Sr. Andrew's Day.—The tickets for the concert and ball on the 1st December are now in the hands of the committee. We are glad to hear that Mr. Maitland has made excellent arrangements for the concert. Several talented lady and gentlemen amateurs are engaged for the occasion, and we are warranted in saying that the celebration this year will be fully up to anything that has taken place in preceding years.

THE VESCELIUS SISTERS .- The Young Men's Christian Association deserve the thanks of the public for inducing the Vescelius Sisters to visit Guelph again, Vescelins Sisters to visit Guelph again, and give us a farewell entertainment. These talented sisters made made a most favorable impression when they last visited Guelph. They are vocalists of no ordinary ability, and wherever they last appeared have invariably been greatly appreciated and applauded. The programme for the fortheoming concert on Tuesday night has been carefully and judiciously chosen, and cannot fail to give satisfaction. We feel sure it will secure a crowded house.

Then on the second point, that the Pacific investigation had been dropped, the Spectator now says:

"The McMullenites declared that an ottage had been committed in taking the investigation out of the hands of Parliament; that they wented a business meeting on the 13th of August for the purpose of authorizing a continuance of the Parliamentary investigation; that the investigation by the Commissioners was a sham; and that the investigation should be prosecuted without delay. They got possession of the Treasury partity by those representations, but when they attained to power they not only failed to carry out the principles they professed when in opposition, but they did the very thing they had before denonned as an outrage; they protograed the House without giving members an opportunity to introduce a motion for the carrying on cf the investigation."

In other words, the accused got the investigation was condemned as improper and msufficient by the accused got the investigation they wanted; this investigation was condemned as improper and msufficient by the accused got the investigation was condemned as improper and msufficient by the accused got the investigation was condemned as improper and msufficient by the accused got the investigation was condemned as improper and msufficient by the accused got the investigation was condemned as improper and msufficient by the accused property of the United States to bear to consistent because they did not make a remendous fuss about having a new enquiry immediately, when the main object of investigation had been accumplished. helped himself to the punch, Cameron said—
"My young friend here is impatient to clasp his lady-love to his bosom, and was beginning to think you had forgotten all about being here to-night."
"Ah," quoth his reverence, "I kept the occasion in remembrance. I delight to be at such merry-makings,; and love to see the young folks united. It does the heart of an old bachelor like myself good to contemplate the thoughts which whirl through the hearts and the heads of the aspirants as they join their hands to unclasp them only after they have been united by an invisible though stronger band, and are made ene. Is the bride ready, sirs?"

united by an invisible though stronger band, and are made ene. Is the bride ready, sirs?"

"Well, I suppose so," replied Cameron "though, to tell the truth, I am afraid she has made little preparation," he continued. "The fact is, she does not appear to have at all made up her mind to marry this gentleman, so that it became necessary for me to decide for her. I suppose you understand what I mean?"

"Ah," replied Mr Fender, "then she requires to be coaxed a little; or do we just proceed irrespective of anything she may have to say?"

"Just so," replied Cameron. "She knows well enough that my voice in the matter is law, and I suppose she has already learned that she must in the circumstances submit. The first lesson you know, Mr Fender, that young people must learn is obedience."

"Quite right," replied his reverence, approvingly, helping himself to the toddy. "Has she, like so many of our young misses now a days, given away her heart to another without consulting her guardian?" he then inquired.

"Oh, yes," replie Cameron. "Indeed it was but the other day that she ran off with a boy—a son of M'Leed's of Castle M'Leed; I succeeded in overtaking them only in time to prevent them forming a clandestine connection. Quite a romantic love story."

"Scandalous!" ejaculated his re-

Ang. Walked to Maggregor.

"Why have you come here, girl" inquired Cameron, rising to his feet in amazement, and with a deep frown upon his face.

"I came to see if there was a heart here that throbbed with feelings that are human; to see whether I could find one to sympathize with me in my distress. Oh!" she exclaimed, turning to Fender, "you are a minister of a gospel of love and truth, will you consent to be a party in the wicked deed you are called upon tr perform?"

"Peace, girl!" cried Cameron savagely.

Dr. McTagara, of London, Ont., formerly of the Hamilton Infirmary, will be at the Royal Hotel, Guelph, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the 11th, 12th and 13th of December, where he can be consulted professionally. Having long and carefully studied theoretically and practically all kinds of chronic diseases, and having had every class and character to treat at the Infirmary—all diseases are treated to the best possible advantage. He rejects in the most decided manner, and in every instance, all medicines, be they vegatable or mineral, that are capable of producing mischief or incompatible with organic tissue, such as mercury, lead, zinc, &c.; contending that every character of disease, if curable at all, will yield to those agents which are mild in nature and capable of neutralizing and rendering harmless that morbific matter in the circulation which engenders and supports disease. The remedies he employs are less depressing to the vital powers, more in harmony with the efforts of nature, and attended with better success than the generally adopted system of medicine. They are prepared upon scientific principles prepared by time, study and research, for the special cure of all lingering phronic diseases. Some of the most important and serious of which we here mention, and in which his treatment has proved to be signally successful, viz: All diseases of the meyes, attophy, curvature and other diseases of the spine, convulsions, to be signally successful, viz: All diseases of the lungs, throat, heart, and chest, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis, all diseases of the merges, atrophy, curvature and other diseases of the spine, convulsions, cramps and spasms, goitre or enlarged neck, epilepsy, disease of the mind, melanchely, &c., consumption in its first and second stages, dyspepsia, and all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, &c., sorofula and all other skin diseases, tumors and morbid growths, ulcers, foul and indolent sores. Cancers are effectually cured without the use of the knife, and hernia or rupture without an operation or pain. Other diseases of agraver nature might be given but it is deemed quite unnecessary. Special attention will be given to female complaints in all their medical and surgical bearings. Every disease of the eye and ear successfully treated, and every operation in opthalmia and sural surgery performed upen those principles that the science of the old and new world has shown to be the most successful, as demonstrated in the largest opthalmia and aural hospitals, institutes, and infirmaries in Germany, France, England, and the United States. Cross eyes will be straightened with very little pain. Catarasts will be removed with or without cutting. Infiammation and ulceration of the eyes are speedily and permanently cured. Inturning eye lids are often cause of serious inflar mation by rubbing the eye lash upon the eye. Sight has been restored that from this cause had been lost for many years. Outturning eye lids are at once cured, and originat beauty restored to the face. Granulated lids thickened along the edges, or in a state of adhesion readily cured, also watering of the eye. He makes no charge for consultation. N.B.—It is with a view of giving those suffering with disease who live at an inconvenient distance from him an opportunity of seems him that he visits Guelph professionally.

IMPROVE NUTRITION.—The central idea in the treatment of all Cbronic and Wasting Diseases, resulting in Nervous Prostration and General Debility, is to improve the Digestion and Assimilation of Feedback Prod, and the Formation of Healthy Blood. Dates and Galisaya contains the only agents known that act directly as excitants of nutrition, by imparting tone to the Stomach, Liver and Pancreas, the great tripod that prepares nourishment for building up the organs and tissues of the body. The action of this remarkable preparation is extra virinary in strength and vitaling the hausted by excesses, bad habits, or run down by old complishins that have resisted all ordinary methods of treatment. Being a delicious cordial to take, and perfectly harmless under all circumstances, it is eminently adapted to prostrate anamine women and deleate children.
