

THE people of any city become what they are and form their standards of right and wrong from the teachings of the Mother, the Teacher, and the Press.

The London Advertiser

THE old newspaper definition of a good Journalist was a man with a nose for news, but The London Advertiser's requirement is a man with a passion for the truth.

57TH YEAR. NO. 23294

LONDON, ONTARIO, MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 27, 1922.

FOURTEEN PAGES

PRICE, THREE CENTS

STAYS IN BED FOR 38 YEARS TO PROVE IRE

Woman Went There Perverse-ly As Result of Quarrels With Father-in-Law.

LIMBS NOW SHRIVELED

'Just an Unhappy Old Woman,' She Says, Without Voicing Regret.

Special to London Advertiser.
Council Bluffs, March 27.—Thirty-eight years ago Mrs. Alexander Wickham got angry and went to bed. "I'm never, never, never going to get up again," she declared.

A little while ago she changed her mind and attempted to get out of bed and walk. But she found she was paralyzed from her waist down. During her thirty-eight years in bed her legs had atrophied and had become absolutely helpless. Now she lies in bed all day, day after day, month after month, year after year, because she has to, not because she wants to.

She was a young wife when she went to bed. She is an old white-haired woman now. She is rich, but all the good her money does her is to keep her out of the poorhouse. It permits her to employ a woman to look after her few wants and to remain in the room with her.

The original trouble was between Mrs. Wickham and her father-in-law. Immediately after her marriage to Alec Wickham, she and her husband went to live with her husband's father. The father was a joint affair between the two men.

Mrs. Wickham and the father-in-law did not get along together. Mrs. Wickham insisted that the farm be divided and that her husband have his individual property. The old man refused. They quarreled all the time.

Quarreling as usual.

One morning Mrs. Wickham was cutting bacon for breakfast. She and her father-in-law were quarreling as usual. Old man Wickham made some remark she resented. She laid down her butcher knife and started for the door.

"Where you going?" her husband asked.

"I'm going to bed, and I'm never, never, never going to get up again," answered the wife, as she walked into her room and slammed the door.

She stayed in bed all that day, her husband, thinking to humor her, brought her meals to her. The next morning she refused to get up. Again the husband brought her meals. The third day was a repetition of the first and second. So was the fourth and the fifth and the sixth.

She'll get over it, said the neighbors when they heard of what was going on over at the Wickham farm.

"She'll get up when I die, I reckon," said the old man. But the old man lived so long she couldn't get up when he died.

Mrs. Wickham spent her time reading books and writing poetry. After thirty-eight years of such reading she is undoubtedly one of the best read women in the world.

Neighbors came to see her after she took to her bed. But she refused to see them. Gradually these visits ceased and she was left severely alone.

Her husband called in a doctor. Specialists were brought into the case. They could find nothing wrong with the woman.

"Get her to say she will get up and she will be all right," they said. But her husband couldn't get her to want to leave her bed.

Village Grew.

The sprawling village grew into a good sized town. A railroad built through the place. Mrs. Wickham could hear the whistle of the trains as they passed within a few blocks of her house. But she couldn't see the engine. Her room was on the opposite side of the house. And she refused to leave her bed and go to the window.

The telephone exchange was set up in Tipton the Wickhams had.

Turn to Page 2, Column 5.

DIVERS HUNT BODIES OF FERRY DEAD

Shillington On High Seas London-Bound LEFT GLASGOW ON "TUNISIAN" ON MARCH 25

Prisoner's Departure From Scotland Delayed Week by Error of Officials.

TAKE EIGHT-DAY LINER

Overseas Officers Expected To Arrive in St. John With Fugitive Sunday.

Harold R. Shillington, until November last accountant with a London banking institution, who is charged with the misappropriation of securities valued at $70,000, is on the Canadian Pacific liner Tunisian, three days out of the port of Glasgow, Scotland, and homeward bound.

From the chief constable of Edinburgh, where the prisoner has been in custody for several weeks, comes this exclusive cablegram Monday morning to The London Advertiser: "Shillington sails Tunisian tonight, March 25."

It is now anticipated that the fugitive from justice will finally reach St. John, New Brunswick, Sunday night next or Monday morning. Two overseas officers who have the prisoner in their charge will hasten from the port of arrival to this city without unnecessary delay.

It was explained today that the Edinburgh police authorities erroneously notified Canadian police officials that they had arranged for Shillington's departure by an earlier vessel, but through a misunderstanding a delay occurred, and as a result they were unable to book passage for the prisoner until last week.

Caught in Scotland.

After a flight to the American Atlantic seaboard, where he embarked for Liverpool, the former accountant was finally arrested near Edinburgh, Scotland, with a companion who was subsequently released. The latter, it is reported, was also a Canadian, although he had but returned to this city from the United States after a long absence but a few days before Shillington's disappearance. As he also left the city about that time and proceeded overseas, later meeting Shillington, it was first reasoned by the police that he was implicated in some manner in the alleged disappearance of the company's stocks and bonds. Concluding, however, that he was not to be considered an accessory before or after the alleged act, the police in Scotland say they immediately discharged him from custody, and his name has naturally been withheld. While he was said to have remained in England until a few days ago, it is now explained that he recently sailed for Boston, where he has made his home for the past ten years.

Denies Brazil Trip.

Although several conflicting reports emanated from the Old Country relative to Shillington's movements since he sailed from America, he strenuously denies the overseas authorities say, that he first visited Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, South America. It is admitted, however, that he and his companion were about to arrange for passports for Australia when apprehended.

It is alleged by both the police and officials of the trust company that the great bulk of the missing Grand Trunk and similar bonds were found in the possession of the prisoner, while the latter, as already explained in The London Advertiser, is alleged by Edinburgh police to have admitted the defalcation.

MOVE RUSSIAN REFUGEES EAST

Paris, March 27.—Plans for taking Russian refugees from Constantinople and elsewhere to Southern European states have been approved by the council of the league of nations. It has decided also to have the task proceed under the supervision of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, who is high commissioner of the international committee for Russian relief.

What has wrought this change? Skillfully arranged marriages between members of Balkan royal families!

Behind many of them can be seen the hand of Queen Marie of Rumania, world's most skilled diplomatic matchmaker.

Most Are Loveless.

Most of these marriages are loveless. In many cases

Wedding Principals in "Unwritten Balkan Treaties"

THINKS 36-MILL RATE CERTAIN

Aid. Childs Not Hopeful of Lower Figure Being Found.

HINGES ON SALARY CUTS

Mayor Hopes To Hold Council Meeting Wednesday To Strike Rate.

"I have been hoping that we would get the mill rate down to 35, but I am afraid that 36 will be the best we can do," said Chairman H. J. Childs of the finance committee, in discussing the outlook for the tax rate, which Mayor Wilson hopes will be struck by the council on Wednesday night.

"To be or not to be," about sums up the outlook on the salary question, and any material lowering of the present rate, which stands over 35 mills, is now contingent on this question.

Further paring of some of the estimates, other than salaries, may be done, but the amount will be insignificant, and the total that is slated for the knife will hardly bring the rate below 36 mills.

The buck seems to have been passed to the school teachers. Perhaps, though, "auditorium" is a misnomer, for the messages are not received by ear, but by the eye. The store windows are the lessons. They are prepared by the enterprising merchants of the city. In certain seasons of the year these windows attract more students than in others. They do this by embracing the great movement of this present generation—cooperation.

Spring is here.

Although today they have thousands of secondary messages to impart, the paramount one is the message that spring is here, that winter has been dealt a stunning blow from which it is not expected to recover.

"Window shopping" is the most important subject on the curriculum of this curriculum. And this subject particularly is prepared in such a manner that it is easily digested. Some merchants employ men specially to aid the general public in this regard. In common, everyday, twentieth-century English they are known as window dressers. To them is allotted the task of initiating new twists and turns in presenting the season, so that the students may not tire of it and pass on to some other place where there are new fields to conquer.

Arranges "Scenery."

One of these "back stage" men was at work this morning in one of the windows of a large department store, arranging the "scenery" for the afternoon "show." And with

Window Shopping For Facts On Dundas Street

RESIDENTS of this northern clime envy the South Sea Islander who sits and waits for his dinner to fall off the trees, and who sleeps out under the Southern Cross; yet Londoners have a decided advantage in this respect over the natives of the Pacific isles, although few of them fully realize it.

London offers an education to every man, woman and child, free of charge! And like the islanders, all that the citizen must do is to go out and "pick it off."

There are no textbooks in this great school of learning. Teachers, too, are a minus quantity. In this great university there are no color lines, no race or creed distinctions. These are a few of the features peculiar to this Spring of Knowledge, of whose waters young and old may satisfy their thirst for learning.

Its name? The University of the Street!

Dundas street is the great auditorium of this school. Perhaps, though, "auditorium" is a misnomer, for the messages are not received by ear, but by the eye. The store windows are the lessons. They are prepared by the enterprising merchants of the city. In certain seasons of the year these windows attract more students than in others. They do this by embracing the great movement of this present generation—cooperation.

Dresses Charming.

Dresses and frocks every bit as charming and unique in style as those on exhibition on Fifth avenue, New York, or Bond street, in Old London, may be observed as one strolls leisurely along the city's main thoroughfare.

In men's lines the same praise applies. Some of the wearing apparel for the fastidious male has been brought from other lands ready-made.

London jewelry stores can compete with those of the same size the world over, and probably many larger establishments. And then kind of work a certain barber does without entering the shop. Shaving, haircutting, massaging and all forms of face and head adornment are demonstrated to the student of the boulevard.

The man who, so the fable goes, amassed a fortune by always keeping his eyes on the ditches, watching Turn to Page 2, Column 6.

Everything in Open.

Everything is above board as far as London businessmen are concerned. One can even find out what kind of work a certain barber does without entering the shop. Shaving, haircutting, massaging and all forms of face and head adornment are demonstrated to the student of the boulevard.

What It Means.

That the Rumanian royal house will have strengthened itself by forming a little Balkan entente of Rumania, Greece and Yugoslavia, three most powerful

JUDICIARY TO DEVOTE ENTIRE TIME TO CROWN

Attorney-General Raney To Forbid Officials Continuing Private Practices.

SIFT MIDDLESEX VACANCY

County Members Believed To Favor Elliott, Donahue and Buchner.

Special to London Advertiser.
Toronto, March 27.—At a special caucus here today the provincial members of London and Middlesex considered among other matters impending changes in the judiciary system of the province.

Prominent among these was the appointment of a successor to the late J. B. McKillop, K.C., former crown attorney for London and Middlesex.

Although unable to make any official statement at this moment, it was frankly admitted in well-informed circles at the conclusion of the conference that but three names of possibilities had been received with favor. These were J. C. Elliott, ex-M.L.A. for West Middlesex, J. M. Donahue and U. A. Buchner.

Ban Private Practice.

The day when crown attorneys and police magistrates will be permitted to continue their private practices while they retain these official positions is at an end, according to Dr. Hugh A. Stevenson, M.L.A. for London, who returned Monday morning to the Legislative Assembly in Toronto.

Dr. Stevenson explains that sweeping changes in the provincial judiciary are under contemplation by both Premier E. C. Drury and the Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general.

While plans are yet in an uncompleted state Dr. Stevenson states that it has been definitely decided that in future police magistrates as well as crown attorneys must be ready to devote their entire time to matters concerning the state only.

"First of all," explains the member for London, "it has been decided that the new crown attorneys hereafter must be young and aggressive. They must relinquish their private affairs in the legal profession. As a matter of fact it is being arranged that they shall have so much work to do that it will leave little time for other duties, and London's next crown prosecutor will have to make his headquarters at the courthouse. There is an office there now for that purpose and he will have to use it exclusively."

Enforce City Bylaws.

"Additional duties will rest upon the next incumbent to the office. It will, among other things, as an instance, be his duty to insure that any city bylaw that is not being rigidly adhered to, be carried out to the letter. What is considered of even greater importance by the attorney-general is the emphatic order that he interest himself to the utmost in the prosecution of those who may violate the provisions of the Ontario temperance act."

It is believed that the salary of the local crown attorney will be set in the neighborhood of $5,000 a year.

While it is known that several applicants for the vacancy in London have come to light, the member from London declined to express himself on this subject.

It was reported Monday morning, however, that U. A. Buchner of London will leave for Toronto Tuesday to confer with the attorney-general, from whose department the appointment will be made.

PROSECUTE NEW ZEALAND BISHOP

Wellington, N. Z., March 27.—The government has decided to prosecute Mgr. Liston, Catholic bishop of Auckland, on a charge of having made seditious utterances during a recent speech. It is alleged that he denounced the British troops in Ireland as "foreign troops."

Mgr. Liston at the time was glorifying the Easter rebellion in Ireland and is said to have declared that the Irish were martyrs and "proud to die for their country, murdered by foreign troops."

Defends Coalition

WINSTON S. CHURCHILL.

NORTHAMPTON, England, March 27.—Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for the colonies, declared here Saturday that he believed the coalition treaty would yet bring peace and prosperity to all Ireland.

TO RENEW COAL NEGOTIATIONS

Operators and Miners Agree To Consider Nineteen Demands of Workers.

WAGE CUTS TO BE SHOWN

President Harding and Advisers Will Take No Action To Stop Strike.

New York, March 27.—"Labor members of the anthracite wage scale sub-committee returned from Cleveland today to renew negotiations with the operators in an effort to reach a wage agreement that would avert the walkout of 155,000 organized anthracite miners called for April 1.

Both operators and miners expressed a desire to end the general discussions which marked the opening days of the conference last week, and to confine future sessions to consideration of the nineteen demands of the workers.

The miners' committee will go into the conference armed with statistical data to bolster their claims that the coal digger is entitled to a 20 per cent increase in wages. They propose to demonstrate that wages in the mines failed to keep pace with wages in other industries during the war, that the total increase has been only 65 per cent since 1916; that the mine operator is making an excessive profit by underpaying his labor and overcharging the consumer; and that the mines could continue to show a reasonable profit to the operator after granting both an increase in wages and a reduction of prices.

To Submit Wage Cuts.

The operators indicated that today, for the first time since discussion of a new contract was undertaken, they would make known the percentage of wage cuts they advocate in counterproposal to the nineteen demands of the miners. Although they have declined thus far to directly discuss their proposals, the operators made clear at the opening of the conference that they would not entertain a wage increase.

They contended that costs of mining and transporting coal had failed to "deflate" with other costs during the period of depression, and that the market for coal had suffered because of the public's inability to pay prevailing prices.

Philip Murray, vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America replaced John L. Lewis, president of the international organization, as head of the four labor delegates on the arbitration committee.

S. D. Warriner, head of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, will continue as spokesman for the operators.

Mr. Lewis has announced that he will remain at Indianapolis, headquarters of the United Mine Workers to direct the strike of both anthracite and bituminous workers. Nearly 40 members of the anthracite workers' scale committee returned to New York today to keep their local and district organizations advised of the progress of the strike.

Turn to Page 2, Column 3.

FOUR PERISH AS SARNIA FERRY IS SUNK BY BLAST

Several Persons Seriously Injured When Omar D. Conger's Boiler Explodes.

WRECKS MICHIGAN HOME

Hundreds of Store Windows and Telephone Poles Demolished by Debris.

Special to London Advertiser.
Sarnia, March 27.—Although divers have been at work since early this morning, no trace has as yet been found of Ransome A. Campbell and Clifford D. Althouse, whose bodies are buried in the wreckage of the Sarnia-Port Huron ferryboat, the Omar D. Conger, which was sunk at its moorings in the Black River, when the engine-room boiler exploded Sunday afternoon, killing four Port Huron men and injuring a score.

Experts today attribute the explosion to cold water being placed in an overheated boiler, which had little or no water in it. No official expression on this technical point could be obtained, however, from a jury of marine engineers empaneled Monday morning by Coroner Arthur A. Falkes, and consisting of W. D. Moody, H. Bonner, E. T. Harris and A. E. Moore.

The jurors spent the day examining the remains of the boiler embedded in the debris of a Port Huron home, and the wreckage of the ship in the river.

The damage wrought by the blast has been estimated at $92,000, and this $65,000 was entailed by the loss of the ship and $10,000 to store windows.

The disaster is regarded as one of the worst in the marine history of this district. Today the following official casualty list was given out:

Dead.—Ransome A. Campbell, 60, married, chief engineer, buried in wreckage; Clifford D. Althouse, married, fireman, buried in wreckage; Thomas Buckler, single, body found on coal pile; Kenneth Crandall, single, body found on coal pile, died on the way to hospital.

Sarnia Couple Hurt.

Seriously injured, Mrs. Nora Goddard, collar bone broken; Mrs. W. B. Carson, may lose sight of eye; Mrs. M. B. Houser, broken nose; Stanley McGowan, skull fractured; S. D. Carmichael, back injured. All residents of Port Huron.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Biddecombe of Sarnia were also flying high.

Earl Dond, aged 15, Port Huron, is missing. It is reported that Dond last was noticed standing on the dock at no great distance from the boat when the explosion occurred, and it is feared that he was hurled into the water and swept down stream by the force of the impact.

McGowan was taken to the hospital suffering from a fractured skull. He was walking on Quay street, Port Huron when struck on the head by a piece of flying timber.

Hurled Fifty Feet.

Hurled a distance of fifty feet or more along Hilda avenue, Dr. Carson, also of Port Huron, sustained severe injuries to his back, and is now in the city hospital.

Lifted clear over the buildings in the neighborhood of the dock, a huge radiator crashed through a wall of the Falkes Undertaking Parlor, Port Huron, injuring Mr. and Mrs. Biddecombe.

A funeral service was in progress at the moment. Rev. John S. Tremaine.

Turn to Page 2, Column 4.

Would Revive Religion By Means of Dance

NEW YORK, March 27.—Six barefooted girls, clothed in the loose, flowing garments of another age, danced before the veiled sanctuary in the Church of St. Marks in the Bowers yesterday afternoon, white spotlights playing upon them and blue smoke from huge incense pots curling about their graceful forms.

Dr. William Norman Guthrie, rector, described the dance as "an eurythmic ritual expressive of the annunciation." He had been faced, he said, with the necessity of finding a new utility for his church, or closing it. Therefore, the dance—"a thing of beauty"—as a means of teaching people to worship.

"Sculptors of Greece brought about a revival of the Greek religion by embodying the aspirations of the religion in their work, and giving it great beauty," he said, "so why cannot a church like this, if it gets the backing of public opinion, bring about a renaissance of religious worship through beauty, through the plastic arts, through the dance?"

The Weather

FORECASTS.
Easterly winds; cool and showery to day and Tuesday.
Pressure is low over the greater part of the United States, and moderately high over Canada.
The weather is showery in Southwest Ontario and fair elsewhere in the Dominion.
Temperatures are decidedly low in the West.

Temperatures.

The highest and lowest temperatures during the 24 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were:

High. Low.
Victoria 52 36
Calgary 42 14
Winnipeg 36 10
S. S. Marie 24 10
Toronto 48 32
Kingston 48 30
Ottawa 48 26
Montreal 44 24
Quebec 42 24
P. Point 28 20
St. John 42 32
Halifax 41 34

Below zero.

The highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night were: highest, 52; lowest, 21.

The official temperatures for the 12 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were: highest, 52; lowest, 19.

Barometric Readings.
Sunday—8 p.m., 29.87.
Today—8 a.m., 29.95.

HOW QUEEN'S MATCHES HALT PERIL OF WAR IN BALKAN ARENA!

Special to London Advertiser.
PARIS, March 27.—The Balkan peninsula, famed "cock-pit of Europe," is losing its place as a breeding center of European wars.

Age-old scars that time after time have goaded not only the Balkan nations but all of Europe into warfare, are being healed.

Before the end of another generation, diplomats say, the half dozen little nations prospering in friendship and co-operation.

What has wrought this change?

Skillfully arranged marriages between members of Balkan royal families!

Behind many of them can be seen the hand of Queen Marie of Rumania, world's most skilled diplomatic matchmaker.

Most Are Loveless.

Most of these marriages are loveless. In many cases the princes and princesses concerned have been forced to give up others whom they loved.

But they have followed the ancient royal practice of sacrificing love on the altar of diplomatic expediency.

Two important Balkan diplomatic marriages already have taken place while three others are scheduled to take place soon.

Crown Prince Carol of Rumania, son of King Ferdinand, married Princess Helen of Greece, March 9, 1921.

Princess Elizabeth of Rumania was married to Crown Prince George of Greece in February, 1921.

Queen Behind Them.

Queen Marie's influence was behind both these marriages. Their diplomatic significance is easily seen—when Crown Prince Carol becomes King of Rumania, a Greek queen will sit beside him, while when Prince George takes the Greek throne he will have a Rumanian queen.

That means that Rumania and Greece will be closely bound together and friction between them will be highly improbable.

Here are three more royal pairs who probably will be married soon:

King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Princess Marie of Rumania. Their engagement has been officially announced.

Crown Prince Christian Frederick of Denmark and Princess Olga, niece of King Constantine of Greece. This engagement also has been officially announced.

King Boris of Bulgaria and Princess Yolanda of Italy. This engagement has been persistently rumored but lacks official confirmation.

What It Means.

If these three marriages take place it will mean: THAT the Rumanian royal house will have strengthened itself by forming a little Balkan entente of Rumania, Greece and Yugoslavia, three most powerful Balkan nations.

THAT Bulgaria, Balkan outcast, will naturally become the ally of Italy, a great power with a tremendous Balkan influence.

THAT Greece will have secured the support of one of the strong Scandinavian powers.

Throne Unstable.

Princess Marie of Rumania, when she becomes the bride of King Alexander of Yugoslavia, will mount one of the most unstable thrones of Europe and will be the queen of "the most-shot-at king in Europe."

Alexander was the target of bombs in 1917, 1919 and 1920. His life is continually sought by supporters of another Yugoslavian royal line as well as by anarchists and sympathizers with extreme political factions.

Alexander is said to have had one great love in his past life. He was enamored of the Russian Princess Tatiana, who was murdered with the czar and his family.

HOULDING ASKS CHANCE FOR BOY

Declares Whole Scientific Thought of Welfare Workers Focused On Problem.

BACKS JUVENILE COURT

Declares Crown Fees Alone Would Almost Pay For Upkeep.

"The weak are worth saving in order that they may become strong." So declared Lloyd Houlding, B.A., secretary of the Y.M.C.A., addressing members of the special class on "social service," which is being conducted under the auspices of the Western University Extension Department.

The secretary chose as his topic "The Problem of the Under-Privileged Boy."

"Past-war days are showing an increase of juvenile delinquency in all our cities," he said.

"The science of the night of all social service workers, including boy secretaries, is focusing on this vital problem of the under-privileged boy."

"What is an under-privileged boy? He is one who has been handicapped by unfortunate heredity or environment, or both, and has not obtained a reasonable personal development, or is held back from legitimate opportunity."

"A more homely definition would be that an under-privileged boy is unlucky in that he has not the stuff in him or about him to help him make good."

"Behind every under-privileged boy is a story of neglect, of lack of strong drink, or over-crowding in living conditions, and I pause here to state that we have absolutely rotten cases of this all over town. The disease may be divorce, or desertion, or gambling, or laziness, coupled with unemployment. The disease only too often is poverty. How can a family of five feed properly under $600 a year, and yet the salaries of so many of our men do not run over $550 a year. Lack of proper nutrition on the part of many of our boys causes ill-health, irritable natures and ultimately juvenile delinquency."

Hundreds in London.

"London has hundreds of such boys, and they are not segregated, either. They are living in hovels close to some of the best homes in the city. Some people think that they should not be concerned with this much talked-of problem because the boys are all out East or London West or a section in the South. They are everywhere, and they are calling to us to give them an equal chance with their pals. In many cases their pals came from our best homes and obviously the best will be for good or bad will win out in their close companionship."

"It devolves upon us as a group of professional and volunteer workers to know who are the under-privileged boys of our community; what is being done successfully to meet their needs and what more should be done; what are the types of boys who can be greatly helped but who can never be brought up to normal; and, perhaps the most important, how to know just who are the handicapped boys capable of becoming perfectly able and worthy citizens and workers in the community's affairs."

"In other words—our task is to find the homes and the facilities which will put into the boy and around him whatever he requires to make good."

"We require a juvenile court in London. Mayor Wilson promised the city one if a proper judge was recommended. Jared Vining and his committee representing all the organizations of the city directly connected with Child Life should lose no time in helping Mayor Wilson to carry out his promise to the citizens of London. Why the fees alone which go into the hands of the crown attorney and others when every case is brought up before the judge would go a long way towards keeping up a properly-managed juvenile court."

Doing Good Work.

"Our Children's Aid Society, under the leadership of Walter Kelly, is doing a magnificent work by giving patient and sympathetic handling to boys when in trouble, and by giving sound advice to the adult offenders."

"The baby clinics, under the department of Child Welfare in London, are doing much towards the lowering of the child death rate. They are also giving parents proper advice as to diet, cleanliness and efficient handling of the child entrusted to them. How fundamental all this work is!"

"We pass on to the period of 10 years and over when the boys' clubs and the Y. M. C. A. give diligent and warm-hearted service and the boys soon reflect their leadership by keeping in close touch with his spirit. These boys receive the same character-developing program as the most privileged boys."

"The Big Brother movement such as the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs are doing, is fast taking hold of needy boys—a most commendable work. The Y. M. C. A. has shown this field that it has a distinct place in our life."

Owners desiring to lease or sell their property are invited to communicate with the Canada Trust Company.

Our Real Estate Department specializes in selling or managing business and residential properties.

CANADA TRUST COMPANY
Richmond St., Opp. Post Office.
Telephone 5500.

FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING NEPHEW

Quebec, March 27.—A verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury at Rimouski on Saturday night against Philaee Blouin, on trial for the murder of his nephew, Antoine Blouin, aged 14 years.

The fatal shooting occurred at St. Jerome, Matane County, one evening towards the end of the month of August last. The shot, which was fired from outside through the window, was intended for Mrs. Joseph Blouin, the sister-in-law of the prisoner, but it was the boy who was struck and instantly killed.

JANE COWL WILL APPEAR IN CITY

Noted Actress to Present "Smilin' Through" at Grand Opera House.

ELABORATE SETTINGS

Play Written By Ottawa Man, Allan Langdon Martin.

Londoners have read of Jane Cowl for years, and have seen her in numerous motion picture successes, but seldom have they had a chance of seeing her charm in person.

Monday, however, they will be afforded that opportunity, for on that day she will make her initial appearance at the Grand Opera House in "Smilin' Through," which has been drawing capacity audiences wherever she has appeared throughout the season.

Ten Years Ago.

Miss Cowl first entered the American stage constellation ten years ago when she appeared in "Within the Law." Since that time she has made a historical name for herself on screen and stage, and this season is again adding to her laurels by scoring a tremendous hit in a play for which an early end originally was predicted.

Two years ago she made her first appearance in "Smilin' Through," and at that time it was believed that the vehicle had almost spent itself, it being Miss Cowl's intention to play it for a few weeks and then turn to something new.

However, although that was a winter when playwrights and managers met with nothing but failure, "Smilin' Through" received such hearty support from the theatre-going public because of its sentimentality that it still survives.

Hate is a useless and unworthy thing, thought the allegorical thought of the play.

John Carteret had nursed for half a century his hate for the family of his rival, Jeremiah Wayne, the rival, had shot Carteret's bride on her wedding day. When Wayne's son wished to marry Carteret's ward, his heart was adamant. His hardness robbed him of all his friends, for one by one they deserted him.

Even the spirit of his dead love, Monneyen Clare, could not make his presence felt when his heart hardened. However, there came a day when he threw off his cloak of hate, and the spirit of his dead love, Monneyen Clare, could not make his presence felt when his heart hardened. However, there came a day when he threw off his cloak of hate, and the spirit of his dead love, Monneyen Clare, could not make his presence felt when his heart hardened.

Elaborate Settings.

The settings in which the story is unfolded are elaborate, to say the least of it, and the supporting cast is well chosen.

"Smilin' Through" is from the pen of an Ottawa man, Allan Langdon Martin, whose work the Canadian public would like to see more of. Miss Cowl comes direct to London after a week of triumph in Toronto, despite the fact that a stock company is on the road with the same vehicle, and last week was playing in Detroit.

responsibility for co-operating with all agencies in reaching the under-privileged boy.

"Mention should be made of the soldiers' aid commission. Unquestionably good work has been accomplished by this agency, and every section of our city has felt the impact of the commission's efforts to interest all agencies touching boy life in the soldiers' families. Our duty is to these families, heavily handicapped by the war."

All Helping.

"Other agencies, such as the Roman Catholic Christian Brothers, are doing a most excellent work with boys. Yet for all this, we still have hundreds of untouched boys who will remain under-privileged until reached by some loving, sympathetic, friendly hand."

"Now let us look at some special types of these boys with whom we are working:

1. Aggressive type—Ambitious, desire for self-expression, self-assertive, pugnacious.

"Will to Power—An insatiable craving for dominance."

"There are only signs of common instincts which when stimulated to action cause juvenile delinquency. Cannot we harness these instincts or sublimation them into good actions?"

"A mother was in my office this afternoon to ask co-operation in keeping her boy from being too forward and aggressive."

"2. Retreating group—These have marked inability to cope with social responsibilities. They are diffident with the accompanying feeling of inferiority."

This type requires pushing forward—complimenting. Study him to find some real good quality and magnify it to its limit.

3. Neurotic group; these are unstable in their ways; who have no nervous vitality and therefore lack self-control. (a) Excessive suggestibility: They are responsive to stimulation and are easily led into crime and vice. (b) Closed in personality type; have an exaggerated attention to self. They have been spoiled by parents, and must have some real hard knocks in life before they respond properly to the life about them."

"Let me appeal to you to handle all these boys as individual cases. Study their actions in a scientific way by looking at the instincts which are involved, and by knowing useful places where these instincts can be utilized towards an all-round development of character and personality."

MUST MAKE TAX RETURN FRIDAY

Regulation Applies to All Information Asked From Firms, etc.

APRIL 30 IS LIMIT

Income Tax Return Must Be In by End of Month, Is Order.

All persons who are responsible for making a "return of information" to the inspector of taxation must have their returns filed not later than Friday of this week.

The return of information is required from all persons who are acting as trustees, agents, administrators or assignees and from all employers, including educational, charitable and religious institutions, corporations and joint stock companies.

This return should not be confused with the income tax return which must be filed by the end of April and which includes every individual having an income over the statutory exemption.

The forms for the filing of information may be secured from any post-office and are three in number.

Form T3 is for the use of trustees, executors, administrators, agents and assignees.

Form T4 is for employers, including educational, charitable and religious institutions and requires that a return be made of the names and amounts paid to all directors, officials, agents or other employees.

Form T5 is for the use of all corporations and joint stock companies, giving the full information regarding the amount of dividends and bonuses paid to all shareholders and members of the firm during the year 1921.

The penalty for not filing the return on time is $10.00 a day for every day during which the default continues.

The return of information is used by the department in checking up the income tax returns of the individual or company when they are sent in at the end of April.

A number of people were penalized last year for being late with their returns, but the way they are coming in this year to date is an indication that most of them will be filed before the last day which is March 31.

A FACE IS EASILY MADE UP

It seems easier for some women to make up their face, than their mind. When he shows her a perfect blue white diamond her mind is all made up, especially if purchased from J. H. Nash, jeweller, 132 Dundas street, where you will eventually buy.

AUSTRALIA WANTS 6,000 FARM BOYS

London, March 27.—Premier H. N. Barwell of South Australia is attempting to recruit 6,000 boys in England between the ages of 15 and 17 for apprenticeship to South Australian farmers, under government apprenticeship. The boys are wanted to replace the 6,000 South Australians killed during the war.

Each boy will be paid four shillings a week for pocket money, the remainder of his earnings being placed to his credit in the state treasury, where it will earn 4½ per cent interest, the whole sum being turned over to him when he attains his twenty-first year. This amount will enable him to become an independent farmer.

RENEW COAL NEGOTIATIONS

Continued From Page One.

vised of the progress of wage negotiations.

WILL NOT HALT STRIKE.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Convinced by a number of surveys that the nation is well stocked and prepared to withstand the effects of a nation-wide coal strike, President Harding and his advisers will take no further action toward preventing the suspension of mining operations on April 1.

President Harding feels that the government has gone as far as it possibly can toward averting the tie-up, and that it can go no further until the public interest is actually endangered.

"Watchful Waiting."

The administration policy will be one of "watchful waiting," it was said at the White House. Agents of the department of justice are sprinkled through the coal fields, sending in voluminous reports of the preparations that are being made to carry on the strike, and these are being scanned closely by officials concerned.

The administration will seek no injunctions to prevent the walkout, nor will there be any "public appeal" by the president to operators and miners to adjust their differences without recourse to strike.

The principal interest apparent on the part of the administration officers is the probable duration of the strike. A number of government officials, who have closely followed developments in the coal situation, believe the strike will be a long-drawn-out affair.

Officials of the National Coal Association expressed the belief that in some of the union districts the men would return to work as the result of local agreements before the strike lasts very long.

No Hardships Seen.

"At present it seems perfectly safe to say that a 60-day strike would entail no particular hardship on any one, and would not exhaust stocks to the point where any immediate increase in price would occur," said J. D. A. Morrow, vice-president of the National Coal Association. "The consumer, who has some stock of coal, may look with a fair degree of equanimity on the approach of this struggle."

WORLD NEWS CUT SHORT

LONDON, March 26.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary, is ill with fever, says a Central News dispatch from Funchal today. His temperature is given as 104. A consultation of physicians has been called.

BERLIN, March 26.—Drs. Klempner and Foster, German medical authorities who have been called to Moscow, are to examine "the leading personalities of the Soviet regime to determine whether a vacation at some foreign resort is necessary," says a Soviet announcement published here today as a denial that the physicians have been called by Premier Lenin only.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, commenting on the great honor to German medical science in being asked to determine if the leading Soviet officials should leave the country for their health, asks if Russia is so short of doctors that foreigners are necessary to decide this question.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 26.—The Turkish Nationalist government, by action of its assembly at a recent session, repudiated the principles of Bolshevism as contrary to Islamic prescription, and decided that no restrictions should be placed upon the entry of foreign capital into Anatolia. These were the principal points of a declaration of policy passed after a stormy debate in the Nationalist Assembly, it is announced in Ankara advices.

The declaration was based on a resolution that peace should not be bought at the price of a renewed offensive, and that a peaceful settlement, consistent with the dignity of an independent state, should be accepted.

Turkey, the resolution declared, was not plotting against her neighbors, nor seeking to destroy the security of the British possessions in Asia, but would direct all her energies toward the peaceful development of the country. The compact with Russia, it was set forth, was due to the rejection of the Nationalist claims by the Allied Powers. The rights of minorities, it was added, would be adequately guaranteed.

LONDON, March 26.—The delegates to the conference of shipyard unions yesterday decided that the men in British shipyards should cease work Tuesday evening pending the results of a ballot on wage reductions proposed by the shipping federation, unless the notices for these reductions are extended by the employers. The reductions would go into effect next Wednesday.

The wage dispute has been pending for several days. Negotiations under the supervision of the minister of labor between the shipbuilding federation and the employees broke down a week ago.

The employees had proposed to take off 10s 6d from the men's bonus at the end of March, 6s in April, and 10s at a later date.

PARIS, March 26.—The allied council of ambassadors today decided that the international troops occupying Scutari, Albania, should be withdrawn. These forces are entirely Italian, although they are occupying the town in the name of the Allies.

The decision to withdraw the troops is understood to be due to civil strife existing in Albania.

LONDON, March 26.—A Reuter dispatch from Delhi says that in connection with the attacks in the Indian Legislative Assembly on military expenditures and the declaration of Lord Rawlinson, commander-in-chief, that the army had been reduced to the utmost limit compatible with safety, independent inquiries tend to show that the air force is sadly lacking in reserves and equipment, while the army also is deficient in heavy guns, machine guns and mechanical transport.

FOUR PERISH AS SARNIA FERRY SINKS

Continued From Page 3.

Gemmick was talking of the uncertainty of life to 150 mourners.

The terrific force of the explosion may be appreciated by the fact that the boiler was blown clean over the Port Huron customs and immigration shed, landing on the roof of the home of William Smith, completely wrecking the house, and setting fire to the debris. Fortunately Mr. Smith and all the members of his family were attending a performance at one of the moving picture theatres when the catastrophe occurred.

Escape Flying Timbers.

Dozens of Port Huron residents and visitors from the Canadian side of the river, reported marvellous escapes from flying timbers, chunks of steel and other missiles from the sinking ferryboat.

The shock of the explosion was felt at a great distance on either side of the river, and Sarnia homes along the waterfront rocked as from an earthquake.

Docked at no great distance from the Omar D. Conger was the ferry boat Hiawatha. The latter was badly damaged, the forepart of the vessel being practically demolished. None of the crew were reported injured, however.

A hundred yards up the Black River, rested the Cheboygan, with 100 passengers on board, which ferry boat the Conger was to have relieved at 3 o'clock.

The Cheboygan escaped the effects of the explosion.

Hundreds of citizens of both Sarnia and Port Huron were attracted to the scene of the tragedy, and a search had to be carried. She could not be carried. She could not be carried. She could not be carried.

The Omar is almost submerged in the water, the top only showing. The boat is 40 years old, and was the property of the Port Huron-Sarnia Ferry Company, of which ex-United States Congressman Henry McNowran is president.

With the death of her husband Mrs. Wickham inherited the property, which was now very valuable. But all the good it does her is to keep her out of the poorhouse. All day she lies, propped against pillows, a wrinkled, white-haired old woman of sixty-seven years, condemned to spend the remainder of her life in

SILK WEEK

At Smallman & Ingram's, March 27th to April 1st

See Window Displays Dundas and Richmond Streets

Windows and ledges throughout the store will be found draped in Silks this week, and might be called, not a display, but a demonstration of the New and Popular Silk Dress Fabrics, emphasizing the lead Silks have attained over all other fabrics for dress purposes during the past few seasons. Makers and designers have certainly excelled all former efforts, and this week's display reveals the finest exhibit of Silk ever possible at this store, and most of which is exclusive to this store. This is Fashion Show and Silk Week, and we invite your inspection.

You've read the forecast of these new fabrics in Fashion News—now see them right here in London.

The Following Lines Come in Newest Colors For Spring

Pure Silk Crepe de Chine, Skinner's Satin de Chine, Schwartzbach Silk Paillette, Schwartzbach Satin Duchesse, French and Jap Silk, Georgettes, Radium Finish Habutai Silks, Gessner Untearable Taffeta Silks, Annor Knit Tricolettes.

Reserve Your Seat For the Fashion Show.

Tickets may now be had for all performances. Seating accommodation for about 450 people will be provided and tickets issued for same.

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
10:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Orchestra in attendance. Admission free by ticket.

THIRD FLOOR.

Tickets may be had now on Second Floor.

French Brocade Tinsel Cloths.

Reflected in these artful fabrics are the richest of the new color creations, brightened with an etching of gold or maybe silver threads. These as a trimming add the finishing touch of your gown or suit.

Mallinson's Indestructible Silk Voiles.

Sheer as cobweb, strong as broadcloth, in wonderful designs and colorings.

Mallinson's Black Pussy Willow.

The silk tried and true for real wear.

Mallinson's Roshanara Crepe and Chinchilla Satin.

Two silks in one—crepe one side and pebble satin face the other. Use either side—both are right.

Queen Quality Taffeta Silks.

Are Silks with a name for proven satisfactory wear, and the name is woven all along the selvedge.

Glove Silks For Underwear.

Beautiful fine weaves of pure silk, in white and shell pink.

Cheney's Showerproof Foulard Silks.

A maker who specializes in printed silks of a superior quality, backed up by the maker for satisfactory wear. None but spring's newest patterns shown.

Mallinson's Khaki-Kool.

The premier cut o' door silk.

AFTERNOON TEA.
Buckwheat Pancakes and Maple Syrup, 15c.

SMALLMAN & INGRAM LIMITED

STAYS IN BED FOR 38 YEARS

Continued From Page One.

a phone installed. Mrs. Wickham ever saw it. It was in another room.

Styles in clothing did not interest her. She had no use for clothes. She didn't wear any except her night dresses. She didn't care whether skirts were long or short.

Time grew until it almost slipped the Wickham farm. The farm became very valuable. When the father-in-law died her husband became the sole owner of the place. But he gave up farming and went into raising Collie dogs so he could be at home all the time and could look after his wife.

Everybody said when the father-in-law died, "Now she will get up." But "She" didn't. She kept right on in bed.

Two years ago the husband, worn out with thirty-six years of constant waiting on his wife, died. Mrs. Wickham went to the funeral. But she had to be carried. She could not walk. She had been in bed so long her legs were shriveled and shrunken past use.

With the death of her husband Mrs. Wickham inherited the property, which was now very valuable. But all the good it does her is to keep her out of the poorhouse. All day she lies, propped against pillows, a wrinkled, white-haired old woman of sixty-seven years, condemned to spend the remainder of her life in

WINDOW SHOPPING ON DUNDAS STREET

Continued From Page One.

for lost pennies, and who failed to see the beauty of the blue sky and the budding trees, missed another fortune many times the value of the pile of filthy lucre he hoarded. He missed a great education which could have been his at a cost infinitely far below cost.

Students have lived in rat-infested garrets in Paris in their expedition in search of learning. Londoners can receive an education as they walk in the great outdoors. The one requisite is to use the eyes which The Creator gave them.

THINKS 36-MILL RATE CERTAIN

Continued From Page One.

new assessment over the 1921 expenditure. With the new assessment, the 1921 expenditure would have called for a rate of 32.75 mills.

A careful survey of all the estimates made so far shows that to raise the amount provided in the estimate as they stand today it will be necessary to have a mill rate of 36.34.

This is made up as follows:
City general ..... $1,266,100 21.46
Schools ..... 866,811 13.98
Patriotic ..... 4818
Children's Hospital 25,000 .42
Total ..... 36.34

The same expenditure on the 1921 assessment would have meant a mill rate of about 43 mills.

Mayor Wilson stated Monday morning that the city commission would likely meet on Tuesday or Wednesday afternoon for its final consideration of the estimates. "I hope that we will be able to hold a council meeting on Wednesday night to strike the tax rate," he added.

SHOWS STATUS OF BRITISH EMPIRE

What proved to be one of the most interesting meetings of the Current Topic Club that has taken place in some years was that held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Copeland, who were host and hostess to the club members and visitors.

It was "President's Night." Mr. Leonard Tait, the president, introduced the speaker of the evening, Professor A. G. Dorland of the Western University, who gave a comprehensive address on "The Character and Meaning of the British Empire."

Professor Dorland was at home with his subject and gave much valuable information leading up to the pre-eminent position of the British Empire. Each member contributed

Bokhara Patterns in Canton Crepes.

The patterns were inspired from Oriental prayer rugs—dazzlingly different but artful, and in sleeves, vestee, sleeve facing, panels or even a separate waist are correct and newest mode when combined with plain material.

Charmeuse Satins.

A Satin that clings and slenderizes. Shown in new charming evening colors—deep rich street shades and blackest black.

Skinner's Pure Dye Taffeta Silks.

Most women are familiar with the superior wearing qualities of Skinner's Taffetas. There's but one quality Skinner's Taffeta, and that's the best. The name is always woven in selvedge for your protection. Sold in London only at this store.

Rubber Sheetings.

Good British-Made Sheetings are a little heavier, but they last twice as long as any other makes for children or invalids; 36 inches:

Rubber one side ..... 90c
Rubber both sides ..... $1.15

Taffalaine.

The new, fine Taffeta Cloth in pretty and pleasing designs for house wear, girls' dresses or elderly ladies; brown, navy and other blues, with neat little patterns; display rear west aisle. Note width and price, 40 inches ..... 50c

GRILL SERVICE.

Planked Steak for one. Bread and Butter, Pie and Pot of Tea, 80c.

Visitors included E. W. Grange, Fred Landon, public librarian; Arthur Ford, who spoke in full accord with the points advanced by Professor Dorland.

To Stop a Cold in One Day. Take Laxative BROMO QUININE tablets. The genuine bears the signature of E. W. Groves. (Be sure you get BROMO.) 30c. Made in Canada. Adv.

Four Day Service on all kinds of Watches. All work absolutely guaranteed. Estimates Furnished.

Efficient Watch Repairing

Four Day Service on all kinds of Watches. All work absolutely guaranteed. Estimates Furnished.

BARNARD'S

390 Richmond, London, ONT.

WOULD NOT CUT $2,000 SALARIES

London Labor Party Commend Plan To Slash Higher Stipends.

HAVE FAITH IN ASHPLANT

Deal With Actions of Labor Aldermen at Next Session, Is Decision.

In order that all workers may be fairly dealt with, no salaries below the amount of $2,000 should be reduced. Such is the belief of the executive of the London Labor Party, which met in regular session at the Labor Temple Sunday afternoon, and considered among other questions Mayor Cameron Wilson's proposal to all civic spending bodies that they institute a general 10 per cent reduction of salaries.

This question was thoroughly discussed, and the point was raised that those workers receiving less than $2,000 were not in any position to stand a 10 per cent reduction in salary, while on the other hand those civic employees who now receive salaries ranging from $2,000 to $5,000 might well accept the proposed revised scale. A recommendation to this effect will be submitted at the next general meeting of all the members.

Back Aid, Ashplant.
Unusual interest was manifested in the "annexed school" controversy now claiming considerable attention from the city council. Confidence in Ashplant was reiterated, while certain recommendations respecting other members of the city council were made, and will also be submitted at the next general meeting of the party.

Men prominent in labor circles explained Monday morning that it is now anticipated that before the end of this week arrangements will be made for a mass meeting in East London, at which different speakers will present the "annexed school problem" as they view it. It is not unlikely that similar meetings will be staged at other points throughout the city when this and other questions now of great interest to the taxpayers will be discussed.

Urges Mass Meetings.

Officials of the Labor party announced Monday that they have received communications from representative citizens requesting that steps be taken to inaugurate these gatherings, certain of the latter being in no way connected with the labor movement.

That Mayor Wilson's 10 per cent reduction is one of the desired subjects for discussion is evidenced by the fact that Sunday afternoon, members of the various labor unions, and other unions as well as a delegation of city employees gathered at the Labor Temple under the impression, they explained, that a general open meeting had been called to consider the impending reduction.

Certain questions involving the action of the various Labor aldermen at recent council meetings were considered at considerable length. While certain recommendations were made, the issue will claim further attention at the next session.

TRUSTEES INVITED TO TEACHERS' MASS MEETING

Mayor Cameron Wilson May Also Address Conference Over Deferring of 1922 Increases.

All members of the board of education have been directed to attend the mass meeting of city teachers scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Monday at the Collegiate Institute.

Trustee Edwin Smith, chairman of the board, will open the meeting, explain its object and then call upon Trustee A. E. Silverwood, chairman of No. 3 committee, to deliver a further address of explanation. Other members of the board who choose to do so will also address the teachers.

Chairman Smith is emphatic in his contention that no dictatorial attitude will be assumed by the trustees. The teachers will be allowed, he explains, to select their own chairman, and the board will retire, if necessary, while the teachers decide whether they wish to defer their salary increases until 1923 or not.

It is understood that Mayor Wilson will also address the teachers.

BRING OR SEND YOUR WEEK-END Snapshots

here to be developed and printed.

WE GUARANTEE PERFECT PICTURES
FROM EVERY NEGATIVE

Prompt attention given to mail orders.

Cairncross The Chemists

Four Graduate Druggists,
216 Dundas St. Phone 850
"Experts in Kodak Photography."

OUR MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN ACCIDENT AND HEALTH POLICY makes the payments so easy no one can afford to be without this protection.
Phone for particulars.

THE DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY, LIMITED.
208 Royal Bank Building, Phone 76W.

Wins First Prize

ALBERT NORTON.

TECHNICAL School student,
Albert Norton, R. R. 4, London, captures a first place for fire prevention essay.

PRESENT PLAY TO LARGE AUDIENCE

The White Oak Methodist Church choir put on a successful play entitled "I Can't Afford It" in their club rooms on Friday evening, March 24. A record-breaking audience witnessed the performance.

The sum of $65 was realized, and the proceeds will be used for church and Sunday school work. The cast included Norman and Calvert Mil-lison, Irene and Mrs. A. Clark, Fred and George Smale, Morton, Leatta and Mrs. L. Larn, Reta McPherson, Owen Jones, Minnie Holborne and Charles and Audrey Thompson.

Owing to the success of the initial performance of the play, it is probable that it will be staged in other towns.

The choir members intend holding a "taffy pull" in the near future.

Town Topics.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Hath the Lord at great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice.—I Samuel 15:22.

He who obeys with modesty appears worthy of some day or other being allowed to command.—
Cicero.

TOMORROW'S DOINGS.
TUESDAY—Rev. G. Q. Warner gives talk on "The Glass of Fashion." Cronyn Memorial Church, 5 o'clock.

No. 2 committee, city council, meets at city hall, 8 o'clock.

THE DEMAND for houses in the city is increasing every week and Bert Weir on one day, Saturday, sold five houses for the total amount of $15,000.

HERBERT COLE, one of the trio of vags arrested on C. P. R. property last week, was sent on his way by Magistrate Graydon Monday morning with a warning that if he was brought in again he would spend some time at the reformatory.

A SPECIAL meeting of No. 2 committee of the city council has been called for Monday night. Matters relating to the calling of tenders for the garbage collection, and also the opening of tenders for supplies, will be made up the agenda.

EVERY EVENING of pre-Easter week, with the exception of Saturday, special services will be held in St.
Andrew's Presbyterian church. The session has arranged to hold a communion service at the close of evening worship on Easter Sunday.

BISHOP WILLIAMS conducted the confirmation service at Christ Church, Glanworth, Sunday morning.
Sunday afternoon he held the confirmation service at Trinity Church, Chelsea Green. Sunday evening he conducted the confirmation service at St. David's Church.

THE CONDITION of David Allan, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., who underwent an operation in Victoria Hospital last week, is very favorable, according to the reports of his physician. It is expected that Mr. Allan will be able to resume his duties in a few weeks.

THE 1923 CONVENTION of Ontario's plumbing and sanitary inspectors will be held in London. This word was brought back to the city by Local Inspector James Young, who attended that annual convention last week at St. Catharines. The convention was a large one, practically every center of any size in the province being represented. Deliberations were important, the many and various problems of the work being handled by papers and discussions. Mr. Palmer was named president and Mr.
Young, London's plumbing inspector, was named a member of the executive.

DISTRIBUTE FUNDS TO GARDENERS

EX-ALD. S. R. Manness, chairman of the vacant lot gardening committee, which disbanded a couple of years ago, is going to distribute the cash which remains in the treasury of the association to some charitable cause.

He called on Finance Commissioner James Bell Monday morning, and asked how much money was in the fund. He was informed about $120.

Mr. Manness will ponder over the disposal of the funds for a day or two before reaching a decision.

MUST HAVE MORE MONEY FOR ROADS

If West London Thoroughfares To Be Improved, Says Engineer.

SPEND $2.70 A BLOCK

Installation of Sewerage System Is Aggravating Unlucky Spring Conditions.

The city of London spent $2.70 a block, dragging, graveling and spreading cinders on the roads of West London in 1921.

This is Engineer H. A. Brazier's answering cinders, sanding sidewalks, people of that section that their roads are impassable and that the city will not repair them.

During the past winter the city laid a large sewerage system in West London, and this has aggravated the usual spring condition of the roads this year, says the engineer. He points out, however, that there is little hope of West London having good roads until the residents come forward and agree to pay for permanent roadways.

Last summer the city spent $500 dragging, graveling and placing cinders on the West London roads. This is at the rate of $32 a mile, or $2.70
a block.

All told the city spent $1,100 on the streets of West London in 1921, and this covered dragging, graveling, cinders, sanding sidewalks, snow plowing, removing snow, cutting weeds and cleaning catch-basins.
This is at the rate of $75 a mile, or $6 a block.

The engineer contends that with such an outlay the people of the suburb cannot expect much better roads. However, it was all that was provided to be expended there, and he could do no more work than what the appropriation would care for.

BOY LOSES LEG AS RESULT OF STREET CAR ACCIDENT

Kenneth Clark, Aged 5 Years, Falls Under Normal Car on Central Avenue.

Darting across Central avenue between Waterloo and Colborne street shortly after noon, Saturday, little Kenneth Clark, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark of 375 Central avenue, slipped and fell in front of a fast-approaching Normal car, and had his right leg so badly mangled that it was amputated two inches below the knee Saturday afternoon in Victoria Hospital by Drs.
Clegg and Harris.

The little patient was reported on Monday noon to be getting on splendidly by hospital authorities.
According to eyewitnesses of the accident, the youngster was playing with some companions on the south side of the street when he suddenly dashed to the other side of the road.

Normal car, No. 142, in charge of Motorman B. Vitzel and Conductor
R. Grieg, was going east at a fast clip when the little boy hurried through the mud looking neither to right nor left. He had not stumbled on the north rail he would have cleared the car. The motorman, immediately threw the car into reverse and jammed on the brakes, stopping the car in a length and a half. Vitzel hurried to the north side of the car, expecting to see the child's body cut in two, but the little limb had caught in the brakeshoe and he had been dragged along with the car.

It was but the work of seconds to get the boy clear of the car, and he was carried into the residence of D.
Allison, 355 Central avenue, later being rushed to the hospital.

The motorman and conductor rendered first aid while waiting for the ambulance to arrive, and managed to check the flow of blood.

WILL MAKE FINAL
CUT IN ESTIMATES

In a last effort to pare the estimates for current expenditures for the London Technical and Art School, the members of the advisory vocational committee of the board of education met Monday night.

"We are going over the estimates for the last time," explained Trustee J. B. Wright, chairman. "It will be our last effort in this direction, and we intend to shave the estimates as close as possible. If there is anything that can possibly be cut, it will go. That is the best that we can do."

"Now, I don't want you to take my word for the speed. You come down on that street and we will try it out. There are lots of men hanging round here. Let 'em come down and settle this thing."

"The watch is all Poon go by," declared the court, sidestepping the invitation.

"Have you ever been in court before, Mr. Hall?" inquired Chief Bl-rell.

"No, never," replied witness.
"What about that 60 miles an hour?" questioned Mr. Graydon, with a smile.

Sewing Time

These bright spring days make feminine hearts beat faster with the thought of dainty new apparel. The stores are laden with smart new fixings, and a wealth of colorful new materials that are fair to begging to be made up into smart frocks.

The summer fabrics are prettier than ever this year—and prices are so much lower that the question of home sewing is in the mind of every woman.

Why not make some of your frocks yourself, madam? The styles are so simple this season, and think of what you will save! Then there are endless times to be made for the kiddies. Look through the Want Ads and secure a slightly used sewing machine at a reasonable price and do some of your sewing yourself.

Or if you haven't the time, secure a capable seamstress through the same medium.

That's a hint to dressmakers, too. The Want Ads will bring you plenty of work for the next few months. Try them today.

Telephone 3670.

One Drink Knocks Him Cold, and Now He Will Recupere In Jail Cell

"Beef, iron and wine," as described by a police court judge, Monday morning, must have a kick likened unto the combined jolt of a million of mules, if his word is to be taken.

The gentleman rejoices in the name of Patrick, and according to his evidence the concoction didn't even give him a chance to see snakes.
"I just took one drink and it knocked me down cold," he proclaimed to the court. "If beef, iron and wine will do that—well, do what you can for me, your honor."

"I have heard that story from you before," said Mr. Graydon. "It is always beef, iron and wine with you."
"No, sir, it is not. I always drink the other stuff when I can get it," said the prisoner, indignantly. "I'm a cripple and it costs a lot to live."

SEEKS TO AVERT SEIZURE OF AUTO

John A. Rose Enters County Court Suit Against Ontario Garage and S. H. Rowed.

WANT ACTION DISMISSED

Defendants Claim They Were Not To Get Car If $600 Note Not Paid.

The first case to be tried at the non-jury sittings of the county court, to commence before Judge Talbot Macbeth at 1 p.m. on April 4, at the court house, was set down for trial Monday morning.

John A. Rose, a traveler of London, is asking for an injunction restraining the Ontario Garage and Motor Sales Company and S. H.
Rowed from attempting to seize an automobile sold by the company to Rose last May and for an order declaring that a lien note given on the car be cancelled.

Mr. Rose alleges in his statement of claim that he purchased a car from the company on May 21, 1921, for $1,755, paying $1,155 and giving a lien note for $600, it being agreed between the parties, he claims, that the note would be paid on the delivery of a Maxwell car to the defendant, which was turned over to the garage. He claims that he has fulfilled his part of the agreement and wants the note cancelled.

The defence claim that Rose wanted the garage to take the Maxwell in lieu of $600, but his offer was refused. The car was left at the garage for repairs and a promise was made that if the car was sold, the proceeds would be devoted to the note. The car has not yet been disposed of and is still at the garage.

Under the terms of the note the garage was to get possession of the car if the note was not paid. The defence further claims that it has been impossible to locate the car to gain possession of it, and asks that the action be dismissed.

J. M. McEvoy, K. C., is appearing for the plaintiff, and McKillop and Douglas for the defence.

DECLARES CAR SLOW, BUT MAGISTRATE LEVIES FINE

Russell Powell Fails To Convince Court Vehicle Can't Speed.

Police court walls reverberated with cheap repartee Monday morning, when Russell Powell, appearing on a charge of driving his car at 25 miles an hour.

The accused started out to give some expert evidence, but apparently the magistrate, too, has had the pleasure of jolting over the roads in a "bone-shaker," and a $5 fine was chalked up against Powell.

"You can't go faster than 20 miles an hour in my car, or you will be shaken to pieces," said Powell.

"I've gone faster than that, and I'm still here," reminded Mr. Graydon.

Fred Hall, witness for the defence, thought that the police should come out and show themselves and blow a horn. He thought the police should be criticized. He had seen the police car speeding along at 60 miles an hour.

"Were you in it?" asked Mr. Gray-
don.

"No, and I don't want to be," was the answer. "I don't think that Mr.
Powell had more than four notches of 'gas' on. I was sitting in the back seat."

"Now, I don't want you to take my word for the speed. You come down on that street and we will try
it out. There are lots of men hanging round here. Let 'em come down
and settle this thing."

"The watch is all Poon go by," declared the court, sidestepping the invitation.

"Have you ever been in court before, Mr. Hall?" inquired Chief Bl-
rell.

"No, never," replied witness.
"What about that 60 miles an hour?" questioned Mr. Graydon,
with a smile.

Starving Animals Ordered Killed As Inspector Hails Owner to Court

Deliberate cruelty to animals was the charge against Robert Delvin, of R. R. No. 7, London Township, when he was brought before Squire Chittick and Justice of the Peace Tom Robinson, Saturday afternoon and on five dollars and costs.

Evidence brought against Robinson was of a most distressing nature.
Inspector Tustin of the Humane Society, states that he had found a horse belonging to the man in a state of exhaustion from starvation, and suffering with fourteen large sores on its body, as well as a tumor of advanced growth on the left knee.

Its condition was of such abject misery that Inspector Tustin was forced to destroy it immediately.

"Drinking, and being a cripple, is not going to make you any better," stated Mr. Graydon.

"If you will give me 10 minutes I'll be on a train and away," pleaded the prisoner.

"No you won't," said the court, who has listened to the same story on previous occasions.

"I just took one drink and it knocked me out too," said Patrick.

The magistrate smiled his appreciation of the "tip." "I won't drink any," he promised. "Then dollars and cents."

"I had known I was going to be here, I wouldn't have taken a drink at all," mournfully observed the prisoner as he was led away to the cells.

FREED ON CHARGE OF REFUSING AID

Young Man Refused To Obey Police Officer's Instructions To Phone for Patrol.

MISUNDERSTOOD ORDERS

Court Points Out It Is Necessary to Help Guardians of Law, Even Physically.

A young man residing in London
West was unfortunate enough to arrive at the corner of Dundas street and the Wharncliffe road, last Monday night, just after Constable Graham had taken in tow three youths who had entered the Van Loon auction rooms. He didn't phone for the patrol when requested by the officer and he too was taken in charge.

Monday morning the youth appeared in court charged with omitting to assist a policeman in the execution of his duties, but after hearing the evidence, Magistrate Graydon dismissed the case.

Constable Graham told of asking the boy to phone and the latter had not done so. He was trying to hold three men, and one of them got away.
He arrested the spectator who had told him: "I don't have to do what you fellows tell me."

The defendant thought that when the officer called to him that he was to be included in the gang under arrest. This was the uppermost thought in his mind, and he wanted to explain this to the officer, but didn't have a chance to do so. The constable flashed a light in his face and told him to get into the patrol.

"I don't think that there was any intention on the part of this man to obstruct the officer," said the court.
"Naturally he would resent being drawn into it. I thought, I would be very severe if I thought that he was guilty."

"You understand that it is your duty to help the police when called on, even physically, if necessary.
Sometimes people who crave police protection, don't help them when they have the opportunity."

COMES BY FREIGHT AND WILL GO OUT SAME WAY

Joseph Brady, Chicago, Enjoyed Hospitality If Not Freedom of City.

Joseph Brady arrived in London from Chicago on a side door pullman and will likely leave for Chicago occupying the same "cushions." While in London he enjoyed the hospitality if not the freedom of the city.

Joe was wandering round the city
Saturday night and entered a darkened doorway near the corner of Dundas and Talbot street at a late hour. Constable James Singleton saw the move and waited for Joseph to come out. After questioning Brady, who looks to be about 20 years of age, the constable took him to the police station for a night's snooze.

Brady told the court Monday morning that he was going through to Boston to see relatives there. He had stolen rides on trains to get here.

"Stealing a ride on a train is just like stealing money," Mr. Graydon informed him. "Why didn't you write to your relatives for money?"

"They ain't very well off and couldn't afford to send me any money.
They could give me something to eat and a place to sleep," said the prisoner.

"There are too many men traveling on freights," stated Mr. Graydon.
"They have nothing to eat, no money,
and there is the temptation to steal.
They might be charged with stealing something and not be guilty at all. Why did you enter that doorway?"

"Well, I didn't want to be arrested so I went in to let the officer go by."

"There is something honest about this boy," opined the court, and Brady was discharged. He said he would get to Boston the same way he got to London.

THOUSANDS PAY FINAL TRIBUTE

Streets Lined To View Funeral of Late J. B. McKillop, Crown Attorney.

SCORES VIEW REMAINS

Casket Surrounded by Mass of Flowers Sent by Lodges and Other Institutions.

During the solemn ceremonies which marked the funeral services of Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop Saturday afternoon, the last tributes were paid to a man widely known and honored.

Scores of his former friends and associates passed by the casket as it lay in the funeral home of A. L.
Oatman, surrounded by a mass of flowers, and thousands later gathered at St. Paul's Cathedral as the funeral cortege entered to the solemn chant of Chopin's Funeral March.
Very Rev. Dean Tucker, assisted by Rev. C. E. Jenkins of Brantford, conducted the impressive burial service, and later read the last rites at the grave.

The worshipful master of Tuscan Lodge, J. C. Magee, and the chaplain, Rev. Cameron Waller, conducted the Masonic services which preceded the commencement of the funeral procession to the cathedral.

Honorary pallbearers were: Judge
Talbot Macbeth, Judge Joseph Judd, Judge Duncan C. Ross, T. G. Meredith, K. C. T. H. Purdon, K. C. F. P.
Betts, K. C. J. C. Elliott, K. C. Hume Kron, Police Magistrate A. H. M.
Graydon, C. G. Jarvis, F. P. Moore,
Edmund Webb, K. C. McEvoy, H. S.
Blackburn, T. G. Davis and Col.
Fisher, who headed the procession,
Tuscan Lodge following in a body.

Active pallbearers were John Macpherson, Dr. C. H. Ziegler, A. E.
Cooper, Bryden Campbell, H. C. Mc-Bride and C. H. Beard, who bore the casket from the church. Before the procession started for Woodland Cemetery, thousands of mourners lined either side of Richmond street.

Among the many beautiful wreaths from lodges and institutions with which Mr. McKillop was associated, were tokens from London Lodge Perfection, Rose Croix Chapter, Chief Birrell and members of the London police force, Moore Consistory, Hamilton; a broken wheel from the London Motor Club, Chinese Masonic Lodge, board of directors of the Masonic Hall, Ontario Motor League, the grand council of the Royal Arcane, Tuscan Masonic Lodge, Temple Lodge, the chamber of commerce, Woodmen of the World, Supreme Council 33rd Degree Masons and the Rotary Club.

CONFERENCE AT ACACIA LODGE

"My Travels in India" was the subject of an address given by J.
W. Sulman, of the Parliament Lodge, Chatham, to the members of the Acacia Lodge, U. D. A. F., in the Masonic Temple, Saturday evening.

Mr. Sulman spent eighteen months touring the world and during that time traveled more than 80,000 miles.
While in India he visited all the principal cities and he recounted his adventures there as well as describing the temples, the architecture, and the customs of the people.

The 1st and 3rd degree was conferred on members of the local lodge by the visiting officers of the Chamham Lodge in the afternoon at 4:15.
The meeting was held in the blue room at the Masonic Temple.

The death took place Saturday at St. Joseph's Hospital of Mrs. Amos Deleary, 23 years old. She was the daughter of Sheldon and Margaret Calhoun of Glencoe. The body was shipped to Glencoe Sunday after-

London Advertiser

Published by
THE LONDON ADVERTISER
COMPANY, LIMITED, London, Ontario.

MORNING. EVENING.

TELEPHONE NUMBERS.
3670 PRIVATE BRANCH 3670

From 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. and holidays call 76. Business Department; 75.
Editors and Reporters; 1171. Composition Room; 76. Circulation Department.
London, Ont., Monday, March 27.

That Listowel Case.

DOES IT pay a town to grow into a bigger town? This question is prompted by a letter from a Hanover resident, regarding an editorial article which appeared in Thursday's paper. The item referred to the fact that Listowel was going to make an effort to secure more factories, and for that purpose the board of trade was being reorganized, and an advertising campaign was being considered to set forth the advantages of Listowel as a factory town.

Our Hanover correspondent makes some interesting comments, asking the question if it really is worth while for a town to grow in this direction. He says:

"The town of Listowel, being one of the best in Ontario, wants to improve by getting more industries. Will they have a better town with the addition of a few more factories? I doubt it—it is useless to paint the lily or gild refined gold."

"Listowel is successful because it has an excellent farm district, and the farmers generally are so well off financially that they can weather a few years of hard times. The result is that they are able to buy from the storekeepers the necessities of life and pay for them; this was shown in the panic conditions of 1907, and also during the present depression which has now about run its course. During these two periods Listowel was one of the few towns in the country that was doing business. Listowel is lucky also in having a furniture factory that always keeps running; the workmen are contented, and it is free from strikes and labor troubles, and the wages are satisfactory. Also a knitting mill that gives employment to all the girls in the district who care to work."

"Fill a balloon with the proper amount of gas and it will rise up in the world; give it too much and it bursts. Same way with business; too much expansion is sometimes unwise. Were there more factories in Listowel it would mean a greater population—more stores would come in to get the extra business. At present there are just enough stores to look after the business, and they are generally successful; the extra stores coming in would take away some of the farm business, which is the backbone of the town, and there would not be sufficient laborers come in to warrant the extra stores. The result is the stores would not do so well; they would not be able to give so much to the different churches, the hospital, sports, Salvation Army, or other organizations that harmonize in the making of a good town."

"Listowel's best plan is to be loyal to the factories that are now there, and assist them when help is needed. Create a better feeling between town and country, for they are inseparably inter-dependent upon one another. Bring back the old-time friendly feeling that existed before the farmers started to run banks, operate stores and trading companies. If the town of Listowel will do this more factories will not be necessary. If the farmers will get to work and till the soil they will get sufficient money for their product so that provincial banks will not be necessary."

"Compare the town of Listowel with the town of Hanover. This town has a larger population, seven or eight more flourishing factories—yet they want more. They are dependent upon factories as a town; our farm trade is not large. But are we better off? I doubt it. Hanover is a factory town; the board of trade is on the alert all the time to get the right kind of factories in; when they get sufficient they are satisfied; their desire only is to make a good, thriving town, and the opportunities they offer must appeal to the manufacturer, as is shown by past results."

"When a town gets too large the community spirit is lost, and would not be preferred as a living place by people like the Liberal leader, Mr. HAY, who will not desert his little town of big people for the bright lights and fast nights of the larger cities."

"There is a great deal of truth in the points made by the Hanover correspondent, who is a successful businessman in that town. It is a matter on which no hard and fast rule can be applied. Looking around one might form the opinion that towns can stand three things: (1) Go ahead; (2) Stand still; (3) Go back. And of the three the middle one is the hardest to do. Civic pride will prompt a town to reach out, and who is there, even against all the arguments that can be advanced to the contrary, who will say it is not a commendable spirit that prompts a town to stretch out and grow."

That Coal Strike.

IF REPORTS from Calgary correctly interpret the attitude of the miners of Western Canada there will be a strike there starting on the first of April.

Western Canada has not had a coal strike for some months, and some may have been nursing the poor hope that there would be no more strikes in this district. Unless all signs fall there will be a strike, and it will start very shortly.

This is bad business for Western Canada. The miners have to be out of the mines for only a short time before the damage begins. No matter if pumps and fans are kept going regularly there is an accumulation of gas in many of the areas that makes the work particularly dangerous and slow for some time after operations are once again under way. The miners themselves, or the great majority of them, are in no position to stand a strike. They are good spenders when they have the money, and when a strike settles down they are forced to close up, as the stores will not carry them, and business in all lines suffers accordingly.

Coal supplies in Western Canada go down very rapidly once a strike is called, because there is very little coal piled up for future use. Much of the coal that is taken from the shafts in the Alberta mines belongs to give off its volatile matter as soon as it comes in contact with the air, and in the bituminous areas it is highly desirable, from the standpoint of handling or of coking, to have it handled direct from the mines without storing.

What makes the strike in Western Canada less desirable is the fact that it is part and parcel of a widespread strike called in the United States fields. It should be possible for the miners and operators to get together in Western Canada and keep on working.

Criminal Statistics.

IN THE fifty-third annual report of the inspector of prisons and reformatories in the province of Ontario for the year ending October 31, 1920, it is pointed out that there was an increase in the cost of jail maintenance over the cost during the previous year, and that the number of persons committed to jails and lock-ups shows a marked increase over the number committed in the previous year.

The commitments for murder, manslaughter and drunkenness, and for crimes against person and against public morals shows a decrease in the number of commitments for similar offences in the year 1919.

However, the number of persons listed for crimes against property, public order and peace, and the number of persons committed to the jails, showed a general increase over the number of persons similarly listed in the year before. And rather startling is the fact that the number of prisoners confined in penal institutions in Ontario was 304 more on September 30, 1920, than on the same date of the year previous. A great majority of those committed are observed to be temperate, while a small percentage of the criminals are known to have been illiterate people. A vast majority of those committed generally throughout the province were Canadians, while the number of foreigners among the prisoners about equalled the number of those who were from the British Isles.

LITTLE 'TISERS

There's two sides to every question—my side and the wrong side.

Business is a bit "spotty" yet, says one report. Due, no doubt, to the presence of spotters.

It costs a New York girl $250 to clothe herself properly. Of course, that doesn't show how much she does spend.

What's in a name? Not much, until it comes out in a police court case that you don't want published in the papers.

Wonder if this ghost stuff isn't an advertising campaign for electric torches? When a ghost's around there's nothing in the world as comforting as a little light.

When one reads day after day of the bills and measures that are being put through our provincial and federal parliaments it is with feelings of admiration and wonder that we turn and look at the whole Mosaic code condensed in ten commandments.

Border Cities Star: "Down in London the argument between city council and the board of education is so strong that the mayor talks of resigning and running to succeed himself in order to test public sentiment on the economy issue. The Forest City appears to take its politics very seriously."

Not half so seriously, sonny, as we take our tax bills.

The Winnipeg Free Press says: "Expenditures have jumped in Ontario by several million dollars, but revenue has kept ahead sufficiently to show a surplus. The government can at least be congratulated on its ability to get the money."

But will our dear westerner please remember that this money is being taken from the same people who are whacking up increased municipal and Dominion taxes?

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is PREVARICATE. It's pronounced — pre-var-i-kayt, with accent on the second syllable.

It means—to evade the truth, to give an ambiguous answer, to quibble, to deviate from the truth.

It comes from—Latin "prevaricari," to walk crookedly.

Companion word—prevarication. It's used like this—"As the prosecutor fired question after question, the witness was inclined to prevaricate."

COLLECTING THE TARIFF

By JOHN McLELLAN, Advertiser Correspondent, Ottawa.

OTTAWA, March 25.—There is more than one aspect to the tariff problem than the possible effect on the manufacturing industries of the country that the so-called extreme tariff legislation would bring about. Few speakers so far in the house have avoided the tariff question. In the main they did not quote figures, or tire the house leading mathematical intricacies, but talked generalities on a large scale. The Progressives spoke of a new era, with an extreme downward revision of the customs duties. Tories drew back in horror at the thought of the idle workmen in the cities with the downward revision.

Then came the voice of a statesman crying in the wilderness, ARCHIBALD CARMICHAEL, of Kindersley, Sask., concerning the collection of the customs duties. He drew his suggestion from the statements he made concerning the tariff, he since told the writer, from an impression that is today prevalent in Western Canada, viz.: That the machinery of collection of tariff revenue costs half the receipts.

What the member from Saskatchewan said was: "If we have a tariff revenue in the country for raising money, and that money is raised in a good and economical way, all well and good; if not, it is not so well and so good. I would like to give an illustration to show that the method for raising money for paying off our public debt by a customs tariff is not an essential one."

"If honorable members are good at arithmetic let them please follow these figures. I used to follow the school teaching profession, and I only wish I had a blackboard here and a piece of chalk to demonstrate my point. We will suppose that a suit is bought from Great Britain costing over there the sum of $10.

"The tariff duty on fabrics entering Canada is 30 per cent, which means that when the suit enters Canada its cost is $13. It goes into the wholesaler's hands; he adds one-fourth of the cost of $13 to him, which is an addition of $3.25 to the $13, making the cost to him for selling $16.25. That suit goes into the retailer's hands. He adds 50 per cent to the cost price to him, which is $8.15, added to $16.25, making $24.40.

"Let us suppose there was no tariff. The original cost would be $10. It would go into the wholesaler's hands and he would add one-quarter, $2.50, making $12.50; it would then go to the retailer, and he would add 50 per cent, or $6.25, bringing the cost up to $18.75. That means that the consumer pays out $5.65 for a tariff of $3. But does that $3 all go into the government coffers? I think not. It is estimated, on very good authority, that to keep up all the expenses in connection with the customs tariff it takes fully one-half, $1.50 goes out of the $3 not more than $1.50 goes into the government coffers for the payment of the public indebtedness. That means, Mr. Speaker, that it takes $5.65 to put into the government treasury $1.50. Is that economy? I think not. I do not know as it would be advisable to prolong the discussion. As intimated before, we have plenty of arguments that the old, antiquated method of collecting revenue by tariff is too costly for this country at the present time to tolerate."

STATISTICS such as the above, as might be expected, were not allowed to go unchallenged by the proponents of high-board-fence protection.

Four days later HON. H. H. STEVENS, Vancouver Centre, referred to them in his remarks. He said: "The honorable member for Kindersley (Mr. CARMICHAEL) I think it was made a statement which might be accepted by those who had not the data, but which I cannot allow to go unchallenged. He said that the collection of the customs tax cost fully 50 per cent of the amount received. Nothing can be gained by making statements that are wholly untrue. I do not suggest that the honorable gentleman deliberately made a statement that was untrue; that would be unparliamentary. But there is such a thing as making a statement in such a manner as to convey to the mind of the public the impression that it is based upon official figures."

Going on, the member said: "Statements of that kind may be accepted by the people because of the responsibility of the person who makes them. I say to my honorable friend and to those who cheered him so loudly that the records are there and that during the last four or five years the average cost of collection of the customs duties of Canada has been less than 3 per cent."

Another who took notice of the member from Kindersley's remarks was E. B. RYCKMAN, East Toronto. He declared that what the member from Kindersley stated was 950 per cent above the facts.

BUT, according to Mr. CARMICHAEL, he still maintains what he said after a manner. He told the writer today that "the point I wished to make was that the cost of collecting tariff was far too great for the revenue derived from it."

When the member from Kindersley talks of collecting tariff revenue he includes in that cost not only the commission of the agents or collectors, but, in addition, all the maintenance of customs houses, rentals, heating, and every other detail connected with them.

In all public buildings, etc., expenditure, is directed from the department of public works, and there is no means of arriving at the amount the adjuncts and appurtenances of tariff revenue collection cost, since they are embodied piecemeal in the public works expenditures.

Whereas, when H. H. STEVENS and E. B. RYCKMAN speak of the cost of tariff revenue collections, they refer only to the commission and salaries of the agents of the customs department, which are certainly not one-half of the revenue.

Exact figures are unavailable to establish the statement of the member from Kindersley, and the other gentlemen have been talking at cross purposes, since their estimates of the cost of the revenue collection only includes a part of what may be included in all fairness as the real cost.

Let us look at the cost in 1921. According to the report of the auditor-general for 1921, the revenue of the customs amounted to $163,490, 447,16. What were the expenditures? They were $6,673,936.80, something over 4 per cent of the revenue.

These expenditures, however, cover only civil government, such as salaries of ministers, salaries of staff, etc. Nothing of the cost of customs buildings, and in this it might be noted that there is the interest on the money in those buildings to be counted, in addition to the original expenditure on building.

So, if the real amount of expenditure were to be calculated, it would require traveling through the accounts of the department of public works.

Who is right? The figures will not justify fundamentally the members of the opposition in their contention, and there are no figures to justify the Progressive member.

READ YOUR CHARACTER

[By Digby Phillips.]

NO. 172—THE "BAY WINDOW"

The "bay window," otherwise known as the "chest" which has slipped down," and more scientifically designed as "abdomen, large and rounded," has more significance than the mere obvious fact that the owner thereof has not been starved to death.

The well-rounded abdomen is distinct from the flat type, even when a person has taken on weight, and also when the individual is not burdened with a surplus of flesh.

It's easy to classify the male "tummy" into either one of these two classifications, but even in these careless days you can never be sure of the feminine "tummy" except, perhaps, upon the beach in a knitted bathing suit.

The "bay window" (or the tendency toward it) is one of minor revelations of character. That is to say, it becomes accurately significant only when read in conjunction with a number of other indications and a balance is struck.

It indicates, however, a person of slow thought and quick action rather than the reverse, a person of instinctive action, strong emotions, natural refinement imitative rather than independent, amiable rather than aggressive and probably lacking in any tendency to be domineering.

Tomorrow—Broken Words. (Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company.)

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

Here We Have Items of Local and District Interest As Recorded in The Advertiser of 1897.

MONDAY, MARCH 27, 1897.

Weather—Fair and milder.

A deputation representing the Methodist Church of Canada waited upon the Government at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon with the new license bill. Among those present were: Rev. Dr. Carman, Rev. Dr. Briggs, Rev. Dr. Griffin, Rev. James Van Wyck, Rev. A. C. Crews, Rev. Mr. C. Courtice, Rev. Isaac Dobell, Rev. Geo. Webber, Rev. Dr. Potts, Rev. Dr. Sutherland, Dr. A. D. Watson, Rev. D. L. Brethour and Mr. Ambrose Kent.

The executive committee in connection with the Grand Trunk Railway Employees' Insurance and Provident Society, for the fourth district, is composed as follows: London, Messrs. W. White and A. Kirkpatrick; Hamilton, Messrs. E. Leadley and Joseph Wallace; Brantford, Mr. J. Fuller; Niagara Falls, Messrs. R. W. Scott and H. A. Neil. George Peppall of Toronto and R. R. Neild of Stratford will attend the general executive meeting to be held at Montreal.

No. 2 committee held their regular meeting last night, with the following present: Chairman Parnell, Ald. Nutkins, Ald. O'Meara, Ald. Carrothers, Secretary Bell and City Engineer Graydon.

The election of officers for the Melbourne Epworth League took place the other evening, with the following result: Presidents, J. B. Cornelle, G. L. Griffith; first vice-president, Miss Tillie Richards; second vice-president, Mrs. (Dr.) James; third vice-president, Mrs. D. E. Martin; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Trowhill; secretary, Colin Scudamore; treasurer, Miss Cornelle; organist, Miss Gooding.

The following are the officers for Lady Stanley Lodge, No. 4, L.O.B.A., for the present term: Sister E. DeLage, W. M.; Sister Jane Kew, W. D. M.; Sister Mary Stratford, chaplain; Sister A. Rogers, recording secretary; Sister S. J. Martin, financial secretary; Sister S. J. Martin, treasurer; Sister M. Freerer, D. of C.; Sister A. Humphries, lecturer; Sister Minnie Kew, I. G.; Bro. F. H. Wright, G.; Dr. W. G. Teasdale, physician; Bro. F. H. Wright, Sisters A. Rogers and E. Delmage, trustees and auditors.

Education committee No. 2 met last night with the following members present: Chairman Burdick, Gillen, Evans, Greenleaf, Stronk, Wilkins, McCormick, Dr. Campbell and Secretary McElheran. The following applications were selected from the 42 which had been received for the janitorship of Lorne avenue school: W. Burdick, Wm. McH. Allister, C. A. Stapleton, John Grant, John T. Martin, J. Premeo, H. Watson, W. English, J. Symons, R. Welch, W. M. Finch, James Nichol, Edward Arnett, John McKenzie, C. Eggett. These names were submitted to the board of education.

The annual meeting of the Christian Police Association was held in Association Hall yesterday afternoon and evening. The president, Mr. W. M. Spencer, was assisted by Mrs. Spencer and daughters, and Mesdames S. F. Glass, J. H. Bowman and Thornley in entertaining the members of the force and friends. Among the speakers were Dr. Daniel, Sgt.-Major Adams, Rev. Ira Smith, Mrs. Thornley, Mrs. Evans, Mr. Ivey and Secretary Sayer.

Resolutions against the license bill have been passed by the quarterly temperance meeting of the Dundas Street Centre Methodist Church, London, after speeches from Mrs. Thornley, Mr. J. H. Bowman, Mr. F. W. Daly and others. It was decided to send the resolutions to Hon. A. S. Hardy and Mr. T. S. Hobbs, M. P. P. Other speakers were Mr. L. A. Morrison, Rev. Dr. Carman, Rev. Mr. Wilmot, Rev. J. G. Laird and Mr. Isaac Webster.

Our Own Country.

Question—What is Canada's chief industry?

Answer—Agriculture is Canada's chief industry, yielding 931,000,000 in 1921.

Question—What are the two official languages in Canada?

Answer—There are two official languages in Canada—English and French, operating in the Dominion Parliament.

R. Leo Watson's Spring Fashion Week

When Thoughts of Spring Flash Through a Man's Mind---

He usually thinks in terms of new clothes. Little reminders which come to him now and then in the course of the day's business or over the dinner table, are signals that he should do something about it. With the "Dress-Up" holiday just a few short weeks away, clothes for Easter wear should be bought now.

Featuring Semi-ready Tailored Clothes For Men

SUITS

Men's and Young Men's Suits, single and double-breasted styles, Business Suits, "sports" effects, including the new popular Homespuns, Herringbones and Tweeds.

$35 - $40 - $45

TOP COATS

Light-weight Topcoats for spring are here in large varieties, presenting a galaxy of new popular patterns and materials. Distinctive models for men and young men.

$28 - $30 - $32

Berg Hats

Every man and young man with a keen eye for good dressing will have a Berg Hat. See the New Models.

$7.00 - $7.50

Borsalino Hats

The best quality of "Borsalinos" received in three years have just been put in stock, new colors and shapes.

$8.00

R. Leo Watson

"The Men's Shop of London."

183 DUNDAS STREET.

SEEK DECISION ON FINES ISSUE

Municipalities Object To Province Taking All Police Court Fees.

ASK FOR OTTAWA RULING

Major Raven and City Solicitor Doherty To Represent St. Thomas.

Special to London Advertiser.
ST. THOMAS, March 26.—Mayor C. E. Raven and City Solicitor W. B. Doherty will represent this city when delegates from many cities and other municipalities in Ontario wait upon the Dominion government, Wednesday, in an effort to have changed a section of the criminal code to permit municipalities retaining all or a larger proportion of all fines collected in public courts.

The two delegates were appointed by members of the city council after Mr. Doherty had explained to them why the matter was to be fought out at Ottawa.

Mr. Doherty accused the Provincial Government of rank injustice because it collected and kept all fines for indictable offences levied in urban police courts, although it contributed nothing towards the upkeep of the court. Premier Drury, he said, completely ignored an order-in-council passed in 1916 providing for the refunding of 50 per cent of such fines.

Because the Provincial Government had made no move to take the matter up at the present session, although it had promised to do so, St. Thomas had joined in with other municipalities to lay the complaint before Sir

Wear Shoes and Eat Rice At Indian Wedding!

NAIROBI, March 25.—It was determined that the first European wedding to be held in one of the country districts of Uganda should be done in old English style, and rice and old shoes were accordingly issued to the native retainers with full instructions concerning their use after the ceremony.

When the couple drove away from the church, nothing happened, and on investigation the natives were discovered wearing the shoes and eating the rice.

ONONDAGA WANTS HIGH EDUCATION

Special to London Advertiser.
BRANTFORD, March 25.—The village of Onondaga is to have a continuation school of its own. This was decided upon this week at a meeting of school trustees and ratepayers of the village and district. It will be a one-teacher institution, and the present public school in the village will be utilized for the purpose after alterations are effected. Five rural sections are interested in the project, which apparently has its origin in the inability of the Brantford Collegiate to care for more than a stated number of rural pupils after the end of the summer term in June.

THE WEEK IN THE WORLD

WANDERERS OF THE EARTH

Special to London Advertiser.
LONDON, March 26.—I met him in Piccadilly yesterday—and the last time we "gripped" our meeting place was a spot on the Great Barrier Reef of Northern Queensland.

I imagined the rumble of the London traffic instantly gave way to the thunders of the reef; instead of shops and offices I saw the mighty cedars rising through the creepers of the opulent jungle.

In imagination I could smell the breath of a bush fire; the tropic scents of the tide-barred reef.

There in Piccadilly we stood—two homeless wanderers.

"How long have you been in England?" I asked him.

"Six weeks."

"What are you doing?"

"I'm going abroad again."

In answer to my dumbly expressed query he nodded.

"Yes," he said, "I've got it again!"

I knew he referred to our mutual complaint—the wanderlust.

There is something to be said on behalf of the wanderers on the fact of the earth.

They gratify a natural instinct which has been the making of many a famous explorer, soldier or sailor.

Kipling has embodied in one of his finest poems the impatience of young men to whom the Red Gods call. He has also expressed the sentiments of the "old stager."

"For to admire an' for to see,
For to be old this world so wide—
It never done no good to me,
But I can't drop it if I tried!"

Some are born with the wanderlust, and either become international celebrities or else live and die nameless and homeless men—they wander just the same!

To those with the wanderlust the sight of a map or a picture of a foreign country is an incentive to action.

They experience a curious yearning and dissatisfaction with their surroundings; their thoughts fly far afield.

They are mostly out-o'-doors men. It is a pleasure to them to get back to Nature, and they glory in her temptations, from which the "stay-at-homes" shrink.

The elements have no terrors for them.

England owes much to the wanderlust for her adventures made her what she is. The Red Gods called them to strange, savage lands, where they fought and colonized to the advantage of the mother country.

The wanderlust is really a very fine and natural instinct. It is the spirit of manly independence allied to that of restless energy. There is a great deal of the primitive in wanderers.

They are the hunters of an age when food is always ready to hand; they are the scouts of a civilization that is now almost without confines. You find them in all the darker districts of the world. Some have money enough to supply their needs, while others live a "hand-to-mouth" existence—seldom is a wanderer to be found starving, for the Red Gods care for their devotees.

Rude health and carelessness of occupation insure their livelihood; they are without encumbrance, and to the free man all things are possible.

Wherever they are, "the other side the earth they're overdue!"

TELEGRAPH REDUCES PRICE.

LONDON, March 25.—(Canadian Press).—The Daily Telegraph announces that its price will shortly be reduced from two pence to three half-pence.

SIDE LIGHTS AT OTTAWA

By JOHN J. McLELLAN.
Advertiser Staff Correspondent.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, Ottawa.

Ott., March 26.—There is nothing on the surface tonight to indicate any developments over the week-end that might tend to bring unexpected developments when the house resumes tomorrow.

It is known that the cabinet met in conference Saturday, for some time, but nothing of major importance, it is said, arose to ruffle the present calmness with which the ship of state is bending its course, even though the theme of the pessimists is continually centering on the present ballast of the ship of state, namely the Progressives.

Farmer members, caucused Saturday, but from that quarter nothing arises that might cause misgivings as to whether the governing of the country is to be pursued in the manner of a quiet journeying. Some time will have to be allowed before the opposition fully recover from the astonished recoil they underwent when they learned of the economies in the estimates, and it is understood that the effect has left them tonight still uncomprehending.

It is still being circulated that the Progressive party are not fully in accord with the granting of the million and one-half dollars to the Quebec Harbor Commission and the caucus may have had something to say in the matter Saturday.

But this is very unlikely, since the time for the matter to be brought up for real discussion will probably come at the second reading of the bill rather than when the resolution is being adopted.

It is improbable that many of the Ontario members were present at the Progressive caucus, since most of the Ontario and Quebec members took the opportunity of a long week-end occasioned by the short sitting Friday afternoon to go to their homes.

IMMIGRATION problems have been occupying the limelight somewhat in the past few days, but Minister of the Interior Charles Stewart has been sufficiently informed with the references to the immigration problem in the nine-day debate just ended to know what general sentiment in the matter is, though how he will be able to satisfy the wants of the sectional parts of the country is a question.

The hearing of the railway commissions into the freight rates will end next week. This week the case of the railroads is being heard.

It is said that the commissioners are finding the problem complex and that the companies have considerable points in their argument. However, the decision will be delayed for some time after the hearing, so that the end of the inquiry will have no immediate effect at the moment on the political situation.

THE HONORARY advisory council for scientific and industrial research is proposing to the government that it set aside $500,000 to erect and equip a building at Ottawa to be known as the "National Research Institution," and that it should be made an annual grant for carrying on of research work in the public interest.

This is an advance of approximately $200,000 over the amount that is being asked to be voted in the estimates. Some of the arguments put forward by the council give the reasons for the increased use of research as follows:

"One of the serious drains on the strength of the Dominion of Canada is the annual loss of engineers, chemists, scientific farmers and technical experts, whose training, paid for by Canadians in Canadian schools and universities, supported by Canadian public money, goes out to make foreign countries rich and place Canada further in their debt for foreign goods and services."

It has been suggested, says the statement of the council, in such circumstances where the government is asked to bear the burden of discovering new scientific truths, that the universities should be mobilized.

It is also proposed that the contemplated organization to be provided for by the $500,000 would provide a bureau of standards that is a bureau for the making of delicate tests, measurements or analyses of standard articles of Canadian work for which Canada has now largely to depend on the services of foreigners.

UNDER public works chargeable to selection of revenue in the estimates tabled by the minister of finance in the house Friday under the particular heading—postoffice salaries—London is granted $202,380.

This is an increase for postoffice salaries in London of $14,880 over 1921-22. For the latter year the estimates were $187,500. In nearly all of the major postoffice estimates, and in many of the minor ones, increases are shown.

This increase in the salaries for the London and other postoffices may be accounted for by the statutory increases common to civil service employment. That is under the civil service clerks and so increase their salaries year by year until they reach a set maximum.

In St. Thomas the increase is $3,540, in Woodstock $2,220.

The following shows the gross postal revenue in London according to postoffices as contained in the report of the postmaster-general for the year ending March 31, 1921.

London total gross revenue was $388,715.55. The main London post-office and other branches contributed to this as follows:

Main postoffice, $343,162.24; sub-office No. 1, $334.08; sub-office No. 2, $1,200.12; sub-office No. 3, $6,760.64; sub-office No. 4, $6,380.30; sub-office No. 5, $1,200; sub-office No. 6, $172; sub-office No. 7, $750; sub-office No. 8, $11,623.69; Ealing, $2,731.90; London Junction, $4,256.74; London South, $2,465.99; London West, $724.03; Tambling's Corners, $424; St. James Park, $6,471.82.

St. Thomas postoffice earned in the year $87,742.45.

Woodstock postoffice earned $47,926.46.

Ingersoll postoffice receipts were $24,681.40.

NEXT Wednesday there will be a lively discussion, it is said, when the question of the fishery rights granted to Quebec by a recent order-in-council will be brought to the front.

The case will involve not only the question of the fisheries, but also the constitutionality of the order-in-council, it is said. On the order paper there is the following: "Mr. Marcell (Hon. Charles Marcell, Bonaventure, Quebec) address for a copy of the order-in-council correspondence and all other documents regarding the transfer of fisheries to the province of Quebec." This will bring the matter up.

This is the case that was cited by the Hon. Arthur Meighen as a case of order-in-council government of the present administration at the opening of the session. The order-in-council, it is maintained by the government, is but a confirmation of the Privy Council judgment.

On the other side, the opposition is prepared to make a point, it is said, on the constitutionality of the whole affair.

IDENTIFY STOLEN CLOTH.

TORONTO, March 26.—The $5,000 worth of silk and cloth seized by the police while being crated on a veranda on Brunswick avenue Thursday noon, for which Max Cohen of Detroit, and Max Fisher, Toronto, are held on charge of theft, was identified today as taken from A. Pupko's store, Hastings avenue, Detroit, following a robbery a week ago last Sunday.

Mr. Pupko came to Toronto this morning and identified the goods.

THREE DIE WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., March 26.—Three persons were killed when a Michigan Central passenger train struck an automobile at a grade crossing at Thomas Crossing, four miles east of Marshall, Mich., this evening.

The dead: Edgerton VanMeter, 29, of Albion; Mrs. Agnes VanMeter, his wife, 28; Harvey VanMeter, a nephew.

GERMANY CLAIMS LEVY IMPOSSIBLE

BERLIN, March 26.—The German government's reply to the recent demands of the reparations commission will be forwarded to Paris before the meeting of the Genoa conference. It will assert that the 60 billion marks supplementary tax levy is a financial and technical impossibility, and also will reject the proposed financial control by the commission.

"Made by McClary's, in London town. The big stove firm of much renown."

"The Clean Ware"

At all Good Stores

Finished with a hard, glossy surface, smooth as glass—but tough to withstand hard wear.

Your Grocer Solves the Milk Problem

Your grocer can fill your needs for milk a week or a month ahead. He sells Carnation Milk, nature's finest food in a safe, pure, convenient form.

Carnation Milk is just pure milk reduced by evaporation to creamy consistency, sealed and sterilized for safety. Nothing but part of the water is taken away. Nothing is added.

Use it as cream where you wish. Dilute it with an equal portion of water and it fills all milk requirements.

Begin today to get your milk from the modern milkman, your grocer. Phone now for several tall (16 oz.) cans or a case of 48 cans.

CARNATION BISCUIT

2 cups flour, 4 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 2 tablespoonfuls butter or substitute, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup CARNATION MILK. Sift dry ingredients together. Mix in butter or substitute with knife or fingers, add liquids (Carnation Milk diluted with the water) mixing to a soft dough. Roll lightly half to one inch in thickness, cut and bake in hot oven about 15 minutes. This recipe makes about eight biscuits.

CARNATION MILK PRODUCTS COMPANY, LIMITED, 345 JOHN STREET, AYLMER, ONT.

Carnation

"From Contented Cows"

Milk

The label is red and white

Made in Canada by CARNATION MILK PRODUCTS CO., LTD
AYLMER, ONT.
Condensed at Aylmer and Springfield, Ont.

Juicy Fruit, Peppermint and Spearmint certainly make three delightful flavors to choose from.

And the new NIPS—the candy-coated peppermint gum, is a great treat for your sweet tooth.

All from the Wrigley factories where practice has made perfection.

Packed Tight—Kept Right

The Flavor Lasts

MAKES SHORT WORK

of Pain.
Rheumatism lumbago sciatica neuralgia sprains, strains weak backs stiff joints

Sloan's Liniment

A Charming Woman is Healthy

Good looks mean good Health

Health gives the only true and lasting beauty to the complexion. Perfect digestion and assimilation of food are necessary to ensure perfect health. For relieving ailments of the digestive powers—such as biliousness, constipation, sick headaches, flatulence—Beecham's Pills have proven their worth to countless thousands of women for many years past. They are convenient, gentle in action and positive in their excellent results.

Take Beecham's Pills

Sold everywhere in boxes 25c—40 pills 50c—90 pills

WOMEN'S HOME AND MAGAZINE PAGE

Seeing Week-End Market With Aunt Maria's Eyes

There was one very much disappointed small girl at the week-end market. She had tucked a shoe-box under her arm and gone blithely down with a friendly grown-up to buy herself a nice, white, real bunny for Easter. She was quite certain that anything in the world could be bought in that wonderful market place. No, she had no intentions of being cruel to her bunny. She had punched holes in the top of the shoe-box with a pair of scissors to give him plenty of ventilation.

But a "perfect thirty-six, ready-to-wear bunny" couldn't be discovered to fit the box, though she hunted upstairs and downstairs, along the west wall out-doors where the boys offered their funny collection of live-stock, and out and in among wagons and motor cars. The only thing that looked like the Peter Rabbit of her dreams was a great, big, heavy-weight fellow, huge enough and old enough by his looks to be the great grandfather of the right Cotton Tail. The Belgian hare at 75 cents wouldn't do at all.

She did love the puppies, to be sure, just like all the other little folks who visited the Saturday market. But her house had been dedicated to a wee bunny, and it was that or nothing.

Circumstances make queer associations at the market. A ponderous white Wyandotte "chicken" stood shoulder to shoulder with a frolicsome coiled half puppy. The coiled one was white and tan, the young master called him "brown", and the price asked for him was two dollars. That was the price of the Wyandotte, too, but the latter was far haughtier about it than the puppy. Wyandotte was an unscrupulous soul and seemed to resent with injured dignity the neighborhood and puppy's attempts to be friendly.

A bit down the board walk, grown-ups and children alike were exclaiming in delight over a whole family of very juvenile French poodles. If the right Peter Rabbit was lacking, the Saturday bazaar offered a wonderfully wide range of choice of novelties, as well as staples. For example, one might buy a square piano, an organ that looked somewhat the worse for wear, and one that didn't. An auctioneer, surrounded by a great mob who found it pleasant in the sunshine, discoursed eloquently on the merits of untrimmed ladies' hats he was putting up. It was possible at "the psychological moment" to purchase an old black velvet hat and a white Panama hat that could easily be cleaned and re-blocked, for the ridiculously low price of 5 cents, provided you wanted hats to wear the year round.

The auctioneer right next was doing a hustling business in disposing of second-hand aluminumware and tinware, whether he knew it or not. "Just the thing for your kitchen sink," he said convincingly, as he flourished a flour sifter.

Visions of picnics were conjured up by the sight of a pile of beautifully made baskets from the Oneida Reserve, the kind that used to hold roast chicken, pies, cakes, salads and all manner of other goodies in the old days when picnics were real picnics. But the old-time baskets didn't quite come up to Saturday's, with their nicely-smoothed soft maple handles (satchel style) and deftly-used ornamentation of rose red. The price was 50 and 75 cents.

Gets "Stung" on Haddie.

The London Women's Labor Party drew attention a few days ago to the merits of the city fish stall through their protest in the form of a resolution against the proposal to close it. The members vouched for the excellent quality and reasonable prices. Aunt Maria investigated for herself and discovered she had been "stung" by the grocer earlier in the morning to the tune of 10 cents on haddie, in paying 20 cents a pound. Beautifully plump haddie, much superior to the grocery store's offering, was selling in the municipal market for 15 cents a pound.

Interest was the price tag on the firm and "absolutely new" looking white fish, 15 cents a pound; the price of 12 cents a pound quoted for salmon; 20 cents for halibut, and 10 cents for herrings.

Look Before You Leap.

All the vegetables that kept in hiding through the dreary Saturday of January, February and March seemed to have been trotted out for the past week-end.

"It's a very competitive market," commented one woman, apropos the fact that she had been asked all the way from 40 cents to 48 cents a pound for butter, and 25 cents to 30 cents a dozen for eggs.

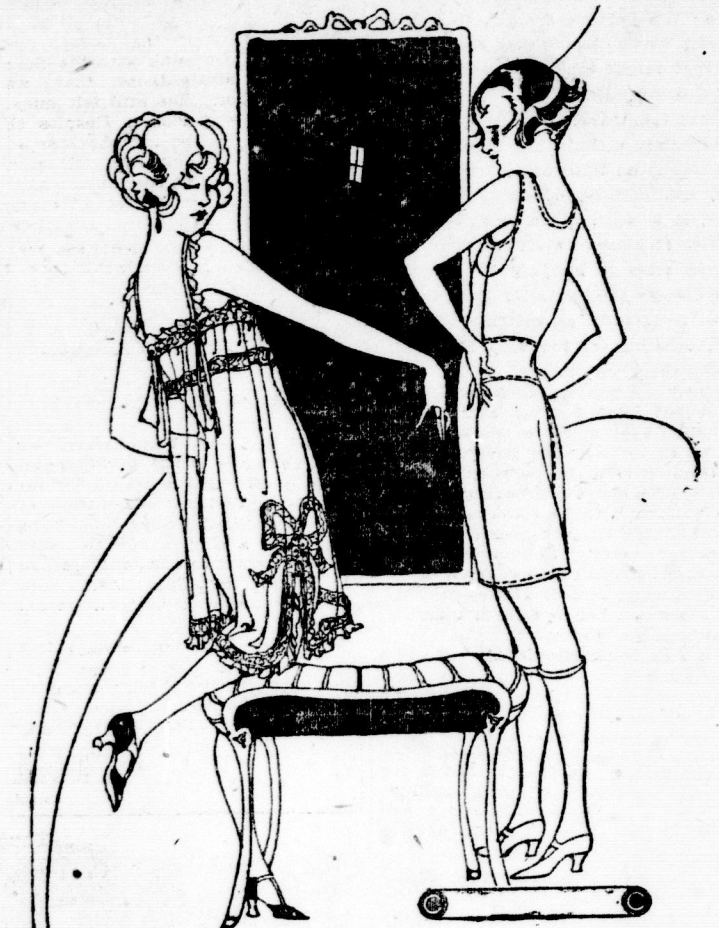

Amey, the wisdom was discovered of not buying until you look around. The first vendor discovered who had potatoes by the bag (admirably announced the price as $1.75 a bag. One of two subsequent "discoveries" wanted $1.60, but the prevailing price was $1.50, with "spuds" rather more plentiful than the preceding week.

Maple syrup, instead of coming down as might have been expected, was upward trending, $3.60 a gallon being the most-quoted price, while a farmer, who assumed there was no better syrup on the market than his, set his price as $3.50 a gallon.

The explanation was that the first run of the week of sap occurred Friday. It would just be "spilling."

Barbarism Vies With Daintiness

Milady's Undergarments Are of Simple Tailoring in Cloths of Bizarre Patterns.

THERE are two strong tendencies seemingly opposed to each other, which have manifested themselves this spring in underwear fashions which the discriminating woman now studies with the same care which she devotes to her outer garments.

The first is towards more tailored undergarments, and the other is towards more elaborate effects. Satin striped radium silks are in the lead as the popular fabric for strictly tailored undies. Corduroy crepe is also extensively used.

Many gorgeous and barbaric effects are gained by the use of colors that once would have seemed out of the question for underwear. Black radium with little panels of flame-colored silk inset, for instance, makes one lovely set. Vivid yellow, in the new shade, "dent de lion," is being extensively used, with trimmings of self color, black, or a bright blue.

While all the colors of the rainbow are seen in the latest underthings, the dainty and very feminine ones still hold first place in popularity. The most popular is the soft pink, though Princess Mary's fondness for blue is likely to boom that color, in all shades, this spring.

One-tone satin broadened crepes are also popular, those in white being especially liked for trousseau sets.

Delicate cottons are by no means out of the running, particularly for the athletic type of garment. Dimities in a variety of striped and checked effects, voiles and printed muslins and cotton crepes are to be had.

Personals

Dr. and Mrs. Hadley Williams returned from Daytona, Florida, on Saturday.

Miss Horon Cronyn has returned to town after spending several weeks in Bermuda.

Miss Muriel Rogerson spent the week-end in London, the guest of Miss Margaret Scatterd.

Mrs. Kent Campbell entertained at the tea hour in honor of Miss Gladys Croden, a bride-elect of next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wolfe, Spadina Road, Toronto, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Bryden Campbell, Richmond street.

Mrs. F. H. Brown of Dayton, Ohio, accompanied by her young son, Donald Graham, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Graham, Central avenue.

Mr. William Haddon has returned home after spending several weeks in West Baden and Hot Springs, with Manager Gibson of the Pittsburgh Baseball Club.

Keen sympathy is extended by London friends to Mrs. J. H. Lyne-Evans in her bereavement in the loss of her father, Major-General C. F. Thomas of Higher Woodways, Teignmouth, Devon. Notification has recently been received by her of his death.

Saturday evening Mrs. George Mellon entertained at her home at 473 Elizabeth street, on the occasion of her birthday, about 40 of her intimate friends enjoying her hospitality. Eucharist was the order of the evening. Miss Yungblut and Mr. Woodley carrying off the first prizes, while the consolation went to Mrs. Woodley and Mr. Zimmerman. A tempting supper was served by the hostess, who was showered with gifts by her guests.

Keen interest was shown in the finals played off at the Badminton Club Saturday afternoon. The presentation of the prizes and cups was made by Major-General H. A. Panet and Mrs. Panet, the mixed doubles going to the ladies' doubles, Mrs. Boucher; the ladies' singles, Mrs. Hemmings and Mr. Boucher; and the men's singles, Mr. Boucher and Major Hunter. The cup for the ladies' championship was won by Mrs. Hemmings and for the men's singles by Capt. Fred Betts.

Among those noticed were Col. Hill and Mrs. Hill, Major Arthur Mortimore, Mrs. Mortimore, Capt. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, Rev. Mr. Warner and Mrs. Warner, Miss Honor Cronyn, Major Passey and Mrs. Passey, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, Capt. Hallinney and Mrs. Hallinney, Mrs. Balders, Col. McDermid and Mrs. McDermid, Miss G. Layton, Miss K. Coles, Miss Shirley White, Mrs. Bowker, Col. Beattie, Miss Babbs Chisholm, Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. Gordon Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pearson, Miss Louise Duffield, Mr. Collin Scatterd, Miss Margaret Scatterd and Miss Muriel Rogerson.

brothered, with which she wore a hat of the roll brim type of Lisere braid, trimmed with a flower wreath and streamers. Her neckpiece and muff were of handsome brown fur, the gift of the groom.

The bride's going-away suit was of reindeer broadcloth, beautifully em-

CLUB NEWS

What Women Are Accomplishing in London.

ANNUAL MEETING APRIL 23.

The local council of women is still hoping that time will be afforded during the visit to the city on April 15 of their excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Byng, to give a luncheon in honor of the latter. At the meeting of the executive held on Saturday at the home of the president, Mrs. E. B. Smith, the sub-executive was appointed a committee to make arrangements, the other members agreeing to cooperate with Mrs. E. B. Smith as far as in their ability lies. They are: Mesdames David Williams, Gordon Wright, John Rose, R. M. Graham and Alfred Drew. Flowers at least will be presented by the council.

The date was fixed for the annual meeting of the local council for Friday, April 25, at 3:30 o'clock. Nominations for officers for the ensuing year will be left to the meeting.

Mrs. Gordon Wright gave an illuminating report of the meeting of the national council executive held recently in Ottawa, bringing with her contributions from members of the executive to the Mrs. Harriet A. Boomer memorial from Mrs. Edwards, Claresholm, Alberta; Dr. Augusta Stowe Gullen, Ontario provincial president, and Miss Carmichael, of Nova Scotia. Mrs. R. M. Graham, local council treasurer, was asked to act as treasurer as well for the fund to be raised in London to do honor to the memory of the founder and president for many years.

An announcement received with gratification was to the effect that the Federation of Girls' Clubs of the ## Corns?

—just say

Blue-jay

to your druggist

Stops Pain Instantly

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in two forms—a cornless, clear liquid (one drop does it) and in extra thin plasters. Use whichever form you prefer, plasters or the liquid—the action is the same. Safe, gentle. Made in a world-famed laboratory. Sold by all druggists.

Free: Write Bauer & Black, Toronto, Dept. 218 for valuable book, "Correct Care of the Feet."

Luxuriant Glossy Locks

through the use of

Canadian Booster

Hair Tonic and Dandruff Remedy

Not only banishes the worst cases of dandruff or other scalp trouble, but promotes growth and adds lustre.

"Booster" is guaranteed. From your druggist or order by mail from

Canadian Booster Co. LIMITED

2 Windsor, Canada

Any First-Class Tonsorial Parlor will give applications of "Booster" Hair Tonic and will supply retail bottles on request.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts To Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headaches, dizziness, your stomach aches, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Lithia lemon juice, combined with Jad Salts, in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with Lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates. Thus ending bladder weakness and kidney trouble. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

GRAY'S, LIMITED

STORE HOURS 9 A.M. TO 6 P.M. DAILY.

Milady's Paraphernalia

Many delightfully desirable, and becomingly wearable things to add to the completion of your spring costume.

FOR SPRING AND EASTER.

Silk Umbrellas and Parasols

In new colors, new handles; more attractive, more part of the costume than ever before.

Umbrella Dept., Main Floor.

LADIES' SILK PARASOLS, with snap-on covers; colors of purple, green and navy. Price, each .....$12.00

LADIES' SILK PARASOLS, leather handles, with straps to match; colors of navy, green, purple. Price, each, $10.50

LADIES' BLACK SILK PARASOLS, a large variety of handles. In prices ranging from .....$8.00 to $15.00

LADIES' PARASOLS, silk and wool covers, silk cases, handles of ebony and natural wood, with rings, leather and cord straps. Priced from $5.00 to $9.00

CHILDREN'S PARASOLS, with novelty handles. Prices .....$1.50 to $2.50

New Gloves

Supply your Spring and Summer Gloves now. Glove Dept., Main Floor.

GAUNTLET SILK GLOVES, with scalloped or frilled tops; colors of mastic, grey, black, white, with contrasting points. Price, a pair .....$3.00

NOVELTY SILK GLOVES, two domes, black with white, navy with white, mole with black, white with black. Price, a pair .....$2.00

LONG SILK GLOVES, sixteen buttons; navy, grey, mastic and white. Price, a pair .....$2.75

GAUNTLET CHAMOISETTE GLOVES, with fancy stitching on cuffs, mastic with black, white with black. Price, a pair .....$2.00

Hemstitching and Picoting

FOURTH FLOOR.

GRAY'S LIMITED

140 DUNDAS STREET.

Agents for the Butterick Patterns, The Delineator and Butterick Quarterly.

GRAY'S LIMITED

PHONES 115 and 116.

Dress Accessories For Spring

Second Floor.

The wearing of Girdles immensely popular.

A big assortment of DRESS GIRDLES in all the new styles; chain, celluloid and metal. Priced from ..... 75c to $2.25

NEW FANCY SILK BRAIDS, assorted, in the popular colors. Price, a yard, ..... 18c and 20c

A very dainty line of EMBROIDERY for collar and cuffs, with vestee width to match. The finishing touch for your new lingerie dresses.

Second Floor.

Charming New Neckwear

Main Floor.

That soft little touch of becomingness so essentially feminine may be easily attained by the wearing of any one of these neckwear conceptions.

CHAMOISETTE PETER PAN COLLARS in the newest shades at .... $1.25

LINEN PETER PAN COLLARS, white and colored, from ..... $1.00 up

CHAMOISETTE COLLAR AND VESTEE, colors grey, blue, lemon, at...$3.50

ORGANDY AND LACE COLLAR AND VESTEE; vestee in colors, at.....$2.25

LATTICE ORGANDY COLLARS—Peter Pan and Tuxedo style, lace and lattice vesting with banding to match; white and cream.

Main Floor.

Handkerchiefs

NEW AND DAINITY.

Main Floor.

LADIES' PURE LINEN HANDKERCHIEFS, embroidered corners; colors pink, mauve, blue. Price ..... 50c

LADIES' SWISS LAWN HANDKERCHIEFS, hemstitched edge; colors pink, mauve, blue, sand. Price ..... 35c

LADIES' CREPE HANDKERCHIEFS; colored borders. Price ..... 25c

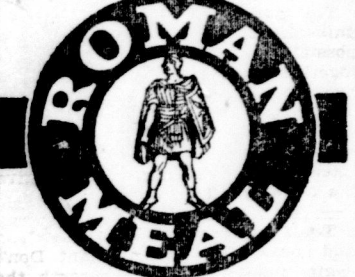

LADIES' COLORED CREPE HANDKERCHIEFS, in all the new shades. Price ..... 25c

LADIES' WHITE PURE LINEN CENTRES, 9-in., 25c; 10 and 11 in., 35c

Boudoir Garters

Of silk; colors of blue, puce, pink, gold, Paddy, purple, American Beauty, gold and black, maize and blue. Price, a pair ..... $1.50

Main Floor.

Prove It For Yourself!

Roman Meal should be added to all baking done with white flour—in order to restore the valuable dark parts of the grain, so rich in vitamins, saines and nourishment, which were lost in making the white flour. It also makes food more appetizing.

Aids digestion. Positively relieves constipation.

Get a package and try it. All grocers sell Roman Meal.

Every Day Serve Some.

WARNING! Say "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin. Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting Aspirin at all. Why take chances?

Accept only an "unbroken package" of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," which contains directions and dose worked out by physicians during 22 years and proved safe by millions for

Colds Headache Rheumatism
Toothache Neuralgia Neuritis
Earache Lumbago Pain, Pain

Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists. Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monocacetic Acid of Salicylic Acid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

"Makes the loaf you like to loaf around"

DIAMOND FLOUR Becomes a habit

HUNT BROS. LTD. LONDON, ONT.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over, Night.

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from ointment or embarrasment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even itching eczema is dried right up. Get a small jar from any good drug store and use it like cold cream.—Adv.

PILES

Do not suffer another day with itching, bleeding or protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and afford lasting benefit. Get a box at all dealers or Edmunds, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose 2c. stamp for postage.

MURINE You Cannot Buy New Eyes

Don't you can Promote a Clean, Healthy Condition of Your Eyes Use Murine Eye Remedy "Night and Morning." Keep your Eyes Clean, Clear and Healthy. Write for Free Eye Care Book. Murine Eye Remedy Co., 9 East Ohio Street, Chicago.

Y. W. C. A. is affiliating with the council.

UNION M. C. HAS BIG GRIST.

Such a big grist of business awaits the executive of the Union Mothers' Club to be held Monday evening in the technical school that officers are wondering if it will be possible to get through it in one session. Arrangements will be made for the next quarterly meeting of the Union Mothers' Club, delegates appointed to the annual meeting of the Ontario Provincial Federation of Home and School Clubs in Toronto Easter week, and a questionnaire dealing with that has been sent in by the provincial federation. At least three deputations are waiting upon the executive.

MRS. DENYES SPEAKS TO W. C. T. U.

The London W. C. T. U. is to have a special and unexpected treat on Tuesday afternoon in a visit from Mrs. J. M. Denyes, wife of the inspector of schools of Halton County, and herself provincial superintendent of scientific temperance instruction in the W. C. T. U. Remembered by

Winter Comes

A. S. M. Hutchinson

It was from Twynning that Sabre had heard that a post of some sort was being considered for Effie Bright. Her father, as he had told young Perch, was working for a man at Fortune, East and Sabre's, "Mr. Bright." A massive old man with a massive rather striking face beneath a bald dome and thickly grown hair about and down the throat with stiff white hair. He had been in the firm as long as Mr. Fortune himself and appeared to Sabre, who had little to do with him, to take orders from nobody. He was intensely religious and he had the deep-set and extraordinary penetrating eyes that frequently denote the religious zealot. He was not liked by the hands. They called him Moses, disliked his intense religiosity and feared the cold and heavy manner that he had. He trod heavily about the workshop, looking into the eyes of the young men as if far more concerned to search their souls than their benches; and Sabre, when speaking to him, always had the feeling that Mr. Bright was penetrating him with the same intention.

Extraordinary that such a stern and hard old man should have for daughter such a fresh and lovable slip of a young thing as his Effie! Bright Effie, Sabre always called her, inventing her names. Mr. Bright had a little cupboard called his office at the foot of the main stairway and Bright Effie came often to see her father there. Sabre had spoken to her in the little cupboard or just outside it. He had delight in watching the most extraordinary shining that she had in her eyes.

It was like reading an entertaining book, he used to think, and he had the idea that humor of that rarest kind which is unbounded love mingled with unbounded sense of the oddities of life was packed to bursting within her. All that she saw or heard seemed to be taken into that exhaustless fount, metamorphosed into the most delicious sensations, and shone forth in extraordinarily humorous delight through her eyes, somewhere in the dimmest day light is found and thrown back by a bright surface. It was just so, Sabre used to think, with Effie. All things were fresh to her and she found freshness in all things.

Some such apprehension of her Sabre had expressed to Twynning on the occasion that came to his mind during young Perch's treaty for some one to live with his mother. Sabre had been standing with Twynning at Mr. Fortune's window, Mr. Bright and Effie leaving the office and crossing the street together beneath them. Twynning, who was on intimate terms with Mr. Bright, had given a short laugh and said, "Hullo, you seem to have been thinking a lot about the fair Effie!"

The kind of laugh and the kind of remark that Sabre hated and he gave a slight gasp in the metal top of an ordinary catcup or some such bottle. Then the bottle can be filled with water, the cap screwed on and the device used as a water shaker.

together to look, and heaven only knows what they got up to; they were away about half an hour and came back with about three hundred-weight of old wools and nine pounds of needles, and talking about how they were going through all the other boxes, now I've got some one to help me, as my mother said. By Jove, the girl's wonderful. D'you know, she actually kissed my mother when she was leaving and said, 'Now be sure to try that little pillow just under your side tonight. Just press it in as you're falling asleep.' By Jove, you can't think how grateful I am to you, Sabre."

"I am glad," Sabre told him. "I felt sure you'd be just like that. But why have you been having a frightful struggle over it with your mother? If she's taken to her so?"

Young Perch gave the fond little laugh with which Sabre had so often heard him conclude his enormous arguments with his mother. "Oh, you know what my mother is. She's now made up her mind that the girl is coming here to do what she calls 'catch me.' She'll forget that soon. Anyway, the girl's coming. She's coming the day after tomorrow, the day I'm going. Come along in and see my mother and keep her to it."

The subject did not require bringing up. "I suppose Freddie's told you what he's forcing me into now, Mr. Sabre," old Mrs. Perch greeted him. "It's a funny thing that I should be forced to do things at my time of life. Of course, she's older Freddie. Do you suppose I can't see that?"

"Well, but she won't see Freddie, Mrs. Perch. He won't be here."

"She'll catch him," declared Mrs. Perch doggedly. "Any girl could catch Freddie. He's a positive fool with one of these girls after him. Now she's got to have her uncle Henry's armchair in her room. If you please. That's a nice thing, isn't it?"

"Now look here, Mother, you know perfectly well that was your own idea. You said you felt sure she had a weak back and that—"

"I never supposed she was going to have your uncle Henry's chair for her weak back or for any other back. Ask Mr. Sabre what he thinks. There he is, ask him."

Sabre said, "But you do like the girl, don't you, Mrs. Perch?"

Mrs. Perch pursed her lips. "I don't say I don't like her. I merely ask what I'm going to do with her. When Freddie said he wanted to bring some one to live with me, I never supposed he was going to bring a chit of a child into the house. I assure you I never supposed that was going to be done to me."

And then quite suddenly Mrs. Perch dropped into a chair and said in a hoarse, broken voice, "I don't mind who comes into the house. I can't contend like I used to contend. Immense tears gathered in her eyes and began to run swiftly down her cheeks. 'I'm not fit for anything now. I can't live without Freddie. I like the girl; but all this house where we've been so happy... without Freddie... I shall see his dear, bright face everywhere. Why must he go, Mr. Sabre? Why must he go? I don't understand this war at all.' Her voice trailed off. Her hands fumbled on her lap. A tear fell on them. She brushed at it with a fumbling motion but it remained there.

Young Perch took her hand and fondled it. Sabre saw the wrinkled, fumbling old hand between the strong brown fingers. "That's all right, Mother. Of course, you don't understand it. That's just it. You think I'm going out to fighting and all that. And I'm just going into a training camp here in England for a time. And before Christmas it will all be over and I shall come flying back and we'll send Miss Bright tottling off home and—Don't cry, Mother. Don't cry, Mother. Isn't that so, Sabre? Just training in England. Isn't that so? Now where-ever's your old handkerchief got to? Look here; here's mine. Look, this is the one I chose that day with you in Tidborough. Do you remember what a jolly tea we had that day? Remember what a laugh we had over that funny teapot. There, let me wipe them. Mother..."

Sabre turned away. This frightful war...

(To Be Continued Tomorrow.)

Spare Time Jobs for Father—

SPRINKLING clothes with the hands means a lot of unnecessary motions and takes a long time.

Make it easier for mother by putting holes in the metal top of an ordinary catcup or some such bottle. Then the bottle can be filled with water, the cap screwed on and the device used as a water shaker.

together to look, and heaven only knows what they got up to; they were away about half an hour and came back with about three hundred-weight of old wools and nine pounds of needles, and talking about how they were going through all the other boxes, now I've got some one to help me, as my mother said. By Jove, the girl's wonderful. D'you know, she actually kissed my mother when she was leaving and said, 'Now be sure to try that little pillow just under your side tonight. Just press it in as you're falling asleep.' By Jove, you can't think how grateful I am to you, Sabre."

"I am glad," Sabre told him. "I felt sure you'd be just like that. But why have you been having a frightful struggle over it with your mother? If she's taken to her so?"

Young Perch gave the fond little laugh with which Sabre had so often heard him conclude his enormous arguments with his mother. "Oh, you know what my mother is. She's now made up her mind that the girl is coming here to do what she calls 'catch me.' She'll forget that soon. Anyway, the girl's coming. She's coming the day after tomorrow, the day I'm going. Come along in and see my mother and keep her to it."

The subject did not require bringing up. "I suppose Freddie's told you what he's forcing me into now, Mr. Sabre," old Mrs. Perch greeted him. "It's a funny thing that I should be forced to do things at my time of life. Of course, she's older Freddie. Do you suppose I can't see that?"

"Well, but she won't see Freddie, Mrs. Perch. He won't be here."

"She'll catch him," declared Mrs. Perch doggedly. "Any girl could catch Freddie. He's a positive fool with one of these girls after him. Now she's got to have her uncle Henry's armchair in her room. If you please. That's a nice thing, isn't it?"

"Now look here, Mother, you know perfectly well that was your own idea. You said you felt sure she had a weak back and that—"

"I never supposed she was going to have your uncle Henry's chair for her weak back or for any other back. Ask Mr. Sabre what he thinks. There he is, ask him."

Sabre said, "But you do like the girl, don't you, Mrs. Perch?"

Mrs. Perch pursed her lips. "I don't say I don't like her. I merely ask what I'm going to do with her. When Freddie said he wanted to bring some one to live with me, I never supposed he was going to bring a chit of a child into the house. I assure you I never supposed that was going to be done to me."

And then quite suddenly Mrs. Perch dropped into a chair and said in a hoarse, broken voice, "I don't mind who comes into the house. I can't contend like I used to contend. Immense tears gathered in her eyes and began to run swiftly down her cheeks. 'I'm not fit for anything now. I can't live without Freddie. I like the girl; but all this house where we've been so happy... without Freddie... I shall see his dear, bright face everywhere. Why must he go, Mr. Sabre? Why must he go? I don't understand this war at all.' Her voice trailed off. Her hands fumbled on her lap. A tear fell on them. She brushed at it with a fumbling motion but it remained there.

Young Perch took her hand and fondled it. Sabre saw the wrinkled, fumbling old hand between the strong brown fingers. "That's all right, Mother. Of course, you don't understand it. That's just it. You think I'm going out to fighting and all that. And I'm just going into a training camp here in England for a time. And before Christmas it will all be over and I shall come flying back and we'll send Miss Bright tottling off home and—Don't cry, Mother. Don't cry, Mother. Isn't that so, Sabre? Just training in England. Isn't that so? Now where-ever's your old handkerchief got to? Look here; here's mine. Look, this is the one I chose that day with you in Tidborough. Do you remember what a jolly tea we had that day? Remember what a laugh we had over that funny teapot. There, let me wipe them. Mother..."

Sabre turned away. This frightful war...

(To Be Continued Tomorrow.)

Use Movies For Foreign Trade Expansion

Mary Jane Irving and Ethel Clayton in "The Cradle," a poor adaptation of Brieux's story of marital infidelity.

BY JAMES W. DEAN.
NEW YORK, March 27.—Representatives of the motion picture industry, the U. S. Department of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers will meet in Washington April 11 to develop plans for the utilization of movies to their fullest assistance to industry.

The cost of such pictures to manufacturers would be about $1 a foot. If the idea of exploiting products is "sold" to manufacturers, at the April conference, Will Hays may start work on his first scenario.

It is suggested that the movie industry take the lead in the movement. A movie telling the story of movie production should prove an immense interest to Europeans, since the majority of films shown in Europe are of American make.

The screen version of Eugene Brieux's "The Cradle," is fair sample of what an absurdity the movies can make of a written or staged story through lack of appreciation of the author's motive or moral.

The U. S. Department of Commerce has already developed tentative plans for the use of motion pictures in boosting trade abroad. Julius Klein, new director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has arranged for the services of M. Leopold, expert industrial photographer of the bureau of mines.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN
STRAWBERRY DISHES

If you would serve strawberries early in the season and make them go twice as far, here are a set of simple rules for you to try:

Strawberry Fluff.
One cup strawberries, 1 egg white, 1 cup powdered sugar.

Put sugar, berries and egg white in mixing bowl. Beat 20 minutes with a strong Dover beater. Do not crush the berries before adding to the other ingredients. The beating is rather hard work, but the result is worth the effort. Serve on sponge cake and top with a whole perfect berry.

Strawberry Dip of Ice Cream.
One and one-half cups berries, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water.

Put sugar and water on to boil. Boil two minutes and add berries. Crush berries with a spoon and cook five minutes.

Strawberry Sauce.
Five tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup powdered sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup berries, 1/2 cup whipping cream.

Cream butter and beat in sugar and vanilla. The vanilla is used to bring out the flavor of the berries, but does not flavor the sauce. Berries, which have been carefully washed and dried between towels.

Whip cream till stiff with a Dover beater. Combine mixtures and serve at once on warm sponge cake or cottage pudding.

Strawberry Bisque.
One pint whipping cream, 2 cups berries (1 pint box), 1 cup powdered sugar.

Whip cream till stiff. Wash and drain berries. Cut berries in small pieces and mix well with sugar. Fold berries in cream. Line a mold with plain vanilla cream and fill with strawberry mixture. Pack in ice and rock salt and let stand three hours. Unmold and serve in slices with one or two whole berries on the plate. This will serve eight persons.

Fresh Strawberry Pudding.
One pint berries, 1 cup water, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup sugar, eggs (white).

Wash berries and crush slightly. Let drain. Put juice and water in a smooth saucepan and bring to the boiling point. Dilute cornstarch in enough cold water to pour easily. Stir into boiling liquid. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly for 10 minutes.

Add salt and sugar and the rest of the berries. Keep hot over hot water and fold in the stiffly-beaten whites of the eggs. Remove at once from the heat and pour into a mold dipped in cold water. Chill and serve with boiled custard made of yolks of the eggs.

(Copyright, 1922.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
EENA MEENA---MAGICIAN
(By Olive Roberts Barton.)

"Hello," said the magician. "What a start you gave me."

NOW, the Dream Seller lives at the fourth end of the earth, but he sells good dreams only. When one wishes a wicked dream he goes to Eena Meena, the magician, who lives on a star. He boils all sorts of dreams—makes 'em to order.

So Twelve Toes, the Sorcerer, desiring a specially terrible dream, changed himself into a bat and flew up to the star to old Eena Meena.

"Hello!" he said, flying down Eena Meena's chimney, to that person's astonishment, and hanging upside down by his feet on the clothes line where Eena Meena's dreams were drying in bags.

"Hello," said the magician. "What a start you gave me, Twelve Toes! What can I do for you?"

"I want two dreams—awful ones," croaked Twelve Toes. "I want 'em for a boy and a girl called Nick and Nancy, who are giving me a lot of trouble. They are on their way to the palace of the Princess Therna, who lives between the kingdom of the Diddyoovers and the Korsknots. They carry a phonograph record given them by Longhead, the wise-man. I don't want them to get the record, because when they do the princess will marry either the king of one country or the other, and I want her for myself."

"I see—ee—ee!" grinned wicked old Eena Meena. "You want dreams that will make them lose their way." "Right o!" croaked Twelve Toes. "They are asleep now in the lovely valley between the Electric Mountain and the Elderdown Mountain, and they will start over the Elderdown Mountain at daybreak. They have so much magic along I'm afraid they'll get there."

"I'll help you," nodded Eena Meena, going to his cupboard and taking down bottles, cups and measuring glasses.

Then he went down cellar and after a while returned with all sorts of queer things.

POLLY AND PAUL AND PARIS

CHAPTER LVI.—Fate Tangles Her Threads.

By Zoe Beckley

NERVES and body can play strange tricks upon the mind. As Polly lay there, holding the concierge's hand to steady herself in the storm of emotion that swept over her, she did not think with the clearness and straightness that was natural to her. She still felt miserably dizzy and sick. Despite the woman who patted her shoulder and spoke encouragingly she felt alone and deserted in the hour which should have been golden with love and companionship.

Contention and a sleepless night added their tax, and Paul's note, so brief and curt.

Aloud she said to the concierge, "Dear Mme. Dubois, you've been a comfort. Leave me now. I think I can sleep."

"Yes, sleep, ma petite. All will be well, believe me."

When she had gone Polly had an odd fancy—as if she were tiptoeing into the strange region of her inner self and finding marvels there. Dim shadows lurked, hopes half formed, vague fears that made her shiver. Mysteriously beckoning and receding, knowledge revealing itself, and a great deep wisdom over all—motherhood.

Motherhood! Polly whispered the word over and over to herself. How many times she had said it and read it and dismissed it with scarcely a realization of what it meant. Some of her friends had passed through it, and come out with a deep look in their eyes that Polly had not been able to read. As if they knew many things they did not, or could not, tell.

She went cold at the responsibility. The next instant she felt lifted up as on a wave of exultation.

If Paul had come home when the emotional wave was bearing her on its crest the clouds that had hung so heavily would have been instantly dispersed.

But he didn't. It chanced that some work in a neighboring town had gone wrong and Paul was required to straighten it out. At a point between two tiny villages a repair train was at work and had met with an accident. A load of concrete had fallen upon the track.

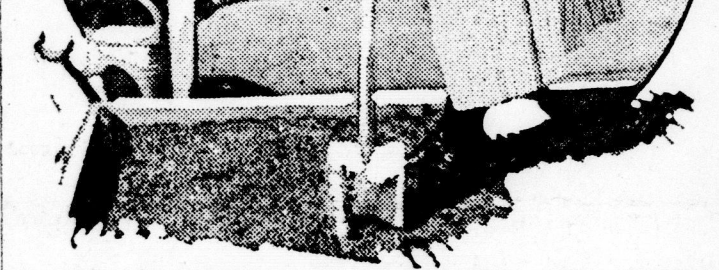

With the other passengers Paul scrambled out to ascertain the trouble. It was nothing, they said; would take but a short time to clear.

Thus it happened that Polly waited at home, brooding. Not even at dinner time did Paul appear. It was too much. He was cruel, brutal. She wished she were dead.

At 8 o'clock he rushed in, breathless and found an empty flat.

(To Be Continued.)
(Copyright, 1922.)

BURBANK'S BETTER GARDEN TIPS
THE SOIL
Article No. 3.

MRS. LUTHER BURBANK ILLUSTRATES HER HUSBAND'S GARDEN TIPS.

BY LUTHER BURBANK, World's Greatest Scientific Agriculturalist.

SPADE your ground early! This is of vital importance. Remember that texture in the soil is probably as important as all the other things put together.

So spade your ground early and let it rest. Work in a little stable manure and some sifted ashes, or leaf mould is good. But LET THE GROUND REST!

I stress these points for this reason: with your soil once loosened and ready, the air should be allowed to get in. This gives the soil life.

Soil needs air just as humans. The air MUST get down and be ready for the young roots. A little time is necessary for the soil to get the full advantage of the air.

Doctors Recommend
Bon-Opto for the Eyes
Physicians and eye specialists prescribe Bon-Opto as a safe home remedy in the treatment of eye troubles and to strengthen eyesight. Sold under money refund guarantee by all druggists.

MOTHER!
Move Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of a "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup—Advt.

WHITENING WAX.
If you would whiten yellow wax boil it in water and then spread it out in thin layers exposed to air and light. Repeat this process until the color is gone.

BOOKS

EDITED BY CABR.
THE DEAVES AFFAIR. By Hubert Footner. New York: George H. Doran Company. $1.75.

THIS LATEST of Hubert Footner's books concerns the unraveling of a mystery, but it differs from other detective stories in the second chapter, and no murderer is traced to his lair by such rudimentary methods as a chemical analysis of the dust about the body.

There is crime in it, of course, but the law-breakers go about their work in a gentlemanly manner, with a gift for ironically suggestive letter writing which relieves the harshness of their purpose.

Add to such original and polished criminals Simeon Deaves, a self-made millionaire whose fortune was not collected without some peccadilloes, and Evan Weir, a forceful young artist with a flair for discovering hidden facts, and three-fourths of the necessary ingredients for the story are complete. The remaining fourth is soon supplied by the telling presence and more telling absence of a voice, wistful eyes, and a spirit to match the glories of her auburn hair.

The rich old man is a miser, yet naive, and so beset by an aspiring daughter-in-law and a flaccid son that deserves pity; the artist has an unusual way of speaking of his whole mind at odd moments; the lady is in turn all woman and all vixen.

As befits the work of an experienced writer, the narrative moves swiftly, and is but little confused by the necessity of following two threads at once. The plot makes up for what it lacks in lurid horror by the novelty of the situations which arise and the ingenuity of the ruses whereby the enemies of Deaves attempt to gain their ends. And do not forget the breathless second when the amateur detective feels the rim of icy steel against his temple.

Surprising freaks of fortune and unexpected discoveries are by no means lacking, nor do they depend on unconvincing chance, and a certain humor runs throughout, lightens the suspense and triumphs in the ending.

The public library may seem an uninspiring milieu for crime until its possibilities are realized, but its use, together with that of other commonplace settings, sustains the interest by lending to the story a circumstantial air of veracity. In short, there is much to catch the eye, attract attention and nothing that will give the children bad dreams.

Too many beginners turn their soil and immediately start to plant. Don't begin making use of the earth the moment you have turned it over. Give the soil a chance and your garden will be the better for it.

Tomorrow Burbank discusses "Plant Needs."

KID OR CANVAS.
When cleaning silver it is wise to wear either kid or canvas gloves. Rubber gloves have a tendency to tarnish silver.

Red Rose Tea
GOOD! Because Its Fine Qualities Are Protected by the Sealed Package

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY
LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE CANADA

Reduce the Cost of Selling
—Use Long Distance

Think of Long Distance in terms of time and money saved. "Use the Bell to Sell." It is to-day the most effective form of approach to customers. Your personality, the convincing tones of your voice, will bring results when everything else fails.

"Increasing the efficiency of a sales force ten per cent is well worth while" — writes a subscriber. "We call up our travellers by Long Distance, or they call us. We encourage them, advise them, help them to secure orders. If competition arises we learn of it in time to meet it."

"Two of our most capable men look after Long Distance orders. Our Private Branch Exchange switches calls instantly to one of these men, which gives our customers the advantage of Station-to-Station rates."

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station

HAD BAD COUGH AND SORE THROAT

Never neglect a cough or cold, however slight. If you do, it can have but one result; it leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. A single dose of will help to stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs the healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, along with the soothing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs, root and bark, promptly eradicates the bad effects, and the persistent use cannot but help to bring about relief.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

Mr. Albert Marsh, Lower L'Ardoise, N. B., writes: "About a year ago I contracted a cold, accompanied by a very bad cough and sore throat. I sent for the doctor, but what he prescribed did me so little good I began to get discouraged. A friend told me of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told him I had not and sent him right away to get me a bottle. I started using it, and after a couple of days I found I was getting relief, and after taking two bottles the soreness in my throat seemed to be leaving me, so I resolved to continue its use, and after I had used five bottles both my sore throat and cough had gone, I would not be without 'Dr. Wood's' for any money."

Price, 50c and 60c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Advt.

ONTARIO MOTHER HELPS DAUGHTER

Mothers—watch your daughter's health. From the time she reaches the age of twelve until womanhood is established she needs your care and advice. Many women have suffered years of ill-health through lack of such care during this time.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for girls and women. For nearly fifty years it has been helping mothers and daughters. Let it help you and your daughter.

Hamilton, Ontario.—"When my daughter was thirteen and until she was fifteen she suffered every month so that she could hardly move around the house and when she would have the pains in school she would have to be carried home. Besides the pains and the irregularity she also had headache, dizzy and faint spells, and soreness in her back. I saw your advertisement in the 'Hamilton Spectator' and got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for her. She does not have the least bit of trouble now, and we both recommend your medicine. She works in a candy-shop now and seems well and strong."—Miss I. P. CHAPMAN, 76 Walnut St., South, Hamilton, Ontario.

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and No-body Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, grey hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it dardens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.—Advt.

SOLUTION: Dip finger in water and let a few drops down on the angle of the bent match. The match will tend to straighten from the moisture and the coin will fall through.

PARLOR FUN FOR EVERYONE

MATERIALS: Bottle, match bent but not completely broken, small coin, water.

PROBLEM: By placing the match and coin as shown at left, to cause the coin to fall into the bottle without touching or breathing on the bent match or coin.

PARLOR FUN FOR EVERYONE

SOLUTION: Dip finger in water and let a few drops down on the angle of the bent match. The match will tend to straighten from the moisture and the coin will fall through.

PARLOR FUN FOR EVERYONE

PARLOR FUN FOR EVERYONE

ST. PATRICK'S REVERSE AND BLANK MILLIONAIRES 6--0

IRISH HAD BREAKS AND FORM IN 4TH MIX

Coast Champs Go Stale and On Attacks Shot From Outside Defence—Only Six Penalties Handed Out.

TORONTO, March 26.—Whether it was the seven-man style of game, the presence of Eddie Gerard on the defence, the fighting spirit that has featured many of their games this season, or a combination of the four, makes little difference, but there is no doubt that in defeating the Vancouver Millionaires by six goals to nothing on Saturday night in the fourth game of the Stanley Cup series, the St. Patricks gave one of their best exhibitions of the season, and drew up on even terms with the Pacific Coast champions in the scramble for the mug.

The score almost gives a correct indication of the play, and after the locals had secured their two-goal lead in the first period they had it over the Vancouverites for the remainder of the game. On Thursday night everything the Irish tried to do went wrong, but the fourth game was just the reverse.

Had Breaks.
They had the breaks with them, and they attempted to win right. On the other hand, the St. Patricks looked the poorest they have in the four games yet, and appeared to be stale, Lehman and Oatman being the only ones that played up to anything like the form they have shown previously.

Lehman had to save five or six times as many shots as Roach, and every one that beat him was worth a counter. He pulled off a number of stops that were sensational, and the big score, close to the largest that has been run up against him in the last few seasons, was no fault of his, but was due to the collapse of the defense, and the fact that the locals, Duncan and Cook were only fair, and the locals penetrated them more on Saturday night than they had in any of the other games. They rushed occasionally, but on the majority of their attempts they were from outside the goal. McKay showed little on the offensive, and not much more on the defensive, and in the last part of the game he

Check Adams.
Adams was checked closer than he had been previously, and could not get away with anything like the frequency he has in other struggles. Parkes showed some work on the left boards, but he also was showing signs of staleness, or whatever it was that afflicted the coast champion in the first period, but after that was watched closely, and his threat was less dangerous. Tobin was used for the first time in the series, and worked well. The game was clean, only six penalties being imposed, of which Noble took two and Andrews and Dye one each.

The line-ups:
St. Patricks—Roach, goal; Stuart and Dye, defense; Noble, center; Noble, rover; Dye and Smylie, wings; Andrews, substitute.
Vancouver—Lehman, goal; Cook and Duncan, defense; Adams, center; McKay, rover; Skinner and Parkes, wings; Oatman and Tobin, substitutes.
Referee—Cooper Smeaton, Montreal.

BEACHVILLE NINE IS ORGANIZED

INGERSOLL, March 26.—Much enthusiasm marked the annual meeting of the Beachville Baseball Club. It was decided to accept the South Oxford Baseball League, and a stronger team than last year is expected.

L.C.I. FIVE DIDN'T PLAY STRATFORD

STRATFORD, March 26.—London Juvies refused to take the floor Saturday evening for the final game in the Juvenile O. B. A. series. Sedco, who handled the game in Woodstock, was not present, and the referee, who visited refused to accept the substitute.

MEL COOGAN WINS.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Mel Coogan, the champion light weight, last night defeated Jimmy Hanson of Denver, receiving the judge's decision after a twelve-round contest.

Happy, restful days at CHALFONTE-HADDON HALL

Atlantic City, N. J.
The original Haddon Hall, closed during construction of the new Boardwalk Wing of Haddon Hall, has now reopened, while the Wing nears completion.

Happy, restful days at CHALFONTE-HADDON HALL

Atlantic City, N. J.
The original Haddon Hall, closed during construction of the new Boardwalk Wing of Haddon Hall, has now reopened, while the Wing nears completion.

Happy, restful days at CHALFONTE-HADDON HALL

Atlantic City, N. J.
The original Haddon Hall, closed during construction of the new Boardwalk Wing of Haddon Hall, has now reopened, while the Wing nears completion.

Happy, restful days at CHALFONTE-HADDON HALL

Atlantic City, N. J.
The original Haddon Hall, closed during construction of the new Boardwalk Wing of Haddon Hall, has now reopened, while the Wing nears completion.

Happy, restful days at CHALFONTE-HADDON HALL

Atlantic City, N. J.
The original Haddon Hall, closed during construction of the new Boardwalk Wing of Haddon Hall, has now reopened, while the Wing nears completion.

Happy, restful days at CHALFONTE-HADDON HALL

Atlantic City, N. J.
The original Haddon Hall, closed during construction of the new Boardwalk Wing of Haddon Hall, has now reopened, while the Wing nears completion.

Happy, restful days at CHALFONTE-HADDON HALL

Atlantic City, N. J.
The original Haddon Hall, closed during construction of the new Boardwalk Wing of Haddon Hall, has now reopened, while the Wing nears completion.

Happy, restful days at CHALFONTE-HADDON HALL

Atlantic City, N. J.
The original Haddon Hall, closed during construction of the new Boardwalk Wing of Haddon Hall, has now reopened, while the Wing nears completion.

Sport Flashes From Southern Camps

EXHIBITION BASEBALL.
At New Orleans, March 25.—R.H.E. 7 13 1
Brooklyn (N. L.) 4 13 3
At Hot Springs, March 25.—R.H.E. 2 7 4
Pittsburg (N. L.) 2 7 4
Boston (A. L.) 10 0
At Los Angeles, March 26.—R.H.E. 6 11
Chicago (N. L.) 6 11
Los Angeles (P. L.) 13 0
At Dallas, March 26.—R.H.E. 4 8 0
Chicago (A. L.) 4 8 0
New York (N. L.) 7 9 2

Detroit, March 25.—The Rochester International League Club have one game to their credit after five defeats at the hands of the Detroit Americans. The teams in Charleston, S. C., today are playing a series of practice games through the Carolines.

Rochester outbatted Detroit Friday and won 7 to 2, while Hughes held the Tigers' hits well scattered. Blue was the only major leaguer to make more than one hit. Woodard and Hanev hit doubles, and Hellmann's best effort was a triple.

Cleveland, March 25.—A game played between the Cleveland Americans and Dallas of the Texas League at Dallas yesterday was won by Cleveland 12 to 7.

Pittsburg, March 25.—Settling down into real season style, the Pittsburg Pirates' regulars defeated the Yankinians yesterday at Hot Springs, Ark. 3 to 2, advice informed followers here. It was a nine-inning nip-and-tuck battle all the way.

PROVINCIAL SOCCER OPENS APRIL 15

Utilities Go To Hamilton For Two Games, Good Friday and on 15th.

The meeting of the Provincial Soccer League, according to Tommy Hodgkinson, city member of the schedule committee, contained itself largely with arranging the best month's schedule. Public interest in the game is growing, and the Utilities draw as their first assignment a visit to Sons of England, Hamilton, on April 15. As the Utilities are scheduled to play an all-star Hamilton team to pay off the "I O U" given by the London and District for shortsightedness in which a match was held on Good Friday, it means that the locals will have anything but ideal conditions in which to make a debut in the new provincial organization.

The schedule for the first month's play is as follows:

April 15, London Public Utilities at Hamilton S. O. E.
Guelph Taylor-Forbes at Brantford Cockshuts.
Hamilton City Vets at Toronto Caledonians.

April 22, Hamilton S. O. E. at Guelph Taylor-Forbes.
Brantford Cockshuts at Hamilton City Vets.
Galt at London Public Utilities.
Toronto Caledonians at Brantford Massey-Harris.

April 29, Brantford Massey-Harris at Hamilton City Vets.
Hamilton City Vets at Galt.
Brantford Cockshuts at London Public Utilities.
Guelph Taylor-Forbes at Toronto Caledonians.

May 6, Galt at Guelph Taylor-Forbes.
Brantford Cockshuts at Brantford Massey-Harris.
Hamilton S. O. E. at Hamilton City Vets.
London Public Utilities and Toronto Caledonians will probably play a bye at London May 24.

HAMS GET FIELD TO PERFORM IN

HAMILTON, March 25.—The Hamilton Michigan-Ontario League, which has been homeless since the Hamilton Athletic Association refused to let it play in the cricket grounds, has at last found grounds. It will play on the Scott property, owned by the city, which will be greatly improved. The amateurs, who had at first threatened to take out an injunction if the city granted the professionals the right to play the Scott property, have reached a satisfactory agreement with the M.-O. team.

QUEER A DAY

There is a runner on third and one out. The batter hits a fly ball to left center. Both left and center fielders start after the ball. The left fielder tries to make a catch in his gloved hand. He deflects the ball, which is caught by the right fielder before it touches the ground. When can the runner on third start for the plate? Must he wait until the play is actually completed, or can he start the moment the ball strikes the glove of the left fielder?

The runner has a right to start for the plate the moment the ball strikes the hands of the fielder. He need not wait until the catch is actually completed.

BREAKS FOUR WORLD'S RECORDS.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—John Weismuller of the Illinois Athletic Club, broke four world records for the men's indoor swimming championship at the University of Pennsylvania tonight, breaking four world records for the 200, 250 and 300 yards and 300 meter events. His time was 2:05 1-5, 2:41, 3:16 3-5 and 3:35 1-5.

AWARDED DECISION.

BOSTON, March 25.—Jack Malone of St. Paul was awarded the decision last night over Augie Ratner of New York, after he had finished with a burst of speed in the tenth round. In the other rounds the fight was closely contested. The men are middleweights.

OPEN LACROSSE MAY 24.

CHATHAM, March 25.—The Chatham Lacrosse Club is planning to hold a field day on May 24, and will officially open the lacrosse season in the city on that date. Plans are being made for at least two games of lacrosse for that day.

Shamrocks Win the Ontario Basketball Title Second Time

SMALL WASPS' VETS COME BACK

Former Beat R. C. R. Juniors in Second Game Between Two 1-0.

WERE TWO GOALS IN REAR

Army and Navy's Reorganized Team Put Up Plucky Uphill Fight To Draw.

Another twin bill was the order of the day on Carling Heights Saturday, when Grand Trunk Apprentices in their return friendly game with R. C. R. Juniors played last week's double and romped home winners by one goal to nil. In the second game, between the R. C. R. Seniors and the reorganized Army and Navy aggregation, the latter eleven came from behind a score of 2-0 in the middle of the second period, pluckily pulling up to an equal footing to a 2-2 tie. Both games were witnessed by an extremely large crowd of spectators who were kept right throughout the two battles on the tip-top of expectancy. Outside of the usual Carling Heights southeast wind the weather was ideal with the playing ground, thanks to the good efforts of the R. C. R. fatigue party, being in a much better condition than the previous Saturday.

The Juniors as formerly opened the afternoon's proceedings. Both the Grand Trunk Apprentices and R. C. R. Juniors showed a few changes in their respective line-ups.

R. C. R. tried out a new custodian in the person of Richard, who didn't do so badly, considering that this was his first soccer game. Both elevens took the field in the nick of condition, with the R. C. R. Juniors standing out prominently, owing to their rather pronounced headgear, which they wore in the form of a helmet.

On Henderson kicking off for Grand Trunk, things immediately became mighty interesting, with the Grand Trunk side being held pretty well to mid-field by the soldiers for the first few minutes, and the railwaymen were ultimately compelled to play on the defensive. At this time Carling, R. C. R.'s outside right, gaining control of the sphere, sent across a pass to the left, which was intercepted by Henderson, who secured a good opening but shot wide.

G. T. R.'s bombardment, with J. Smith, their outside right, sending in a nice shot to Richard, who saved it. The young "swallows" still compelled to play on the defensive, cleared their lines well, with Winnie, their outside right, showing great advantage. The Royals broke away at this time and made a raid into enemy territory, with Redmond, their "gingery" centre pivot, sending in a hot one to Goddard, who was found at home and gave the ball the right touch. Goddard's send was certainly a meritorious one.

The Junior Vets got away on the right flank, Henderson securing a good opening, but in his anxiousness throwing his chance away by shooting erratically. In the wind in their favor, the R. C. R. Juniors were by no means having the best of exchanges with the young Wasps. Later on the R. C. R. Juniors invaded their opponents' territory once more, with the Wasps' defence being severely tested and found sound, their whole defence playing an exceptionally fine game for the juniors. Goddard, between their sticks, was at this time saving some miraculous shots, but were being rained in on him by R. C. R.'s peppery front quintet, who tried to play on the defense with bold Battle and Hill having good tries for goal, the former spoiling his chances with a considerably hanging on too long to the sphere. The Reds broke away come time, with the Royals' husky backs having their work cut out for them. Hymmen and Taylor both cleared their lines well. A free kick for the Reds near the Royals' goal area looked promising, but proved fruitless, with "Scotty" McKay securing the leather, but overran it out of play. The Royals' front line again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr and company held the opposing faction well at bay and well converted the shot into distance. Hymmen, the Royals' right back with a great punt, sent his right wing away, and he carried the ball down the field. Tanner sent the globe across to Hill, who sent in a shot in some, just missing his objective by inches. The Reds again took matters to the enemy's penalty area, but Farr

FIVE DIE WHEN U.S. FLYING BOAT FALLS INTO SEA

Robert Moore, Only Survivor of Ill-Fated Craft, Tells Story.

ADRIFF IN GULF STREAM

One by One Passengers Slip From Wrecked Plane Into Water.

MIAMI, Fla., March 26.—Graphic details of the loss of the flying-boat Miss Miami with five passengers were given tonight by Pilot Robert Moore from his bed in a local hospital where he is slowly recovering from the effects of his 55-hour fight against thirst, starvation and dangers of the Gulf Stream.

Moore had thrown off entirely the delirium from which he was suffering when picked up yesterday by the tanker William Green, but the attending physicians said there was grave danger of his developing pneumonia from his exhausted condition and prolonged exposure. While the pilot, still shaken with horror of his experience, told his story crews of seaplanes and naval vessels were returning from a fruitless all-day search for the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. August Bulte and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Smith of Kansas City, and Mrs. J. S. Dickson of Memphis, who had occupied the passenger pit of the Miss Miami when she took off Wednesday morning supposedly for a 46-minute flight, to the Island of Bimini. The search will be continued tomorrow.

Propeller Part Breaks.

"We left Miami," said Moore, "at 11:04 o'clock last Wednesday morning in the face of a stiff northeasterly wind. At 11:41, about three minutes out of Bimini, something broke off the propeller. I automatically looked for a ship or a shoal, to land by. I saw a fishing smack and volplaned down to the water about a mile away in its course.

"I asked the passengers not to be afraid. We were in no immediate danger and the craft was drawing nearer. The wind, however, was rising and before long the hull of the boat sprang a leak. The nose of the plane began rising. Then a big wave came along and lifted us. The plane turned over and we were all thrown into the sea.

"Mrs. Bulte came to the surface, then Mr. Smith and Mrs. Smith. Of the three none could swim. I succeeded in getting them to the overturned plane. Mrs. Dickson and Mr. Bulte had not appeared on the surface. Mrs. Bulte made this discovery.

Failed to Pick Them Up.

"My God, my husband! Where is he?" cried, told him he would be all right in a few minutes and I saw boats pass and waved to them, but none saw me. As dusk ap-

"Too Old For Sprinting," But Knocks Weapon From Thief To Foil Robbery

CLEVELAND, March 26.—"Like fun I will. I can die only once, and I'm an old man anyway!"

That was the response of John Hueter, jeweler, 1042 E. 123rd street, to the command emphasized with a menacing revolver in a businesslike position of—

"Throw up your hands, and don't waste any time doing it!"

Hueter's retort was accompanied by an athletic swing that knocked the weapon from the grasp of the young and well-dressed man who held it.

This took place in Hueter's store yesterday afternoon. Then the veteran jeweler reached for the revolver which he kept beside his cash register—"For just such emergencies," as he told police afterward.

But the weapon had not been fired for five years and refused to fire—until the two men, the erstwhile gun-wielder and his accomplice, were fleeing out the door. Then the last cartridge of the six let go, but missed its mark.

The jeweler reported to police he followed the would-be robbers for two blocks before they eluded him. "I think I could have licked 'em both, if the counter hadn't been in the way, but I guess I'm getting too old to do much sprinting," he said afterward. Nothing was taken from the store.

proached Friday evening I began to believe that it was all up. I tied a rope to my neck, but I was so weak that it seemed there wasn't much use. I guess I was unconscious when the boat came after me, for I don't remember much more."

PLAYS GOVERNMENT ON G. T. R. ISSUE

Anonymous Writer in British Weekly Review Discusses Arbitration Matter.

CLAIMS MANIPULATION

Stresses Divergences Between Findings of Taft and Canadian Mediators.

LONDON, ENGLAND, March 26.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The Outlook, a sixpenny weekly review, with 20 years of existence, contains a four column anonymous letter headed "A Dishonest Dominion?" discussing the Grand Trunk arbitration matter.

No New Arguments.

The article does not advance any new arguments on behalf of aggrieved shareholders, but it is remarkable for the extremity of its expressions amounting indeed to vituperation.

"It is now more than two years," says the article, "since the manipulators at Ottawa, by daring and unscrupulous trickery befuddled this railway organization into an arbitration."

The article proceeds to stress the divergences between the findings of W. H. Taft, "a man not likely to be amenable to Canadian political pressure," and the two Canadian arbitrators.

"If some central American country swindled British investors out of not less than $48,000,000 by methods which were used in Canada we think collision with the Monroe Doctrine might be risked in an effort to do something about it."

The paper professes to hold no brief for the Grand Trunk "which may, for all we know, have been the worst managed concern in Christendom," but it proceeds to recapitulate the government assistance by the Grand Trunk's recent figures showing improvement in revenue.

Fraud and Abuses.

The Outlook, after talking further of "fraud and abuses" concludes: "We know of course that the people of Canada are no less honest than our own people or than the Australians or the Americans. We feel confident, when they realize how the good name of their country is being ruined abroad by the action of a few of their politicians and legal luminaries, they will press for an extensive investigation."

ALDERMEN THROW OUT CITY MANAGER PLAN

Chatham Council After Heated Discussion Drops Proposal Favored By Citizens.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, March 25.—Following the action of the city council in caucus last evening, when it threw out the proposition to appoint a city manager, ratepayers today expressed considerable astonishment at the high-handedness of the council.

The general consensus of opinion was that the city council had proved it was not sincere in its attitude towards the city government bill because it had disregarded the vote of the people, which has been taken twice on the city manager form of government.

One alderman described last night's caucus as "a bear garden." The discussion was the hottest on record, and at one stage of the proceedings one alderman started out, but was called back. Finally after some alleged "disgraceful" scenes a vote was taken, the result being a tie, which automatically quashed the motion.

It was stated today that the main argument of the aldermen who opposed the city manager plan, was that they had to be shown how the city was to benefit by a change in the system of civic government.

CALL "PUSSYFOOT" TO SOUTH AFRICA

LONDON, March 25.—(Canadian Press Cable).—It is proposed to invite "Pussyfoot" Johnson to visit South Africa, where the movement in favor of local option is growing rapidly, says Reuter's Cape Town correspondent.

The temperance party there lays stress on the fact that prohibition was enforced on the Rand for ten weeks during the strike. The Cape wine growers threaten to secede from the Dutch Reformed Church, which supports the movement for local option. It is believed that the government is not averse to prohibition, as it hopes to placate the wine growers by offering them compensation if their vines are uprooted and replaced by cereals. Acceptance of local option would have been facilitated the past season owing to a great surplus of grapes and an overproduction of wine. This was so considerable as to lead to the destruction of large quantities of raw wine.

EXPECT TORIES TO OPPOSE BILL

Ottawa Circles Anticipate Mild Criticism On Interim Supply Measure.

TORONTO WILL BE BUSY

Legislature Opens Week With Three-Contentious Matters On Program.

OTTAWA, March 26.—(By Canadian Press).—Discussion of the interim supply bill asking the house to vote one-fourth the total estimates, or approximately $116,745,829.75, will be the chief business before the Commons tomorrow. The introduction of the bill was forecast by Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, before the house rose on Friday.

The approach of the end of the fiscal year, March 31, makes the measure necessary in order that the government may obtain funds to carry on until the main estimates are approved.

That the supply bill will meet with a measure of opposition from the Conservatives is regarded as a certainty, although it was understood tonight that the official opposition would not resort to blocking. Last year the Liberals, then in opposition, made strenuous opposition to the passage of interim supply.

The house may also deal with the resolution of Sir Lomer Gouin, minister of justice, which asks the appointment of an additional judge of the court of appeals in Saskatchewan at a salary of $9,000 a year.

Another resolution for confirmation tomorrow is that asking authorization for the government to advance $1,500,000 to the corporation of the Quebec harbor commissioners in order to provide additional terminal facilities at that port.

If the interim supply bill is not met with strong opposition it is likely that discussion of the program

Besides the budget debate, Hon. W. E. Ransay's bill to authorize a settlement of the government's claims against the Shelvin-Clarke Company and do away with the necessity of pressing its claim in the courts and the attorney-general's piece of legislation to wipe out direct appeals to the privy council will be taken up.

The budget debate will be reached until Thursday unless the program is changed, which means that it is good for another week after that. The full program suggests that W. H. Casselman's resolution, demanding the suspension of the dairy standards act, will hardly be brought forward at a week's notice.

The premier is said to be reluctant to let the matter into the house since the passage of the resolution would precipitate a very serious situation within the government ranks. Hon. Manning Doherty is committed to the dairy standards act.

FACE WEEK OF INTEREST.

TORONTO, March 26.—The Ontario Legislature is facing a week of exceptional interest with three contentious matters on the program.

Besides the budget debate, Hon. W. E. Ransay's bill to authorize a settlement of the government's claims against the Shelvin-Clarke Company and do away with the necessity of pressing its claim in the courts and the attorney-general's piece of legislation to wipe out direct appeals to the privy council will be taken up.

The budget debate will be reached until Thursday unless the program is changed, which means that it is good for another week after that. The full program suggests that W. H. Casselman's resolution, demanding the suspension of the dairy standards act, will hardly be brought forward at a week's notice.

The premier is said to be reluctant to let the matter into the house since the passage of the resolution would precipitate a very serious situation within the government ranks. Hon. Manning Doherty is committed to the dairy standards act.

ADDRESSES BRANCH OF U. F. O. AT ST. MARYS

C. Avery Explains Operations of New Province of Ontario Savings Bank.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. MARYS, March 26.—The regular meeting of the U. F. O. local branch was held in the town hall on Saturday afternoon and was largely attended.

C. Avery, manager of the local Province of Ontario Savings Bank, gave a short address, in which he explained thoroughly the working of this new institution.

A successful bazaar was held on Saturday afternoon in St. James' parish hall under the auspices of the junior branch of the Women's Auxiliary. The afternoon's proceeds amounted to $123. Mrs. Worsley, the superintendent was ably assisted by Miss Olive Bonis, both of whom helped to make the affair a success.

A successful afternoon tea and sale of home-made cooking was held on Saturday under the auspices of the Community Club in its spacious rooms on Wellington street south. Nearly $75 was realized.

FEAR 18 DEAD IN COLORADO MINE

TRINIDAD, Col., March 25.—Nine men are known to have perished, and nine others were missing today as a result of an explosion in Sophris Mine, No. 2, of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company near here yesterday afternoon.

Eight of the nine bodies recovered from the mine have been identified. Rescue crews worked all night in efforts to rescue the nine men imprisoned or to recover their bodies.

According to company officials, the eighteen dead men were the only ones in the mine when the explosion occurred. The day shift of 300 men had left the mine just a few minutes before the accident, the officials said.

The cause of the explosion has not been learned.

LYNN GIRL BANDIT ROBS ILL WOMAN

LYNN, Mass., March 25.—A girl bandit, masked and armed with a revolver, stepped through a window into the bedroom where Mrs. Arthur Natrona lay sick early today, bound the woman with the bedclothes, and ransacked the bureau drawers. She escaped with $20 while other members of the family were asleep in adjoining rooms. The police obtained a description of the young woman from a baker who saw her leave the house.

Kitchener To Dispense With Services of Policewoman.

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, March 26.—

Chief Constable O'Neill of the local police force announced here today that after May 1 Kitchener would have no policewoman. He declared that the services of the policewoman would have to be dispensed with owing to the fact that the council had cut $2,000 off the estimates of the police commission.

It had been the intention of the commission to retain the services of the policewoman and to add a motor cycle policeman to the force in an effort to cut down the speeding so prevalent in the city streets.

The estimates as pared by the council leave the commission only able to provide for the hiring of the motor officer, and this makes necessary the dropping of the policewoman. The movement has not met with favor in any of the various women's organizations throughout the city.

BRANT COUNTY COUNCIL HOLDS MARCH SESSION

Passes Estimates for Roads Expenditure to Amount of $341,406.82.

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, March 25.—Yesterday was a busy day for the Brant County Council. It was the March session of the county fathers, everyone of whom was on hand to facilitate handling the large amount of business transacted during the afternoon meeting.

Warden Wm. Shellington, reeve of Burford, was in the chair. Other members of the council included Reeve J. R. Henry of Brantford Township; Reeve Isaac Stewart, Paris; Reeve Chas. McIntyre, Oakland; Reeve Mortimer M. Hunter of Onondaga; Reeve James Hall, of South Dumfries; and Councillors J. R. Summerhayes and James Smith of Brantford Township; Thomas Evans, of Paris, and J. W. McEwen of Burford. County Clerk R. E. Watts was also present.

Reeve Mortimer M. Hunter of Onondaga, chairman of the roads and bridges committee, presented his report on the estimated expenditure on roads and bridges in the county during 1922. This totalled up to $341,406.82. This sum is to be raised as follows: By taxes at five mills, $62,600; by debentures, $175,000; by the province, $90,806.82; by the city of Brantford, $13,000.

CONNECTICUT TRADE IMPROVED

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 25.—Industrial conditions throughout Connecticut had notable improvement during the past week due in part to the coming of spring and the resumption of building operations.

DROUILLARD GETS 20-YEAR SENTENCE

Young Bandit Receives Severest Penalty Ever Imposed By Magistrate Gundy.

CONVICTED ON 3 CHARGES

Youth Laments Lack of Parental Care Since Age of Eleven.

WINDSOR, March 25.—Twenty years in Kingston Penitentiary, the stiffest sentence ever imposed by Magistrate Gundy, was handed out today to Russell Drouillard, 22-year-old bank and mail robber. Drouillard took his sentence very coolly. When asked if he had anything to say for himself previous to being sentenced, he mumbled that he was eleven years of age, and was obliged to shift for himself since then and that he felt that he had lost the opportunity to make good under the guidance of parental care.

For his part in the Petite Cote bank robbery on July 20 last, a sentence of ten years was imposed. A similar sentence was dealt for the shooting of George Meloche, Sandwich jail turnkey, who received a bullet in his leg, when he tried to stop Drouillard from robbing the mails on the Amherstburg car on Feb. 20, last.

On a third charge, of which he was convicted, that of conspiring to rob the Amherstburg car, he was sentenced to five years, this term to run concurrently with the twenty years.

Meloche is still confined to Hotel Dieu as a result of the shooting. Authorities state that it will be months before he will be on his feet again, and that he will probably be lame for life.

JUDGE J. T. BLAINE PASSES.

REGINA, March 26.—Hon. J. T. Blaine, aged 63, judge of the Melville district court, died Saturday of pneumonia, at his home in Melville, following a week's illness.

Judge Blaine was appointed to the bench in 1917, coming from Brampton, Ont., to Regina in 1918. He was a brother of Senator Richard Blaine.

PURITY FLOUR

More Bread and Better Bread and Better Pastry too

Use it in All Your Baking

DUNLOP

CORD TIRES FABRIC

Q "There's something in the Quality of Dunlop Tires that's missing from other tires. Don't know what it is, but when I make that quick stop I know instantly I have Dunlop Tires on!"

Q One motorist thus spoke for himself. He really was speaking for thousands of car owners.

Q Live Rubber and Best Egyptian Cotton go into Dunlop Cords and Fabrics. No shoddy, no skimping. The day of the short-mileage tire is gone; the day of the high-mileage tire is here; and when "tire-mileage" is up for discussion now, you find the word "remarkable" generally precedes a reference to DUNLOP.

DUNLOP CORD TIRES DELIVER THE MOST MILEAGE—ARE SAFEST TO USE

Dunlop Tire & Rubber Goods Co., Limited

Head Office and Factories: Toronto

Branches in the Leading Cities

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

SERVICE

TORONTO - LONDON - WINDSOR

DETROIT AND CHICAGO

ROUTE OF THE INTERNATIONAL LIMITED DAILY

Lv. Toronto (Eastern Time)	8.00 a.m.	6.00 p.m.	11.45 p.m.
Lv. Hamilton	9.18 a.m.	5.45 p.m.	1.15 a.m.
Ar. London	11.40 a.m.	9.00 p.m.	3.37 a.m.
Ar. Windsor	2.40 p.m.	11.50 p.m.	6.55 a.m.
Ar. Detroit (Central Time)	2.25 p.m.	11.30 p.m.	6.35 a.m.
Ar. Chicago	9.45 p.m.	8.10 a.m.	5.05 p.m.

Coaches, Parlor Cars, Dining Cars, Standard Drawing-Room and Observation-Library Sleeping Cars.

For full particulars as to tickets, etc., apply to Grand Trunk Ticket Agents.

87-K-18, 21, 24, 27, 29

CUNARD ANCHOR-DONALDSON

ANCHOR LINES

Canadian Services.

CUNARD LINE

MONTREAL TO LIVERPOOL.

May 6, June 10, July 15 ..... Albania

May 20, June 24, July 29 ..... Tyrrenia

July 8, Aug. 12, Sept. 16 ..... Ausonia

MONTREAL TO PLYMOUTH, CHERBOURG AND LONDON.

May 13, June 17, July 22 ..... Andania

May 27, July 1, Aug. 5 ..... Antonia

ANCHOR-DONALDSON LINE.

PORTLAND-HALIFAX-GLASGOW.

From Portland.

March 30 ..... Cassandra ..... April 1

April 13 ..... Saturnia ..... April 15

MONTREAL TO GLASGOW.

May 5, June 2, June 30 ..... Cassandra

May 19, June 16, July 14 ..... Saturnia

June 23, July 21, Aug. 18 ..... Athenia

*Calls at Moville (Ireland).

For rates of passage, freight and further particulars, apply to local agents or The Robert Reford Co., Limited, General Agents, 50 King Street East, Toronto, Ont.

Ford

The Ford car will meet your every requirement.

New Ford Prices

Effective January 16th, 1922

Chassis . . . $445

Runabout . . 495

Touring Car . 535

Truck Chassis 575

Starting and electric lighting on above models $85 extra

Coupe . . . 840

Sedan . . . 930

Closed models are fully equipped

All prices are o. b. Ford, Ontario

Government Sales Tax Extra

Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, Ford, Ontario

Everyone Is Welcome at Any of These Churches On the Sabbath Day

Preaches Science and Religion Are Allied In Fight to Conquer World

That science, working hand in hand with religion, can conquer the world for Jesus Christ, was the spirited message of Rev. W. R. McIntosh in his congregation in King Street Presbyterian church Sunday morning. He deplored the tendency of Western Hemisphere Christianity to frown upon scientific progress, pointing out that the nations of the Far East recognize the value of co-operation in science and religion with better results achieved. Unless self-control is attained no one can conquer the world Mr. McIntosh declared. With this end attained, fear, doubt, death and pain can be conquered, just as Jesus Christ made his victorious conquest. Taking for his topic "Conquering the World," he asserted that this is possible for mankind, provided that the stupendous task is tackled in the proper manner.

"Everybody knows that the world is at the feet of Jesus Christ," began Mr. McIntosh, "because he conquered it with his fear, doubt, pain, mammon and death. There are two essentials in conquering the world. Science is necessary to conquer the physical world, and religion is needed to conquer the moral world, for the benefit of men. It is a great mistake for Christian people to fight science. It is one of the most serious mistakes the Western people ever made. Not the Eastern people, as they recognize the relation. The task of science is to conquer disease, disability, and discomfort, and to abolish famine. We want scientific as well as religious missionaries to teach the people to abolish famine and plague. The task of religion is to conquer fear, pain and death in

CHRISTIANITY IS HOPE OF WOMEN

To deny the woman of India her freedom from the ancient customs she has inherited from her predecessors, would mean only to strike hope from her country, the hope of great modern changes that stand for improvement in her economic, industrial and social life, according to Lalbach, the Hindu lecturer, in presenting the basis of his sermon at St. Paul's Cathedral on Sunday morning.

In that old woman must bow throughout her entire life to the will of the man who happens to be placed in authority over her, and even when that man has passed away she is not allowed to survive in a long-deserved peace, but must follow him to the eternal abode. When she becomes married she is not merely married to a man, but to a certain man who was chosen, in her infancy, as her future husband, but who, in reality, becomes her oppressor. The birth of a boy is the cause for a joyful celebration, while a baby girl is received with a mean welcome.

Christianity Needed. And yet it would be with no small difficulty that legislation could improve the condition of affairs in India today, for the social life of such a people cannot be improved in that manner until the genuine progress of the Christian world alone has power to improve this sordid state of living in this eastern country. Christianity, that same quality which has made the civilized nations what they are at present, is the only hope which will bring genuine progress to India, and is the only teaching which can enlighten the women and children of the land, so that they will not be tied to the ancient mode of living which has made them serfs, and has caused the pitfalls in the progress of the country.

Reformers are hopefully endeavoring to wipe out the awful custom of child-marriage. They hope to educate woman, to give her a position of respect in her household, and to make her the partner, and not the servant.

Shows Her Devotion. And yet in spite of the servile relation she bears to her husband during his life, the Indian wife, at his death, demonstrates her mission of devotion to him. She can either maintain her unhappy lot as a widow or she can sacrifice herself on the funeral pyre that she may continue, in the world hereafter, to administer to her husband. Though many an Indian woman has preferred the alternative of nearly all cases found in India at the present time a great many widows existing in the unfortunate state, or at least what they consider unfortunate, through their inability to marry a second time.

GIN PILLS
FOR THE KIDNEYS
THE WORLD'S BEST REMEDY FOR KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLE

Use Baby's Own Soap
It's delightful

IMPLORES ALL TO FIND LIFE'S WAY

Rev. G. A. Leichter Pictures Lives of Felix and Paul As True Examples.

300 TURNED FROM DOORS

Adelaide Street Church Crowded As Pastor Gives Stirring Message.

"Where do you go from here?" was the subject of the sermon preached by Rev. G. A. Leichter, at Adelaide Street Baptist Church, Sunday evening, to a crowded congregation.

Taking as the texts of his discourse, "To me to live is Christ, and to die is gain," Phil. 1-21, and "When I have a more convenient season," Acts 24-26, Mr. Leichter said in part: "We are all bound somewhere and most of us under full sail. Before us lie the ways of life, some of them peopled with splendor and perfection and others dark with nameless fears and perplexities, and while we are occupied with the cares of the way we sometimes forget our direction and are lost in a wilderness where we walk in circles not knowing wither we go.

"Our life is a questionable enterprise unless we have some definite end and direction established therein. One glorious soul cried, 'To me to live is Christ and to die is gain.' 'That man's life has immortalized all that he ever said. He had a secret sense of direction established in his soul. We are pleased, even in this progressive day to follow the man who has made a success of his own life, and to this man from far away we come to him for confidence knowing that his life has immortalized his words.

Knew His Directions. He knew his directions. He followed the geography of his faith until in Rome at the place of execution he accepted that which is the end of all faith, even an eternal salvation. I turn another page and find the pen picture of another life. He is a foolish governor, flushed by the success of his position and charmed by the affections of a dangerous consort who was wickedly wonderful. To them this other man spoke, reasoning with them concerning three inconvertible facts, sin, righteousness and judgment.

"For sin they cared little. For righteousness and judgment they heard they cared least of all. If the time ever came when affairs of state, or the interests of personal life became listless or dull, they might be driven by a restless disposition to hear this seasoned old soldier of the cross concerning his message. This soul cried, 'When I have a more convenient season.'

"No hope, no light of soul and no confidence in Christ, history closed here for this man. His directions were lost in his frenzy to be satisfied in his flesh.

"Here are two divergent pathways. They are stated in the antithesis of the Book, 'To me to live is Christ and to die is gain.' To the crown of righteousness came at the moment he became the victim of a Roman execution. It never came.

"When I have a more convenient season." To this man the convenient season was his hour of execution. He was in the same fashion as it had been written carelessly and without thought of God and his Christ.

"Where do you go from here?" That depends upon the direction in which you are traveling. If you are following the same goal, the same goal of trust and the same formula of faith as followed by the first of these two men, your journey shall end in the house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

"And was there then no other way for God to take? I cannot say. I only praise Him day by day. Who saved me through my Saviour."

HARP STOP AND CHIMES ARE GIFT
Starting out last fall with the intention of installing a harp stop on the organ as a memorial to a former pastor, the authorities believe trouble is the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church has made the gift as well as one of chiming to the organ. The memorial harp and chimes will be heard for the first time at the evening musical on Monday, April 3, when Mr. Wheeler will demonstrate the utility of the organ with especially fine organ numbers. Lois Johnson, the American soprano, and Louis Gesensway, the young violinist, who met such success when he appeared at a Woman's Music Club artist's concert some months ago, are assisting in the program.

SAYS DYSPETIC NOT IN HARMONY

Addressing the members of the New Thought Society in the Higgins block Sunday afternoon, the president, Dr. Hedley V. Caton, criticized the popular view that great spirituality is sometimes veiled in an ill or a scetic-like body.

Contrary to opinions of many, Dr. Caton declared that a dyspeptic is never really a high spiritual type, in most cases his position and health being the direct result of mental inharmonious, thoughts of bitterness toward others, or of jealousy or covetousness.

Health and spirituality, physical and mental harmony, the speaker declared, are in nearly all cases found together. Whether the mental harmony produces the physical harmony, or vice versa, they are, in any event, usually coincidental.

A brief discussion, led by Dr. R. C. Barklie, followed the address.

PRINCE LEAVES CEYLON.
COLOMBO, Ceylon, March 26.—The Prince of Wales sailed from this port on the British battle cruiser Renown. He arrived here on the cruiser early in the week en route for Japan.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION AND EVANGELISM ARE NEEDED

Chancellor McCrimmon, of McMaster University, was greeted by large audiences, both morning and evening, at Talbot Street Baptist Church on Sunday.

"There are two aims," he stated at the morning service, "that we must keep before us. The first is that we shall have enough well qualified men for the ministry. Then we must strive for evangelism, and the latter practically covers the whole work.

"The church today, Talbot Street or any other, could not afford to be mean back on the history that had been made by others who in times past had ministered or served in that church. Before the war men were talking of the church as an effort of organization, as an institution that had outlived its particular function. Others took a more aggressive view and claimed that had the church been broken out, and now that the war is over they are busy wondering if we should not have some new sort of a religion.

"The greatest work in the world is to bring men back to God. Do you say," asked the speaker, "that there is no need of the Christian church to function? Then there is no need of Christ coming to this earth, and it might just as well have continued in its sin.

"The greatest and most wonderful fact that ever meets a man in his study is the state of the forgiven soul. The song of sin forgiven became the greatest theme of heaven. And do you say there is no need of your activity and of mine? There is only one word worth while, and that is the salvation of man, and if your effort is not in line with that work you better get in shape—get the real perspective of life. It lies in spiritual life, in extending the kingdom of God among men. All of

SEES ONLY SATAN IN SPIRITUALISM

Evangelist Capman Attacks It As Professedly Anti-Christian, Using Bible As Refutation.

IS SELLING HOLY SPIRIT

Claim of Cult To Heal and Foretell But Belittles Divinity, Concludes Speaker.

The Seventh Day Adventist Church was packed with people last evening to hear Evangelist Howard J. Capman's subject, "Do dead people become live ghosts?"

"We have read much of late in the newspapers about ghosts and spirits," Mr. Capman said. In Australia we read of a house repeatedly bombarded with rocks, and detectives are unable to locate the source of the marauders. The McDonald house in Nova Scotia, where the noted Dr. Prince made his investigations is fresh in our minds. A ghost in Essex is said to have hurried a truck driver bodily across the room. These are but a few of the many instances of ghost stories at hand.

"It is claimed by scientists who have searched into these instances that some of these ghosts are real beyond question. Prof. Richet of Paris declares that materializations by mediums are real, and that these visitors from the spirit world have personality, intelligence, and every attribute of a human being. He declares that he has personally talked with more than 23 deceased friends and relatives, hearing their own audible voices, including his son, and his mother. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is surely sincere, because he says: 'I have had such clear and definite evidence that I would consider myself insane if I did not accept it and a moral coward if I did not proclaim it.'

Consider Himself Untrue. Mr. Capman said he would consider himself untrue to the gospel of Christ if he did not reject the claims of spiritualism, and a moral coward if he did not proclaim against it. Sir Arthur was coming to give the gospel of spiritualism, but he wants it understood that Spiritualism and Christianity cannot agree. Indeed Doyle goes so far as to say: "We want it understood that we are anti-Christian, we are out to destroy salvation by grace."

Mr. Capman then gave the scripture from Galatians 1: 6-12 which says, "Though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel than that which we have preached, let him be accursed." The claims of Spiritualism, with its ghosts and spirits must, therefore, be accursed and put him on a level with man and mediums. According to the New Testament, Christ was not a medium, but the "one Mediator who gave himself a ransom for all."

"I must stand on the authority of God's word, and positively refuse consulting the dead," declared the speaker. "Communicating with the dead is prohibited by the Lord himself. See Deuteronomy 18: 10-12. And in the case of King Saul who consulted the witch of Endor, we read his obituary after he had gone from whence he came. Saul died for his transgression which he had committed against the Lord, even against the word of the Lord, which he kept not, and also for asking counsel of one that had a familiar spirit, to inquire of it, and inquired not of the Lord; therefore he slew him and turned the kingdom unto David the son of Jesse." "Spiritualism with its ghosts and spirits is either from God or it is not from God. Since the mediums cannot talk to the dead, and since the only other intelligent forces outside of our limited realm of existence are the forces of God and his angels, and the devil and his angels, we are forced to believe that spirit manifestations emanate from one or the other of these two forces. Bible Plainly Teaches.

"The Bible plainly teaches," continued Mr. Capman, "that Satan is a fallen angel, having sinned in heaven because he desired to be equal with God. About one-third of the angels sinned with him, and when there was no remedy, God cast them out of heaven. Coming to this earth they tempted our first parents, and caused them to rebel against God. Since then this evil host of angels have carried on their work in this world, seeking to gain control of human minds, and as far as possible possessing them. The working of evil, seducing spirits is a prediction of the Bible in 1 Timothy 4: 1. 'The saints will work with signs, and lying wonders if possible to deceive the very elect. Even he will make fire come down from heaven in the sight of men. See II. Thess. 2: 9. Rev. 13: 13.

"St. Paul was not giving a rhetorical oration when he said, in Ephesians 6: 11-12, 'But on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against wicked spirits in high places.' St. Paul knew something of the mighty force which men and women set up against. Even as in Christ's day people were literally possessed with devils. Satan can do miracles for he was one of the highest angels in heaven, and in the last days he will do many miracles to deceive men.

OUTLINES NEED OF HOLY EUCHARIST

Rev. Father Brennan Exhorts Faithful To Partake Frequently At Sacrament.

REVIEWS PRECEPTS

Short Transitory Life Should Be Considered Only in Relation To Eternity.

"If one wishes to stay away from Jesus Christ he will get results, he will stay away for all eternity," declared Father Brennan, speaking at high mass at St. Peter's on Sunday. Frequent communion was the message which the speaker had for his hearers, taking his theme from the 6th chapter, 54th verse of St. John: "Amen, Amen. I say unto you; unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you shall not have life in you."

Father Brennan, in his reference to the Gospel of the day, which dealt with the story of the feeding of the multitude with the barley loaves and fishes, said this event came in the second year of Christ's public ministry, and the day before he made the promise of the Blessed Eucharist.

"It would seem unnecessary to insist on the necessity of obligation of obeying this command of Christ to partake of himself," said the speaker, "let alone making it necessary for the church to force this command by precept and to impose a harsh penalty on those failing to observe it.

"And it is not more strange that there should be a single one in the church, whose attention should be drawn to this great obligation," said Father Brennan, who asked: "Who can hear these words and command, and still find himself, not only not fulfilling it, but restraining himself from taking advantage of receiving, at every opportunity, this bread of breads?"

Grasping at Shadow. The speaker touched on the heroic battles put up by humans to protest and nourish their human lives, and ward off death, "grasping at a shadow," he termed it, adding that all the time, that greater life is forgotten, that life for which Christ gave the greatest gift, even blood.

"That life means so much to us," said the speaker, contending that it was the only life to cling to, and reminding his hearers of our Lord's promise, "I will raise him up on the last day."

"Consider this short, transitory life only in its relation to the life of which it is the basis," admonished the speaker. "The Holy Mother Church, knowing the weakness of her children and the tendency to procrastination, particularly as to the time when this divine obligation must be fulfilled," said Father Brennan, pointing out that this period fell at Easter time, and that all those who had reached the age of reason are obliged to fulfill this obligation of frequent communion, said the speaker, "if living we do not associate ourselves or enter into the communion of the Lord, in death we cannot associate with the faithful, and in this regard the Holy Mother Church has been very wise, and in this regard the church denied such persons the right of burial in consecrated ground, adding that the person had cut himself off. He alone was responsible.

"While once a year is the minimum set by the Catholic Church for the receiving of communion, she periodically calls attention to the necessity of frequent communion," said Father Brennan, touching first on the reference in this regard contained in the Council of Trent and to another made within the memory of most of his hearers. This reference was by Pope Pius X, who, referring to the practice of the early days, when daily communion was the order, expressed the fear that "we have been appreciative of the greatness of this gift."

This message addressed to the Catholics by the pope, the speaker termed a "clarion call to frequent holy communion," adding that frequent communion means lively faith, "while one or two years absence from the sacrament was tantamount to a body, designating a soul that is dead."

"If a person does wish to stay away from Jesus Christ it is a wish he gets, and will result in his staying away for all eternity."

The speaker concluded with the declaration that no greater respect could be shown our Lord than the frequent reception of his body and blood, and that on the last day it will bring the reward of being raised up by him with whom we have frequently associated in life."

LINER BRINGS RECORD CARGO

ST. JOHN, N. B., March 26.—The Canadian Pacific liner Scandinavian, from Antwerp, Havre and Southampton, docked here this morning after an uneventful voyage. Carrying a total of 2,900 tons of cargo, including 500 tons of grain, the Scandinavian, with perhaps one exception, brought the largest quantity of freight recorded for any steamer this winter.

Rev. Canon Sage Makes Plea For Universal Brotherhood

The beautiful, transcendent example of Joseph's forgiveness of his brethren, formed the basis of an eloquent plea voiced by Rev. Canon Sage during the evening service at St. Paul's Cathedral, for the universal brotherhood of man, which only the teaching of Christ can make possible.

"Something is necessary to break up the present complacency and placidity of men, to leaven the whole of humanity and bring about better social conditions in a world, stirred like an angry sea with sin and sorrow.

World Is Unconscious of Real Need of God, Says Rev. Warner

The greatest sin of the world is its unconsciousness of the real need of the bread of God, according to Rev. Quintin Warner, in his sermon at Croydon Memorial Church on Sunday morning.

Referring to his text, "And a great multitude followed Him because they saw His miracles which He did on them that were diseased" (St. John, vi, 2), the pastor asked why it was that the multitude followed Christ across the Sea of Galilee. To such a question, the cynic would reply that only curiosity led the multitude, while the thoughtful person would answer that hunger was the motive that guided the crowd, for did not curiosity, when seriously considered, amount to hunger?

"Christ is the bread of life to all who believe in Him, and through their belief, can adjust themselves to the kingdom of God and His righteousness. When faith on the part of man was lacking, Christ could not satisfy. The miracle whereby Christ fed five thousand men with five loaves and three small fishes, is a demonstration of His ability, given certain conditions.

"Christ possesses the power to answer the great need of the people, but the people must truly recognize their own real needs, if they would be satisfied. And then they must co-operate with Him, for Jesus said: 'I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall never hunger.' The music during the service was effective. Clarence E. Gilmore, the organist, rendered both the "Prelude in A" by Alfred Hollins, and Victor Marchot's "Cortège," the postlude in superior style. During the offertory, Miss Kathleen Gibson, in a voice of good musical quality, sang "Teach Me To Pray," Jewitt.

GIVE RUSSIAN AID AT ST. ANDREW'S

Following the close of the evening service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, a number of young people remained Sunday evening for the "home hour," and many expressed their regret that it was to be the last of the season. A suggestion was made that a collection might be taken up for Russian relief, with the result that $60.75 was put on the plate. Charlie McGill presided.

Address also was given by Mr. P. W. K. Harris, director of religious education, and the singing of hymns followed. Mr. and Mrs. Ward Casselman and Mrs. T. A. Rowat were host and hostesses, serving coffee and cake.

GIVES $8,000 FOR PARK

E. L. Cockshutt Helps Toward Making Mohawk Park Home of Amateur Athletics.

BRANTFORD, March 26.—Mr. E. L. Cockshutt has advised Ald. A. M. Harley that he is prepared to place at the disposal of the board of parks and commissioners the sum of $8,000 for the purpose of developing Mohawk Park as a center for amateur athletics. According to the estimate furnished at a meeting of the board a few weeks ago this sum will provide for the inclosure of the playing field by a proper fence and will also defray the cost of bleachers. "No conditions are attached to the gift," Mr. Cockshutt hopes, however, the board will encourage in every possible way the use of the grounds as a center for amateur athletics and that they will also develop the rest of the park so that it will be an attractive place for the citizens of Brantford to hold picnics and outings. To this end he hopes the park will be kept from so-called "attractions" of a Coney Island character, and that development of the rest of the park should be towards enhancing the beauty of the park and the interest of the citizens of Brantford. The money will be placed at the disposal of the board, as it may be required.

MASONS WORSHIP IN JEWISH TEMPLE

MONTREAL, March 26.—For the first time in the history of the craft in America, a divine service under the auspices of a Masonic lodge was given in a Jewish place of worship, the function taking place today, when Corinthian Lodge, No. 62, A. F. and A. M., Q. R. assembled at the Temple Emanuel, Westmont, a suburb of this city. Representatives from lodges in Toronto, San Francisco and New York were present at the service, and the occasion was marked by a Masonic emblem illuminated by electric lamps being placed on the pulpit in front of the reading desk.

ADJOURNS SUNDAY CANDY SALE CAUSE

Special to London Advertiser. KITCHENER, March 26.—Sunday selling in local confectionery stores proved a house of contention in police court Saturday. A case was up in which a local confectioner was charged with selling candy on Sunday to a boy. The boy was put on the witness stand and stated that he was made to sit at a table while the candy was served, although he stated he did not sit with him and ate it on the street. The magistrate adjourned the case for the purpose of determining if the confectioner stayed within the law by this method of selling.

PLAN RECEPTION TO BARON BYNG

Special to London Advertiser. PARIS, March 25.—Arrangements for the reception of Baron Byng of Vimy are now nearly completed. Lord Byng will visit Paris on April 13, a reception that he will not soon around 5 p.m. The various committees intend to give Baron Byng a reception at the station. The reception committee, and a guard of honor, supplied by the G. W. V. A. After the inspection of the guard the school children will sing "O Canada," under the direction of Mr. Mulherson. After this a parade will be formed, headed by the band, war veterans, high and public school cadets, and children from the public and separate schools will march to the new arena, where a public reception will be tendered Baron and Lady Byng.

Skin Tortured Babies Sleep Mothers Rest After Cuticura

Musterole is easy to apply and it does not blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Simply massage it in gently with the finger tips. You will be relieved to see how quickly it brings relief. Get Musterole at your drug store. 35¢ 65¢, jars & tubes; hospital size, $3. BETTER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

CRAIG TO MEET
OTHER LEADERS

Northern Ireland Premier and Colleagues Accept London Invitation.

ARMY CONVENTION ENDS

Total of Week-End Fatalities Following Disorders in Belfast Is Seven.

BULLETIN.
London, March 27.—The Irish free state bill passed its third and final reading in the House of Lords today.

Belfast, March 27.—The Ulster cabinet at its session today accepted the invitation extended by Colonial Secretary Churchill to a conference in London of Irish leaders, called in view of the disturbed conditions in Ireland.

Premier Sir James Craig, telegraphing acceptance in behalf of the Ulster cabinet, said members of the northern government will arrive in London Wednesday.

There was much sniping last evening in the network of streets between Grosvenor street and the Falls road.
A woman was wounded. Soldiers and military forces appeared in motor cars and fired, killing two men and wounding another; they then searched the district.

Deaths in the hospitals of two wounded persons late last night brought the total of fatalities in the disorders of the week-end to seven.

INDIA UNFIT FOR SELF-GOVERNMENT

Noted Hindu Lecturer Pays Tribute To Government of Country By British.

MIRACLE IS WORKED

Rotary Club Members Pass Resolution of Condolence to Family of Late J. B. McKillop.

Predicting that India will ultimately become a self-governing nation, Mr. Mahabaksh, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in India, speaking to members of the Rotary Club at luncheon Monday branded the present unrest of that empire a "rank nonsense."

The speaker, who impressed his audience with a familiarity of his subject, thoroughly reviewed the growth of India, and analysed the present unrest.

In his remarks the visitor pointed out that the first unrest expression of political unrest in India came in 1906.

"In 1910 the unrest apparently died out but there was always unrest among the higher classes who were not favored with government appointments. One of the greatest causes of political unrest in India is the education system. The youths were educated for years for government posts which was quite all right as long as there was a demand for them. When the service became as it was saturated the unrest started."

"Unrest in India practically died out in 1912, and the government was startled, and rightly so, because it was the lull before the storm. Things were preparing for an actual revolution in India, and some people outside India, and not within the British Empire, knew more about it than those in India."

Mentioning the fact that 94 per cent of India's population is illiterate, the speaker paid tribute to British rule, and declared that for this reason his country is not ripe for self-government.

"There was 157 languages spoken in India," said he, "and it is a miracle that the British have kept it a unified nation. It is rank nonsense for the agitators to talk of self-government
now. They cannot do it."

During the meeting a resolution of condolence was passed by a standing vote to the widow and daughter of J. B. McKillop, a former member of the Rotary Club. In moving the resolution Jared Vining said: "His death means to this club a loss of a very valuable member, to the community a loss of a very valuable servant and to us the loss of a friend indeed."

Rotarian Whitman also paid tribute to the late crown attorney, D.
George Clark, president of the Advertising Club, spoke briefly on Boy's Week, mentioning the fact that Industrial Day on Tuesday, April 17, is the day for the Rotary Club to take charge of the boys.

PLANS SPECIAL MEDICAL SESSION

The executive of the Western Academy of Medicine have issued notices of a special session to be held in the medical school auditorium commencing 2 p.m. Friday, March 31. The session is part of a "get-acquainted" effort and an elaborate program has been arranged.

Dr. R. D. Rudolf of the University of Toronto will deliver an address on the "Use of Cardiac Stimulants in the Treatment of Disease," which will be followed by an address by Dr.
Clifford C. Grulee of the Rush Medical College of Chicago on the "Institution and Termination of Breast Feeding."

A pediatric clinic will precede the address of professor J. P. McMurry of the University of Toronto on "Vaginitis and Its Precursors," which commences at 5 p.m. The opportunity of Professor McMurry's address is by the courtesy of the Medical Historical Society of Western University.

Introductory to the conference,
there will be a luncheon in the Recumb House, commencing at 12:30 p.m.

FLOCK HAS HAND
IN SMALL QUEST

Toronto, March 27.—While no action on the part of the police is reported today in the A. J. Small mystery, several incidents have occurred which point toward renewed efforts to solve the baffling ten-seven-months disappearance.

The arrival of E. F. W. Flock, soldier of the 101st, in the city, has also caused a flurry in the case. Mr. Flock had been prominently identified with it through being the last reported individual to have talked with the missing man on the night of Tuesday, December 2. It was said Mr. Flock had come to Toronto after hearing of Mr. Small's entrance in the mystery, but this has since been denied, it being stated that Mr. Flock is in Toronto on legal business, irrespective of the Small mystery.

AIM TO PREVENT
KIDDIES' REMOVAL

Soldier Organizations Desire Children Kept in London, Not Toronto, Institutions.

WANT HOSTEL HERE

Urge Homes Should Be Distributed at Convenient Points All Through Province.

Early action to prevent the removal of London children to Toronto by the Child Welfare Branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission was predicted by an official of one of London's soldier associations Monday morning. He said that citizens interested in the care of soldiers' children were preparing for action.

This step is the result of an announcement in The Advertiser on Saturday that John Connor, 51 Oak street, had recently been advised by letter from L. E. Lowman, who was sent here from Toronto a few months ago to take over the child welfare work of the commission, that it had been decided that no child would be kept in London for a longer period than three months. After the expiration of this period, the letter stated, children must be transferred to one of the commission's hostels in Toronto.

Pointed comment is being made on what is being termed "this arbitrary action" of the Child Welfare department of the commission, and the contention is that there should have been a host of established hostels in a year ago when the local Soldiers' Aid executive petitioned for one. The prayer of the petition was rejected and all hostels were located in Toronto.

Not a little criticism of this action is based on economy grounds. Many of the children are taken hundreds of miles from their parents, resulting in expensive train trips in order to visit the children. One social worker went so far as to condemn this policy altogether, declaring that a home could be operated much more economically in London, and that the children would be happier and the parents more satisfied and contented.

It is also being pointed out that the commission has been authorized by the Legislature to establish hostels with provincial money so that no one community has more claim to a hostel than another, and they should therefore be located at convenient points throughout the province rather than all in the one city.

MINISTERS WILL PLAN
"CHURCH AND BOY DAY"

Alliance Undertakes Program For Sunday of Boy's Week in March.

The executive of the Ministerial Alliance will meet in the Y. M. C. A.
Tuesday afternoon to discuss a program for the "Boy and the Church Day" of the Boys' Week which is being observed in the city during the month of March.

The Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Ministerial Alliance and other organizations in the city are each to arrange a program for the Sunday.

It has been suggested that boys attend church, individual churches rather than meeting in one particular church, while the suggestion is offered by some that there should be special service of each denomination.

These and various other suggestions for the program will be discussed at the meeting. The executive, and their reports will be submitted to the general committee of the Boys' Week, which meets in the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday evening.

WOULD GIVE NAME
ORIGINAL MEANING

To bring the name of Christ back to its original meaning as it was understood in the minds of the disciples, was the principal thought in the sermon preached by Rev. R. D.
Mess at St. David's Church on Sunday morning.

Just as the disciples aimed at all times to carry out the teachings of Christ, so must mankind of the present day aim to regulate his life according to high Christian ideals, according to the example set by the disciples.

"And the disciples were first called Christians in Antioch" (Acts 11:25) was the text of the pastor's sermon.
At first the name disciple meant a name of reproach, but it has outlived that name and was afterwards understood to mean "Follower of Christ," the appointed one.

In the Old Testament times three classes were appointed, namely, the prophets, the priests and the kings, and Jesus was the Christ in the fullest sense, for He was all three combined.

As the pastor said, "Christianity must ever keep its missionary aspect. The name Christ must be brought back to its original meaning."

TRIMMINGS.
One of the cleverest ways of trimming the new taffeta ribbon is with graduated. The widest of ribbon valet, skirt and the narrowest is put on last. Sometimes as many as 12 such bands are used.

THREE KILLINGS
STIR NEW YORK

One Shot in Crowd and Another At Social Entertainment.

WOMAN LURES FIRST

Converses With Victim As Taxi Gunmen Draw Near, Shooting Through Door.

New York, March 27.—Three men were shot to death under mysterious circumstances in New York last night and early today. One man, lured by a fashionably dressed young woman, was shot down by a pair of gunmen, who fired from window of a taxicab.
Another was slain as he walked through a crowd of pedestrians in 110th street at Fifth avenue. The third victim, propped between two men standing in a Brooklyn street, was loaded into a taxicab and taken to a hospital. He was dead upon arrival.

Henry Stein, a young chauffeur, walked in the 110th street crowd, a muffled report was heard. Stein fell to the sidewalk. He was taken to a hospital and died a short time afterward. His clothing was badly burned by powder, evidence that a gun had been fired at him from a taxicab.
An unidentified young man, well dressed, was seen conversing with a smartly attired girl in Madison street. They stood on the curb, and talked. Then she returned and again talked with the young man. A taxicab drove to the curb, the door opened and two men fired. The woman fled.

Two men, supporting between them
a lifeless form, hailed a taxicab in Brooklyn. They took James Meaney, 18 years old, to a hospital, but he was dead from bullet wounds in the body. The men said he had attended a social entertainment with them and gave the names of other persons who were there. Sixteen men with four women who were present at the entertainment were held for questioning.

Another attempted murder was recorded early today, when Jacob Greenberg, 22, who was standing at Madison and Clinton streets conversing with a friend, Philip Klein,
was shot three times by one of a gang of young men.

He was taken to a hospital, where it was said he probably would recover. The police believe that the street shootings indicate a gang feud of unusual proportions is raging
in the lower east side.

STATUTE LABOR TAX CASE
IS AGAIN ADJOURNED

Collector Turner and Finance Commissioner Bell Not Present
To Argue Dispute.

The question whether Sam Weir
will or will not pay his statute labor tax will be threshed out in police court a week from Monday. The case has been adjourned for several months owing to the illness of Mr.
Weir.

When the case was called Monday morning, Mr. Menzies stated that he appeared for Mr. Weir. The lawyer had an imposing array of legal books on counsel's table, and it looked like an all-day session. Finance Commissioner James Bell was not present to argue the case, so the court decided on another adjournment.

Mr. Weir being a member of the legal fraternity, Mr. Graydon wanted to know why he wasn't in court to present his own case. He said he was ill and couldn't come.

"Can't he argue his own case? Has he so little faith?" Of course he has left the matter in good hands."

"I wouldn't like to admit that,"
said Mr. Menzies, with a smile, as he gathered up his miniature library
and left the court.

Weekly Court

There was but one case before Chief Justice M. Meredith at the weekly high court session at the court house Saturday morning, that of Briscoe vs. Molsons Bank.

A motion was presented to settle the minutes in an action which was heard before the same judge at Chatham, the defendant moving to have an item of $1,000.00 credited to the bank, advanced for the purchase of certain hogs. Also an item of $1,054
advanced for the purchase of a farm, and a further item of $116.25, which
are directed to be allowed.

As to a further item for $400 advanced to pay off a mortgage, the court directed the bank to pay the same before the local registrar at Chatham if the parties cannot agree,
and as to this item the learned chief justice may be spoken to again.

J. C. Elliott, K.C., for the motion,
and Arnold & Hanna, of Chatham, appeared for the plaintiff.

CHANGE BOOSTS
LONDON REVENUE

The recent amendment to the assessment act, which allows a $100 exemption for all dependants, will work to the benefit of the city of London, in the opinion expressed in the city hall circles.

In the past exemptions have applied only to children under 18. The result was that a single person having a grown dependant, was placed in the married class and allowed $2-00 exemption instead of $1,000.

Under the new measure, this person will now be allowed $200 for the dependant in addition to the usual statutory exemption and will thus cut the total exemption from $2,000
to $1,200, a saving to the city of $800.

On the other hand there will be many additional $200 exemptions, that the city will come out the gainer on new legislation by a good margin.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MAPLE SYRUP IS
IN SMALL SUPPLYRain and Poor Condition of Roads Curtails Attendance
At Local Market.

Rain and the poor condition of the roads was the cause of the light attendance at the local market Monday. Only one load of hay was offered, and it brought $20 a ton.

Although a number of sellers were asking 25 and 30 cents a dozen, retail for eggs on Saturday, supplies could be purchased for 25 cents a dozen.
Some stores were offering eggs on Saturday at 26 cents a dozen retail.

Maple syrup was selling at $3 75
a gallon, but little was offered.
The change in the temperature from last week with it is expected, result in a big run of sap, and larger supplies are anticipated.

Oats and wheat continue scarce.

HAY

MONTREAL, March 25.—Hay, No. 2, per ton, car lots, $28.00.
T.C.R.—Hay, extra
No. 2, $22.25; mixed, $18 a ton.
Straw—$12.25 a ton.

FLOUR

MONTREAL, March 25.—Millfeed was steady. Rolled oats were quiet.
Flour—Man. spring wheat patents,
firsts, $8.50.

An unidentified young man, well
dressed, was seen conversing with a smartly attired girl in Madison street. They stood on the curb, and talked. Then she returned and again
talked with the young man. A taxicab
drove to the curb, the door
opened and two men fired. The woman fled.

Two men, supporting between them
a lifeless form, hailed a taxicab in Brooklyn. They took James Meaney, 18 years old, to a hospital, but he was dead from bullet wounds in the body. The men said he had attended
a social entertainment with them and gave the names of other persons who were there. Sixteen men with four women who were present at the entertainment were held for questioning.

Another attempted murder was recorded early today, when Jacob
Greenberg, 22, who was standing at Madison and Clinton streets conversing with a friend, Philip Klein,
was shot three times by one of a
gang of young men.

He was taken to a hospital, where
it was said he probably would recover. The police believe that the street shootings indicate a gang
feud of unusual proportions is raging
in the lower east side.

STATUTE LABOR TAX CASE
IS AGAIN ADJOURNED

Collector Turner and Finance Commissioner Bell Not Present
To Argue Dispute.

The question whether Sam Weir
will or will not pay his statute labor
tax will be threshed out in police court a week from Monday. The case has been adjourned for several months owing to the illness of Mr.
Weir.

When the case was called Monday morning, Mr. Menzies stated that he appeared for Mr. Weir. The lawyer had an imposing array of legal books on counsel's table, and it looked like an all-day session. Finance Commissioner James Bell was not present to argue the case, so the court decided on another adjournment.

Mr. Weir being a member of the legal fraternity, Mr. Graydon wanted to know why he wasn't in court to present his own case. He said he was ill and couldn't come.

"Can't he argue his own case? Has
he so little faith?" Of course he
has left the matter in good hands."

"I wouldn't like to admit that,"
said Mr. Menzies, with a smile, as he gathered up his miniature library
and left the court.

Weekly Court

There was but one case before
Chief Justice M. Meredith at the weekly high court session at the court house Saturday morning, that
of Briscoe vs. Molsons Bank.

A motion was presented to settle the minutes in an action which was heard before the same judge at Chatham, the defendant moving to have an item of $1,000.00 credited to the bank, advanced for the purchase of certain hogs. Also an item of $1,054
advanced for the purchase of a farm,
and a further item of $116.25, which
are directed to be allowed.

As to a further item for $400 advanced to pay off a mortgage, the court directed the bank to pay the same before the local registrar at Chatham if the parties cannot agree,
and as to this item the learned chief
justice may be spoken to again.

J. C. Elliott, K.C., for the motion,
and Arnold & Hanna, of Chatham,
appeared for the plaintiff.

CHANGE BOOSTS
LONDON REVENUE

The recent amendment to the assessment act, which allows a $100
exemption for all dependants, will work to the benefit of the city of London, in the opinion expressed in the city hall circles.

In the past exemptions have applied only to children under 18. The result was that a single person having a grown dependant, was placed in the married class and allowed $2-00 exemption instead of $1,000.

Under the new measure, this person will now be allowed $200 for the dependant in addition to the usual statutory exemption and will thus
cut the total exemption from $2,000
to $1,200, a saving to the city of $800.

On the other hand there will be many additional $200 exemptions, that the city will come out the gainer on
new legislation by a good margin.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MAPLE SYRUP IS
IN SMALL SUPPLYRain and Poor Condition of Roads Curtails Attendance
At Local Market.

Rain and the poor condition of the roads was the cause of the light attendance at the local market Monday. Only one load of hay was offered, and it brought $20 a ton.

Although a number of sellers were asking 25 and 30 cents a dozen, retail
for eggs on Saturday, supplies could be purchased for 25 cents a dozen.
Some stores were offering eggs on Saturday at 26 cents a dozen retail.

Maple syrup was selling at $3 75
a gallon, but little was offered.
The change in the temperature from
last week with it is expected, result in a big run of sap, and larger supplies are anticipated.

Oats and wheat continue scarce.

HAY

MONTREAL, March 25.—Hay, No. 2, per ton, car lots, $28.00.
T.C.R.—Hay, extra
No. 2, $22.25; mixed, $18 a ton.
Straw—$12.25 a ton.

FLOUR

MONTREAL, March 25.—Millfeed
was steady. Rolled oats were quiet.
Flour—Man. spring wheat patents,
firsts, $8.50.

An unidentified young man, well dressed, was seen conversing with a smartly attired girl in Madison street. They stood on the curb, and talked. Then she returned and again
talked with the young man. A taxicab
drove to the curb, the door opened and two men fired. The woman fled.

Two men, supporting between them
a lifeless form, hailed a taxicab in Brooklyn. They took James Meaney, 18 years old, to a hospital, but he was dead from bullet wounds in the body. The men said he had attended
a social entertainment with them and gave the names of other persons who were there. Sixteen men with four women who were present at the entertainment were held for questioning.

Another attempted murder was recorded early today, when Jacob
Greenberg, 22, who was standing at Madison and Clinton streets conversing with a friend, Philip Klein,
was shot three times by one of a
gang of young men.

He was taken to a hospital, where
it was said he probably would recover. The police believe that the street shootings indicate a gang
feud of unusual proportions is raging
in the lower east side.

STATUTE LABOR TAX CASE
IS AGAIN ADJOURNED

Collector Turner and Finance Commissioner Bell Not Present
To Argue Dispute.

The question whether Sam Weir
will or will not pay his statute labor
tax will be threshed out in police court a week from Monday. The case has been adjourned for several months owing to the illness of Mr.
Weir.

When the case was called Monday morning, Mr. Menzies stated that he appeared for Mr. Weir. The lawyer had an imposing array of legal books on counsel's table, and it looked like an all-day session. Finance Commissioner James Bell was not present to argue the case, so the court decided on another adjournment.

Mr. Weir being a member of the legal fraternity, Mr. Graydon wanted to know why he wasn't in court to present his own case. He said he was ill and couldn't come.

"Can't he argue his own case? Has
he so little faith?" Of course he
has left the matter in good hands."

"I wouldn't like to admit that,"
said Mr. Menzies, with a smile, as he gathered up his miniature library
and left the court.

Weekly Court

There was but one case before
Chief Justice M. Meredith at the weekly high court session at the court house Saturday morning, that
of Briscoe vs. Molsons Bank.

A motion was presented to settle the minutes in an action which was heard before the same judge at Chatham, the defendant moving to have an item of $1,000.00 credited to the bank, advanced for the purchase of certain hogs. Also an item of $1,054
advanced for the purchase of a farm,
and a further item of $116.25, which
are directed to be allowed.

As to a further item for $400 advanced to pay off a mortgage, the court directed the bank to pay the same before the local registrar at Chatham if the parties cannot agree,
and as to this item the learned chief justice may be spoken to again.

J. C. Elliott, K.C., for the motion,
and Arnold & Hanna, of Chatham,
appeared for the plaintiff.

CHANGE BOOSTS
LONDON REVENUE

The recent amendment to the assessment act, which allows a $100
exemption for all dependants, will work to the benefit of the city of London, in the opinion expressed in the city hall circles.

In the past exemptions have applied only to children under 18. The result was that a single person having a grown dependant, was placed in the married class and allowed $2-00 exemption instead of $1,000.

Under the new measure, this person will now be allowed $200 for the dependant in addition to the usual statutory exemption and will thus
cut the total exemption from $2,000
to $1,200, a saving to the city of $800.

On the other hand there will be many additional $200 exemptions, that the city will come out the gainer on
new legislation by a good margin.

64700	do.	1933.....	103.40	103.05	103.25
50200	do.	1934.....	100.45	100.35	100.35
Unlisted—
1000	Beaver	.....	35	..	..
2000	Preston	.....	8	..	..
800	V. N. T.	.....	33	..	..
5000	Peterson Lake	.....	5	..	..
500	Keora	.....	150	140	150
200	Riordon, new	.....	150	140	150
145	do. pfd.	.....	14½	12	13
775	Holly	.....	984	965	965
1000	Porcupine Crown	.....	29	..	..
450	Lake Shore	.....	225	219	219

ROWAT'S COFFEE
The finest procurable. It pleases most particular people.
T. A. ROWAT & CO.
250 Dundas Street. Phone 3051-3052.

YOUR CHOICE OF ANY ARTICLE IN OUR NORTH WINDOW
$1.00
C. H. WARD & CO.
Diamond Merchants, Jewelers and Opticians.
386 RICHMOND ST.
Phone 1084.

Premium ..... $13.75
Pea .....
Scranton ..... $12.75
Pea .....
JENKINS FUEL CO.
PHONE 1391. Mar. 31

Steam Heating And Plumbing
We can save you money.
THE HUNT PLUMBING CO.
Richmond and Kent Sts. Phone 1213

LONDON OPTICAL CO.
HAVE YOUR EYES EXAMINED.
Dominion Savings Building, Richmond Street. Phone 6180.

LADIES' FINE
APPAREL
AT LOW PRICES

All the garments in our stock are new. They are all well made, of materials which for quality cannot be equalled for the prices we ask. An investigation will confirm this.

FISHBEIN'S
"READY-TO-WEAR."
254 Dundas Street.

He Needs Glasses---
The man you see who holds his book at arms' length really needs glasses. Fact it—he is about forty, and the muscles of accommodation that focus his eyes need help to give clear, comfortable sight. Have your eyes examined by our specialists.
BROWN OPTICAL COMPANY
222 DUNDAS STREET. PHONE 1877.
Branches at Montreal and Windsor.

Your Lawn and Garden Need Fertilizer

WIZARD BRAND SHEEP MANURE

Forces Growing—Nothing as Good.

2 lbs. ....	25c	25 lbs. ....	$1.25
5 lbs. ....	50c	50 lbs. ....	$2.00
10 lbs. ....	75c	100 lbs. ....	$3.00

Let us deliver a bag today.

SWEET PEAS
BURPEE'S AND BODGERS' BEST VARIETIES.

Dominion Gold Medal Mixture, ounce 35c
Dominion Spencers Mixture, ounce 45c
Dominion Betty Brown Mixture, ounce 45c
Named Varieties, per pkt. .... 10c

Remember spring is near. If you want Early Vegetables and Flowers PLANT THE SEED NOW.

Sunnymore Lawn Seed
Our Lawn Grass made the best grass plots in London. We mix it ourselves. Sow as soon as possible before the spring rains.

Pay your Horticultural Society Annual Fee with us and get your Spring Premium Free. 1922 slogan, 4,000 members.

Dominion Seeds, Limited
119 Dundas Street. Phone 550. 9 Market Square. 920-v2

ATTRACTIVE GOODS AT HYPNOTIZING PRICES.
Wray's Jewelry, Ltd.
234 Dundas Street.

TAYLOR'S THROAT AND LUNG BALM
has been the favorite household remedy for coughs, colds and all bronchial affections. Shier merit alone has made this medicine the standard cough remedy for over 50 years.
35c, 65c and $1.20
Manufactured and Sold Only at
TAYLOR'S DRUG STORE
New address
390 RICHMOND STREET.
Half Block South of Dundas.
Phone 594. zxt

You can't make a mistake when you buy Edison Mazda Lamps.
J. H. POLLOCK
257 Clarence St. Phone 5702W. zxt

NEW PRICE FOR LEHIGH VALLEY
THE SATISFACTORY COAL EGG STOVE
NUT
$16.00 a Ton
PEA COAL, $14.00 A TON.
O.C.L. $16 A TON.
Delivered Anywhere in London.
ORCHARD'S
45 YORK STREET. PHONE 384. zxt

STERLING SILVER BANGLE BRACELETS 3 FOR $1.00.
Green Jeweler
374 RICHMOND ST. zxt

UP-TO-DATE PORTRAITURE at the Harragh Studio
Formerly Edy Bros. zxt

We have Trusses to fit all needs. Our fitters are experts. $1.50 to $10.00.
ANDERSON & NELLES
268 Dundas St. zxt

WORLD LEAGUE EMPOWERED TO RULE ARMENIA

Given Mandate For Administration by Allied Ministers At Paris.

U. S. SENDS NEW NOTE

Will Press Claim For Pay For Rhineland Army Occupation.

PARIS, March 26.—The allied foreign ministers, holding sessions here on Near Eastern questions, yesterday decided to give over the administration of Armenia to the League of Nations and to leave with the league the responsibility for supervision and protection of the minorities.

The ministers finished their discussion of the freedom of the Dardanelles, but declined to make public what decision had been reached. The report of the financial experts regarding revision of the financial clauses of the treaty of Sevres was also approved, but the details were withheld.

U. S. TO PRESS CLAIM.
WASHINGTON, March 26.—The United States government has sent to the allied powers another note supplemental to that recently dispatched and designed to support its claim for equality with those powers in the payment of costs arising from the Rhineland occupation.

The new note, copies of which were presented yesterday to the British, French, Italian, Belgian and Japanese governments by American diplomatic officials in the capitals of these nations, declares that whether or not there should be a deficit in the French account for its occupation army cost as at May 1, 1921, the claim for equality on the part of the United States would not thereby be affected.

The United States government in its supplemental note, in words characterized by one official as plain if not diplomatic, notifies the allied governments that the juggling of bookkeeping as regards the Rhineland occupation costs will deter the United States from pressing what it considers a just claim.

High state department officials in making public the new note, explained that the original identical notes delivered to the five allied powers early this week stated that according to information and accounts in possession of the United States government, it appeared that the amount due to France for its occupation army costs to May 1 had been paid in full, as had costs of the armies of Belgium and Italy.

Recent dispatches from France, it was said, had indicated that the United States government made a mistake in saying that France had been paid in full and the supplemental note delivered today was designed to forestall any such suggestions.

The text of the supplementary note follows:

"In its note of March 22, 1922, the government of the United States stated that according to the information and accounts in the possession of the allied governments, it appeared that the amount due to France for its army costs to May 1, 1921, had been paid in full, chiefly through deliveries of poverty.

May Postpone Debit.
"The government of the United States is now informed that it is proposed to postpone the debit to France for the value of the Saar mines as though delivery were made in kind during the year 1922. This government does not deem it to be necessary at this time to enter into questions relating to debits or credits in the account or to consider the effect of the postponement of the debit for the value of the Saar mines and all questions of this character are fully reserved.

It is deemed to be sufficient to say that it is the view of the government of the United States that the question whether or not there would be a deficit in the French account for army costs as of May 1, 1921, upon a final agreed statement of that account is a matter which does not affect the position of this government with respect to its rights to receive the payment of the actual costs of its army of occupation upon an equal footing with the allied powers."

OPPOSE CAMPAIGN TO AID MORMONS

TORONTO, March 26.—The Board of Home Missions and Social Service of the Presbyterian Church at its meeting yesterday adopted resolutions condemning race-track gambling, the exportation of liquor from prohibition provinces and Mormon propaganda.

The prohibition resolution expressed the opinion that the federal government was not justified in allowing export liquor firms to operate in any province which had adopted prohibition. It also called for giving to all police officers the power to deal with the suppression of illicit liquor operations now possessed by officers of the federal department of customs and excise.

The board urges all ministers to inform themselves of facts "regarding the fallacies and un-Christian teachings of Mormonism and protect their people from the bold and aggressive efforts of Mormon propagandists."

COMMON SENSE WAYS TO KEEP WELL Diet, Rest and Right Living Cure Goiter

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

MODERN evolutionists teach us that we originally came out of the ocean and ocean swamps. Whether this is true or not, the fact remains that human blood in composition and consistency is very much like sea water.

Goiter, which is a "deficiency disease" caused by lack of sufficient iodine in food and water, is found to be more general in the interior states. The farther from the ocean and natural salt water, the more common is goiter.

There are two kinds of goiter. One is the simple goiter often seen in girls in their teens. The symptom of this form is usually enlargement of the neck. It causes but little trouble and generally rights itself in a few years.

The other form of goiter is called exophthalmic goiter because the sufferer's eyes protrude. It is often dangerous because it starts gradually and progresses slowly.

Generally the first symptoms noted is a rapid pulse. The heart often beats fast and makes a throbbing in the neck. Enlargement of the thyroid gland comes in every case sooner or later.

Ochsner gives these rules for goiter patients which have been found beneficial:

"Avoid all excitement or irritation. Get an abundance of rest. Go to bed early, sleeping long hours and taking a mid-day nap.

"Sleep in a thoroughly ventilated room. Eat and drink nothing that irritates the nervous system.

"Eat slowly and chew thoroughly. Avoid foods difficult to digest. Eat little meat. Drink plenty of milk. Eat foods prepared with milk, cream or buttermilk.

"Avoid meat broths and such organs as sweetbreads, liver, kidney, tripe and pluck.

"Eat freely of cooked fruits and vegetables and very ripe fruits. Drink fruit juices prepared from ripe fruits. Eat eggs, butter, bread, toast, rice and cereals.

"Drink an abundance of good water, known to be pure or distilled or boiled. Use no tobacco."

JENA REGISTERS EARTH SHOCK
ROME, March 26.—A violent tremor was registered by the Jena seismograph on Saturday. It was calculated that the disturbance was 8,000 kilometers away.

SEVEN PERSONS DROWNED.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 26.—Seven persons, four boy scouts, a scout executive and two scout masters were drowned yesterday in Ma-gician Lake about ten miles north-west of Dowagiac, Mich., when their steel motorboats foundered in the rough waters of the lake. All those drowned are residents of this city.

Babies are like plants

They need to be kept warm, to sleep, to be kept clean, to have food regularly, to have fresh air, to get sunshine. To do all this you must have the proper materials—and this is where we can be of Service to you—we carry a complete line of "Baby Needs" at Reasonable Prices.

For the Very Young Baby

Many prefer a Reed Bassinet for the new baby. It offers splendid opportunity to "fuss up" with ribbons. We have several designs in stock, one of which we sell

at ..... $9.50

Club Plan if you wish. $2.00 Down. $2.00 Weekly.

Baby Sulky

We have a folding Sulky, built on a steel frame, with imitation leather pad seat, side curtains and adjustable back, and it only costs ..... $10.50

Our Club Plan: Terms, $2.00 down and $2.00 Weekly.

Baby Walkers

Not only help baby to find "his legs," but amuse him while mother is busy with household duties. Cannot possibly injure the child; every home where there is a baby should have one. Special,

at ..... $3.25

Plenty of Fresh Air the Birthright of Every Child

And the easiest way is to have plenty of rides in the fresh air. For this you must have an easy-riding, comfortable Carriage—and we have just the very thing. It's built by Lloyds, woven in one piece, finished in ivory corduroy, velvet-lined; reversible bodies. Special ..... $69.50

$5.00 delivers it to your home on Our Club Plan, $2.00 weekly pays the balance.

Kiddie Koops

Can be used as a playground or as a crib, is adjustable to two positions; particularly adapted for out-of-doors Sleeping. Folds up when not in use ..... $27.00

It's a sick child that cannot play

Doll Cradles
White reed, woven on wood frame ..... $1.25

Doll Carriage
An inexpensive carriage, reed body, white finish. Special price ..... $2.95

Automobile
Just like daddy's, easy running ..... $15.00

Desk and Chair
Built to stand hard wear, finished in surface oak, on well-seasoned maple. Special ..... $8.50

Kindergarten Set
Table and two chairs, red or brown, with gold tracing. Special ..... $3.75

Kiddie Kar
Lots of fun, built solidly, easy running ..... $2.00

Deep Refreshing Sleep Most Essential

If baby is to grow and enjoy perfect health, and there's nothing so conducive to the right kind of sleep as a

SIMMONS CRIB
They're fitted with safety drop side and a sagless steel link spring; they are non-rustable; the best size is 2 feet 3 inches by 4 feet 3 inches and is finished in a snowy-white enamel that's easily cleaned. The price is only ..... $11.00
On Our Club Plan, $2.00 down and $2.00 weekly.

The Baby Carriage De Luxe

Built by Lloyds, loom-woven, ivory finish, wire wheels, 3/8-inch rubber tires, lined with corduroy velvet, complete with storm curtains ..... $64.50

$5.00 delivers it to your home on Our Club Plan. $2.00 weekly pays the balance.

Baby Comforts

Baby Blankets
Just the right size to fit baby's bed, made of soft, warm, downy cloth ..... $2.25

Comforters
Filled with felted cotton, in a variety of coverings and colors. Special ..... $3.75

Bath
White enamel interior, outside painted green, with animal transfer ..... $2.30

High Chair
Built for strength and safety, complete with tray. Special ..... $5.25

Rocker
Will not tip over; made from selected elm, golden finish. Special ..... $4.00

Cup and Plate
White enamel, with colored picture on plate; unbreakable ..... 60c

Baby Swing
Baby can't fall out; there's no chance of an accident; complete with double springs ..... $2.95

The Mattress
We suggest is filled with clean, new felt, encased in a strong ticking; will not go lumpy ..... $3.25 to fit any crib .....

240 DUNDAS ST.
Phone 5616.

THOMAS

240 DUNDAS ST.
Phone 5616.