The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations. It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness. To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use. In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

NOW ACCUSED OF ROBBING THE POOR

New Charges Against Insurance Companies.

New York, Aug. 3.—Insurance scandals rivaling those of the Armstrong investigation will be made public August 14 by the committee of State insurance superintendents which completed its inquiry in this city yesterday at the Hotel Manhattan. Reports from various insurance examiners were made to the committee which involved a number of health and accident insurance companies so seriously that the Legislatures of New York and other States which are the homes of these corporations will be asked to appoint special committees to fully investigate the companies. It was charged that thousands of people who paid in all their earnings to insure themselves against sickness or accident have been robbed of their just claims through alleged misrepresentation. Many of the victims are said to be alien born, who, because of their ignorance of the language and customs of this country, were easily persuaded by agents of the companies to sign away their rights for paltry sums. THEIR CLAIMS LIMITED. Others were informed after they fell ill were injured that certain paragraphs in fine print in their policies limited their claims to a small fraction of their face value. By such means not a few corporations are alleged to have built up enormous reserves, erected palatial offices, paid their officials princely salaries and declared millions in extra dividends to stockholders. No member of the committee at the Hotel Manhattan would make any comment for publication concerning the charges which have been brought to their attention in advance of the conclusion of the investigation. They said that on August 14 the results of the work of the conference and its recommendations of remedying the evils which have been discovered will be made public. This report will be submitted to the National Insurance Commissioners Convention in Milwaukee on August 22, with the intention of having the proposed reforms enacted into law in all the States of the Union. C. A. Palmer, chairman of the committee, will draft the report to the convention. SYSTEM TO PROTECT POOR. "Our committee will formulate a system for the protection of the poor people said Mr. Palmer. "Safeguards must be constructed for those who have invested practically their all in industrial insurance. I include both the foreign and domestic companies in my statement."

All of the companies against which complaints have been lodged have been allowed to make a defense. Later the companies will have the opportunity of replying to the committee's findings. Representatives of New York and Philadelphia were heard yesterday, which completed the committee's work for New York City. Fifteen or twenty other companies will be given an opportunity to appear at hearings which will be held in Detroit until August 24. The committee consists of Chairman Palmer, Wm. H. Hotchkiss, New York State Insurance Superintendent; F. H. Potter, Superintendent of Insurance of Illinois; Frank H. Harlinger, of Massachusetts; Colonel Joseph Patton of Virginia, president of the National Insurance Commissioners Association; Commissioner Hammond, Connecticut; Samuel McCullough, Pennsylvania.

PERSIA

Is She in Her Death Throes?

(Boston Advertiser.) The death throes of an ancient and once grand nation are pathetic. Are they to be seen in the troubles of Persia, and even menaces her nationality, is not so much that Mohammed Ali Mirza will reascend the throne which he abused and lost, as that his entry of the country and his trip through it towards Teheran will provoke a violent civil war in the north, calling upon Russian interference which may, and probably will, result in some sort of absorption or partition of the nation's richness. It is particularly melancholy to see this thing happen, because the effort at self-government along constitutional lines, in so ancient and tradition-bound an Eastern nation, has immense interest to the world. It will be doubly too bad if this quaint experiment in government is not allowed to work itself out. The world has seen many efforts to graft modern ideas onto old roots, but never such an instance as this. The constitutionalists have had to face so gre it obstacles, and have had to fight so hard, figuratively and actually, to gain a little ground against oppression and misgovernment, that it is a world misfortune if all is for naught, and the net result be an oppression from without, extinction of national being, and partition among the greedy and efficient. Had Mohammed Ali Mirza been a more enlightened man, less of a despot, more alive to the pushing unrest which must manifest itself, this might have been avoided. He might have remained Shah, might have enjoyed his great riches, might have ruled, might have built anew a nation through reasonable self-government. He bungled things from the moment he ascended the throne, upon which he was seated, legitimately, in 1907, after the death of his father. The first act of national destruction came when his Cossack body-guard bombarded the Persian parliament. It was a novel though most effective way to dissolve a parliament but it nearly dissolved a nation at the same time. It did destroy the parliament house. The Shah, however, had misjudged either the temper of his people or his own power, for there followed a general uprising against him, which he sought to check by a tardy and insincere promise of a constitution. Evidently he had not learned his lesson, pointed as it was, for he did not fulfill his promise. Two years ago he gave it up, fled to the Russian legation, and thence within a few days, to Russia. Russia gave him asylum and the Persian government voted him a pension of $82,500 a year, making his 11 year old son Shah. So generous a pension ought to have been a bribe sufficient to keep him out of political mischief. Events show that it did not.

In his absence Persia has not found smooth sailing for the ship of state. Factional tangles have been serious, and now that an effort has been made to unshackle them to the help of Morgan Shuster, Persia finds itself at odds with both Russian and German interests, which object to Mr. Shuster—presumably because he is not of their party. In short, constitutional government has staggered badly. There is just a chance that this raid by the ex-Shah may stiffen national patriotism enough to bring hope to the case, but it is quite as likely, if not more so, that Mohammed Ali can draw to him enough reactionary support (especially from the powerful chieftains who have had no sympathy with the modern tendencies) to upset all order, and plunge Persia into civil war or anarchy, and to make inevitable the undertaking operations of the interested powers with Russia taking the initiative in action. In view of the situation, $80,000 is hardly an extravagant reward for the Persian government to offer for the head, figurative or physical, of the ex-Shah. It is hardly more than a year's pension, and might be permanently effective in quieting him and giving Persia a chance.

Temperatures are Highest In Forty Years. Washington, Aug. 2. Not in the past forty years have temperatures in the United States during the late spring and early summer been so uniformly high for so long a period and over such a large portion of the country as this year, according to weather bureau officials. The high temperatures were most pronounced over the more central and northern portions of the country, while the southern states were comparatively exempt from unusual heat. Lack of rainfall over the great agricultural districts during much of the long heated periods greatly retarded vegetable growth and threatened a serious curtailment of crop production. Opposite rains, however, with cooler weather greatly improved conditions and the outlook at the present time is favorable for the gathering of the usual harvests of most of the great staples.

Lord Strathcona

At the age of ninety-one Lord Strathcona retires from the High Commissioner's office of the Dominion of Canada in the capital of the Empire. He was appointed to that position by the Tupper Ministry to succeed Sir Charles Tupper. L himself, and when the Laurier Administration began 1896 he retained his office at the special request of Sir Wilfrid. For these fifteen years he has held it continuously and discharged its exacting duties efficiently, giving to his country on many occasions the advantage of a social and financial influence that no other man could have given. If there is less need now for such adventitious help as is largely due to what he has been doing for the Dominion during his long term of diplomatic activity. It does not follow that because Lord Strathcona has at his own urgent request been relieved of the cares and responsibilities of the position he has held he will lose interest in Canadian affairs. The bonds created by three quarters of a century of ceaseless activity and the habit of thinking imperially for this Dominion will not be discontinued, and there may emerge crisis in which his personal assistance would be helpful. On such occasions his counsel would still be given as disinterestedly, as promptly, and as cheerfully as ever. If it is a good thing to have at times a "friend at Court," Canada is specially fortunate in having there continuously one who is able and so willing to do all he can promote her interests.—Tor. Globe.

Woman Now Runs Coin-Making Plant. Miss Kelly, New Examiner of Mints, is Also Highest Paid Woman in Government Service. Washington, Aug. 1.—Miss Margaret Kelly, a woman of thirty-five, is today in actual charge of the manufacture of the coins of the United States, she having been made Examiner of Mints and being in actual charge of Uncle Sam's money making institutions in the absence of Director Roberts. Incidentally she is the highest paid woman in the employ of the United States, her salary being $3,000 a year. She received $2,250 as chief clerk of the bureau, from which position she was promoted. Beginning as a stenographer, Miss Kelly has occupied almost every position in the bureau; from bottom to top. She is acknowledged to be the greatest authority in the country on mints, excepting gaily Director Roberts her chief. Miss Leona Wells, assistant clerk to the Senate committee on appropriations, is the next highest paid woman on the government payroll, she receives $2,500.

BASE COWARDICE OF TWO SHIPS' OFFICERS

Quebec, Aug. 11.—Captain Demers, D. I. 101 wreck Commissioner, rendered the following judgment yesterday in connection with the recent collision between the steamers Arramorc and General Wolfe, in which the latter was sunk off Murray Bay. "The court, having carefully weighed the evidence adduced, finds that while it commends the seamanship of Captain Hearn in directing the work of rescue following the collision, he should, upon perceiving the erratic course of General Wolfe, have reduced the speed of his vessel and gone full astern, and although he issued the order, it was too late to be effective, for it was almost simultaneous with the impact. In his tardiness in this respect he was guilty of negligence, and the court therefore is incumbent upon it to reprimand the said Captain Hearn, and to remind him that it is owing to his previous unblemished record, and commendable action following the collision that he is not more seriously dealt with. Captain Young and First Officer O'Delin Fortin, who threw to the winds what has been the proverbial duty of sea-faring men from time immemorial to stand by their ship, are guilty, in the court's opinion, of base cowardice, and their action in leaping to safety and leaving to perish, if needs be, those entrusted to their care, cannot be denounced too strongly. Captain Young and Fortin are, in this court's opinion, unworthy to be numbered among mariners, who bravery has ever been proverbial, and therefore they shall be struck from the list, the certificate of Captain Young and the certificate of O'Delin Fortin being hereby cancelled forever."

Salt.

Salt production is about the oldest industry in the world. In Italy, the cradle of the salt industry, it has been manufactured commercially for 2,500 years. Salt is so necessary to existence that in some parts of the world tribes will sell the members of their family in exchange for salt.

Salt has been the cause of wars, and so important has it always been considered that in some places the passing of salt is established as a token of friendship and women throw salt on a visitor as a friendly greeting. In some countries salt is so scarce that it is obtained through the ashes of grasses and a species of palm and other plants.

While salt is produced in almost every country in the world, it is stated that no where can salt of such purity be obtained at anything like the cost for mining in Louisiana.—Manufacturers' Record.

Many a man who wouldn't have a titled son-in-law at any price would like to be able to afford one.

Most men quit the reform movement when it reaches their own business.

To a girl half the fun of getting married is in keeping her friends guessing when it will be.

Blaze.

First Six-year-old—Going to the circus?
Second Six-year-old—No, are you?
First Six-year-old—I suppose I will have to take my grandfather.

Entertaining.
"Don't you get awfully lonesome out here?"
"Oh, no; the neighbors are very interesting."

"How is that?"
"You never know when they are going to descend upon your solitude and privacy, and they are always playing an interesting little game called 'bring back what you borrow.'"

Alimony.
"She married for money."
"Did she get it?"
"Yes."
"Then why did she get a divorce?"
"For more money."

Little Did She Guess.
"What made you late, John?"
"Jones invited me in to have a smile."
"Has he taken up with that silly cheer-up fad?"

The Ruling Passion.
"No be still."
"But I can't bear to be still."
"Why can't you?"
"Because nobody would notice me if I were still."

Similarly.
"It is hard to tell what a man knows by the way he looks."
"Precisely. And it is equally hard to tell what he owes."

Harvest Place.
In riding through a tunnel while darkened is the view if there are unshared kisses just gather up a few.

Couldn't Prove It by Him.
"Why does the sun always rise in the east?"
"Does it, though?"

Every Time.
"I am a workingman."
"How do you work?"
"Oh, the public."

Looked Well Reserved.
"I wonder what the seventeen year locusts are like," said the bushing girl.
"Don't you remember them?" asked the horrid man.
"Of course not. I was too young when they were here before."
"Weren't you as old then as you are now?"

Not Qualified.
"You say that she wouldn't be able to keep house if she were married?"
"I don't think she could do it very well."
"Why do you hold that opinion?"
"Well, for one reason she thinks babies are bric-a-brac."

Ready For Matrimony.
"I don't think that girl ought to marry."
"Why?"
"She doesn't know how to manage a house."
"But you should see her manage a man."

A Hint.

"What makes your baby cry so?" asked the unwelcome visitor.
"He is hungry."
"Does he always cry when he is hungry?"
"No."
"Then why does he cry now?"

H. F. Todd

At a very largely attended Convention held at St. Stephen, on Monday W. F. Todd was again selected as candidate by the Liberal party for the coming election. In the evening a public meeting was held in the rink which was addressed by the Hon. Wm. Pugsley and Mr. Todd, both of whom got a fine reception. On Tuesday they both spoke at Campobello, Wm. Pugsley returning to St. John by auto on Wednesday.

East and West--Think it Over.

In the last issue of the Merchant, J. D. McKenna, of the Sussex Record, expressed in an admirable way his views regarding the importance of boosting the east, and leaving the west to look after itself in that respect. Mr. McKenna's views are shared by a large number of publishers in the province of New Brunswick. The St. John Telegraph has taken strong ground against the harvest excursions to the west, which were actively boosted by the press for a number of years. In a recent issue it took occasion to point out that great many of those who went on the harvesters' excursion last year regretted their action, and it expressed the opinion that the number going west this year will be much smaller than in previous years. It said further that the proportion of those going from the Maritime Provinces, who remain, is not so large as it used to be, and it is believed is diminishing from year to year. Many of the young men who have gone west for the trip and the experience come back to settle on their own farms contented.

There can be no objection to the action of the C. P. R. and the western provinces in seeking harvesters wherever they may be found. It may fairly be contended, however, that it should be made as easy for the harvesters to come east as go west. As far as the press of these provinces is concerned, it does quite enough when it publishes in the usual way the advertisements calling for harvesters, and its chief duty, it would seem to us, is to direct attention to the great opportunities, which lie at the doors of our own people in the east. To boost the west, as Mr. McKenna pointed out, a very poor way of building up the east; our first duty is to ourselves.

Speaking of boosting ourselves, the St. John board of trade has set a very admirable example by having an advertising committee, which loses no opportunity to tell readers of newspapers everywhere that there is no fairer opportunity for the home seeker and prudent investor or anywhere than the province of New Brunswick--Maritime Merchant.

Sir John A. Macdonald, as well as most of the leading conservatives of the country, held very pronounced views regarding the question of reciprocity, and did not fail to give expression to those views. Indeed, Sir John was surprised that anyone should hold a contrary opinion. Thus, in a discussion in parliament on a motion made by Sir Louis H. Davies he said: "I do not know any reason why the hon. gentlemen who moved this or the seconder, laid before the house these elaborate statements to show the value of reciprocal trade, or trade of any kind, with the United States. That is admitted. That goes without saying. We all admit that it would be well that we had a large trade with the United States, rather than a small one; and I think Canada, as compared in her action with the action of the United States, has done everything that she could in order to secure that desirable object." Sir John's views are the views of a large number of conservatives throughout Canada more especially in the Maritime Provinces.—St. John Globe.

THE AUTOMOBILE.

A Great Highway From Ocean to Ocean. A national highway from the Maritime Provinces to the Pacific Coast, is the plan of Mr. James Robinson, ex-M. P., of Millerton, N. B., who believes that the Dominion Government should undertake the work.

"Canada will soon have three trans-continental railways, constructed largely by Government aid, running across the Dominion," said Mr. Robinson, "and it is impossible to over-estimate their value to the country. But with the rapid growth of automobilism, which is daily increasing, a first class national highway has become an absolute necessity.

"A national highway should extend from coast to coast. It should in the east connect the leading cities of the Maritime Provinces, with Quebec and Montreal, and be carried through the rich clay belt north of Lake Superior to Winnipeg, across the prairies and through the mountains to the Pacific Coast.

"The road would be national in its character, just as much as the railways," continued Mr. Robinson, "and for this reason if for no other should be constructed by the Government. The construction of a high class national highway such as would be suitable for rapid automobile travelling, and the conveyance of heavy loads by motor trucks, would be beyond the means of provinces or municipalities, but if these were relieved of the expense connected with the trunk road, they could vastly improve the highways connecting with it, and greatly to the public advantage.

"I am sure that no more popular work could be undertaken by the Dominion Government. I have talked the matter over with several members of Parliament, including Hon. William Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, and he agreed that the benefits accruing to the public would be enormous, and that the matter appealed to him strongly."

Mr. Robinson believes that a general expression of opinion should be invited on the subject.

EDISON AND THE FUTURE.

Even Gold May be Very Cheap. (The National Magazine for August.) The prophecies of the "Wizard of Menlo Park" foretell the probable status of the yellow metal in the years to come. "The world's business," he says, "has increased so enormously that the increased production of gold has heretofore fitted in, but this point has been passed and will hereafter increase faster than business.

"The mass of this commodity will become a burden. Thinking men of capital will hesitate to loan money to be repaid at some long distant period in the future with this commodity. If they lend at all, and place themselves at the mercy of a steam-shovel and a chemical works, the calculated deterioration as to its value over the loan period will have to be paid by the borrower in an increased rate of interest.

"More and more shall we see that it is safer to own the stock of say a railroad having no bonds than the bonds of a railroad, because the stock ownership represents something intrinsically valuable, whereas with the bonds, speculators could step in and pay them off with a depreciated commodity like gold."

FRIDAY, AUGUST 18 1911

Ottawa, August 11. The condition of field crops in Canada is presented in a bulletin of the Census and Statistics Office issued today for July, and shows good average for all provinces as well as for all crops. Fall wheat was hurt by the hard winter in Ontario, but fared better in Alberta. The estimated yield is 2.3 bushels for the former province and 2.78 bushels for the latter. The total estimated yield is 17,706,000 bushels. The condition of spring wheat at the end of July was 90 for the whole of Canada, being 85 to 95 in the Maritime Provinces, 80 to 89 in Ontario and Quebec, 90 to 96 in the Northwest Provinces and 85 in British Columbia. Oats and barley have an average condition of 88 for Canada, 85 to 95 in the Maritime Provinces, 80 to 90 in Ontario and Quebec, 88 to 100 in the Northwest Provinces, and 87 to 89 in British Columbia. Rye, peas and beans range from 78 to 84 in Canada and buckwheat 81.85. Mixed grains have a condition of 86, which is 14 per cent. less than last year, and flax is 91, which is nearly 20 better. The average of corn for husking is 86 and of potatoes 85.64, being in each case a little higher than last year. Potatoes, turnips and mangolds range from 81 to 82, or about the same as a year ago. Hay and clover and alfalfa are 90 to 83, which is a little lower in each case than last year. Corn for fodder has an average condition of 87, sugar beets of 79 and pasture of 79. The eastern provinces are lower than the figures quoted for the whole of Canada, and the western provinces are higher. The highest averages are given for Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Sugar beets have a condition of 81 in Ontario and Alberta, where they are grown to supply the sugar factories.

Compared with last year's crops in the Northwest Provinces, the condition of spring wheat in Manitoba south of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is 88 to 39, of oats 88 to 72, of barley 85 to 16, and of flax 92; and north of the same railway the condition is 92.21 to 77.42 for wheat, 90.71 to 72.90 for oats, and 88.05 to 59.81 for barley. In Saskatchewan south of townships 25 the condition of wheat is 99.19 to 69.31, of oats 98.27 to 61.64, and of barley 89.03 to 65.89; and north of townships 24 the condition of wheat is 98.22 to 67.60, of oats it is 95.32 to 63.88, and of barley 94.58 to 71.50. In Alberta south of townships 31 the condition of wheat is 93.89 to 24.03, of oats 95.28 to 20.43, and of barley 93.70 to 26.36; and north of townships 30 the condition of wheat is 97.84 to 71.55, of oats 97.95 to 65.66, and of barley 105.95 to 73.60. The area of spring wheat in the Northwest Provinces this year is 1,500,000 acres more than last year and of oats 341,000 acres but no increase is shown for barley. The yield of hay and clover is estimated at 12,180,000 tons for Canada, being 145 tons per acre, and the largest yields for provinces are 4,756,000 tons in Ontario, 5,028,000 tons in Quebec, 25,400 tons in Prince Edward Island, 211,000 tons in Nova Scotia and 85,000 tons in New Brunswick.

A Roman Wall Found.

A Roman wall, some 1000 ft. of the Roman castra, is being examined at present at Oberhausen in the Black Forest district. It dates from present Roman times, indeed is believed one of the earliest works of the kind.

It lies in the hills 812 metres above the sea and the wall enclosing it is over 1,300 metres long. The wall is so built as to be completely hidden by trees, and it is 80 metres high at the base, from two to three metres broad at the top and ten feet high, the enclosure is practically hidden from view. The stones composing the wall are of small size and loosely arranged, so that the difficulty of surmounting it is increased and the chance of a night surprise diminished.

At present there are several openings in the wall but it is believed that originally there are only one. The site of the latter has been excavated and the remains of Roman vessels unearthed. The enclosure was supplied with water from a well at one end and must have afforded a refuge for a large number of men and cattle.

The Churches in Ireland.

The result of the decennial census of Ireland taken this year and just published shows the total population to be 4,881,951. This is a decrease from the previous census of 1901, which showed 4,488,765 so that the decay of the real wealth of the country still goes on.

According to the summaries furnished by the enumerators 3,288,655 of the population are returned as Roman Catholics this number being 70.045 or 2.1 per cent under the number so returned in 1901; 575,499 are returned under the heading Protestant Episcopalians, being a decrease of 5,600 or 1 per cent, as compared with the number tabulated under that head in 1901; 439,876 are returned as Presbyterians, being a decrease of 3,400 or 8 per cent as compared with 1901; the number of Methodists returned on the present occasion amounts to 61,806, being a decrease of 200, or 3 per cent on the number returned on the census forms in 1901. Of the total population in 1911 73.9 per cent. are returned as Roman Catholics, 13.1 per cent. as Protestants Episcopalians, 10 per cent. as Presbyterians, 1.4 per cent. as Methodists. —Rosary Magazine.

Uniforms Quaint and Queer.

His Majesty's decision to receive officers of the late volunteer force in their old fashioned uniforms inevitably recalls the quaint garb worn by Volunteers in the good old days. For instance, when the 1st V. B. Essex Regiment was raised the uniform was provided privately, at a cost of about 3 pounds per head, but, as the captains could not decide as to the most suitable color, some companies turned out on parade wearing green tunics, while others adopted grey.

And as late as 1872 an officer of the 1st V. B. Light Infantry wrote complaining that "The uniforms were rapidly wearing out. Shabbily clad, half-hearted soldiers appeared on parade in plain trousers!" This was bad enough, but it was surely outdone by Bolivar's cavalry in the Colombian Wars of whom Carlyle wrote: "A square blanket, 12 ft. in diagonal is provided in the centre a slit is effected in 18 in. long; through this the mother-milk trooper introduces his head and neck!"

The Leeds Engineers (volunteers) were once headed on the march by a wanderer, escorted by two sergeants. She wore a wonderful blend of male and feminine dress, scarlet jacket, a sort of var-colored larem-skirt, a white collar and blue tie, a white apron trimmed with blue and scarlet, white gannets, and a silk-covered straw hat with scarlet and blue cockade and streamers! Among many other things, she carried a small barrel full of Cognac brandy. This recalls the gorgeous uniform of the Portsea Volunteers in 1797, in which gold and scarlet cords, gilt rosettes, feathers, ooz'es, white waistcoats, "gold wings" and "frilled skirts," laced, figured. Hence their nickname of "The Golden Goldfinches."

EASTERN LIFE REAL ARTICLE

All is Not Gold That Glitters in Western Canada. Some Testimonies.

Those who are rushing to the West in the hope of getting rich by the short pitched ladder better think the whole thing over more carefully. A few weeks ago the record published the substance of a letter from a friend in the west who did not give any encouragement to Eastern young men to leave their homes for some uncertainty. Now we have a couple of other testimonials along the same line. Writes a gentleman M. D. of a progressive western section:

"I am always pleased to receive the Record as it has so much home news. I am also pleased to see that you are actively engaged in boosting Kings County and in fact all N. B. When I hear of prices being paid in R. C. for land for raising fruit all the way from $100 per acre up, for cleared land, I cannot help thinking that the people of Kings County don't know what they have. It seems to me that there are in it very many places I used to know around Havelock, Cornhill, Millstream and elsewhere, that are equally as good for fruit growing as those B. C. lands and if only the young men would take the trouble to learn this department of agriculture, they could make good money at it. Up-to-date, intelligent farming with fruit and alfalfa should be well adapted to Kings County.

A well known resident of New Brunswick, one of the leading young business men of this province, recently went west to look at an opening there. He found on investigation that the proposition put up to him was far from what it had been represented. He made just such an investigation as a man of business would make and he found that there was a great bubble attached to the western concern, of which so much had been favorably said. He got right through with the game and returned to New Brunswick but before he learned something of western life. He found that in the particular city in which he had been asked to settle that business success was all on the surface. Hundreds were loafing on the streets and out of a group of five future residents of St. John he encountered, one was working at a comparatively small salary. The others were walking around waiting for something to turn up and they had been waiting for the something for many weeks. Land values had been inflated until they had made those who manipulated them rich but there was bound to be a smash. It was coming fast and there is a lot of trouble in store for some of the British Columbia.

These are things to think over. They are the opinions of men who know what they are talking about. Right here in the east there is a good living for any man who will work intelligently. Something good at hand is far more desirable than a gold brick on the prairies or in British Columbia, Ex.

Husbands Too Good Says Countess.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 8. Countess Alexandrine Wikehorst Corsini, who is at the Hotel Alexandria here, this afternoon, in discussing American women, said that the average American woman is worse than any autocrat of Russia in her treatment of her husband and holds that the lot of a Russian serf would be comfort compared to the American husband, who has a so called society leader for a wife.

"Self sacrifice is an unknown quality in the American woman," she said. "Catering to her whims and her desires is her one law. American men make good husbands, too good in fact. They should be master of the home as well as in business. It perplexes Europeans to find Americans so aggressive in everything pertaining to business and then see them take a back seat when they enter

HOW THE EARTH WEARS AWAY

(Boston Advertiser.)
Because of the erosions of numerous drainage basins of the United States the surface of the country is being removed at the average rate of an inch in every 750 years. That is rather comfortable to know. It will take a great many years before the land is again sunk beneath the ocean. The Geological Survey is sponsor for this information.

It is additionally that, although the amount may appear trivial, it is stupendous when considered as a total. The Mississippi River carries annually to the sea 136,400,000 tons of dissolved matter, and 340,500,000 tons of suspended matter, and of this total the Ohio River carries twice as much. The Colorado River, which has built up for itself a vast delta, brings down more suspended matter than any other river in the United States, delivering annually 387 tons

SEEKS TO TAX GEORGIA BACHELORS $50 A YEAR.

Bachelors are shortly to become a hunted thing in Georgia. At least they will, if Senator Shingler has his way and imposes the bachelor tax of $50 a year, as provided for in a bill he introduced in the Georgia Senate. Unless the bachelors of Georgia are minus an eye or a leg or can flaunt direct poverty or an excuse, they must pay the tax become tax dodgers or take wives. Senator Shingler is an old-fashioned person who was brought up to believe in marriage as the final solution of all life's questions. He takes the bill seriously and says it will be passed.

"The bachelor has lived on the fat of the land long enough" said the Senator. "He has squandered his substance in riotous living, and the state and the schools are getting nothing from him other than the miserable poll tax. If he won't marry he ought to be taxed heavily." Revenue from the proposed tax is to go to the school fund.

BIG PRICES FOR JEWELS.

(London Standard.)
In a sale of jewels held by Messrs. Christie recently, the sum of £33,000 was realized by four exquisite pieces sold by order of the executors of the late Lily Duchess of Marlborough. In 1902 thirty-one pieces of jewelry, generally believed to come from the Dudley property, brought £72,800 at the same house, and a necklace of forty-seven pearls fell to a record bid of 22,200. Recently a necklace of forty-six pearls, fastened with a black pearl snap set in clusters of diamonds, and decorated with a green enamel and pearl pendant, reached 16,100 (Mr. S. J. Phillips) from a first bid of 4,000. It is probable that the Marlborough necklace weighed somewhat less than the 1,090 grs. scaled by the Dudley necklace, but the pearls in each case were of a magnificent size, equality, and character. In the 1902 sale a considerable number of 222 pearls,

The hearts of many were saddened Friday morning by the death of little Zelma Matthews. She was in her usual good health until Xmas, when she took acute rheumatism from which she never fully regained her health. In June she came here to her former home, with the expectation of improving more rapidly in the country air, but a couple of weeks ago she was afflicted with Tuberculosis of the head and suffered untold agonies until the end came. She was a child that was loved by all who knew her and the place she filled in the hearts of the people was shown by the beautiful floral tributes and the large attendance at the funeral which took place Sunday P.M.

Mr. McPhee of St. George, preached a most beautiful sermon, the hymns "There'll be no dark Valley when Jesus comes" and "Shall we meet beyond the river" were rendered during the service.

"The sweetest flowers how soon they die, And dearest loved ones pass away They go down to that grave to die. As sinks the sun at close of day And though we'll often miss thee here And long for thy return again. Yet still we dare not wish thee back Into this world of care and pain. Oh! God let now the blessings rest Rest sweetly on the loved ones left May they to thee for refuge flee For thou wilt comfort the bereft."

It is now estimated that the Western wheat crop this season will reach the enormous figure of $165,000,000.

To appreciate this one you must remember the size of Joe Yeager's arm.

"At a critical part of a game an outfielder."

"Fifty year olds, Joe. There's a fit for your neck."

Showing Stability.

"How old are you?"

"Twenty?"

"Are you, indeed?"

"Fact."

"How long have you been twenty?"

Flying No False Colors.

"Do be patient."

"I will not."

"Not for as true as I'm a goat."

"She wore the new style trouserette."

Muddled.

"What is the matter?" asked the customer of the grocer who was fussing about.

"I have lost my weight."

Doesn't Like it.

"She carries her ego well."

"Yes, but she wishes she could carry it to the well and dump it in."

An Electric Pocket Lamp Useful for Travellers.

For a gift of "bon voyage" nothing could be more acceptable than a pocket electric light. In a case less than three inches long and one and a half wide, these pocket lights are to be bought for under $1.00, containing bulb, battery and all. Should the lights suddenly go out in a boat or train the horror of the sudden darkness is at once dispelled by this little light.

These small lamps are to be had in both nickel and silver. In the latter case one will make a charming addition to the travelling bag replete with silver fittings. A plain nickel case can be made most attractive, however, with a cover of silk, ribbon or chintz, with long loop handles, by which to hang the light on a nail by the bedside—a much more convenient place than under the pillow. This case may be made of twisted ribbon or braid tied at each end. The case may be glued on to the metal or else made like a bag tied in with drawing strings at the top.

Gilbert of Rochesay arrived here by auto on Monday evening stopping over night at the Victoria, leaving again Tuesday morning for St. Stephen where they joined the Hon. Mr. Pugsley returning with him on Wednesday arriving here about noon, and left in the early afternoon for St. John.

This week was one of entertainments in the town; The Baptist Sunday school held their annual picnic Tuesday at Canal Point on the lake which was quite largely attended and a very enjoyable afternoon spent by those present.

On Wednesday the Presbyterian S. S. picnic was to have been held at the mouth of the Canal but owing to the storm was postponed and is being held today (Thursday) as we go to press.

Wednesday evening St. Mark's tea and supper which was held on the grounds of T. Meating was owing to the storm held in the Church basement and was very successful over $100 being realized toward the debt on the Church.

An immigration agent from Ottawa was here this week to investigate a complaint of a rabid man named Siddle who was cured by the Pulp Co. from the schooner I. R. Fell a month or two ago and has been working here since.

LONG STANDING SCIATICA

Completely Cured by One Box of Father Morrisey's No. 7 Tablets.

Sciatica is hard enough to endure, and harder still to cure, in many cases, with ordinary remedies. Caused, like rheumatism, by impurities in the blood, which in this case set up an irritation of the sciatic nerve, it is so difficult to get at with external applications that many sufferers try in vain to get relief.

Mr. Charles McEachen, of Summerville, P.E.I., was in just that position until he started to take Father Morrisey's "No. 7." He writes:

"After trying several doctors and spending large sums of money without avail, I was completely cured of Sciatica of long standing after using one package of your Medicine (No. 7 for Rheumatism.)"

No matter how long you have suffered from Sciatica or Rheumatism of joints or muscles—no matter how much medicine or liniment you have used without result—try Father Morrisey's No. 7 before you give up. It has restored health to many who were almost hopeless.

St. George, N. B., August 14. The position of director of Mount Allison Conservatory of music, left vacant by the resignation of Prof. Harry Horsfall, has been filled by the appointment of Prof. J. Noel Branton, late professor of piano at the Metropolitan Academy of Music, Forest de Gate, London, England.

Prof. Branton studied piano and the theory of music at the Stein Conservatorium, Berlin, Germany, from which institution he took his diploma as performer and teacher. He was subsequently a pupil for fourteen months of the great Leopold Godowsky in the same city. He teaches according to the modern school of players, working on the Leschetzky method. He is spoken of as being an exceptionally good pianist and has a great deal of successful experience both in teaching and in concert work. Before studying in Berlin Prof. Branton held the position of Master of Music at the Bangor Grammar School, Ireland, while on the staff of the Metropolitan Academy he passed pupils through the higher examinations of the Royal Academy and Trinity College and 95 per cent. gained honors, a record exceedingly hard to beat.

Dr. Paul Lutz-eko of the Stein Conservatorium, says: "During the time he has been here Prof. Branton has proved himself to be a most diligent and earnest student. His work was always exceptionally well prepared, consequently he has now succeeded in bringing his technique to a high standard of perfection as well as obtaining a thorough knowledge of classical and modern literature. At the annual examinations Prof. Branton gained high distinction both in harmony and piano-forte."

Early to Bed Rule a Myth.

The old proverb, "Early to bed and early to rise," was very popular with our grandfathers, but, according to a leading London physician, a specialist in mental diseases, there is little truth in the statement that such action will make you either "healthy, wealthy or wise."

"Go to bed as late as two in the morning if you like and if you can get eight hours' sleep it will make no difference in your health," he says. "Some people who lead lives of mental activity make the mistake of hurrying to bed at 10 or 11 o'clock because they are obsessed with the idea that one hour's sleep before midnight is worth two afterward. They go to bed, switch off the lights and flatter themselves that they are doing the right thing, but it often happens that they begin to worry and fret simply because they have gone to bed too soon."

"It's all right for the working man to get well to bed before midnight, his fatigue is purely physical tiredness. If he comes home at half past 11 from a theatre or a long day's work he should take at least an hour to go to bed. He should read something light which will not disturb him mentally, then go quietly to rest."

Gold King Gone Up.

St. Croix Courier: The famous Gold King mine has reached its end, the most recent owning company having placed it in the hands of a receiver. One Mr. O.

Mears, president of the railway on which it is situated, has leased the property from the First National Bank of Silverton, the recently appointed receivers. The cause is in the fact that the ore has been found of too low grade to operate at a profit. Mr. Chapman, the recent treasurer, leaves Boston August 15th for Toronto.

A MISTAKE IN CREATION.

(Calgary, Alberta.) A certain skeptic was contending before a minister that the work of the Creator was manifestly imperfect. "Have you not yourself," he asked, "noted defects in the human organism, for instance, and thought of better contrivances?"

To his delight there was the frank reply. "Why," drawled the parson, "you see, when I want to snout out anything disagreeable from my sight, I can draw down my eyelids, and it's all done; but, unfortunately, I haven't any flaps on my ears."

Free conversation ceased at about that point.
