Ontario Government Issues Infor mation of Importance to Farmers,

The Ontario Government has issued the following circular to the fruitgrowers of the province:

From hints gathered in official circles it is believed the squadron will sail singly or in pairs under sealed orders to meet at a given point, probably on the high seas—some rendezvous in the Saragosso Sea, off the Azores, where the vessels will be off the usual track of shipping, and able to wait quietly for their consorts in order to sail together. Since the establishment of the blockade several interesting and daring expeditions have been made into the enemy's country to discover the actual condition of affairs in Santiago de Cuba. It is no easy matter to get near the city these days. About 8,000 Span-ish soldiers and 2,000 home guard troops cover every roadway about the place, and Gen. The easy victory put the command in high spirits. The little black Cuban warriors waved their machetes and howled curses at the Spanish in savage fashion. Their firing has been wild throughout, but they all displayed the utmost contempt for the Spanish bullets, apparently being absolutely without fear. As the enemy began breaking from the camp, the Dolphin, which lay out at sea, was signalled, and began pitching shells towards the thicket for which the Spniards were making. Meanwhile, Lieut. ### Details of the Recent Massacre at Sierra Leone

Liverpool, June 15 .- Definite news of terrible massacre in Sierra Leone was not received here until about two weeks ago, although a meager account was dabled to London on May 7. two or three days after it had occurred.

The scene of the massacre was a British colony on the west coast of Africa, which has been established for a century and was supposed to be generally Christianized. The full details of the horror might never have been known to the world had it not been for a converted negro. He made his escape from the mission, and sent the message telling of this addition to the dark chapters of modern missionary

The little American mission of Rotifunk was one of the first targets of the wrath of the pagan natives. Hidden away in a forest, the mission had escape was impossible. With the first left the mission and set out for the coast, guided by a native convert. But they were too late, for they had gone carcely a mile when they were over-taken by the feroclous war boys and fought before. The very life of this backed to death one by one. The murlered missionaries were the Rev. J. N. Cain and his wife, Miss Schenck, Miss Hatfield and Miss Archer.

It is reported that 1,000 persons were killed in the uprising. One hundred and twenty inhabitants of Freetown, most of them traders, are known to have been massacred, and other colonists were carried into the bush by the war boys and undoubtedly met a worse fate. Three hundred friendly natives were killed, and besides the white misionaries six negro missionaries of the United Brethren of Christ were mur-dered at Manohbarguri. The English missionaries are at the mercy of the war boys, but have not been molested.

Chicago, June 16.-Arrangements for the closing of the Leiter deal have en completed. Final papers were placed before Joseph Leiter yesterday. and 7,000,000 bushels of cash wheat were consigned to P. D. Armour, who will henceforth control all the Leiter ldings. Armour has already begun the immense line of wheat in the Northwest will be consumed.

It is stated that Leiter did not lose as much as was generally believed. Armour's assumption of the burden is said to have meant at least $2,000,000 for Leiter. That much loss would have been incurred if the immense line of wheat had to be merchandised by trustees. The loans made to Leiter by the local banks aggregate nearly $7,000,000. Each bank was careful to protect itself with margins that would insure against loss.

Hawaii.

Washington, June 16 .- By a vote of suited as follows: 209 to 91 the House of Representatives yesterday adopted the Newlands resolutions, providing for the annexation of Hawaii.

The debate, which has continued without interruption since Saturday has been one of the most notable of this congress, the proposed annexation being considered of great commercial and strategic importance by its advocates, and being looked upon by its opponents as involving a radical departure from the long-established policy of the United States, and likely to be followed by the inauguration of a pronounced policy of colonization, the abandonment of the Monroe doctrine and participation in international wrangles. More than half a hundred members participated in the debate. The vote in support of the resolution was made up of 179 Republicans, 18 Democrats, 8 Fopulists and 4 Fusionists. The vote against annexation comprised 77 Democrats, 3 Republicans, Populists and 4 Fusionists.

Two men Bay City team playing in Guelph, were out in the minth, and the score was still 3 to 3. It struck second base without a fielder being within 20 feet of it, but bounded back off the bag, giving Ward time to get it and put out Bradford. But for that Hamilton would not have had to play the ninth. London made one in the first on a two-bagger by Meara and singles by Keenan and Grimshaw, and two in the sixth on a single by Ward, double by Howells, single by Saunders, and an error by Dean. From what I have seen of Amos this season, and from what I hear, I should judge that the big 'Hoosier hadn't speed enough to tear a slit in a sheet of tissue paper. But the name Rusie stands, his great reputation—the noted whizzing, crink-ling, whisker-disturbing cyclone of a curve ball flashes across the minds of weak-kneed batsmen when they walk up to do business with Rusie, and the first thing you know the hypnotized batsman has the third baseman sidestepping all over the left side of the infield for fear that a man at the bat will spike him. America has had bicycle weddings, but that does not beat the Dutch. According to foreign advices, a wealthy young widow of Holland asked as a dying request that her favorite bicycle should be draped in mourning and be trundled by a servant behind the hearse in which her body was conveyed to the grave. She was explicit in stipulating that the bicycle should precede the coach containing the chief mourners. In the cycling corps of the German army the men have exactly 30 seconds in which to dismount, lay their wheels down on the right side, unsling their R. H. E. rifles, load, present and fire. A bicycle poorly tired is pretty sure

Steamer Ems Runs Down a Schooner.

Six Persons Drowned-The Survivors Taken to New York.

New York, June 16 .- The North German steamer Ems arrived here yester-day from Genoa, via Naples and Gibraltar, and brought six shipwrecked seamen of the British schooner Gypsum Princess, of Parsboro, N. S., which was sunk at sea June 14. The captain, his wife and four others were drowned.

The Ems was moving ahead at half speed during a dense fog on the night on June 14. At 9 o'clock the steamer struck a large three-masted schooner, from which the crew came tumbling aboard. SUNK IN THREE MINUTES.

The engines were reversed and the beats were lowered, but the vessel had disappeared below the surface of the ocean: not three minutes had elapsed between the impact and the sinking of the unfortunate schooner. The seamen from the wreck reported that their vessel was the schooner Gypsum Princess, of Parsboro, N. S. with a full cargo of plaster from Windsor, N. S., to New York. The steamer cut the Gypsum Princess in half. Four of the crew managed to scramble on board the steamer and two others were picked up by the boats lowered from the Ems. THE LOST Capt. Merriam was lost while trying to save his wife and two children. His eldest son, Edgar, who was the mate, and Sandford Murray, the Cook, whose leg was broken in the collision, were also lost. The Ems sustained no damage.

They should try to excel their non-exempt neighbors in beautifying the surroundings.

A New Departure.

That such a vote has been obtained. in face of a sentiment at one time strongly entertained, against the acquiring of territory lying outside the continent, proves how rapidly public opinion has been changing in the United States since the war with Spain began. There are now many evidences that a large section of the people of the United States are not only in favor of annexation of the Hawaiian Islands, but of the acquirement of the Philippine Islands, those fertile possessions of Spain, which that proud nation can scarcely hope to hold longer Chan the time necessary for the United States to land an effective military force. The Hawaiian Islands would prove a profitable possession in themselves, but if the United States were to retain control of the Philippine group, it would be doubly necessary to take over the little republic in the Pacific, because a coaling station would be imperatively required. For the United States to become a colonizing nation would be to effect a revolution in its history. It would be a departure from the advice ten. dered to the people of the republic at its birth by Washington. That statesman cautioned the young nation against going beyond its own continent in the acquirement of territory, and against following the example of European countries in forming "entangling alliences" in order that foreign lands might be grabbed. A great many things have happened since that time, however. From being a small colony of 4,000,000 inhabitants, with few interests outside themselves, the United States has evolved into a nation of 70,000,000 persons, doing business in all parts of the world, and running up egainst the prejudices and opposition and trade exclusion propensities of the European continental countries in many lands. It would be absurd to suggest that any trading nation of the importance of the United States could hold itself aloof from other countries, or lightly view their tendencies to throw their influence against the English-speaking race. The world has entirely changed since the days of Washington. Countries that were regarded as far-removed from this continent are now brought next door through the agency of steam and electricity, and all the world seems to be closer together, apart from the trade restriction ten- Hospital Committee Has an Exdencies that prevail among the less intelligent. ## Unwarranted Demands.

The American Association of Nurserymen, at their convention in Omaha last week, passed resolutions urging that retaliatory action should be taken against Canada, because the Dominion San Jose scale in the United States. One orator asserted that by the prohibitory action of the Dominion Government orders for trees to the value of $500,000 had been lost to the United States nurserymen, and had been filled by Canadian growers of trees and shrubs. We cannot say as to the accuracy of this estimate, but we can inform the United States nurserymen that the action of the Canadian Minister of Agriculture in recommending the prohibition of nursery stock importation from the United States was dictated solely as a necessary precaution against the insect which has been committing so great ravages in many of the States. It is good news to hear that our neighbors are devoting their earnest attention to the work of suppressing the pest, and there is not a Canadian who will not be glad to hear that the orchards in the adjoining republic are entirely freed from it; but until that work has been completed it is scarcely seemly for the United States nurserymen to rail at our Government for taking a most necessary step to save the orchards of Canada from the worst pest that has yet threatened them.

Postponed for the Present-Architect Bodley's Claim for Compensation Filed-A Question of Wages.

"The chairman of the water commissioners is a funny sort of a man," said Ald. Jolly at the meeting of the hospital building committee last evening. "He invites the aldermen to accompany him to Buffalo, and then will not go himself."

Ald. Hunt had moved that the members of the committee, with the architect, visit the hospitals at Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and Cleveland, this having been recommended by the doctors. He thought they could kill two birds with one stone by accepting the invitation of the waterworks board. Ald. A Remarkable Cure of Sore Eyes And Sight Restored.

I am a graduate of Oberlin College, taught long enough after I graduated to have them give me the Honorary degree, and I have a great many acquaintances in and around Bo ton. About three years ago my son brought home a box of CUTICURA (ointment), and I picked up the circular that was around it, and learned about the CUTICURA SOAP, and told him to get me a cake. When I got it, the circular advised its use for the bath, teeth, scalp, etc. I had been a great sufferer all my life from sore eyelids, the whole lid outside and in was red as a beet. I had to sit in a dark room, evenings, for eight and a half years, and wear black spectacies to keep the sun from my eyes in the daytime. When I got the CUTICURA so ar, I got a fine, soft cloth, dipped it in hot water and rubbed it on the soap and washed my eyes with it. I can't tell you how much od it has done me, although it smarted very much at first. My eyes are as clear and bright as when I was a young lady. I had to go backwards in getting spectacles and wear No. 15, the same as I did twenty years ago, 1 can read medium sized print in daylight without any spectacles. As a matter of course I am kind of a walking advertisement of CUTICURA.

People will call to me when I am going along the street and tell me how much good my CUTICUBA SOAP has done their eyes. Mrs. M. R. CONGDON, Jan. 18, '97. 26 No. Cedar Avenue, Oberlin, O. We take pleasure in publishing this testial as showing the interest taken in Curi-CURA REMEDIES, and the various uses made of CURA REMEDIES, and the various uses made of them not anticipated or suggested by us. We cannot, of course, anticipate how CUTICURA SOAP will work in cases similar to the above, but to those who desire to try it we would suggest beginning with a very weak solution or "suds" of warm water and CUTICURA SOAP until its action is determined. For inflamed, granulated, or eczematous cyclids, light applications of CUTICURA cintment will in most cases be found to work wonders.

ADVICE FOR MARKETING HOGS. Buyers of hogs have recently interested themselves in cautioning drovers and others against the practice of abusing these animals by whipping or otherwise while being shipped. F. J. Colvin, of Stratford, the Western Ontario representative of the Collingwood Meat Company, says the losses on this score are very heavy and netheir hogs in that shape will have to by the troops under Gen. Garcia, who portance of producing more lean meat y not fattening too fast. The prime condition for packing is a hog weighing about 180 to 200 pounds at 8 months Another item of vital importance to the bacon trade is the tendency to eed corn. This matter has been frequently spoken of before and hogs arriving from points which have always turned out well have in some instances turned out quite soft from this cause. low an effort must be made to stop this growing evil and a decided improvement made in the other matters pinted out, or otherwise we cannot keep up the standard of Canadian ba-Mr. Colvin is now shipping from 2,000 to 2,500 per week. Farmers are specially advised not to sell hogs until they weigh at least 170 pounds.

under service conditions, and it has shown that, given a free rein with repeating rifles, 500 nervous troops can waste ten thousand rounds of animunition, killing shadows, in a single night, and not think even then that they had done much shooting. Though the teen dead Spaniards found by Lieut. Neville's men wore regular uniforms, most of those seen in the day attacks wore scarcely anything except big plantation leaves bound around their foreheads in lieu of hats. This acted as an effective disguise in the bush. Others, stripped to a pair of dirt-colored trousers, fied with branches around their waists, reaching shoulders high, and moving very cautiously, they could even cross open ground without being de-tected, though some of them were caught at the game.

Another trick was to making a moving screen of two or three big palm leaves, almost impossible to detect where stunted palm everywhere rises out of the chapperal. The Cuban auxilfaries were most successful in pointing out these tricks. There are 60 of these men now in camp, mostly hegitet.

Shipments—Flour, 3,200 bbls; wheat, 12,900 bushels; corn, 345,300 bushels; oats, 543,300 Cuban officers. They are hawk-eyed woodsmen, equaling the Spaniards in every device of bush craft. The American marines speak enthusiastically of their daring. At night, in skirmish line, the marines say the Cuban auxiliaries go through the bush like rabbits. Their chief fault, however, is their reckless handling of the new magazine rifles.

LITTLE THOUGHT OF PEACE. Washington, June 16.-A leading member of the diplomatic corps said Shafter's first army of invasion to Cuba put an end to all present prospects of the police station by breaking the peace. While a peaceful solution of the trouble was within the bounds of possibility, so long as the United States drunk. troops remained at Tampa and Key West, now, with 15,000 American soldiers about to take a position on Spanish soil, it is said that the conditions opportune for peace have undergone material change, as it committed the United States to an aggressive land campaign, and also make it impossible for Spain to adopt any other course than that of defending her soil against

The Spanish correspondent also says: The fighting continues incessantly. There are skirmishes at intervals day and night, and lack of provisions has compelled the Spaniards to desert outer points. Nevertheless, the Spaniards are animated by the best spirit, and are fighting heroically.

The wounded, who are crowding the churches and convents, have been placed under the protection of the Red Cross. Dynamite Shots. TERRIBLE EFFECTS OF MODERN MISSILES.

Off Santiago de Cuba, June 16 .-When the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius joined the fleet she was put to work immediately. Some new displacements half a mile east of El Morro, on which a large number of Spaniards had been working, were the object of The Oregon's search light played on the battery, while the black nose of the cruiser pointed at the westward batteries. Lieut.-Col. Pillsbury gave the word to fire, and Lieut. Guimby opened the air vent. There was a slight hissing, a sort of coughing noise, but no flame, no report, no warning to the Spaniards, who were hiding in the darkness. Thirty seconds later a dull roar broke the silence of the tropical night. Two hundred pounds of gun cotton had exploded on the hillside below the battery. The ships on the blockade line, several miles away, shook with the explosion. The firing of a 13-inch shell is a mere rifle crack compared to that deep and mighty roar. Clouds of earth, thrown up from the hill, seemed to stand out against the black sky. Another package of gun cotton was dropped on the other side of the battery, and may possibly have struck the torpedo boats anchored below. Before the echoes of the second died away the Vesuvias sent a third charge hissing out. It fell right on the brow of the hill, where the battery seemed to lie. In the air flew tons of earth, and the smoke covered the land for half a mile. The Vesuvias retired at a sixteen-knot rate. Two flashes shot from the hill, and two Spanish shells flew beyond the cruiser. The test was regarded as highly satisfactory.

worthy of the name, who did not aspire to be the father and the grandfather of healthy, capable children to hand down his name and the fortune accumulated by the sweat of his brow, from generation to generation. There never was a wife fit to bear that noble title, who did not wish to wear womanhood's most glorious crown, the sceptre of motherhood. Thousands of wedded couples, otherwise happy, fall short of wedlock's greatest happiness because they are childless. In the majority of cases, this is because the wife, through ignorance or neglect, suffers from weal ness and disease of the organs distinctly feminine. For women who suffer in this way there is one great medicine that does not fail to accomplish its purpose. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the delicate organs concerned and makes them strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones the shattered nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It quickens and vitalizes the distinctly feminine organism. It ban-ishes the maladies of the expectant months and makes baby's introduction to the world easy and almost painless. It insures the little new-comer's health and nourishment in plenty. It is the best supportive tonic for nursing mothers.

Mrs. Jennie Parks, of Marshall, Spokane Co., Wash., writes: "I am glad to tell of the good results of your great medicine.— Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was benefited by your medicine in confinement. It gives me strength. I have no tired feeling and my baby is the picture of health. I feel better than I have in fen years."

the General Assembly Over the Prohibition Question.

Principal Grant on the Lessons of the Scott Act.

The Individual Conscience, the Doctor Says, Should Be Allowed to Decide.

Montreal, June 15.—The prohibition question was debated at last evening's meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly. The subject was broached by the report of the committee on church life and work, including temperance, which was presented by Rev. Dr. Wright, of Portage la

Rev. Dr. Parsons moved the adoption of the report. Hon. George W. Ross, on rising to second the motion, was warmly applauded. He was glad to observe the importance the report attached to home life, for he was afraid that many of the duties of home were being gradually transferred to vesteries and elsewhere. The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. This saying is specially applicable to modern life. Sunday schools are valuable aids to the formation of Christian character, but we should not forget the responsibilities we as Presbyterians owe to the children ourselves. He also approved of the clear and emphatic deliverance upon the liquor traffic. It would not be that the Presbyterian Church should be behind, should take low ground on such a question. Owing to the plebiscite this is an important year. We should know whether temperance efforts have sufficiently ripened the public mind of Canada. We need not fear the organized power of the liquor traffic if we are organized ourselves. It has been said that if prohibition were enacted it would not be practicable. He did not so construe British legislation. A pro-hibitory law is an educative law, like other laws, and in the meantime the few infractions of it must be endured. It is a serious thing to incur the responsibility of such a law, but if we are not prepared for such responsibilities we must stand aside. Surely we will not hesitate now to go forward, but we must prepare ourselves the assembly by an energetic speech against the clause with reference to prohibition. Speaking, he said, with a profound sense of his responsibility, he moved in amendment that the report be referred back with the request that the following paragraph be struck out: "If these reports faithfully reflect the present attitude of country on this question the outlook for securing legal prohibition of this cruel and desolating traffic is hopeful and bright. But there is nothing in the reports to encourage apathy, but much to stimulate our most earnest zeal. The church is none too well prepared for the strenuous effort now demanded of her. The traffic will make a deadly struggle to maintain its awful despotism and fatten on the woes and miseries of man. But we can have no doubt as to where God stands in this controversy, and greater is he that is for us than all that are against us." His sympathy with temerance was so great that he did not like to oppose even unwise and exploded methods, and therefore did not speak except when the issue arose. He spoke last at the assembly of 1885, because the assembly persisted that the Scott act was the one effectual means. The senate had proposed certain amendments, which the committee opposed, urging that intemperance would be crushed if they could only get the Scott act. He had seen several such laws relegated to the realm of exploded superstition and prophesied that such would be the fate of the Scott act. His prophesy had come true. After a trial the Scott act had been found to increase intemperance and other sins equally injurious to the body politic. Since the Scott act had been repealed on 40 counties of Ontario intemperance had decreased. The statistics showed that there were 4,700 committments for drunkenness in Ontario during the last year of the Scott Since 1889 these commitments had declined every year, and last year they were only 1,700. Therefore the Scott act increased drunkenness and licensing did a great deal better. The Scott act, based on local option failed when the locality was extended to counties. How much greater would be the failure when it would be extended to the whole Dominion, with its diverse peoples. The result of prohibition was a frightful carnival of intemperance and public and private immorality. The people of Canada would be called on this year to take action, and therefore they should have an intelligent discussion of so momentous a question. SOLID VOTES.

Yet the assembly was oracularly warned that the time for discussion was past and that the members should vote solid on this question. They had sometimes condemned the Church of Rome for a solid vote, but he thought that certain elections showed that the people voted as they thought. (Applause.) A certain church has even told the government that it was solid on the subject. But we are free born and don't intend to abdicate the liberty of free citizens. It is the duty of each man to think for himself and vote intelligently. The franchise is given that citizens may exercise it intelligently and freely. He then refer-red to previous deliverances of the assembly on other subjects. Instru-mental music—(laughter)—had been denounced as unscriptural, as anti-scriptural, and one brother had even been threatened with discipline over a harmonium. (Laughter.) Then there was the question of hymns, human hymns they had been called, and if anyone had been mad enough to propose "amen" there would be short shrift for him. (Great laughter.) Yet here in Knox Church, the high-water mark of orthodoxy-(laughter)-the nigh place of the solemnities of Walter Paul-(great laughter)-there were organs, hymns, and amens. He could organs, hymns, and amens. He could quote dozens of other cases. How often had the inviolability of the confession of faith been upheld, and yet the church in Canada could not write without expunging a whole section. If this is the case with questions within The Safest Drink for Hot Weather.

the church's own region a fortiori there would be less respect to the assembly on a question which was not in its gion. The assembly could not take the place of press, platform and parlianent without neglecting its own work. (Applause.) The church, if it interferces too prominently, will become partisan. Even now the question had become a football between the two parties. Yet the assembly was challenged to received a report containing sentences that no brother should be asked to adopt, especially when they are so objectionable to others. He objected especially to the sentence, "We can have no doubt as to where God stands on this great question," and it is signed "P. Wright." (Great laughter.) There are other sins on which the church should pronounce, such as impurity, whose effects he had seen as governor of a hospital. Why did not the church denounce political corruption, which was a greater sin than drunkenness? These sins the church should speak on and not on those about which there is such a difference of op-Conscience does not consider prohibition binding. At this point some objection was raised about time, and Principal Grant remarked that he was astonished that the assembly, after listening for hours to one could object to one man upholding the other. He opposed the sentence he complained of as unbrotherly, opposed to the true principle of temperance and liberty of conscience and couched in language which in zeal for the means forgets the end. THE TIME EXTENDED. As time for adjournment had arrived, Rev. Robt. Johnston, of London, moved that it be extended for another hour, as it would never do for the report to go abroad that the assembly had adjourned without deciding such a question.

Rev. J. B. Mullen-An hour won't I am just boiling over. (Great laughter.) Rev. Mr. Wright, convener, protested that he had never intended any reflection on Principal Grant, but referred to the controversy. Principal Grant was sorry that Rev. Mr. Wright had not said so before. Rev. Dr. Thompson said he certain-ly regarded the clause as a reflection on himself also, but if the convener would modify it, the objection would be removed.

Rev. Dr. Wright agreed to withdraw the clause and accordingly Principal Grant's anti-prohibition speech came to an end for the moment and the report was declared received.

The recommendations of report were taken up seriatim for adoption. Rev. Dr. Thompson objected to crause four, recommending that generally not less than one-tenth of one's income be given to religious and benevolent purposes.

Rev. Mr. Dey held that the expression was Scriptural, and Dr. Thompson having no seconder, the amendment was dropped. Principal Grant objected to clause five declaring that total legal prohibition is the true goal of all efficient temperance legislation. He moved an amendment emphasizing the evils of strong drink and adding that it was one of the worthiest aims of Christian philanthropy to reduce these evils by wise legislation. Mr. G. F. Johnson, of Fredericton, seconded the amendment, giving his experience of prohibitory laws in New Brunswick. He said that the eight druggists of Fredericton, who were frequently fined for selling liquor, were as much thought of as any other business men in the city and this showed the disastrous effect upon public opinion of the failure to enforce such a law. Mr. J. B. Mullen strongly supported the clause as it stood, and claimed that the agitation for the Scott and other prohibitory laws had lifted the country to a higher plane. Principal MacVicar made an eloquent reply to the objection raised by Principal Grant.

Mr. Cassils thought they should vote on prohibition as citizens, but not in the assembly, which had no jurisdiction over the question. Mr. Walter Paul made a brief address in favor of prohibition.

The vote was then taken. Principal Grant's amendment was defeated by a large majority.

Clause six exhorted people to use every effort to carry the plebiscite in favor of prohibition by an overwhelming majority. Principal Grant moved in amendment that the assembly urge all its members to vote on this question and to vote intelligently and conscientious ly. He argued that they should not be asked to vote solid on one side, as if it was a sin to vote on the other. Rev. L. H. Jordan seconded the amendment, but it met a similar fate to the other. The report was adopted.

The Amen of marriage is always a baby Without it wedlock is a summer field blooms, a that never night without without a bendiction, a prayer without an Amen.

There never was a husband worthy of the name, who did not aspire to be the father and the grandfather of healthy, capable children to hand down his name and the fortune accumulated by the sweat of his brow, from generation generation. There never was a wife fit to bear that noble title, who did not wish to wear womanhood's most glorious crown, the sceptre of motherhood. Thousands of wedded couples, otherwise happy, fall short of wedlock's greatest happiness because they are childless. In the majority of cases, this is because the wife, through ignorance or neglect, suffers from weak ness and disease of the organs distinctly feminine. For women who suffer in this way there is one great medicine that does not fail to accomplish its purpose. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the delicate organs concerned and makes them strong, healthy, vigorous virile and elastic. It allays inflammation heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones the shattered nerves. He also approved of the clear and emphatic deliverance upon the liquor traffic. It would not be that the Presbyterian Church should be behind, should take low ground on such a question. Owing to the plebiscite this is an important year. We should know whether temperance efforts have sufficiently ripened the public mind of Canada. We need not fear the organized power of the liquor traffic if we are organized ourselves. It has been said that if prohibition were enacted it would not be practicable. He did not so construe British legislation. A prohibitory law is an educative law, like other laws, and in the meantime the few infractions of it must be endured. It is a serious thing to incur the responsibility of such a law, but if we are not prepared for such responsibilities we must stand aside. Surely we will not hesitate now to go forward, but we must prepare ourselves for the struggle by an intelligent dis-cussion of the whole question. The magistrate back of the law must have an intelligent public opinion to sup-

Principal Grant threw a bomb into the assembly by an energetic speech against the clause with reference to prohibition. Speaking, he said, with a profound sense of his responsibility, he moved in amendment that the report be referred back with the request that the following paragraph be struck out: "If these reports faithfully reflect the present attitude of the country on this question the outlook for securing legal prohibition of this cruel and desolating traffic is hopeful and bright. But there is nothing in the reports to encourage apathy, but much to stimulate our most earnest zeal. The church is none too well prepared for the strenuous effort now manded of her. The traffic will make a deadly struggle to maintain its awful despotism and fatten on the woes and miseries of man. But we can have no doubt as to where God stands in this controversy, and greater is he that is for us than all that are against us." His sympathy with temperance was so great that he did not like to oppose even unwise and exploded methods, and therefore did not speak except when the issue arose. He spoke last at the assembly of 1885, because the assembly persisted that the urging that intemperance get the Scott act. He had seen several such laws relegated to the realm ed that such would be the fate of the found to increase intemperance and been repealed on 40 counties of Onthe pump steadily, but so far as the tario intemperance had decreased. The statistics showed that there were 4,700 committments for drunkenness in Ontario during the last year of the Scott act. Since 1889 these commitments had declined every year, and last year they were only 1,700. Therefore the Scott act increased drunkenness and licensing did a great deal better. The Scott act, based on local option failed when the locality was extended to counties. How much greater would be the failure when it would be extended to the whole Dominion, with its diverse peoples. The result of prohibition was a frightful carnival of intemperance and public and private immorality. The people of Canada would be called on this year to take action, and therefore they should have an intelligent discussion of so momentous a question.

SOLID VOTES. Yet the assembly was oracularly warned that the time for discussion was past and that the members should vote solid on this question. They had sometimes condemned the Church of Rome for a solid vote, but he thought that certain elections showed that the people voted as they thought. (Applause.) A certain church has even told the government that it was solid on the subject. But we are free born and don't intend to abdicate the liberty of free citizens. It is the duty of each man to think for himself and vote intelligently. The franchise is given that citizens may exercise it intelligently and freely. He then referred to previous deliverances of the assembly on other subjects. Instrumental music-(laughter)-had beer denounced as unscriptural, as anti-scriptural, and one brother had even been threatened with discipline over harmonium. (Laughter.) Then there was the question of hymns, human hymns they had been called, and if anyone had been mad enough to propose "amen" there would be short shrift for him. (Great laughter.) Yet here in Knox Church, the high-water mark of orthodoxy—(laughter)—the high place of the solemnities of Walter Paul-(great laughter)-there were organs, hymns, and amens. He could quote dozens of other cases. How often had the inviolability of the confession of faith been upheld, and yet the church in Canada could not write without expunging a whole section. If this is the case with questions within The Safest Drink for Hot Weather.

he church's own region a fortiori there would be less respect to the assembly on a ques-tion which was not in its region. The assembly could not take the place of press, platform and parliament without neglecting its own work. (Applause.) The church, if it interferces too prominently, will become partisan. Even now the question had become a football between the two parties. Yet the assembly was challenged to received a report containing sentences that no brother should be asked to adopt, especially when they are so objectionable to others. He objected especially to the sentence, "We can have no doubt as to where God stands on this great question," and it is signed "P. Wright." (Great laughter.) There are other sins on which the church should pronounce, such as impurity, whose effects he had seen as governor of a hospital. Why did not the church denounce political corruption, which was a greater sin than drunkenness? These sins the church should speak on and not on those about which there is such a difference of op-Conscience does not consider prohibition binding. At this point some objection was raised about time. and Principal Grant remarked that he was astonished that the assembly, after listening for hours to one could object to one man upholding the other. He opposed the sentence he complained of as unbrotherly, opposed other. to the true principle of temperance and liberty of conscience and couched in language which in zeal for the means forgets the end.

THE TIME EXTENDED. As time for adjournment had arrived, Rev. Robt. Johnston, of London, moved that it be extended for another hour, as it would never do for the report to go abroad that the assembly had adjourned without deciding such

Rev. J. B. Mullen-An hour won't I am just boiling over. (Great laughter.) Rev. Mr. Wright, convener, protested that he had never intended any reflection on Principal Grant, but referred to the controversy. Principal Grant was sorry that Rev. Mr. Wright had not said so before. Mr. Wright had not said so before.

Rev. Dr. Thompson said he certainly regarded the clause as a reflection on himself also, but if the convener would modify it, the objection would be removed.

Rev. Dr. Wright agreed to withdraw the clause and accordingly Principal Grant's anti-prohibition speech came to an end for the moment and the report was declared received. The recommendations of report were taken up seriatim for adoption. Dr. Thompson objected to Rev. clause four, recommending that generally not less than one-tenth of one's income be given to religious and benevolent purposes.

Rev. Mr. Dey held that the expression was Scriptural, and Dr. Thompson having no seconder, the amendment was dropped. Principal Grant objected to clause five declaring that total legal prohibi-tion is the true goal of all efficient temperance legislation. He moved ar amendment emphasizing the evils of strong drink and adding that it was one of the worthiest aims of Christian philanthropy to reduce these evils by wise legislation. Mr. G. F. Johnson, of Fredericton, seconded the amendment, giving his experience of prohibitory laws in New Brunswick. He said that the eight druggists of Fredericton, who were frequently fined for selling liquor, were as much thought of as any other business men in the city and this showed the disastrous effect upon public opinion of the failure to enforce such a law Mr. J. B. Mullen strongly supported the clause as it stood, and claimed that the agitation for the Scott and other prohibitory laws had lifted the country to a higher plane.

Principal MacVicar made an eloquent reply to the objection raised by Principal Grant. Mr. Cassils thought they should vote on prohibition as citizens, but not in assembly, which had no jurisdiction over the question. Mr. Walter Paul made a brief address in favor of prohibition. The vote was then taken. Principal Grant's amendment was defeated by a large majority. Clause six exhorted people to use every effort to carry the plebiscite in favor of prohibition by an overwhelming majority.

Principal Grant moved in amendment that the assembly urge all its members to vote on this question and to vote intelligently and conscientious ly. He argued that they should not be asked to vote solid on one side, as if it was a sin to vote on the other. Rev. L. H. Jordan seconded t amendment, but it met a similar fate to the other. The report was adopted.

At the meeting of No. 3 committee last night Ald. Stevely was chosen to act as chairman, in the absence of and the prospects for the year are very Ald. Taylor, who is ill. An important offer was received from the London Electric Company through the manager, Mr. C. B. Hunt. It was proposed to supply the city with 314 arc lamps, 2,000 candle power, for street lighting, at 23 cents per night, thus giving 25 new arc lamps to the city practically free on the condition that At present there are 289 lamps, and the price is 25 cents. It was not desired, the letter from the company Rev. Mr. Steele and wife and Miss stated, to stop inquiry as to the cost of street lighting. On the contrary, they were quite willing to give the fullest information possible. They were satisfied the cost of the electric light plant under municipal ownership would be greater than at present—26 or 28 cents a light at least. The company were enabled to make their offer so low because their labor was employed on other lighting as well. To the chairman Mr. Hunt said the offer would certainly hold good if the committee called for tenders. It was understood, of course, that no wlidcat schemes would be brought in.

Ald. Jolly moved that the offer be submitted to the council. Ald. Wilkey wanted it filed for re-Ald. Hunt said the citizens were de-

WAR IN CAMP

Would-Be-Somebodies Responsible for a Disgraceful Scene-Military Notes.

Camp Carling was visited last night by many hundreds of citizens, and the attendance was the largest of any day this year. Of course, there are always with their own importance, and this was the secret of a small war on the camp grounds last night. The trouble arose over the officiousness of a corporal, who imagined himself a regular Napoleon. The corporal took a private to task, and the private in turn jumped on his "superior" officer, and threw him heavily to the ground. Other officers interfered, and the crowd grew to a multitude. The private was taken in charge by the crowd, who kept the officers from injuring the fellow. Baseball bats, sticks and even bayonets and swords were brought into requisition in the melee, which was but short-lived, as the police appeared and terminated it very suddenly.

The inspection for comparative proficiency was conducted all day yester-day by Col. Maunsell, who spoke highly of the efficiency of the men, who during the last two or three days have picked up wonderfully, and all concerned feel gratified at the results of a few days' instruction. NOTES. Col. Hegler, of Ingersoll, and Capt. Ball, of Woodstock, were among the visitors at the camp last night. Rev. Canon Thomas R. Davis, chaplain of the Twenty-seventh, has arrived in camp. He is a brother of Ven. Archdeacon Davis, of this city.
