BRACKEN-BRYSON

On Friday evening, May the twelfth at 6.30 o'clock, the Rev. W. McLean, of St. Giles church, Winnipeg, united in marriage, Miss Jean Lois Bryson, of Lynn, and Dr. Jas. Edwin Bracken, of Saskatoon, Sask.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. George Bryson, and wore her travelling suit of sage green broadcloth, with black hat. A few intimate friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony at the church, and shortly after Dr. and Mrs. Bracken left for Reston, Man., thence to Saskatoon where they will reside.

DEATH OF DUNCAN FISHER

Duncan Fisher, a widely known and esteemed resident of Athens, passed peacefully from earth away at his home here on Monday morning last, aged 71 years, 6 months. For about three months Mr. Fisher had been very ill with paralysis and for several weeks it was known that the end was near. A short time ago his sons came home from the West to see him and under the inspiration of their presence he rallied and was able to enjoy their company. During his illness he was comforted by the uniring devotion of his wife and the almost constant attendance of his daughter, Mrs. Donovan of Toronto, and his eldest son, Judge Fisher of Pembroke.

Mr. Fisher was probably the oldest continuous resident of Athens. Coming here when a young man, he embarked in the carriage manufacturing business, which he successfully conducted up to a few years ago. Devoted to his business, he yet found time to interest himself in the civic life of the community and in church work, and particularly in the Methodist Sunday School, he rendered valuable service. For over a quarter of a century he was a Sunday School superintendent and many now at work in the Master's vineyard credit the upward trend of their lives to the instruction received under Mr. Fisher's superintendency.

His father, Donald Fisher and mother, Christina McNece, were natives of Scotland who settled in Bathurst, Lanark Co., where the subject of this sketch was born in 1839. Mr. Fisher was married in 1862 to Ellen, daughter of Mr. Alexander Mitchell of Kingston. She died a few years ago. By this union a family of four children are left. They are Lt.-Col. Fisher, recently appointed Junior Judge of the County of Lanark; Mr. Chas. Fisher, C.N.R. Superintendent at Saskatoon; Mr. Arthur E. Fisher, Principal of Regina Public School; and Mrs. Donovan, Toronto, wife of A. E. Donovan, M.P.P. Mr. Fisher was married twice. His second wife, who survives, was Miss Ada Lillie, a most estimable lady of this place.

The funeral took place this (Wednesday) forenoon, and friends from near and far assembled at the Methodist church to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased. Rev. F. A. Read delivered an instructive discourse on the words: "I have loved thee with an everlasting love."—Jer. 31:3 The scripture lesson and hymns were all favorites of the deceased. At the close of the service the casket, covered with beautiful floral offerings, was borne by Messrs. W. H. Jacob, T. S. Kendrick, W. G. Paris, I. C. Alguire, G. W. Beach and H. H. Arnold to the grave, which had been lined with evergreens by the Sunday School pupils. In the burial service, Mr. Read was assisted by Rev. R. B. Patterson, rector of Christ Church.

HOMESEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

The Grand Trunk Railway has issued a circular authorizing all Agents in Canada to sell Homeseekers' Excursion tickets to points in Western Canada. This is interesting information for those desiring to take advantage of these excursions on certain dates from April to September 1910. The Grand Trunk Route is the most interesting, taking a passenger through the populated centres of Canada, through Chicago, and thence via Duluth, or through Chicago and the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul. Ask Grand Trunk Agents for further particulars.

GRANOLITHIC WALKS

The problem of what to do with the sidewalks on some of the streets is once more before the village council. To build new plank walks is generally regarded as out of the question, while to repair the old walks is simply to spend money for which no adequate return will be received. Of course, these walks will have to be kept in proper repair, but, sooner or later, permanent walks will have to be put down, and it is the privilege and duty of property owners on the different streets to take the initiative in solving the problem.

Petitions for granolithic walks on Elma street and Mill have been presented to the council and duly accepted. The Mill street sidewalk is in bad condition, but others in the village are little better, and it would be in the interest of all concerned to have such a number of petitions presented as would reduce the relative cost of each.

With the experience already gained in conducting this work, the council would probably be able to effect a considerable saving in the cost of walks put down this season.

A WESTERN LETTER

Keithville, Sask., May 6, 1911
Editor Athens Reporter.

Dear Sir,—Since coming here a year ago, I have been a constant reader of your valuable paper and have enjoyed it very much, as it is as good as a letter from an old time friend.

Spring is much later here this year than it was last, but many of the farmers are through sowing wheat and are preparing their land for oats and flax.

Much of the wheat that was sown this spring is up nicely and the fields look as green as a lawn.

It is a little early to sow many garden seeds, for as yet as there is danger of a late frost, but such vegetables and seeds as onions, beets, peas, radishes, lettuce and cabbage are already planted and are doing very well.

One can raise anything in the vegetable line here and most farmers raise an abundance of each so as to share with less fortunate neighbors.

The crops in this vicinity last year were very good. The dry weather did not have much effect on them as they were well put in.

This country is sure "on a boom" (allow the slang expression) this year. The contractors are very busy grading the railroad through my place and want to have it completed so as to haul this year's crop. As it is now, the farmers have to draw their grain from 25 to 50 and 60 miles to market, and still the profit has been enough to pay for the work.

The unbroken prairie is covered with many kinds of wild flowers at the present time.

We have a school, which is now in progress, church and Sunday School every Sunday, held at the school-building. During the winter months we had a Literary Society which met every two weeks. We now have a public library, although still in its infancy, as it was only started a couple of months ago. It promises to grow with this great country.

This is sure a great country, as every quarter section of any value whatever is taken from 75 to 100 mile from town by some one. The settlers here are all young, or comparatively so, and now listen, girls about three fourths of these settlers are bachelors, like myself, and many, yes, most of them, would make good husbands for you; if you don't believe it, come and pay us a visit. Nearly all of us own 320 acres of as good a land as there is anywhere.

At this place we have a grocery, a post office, blacksmith shop and an eating house. There is one steam, one kerosene and one gasoline plowing outfit here in this settlement now in progress.

We also have four feed grinders, as most of the farmers feed their grain ground. There are 3 threshing outfits here to. Land that 3 years ago sold for $10 and $12 per acre now sells at from $25 to $35 per acre.

Within a radius of 10 square miles, there will be something over 80,000 acres of crop put in this year, nearly all of which was raw prairie three years ago, so you can see that the farmer's watchwords have been "push on-ward."

This was written for the benefit of many inquiring friends who are readers of your valuable paper.

G. E. Purvis.

The Great Lafayette Said to Have Made Over $200,000 a Year.

London, May 15.—Friends of "The Great Lafayette," the illusionist, who lost his life in the fire in the Empire Music Hall at Edinburgh, on Tuesday night, estimate he left an estate valued at over $500,000. It is figured out that he was making about $500,000 a year, but the expenses of his company of 60 to 80 persons were very high and he lived here in the most luxurious style. He maintained his London residence all the year round, and when playing in the provinces returned to town on Sunday. He entertained also on a very lavish scale. He was booked to appear at one of the music halls here about Christmas at a salary of about $5,000 a week. No relatives of the dead actor can be discovered in London.

CARMAN'S VIEWS

Contradicts Dr. Workman's Testimony on Several Points.

Doctrine of Original Sin and the New Birth.

Montreal despatch says: Dr. Carman, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, took the witness stand in the Workman libel case today and gave evidence on points of Methodist belief involved in the alleged assertions of Dr. Workman. Dr. Carman claimed that from his position his testimony could be regarded as the voice of the Methodist Church. His statements on points of Methodist belief, he declared, were the interpretations of the Methodist Church courts. His testimony on many points was directly opposed to that of Dr. Workman, who, in testifying yesterday, refused to admit that the beliefs which he held were not in accord with the standards of Methodism.

On the question of the corporeal resurrection of Christ he differed from Dr. Workman, who thought the Gospel allegorical in this particular, while Dr. Carman held that it could be literally interpreted. Dr. Carman also declared that, according to the doctrinal standards of the Methodist Church, Christ was truly God, and that this point was not open to investigation. Without the doctrine of Christ being deity the Church could not exist. Contrary to Dr. Workman's testimony, Dr. Carman declared that the Methodist Church was both a propitiatory and expiatory act, and that the atonement had its effects not only upwards but downwards. Original sin, he said, lay not in the fall of Adam, but in the corruption of human nature where man is inclined to sin. Pressed for an answer as to whether a new-born babe is sinful, he answered in the affirmative: "Because it must be born again." This, he said, was the view of his Church. Dr. Workman held, on the other hand, that man was born in innocence.

Dr. Carman also declared that the Methodist Church held the historic accuracy of the Gospel as beyond a doubt, and could never countenance an investigation on this point. "The Scriptures contain all that is necessary for salvation," he said.

As to Dr. Workman's dismissal, he held that it was quite within the jurisdiction of the Wesleyan College Board, and that there was no necessity for them to appeal to the Conference. The Methodist Church, he declared, was not dogmatic in its attitude, and would allow its members ample latitude on points not regarded as essential to salvation, but testimony, to have attacked the fundamentals.

Rev. Dr. Spaulding, of St. James' Methodist Church, stated that in his opinion Dr. Workman had not been legally suspended. He believed that as a clergyman, as well as a professor, he was responsible only to the Conference for his religious beliefs, and that the Board of the college had no right to dismiss him. Mr. A. R. Oughtred, one of the board, testified that he had seconded the motion for dismissal because he believed it the best thing for the Methodist Church, but that he had protested against the legality of the move.

Dr. Workman again was questioned on a number of minor points of belief.

SUES EXECUTORS.

Late Manufacturer's Former Nurse Wants $30,000 Mortgage.

New York, May 15.—The late Robert Hoe, of printing press fame, paid $20,000 to Louis E. Brown, of Covington, Ky., to persuade Brown to drop a suit against Hoe for the alienation of the affections of his wife, according to testimony of Brown filed yesterday in the county clerk's office. The executors of the Hoe estate have been sued by Margaret Johnson Brown Johns, who was Brown's former wife and Hoe's nurse and amanuensis, for a $30,000 mortgage which she declared Mr. Hoe assigned to her. The alienation of Brown was taken by the executors to substantiate their contention that such gifts as Mr. Hoe made to the woman were not for a legal consideration, it being alleged in the executor's answer to the suit that the woman used undue influence over Mr. Hoe. Notwithstanding the dropping of the original suit, which Mr. Brown testified he had done in consideration of $20,000, he later secured a divorce, in 1907, on the ground of abandonment.

TWO STEAMERS IN COLLISION

The Admiral Farragut Rams Merida Off Virginia Coast.

Passengers and Crew of the Merida Saved Before She Sank.

Disaster Occurred in a Fog—Wireless Brought Relief.

New York, May 15.—The steamship Merida, of the Ward Line, with 207 passengers, from Havana for this city, was rammed by the steamer Admiral Farragut off Cape Charles, Virginia, shortly after midnight this morning. The Merida's passengers and crew were transferred to the Admiral Farragut. Water poured through the gap in the Merida's side, and five hours after the collision the steamship settled beneath the waves. Wireless distress signals were flashed in every direction, and the United States battleship Iowa, hurried to the Merida's assistance. The Admiral Farragut, of the American Steamship Company, returned to Philadelphia.

The Admiral Farragut was somewhat damaged in the collision, but was able to proceed. Officers of both steamships went among the passengers and assured them that there was no danger. The Merida, under the command of Captain Robertson, left Vera Cruz on May 4 and Havana on May 9. The Admiral Farragut, commanded by Captain Madero, left Philadelphia for Port Antonio yesterday morning. She was en route to Havana, when the collision occurred. About 12:30 o'clock this morning, when both steamships were about 55 miles east of Cape Charles lightship, the Admiral Farragut crashed into the Merida. The night was dark and it is thought here that the collision occurred in a fog bank. Following the crash wireless cables were strung up for an examination of the Merida showed that she was making water fast.

The shock of the collision brought the passengers of both steamships to the decks. The transfer of passengers to the Farragut was affected in lifeboats. The Merida's passengers lost all their baggage and were taken aboard the Farragut only partially dressed. A wireless despatch stated that the Merida sank at 5:30 o'clock this morning. The Old Dominion Line steamship Hamilton came alongside the Admiral Farragut, according to a wireless despatch received here at 10 o'clock this morning, and took the Merida's passengers and crew off the Farragut. The Hamilton will arrive at Norfolk late today.

Whether the Admiral Farragut then returned to Philadelphia or proceeded on her course for Port Antonio is not known. The Hamilton left New York for Norfolk yesterday afternoon. CANADIAN ON BOARD. Havana, May 15.—The passenger list of the Ward line steamer Merida, which sailed from here on Tuesday for New York, and is reported in collision with the Admiral Farragut this morning, contains the names of William White, a Canadian; Philip Lynch, Robert Wright, Mrs. Wright, and Anna Wright, Americans.

GUILTY OF MURDER

Wm. Carroll Killed Joseph Tallion With An Axe in Lumber Camp.

Sault Ste. Marie despatch: William Carroll, aged sixty-five, who in 1902 escaped from the London Asylum upon the eve of his discharge as fully cured, was convicted of the murder of Jos. Tallion in a lumber camp near Blind River, at the Assizes here this afternoon. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation of mercy. Carroll will be sentenced to-morrow morning. Both were employed at Waldie Bros' camp last November, and, according to three witnesses, Carroll entered the shanty at 5:30 o'clock in the evening and struck Tallion on the head with a double-bit axe, afterwards admitting that he had taken Tallion for another man against whom he had a grudge.

In the court to-day Carroll was unconcerned, and did not change his attitude of indifference when the verdict was announced. The defence entered a plea of insanity, which was not considered by the jury after the evidence of Drs. Bruce Smith and Ryan, who stated that the man was in a condition to realize what he was doing. The charge of Mr. Justice Britton was slightly against the prisoner.

SUGAR TAX.

Lloyd-George Could Not Afford to Remit It, He Declared.

London, May 15.—The passenger list those who are urging upon the Government the remission of the sugar tax had an interview with David Lloyd-George to-day and asked him to abolish this pro- bly for revenue from the forthcoming budget. The Chancellor was sympathetic, saying that he agreed that the sugar duty was oppressive to the poor and interfered with a valuable industry. It was desirable that it should be remitted if he could extract the same amount of taxes from somebody else. However, as it was, he could not afford to surrender a tax that was bringing in $15,000,000.

BOY KILLED.

Hops on One Engine to Escape Another and is Killed.

Toronto despatch:—Just a short distance from his home, Albert Hutchins, age seven years, of 35 Delaney crescent, was killed by being jostled from a G. T. R. shunting engine at the foot of St. Clares avenue at 11:20 yesterday morning. It appears that the boy was on the track picking up coal when a train came along. He ran to one side of the tracks, but found his path cut off by another shunting engine which came along this engine and rode for a short distance. He was then told to jump off by the crew, but failed to do so. Just then the engine put on more speed and he fell, striking his head on the iron rail, and died almost instantly. His body was afterwards removed to the morgue.

QUEEN-MOTHER ILL

New York Paper Publishes Alarmist Report of Her Condition.

Ruling Rate Against Death in Three Months Ten Guineas Per Cent.

New York, Monday, May 15.—The American publishes a cable from London this morning which says that grave rumors are in circulation in regard to Queen Dowager Alexandra's health. The despatch says that the utmost endeavor is being made to keep the matter secret, but the fact that her life has been in danger for some time past has permeated down to the shopkeepers and others. This has resulted in a rush to Lloyd's Company insurance against financial loss in the event of the Dowager Queen's death postponing the Coronation. "Ten guineas per cent," the despatch continues, "for three months' insurance on Alexandra's life, is the present ruling rate."

Although the Coronation is only six weeks away, ten guineas per cent. is also quoted as the rate against the postponement of that event. Two months ago the rate was only two guineas per cent. Many conservative writers are now refusing to accept any further risks. "The truth about Queen Alexandra is that she never recovered from her bereavement following King Edward's death."

LABOR AND CHURCH

Non-Attendance, Dancing, Card Playing and Horse Racing.

Pith despatch: The report on social and moral reform was the principal feature of the closing session of the Presbyterian Synod of Montreal and Ottawa here this afternoon. Presented by Rev. J. L. Tanner, it had much to say about the evils of moving picture shows, Sabbath observance, the social evil and other matters and their connection with the young people and disastrous to their moral welfare. The appointment of proper inspectors, a board of censorship and the establishing of an age limit of fifteen or sixteen for entrance to such shows was recommended. The report on arbitration hoped the negotiations between Britain and the United States would be successful and the influence set would not end to all wars between civilized people. Canada played an important part in the settlement of troubles between Great Britain and the United States.

LADY DECIES

Operated on for Appendicitis in London This Morning.

London, May 15.—Lady Decies, who before her marriage to Lord Decies was Miss Helen Vivian Gould, underwent an operation for appendicitis this morning. The surgery was done at the residence of her mother-in-law, Dowager Lady Decies, and according to subsequent announcement the result was most satisfactory. It was rumored last week that she had experienced an attack of appendicitis that would necessitate an operation. At the same time it was said that the operation would be delayed in order not to interfere with the presentation of Lady Decies at the second court of King George on Wednesday night last. Lady Decies was present as planned and the medical treatment required has followed after an interval of one day.

McNAMARA TRIAL

McManigal Won't Be Called as a Witness in Case.

Photo of McManigal to be Used as Evidence Against Him.

New York, May 15.—A Los Angeles despatch to the Tribune says: Ortic E. McManigal will not be called as a witness for the prosecution when the two McNamara brothers are brought to trial on the grand jury indictments charging them with murder in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times. At a conference between District Attorney John D. Frederick and three of his associates yesterday this procedure was definitely decided upon. The county prosecuting officers believe it will not be necessary to call McManigal as a witness. It is said that within the last few days Mr. Frederick has obtained new information which will be used in corroborating the statements made by McNamara. It was ascertained by E. B. Mills, manager, and Malcolm McLaren, an operative of the W. J. Burns detective agency here that McManigal was photographed here last December, prior to the explosion at the Llewellyn Iron Works. The picture is considered to be of importance in its relation to the charge against McManigal and will be used when McManigal is tried for dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron Works.

WOMEN'S VOTES.

Lord Mayor of Dublin Heads Suffragette Deputation.

London, May 15.—The advocates of woman's suffrage gave their cause another boost in the House of Commons to-day when Lord Mayor John J. Farrell, at the head of a deputation from the Corporation of Dublin, presented at the bar of the House a petition urging the passage of a female suffrage bill at the present session of Parliament. The members of the deputation appeared in the full regalia of their offices and the ceremony was attended with picturesque details. The largest contributions are as follows: Massey-Harris Company, $10,000; Massey-Harris firm, members and officials, $14,000; Messrs. W. F. Harry E. L. and Frank Cookshutt and members of the family, $22,500; Waterous Engine Works, $4,000; Verity Plow Company, $4,000; Gould, Shapley & Muir, $2,000; Ham & Nott, $1,800; Adams Wagon Works, $1,000; Shultz Bros., $1,000. Brantford old boys contributed over $6,000.

RAISES $117,000.

Remarkable Success of Brantford's Y. M. C. A. Three Days Campaign.

Brantford despatch: The campaign here to raise $100,000 for the Y. M. C. A. in three days closed at 7 o'clock to-night, $117,000 having been subscribed, $7,000 of which will go to the Y. W. C. A. There was $20,086 to be raised to-day, but this has been oversubscribed by $17,000. A feature of the day was a luncheon at noon, at which Mr. William Jennings Bryan gave an address. The banquet was attended by over 400.

AIR BATTLE.

Aviators Will Drop Bombs on Imaginary Battleships.

London, May 15.—There will be a battle in the air at Hendon to-day as a practical demonstration of the value of aeroplanes and airships in war time. Claude Grahame-White, Mons. Hieron, Mr. Lorraine, Capt. Cody and other noted aviators will show by bombs dropping on battleships chalked on the grass and on sheds, representing for this the deadly work of the aerial craft. They will also show how provisions may be carried to besieged cities and there will be tests of speed and efficiency.

UPSET CANOE.

Daring Attempt of Pole to Escape While Crossing Cobalt Lake.

Cobalt despatch: Provincial Constable MacKay and M. B. R. Gordon, manager of the Cobalt Lake Mines, narrowly escaped drowning in Cobalt Lake this afternoon when a Pole, arrested on a charge of "high grading," dumped the canoe in which they were taking him across the lake. MacKay and Gordon both were sitting with legs stretched under the thwart when the prisoner stepped on the side of the canoe, overturning it, and started to swim away. MacKay was weighed with guns and cartridges taken from the man arrested, together with 35 pounds of silver, and had great difficulty in keeping up. The escaping prisoner was caught by Constable Gunston, who had two other prisoners in another boat.

FRUIT IN KENT.

Chatham, Ont., May 15. The fruit crop in Kent county will be a very heavy one, according to present indications. There is a good show of bloom for pears, cherries and plums. Apples, while not far advanced, will, according to experts, be a bumper crop. Strawberries and raspberries are of small acreage, owing to the large amount of tobacco put in this year, but they too, look well at the present time.

OUT OF DANGER.

Which May Shorten the Term of William Clushman.

Buffalo despatch: James E. Josselyn, the Buffalo billiard room proprietor, who was brutally assaulted last December by William Clushman, of Hamilton, Ont., and for which assault the Hamilton man was sentenced to Auburn State prison for a term of from five to nine years, is recovering from his wounds and last night he was able to be around for the first time since the assault. For a long time after Clushman was sentenced, it was thought Josselyn could not survive his wounds, and Clushman, it is said, has been doing considerable worrying over this fact in Auburn. Josselyn is now on the road to complete recovery, and for good behaviour there is a chance that Clushman will be released after serving five years of his sentence.

TO TALK PEACE

Representatives to Have Interview With Madero, Jun.

All Quiet at Juarez—Talk of Student Uprising.

Juarez, Mexico, May 15.—Senora Obregon and Braniff, the voluntary go-between representatives of the federal capacity for weeks to bring about an end of conflict in their native country, will meet Francisco I. Madero, jun., provisional president at his headquarters in Juarez to-day. Their talk with the rebel leader will be the first exchange of impressions between representatives of the federal and insurrecto government since the battle of Juarez. Whether this renewal of efforts on the part of Senora Obregon and Braniff will result in a proposition, either from Madero or Judge Carbajal, the federal peace envoy, for a renewal of the peace negotiations, abruptly broken off last week, will probably depend upon the meeting of provisional President Madero's cabinet, scheduled to follow the first holding forth of the olive branch.

QUIET AT JUAREZ.

Mexico City, May 15.—Despite the rumors of a student uprising and a possible attack on the city by the rebels which gave the more timid residents some uneasiness last night, nothing out of the ordinary had occurred at the capital this morning. The students are said to have planned a political demonstration and precautionary measures have been taken by the government. The police guards on the streets have been increased and a reserve force is held in readiness for any eventualities. The officials of the War Department decline to comment on any action to be taken toward General Navarro as a result of his surrender of Juarez.

GOT HER DIVORCE.

Daughter of Sir William Mackenzie Gets Her Freedom.

Ottawa despatch: The Commons Private Bills Committee after hearing further argument from counsel this morning in regard to the Grantham divorce application, finally decided to follow the Senators' lead and pass the bill. The majority of the committee decided that the indirect evidence submitted by the applicant did not, under the circumstances, require to be corroborated by direct evidence of guilt on the part of the husband. Mrs. Grantham, who is a daughter of Sir William Mackenzie, will therefore be granted divorce.

CANADIAN COAL.

No Disturbance On Its Arrival at Cordova, Alaska.

Cordova, Alaska, May 15.—The steamer Edith, loaded with 3,000 tons of Canadian coal, arrived from Nanaimo, B. C., last night and was berthed without any demonstration being made by the large crowd of citizens who were on the wharf to greet the collier. Many threats had been made that a demonstration similar to that of last week would occur when the Edith arrived with the foreign coal. The authorities, however, posted a large number of deputies at the wharf and announced that any riotous conduct would be met with immediate arrest of all disturbers.

POPE NOT WELL

But Not Alarmingly Ill—Public Audiences Suspended.

Rome, May 15.—Pius X. is still feeling the effects of his recent attack of gout and the public audiences planned for this morning were suspended. Those who had obtained invitations were turned back when they arrived at the Vatican. The general condition of His Holiness is, however, giving little alarm to his physicians, who permitted the private audiences set for today. At one of these the Pontiff had a long conversation with Bishop Bianconi, of Frosinone.

THE BRIGHTEST DAY FOR EVERY WOMAN

Comes With Good Health Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Her brightest day for every girl and every woman is the day when she looks well, feels well and is well, but with most of the fair sex such days are rare. Just as they suffer from a painful languor, have a terrible weakness in the back, headaches that make everything seem blurred, and a ceaseless aching in the limbs.

HOW AUTHORS WROTE:

Pope Thought Best When in Bed - Victor Hugo Wrote Standing.

Alexander Pope, who was the literary pontiff of his time, thought best when in bed. Whenever a thought came to him he would jot it down on a scrap of paper. His servant often found bedclothes and floor covered with white bits containing aphorisms which have now become hackneyed quotations.

LACE UBIQUITOUS.

Sort and Manner of Using Proclaim Best Models.

Filet lace is first, though the shadow laces and the finer meshes are found blended with work that is very foreign to them, and they make a background not only for trimmings, but for veils, jackets, caps and all the other accessories that the lace counters provide.

Deep bands of filet or point Venise at the hem of a lingerie gown will raise it indubitably from the passe to a model of this season's style.

Many beautiful variations of all the finest laces are on the counters, and some of them are very cunningly imitated. The filets are being used for linens, suits and gowns, and also the imitation point Venise bands which come in wide and narrow widths.

Point Milan is a recent revival, and from its airy texture is suited to batistes and other flimsy materials.

It might sometimes be mistaken by a passing shopper at a lace counter for Valenciennes.

One of the modish uses for narrow and medium width lace bandings is as wired bows on summer hats. One very clever re-verse of soft filly lace, with the other re-verse of cloth or silk, is a finish seen in some of the handsome street costumes.

The lace re-verse is always very wide at the top, running well onto the shoulder. Deep frills of lace are also beginning to be seen on sleeves. A novelty seen at one lace counter was a little jacket with wide turned back revers, very short fronts and long, straight Directoire tails.

MOTHER'S DREAMS.

(Ottawa Citizen.) Every mother dreams of great things for her child. Never yet did any mother bend over her sleeping child but she dreamed dreams of strength of manhood, largeness of attainment, of some uniqueness of effort.

Ever has her maternal spirit the fair vision of a life strong, noble, helpful, good. No cloud of doubt has ever crossed the fair sky of her radiant dream.

No one can rightly compute the subtle influence of the mother's aspiration for good and greatness in her child. It is a very faint of evolution, stimulating to diviner things. It is the power of the human mind to reckon the good that has come to the world by the wishing of mother-love.

If mother-love could but have the willing as well, we might safely prophesy a speedy evolutionary culmination. But other influences have crept in, destroying the possibility of fulfillment. And with the removal of these, is to be found our best observance of Mother's Day.

The greatest tragedy of human life is the throwing of a mother's child, cherished and cared for and planned for with infinite tenderness and devotion, into the maelstrom of the modern world, to be tossed about like a chip upon an angry sea, and too often cast high upon the barren sands of failure. There is no greater descent than that from the mother's arms to the ignoble clay.

It is impossible to regard a wasted or a ruined life without memory or vision of the mother standing dimly behind it. One cannot forget the fact of all her dreaming and prophetic ecstasy. And one cannot view such ruin without glimpsing these ruined hopes as well.

This, then, must be our task—to give to every child the chance to realize the wish and dream of the mother; to give to every mother the care-free environment wherein she shall dream highest and noblest dreams of success and attainment, and goodness for her child; to give to every home the assurance of safety and comfort whereby mother-love shall be able to exercise most fully the privileges of willing good to her child.

FOAM ON THE SCHOONERS.

(Montreal Star.) The strike in Munich over beer reminds us that, while we are worrying about reciprocity and marriage laws and that sort of thing, the people of the Bavarian capital are dealing with the realities of life. They have sent a man to prison for six weeks, and committed five of his waiters to keep him company for part of his sentence.

They have also been sending beer to their handsomely; and all because he did not fill his "steins" of beer to the brim. Munich is usually as mild as its beer; but an atrocious outrage, such as this fiend committed, does rouse it to the very centre of the Hofbräu.

THEY SCORE OCCASIONALLY.

(Philadelphia Record.) The story runs that a militant suffrag-

ist, while speaking in Yorkshire last summer, was interrupted by a farmer who said, "If the wor in this proper place, lass, 'd be up in the field you-er, 'elpin' 'a mak' 'er instead of 'elpin' 'er."

"Thank 'ou, sir," returned the fair speaker. "And if you were in your proper place you'd be eatin' 'er."

DAMNING EVIDENCE.

SORTIES.

Mrs. Willis (at the Ladies' Aid Society)—Now, which can we do for the poor boys the front?

Mrs. Gillis—I was reading to-day where the soldiers are always making sorties. Now, why can't we get the recipes for those things and make them ourselves and send them to the boys?

CHECKING BABIES.

A fashionable Pittsburg church has established a complete playroom with reliable nurses where you can check your baby just as you do your hat and overcoat before going in.

Everybody knows that a baby is the finest thing in the world, and that he who goes through life without leaving one behind dies very poor indeed, a lady writes.

But many women have felt that their hearts would grow much fonder of their babies if they could be absent from them occasionally, though ever so seldom.

Manifestly, every family cannot have a nurse of its own, for then only half the world's women could be mothers, for the other half would have to be nurses.

But we could share our nurses. It would be a good idea to have public nurseries, preferably in the home districts. The countesses would be in charge of graduate nurses of the highest professional standing. They would be the masters of the art of keeping children at healthy play.

But don't think we are proposing public nurseries as a substitute for the old-fashioned kind, as we hear some "new" —or maybe just "fresh"—women propose! Not even an angel from heaven could take the place of a child's mother as his principal guide, for the angel, however much wiser she might be, could not love the child half so much.

But we do think that every mother should have what only a few privileged mothers with employed nurses have now: the opportunity to go shopping, and to the theatre or a party occasionally. It is known that her baby is in good hands while she is away from her darling. She knows that she is risking her little one's life if she leaves him alone in the house; and she doesn't feel sure that her neighbor will keep baby away from the stove, the wash boiler, and other dangerous things if she leaves the child in the neighbor's care.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine."

FRANK EMSLEY, Lindsay, Ontario. We cannot understand why women will take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-braced existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, without first trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration.

FRENCH CHEF SUPREME

THE RULES IN EVERY COURT BUT THAT OF KAISER.

Henri Codard, Who Prepares the Dinners for King George, is a Master of His Art and Receives a princely Salary—Cook's Names Are Printed After the Dishes—How Emperor of Austria Got His Chef.

The French chef rules supreme in the royal kitchens of Europe with one exception—that of Germany. The Kaiser must have one. German public opinion is against it. In fact, for years a grand culinary quarrel has been in progress in Germany. There are at least 400 French cooks in the houses in Berlin. Even the chancellor has a French cook, but the emperor, owing to the pan-Germanic idea, keeps to the native article and has his bill of fare written out in German.

French methods, except when necessary, are dealt with as the rule at the court of Italy. An Italian who has studied the art of cooking in France, Senor de Amici, is the chef.

King George V., like his father, never allows a royal menu to be published. If one does appear anywhere it is against his wish. The late King Edward thought that the making public of royal menus savored of ostentation, and his son shares this prejudice.

King George's new chef is a Frenchman, Henri Codard, who succeeds another Frenchman, M. Menager. The latter had a salary of $10,000 a year and after twenty-five years in the royal service has become head of the kitchen of the new royal Automobile Club in Pall Mall.

The most highly reputed royal kitchens in Europe are those at Windsor Castle. They were established there seven centuries ago under the aegis of the castle and have been adapted to modern needs.

They are very handsome. While those in Buckingham Palace are white tiled, the Windsor kitchens are paneled in black oak, a work carried out by George III. at a cost of $50,000. Each kitchen is in charge of a specialist cook who is an expert in cooking soups or fish, entrees or roasts, vegetables or pastry. There are four sergeant cooks, if the term may be used, under the head chef. For the sweets and pastry there are two special chefs. In all about thirty principals are engaged.

For cooking purposes there are about 800 pots and pans, for the most part in copper, and five men have nothing to do but keep them scoured. These pots and pans alone are worth $40,000.

Each service is presented in double, so that a choice is available, and each bears the name of the underchef responsible for it. This is an old custom due to the way cooks are trained. Had of claiming all the good dishes and repudiating any share in the bad ones.

The Pope holds by the cooking of his native Venice and has an inordinate fancy for his own special plate, a complicated dish which contains rice, two dozen prawns, a pint or more of mussels, butter, cheese, white wine, saffron, pepper, parsley, salt, and so on, and a minute quantity of coffee.

Although in Spain the chef in charge of the court is in charge of a Frenchman, M. Capdeville, curiously enough German influence is strong at the royal table. Then there are also the national tastes to consider, these leading to the production of such specialties as the thick soup of capsaicum, dishes flavoured with oil, cream tartar upon cabbage leaves and the famous gazpacho, a peculiar Spanish cold soup which contains tomatoes, onions, cucumbers, garlic, a glass of sherry, pepper and bread, to which before serving powdered ice is added.

A queer story is told of how the emperor of Austria got his cook, Peraki, who is a Hungarian. The emperor is not much of an eater. One day he was dining with the Count of Rheingaum and was delighted with the way in which a wild boar's head was cooked.

Two days afterward an enormous boar arrived at Schoenbrunn, where the emperor was in residence, sent with the homage of the count. When it was opened Peraki was found inside, no worse for his experience, and the emperor, accepting the gift, made him his chief cook in the palace.

French influence is supreme in the cuisine of the czars and has long been. Once the post of chef in Russia was not without danger, for there is a tradition of a cook who, having spoiled a roast, was impaled and himself roasted before his own fire. In the eighteenth century, when French cooking was most famous, a chef at the Russian court got as much as 100,000 lives a year. What is more, he was so important that when in a fit of pique he left suddenly the czar sent couriers after him to induce him to return, and he did so when he had got an apology from the sovereign.

The present czar's chef is Pierre Cubat, who is also a major domo. He is a regular Parisian and goes to Paris always to purchase his best materials. The most important of these are foies gras truffled and chickens. He has to provide food each day for 300 people, besides meals are provided at the royal table not only for Nicholas II. and his family, but for all the members of the court down to the civil and military officials.

Cubat receives $20,000 a year. One has to remember his responsibilities, for each outlet, each piece of bread, each portion of dessert, may carry death to the czar in it. M. Cubat keeps his precautions a strict mystery. The truth is that the imperial kitchen is full of secret police agents him his washers, scullions, etc.

When the czar is in the mood for chocolate cream delights, a pluma of Holland, Abdou, a Frenchman, and a milkmaid from the provinces are sent to the kitchen. It was when he shared the same carter by the road-

OLIVER AND THE GALICIAN

The Last Visitor Ere the Brunt of the Editor's Wrath.

Out West they call him "Pa Oliver." At Ottawa he is known as "The Honorable" the Minister of the Interior. Both East and West there are many stories about him which are worth telling; none better, perhaps, than that which has to do with his adventure with the Tenth Galician.

It was some years ago. Mr. Oliver, at that time was devoting much of his time to the editorial management of his paper, The Edmonton Bulletin. A member of his family seemed to resent the proprietor's intense interest in the writing of "leaders," and determined to interrupt the paternal manuscript mill. Once conceived, this idea soon bore fruit. The mischief-maker waited upon a group of unemployed Galicians, assured them that "Pa Oliver" had jobs for a few good men, and left the plot to develop. The Galicians wanted to wait upon the editor in a body, but they were cautioned to go upstairs to his sanctum one at a time, at decent intervals.

They went. Mr. Oliver hated to be interrupted, but the first two he dismissed with all the courtesy which is due to the citizen who will some day have a vote. Number Three had a harder time of it. When half a dozen had climbed clumsily and noisily up the steps, the writer was waiting things which were very much to the point. Number Nine was so startled by the explosion which greeted his appearance that he merely stuck his head inside the door—and fled.

At the usual "decent" interval, however, a clump-clump-clump was heard in the distance. It came onward and upward. The proprietor was tried beyond endurance. This time he determined that the intruder should not even reach the door. To that purpose he directed at the oncoming visitor a series of well-chosen remarks which penetrated the door like bullets. But the Tenth Man still advanced. The clump-clump-clump came nearer and nearer. To prevent the intrusion of the sacred precincts of the proprietor, it must be done now. The occupant of the room rose magnificently to the occasion. He exalted himself from his desk to the doorway of the sanctum, the air was sizzling with remarks about the Galicians in general and this one in particular. But whatever the visitor's faults, he was courageous, for the door opened.

And in walked the Presbyterian minister—Toronto Weekly Star.

Our Spendthrift Youth.

The other night, Mr. H. J. Judge, manager of the Princess Theatre, Montreal, sent his cloak room attendant behind the scenes on a message. He took the keys and solemnly stationed himself at the cloak room door. It was during the intermission between the acts, and many of the male members of the audience were hurrying in.

One of these—a youth with a very large expense of shirt front—stopped suddenly in front of the mournful looking manager.

"I want my cigarettes out of my overcoat pocket," he announced.

"Will you get them for me, please?" Mr. Judge slowly unlocked the cloak room door. "I can't put my hand in your overcoat pocket, sir," he drawled. "It's again the rules, sir."

The youth handed over his check. Mr. Judge handed over the overcoat. The youth fished in the pocket and finally produced a ten-cent package of cigarettes. Mr. Judge returned the coat to the peg, locked the door, and coolly received the tender which the young man dropped into his hand.

"Thank you, sir," he murmured politely, touching his hat.

And it was not until about five minutes later when he was telling his friends about it that he smiled.

The Reporter and the "Chaw."

Judge Morgan, who is very fond of plug tobacco, is not the only member of the Ontario Bench who has found chewing an intellectual stimulant. The late Justice Ferguson, known as an expert on the question of demurrers and special pleadings, was also an expert judge of the "weed," and was accustomed to use it extensively. A reporter who had formerly been employed in his law office and knew the judge well, dropped in one day, found a vacant desk, and incidentally noticed that a plug of tobacco was lying within reach. With a rapid glance around the room he grabbed the tobacco, took a stealthy but determined bite, and prepared to decamp. To his horror he saw Judge Ferguson regarding him over the top of a screen, behind which he had shortly before retired in order to wash his hands. But the judge saw the humor of the situation, and stopped the flight of the intruder by exclaiming, "Take a good chaw, my boy. Take a good chaw while you're at it."

Guardian, Mason and Lover of Sport. Thirty years in the one law office, as student and partner, is the record of F. W. Harcourt, K.C., Toronto, who is the new Grand Z. in the Grand Chapter, the governing body of caputular Masonry in the jurisdiction extending from the Ottawa River to the Yukon. He was born at Cayuga, Ont., fifty-four years ago, and was educated at Cayuga High School and Upper Canada College. He entered the law office of Dr. John Hoskin, K.C., and later became a member of the firm—McCarthy, Osler, Hoskin and Harcourt. Since the time when Dr. Hoskin resigned the position of Official Guardian of Inhabitants for Ontario, some six years ago, Mr. Harcourt has held that position.

His great hobby is sport. He used to go in for cricket, Rugby football and foot-racing, and he is now a member of several prominent clubs.

Looking Backward. "Were you nervous when you proposed to your wife?" asked the sentimental person.

"No," replied Mr. Meekton, "but if I could have foreseen the next ten years, I would have been."

NO LONG-DISTANCE MONOPOLY

Chairman J. P. Maher of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners granted the application of the eleven independent telephone companies of western and central Ontario for an order compelling the Bell Telephone Company to give these companies long-distance connections over the Bell Company's system, but the order contains a qualification which makes the act of obeying the board only an experiment. The connection will be tried for twelve months, and if it works out satisfactorily, then the conditions created by the board's order may be made permanent.

A long-distance connection toll of 15 cents for each long distance call which originates on the independent lines and is transmitted over the Bell Company's lines will be paid by the independent companies to the Bell Company. This 15c toll will be additional to the regular long-distance tolls of the Bell Company from the point where it connects with the independent line to the destination of the call. The independent companies will pay to the Bell Company at the end of each month the long distance tolls plus the 15 cents. This part of the order, the Chairman pointed out, dealt only with outbound traffic. Regarding inbound traffic originating on the Bell Company's lines and being transmitted over the independent lines to destination, these calls would not be subject to the 15 cent charge, but the independent companies must keep records of all inbound traffic as well as outbound. In the ruling it was not made clear just what the revenue of the rural lines for inbound traffic would be. This judgment is undoubtedly a victory for the rural lines, inasmuch as it sets forever aside the Bell company's claim to a monopoly of long distance business, but the toll of 15c per call is so heavy as to largely neutralize the advantage thus secured. In fact, it is a much heavier toll than many companies are now paying the Bell for connection.

A LONE ISLAND LUNATIC

Recorder (Monday): County Constable J. Hourigan, accompanied by his son, Bert, made a daring capture of what is undoubtedly a dangerous lunatic at an island in Gananoque lake ten miles north of Lansdowne village, Saturday night, at ten o'clock.

Twelve years William Albert Vandusen, an unmarried man, now fifty-one years of age, settled on the island, which in area is about three acres, and had since lived alone, working at odd jobs throughout the country. The man has the reputation of being an expert hunter and trapper, and recently his mind had become affected to such an extent that residents in the locality within a radius of five miles had become alarmed at his actions. Vandusen had an imaginary grievance against one of their number, Geo. W. Lee, and a few days ago Mr. Lee learned that Vandusen had on two occasions been seized with an impulse to kill him, first with an axe and secondly with a gun. Mr. Lee accordingly came to Brockville last week and issued a warrant for Vandusen's apprehension.

The warrant was placed in Hourigan's hands and last Wednesday he proceeded to execute it. Arriving at the lake he secured the assistance of Warren Slack and the two appeared in the boat traveling about the island. Vandusen met them with a gun, while a large bull dog made out into the water after the occupants in the boat. The quest of Hourigan was unknown to Vandusen and the former decided other means had to be resorted to to effect the capture.

Accompanied by his son, Hourigan left here Saturday morning and arriving at the lake they learned that Vandusen had left the island during the forenoon and they decided to lie in wait. They took possession of the island at five in the afternoon the dog having been locked up in the house by Vandusen before he left.

A few minutes before ten Vandusen appeared and landed. Hourigan allowed him to get within a few feet of the house before he pounced upon him. Vandusen was completely taken by surprise and fought as a wild man for ten minutes before the handcuffs were finally adjusted. During the melee the crazed man bit Bernard Hourigan's fingers but not seriously.

When overpowered Vandusen was conveyed across the lake to a farm house where the night was spent and yesterday he was brought here. Upon being arraigned this morning he presented the appearance of a man who had been badly neglected. He told the magistrate that he had thought of killing Lee, saying "the devil tempted me but the Lord stopped me." His talk was such as to convince everyone in the court that he was wrong mentally and he was accordingly remanded for an examination as to his sanity. He will likely be committed to the Eastern Hospital.

With the capture of Vandusen residents of the locality are breathing easier.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

Tell Us How You Did It

You may win a prize by doing so

SUPPOSE your friend Bob Wilson, on the next concession, "pulled up" at your front gate on the way back from market and asked about that silo or barn foundation you built, you would be glad to tell him, wouldn't you? And it wouldn't take you long, either, would it? And, as a matter of fact, you'd find as much pleasure telling him as he would in listening—wouldn't that right?

First you would take him over to view the silo or barn foundation. Then you would start to describe it—its dimensions—the kind of aggregate used—the proportions of cement used—number of men employed—number of hours working time required—method of mixing—kind of forms used—method of reinforcing, if any—and finally what the job cost. So that by the time you finished, neighbor Wilson would have a pretty accurate idea of how to go about building the particular piece of work which you described.

Now couldn't you do the same for us, with this difference—that you stand a good chance of getting well paid for your time?

In Prize "D" of our contest, open to the farmers of Canada, we offer $100.00 to the farmer in each Province who will furnish us with the best and most complete description of how any particular piece of concrete work shown by photograph sent in was done. The size of the work described makes no difference. The only important thing to remember is that the work must be done in 1911 and "CANADA" Cement used.

In writing your description, don't be too particular about grammar or spelling or punctuation. Leave that to literary folk. Tell it to us as you would tell it to your neighbor. What we want are the facts, plainly and clearly told.

Sounds simple, doesn't it? And it is simple. And surely it is well worth your while when you think of the reward in view.

Now sit right down, take your pen or pencil—fill out the attached coupon—or a post-card if it's handier—and write for the circular which fully describes the conditions of this, the first contest of the kind ever held in Canada.

Every dealer who handles "CANADA" Cement will also be given a supply of these circulars—and you can get one from the dealer in your town, if that seems more convenient than writing for it.

Contest will close on November 15th, 1911—all photos and descriptions must be sent in by that date, to be eligible for one of these prizes. Awards will be made as soon as possible thereafter. The decisions will be made by a disinterested committee, the following gentlemen having consented to act for us, as the jury of award: Prof. Peter Gillespie, Lecturer in Theory of Construction, University of Toronto; Prof. W. M. Day, Professor of Physics, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph; and Ivan S. Macdonald, Editor of "Construction."

Having decided to compete for one of the prizes, your first step should be to get all the information you can on the subject of Concrete Construction on the Farm. Fortunately, most of the pointers that anyone can possibly need, are contained in our wonderfully complete book, entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." A large number of Canadian farmers have already sent for and obtained copies of this free book. Have you got your copy yet? If not, you'd better send for one to-day. Whether you are a contestant for one of our prizes or not, you really ought to have this book in your library. For it contains a vast amount of information and hints that are invaluable to the farmer.

RECIPES

Lamb Stew With Potatoes and Carrots.

Use neck of lamb or any other parts usually sold for stew. Wash well, and put into a pot ready with hot drippings. Let the piece of meat become well seared, then add water and salt, and let simmer until done. While the meat is stewing pare four or five potatoes and boil. Before they reach the nearly stage, and when a bunch of carrots which have been sliced and boiled in salted water are tender, add the potatoes and carrots to the meat. Boil all together for a few minutes. When done and seasoned arrange meat in the middle of the platter, place around it first the potatoes, and then make a border with the carrots, over which sprinkle finely cut parsley. To the juice in the pot add a little water and flour for gravy.

Cocoa Dulce.

Cocoa dulce is a sort of jam made with grated cocoanut and a syrup of sugar and water, and served in Cuba as we serve bar le duc jelly, with cream cheese and crackers. It is better made from fresh cocoanut, but may be made from the desiccated, if desired. Make a very heavy syrup of sugar and water, and cool. Add as much grated cocoanut as can be easily mixed in, bring to a boil and seal in glasses.

Sponge Cake.

Two cups sugar, two cups flour, four eggs, two heaping teaspoonsful baking powder, one teaspoonful lemon, three-quarters cup boiling water. Beat whites very stiff, and sugar; then well-beaten yolks, flour and lemon; hot water last. Bake in large flat pan or two smaller one in slow oven.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W., Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child; the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

TOMMY DON'T.

One more don't is being applied to boys in Montreal. A little boy's life is pretty much made up of 'don'ts.' A little boy was asked his name. He answered Tommy. But what is your other name, Tommy Don't; they always call me Tommy Don't. If a boy does almost anything indoors, it is sure to be Tommy don't, and when he escapes to the street, if he slides on the sidewalks or coasts on the street, or throws snow balls, or in short does anything that is natural for a boy to do, he has the terrible policeman after him. To the many prohibitions has been added that he must not fire crackers. There are a lot of things that Tommy can do when the police are not looking, but he cannot fire crackers even in the hayloft without it being known; and that is, no doubt very fortunate. This particular prohibition is a very necessary one. But what we should see to, in making prohibitions for boys, is that they get their natural scope in some other direction. Boys have a right to play. It is true they prefer to invent their own mischief to playing by rule. Still it is not bad training for them to teach them to play by rule. It is plain that if we are to have good boys, and manly boys, we must on the one hand, not have suppress things that never play at all, and at the same time, we must not have sneaks who, for fear of reasonable punishment, will do of sight the things that are forbidden. If we are to have good and manly boys, we must have playgrounds.

SETTING HIM RIGHT.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the well known writer and lecturer, in an address in New York on woman's suffrage said: "A famous New York editor was arguing with me the other day. 'But,' he said, 'women can't pretend to be men's equals. Take war, for instance. Suppose a war arose between us and England, or us and Germany, or us and Japan, what would you do the madam?' 'I'd do the same as you would,' answered promptly. 'I'd die at my desk and write articles urging other people to go and fight.'"

THE TIP SHOULD GO.

There is a new outbreak against the tips on the railways and especially in the Pullman service. The Pullman company is a million-dollar concern, and owns 5,000 cars, which in their lifetime make enough to pay back the entire cost of construction and the cost of three more cars. The Interstate Commerce Commission, in an appeal to cut down the rates of upper berths, but left untouched the rates of the lower berths. It paid no attention to the porters, who are paid the scanty wage of $25 per month, and must supplement their income by tips.

THE PEACE PACT.

It looks as though the remarks of President Taft in favor of the arbitration of all international issues, and the favorable response thereto of Sir Edward Grey, of England, would soon result in an agreement between the two Governments, which we believe Congress and Parliament would not hesitate to approve, that would make war between this country and England impossible, and the precedent of which would lead other nations to enter into like agreements.

Minard's Liniment used by Physicians

NOT SO SLOW.

Those on this side of the Atlantic who imagine that the English are slow and behind the times may be interested to learn that all preparations have been made for the reproduction in the London theatre of the Coronation procession and ceremony by moving picture films on the same evening. The first outward bound Atlantic liner will also take a supply of films to New York. But, most remarkable of all, will be the transmission of the pictures of the Coronation by wire to Paris, where they will be exhibited to the Parisians a few hours after the King and Queen are crowned. For some time London audiences have enjoyed moving pictures of the great horse races in England on the evening of the day on which the races were run. But the transmission of pictures by wire is evidence that John Bull is not quite so slow as some of his rivals would make him out to be.

WHY KEEP POOR COWS?

(Department of Agriculture; office of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner).

It has been stated on good authority that the average yield of 17,000 cows in the famous Belleville, Ont., section for the factory season of 1910 was 3,480 pounds of milk. There are sections in Quebec where it is doubtful if the average is much over 2,500 pounds. The average income per cow in connection with one Quebec creamery was only $10.00. As some patrons obtained as much as $34 per cow, it means necessarily that some cows earned scarcely $15. Some primary principles of dairy farming seem to need attention here. Records of each cow's production will soon show which cows should be beefed because unprofitable.

During 1910 the average yield of 1,100 cows in Quebec cow-testing associations for the full period of lactation was 179 pounds of fat, double the above creamery average.

SUFFERED GREATLY FROM COLIC

Mrs. Aime Guenette, L'Immaculee Conception, Que., writes: "My little boy suffered greatly from colic. I gave him castor oil and other medicines without helping him in the least. One day I saw Baby's Own Tablets advertised, so wrote for a box. I found them so good that I always keep them in the house and would use no other medicine for baby." The experience of Mrs. Guenette has been that of thousands of other mothers. Not only do the tablets cure colic, but they cure constipation, vomiting, indigestion, make teething easy, banish worms, and make baby bright, active and happy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GOOD THINGS TO DO.

(Winnipeg Telegram.)

Do your work as well as you can, "right up to the handle." Do it lovingly, like a consecrated man. Make your work a prayer! Use your vote and your influence to help the world along toward better things. Fight for men! Let money and property look out for themselves. Fight for men—for men, women and children!

Love your folks! Love is the only reality. If you do good work, it will be because you love it. If you vote for human good, it will be because you love humanity. Love your folks—the little wife, the babies, the old mother and father—anybody that belongs to you. And love 'em good and hard!

NO FAULT OF MINE.

I sometimes take myself in hand. And view my faults an con them o'er, And try to see the things I do. That make some other fellow sore. I know that I am quick of speech. And lose my temper now and then, But I have never sat around And interferred with busy men.

I'm selfish, too, I recognize. That I want all that I can get, But still, in spite of that, too oft For books I go headlong in debt.

I've other faults, some big, some small, But still I'm glad that never have I interferred with busy men.

THE DOWN GRADE.

(Toronto Globe.) A King's Counsel, well known among the younger barristers of Toronto, was sent to the penitentiary yesterday for three years on several charges of forgery. At one time he was most attentive to his practice, most methodical in his ways, most exemplary in his habits. Whiskey caused his downfall. As he increased his consumption of strong drink his attention to business ceased, and besides, he was engaged in the gravest of crimes that a man of his profession can be guilty of: the forging of the names of public officials to bogus property titles.

How many young men in business life and in the professions are following the road he took to ruin! They indulge in the daily tittle—enough to muddle, but not enough to mean public disgrace or cause the pointing of the finger and the whispered word in club or office.

LOCAL COLOR.

Puck—I understand that sixteen different women have brought suit for breach of promise against Riter. What's his defence? He claims that he was simply getting material for his annual output of summer love stories.

The earth was created for man, so it is quite natural that he should be out for the dust.

SHREW CHUNKLETS.

It's easier to pay compliments than bills. When a woman means "yes" her "no" is not strenuous. After a girl is engaged her mother ceases to revise her letters. Many a self-made man expects his tailor to make the most of him. An ounce of seeing it yourself is better than a pound of hearing others tell it. Many a young man who thinks he is courting a girl is only courting a throw-down. Men who say they were driven to drink would doubtless have arrived sooner or later anyway. An old toper says it's a shame the way society women waste good alcohol by burning it under a chafing dish. And sometimes when opportunity knocks at a man's door he is so busy using his little hammer on his neighbor that he doesn't hear it.

MY BODY AND I.

I got this body in the Fleeshing Shop When it was small and pudgy-like and red; No teeth it had nor could it stand erect— A fuzzy down grew sparse upon its head. At sight of it the neighbors stood and laughed, And tickled it and jugged it up and down; Their some one put it in a little cart, And wheeled it gaily through the gutter-ways. When it grew bigger and could walk and run, I wet it in the pond above the mill, Or took it to a building called a school, And there I had to keep it very still. And later, when its muscles stronger grew, I made it sow and reap to get its grain, And tanned it in the summer's fiercest sun, And toughened it with wind and cold and rain. It served to keep me near my friend, the Earth, It helped me well to get from place to place, And then, perhaps, a tiny bit of me, I fast sometimes worked out through its hands and face!

How long I've had it! Longer than it seems Since first they wrapped it in a linen cloth, And now it is shriveled, p atched and breaking down— I guess, forsooth, that I have worn it out!

And I? Oh, bless you! I am ever young. A soul's no'er aged—is not bent nor gray, And when the body breaks and crumbles down— The "Fleeshing Shop" is just across the way!

The new offices and new jobs are compelling the managers of the State Government to turn everywhere for more money, and the proposition last made is to levy a tax of 2 per cent. on the gate receipts of all baseball and football games. HOW TO PACK AWAY YOUR WINTER WEAR.

The task of packing away the winter garments, draperies and blankets is made much less unpleasant by using gasoline or benzine in place of the old-fashioned moth antidotes. In the first place, go over everything that is to be put away and do the necessary repairing now, so that if cold weather comes sooner than expected they will be ready for use. On a sunny and dry day, hang everything on the line out of doors, and beat good, then air for a few hours. If you have been wise you have saved all the large paper boxes that came from the dressmaker's, the clothier's and the cleaner's in which all winter wear may be packed. If possible, take a well-lighted room on a bright day in which to do your packing, so that the gasoline fumes may quickly evaporate. Upon an ordinary kitchen table spread a garment, dip a whiskbroom in the gasoline and sprinkle well. Turn it over and treat the other side in the same way, then fold neatly. When doing the coats, put them in boxes long enough to avoid doubling across the length. In folding trousers keep them in the original creases. As moths have no liking for printer's ink, newspapers are fine for box linings, allowing some to cover over each article packed. Too great care cannot be given furs; a very good investment is a small cedar chest in which furs may be stored for years to come.

WHEAT FROM THE TOMBS

Seeds More Than 100 Years Old Can't Be Made to Grow. Gain and Broca-Rousseau have studied both the germinating power and the digestive distastes of seeds of various ages, ranging from 2 to 2,000 years. The seeds were obtained from twelve botanical and archaeological collections, and included seeds from ancient Peruvian tombs. In general the distastes were preserved longer than the germinating power, but in no instance longer than 200 years, while no seed of more than 100 years old could be induced to germinate. Yet men of scientific education, the late Dr. W. S. Wood, are alleged to have observed the germination of what found in the tombs of the Pharaohs. The distinguished Egyptologist Maspero, in a letter written to Prof. Griffon, explains the discrepancy as follows: "A distinction must be made between experiments with seed purchased from natives throughout the world, and experiments with seeds which have been found in the tombs by experimenters, or have been obtained from trustworthy persons. In the former case the seed almost always germinates; in the latter it never does so to my knowledge. The inference is obvious. The Pharaohs adulterate the ancient seed, which they sell with at least an equal quantity of new seed; the latter germinates and the former does not. I have found in tombs many seeds of wheat, barley, hemp, flax and other plants. Some of these seeds have been parched, others have been deposited in the tombs without any apparent preparation. Not a single seed of any of the three classes has germinated."

A BASEBALL TAX.

(Philadelphia Record.) The "fans" will be interested in learning that it is proposed to get something out of them for the support of the State and the new expense the bosses are determined to incur in order to provide places for their useful men. YOUNG, BUT WISE.

In a school in a Western Ontario town is a little girl who has not taken quickly to the mysteries of addition. "One's one?" asked the teacher, while putting the class through the easiest of the addition tables. The little girl referred to was the only person in the class who couldn't give the answer. "Two's one?" asked the teacher. The little girl smiled confidently, put up her hand and when noticed by the teacher, said, "Shoe polish."—From the Toronto Canadian Courier.

SAVES LIVES.

(Philadelphia Record.) The playgrounds that are gradually being established here and there in the crowded districts are life-saving institutions. We need more of them. And until we get them we need a stricter parental supervision of the children on the streets. Let us hold the Rapid Transit Company and the reckless automobile and wagon drivers to the strictest accountability; but at the same time let us do our share toward the protection of child life by keeping a closer watch upon the children at play.

HE HAD THE SIZE.

(Metropolitan Magazine.) The young man was trying to select a jeweled belt for the young lady to whom he was engaged. "What size do you wish, sir?" asked the salesgirl. The prospective buyer-groom blushed and stammered. "Really, I don't know." Then a thought struck him. "Lend me your tape measure," he said. The measure was handed to him and he laid it on the inside of his arm, from shoulder to wrist. "Twenty inches, please," he said, with decision.

APPEARANCES.

(Fleegende Blatter.) Millionaire (to ragged beggar)—You ask for alms and do not even take your hat off. Is that the proper way to beg? Beggar—Bardon me, sir. A policeman is looking at us from across the street. If I take my hat off he'll arrest me for begging; as it is he naturally takes us for old friends.

HIS INSPIRING DREAM.

(Chicago Tribune.) "Eventually," said the literary boulevardier, brightening up, "I believe it will be possible for G. Bernard Shaw to advance some commonplace idea or suggestion without starting everybody to discussing it as if it were something worth while."

Christian Register: This is a quotation from a Connecticut man's diary, dated 1790: "We had roast pork for dinner; and Dr. S., who carved, held up a rib on his fork and said: 'Here, ladies, is what Mother Eve was made of.' Yes," said Sister Patty, "and it's from very much the same kind of critter." It takes a pretty slick customer to keep his hands warm in another fellow's pockets.
