

FIRE BUGS BUSY LAST NIGHT HOTEL STABLES WIPED OUT

Firemen Have Desperate Fight With Two Conflagrations, In Which Several Valuable Horses Are Destroyed—Stables Belonging to Windsor and Harrison Houses Razed.

THE FIRES.
Location—Windsor House Stables, Hotel Harrison Stables, King street.
Injured—Fireman Gleason, hip bruised, back wrenched; not serious.

Horses Burned—One dead; two others will be destroyed.
Time—First fire, 7:10 p.m.; second, 8:05 p.m.
Cause—Incendiary.
Loss—Windsor House, $1,000; Harrison House, $2,000; Thomas
S. Lawrance, horses, $600.
Insurance—Buildings, well covered; no insurance on horses.
Alarms Answered Last Night—Four; at 7 p.m., 8 p.m., 12 m., 5 a.m.

Two serious fires both of incendiary origin, caused the loss of considerable property, and endangered a part of the business section of the city last night. Fireman Gleason, of the first engine, was killed while one horse was destroyed, and two others so badly burned they will have to be killed. Four other horses were injured. The fire started in addition the fire brigade had to respond to a false alarm at the corner of Princess and William street at midnight, and at 5 a.m. turned out to the Hotel Harrison for the second time to extinguish the fire, which had broken out afresh. Altogether it was one of the busiest nights the firemen have had in a long time.

The First Alarm.
The first alarm was raised in about 7:10 p.m. A gentleman who happened to be passing the Windsor Hotel noticed that the stables at the rear were ablaze. He rushed into the hotel, and an alarm was immediately thrown in. The blaze started in the hayloft, and spread rapidly, and for a short time it was thought that a very serious con-

A number of his companions rushed to his aid, and the ambulance was summoned. He was taken to his home, and on examination it was found that his hip and limbs were bruised, and back wrenched. His injuries are not considered serious.

The brigade had hardly got back to the floor below.

Temperance Convention Plans

Aggressive Campaign in Middlesex.

AUDITORIUM CROWDED

Strong Addresses by the Rev. B. H.
Spence and President
Gibson.

The Middlesex and London Temperance Convention, which was held in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium yesterday afternoon, was an unqualified success in the opinion of Rev. B. H. Spence and other officers of the Dominion Alliance. After Mr. Charles E. Wilson had been called to the chair, and Mr. Frank Whitehead had been appointed secretary, the workers plunged at once into business. The roll call showed that almost every municipality in Middlesex was represented, London and Westminster leading the out-of-town delegations in point of numbers. Representatives were present from Bid-dulph, Canada, Delaware, North Dor-chester, Ekfrid, Lobo, West Nisour, East Williams, Ailsa Craig, Belmont, Guelph, and others.

very large attendance from the city and the conclusion of the roll call of municipalities in Middlesex, someone called "Toronto," and the name of the "City" was responded to by the members of the Victoria College Club rising and making the Auditorium echo with a echo with the Victoria College yell.

Local Option's Progress.

Rev. H. B. Spence followed with an excellent address, in which he strongly recommended the county organization. He sketched the progress of local option until now out of a total of 816 municipalities in Ontario, there are only 496 under license.

"We have passed the half-way mark in the fight against the salaried local option as a finally," said Mr. Spence. "We have now a checker-board of licensed and unlicensed municipalities."

where it is carried, and it educates public opinion everywhere. A campaign should be started a year in advance of polling day. The educational result is greater after a long and deliberate campaign. Local option is a splendid educator of the moral consciousness of the people."

At the conclusion of Mr. Spence's address a motion for adjournment was

Policy is Sound One

[Special To The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Dec. 6. — There was consensus of the Liberal members for Quebec this morning, at which the position of the province representing the Government in Ottawa was discussed. Speeches were made by Sir Wilfrid and Hon. Mr. Brodeur, and a number of other leading members from the province.

It was decided that the policy of the Government on the navy is sound, and that there should be no departure from it. The consensus of opinion was that while there did present some misunderstanding in Quebec as to the policy, it will eventually become there brothers in the temperance cause. The speaker declared that local option will soon have served its purpose. The next step would be to provide for the Dominion prohibition. He hit vigorously the opposition of Premier Whitney that the three-fifths clause is in favor of the temperance cause, and that prevents the majority of people from giving the contrary to British fair play.

will to be made," said Mr. Gibson, an unimpaired and healthy man, "but that the woman should suffer, that one child should wean, because of the drink traffic, and that the other child should be sold. We are not depriving the mother of any vested rights. Mr. Hanna has been in the city for some time, and is in a license at the expiration of the license year."

PEOPLE WILL VOTE ON MIDLAND PLEBISCITE

Council Last Night Decided to Take a Poll on the Question.

A plebiscite, not a bylaw, will be voted on in January next on the proposition to guarantee the bonds of the North Midland Railway to the extent of $200,000. That action was definitely decided on by the council last night. A deputation from the directors of the company, consisting of Mr. William Scarlett, R. Southam and T. H. Luscombe, were present and urged that a bylaw be presented to the people. On the advice of the city solicitor, however, the council decided to take a plebiscite. There was a keen debate on the subject.

Mr. T. H. Luscombe explained the attitude of the company. They were properly organized according to the law governing such matters, and were in a legal position to do business. Stock had been subscribed, and a cash deposit made in a bank as required. According to the railway act, they were in a position to appear before municipalities to ask for aid.

Asked for Bylaw.
"Everything so far as the company is concerned is in order," he declared. "I think it would be better to submit a bylaw. If a plebiscite is favorably received by the people, the council could pass a bylaw which would have to be ratified by the Legislative Assembly. It would be given much sooner if a bylaw were submitted."

Mr. Luscombe pointed out the advantages of such a traction road to the city. He declared that the line would greatly benefit the merchants and citizens.

Good for Each Other.
"London is just as good to the railway as the railway is to London," commented Ald. Richter. "Your proposed road covers a district already served by a steam road, and I doubt if it would be as valuable as some seem to think."

In response to a question by Ald. Richter, Mr. Luscombe declared that the total subscribed towards the road was $2,800.

That is the weakness of the proposition, declared Ald. Richter. "Imagine financing a million and a quarter-dollar proposition with but $2,800 subscribed. No financial institution in London would agree to such a thing."

Financing of the Road.
"The road will be financed by selling bonds," explained Mr. Luscombe. "The money subscribed is merely for organization purposes, and was not intended to finance the scheme. We could not raise the money in London or in Ontario by stock subscriptions. The only method is by issuing bonds."

It does not make any difference if there were but 38 cents subscribed," commented Ald. Eckert. "The road would be there, and would be a benefit to the city of London."

Mr. Luscombe pointed out that if the municipalities guaranteed the bonds it would be an easy matter to finance the proposition in England. The city would be absolutely safeguarded as they would have the road, and that could always be realized on. "It would be better to give the company $100,000 outright, than guarantee the bonds of $200,000," said Ald. Richter.

In answer to a question Mr. Luscombe declared that they were not acting for other companies. "We are acting on our own responsibility," he declared. "We are not stool pigeons. Even if we were, it would not alter the proposition."

Mayor Explains.
Mr. Beattie explained that on the advice of the city solicitor it was decided to recommend a plebiscite rather than a bylaw. Mr. Meredith thought the time too short to obtain all the information necessary to prepare a bylaw and draft an agreement that would safeguard the interests of the city.

"I do not object to a plebiscite being taken," declared Ald. Richter. "I do say that it should be so presented and be of such a character that the council can take a stand on the matter, and support it."

The motion to take a plebiscite was put and carried.

PRESBYTERY TALKS CALL TO MR. HOSIE

Chesley Pastor to Go to the London Junction Congregation.

At a meeting of the London Presbytery, held in First Presbyterian Church, last evening, a call to Rev. John Hosie, of Chesley, was presented by Interim Moderator Rev. W. Moffat of St. George's Presbyterian Church, of London Junction. Rev. Mr. Hosie is a former member of the London Presbytery, and is at present in charge of the parishes of Gillis Hill and Salem. The pulpit of St. George's has been vacant for a period of nearly six months, and the congregation was unanimous in extending the call. The stipend will be $800, with free use of the manse, and four weeks' holidays. This matter was discussed by the Presbytery, as this is below the minimum, and it was proposed that a grant of $50 be added to the minister's stipend, and as soon as the congregation were able to bring it up to at least the minimum. Mr. G. Cairncross, Mr. G. Angus and Mr. White, representing the session, the board of managers, and the congregation of St. George's, were present, and stated that every effort was being made by the congregation to raise the amount to the minimum, and it was likely that before very long it would be realized. The Presbytery then sustained the call on these conditions.

The call was telegraphed to the Bruce Presbytery, which meets today, and they will likely hold a special meeting in a week or so to consider it. The induction will probably take place before the new year if Mr. Hosie accepts. Rev. John Smith, of Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church, will preach in St. George's until the induction of a new minister.

Some matters of minor importance were dealt with by the Presbytery, and a report of home missions was given by Rev. James Rollins. The meeting was adjourned until 2:30 this morning, and will continue until this afternoon.

GORHAM SMILES AT DEATH PENALTY

Peterborough Man Sentenced To Be Hanged on January 31.

Peterboro, Dec. 5.—James Gorham, who was found guilty of having murdered his mother in May last, at the fall assizes here in October, was sentenced this morning by Chancellor Sir John Boyd to be hanged on Jan. 31. Chancellor Boyd arrived here at half-past eleven and drove immediately to the court house.

Without the usual custom of donning a black cap, his lordship passed sentence. In doing so he stated that, when the verdict was returned, he had hoped that the department of justice would interfere, and that the usual sentence would be changed to imprisonment.

The prisoner was apparently unaffected, as he walked back to his cell with a broad smile on his face.

KNIGHT ENGINE FOR THE KAISER

German Emperor Has Ordered
Mercedes and Panhard Cars
With Knight Motors.

The latest honor for the Knight Motor announced by the automobile trade press is an order placed by Kaiser William, Emperor of Germany, for two new cars for spring delivery, equipped with this famous engine. Emperor William has been driving a Knight motor for a year past, and has been so well pleased with it that he has decided to use it in 1911. Practically all the crowned heads of Europe are now said to be using the engine with the sliding valves.

The Panhard in France, and the Mercedes car in Germany are attracting attention in European circles by the vigorous way they are getting after the Knight motor business. This is considered a very striking performance, when the size of the cylinders is considered, but it is in line with the certified performances of the Knight-Daimler engines in their well-remembered tests by the Royal Automobile Club.

The Mercedes makers, who control the motor in Germany, are out with their Knight engine model, and are preparing for a heavy business. Their exhibit was a feature of London's recent Auto Show at Olympia. At this show also the Daimler Company, of England, exhibited all models with Knight motors, the Minerva Company, of Belgium, exhibited its exclusively, the Panhard Company showed their first Knight engine model, and showed two models.

WEAK HEART WAS THE CAUSE.

Mrs. Robinson Collette, Rogersville, N.B., writes: "I am now enjoying the best of health after having used your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled with a weak heart and was afraid to draw a long breath for the pain it would cause me. I could not sleep at night, and it was impossible for me to walk ten yards without resting myself. I cannot speak too highly of your Heart and Nerve Pills, for they are the greatest pill I have ever used and I can recommend them to all sufferers."

Thousands of people go about their daily work on the verge of death and yet do not know it.

Little attention is paid to the slight weakness of the heart, the simple reason that one thinks it will right itself, but there is where the mistake is made. It is only when a violent shock comes that the weakness of the heart becomes apparent.

On the first sign of any weakness of the heart or nerves, flagging energy or physical breakdowns, the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will soon produce a quick and permanent cure.

LONDON, TUESDAY, DEC. 6.

YESTERDAY'S POLLING.

The result of the British pollings yesterday strengthens the inference drawn from the first day's returns. There is no decided movement among the electors; the coalition majority will not be greatly reduced, although the Nationalists may be in control.

The Government's sweep in Manchester Saturday was repeated yesterday in Leeds. Manchester is the key to Lancashire; Leeds is the key to Yorkshire. Lancashire is the seat of the cotton industry; Yorkshire represents woollens and steel. They are the two greatest industrial shires in England, and it looks at present as though they will line up almost as solidly for the Government as a year ago, though the Unionist gains on Saturday in Salford, Warrington, Ashton, Darlington and Wigan, all northern manufacturing centres, must have caused the Government some uneasiness. The city of Liverpool, stands apart from the rest of Lancashire politically. It has been always a Conservative stronghold, and yesterday the Opposition gained the only division won by the Liberals in January. Mr. T. P. O'Connor, the Irish Nationalist, now has the distinction of holding the only non-Unionist seat in the city. As the greatest port in England, next to London, Liverpool would have everything to lose by a tariff policy which would diminish the volume of shipping, but the Unionists profit by the animosity between the Orange and the Irish Catholic elements, which are both powerful. The city is also the home of Mr. F. E. Smith, K.C., the brilliant young Unionist leader, in whom there is naturally a strong local pride.

The Unionists have been disappointed in the south. They hoped for several gains yesterday in metropolitan boroughs, which the Liberals held by narrow majorities. They won only two of these, Islington North and St. Pancras West. More surprising is their loss of cathedral and typical residential cities, like Rochester, Exeter, Cheltenham, and Wakefield. These results suggest that the reaction toward Conservatism in "feudal England" may have spent its force in January.

There were interesting individual features in yesterday's voting. The Canadian, Joe Martin, was re-elected in St. Pancras East by an increased majority, although he had deserved to lose the goodwill of Liberals by his petulant attitude toward the Government. The candidate put up by the militant suffragettes, who thought to defeat Martin, polled the ludicrous total of 22 votes. Another Canadian, Mr. Hamar Greenwood, who was rejected in York in January, scored a notable personal triumph yesterday by capturing a seat from the Unionists in Sunderland, a shipbuilding centre. His victory was shared by a Labor candidate. Sir Henry Norman, defeated in Wolverhampton eleven months ago, comes back as the member for Blackburn. He was appointed assistant postmaster-general two years ago, and his defeat in January was a blow at his political ambitions. His running mate in Blackburn was Philip Snowden, one of the most intellectual of the Labor members, who is also re-elected.

So far only the boroughs have been heard from. The county elections will begin today or tomorrow, and will show to what extent rural England has changed its mind since January.

THE KING JAMES BIBLE.

A proposal has been put forward in some quarters that next year a general celebration should be made of the tercentenary of the King James Bible. We are forming a habit stronger every year of commemorating the great things of history, the births and deaths of great men, battles and treaties, revolutions and foundations. The Shakespeare memorial theatre, to cost two and a half millions of dollars, is to be opened in London for the tercentenary of Shakespeare's death in 1616. Why not then, some celebration of the "Authorized Version"? The two great books of the Anglo-Saxon race are Shakespeare and the Bible. While Shakespeare may be better known to other people, as the representative of our race, the King James Bible is the universal possession of those who speak English, ten times more read than Shakespeare himself.

It may be noted that the King James revision was never publicly authorized by Parliament or convocation, privy council or king. The acceptance which it has enjoyed has been won chiefly on its merits. The many previous translations it easily supplanted, and it was "authorized" by the Vox Populi. Accepted in Scotland, its literary English reduced the Scots language to a dignified patois. It became improper for a pious Scotchman to pray, or even preach, except in the language of this Bible; hence the Scots became masters of two tongues, their own for familiar talk, the Bible English for exalted subjects. The Bible of 1611 did a great deal to cement the political union of 1603. Similarly, the Pilgrim Fathers brought this Bible to America, and it has been a tie between the thought, literature and life of the United States and of England. It was made a thing of beauty and comfort, and it, as Wordsworth held, pure joy is the ground from which spring acts of kindness and love, we may believe that the mere joy of common participation in so great a treasure must draw the English people into closer sympathy and mutual goodwill. A general celebration of the tercentenary will be a good preliminary to the peace centennial of 1915.

It should not be forgotten that in such a commemoration of the Authorized Version it is not so much after all the actual compilers of that work who will be praised. Those scholars followed, as Hallam says, "the principle of adherence to the original versions which had been kept up since the time of Henry VIII." It is the simple, faithful, masculine Tindale, and the gentle, tender, Coverdale, whom we have principally to thank, next to the original Hebrew writers, for the noble and chaste beauty of the work of 1611. As they themselves declare, the Jacobean scholars rather revised than translated. Guided by good taste and good judgment, these men held in the main to Tindale's translation, correcting some errors, occasionally drawing something in diction or phrasing even from the much earlier versions of Wycliff and Purvey. Tindale himself, of course, was much indebted to those earlier workers; but the great distinction between Tindale's translation and the Wycliffite versions is that the Tudor scholar turned his Bible from the original Greek and Hebrew, whereas the fourteenth century scholars translated from the Latin Vulgate.

Tindale, then, is the hero of the English Bible, whose work may be said to have been revised, completed, and crowned, in the Authorized Version. He is a man worthy of commemoration. His life was sweet and noble; and in his work, aiming first at lucidity, and then at "grace and sweetness," to use his phrase, he succeeded, because he was humble and less studious of effect than of truth to matter. Wise were the Jacobean scholars, but great was Tindale, whose name should be uppermost in any celebration next year.

In his memoirs Goldwin Smith says that "Toronto's wealth is not munificent." Toronto is not alone in this reproach.

Rev. George Jackson objects to being judged by a body of divinity students. As the Oxford don said to his class: "Gentlemen, let us remember that none of us is infallible, not even the youngest."

So far 259 of 670 members of the British House of Commons have been elected, and the Unionists have made a net gain of three seats. The Unionists will have to finish strong if the peers' veto is not to be finished.

The election of Canadians and newcomers like Martin and Aitken, argues a certain broad-mindedness in the British electorate. It shows an absence of parochialism which compares favorably with conditions in this country.

Some of the flunkey journals of Canada have been shouting for the anti-democratic party in Great Britain on the pretence of zeal for imperial preferential trade. Now that the tariff question has been dropped, they are showing themselves in their true colors by weeping for the peers.

Canadians of all classes should feel a pang of regret over the defeat of Henry Vivian, in Birkenhead, England. When he might have been elected, he came to Canada to tell us of the town-planning movement in England, and to quicken our municipal spirit. Birkenhead is a suburb of Liverpool, and Mr. Vivian has evidently succumbed to the anti-home rule sentiment, which has been stimulated by a series of religious riots in that city.

Churchill is the most literary of the Government's speakers, and some of his addresses will rank with the best British oratory of the past. He made an eloquent bit when, in alluding to Balfour's surrender of tariff reform, he said that "the public houses and the baronial halls of England were now flowing more white flags than they had hoisted since the days of Marston Moor and Naseby."

Archbishop Langevin is the Dr. Sproule of the Roman Catholic hierarchy. He has put the ban on the four leading French-Canadian dailies in the Province of Quebec in the interests of two Nationalist rivals, Le Devoir and L'Action Sociale. The orthodoxy of the proscribed journals is not in question, but they are fighting the narrow racialism of Bourassa and his followers. The archbishop has thus identified himself with the Nationalist propaganda, and put himself in an indefensible position. It is not a matter of Catholicism at all. Fortunately his sphere of influence is too remote to enable him to injure the objects of his wrath, and it is not at all likely that any of his Quebec brethren will follow his example.

THE DOLLAR DUKE

From the London Daily News.

The Duke—Ah, good morning, Simpkins—good morning. What weather for the time of year?

Simpkins—Yes, the sun still shines in spite of this radical government.

The Duke—But it won't shine much longer, Simpkins, on poor old England if these foreigners—

Simpkins—What, is there another invasion? Are the Germans coming again?

The Duke—Oh, worse than that. Haven't you heard about the Dollar Dictator?

Simpkins—Who is he?

The Duke—Why, Redmond. He has come back from America with 200,000 dollars, and he is going to buy up the Empire.

Simpkins—With forty thousand pounds? We're going cheap, aren't we? But who gave him the dollars?

The Duke—Oh, a lot of Irish-Americans and Canadians.

Simpkins—But are Canadians foreigners? Did Sir Wilfrid Laurier give any of the dollars?

The Duke—Believe he did.

Simpkins—And is he a foreigner?

The Duke—Not when he's on our side.

Simpkins—Only when he wants Ireland to have home rule or England to have free trade. But about those American dollars. Is this the first time they've come this way? Is your wife a foreigner?

The Duke—What do you mean, Simpkins? Her Grace a foreigner? Do you wish to insult me? Her Grace is a daughter of the proudest house in New York.

Simpkins—I thought New York was in America.

The Duke—She has restored the fortunes of her family and rebuilt my ancestral halls.

Simpkins—With American dollars? I see. American dollars are good for English peers, but bad for Irish peasants. By the way, you have estates in Ireland, haven't you?

The Duke—Fifty thousand acres, Simpkins, fifty thousand acres; but poor land, poor land. It's hard to screw rent out of the tenants.

Simpkins—And where does the rent come from?

The Duke—Oh, they get it from their sons who have gone to America and Canada.

Simpkins—Ah, more American dollars. Some of that eighty million dollars that Lloyd George says the Irish exiles have sent home to pay rent to English lords. It seems to me that you are the Dollar Dictator, American dollars from your wife; American dollars from your tenants. Why you are a Dollar Duke. You ought to think ill of American dollars.

You ought to keep quiet about American dollars—you, and the Duke of Marlborough, and Lord Curzon, and the Duke of Roxburghe, and heaps more of you whose pockets are bursting with them. What would the House of Lords be without American dollars? No, take my advice and don't mention dollars.

SOMEWHAT STALE.

Isn't it odd that the Unionist campaign should now be raising the cry that the empire is threatened by the "American gold" secured by Mr. Redmond wherewith to carry on the fight for home rule? It is rather late in the day to raise such a cry. American contribution to the Irish Nationalist party is no new thing. It has been going on for many years.

MYSTERY.

[Houston Post.]
"The Sultan of Sulu says he has only one wife."

"Yes, and since seeing his portrait I have wondered how he got her."

EXPLAINED.

[Houston Post.]
"Father," said Willie, "what's the difference between a sanitarium and a sanatorium?"

"Well, about $5 a day," said Mr. Billups.

THE DIFFERENCE.

[Harper's Bazaar.]
"I don't see any difference between you and a trained nurse, except the uniform," said her sick husband.

"And the salary," she added, thoughtfully.

UNFAMILIAR LANGUAGE.

[Louisville Courier-Journal.]
"Skiddoo, kiddo!" yelled the little Boston boy.

"What does Waldo mean?" inquired his aunt.

"It is evidently some foreign phrase he has picked up," commented his mother.

"He has been playing with some foreign children of late."

AUDIENCE OF ONE.

[London Daily News.]
Mr. Birrell, who is content to bed at his Chelsea residence as a result of his encounter with the Suffragists, was to have addressed his North Bristol constituents last night, and adopted a novel course in view of his inability to keep the engagement. He received at Chelsea a member of the reporting staff of the organ of the Bristol Liberals, and delivered to him from his sick bed a tabloid speech for communication through the medium of the newspaper. To this audience of one he spoke over half a column.

[Cleveland Plaindealer.]
"I understand Brindle and his wife have quarrelled. What was the cause?"

"Why, Brindle lost his wife in the crowd, and went about peering under all the peach basket hats that looked like hers—and she saw him and got mad."

THOSE GIRLS.

[London Opinion.]
She—Ethel? I hate her!
He—Why, I saw you kiss her yesterday.

She—Yes, but that's all we do. We hardly speak.

RUDE, BUT PERHAPS APPROPRIATE.

[Lippincott's.]
"Give me something for my head."
"I wouldn't have it as a gift."

LUCK.

[Cleveland Leader.]
First Young Doctor—Is your patient with a bad cold progressing as you hoped?

Second Young Doctor—Better. He has pneumonia now!

SINISTER HOPE.

[London Punch.]
A contemporary informs us, in regard to ladies' dress, that the train is coming into vogue again. We are sorry to hear this, and we hope men will put their foot down on it.

NO BABY IN THE HOUSE.

[Clara G. Dolliver.]
No baby in the house, I know, 'Tis far too nice and clean.
No toys, by careless fingers strewn
Upon the floors are seen;
No finger-marks are on the panes,
No scratches on the chairs;
No wooden men set up in rows,
Or marshallled off in pairs;
No little stockings to be darned,

CRIPPLED BY RHEUMATISM

Gentleman in Vancouver Owes His Recovery

TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 1, 1910.

I am well acquainted with a man, known to thousands in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, who for nearly a year was practically a cripple from rheumatism. He was so troubled with the disease that he found it difficult to even turn over in bed. His heart appeared so weak that he could hardly get up stairs. Last June, he received a sample of "Fruit-a-tives." He used them and dates his recovery from that time. Today there is no other man in Vancouver enjoying better health. He was building a house this fall and angled a good part of the roof in a driving rain storm without suffering any bad effects.

JOHN B. LACY.

"Fruit-a-tives" is a positive cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Pain in the Back and all Kidney Troubles, because it is the greatest blood-purifying medicine ever discovered.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50; trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

All ragged at the toes:
No pile of mending to be done,
Made up of baby clothes:
No little troubles to be soothed,
No little hands to fold,
No grumpy fingers to be washed,
No stories to be told;
No tender kisses to be given;
No nicknames, "Dove" and "Mouse";
No merry frolic after tea—
No baby in the house!

OFFICIAL ENCOURAGEMENT.

[Houston Chronicle.]
"Every time the automobile breaks down I notice your examining your state license."

"I do that for encouragement. The license says I'm competent to operate the machine."

WAITING IN VAIN.

[Life.]

THE WELCHERS.

[Ottawa Free Press.]
The welchers on the next issue, as the Conservatives are designated by the Stratford Beacon, got what was coming to them in the division in the House of Commons last night. But there is more to the story than that. The people of the country get a chance to speak. Canadians have no use for political welchers.

THE NEW SPELLING.

[Ottawa Free Press.]
It is proposed by the Conservative party to revise the spelling of English. According to them the letters "SPEDDY," now spell "DELAY."

INGERSOLL DEBATE ON CHURCH UNION

Decided That Methodists and Presbyterians Should Unite as Soon as Possible.

Ingersoll, Dec. 6.—The friendly feeling of church reciprocity was further promoted last night by the visit of the Young People's Society of St. Paul's Methodist Church to the Epworth League of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Oscar Bailey, president of the league, officiated on behalf of the league, and Rev. Alfred Bright presided.

The subject of church union was the dominant feature of the programme. Resolved, that the union of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches in Canada would be in the best interests of the religious life in the church.

Messrs. J. P. Hume, M. A., and Dr. Martyn advocated the affirmative with several able arguments, and Messrs. J. L. Paterson, K. C., and J. S. Clark supported the negative in a very creditable manner.

Messrs. R. J. Robertson, J. Garfield Gibson, H. E. Robinson and Oscar Bailey officiated as judges, and after Mr. Hume had been allowed five minutes' time to review the arguments, the judges reported in favor of the affirmative.

A local man was assessed $10 and costs yesterday by Police Magistrate Paterson on a charge of common assault.

Fred S. Towers, of Ingersoll, and Miss Ethel Gills, of Hamilton, were quietly married by Rev. J. M. Perkins on Dec. 1, at the rectory, Oxford street.

On Saturday, Dec. 3, Frank T. Brown, of West Lorne, and Miss Emma Tribe, recently from London, England, were married in St. James Methodist Church by Rev. R. M. Perkins, rector.

J. Melike, a returned missionary from Japan, is visiting his parental home on King street.

A pleasing organ recital was given in St. James Church last night under the auspices of the choir by Clarence J. Gilmour, organist, assisted by Dr. Pierce, organist of the Methodist Church, and Alfred Peine, bass soloist of St. Paul's Cathedral.

ILDERTON. [Special to The Advertiser.]

Idlerton, Dec. 5.—The members and adherents of the Idlerton Methodist Church met at the home of Mr. S. Munce, to consider the question of rebuilding the church, which was recently destroyed by fire.

It was decided by a unanimous vote to rebuild, and a subscription list was circulated among those present, and already a good start has been made. As soon as arrangements can be made the trustees of the church intend going to work to clear away the rubbish at the old site, and thus make all possible preparations to commence building as early in the spring as the weather will permit.

The ladies of the congregation have organized themselves into an assistant committee to make plans, for doing their share towards raising the money needed for building and furnishing the church. They purpose holding a benefit concert on Wednesday evening, Dec. 14, in the Oddfellows' Hall. A good programme will be given.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

HAY CONTINUES MARKET FEATURE

Thirty-Five Loads Brought in Today and Prices Lower.

BUYERS CRY FOR WHEAT

Dressed Hogs Took an Advance, the Figure Going From $10 to $10 25 Per Cwt.

There was a large quantity of hay on the market this morning about thirty-five loads having been brought in. The prices today were a little lower than yesterday, the market being quiet. The inferior quality went at $13. The demand is exceptionally good, and good hay was sold at $14 to $15. The market is very active and in excellent shape for bringing in large loads. There were three loads of straw, the demand being fairly brisk. They sold at prices ranging from $9.50 to $7 per ton. Good wheat straw, selling at $7 per ton.

Oats were a little more prominent than yesterday. There were about 10 loads in, and these sold at prices ranging from $1 to $1.03 per cwt. The demand is still very brisk, and the market is well supplied. There were not as many loads of wheat as yesterday, the two loads that were brought in selling at 90c per bushel. The buyers are still urging the farmer to bring in all the wheat they possibly can, as the demand is very brisk.

Dressed hogs. The advance in price today, and the majority sold at $10 to $10 25 per cwt. The price is gradually coming to the level before the recent advance occurred, although the present price is out of proportion with the present price of live hogs. The brisk demand for dressed hogs is the reason for the advance.

The supply for the last week or so has been very limited, and thus a large demand has been created. Thursday's market should see dressed hogs a little more plentiful. The prices are remaining steady.

Butter and egg prices are steady, there being no change in the market. Poultry figures are also unchanged. Fruit prices are the same as Saturday. Following are the quotations:

A Woman Was Kept

From Temptation

Today

She came to our office and said: "I'm going to put some money into coal, and when the temptation comes to spend too much for Christmas, I won't have it to spend." Great philosophers, these home women.

Where to Buy

Your Meat

That is a serious question with most every housekeeper, and well

it may be, for to most people meat is the principal part of the meal, and if the steak or roast is not tender, the rest of the meal is spoiled. We claim to have the finest lot of meats to select from to be found in the city, and notwithstanding the choicest and tenderest beef, pork, veal, lamb, etc., is to be found at either of our stores. A trial order will convince you that what we say is true.

JOINS THE ARMY

WHO ARE SHOUTING THE

PRaises OF DODD'S KIDNEY

PILLS IN THE WEST.

A Neighbor Advised Him To Take

Them For His Rheumatism and Gravel—They Cured Him.

West Gravelbourg, Sask., Dec. 5.—

(Special to The Advertiser.)

St. Catharines, Dec. 6.—The lid is on tight in St. Kitts. Chief of Police

Harry Greene (formerly of London) has been making it interesting for the law-breaking hotelkeepers, since his appointment as head of the force

here, and as a result there is very little Sunday or Saturday night selling going on, while Indian livers haven't got a look-in at any of the city bars.

Now, Chief Greene is after the billiard and pool rooms. It can be said that there has been altogether too much petty gambling going on in these places, so he made a round of the poolrooms and gave the proprie-ters friendly warning. Chief Greene particularly mentioned "pea" pool as being under the ban. Pea-pool is about as common all through this continent

as the great American notoriety game, poker. If you happen to walk into a poolroom and see half a dozen players or so at one table, you can pretty safely conclude that they are playing pea-pool. It is said, each player is given a marble, or pea, with a number corresponding with one of the pool balls on the table. If he is skillful or lucky enough to pocket a ball, he is given the game without the usual money

bet. Then there is a "dry," and the lucky winner in the next game gets 20 cents apiece instead of 10. Sometimes there are half a dozen dimes, and the counts up to $4 or $5. It is said that some young men, experts at the game,

have been able to clean up a good living at it, because there is no money

bet. One young man was saying recently that he made $70 playing pea-pool. It doesn't take long to lose two or three dollars.
