New Brunswick Museum
Saint John

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol  $\rightarrow$  (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol  $\nabla$  (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

New Brunswick Museum
Saint John

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole  $\rightarrow$  signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole  $\nabla$  signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

IN FIVE PARTS.

CONTAINING

- I. Words, both common and proper, from one to six syllables; the several sorts of monosyllables in the common words being distinguished, by tables, into words of two, three, and four letters, &c. with six short lessons at the end of each table, not exceeding the order of syllables in the foregoing tables. The several sorts of polysyllables also, being ranged in proper tables, have their syllables divided, and directions placed at the head of each table for the accent, to prevent false pronunciation; together with the like number of lessons on the foregoing tables, placed at the end of each table, as far as to words of four syllables, for the easier and more speedy way of teaching children to read.
- II. A large and useful table of words that are the same in sound, but different in signification; very necessary to prevent the writing of one word for another of the same sound.
- III. A short, but comprehensive Grammar of the English Tongue, delivered in the most familiar and instructive method of question and answer; necessary for all such persons who have the advantage only of an English education.
- IV. A useful collection of Sentences in prose and verse, divine, moral, and historical; together with a select number of Fables, adorned with proper sculptures for the better improvement of young beginners.
- V. Forms of Prayer for Children, on several occasions.

The whole, being recommended by several Clergymen and eminent Schoolmasters, as the most useful performance for the instruction of Youth, is designed

For the Use of Schools

MR. DILWORTH,

ON HIS

NEW GUIDE TO THE ENGLISH TONGUE

---

WHAT thanks, my friend, should to thy care be given,
Which makes the paths to science smooth and even Henceforth our youth who tread thy flowery way,
Shall ne'er from rules of proper diction stray:
No more their speech with barbarous terms be fill'd;
No more their pens a crop of nonsense yield.
But chosen words in due arrangement stand,
And sense and elegance go hand in hand.

Attend, ye sprightly youth, ye modest fair!
Awhile be arts of dress your slighter care;
Awhile the precepts of these pages heed,
And richer ornaments will soon succeed:
Your friend, delighted, shall your talk attend,
And think too soon your pleasing letters end.

How do we blush to hear the untutor'd tongue
Of some gay idiot, painful speech prolong!
The dark discourse no ray of reason clears;
And uncouth chaos, void of form appears:
What pity—to behold some beauteous toast,
Whose piercing eyes a thousand conquests boast,
With such posterous terms her billet swell,
As prove the nymph can neither read nor spell!
But such reproach no more shall stain the fair,
Who make thy easy rules their timely care;
Nor teachers more bewail their ill success
Who on young minds these useful lessons press.

It has been a general and true observation, that with the reformation of these realms ignorance has gradually vanished at the increase of learning amongst us, who take the word of God for a "lantern to our feet, and a light to our paths."

Thus, they who groped their way to virtue and knowledge in the days of darkness and implicit zeal, were taught little more than to mumble over a few prayers by heart, and never called upon to read, much less permitted to inquire into the truth of what they professed.

But, since the sunshine of the gospel of Jesus Christ has risen amongst us; since we were loosed from the bands of ignorance and superstition; since every Protestant believes it to be his duty to promote Christian knowledge; certainly it will be confessed, that all improvements in learning ought to be encouraged, and consequently that they deserve our particular regard who study to make the first steps thereof firm and easy. For human prudence teacheth, that a good beginning is the most reasonable prospect of a good ending.

Therefore, as all learning gradually ascends from the first knowledge and use of letters, syllables, and words, what better work can the instructor of youth undertake, than endeavour to propagate the knowledge, prevent and rectify the mistakes, and root out the ill habits contracted by many in a wrong method, either through the ignorance or neglect of the teacher?

Some easy Lessons the foregoing Tables, consisting of Words not exceeding Six Letters.

LESSON I.

LOVE not the world, nor the things that are in the world; for all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eye, is not of God, but of the world.

In God I have put my trust: I will not fear what flesh can do to me.

LESSON II.

Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy mind, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.

All things wax old, and fade; but God is, and will be the same: he hath no end.

The Son of God came to wash us from all sin, that he might save us: I will be g' in his name.

A NEW GUIDE

LESSON III.

Let us all do that which is best; and this will be the way to make God love us.

The Lord God shall bless me as my right way has been seen by him; and as my hands have been pure, so shall he save me.

The way of the Lord is pure, and so is his word. He helps all them that trust in him.

LESSON IV.

Some men will pass by an ill act, and some will not: but if we will but fear God, and keep his word, he will not cast us off.

Let all the world fear the Lord.

Flee from vice, and love that which is good.

The fear of God is with them that love him.

LESSON V.

We have one God, by whom are all things.

The works of man are not like God's works.

Mind what the man of God says; for he shows to you the way of life.

God shall rid me from my strong foes, and from them that hate me; for they are too strong for me.

LESSON VI.

God hath made my feet like hart's feet, and he hath set me up on high.

O my God, I cry to thee in the day-time, but thou dost not hear; and in the night I take no rest.

We will call on thy name, O Lord, so shall thou save us; we will put our trust in thee, and thou wilt keep us.

LESSON I.

O Lord, for my good.

LESSON III.

keep: and if a man vow to the Lord, he shall keep his oath.

Let us stand fast. Let us strive to be good.
Charge them that are rich in this world, that they do good, and be glad to give.

LESSON IV.

Turn yourselves from all your sins; else God will whet his sword, and bend his bow.

Let us judge ourselves, that God may not judge us.

Let us not mind high things, nor be as those are who do their works to be seen of men.

LESSON V.

Thanks be to the Lord; for he hath been kind to me in a strong place.

Be strong, all ye that trust in the Lord.

Fear the Lord, all ye that dwell in the world.

The man is blest whose trust is in the Lord.

Keep thy tongue and thy lips from ill.

LESSON VI.

See that ye lose not those things that be good.

The day of Christ is at hand; and he will judge the world, both the quick and dead.

We shall all change at the last trump; and all that are in the grave shall then come forth, that God may judge them.

upon him while he is near.

Trust in the Lord with all thy heart.

In thee, O Lord, I have put my trust; let me not be put to shame; but help me, lend thine ear to me, and save me.

LESSON III.

Thou, O Lord, art the thing that I long for; thou art my hope from my youth.

O let my mouth be full of thy praise, that I may sing of thee all the day long.

Cast me not from thee in the time of age, and leave me not when my strength doth fail me.

I will go forth in the strength of the Lord God, and will praise thee more and more.

LESSON IV.

Thou, O God, hast taught me from my youth up till now; and I will tell of thy great works.

Great things are they, that thou hast done: O God, who is like to thee?

The Lord doth know the way of good men, and the way of bad men shall come to nought.

I did call on the Lord with my voice; and he heard me out of his hill.

LESSON V.

O ye sons of men, how long will ye hate God? Know this, that the Lord will choose the man that is good: when I call on the Lord, he will hear me.

Stand in awe, and sin not: search your own heart by yourself, and be still.

Pour out your praise to God; and put your trust in the Lord.

LESSON VI.

I will lay me down in peace, and take my rest; for it is thou, O Lord, that dost make me dwell in peace.

O hear thou my voice, my King and my God; for to thee will I pray.

My help doth come from God, who doth keep all them that are true of heart; and for this I will praise the name of the Lord most high.

Some easy Lessons on the foregoing Tables, consisting of Words not exceeding two Syllables.

LESSON I.

IT is God that girdeth me with strength of war, and maketh my way perfect.

He maketh my feet like hart's feet, and setteth me up on high.

My foes shall cry, but there shall be none to help them: yea, even unto the Lord shall they cry, but he shall not hear them.

For this cause will I give thanks unto thee, O
Lord, and sing praise unto thy name.

LESSON II.

Unto thee, O Lord, will I lift up my soul: my God, I have put my trust in thee.

Lead me forth in thy truth, and learn<sup>r</sup> me; for thou art the God of my health: in thee hath been my hope all the day long.

Call to mind, O Lord, thy tender mercy, which hath been of old.

The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him; and he will show them his law.

LESSON III.

Hear my voice, O Lord, when I cry unto thee;
have mercy on me, and hear me.

O hide not thou thy face from me; nor cast thy servant from thee in thy wrath.

Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me the right way.

O my soul, wait thou on the Lord; be strong.

and he shall comfort thy heart; and put thou thy trust in the Lord.

LESSON IV.

Unto thee will I cry, O Lord, my strength. Think no scorn on me, lest, if thou make as though thou didst not hear, I be made like them that go down into the pit.

The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart hath trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart danceth for joy, and in my song will I praise him.

LESSON V.

I sought the Lord, and he heard me; yea, he saved me out of all my fear.

O taste and see how good the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

O fear the Lord, ye that are his saints; for they that fear him want no good thing.

The lions do want and suffer much; but they who seek the Lord, shall want no manner of thing that is good.

What man is he that lusteth to live, and would fain see good days?

Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips that they speak no guile

The eyes of the Lord are over good men, and he doth hear them when they pray.

The Lord doth save the souls of his servants; and all they that put their trust in him, shall not want help.

LESSON I.

I WILL always give thanks unto the Lord: his praise shall ever be in my mouth.

My soul shall make her boast in the Lord: the humble that hear it shall be glad.

O praise the Lord with me; and let us bless his name always.

I sought the Lord, and he heard me; yea, he saved me out of all my fear.

LESSON II.

The angel of the Lord standeth round them that fear him, and saveth them.

The Lord doth order a good man's going, and maketh his way pleasant to him.

Though he fall, he shall not be cast off; for the Lord keepeth him.

The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a contrite heart, and will save such as be of an humble spirit.

LESSON III.

Thy mercy, O Lord, reacheth unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds.

Thou, O Lord, shalt save both man and beast. How great is thy mercy, O God! and the children of men shall put their trust under the shadow of thy wings.

For with thee is the well of life; and in thy light shall we see light.

LESSON IV.

Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I am weak;
O Lord, heal me, for my bones are vexed.

My soul also is sore troubled; but, Lord, how long wilt thou punish me?

Turn thee, O Lord, and save my soul; O save me for thy mercies' sake.

For in death no man doth think on thee; and who will give thanks in the pit?

LESSON V.

O clap your hands, all ye people: O sing unto God with the voice of joy.

For the Lord is high, and to be feared: he is the great King over all the earth.

God is gone up with a merry noise: and the Lord with the sound of a trump.

O sing praises, sing praises unto our God. O sing praises, sing praises unto our King.

LESSON VI.

A wicked doer giveth heed to false lips; and a liar giveth ear to a naughty tongue.

Children's children are the crown of old men;
and the glory of children are their fathers.

Let a bear, robbed of her whelps, meet a man, rather than a fool in his folly.

He that is first in his own cause, seemeth just;
but his neighbour cometh and searcheth him.

More easy Lessons on the foregoing Tables, consisting of Words not exceeding Two Syllables.

LESSON I.

THE wicked hath said in his heart, Tush, our God doth forget; he hideth away his face, and he will never see it.

Arise, O Lord God, and lift up thine hand; forget not the poor.

Wherefore should the wicked blaspheme God;
while he doth say in his heart, Tush, thou, God, carest not for it?

LESSON II.

I will rejoice in thee; yea, my songs will I make of thy name, O thou Most High.

I will show all thy praises within the ports of the daughter of Sion: I will rejoice in thy saving health.

The Lord is known to do judgment: the wicked is trapped in the work of his own hand.

LESSON III.

A man's heart doth devise his way: but the Lord doth direct his steps.

A divine sentence is in the lips of the king.
His mouth doth not transgress in judgment.

A just weight and balance are the Lord's: all the weights of the bag are his work.

The highway of the upright is to depart from evil: he that keepeth his way doth preserve his soul.

LESSON IV.

The wicked man shutteth his eyes to devise forward things: moving his lips, he bringeth evil to pass.

The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of goodness.

He that is slow to anger, is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit, than he that taketh a city.

LESSON V.

O my soul, thou hast said unto the Lord, Thou art my God, my goods are nothing unto thee.

All my delight is upon the saints that are in the earth; and upon such as excel in virtue.

I will thank the Lord for giving me warning: my reins also chasten me in the night season.

I have set God always before me; for he is on my right-hand, therefore I shall not fall.

LESSON VI.

The Lord is my shepherd; therefore I can lack nothing.

He shall feed me in a green pasture, and lead me forth beside the waters of comfort.

Thou shalt prepare a table before me, against them that trouble me: thou didst anoint my head with-oil, and my cup shall be full.

But thy loving kindness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Some easy Lessons on the foregoing Tables, consisting of Words not exceeding Three Syllables.

LESSON I.

REJOICE in the Lord, O ye righteous; for it doth become well the just to be thankful.

Praise the Lord with harp; sing praises unto him with the lute, and instruments of ten strings.

Sing unto the Lord a new song; sing praises lustily unto him with a good courage.

For the word of the Lord is true; and all his works are faithful.

LESSON II.

A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband: but she that hath no shame is as rottenness in his bones.

The hand of the diligent shall bear rule: but the slothful shall be under tribute.

The righteous is more excellent than his neighbour: but the way of the wicked doth seduce them.

LESSON III.

I will magnify thee, O God, my King; and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.

Every day will I give thanks unto thee, and praise thy name for ever and ever.

Great is the Lord, and marvellous; worthy to be praised: there is no end of his greatness.

The Lord is loving to every man; and his mercy is over all his works.

LESSON IV.

A king that sitteth in the throne of judgment, scattereth away all evil with his eyes.

There is gold and a multitude of rubies; but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

Bread of deceit is sweet to a man; but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.

Say not thou, I will recompense evil; but wait on the Lord, and he shall save thee.

LESSON V.

The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.

The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him; yea, all such as call upon him faithfully.

He will fulfil the desire of them that fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will help them.

The Lord doth preserve all them that love him; but scattereth abroad all the wicked men.

LESSON VI.

The robbery of the wicked shall destroy them; because they hate judgment.

The wicked shall be a ransom for the righteous: and he that doth transgress, for the upright.

A wise man scalesh the city of the mighty, and casteth down the strength and confidence thereof.

The slothful coveteth greedily all the day long; but the righteous giveth, and spareth not.

Words not exceeding Three Syllables.*

LESSON I.

THOU, O Lord, hast maintained my right and my cause; thou art set in the throne that judgeth right.

Thou hast rebuked the heathen, and destroyed the ungodly: thou hast put out their name for ever and ever.

The Lord also will be a defence to the oppressed; even a refuge in the time of trouble.

LESSON II.

The rich and the poor meet together: the Lord is maker of them all.

A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself; but the simple pass on, and are punished.

He that oppreseth the poor to increase his riches, and he that giveth to the rich, shall surely come to want.

Rob not the poor, because he is poor; neither oppress the afflicted in the gate.

LESSON III.

Why standest thou so far off, O Lord, and hidest thy face in the needful time of trouble?

The ungodly, for his own lust, doth persecute the poor: let them be taken in the same craft that they have devised.

For the ungodly hath made boast of his own heart's desire, and speaketh good of the covetous, whom God abhorreth.

LESSON IV.

Be not amongst wine-bibbers, amongst riotous eaters of flesh.

For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty; and drowsiness shall cover a man with rags.

The father of the righteous shall greatly rejoice; and he that begetteth a wise child shall have joy of him.

LESSON V.

The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth his handiwork.

One day telleth another, and one night doth certify another.

There is neither speech nor language, but their voices are heard among them.

Their sound is gone out into all lands, and their words unto the ends of the world.

LESSON VI.

The fear of the Lord is clean, and endureth for ever: the judgments of the Lord are always righteous and true.

More to be desired are they than gold; yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.

Moreover by them is thy servant taught; and in keeping of them there is great reward.

More easy Lessons on the foregoing Tables, consisting of Words not exceeding Three Syllables.

LESSON I.

THE Lord looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that would understand and seek after God.

But they are all gone out of the way, they are all become vile: there is none that doth good, no, not one.

Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have deceived; the poison of asps is under their lips.

LESSON II.

By the blessing of the upright, the city is exalted; but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

Where no counsel is, the people fall; but in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.

He that is surety for a stranger, shall smart for it; but he that declineth to be a surety, is sure.

The merciful man doth good to his own soul; but he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh.

LESSON III.

O Lord, thou hast searched me out, and known me; thou knowest my down-sitting and my up-rising; thou didst understand my thoughts long before.

Thou art about my path and about my bed, and spiest out all my ways.

Try me, O God, and seek the ground of my heart; prove me, and examine my thoughts.

Look well if there be any way of wickedness in me; and lead me in the way of eternal life.

LESSON IV.

It is not good to accept the person of the wicked; to overthrow the righteous in judgment.

The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge, and the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.

A man that hath friends must show himself friendly: and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

Many will entreat the favour of the prince; and every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.

LESSON V.

Deliver me, O Lord, from the evil man, and preserve me from the wicked man.

Who imagine mischief in their hearts, and stir up strife all the day long.

They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent: adder's poison is under their lips.

Keep me, O Lord, from the hands of the ungodly: preserve me from the wicked men, who are purposed to overthrow my goings.

LESSON VI.

The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way; but the folly of fools is deceit.

The simple believeth every word; but the prudent man looketh well to his going.

A wise man feareth and departeth from evil; but the fool rageth, and is confident.

The evil bow before the good; and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

Q. WHAT is Grammar?

A. Grammar is the science of letters, or the art of writing and speaking properly and syntactically.

Q. What do you mean by English Grammar?

A. The art of writing and speaking the English tongue properly and syntactically.

Q. How is Grammar divided?

A. Grammar is divided into four parts; Orthography, Prosody, Analogy, and Syntax.

OF ORTHOGRAPHY.

Q. What is Orthography?

A. Orthography teacheth the true characters and powers of letters, and the proper division of syllables, words, and letters.

OF LETTERS.

Q. What is a letter?

A. A letter is a significant mark or note, of which syllables are compounded.

Q. How many English letters are there?

A. Six and twenty.

Q. Which be they?

A. They are these following, with their powers and names.

Letters.	Their Names, and Powers, or Sounds.	Letters.	Their Names, and Powers, or Sounds.
A or a	A long (ā), as in cape ; short (ă), as in cap ; broad (â), as in hall .	N or n	En .
B b	Bee .	O o	O long (ō), as in note ; short (ö), as in not .
C c	Cee .	P p	Pee .
D d	Dee .	Q q	Cu .
E e	E long (ē), as in mete ; short (è), as in met .*	R r	Arr .
F f	Eff .	S s	Ess .
G g	Gee .	T t	Tee .
H h	Ay ch .	U u	Yu long (ū), as in tune ; short (ü), as in tun .

L l	Ell .	Y y	Wi long (ȳ), as in my ; short (ÿ), as in Egypt .
M m	Em .	Z z	Zed .

Q. Do these letters always keep their own natural sound?

A. No.

Q. What letters are those which do not always keep their own natural sound?

A. They are, b, c, e, f, g, i, l, o, s, t, u, x, y; and the double letters, ch, gh, and ph.

Q. Give me an example of each.

A. 1. B is sounded like t in subtle.

2. C, before a, o, u, l, and r, is always sounded like k, as in cat, cord, cup, cloth, cramp; but before e, i, and y, is always sounded like s, as in cellar, civil, cypress. It is also sounded like s in muscle; and in words derived from the French, having h after it, as in machine.

3. E is sounded like ā long in there, where; and like ĕ short in her.

4. F is sounded like v in of.

5. G before e and i in some words, and almost always before y, is sounded like j, as in gentleman, giant, Egyptian.

6. I, in words derived from the French, sounds like ee, as in machine: it also sounds like ĭ short, as in bird, third, &c.

7. L is sounded like m in salmon.

* When e is not sounded at the end of a word, it is called e final: which sometimes serves to lengthen the sound of the foregoing vowel, as in save; and sometimes is redundant, as in give.

8. O is sounded like á broad in alloy; like ě short in women; and like ũ short in worm.

9. S is frequently sounded like z, as in present, presume.

10. T is sounded like s in whistle, thistle. Ti, before a vowel, is sounded like si or sh, as in nation; except when s goes immediately before it, as celestial; or at the beginning of a word, as tied; or in derivatives, as mightier, mightiest, emptied.

11. U is sounded like ě short in bury, and like ĩ short in business.

12. X hath no sound of its own; but at the beginning of a word, s always sounded like z, as in Xenophon; and in the middle and end of words, like ks, as in wax, Xerxes.

13. Y, at the end of monosyllables, is sounded like ĩ long, as in by, my; but in the middle of words of more than one syllable, is sounded like ĩ short, as in Egypt; and at the end of words of more than one syllable, it usually sounds like e, as in many.

14. Ch is sounded like qu, as in choir, chorister.

15. Ch sometimes at the end of a word, and always ph when they come together in the same syllable, sound like f, as in laugh, elephant; except where ph sound like v, as in Stephen.

Q. Where are the capital letters to be used, and where the small letters?

A. The capitals are to be used in the front of sentences, and at the beginning of verses; of all proper names of persons, places, rivers, &c.; of arts and sciences; of dignities, festivals, and games; and of all words put for proper names, or that have any great emphasis in a sentence: also after a full stop, and at the beginning of a quotation, though it be not immediately after a full stop: likewise whole words, and sometimes sentences, are written in capitals, and then something is expressed extraordinarily great. They are sometimes used in the title of books, for ornament-sake; and the pronoun I, and the interjection O, are always written in capitals. In other places, the small letters must be used.

Q. When capital letters are placed single in a sentence, what do they stand for?

A. Sometimes they stand for whole words, as B.A. bachelor of arts; B.D. bachelor in divinity; D.D. doctor in divinity, or the like; as you may find more at large at the end of this third part: or else they stand for numbers, and are called Numeral Letters; thus,

I. One
 II. Two
 III. Three
 IV. or IIII. Four
 V. Five
 VI. Six
 VII. Seven

 DC. Six hundred
 DCC. Seven hundred
 DCCC. Eight hundred
 DCCCC. Nine hundred
 M. One thousand
 MDCCCXXXV. One thousand eight hundred and thirty-five.

Q. How are the letters naturally divided?

A. Into vowels and consonants.

Q. What is a vowel?

A. A vowel is a letter which gives a full and perfect sound of itself, and without which there can be no syllable.

Q. How many vowels are there in English?

A. There are six; a, e, i, o, u, and y when it follows a consonant.

Q. What is a consonant?

A. A consonant is a letter that cannot be sounded without a vowel, as b without e: therefore all letters, except the vowels, are consonants.

OF SYLLABLES.

Q. What is a syllable?

A. A syllable is either one letter, as a; or more than one as man.

Q. How do you divide your syllables?

A. By taking words asunder into convenient parts, in order to show their true pronunciation and original formation, which is commonly called spelling.

Q. In how many rules may the doctrine of spelling be contained?

A. All spelling, or division of syllables, may be comprehended in seven general rules.

RULE I.

Q. What is the first general rule for division of syllables?

A. A consonant between two vowels goes to the latter syllable; as, ba-nish.

Q. What is the first exception to this rule?

A. These consonants, w and x, go to the former syllable; as, flow-er, ex-ile.

Q. What is the second exception?

A. Words formed and compounded must be divided according to the fifth and sixth general rules.

RULE II.

Q. What is the second general rule for division of syllables?

A. Two consonants in the middle of a word, that are proper to begin a word, must begin the syllable together; as, cin-ster.

NOTE.—That dl, tl, ll, and zt, are often used to begin syllables, though they begin no words; as, lad-dle, tur-tle, w. w. h. h. l. l. e, puz-zle.

RULE III.

Q. What is the third general rule for division of syllables?

A. Two consonants in the middle of a word, that are not proper to begin a word, must be divided; as, num-ber.

Q. What exceptions have you to this rule?

A. Two consonants in the middle of a derivative, though they be not proper to begin a word, must not be divided; as, stand-ard.

RULE IV.

Q. What is the fourth general rule for division of syllables?

A. If two vowels come together, not making a diphthong, they must be divided; as, ae in Ja-el; ao in ex-tra or-di-na-ry; eo in pi-te-ous; ia in vi-al; io in vi-ol; iu in di-ur-nal; oe in co-er-ci-er; ua in u-su-al; ue in du-el; ui in ru-in, con-gru-i-ty; and uo in con-gru-ous.

NOTE 1.—Ua, eo, ui, and uo, become diphthongs after q; as, quar-rel, ques-tion, quar-tel, quar-ter; likewise ua in per-suade, per-suasi-on, &c.

2.—Though e cannot properly be called a diphthong, yet those vowels are not divided in peo-ple, ho-pard.

RULE V.

Q. What is the fifth general rule for division of syllables?

A. Let words, formed or derived, be divided according to their original or primitive.

Q. What is the consequence of this rule?

A. These terminations age, ed, en, er, est, et, eth, ing, ish, ous, ard, al, or, ought to go by themselves in spelling; as, herb-age, toast-ed, gold-en, knew-est, latch-et, hour-eth, hear-er, har-ard, feel-eth, ra-in-ous, stana-ard, mo-nu-ment, ex-act-or.

Q. What is the first exception to this rule?

A. Monosyllables, and words accented upon the last syllable, ending in a single consonant, without a diphthong foregoing, double their final consonant when they take any of the formative endings; and then it may be proper to put the latter consonant with the termination; as, pot-tage, blot- ted, blot-test, blot-teth, blot-ting, blot-ter, rot-ten, slut-tish, a-bet-ter.

Q. What is the second exception?

A. When words in e final take any of these terminations, e final is lost even in writing, and then a consonant may be put to the termination; as, write, wri-test, wri-teth, wri-ter, wri-ting.

NOTE 1.—Where casting away the e would create any confusion in the sense, I advise to retain it; as from the verb singe, I would write singe-eth, singe-ing, to distinguish it from sing-eth, sing-ing, when the word happens to be written on two different lines, for want of room.

2.—If words in e final have the last syllable short, it is a much better guide to the ear to let the termination go by itself; as, for-giv-ing, for-giv-en, lov-er, com-ing.

3.—Such primitives as take only y after them, have some of the foregoing consonants joined to it; as, car-thy: but after u, w, and x, it must come alone; as, glu-y, jian-y, dox-y.

RULE VI.

Q. What is the sixth general rule for division of syllables?

A. Let compound words be reduced into their primitive parts.

Q. What is the first consequence of this rule?

A. A preposition, as ad, in, un, sub, per, dis, re, pre, must be pronounced by itself; as, ad-e-quate, in-i-qui-ty, un-e-qual, sub-urbs, per-ad-ven-ture, dis-u-nite, re-pro-bate, pre-vi-ous. Yet we say pe-ruse, instead of per-use.

Q. What is the second consequence of this rule?

A. Beth will be the first syllable in Beth-a-ny, Beth-el, Beth-a-ba-ra, Beth-rs-da, &c.

Q. What is the third consequence of this rule?

A. The termination ham will go by itself at the end of proper names; as, Chat-ham, Fe-vers-ham, Buck-ing-ham, Ell-ham; except South-am and Wroth-am.

RULE VII.

Q. When three consonants meet in the middle of a word, how must they be divided?

A. 1. If they begin a word, they must also begin a syllable together; as, il-lu-strate.

2. If they be proper to end a word, they may all end the syllable; as, latch-et.

3. If the two last be proper to begin a word, or the last of all be l, they begin the syllable together; as, kin-dred, thim-ble.

4. If the two first of them be proper to end a word, the third may go to the latter syllable; as, bank-rupt.

Q. What is a diphthong?

A. A diphthong is the uniting of two vowels in one syllable; as, ai in laid.

Q. What is a triphthong?

A. A triphthong is the uniting of three vowels in one syllable; as, ieu in adieu.

OF WORDS.

A. Of one or more syllables.

Q. What is the use of words?

A. To convey our sense of things to another person.

Q. After what manner?

A. By joining them together in sentences.

OF SENTENCES.

Q. What is a sentence?

A. Words duly joined together in construction make a sentence; as, Pride is a very remarkable sin.

Q. What things are necessary for the true writing and reading of sentences?

A. Stops, and marks of distinction.

OF STOPS AND MARKS.

Q. Which are the stops and marks of distinction used in a sentence?

A. They are a comma, semicolon, colon, period, and notes of interrogation and admiration: to which may be added, the parenthesis, parathesis, hyphen, apostrophe, diæresis, caret, asterism, index, obelisk, and quotation.

Q. What is a comma?

A. The comma, marked thus (,) is a note of respiration, at which we may take breath, but must not tarry.

Q. What is the use of the comma?

A. It is of use for distinguishing words of the same kind; as nouns, verbs, and adverbs, coming together in the same sentence; for dividing long sentences into short parts, and for the taking away of ambiguities.

Q. Give me an example.

A. "Nature clothes the beasts with hair, the birds with feathers, and the fishes with scales."

Q. What is a semicolon?

A. A semicolon, marked thus (;) notes a middle breathing between the comma and the colon.

A. Its chief use is in distinguishing contraries and frequent divisions.

Q. Give an example.

A. "You consider the power of riches; but not of virtue."

Q. What is a colon?

A. The colon, marked thus (:) is a note of long breathing, as is exemplified below.

Q. What is the use of the colon?

A. It distinguisheth a perfect part of a sentence, which has a full meaning of its own; but yet leaves the mind in suspense and expectation to know what follows.

Q. Give an example.

A. "Before all things, it is necessary for a man to take a true estimate of himself: for we mostly think ourselves able to do more than we can."

Q. What other use does a colon serve to?

A. It is also used before a comparative conjunction, in a similitude.

Q. Give an example.

A. "As we perceive the shadow upon the sun-dial, but discern not its progression; and as the shrub or grass appears in time to be grown, but is seen by none to grow: so also the proficiency of our wits, advancing slowly by small improvements, is perceived only after some distance of time."

Q. What is a period?

A. The period is a full point, thus (.)

Q. Of what use is the period?

A. It denotes the full ending and finishing of a whole sentence, at the conclusion of which it is always placed.

Q. Give an example.

A. "There is no man without his peculiar failing."

Q. What are the proper pauses of these stops?

A. The proper pause or rest of each of these stops may be thus measured:—The time of stopping or resting at the comma, is the time of saying one; at the semicolon, one, one; at the colon, one, one, one; and at the period, one, one, one, one, before you begin the next clause or sentence.

Q. Which is the mark of interrogation?

A. The note of interrogation is (?)

Q. What is the use of this note?

A. To show the reader when a question is asked.

Q. Give an example.

A. "O the cars of mankind!"

Q. What are the pauses of these notes of interrogation and admiration?

A. They are the same as that of the period.

Q. What do you call a parenthesis?

A. A parenthesis has two crooked strokes, thus ( ).

Q. What is the use of a parenthesis?

A. It serves to include one sentence in another, without confounding the sense of either, and yet is necessary for the explanation thereof; and should be read with a lower tone of the voice, as a thing that comes in by the by.

Q. Give an example.

A. I verily believe (nor is it a vain belief) that there is a God who can reward and punish us.

Q. What is the pause proper for the parenthesis?

A. Each part of it is equal to a comma.

Q. What is a parathesis?

A. A parathesis, brackets, or crotchets, are usually expressed by angular lines, thus [ ].

Q. What is the use thereof?

A. To distinguish such words from the sentence which are an explanation of the word immediately preceding.

Q. Give an example.

A. "A treatise of [concerning] physic."

Q. What is a hyphen?

A. A hyphen is a small hair-stroke, drawn from one word to another, thus ( - )

Q. What is the use of the hyphen?

A. It admonisheth the reader, that the two words thus joined together must be pronounced like a single word; as, bird-cage.

The hyphen is also used to connect the syllables of the same word, written either, for want of room, in two different lines, or, for instruction in spelling, in one line; as, al-tar.

Q. What is an apostrophe?

A. An apostrophe is a comma put at the top of a word, as ( ' )

Q. What is the use of the apostrophe?

A. It denotes the omission of a letter, to make the sound of the word more grateful to the ear; in verse, to cut off a syllable for the sake of the metre, as judg'd for judged; and in substantives, to show them to be the genitive case singular.

Q. What is a diæresis?

A. The diæresis, or dialysis, is noted by two full points placed at the top of the latter of two vowels.

Q. What is the use of the diæresis?

A. To dissolve the diphthong, and to divide it into two syllables; as, Capernaïm.

Q. What is a caret?

A. The caret, marked thus ( ^ ), is placed underneath the line.

Q. What does it denote?

A. It denotes that some letter, word, or sentence, is left out by mistake; and must be taken in exactly where it points upwards.

Q. Give an example.

A. Thou art <sup>the</sup> man.

Q. What is an asterism?

A. The asterism is marked thus ( * ).

Q. What is its use?

A. It directs to some note in the margin, or at the bottom of a page. Several of them set together, signify that something is defective or innocest in that passage of the author.

Q. What is an index?

A. It is a hand with the forefinger pointing thus ( ☞ ).

Q. What is its use?

A. It declares that passage to be very remarkable, over against which it is placed.

Q. What is an obelisk?

A. An obelisk is marked thus ( † ).

Q. What is its use?

A. It is used like the index. In dictionaries it denotes a word either obsolete, unclassical, or out of use.

Q. What is a quotation?

A. A quotation is a double comma reversed, thus ( " ), at the beginning of a line.

Q. What is its use?

A. It denotes that passage to be quoted or transcribed from some author in his own words.

Q. Why are particular words printed in the italic character?

A. To inform the reader, that the stress of the sentence lies therein, or that they are written to the praise or to the dispraise of some person.

OF BOOKS.

Q. How are books divided?

A. Books are usually divided into chapters, sections, paragraphs, and verses.

Q. What are chapters?

A. Chapters contain the principal heads, subject, or argument of a book.

Q. What are sections?

A. Sections are the largest divisions of a chapter, in which the particular arguments of the chapter are distinctly divided and treated of separately.

Q. By what mark are sections distinguished?

A. By this mark (§)

Q. What are paragraphs?

A. Paragraphs are certain large members or divisions of a chapter, or of a section; containing a perfect sense of the subject treated of, and calculated for the advantage of the reader; because at the end thereof he may make a larger pause than usual at the end of a period.

Q. By what mark are paragraphs distinguished?

A. By this mark (¶).

Q. What is a verse?

A. In prose, it is the shortest division of a chapter, as is largely exemplified in the Holy Bible; but in poetical writings, it conveys to us an idea of a certain number of syllables artfully compacted in one line, to gratify the ear.

CHAP. II. OF PROSODY.

Q. WHAT is prosody?

A. Prosody teacheth the true pronunciation of syllables and words, according to their proper quantities, and tones or accents.

OF THE QUANTITIES OF WORDS.

Q. What mean you by the quantity of a word?

A. The quantity of a word or syllable is that by which we measure the time allowed for the pronunciation thereof.

Q. How is the quantity of a word divided?

A. It is divided into short and long.

Q. How is the short quantity known?

A. By a quick pronunciation; as, not.

Q. How is the long quantity known?

A. By a slow pronunciation, or twice the time of a short quantity; as, note.

OF THE TONE, OR ACCENT.

Q. What is an accent?

A. A tone, or accent, denoteth the raising or falling of the voice on a syllable, according to the quantity thereof.

- Q. How many accents are there?
 A. There are three accents; the long (˘) or (ˆ), the short (˙), and the common (˘).
- Q. What is the long accent?
 A. It admonisheth us to pronounce the syllable slow; as, mind.
- Q. What is the short accent?
 A. It admonisheth us to pronounce the syllable quick; as, lot.
- Q. What is the common accent?
 A. It hath no regard to the grammatical quantity of a syllable; but, being placed over a vowel, denotes the tone or stress of the voice to be upon that syllable; as, plenty.

NOTE.—These lines, or accents, are seldom noted by English writers, but only for difference's sake, as to distinguish the substantive lead from the verb lead or lead; or else to fix the accent of words of more than one syllable, which, though spell alike, have different significations, and the accent on different syllables; as in the substantive contract, and the verb contract; or in the substantive minute, and the adjective minute. But the long and the short are much used in Latin dictionaries and grammars, we also that which is called common, and the (˘) is much used amongst the French writers

Q. How is the sex or gender distinguished here?

A. By the help of some other distinguishing words; as, a cock-sparrow, a hen-sparrow; a man-servant, a maid-servant; a he-cat, a she-cat, a male-rabbit, a female-rabbit.

NOTE.—There are some words which, though they be of the neuter gender, are often, by custom, used as if they were of the masculine or feminine gender. For we commonly say of the sun: "His going forth is from the ends of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it." Psalm xix. 1, 6. And of the church we say: "She hath nourished her children, but they have rebelled against her."

OF PERSON.

Q. How many persons belong to a noun?

A. There are three persons in both numbers: the first, who is always he that speaketh; the second, who is always the person or thing spoken to; the third, who is always the person or thing spoken of.

Q. Give an example.

ANSWER.

Singular.	Plural.
1. I.	1. We.
2. Thou, or you.	2. Ye, or you.
3. He, she, it—this, that.	3. They—these, those.

NOTE.—That all nouns are of the third person; except I; and thou or you; we, and ye or you.

OF THE ARTICLES.

Q. What is an article?

A. It is a word set before a substantive, for the clearer and more particular expressing of its case and signification.

Q. How many articles are there?

A. Two: a or an, and the.

Q. When is a or an used?

A. A or an is used in a general and unlimited sense; as, "A man (that is, any man) shall be commended according to his wisdom. An organ (that is, any organ) is the best of all other musical instruments."

NOTE.—A is used before a consonant; an, before a vowel.

Q. When is the article the used?

A. The is used to convey a certain idea of that thing or person spoken of; as, "The man (or, this very man) who teacheth the art of true spelling, has done me much good."

NOTE.—Substantives proper have naturally no article set before them, except when some words are understood; as, the Thames, that is, the river Thames; the Tyne, that is, the river Tyne: or else when it is used by way of eminence; as, the God of the Hebrews.

Q. Do the adjectives admit of any article before them?

A. They do: but it is by virtue of some substantive expressed or understood; as, "A good servant generally makes a good master. They gathered the good [fishes] into vessels, but cast the bad away." Matt. xiii. 48.

OF THE DECLENSION OF A NOUN.

Q. What is meant by the word declension?

A. Declension is the variation of a word by cases.

Q. How are nouns declined, or varied by cases?

A. Thus:

	Singular.			Plural.
Nom.	A book.		Nom.	Books.
Gen.	Of a book.		Gen.	Of books.
Dat.	To a book.		Dat.	To books.
Acc.	The book.		Acc.	The books.
Voc.	O book.		Voc.	O books.
Abl.	From a book.		Abl.	From books.
	Singular.			Plural.
Nom.	A church.		Nom.	Churches.
Gen.	Of a church.		Gen.	Of churches.
Dat.	To a church.		Dat.	To churches.
Acc.	The church.		Acc.	The churches.
Voc.	O church.		Voc.	O churches.
Abl.	From a church.		Abl.	From churches.

NOTE.—All nouns which make the plural number by the addition of s or es to the singular, are regular; the rest are irregular; as,

	Singular.			Plural.
Nom.	A man.		Nom.	Men.
Gen.	Of a man.		Gen.	Of men.
Dat.	To a man.		Dat.	To men.
Acc.	The man.		Acc.	The men.
Voc.	O man.		Voc.	O men.
Abl.	From a man.		Abl.	From men.

NOTE 1.—Penny, in the singular number, makes pence in the plural. But from several particular silver coins which speak their own value, the word pence is made a singular number, and its plural becomes pences. Thus, in the singular number we say, one sixpence, one fourpence, one threepence, and one twopence; but in the plural number, two or more sixpences, fourpences, threepences, and twopences.

2.—A penny, when spoken of a silver penny, makes pennies in the plural: thus we say in the singular number, one silver penny, but in the plural, two or more silver pennies.

OF ADJECTIVES.

Q. What is an adjective?

A. It is a word that expresses the quality or manner of a thing; as, good, bad, great, small.

Q. Where is the adjective to be placed?

A. Before its substantive; as, a good boy. Yet sometimes when there are more adjectives than one joined together, or one adjective with other words depending on it, the adjective may be set after the substantive; as, "A general both wise and valiant: a man skilful in numbers."

Q. What do you observe of two substantives put together in composition.

A. The first takes to itself the nature of an adjective, and is commonly joined to the following substantive by a hyphen; as, a sea-fish.

Q. How are substantives and adjectives declined together?

A. Thus:

	Singular.		Plural.
Nom.	A good boy.		Nom. The good boys.
Gen.	Of a good boy.		Gen. Of good boys.
Dat.	To a good boy.		Dat. To good boys.
Acc.	The good boy.		Acc. The good boys.
Voc.	O good boy.		Voc. O good boys.
Abl.	From a good boy.		Abl. From good boys.

OF THE COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES.

Q. What is meant by comparison?

A. It is the variation of a word by degrees, according to the quantity of its signification.

Q. What adjectives admit of comparison?

A. All those whose signification may increase, or be diminished: none else.

Q. How many degrees of comparison are there?

A. Three: the positive, the comparative, and the superlative.

Q. What is the positive degree?

A. The positive degree mentioneth the thing absolutely, without any increase or diminution; as, long, short, wise.

Q. What is the comparative degree?

A. The comparative somewhat increaseth or diminisheth its positive in signification; as, longer, or more long; shorter, or more short; wiser, or more wise.

Q. What is the superlative degree?

A. The superlative increaseth or diminisheth the signification of its positive to the utmost degree; as, longest, or most long; shortest, or most short; wisest, or most wise.

Q. Are all adjectives that admit of any comparison compared thus?

A. No: some adjectives are irregular; as, good, better, best; bad, worse, worst; much, more, most; little, less, least.

CHAP. V.

OF A VERB.

Q. WHAT is a verb?

A. A verb is a part of speech that betokeneth being; as, I live: doing; as, I love: or suffering; as, I am loved.

Q. How many kinds of verbs are there?

A. Three: active, passive, and neuter.

Q. What is a verb active?

A. A verb active is a word that denoteth action, but in such a manner as to admit after it the accusative case of the thing it acts upon; as, I loved him.

Q. What is a verb passive?

A. A verb passive betokeneth suffering; as, I am loved.

Q. What is a verb neuter?

A. A verb neuter signifies the state or being, and sometimes the action of a person or thing; but has no noun after it to denote the subject of action.

Q. How many different ways is a verb neuter expressed?

A. Two ways: sometimes actively; as, I fight; and sometimes passively; as, I am sick.

Q. How many things belong to a verb?

A. Four: mood, tense, number, and person.

OF THE MOODS.

Q. What is a mood?

A. It is the manner by which a verb shows its signification.

Q. How many moods are there?

A. Six: the Indicative, the Imperative, the Optative, the Potential, the Subjunctive, and the Infinitive.

Q. How are these moods known?

A. 1. The Indicative Mood directly declareth a thing true or false; as, I read: or else asketh a question; as, Do I read?

2. The Imperative Mood biddeth, or commandeth; as, Read thou.

3. The Optative Mood willeth or desireth; as, I wish I could read.

4. The Potential Mood showeth power, or the want of it; and is known by these signs, may, can, might, would, should, could, or ought; as, I can work or play, just as I please; John would play, but his master will not let him.

5. The Subjunctive Mood is conditional, having always a conjunction joined to it; as, When I can love; or, If I may read.

6. The Infinitive Mood affirmeth nothing, but signifieth indefinitely; having neither number, nor person, nor nominative case before it; and it is commonly known by this sign to before it; as, To love.

Q. Of what do moods consist?

A. Of tenses.

OF THE TENSES.

Q. What is a tense?

A. It is the distinction of time.

Q. How many tenses are there?

A. Three:

{	Present,	}	viz.	{	Present Tense,
	Past,				Preterperfect Tense, and the
	To come,				Future Tense.

There is also another division of time after this manner: the Preterperfect Tense is subdivided into the Preterimperfect Tense, or the time not perfectly past; and the Preterpluperfect Tense, or the time long past.

And to these may be added, what the Greeks call a Second Future.

Q. How is the Present Tense known?

A. It is known by these signs, do, dost, does, doth; and speaketh of an action now doing, but not finished; as, I do read; that is, I have not yet done reading.

Q. How is the Preterperfect Tense known?

A. It is known by these signs, have, hast, hath, and has; and speaketh of the time perfectly past, and of the action finished, without regard to any thing else; as, I have read, or quite done reading.

Q. How is the Preterimperfect Tense known?

A. By the signs did and didst, and speaketh also of the time past, but shows that something was then a doing, but not finished at that time which we speak of; as, I did read while you were at play.

Q. How is the Preterpluperfect Tense known?

A. By the signs had and hadst, and speaketh also of the time past, but shows that something had been done before another thing that was done and past; as, I had read an hour before I wrote my exercise.

Q. How is the First Future Tense known?

A. The first future tense is known by the signs shall and will; and speaketh of a short space of time to come; as, I will read presently. You shall write to-morrow.

Q. How is the Second Future Tense known?

A. The second future tense is known by the sign shall or will hereafter, and speaketh of a long space of time to come; as, I shall read hereafter.

A. Two: the singular and the plural.

A. By the number of its nominative case.

Q. Have all verbs numbers?

A. All but verbs of the infinitive mood, which have no number, because they admit of no nominative case.

OF THE PERSON OF VERBS.

Q. How are verbs otherwise divided?

A. Into personals and impersonals.

Q. What is a verb personal?

A. Any verb that will admit the pronouns, I, thou, he, she; and their plurals, we, ye or they, before it.

Q. What is a verb impersonal?

A. It is an absolute verb, which hath only one person; and therefore can only admit of the pronoun it before it; as, it raineth; it freezeth; it is hot; it is cold.

A. Two: active; as, it rains; passive; as it is warm.

A. By putting 's to the substantive of the possessor; as, the master's eye, i. e. the eye of the master, makes the horse fat.

NOTE 1.—That the possessor, or the thing possessed, with this termination 's, may be accounted either a substantive of the genitive singular, or an adjective possessive; as, My master's son, where master's is an adjective possessive; which may be properly rendered otherwise by the genitive case, The son of my master.

2.—It must nevertheless be carefully observed, that the single s, added to the end of a word, which before ended in e, does not make such a word a genitive case, or an adjective possessive: neither does it add any syllable to the word; for the e, to which it is added, is cast away in the pronunciation, and the s only adds to the number of that word, and is sounded together with the last consonant thereof; as in the words, share, shares; trade, trades; sjade, spades, &c.: except where the words end in ye, as cage, cages; or se, as case, cases; or ce, as lace, laces.

Q. How are verbs derived from other parts of speech?

A. Many substantives, and sometimes adjectives, and sometimes other parts of speech, become verbs, by prefixing the sign to before them, or by adding the termination en to be adjective; as, from a house, comes to house; from warm, to warm; from hard, to harden.

Q. Do not substantives come sometimes from verbs?

A. Yes: almost every verb has some substantive coming from it: for by the addition of er to the ending of the present tense comes a substantive, signifying the agent or doer, which is therefore called a verbal noun; as, from to hear, comes a hearer; from to carry, a carrier.

NOTE.—Some substantives are formed from verbs, by the addition of or to the ending of the present tense; as, from to govern, comes a governor; from to solicit, a solicitor; from to possess, a possessor; from to sail, a sailor; also, from to contribute, comes a contributor; and from to survive, a survivor; dropping the e.

Q. Are not adjectives sometimes formed from substantives?

A. Yes: 1. By adding the termination y, are formed adjectives of plenty or of abounding; as, from health, comes healthy; from wealth, wealthy.

2. By adding the termination en, are formed adjectives that signify the matter out of which any thing is made; as, from ash, comes ashen; from birch, birchen; from oak, oaken, &c.: as, "An oaken stick, a birchen broom."

3. By the termination ful, are formed adjectives denoting fulness; as, from joy, comes joyful; from youth, youthful; from sin, sinful; also, from abash, bashful, &c.

4. By adding the termination some, are formed adjectives denoting much the same; as from trouble, comes troublesome; from game, game-some, &c.; though sometimes the e is left out.

5. By adding the termination less, are formed adjectives signifying want; as, from worth, comes worthless; from help, helpless; from tooth, toothless, &c.

NOTE.—The same thing is also signified by un, in, or im, prefixed to adjectives; as, unpleasant, indecent, improper, &c.

6. By adding the termination ly, are formed adjectives which denote likeness; as from man comes manly; from God, godly; also, from to fit, comes fitly; from certain, certainly, &c.

7. By adding the termination ish, are formed adjectives denoting the same thing; as, from wolf comes wolfish; from child, childish; sheep, sheepish, &c. Also, from book, comes bookish; and from tickle, ticklish.

NOTE 1.—From adjectives, by adding the same termination, are formed adjectives diminutive; as, from green, comes greenish; soft, softish; hard, hardish, &c.
2.—There are also some national names which end in ish; as, English, Spanish, Danish, &c.; and in ic, as, Britannic, Germanic, &c.

Q. By what other means are words derived from their primitives?

A. By adding -ship, -dom, -rick, -wick, -ness, -head, -hood.

1. Words ending in -ship denote office, employment, or condition; as, stewardship, fellowship, lordship, &c.

2. Words ending in -dom signify office or charge, with power and dominion, or without them; as, popedom, kingdom. Also, they signify the state, condition, quality, property, and place in which a person exercises his power; as, freedom, thraldom, whoredom, wisdom, dukedom, &c.

3. Words ending in -ric and -wick denote office and dominion; as, bishoprick, bailewick.

NOTE.—-ment and -age are purely French terminations; have the same meaning with us as with them, and scarcely ever occur but in words derived from that language; as, commandment, usage.

4. Substantives ending in -ness signify the essence of the thing, and are formed from adjectives; as, from white, comes whiteness; from hard, hardness, &c.

NOTE.—These are called abstract nouns.

5. Nouns that end in -hood and -hood denote the state, condition, and quality of a thing or person; as, Godhead, manhood, widowhood, brotherhood, livelihood, &c.

NOTE.—There are also substantives (derived from adjectives and verbs) which are made by adding the ending th, with some small change; as, from long, comes length; strong, strength; warm, warmth; moon, month, &c. Also, from to die, comes death; from grow, growth, &c.

OF SUBSTANTIVES DIMINUTIVE.

Q. What is a substantive diminutive?

A. It is another method of derivation, by which a noun is formed to lessen the sense of its primitive word; as, from lamb, comes lambkin, which is a little lamb.

CHAP. XII.

OF THE SYNTAX.

Q. WHAT is syntax?

A. It is the disposing of words in their right case, gender, number, person, mood, tense, and place, in a sentence.

Q. Give an example.

A. Good boys are not beaten. Here the words are placed according to syntax: whereas should I say, Beaten not are boys good, it would be unintelligible, because there is no syntax in this sentence.

Q. How many kinds of sentences are there?

A. Two: simple and compound.

Q. What is a simple sentence?

A. It is that wherein there is but one verb, and one nominative word of the subject, either expressed or understood; as, The boy reads.

Q. What is a compound sentence?

A. It is two simple sentences joined together by a conjunction, or by a relative; as, who, which, that; or by a comparative word; as, so as, such, so many, as many more than; thus, "I am diligent, and you are negligent."—"He is a naughty boy, who deserves correction."

Q. What do you mean by a nominative word?

A. The word that goes before the verb, and answers to the question who or what; as, Boys play. Where it may be asked, Who do play? answer, boys.

Q. Does the nominative case or word always go before the verb?

A. Yes; except when a question is asked, and then the nominative case follows the verb, or more commonly the sign of the verb; as, Did John go to London? Do I neglect my business?

Q. What is the construction of the verb with the nominative word?

A. The verb must be of the same number and person with the nominative word; as, I stand, thou standest, he standeth: not I standest, thou standeth, he stand.

Q. Is the nominative case to the verb always a substantive?

A. No: sometimes the infinitive mood stands for the nominative word; as, To lie is shameful. And sometimes a whole clause foregoing; as, To rise betimes in the morning, is the most wholesome thing in the world.

Q. If two or more substantives singular come together, how must the verb be put?

A. In the plural number; as, Peter and John fight.

Q. What number is the verb put in when it follows a noun of multitude?

A. It may be put in the plural when circumstances absolutely determine the case to be more than one; but it is most commonly of the singular number; as, The multitude is very noisy. The heap is removed.

Q. Of what case must those nouns be which follow verbs, and are governed by them?

A. Sometimes the genitive; as, Take pity of me: sometimes the dative; as, I gave a book to the master: and sometimes the accusative; as, I love my master.

Q. What is the construction of the vocative?

A. The vocative is no part of the sentence, but only the person to whom the sentence is addressed, and is always of the second person singular or plural; as, John, where have you been that you have stayed so long? Ladies, why do ye not mind your writing?

Q. Of what is the ablative case governed?

A. The ablative is always governed of some preposition, expressed or understood; such as in, with, through, for, from, by, and than; as, He took it from me. He went with you.

CHAP. XIII.

OF TRANSPOSITION.

Q. WHAT is transposition?

A. It is the placing of words out of their natural order, to render the sound of them more agreeable to the ear.

EXAMPLE.—It cannot be avoided, but that scandals will arise, and differences will grow in the church of God, so long as there is wickedness on earth, or malice in hell.

TRANSPUSED.—It cannot be avoided, so long as there is wickedness on earth, or malice in hell, but that scandals will arise, and differences will grow in the church of God.

NOTE.—Where the natural order of the words is smooth and grateful to the ear, they ought not to be transposed, unless in poetry; and there only where the necessity of the verse requires it.

CHAP. XIV.

OF THE ELLIPSIS.

Q. WHAT is an ellipsis?

A. The leaving out of words in a sentence.

Q. Upon what account may words be left out?

A. 1. When a word has been mentioned just before, and may be supposed to be kept in mind. Therefore in a relative sentence, the antecedent, or foregoing word, is seldom repeated; as, "I bought the books, which [books] I read."

2. When any word is to be immediately mentioned, if it can be well understood, it ought to be left out in the former part; as, "Drink ye red [wine] or white wine."

3. When the thought is expressed by some other means; as, pointing to a man, you need not say, "Who is that man?" but, "Who is that?"

4. Those words which, upon the mentioning of others, must needs be supposed to be meant, may be left out; as, "When you come to St. Paul's [Church], then turn to the left [hand]."

5. Thing and act are frequently left out when they may be understood; as, "It is hard [i. e. a hard thing] to travel through the snow." "It is easy [i. e. an easy thing or act] to do so."

6. The conjunction that is often left out in a compound sentence; as, "I desire [that] you would write for me."

7. The relatives that, which, who, whom, may be left out; as, "There goes the man [that or whom] I beat yesterday."—"Is this the man you spoke of? i. e. of whom ye spoke?"

8. Sometimes a whole sentence is left out; as, "It is our duty to pay a respect and deference to all those that are virtuous and courageous: so [it is our duty to pay a respect and deference] to those also, who bear any office or command in the state."

 PART IV.

SENTENCES IN PROSE.

A DESIRE to excel others in virtue, is very commendable; and a delight in obtaining praise deserves encouragement, because it discovers an excellent mind. But he is wicked, who employs his thoughts only to outdoing the worst in villany. Such a contention is diabolical.

2. A wise man values pleasure at a very little rate, because it is the bane of the mind, and the cause of all misery; but he values no possession more than virtue, because it is the fountain of all public and private happiness.

3. Boast not of thy health and strength too much; only, whilst thou enjoyest them, give praise to Him that bestoweth all good things upon all men. Use them well, lest he deprive thee of them. God doth give to thee: return him not evil.

4. By the fall of Adam from that glorious and happy state wherein he was created, the divine image on his mind is quite changed and altered; and he who was created but a little inferior to the angels above, is now made but little superior to the angels below.

5. Children are such as their institution. Infancy is led altogether by imitation: it hath neither words nor actions but what are infused by others. If it have good or ill language, it is borrowed; and the shame or thanks are only due to them that lent them.

6. Covetousness brings nothing home. Sometimes men are so blinded with avarice, that they contradict themselves, and lose what is honestly due to them, by coveting what is not justly their own, and thereby give others an opportunity of deceiving them.

7. Do not the work of God negligently; and let not your heart be upon the world, when your hand is lifted up in prayer: for that time, you may be confident, is gained which is prudently and zealously spent in God's service.

8. Divine Providence disposes all things most wisely; not only in what concerns the world in general, but every one of us in particular: so that, in what condition soever he puts us, we may assure ourselves that it is best for us, since He chooses it who cannot err.

9. Ever since the transgression of our first parents, the purity of human nature hath been miserably stained; its faculties have been sadly depraved; and its affections very liable to be deluded, influenced, and overcome by the world.

10. Inquire not into the secrets of God; but be content to learn your duty, according to the quality of your person or employment. God's commandments were proclaimed to all the world; but his counsels are to himself, and his secret ones, when they are admitted within the veil.

11. Flatter not yourself that you have faith towards God, if you want charity towards your neighbour; for the one is a certain effect of the other. Neither follow a multitude to sin, lest God make you share with them in their punishments.

12. Gold, though the noblest of metals, loseth its lustre when continually worn in the same purse with copper or brass; and the best men, by associating themselves with the wicked, are often corrupted with their sins, and partake in their punishments.

13. Gregory Nyssen compared an usurer to a man giving water to one in a burning fever, which does him more harm than good; so the usurer, though he seems for the present to relieve his brother's wants, yet afterwards he grievously torments him.

14. Happy is he who allows himself time and leisure to make his peace with God, and sign a truce with heaven; but more to be admired is he who is obliged to live in the midst of temptations, and yet can be in love with religion to the last moment of his life.

15. He that only pleases himself, does himself no kindness, because he displeases God his Creator, who commands us to be kind and good to all men, and to do unto others those things which we are willing should be done to ourselves.

16. If they go down to the pit that do not feed the hungry, and clothe the naked; what will become of those that take away bread from the hungry, and clothes from the naked?

17. It is a commendable thing for a boy to apply his mind to the study of letters: they will procure him the favour and love of good men, which those that are wise value more than riches or pleasure.

18. King Darins's mother, when she heard of the death of Alexander, laid violent hands upon herself; not that she preferred an enemy before a son, but because she had experienced the duty of a son in him, whom she had feared as an enemy.

19. Let us never measure our godliness by the number of sermons which we hear, but by the fruit we bring forth; without which, all our hearing will serve but to bring us into that portion of stripes, which belongs to him that "knows his master's will, and does it not."

20. Lazy folks take the most pains. Some people are so careless, that they will run all hazards rather than help themselves at the expense of a little trouble; and it generally happens, that they are the greatest sufferers in the conclusion.

21. Men are generally governed more by appearances than realities; and the insolent man, in his air and behaviour, undertakes for himself that he has ability and merit; while the modest or diffident gives himself up as one possessed of neither.

22. Many men are grown so negligent of seeking divine mercy betimes, that they put that off to the last, which should have been the first part of their business.

23. No man is so prosperous and happy, but he has some unfortunate and sad days; and, on the contrary, no man is so miserable, but he has some times of refreshment. Prosperity and adversity, by turns, succeed one another, as rain does fair weather.

24. Nothing is more absurd than to extend our hopes and desires beyond the term of our living here; and it is unreasonable for us to trouble ourselves about this world longer than we are likely to continue in it.

25. Obedience comprehendeth the whole duty of a man, both towards God, his neighbour, and himself; we should therefore let it be engraven on our hearts, that we may be useful in the world, and loyal to our prince.

26. Our life is a warfare, and this world a place of mysteries, wherein the greatest garlands are allotted to them who sustain the greatest labours; for by the smart of our stripes is augmented the glory of our reward.

27. Pride is a very reproachable sin, and often meets with very extraordinary judgments, even in this life; but will certainly be punished in the next; for if God spared not the angels for this sin, let no man hope to speed better.

28. Personal merit is all a man can call his own. Whoever strictly adheres to honesty and truth, and leads a regular and virtuous life, is more truly noble than a debauched, abandoned profligate, were he descended from the most illustrious family.

29. Riches are like dung, which stick in a heap; but, being spread abroad, make the earth fruitful. The best metals lose their lustre, unless brightened by use.

30. Repentance, though it is not to be rested in as any satisfaction for sin, or any other cause of the pardon thereof, which is the act of God's free grace in Christ; yet it is of such necessity to all sinners, that none can expect pardon without it.

31. St. Bernard, in his youth, being troubled with a pain in his head, a certain woman proffered to cure him by reciting a few verses by way of charm; but he refused, saying, "I had rather endure the hand of God, than be cured by the hand of the devil."

32. Servants should not deal worse with their masters, for dealing better with them; but conscionably do their work, that the proverb may not be verified in them, "He that pays his servant's wages beforehand, cuts off his right arm:" that occasions him to be slothful and lazy.

33. The lawfulness of our actions may not be judged by the events, but by the grounds. The wise and holy Arbitrator of the world knows why, many times, the better cause hath the worse success: many a just business is crossed for a punishment to the agent.

34. Trade is so noble a master, that it is willing to entertain all mankind in its service; and has such variety of employments, that all, but the lazy, may support at least, if not enrich themselves.

35. Time is one of the most precious talents in the world, which the Author of it has committed to our management; so precious, that he gives it us by drops, nor ever affords us two moments at once; but always takes away one when he lets us have another.

36. Very wholesome advice was that which was given by a heathen philosopher, viz. "Make it no longer a matter of dispute, what are the marks and signs of a righteous man, but immediately set about it, and endeavour to become such a one."

37. "Virtue," said a vicious man on his deathbed, "as much outshines vice in splendour and light, as the glorious luminary of heaven, which runs its daily course in the lofty sky, does that small rushlight which stands by my bedside."

38. Vain-glory destroys all the fruits of a good action. He that prays, or gives alms to be seen of men, must take that as his reward; nor must he expect any other but the portion of those hypocrites, that love the praise of men more than the praise of God.

39. Upbraid no man's weakness to discomfort him, nor report it to him to disparage him; neither delight to remember it to lessen him, or to set thyself above him. And be sure never to praise thyself, or dispraise any man else, unless God's glory, or some good end, do allow it.

40. Wicked breasts are false to themselves; neither trusting to their own choice, nor making choice of that which they dare to trust. They will set a good face upon their secret displeasing sins; and had rather be self-condemned, than wise and prudent.

41. We ought neither to be so eager for hoarding our treasure, as to withhold our hand entirely from giving; nor yet so careless and extravagant, as to let any thing be unprofitably lost, which might be useful to ourselves, or beneficial to others.

42. Young minds, being fullest of ignorance, want instruction most; are fittest to receive it, as being freest from prejudices; and are apt to retain it best, being void of such corruption as would otherwise expel it.

SENTENCES IN VERSE.

Life is short and miserable.

AH! few and full of sorrows are the days
Of miserable man: his life decays
Like that frail flower, which with the sun's uprising
Her bud unfolds, and with the evening dies:
He, like an empty shadow, glides away,
And all his life is but a winter's day.

On the diligent Ants.

Ants in battalia to their cells convey
The plunder'd forage of their yellow prey.
The little drudges trot about and sweat,
But will not straight devour all that they get;
For in their mounds we see them carry home
A stock for winter, which they know must come.

On the Atheist.

Bold is the wretch, and blasphemous the man,
Who, being finite, will attempt to scan
The works of Him that's infinitely wise,
And those he cannot comprehend, denies.
Our reason is too weak a guide to show
How God Almighty governs all below.

A Future State certain.

Brave youths the path of virtue still should tread,
And not by error's devious track be led;
Till free from filth and spotless is their mind;
Till pure their life, and of the ethereal kind:
For this we must believe, whene'er we die,
We sink to hell, or else to heaven fly.

On Travel.

By travel crown the arts, and learn abroad
The general virtues which the wise applaud;
To study nations I advise betimes,
And various kingdoms know, and various climes.
Whatever worthy thy remarks thou seest,
With care remember, and forget the rest.

Heavenly Love.

Christ's arms do still stand open to receive
 All weary prodigals that sin do leave.
 For them he left his Father's bless'd abode,
 Made son of man, to make man son of God;
 To cure their wounds, he—life's elixir—bled,
 And died a death to raise them from the dead.

The Self-wise.

Conceited thoughts, indulged without control,
 Exclude all future knowledge from the soul;
 For he that thinks himself already wise,
 In course, all further knowledge will despise
 And, but for this, how many might have been Just, reputable, wise, and honest men!

On Death.

Death at a distance we but slightly fear:
 He brings his terrors, as he draws more near.
 Through poverty, pain, slavery, we drudge on;
 The worst of beings better please than none.
 No price too dear to purchase life and breath:
 The heaviest burden's easier borne than death.

On Ambition.

Dazzled with hope, we cannot see the cheat
 Of aiming with impatience to be great.
 When wild ambition in the heart we find,
 Farewell content, and quiet of the mind:
 For glittering clouds we leave the solid shore,
 And wonted happiness returns no more.

On the Soldier.

Eager the soldier meets his desperate foe,
 With an intent to give his fatal blow.
 The cause he fights for animates him high,
 Namely—Religion, and dear Liberty:
 For these he conquers, or more bravely dies,
 And yields himself a willing sacrifice.

On the Resurrection.

From every corner of the extended earth,
 The scatter'd dust is call'd to second birth;
 The sever'd body now unites again,
 And kindred atoms rally into men;
 The various joints resume their ancient seats,
 And every limb its former task repeats.

On Youth.

Fragrant the rose is, but it fades in time;
 The violet sweet, but quickly past the prime;
 White lilies hang their heads, and soon decay;
 And whiter snow in minutes melts away:
 Such and so withering are our earthly joys,
 Which time or sickness speedily destroys.

The Duty of Man.

First to our God we must with reverence bow;
 The second honour to our prince we owe;
 Next to wives, parents, children, fit respect,
 And to our friends and kindred, we direct;
 Then we must those who groan beneath the weight
 Of age, disease, or want, commiserate.

The Desire.

From my beginning, may the Almighty Power
 Blessings bestow in never-ceasing showers.
 Oh! may I happy be, and always bless'd;
 Of every joy, of every good possess'd!
 May Plenty dissipate all worldly cares,
 And smiling Peace bless my revolving years!

On Mortality.

From stately palaces we must remove,
 The narrow lodgings of a grave to prove;
 Leave the fair train, and the light gilded room,
 To lie alone benighted in the tomb.
 God only is immortal; man not so;
 Life to be paid upon demand we owe.

On Honest Labour.

Go to the plough or team; go hedge or ditch;
 Some honest calling use, no matter which;
 Be porter, postman—take the labouring oar:
 Employment keeps the bailiffs from the door.
 Though thou be mean, thy frugal industry,
 Depend upon it, shall rewarded be.

On Heaven.

Heaven is our guard, and innocence its care,
 Nor need the just the worst of dangers fear:
 It pities the defenceless poor man's grief,
 And sends him, when he calls, help and relief.
 Its arm, the surest succour, and the best,
 Delivers and revenges the distress'd.

On an Active Life.

Happy is he—the only happy man—
 Who, out of choice, does all the good he can;
 Who business loves, and others better makes
 By prudent industry, and pains he takes:
 God's blessing here he'll have, and man's esteem;
 And, when he dies, his works will follow him.

Misfortunes advantageous.

In all misfortunes, this advantage lies—
 They make us humble, and they make us wise.
 Let's bear it calmly, though a grievous wo,
 And still adore the hand that gives the blow.
 And he that can acquire such virtue, gains
 An ample recompense for all his pains.

On Christ our Life.

I am the resurrection, saith the Lord;
 Eternal life's the fruit of my eternal word;
 Whoever firmly does in me believe,
 The grave shall not confine, nor hell receive:
 Nor only this; but those that will rely—
 On what I teach, shall never, never die.

On King William.

Long may the King Great Britain's sceptre sway
 While all his subjects peaceably obey;
 And when God's providence shall him remove
 From these below, to higher realms above,
 To his own race may he the crown resign,
 For ever to continue in that line.

On the Scripture.

Let sacred writings always be admired,
 Whose holy penmen truly were inspired.
 Through all succeeding times, both worst and best,
 They have run down, and borne the strictest test.
 A spirit there in every line we see,
 Of hope, love, joy, and immortality.

On a Competency.

Let me, O God, my labours so employ,
 That I a competency may enjoy:
 I ask no more than my life's wants supply,
 And leave their due to others when I die.
 If this thou grant (which nothing doubt I can),
 None ever lived or died a richer man.

On the Fall of Man.

Man was by heaven made to govern all,
 But how unfit, demonstrates in his fall;
 Created pure, and with strength endued
 Of grace divine, sufficient to have stood:
 But alienate from God, he soon became
 The child of wrath, pride, misery, and shame.

On the Sceptic.

No providence the sceptic will allow:
 Then let the ungrateful mortal tell me how
 His tender infancy protection found,
 And how his childhood was with safety crown'd;
 How through his youth he came to manly years,
 Through many dangers, which he sees and fears.

The Good of Evil.

One week's extremity may teach us more
 Than long prosperity had done before;
 Death is forgotten in our easy state,
 But troubles mind us of our final fate;
 The doing ill affects us not with fears,
 But suffering ill brings sorrow, wo, and tears.

On Lying.

On all occasions to declare the truth,
 Is most praiseworthy in a virtuous youth;
 A fault extenuated by a lie,
 Is doubled in reality thereby;
 And he that to this vice becomes a slave,
 In fire and brimstone shall his portion have.

On Forethought.

Rashness and haste make all things insecure:
 All great concerns must delays endure.
 Think on the means, the manner, and the end,
 Whea any great design thou dost intend;
 And if uncertain thy pretensions be,
 Stay till fit time wears out uncertainty.

On the Parliament.

See Britan's King, upon his awful throne,
 Striving to make each subject's heart his own;
 By justice ruling, but with mercy mix'd,
 Supporting worship, as by law 'tis fix'd;
 While Lords and Commons all as one agree,
 To settle firm his crown and dignity.

On Trouble.

The happiest man that ever breathed on earth,
 With all the glories of estate and birth,
 Had yet some anxious care to make him know
 No grandeur was above the reach of wo.
 To be from all things that disquiet, free,
 Is not consistent with humanity.

On Almighty Power.

The lofty concave of the vast expanse
 Could never be the effect of giddy chance:
 Those beautiful and amazing globes of light
 No power could make, that was not infinite;
 But when He spake, each atom of this frame
 From the dark womb of empty nothing came.

Trifle not in Devotion.

Whither thou go'st conceive, and to what end,
 When thine own feet the house of God ascend:
 There rather fear his life-directing rules,
 Than offer up the sacrifice of fools:
 For sinful are their gifts, who neither know
 What they to God should give, nor what they owe.

On Death.

When we have once resign'd our sinful breath
 (For we can die but once), then after death
 The immortal soul immediately goes
 To endless joys, or everlasting woes:
 Wise then's the man who labours to secure
 His passage safe, and his reception sure.

Christ on the Cross.

Ye wandering travellers that pass this way
 Stand still awhile, these agonies survey;
 And, on result of serious thoughts, declare
 If ever sorrows might with mine compare:
 But God in mercy hath decreed this cup;
 Most willingly therefore I drink it up.

Live to die.

You, whose fond wishes do to heaven aspire,
 Who make those bless'd abodes your sole desire,
 If you are wise, and hope that bliss to gain,
 Use well your time, live not an hour in vain;
 Let not the morrow your vain thoughts employ,
 But think this day the last you shall enjoy.

Young folks think old folks to be fools, but old folks know young folks to be fools.

FABLE III.

OF THE KID, THE GOAT, AND THE WOLF.

WHEN the goat was going abroad, she charged the kid to shut the door after her, and open it to none, till she should return, and then to look out of the window first.

Very well, mother, says the kid, if you had not told me, I should have had wit enough to keep the door shut, and to take care of myself.

At the same time, the wolf happened to be behind the house, and heard the charge given to the kid.

Some time after the goat's departure, the wolf knocks at the door, and, counterfeiting the goat's voice, demands entrance. The kid, supposing it to be her dam, forgot to look out at the window, but immediately opened the door, and let in the wolf; who instantly made a prey of her, and tore her to pieces.

THE INTERPRETATION.

Children should obey their parents, who are always better able to advise them than the children can themselves. It is convenient also for young men to lend an ear to the aged, who, being more experienced in the affairs of the world, can give them better counsel, whereby they may avoid many dangers: witness Eli's sons, and Rehoboam's fall.

A man may forgive an injury, but he cannot easily forget it.

FABLE IV.

OF THE HUSBANDMAN AND THE SNAKE.

A HUSBANDMAN had brought up a snake in his house; but, being angry with her, struck her with his hatchet, and wounded her; for which reason she fled from him.

Afterwards the husbandman, falling into want, imagined that this misfortune befel him for the injury done to the snake, and therefore humbly requested of her that she would come and live with him again.

The snake replied, that she forgave him, but she would not return to live with one who kept a hatchet in his house; adding, that although the smart of the wound was gone, yet the mark was left, and the remembrance of it was still fresh in her memory.

THE INTERPRETATION.

It is not safe to trust that man who hath once made a breach in friendship. It is godlike to forgive an injury; but no harm to remember it, because it keeps us on our guard.

Make no friendship with an ill-natured man.

FABLE V.

OF THE WOLVES AND THE SHEEP.

THE wolves made a league with the sheep, and hostages were given on both sides. The wolves gave their young ones to the sheep, and the sheep gave their dogs to the wolves.

Some time after, while the sheep were quietly feeding in a meadow, the young wolves began to howl for their dams; at which the wolves came rushing in among them, and charged them with breaking the league.

The sheep began to excuse themselves, saying, They were feeding by themselves, and therefore could not hurt the young wolves, not having any dogs with them.

But the wolves insisted on it, that they were guilty of a breach of friendship; alleging, at the same time, that those innocents, who never did any harm in their lives, would not make such dreadful lamentations, unless some violence had been offered to them; and knowing the sheep to be without their guard, they fell on them, and tore them to pieces.

THE INTERPRETATION.

Be always upon your guard when an enemy is near. He who has always run counter to the rules of friendship, will never become a true friend, though you should bind him by the strongest engagements.

Honesty is the best policy.

FABLE VI.

OF THE TWO THIEVES AND THE BUTCHER.

A COUPLE of sharpers went to a butcher's shop to buy some meat; but while the butcher was busied with other customers, one of them stole a piece of beef, and gave it to his fellow, who put it under his cloak.

The butcher presently missed the meat, and charged them with the theft.

But he that stole it swore by Jove, that he had none of it; and he that had it swore likewise, he did not take it away.

To whom the butcher replied, The thief to me is unknown, though I believe it to be one of you; but He by whom you have both sworn can tell, and will reward you accordingly.

THE INTERPRETATION.

God Almighty is privy to all our actions, and though we may for a while deceive men, yet we cannot escape his all-seeing eye, who will reward or punish us according as we deserve.

A liar is not to be believed, though he speak the truth.

FABLE VII.

OF THE SHEPHERD'S BOY AND THE HUSBANDMEN.

AS a boy was looking after some sheep in a meadow, he would oftentimes in jest cry out that the wolf was among them; which made the neighbouring husbandmen come out to his assistance; and then he would laugh at them for being such fools as to come when he did not want them.

At last the wolf came in earnest, and the boy began to cry out as usual; but the husbandmen, thinking that he only wanted to delude them again, never troubled themselves about him, but let him cry on: and so the sheep became an easy prey to the wolf, and were destroyed.

THE INTERPRETATION.

Some men have such a faculty of jesting, that the most important and sacred truths cannot escape them; others are as notorious for lying; the consequence of which is, a dislike to their company, and a total disregard to every thing they say: for when once the deceiver is known, his credit is lost, and he is for ever derided in every company.

Let envy alone, and it will punish itself.

FABLE VIII.

OF THE DOG AND THE OX.

AN ill-natured dog laid himself down in a manger full of hay.

Presently came in an ox to feed; but the dog, in a surly manner, bid him begone.

Well, replied the ox, thou wilt neither eat the hay thyself, nor suffer others to eat it; therefore stay there in this thy envious humour, and keep away every ox, and then thy envy will become thy punishment.

The dog did so, and by that means starved himself.

THE INTERPRETATION.

Envy torments both the body and the mind, and is deservedly its own punisher. Thus, we see, some men are content to lose a blessing themselves, that others may not enjoy it.

One good turn deserves another.

FABLE IX.

OF THE DOVE AND THE BEE.

A THIRSTY bee came to a fountain to drink; but, being too hasty, fell in.

A dove in a neighbouring tree, seeing the bee struggle for life, set herself upon a branch that hung over the fountain, and by her weight brought it to the water, that the bee might get upon it; and so saved her life.

Some short time after, a snare was laid for the dove; and while the fowler was drawing the net together, the bee (who at that instant was flying over), seeing her deliverer in such danger, stung the fowler so severely, that he was obliged to let the net go again; by which means the dove escaped.

THE INTERPRETATION.

Be helpful to thy friend; and always return thanks to those who deserve them.

Evil be to them that evil think. Also, Throw a crust to a surly dog, and he will bite you.

FABLE X.

OF THE GOOD-NATURED MAN AND THE ADDER.

A GOOD-NATURED man being obliged to go out in frosty weather, on his return home found an adder almost frozen to death, which he brought with him, and laid before the fire.

As soon as the creature had received fresh life by the warmth, and was come to herself, she began to hiss, and fly about the house, and at length killed one of the children.

Well, says the man, if this be the best return that you can make for my kind offices, you shall even share the same fate yourself; and so killed her immediately.

THE INTERPRETATION.

Ingratitude is one of the blackest crimes a man can be guilty of. It is hateful both to God and man, and frequently brings upon such a graceless wretch all that mischief which he either did, or thought to do to another.

Lazy folks take the most pains. Also, Give a man his bread and cheese when he has earned it.

FABLE XI.

OF THE OLD WOMAN AND HER MAIDS.

A CERTAIN old woman, having about her a parcel of idle maids, would oblige them to rise every morning at the cock-crowing.

But the maids, looking on this as a hardship, resolved to put a stop to this growing evil; and so cut off the cock's head; thinking that they might then lie abed securely, and indulge themselves in their laziness.

But the careful mistress soon frustrated their designs, and ordered a bell to be brought to her, with which she ever after rung them up at midnight.

THE INTERPRETATION.

It is good to be industrious; for laziness is commonly punished with want: and drowsiness, saith Solomon, will cover a man with rags.

A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.

FABLE XII.

OF THE FISHERMAN AND THE FISH.

A FISHERMAN, having cast his line into the water, presently after drew up a fish.

The little captive entreated the fisherman that he would spare her (she being but small) till she was grown larger, and then she would suffer herself to be taken by him again.

No, no, replies the fisherman, I am not to be so served: if I let you go, I must never expect to see you any more; neither should I have caught you now, if you had known there was a hook within the bait: and I was always of that temper, that whatever I could catch I had rather take it away than leave it behind me.

THE INTERPRETATION.

Never let go a certainty for an uncertainty.

 PARTICULAR FORMS OF PRAYER.

PUBLIC PRAYERS FOR THE USE OF SCHOOLS.

In the Morning.

ALMIGHTY GOD, the fountain of all wisdom, we humbly beseech thee to pour into our hearts, as into their proper channels, the pure waters of learning; and because thou hast made no man for himself only, but all of us for the mutual help of each other, grant that we may so diligently apply ourselves to our studies, that, increasing every day in piety and good literature, we may at length become not only useful to ourselves, but ornamental also, both to the state we live in, and to the true holy Catholic Church. More especially we pray thee, to give us all grace to grow wise unto the eternal salvation of our immortal souls; and this we beg for Jesus Christ's sake: in whose holy name and words, we further pray unto thee, saying,

OUR Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name; thy kingdom come; thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven; give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive them that trespass against us; lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil; for thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

THE grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost, be with you all evermore Amen.

In the Evening.

O ALMIGHTY God and most merciful Father, we humbly pray thee to forgive all the errors and transgressions which thou hast beheld in us the day past, and help us to express our unfeigned sorrow for what has been amiss, by our care to amend it. What we know not, do thou teach us: instruct us in our duty, both towards thee and towards men: and give us grace always to do those things which are good and well-pleasing in thy sight. Whatsoever good instructions have been here given this day, grant that they may be carefully remembered, and daily followed; and whatsoever good desires thou hast put into our hearts, grant that, by the assistance of thy grace, they may be brought to good effect, that thy name may have the honour, and ourselves may have comfort at the day of account, through Jesus Christ our Saviour: in whose holy name and words we further pray unto thee; saying, Our Father, &c.

 PRIVATE PRAYERS.

A Prayer for Wisdom and Knowledge, to be said by a Child going to School, or at any other time.

O ALMIGHTY Lord and merciful Father, Maker of heaven and earth, who of thy free liberality givest wisdom abundantly to all who with faith and full assurance ask it of thee: beautify, by the light of thy heavenly grace, the towardness of my wit; the which, with all the powers of nature, thou hast poured into me, that I may not only understand those things which may effectually bring me to the knowledge of thee, and the Lord Jesus our Saviour; but also, with my whole heart and will, constantly follow the same, and receive daily increase through thy bountiful goodness towards me, as well in good life as doctrine. So that thou, who workest all things in all creatures, mayest make thy gracious benefits shine in me, to the endless glory and honour of thy immortal Majesty. Amen.

A Morning Prayer for a Child.

O LORD our heavenly Father, almighty and everlasting God, who hast safely brought me to the beginning of this day, defend me in the same with thy mighty power. Direct me in all my laudable and praiseworthy undertakings for the best, and bless me in them. Enlighten my understanding, strengthen my memory, sanctify my heart, and guide me in my life. Let the duties of this day be cheerfully undergone by me; and give me grace so to apply myself to my learning, that I may thereby become a useful member of the commonwealth. Grant that I may be obedient to my parents, and to those who have the care of my education; to behave myself soberly, and with good manners to every one; and that I may live an innocent and inoffensive life. Lord, protect and defend all my relations and friends; and grant that none of us may fall into sin, neither run into any kind of danger; but that all our doings may be ordered by thy governance, to do always that is righteous in thy sight; through Jesus Christ our Lord: to whom, with thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

An Evening Prayer for a Child.

O LORD God Almighty, by whose providence I have been preserved this day from all danger that might have befallen me, I humbly beseech thee to continue thy watchful providence over me this night. Let my guardian angel defend me from all the perils and dangers of it, and from all assaults of my spiritual enemies. And do thou, who art always more ready to hear than I am to pray, and art wont to give more than either I desire or deserve, pour down upon me the abundance of thy mercy; forgive me those things whereof my conscience is afraid, and give me those good things which I am not worthy to ask. Graft in my heart the love of thy name; increase in me true religion; nourish me with all goodness, and of thy great mercy keep me in the same. And grant, O Lord, that I may so faithfully serve thee in this life, that I fail not finally to attain thy heavenly promises, which exceed all that we can desire; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Grace before Meat.

SANCTIFY, we beseech thee, O Lord, these creatures to our use, and ourselves to thy service; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Grace after Meat.

GOD'S holy name be blessed and praised for this present refreshment, and for all his mercies from time to time bestowed upon us; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Before going into Church.

STAY here, all worldly thoughts, and all vanities, that I may entertain heavenly meditations.

For a Child seating himself in the Church.

OLORD, I am now in thy presence, grant me such a measure of thy grace as may enable me seriously to attend to thy most sacred word, and obediently to practise the same; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

When Divine Service is ended.

LORD, pardon the coldness and wanderings of all my petitions, and deal with me according to my needs and thine own mercies: bless me this day, and all the rest of my life; and grant me thy heavenly grace, that I may ever hereafter serve thee with a clean heart, to thy honour and glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
