Mineral Wealth of Peru.
 Peru is generally conceded to be the third richest country in the world in the matter of minerals. Silver is the most abundant of the metals and is found in every section of the republic. In many places it is found in its native state, in deposits of great richness. It is said that between 1630 and 1824, the Jesuit priests took twenty-seven tons of pure silver out of a single valley, while other mines yielded hundreds of millions of dollars, even under the primitive methods of mining and extraction in vogue in the country.
 Gold is found in several sections of the country, although this metal was not mined to any great extent before the conquest by Pizarro, the Spanish conqueror for some reason giving all their attention to the silver mines. Therefore the gold mines from that the native Incas derived their fabulous wealth were abandoned for three centuries or more and only within recent years has there been a revival of mining for the yellow metal. The rivers of Eastern Peru all have gold bearing gravel beds.
 Mining for copper has proved a most profitable industry in Peru, the mines of Cerro de Pasco being among the most famous mines in the world.

He Wanted a Handkerchief.
 It is touching to read, writes Mons Clever in "Refugees in Paris" in the March Canadian Magazine, how these unfortunate ones long more, sometimes, for the little amenities of life even than for the necessities, as witnessed the case of one of the Sikorski family refugees. He was only an old blind man who, led by his little son, had sold papers in the country around D. u. Returning one night they found the village occupied by the enemy and their home with the mother and three little girls, impossible to reach. For two months they lived without shelter in the vicinities, hoping to get news of their loved ones, but finally wandering cold and hungry as if hopeless to Paris where they came under the notice of Dr. and Mrs. Shurtliff. They gave them all the clothing they could and made the boy comfortable in a suit of warm underwear. The old man stammered his thanks yet seemed still to want some thing for which he hesitated to ask. At last, under tactful pressure it came out:
 "If you could only give me a handkerchief," he said.
 Now, handkerchiefs, were not in cluded in the refugees outfit. Mrs. Shurtliff's workers had prepared, and while sympathizing with the newly touching request, she was at a loss how to supply it. Finally she thought of the tiny sheets made for her little daughter's doll-bed, and the small girl readily presented one to the blind refugee.
 "This is a 'mouchoir de guerre,'" she told him and he took it with smiles of the deepest satisfaction.

Tired Out Kidneys.
 Kidney troubles are so frightfully common because the kidneys are so easily upset by overwork or excess of eating and drinking. There is effected relief by whipping them on to renewed effort but by availing the action of liver and bowels by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills. This restores the kidneys and makes them well. Backache and urinary disorders then disappear.
He Called the Bluff.
 Two young women, entering a street car, found that there was only one standing room.
 "I'll soon get a seat," said one, in a loud whisper, to her companion. "Now you see!"
 She turned to a sedate-looking gentleman.
 "My dear Mr. Green," she exclaimed, "how delighted I am to meet you! You are almost a stranger. Will I accept your seat? Well, I do feel tired. Thank you so much!"
 The man rose.
 "Sit down," "I am, my girl," said he, as he courteously pointed to the vacant seat. "You're not often out on a washing-day. You must feel tired. I'm sure! How's your mistress?"
 "She made a terrible blunder at the auction sale yesterday."
 "What did she do?"
 "Somebody bid $6 for that old chair, and forsook of habit led her to say: 'I'll double that.'"

Rheumatism a Mystery.
 UNDER FOOTING OUT OF THE SYSTEM IT SHOWS WORSE AND WORSE.
 Some diseases give immunity from another attack, but rheumatism works just the other way. Every attack of rheumatism invites another. Worse than that it reduces the body's power so that each attack is worse than the one before. If any disease needs curing early it is rheumatism, but there are few disease physicians find more difficult to treat successfully. Wet weather does not cause rheumatism as was once thought, though weather conditions may start the aches and pains. The condition is one known to and medically authorities agree that the blood becomes thick with alarming rapidity as rheumatism develops. Maintaining the quality of the blood is therefore, a reasonable way of preventing and curing rheumatism. That it works out in fact is shown by a beautiful result which follow a fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich blood which drives out the rheumatic poison, and while the blood is kept in this condition there is no danger of the trouble returning. Mr. W. T. Pell, Palermo, Ont., says:—"I was attacked with a trouble which was ultimately pronounced rheumatism. Often I was barely able to crawl into bed, and seldom able to do a full day's work. In this condition I doctored for a year, absolutely getting no better. Then I consulted another doctor whose chief consolation was that unless I could get rid of the trouble I would be a cripple for life. He prescribed dieting, and I doctored with him for at least six months, but instead of getting relief I became weaker and less able to get around. Then I decided to try a doctor in Toronto, and was under his treatment for about four months with no better results. I gave up the doctors and tried other remedies which were equally futile. Then one day our store keeper sent me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, saying, that if they did not help me I need not pay for them. I took them and then got some more and found they were helping me. I probably used $100 worth before I felt fully cured, but they did cure me and were cheap as compared with the other treatments which did not bring relief. My rheumatism has not returned since. To day I am well and strong and I believe I owe it all to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Lost by Drink.
 It has been fairly safely determined that the average man who drinks spends to some day on liquor, excluding Sundays. This takes from his income twenty pounds a year. Some wholesome thing has to be sacrificed in the name to meet that drain on his pocket.
 A man who is a steady drinker requires more medical attendance in a year than a man who is not. This is being constantly testified to by physicians. More men are rejected by life insurance companies because they are drinkers than men who are unfit from any other cause. We have, therefore, less financial protection for the family of a drinker than for the family of an abstainer, and this, in the national aggregate, becomes a matter of tremendous significance.—Leader.

Lobster Was Over Yard Long.
 One of the largest lobsters taken from Maine waters in several years was brought into this port Thursday night by the fishing scho. Lochinvar. The lobster measures 37 inches from the tip of its "smellers" to the tip of the tail, weighs 15 pounds and is 18 inches in circumference about the largest part of its body.
 Caught in the trawls the lobster was brought to the surface while the Lochinvar's crew were out in their duties to miles off Segun Light. Olat Penny was the lucky fisherman to land the big lobster and will receive a fancy price for his catch.
 The claws of the lobster are the size of a big porterhouse steak and there is enough meat in the sea fish to provide a meal for a large family.—Ex.

A Weak Chested Boy.
 "My boy Frank seemed weak chested and took a very severe cold," writes Mrs. D. Stevens, Kings, Man. "The many medicines used did not seem to benefit him until we tried Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills and Turpentine and found it to be exactly what was wanted to cure him. No treatment is so thorough and effective as a cure for cough and bronchitis."
Temperance Instruction for Teachers.
 Early last summer the Swedish government gave a large grant to wards courses of temperance instruction for teachers this year and the following, while the city of Stockholm grants 1,000 kroner yearly to a permanent temperance exhibition.

House of Assembly
 HALIFAX, N. S., MARCH 6TH, 1916.
 The third week of the legislative session was rendered notable by the advent of the government bill. Over two weeks have passed without the submission of any government business to the Assembly, many persons were beginning to wonder why Mr. Murray had the legislature summoned at all this year. It is, therefore, not surprising that the belated arrival of Hon. Mr. Murray, armed with a genuine government measure known as bill No. 12, created a mild ripple of temporary enthusiasm among his not over-observant followers. The purpose of the bill is to grant a relief, or to be precise, exemption from tax, to certain American capitalists, with respect to the bonds covering a $5,000,000 Nova Scotia government loan, which Mr. Murray negotiated in Boston some weeks ago. The bill provides that no succession tax shall be collected with respect to these bonds or any of them, either from present or future holders. The Opposition criticized the measure vigorously on the ground that it is class legislation, exempting capitalists and persons of large means from a tax that less wealthy Nova Scotians have to pay. Finally, at Mr. Tanner's suggestion, the government agreed to let the bill stand over for the present.

The strange thing in connection with this solitary government bill was the aliphaw way Mr. Murray handled it. Perhaps this was natural, for the Premier has had little legislative practice this year. But it was certainly amusing to the House and the visiting public. In the first place, Mr. Murray said the bill referred to a $1,000,000 loan which had been placed in Boston a few months ago, and had yielded 98.18 per cent. The fact is that it related to a $5,000,000 loan which was placed in January 1916, and yielded only 67.13 per cent. As Mr. Murray himself, who is supposed to have placed the loan, his ignorance of its amounts, the date of marketing, and the rate it sold at, astounded the members of the House. The fact is that Mr. Murray and his associates, as an inevitable consequence of longholding of office, have delegated the entire administration of the government to themselves. They have little real hand knowledge of what is taking place in the D. P. departments. The large number of instances of this recently coming to light have fastened upon the Murray Government the very characteristic nickname by which it is known in business circles, of the Arm-and-A-Administration.

Mr. Canning's prohibition bill bid fair to drive the government into nervous collapse. Premier Murray's shock of the temporary sentiment of the province was his admission that he had no government policy to offer in this direction. He said that he regarded the prohibition for Halifax. Now that the measure is before the House, thanks to the Opposition, it is likely to pass the Assembly. The Halifax liquor men, anticipating this, are said to be disgusted with the government's lack of backbone, and are demanding that Mr. Murray take measures to get the Legislative Council to reject the bill, or to mitigate it by amendments, or to have the time of its operation postponed for six months or a year. If he fails to meet the demands of the liquor interests, the campaign fund of the Liberal party will materially suffer, and the elections are a fore sight. There is, therefore, promise of interesting developments at the capital during the next couple of weeks.

A Prayer Before Action.
 Once, in this chapel, Lord,
 Young and undaunted,
 Over my virgin sword,
 Lightly I chanted:
 'I've ends my watch. I go
 Shining to meet the foe.'
 'Swift with Thy dawn,' I said,
 'Set the lists ringing.
 Soon shall Thy foe be sped
 And the world singing!
 Bless my bright plume for me,
 Christ, King of Chivalry.'
 Warriors I kneel tonight,
 Lord, by Thine altar!
 Oh, is tomorrow's fight
 Let me not fight!
 Bless my dear arms for me,
 Christ, King of Chivalry
 Keep Thou my broken sword
 All the long night through,
 While I keep watch and ward!
 Then, the red light through
 Bless the wrenched haft for me,
 Christ, King of Chivalry.
 Take, in Thy pierced hands,
 Still, the bruised helmet;
 Let not their hostile bands
 Wholly o'erwhelm it!
 Bless my poor shield for me,
 Christ, King of Chivalry.
 Keep Thou the sullied mail,
 Lord, that I tender
 Here, at Thine altar!
 Then, let Thy sword
 Touch it once * * * and I go
 Stainless to meet the foe.

 Maud S. and Dan Patch.
 Names to conjoin with amongst lovers of horseflesh were Maud S. and the famous Dan. They were the outcome of patient training granted on sterling qualities of form and endurance; they were developed in speed and staying power when some evidences of their excellence had been discovered.
 In the dairy world many names of excellent cows are emblazoned in history. They have made astounding records in the hands of careful feeders who discovered their great capacity. N. A. Cowie points, first, although many good records are now known, the point where, in early days, the cow dreamed of even by the men who at one time owned such magnificent cows; second, what has added to the value of the world's record breakers is the very fact that simple, cold arithmetic has been used to calculate the milk and fat production.
 Some system of dairy records, then, has helped this discovery of the complex of Maud and Dan; records are helping dairymen to try to discriminate intelligently between the plodding utility cow and the high speed, long-endurance cow. A note to the dairy department, Ottawa, will bring any reader, without cost, samples of record forms, the keeping of which will prove a useful endeavor and increase your income. C. W. F.

Was Troubled for Years With Kidney Disease
 And This Treatment Cured Me—This Statement Endorsed By a Baptist Minister.
 The great majority of people are familiar with the extraordinary curative powers of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. But for the benefit of those who are not we continue to publish from day to day reports from persons who have been actually cured.
 The case described in this letter was an extreme one and the writer was in a very low condition when he bought these pills. The cure was so marked that Mr. Mosher's pastor did not hesitate to vouch for his statement. By their unique curative action on the liver, kidneys and bowels, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure in complicated cases which defy the action of ordinary kidney medicines.
 "Mr. W. H. Mosher, Brockville, Ont., writes:—"I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and firmly believe there is no medicine to equal them. I was troubled for years with kidney disease, and this treatment has cured me. When I began the use of these pills I could only walk from my bed to a chair. Now I can go to the field and work like any other man. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are an excellent medicine."
 This statement is certified to by the Rev. E. H. Bisset, Baptist minister of Brockville, Ont.
 By awakening the action of liver, kidneys and bowels Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure Constipation, Headaches, Chronic Indigestion, Kidney Disease, Liver Complaints and Backache. One pill a dose. It costs a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

FOR HEADACHES, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, INDIGESTION.
 Nearly all our ailments, and many of the serious ones, too, are traceable to some degree to the disturbed action of the liver, stomach, bowels, and kidneys. Indigestion, acidity, heartburn, flatulence, headaches, constipation, and a host of other distressing ailments, you must see to it that your stomach, liver, and bowels are equal to the work they have to do. It is a simple matter to take 30 drops of Mother Seigel's Syrup daily, after meals, yet thousands of former sufferers have banished indigestion, biliousness, constipation, and all their distressing consequences in just this simple way. Profit by their experience. As a digestive tonic and stomachic remedy, Mother Seigel's Syrup is unsurpassed.

milder soaps should be used, and these not applied directly to the fabric. If much dirt is present a volatile acid such as ammonium carbonate may be added to the water.
 The scrubbing to which fabric is subjected should be gentle, and the wringing through loosely-set wringers.
 Once washed, the goods should not be allowed to lie about wet, but should be immediately hung up to dry, preferably out of doors if the air is dry and the temperature above freezing.
 The reason for this careful treatment is found in the peculiar nature of the wool fibre. Its outer or epidermal layer is made up of minute serrations, which are arranged in some such manner as the scales on a fish. Now these scales are softened and opened up by hot water and by such alkalies as are found in the household pressure due to hard scrubbing is sufficient to cause the serrated edges of the fibre to unlock or felt. Felted fibres are usually hard and brittle. This is because the alkali which has helped in the felting process has removed from the cells certain fatty substances which serve to make the fibre soft and pliable.
 Fabrics which have become hard and felted have not only lost their attractiveness, but also most of their usefulness as a protection from the cold. This latter quality is due to the "air blanket" which forms in the spaces between the fibres, for quiet air is, we know, a very poor conductor of heat and cold. When the fibres have become felted these air spaces are lost, and consequently the fabric is no longer able to materially aid the body to retain its heat.

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N.S., MAR. 10, 1916.

Editorial Brevities.

Owing to difficulties connected with the "help" problem THE ACADIAN appears this week a few hours late, which our readers will please excuse. We aim to be always on time but sometimes that is impossible.

The human element, the one thing that money cannot surround with a safeguard, is the primary cause of fully four fifths of our accidents. The crime of carelessness is responsible for a large percentage of the widows, orphans and cripples.

A widow whose three sons had enlisted was asked if she did not think it was a terrible thing for them to go to war, replied, "Yes, it is. And I only know of one thing worse. That would be for them to stay home and let some one else fight for them."

A terrific blizzard raged all day on Saturday last, and for into the night. The storm was the worst experienced for many years. The snow drifted into large banks and the wind blew with much velocity. Business in town was almost suspended. Sunday was mild and delightful.

The death took place at Halifax on Monday morning of Wiley Smith, member of the firm of A. & W. Smith & Co., one of the oldest wholesale grocery houses. He was a director of the Royal Bank of Canada, and president of the Acadia Sugar Refinery directors. He was 82 years of age and was one of the wealthiest men in the Province. He leaves a widow, but no children.

Church of England Notes.

The Women's Auxiliary of St. John's church held their annual meeting at the rectory on Monday afternoon. There was a good attendance. The rector opened the proceedings with a short service and delivered an address in which he spoke of the work of the Society in Canada and the Foreign field. The Canadian Anglican Church has missions in Japan, China, India, Africa and South America. A good work is also being done among the Indians of the Dominion and the Jews in Montreal. The following officers were elected: President—Mrs. R. F. Dixon; First Vice President—Mrs. T. L. Harvey; Second Vice President—Mrs. E. S. Crawley; Treasurer—Mrs. G. Cowie; Secretary—Mrs. C. H. Borden; Dorcas Secretary—Mrs. R. Harvey; Superintendent of the Junior Branch—Mrs. W. M. Black; Mrs. R. Creighton resigns the treasurership after a year's faithful and energetic work.

The annual meeting of the Junior branch of the St. John's Women's Auxiliary was held on Wednesday at the residence of Mr. R. Creighton. The rector was present and gave an address and spoke of the splendid work of the superintendent, Mrs. Marshall Black. This society is in a very flourishing condition and did an excellent work last year in assisting the cause of Missions. The officers elected were: Miss Angela Herbin, treasurer, and Miss Marcia Calkin, secretary. There was a good attendance.

Cross Fretful Babies.

The cross fretful baby is a sickly baby—the well child is always happy and smiling. Mothers if your baby is cross and cries a great deal something is wrong. His little stomach and bowels may be out of order, his teeth troubling him, or he may be bothered with worms. The mother should immediately give him Baby's Own Tablets. They never fail to relieve the baby. Concerning them Mrs. Ronald Hurley, Gilks, N. B., writes: "I know of nothing so good for cross fretful babies as Baby's Own Tablets and I am pleased to recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Girls' Hockey.

A third game of hockey played by girls was witnessed on Saturday, March 4th, when the town team won from the Seminary team by a close score of 2-1. This was a good test game and the playing showed that both teams knew how to work. Lloyd Black of the 8th referred the game which was a three ten minute period one. Margaret Caldwell, centre for the town team, secured both goals, and Marguerite Woodworth, centre on the Seminary team, made their score. The ice was prime, the skaters strong, and the playing swift. Should the ice continue good, another game would be greatly enjoyed by the onlookers.

A house at Onslow Mountain, Colchester county, was burned on Friday morning last and five persons lost their lives.

Mr. Clifford Hilditch, of Boston, is spending some time in town at the home of his sister Mrs. A. L. Gue.

Our Boys.

Our boys are marching on to war. Some have gone, and some are going. How noble they are, how brave, and true! Surely our King has reason to be proud of this quarter of his dominions where so many loyal youths—have volunteered so readily and so cheerfully in response to the call for aid. Canada's loyalty to the Motherland is certainly demonstrative in such hearty voluntary service.

As I think of the sacrifices they are making leaving all that is near and dear—the home, the loved ones, the ties of friendship, the scenes of childhood, and the land of their birth—it awakens a feeling of high esteem. Is there one among us, may I ask, who looks upon such sacrifice with indifference? Proud am I that my country has bred such strong, active lads, who are willing to do or die, it may be. Do they not deserve our highest praise, our warmest sympathy, our best wishes, our earnest prayers? And as they go forth to fight for their King and country in this great and terrible war of wars, they will not forget the Great King, for, at times, will there not arise from the heart of each the silent prayer for help? To sacrifice, to suffer, is but to gain, and they who suffer the most will have the most to gain. May God be with them and sustain them, and at the last save them, is the fervent prayer of the writer.

Letters to the Editor.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ACADIAN: DEAR EDITOR—I wish to inform the military authorities and also the public that the report about the Women's Christian Temperance Union appealing to the government to prohibit the training of recruits in our town is absolutely false. Some one has taken a presumptuous liberty in view, no doubt, of hurting our organization. This is not the first time that such has occurred, but we sincerely hope it will be the last. We invite the men and women of our town to give up criticizing as well as moderate drinking, and help us make a clean town, in which our boys and girls will be free from contamination. Consider it your duty as well as ours. The W. C. T. U. motto is "For God and Home and Native Land."

B. M. S., President.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ACADIAN: DEAR EDITOR—I wish to inform you that I am not in agreement with your article in your issue of the 10th inst. regarding the growing of other crops on neglected orchards. This will surely give us an advantage. I have no 1's to send next season.

London, Feb. 23—Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, was asked in the house of commons today what restrictions he proposed to place upon the importation of fruit, and when they would take effect.

Mr. Runciman said that he could not make a definite statement, except that any restriction imposed would not apply to fruit from British dominions, colonies or dependencies.

Yours truly,

Tributes to the late Sgt. Dorman.

The following letters have been received by Mr. and Mrs. Burpee Dorman, of Margaretsville, the death of whose son, Sgt. Lloyd Dorman of the 25th Batt., in action in France, has been lately recorded:

Somewhere at the Front, January, 1916.

I have been requested by the non-commissioned officers and men of No. 15 Platoon, "D" Company, 25th Nova Scotia Battalion, to convey to you and your loved ones, my sympathy in this your hour of trial and sorrow in the loss of your dear son and our gallant comrade, Platoon Sgt. L. A. Dorman. He was one of the most popular N. C. O. in the battalion, and loved by all for his sterling character, his devotion to duty and courage in danger. He met death with a smile on his lips, without fear in his heart, and died a soldier and a man, an example to all as to how a soldier should live and when the time comes, how a man should die, loved and respected by all. He lays at rest in the 25th burial ground, by the side of his comrades, who, like him, have given their all. He is the only man I ever loved as a

Years in sorrow, FRANK W. HIRSHLIPPE, Sgt. Major "D" Company, 6th Field Ambulance, 2nd Canadian Div., R. E. F., Jan. 16th, 1916.

DEAR MR. DORMAN—You have already received the sad intelligence of your son's death. I have been chaplain in the Brigade for a short time and did not have the pleasure of knowing him personally, but there is but one testimony among officers and men, and that is he was one of the best and noblest men in his Battalion. I am told also he was soon to be recommended for a commission. Others will no doubt give you particulars of his death, which I am told was instantaneous. I wish to offer you and your sorrowing family my sincerest sympathy and to inform you that your son was honored and beloved by all and tenderly laid away. I conducted the funeral on Saturday morning, and can assure you that his family have been in my thoughts and prayers ever since. With kindest regards, I am, Yours faithfully,

J. H. MACDONALD, Chaplain 5th Inf Brigade.

Remember. The young men of Canada should not forget what crushing German machine and cutting German machine means. It is their duty to stand against a well equipped and trained German force.

and shot. Canadian young men are asked to enlist to save not only our own liberties, everywhere, but all the happiness that comes from the enjoyment of the blessings of freedom and free self-government. Our young men should remember that they have a duty to perform in preventing the sacrifice of all that makes life worth living.

Denison, Texas.—"After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous and just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would spin most hurt. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's step-sister told me I had not lost long something for me. I would not last long and told him to get your medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and I have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go."—Mrs. G. O. LOWERY, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

If you are suffering from any form of female ill, get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and commence the treatment without delay.

The following, which we take from The Loutistias Sun, of Hammond, La., will be of interest to our readers: "Mr. A. B. Cotwell, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Faye Stuart and son, Donald, expects to leave for St. Louis on the last of this month, where they will spend a month or two and then journey on to their old home in Nova Scotia, where they expect to remain. It is a source of sincere regret to all the friends of Mrs. Stuart to learn of her intended departure and her presence will be sadly missed in the church and the clubs and society, where she has been so prominently identified. That they will have a safe trip and enjoy their faraway home is the earnest wish of all their many friends and acquaintances who regret the possibility of their leaving Hammond.

R. CHRISTIE ESTABROOKS.

A gloom has been cast over the student body on the hill by the death of Miss Christine Estabrooks, of the Senior class of the Seminary.

Miss Estabrooks was operated on for appendicitis Sunday evening. Hopes were entertained for her recovery until early Wednesday evening when she began to sink rapidly and passed away at day break.

The heartfelt sympathy of all goes out to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Estabrooks, and her sisters and brother in their great sorrow. Miss Estabrooks was a great favorite in the school especially beloved by members of her own class. She was active in Christian work, a good student, a beautiful type of Christian young womanhood.

A simple memorial service was held in the Seminary Chapel at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, at which Dr. O. Gater, Rev. N. A. Barkness and Principal DeWolfe took part.

The body was conveyed to St. John's by the early morning train on Thursday. Truly for Christine "to be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord."

ARTHUR L. GUE.

The death of Arthur L. Gue occurred at his residence, Main street, last Monday at noon, after an illness of two months' duration. The deceased was a son of the late Thomas R. Gue, of Halifax, and his death, at the early age of thirty-nine years, came as a great sorrow to his many friends. Mr. Gue had been a resident of Wolfville for eight years, having moved here from Halifax soon after his marriage. Beside a widow, formerly Miss Hicche, of Dartmouth, he leaves a family of three little daughters and two sons. Two sisters, Mrs. R. M. Hattie, of Halifax, and Mrs. (Captain) V. Johnson, now in England; and two brothers, Thomas, of Halifax, and Walter, residing in the States, also survive the deceased.

The funeral service was held on Thursday afternoon, Rev. E. F. Dixon officiating at the residence and burial in St. John's cemetery. Many friends attended. The kindness of heart and tender hospitality of the departed gentleman, adorned him to acquaintances. The pall bearers were Messrs. T. L. Harvey, E. H. Burgess, Dwight Sherwood, Otto Poshay. THE ACADIAN begs to extend its sincere sympathy to the bereaved ones.

DIED.

Wheat—At Port Williams, March 9. Mr. Howard D. West aged 77 yrs.

"Pinafore."

When Mrs. Cora Pierce Richmond proposed last fall the presenting of Gilbert and Sullivan's popular opera "Pinafore" by her pupils, her many friends were inclined to think that she was undertaking a very serious proposition, and so she was. The splendid success of the performance at the Opera House on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week, however, abundantly justified her confidence and gave ample evidence of her ability to organize and train a company of amateurs and fit them to present high class music in a manner most creditable to the performers and herself.

The seating capacity of the theatre was taxed on both evenings and at the concluding performance standing room was at a premium, and many seeking admission had to be turned away.

Manager Black provided appropriate scenery for the occasion and the opera was skillfully staged and prettily costumed. The music was led by an excellent orchestra composed of Miss Minnie Miller, Mrs. Clark and Messrs. McDonald, Robert Bishop and Samuel Richardson. Owing to the serious illness of Miss Florence Brown, of Port William's, the accompanist, her place was filled with marked ability by Miss Myra Chambers. Mrs. Richmond directed the entire program and the slightest detail did not escape her watchful and efficient supervision.

The cast of characters has already been published in these columns, and so far as was possible this was adhered to. The presence of la grippe, however, prevented some of those who were to have taken part from being present—much to their disappointment.

The plan of having a change of person in each of the leading characters for the different evenings was an interesting feature and gave those who were present on both occasions an opportunity to institute comparisons. For the reason before mentioned, however, this could not be carried out in every case. Mr. Vernon Curry, who was to have impersonated the character of "Dick Deadeye" on the second evening, was absent, as was Miss Eunice Curry, who was to have presented "Hebe" on the first evening.

The Right Hon. Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., was fittingly represented by Messrs. Lewis Pick, of Wolfville, and Claude Balcom, of Morden. Mr. Fred C. Manning made a splendid "Captain Corcoran" and Mr. Phillip Hudson excelled as "Ralph Rackstraw," an able seaman. Mr. Rex Harlow, "Dick Deadeye" filled a different place but was equal to every emergency. "Bill Bobstay" was well given by Messrs. Claude Balcom and Harold Wilson, and "Bob Becket" by Messrs. Theodore Stackhouse and Horace Reade. Master Bert Schurman made an ideal "Midshipmite," "Josephine" the Captain's daughter, was delightfully rendered by Miss Margaret Murray and Evelyn Nelly. Miss Doris Chambers, as "Hebe," Sir Joseph's first cousin, was most amusing. "Little Buttercup" was skilfully represented on both evenings by Miss Helen Knowlton. All the parts were exceedingly well taken and the musical numbers were delightfully rendered.

Mrs. Richmond was the recipient of many handsome floral offerings, as were also the leading lady performers.

A pleasing feature of the second evening's performance was an exhibition of very clever dancing given by Mr. MacAvoy, of the College, which was highly appreciated.

The audience showed their appreciation of the excellent work done by vigorous applause.

We understand that before the second performance, Mrs. Richmond had received invitations to present the opera at Kentville, Windsor, Truro and Halifax. As announced last week it is her intention to repeat the entertainment here at the end of May.

A Wedding.

The marriage of Mr. Henry Brown, of Greenville, Kings county, to Miss Nellie Spiny, of Church Street, Cornwallis, which was to have taken place on Saturday, March 4th, was unavoidably postponed, owing to the day's terrible storm and blockade of roads. The event, however, occurred on Monday afternoon, March 6th, at the residence of Rev. M. P. Freeman, who performed the ceremony. The bride was very becomingly attired in a handsome blue silk trimmed with white over lace, and adorned with tassel, white over lace, and a large diamond with hal to match. After receiving congratulations from the happy couple drove to relatives in town where luncheon was served, afterwards driving to Greenfield where a hot supper and Mr. Cordial welcome awaited them. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside at this place.

The Boy Scouts.

The regular meetings will be resumed this evening. Drill and Kim's Game for the Juniors and an examination in Ambulance Work for the Seniors. Next Friday the V. M. C. A. talks will be resumed.

Sunday School Supt. Tells How "Fruit-a-lives" Relieved

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 1st, 1913.
"I have lived in this city for more than 12 years and am well known. I suffered from Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken 'Fruit-a-lives' for 18 months now and am pleased to tell you that I am well. All the enlargement has left my hands, and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in eighteen months."

The Spider-Web.

Whenever I see
On bush or tree
A great big spider-web,
I say with a shout,
"Little fly, look out!
That web seems pretty and white,
But a spider hides there, and is ready to bite."

So if you see here:
Drinks cider or beer,
I say to him now,
With my very best bow,
"Have a care of that lager or cider,
For there hides a wicked old spider,
And it fills him with joy
To catch man or boy
And weave all about him with terrible might
The meshes of habit—the rum apple."

The body of Greene was taken to the county morgue. It was learned from the authorities in Winnipeg that Greene formerly had been one of the best known engineers in Canada. He was one of the engineers of the Broad street depot in Philadelphia and had been superintendent of the Dominion Bridge Company and later the Manitoba Bridge and Iron Works.

Efforts to locate relatives or his wife last night failed.—Chicago paper.
In "The Missionary Review" for September we find the following:
A growing temperance sentiment in Japan is reported by the Rev. F. O. Mills, who is engaged in evangelistic work among railway men. Last summer, for example, a temperance society was organized in Fukuoka, with over 100 members, and this year on New Year's Day, which is usually a time of drunkenness, the station master was brave enough to leave safe out of the fare. His many callers were served with a favorite non-intoxicating drink made from parched grain.

The usual excursion for railway employees was held in March, and the Western Kyushu section met in Fukuoka. Three special trains brought the people for a day, returning in the evening. During the five days 7500 came. They met in the largest theatre, afterwards spending the remaining hours in sight-seeing. For the entire trip sake was prohibited. The superintendent of the Kyushu lines and his wife are both earnest Christians. The wives of many of the men were also present. All of the people were happy, and it was a fine example of temperance, for even in the parks some of these thousands of people brought even beer. There still remains a great battle to fight against strong drink in Japan, but there are many encouraging signs of victory.

WAS TRUE TO HIM

Convict's Mountain Sweetheart Clung to Him Through All His Troubles.

By GEORGE A. BAFFIN.
He crouched in the underground, cautiously parting the bushes with one hand to peer out onto the mountain side. He was a ragged giant of a man, circumscribed, yet with strange pallor upon his face. Upon each wrist, too, were half-healed scars. These had been caused by the heroic efforts which he had used to free himself from his manacles. But he was free at last. He had escaped from the state penitentiary three weeks before and his pursuers had never been able to discover his secret hiding place upon Bear mountain.

He had heard them seeking for him eternally, on the very day after his escape he had come upon one of the guards dozing under a fir tree. He had taken his rifle and then, awakening him, scornfully ordered him to depart. The man had obeyed fearfully and the rifle and a box of matches had enabled the fugitive to live. But every time he brought down a rabbit or partridge the sound of the shot, echoing through the valleys, at once informed his pursuers of his whereabouts.

He looked round cautiously. No one was in sight. High up on the opposite hill he saw the outlines of a tiny cabin. It was his sweetheart's home—Mollie Stark's. It was to avenge an insult to her that he had shot and crippled Seth Baldwin. That was two years before, and he had sworn to be true to him.

But since his flight he had not dared go near her home. It was too desperate a chance to take. But a visit on his part to the wild glen in which they had plighted their troth had resulted in the finding of a package of food placed there by Mollie. In it was a little note.

"Dear Ben," it ran. "I hid this and brought it here thinking you would come here. Come to the cabin on Monday night at nine. Lovingly, Mollie."

The full moon gave almost as much light as the sun. The fugitive crawled down the slope and approached the opposite height, worming his way up through the ferns and closed-clinging vines. At last he emerged upon a little rocky eminence a hundred yards distant from the cabin. From Mollie's window a rag fluttered. The fugitive understood that sign. She was alone. Grasping his rifle he went forward boldly.

He was within ten yards when the door opened. His heart leaped. Mollie stood in the doorway, her arms outstretched, to welcome him. Behind her was the flickering candle. But as he drew near, suddenly a light froze his blood. The shadow of a man had passed the candle, another, and another. He halted in his tracks. Behind Mollie he saw a rifle barrel.

With an oath he flung back into the brushwood. He would have fired, but, treacherous though she was, he could not bring himself to kill her. He heard yells behind him, Mollie's screams, the shouts of his pursuers. An hour later he dropped exhausted upon the ground inside his cave. It was a bear's hole, cunningly hidden on the mountain side. Among that waste of burned-over pine stumps none could hit upon it save by accident, and he did not anticipate it was not fear that made him pant like a marathon runner, but wrath and self-contempt.

Mollie was a waitress! She had been lured by a cheat of a girl, for whose sake he had suffered two years in the penitentiary. Anger overcame all other feelings. He would show her! He would show them! What should he do?

For an hour he lay thinking, gnawing his lip in rage. His passion for her had been so strong, his love so large a part of his existence, that the revelation was terrible. He must contrive some punishment commensurate with the crime. Among the hill women there could be none other so base as to betray her lover, as Mollie had sought to betray him. He had recognized one of the men in the parlor as Frank Merriman, the sheriff. He had been a suitor for Mollie's hand before she had promised herself to Ben. Doubtless he had persuaded her.

Ha! He had his plan. It flashed into his brain ready-forged in the furnace of his wrath. Doubtless Merriman would be at her home the following night. Her father, the bedridden old man, would be helpless. He would steal in and shoot the man before Mollie's eyes—and then—then—then—her hair, leaving her to the derision of the hill folk.

His plan consumed him. He passed the outstanding hours like a man in a delirium. Day dawned, the sun blazed upon the wild-eyed man who paced to and fro upon the mountain side. The shadows lengthened as the sun declined; at last the dery orb touched the horizon. Shouldering his rifle he marched doggedly through the scrub until once more he saw Mollie's cabin outlined against the darkening sky upon the further ridge. Even as he watched a tiny spark flashed out from the parlor candle.

An hour later he was lying upon his stomach outside the cabin. Inside he saw Frank Merriman, smoking in one corner. Mollie was laying the supper table. Occasionally she stopped before the sheriff and seemed to plead with him. Ben gritted his teeth.

If only Merriman would lay aside his rifle—"But he kept his clasp of it even at the supper table; it was only later when he arose that he placed it for a moment against the mud wall. The watcher knew that his time had come. Mollie's hands were on Merriman's arm and she was pleading very earnestly. Ben fancied that she was crying.

He sprang to his feet and rushed through the open door. He saw in distinctly, the world was revolving in a very mist. Merriman's long, thin neck was protruded, he had dropped his rifle and his hands were on the sheriff's throat.

To and fro they wrestled. The table chairs were spinning across the room. The candle was dashed to the floor, and in the bewildering night each only knew that he was fighting for his life with an implacable enemy. Ben dug his knuckles into the hollow space between the point of the jaw and the great cord behind the ear—an old woodman's trick, to compress the carotid and produce unconsciousness. He felt his enemy weakening. He had him at his mercy now. Suddenly a tremendous blow fell upon his head from behind. He heard the shivering of the cheap rifle stock, flung out of his hands, fell for some stable hold in the encompassing darkness, and tumbled to the ground. The last thing that he saw as his senses left him was the faint glimmer of the red candle and Mollie's agonized face, in its aureole hair.

"Ben!"
He started out through the whitening phantasmagoria that surrounded him. He was dizzy and deathly sick. Gradually, as the fog cleared from his brain, he realized that he was lying in a little room. He lay in Mollie's room upon a bed, and the face that he loved best in all the world was bending over him.
