brunswicker who feels the western fever coming on to take such cases as these into consideration. Stop, look, listen! Parli views.

Glenwood Ranges With Gas Attachment
BEFORE PURCHASING ELSEWHERE

Our Glenwood Gas Attachment consists of an oven, broiler and three burner top, made to fit neatly to any of our 8-20 and 9-20 Glenwood Ranges, thus greatly economizing space in the kitchen, as the Gas Attachment merely takes up the space of the end shelf.

Both the Coal and Gas Range can be used separately or together, as may be desired. The Gas Combination, like our Glenwood Ranges, have been tried and proven a success before they were put on the market.

If you have not seen the Glenwood Ranges, call in and we will be pleased to show them to you whether you intend to purchase or not.

All made in St. John, N.B.

What is a Billycock Hat?
ASK AN ENGLISHMAN

And he will tell you it is a "bowler." If this does not enlighten you, press him further and he will admit that it is conservatively known as a Derby.

We have Billycocks, more kinds than the ordinary Englishman ever saw. Because we go further than any English hatters or all English hatters to get our Derbys.

We know that a man has his personal appearance at stake when he chooses a Hat. Probably he is a man that only one kind of a Hat will suit. It is our object to have that kind of a Hat. So we get all kinds.

We are agents for the following well known brands:—

- "Hawes" Celebrated $3.00 Hat - $2.50
 - Buckley London Make - 2.50
 - Wafer-Lite 2 1/2 oz. Derby - 4.00
 - Robb Heath, makers to the Royal Family - 4.00
 - Knapp-Felt Derby - 2.00
 - Our Own Special - 2.00
- Also a full line of Stetson's at $4.00
