

The Rector's Daughter.

CHAPTER I.

The rapid shade of an October evening, borrowing deeper gloom from the wilderness of the adjacent Tipperary mountains, was falling over the lonely town of Clogheen, within whose classic precincts took place that important meeting between Sergeant Snop and Paddy Carey, which has been recorded immortally in song. Forty years ago, (of which period we are about to write,) when roads were not as good, travellers as adventurous, and markets as abundant as at present Clogheen was a smart, or, as the Itinerary of that day has it, "a thriving place with a decent church," boasting a comfortable inn and several hucksters' shops, where every variety of merchandise, from brandy and linen to hand-saws and halfpenny whistles.

In a double-countered shop, (for the appliances for the inward creature were sold on one side, and those for the outward man at another,) in one of the handsomest houses of the town—where a double story, slated roof and a sign-board with a red splash in the middle, and the characters "General Hutchinson," underneath, was the standard of excellence—on the evening in question stood Curly Cahill, spirit retailer, and, according to the sign-board just quoted,—"dealer in soft goods, butter, leather, iron, eggs, and tobacco," busily engaged in serving a customer.

Beautiful baflity, Miss, said Curly a dapper middle-aged worthy, his short black hair combed slick over his low forehead, with a face half smooth, half smirking, and—for the little fellow pretended to no small degree of sanctimony—his person dressed neatly in black, as closely as possible to resemble the fashion just imported by the new Cofuther from Maynooth.

Beautiful baflity, Miss, said Curly, fit for any lady from this to Knocklilly, let alone for servants' wear, an' only tenpence-half penny a yard. It's giving it away I am.

It does not seem a very good colour, said the purchaser in a musical voice.

Is it the colour? Take your hand over it, astore, said the dextrous merchant; a bleaching ground would look yellow an' that purty hand to the fore. An' here, Padeen, bring a candle—an' turn out them dogs, you sir, an' bould the half dure, till Miss Tyrell sees the goods—Now, Miss, he said, when the light was brought and his beaute obeyed, clapping his hand in fond emphasis on the bale as he unrolled it wider along the counter, there's an article—that I may be happy if I'd wish finer for my windin' sheet; only to be sure, a body would like that to be linen, an' go to the grave decent. Yew! what need you be so very particular for servants?

I really do not like the calico, Mr. Cahill, hesitated the lady, and, papa—

You don't see it, Miss interrupted Curly;—push back them darlin' locks of yours that's sweepin' the counter, and I'll be bound the goods'll be at the Glebe afore an hour; and as he spoke he playfully, but with great respect and tender fingers, lifted aside some of the masses of golden hair that dropped above, and as he truly insinuated, in some measure overshadowed the good quality of his merchandise.

Curly, you are a sad old flatterer, said the young lady, and she impatiently raised her head, and shaking back its weight of ringlets, exposed a fair high forehead and beautifully oval face to view. I find it always difficult to deal with you; however, she added with a smile, the better way, perhaps, is to send up the whole piece to the Glebe to-morrow, and I shall then be able to judge of it.

Ah, then, that I may be soon sellin' you weddin' sheets, Miss Katey, said the successful shop keeper, as he rolled up the bale and pushed it to the end of the counter; and, he added in a very different tone, modulated to the lowest key of suppleness and deference, shure that 'ould be to-morrow, if you take my advice, an' were kind an' three hearted to the one you know—

Yes, indeed, half ironically half regretfully murmured the young lady, as she drew down her veil and prepared to depart, but was stayed by a prognostication from Curly, who pledged nothing less than his hand an' word to her, that she'd break the heart of the anonymous individual staid to, afore long, if she didn't take care!

"Twas when the men we goin' to work at broad daylight this mornin', Miss, I hear him in the next room to me, at slip to bed after sittin' up the night readin' them books an' songs, an' thinkin', that you'd deludid' the poor fellow's senses with—ache—

Oh! that reminds me, said the warden, producing a small volume from the folds of her cloak; I will just leave this book with my compliments. He is, of course, she carelessly observed, not now at home?

Just took a short stick in his hand an' went out for a solitary walk by himself, poor fellow, down by the Shuire. 'Tis the only time of the day he likes for walkin'.

The time of the night, you mean, Curly, said the girl, with a laugh, glad to shake off a certain air of embarrassment she felt by affected gaiety. Tell him he should keep better hours; though upon my word, as she prepared to face the darkening twilight, I don't set him a very good example myself.—Good evening.

The best of evenin's to you, a cushla, said Mr. Cahill, as he bolted the shop-door after her. The tribe-deavourin' parson's daughter, he muttered, as he turned in and prepared to roll up his goods to be forwarded to the Glebe next morning; an' for all, she's a darlin' herself, and a blessin' to every one that's about her—but her murderin' father! Here, Padeen!—Padeen, I say.

Kate Tyrell was the spoiled child of an indulgent parent. Her father, the Rev. Edward Tyrell, was rector of the parish in which our story lies. A man whose disposition, naturally soft and affectionate, had in the course of years, become sharp and irritable, from the long series of petty vexations he had been subjected to in his efforts to collect the unsatisfactory revenues of his incumbency, from as ingeniously obstinate a set of parishioners as were to be found in the most litigation-loving island in the world. The district of country, too, in which Mr. Tyrell's lot had fallen, although sufficiently fertile and wealthy, was, of all others, from its situation at the foot of the high and sterile tract of the Kilworth mountains, (then the favourite resort of highwaymen and fugitives from the law,) with the gloomy range of the Gaultees to the north, and on its southern edge the long and lonely Comeragh hills, that divided it from Waterford the most unfavourable to passing a life of quiet plenty and security. When to this it is added, that from the scanty number of gentry the Government of the day deemed it prudent to entrust with the commission of the peace, in self-defence he was obliged to be a magistrate, an office which not unfrequently compelled him to be complainant, counsel, and convicting justice in his own cause, some idea may be formed of the difficulties and vexations the Vicar of Clogheen had to encounter in the collection of those tithes from which his income was principally derived. Notwithstanding, during twenty or five and twenty years of his incumbency, if his temper did not progress towards improvement his fortune did. By an ample dowry received with his wife, and exact economy and prudence, he had been enabled, from time to time, to make a considerable purchase in land; until at length Mr. Tyrell was accounted if not the most popular, at least one of the most prosperous clergymen from Dummaway to the Devil's Bit. He had become a widower early in life, and around his daughter Katey, the sole offspring of his marriage, those sympathies and affections which were denied vent in every other quarter, were concentrated in a lavish and inexhaustible flood. A few years of mother's superintendence—some attempts at home education, (for he would not trust her from his sight,) in the shape of a little petticoated rebel, who would be taught nothing, and a sickly governess who had nothing to teach—girlhood of romance reading, riding rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few persons were desirous of travelling alone in that neighbourhood; but Katey trod her path in perfect security. Wayward and innocent, however, as she was, Katey, on the evening in question, had not, without a motive, dispensed with the companionship of the staid female domestic who usually attends young ladies in Ireland when they are necessitated to go out shopping after dinner by themselves. It might be for this reason, that she hastened home; and with more anxiety than usual, alighting rough shod with her cousin, Lysaght Osborne, and rambling among the peasantries—and we have the result of the clergyman's fondness and folly in the wild, lively blue-eyed maiden of nineteen, now wending her way along the dim and elm-darkened road leading from the town of Clogheen to her father's mansion, nearly a mile away. Even in the early part of an autumn evening few

European Intelligence.

[From Wiener and Smith's European Times, July 19.]

DOMESTIC SUMMARY.

During the last few days Ireland has occupied a prominent place in the public mind, in consequence of some disturbances arising out of the Orange processions of 12th of July. Arrangements were made, and it appears from all accounts, and even from the admission of Mr. O'Connell, that in the actual collision the Orangemen only acted as all men, under the circumstances, would have done. The conduct of the Roman Catholics in being the aggressors was, Mr. O'Connell declares, such as to disintegrate them to "any sympathy or support from the Repealers." The correspondents of the Radical papers, of course, declare the mob to have been "solely composed of women and children." It so happens, however, as in the case of all other Catholic mobs, "solely composed of women and children," that the shots of the Protestants brought down grown men at each discharge. A "Liberal Protestant," writing to the Freeman's Journal, acknowledges that it is said that shots were fired "before the Orangemen retaliated."

Letters and journals from New Zealand, of the 13th March, bring most painful accounts of the destruction of the British settlement at the Bay of Islands by a large body of the aborigines, including the whole of the property of the European inhabitants, who have been driven in a state of complete destitution to seek refuge in Auckland. The details of this calamity will be found in another column. The settlers, reinforced by 50 soldiers and a handful of seamen and marines from her Majesty's ship Hazard, amounting altogether to some 150 persons, appear to have made a gallant resistance, and but for the blowing up of the magazine, in which the whole of their ammunition was deposited, might possibly have beaten off their assailants. This accident, however, compelled them to retreat on board ship. The loss of life on the side of the Europeans is stated at five killed and fifteen wounded, that of the natives is believed to have not fallen short of 70 men. The town is altogether in the possession of the natives into whose hands upwards of £30,000 of property is supposed to have fallen. The conduct of Captain Robinson, of the Queen's ship Hazard, is spoken of in terms of unqualified admiration. At the head of 30 men, he beat back a force of 400 armed savages, and did not finally give up the contest until he had received six or seven bullets in different parts of his body. The notion of maintaining a colony overrun by 120,000 savages well skilled in the art of war, with 100 soldiers, can no longer be entertained.

COMMERCIAL SUMMARY.

Trade in every department continues brisk. The London markets have been literally supplied with all descriptions of produce since this day week yet former rates, in nearly every instance, are well supported; the demand from the home trade has been good, they still considering that they cannot do without getting well stocked at present moderate rates. The export purchases made have been larger than for some time, and in articles for manufacturers' use the operations are upon a more extended scale, but not at higher rates. The arrivals of produce are to a small extent only during the past week, whereas the deliveries have been very extensive. A great number of public sales are declared. From all parts of manufacturing districts the accounts are very satisfactory for trade. Money is yet plentiful, and the rate of interest is low, the best bills being 2 1/2 per cent.

In Liverpool the demand for Cotton has been good, and higher prices are now realized than when the last steamer sailed.

STATE OF IRELAND.

The Dublin Evening Mail, of Wednesday last, has the following on the condition of the country:

"It earnestly and most seriously demands the attention of our readers and of the English press and people to the dangerous situation of the country. These are not the communications of correspondents or reporters; these are not the gleanings of gossip, nor the unbecoming of rumours; they are the deliberate and solemn acts of grand jurors and of magistrates—faithfully and fearfully representing to the head of the executive the lawless and terrible state of the country, proving to demonstration the utter uselessness of the ordinary administration of the law for the protection of life or property, and praying humbly, as respectful men and as loyal subjects, that they may be permitted to enjoy the incomes honestly accruing from their estates, and that their lives may be preserved from the murderous hand of the ruthless and reckless assassin. In this petition Roman Catholics join with Protestants for the respectability of all parties are equally interested in the administration of the law, and the maintenance of order."

"The first document to which we shall direct public attention is the address from the county of Longford—the county first assembled on the circuit—one written in a spirit of truth, and couched in terms of moderation impressive and effective; and presenting an example to other counties which we trust all hope will be universally followed."

LONGFORD.

"To his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant. We the undersigned magistrates and gentlemen, assembled on the Grand Jury of the county of Longford, beg leave to call the attention of your Excellency to the state of this and the neighbouring counties."

"From our personal knowledge of the peasantry of Longford, we are confident that they are in the main a well disposed and orderly people. But we have reason to fear, that being scattered over the country in solitary houses, easily burnt or broken open, they are too much exposed to the power of any secret society of lawless young men, who may combine to carry out their own ends by a system of terrorism."

"Now, it is notorious that the Ribbonmen, or Molly Maguires, as they are called, have lately entered into this peaceable county from the side of Leitrim; and we have every reason to fear that what has appeared in Carrigrohane, to the spreading amongst our people of this confederacy of assassins."

"It appears to us that the ordinary powers of the law are quite inadequate at present to repress crime in the county of Leitrim, which is literally in the possession of the peasantry, who have quite interrupted the ordinary course of business. Neither landlords nor agents dare to demand the rents legally due, and it is impossible to carry the civil law into effect without assistance of a military force. Numbers of the better class of farmers are living in a state of siege in their houses, and are afraid to proceed to fairs or markets on their lawful business from fear of assassination. These are the facts which we can prove when we are called upon. Though the assizes and quarter sessions present light, and a reign of terror prevails over the country; and even when the police have been able to detect and apprehend offenders, the witnesses dare not come forward, and the jurors, if any evidence be found, dare not convict."

"We therefore, beg to lay before your Excellency our earnest petition, that either by some of the extraordinary powers which the constitution has placed at the disposal of the Irish Executive, or by application to parliament before the close of the present session, the county of Leitrim, and such other districts as have gone beyond the control of ordinary law, be subjected to military law, or some regulations of equal stringency."

"We are convinced that this measure would meet the approbation of the great body of respectable persons of all parties both in the disturbed counties and in the rest of Ireland generally, and would succeed in suppressing the present disorders, and in preventing the spread of disorganization, with far less loss both of money and life than some likely to follow from the course at present pursued, which exposes the police and military to excessive annoyance and fatigue, without much result, except the ridicule of those who commit their force out rages almost in their presence."

"We might add that, if required, we firmly believe the signature of a very large part of the Roman Catholic clergy and of the landholders of this county would be affixed to our petition."

"This is an awful description. Is it true? Its veracity is vouched for by the signatures of the High Sheriff and nineteen Grand Jurors of every shade of party, politics, and religion. Two Roman Catholic gentlemen are amongst the memorialists. It is, however, our duty in candour to state, that two other members of the grand inquest—Sir Percy Nugent and Mr. O'Farrell, both of the same religion—refused to sign the document—the former having first, as we understand, actually affixed his name thereto, which he subsequently erased—but there it stands as we have described it, accurately and truly. The same paper further states:

"STATE OF CAVAN."

"Having devoted an article elsewhere to the consideration of Ireland in general, we feel called upon to say a few words in respect to this ill-fated county in particular. Disorder and outrage continue to prevail, and are augmenting in this peaceable district. Threatening notices are served on all the proscribed but loyal Protestant gentry, and upon those exclusively, while the solemn occasion of the assizes did not prevent the service of those foreboding intimations upon members of the grand jury then aiding the judges of the land in the administration of the law. Meanwhile, insurgent regiments of the armed peasantry parade their forces, and march from point to point, filling the peaceable and well disposed inhabitants with dread, and setting all law, civil and military, at open defiance. In our last we detailed, from the evidence of an eye-witness, the appearance, armament, and conduct of one of these insurgent masses; and we have now to report the encounter of a detachment of that body with a party of the constabulary by whom they were defeated, with the loss of one man killed and three taken prisoners. We give it on the authority of our own correspondent, who, we can assure the public, is a gentleman not only of the strictest veracity, but who has access to the most authentic information upon every point which he handles. His letter, dated Cavan, 15th July, 1845, says—

"Part of the armed band, or which mention was made in your last, came into collision with the police about twelve o'clock, at Lavey, about five miles from Cavan. The police stationed in that neighbourhood, hearing the shouts and yells, and occasional firing of shots, left their barracks for the purpose of patrolling in the direction, and from whence the noise proceeded. On arriving at a place called Lacken, they saw a large body of men marching towards them in military order, carrying pikes and pitchforks. The police, six in number, concealed themselves behind the wall of a house. When a portion of this body had passed them, one of them was heard to exclaim, 'Now is the time, boys, to throw off the yoke.' The police then rushed out and made three prisoners, two of them carried pitchforks, and one a pole. The police then retreated with their prisoners, closely pursued by the mob, shouting to each other, to rescue the prisoners. They repeatedly warned the people in God's name to stand back, as they would not give up the prisoners but with their lives. The multitude still pressing upon them, and seeing that they must be overpowered, and their lives sacrificed; one of the police fired, and a man fell. The mob then drew back, and the police arrived in safety at their barracks. The wounded man died in six hours afterwards. An inquest was held yesterday, but adjourned until to-morrow. The greatest excitement prevails."

"Another Case of Firing on the People by the Police, in Ireland—Another case has occurred of the police firing upon the people; and, although no death has in this instance been the result, the conduct of the police appears to have been very unjustifiable. It appears that a number of persons were returning on Sunday, from a bonfire at the residence of a gentleman in the neighbourhood of Granard, who took pleasure in seeing the people enjoy themselves after labour, when one of a large family, was shot. An investigation into the circumstances took place before the magistrates assembled in petty sessions, at Granard, on Thursday. The principal fact that came out in the examination was, that Sub-constables Murray and Marley were riding in a car from Arragh to Granard, that when they came up to a number of persons, six or seven, who were endeavouring to persuade the Orangemen that they should abstain also from party processions on the 12th. In Monaghan, the question was discussed in a meeting of the Grand Lodge. After a long deliberation, the meeting was polled, when 62 voted for and 16 against a procession."

"Orange Procession—The 1st of July passed off without any attempt on the part of the Orangemen to celebrate it by processions, and there was no breach of the peace. Improving the occasion, the Earl of Roden published a letter, in which he endeavored to persuade the Orangemen that they should abstain also from party processions on the 12th. In Monaghan, the question was discussed in a meeting of the Grand Lodge. After a long deliberation, the meeting was polled, when 62 voted for and 16 against a procession."

"The Twelfth of July—Fatal Conflict.—It will be learned with regret that the second July anniversary has not passed over without bloodshed and loss of life. A desperate conflict took place in the city of Armagh between the antagonist parties, which ended in the death of one man, and several others, men and women, receiving severe wounds. It is admitted on all hands, if such can be palliation for these dreadful scenes, that the Roman Catholics were the aggressors in the first instance."

[From the Telegraph Extra, of July 30.]
Great Conflagration!
Between Forty Five and Fifty Buildings Destroyed!!

ST. JOHN, July 30.

It gave us great pain to announce another of those destructive conflagrations which have of late years visited our city. Last night, sometime between ten and eleven o'clock, of course after tea had left their stores for the night, a fire was discovered between Mr. Nesbit's blacksmith's shop and the chandlery store of Mr. John Walker, corner of Ward street and Peters' Wharf. Some think it commenced in the former and communicated to some oakum in the latter; while others assert that Mr. Nesbit's shop on being broken into, although full of smoke, exhibited no marks of fire; but however this may be, it extended there, in spite of every possible effort to prevent it in all directions.

No efforts were spared by the citizens of all classes, joining heartily together in endeavours to arrest the progress of this most dangerous element, which lately seems to have set human prudence and foresight at naught—the two great fires at Quebec, that at New York, and now in this St. John, followed each other in succession at short intervals. The firemen of the city and neighbourhood exerted themselves in the most praiseworthy manner. It was really fearful to see them among the fiery materials, as if they were so many valiant volunteers.

If it had not been for the brick built houses where the fire was ultimately arrested on the West side of Prince William Street, not even the almost superhuman efforts of the firemen could have prevented it from communicating to the East side of the street, and if it had caught there, there is no calculating how far it would have spread. Although the brick building belonging to W. H. Street, Esq., and faced with freestone, and occupied by Mr. Ketchum, was burnt, yet the walls kept the fire from heating the opposite side, and thus by efforts it was saved.

If it were not for the late rainy weather which had soaked all the outside wood work, the evil would have been still greater than it has been, great as that is. Considerable quantities of merchandise were removed on the appearance of the fire, but doubtless great losses sustained nevertheless; by damage from water and other causes.

The following is a hurried list of the Houses destroyed, and now smoking in smouldering ruins, dismal to behold. We condole deeply with those friends who have thus lost their property, and been placed in such distressing circumstances.

Peters' Wharf—North Side.
A Blacksmith's Shop, occupied by Wm. Nesbit; a three story house, occupied by J. Walker, Esq., as a Warehouse.

A Three story house, belonging to Peter McNamara, and occupied by him as a Boarding House and Liquor store.

A Three story house, belonging to Hon. C. I. Peters, Esq., and occupied by W. Breeze, and others.

Peters' Wharf—North Side.
Ten or Twelve Three story Houses, occupied by Mr. Nichols as a Blacksmith's Shop, Mr. James Whitney as a Counting Room and Warehouse, Mr. Rhodes as a Warehouse, Messrs. Eaton & Ray, as Warehouse, Mr. G. Ray as a Sail Loft, Mr. Murphy as a Boarding House and Liquor Store, Mr. Mitchell as General Warehouse, and also two or three other Houses, occupied as Warehouses.

Water Street—West Side.
A small house occupied as a Cooperage, and another small house occupied by W. Holman as a Block Maker's Shop; and a small house occupied by W. Crozier, as a Grocery Store, (this building was pulled down, in order to prevent the flames from extending to the South Market Wharf). A three story house on the Northern corner of Peters' Wharf and Water Street, occupied by Mr. Henry Hawkins as an Auction Room and Mr. Scribner as a Clothing Store.

A Three story house on the South corner of Peters' Wharf and Water Street, occupied by Hugh Toole as a Clothing Store, John Hammond, Esq., as a Counting Room and Warehouse, and M. Hayden as a Hair Cutting Establishment, and a small shop occupied by A. Lordy as a Cooperage.

Johnston's Wharf.
Five or six three story Houses occupied chiefly as Offices and Warehouses, by Messrs. John Wishart, Wm. Hughson and others, and a Sail Loft occupied by Mr. R. Ray, together with several other Houses near the wharf landing.

East side of Water Street.
A three story Brick House, occupied by W. H. Street, Esq., as a wine store; a three story house belonging to Thos. Sandall, and occupied as a store; a three story house occupied by James Finn as a liquor store and dwelling; a three story house, occupied by E. Stephen as a tin warehouse and shop; a three story house occupied by John Bowes as a clothing store; a three story house occupied by Jas. Olson as a shop and dwelling.

Prince William Street—West Side.
A three story Brick House, occupied by Chas. Ketchum as a dry good store; a three story house, not occupied, belonging to D. Aukley, Esq.; a three story house, lately occupied by James Burrill as a dry good store; a three story house owned by Mrs. Williamson, and occupied by Mr. Leitch as a music store, and W. B. Kinnear and R. L. Hazen, Esquires, as lawyers offices, and the Herald printing office; a three story house, belonging to the estate of the late W. P. Ranney, and occupied by J. G. Sharp as a confectionary establishment and dwelling; a three story house, owned and occupied by Wm. Major as a hair dressing establishment.

The Three story brick building, belonging and occupied by Mr. D. McMillan as a Book and Stationery Warehouse, was several times on fire, but happily was extinguished.

THE STANDARD.

ST. ANDREWS, WEDNESDAY, AUG. 6, 1845.

Charlotte County Bank.
Hon. Hannys Martin, President.

Director next week—George B. Street.
T. B. Wilson, Esq., Solicitor.

Discount Day—TUESDAY.
Hours of Business, from 10 to 2.

Bills and Notes for Discount must be lodged with the Cashier, on or before Monday, otherwise they must be over until next week.

Arms and Work House.
Commissioners—R. M. Andrews, R. Walton, C. A. Babcock, Thos. Turner, John Bailey.

Saint Stephens Bank.
G. D. King Esq., President.

Director next week—G. D. King, Esq.
Discount Day—SATURDAY.

Hours of business, from 10 to 1.
Bills and Notes for Discount must be lodged with the Cashier, on or before Friday, otherwise they must remain in his hands until the following discount day.

LATEST DATES.

Liverpool,—July 19
London,—July 18
Edinburgh,—July 17
Paris,—July 17
Toronto,—July 24

Montreal,—July 24
Quebec,—July 24
Halifax,—July 25
New York,—July 25
Boston,—July 25

ARRIVAL OF THE ### CAMBRIA.

The R. M. Steamer Cambria, arrived at Halifax, on the 29th July, in the remarkable short passage of nine days and twelve hours, altho' she was detained several hours in the fog—making the shortest passage on record. The news is generally important. Business continued good—and the Timber market maintained previous prices. There were some disturbances in Ireland—the Grand Jury of Longford had petitioned the Lord Lieutenant, praying for Martial Law.

Parliamentary business was drawing to a close, and it was expected that the protogation would take place early in August.

The Cotton Market in Liverpool has risen.

Every description of manufactured Iron has reduced upwards of 20 per cent.

The Subscriptions in aid of the sufferers by the fire at Quebec, were still increasing. Her Majesty gave £200, and Prince Albert, the same amount, Manchester £5,198 16s., Liverpool £2063, of which the N. A. Steam Packet Company, gave £100.

Sir R. Peel, at his late rent audits at Tamworth and Fazeley, returned 10 per cent to his tenants.

The steamer "Colonia," although detained by fog at Halifax until the 4th instant, reached Liverpool at ten o'clock on the morning of the 14th, being a passage of nine days and 20 hours.

The Gazette of Tuesday notifies the following appointments—George Grey, Esq., to be Lieut. Governor of New Zealand; Major F. H. Robe, Lieut. Governor of South Australia; and George Lilly, Esq., Assistant Judge at Newfoundland.

Staff Surgeon W. Fergusson has been appointed Governor of Sierra Leone.

Capt. Stanway's company of Royal Artillery is under orders to proceed with Major Anderson's company for service in Nova Scotia.

The Dublin Evening Mail states that the office of Advocate General in India, which, though the salary is £3500 per annum, seems to be going a begging, has been offered by Sir R. Peel to Mr. Whiteside, one of the leading counsel for Mr. O'Connell in the late trial, and refused.

The experimental fleet sailed from Spithead on Tuesday for the Bay of Biscay. The Queen, Prince Albert, the King and Queen of the Belgians, and a number of other distinguished persons, were present to witness the departure.

The value of provisions imported into Liverpool, from Ireland alone, netted last year £7,000 00.

Flax growing is increasing in Ireland. This crop this year, it is expected, will produce about 39,000 tons, valued at nearly £2,000,000.

THE WEATHER, for the last week has been dull and wet. Many persons had commenced cutting their grass, but were obliged to leave it in swath. There is now, however, a prospect of fair weather, for a few days, which will give them an opportunity of making hay while the sun shines.

Rail Road—We are informed by good authority that his Excellency the Lieut. Governor, has received communications from the British Government, respecting the construction of a Rail Road, from Halifax to Canada, through New Brunswick, for the purpose of conveying the mails and troops if required. It is also reported that capitalists in England, would be willing to invest money in the construction of Rail Roads in these Provinces, provided good security could be given. Want of time prevents us extending our remarks this week, but we shall refer to the subject in future numbers.

The Lord BISHOP OF FREDERICTON, accompanied by his Chaplain, arrived here from Fredericton, on Monday afternoon, and on Tuesday conferred the rite of confirmation on a large number of young persons of both sexes. We understand that his Lordship will visit Campo Bello and Grand Manan, previous to his return.

STEAM POWER—The good people of the City of Fredericton, have formed a company with a capital of £2,000, for erecting a Building and supplying it with Steam Power for the purpose of Domestic Manufacture. We wish the Company every success.

BEAR KILLED—Mr. John Dewar, of St. George, brought to town on Monday, a full grown Bear which he had shot at the mouth of the Magaguadavic River, on Sunday evening last. We understand that bears are numerous in this County, and that between these gentry and Wolves a large number of sheep have been destroyed.

FIRE IN ST. JOHN—In our columns this day, we have given the particulars of the conflagration which visited the devoted city of St. John, on the 29th ult. by which a number of houses and a large amount of property were destroyed.

STEAMER HERALD—We are happy to learn that Mr. Whitney has determined to run the Herald between St. John, and St. Andrews, every Friday touching at Eastport.

Circuit Court—The adjourned Circuit Court was opened here, on Tuesday last, by his Honour Mr. Justice Carter, for the purpose of trying those causes which have remained over from the former Courts.

The following ORDER, published in the Halifax Royal Gazette, promulgates a principle which might, without doubt, be adopted with advantage in every British Colony:— "At a Council held at Government House, on the 21st day of July, 1845—Present, His Excellency

It is Ordered that the future Members of the Legislative Council, shall be required to sign the following point the following Justice of the Peace according to the Hon. the Council:

Lord Bishop Peter McNamara, Alex. Robert M. C. chael Tobin, Hon. Hugh P. McDougall, Almon, Edw.

Hollanay's ful swellings ed with a lo wonderful c named Jones Horse-shoe London, was fully sw large ones, black, like t been taken t the surgeons relief. He b cured by the medicines.

In this too Rev. Dr. Al publisher of Mrs. CATHERINE N. B.

On Mond L. L. CORNE MAURITIA PA Mahman, Es At the Cu Wednesday of Frederick Barrister at 24, only dau of Douglas.

At St. Jo tion Mary A and eldest d son in the 2

At St. Jo second daug of that Cu months.

SH

POR

Aug. 4, sci

" stor

" Lit

" bqu

" ach

Aug 4 sci

" sh

" 5. sc

" 6. br

Samu

Offer for sal

No.

AMEB

COTTO

all of which are terms fo

In the

Heavy Blue

Do Blue

Do Fan

Blue De

Flannels.

A large

Bleached

Guthwaich

Scarlet,

Yellow,

Blue & Coloured

Wickering

Pelisse W most exte and they re that visit th chases.

Cor

Stolen t night of th Whist, a Four Doll the thief, Standard August in Liverpool has manufactured from 20 per cent.

and of the sufferers

were still increasing.

and Prince Albert,

chester £5,198 16s.

ich the N. A. Steam

£100.

te rent audits at Tamdomia," although de-

until the 4th instant,

n o'clock on the morn-

a passage of nine days

ednesday notifies the fol-

George Grey, Esq.,

of New Zealand; Ma-

t. Governor of South

Lilly, Esq., Assistant

id.

ergusson has been ap-peria Leone.

mpany of Royal Artill-

to proceed with Major for service in Nova Mail states that the meral in India, which,

5500 per annum, ac-

g, has been offered by Whiteside, one of the

Mr. O'Connell in the leet sailed from Spit-

the Bay of Biscay.

Albert, the King and a number of other

were present to witness was imported into Liv-

alone, netted last year essing Ireland. The expected, will produce

lued at nearly 22,000.

r the last week has

Many persons have air grass, but were o-earth. There is now

fair weather, for a few them an opportunity of sun shines."

re informed by good efficiency the Lieut. G-communications from

n, respecting the county, from Halifax to Brantford, for the

the Mills and troops if reported that capitalists willing to invest mon-ed of Rail-Roads in ded good security could ine prevents us extend-week, but we shall future numbers.

of FREDERICTON, ac-

happened, arrived here

Monday afternoon.

tered the rate of con-

umber of young persons understand that his mpo Belle and Grand

a return.

he good people of the

ave formed a company

00, for erecting a Buil-with Steam Power for tic Manufacture. We

ery success.

John Dewar, of St.

on Monday, a full

had shot at the mouth

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor &c. &c.

It is Ordered, That the present and all future Members of the Hon. Executive and Legislative Council, be Justices of the Peace throughout the Province, so long as they belong to that branch of the Legislature; and

His Excellency is thereupon pleased to appoint the following Honorable Gentleman to be Justices of the Peace throughout the Province accordingly, viz:—

The Hon. Simon B. Robie, President of the Council; the Hon. and Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia; the Honables

Peter McNab, Norman F. Ustick, William

Lawson, Alexander Stewart, William Riddell,

Robert M. Cutler, Alexander Campbell, Michael Tobin, Daniel McFarlan, John Morison, Hugh Bell, Stayley Brown, Alexander

McDoughall, Peter Hall Clarke, Mather B.

Almon, Edward Kenny.

Hollaway's Ointment and Pills.—Dreadful swellings in the whole body, accompanied with a loathsome skin disease, and their wonderful cure. A child, 5 years of age, named Jones, whose parents live at No 4,

Horse-shoe-alley, Wilson-street, Finsbury,

London, was, from the age of 15 months, terribly swollen in body, and covered with large sores. His face was frequently quite black, like that of a black child's. He had been taken to all the hospitals, and most of the surgeons of eminence, but met with no relief. He has, however, just been radically cured by the means of the above invaluable medicines.

MARRIED.

In this town, on Sunday, 3rd inst., by

Rev. Dr. Ailes, Mr. Wm. R. Law Snow, publisher of the Fredericton Journal, Calais, to Miss Catherine Barancliff, of St. Andréas, N. B.

On Monday last by the Rev. John Ross,

L. L. Copeland Esq., of this Town, to Miss

MARTHA PARKMAN, second daughter of N.

Parkman, Esq., of Dixter, Maine.

At the Cathedral Church, St. John, on Wednesday the 23d ult., by the Lord Bishop of Fredericton, Samuel J. Sewell, Esquire,

Barrister at Law, of that city, to Mary Eliza, only daughter of John Robinson, Esq., of Douglas.

DIED.

At St. John, on the 31st ult., of consumption Mary Ann, wife of Mr. W. Fredwell, and eldest daughter of Mr. Wm. A. Robertson, in the 24th year of her age.

At St. John on the 26th ult., Mary Eliza,

second daughter of Mr. James F. Morse

of that City, aged three years and ten

months.

At St. John on the 26th ult., Mary Eliza,

second daughter of Mr. James F. Morse

of that City, aged three years and ten

months.

At St. John on the 26th ult., Mary Eliza,

second daughter of Mr. James F. Morse

of that City, aged three years and ten

months.

At St. John on the 26th ult., Mary Eliza,

second daughter of Mr. James F. Morse

of that City, aged three years and ten

months.

At St. John on the 26th ult., Mary Eliza,

second daughter of Mr. James F. Morse

of that City, aged three years and ten

months.

At St. John on the 26th ult., Mary Eliza,

second daughter of Mr. James F. Morse

of that City, aged three years and ten

months.

Public Notice

Is hereby given, That,

Will sell at Public Auction on Saturday, the 6th day of SEPTEMBER next, at the Court House in St. Andrews, at 2 o'clock p. m., being 30 days notice, and upwards, to the highest bidder, "so much of the Real Estate of James J. Burchell, situate in the Parish of St. George, as will be sufficient to pay the sum of £1

4s. 2d. assessed on his property in that Parish, for the past year of 1844, with the costs and charges, attending the same, by virtue of a Warrant under the hands and seals of Patrick Clinch and A. J. Weimore

Esquires, bearing date the 10th March, 1845.

THOMAS JONES,

Sheriff of Charlotte.

Sheriff's Office,

Aug. 2, 1845.

NOTICE.

ALL Persons, having any legal demands against the Estate of the late Joshua

H. Woodcock of St. David, in the County of Charlotte, deceased, are requested to present the same duly attested, within three months from this date; and all those indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment to

D. WOODCOCK, Jr.,

Administrators.

R. WOODCOCK,

St. David, Aug. 4, 1845.—rm.

Found!

A Gold Ring, near the Scotch Church,

The Owner can have the same by paying for this Notice and calling at this Office.

Standard Office, Aug. 5, 1845.

Fire and Marine Insurance.

THE CROTON

MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW-YORK

HAVING established an Agency in St.

Andrews, are prepared to take Risks on Buildings and their contents, against

LOSS OR DAMAGE BY FIRE; and on

VESSELS, CARGOES, and FREIGHT, against Sea Risk, at moderate rates of premium.

The standing of this Company is of the first respectability, their promptness in adjusting, and paying Losses not surpassed by any other Institution, and being on the Mutual system must insure, for it the confidence and patronage of the public.

Blank Forms, and every information obtained on application to

ROBERT WALTON,

St. Andrews, July 28, 1845.

Auction.

TO be Sold at Public Auction, on Thursday August 7th, at 1 o'clock

Two South Down TUP LAMBS (full blood)

One Leicester EWE Do Do

WM. McLEAN,

Auctioneer.

July 30th, 1845.

Notice.

TO all Military Pensioners, who under late regulations commuted their Pensions and are now residing in New Brunswick.

The Lords Commissioners of Her Majeaty's Treasury having called for Reports upon the cases of the commuted Pensioners residing in these Provinces. All persons now in New Brunswick who come under this denomination will appear before any one of the undermentioned Magistrates, &c., who may be nearest and most convenient to their residence, to answer the enquiries that will there be made of them, with a view to their future benefit.

Fredericton.—Commissioner of Office,

Bothwell.—Thomas M. Deblons, Esquire

Richibucto.—Honorable J. W. Weidon,

Shediac or Bend of Petitcodiac.—Bliss

Botsford, Esq.

Stanley.—Colonel Hayne,

Woodstock.—J. M. Connell, Esquire,

St. John.—Commissioner of Office,

St. Andrews.—Honorable H. Hach,

St. Stephen.—Robert Watson, Esquire,

Magoguadavic.—S. G. Andrews, Esq.,

Commissioner, New Brunswick,

Fredericton, July 9th, 1845.

Notice in Bankruptcy.

In the matter of John W. Todd, and Seth

B. Townsend, of the Parish of St. Stephen, in the County of Charlotte, Traders against whom a fiat of Bankruptcy issued bearing date the twenty-second day of September 1843.

NOTICE is hereby given, that a Public

Meeting of the Creditors of the said

John W. Todd and Seth Townsend, will be held at the office of S. H. Whitlock, the Provisional Assignee, in St. Andrews in the said County, on Wednesday the Twentieth day of August next at noon, to take into consideration the expediency of selling the outstanding debts due to the said John W. Todd and Seth B. Townsend and all the interest of the estate of the Creditors therein.

Given under my hand at Saint Andrews, the tenth day of July A. D. 1845.

H. HATCH,

Commissioner of the Estate and Effects of Bankrupts for the County of Charlotte.

The Charlotte County

Agricultural Society's

CATTLE SHOW AND FAIR.

Will be held at the Farm of Mr. John

McCurry, on WEDNESDAY the 22nd day of October next, at 11 o'clock,

when the following PREMI-UMS, will be offered:

HORSES.

For the best Entire Horse, that has stood in the County for the past season, £1 10 0

second do 1 5 0

third do 1 0 0

Best brood Mare, 1 5 0

second do 1 0 0

third do 0 17 6

Best Colt, gelding or fully under

3 years old, 1 0 0

second do 0 17 0

third do 0 12 6

CATTLE.

Best Bull not over 4 years old, 1 5 0

second do 1 0 0

third do 0 15 0

Best Cow,

feelings; but it was in the solitude of her chamber when she found herself called on to part for ever, or for ever to be united with this interesting stranger, that she seemed to discover not without consternation, how necessary to her happiness he had become. The waste vacancy of her time and thoughts before she had met him—broken only by dull and distant visits to duller and more distant aunts, rapid rides through rude and solitary scenes, and incessant feud and animosity between her cousin Lysaght and herself—was this once more to be her portion? or would she fly with him who had relieved her from them all, and relinquish her father and her home? How she continued to ask herself, would that beloved parent, so stern to all else, so blindly indulgent to her, endure her loss? Would he proscribe her for ever?—She felt not—assuredly not. No, her father would once more receive her into his affection; but Lysaght, who had been reared with her, who loved her so well, and all the more deeply she knew, that he had never told her so—what would he feel? How would he look the first morning after her flight, when he came in to breakfast and found the room empty, the urn cold, her little spaniel, Lapsang, moaning about the hearth, and Katey away over the mountains in the dead of night with a nameless and lawless man?—Yes, poor Lysaght, she felt, would be then tormented: her father might once more be his; but her cousin—even her little quarrels with him had something pleasant to her recollection, and on this portion of her picture, much as she desired to banish it from her mind, she again and again returned to dwell; nor did she succeed in overlaying it by painting her reconciliation with Lysaght on her return, and her reparation in the shape of a large present of real and personal estate which her father should be induced to make to him, and thereby enable Lysaght to settle in life. And then his wife—which of all her surrounding country friends would she choose for him? The sketch was still unfinished, when the bell announced the morning's repast, and Katey, sleepless, agitated, and undecided, descended to breakfast.

There was nothing in that meal calculated to allay her anxiety. She found her father and cousin (the latter had just come in from his maternal tour through the farm, and laden, of course, with the news of the neighborhood) busily engaged with cold beer and conjectures upon the sudden flight of the gentleman resident at Curly Cahill's which had taken place during the night, half-an-hour previous to a domiciliary visit from three peace officers who came from Clonmel, and departed as they came, in profound silence regarding the object of their expedition, upon discovering the stranger had left. As Mr. Tyrrell had not been consulted by the authorities on this occasion, the reverend magistrate testified no very poignant regret at the disappointment of the officers; but as his curiosity was commensurately excited, he hazarded several ingenious solutions of the problem that had been paying eighteen pence a week for "dry lodgings" at Cahill's, the last four months. Lysaght was loud in his decision that the fellow was "some corner or patching blackguard," while his uncle rather inclined to the arson and agrarian outrage line. Poor Katey sat behind the coffee stand stifling her feelings, in the manner she best might, until she heard her father propose "sheep stealing" as an emendation of the probable offence of her banished friend, when she could support it no longer. Little accustomed at any time to hide her emotions, the high spirited girl burst in to tears, unbridled her respectable parent and thick headed cousin for their hardihood and want of charity, ventured at first to disbelieve every sentence they had uttered, proceeded to confess she had had the pleasure of the stranger's acquaintance, and ended by proudly introducing him (in an imaginary way) to her astonished friends as Major Ferguson Hewitt, or the Second Republican Brigade of Artillery, and Commissioner to Elements from the Provisional Government.

Had a petard from the Major's own brigade been projected into the centre of the little breakfast table, it could not have played the mischief more effectually than did this stunning explosion. Lysaght Osborne, after remaining speechless for some minutes, having helped himself to a cup of scalding water from the urn, was compelled to retreat upon the pump outside. His uncle, who had received so large a portion of the shell, needless to say, exhibited much suffering, which his daughter at length attempted in vain to alleviate. But the spoiled and petted Katey had for once overcounted. There are certain minds burst of passion, which like the tempests of tropical islands, are all the more violent and unspurring from the halcyon seasons that precede them. Such was the storm of wrath that now for the first time descended from Tyrrell's lips upon his daughter's head. He raved and stamped at her like a maniac, terrified her into an acknowledgement that she had listened even so amatory communications from the unhappy Hewitt, commended her from his presence, then recalled her to be reprimanded for retreating so hastily, and again expelling her, pursued her with all but palpable fire and sword to her own territory, were locking her in her bed-chamber, he deposited the key in his pocket, and setting out on foot to finish the work of disaster by annihilating the "dealer in soft goods," who had, he felt assured, been a proximate agent in nearly ridding him of his child. His first intention was to hold no terms whatever in his approaches upon Curly's fortalice, or, in other words, to make an open show of him; but a mile's walk of a muggy day has a sedative effect, and by the time he arrived at Cahill's Mr. Tyrrell had seen the impolicy of giving any publicity to what he considered the folly of his daughter. In his interview, therefore, with Curly took place in private and for any satisfaction that resulted from it, he might as well have placed himself in communication with the intelligent milestone, Clonmel XII," which he had passed as he entered the town. Cahill, on his part, received the first discharge of the clergyman's indignation with a look of stolid surprise, to which one Liston, a player, could alone have done justice. For some time he seemed at a loss to comprehend whether the remarks had reference to his last year's arrears of tithes, or the protracted invasion from Boulogne; and when at length their real purport did overtake him, the shock was overwhelming. Well it was for the fugitive that he was out of reach of his estimable host's indignation. To be "skivered," to have "every bone in his body smashed to smithereens" was the mildest of the horrible fates he had escaped for attempting to inveigle the affections of "the danlin' young lady." Cahill declared to his heart's content never saw them together in his life; so that as Mr. Tyrrell saw his interview was likely to be a fruitless one, he cut it short and departed.

Conclusion in our next.

SHERIFF'S SALES.
Real Estate of St. George I. Company Aug 16
Do E. Dewolfe, 6th Sept.
Do J. Cunningham, 20th do
Do James Allanshaw, 27th Dec.
Do Henry Seelye, 27th do
Do M. Parkinson & J. Parkinson 17th Jan.

To be sold by Public Auction on Saturday, the 16th day of August, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. of the same day, at the COURT HOUSE, in St. Andrews.
ALL the right, title, interest, claim, and demand whatsoever, of the SAINT GEORGE LINE COMPANY, of, in and to those several Lots, Parcels or Pieces of Land, now in the use and occupation of the said Company, situated in the Parish of Saint George, in this County, and bordering on the shore of the Liffey river, partly butting on a lot granted to one Samuel Bliss, near Gass' Cove, and particularly described, in a conveyance purporting to be from the said Company to one Jonathan M. Dixier, registered on the Charlotte County records, the 15th March, 1843—with all the houses, stores, wharves and buildings thereon, and with all the privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging.

The same having been seized and taken to satisfy an execution at the suit of Joseph Diamond for £437 15 7 and an execution at the suit of George R. Rae, for £350 6 7 besides Sheriff's fees, &c.
THOMAS JONES,
Sheriff of Charlotte.

Sheriff's Office, 1
Feb. 1, 1845.

To be sold by Public Auction, on SATURDAY the 6th day of September next, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. of the same day at the COURT HOUSE, in St. Andrews.

ALL the right, title, interest, claim, proper, and demand whatsoever, of Edward Dewolfe, Surgeon, of, in and to that House, situated in Queen street, in the Town of St. Andrews, now in the occupation of J. W. Chandler, Esq. with the lot on which it stands and the out buildings. The same having been seized, and levied on, to satisfy an execution, issued out of the Supreme Court, in favor of William Jack, Esq. endorsed to levy £34 11 4, besides Sheriff's fees, &c.

THOMAS JONES,
Sheriff of Charlotte.

Sheriff's Office, 1
Feb. 27th 1845.

To be sold by Public Auction, on SATURDAY, the 20th day of SEPTEMBER next, between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, at the COURT HOUSE, in St. Andrews.

ALL the right, title, interest, claim, and demand of John Cunningham, to all that certain piece or parcel of land, situated on Grand Manan, containing about two acres, and lying at or near Sprague's cove, being a part of the lot No. 15, conveyed by one John Sprague to John Cunningham, with the house, stores, wharves and other improvements thereon, the same having been seized and levied on, to satisfy an execution issued out of the Supreme Court, at the suit of William Ker, Thomas Turner, and John McKean, Trustees of James Rait, endorsed to levy £41 5s and Sheriff's fees.

THOS. JONES,
Sheriff of Charlotte.

Sheriff's Office,
St. Andrews, March 5, 1845.

To be sold by Public Auction on SATURDAY the 27th day of DECEMBER next, between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Court House in Saint Andrews.

ALL the Right, title, interest, claim and demand of the late James Allanshaw, of, in and to all those certain Mills, houses, stores, Mill privileges and other real estate, situate at the Lower Falls of the River Magdalen, in the Parish of St. George, which Lachlan Cameron, conveyed to one Joseph Gunnison on the 16th July 1835, and being more particularly described in the Deed thereof to the late Joseph Gunnison and also in assignment of a certain Mortgage of the same premises, lately made by the said Lachlan Cameron to Geo. D. Street Esq. bearing date the 15th day of Novr. 1843. The same having been seized taken and levied on, to satisfy an execution, issued out of the Supreme Court at the suit of John E. Merrett, endorsed to levy £67 3s, &c. &c.

THOMAS JONES,
Sheriff of Charlotte.

Sheriff's Office, St. Andrews,
16th June, 1845.

To be sold by Public Auction, on Saturday the 27th day of December next, between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Court House in St. Andrews.
ALL the right, title, interest, claim and demand of Henry Seelye, of, in and to that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situated in the parish of St. George, on the eastern shore of Lake Utopia, containing 7 acres more or less, particularly described in a Deed thereof from Henry Seelye to Farnham D. Seelye, bearing date the 20th May last, which Deed has been registered in the County records.

ALSO,
All the right, title, interest, claim, and demand of Henry Seelye, of, in and to that certain tract of land, situated in the parish of Penfield, containing 2800 acres, granted to the said Henry Seelye, by Letters Patent, bearing date the 28th Sept. 1838.

The same having been levied on, to satisfy an execution, issued out of the Supreme Court, at the suit of Wm. Kerr, Thomas Turner, and John McKean, Trustees of the Estate of the late James Rait, Esq. endorsed to levy £1344 19 6d &c. &c.

THOS. JONES,
Sheriff of Charlotte.

Sheriff's Office, St. Andrews,
21st June 1845.

To be sold by Public Auction, on Saturday, the 17th day of JANUARY, next, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m. of the same day, at the Court House, in St. Andrews.

ALL the estate, right, title, and interest of Mary Parkinson, and John Parkinson, or either of them, of, in and to Lot number 4, in block letter G, Marston division, of the Town plat of Saint Andrews.

The same having been seized and taken to satisfy executions, at the suit of Frederick Charman, against Mary Parkinson and John Parkinson, and Robert Roberts, endorsed to levy £53 4 10. &c. &c.

THOS. JONES,
Sheriff of Charlotte.

Sheriff's Office,
St. Andrews, July 4, 1845.

Clock & Watch Making.
G. F. STICKNEY, respectfully informing the inhabitants of St. Andrews and its vicinity that he has commenced the Clock & Watch Making Business in the shop recently occupied by the late Mr. James Hutchinson, in Water Street, and offers for Sale, an assortment of the best

HARDWARE, CUTLERY, &c. JEWELRY & COMPASSES will be repaired at short notice.
St. Andrews, July 3d, 1844.

DRY GOODS, Provisions, & Groceries.

The Subscriber grateful for the liberal patronage he has received, since his commencement in business, begs to inform his friends in Town and Country, that he has received his Stock of Dry Goods and Groceries, which he offers for Sale at low Prices.

CONSISTING IN PART OF,
Broad Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets, Molesters, Ready made London CLOTHING.

Orleans, Cashmeres, Muslin de Laines, Madras, Juvenets, Laces, Edgings and Insertions, a great variety of Prints, Silk Hosiery, Cotton do, Ginghams, Striped Shirts, Checks, Plaids, Gloves, Hosiery, Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, Linen drill, Linen Towels and Table Covers, White and Colored, Canvas, Padings, Silk and Twist Buttons, Thread, Needles, &c., Wadding, Eating Cotton Warps, Umbrellas, Hats, Caps, &c.

GROCERIES &c.
Flour, Meat, Pork, Fish, Tea, loaf crushed, and Brown Sugar, Coffee, Cocoa, Chocolate, Molasses, Rice, Barley, Beans, Vinegar, Tobacco, soap, Candles, Crockeryware, Boots and Shoes, Glass 8x10, 10x12, 10x14, and 12x14, Shot, and other brushes, Blacking Black Lead, Lamp black, Putty, bottled and Raw Oil, Lamp Oil and wick, Knives and forks sheath and shoe knives, Brooms, Pails and hair brushes, Locks, Keys, Screws Latches and bolts, Iron Pots-bake-Kettles and Covers, Lanthorns wool Cards fishing Hooks and Lines Pipes Spices Salmeter Starck Blue Indigo Seythes aneaths and Hay Rakes. Supply of Sole Leather with numerous other Articles.

HENRY McLEAVY.

Water Street, St. Andrews July 1, 1845.

Hartford Fire Insurance Company.
Connecticut, United States.
Incorporated in 1810—with a Capital of $150,000.

This long established Institution has for more than twenty-six years transacted its extensive business on the most just and liberal principles—paying its losses with honorable promptness.

The Subscriber having been appointed Agent for St. Andrews for the above mentioned Company, is now prepared to take risks on every description of Property against loss or damage by Fire.

THOMAS JONES.

The following Medicines are for sale by Henry McLeavy St. Andrews.

CONNEL'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR.

The great healing value.—It seems hardly worth while that we should add our testimony to the overwhelming mass that has already been procured by that inestimable balm, specific called Connell's Magical Pain Extractor, but we might as well say it exceeds anything we ever heard of for the rapid and thorough cure of the following complaints which have been tested in this city, viz: Burns, scalds, tender and sore feet, chilblains, wounds at old sores, bruises and cold in wounds, inflammation, salt-rheum, rheumatism, erysipelas, sore eyes and "mipples," eruptions and scrofula chaps, and piles in their worst form. No family should be without this wonderful balm. Sold genuine, at 19 Tremont Row, on 14.

SALT-RHEUM, PIMPLES AND SORE ON THE FACE, AND ALL CUTANEOUS AFFECTIONS.

The great virtue of Sulphur as a restorative of purity to the blood, and consequently a cure for maladies arising from its impurity, is well known to every one. To get it concentrated is, therefore, an important object. Messrs. Comstock & Co. have given much attention to this article, and have before I had used all of one bottle. I was greatly relieved upon the first one or two applications. Most seriously do I urge upon the afflicted to use this remedy before all others. My object entirely in making my case public, is hoping I may benefit the afflicted sufferer.

ESTD. THOS. JONES, No 4, Allston St.

IT SINGULAR AND TRUE—A lady called upon us the other day, and stated that her husband, son and herself had been cured of rheumatism with the Indian Vegetable Extract and Liniment, sold by COMSTOCK & ROSS, 19 Tremont Row.

She did not wish her name published, but gave us liberty to give it to any person afflicted, and have them call upon her and she would tell them the particulars. It was a constitutional family complaint, and they have all been permanently cured with the above articles. This great remedy is worthy of the attention of the public. my 10

THE NAYLES HAIR DYE—For some unaccountable reason, for the last one or two years, many young people, both male and female, have had the misfortune to have their hair turn permanently grey. We have been frequently applied to for something to turn the hair back to its natural color, which has induced us to go to much trouble and expense in order to furnish our customers and the public generally with a new and improved Hair Dye—one that is nearly effectual, and not the least injurious to the head or hair, for the moderate price of 20 cents per bottle. We have succeeded beyond our expectations. This article we offer to the public with great confidence. We have had it thoroughly tested time after time, before we could offer it for sale. The price is such that all can afford to use it, and inequality we believe to be superior to any ever before made.

COMSTOCK & ROSS, 19 Tremont Row.

RHEUMATISM AND GOUT—There are many times advertised and offered to the public for the cure of Rheumatism and Gout, that are of little or no account, they may relieve for a short time, but will not cure. We therefore feel it our duty for the benefit of the afflicted to say what we know of the True Nerve and Bone Liniment and Indian Vegetable Extract, which is offered for the purpose. It is simply this, that it is the most extraordinary article we ever saw. To our certain knowledge, the following gentlemen have been cured of them over 70 years of age, and had suffered intensely for years:

ESSEX FLETCHER, Esq., No 18 Crescent Place, Essex St. Esq., 22 Elm street.

DWIGHT FLETCHER, 44 Bridge street.

Gen. JOHN TARBELL, Cambridgeport.

Mr. E. JESSE, Chelsea.

Mr. CHARLES L. FIELD, do.

HONORABLE RICHARDSON, Esq., Melbury.

W. S. HOWARD, No 6 Wesley street, East Boston.

We could add many more, but think this quite enough to convince the afflicted that they had better try it. The above named persons procured it from the proprietors, COMSTOCK AND ROSS, No 19 Tremont Row.

Kolmstock's Vermifuge.

This remedy for worms is one of the most extraordinary ever used. It effectually eradicates worms of all sorts, from children and adults.

THOUSANDS perish by worms without the real cause being known. Some other reason is assigned for their sickness, until too late to cure the real cause.

What should be done?

The answer is plain. Give this vermifuge, which will be sure to do good, if they have no worms; and if they have, it will destroy and eradicate them with a certainty and precision truly astonishing.

It cannot harm the smallest infant or the strongest adult. There is no mercury or mineral in it. Mercury is the basis of most worm remedies, and the remedy is sometimes worse than the disease. So never use lozenges, but rely upon this. Every person will be convinced on one trial, that is the most perfect cure ever invented.

Remember and ask for Kolmstock's Vermifuge.

FRENCH DEPILATORY.

This article, used for taking off superfluous hair from the face and neck, is sold at 50 cents per bottle.

All of the above valuable medicines are sold by COMSTOCK & ROSS, No 19 Tremont Row—BOSTON.

Salt! Salt! Salt!
Ex BRUNSWICK, from Liverpool.
5000 BUSHELS of SALT, which will be sold cheap, from the Store, in quantities to suit purchasers.

Apply to
F. A. BABCOCK, or
W. WHITLOCK.

May, 1845.

BLANKS
For Sale at this Office.

THE EARL OF ALDBOROUGH

CURED BY

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

THE EARL OF ALDBOROUGH CURED OF A LIVER AND STOMACH COMPLAINT.

Extract of a Letter from the Earl of Aldborough, dated villa Messina, Leghorn, 21st February 1845.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

Sir,—Various circumstances prevented the possibility of my thanking you before this time for your politeness in sending me your Pills as you did. I now take this opportunity of sending you in order for the amount, and at the same time, to add that your Pills have effected a cure of a disorder in my Liver and Stomach, which all the most eminent of the Faculty at home, and all over the Continent, had not been able to effect; nay! not even the waters of Carlsbad and Marienbad I wish to have another Box and a Packet of the Ointment, in case any of my Family should ever require either.

Your most obliged and obedient Servant.

(Signed) ALDBOROUGH.

AW ORNIFUL CURE OF DYSPEPSIA OF FIVE YEARS' STANDING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thomas Taylor, Chemist, Stockton, Durham, 17th April, 1845.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

Sir,—I think it my duty to inform you that Mrs. Clough, wife of Mr. John Clough, a respectable farmer of Aikton, within four miles of this place had been suffering from Dyspepsia for five years, and the best medical advice without receiving any relief. Hearing of your Pills and Ointment, she used them with such surprising benefit that, in fact, she has now given them up, being so well and quite able to attend to her household duties as formerly, which she never expected to do again. I had almost forgotten to state that she was given up by the Faculty as incurable. When she used to get up in the morning it was impossible to discover a feature in her face, being in such a fearful state. This cure is entirely by the use of your medicines.

I am, Sir, yours, &c. &c.

(Signed) THOMAS TAYLOR.

A CURE OF INDIGESTION AND CONSTIPATION OF THE BOWELS.

Copy of a Letter from G. R. Wythen Baxter, Esq., Author of the "Book of the Battles," &c. &c. The Bryn, near Aberystwyth, Montgomeryshire, North Wales, March 3rd 1845.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

Sir,—I consider it my duty to inform you that your Pills, a few Boxes of which I purchased at Mr. Moore's, Druggist, of Newtown, have cured me of constant indigestion and constipation of the bowels, which application to literary pursuits had long entailed upon me. I should strongly recommend Authors, and studiously-disposed persons generally, to use your valuable Pills. You have my promise to publish the result, if you wish to do so.

I am, Sir, your most obedient servant.

(Signed) G. R. WYTHEN BAXTER.

A CURE OF ASTHMA AND SHORTNESS OF BREATH.

Extract of a Letter from the Rev. David Williams, Headmaster Wesleyan Minister at Beaumaris, Island of Anglesey, North Wales, January 14th, 1845.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

Sir,—The Pills which I requested you to send me were for a poor man of the name of Hugh Davis, who, before he took them, was almost unable to walk for the want of breath, and had only taken them a few days, when he appeared quite another man; his breath is now easy and he is able to walk as usual, and he is increasing daily in strength.

(Signed) DAVID WILLIAMS.

N.B.—These extraordinary Pills will cure any case of Asthma or Shortness of Breath, however long standing or distressing the case may be, even if the Patient be unable to lie down in bed through fear of being choked with cough and phlegm. This Wonderful Medicine can be recommended with the greatest confidence for any of the following Diseases:—

Asthma, Female irregularities, Rheumatism, Bilious complaints, Fever of all kinds, of the urine, Blisters on the Face, Sore Throat, Skin, Gout, Scrofula or Bores complaints, Head ache, Kings evil, Constipation, Indigestion, Stomach & Gravel, Colic, Inflammation, The Dropsical, Secondary Symptoms, Jaundice, Tumours, Consumption, Liver complaints, Lumbago, Wounds of all kinds, Dropsy, Weakness from whatever cause.

These truly invaluable Medicines can be obtained at the Store of THOMAS SIMS, St. Andrews Agent for the County of Charlotte; John M. Campbell, Druggist, Saint Stephen's, and Justice E. Knight, Saint George's. In Pots and Boxes at 18 3d, 4s 6d, and 7s each. There is a considerable saving in taking the large sizes.

N.B.—Directions for the guidance of Patients in every Disorder are affixed to each Box.

June 13, 1845.

INDENTURES
And other Blanks for sale at this Office.

THE STANDARD,
IS PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY, BY
S. W. Smith.

At his Office in Saint Andrews, N. B. 12s 6d per annum, if paid in advance, 15s, if not paid until the end of the year.

No paper discontinued until arrears are paid.

ADVERTISEMENTS.
Inserted according to written orders, or continued till forbid if no written directions.

First insertion of 12 lines, and under, 3s. Each repetition of Do, 1s.

First insertion of all over 12 lines 3s per line. Each repetition over 12 lines 1d per line.

Advertising by the year as may be agreed on. Legal notices by individuals who have no account with the Office, to be paid for in advance. Blanks, Handbills, &c. struck off at the shortest notice, to be paid for on delivery.

AGENTS
St. Andrews, Perth, Mr. John Cottrell
St. Stirling, Mr. Campbell Esq.
Milltown, James Albee Esq.
St. David, Trust. Moore Esq.
Tower Hill, Jas. Brown Esq.
Oak Bay, Mr. John Henderson
St. Patrick, Mr. Charles Hanson
St. George, Mr. B. Douglas
Upper Falls, Mr. D. Gilmore
Grand Marais, Wilford Fisher Esq.
FREDERICTON, Mr. Henry S. Duff.

During the parent had I upbraiding he had per... conviction I had done st... degree... contrary di... object... successful... hardness in the world I did not per... apart... to app... command... count, stir... This wa... and it had... His daugh... every—I... subject... a deter... ant, at le... some int... possible, s... ed for eve... opportu... fulful m... eyed not... vated the... result, no... she had u... shed before... little cons... lower sp... the atmos... beyond w... eered.

It was... The wind... up the th... house of... tary was... fected on... potent wa... of the bo... each had... night—b... tant risi... with the... in might... comforta... female i... and wan... watching... coos of t... the front... however, the dark... (for their... murked... ed outsid... door, an... Dear, said he... the hand... Speak... confused... a night... Any v... matter—... culated... light, though! On—so far... I was of... the pots... bluish, gloom... High... rewards... are indi... one like... in the h... a single... beyond... ey—By the sou... Fly! know h... see wh... come. Now as it is more i... My ow... could t... so lofty... I—Beli... even t... prems... The Wh... Je a pl... way, i... Det... tract... pager! there... get if Original issues in