HUMORS OF HISTORY---26.

A Famous Duel. A.D. 1013

The money raised to buy off the Danes only served to bring them in greater swarms. Driven to desperation Edmund Ironside, with commendable self-sacrifice, suggested to Canute, the Danish King, that they should decide the matter by single combat. Canute accepted, and the duel took place without much injury to either party. They then divided the country, Edmund taking the south of the Thames and Canute the north; but within a month Edmund died, and Canute annexed the whole country.

NO ARTESIAN WELL FOR FREDERICTON

It Will Not Solve the Water Problem---River Rising a Little---Work at the Booms---Afraid of Private Hospital---Drank Carbohc Acid.

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 1. (Special)---Hasting operations at Douglas and Lincoln booms will commence tomorrow morning. There are about thirty-five million of logs of last year's cut in the booms which are sufficient to keep the men busy until new logs arrive. The water has risen about a foot at Long's Creek since Saturday, and weather indications today are favorable for rain. James Patterson, proprietor of the Canadian Hotel, Fredericton Junction, swallowed a dose of carbohc acid yesterday in mistake for medicine. Dr. Murray administered an antidote promptly and the patient is now out of danger. Mrs. Mary McDonald, widow of the late John McDonald, of Covered Bridge, died yesterday, aged ninety-one. Imports to Fredericton during April were $40,825, against $40,513 for the corresponding month last year. The sum of $3,264.42 collected in duties, against $4,127.99 for April, 1904. The remains of John Colleton of Southampton, who died Saturday were brought here by the Aberdeen this afternoon and interred at the Hermitage. A number of leading citizens have petitioned the city council to prevent Mr. Daniel Richards from establishing a private hospital at her home on Brunswick street. It is claimed that it will be a menace to the public health.

He saw the man with the revolver and he saw the man with the gun. He saw the man with the gun and he saw the man with the gun.

POLICE COURT

An Interesting Group Before Sitting Magistrate Henderson Today.

Six prisoners occupied the bench at this morning's session of the police court, and in the absence of Judge Ritchie, sitting magistrate Henderson officiated. The prisoners were disposed of in short order. George Maynard was charged with drunkenness and profanity. He was found guilty and fined $3 or thirty days on the first charge and a like fine was imposed for the second. William McFarlane, charged with wandering about on Prince William street early Sunday morning, was remanded. McFarlane said he came here on the Boston train to see a friend named Seely, who resides at 422 Main street; but, according to Officer Row's story, McFarlane said he had no friends in the city and was looking for a boarding house. He did not seem to know where he was going. Inquiry will be made as to whether such a person resides at 422 Main street, and the nature of the business--if any--that the prisoner has with him. Edward Geary, charged with assaulting J. F. Dockrill at the Opera House, Saturday night, was also in court. When Geary's name was called he jumped to his feet and said "guilty."

GOLD OF A RECLUSE

He Reveals Whereabouts of Fortune When Death Approaches.

HOARY-headed, bent with age, and believing that he had but a short time to live, "Frank James" Monroe, living on a twenty-acre farm, two miles east of Woodville, Ia., called in his neighbors, Charles Davis and W. C. Williams, and directed them to dig in a spot on his land near his house. To their surprise they found a can filled with gold coins amounting to $750. This amount with other money and his land, has been bequeathed to three persons in a will made by Mr. Monroe several years ago, following a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Monroe declares he has $5000 in gold and buried it in a lot in Omaha, and a search for it will be made. Monroe, who is about 65 has been known for many years as a cycle, woman hater and miser. When the gold fever was on he was among the many who went to Colorado, where he made a small fortune in a short time and decided to settle on a farm. In the meantime he met a woman and they were to have been married, but before the wedding day she is said to have obtained $1000 in gold from him and disappeared. He had but $50 left with which he came to this vicinity, disgusted with the world. He settled all alone on this land and worked very diligently, saving every cent above his actual expenses and converting it into gold. He could rarely be persuaded to accept paper money.

Although no general amnesty for political offences is granted pardon is extended to certain classes of prisoners. Besides this it is reported that an important official announcement will be made on the receipt of March 3. Legend has it that the emperor's action involves a complete reversal of the Russian policy of seeking national unity in conquered provinces in religious unity.

THE MERRY WAR IN TRURO TOWN

Clergymen, Mayor, Judge, License Inspector and Others in a Hot Fight.

TRURO, N. S., April 29.—The reply given to the benighted sermon preached on Sunday evening, the 18th, was opened this week by the town officials. Rev. J. W. Aikens, moderator, G. B. McCool, presbyter; and M. A. McLean, baptist, were summoned before the police committee of this town to answer for certain statements they had made.

The charges against the clergy in effect were that they had said John Walker, chief of police, and license inspector, had allowed liquor sellers to take portions of license of liquor placed in his charge while he was on the police force, and H. Johnson was license inspector; further, that the clergy claimed John Walker to have been the friend of the liquor seller before his appointment as license inspector, and that Premier Murray and Mayor Lawrence were aware of such facts when they sanctioned Walker's appointment.

Mayor Lawrence was chairman of the investigating committee, and at the outset lost his temper, declaring himself "tired" of the clergymen.

The latter had Judge McLean to present their case, and this still further angered the mayor. He stormed at the judge, who returned in sarcastic and snappy words that stirred the mayor deeper until the mayor ordered him to sit down or go out.

After order was secured, and between the frequent scraps, the clergy presented evidence and sworn evidence that on one occasion Walker had stood within six feet of a measure of liquor left in his charge, while the former owner helped himself and carried it away; that on another occasion Walker had been seen in the possession of a bottle of liquor, and only six turned over to the inspector, Mr. Walker being in charge; and lastly, that the liquor dealers have proved this by a statement that a prominent member of the council had approached Messrs. Fraser, Fraser & Co., of St. John, asking them to bring their influence to bear on Councilman Fraser, their then manager, to vote for Walker's appointment.

Mr. Walker took issue against this evidence of the clergy, denying it in toto, and the matter now stands with the issue between H. E. Johnson, ex-licensing inspector, and H. C. Cass, on the one side, and Mr. Walker on the other. In addition to the foregoing, both Cass and Johnson state that Walker told them liquor was got back from him by liquor sellers. Walker says if he sold to the licensor.

The chief was taken to task by the judge for not serving papers on the liquor men, and Walker intimated that he was not left free by the council to serve them. A witness also stated that the chief of police had told him that when the present mayor was license inspector there was an "understanding" about the liquor business. All together caused a stormy night, and over 100 citizens had a meeting of it. The police committee have to report to the council, and that report is expected with great interest. There are indications of "a hot time in the old town" soon.

AFRAID OF POLITICIANS

(Kansas City Times.) A man from a Kansas town walked up to the cashier's desk at one of the large hotels in Kansas City Saturday and, losing in a check for $100, said:—"Cash that please." "You'll have to be identified," replied the young woman, pleasantly. "Why, I am a director in the bank on which that check is drawn, and I'm quite well known in politics over my way," he said. "Did you say you are a politician?" asked the cashier. "Oh, a sort of," replied the man, smiling. "That," came

TOOK A SEVERE COLD.

It Settled in The Kidneys.

Pain in The Back The Result.

Catching cold and having it settle in the back is often the cause of Backache—the primary cause of kidney trouble. When the back aches it is a warning that the kidneys are liable to become affected. Heed the warning; check the backache, and dispose of any chance of further trouble. If you don't, serious complications are very apt to arise. Mrs. E. Williams, Hamilton, Ont., caught cold, and it settled in her kidneys. She used and is thankful for the immediate relief they gave her. She writes us as follows: "It is with pleasure that I add my testimony in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. Some time ago, I took a severe cold, which settled in my kidneys. The soreness and pain in the small of my back bothered me greatly. After suffering for some months, and finding numerous remedies fail, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received immediate relief from my sufferings. Doan's Kidney Pills may be procured at all dealers, or will be sent direct by mail on receipt of price—80 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. THE DOAN KIDNEY PILL CO., TORONTO, ONT.

ANNAPOLIS.

ANNAPOLIS, April 29.—At the very meeting of St. Luke's on Monday evening last, the retiring wardens presented a very satisfactory report. They reported the receipts $2,000.57 and a corresponding surplus over all possible claims of $737. In addition to which the People's Bible Society had $100.00 and on the spot $104.20. Messrs John Whitman and A. G. Herbert were elected wardens and the vestment appointed.

A public meeting is called to meet at the Town Hall on Friday evening next, for the purpose of organizing the Fruit Shipping Association. It is understood that the promoters intend to make Annapolis the port of shipment. A tea and dance (to raise funds for the purchase of articles for the County Academy) was held in the Academy of Music on Friday evening and largely patronized. Whitman's fish drier is now in full blast. There is a large quantity of fish on hand to be cured by the association.

A musical social, in aid of King's College, is to be held in the Academy of Music on the 9th of May. Wills Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Bealer were away from home spending Easter, when one broke into their house. After spending the night and cooking an Easter breakfast, the visitor appropriated some of Mrs. Bealer's clothing and a small amount of cash in a drawer and departed early in the morning. Police Commissioner went to Bridgewater on Thursday and arrested a young girl by the name of Vidio, who had been doing the town for several days. Some of the missing clothing was found in her possession. Her examination will be held on Monday.

Billy McLaughlin, another youthful offender, was brought from Bridgewater last week and lodged in jail here on a charge of theft.

THE RAILWAYS

As to railway matters, Mr. Wynne paid a high compliment to Thomas Tait (former minister of transportation on the C. P. R.), for the reforms he had been enabled to carry out. It was not according to his position as the administrator of the administration. "He has, completely," said Mr. Wynne, "polished the system, as a matter of fact."

THE EQUITABLE AFFAIR

Hyde's Confession Lends Color to Lawson's "Frenzied Finance" Charges.

(Toronto News) Mr. Hyde admits no wrongdoing, and says that the transactions described were "made with the sanction of universal precedent." But the insurance law of the State of New York expressly forbids this very thing, and provides that a director convicted of such practices shall forfeit his position and be disqualified thereafter from holding any office in any insurance corporation. If the offence to which Mr. Hyde confesses is not a crime within the meaning of the statute, the law is inoperative for the protection of the policy holders. It is difficult to imagine a more dangerous relationship than that disclosed by Mr. Hyde's statement. The directors of the society form themselves into an underwriting syndicate. They have large blocks of securities to sell. If the market is not favorable for disposing of these securities the syndicate must pay the contracted price. They can save themselves by selling to the society which they control, and the less actual value there is in the securities the greater is the necessity of unloading upon friends. There would be no difficulty in selling gilt-edged securities on the market, and only those of a doubtful character would find their way into the vaults of the society. If this kind of financing were practiced to any great extent it would almost certainly bring about a period of inflation that would end in a panic and the loss of funds which the life insurance and trust companies hold for the public.

HIS LAST SERMON

Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson Says Good Bye to the People of Calvin Church.

Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson, who left today for Boston, preached his farewell sermon in Calvin church last evening. Mr. Nicholson had been an active and earnest worker among his people, and he will be greatly missed. In his sermon, Mr. Nicholson thanked the congregation for their many kindnesses to him, and for their faithful work in the church. He prayed that the people would stay faithful to the good cause, and that Calvin church would prosper. Rev. Mr. Nicholson left today on the Calvin Austin and will visit his brother Daniel G. Nicholson, of Boston. From there he will probably go to Cape Breton. Rev. Mr. Best, of Montreal, will occupy the pulpit of Calvin church until next fall.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

It may be a year, the Montreal Witness says, before work will start upon the Grand Trunk Pacific as a whole, but upon the Lake Superior section a commencement will be made this week. There will be thousands of men employed in the navy work. The intention is to utilize labor on the spot as much as possible, but should that be insufficient, arrangements will be made for the forwarding of large gangs of men from Montreal. The Grand Trunk is keeping in close touch with local employment agencies, and at the moment of need large numbers of laborers will be forwarded to objective points where such supplementary aids are required.

VICTORIA, AUSTRALIA

Pays $5,000,000 Annually for a Compulsory Education System

Striking Success of Mr. Tait as a Railway Administrator—The Federation a Success—Interesting Interview.

(Montreal Witness). The population of Victoria, one of the states of the Australian Commonwealth, is a little above a million souls; the amount which these people tax themselves for elementary education is five million dollars per annum.

There are no separate schools in Victoria. There are in certain large centers where the Catholic preponderance is general, of Victoria, who is travelling in this country for pleasure, is an exceedingly well-informed public man. Yesterday, at the office of the C. P. R., he discussed Australian public affairs.

The several states of the Commonwealth were shorn of much of their power when the Commonwealth was erected. Still, the states controlled education, railways and public lands, while defense, customs, postal service, telephones, and the like, are reserved to the federal power.

Mr. Wynne spoke glowingly of the public schools of the state. They were commodious and thoroughly equipped. Nothing was shirked. The people he lived fully in the advantages of a common school education. The schools were free and education was compulsory. The public schools were found many Roman Catholic teachers. They were attended by all classes and gave great satisfaction.

As to railway matters, Mr. Wynne paid a high compliment to Thomas Tait (former minister of transportation on the C. P. R.), for the reforms he had been enabled to carry out.

It was not according to his position as the administrator of the administration. "He has, completely," said Mr. Wynne, "polished the system, as a matter of fact."

Yes, but it should not have done so. It was not according to his position as the administrator of the administration. "He has, completely," said Mr. Wynne, "polished the system, as a matter of fact."

On the other hand, Mr. Wynne insisted that in the matter of opening up new lines for the improvement of the country, the state-owned railway would do more than the private corporation.

The state will open up such additional lines for the improvement of the country in a remarkable manner. The state paid something like two million dollars per year in pensions to civil servants, including railway men; but a new law was putting an end to this, as the burden was too onerous.

Federal Affairs

Speaking of federal affairs, Mr. Wynne said that there was still friction between the federal and the local powers, but the commonwealth was a great fact, and the federal power paid a million dollars.

At the same time, there was a squadron of seven warships in Australian waters if Australia had no Britain to fall back upon she could not preserve her independence.

The people were loyal to the British connection as much as were the people of Canada. There had been some republicanism, but it had died out. Population was needed; the country could support fifty million people; and yet such was the strength of the labor party that colored labor was tabooed. Even colored labor on the freight vessels could not be employed. There was a large number of Chinese, while the Japanese were excluded upon an education test.

At the same time, in the northern or tropical part of Australia, colored labor was needed, and there would ultimately be established a colored labor zone. Also, the people were optimistic and ebullient. They worked hard, but they took to play with great zest. They lived much in the open; there was a fine native type developing; "winos," said Mr. Wynne, "smiling" this specimen, pointing to his companion, a gentleman of fully seven feet, born on the 11th of September, 1870, and now 34 years of age.

The thing needed was people, and Mr. Wynne intimated that neither the federal nor state governments would any longer tolerate the narrow policy of exclusion pursued by the labor party.

"There is one thing which you might do in this country," said Mr. Wynne, in conclusion, "you might advocate a better service between Australia and Vancouver. We came over in the 'Mowena,' which was called the 'Mary-Weary,' and the trip was very tedious. I am convinced that there might be a very considerable passenger trade between the two countries if a better service were provided."

OBITUARY

Dr. Judson Coy

FREDERICTON, April 30.—A telegram received here today announced the death at Wakefield (Mass.), last night of Dr. Judson Coy, of Prince William, this country. He had been a sufferer for some time from Bright's disease, and went to Boston about two months ago for medical treatment. News of his death will be received with great regret by a large circle of friends in this city and up river parishes.

Deceased was the son of the late Thomas Coy, and was born at Upper Gagetown fifty-three years ago. He received his early education in this city, and afterwards attended the U. N. B., from which he graduated B. A. in 1875. He completed a course in medicine at Edinburgh University four years later and engaged in practice at Chelsea (Mass.), where he remained for some time. Ten years ago he returned to New Brunswick and bought Dr. J. C. Mott's practice at Prince William, and has since made his home there.

He was regarded as one of the most skillful surgeons in the province, and enjoyed a large practice. A widow, formerly Miss Ingham, of Beauséjour, and two children survive. Havelock Coy, barrister of this city, is a brother. It is understood the body will be interred at Wakefield.

The musical portion of the services in St. David's Presbyterian church last evening was exceptionally good. The anthem, Magnificat in F, by Semper, was rendered by the choir in a manner that thrilled the very large congregation. There were also a male quartette by Messrs. Shaw, Belding, McKelvie and Bonnell, a mixed quartette by Messrs Henderson and Thompson and Messrs Belding and Cairns, a duet by Messrs McKelvie and Belding, and a violin solo, Blumenfeld, by Mr. Belding, who also conducted the choir.

Wm. H. White, of the Pender Nail Works, and who is sexton of the Congregational church, is called upon to mourn the death of his wife, Elizabeth A., who passed away about 8:30 o'clock last night at their home in Rock street. Mrs. White had been in poor health for two years and bore her suffering with marked patience. In her death a loving wife and devoted mother are gone, and many outside the family circle as well as her relatives will miss her keenly. Mrs. White was the daughter of the late Thos. Lecherey, of St. Martins, and was married to Mr. White nineteen years ago, during all of which time they lived in St. John. Besides her sorrowing husband, she is survived by three daughters; also her mother, two sisters and two brothers. The sisters are Mrs. W. J. Dunlop, of St. John, and fanned him twice. I could have made six strike-outs, for I had two on a weak bat, and then foolishly floated up a nice easy one, which he hit."

Notes of the Diamond

Just wait until Willie and Fraser get working together and Dolahanty is in the game, and no club will find the Boston Nationals easy.

Pittsburg is in hard luck at this early stage of the game. Home Wagner is out of the game on account of a sprain he received at Pittsburg Saturday.

"Don't get it into your head that Cincinnati isn't going to be a factor this year because the reds lost the first series," said Fred Clarke. "Joe Kelley has a mighty good team and they will make a lot of teams take their time when they get started."

The Boston champions look strangely out of place at the foot of the list.

Mullin, the Detroit pitcher, lost his first opening game in three years.

Clarke Griffith wants to trade Patsel, Putnam and Klinefor for Patsel and Klinefor.

It is said that Manager Griffith will have first pick of the Indianapolis players next fall.

Jack Sheridan says increased base running will be in evidence this season. Let's hope so.

The Washingtons have a way of batting at the ball which seems to cause unrest on the part of the opposing players as well as the spectators.

There doesn't appear to be any particular line of action or any specific speak of thought in the mental aspect of the victors' game, but it is very uncertainly given the same relief that a relief pitcher's before dinner.

Willie Keeler pulled the blankets over Umpire Connolly's eyes the other day in a way that fooled the crowd, too.

In the eighth inning Stahl pulled a curve into right field for a short fly. Keeler made a great run for it, but, apparently, only "tripped" the ball.

He did a tumble, and everybody expected to see the ball kicked to one side. But in completing the acrobatic feat Keeler deftly snatched the ball as he tumbled.

He brought up in a sitting posture, with his back to the diamond. Stahl kept on running, but when Keeler suddenly tossed the ball over his shoulder with the air of a man who had no doubts of the play the runner stopped, and Connolly allowed the catch.

Keeler fooled them all, as it was nearly certain that the ball touched the ground before he threw it. However, he did not enlighten Umpire Connolly at the time.

In Cleveland the rabid fans want Harry Bay beset, as he has not yet found his batting eye. Manager Lajoie has decided to keep him working, however, because his fielding and his running ability.

The Boston critics disagree on the question of permanent first baseman. Some declare that Andy LaChance will have the place again and others do not see how young Grimshaw, the Eastern League recruit from Buffalo, is to be denied the position.
