BRYAN WAS NOMINATED ON THE FIRST BALLOT

The Few Who Voted for Gray and Johnston Swung in With the Majority — A Remarkable Demonstration — No One Yet for Vice Presidency.

DENVER, Colo., July 10.—William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, was nominated for the third time for the office of president of the United States by the Democratic national convention, at 3:40 o'clock this morning, amid scenes of frenzied enthusiasm. The result came after an all night session, which was kept in a constant state of turmoil up to the moment when the Nebraska leader was proclaimed the choice of the convention. The nomination was made on the first and only ballot, the vote standing: William J. Bryan, 823; Julius Gray, 293; Governor John A. Johnston, 46, absent or not voting, eight, total 1166.

Under the wretched weather conditions the scores are remarkably good. The wind has blown from the west, and the clouds of mist drifted continually between the marksmen and their targets, and a drenching drizzle drove mercilessly into the faces of the contestants. Lieut. Simon, of Ohio, won the gold medal in the individual 300 metre contest. He led with a score of 420, followed by Lieut. E. S. Sayre, an American, who was in the lead at half past three with a score of 420.

The taking of the vote had been followed with breathless interest. When New York was reached in the call of states, the announcement of Chief Murphy "seventy-eight votes for Bryan" brought out a wild outburst of enthusiasm, which for a time compelled the suspension of the roll call. A further delay was caused by a demand for a poll of the New York delegates. On this poll many of the New York delegates, including Judge Alton B. Parker, the presidential nominee four years ago, remained silent, but the entire 78 votes of the delegation went for Bryan under the rule. Pennsylvania was similarly called after sharp disagreement with some of the delegates and the vote of Pennsylvania as finally cast, was divided. The convention adjourned at 3:30 this morning until 11 p. m., after having been in session continuously for more than eight hours. As the delegates and spectators left the hall, the echoes of enthusiasm continued to reverberate throughout the building, while crowds

UNITED STATES LEADS IN OLYMPIC SHOOT

And Had a Lead of Eleven Over England in Total for That and the 500 Range.

BISLEY, Eng., July 10.—The most important match of the Olympic rifle contests—the international team competition—was started this morning. At the 200 yard range the Americans made the high score with 423. Sweden was second with 422, followed by other teams with scores as follows: England 419, Canada 412, France 397, Norway 386, Greece 385, Denmark 375.

LIBERALS ORGANIZE IN SALISBURY PARISH
Club Started Last Night — Ex-chief of Police Begins an Action for Assault

MONCTON, July 10.—The Liberals of polling division No. 7, parish of Salisbury, held a largely attended meeting at Petticoat last evening when the Salisbury Liberal Club was organized. Constitution and by laws were submitted and approved, and the following officers elected: Dr. D. D. McDevitt, president; G. Fred Fowler, secretary; Stanley C. Gossin, secretary; Herbert Corp, assistant; Herbert McDevitt, treasurer.

KEROSENE OIL. PUFF!
GOOD BYE, DEAR LUCY

NEVADA, Mo., July 10.—Llew Bowens, aged 5, and the mother of the step-son, were killed last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Stephens near here. The dead girl, who was employed in the Stephens' home, poured kerosene on the kitchen fire and an explosion resulted. The house was destroyed.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., July 10.—Fully ten thousand people packed the streets this morning to welcome the Golden State automobile tourists who started from Buffalo yesterday. Before 10 o'clock 20 cars passed through here.

SEVEN KILLED ON THE C. P. R. IN THE WEST

Disastrous Collision Yesterday Near Medicine Hat
Five Other Persons are in Hospital—Passenger Express and Light Engine Came Together.

MEDICINE HAT, Alberta, July 10.—A locomotive, running light, from here to Calgary, had head-on collision with the morning passenger train from the Crown Nest Pass at 8:30 yesterday. The light locomotive was driven off the tracks and the baggage car, mail car and tourist coach of the passenger train were partly telescoped, and with the engine rolled into the ditch. Engineer James Nicholson, fireman Howard Gray, baggage-master Archambault, and passengers James Shaw and Duncan McEachern, were instantly killed. The engineer, Thomas Tveit, and Conductor Malette died a short time afterwards. Brakeman Leonard Black and expressman Vickers were seriously injured. Seven other passengers are in the hospital. James Nicholson had orders to pick up the Spokane flyer and pulled out here with the light engine. The Crown Nest passenger train was two hours late. A homesteader named Hinman saw the train, concealed from each other, rushing together, and succeeded in attracting the attention of Engineer Twohey of the passenger train who immediately sent to the hospital. A passenger named Samuel Abban had his leg broken when he was run over by the train. He was badly bruised. Both are in the hospital. Operator Rittenham from Mon Nicholson received clearance papers, disappeared.

BRITISH NETS WERE CUT BY THE FRENCH
Fresh Trouble Looms Up in Newfoundland Over Fish Bail.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 9.—During the last week or so the fish, the bait fish, has been unusually abundant at St. Pierre and Miquelon, and particularly at the latter island. Seven American fishing schooners have been there, and secured their bait before the French vessels. This has caused much indignation among the latter, and may lead to serious trouble. The Yankees do not pay more, in fact often less than the Frenchmen, but they have the happy knack of getting their turn served before all others. A few little boats, out of oil clothes, or such like, usually does the trick, while the French skipper who is not given to "tipping" has to wait until his opponent has baited and added to the supply of foreign vessels in preference to those of their own nationality has aroused the passions of the Frenchmen, and it is only by extreme care on the part of the authorities that a clash has been prevented.

FOUND IT CHEAPER TO DIE THAN PAY RENT
Mrs. Henrietta Scudder Took Gas Bath Than Go Through the Operation of Meeting Her Landlord.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Rather than face her landlord when she had no money to pay the rent of a boarding house in which she had lost the savings of a lifetime, Mrs. Henrietta Scudder killed herself today by inhaling illuminating gas. Her husband declared that the woman's life might have been saved had not several physicians to whom he appealed for assistance refused to respond to his call. An ambulance wagon surgeon who was summoned after Scudder had told a policeman of his wife's condition, found Mrs. Scudder dead.

FORESAW THE DEATH OF HER BROTHER
Hamilton Girl Dreamed of Drowning Accident Night Before It Occurred — Her Warning Laughed at.

HAMILTON, July 10.—A remarkable coincidence with the death of Joseph Champagne, a young insurance agent who was drowned last evening is the fact that his sister the night before dreamed he was going to be drowned. She even recognized the friends who were with him when the fatality occurred.

The dream was so terribly realistic she woke in horror. When Champagne yesterday mentioned he was going boating she begged him to remain at home. He laughed at her fears and went to his death.

COMMISSION SPENT MORNING EXAMINING S. A. CORBITT

Book-keeping on the Road Occupied Chief Attention—Books Gone Through Microscopically Filled to Reveal Evidences of Anything Wrong.

At the sitting this morning the commission on the Central Railway occupied the entire morning with an examination of Samuel A. Corbitt as to his methods of keeping certain books and auditing others. He had from the death of Arthur Sharp in 1904 until the new commissioners had taken charge audited the books of the operating department at Norton, and also acted up to the head office accounts which consisted of a cash book and later a ledger also. These books were kept in the office of George McAvity.

The examination failed to bring out anything very startling. Most of the session was occupied in comparing the St. John cash book with the company's pass book of the Bank of B. N. A. The net result of the comparison was the discovery of an item of $28.00 which appeared in the cash book but not in the bank book. The explanation of this was not clear, the witness saying he thought it might be in a bank other than the Bank of B. N. A. The morning session of the Central Railway scrutiny closed at 10:15.

Samuel A. Corbitt was the first witness called. He testified that he had been connected with the railway as a accountant and auditor. He told of writing up the books for Mr. McAvity as accounts. As he was not the auditor of the books of the operating department at Norton. He did not audit the general business of the company transacted by Mr. McAvity, except to compare the balance of the cash book with the balance of the bank book. When auditing the books at Norton, however, all expenditures were submitted to him by Mr. Fowler. All the work he did was done at the request of the president of the road. Mr. McAvity asked him to make up a statement of the liabilities of the company, giving him for his guidance a statement previously drawn up by the late Mr. Sharp. He did not have sufficient data to audit this statement. There were vouchers for some transactions in Mr. McAvity's office, but not for all. Asked whether he had ever had any papers or books relating to the work of the company before Mr. McAvity took charge, he replied that he got some papers from Mr. McAvity. Among them were some vouchers. These he returned to Mr. McAvity. He got them for no special purpose. They were in a tin box with all Mr. McAvity's papers, relating to the road. He identified two statements as among those handed to him by Mr. McAvity. The statements were entered as exhibits 16 and 17.

After receiving those statements he made up another statement of liabilities dated 31 December, 1904, a copy of which was identified by him and entered as exhibit "G." He was engaged after the death of Arthur Sharp, whose death occurred August 1904. He was not employed until late in December. He got his material together and made the statement in January. The only book in the office was Mr. McAvity's cash book. This had been made up as far as it went by Mr. Sharp. The cash book was entered in August 1905, in Mr. McAvity's name. Mr. Corbitt made all subsequent entries.

Mr. Barnhill wanted some further explanation of how the balance on which Mr. Corbitt started was secured. The president said the information would be received in the regular order of examination. The information which Mr. Corbitt entered was made from the books of Mr. McAvity's check book. All payments were made by check and all the credit side of the books was entered from the stubs of these checks.

The president asked if numerous payments were not made by J. M. Robinson and Sons and cautioned him to qualify his previous statements. Mr. Corbitt admitted that large payments had been made in this way. He had no vouchers for the expenditures of over $2,500 made by Messrs. Robinson. Mr. Barnhill asked for further information.

Mr. Powell objected to being interrupted and Mr. Barnhill said that Mr. Corbitt said he made these entries from a statement furnished by J. M. Robinson and Sons. He took the statement without investigating it. Mr. Powell asked the witness if he had vouchers in addition to the stubs of the checks when he made his entries. He replied, not for all; he afterward found a lot of the vouchers at Norton. The witness explained that red ink figures opposite the expenditures were voucher numbers. Each item was numbered but there was not in every case a voucher for every number.

From the time he commenced work down to June 15, 1905 he numbered in numerical order the items of expenditure, beginning with 1 and ending with 255.

FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR ALONG G. T. P.

FREDERICTON, July 9.—Hon. Mr. Parris arrived this evening from Edmundston. He reported that a man who committed the murder has not been captured, though the most diligent search is being made. Edmundston today two men by the name of William Bond and Henry Freeman were fined $50 each for selling liquor to railway employees. The charge was laid last week and the men then swore that they did not sell the liquor. From being hostile to the man, however, is reasonable in Nationalist aspirations, he is probably inclined to support the government of Egypt. In his position could possibly go. Indeed, he has even been accused in some quarters—justly as I think—of being disposed to concede too much to the demand for the appointment of natives to all vacant places in the Egyptian administration. That even he should, at the very outset of his career, be assailed in this fashion is evidence of the rampant spirit which at present animates the Egyptian Nationalists.

BOYS CAN'T "CHEW" ON STREETS NOW

OTTAWA, July 9.—In the senate today the bill to restrain the use of tobacco by young persons was taken in committee. Senator Power thought a mistake had been made in advancing the age at which tobacco is forbidden to boys from sixteen years to eighteen years. He moved to substitute sixteen for eighteen years. Hon. Mr. Scott was of the opinion that the age being reduced to sixteen it should be increased to twenty-one. Senator G. W. Ross said the bill had been introduced into the Commons with a provision for sixteen years and the Commons, after deliberation, had advanced the age limit to eighteen years. He thought the senate should leave the age at eighteen years. Senator Power's motion to lower the age to sixteen was declared lost. On motion of Senator McMillan amendments were made forbidding boys to "chew" on the street as well as to smoke. On motion of Senator G. W. Ross an amendment was added to the bill to make a boy found with tobacco tell where he got it. The bill stands for third reading.

As a matter of fact, she drifted into the cotton trade and sank after many years of service for the East India Company at Manipal, on the coast of India—London Standard.

LORD MILNER AND THE EGYPTIAN PARTY

Lord Milner has some very striking things to say about Egyptian Nationalism in the Empire Review. He says that since the funeral of Mustapha Pasha Kamel, the late leader of the "Nationalist" or young Egyptian party, the party has continued to keep itself in evidence before the world. We say, if I am not greatly mistaken, destined to have a good deal of it in the immediate future. As the movement is one which greatly concerns this country, though so far but little attention has been paid to it, I think that it seems rather hard that Sir Eldon Gorst's recent report on Egyptian affairs for the year 1931. In passing, I may just say that the report which Sir Eldon Gorst has written as British Agent—is a very able document. It will not suffer from comparison with those of his great predecessor, and that is saying much, for Lord Cromer's annual reports were perhaps the most readable series of Blue-books that have ever been published. But to return to the point, it seems rather hard that Sir Eldon should so soon have become a target for the attacks of the young Egyptian party. So far from being hostile to whatever is reasonable in Nationalist aspirations, he is probably inclined to support the government of Egypt. In his position could possibly go. Indeed, he has even been accused in some quarters—justly as I think—of being disposed to concede too much to the demand for the appointment of natives to all vacant places in the Egyptian administration. That even he should, at the very outset of his career, be assailed in this fashion is evidence of the rampant spirit which at present animates the Egyptian Nationalists.

NEW YORK IS ALARMED

At Popularity of Daylight Bill in Britain. Change Would Cause Unpleasant Unless This Side Adopted Similar Change. NEW YORK, July 9.—Wall Street brokers, Stock Exchange members and traders, and their thousands of employees are beginning to be seriously concerned over the popularity in England of the daylight saving scheme. Big hours, representatives in London, have been informed that Parliament is expected to act favorably upon the report of its committee endorsing the scheme, and there is much concern over the confusion in arbitrage and other international transactions if the business hours of London are advanced nearer to sunrise. William Sherer, Manager of the New York Clearing House, told a reporter that the business dealings of the London Stock Exchange, New York Stock Exchange and Chicago Board of Trade were so interlocked that great confusion would surely arise if London put the saving scheme into effect before the United States took it up. "If confusion is to be avoided, New York and Chicago must follow London," said Mr. Sherer at the Clearing House today. "For my part, I would prefer to be at work at 7 and finish at 1 or even work from 8 to 12. There is no doubt that the cool hours after sunrise at this time of the year would be a great advantage to the country under less trying conditions. At present the New York Stock Exchange has the advantage of London's opening prices before the trading begins here, and similarly Chicago has the advantage of London's closing prices here before the day's trading opens there," continued Mr. Sherer. "If the difference in time between New York and London is arbitrarily lessened, the immensity of transactions between the two financial centers would undoubtedly cause much less until conditions were readjusted. If both financial capitals adopted the same scheme, the inevitable confusion would wear off in a few days. The necessity of changing the work-time schedules has commanded the attention of men in hundreds of administrative and executive positions, and they are appalled at the task. If the change is made universal, I think conditions will speedily adjust themselves," declared Manager Sherer. "At the Clearing House, for instance, the day's clearances would begin at 8 instead of 10 o'clock. If the day's checks and drafts could not all be put through heavy interest charges would be lost and gained."

THE STEAMSHIP TO BE BUILT

No man can at this moment say when the limit of size will be reached in the building of ocean liners. Extremely big and swift ships cannot be developed much beyond the present dimensions and speed unless their owners are willing to run them at a loss for the sake of advertising their lines or unless they are made commercially profitable through government subsidies. But ships of extreme size and moderate speed are possible of construction and even of profitable operation to an extent which would dwarf anything now upon the seas. The ocean greyhound 500 feet long is a terrific consumer of fuel. The mammoth of 1,000 feet sauntering across the Atlantic in eight days uses only a moderate amount by comparison. As the coal question is the chief restriction upon size we may as well sit back and watch the builders juggle with it until the day arrives when it shall be absolutely prohibitive upon further rivalry. And by that time maybe we shall have found some cheaper fuel that will help us to build ships whose bow will be able to touch Sandy Hook before the stern has quite passed the signal station at Nantucket—Brooklyn Eagle.

OH, WHAT A SURPRISE

Smith. — "I had the most singular thing happen to me the other day. I'd you ever go into a man's place to pay a bill you would find him and find him out?" Jones (emphatically).—"No, sir. Did that happen to you?" "It did. I had a notion, or rather, I moved myself up to it, to settle up some bills that I owed. So on my way up from the office I dropped in to see my fishmonger." "And he was out?" "Correct. Then I tried my grocer." "He was out?" "Right. Plenty of shopmen, but no proprietor. Of course, I left word that I called in to settle up, but wanted to see the proprietor first. Dispute about bills. Do you twig?" "Oh, yes, that strengthened your credit?" "Exactly. Then I called to see my butcher, and I'll be hanged if he wasn't out also." "By Jove! but you were in luck!" "No; I wasn't." "When I got home I found them all waiting for me!" Nearly 20,000 pounds of bread are daily eaten in the Sultan of Turkey's household.

EXPECT ANOTHER GRAIN BLOCKADE

TORONTO, July 9.—Strong fear is expressed in the west of another blockade in grain in the immediate future. Hot weather is bringing the crops along fast and it is expected that the barley will be ripe before harvesting is finished. The railways are blamed for waking up to the situation too late and are acting in a tardy manner even now. Western wholesalers are all buying heavily from the east now and already the bulkiness of the past has given place to activity that in certain lines is even now feverish. A report from Victoria, B. C., says James Dunsmyth will sell all his coal interests in Vancouver Island to a syndicate with which ex-Mayor Arthur of Winnipeg and Lake Washart of New York and several other New York capitalists are connected.

BERKESEFORD AND SCOTT.

The British Admiralty has a peculiar problem to deal with in the dispute between Sir Chas. Berkeford and Sir Percy Scott. The latter, who is Berkeford's cruiser squadron commander, is in some respects quite as able a man as his chief. He made a name for himself during the South African War where, in consequence of his remarkable ingenuity in handling naval guns on land operations, he won great credit. Admiral Berkeford had kept the Admiralty and has always been looked upon as a most competent officer. Both are hot tempered and liable to act hastily. There has been ill feeling between them for some years, and the British press has not taken sides in this dispute which has acted quite fairly towards either of the officers. The most recent incident reported was the disobedience by Scott of an order signalled by Berkeford while the Channel fleet was engaged in manoeuvres last week. In defence it is stated that had the order been obeyed a collision between the two larger ships would have resulted. This incident was dwelt upon by the British press and made more sensational than was necessary. Later advice indicates that the order in question was a mistake on the part of Berkeford and that this officer, realizing his error, promptly complimented Scott on his action in disregarding it. Such an acknowledgment was to have been expected from a British officer and will do much to restore good feeling between the two men. The dispute, however, has reached Parliament and Premier Asquith in reply to a question, stated that apart from unverified rumors the Government had no knowledge of the existence of any trouble. If reasons were found, he said, to indicate that a state of things existed in any way detrimental to the discipline and smooth working of the fleet, prompt and efficient action would be taken. Yesterday's advice was to the effect that Berkeford would in all likelihood resign and enter Parliament. This would be in a better position to criticize the Government's naval policy. This would indicate that while the dispute between Berkeford and Scott is deserving of attention, it is only an incident and that the real trouble is Berkeford's opposition to the naval policy now being pursued.

THE PICTOU COUNTY SNARL.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper was some years ago a Sunday school teacher in Pictou County. Then he fell from grace and became a politician, gaining a certain prestige because of the prominence of his father. He has lately been responsible for a mix-up in Pictou County, which has blasted the hopes of the sadly disgraced Conservative party there. Sir Hibbert, who is anxious to get back into federal politics, came east some months ago on a fishing trip for the Pictou nomination. Ostensibly he was to meet his son, who was returning from Europe, but as this took only a few minutes he was able to spend some weeks in meeting party leaders of the county. The result was apparent in a request by a section of that party to him to become a candidate. He promptly accepted, telling those supporters that Pictou County was the dearest place on earth to him, although he gladly left it, and he would rather accept it than any other constituency in which the might be honored. Back in Vancouver he was also asked to nominate. It would seem foolish to run in both counties and Sir Hibbert, who is nothing if not abnormally modest, decided that for the time being he would stick to Pictou. Quite recently he changed his mind, and without warning deserted his Nova Scotia friends and threw in his lot with the western people, a step which he should have taken long ago. That section of the Conservative party which in the first place manipulated the convention and had the nomination offered to Sir Hibbert, offended the majority of the party workers, who were desirous of selecting Mr. A. C. Bell as their candidate. Mr. Bell's friends have since been very sore and will not accept a man offered as a substitute for Sir Hibbert any more than they would accept that gentleman himself. The Tupper party called a convention which was held yesterday, but the dispute has not been patched up. The few party workers who were present nominated Mr. Charles E. Tanner who will not be acceptable to the Bell supporters. Mr. Tanner has had his eyes on the federal nomination for some time, being desirous of promotion from the provincial field in which he has of late been leader of the opposition. The Tupper faction and the hasty action of one section of the party have ruined Conservative chances.

A KNOCKER.

Strange what a difference money makes. Dr. Andrew McPhail, who is very fortunately married, lives in Montreal and has a home, not having chance to be the elect of fate, are satisfied to regard these provinces as the finest corner of God's green earth. Dr. McPhail, like some anxious politicians, fears that this country is going to the demolition bow-wows. He need not worry. The Maritime Provinces are getting along just as well since he left as they were before. They have met with misfortunes, but have pulled through and will continue to prosper. The population is not as large as it might be, but the deficit is easily accounted for by those hundreds of thousands who have gone west to create that grand country beyond the lakes. And it is to these eastern men and women, the ones who were not afraid of a new land, that Canada owes her present prosperity and to whom the remarkable development of the past score of years is due—not to the thousands of Europeans who have come across to make their fortunes, and not to those who declare that their home provinces are no good.

NEWFOUNDLAND LOBSTER FISHERY A FAILURE.

ST. JOHN'S, July 9.—The lobster fishery on the S. E. Coast and around Point Roche is the worst for some years. In the early part of the season it looked like a good fishery and for a couple of weeks the fishermen did well. Following poor catches were made and on June 18th a heavy breeze from the N. W. did more damage than has been recovered from. At the S. E. Coast hundreds of pots were destroyed and since, there has been an unprofitable fishery. From Cape Ray to Point Roche there was almost a complete destruction of gear, so much so that it will be almost impossible to replace it in the present season. Since the storm the lobster fishery has remained out in deep water, and those who have repaired their pots and reset them, have only met with failure. These conditions also apply to the S. E. Coast and at Garfish during last week, only 50 lobster were taken in 100 pots of a day's work.

BRITAIN'S MARINE STRENGTH.

Accompanying the list of vessels registered in Canada issued by the Department of Marine and Fisheries is a table from the Repertoire-General giving the number and tonnage of the vessels owned by the world's maritime countries. In its preparation the craft of colonies are included with those of their mother countries. The showing is somewhat remarkable. In the case of steamers the figures are:

Table with 2 columns: No. and tons. Rows include Great Britain, British, and All nations.

Great Britain and her colonies, there are, own more than half the steam tonnage of the world. With sailing vessels the foreigners do better, the figures being:

Table with 2 columns: No. and tons. Rows include Great Britain, British, and All nations.

Taking both classes, British vessels have a net tonnage of 12,015,633 out of a total of 27,569,038. The ownership of 48 per cent of the world's shipping, most of it held in the United Kingdom, is an evidence of commercial capacity that does not have superior anywhere.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY FOR THE MINERS

Second Reading of Bill Passes British Commons.

Coal Will Cost More — The Measure is Bitterly Opposed by the Unionists.

LONDON, July 9.—The House of Commons concluded the second stage of the old-age pension bill, which has been modified by the adoption of the sliding scale, the pension varying with the amount of the recipient's personal income. The second reading of the miners' eight-hour day bill was passed. This measure provides for an average daily employment of eight hours, with both winter and summer provisions for five years. At the end of five years the time will be reduced by one hour. According to the evidence before the Eight-hour Day Commission the average time taken in lowering a complete set of men from the bank to the bottom of the shaft is thirty minutes and the average time taken in raising them is fifty minutes. The men, therefore, stand to gain an average of forty minutes a day at the end of five years.

BILL BITTERLY OPPOSED.

The bill has given rise to many heated debates in Parliament and in the country. The Unionists have all along argued that it would, using a variety of arguments, chief of these is that it will mean dearer coal and dearer gas, and will thus dislocate the entire industrial machinery of the country. Coal, the Unionists say, will cost more and gas twice a thousand more than at present. They speak of class legislation, and say that for the sake of $6,000 miners a million iron workers are being fined, and a burden of one to two million dollars annually is being laid on the country's merchant marine, while the extra coal charges of the British railways will be between $20,000 and $1,400,000 each year. On the British manufacturers it is held that the effect of the bill will be to increase the cost of steam and electric power.

MAY BE COAL SHORTAGE.

A mine manager, writing on the question recently, stated that in some mines the coal face is so far from the miners but little over four hours' work below, as against the present work below, a very narrow margin of profit, would have to be abandoned. At most of the existing collieries are at present working at top strain to supply the demand there might be serious coal shortage. One of the collateral effects of the short hours will be more hurry, and consequently more waste of time. Another will be the displacement of the older men, who, though their staying power is great, cannot do the work in short shifts as the younger.

CONDITIONS WARRANT THE REFORM.

Mr. Herbert Gladstone, the Minister in charge of the bill, and Mr. Russell Ross, Chairman of the committee which has made an elaborate study of the whole question, both admit that the passing of the bill will cause a period of embarrassment to the country at large. But they state that the conditions of work underground are such as to justify special consideration. Speaking to the question in Parliament, Mr. Gladstone, while admitting that there would be a temporary contraction of output, said that the lessening of the output did not necessarily mean a disastrous rise in prices. There would be no difficulty in securing additional workers for the mines, as last year 48,000 men joined the collieries as underground workers. The reason for the bill was the health and welfare of the miners. The country had had a long time to prepare for this business, and had been working it for ten hours a day quite long enough.

LABOR MEN'S ATTITUDE.

The Labor members of Parliament, naturally ardent advocates of the bill, deny that the increased cost of coal will come anywhere near five shillings on the ton. In the contrary, it is more likely to be only three pence more at 48,000 men joined the collieries last year. They claim, also, that the discomfort of work in the mines owing to the temperature. A man cannot work nine hours a day in such conditions. He may remain below, but he cannot work.

NOT A CHUMP.

"The papers are afraid to say anything," sneered the first citizen. "Some people don't feel that way about it," replied the other. "Ever run for office?" "No, but I wrote a letter roasting some fellows that needed roasting, and the paper didn't print a line." "Did you sign your name?" "Certainly not. I've think I'm a chump."—Philadelphia Ledger.

PRaises SIR WILFRID La Patrie Appreciates the Premier and His Work.

Sees No Sign of Loss of Prestige in Quebec—Vote for Bourassa Was Not in Opposition to Government.

MONTREAL, July 9.—La Patrie has come out with a highly eulogistic article on Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his work. Speaking of the Canadian statesman Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Bourassa, La Patrie says:—"In certain circles, especially those of the success of Mr. Henri Bourassa on the 8th of June was a sign of prestige by the Federal Premier in this Province. We cannot admit this view. We have direct knowledge that numbers of electors put faith in Mr. Bourassa's declarations, made in several speeches, that he had no quarrel with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and in the inscription at the head of his programme that he was determined to keep Federal and Provincial matters separate. In conclusion La Patrie asserts its belief that Mr. Bourassa will take no part in the coming Federal elections, although it is open to suppose that the Federal arena will eventually have an irresistible fascination for him.

A REVOLVING HOUSE To be Built for New York Jeweller.

Owner Wants to be Able to Change the View From a Room, and to Swing Rooms Round.

NEW YORK, July 9.—A house that will turn around and around to suit the desire of the occupants is probably the most recent thing in domestic construction, but Clarence Tru, an architect, of 35 Liberty street, has announced that he has been considering the problem involved and expected shortly to begin drawing the plans. The house, he says, will be built at Little Neck, Long Island, for William Reisman, a Jeweller, of 325 Fifth Avenue, who for several years has wished for just such a summer home.

"Prior to my decision to build," said Mr. Reisman, "I made some experiments on the matter and found that such a house was entirely practicable. I don't regard it as a feat, but as a piece of common sense. I can see no reason for being roared at or chilled in certain rooms of the house when other parts, besides, there is the advantage of changing the view of the room by swinging the house around. In the hot months the living rooms, for instance, can be shifted to the point of the compass from which the wind is blowing at the moment."

Mr. Tru, the architect, explained that the house will be round or octagonal in shape and will be built on a railway turntable. The motive power will probably be electricity and the house will be mounted on ball bearings the idea is to have it swing about with almost no noise or jar. In the case of the plumbing, the connection between the pipes and the main lines in the cellar. The cost of the house exclusive of the land, will be about $35,000, it is estimated.

TO RECEIVE "MINERS' V. C."

Richard Merriman, a Notts miner, residing at Shirebrook, has been recommended for the Edward medal for his services in the Shirebrook Colliery, Notts, last year. It appears that a strand in one of the conductors which pass through the shafts attached to the pit cage became entangled, thereby causing the cage to tilt. Three of the fourteen occupants were pitched out, and killed. Had it not been for Merriman, who, with great daring, seized the catches on the cage, all the others must have met with a similar fate.

Wedge in a sitting posture, and expecting every moment to be hurled down the shaft, Merriman clutched the catches with both hands. Though two comrades were hurled upon him causing a fracture of his thigh, he held the catches for two hours, during which period his comrades were rescued.

As the result of his bravery, Merriman has lost the use of both hands, and the injury to his thigh has forced him to use crutches. He is unable to do any kind of work.

A WARNING TO ANTIQUE COLLECTORS

Supplementing the consular report from Belgium one year ago, warning American tourists against the purchase in Europe of so-called 'antiques'...

FORGED ANTIQUES

'Rare old-period furniture, given the gloss and appearance of age by constant rubbing with bone and pumice stone; old hand-tooled copper plates, which has not been made since 1840, a most favorite article of deception, over one thousand pieces of which have been lately examined without finding half a dozen genuine specimens...

THE COLLECTING PASSION

'The first delusion to be got over in the matter of collecting, or the actual love of antique objects is something peculiar to the people of the United States, who are supposed to put greater store upon the possession of such things than is common abroad. This is a misconception.

THINGS OF VALUE

Remember we love children and flowers and sunshine, but we should hardly say we regarded either with respectful admiration. I often wonder if, when women carry out their ambition and prove themselves 'worthy of respect,' we shall love them half as well.

TO ERR IS HUMAN

Here, then, I come to my plea for life's little follies. If we become perfectly wise, if all our actions are instinct with common sense, if we are always looking before we leap, and insist on getting dollar for every dollar we spend we must quite obviously become dull, and life is not so much fun as it is to be human, and it is a wise providence that provides that all perfect children shall die when very young.

BUY THE NEW.

'Beware of buying Robert Burns chairs and Mary Queen of Scots tables, and all such things. It is said to say that they are spurious. Beware especially of cheaply plated; it is practically all modern, or old pieces plated over, which completely destroys its value as an antique.

WESTVILLE, N. S., July 9.—At the Conservative convention held here today, Charles E. Tanner, M. P. E., leader of the opposition in the Nova Scotia Legislature, was nominated to contest Pictou county at the next federal election. Mr. Tanner accepted the nomination.

FOLLY THE HALL MARK OF HUMANITY

There is a popular ballad in which a gentleman sings that he loves a certain lady because she is perfect. One does not seek wisdom in the verses of popular songs, but this particular verse is strikingly foolish even for a ballad.

RESPECT NOT LOVE

Think of the very best man you know—the man of equable temper and a just mind, the man able to copy the garbling, not to say glaring, habits of the village blacksmith since he possesses no creditors, the man who is diligent in business, who pays his income-tax readily and to the uttermost farthing—who is, indeed, in all respects a worthy and upright citizen.

THINGS MEN DID FOR

Consider this. No man has ever laid down his life for any cause that had the remotest connection with common sense. Men have never died to popularize a rational diet (many have died from experimenting with it) or a reformed sanitary system. Even the testator has never gone to the stake rather than deny himself gingerbeer.

THINGS MEN DID FOR

Finally, children love foolish people, and they love wise people only when they are being foolish. The philosopher loves his portrait, and the philosopher makes grimaces on looking at the colic in divine. Folly is thus crowned by the ages.

STORY OF A PLOTTING CHINAMEN

A remarkable work in Chinese recently fell into the hands of a missionary in South China. It is anonymous, and purports to be an account of the life of Hsu Hai-lin, who assassinated the Governor of Anhui last year.

STANDARD OF REVOLT

He then studied for a few months in Japan and finally returned to the province of Anhui, where the Governor, Hsu Ming, soon came to regard him as his right hand man. While enjoying the favor and patronage of the Governor Hsu was organizing a plan to raise the standard of revolt and sweep the Manchus rulers out of China.

GOVERNOR KILLED

The Viceroy at Nanking got wind of the secret importance of arms by Hsu's followers and wrote to the Governor ordering him to make every effort to suppress the smuggling of weapons.

Two Women

By JEANNETTE I. HELM.

She had been lying there awake for some time watching the dawn creep grayly in through the window, bringing one familiar object after another with prints tacked upon them, the table of medicine bottles, her bed, and finally the bed of her neighbor opposite. She turned her head slowly and looked across. The occupant of the bed was sleeping with her face turned toward her, and she looked at it with a new interest after the night's weary vigil.

"Please forgive me for asking — I didn't know," she said. "It doesn't matter," the woman said wearily. "Only you see I have reason for what I said." "You have been through a terrible experience indeed," said the girl, looking at her with a deep pity in her soft eyes. "But it is all exceptional, one, I know it must be. It would kill me to think that he—that all men were so heartless and cruel!" "I hope you will never have occasion to think so," said the woman, with an involuntary softening of her hard tone. "Keep in your paradise as long as you can. You can never get back again once it is lost, that I assure you."

recoll, and the girl watched her with half-hurt wonderment at her silence. "Don't think me," she said at last in a breath, choked voice. "And don't thank him. Thank yourself for all that you have, get well, and be happy in your paradise." She lay back again on the pillow with a sudden relaxing of her grim self-control that told how it had been shaken. The man's face flushed for a moment and then paled as abruptly. He made a step toward the bed. "Are you—do you mean—" he asked hoarsely. Her eyes burned him with their scorn. She had gained control of herself once more.

John Speredakes has been reported by the police for allowing Speredas Zelarinas, a young Greek, to remain about his pool room on Market street. The police have had considerable trouble with the young fellow, who, despite the orders of the court, runs away from Peter Petropoulos, his guardian.

In the police court this morning Geo. A. Henderson presided in the absence of Magistrate Ritchie, who is in Halifax. Three drunks were before the court and each was fined four dollars. Two of the defendants were sober, but a third, who had been out on a post, obtained another tag and had all he could do to face the magistrate and get fined.

The death occurred this morning at the Ottawa Hotel of Fred W. Hamilton, son of the late John Hamilton, in the forty-sixth year of his age. Mr. Hamilton had been for some time a resident in New York, where he conducted an agency business, but being in poor health he returned three weeks ago to St. John. He was unmarried and is survived by two brothers, Ross Hamilton, of the post office, and Charles W. Hamilton, in Colorado, and one sister, Miss Emma Hamilton, now in St. John. The funeral will be held at 3 p. m. on Sunday from the Ottawa Hotel to Fernhill.

A serious accident came very near happening one day last week when T. J. Carter in his car, accompanied by Miss Lena Zaird, Dr. Mercereau, of Cranbrook, a guest of Senator Baird's, and W. Spike, started for Aroostook street. When a short distance from Anderson in going up a hill the auto stopped. Mr. Carter got out to fix it, tell the other occupants to remain in their seats and he would have it right in a minute. While he was working the machine suddenly began to back down hill, and turning into the side hill overturning and breaking the machine, and throwing the occupants out, fortunately without injury.—Victoria Co. FAITHFUL SERVICE COMES TO AN END

Rev. J. W. Millidge Closes a Rectorship of 30 Years

Has Seen Five New Churches Built—Officiated at Many Ceremonies—To Live in St. John.

(St. Croix Courier.)

The moral and spiritual life of Charlotte County suffers a material loss in the departure of Rev. J. W. Millidge, who is retiring from the active ministry to make his home in St. John.

It was in January, 1879, after the parish had been vacant for two years that Rev. Millidge succeeded Rev. M. Walnwright as rector of St. David, and the intervening years have been filled with faithful and devoted ministrations to the flock entrusted to his kindly care.

When Mr. Millidge came here it was to labor to two congregations, one at St. David and one at St. Patrick, but since then his field has been extended to St. James and to Greenwood Bethel, near St. George.

He has seen five new church edifices erected, viz. St. David's on Bay Road, Church of the Ascension at Tower Hill, Church of the Annunciation at Beacomfield, Church of the Transfiguration at Raynor's Corner, and one at Boca-bee nearing completion.

During his pastorate he has baptised five hundred and seventy-one persons, married one hundred and twenty-nine persons and officiated at three hundred and ninety-eight burials.

His presence was a welcome one in seasons of festivity or of sorrow, and no efforts for the comfort or the pleasure of his people was too great a sacrifice to him. He was a man of a cheerful and unobtrusive character, and the care of a parish so scattered, involving long drives often made of necessity an unpleasant task.

But the care of a parish so scattered, involving long drives often made of necessity an unpleasant task. Mr. Millidge has deemed it best to leave the present time. His decision was learned with deep regret not only by those entrusted directly to his care, but by all the members of the community, and this sentiment is shared by his faithful flock in life and the family that has grown up around them.

Rev. Mr. Millidge held his closing services on Sunday last, preaching on Tower Hill in the morning, Old Ridge in the afternoon, and at the Bay Road in the evening, and all the services were largely attended. His closing address will be published in full in our next issue.

Mr. Millidge and family left yesterday for St. John where they are to occupy the old Millidge homestead on Rockland Road. The best wishes of all the people follow them.

MORE HORSES ARRIVE FOR THE MARITIME CIRCUIT

Artillery Inspection is to Take Place Next Week, Beginning on Tuesday Evening.

On Saturday of next week the St. John militiamen who are to take part in the centenary celebration will leave for Quebec. It is estimated that upwards of three hundred will go from this city, this number being composed of all members of the 68th Regiment who can arrange to attend, and a composite company of one hundred men chosen from the three battalions of the artillery. The infantrymen will be under command of Lieut.-Col. Edwards, while Captain S. B. Smith will command the artillery contingent. This composite company is requested to meet at the drill hall at nine o'clock this evening. All members who want to go to Quebec will either be on hand or send their names to Captain Smith.

The annual inspection of the artillery will take place here on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week and will be conducted by Col. Benson, commandant of the R. S. A. of Quebec. On Tuesday evening there will be muster parade and infantry drill. On Wednesday evening the batteries will be inspected in gun drill, and both direct and indirect firing. On Thursday evening the officers and non-commissioned officers will be put through their examinations.
