

HOT SUN AND DRY WEATHER CAUSING MANY BUSH FIRES

Around the Soo Much Timber Is Being Destroyed, and in Cobalt District Buildings Have Been Consumed.

[Canadian Press.]
Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 19.—The hot sun and dry weather of the past few days have combined to start the annual crop of bush fires. The nearest one was a blaze in Rosedale Place yesterday, which the local fire department was called upon to check. Along the line of the Algoma Central Railway the forests are suffering, and serious fires are reported from the vicinity of Glenora and Searmouth. A big blaze is also reported not far from Bellevue. On the lower end of Sugar Island a particularly serious fire is destroying a large area of timber, and forest lands along the north shore are also suffering.

Farmers Worry.

Fires which started from an unknown cause on the farm of Gus Farnham in Korah, are causing the citizens of that district alarm. The limits of this fire are now about four miles from the Soo. The farmers of East Korah are worried by its progress. Outside of the loss to timber, no serious results have yet been reported.

Big Plant Destroyed.

Cobalt, Ont., May 19.—A heavy wind, starting at dawn, fanned into flame scores of bush fires throughout the north, which have been disturbing settlers for several days.

No rain during the month, coupled with a dry April, has started bush fires weeks earlier than usual. The greatest known damage yesterday was at SoSuth Lorraine, where everyone in the camp was pressed into service to fight fires.

The plant at All's Lorraine was entirely destroyed, including the power house and three other buildings.

Mines Escape.

The Keeley, Wettlaufer and Bellel mines escaped damage, but the force of men at the former fought hard. Twelve poles on the Matabichouan power line were burned, but power was interrupted for but a short time. The fire department at Cobalt fought at West Cobalt for five hours, but no buildings were burned. A few outlying shacks were destroyed. Between Cobalt and North Cobalt a large fire burned to the right of way. Poles on the Chertsey-Engelhart power line were also destroyed, and the divisional point was without lights last night. No damage north of Engelhart has been reported by the fires.

Wang attempted to escape twice, but was recaptured, brutally beaten, and fined, and now is nearly insane.

Their Efforts to Preserve
Peace May Be Successful.

[Canadian Press.]
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 18.—Two of the representatives of the three South American countries which are to try to solve the Mexican trouble by mediation, arrived here today, preparatory to the commencement of their sessions with the representatives of the United States and Mexico next Wednesday.

Dominio Dagama, the Brazilian Ambassador, who is the ranking diplomat of the three mediators, and Romulo S. Naon, minister for Argentina, were the mediators who arrived today. Eduardo Suarez, the Chilean minister, and the third mediator, is expected to arrive tomorrow from Washington.

On reaching the hotel where the conference is to be held, Mr. Dagama found awaiting the mediators the following message from the Duke of Connaught, governor-general of Canada:

"As Governor-General, I welcome you on your arrival on Canadian soil, and express my fervent hope that the efforts of yourself and your colleagues to preserve peace may meet with speedy and lasting success."

Ambassador's Reply.

It was learned here today that the Governor-General of Canada will send Assistant Secretary of State Pope and Secretary of Agriculture Burrell here tomorrow to welcome in person, on his behalf, the mediators and the delegates of the United States and Mexico.

MEXICAN DELEGATES EXPRESS OPTIMISM

After Conference Is Over They Return To Mexico, Not To Europe.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, May 19.—The three Mexican peace delegates, who will leave New York for Niagara Falls, Ont., this evening, abandoned their policy of strict silence long enough today to express optimism as to the result of the mediation.

"We have no idea how long the conference will last," said Mr. Emilio Rabasa, the leader and spokesman of the Mexican delegates. "It may take three days or three months. We shall be governed entirely by our instructions. We are, however, very hopeful, very confident of a successful adjustment."

"After the conference was over we will return to Mexico City," said Mr. Rabasa. "It had been reported that they would visit Europe."

BABY DROWNED IN CISTERN ON YORK STREET

Toddles Into Yard and, Unobserved, Falls Into Water.

MOTHER IS DOWN TOWN

Child Is Left in the Care of His Grandmother—Resuscitation Useless.

With his little face upturned and showing ghastly white through the water, Malachi Edward James Gleeson, three-year-old son of Louis Gleeson, 482 York street, was found drowned in a cistern at the rear of his parents' home by his grandmother, Mrs. James T. Gleeson, shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon. Medical attention and the pulmotor failed to revive him, and the body having been in the water for some time, Dr. Robert Ferguson, who was summoned, has decided that an inquest will not be necessary.

Mother Down Town.

No one saw the child toddle out of the house. Early in the afternoon the mother had gone down town, leaving three young children in the charge of the grandmother. About half-past three she had started to wash and dress them for the evening. Malachi was dressed first, and it is thought that while Mrs. Gleeson was busy with the other youngsters, unobserved, the child trotted into the yard. In some manner he removed the cover from the cistern and fell into the water below.

Missed by Grandmother.

When the other children were dressed, Mrs. Gleeson looked around and found Malachi. He was not in the front room, and a hurried search failed to find him in any part of the house. She went into the kitchen. Here an open door seemed to offer a solution to the disappearance. Passing through the doorway, the open cistern confronted her.

Saw Child in Water.

With a shriek her face looked into the water. The child's face was visible just below the surface. With the aid of neighbors the tot was fished out with a rake.

A rush call was sent in for the pulmotor and Mrs. Muggan, Staples and Black, all residing within a near radius of the scene of the accident, were summoned. Chief Aitken and Fireman Harry Foster, who took the scene, with a pump within a few minutes, but although every effort was made to start the air circulating in the lungs of the child, the work of the doctors, chief and fireman were of no avail.

All Efforts Failed.

Resuscitation methods were employed for almost an hour, but at the end of that time no spark of life was visible to show that the strenuous work was having any effect.

When the mother returned from the downtown section and was informed of her child's death, her grief was pitiable. All efforts to calm her proved fruitless, and she was unable to give any particulars to an Advertiser reporter when he called at the family residence.

Charles Hart, brother of Mrs. Gleeson, former member of The Advertiser composing room staff, and at present residing at Grand Rapids, told The Advertiser that yesterday he had taken the little fellow for a drive and that he had been in the best of spirits.

"He was the brightest little chap I ever saw," said Mr. Hart, "and was always into everything. He was quick as a cricket and I have no doubt that as soon as he left the house he went directly to the cistern. In some manner he removed the lid and fell into the water."

NO SENTENCE YET FOR VETERINARIAN RIDDLE

[Special to The Advertiser.]
WOODSTOCK, May 18.—Dr. Riddle, the Norwich V. S., who at present is confined in the Woodstock jail awaiting sentence, contrary to expectation, did not come up this morning. It is altogether likely that he will receive his sentence some time this week.

A petition will be presented to Acting Judge Wallace asking for leniency, and it is also likely that T. C. Robinson, his counsel, will enter a plea in his behalf.

Minister Resigns.

[Canadian Press.]

City of Mexico, May 19.—Considerable interest is displayed in the news of the resignation of Jose Maria Lozano, minister of communications and public works, which has just been announced. No reason is assigned for Lozano's retirement. A train came in from San Luis Potosi last night, but it did not bring Vice-Consul John R. Stillman, as expected.

Drove Out Archbishop.

Vera Cruz, May 19.—Archbishop Mora y del Rio was driven out of Mexico City by Provisional President Huerta, according to information reaching here today. The archbishop, the story says, sought an interview with Gen. Huerta, which was at first refused, but later accorded upon the representation that the churchman had a communication from the Pope.

The communication proved to be a suggestion that Gen. Huerta resign. The President appeared to take this advice dispassionately, making no reply. On the following day, however, a messenger came to the archbishop with a warning from Huerta that he would do well to leave the country.

Rushing Troops to Saltillo.

Mexico City, May 19.—Gen. Blanquet, minister of war, said today that great battle has yet begun in Saltillo. So far there have only been hot skirmishes between the vanguards.

The Government is rushing war material and soldiers into Saltillo. Gen. Oles, with 3,000 men, arrived yesterday in Saltillo, having left San Luis Potosi two days before. The forces of Gen. Zozaya, which had been operating on the San Luis Potosi-Tampico line, have been concentrated in San Luis Potosi.

Wilson's Position.

Washington, May 19.—Officials in Administration circles confidently await the opening tomorrow of the next big scene in the Mexican crisis. President Wilson, it was known, was determined to see that mediation be developed to a successful conclusion. He emphasized to the members of the mission that it was the task of the United States unselfishly to attempt to help Mexico to set up a government that would attract world recognition.

Must Be Definite.

He told the delegates that the American Government would regard the definite settlement of Mexico's problems as necessary to the withdrawal of American military forces from Vera Cruz. President Wilson reiterated that peace in Mexico, to him, appeared to be conditional on the elimination of the Huerta Administration and the creation of a government that could guarantee untrammelled elections, a solution of the land problem and other dimensions. Comprehensive settlement, the President believes, must be based on consideration of the Zetana and Carranza factors, besides public interests in territory still controlled by Huerta.

Lamar On His Way.

Washington, May 19.—As spokesman for the United States to the American conference, Associate Justice Lamar, former Solicitor-General Lehmann and H. Percival Dodge, secretary to the commission, left Washington early today for Niagara Falls, Ontario.

Mediators Resting.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 19.—The South American mediators spent today quietly and hopefully, waiting for the formal inauguration here tomorrow of the actual beginning of their mediation proceedings. The impression was gained from those who had talked with the mediators that they expected a speedy as well as a satisfactory settlement of the problem before them.

Mediators Resting.

The mediators were gratified to learn of the hopeful attitude of President Wilson toward their proceedings.

A large number of American, Canadian and foreign correspondents began flocking in today prepared to flash to all parts of the world the news of the conference proceedings.

The hotel also began to fill up with visitors from both the United States and Canada, who have come here to be near the scene of what they believe will be history-making negotiations.

"TEDDY'S" WELCOME TO BE STRICTLY PRIVATE

[Canadian Press.]
New York, May 19.—Theodore Roosevelt will get home from his South American expedition trip late today. Agents of the steamship line from Manaus to Para, arrived in port yesterday and said the colonel is returning, received wireless word today that the steamer would reach quarantine about 3 o'clock. The colonel's friends in this city and even his neighbors in Oyster Bay will not have a chance to greet the returning traveler if the plans of his family are carried out. They have arranged to have a strictly family party meet him at quarantine with a tug, and take him on it up Long Island Sound to Oyster Bay, where he will be landed at the private pier of his cousin, W. Emlen Roosevelt, only a short distance from his own home.

FEARING ASSASSINATION EX-MINISTER FLEES

Dr. Urrutia Says Also a General
Revolt Is Planned Against Huerta.

[Canadian Press.]
Vera Cruz, May 19.—Dr. Aureliano Urrutia, ex-minister of the interior, declares that he left the capital because he feared assassination and in the belief that a revolt would shortly occur in the city of Mexico.

"I left the capital," he said, "for two reasons, the first was a knowledge of a plot among Gen. Huerta's close political supporters to assassinate me, they say I knew too much. He has become a popular hero. Most fugitives from the capital are welcomed by the residents of Vera Cruz, but they found it difficult to separate Urrutia from the Huerta regime, notwithstanding the public dropping of the man by the provisional president."

Several residents of Vera Cruz have forwarded to the Constitutional Junta at Washington a petition that it use its influence with the state department to have Dr. Urrutia held until there is an opportunity to prefer charges against him for his many alleged crimes, perpetrated as is generally claimed, while he was minister of the interior.

Antonio Rivero de la Torre, editor of El Dictam, who was the leader of a demonstration against Dr. Urrutia, is still held at police headquarters charged with disturbing the peace. He has become a popular hero. Most fugitives from the capital are welcomed by the residents of Vera Cruz, but they found it difficult to separate Urrutia from the Huerta regime, notwithstanding the public dropping of the man by the provisional president."

SUBWAY BALL STARTS ROLLING AND COUNCIL WILL SEEK RELIEF

The subway ball has started rolling. A section of the city council believes that the people of London want relief from the danger and delays of level crossings, and last night the first step toward action was taken when Ald. William Wilson succeeded in having the matter taken up, and a committee appointed to interview the city solicitor and ascertain the means that should be taken to bring about relief.

The discussion on the question was anything but acrimonious. Every man on the council and the board of control is anxious to end the level crossing danger and to bring relief in the matter of car service.

Give Company An Alibi.

At the present time the delays at Richmond and Rectory streets give the street railway an alibi when the charge of poor service on several lines is made. Remove the cause of the delay and there is little possibility of poor service being justified. The street railway would have to play the game every minute.

South London—and by this name all of the territory south of the Grand Trunk tracks might be known—needs an entrance into London. At the present time it is as much isolated by level crossings and lack of subways, as though it were situated on an island. The street car service amounts to a ferry service, nine trips out of ten.

Would Improve Property.
At Ridout street there is a natural location for a subway, which, it has been estimated, would not cost more than $20,000. The engineering problem is to cut through a hill at the foot of which on either side is the natural level of traffic. This one entrance into South London, and into all sections below the tracks, would mean a substantial increase in the price of property, and would facilitate the movement of citizens from their homes to their places of business in the downtown section. It would eliminate the danger of at least one level crossing.

London Must Move.

The mayor has a fear that the city may make a mistake by moving in the matter. His view apparently is that the Grand Trunk should make the first step, and that there would be a danger of committing the city to the work, that after having once asked for the railway commission's order, the city would have to proceed. But if the matter is left until the Grand Trunk or the street railway moves, London will never have either subways or elevated tracks.

Western Cities for Subways.

The cities of the west have gone in for subways, rather than for elevated tracks. The cities of the United States have found the same system to be the most advantageous. St. Thomas and Guelph, two of the thriving cities of Western Ontario have discovered that subways have improved the situation greatly.

Citizens generally are agreed that relief is needed. There is no need for controversy in this matter; discussion should be furthered at every opportunity, but if public bodies take the question in hand, and pursue it in the interests of citizens generally, they will find opportunity to bring about the greatest work for the advancement of the city of London.

Cannot Await Companies.

The first thing to be borne in mind is that the city of London cannot fold its hands and await the pleasure of the Grand Trunk or the street railway to start something. The city must move and move at once.

Otherwise every life that is taken at these level crossings will be laid and should be laid at the doors of those who neglect to provide safe crossing facilities for the citizens as a whole.

WILL SEARCH THE ARCTIC FOR ESKIMO MURDERER

REGINA, Sask., May 18.—Inspector Beytes, of the R. N. W. M. P. force here has been given three years' commission to go to the northernmost part of Hudson Bay and find the murderers of Radford and Street, two explorers, who were believed to have been killed by Eskimos two years ago.

Beytes will go to Chesterfield Inlet, the farthest point north on the Hudson Bay inhabited by white men, and from there take three years' supply of provisions and travel thousands of miles through the interior. The trip will be one of the most dangerous and trying ever undertaken by an officer of the Mounted Police, involving investigations among savage Eskimo tribes, at whose hands the two lost explorers met death.

F. F. Pardee Deprecates C. N.
R. Deal, Calling Bargain
Buncombe.

MAKES SITUATION PLAIN

Demands That Promoters Put
Their Own Money, Not Country's, in Road.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, May 18.—The speech of the day in the C. N. R. aid bill debate was made by the member for West Lambton, F. F. Pardee. He condemned the $45,000,000 bargain in unmeasured terms and declared there should be no Government aid without Government control of both construction and operation.

"The Government would force Canada into partnership with a company which is absolutely broken, and more. It is a policy which is opposed to every Canadian interest. Instead, the control of the stock of the Canadian Northern and its allied companies should be given into the hands of the Dominion, the Government should appoint the directors and give into the hands of expert railwaymen, not railway contractors, the task of operating this railway, in the interests of the Canadian people." This declaration by Mr. Pardee brought great applause from Liberal benches tonight. It produced such dismay on the Government side that the only reply it could make was to adjourn.

Consideration for Mackenzie & Mann.

"Nearly the whole point of the speech of the member for Centre Toronto (Mr. Bristol)," said Mr. Pardee, "was that great consideration should be shown Mackenzie & Mann. It appears to me that since the inception of the Canadian Northern, since they have come here year after year, since they have gone year after year to provincial legislatures and to municipal councils, there has been one constant train of pleas for consideration for Mackenzie & Mann. They have been fondled and petted and nursed from the beginning down to the present day. Every consideration which could be shown men who have never put a dollar of their own into the enterprise which they controlled has been shown these two millionaires."

"For every man, woman and child in Canada, these men have received $26 of assistance, and now the Government boasts of a beneficial comeback, which is to be nothing more than a worthless stock, per capita, for the Canadian people."

Statements of no Value.

"Of what value," asked Mr. Pardee, are the statements given to parliament and the people by the men last year Hon. W. T. White had come to the house with a statement that a gift of $15,000,000 would enable them to complete the road.

"This year," he went on, "the same Mackenzie & Mann are back once more. Give us this time an offer of $100,000,000, they say, and it will complete the road. I don't believe it will do anything of the kind. There will be the same performance next year. The same promise will be repeated in succeeding years. This same government will boast once more of its acute business sense, we will hear the same talk of the great bargain which it has made. The country will be asked to show consideration for Mackenzie & Mann and hand out more millions to add to those taken from the people of Canada."

"As for the securities to be given the Government of what real value were they? Only upon one railway, the Brockville and Westport, do we get a first mortgage," declared Mr. Pardee, "and that mortgage is held by the same Mackenzie & Mann or anybody else to tell how many prior mortgages there are upon the other securities on what their value is. The agreement with the Government for such securities was drawn by a couple of shrewd Toronto lawyers that Mackenzie and Mann are only handing to the country securities of which the values are problematical, they get from the country $45,000,000."

What Government Gets.

"Why is it?" he asked, "that securities which are known to be valuable are omitted from the list of those to be handed over by Mackenzie and Mann, while those which are 'shaky' are to be handed over to the Government? Why was Toronto, Niagara and St. Catharines Railway not included in the list of securities, or the Toronto, Niagara and Western, or the Inverness Railway, with the valuable coal mines which go with it? These are paying valuable properties. Why have they been left out while the Halifax and Southwestern for example, a road which had never paid, a road upon which the Government will now have to pay $15,000,000 of bonds, has been included? The good securities have been retained by Mackenzie and Mann, the shaky ones have been handed over to this all-wise Government with its boasted business acumen and regard for the interests of the public. The plain truth is that the Government capitulated and accepted the terms which Mackenzie and Mann laid down."

People Settling In.

"The information is clear enough," Mr. Pardee went on, "that Mackenzie & Mann need $24,000,000 to complete the road. Yet the Government is attempting to let the people that $45,000,000 is sufficient to do the work. It is the shrewdest buncombe. The Government is dealing out one more sop, the people are getting in deeper and deeper, and for whom? For men who have not put a single dollar of their own fortunes into the enterprise, and yet are to be allowed to retain control of it. The men of the Canadian Pacific showed the faith that was in them. They risked their own fortunes, Mackenzie & Mann are not of their stamp. They have not risked to their aid or any part of it. And now this Government agreement is so drawn that they are left clear so far as their private wealth is concerned."

Bobby Kerr, the famous Canadian champion sprinter, who is with the Hamilton ball club, acted as starter, and Messrs. McCullough, of Woodstock, and McKeracher and Taylor, of the Y. M. C. A., were the judges. The 660 yards run provided the best racing of the evening, some of the starters being given handicaps of 50 yards or more. Roy Campbell won, with Morris Pollock second. Both men ran a great race, the time 1:27 being a record for these meets.

The Results.
Last night's results were as follows: 660 yards handicap—1. Campbell (5 yards); 2. Pollock (scratch); 3. Boyle (40 yards); 4. Lightfoot (10 yards) and Markie (20 yards); 5. AFTER THESE MANY YEARS SAM MOUNTS WATER WAGON

Relief Inspector, McCallum Hears Good
News From Old Man Powell.

Londoners who are interested in western mining stock and who have visited some of the properties in Arizona, where old Sam Powell has looked after their interests, were surprised this morning at the contents of a letter which Sam wrote to J. W. McCallum, relief inspector, at the city hall, Mr. McCallum, together with other Londoners, met Sam in the far west, and was touched by his life-story. For more than 30 years Sam has been a character in the mining wilderness, having lived Sam's life because of a love affair in his early youth. Among other things, Sam drank to drown his sorrow. Recently, however, he has turned over a new leaf, and in his letter to Mr. McCallum he breaks forth into a bit of poetry concerning his climb on the water wagon. He writes as follows:

"Down from the Bradshaws' rugged slopes, out from the Black Rock camp,
Up from the sandy reaches of the fabled Hassayamp,
Comes now a startling rumor, a wondrous bit of news,
That's vouched for as a truthful story—
Sam's out out the booze.

No more the ardent highball wakens festive song and story;
No more the potent cocktail weaves its spell of transient glow;
Gone are the swift libations that roused the poet's art,
And set his muse a-humming—
Sam's on the water-cart.

The bridle steers have been unyoked—
Sam's turned them out to graze;
No more they heed the call to drink, as in the bygone days;
The flowing bowl, the cup, the flask, the demijohn and flagon,
Have all been heaved out on the dump—
Sam's on the water wagon.

Greatest Carpet Sale In History of Store

7000 Yards $1 to $1.50 Brussels, Sale Price 69c and 89c Yard

Never have such goods been offered anywhere at these prices, to our knowledge. The best quality in this lot is actually worth today $1.65 a yard. It is simply a case of making prices that will fill this floor with eager buyers and make a quick clearance of the entire lot, as these rolls must be moved off the floor this month.

We think such an opportunity right now, when you are renewing your Carpets, is unprecedented—to be able to carpet your rooms with best body Brussels at the price of inferior tapestry. Can you realize the importance of it? You will appreciate it when you see the goods.

50 Different Designs To Make Selections From

Which represent thousands of yards of the finest full five-frame body Brussels, a large portion of which is direct from John Crossley & Son, England, and James Templeton, Glasgow. If you figure out your savings on what you may need of these Carpets, you will surely anticipate your needs years in advance—and we would advise you that it is doubtful if ever again such prices will be heard of.

Our aim is to clear the whole 7,000 yards. Four days should accomplish this. Every yard should go this week.

In the designs are included floral, Parisian, Kazak, conventional, two-tones in blue, rose, French gray, tans and verdure effects—representing Carpets suitable for every room in the house. COUNCIL AWAKENING TO CROSSING DANGER CONSIDERS ABOLITION

Takes Initial Step in Naming Investigating Committee.

MAYOR OPPOSES THE MOVE

Says "Go Easy" or Railway
Will Get Off With Small
End of Cost.

The city council last night named Aldermen Wilson, Tancock, Merryfield, Mitchell and Controller Moore, a special committee to interview the city solicitor and ascertain the proper course to pursue in bringing about the separation of grades on the dangerous crossings of the Grand Trunk railway in the city. This action was taken after a spirited discussion over a resolution by Alderman Wilson, which called attention to the large loss of life on these crossings and authorized a committee composed of Aldermen Wilson, Mitchell, Tancock and Merryfield to confer with the Dominion railway commission for the purpose of getting prompt action for crossings in London.

Mayor Is Opposed.
The Wilson resolution was withdrawn after Mayor Graham and Controller Moore explained that by rushing to the railway commission the city would "tip its hand" to the Grand Trunk railway, and the subway question would end up by the city paying 50 per cent. of the cost and the railway 20 per cent. It looked for a time as though the Wilson resolution would be rammed through the council and Mayor Graham, to defeat this movement, declared it would be his duty to call the city to appear before the commission without having the absolute refusal of the Grand Trunk railway, to participate in establishing a subway.

Ald. Wilson Wants To Know.
The mayor and the board of control, who have been advising a "watchful waiting" policy on the subway question, drew the attention of Alderman Wilson, who wanted to know if the council had no authority at all in city affairs. Mayor Graham stated that if a committee appeared before the railway commission demanding action on the subway question, the commission would decide it one way or the other and such decision would be final. He referred to the fact that the city had obtained information on cases that were a precedent for London.

When the special committee brings in the opinion of the city solicitor, the city will wait until 1915.

The report of the board of control for storm water sewers in Colborne, Ridout, Egerton, and Adelaide streets and on Wharfcliffe road was adopted. Contrary to the promise to let work start at once under the supervision of Chipman & Powers consulting engineers.

Sewer Contract Set.
Contract for the Adelaide street sewer was awarded late yesterday afternoon by the board of control to Harding & Co. for $26,852.87.

The public health and traffic bylaws which were scheduled to be amended and discussed generally will be taken up next week. Auto owners want the provision in the traffic bylaw stricken out, which provides "no owner shall leave his car standing in the street longer than 30 minutes."

REUNION INQUIRIES COME FROM FAR OFF COSTA RICA

Did Boys' Executive Receive Communications From Remote Countries From Former.

Enquiries regarding the Old Boys' reunion are coming in all the way from Costa Rica to remote districts in British Columbia. Invitations will be sent out beginning the latter part of the week to all the addresses of old boys which Secretary Edwin Smith can get hold of.

Parents of school children who have received cards with blanks for the names of former residents of the city, are requested by the officers of the association to see that the children return the cards to the principals of their respective schools before May 20. The decoration committee will meet in the city hall tonight, and from now until the big reunion is over the executive officers will have a busy time.

Then I'll talk with you."

CLOSED STALLS IN RESTAURANTS LIKELY TO BE DONE AWAY WITH

Mayor Dagan Has Received Many Complaints Regarding Improper Conduct, Especially in Chinese Lunch Places
—Police Commission To Be Formed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
SARNIA, May 18.—At a special meeting of the council to be held on Friday, Mayor Dagan will introduce a resolution to do away with all enclosed stalls in Chinese restaurants.

He stated to The Advertiser tonight that many complaints have been made to him recently regarding happenings in the closed-off rooms in the cafes, and that he will make every effort to have them done away with.

The assessment rolls will probably be ready by Wednesday night, and if they are, a special meeting will be called for Friday to consider them. It is planned to have a third inspector for schools, and if possible have him do part of the work in the county. It is thought now that there is ample work to keep three inspectors busy.

SEVENTH TO ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY

Manoeuvres Planned in Vicinity of Port Stanley for Monday—Recent Promotions.

There will be no church parade of the Seventh Regiment next Sunday, as announced. Wishing to honor the memory of the late lamented Queen Victoria, Major H. C. Becher had arranged for a divine service in St. Paul's Cathedral on May 24. Finding it impossible for the regiment to turn out in review order, he issued orders for a parade for divine service in drill order. Col. Hodgins, officer commanding the division, objected to church parade in drill order, and it was found necessary to cancel the arrangements.

Paraded 356 Strong.
The regiment paraded last night, 356 strong, under command of Major Becher, working out advance guard schemes in three sections, one working on Waterloo one on Wellington street, and one on Park avenue, converging on the park, after which the regiment marched back to the armories in company column, headed by brass and bugle bands, via Richmond and Dundas streets.

There will be no regimental parade next Monday evening. Instead it is proposed to carry out a small tactical scheme, scouting, reconnaissances and the transmission of information, in the vicinity of Port Stanley. The regiment will parade at the armories at 9 a.m. and will entrain shortly thereafter. Arrangements will be made to return to the armories before 6 p.m. About 300 men are expected to turn out.

Capt. W. J. Taylor is acting adjutant of the regiment during the absence of Capt. Ingram, who has been granted leave for two months to go to England.

Capt. F. B. Ware has been granted leave to finish his staff course at the Royal Military College, Kingston. Capt. Riddell is also on leave for six weeks.

Recent Promotions.
The following promotions have been made: Acting Sergt. J. Widdicombe, to be sergeant in A Company; Corp. F. E. N. Haun, to be sergeant in the bugle band; Acting Sergt. A. C. Joseph, to be lance-sergeant in A Company; Corp. W. Gilling, to be acting sergeant in A Company.

Twenty-one men have been struck off the strength of E Company for non-attendance on parade, and thirteen men have been added to the roster of the regiment.

CHARLIE AND HARRY WERE GUESTS OF MILLIONAIRES

Adventures of London Shriners and Their Busy Little Band on Atlanta Trip.

The talk around the city hall this morning was centered around the story of how Charlie Alford and Harry Bennett became millionaires for a day while they were down in Atlanta last week with the Mocha Temple Shriners. Part of the program for the entertainment of 25,000 Shriners who gathered in the city included free admission and all the membership courtesies of every club in the city. Charlie and Harry wandered into an exclusive millionaire's club, and were lost to the London delegation for nearly 24 hours. They figured out afterwards that the seven men who sat at a table and asked them all about London represented in actual wealth the small but tidy sum of $150,000,000.

After Charlie brought his famous band around and the Londoners played themselves into fever, one of the millionaires said: "If you see anything you like in Atlanta, I'll buy it for you."

A Busy Band.
Henry Rose, St. Thomas, George Sullivan, M.P.P., Chatham, Charles McGuire and George Coleman of London helped the local delegation to put London on the map. In sixteen different cities in the States the band got out and paraded with their London badges and the Union Jack. Out of 84 parties the London-St. Thomas patrol and the Calgary patrol were the only ones from Canada. The London patrol got an ovation at Atlanta because of the pretty appearance they made on parade in their hussar uniforms.

They were the most conspicuous body of men in the line of march.

Lived in the Car.
There were forty in the local delegation making the trip in a special pullman car. Several hundred pullman cars were parked in Atlanta, including the London car, and the boys lived in the car all the time they were there. It was practically a city of pullman cars with all the comforts of home provided by the municipality, such as police and fire protection, shower baths, etc.

There was one sad accident to mar the trip. A sign reading car in which they made a trip ran over and killed a boy at Rossville, Ga. The boy tried to board the car, and fell under the rear wheel.

The local delegation visited Lookout Mountain, and had their pictures taken on Umbrella Rock, where it is possible to see seven states in the distance.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
AMHERSTBURG, May 18.—An unusual event occurred here today in the celebration of a golden wedding by Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Bertrand, in the Church of St. Jean the Baptist.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand were remarried as nearly as possible under the regulations of the Roman Catholic Church. The groom gave the bride a new wedding ring, which had been blessed by the priest. Mr. Thompson was very much troubled at the unfortunate position he was placed in and refuses to retain the position. The remaining two families have secured employment on the railway section here.

BABY DROWNED

Just below the surface. With the aid of neighbors the tot was fished out with a rake.

A rush call was sent in for the pulmotor and Drs. Muggan, Staples and Black, all residing within a near radius of the scene of the accident, were summoned. Chief Aitken and Fireman Harry Tozer were on the scene with the lung pump within a few minutes, but although every effort was made to start the air circulating in the lungs of the child, the work of the doctors, chief and fireman were of no avail.

All Efforts Failed.
Resuscitation methods were employed for almost an hour, but at the end of that time no spark of life was visible to show that the strenuous work was having any effect.

When the mother returned from the down-town section and was informed of her child's death, her grief was pitiable. All efforts to calm her proved fruitless and she was unable to give any particulars to an Associated Press reporter when he called on the family residence.

Charles Hart, brother of Mrs. Gleeson, former member of The Advertiser composing room staff, and at present residing at Grand Rapids, told The Advertiser that yesterday he had taken the little fellow for a drive and that he had been in the best of spirits.

"He was the brightest little chap I ever saw," said Mr. Hart, "and was always smiling up at me. He was quick as a cricket and I have no doubt that as soon as he left the house he went directly to the elstern. In some manner he removed the lid and fell into the water."

LENIENT WITH THE BUTCHERS

Dr. Hutchinson, M.O.H., Sends Out
Additional Notices to Report.

Additional notices have been sent out to the butchers and meat dealers in the city by Dr. T. V. Hutchinson, M.O.H., instructing them to report to the city health department as to the source of supply of the meats they offer for sale.

The board of health at its last meeting gave them only until tonight to make the returns, but Dr. Hutchinson decided that as it will be several weeks before the next meeting of the board of health, it would be well to give the butchers another chance to comply with the board's regulation before considering other means of securing the enforcement of the bylaw.

Voice Of The People

An Ex-Policeman's Views.
To The Editor of The Advertiser:

As a citizen and ex-police officer, I would like to say a few words in regard to Chief Williams' remarks in your paper of the 14th inst. I can not understand what the chief means when he says the police have not enough to do. Is it not a credit to the police department that they keep the city clean. Speaking from experience, I must say a policeman's lot is anything but an easy one, when he has to tramp the sidewalks for eight continuous hours in all kinds of weather. But apart from this physical exertion, one must consider the depressing monotony experienced by the men on duty. What does the chief mean when he says that the London policemen are a lucky lot, compared with the Toronto men who get one clear day a week, and the Hamilton men, one day every two weeks?

How Many Applicants?
In reference to his remarks as to why they do not leave the force if they are ground down, I would like to ask him how many of the fifty-five men who have left the force during the last three years have ever asked to get back. I could mention one or two instances where men have resigned, and the chief has only been too glad to get them back. Take the case recently of an officer who was reprimanded for cigarette smoking during lunch hour, who resigned his position, and was asked to get them back. The man who is now on duty. Also the case of two officers who went home drunk and sent their clothes in. They also were asked to reconsider their resignation. Does it look as if men are leaving to get back to police duty when the chief has got to chase after men who have resigned, as in the two cases I have mentioned?

As Regards the Document Signed by all the officers in reference to raise of pay. I must say that no other course was open after that had been told was there was no chance of getting a day off. I understand, there was a general increase of five per cent granted to all members, including staff-sergeant and detectives. This will serve to contradict the chief's remarks regarding the fact that the staff-sergeant and detectives did not get an increase until the present year. Referring to the schedule of hours worked never in my experience have I got 52 hours of overtime in three weeks. The regular day off only came once in six weeks in my case. As to the scheme costing $10,000 to carry out I would quote the chief's own words that it would cost an extra man at $800, and clothes sent would be nearer $6,000 than $10,000.

In reference to attending court from night duty, the chief considers the local force—the recipient of a boon in being granted an hour off, but he does not take into consideration that in Toronto the men can get their rest in a comfortable bed in the station, which is not the case in London. The men who are certainly sacrificed the so-called boon if they could only get what they are agitating for.

As to witness fees, all that they would amount to would just about pay the collection to the church which he would have the privilege of attending once in a while, if he could only have his one day off in seven.

It is a reflection on the Christian citizenship of this fair city that these particular men, the policemen in the civic employ, are denied the privilege of one day's rest in seven. Every man on the force, not only the chief, should have one day at home with his family and have the opportunity of enjoying this day's rest according to his own wishes. Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain, yours sincerely,

AN EX-POLICEMAN.

ABOLISH THE REVOLVER.

WITHIN TWELVE months the city of London has had three serious shooting affrays. In one case a man was killed, in another two were injured, and in the third brother almost shot brother.

The man responsible for the taking of life in the penitentiary; the foreigner who injured two men in free, and the third man is in jail awaiting trial.

It is about time that the authorities made such an example of the gun-carrier as will be a lesson to the "half-baked" or vicious individuals who endanger life by carrying and firing revolvers. Not only should the man who deliberately seeks the life of another be made to feel the full force of the law, but any man who is caught carrying a gun should be punished severely enough to make of him a public example. The man who carries a revolver is vicious or a dangerous lunatic in the extreme. In many years it has not been demonstrated that the carrying of a revolver was ever necessary in this city, except for the police. No man would have saved his life by the use of one, nor would he have been able to perform any good service.

Abolish the revolver. Make the carrying of one an offence regarded as serious as the use of it.

DOWN ON THE BAR.

THE HAMILTON Herald objects to Mr. Rowell's assertion that the battle coming sooner or later will be between "the organized, liquor forces" and "the organized forces of our common Christianity." The Herald objects that many conscientious Christians may doubt the advisability of prohibition.

But the organized forces of Christianity, church assemblies and synods, have been advising just what Mr. Rowell stands for, the abolition of the bar. Whether organized Christianity may think or advise, organized Christianity is down on the bar. Mr. Rowell spoke the literal truth.

THE RULE OF THE COMMISSION.

THE POLICY of the Provincial Hydro-Electric Commission seems well calculated to develop friction between it and the municipalities. The trouble with Toronto still continues. The commission ordered rates to be reduced. The local authorities who are responsible for the money did not think it advisable. Apparently the commission's clerks, in figuring over the accounts of the city, came to the conclusion that there would be a big surplus, and without consulting the Toronto authorities the commission promptly ordered the rates reduced. Toronto papers say that was only a little play to the galleries; that there is no such surplus, and the rates have not yet come down, but unless the commission changes its mind the city will have to obey.

In Hamilton, another disagreement has arisen over the appointment of inspectors. The local authorities recommend local men, and the commission refuses to appoint them. Hamilton thinks that, as it has to pay the men, it should have something to say about their appointment. But the power is in the hands of the commission, and it does not seem disposed to let go.

Another matter that has given rise to some discussion is the payment of the commissioners. Its chairman, as a cabinet minister, is to have his $6,000. To that no one objects. But his two colleagues being members of the Legislature, cannot be paid by the Government. So the difficulty is to be arranged by taxing the municipalities to the extent of $15,000 a year. How that money will be divided among the commissioners no one is likely to know, as its financial operations are not given the greatest possible amount of publicity.

The whole trouble might be overcome by popularizing the commission. Mr. Beck is, of course, the logical chairman. Both as a cabinet minister and as an enthusiast in hydro-electric development he would be the man for the position. But there is no special reason why either Mr. Hendrie or Mr. McNaught should be associated with him. Their places could more properly be taken by men elected by the representatives of the municipalities. Interested. It is rather an anomaly in modern life that one class should put up the money and another spend it. That the municipalities should pay the entire cost of construction and operation, and that the Government, through its commission, should control everything even to appointing inspectors, and cutting down rates does not seem in accordance with our modern ideas of self-government. Those who pay the piper should have some voice in selecting the tune.

This has been talked about before, but nothing has been done. It is not necessarily any reflection on the commission. Everything it has done may have been wise and just. But one does not enjoy being ruled absolutely by someone else, no matter how honest and capable the ruler may be. It is better for people to govern themselves—even though they make occasional mistakes. If the people who have to pay for hydro-electricity had a little more to say about how the money should be spent there would be less grumbling. And unless their power is extended the grumbling will increase.

BRITISH MAGAZINE POST.

THE LIBERAL Government reduced the postal rates on magazines from Great Britain. The object was to encourage the reading of English serial literature. There had been a good deal said about the extensive patronage of United States papers and periodicals in Canada, to the neglect of those from Britain. There was truth in the complaint, and the Liberal Government tried to remedy this condition of affairs by an arrangement which gave the English press and the Canadian reader an opportunity to get better acquainted. That was in accord with Liberal policy.

But our Nationalist Postmaster-General does not look on the subject as his predecessor did; and so he has announced the discontinuance of the low rate on British magazines. Here is another case where a Tory Government takes loyalty, and at the same time discourages it. The excuse made is that the British post office does not bear its share of the cost of supplying Canadians with British literature. That is the argument that is also used against the British preferential tariff. We cannot afford to give Britain anything unless we get something in return. And yet the people who talk that way are most blatant in their declamation against what they call "sponging" on Britain. We owe so great a debt to the mother land that we should contribute $35,000,000 to the imperial navy. But we cannot afford a possible loss to postal revenue by cutting down the rates on British magazines. Britain must help pay the loss.

There is no better way to develop close relations between two countries than by facilitating communication. There is no better way to establish British ideals in Canada than by encouraging Canadians to read British literature. What ever will bring about this result is a true Imperial policy. The Conservatives, as the professed exponents of Imperialism, ought to see it. But their Imperialism is vocal only—a voice and nothing more. When there is any true Imperial policy to be carried out, the Liberals have to do it. And the Conservatives try to undo it the first opportunity.

If it is good for Canada to read British literature, then we ought cheerfully to bear any little loss of postal revenue that might result from reducing rates on British literature. If we owe so much to Britain, as the Conservatives say, then the least we can do is to pay a little postage for her if that is necessary. No doubt many Conservatives believe as we do. But the Nationalist section evidently does not. They are willing to keep British literature in the background. Better, they think, apparently, to give United States newspapers and magazines the advantage.

If a thousand fat men, equipped with pneumatic rocking chairs could only

 And I cried for more than a week, dears,
 But I never could find where she lay.

I found my poor little doll, dears,
 As I played on the heath one day,
 Folks say she is terribly changed, dears,
 For her paint is all washed away;
 And her arms trodden off by the cows,
 And her hair not the least bit curled,
 Yet for old sake's sake, she is still,
 dears,
 The prettiest doll in the world.

THE CULPRIT WHO CAN PAY.

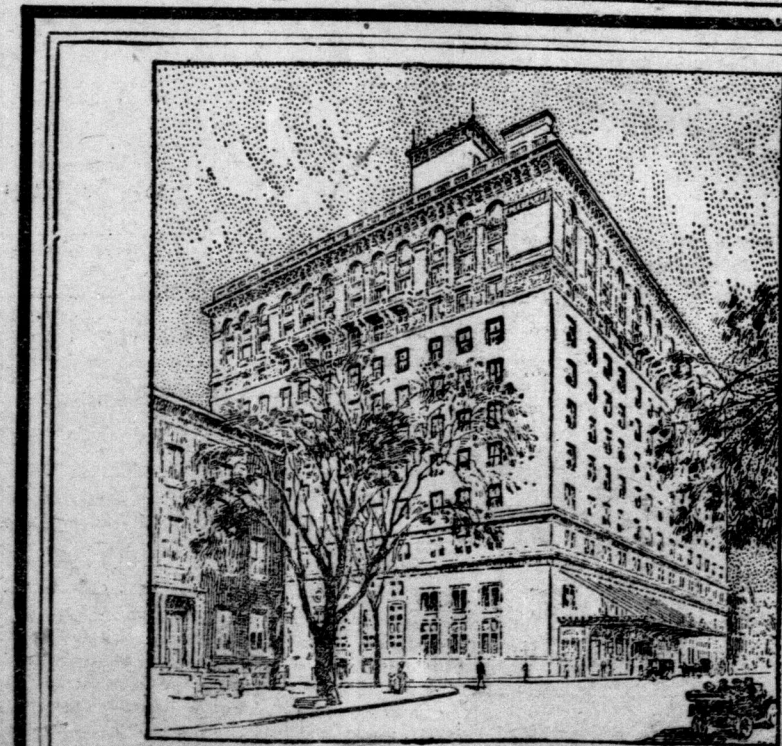

[Guelph Mercury.]
 One of the most common awards in police court cases is $10 or $20 in jail. That is, if the accused man has ten dollars, or can get it, he goes free. Otherwise he is locked up in jail. Is this right? Or take it another way. The man who can pay a fine is really able to buy his way out of prison. At least he is enabled to keep out by reason of his financial standing. There's something not exactly right or fair about the practice. If a man has done anything that calls for a jail sentence in the way of punishment, the possession or absence of cash in his pocket should make little difference to the treatment handed out to him by the authorities.

CLASS DISTINCTION.

[Brantford Expositor.]
 In the Hamilton police court this week two boys were charged with playing ball on the street on Sunday last, and were allowed to go on promising never to offend again in this manner. Here again you have class distinction. Why should the boys be interfered with for seeking amusement in the only form available to them, while out on the Hamilton golf links men and women are permitted to indulge in their favorite sport without protest or interference. What is more, if the boys had to be stopped at their play, a word from a policeman would have been quite sufficient, and it was both unnecessary and improper to make a police court case out of such a trivial matter.

A LETTER FROM HOME.

[Stratford Herald.]
 There was a small knot of dark-complexioned laborers, foreigners as they are called by us, gathered together on the street corner. I came up close to them, curious to learn what the centre of interest was. One of them was reading aloud a letter he had just received from home. It was to him alone, as I ascertained later; but he was sharing it with his comrades. There was a new look in their faces as they listened, and I had a flashing glimpse of what these men really are. Not as we see them, dull, dirty and careless, whether they live as beasts or humans; but as home-loving, affectionate fellows, in a land where they are strange.

THE MILLER OF THE DEE.
There dwelt a miller, hale and bold,
Beside the River Dee;
He worked and sang from morn to night,
No lark more blithe than he;
And this the burden of his song
For ever used to be:
"I envy nobody; no, not I,
And nobody envies me!"

"Thou'rt wrong, my friend," said old King Hal;
"Thou'rt wrong as wrong can be;
For, could my heart be light as thine,
I'd gladly change with thee;
And tell me now what makes thee sing
With voice so loud and free,
While I am sad, though I'm a king,
Beside the River Dee?"

The miller smiled and doffed his cap:
"I earn my bread," quoth he;
"I love my wife, I love my friend,
I love my children three;
I love no penny I cannot pay;
I thank the River Dee,
That turns the mill, that grinds the corn,
To feed my babes and me."

"Good friend," said Hal, and sighed the while,
"Farewell, and happy be;
But say no more, if thou'rt best true,
That no one envies thee.
Thy mealy cap is worn by thy crown,
Thy mill my kingdom's fee,
Such men as thou are England's boast,
O miller of the Dee!"

LOCAL ITEMS

ST. GEORGE'S MOTHERS' CLUB.

The regular monthly meeting of St. George's Mothers' Club will be held Tuesday evening, May 19. The program will take the form of a debate on "Resolved that country life is more favorable for children than city life." Musical numbers will be rendered during the evening and at the close of the program refreshments will be served.

VICTORIA MOTHERS' CLUB.

Mr. E. P. White, of the Normal school, will give an address on "The Father of Modern Popular Education" at the monthly meeting of the Victoria Mothers' Club, tonight, Tuesday. All members and others interested are cordially urged to attend.

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE PRESENT.

Quite a number of members from the different chapters of the Daughters of the Empire are present at the inspection of the Collegiate Cadet Corps yesterday afternoon at the armories. Among those present were noted, Mrs. W. A. McCrimmon, Mrs. A. A. Campbell, Mrs. C. F. Campbell, Mrs. Yarker, Mrs. McCann, Mrs. W. E. Hodgins, Miss McCann, and others. At the conclusion of the exercises, the girls of the L. C. I. served ice-cream and cake to the cadets.

Lyons Women's Institute.

The annual meeting of the Lyons Women's Institute, held in the town hall, was largely attended. Mrs. G. Stewart, of Springfield, presided very ably during the election of officers. The following were elected: President, Mrs. W. Whyte; first vice-president, Mrs. W. Eaton; second vice-president, Mrs. Jas. Mitchell; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. McCredie (re-elected); directors, Mrs. E. Moss, Mrs. G. Denney, Mrs. J. C. Simpson, Mrs. N. Cline and Mrs. Wright; district director, Mrs. J. W. Boyce; representatives to the district annual meeting, Mrs. Whyte, Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. W. McCredie, Mrs. Boyce and Mrs. Pittman.

Mrs. Stewart then delighted all by a very interesting address on "The History of Music, Ancient and Modern." The illustrations were hymns of the olden time, sung as they used to sing, without organ accompaniment. To the older of those present it brought back sacred memories. A sincere vote of thanks was heartily tendered to Mrs. Stewart for the great pleasure and profit she had provided.

The work of the Institute during the year has been most harmonious and successful. The membership of 52 shows that the Institute is in a most flourishing condition. The Government delegate, Miss L. Piddington, will be present on June 2, afternoon and evening, and will give two addresses, "Emergencies in Every-Day Life," and "New Methods of Imparting Knowledge." It is hoped these meetings will be well attended.

During the next few weeks your "SALADA" Tea will reach you wrapped in a silvery sheet of aluminum instead of lead. So perfect is the manufacture of these wonderful sheets that they are even more air-tight than lead, and eight of them weigh no more than a single sheet of lead.

WOES OF MRS. NEWLYWED

"I hate to boil cabbage, it smells the house up so," remarked Mrs. Newlywed. "When boiling cabbage, to prevent the unpleasant smell that it always makes, I find it very good to place a small piece of bread tied up in muslin in the saucepan," advised Mrs. Neighbor.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

Princess Pat's Title.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you please answer these questions for me:

1. What are the meanings of these names: Louise, Clarence, Emily, Clyde, Amelia, James, Lorne, Ella and Elaine?
2. How is it that a daughter of the Duke of Connaught is called Princess Patricia? Was the title conferred on her?
3. Will you please have this song printed in the paper, "In the Shadow of the Pine?"

Hoping this will not take too much of your time, I remain, yours truly, SNOOKINS.
Ans.—1. Louis, strong or bold; Clarence, illustrious; Emily, energetic; Amelia, busy or energetic; James, a supplanter; Ella, light. I do not know the meanings of the remaining names.
2. The title is hers by right of birth. Her father, the Duke of Connaught, is the youngest son of the late Queen Victoria.
3. I refer this to our musical readers.

Lovelorn Laddie.

Ans.—Well, Laddie, I should print your letter only for the fact that you have disobeyed rules and written on all sides of the paper. Perhaps the reason the girls don't like you is because you are so very anxious to be popular. A little indifference might help. Yes, I think I would have a talk with the girl cousin. She will be sure to understand the situation better than I possibly can, for she knows you and knows the girls as well. But, goodness, Laddie! you are such a young chap to be worrying about this; if you were ten years older, and feared baldness, you might have some reason to worry! Do write me again and tell me if affairs look brighter. Sorry I can't help more.

Wants Sure Cure.
Dear Miss Grey,—I am a steady reader of your mail box, and I have come to you for advice. Would you please tell me a sure cure for freckles on my face? I have a number on it, and I would like to get rid of them. Hoping this will not trouble you, I will look for you to give some remedy in The Advertiser. A remain,

H. G. G.
Ans.—"A sure cure," eh? I fear sadly this will never be effected as long as folks whose skin has a tendency to freckle run out in the sun and wind of "merry Maytime." But, dear me, better a thousand freckles than to miss all the joy of being outdoors in the spring sunshine. To regularly apply lemon juice mixed with a little water or glycerine, is a harmless bleach for the little brown spots; buttermilk is also good, and when you go out, if you always remember to wear a veil, this will help a great deal.

Pineapple and Rhubarb.
Dear Miss Grey,—Can you give a recipe how to use pineapples and rhubarb to preserve? I have been told it is done, and would like to try some. With thanks to you, yours faithfully,
H. G. G.

Ans.—The preserve is indeed an excellent one, and valuable for its medicinal properties. Cut pineapple into slices an inch thick; peel each, remove the eyes and cut into small pieces, eliminating the core. Put in a granite preserving kettle over the fire and let boil for half an hour. In the meantime prepare the rhubarb, cutting the stalks into small pieces; have cut as much rhubarb as pineapple. (Some cooks use more rhubarb and less pineapple; it is a matter of preference or economy.) Let cook for fifteen minutes longer, or until the pineapple is clear; then seal hot into jars. A FRIEND.
Peculiar to the little book, I cannot tell you how much I enjoyed it. Am hoping to see the quaint old places for myself in a year or two. Sorry, though, to have kept it so long.

Persons whose birthdate it is have an encouraging augury for the year. They are warned against speculation or money-lending. Travel and change that bring happiness are probable.
Children born on this day have kindly stars to guide them. They are likely to have rather complex natures as they partake of Taurus and Gemini characteristics. Venus and Mercury influence them, and they should combine with artistic gifts powers to make the most of their talents.

The sign is especially favorable for advertising, which depends on novelty of ideas and originality of execution. In this connection it is foretold that sweeping changes in methods of advertising are probably within the next decade.

SPRING SICKNESS COMES TO EVERYONE

Spring sickness comes in some degree to every man, woman and child in our climate. It is that run down condition of the system that results from impure, impoverished, devitalized blood. It is marked by loss of appetite and that tired feeling, and in many cases by some form of eruption. The best way to treat spring sickness is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Ask your druggist for this all-the-year-round medicine. It purifies, enriches and revitalizes the blood.

are employed by the Forest City Laundry in washing your clothes. That is why your work does not come home streaked, spotted, worn.

This is how it is done by the Forest Process: First they separate the clothes according to the degree of dirtiness, and according to the texture of the material. Then they put one lot at a time into just the right combination of soap and water and leave it in the machine an exact length of time. They know from long study how many gallons of water and how many pounds of soap will clean each particular lot thoroughly with the least wear. And they know from experience how long each lot should be washed.

The dirt is forced out of the clothes—not boiled into them. They have that perfect cleanliness which is the foundation for clear colors, pure whites and deep blacks. Just to prove that such is the case,

FIG AND NUT JELLY.

Wash a cupful of pulled figs in cold water. Put over slow fire with two cups of cold water and stew figs until tender. Skim out figs and to the juice add one-half cup of sugar and boil until it is like thin syrup (there should be one cup of liquid). Chop figs and one-quarter cup of shelled pecans not very fine. Soak one-half box of gelatin in one cup of cold water for half an hour. To the gelatin add half a teaspoon of lemon juice, and to the fig syrup add one-half cup of boiling water and one-half cup of orange juice. Strain through the sieve or piece of cheese cloth. When nearly set add nuts and figs. Turn into molds and set in cool place for three hours. Serve with whipped cream.

MASSAGE AND EYE EXERCISE.

Sometimes you may notice that the crystals of the eyes look clouded, or that muscles about the eyes twitch. A simple way to treat them is to give the eyes a massage, but it must be performed with extreme delicacy. Place the tips of the fingers on the temples and rest the light on the eyelids. Begin by increasing the pressure gradually. You can do much to strengthen the eye muscles and fortify them against possible irritation, as well as to increase the clearness of vision, if you will give them exercises two or three times each day, but repeat each only two or three times during the period of exercise. Open the eyes slowly, and bring the glance from the lowest point of vision to the highest, so that your eyes are wide open. Then gradually lower it until the eyes are closed. After repeating this exercise two or three times, open the eyes naturally, so that the eyeballs are partly visible. Now move them from side to side, gazing as far as possible to the right, then to the left. Repeat this exercise twice and then, with the eyelids closed, move eyeballs in the same directions—Beauty Seeker, in Woman's World for June.

DRINK

FRY'S COCOA
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS OF MOTHERS for their CHILDREN WHILE TEETHING, with PERFECT SUCCESS. IT SOOTHES THE CHILD, SOFTENS THE GUMS, ALLAYS ALL PAIN, CURES WIND COLIC, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea.

Holmes pondered this suggestion a moment, decided it could not be done without arousing Agernon's suspicions and shrugged it away. "No, I had better wait for my own car. Those others belong to mamma, all but the small roadster," he added on the chance that it was so, "and I had better leave them alone—I expect my new boiler will come any day now, but—" He threw out his hands helplessly as though to suggest the embarrassment of her presence and took a few paces up and down.

Molly said nothing, waiting as usual for him to take the initiative. She wondered why he had not noticed her expensive lace gown and the quaint beads around her throat and questioned her about them, as he had been a witness of the lawn-party irregularity. Still he was a man and men do not notice things as a woman does. He probably thought she thought the dress out of her own wages if he thought about it at all. The price as compared to the wages she received would not enter his head.

"I could stay here a few days, but it would be deuced awkward," mused Holmes aloud, as though to himself rather than to her. "I signed the register at the hotel as Patterson and it would be a nine days' wonder how I happened to be Todd instead. People would stare so and there would be a lot of disagreeable talk. I dislike publicity more than mamma does, and that's saying a good deal as you probably know, Miss O'Toole. If I let on to mamma what you—about the lawn party, she would insist upon my staying here—that is, if she got word before I had a chance to leave—and if she knew that I did not know about it, and yet left—Really, I don't know what to do."

"Another housekeeper," suggested the girl, fearfully, not looking at him.

Holmes nodded. "I thought about that, but it would take so deuced long to wait for one to come. See? That's my point. I am anxious to get on to Canada and I expect my boiler will be here tomorrow at the latest. I think—May I smoke? Thanks—I shall let things stand as they are. Mamma will be here in a fortnight, now, and really, there is nothing out of the way. I'm sure mamma herself wouldn't object to the lawn party. It certainly did honor to the name of Todd. I advise you to tell her about it, though. It's one of those things which are all right when mentioned yourself, but are a crime when allowed to leak out through other sources. She will understand. Believe me. You were not expecting to remain much longer after her return, were you? No, I thought not. Well, then, I'm going to let things stand as they are." He nodded and laughed suddenly. "I certainly don't blame you—it was amusing."

Molly nodded, tried to smile, but her relief was too much for her and the tears sprang unbidden to her eyes. She struggled to force them down, failed, and put her head on her arms along the high chair-back. Holmes stared a moment in surprise, then leaned over and laid his hand kindly on her shoulder.

"There," said he with a man's awkward compassion, "there, don't do that. It's all right."

The girl controlled herself in a moment, and raised her flushed tear-stained face a little smile. "You are kind," said she. "I shall be good in the future. You promise," asked Holmes solemnly. "If I leave you alone here and don't say anything to mamma that there will be no more of these—er—social functions?"

"Yes, I do, indeed."

"That if I let you still use the name of Mrs. Todd for the fun of it, until mamma comes or you deem it best to drop it, you will do nothing in her name but what ought to be done? You won't take advantage in any way of my kindness?"

"I promise."

Holmes held out his hand and she placed hers in it. "I trust you," said he gravely. "I know I can, for really everything is all right except the—lawn party." He hesitated, saw the desire to confess about the dresses, the beads around her slender throat, the chauffeur, whom Mrs. Todd did not want paid for, however, out of her own salary, and rushed on lest she have chance to tell him of her misdeeds and he be forced to discharge her or arouse her suspicions. "I shall not stay here at the house. The hotel is the last word in human discomfort, but I expect to be gone tomorrow evening and you can put up with it. I don't want to excite talk. But, if I hold my tongue to your friends as to whom I am. Will you? This handshake, or even your chauffeur, Joe, must not know me as any one but Mr. Patterson. If they know of me as Todd, everything will have to be explained and I dislike explanations. We'll both keep quiet, eh? I'm off to-morrow, anyway, so it won't be so hard. But, anyway, promise."

"I promise. But, I—"

"Excuse me for interrupting, but let's drop the subject, what do you say? It's late. I'm not bossy, I made a pretty good examination of the place today and didn't find anything amiss. Well, good night. I don't blame you really. 'Pon my word, this place would be the end of me in a week, believe me. When I'm gone take my name if you want and stir things up a bit masquerading as a man." He laughed and stroled to the door.

At the door he turned, shook hands again, and chuckling to himself, ran lightly down the terrace steps and disappeared in the gloom of the bushes.

CHAPTER XIII
When You Are Poor.

The sun shone through the open door of the garage, and across the floor in a brilliant path in which a cat sat industriously washing her snow-white paws, each paw flattened in turn against her body. The yellow pup sprawled in the doorway, grunting now and then in a vexed search for fleas, and snapping angrily at the flies without, the driveway seemed to shimmer in the hot rays and the grass looked brown and dying. From the cool depths of the distant trees, the birds all talked at once as though to drown the monotonous monologue of the sea.

Bates appeared in the doorway, rummaging, chewing a straw, his hat on the back of his head. He watched Agernon, busy with the cars, a moment in silence and then spoke.

"Kind of dirty work, ain't it?" he remarked pleasantly.

"Work," said Agernon in a tone that would have pleased his mother could she have heard it. "Work that is honest, can never soil the worker."

With which noble sentiment he turned again to oiling the runabout, hoping to discourage the groom's evident desire for conversation.

Bates stepped into the cool shelter of the garage and seated himself on the stairs that led to the rooms above.

"If I was asked my opinion," said he, sociably argumentative, "I would say that you was really dirty—let alone soiled."

"You failed to grasp the full significance of my remark," said Agernon coldly. "Your intellect sees only the externals."

"My intellect don't see nothing," said Bates scornfully. "My eyes see that you're dog-goned dirty, though."

"Soul blindness prevents one from seeing the realities of life far more than physical blindness," remarked Agernon sententiously, wiping his heated forehead on the sleeve of his shirt.

"Guess you've been to high school," said the groom with gracious approval. "You talk as if maybe you had."

"Been," admitted Agernon modestly.

"In New York?"

"Not exactly in New York—out a way in the country—a boarding school."

(To Be Continued.)

BILLY SUNDAY IS WANTED
HERE TO WAKE UP LONDON

Ministerial Alliance Will Again Consider Invitation to Famous Evangelist.

The London Ministerial Alliance will decide at the September meeting whether to bring Billy Sunday to London. Rev. H. H. Bingham, who was a member of the committee that went to Scranton to investigate Sunday's work, reported that despite the noted evangelist's use of popular slang at times, his occasional hard hits at the clergy, and his otherwise unconventional methods of evangelism, good results were obtained in Scranton and other cities where he had worked. In Wilkesbarre and Steubenville, where Billy Sunday was about a year ago, the good results are still in evidence. All the saloons in Steubenville were closed up and are still closed. Rev. T. B. Clarke strongly favored bringing Billy Sunday "to wake up London."

Converted to Suffrage.

Rev. T. B. Clarke announced his conversion to suffragism in beginning an address on the institutional and social service work of the Anglican Church in England. He stated that the Salvation Army had patterned its homes after the church Army homes, where the Church of England takes care of all the down-and-outs who come to them. Mr. Clarke expressed the opinion that the Christian workers and ministers in this city devoted too much time to talking and not enough to doing certain essential things that should be done. For instance, not enough was being done to help the downcast and outcast.

While in England he had seen the injustice under which women suffer, hence his conversion to suffragism. Members of Parliament, who legislate for the nation and deny the suffrage to women, keep mistresses in the famous or infamous "Pleasantly flats." Eighty-five thousand fallen women walk the streets of London. Women workers of the Anglican Church reclaim many of these women.

Alliance Picnic.

The alliance will picnic at Springbank on June 22. Rev. W. R. McIntosh and E. R. Wilson were appointed to arrange a program of sports. Mr. McIntosh appealed for a strong interest in the Old Boys' reunion, and lined up the ministers present to take out membership cards.

Representatives of all the denominations will shortly meet the officers of the association and Mayor Graham to arrange for Old Boys' Sunday.

Discussion Over Name.

Some discussion followed on a constitutional question whether "Christian," "Protestant" or "Evangelical" should be used by the alliance to designate the ministers eligible to membership in the alliance. Rev. Mr. McIntosh thought the term "Evangelical" was making an invidious distinction. Rev. G. A. Mackenzie was afraid Unitarians or ministers of new cults might ask for admission under the term "Protestant." Rev. W. H. A. Clark said if occasion should arise when the question of admitting "such characters" should come up, it would be time enough to deal with the matter then.

NERVY BURGLARS
Robbed Movie Theatre, Making Watchman Wind His Clocks as Usual.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, May 18.—Posting as detectives, four men gained entrance to Broadway motion picture theatre early today, made the watchman a prisoner, handcuffed three workmen who were in the theatre, then blew open the safe in the box office, obtaining $1,000. The robbers compelled the watchman to wind the watchman's clocks in the theatre at the proper time, so that no suspicion as to their presence would be felt on the outside.

Both Are Now In The Best of Health
Striking Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mr. and Mrs. Titch Both Searched in Vain for Health. They Found the Wonderful Twin Remedies.

Rathwell, Man., May 18.—(Special.)—"Both Mrs. Titch and myself have every reason to speak well of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," says Mr. Seraphie Titch, a well-known resident of this place. "Mrs. Titch was attacked with nervous dyspepsia. She saw a number of different doctors and took many medicines, but could only get temporary relief. I then used Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. For myself I could not sleep well, I was troubled with bad dreams. I was utterly discouraged, when one of my friends gave me a little book telling of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. After using them I could eat and sleep well. I also gained twelve pounds in weight."

"Both my wife and myself feel that we owe our health to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are a grand combination. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the kidneys so that they strain all impurities out of the blood. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food properly, giving the body the nourishment it requires. With proper nourishment carried through the body by pure blood perfect health is assured."
