A correspondent of the Waterloo Chronicle states that on Sunday last the members of the Young Men's Christian Association of Berlin were met by a law less horde of ruffins headed by one of the Village Fathers, a fancy jeweller and watchmaker, armed many of them with sticks and stones, and bent on interrupting the out-door religious services which they were holding. ELECTION NEWS.

The writs for the election in the County of Halton have been issued. The nommation will take place in Milton, on Thursday next, and the polling will come off on the following Thursday.

Spittoon Ferguson is not to have all the honours himself. John Carling purloined the private documents of a railway company to serve him in his extremity, and the Kingston Bruiser discloses private correspondence for a like purpose. They're all tarred with the same stick, and it would be hard to say which one is the most dishonored.

the most dishonored.

The Berlin Telegraph says there is no opponent to Mr. Bowman in the field as yet, although it is rumored—with what truth we know not—that he will be opposed by Mr. Walter, of Bamberg. We are well aware that the Tories have been making their best efforts to get a candidate in the field to oppose Mr. Bowman, and it may be possible they have so far worked upon the weak points of Mr. Walter's character as to induce him to become a candidate on the day of nomination.

Requisitions are in circulation througout London in favor of differ-ent candidates for the position of representative in the Ontario Legis-lature.

The Sarnia Observer says there is still no word of the arrival of the Writ for holding the election for that County, the object of the Government evidently being to keep it back to the very last, so as to prevent Mr. Mackenzie from getting another seat in the event of his defeat. This they need not calculate upon, however, for all the power of the Government, and of all its members, either collectively or individually, could achieve such a result. ively or mdi such a result.

The Globe says:—The Ministerial journals are industriously spreading a report that Mr. Carruthers spent large sums of money at the last election in Kingston. It is entirely untrue: Mr. Carruthers positively refused to spend a single penny in anything which resembled bibery. All that sort of work was left for the Government. Had Mr. Carruthers spent the thousands which the Ministerialists speak of, he would have been elected beyond question. The great reduction in Sir John's majority seems to stick in the throats of the Ministerialists, and they strive hard to explain it in some other way than by the loss of their leader's popularity.

Everything progresses to the entire satisfaction of the Reform candidates in Hamilton, whose majority now reaches according to the canvass returns, upwards of 500; and from past experience there is every reason to believe that this number will be about the actual majority. NEW SCENES.

This was the paragraph which the slip contained:—

"Protuble Exhibition.—There is now being exhibited in the galleries of Mesars Haldane & Sone, in this city, a large oil painting by that promising young artist. Kenneth Bruce. The picture is a magnificent one, being a wide and extensive view on the West Coast, embracing in the foreground the scene of the late melancholy wreck of the Eglantine, and in the distance the Ayrshire hills, the Cumbraes, Arran, and the Ayrshire is a magnificent one, being a wide and extensive view on the West Coast, embracing in the foreground, the scene of the late melancholy wreck of the Eglantine, and in the distance the Ayrshire hills, the Cumbraes, Arran, and the Ayrshire coast line. It would be noticed in the account we quoted from our Glasgow contemporary that Mr. Bruce and his wife chanced to be on the spot when the wreck took place, and rendered signal assistance in the recovering of the bodies and the saving of one or two survivors. He had been in that character all the summer, engaged in painting the picture now on view, and the wreck taking place on the very rock which he had introduced into his foreground, he seized the opportunity of depicting it as it actually appeared before him on the morning after the sad occurrence. The result has therefore been to give graphic effect and realistic power to a painting which in itself has many qualities of high excellence, giving promise, if we mistake not, of future fame to be won by the talented young artist. The picture is attracting crowds of visitors, and as we understand it is to be on view for a few days longer, we advise our readers not to lose the opportunity of seeing it."

By a simulaneous impulse the eyes of the three turned in silent wonder to the picture which hung upon the wall. It was obvious to them that it was the painting referred to in the paragraph, and the unspoken questions rising in the mind of each were—"How should the pi packet?"

Harry, with a face of troubled emotion, rose and stood before the picture for many moments in silent contemplation.
"And that was painted by Kenneth, Bruce," he murmured.
"Who is he?" asked George, "I never heard of an artist of that name. Is he dead?"

heard of an artist of that name. Is he dead?"

"I faney so," returned Harry; "I—I have heard his name—long ago."

"Oh, I should like to know what became of the child they saved and adopted," aid Caroline; "if it lived, it, its relations were found?"

"Do you not rather wish to know what farther information the packet has to give us?" asked George. "What we have learned yet but deepens the mystery. The paper I first read tells us that the remaining manuscript will let us understand everything. So we shall now proceed to read it."

"Yes, do, George," said Caroline, with breathless eagerness, and Harry at the same time sat down without speaking a word, though the look on his face indicated that he was far from being the least interested of the three.

George lifted the last paper of the packet, and, as the light was now beginning to fail, he drew his chair to the window, and prepared te unfold the written sheets.

The Grand Trurk Rallway.—Says the New York Herald of Saturday: There are now at the Gilsey House several English gentlemen who are well known in this country from their connection with railroad matters. Their names are:—In. Richard Potter, President of the Grand Trurk Reilway Company of Canada; Mr. J. M. Grant, Secretary of the same Corporation, and Mr. James Allport, General Manager of the Midland Ruilway of England. The last-named gentleman is reported to be the shrewdest manager in the United Kingdom, much better meriting the title, "Railway King," than even the celebrated Hadson. This party of capitalists arrived yesterday by the steamship "Russia." They were joined in this city by Mr. C. J. Brydges, the Managing Director of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, who will continue with them during their stoy on this Continent. Their visit to the New World combines pleasure and business, as it is their intention, during their tour of Canada, after having inspected the condition of the Grand Trunk Railway, to closely observe the necessity for and the practicability of building those railroads that are now so loudly called for by the lately awakened." Halifax, Feb. 10th, 1872—Mr James I. Fellows—Dear Sir: In order that some other sufferer may be benefited, you are at liberty to give this letter publicity. In the winter of 1869 I was taken ill with disease of the heart, accompanied by violent palpitation, and from that time gradually became weaker, notwithstanding continued professional attendance, up to a few weeks ago, when your Compound Syrup of Hypophosites was recommended to me. The use of it during a very short time enabled me to resume my usual work, and now I am as well, fat and hearty as I could wish to be. Yours very truly, W. FRANK COCHRAN.

The Heart being a great muscular organ, requires vigorous nervous force to sustain it. As Fellows' Hypophosphites restores the nervous element, it will always strengthen the Heart weakened through loss of this element.
