Haywood Stands Fire Without Blenching

MAKES GOOD IMPRESSION

PRISONER MAINTAINS UNFAILING COURTESY THROUGHOUT LONG CROSS-EXAMINATION PRESSED BY STATE ATTORNEY, SENATOR BORAH

(Special to The Daily News)
Boise, July 12.—In the Haywood case today the time was consumed in the examination of the defendant. This was concluded. The defense has one more witness to put on, who is expected here tonight and then the state will begin with the rebuttal evidence. It is said it has about forty-five witness for this purpose.

When the court met, Dominick Flynn of Wallace, was recalled and asked about a conversation he had with Gary, Orchard's partner in the wood business at Mullian in 1899. These questions were for the purpose of the impeachment of the testimony of Flynn that he saw Orchard playing poker at Mullian on the day the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill was blown up.

Haywood then took the stand and resumed his direct testimony. He denied meeting Orchard at the Belmont hotel in 1904, as testified to by Lottis Day. She might have seen him there, but had no meeting or conference with him. Explaining the horse trade he said Orchard drove up, saying he and Pettibone had bought the animal and Pettibone wanted to trade the outfit for a grey mare Haywood had. They drove around a little and Haywood refused to consider a trade.

The witness denied talking with Orchard on plans to kill Sherman Bell, Joseph Hearne, Lytle Gregory, Governor Peabody, Judge Goddard, Judge Gabbert, and everybody else.

Taking up the sending of $75 to Adams at Ogden in 1902, Haywood explained that Adams and Ed. Minter talked with him in 1902. They said they were going to Tonahol, Nevada, on a prospecting tour. After they had several drinks and were parties one of them said if he found anything they would locate him in. He did not hear of either of them after that until he received the telegram from Adams at Ogden in 1903, saying he was in trouble and needed $75. He sent the money. It was from his private funds that he sent it and he had never got it back. He next saw Adams at Cripple Creek. After that Adams was in the "Tall Timber" in Idaho, under the name of Dixon. He returned to Denver seeking relief. Later he heard from Mrs. Adams at Haines, Oregon, and he sent her $50.00.

Haywood explained the letter to Mrs. Orchard, he said he received one from her and remembering the talk he had with Orchard, he answered, telling her he heard of her husband in Alaska. He admitted he had no such information about Orchard, but wished to carry out Orchard's plan.

Respecting the draft which he sent Simpkins on December 21, 1905, which is claimed by Haywood, however, speaking which Pettibone wrote, Orchard said it had been sent on that date, Haywood said it was a personal transaction. Simpkins when in, drew $221 in mileage and per diem and the balance counted out $100 to Haywood and asked him to send it to him at his home. Haywood put the money in the safe and sometime later bought a draft with it and sent it to Simpkins. Haywood said he did not tell Pettibone or any one else about the transaction. The draft is endorsed by Haywood officially.

The witness went at length into the employment of an attorney for Orchard at the time of the Steunenberg murder. The witness said it was reported that the Federation was responsible and they determined to take hold of the case. When Simpkins telegraphed from Spokane that he could not get an attorney there to go to Hogan's aid, Haywood and Moyer conferred with General Counsel Murphy about the matter. They then asked the Silver City union to send John Nugent. Later when Miller came to Denver they employed him, and paid him $1,500. They had made no investigation to determine whether Orchard was probably guilty of the murder.

Haywood told of his arrest, saying he asked that his attorneys be notified, but they were not, and he described his removal from the state and the trip to Idaho. He said he never heard Orchard threaten Steunenberg and had no idea he would do harm.

On cross-examination Borah sought to get at Haywood's attitude toward Steunenberg. During this cross-examination, the following passed: "I regarded Steunenberg the same as I did you, senator, and Bartlett Sinclair and Hawley and others, who were active against our organization."

Haywood said the resolutions and articles published in the Miner's Magazine reflected his views mostly, in part. Borah asked Haywood if the article published in 1901 entitled "The passing of Steunenberg," was approved by him. "I rather think if it reflects anything against Steunenberg personally I would hardly have approved of it."

"How does this reflect your views?" asked Borah. Reading, "Here lies a Hireling and Traitor."

"Did that article reflect your views and those of the Federation?" "As to the governor's official acts it did," replied Haywood. "I would add that, that article was directed against Steunenberg as a state official and not as a man."

"There were many others who left the same way about Governor Steunenberg," the witness went on, "the lieutenant-governor, who served under him and wrote an article which was much stronger than that. I think I felt the same as lots of others, that Steunenberg did not remain true to his oath of office."

The cross-examination covered a wide range. It drew out some admissions deemed valuable by the state, but did not seriously shake Haywood's story.

(Associated Press)
Boise, July 12.—William D. Haywood, on trial for the murder of Frank Steunenberg, left the witness chair this afternoon after he had been under examination six hours in his own defense, the time being equally divided between his own counsel and Senator Borah of counsel for the state.

Haywood's testimony closes the defense, except for one witness, who will be called tomorrow morning and his examination will take up about fifteen minutes. The state will then begin its rebuttal evidence, unless a motion to strike out certain parts of the evidence be made by the defense.

Counsel for the state announced his willingness to abide by the instructions of the court to the jury, and will not argue on motions to strike out.

There is a prospect now that the case can be finished within two weeks. The state expects to close the rebuttal Wednesday or Thursday. The defense expressed the opinion that the rebuttal evidence will be in by Saturday. Under these circumstances the case will be given to the jury by the end of the last week in July.

The cross-examination of Haywood began this morning an hour after the opening of the court. When Counsel Darrow closed the direct examination and quietly remarked, "You may cross-examine." The witness turned and faced Senator Borah, his face pale, and jaws set. There was a stir in the court room and then the defense began.

The first answer came in such subdued tones that Mr. Richardson, of Haywood's counsel, asked the witness to speak out.

Borah's cross-examination was a feast to the eyes of the first to the last. Haywood preserved entire control of himself. At times his replies came as quickly as the questions were put to him. Again he would hesitate and speak with a marked emphasis. Borah was courteous, but not and there there was a tinge of sarcasm when he insisted on direct answer and Haywood appeared reluctant. Haywood in turn was as courteous as the examiner. Invariably he addressed Borah as "Senator," and repeatedly asked permission to explain when he thought there might be some misunderstanding, notwithstanding the air of consideration.

There was not a minute throughout the three hours of cross-examination that the atmosphere did not tingle with possibilities.

One when Senator Borah pressed Haywood as to his feeling toward Governor Steunenberg, senator, then I do towards you or any of these people."

Senator Borah looked up quickly, but he did not smile. He said: "Yes I have been given to understand something of that sort," and did not pursue the subject.

Much of Haywood's testimony today was a repetition in detail of what Moyer said yesterday. Haywood, however, made no effort to deny his knowledge of Orchard, and his affairs or his connection with Simpkins. When pressed as to passage of the telegrams relating to engagement of counsel, to defend Orchard, Haywood admitted that he knew Simpkins had retained counsel, but that there was no record of any report from Simpkins to the officers of the Western Federation.

Like Moyer, Haywood never heard Orchard utter threats against Steunenberg, though he had heard of Orchard's assertion that he, Orchard left his interest in the Hercules mine, because of the troubles in the Cour d'Alene.

Haywood explained that the draft sent to Simpkins for $100 in December, 1905, was because Simpkins had left the money with him for safekeeping. He received no acknowledgment from Simpkins of the receipt of the money and had not since heard from Simpkins. Haywood said he never told Pettibone that he had sent any money to Simpkins.

In his opening speech, Attorney Darrow said it was doubtful whether the defense would attempt to explain the copy of the telegrams which he received in jail at Caldwell, saying that it was sent on December 21. In his testimony, Orchard said this letter was in reply to one from him to Pettibone, asking for $100.

Haywood in many particulars confirmed Orchard's testimony, but where Orchard connected Haywood or the Western Federation with the crime, the witness was emphatic, and prompt in his denial.

He showed no desire to conceal the fact that Orchard visited him at his house or that on occasions, he had intimate conversations with Orchard. He denied the administration of Colorado at the time of the troubles as corrupt, and he extolled the value of the Federation.

Throughout Haywood's testimony ran notes of indignation at what he called the capitalistic class and his idea that only by such methods as those followed by the Western Federation can working men hope to control the situation.

finished his work. The report will be presented at the meeting of the committee on maritime warfare with a request for the convocation of a plenary session of the conference so that the report may be definitely approved.

The sub-committee under the presidency of President Demaritis, which is dealing with the questions growing out of the transformation of merchantmen into warships, has decided to entrust a special committee with the work of harmonizing the different propositions.

CROP CONDITIONS IDEAL

ALL OVER BASKATCHEWAN AND ALBERTA
SOME PORTIONS OF MANITOBA NOT SO FORTUNATE

Winnipeg, July 12.—In Saskatchewan and Alberta the conditions for growing crops are ideal and the results that the grain is at a good height above the ground and will be headed out in a short time.

Plenty of rain has fallen and with the warm days lately the growth has been remarkable. Farmers are very optimistic and expect a splendid harvest.

While the condition in the two provinces named above have been ideal, some parts of Manitoba have not been so fortunate. In the northern part of the province good weather has been experienced with plenty of rain. It is in the southern part of Manitoba where the dearth of rain has been noticeable and consequently the growth there has been retarded.

INDIAN A HERO

A Courageous Struggle for Hours in Heavy Sea

MARVELLOUS ENDURANCE

SQUAMISH CHIEF SWIMS FOR NINE HOURS BEARING THE BURDEN OF HIS DAUGHTER AND HER INFANT CHILD WHO DIED WITHIN REACH OF LAND

(Special to The Daily News)

Vancouver, July 12.—For nine hours last night Chief Charlie James, of the Squamish Indians, swam shoreward in the Gulf of Georgia, burdened by the weight of his daughter and her babe.

From three o'clock in the afternoon until midnight he held them, one by either arm, but by the time he had reached shore at Point Grey, just west of Vancouver, both the young woman and her child had succumbed.

The big Indian's endurance is probably one of the most marvellous cases of the kind on record.

At three o'clock yesterday afternoon, six Indians of those mentioned were upset from a canoe. The sea was running high and the boat was swamped. The young Indian woman was thrown away from the boat with her child in her arms. The others clung to the craft.

Chief Charlie swam to the assistance of his daughter and grandchild, but was never able to regain the canoe. He struck out for shore with his burden and all the time he swam had no support of any kind. He is a powerful man, fifty-five years old.

Late this afternoon the other natives who had lashed themselves to the overturned canoe were rescued. None were injured seriously.

umbia was ample and generous. There was no politics in the matter. Therefore, Mr. McBride has chosen to play a demagogic part. He went back to his province and made capital against the dominion government because it would not let him depose the other provinces.

"It only requires hardihood to pursue the course Mr. McBride has followed. Of course British Columbians would like to get more from the dominion exchequer. The question is whether an increased grant would be consistent with impartial justice to all members in the confederation."

TRAIL'S CATHOLIC FETE

SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION HELD AT THE SMELTER CITY
WAGON ROAD TO CASTLEGAR HAS BEEN STARTED

(Special to The Daily News)

Trail, July 12.—A staff of men under J. Macintosh, has just started work on the new wagon road from here to Castlegar. Work has commenced near Mr. McNally's ranch at Stony creek citywards and will be in full swing as soon as the road is ready from Nelson.

Contractor Wilson of Rossland, is busy with a gang of men putting the local ferry boat into commission once more. The service will be much improved, the approaches will be altered, accommodation will be provided for waiting passengers and animals, the cable across the river lowered and steel instead of hemp guys provided.

Last evening will be long remembered in Trail as being the occasion of a notable function under the auspices of the ladies of the church of the Sacred Heart. This took the form of a lawn social at the house and grounds of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Carpenter. The old log cottage, the creek rushing through the grounds with two rustic bridges thrown across, made an ideal spot for the holding of a garden fete.

Mrs. Carpenter was assisted in her labors by Mrs. E. Harkness, the organist and choir leader, Mrs. Diagne, Mrs. G. McInnes and others. The garden was beautifully decorated, and the playing and singing of Rev. Father McCulloch especially attracted young Canada.

Father McCulloch, accompanied by his choir, and a large number of his parishioners, came down from Rossland by the evening train for the fete. Among them were noticed Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ohren, Mrs. J. W. Gregory, Mr. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dyer, Mrs. G. D. Sutherland, Miss L. Dyer, Mrs. B. Ohren, Mrs. and Miss Preston, Mrs. G. Gibbons, Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. Chisholm, Messrs J. Brennan, T. Powers, A. W. and E. Freeman.

The ladies of the "Hilly News" assisted in the sale of fruit lands as some of the parties concerned thought the terms of reference were misleading it is to be said that there was no reference at this meeting to any false advertising. The complaint made being that the hands were falsely described in a schedule, termed "schedule B," attached to the contract. This the vendors deny and have sent a copy of the letter making the complaint.

The special object in view was the purchase of a bell for the church. Sufficient funds were raised and the bell has already been ordered from Troy N.Y.

A. J. Martin has in his possession a queer curiosity, being the plated skull of a skull on which he has raised a head of grass, now six inches tall, without the aid of any other tenuous lotion than water.

Curious Explosion on New Road Spur to Granby Mine

(Special to The Daily News)
Phoenix, July 12.—A peculiar accident occurred on the grade being put in by the C.P.R. here at the Granby mines at the Victoria shaft, by which a section foreman and a Hindu were badly hit up in an explosion, and are now in the hospital. As a result, A. Hag, the foreman, was directing operations and waste rock was being taken from the Granby dump by the gang of Hindus for this purpose. This man known as "Hindoo No. 12," picked up a piece of rock and threw it down into place under the track that was being raised. As the rock fell it exploded, both men getting the force of the shock. The Hindu was badly bruised about the face and will lose an eye. He was taken to the C.P.R. hospital at Grand Forks for treatment. Hag was also seriously cut up about the face and legs, but is getting along in the hospital here.

It is supposed that a bit of gun powder had become lodged in the rock or ore in some way, and had been there perhaps for months, and only went off at the time indicated.
