"" on't cry," said the little one; " please tell me some more." "Well, Thanksgiving-day we were so happy! We sat around such a large table, with so many people; aunts, and unclea, and cousins—I can't think why they never come to see us now. Letty—and Betty made such sweet pies, and we had a big, big turkey, and papa would have me sit next to him, and gave me the wish-bone, and all the plums out of him, and gave me the wish-bone, and all the plums out of him, and gave me the wish-bone, and all the plums out of him, and gave me the wish-bone, and all the plums out of him, and gave me the wish-bone, and all the plums out of him, and gave me the wish-bone, and all the plums out of him, and gave me the wish-bone, and all the plums out of him, and gave me the wish-bone, and all the plums out of him, and gave me the wish-bone, and all the plums out of him, and gave me the wish-bone, and all the plums out of him, and gave me the wish-bone, and all the plums out of him, and gave me the wish-bone. The state tell any more ; I believe I'm going to cry." " I am very cold," said Letty. " Does papa know, up in heven, that we are poor and hungry now!" " Yee-mo-I can't tell," answered Mary, wiping away her tears, unable to reconcile her ideas of heaven with such a thought. " Huuh ! mamma will hear !!" Mamma had " heard." The coarse garment upon which she had toiled since sunrise dropped from her hands, and tears were forcing themselves, thick and fast, through her closed eyelids. The simple recital found but too sad an echo in that widowed heart.

NIL DESPERANDUM.

N1L DESPERANDUM. No, never ! Every cloud has a silver lining; and He who wore it knows when to turn it out. So, after every night, however long or dark, there shall yet come a gol-dem morning. Your noblest powers are never developed in prosperity. Any bark may glide in smooth water, with a forwing gale; but that is a brave, skilful oarsman who row sup stream, against the current, with adverse winds, and no cheering voice to wish him. 'God's speed!'' Keep your head above the wave; let neither sullen despair nor week vacillation drag you under. Heed not the poisoned above the wave; let neither sullen despair nor week vacillation drag you under. Heed not the poisoned above to himself when he sold his Mater ; and for him there dawned no resurrection morning! Tis glo-rous to battle on with a brave heart, while cowering pusilimity turns trembling back. Dream not of the word " surrender !'' When one frail human reed after and fass.'' The Great Architect passes you through the full never consume you. He will yet label you "fine gld.'' The narrow path may be thorny to your tender of Jags but the 'promised land'' lies boyond ! The clusters of of green pastures sad still waters of pase. You shall yet yeap them ; your eyes revel, from the mountain-top, over the green pastures sad still waters of pase. You shall yet your vietor temples. Nil asperance.

" I asked God to take care of Johnny, and then I went to alsep," said a little boy, giving an account of his wandering in the wood.

"I asked Good to take care of Johnny, and then I went to skeep," said a little boy, giving an account of his wandering in the wood. How sublime ! how touching ! Holy childhood ! Let me sit at thy feet and learn of thee. How dost thou rebuke me, with thy simple faith and earnest love ! O carth ! what dost thou give us in exchange for its loss !—Rainbows, that melt as we gaze ; bubbles that burst as we grasp ; dewdrops, that exhale as our eye eatches their sparkle. The warm heart, chilled by selfishness, fenced in by doubts, and thrown back upon itself. Eye, lip, and brow, trained to tell no tale at the portal of what passes within the temple. Tears locked in their fountain, save when our own household gods are shivered. The great strife, not which shall "love most," but "which shall be the greater;" and sching hearts the stepping-stones to wealth and power. Immortal, yet earth-wodded! Playing with shells upon the slore of time with the broad occan of eternity before us. Careful and troubled about trifles, forgetting to "ask God to take care of John-ny,"—and so, the long night of death comes on, and we aleep our last sleep !

ELISE DE VAUX.

Well, doctor, what do you think of her? She has set her heart apon going to that New Year's ball, and it will never do to disappoint her, poor thing!" The blunt old doctor bit his lip impatiently, and, striking his gold-headed cane in no very genule manner upon the floor, said, "Think! I think it would be perfect insanity for her to attempt it. 1 won't be answerable for the conse-quences."

It would be a comfort if one could meet a sensible woman occa-sionally." "Elies was sitting in bed, propped up by pillows, when her mother entered. "Elise de Yaux," eaid the young man mechanically, his eyes rivited to her figure.
"Do you know what you are saying !" said he, tapping him gently on the arm.
"Yes. Elise de Yaux."
"Well, why do you look at her so wildly ! Has Cupid aimed a dart at you from out those blue eyes !"
"Good God !" said the young man. leaping forward, as a piorcing shriek came upon the air. "Make room !-- help ---throw up the windows !" and Elise was borne past, gasping, senseless, to the cool night air.
Ay, Uvian ! Kneel at her side, chafe the little jewelled hands, put back the soft hair from the azure-veined temples, press the pulseless wrist, listen for the besting heart--in vain ! Elise is dead !
And in the arms of him for whom she had thrown away her young life she was borne to ber home; the diamond sparkling mockingly on the elay-cold finger; its pearls still lingering amid her soft ringlets ; the round, symmetrical limbe still fair in their beautiful proportions. The heart she coveted was gained--the deat-bought victory was won !

THE WAIL OF A BROKEN HEART. "Tis better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all." Oh, no. 10 else you have never passed from the shield of a broad, trae breast, where for long years you have been lovingly folded, to a widow's weed, and the ratio jostling and curious gaze of the heartless crowd; never knew long, wretched days, that seemed to have no end; never turned, with a stilled sob, from the clasp of loving little arms, and the uplifted gaze of an eye upon whose counterpart you had watched the death-film gather; never aw that sunny little face overshadowed with grief, when other children gleefully called " Paps !" nor ever heard the wail of a little one who might never remember its father's face !

As August 30th 1853. My Lond DUKE, I. In reference to my Despatch, marked Military No. 2, of date the 7th June, 1853, I have now to enclose the Petition of the Inhabi-tants of Queen's County to her Majesty, rela-tive to the withdrawal of the Troops from this Colony. I was requested not to forward this document until signatures were obtained, and I only received from the Secretary of the meeting the letter dated the 26th instant, with the du-plicate, as he states, sirend by 2000 individuals. Pence before those of the Assistant Judges. As to this last assertion, we have made enquiries in the proper quarter, and find that assertion is, like most of those emanating from the pen of Whelan, false. Col. Lane held, for a long time, the office of senior Assistant Jadge of the Sapreme Court, and, while he did so, his name was, of course, placed set to that of the Chief Justice. The other assertion, that beplicate, as he states, signed by 2000 individuals. 2. As this duplicate would not be laid before Her Majesty, I need not forward it, as it is suff-cient your Grace should know the number of Petitioners. cause the President of the Executive Council and the Conneillors themselves are, in the table of prece-dency, formished by the Colonial Office, ranked above Judges of the Supreme Court, manifests such Petitioners. 3. I have so frequently expressed my opinion on the subject of the withdrawal of the Troops, that I shall not further trouble your Grace, than by earnestly hoping that a small detachment may still continue in this Colony. I have the honor to be, Your Grace's humble obt. servant, A Burgerer a above Judges of the Supreme Court, manness such a total ignorance of the subject, on the part of Mr. Whelan, that it is unworthy of a reply, were it sot that there are many whose knowledge of these mat-ters is as limited as that of Mr. Whelan, bat with

Sir— I have to acknowledge your Despatch, No. 3. (Military,) of the 30th of August, enclosing a petition from the inhabitants of Queen's County to Her Majesty, relative to the with-drawal of the troops from Prince Edward Island. 2. I have laid this Petition before Her Ma-net who was placed to meeting the average im that his place is in the Gallery, and that there, he is inferior to created Barone? Look in the Army and Navy Lists, and you find Lords, Lords' sons, and Baronets and Baronets' sons who, in a procession, would take precedence of their who, in a procession, would take precaution of them Colonuls and Captains, but whose names are record-ed according to the several ranks they hold in their respective professions. A Lisutenant is a Lieutenant, though he be a Duke; and, as such ranks below all jesty, who was pleased to receive the same very jesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously. 3. But I have not been able to advise Her Majesty to reconsider the determination already communicated to you'by my Despatch of the 22d of Aprill ast. I could not recommend that the Military should be maintained in the Island to do the duty which ought to be accom-plished by an effective local Police, especially when such maintenance is at the costfor repeat-ed and numerous desertions. The establish-ment of a Police Force to perform the services properly belonging to such a body, and the framing and execution of really effective mea-sures to check desertion, are preliminaries indispensable towards any reconsideration of the decision thus arrived at by Her Majesty's Government.

MELANCHOLY ACCLDENT BY DROWNING. On the 26th alt., a boy residing with Mr. Patrick Brown, Bedeque, was missing at noon, when called to dianer. Not having made his appearance at night. Mrs. B. became somewhat uncally at his absence; bat, as Mr. Brown was from home, thought that the boy had taken more than usual liberies, and had g no with some boys with whom he was in the habit of accessing. As he hid ant vature next marging. I have the honor to be Sir, Your most obedient servt., Newcastle.

The above is the Edition of Watte's Hynnis used in the Baptist Chapel, Charlotitoven. composition has been upwards of, three years entitled in New Brunswick, Newfoundland used. It will not injure the hands, or the most delicate and sively used in New Branswick, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island, the Canadas and Nova Scotia, principally for covering shingled roofs, as you will perceive by the siccompanying circulars of certificates. It has been severely tested, and proved most success fully its fire proof qualities under most extraordinary circumstances; so much so, that I am of opinion that Fire Insurance Compensions should encourage its general application to all kinds of wood building (where the color would be no objection to its being used, such as he back walls of dwellings in the city, out houses, ware-houses, dec., as well as the roofs) by lowering the premium of insurance on such building as are covered. It will not injure the hands, or the most delicate material; but while it is incomparable for perma-nently whitening Linens, &c., after they have become discoloured by ago, or injured by had Washing, it is also unsarpassable for improv-ing the colors of FLANNELS, BLANKETS, WOOLLENS, Cotongn PRINTS, MUSLIN and LACE. Indeed, very few are the diseases in which a Furgastive Medi-cine is not more or less required, and much sizk-ness suit auffering might be provented, if a harm-wess but effectual Cathartic ware more freely used. No person oun feel well while a cositive halit of being prevails; besides it soon generates serious and often shall diseases, which might have been avoided while the timely and judicions use of a good purgativ-This is alike true of Colds, Feretish symptoms, and Bilous derangements. They all tend to beccume or produce the deep seased and formidable distempers which load the hearnes all ever the land. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Fill has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand. An extensive tial of its virtues by Physicians, Profe-sen, and Patipust, has shown results surpassing anything hilberto known of any medicine. Cures have been dieted boyond bilef, vere they not sub-stainated by persons of such enables used as use allowed to refer for these facts, are more.
