TRAWLER CASE VERDICT

Hull Inquest Puts Blame On the Czar's Warships.

Verdict of Willful Murder Or Manslaughter Not Found Because "Delicate Negotiations Are Going On Which Should Not Be Made More Difficult"—A Significant Hint to the British Warships: Watch Rejoystevsky.

Hull, Nov. 3.—That George Henry Smith and William Leggett were, at about 12.30 a.m. on October 22, while fishing with trawls about the British steam trawler Crane, with board of trade marks exhibited and regular lights burning, killed by shots fired without warning or provocation from certain Russian war vessels at a distance of about a quarter of a mile.

This is the text of the jury's verdict at the coroner's inquest on the fishermen victims of the North Sea tragedy. At the request of the British Government, represented by the Earl of Dysart, solicitor of the treasury, this conservative award was rendered by the first court of inquiry presiding the sessions of the international tribunal. The Government asked the jury not to find a verdict of willful murder or manslaughter, because "delicate negotiations are going on, which should not be made more difficult; and they ought not to let anyone think they had pre-judged the case before having heard both sides."

In consequence, the jury simply set forth the facts proven by the evidence of persons, experts on explosives and the trawlers themselves.

A Rider Added.

To the verdict the jury added the following rider: "On this occasion, probably the most momentous in the history of the British Empire, the jury would record their appreciation of the efforts made by the Government interested to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion of the matter, which we feel has no parallel in the history of the world."

St. George's Hall, a large auditorium which had been specially fitted up for the occasion, was quite inadequate to accommodate the crowd that wished to hear the evidence.

The interest was intense, but there was some excitement, but no demonstration occurred. A great number of persons gathered in the vicinity of the building to await the verdict, and the space inside the hall was filled. The British Government, the Board of Trade, the owners of the Gamecock fleet and the relatives of the deceased and wounded fishermen were represented by counsel; but the Russian Government did not participate. The proceedings occupied only about three hours.

The testimony consisted of medical evidence, by which it was proved that the death of Smith and Leggett was the result of shell and machine gun wounds. Then an expert identified fragments of shells by private marks, which he said were undoubtedly Russian, and the stories of captains and mates of the trawlers. These latter related that while they were engaged in their regular work the ships of the second Pacific fleet in two squadrons, emerged suddenly from the haze and, throwing the glare of their searchlights on the Gamecock fleet, without warning and disregarding flare green lights, the fishermen's signal, and though within actual speaking distance of one vessel, commenced a cannonade, which the fishermen, at first not realizing the danger, enjoyed, thinking it was a sham fight. The firing lasted half an hour.

No Torpedo Boats.

To each of the witnesses was put the vital question regarding the presence of a foreign vessel or torpedo boat. Each, with equal positiveness, denied that at any time preceding or during the firing was a Japanese, British or any foreign vessel seen by them or by the accompanying fishing fleet. It was also stated that there were no Japanese among the crews and that none of the trawlers carried arms of any description. One of the skippers, replying to a question by the coroner, said that during the five weeks he was in the North Sea he had not seen any warships until that night.

This closed the evidence. Counsel for the treasury then made the suggestion with regard to the nature of the verdict to which the coroner agreed, and without delay it was so returned, with an added expression of sympathy for the relatives and friends of the dead and injured and of appreciation of the calm and courageous manner in which the fishing fleet remained at its duties after this terrible experience.

Signaled Before Firing. Capt. Giffard added that the trawlers were distinctly lettered and carried fishing lights. The Russian squadron signalled each other and then two vessels fired on the Crane. He denied that the trawlers carried arms of any description and was positive that no Japanese vessels were among the fishing fleet.

A sensation was created by the appearance of James Nixon of the trawler Crane, who was brought to the hall from the hospital swathed in bandages. He testified that while looking at what he imagined to be a sham fight he was struck on the head and became unconscious.

After further corroborative evidence, Reginald Acland, junior counsel to the Admiralty, addressed the jury on behalf of the treasury. Counsel suggested that a verdict be rendered according to the facts and not prejudicing the case before the international inquiry.

The coroner suggested that if he assented to Mr. Acland's suggestion the verdict should read that the men were killed by shots fired without warning and without provocation from certain vessels.

The jury returned a verdict as suggested. British Warships Watch Rejoystevsky. London, Nov. 3.—Some of the morning papers consider the fact that Russia was not represented at the coroner's inquest at Hull yesterday as a virtual admission of her inability to controvert the fishermen's plain, unvarnished story of the North Sea affair.

It is announced from Gibraltar that the experimental land and sea mobilization is now concluded. According to a story published in The Chronicle, this alarming experiment was the outcome of new ideas which Admiral Sir John Fisher has taken to the Admiralty. His contention is that tests in time of peace are much less valuable than when "war is in the air." Accordingly, The Chronicle says, he seized upon the incidents of Tuesday as a psychological opportunity to test the nerves as well as the skill and efficiency of the forces.

It is reported that the Channel, Mediterranean and East India squadrons have received instructions to shadow Admiral Rojestevsky's squadron throughout its progress. Admiral Rojestevsky is expected to arrive at Tanager to-day.

A British man-of-war at Malta is busily coaling, preparing to watch the second Pacific squadron.

Three Officers to Paris.

Paris, Nov. 3.—Three officers of the Russian squadron, Capt. Calde and Lieuts. Otto and Ellis, who are the principal Russian witnesses in the North Sea incident, arrived here yesterday morning from Vigo and held a conference at the Russian Embassy. The report of the North Sea occurrence is being conveyed to St. Petersburg by Capt. Calde. The latter was on board the flagship Kniaz Souvaroff with Vice-Admiral Rejoystevsky, who entrusted Calde with the task of drafting the official account. After the conference the officers left for St. Petersburg. There continues to be an understanding in Russian diplomatic quarters that two reports will be sent separately, one from Hull and the other from St. Petersburg to The Hague for final hearing.

Negotiations Progress Satisfactorily.

London, Nov. 3.—The negotiations between the British and Russian Governments in regard to the international commission which is to investigate the North Sea incident are progressing apparently to the satisfaction of both sides. The Foreign Office stated to the Associated Press last evening that nothing yet had been definitely settled regarding the personnel, date or place.

BUFFALO BILL BATTLES.

Murderers of Bank Cashier Being Chased to Their Capture Or Their Death By Col. Cody.

Cody, Wyo., Nov. 3.—Several battles have been fought between the posses and the outlaws who attempted to rob the First National Bank at Cody Tuesday, and who murdered Cashier L. C. Middaugh. But the bandits are still at large, although their capture or death is but a matter of a few hours. At dawn yesterday the officers came upon the bandits in camp, on the Grey Bud River, 65 miles from the scene of Tuesday evening's battle. The robbers refused to surrender and put up a hard fight. The horse of one of the officers was killed and some of the men had narrow escapes. The robbers got away. The posse followed slowly because of the necessity of avoiding a possible ambush. The outlaws were again overtaken at Enos Creek, 20 miles from Meeteetse and 80 miles from Cody, and another fight occurred. One of the bandits was wounded in the thigh, but his companions hoisted him onto his horse, and after a running fight for four miles the outlaws again got away. A courier came into Meeteetse last night with the news that the bandits had been surrounded in a forest on Cottonwood Creek and that their capture was likely to occur at any time.

Col. Cody arrived at Cody last night with his Indian trailers, scouts and cowboys, accompanied by a large party of English noblemen and New York clubmen. Cody will take the trail of the outlaws at once, and guests have been invited to accompany him and some of the younger members of the party will accept.

An Unusual Charge.

Hamilton, Nov. 3.—Yesterday morning James Campbell, 398 West Jackson street, was summoned to police court on this unusual charge: "That through excessive drinking you waste and lessen your estate, endanger your health, and take away the peace and happiness of your family." Campbell did not appear, and the police magistrate said that his supply of drink would be cut off, as his worship will issue an order threatening hotelkeepers with heavy penalties if they sell him liquor.

Why, shure, an' I hate to be lavin' ye, Dennis.

Ach, Nora, me darlin', I can't bear the siperation. Thint, if we centre part, let's go t'gether.

RUSSIANS ARE ANXIOUS

Not Much in the War Situation to Cheer Their Spirits.

Deadlock Around Shakh, and Decidedly Gloomy Reports From Port Arthur—Popular Russian Feeling Ascribes to Gen. Steessel "A Gallant Defence, Which Must Be Near the Limit of Human Endurance."

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—There is considerable anxiety here over the military situation. Little news has been received from Mukden, General Sakharoff's telegram of Nov. 1 merely indicating that matters were at a deadlock around Shakh. The Japanese have made some tentative moves on both flanks, which were checked; but there are no signs yet of a general advance by their army. Foreign reports from Port Arthur are decidedly gloomy. While the authorities continue to profess confidence in General Steessel's ability to hold out, the popular feeling is that the heroic garrison, which has already made a gallant defence, must be near the limit of human endurance.

Russian Cavalry Beaten.

Tokio, Nov. 3.—Manchurian headquarters, in a report dated Nov. 1, says:

"On the afternoon of Oct. 30, in front of the left detachment of the left army, a force of the enemy, consisting of a regiment of artillery, advanced from Litewentun, Hansantal, and then northward."

"Our detachment after the fight succeeded in repulsing the enemy."

"Our detachment sustained only a slight loss, while the enemy's cavalry lost heavily. Fifty of the Russians lost their horses. The Russian cavalry retreated in all directions and in disorder, leaving thirteen dead."

"The left column of the left army, on the night of October 30, seized and burned a village about four hundred yards northwest of Cheng-lienspo."

Japs Near Hun River.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—General Sakharoff telegraphs under yesterday's date that last night was quiet, the Japanese, however, showing marked signs of recommencing the offensive against the Russian left wing. They have also reoccupied the Village of Sandiapu, near the Hun River, in front of the Russian right flank.

Little Change.

Gen. Oku's Headquarters, Nov. 1, 9 a.m., via Fusan, Nov. 3.—There is little change in the positions of the Japanese and Russian armies.

"On Sunday last detachments composed of Russian infantry and Don Cossacks attacked the Japanese cavalry on the extreme left along the Hun River, but were driven back, leaving twenty dead soldiers and thirty horses."

This is the first time that the Cossacks of the Don have taken part in the operations.

The Japanese line now follows the bank of the Shakh River, except on the extreme left, where it crosses the river.

Port Arthur Will Fall.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—The official report from Tokio describing the desperate assaults on Port Arthur, beginning Oct. 26, have created visible depression at the War Office. The sustained character of the bombardment, with siege guns and the breaching of the walls by underground mines, but above all, the fact that the Japanese Government, after weeks of silence regarding the operations of the besiegers, has given out these reports before actual success has crowned their efforts, convinces the military authorities that after long preparation Gen. Nogi is not only making a supreme effort to carry the fortress, but feels confident of success.

They believe the assault was timed for the announcement of the fall of the fortress to be made upon the birthday of the Mikado to-day, which, by a strange coincidence, is the tenth anniversary of the succession of Emperor Nicholas, and a great Russian holiday. To-day, therefore, is expected to be marked by fate for a day of rejoicing either for Japan or Russia, according as the present assault succeeds or fails.

Struggle Since Aug. 1.

Tokio, Nov. 3.—The official reports of the Port Arthur operations since Aug. 1, form a recital of almost continuous fighting of a desperate nature. The Russians first struggled desperately to block every Japanese advance, and then met the concentrated artillery fire of the Japanese with its kind. Latterly, since the Japanese began running parallels and transverse and extending mines, the Russians have been constantly making sorties. They rushed into the Japanese trenches and engaged in ferocious struggles with the engineers and pioneers. With desperate courage the Japanese continued to close in upon the fortress, progressing stage by stage. The Japanese infantry never failed to respond when asked to make an assault on almost impossible positions, and when the troops gained a foothold they generally held it with unflinching determination.

Oct. 12 and 13 Japanese shells set fire to the Peresviet, apparently disabling her. They also set fire to another warship, name unknown.

Oct. 16, the Japanese centre, taking advantage of a bombardment, stormed and captured a fort in the centre of Rihlung Mountain, after a Continued on 8th Page.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3.

THE SEERIAN RAILWAY

The Russian military transport authorities estimate the through carrying capacity of the Siberian Railway for the next six months at about 85,000 men, and the necessary stores every four weeks. The estimate given by them in the early summer varied from 23,000 to 27,000 and the former rate seems to have been maintained. Thanks to various improvements and to the completion of the Circum-Baikal line, an increase of 40 per cent. is now looked for. On that calculation Russia will be able by April 1, next, to detain in Manchuria the last contingents of 150,000 men from European Russia, or of 200,000 men if the transport of general supplies could be temporarily reduced. Nothing short of a duplication of the main line from Samara to Harbin is expected to do much towards solving Russia's transport difficulties, as the number of trains dispatched westward with sick and wounded and with empty tracks keeps on increasing as the campaign grows older. In the meantime the railway system in southern Russia has been most seriously disorganized by the war. The bulk of the available locomotives, vans and trucks have been diverted for war traffic, and the daily deliveries of grain at Odessa have been small and irregular at a time when the export trade ought to be at its height.

GREAT BRITAIN AND RUSSIA.

While there is no doubt that the sober sense of Great Britain rejoices that war with Russia has been averted, it is easy to detect a note of disappointment in the chorus of the jingo press. Russia and Great Britain, for some reason which may be traced far back into history, are regarded as natural enemies. Russia has given mortal offence; Great Britain has the means of taking revenge, and no doubt the temptation to use the means is strong. "There was never at any moment a possibility," says the St. James Gazette, "that our just demands could be in substance abated. To the last drop of our blood we were prepared to contend in a cause that was almost as truly the cause of humanity and civilization as that of Great Britain."

That is the kind of talk that shows the necessity of allowing popular opinion opportunity for second thought in time of great national excitement. There are always editors of newspapers who are willing to shed the last drop of other people's blood for what they call national honor, just as Artemus Ward was ready to sacrifice the whole of his wife's relations in the cause of patriotism.

A curious thing is this national honor. In the olden days of chivalry people went around armed with murderous weapons seeking the opportunity of cracking somebody's skull or puncturing somebody's anatomy, all for the sake of honor. Just how a man could advance the cause of honor by driving a battle-axe through another man's head, or receiving another man's spear into his own internal economy, no one had time to explain. The spirit of the age is strikingly represented in Conan Doyle's story of "The White Company" by Sir Nigel Loring, who is constantly on the look-out for some opportunity of advancing chivalry and the glory of the ladies by engaging in mortal combat.

The spirit still remains in the German army, where duels are still regarded as necessary to maintain the honor of the army. In most civilized countries, however, common sense has assumed control of individual conduct, and mortal combats for the advancement of chivalry and the glory of the ladies are confined to the stage and the story books; but mankind in the gross advances slowly. What would be considered ridiculous on the part of any one of a number of individuals is considered highly honorable and even necessary on the part of the same individuals as a whole. The duel is regarded as a relic of the age of barbarism; but war, which numbers its innocent victims by the tens of thousands, is still regarded as a necessity. And yet there is this to be said of the individual wars of the days of chivalry, that those who made the quarrels did the fighting, while in the wars by nations it is always the innocent who suffer.

It is quite true that the North Sea incident was most aggravating, and it is equally true that there is still the possibility that those who were responsible will escape punishment. But a war, even if it resulted in the slaughter of a hundred thousand men on both sides, would not ensure the punishment of the guilty. That is the

GROWING UP

There's something the matter with the child that fails to grow up. A child that grows up too much, however, without proper filling out of flesh, is almost as badly off. Nothing will help these pale, thin "weedy" children like Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the rounding out of flesh and the rich inward nourishment of blood and vital organs which insures rapid growth a healthy and uniform development.

terrible and forbidding aspect of war, that it means the suffering, the mutilation and the death of the innocent.

CANADA'S LONG DISTANCE CHAMPION ORATOR.

Toronto Star.

Canada holds another record and William Jennings Bryan does not make three speeches per day for ten days as a public speaker. He has made three speeches per day for ten successive days, which is a very good performance, but an old-timer informs us of the record of E. King-Dodds, of Toronto, in speaking against the Dunkin act quite a few years ago. Mr. Dodds started out by addressing three meetings daily for nine days, at 10.30 a. m., 2.30 and 8 p. m. After a day's rest he addressed two meetings daily for sixteen successive days, except Sunday. At the end of the sixteen days he rested over Sunday and then addressed evening meetings for twenty-seven consecutive days, Sundays excluded. At all these evening meetings he spoke twice, having to reply to the arguments of opposing speakers. E. King-Dodds, therefore has a record that beats that of William Jennings Bryan for endurance as a public speaker.

MAKES MEN SOUND AND STRONG

Detroit Specialist Making Men's Diseases a Specialty for Years. Will Accept Your Case, Giving It Individual Treatment. You May Use It in the Privacy of Your Own Home.

You May Pay When You are Cured.
A Detroit Specialist who has 14 diplomas and certificates from medical colleges and state boards of medical examiners, and who has a vast experience in doctoring diseases of men, is positive he can cure a great many so-called incurable cases.

DR. S. GOLDBERG.
The possessor of 14 diplomas and certificates, who wants no money that he does not earn.
In order to convince patients that he has the ability to do so, Dr. Goldberg will accept your case for treatment, and you need not pay one penny until a complete cure has been made; he wants to hear from patients who have been unable to get cured, as he guarantees a positive cure for all chronic, nervous, blood and skin diseases, which he accepts for treatment. He not only cures the condition itself, but like-wise all the complications, such as rheumatism, bladder or kidney troubles, blood poison, physical and nervous debility, lack of vitality, stomach trouble, etc.
The doctor realizes that it is one thing to make claims and another thing to back them up; so he has made it a rule not to ask for money unless he cures you, and when you are cured, he feels sure that you will willingly pay him a small fee. It seems, therefore, that it is to the best interests of everyone who suffers to write the doctor confidentially and lay your case before him, which will receive careful attention, and a correct diagnosis of your case will be made free of charge; if you have lost faith with him, as you have everything to gain and nothing to lose; you must remember that no penny need be paid until you are cured. All medicines for patients are prepared in his own laboratory to meet the requirements of each individual case. He will send a booklet on the subject, which contains the full details of his treatment, entirely free. Address him simply 617 Dr. S. Goldberg, 205 and 2-cent postage stamps. NOT A "LADY BASS"

Australian Singer Says Title Sounds Like a New Drink.

"Some people are born basses, some people achieve basses, and some people—but they are very few—have basses thrust upon them."
Thus wailed in accents of the deepest melancholy Miss Violet Elliott, the Australian contralto, who sang for the first time at the Alhambra, London, recently. By reason of the amazing depths to which her voice can sink she has been called the "lady bass."

And this title has given her the direct of offence. "It sounds like a new drink," she complained, "and I hate it. I will not be called the 'lady bass'!" and she clenched her little fists.

Certainly there is in the name the suggestion of heaviness, of solidity, of masculinity. This is what the audience at the Alhambra expected. But they were to be mercifully disappointed.

Instead of the tall, austere, commanding presence they waited for, there slipped on the stage a slight, lissom maiden, with rebellious hair and frightened eyes.

WAITING FOR LOW NOTES.

Then they settled themselves into their seats and waited for the deep voice of the "lady bass." But again they were to be disappointed.

When notes that came from the slender throat were high and clear and pure. This was no "lady bass," but the most charming of sopranos. She sang a simple little ballad of "Home, Dearie, Home." There was a lad who would go to sea, and a maid who wished him safe in port.

Suddenly there came a promise—just a promise—of the depths to which that voice could sink.

Its fulfilment came with the second song, "The Diver," a song written for male bass voices, and for which new band parts had to be hastily written yesterday afternoon.

The singer began almost apirily in her clear high notes, but then she went down and down and down—down with the diver "to the depths of the sea." And her voice was full of a sombre and tragic meaning.

But with all its depths there was none of the heaviness and lifelessness that customarily go with the contralto. It was a bass that for all its depths had life and brightness.

It engulfed the whole wide auditorium with its resonance. It had a strange metallic ring in it—the ring of trumpets.

A WOMAN, NOT A FREAK.

Miss Elliott triumphed, and she almost wept over it.

"If," she said afterwards, "I can only achieve fame by sounding fat and wobbly and manlike, I won't have fame at all. I don't want to be a freak; I want to be a woman."

"Such a fuss, too, all because I can get down to D. And the fun of it is that no one, not even my teacher, discovered it till the other day, though I have sung for years, as the bass in a quartet, half the world over. Now they say that I can go lower than Clara Butt, and they call me the 'lady bass.'"

"I never heard such an 'insulting name' in all my life."

This conversation took place in Miss Elliott's house, and the interviewer, who knew that she had been riding about in the wet on the top of an omnibus, and saw that she was smoking cigarettes, asked how she cared for her voice.

"Care for it?" cried Miss Elliott. "I don't care for it. I don't live for art's sake, but for my life's sake. Training? The first training I remember was shouting 'Coo-ee' in the Australian bush. I shouted so well that I scared away the 'possum for miles around."

With frank and simple courtesy she went down to the hall door to bid the representative of the "Express" good-bye. With one hand she undid the latch, and with the other took in a parcel which had just arrived.

"Good-bye!" she called down the street. "And don't forget I'm not a 'lady bass.' I may be poor, but, thank goodness, I'm a contralto."—London Express.

Locomotive That Will Travel 3,000 Miles Without Stopping for Fuel

New York, Nov. 3.—Railroading may be revolutionized by a locomotive that will be soon turned over to the Southern Pacific railway. It is a power house on wheels. It is fireless, smokeless and waterless. It needs no coal, it drops no ashes and it throws no sparks or cinders. Its builders say it would be able, provided a clear track could be obtained, to haul a 2,000-ton train from New York to San Francisco without a single stop. There would be no need of delays for fuel or water, for the locomotive can carry enough fuel for the journey of 3,000 miles, and it needs no water for steam.

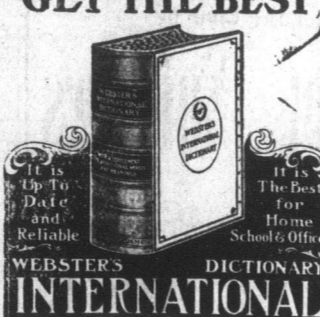

Theoretically all this has been figured out to a mathematical certainty. What remains now is a practical demonstration. The locomotive uses a combination of compressed air power, fuel oil power and electrical power. It is an application of the Diesel type of engine to locomotive. The engine proper is being built at the Corliss works in Providence, R. I.

This new locomotive is the design and joint product of Joseph H. Hadley, president of the International Power Co. and organizer of the American Locomotive Co., and Walter H. Knight, chief engineer of the International Power Co. and formerly with the General Electric Co. It embraces some remarkable features.

The Diesel engine, which heretofore has been applied to stationary engine work alone, will be used to drive a dynamo, which will provide the electrical power for the locomotive.

A speed of from 100 to 120 miles an hour is expected on the trial run. There is said to be no limit with reason for the speed the locomotive might attain provided the roadbed and other conditions permitted. An average speed of 100 miles an hour could be maintained from the At-

ENGINEER'S LAST RUN.

His Story of How He Lived His Life All Over in a Flash.

"Drowning is not the only experience that causes a man to read his own biography in the flash of a second," said F. C. Roberts, a locomotive engineer.

"I was running on the passenger trains between Atlanta and Macon several years ago, and I was to meet the northbound train at a certain station on the road. Well, it was all my fault. I hadn't slept any for five nights, and the only rest I had was in my cab. The last stop that we made before this experience of which I speak the fireman had to wake me up when the signal to go ahead was received. I had gone to sleep in my cab.

"As we approached the next station the conductor may have signalled me, as he claimed he did, but we dashed through the town at about forty miles an hour before I heard the down break signal. The minute I heard it I saw the headlight of the northbound train less than 300 yards away coming around a curve. I threw on the air brakes and reversed, but it all looked too late. The fireman jumped, but I was paralyzed. The two great engines, one bearing a special train, rushed to gether like angry bulls, and I was frozen there, and while those trains rushed together I saw every incident of my life just as plainly as the day it happened. That's all I know about it.

"They took me to the hospital, and nine days later I woke up after a spell of brain fever. The trains stopped so close together the pilots were sprung out of place, but otherwise there was no damage. They had to get a new engineer before my train pulled out, though, and that was the last time I ever pulled a throttle."

PEER AND CLOCKMAKER.

Lord Grimthorpe Has Designed Another Timepiece for Clock Tower.

Lord Grimthorpe, lawyer, church restorer and horologist, and very nearly a monogamian has just designed a new clock for the tower of Worthing Church, in Lancashire.

Lord Grimthorpe's greatest achievements, apart from his enormous practice at the Parliamentary bar, have been the designing of the clock at the Houses of Parliament, and the restoration, at his own charges, of St. Alban's Abbey.

When the clock was projected Villiamy, and other famous clockmakers, who were asked to tender, murmured to a stipulation that it should be guaranteed not to vary more than a minute a week. But Mr. Beckett-Denison, as Lord Grimthorpe then was, was adamant, and the contract was given to him. He worked from Lord Grimthorpe's designs after the Astronomer Royal had withdrawn from the whole affair.

A curious sequel was the action brought by the founders of Big Ben against Lord Grimthorpe, who had declared that the bell was a disgrace to the country.

It fell to the lot of the man who afterwards became Lord Russell of Killowen to cross-examine Lord Grimthorpe, and the excitement was intense over what was expected to be a battle of the giants.

But the men knew one another's powers, and the encounter was only distinguished by urbanity and a tender regard for each other's feelings. Lord Grimthorpe, however, had to pay £200 damages.

2,000,000 Tons of Water.

Saturday, Sept. 24, according to the Observatory officials, 2,000,000 tons of water were unloaded on Toronto during the rain storm of that day. There was a recorded waterfall of 1.91 inches. The City of Toronto covers an area of 17.17 square miles. An inch of water over an acre of land means 100 tons of water. The record was easy. It was the heaviest rainfall since August 31, 1901, when 2.19 inches fell. Other heavy falls this year were: On May 18, 1.63 inches; July 12, 1.03 inches, and during the storm of August 19-20, when 1.87 inches fell. During this latter storm, however, Toronto got off easily compared with other parts of the Province. On August 20, these figures are on record: At Dealdown, in Kent County, 2.19 inches; Georgetown, Malton County, 2.34 inches; Westminster, in Middlesex County, 2.65 inches; Princeton, in Oxford, 2.29 inches; Smith's Falls, 2.34; Wyoming, in Lambton, 3.9 inches; Dutton, in Middlesex, 2.75 inches; and—hold your breath—at Watford, in Lambton County, there came a deluge of 5 inches vouchered for. The rain on Saturday was general throughout the Province.

Ocean Temperatures.

It is always cold at the bottom of the sea; the influence of the warm surface currents does not extend below 100 fathoms. In the great depths the temperature is for ever close to the freezing point. In the tropics the difference between surface and bottom temperatures is frequently over 45 degrees. From 100 fathoms down, or throughout the waters beyond the influence of the sun, temperatures remain practically constant. At the surface the lines of equal temperatures are parallel with the equator, although subject to deflections by currents; at the bottom they follow the general trend of the continents. The coldness at the bottom of the sea is due to the water in Polar regions sinking and gradually spreading itself over the ocean floor.

Oldest Living Tree.

The baobab trees of Senegambia are believed to be the oldest living trees on earth. Some scientists have put the age of one of these trees at 6,000 years; and the conscientious and conservative Livingstone was not less than 1,400 years old. This is the tree that sends out the immense branches that bend to the ground for support, although they grow sometimes to a length of seventy-five feet before they bend downward. There is one of these trees with ground-resting branches, covering such an area that the umbrageous spaces are used for the purpose of a public hall, its portals being ornamented by quaint, rude sculptures cut out of the living wood.

Boiling-Point of Water.

Water boils at different temperatures, according to the elevation above the sea level. In London water boils practically at 212 degrees Fahr.; in Munich, in Germany, at 209 degrees; in the city of Mexico at 200 degrees; and in the Himalayas, at an elevation of 18,000 feet above the level of the sea, at 180 degrees. These differences are caused by the varying pressure of the atmosphere at these points. In London the whole weight of the air has to be overcome. In Mexico, 7,000 feet above the sea, there is 7,000 feet less of atmosphere to be resisted, consequently less heat is required, and boiling takes place at a lower temperature.

Need of Improving Common Cattle.

The need of improving common stock appears very plain at slaughtering time. In recent tests at a large number of abattoirs, where many native cattle were handled, the average dressed weight was not over 60 per cent. of the live, whereas animals even tolerably well bred and fed should dress 60 per cent. This would amount to a loss of 96.2 pounds per head, which at a sale price of 8 cents per pound means a loss of $7.70 per animal.

She Knew.

Tramp—It is needless to ask you the question, madam. You knew what I want.

Lady—Yes; I know what you want badly, but I've only one bar of soap in the house, and the servant is using it. Come again some other time.

There is nothing like Sunlight Soap for Household Utensils.

When you have to use hard water it is not an easy matter to wash household utensils. To do good washing you should have good soap and soft water (rain water). If you use hard water you must have good soap, and the best soap you can get is Sunlight Soap because it softens the hard water and makes a copious creamy lather. Use Sunlight Soap for all household purposes and the results will surprise you.

There are many things to take into reckoning when accounting for the tremendous vogue of "Way Down East" which will be at the Grand on Monday, Nov. 7th. The simplicity of the story appeals to everybody, the broad fun of the inimitable Hi Holler and the comedy of the other characters, the realism of the various scenes, the wonderful simulation of the blizzard, the strength of the Company, and the power of the third act scene; these things in some measure will tell why "Way Down East" fills the theatres season after season. Added to this is the fact that the cast is kept up to its original standard of excellence while the production is made more elaborate each succeeding season.

FALL WEDDING

Margaret M. Leitch and Henry Paul United in Marriage in Harwich—
a Big Affair

A sociable event occurred at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Leitch, Harwich, when their daughter, Margaret May, was married to Mr. Henry Paul, a prosperous young farmer of Dawn. The Rev. W. Ashton, of New Lorne, cousin of the bride, conducted the ceremony under an arch of evergreens. The bride was charmingly gowned in white silk trimmed with silk over lace and carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses and maidens' fair fairs. The bride was attended by Miss Nellie Paul, sister of the groom, who wore a blue silk dress trimmed with white silk and silk lace. She carried pink roses and maidens' hair ferns. The best man was Dunken Leitch, brother of the bride. The bride entered the drawing room leaning on her father's arm to the strains of the wedding march played by (Rev.) Mrs. Ashton. The gifts from a number of relatives and friends were: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Robertson, oil painting picture; Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Paul, half dozen of parlor chairs; Robt. Paul, a lamp; Ethel and Ethel Paul, silver pepper and salt shaker and tooth-pick holder; Mrs. Booth, set linen table mats; Mrs. A. Blair, half dozen bread and butter plates; Mrs. Capt. Ribble, sugar bowl and cream pitcher; Mr. George Willmore, clock; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bloom, Mrs. Thos. Houston, Minnie and Thersa Houston, Alva Bobbie, a silver tea set; Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Budd, dozen silver forks; Mr. and Mrs. P. Gillespie, celery dish; Josie Houston, silver meat fork; Mrs. McMillan and John, celery dish and biscuit jar; Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones, silver butter dish; Robbie Kemp, china tea set; Mr. and Mrs. R. McKay, glass sugar bowl, cream pitcher, spoon holder and butter dish; Miss L. Johnston, bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. A. LaCalle, half dozen china dinner plates and a cake dish; Mr. and Mrs. P. Robertson, a glass sugar bowl spoon holder, butter dish and cream pitcher; Mr. and Mrs. R. Stenton, a china biscuit jar; Josie and Robbie Baker, hand painting; Mr. and Mrs. C. Coutts, a pair of woollen blankets; Mr. Caldwell, Huston, pepper dishes; Mr. Paul, half dozen silver spoons; Miss Lola Coutts, half dozen silver teaspoons; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Childs, dozen silver knives; Mr. and Mrs. T. Craze, carving set; Henry Snary, silver berry spoon; Duncan, James and Bella Leitch, a china lamp; Mr. Isaac Leitch, a silver water pitcher; Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Leitch, silver tray and water set; Mary Stenton, pair towels; Mrs. R. Johnston, table cloth; Rev. and Mrs. Ashton, dozen table napkins; Willie Robertson, stand cloth; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Cowser, stand cover and table cloth; Mr. and Mrs. M. Causgrove, a bed spread; Mrs. Robertson and Susie, two cushions; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Baker, table cloth; Mr. and Mrs. John Johnston, silver spoon holder and sugar bowl; Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Leitch and Wena, a china tea set; Perlie and Albert, an easel and photograph; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Leitch, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnston, water color picture; Mr. and Mrs. Moberly, berry set; Beatrice and Arthur Causgrove, meat dish and salad dish; Mr. and Mrs. Joe. McWha, silver syrup pitcher and tray; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Scott, Causgrove, berry set; Mr. and Mrs. M. Maw, berry set; Mr. Charles Johnston, a coach; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Childs, a raw fruit dish, a bracket and other beautiful presents were given; Mr. Orin Paul, Fred, Nellie and Lue Paul, a beautiful china tea set.

After a sumptuous wedding dinner the happy couple left for their home in Dawn. The bride's going-away costume was vicuna cloth and a blouse of white silk with a bertha and white silk over lace. She wore a large blue beaver hat. The evening was spent in music.

SOMETHING DOING IN KALAMAZOO.
Buffalo News.

Kalamazoo women are determined to have clean streets and have taken charge of the work themselves. When brooms are withheld they get after the mayor, who sends them roses to placate them, but they make all the more clamor for the new brooms. There will be something doing most of the time when women are counted in the electorate.

TRANSPLANTING TREES.

There is no better time to transplant shade trees than during the winter when the trees are dormant, as the digging up and moving does not interfere with their sap circulation at that time. It pays to dig up quite large trees to set out for shade, for then they are of use in a year or two. Dig a ditch around the tree several feet from the body, cutting off the roots cleanly as they are exposed. Then undermine the tree until it tips over. Trim the top as closely as the roots have been trimmed, roll the roots on a mud-trail and "snake" to the place where it is to be set out. Brace it so it will start into new and vigorous growth, and in a year or two make a thick shade. Thousands of trees were dug up on the site of the World's Fair, and set out in another place in this way, and nearly every one of them is a nice shade tree now.

Watch for The Morning Planet to-morrow!

ELECTION DAY

Today was election day, and better weather could not have been asked for. Both sides were working industriously and the vote in the city was pretty nearly all registered by noon. The weather man having been so kind favored the getting out of the vote. In the city the Conservatives were very sanguine and the way their men hurried to the polls helped things considerably.

At the Police Station 30 had voted by 10 o'clock and at Oldershaw's 44 had voted by 10.3 out of 120 on the list.

The lads the Conservatives asked for all responded and did noble work at the polling booths in the city. Things looked particularly bright in the city. The Grits were quite confident, but were banking generally on past performances.

A Schooner Ashore.
Tobermoray, Nov. 3.—Yesterday morning during heavy fog and wind, the schooner Martin of Toledo, Ohio, coal, for Owen Sound, ran ashore on Devil Island shoal, four miles from shore. She lies in an exposed position; a heavy sea runs and she will likely go to pieces if the wind continues to blow. The crew sheltered here safely.

Must Rest Three Weeks.
London, Nov. 3.—Premier Balfour will be unable to attend the Guild Hall banquet on Nov. 9, and Lord Lansdowne will speak in his stead. According to The Times it will be necessary for the Premier to rest his leg fully three weeks.

Grand Secretary Paralyzed.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Nov. 3.—W. J. Maxwell, grand secretary of the Order of Railway Conductors, was stricken with paralysis yesterday. His condition is serious.

Toronto Man Missing.
St. Louis, Nov. 3.—T. L. Maxwell of Toronto is mysteriously missing from his hotel here and foul play is suspected.

JAP SERIAL REPORTS

Attack On Port Arthur From the Invaders' Standpoint.

Tell a Dramatic Story of Desperate Encounters At Close Range—Beginning On Oct. 26 the Attacks Still Persist—Several Successful Night Ventures—Blowing Up and Damaging the Russian Forts—How Japs Creep Nearer Goal.

Tokio, Nov. 2.—Imperial headquarters last night published a series of reports covering the operations against Port Arthur during the months of August, September and October. The chief interest centres in the tremendous attack which was begun Oct. 26, and is still continuing. Hundreds of Japanese guns began battering against the northerly and easterly forts on Oct. 26, the infantry moving forward with desperate rushes, where the artillery had prepared the way, while the pioneers and sappers were running mines against the Russian forts. The reports record a series of desperate encounters at close range and tell a dramatic story.

Attack of Oct. 26.

The reports, beginning with the attack of Oct. 26, follow:

"From 8.30 a.m. the forts on Sungshu and Tyhling Mountains, the eastern forts on Keekwan Mountain and a fort lying north of the latter were bombarded. The parapet of Rihlung Mountain fort was demolished and openings were made in the fort.

"Two of the most important covers on Sungshu Mountain fort were destroyed. One 15 centimetre gun was dismounted and another damaged. One gun on the northern fort of East Keekwan Mountain was destroyed.

"From 2 p.m. other siege guns were directed against the trenches on Sungshu Mountain, and a portion of our centre against those on Rihlung Mountain and on Pohsian Mountain and took them without heavy loss.

"The enemy in the nearby forts, together with those in the forts on West Sitalyankow, Manto Mountain, Golden Hill, Taiyue Mountain, and Ialinhue concentrated an ineffectual fire against the points where our assaults were progressing.

"A large mine exploded on the slope of Rihlung Mountain without fatalities.

Shelled All Night.

"That night to prevent the Russians making repairs, we shelled the forts of Rihlung Mountain, East Keekwan Mountain and Sungshu Mountain, together with the warships and machinery buildings.

"The enemy held Sungshu and Rihlung Mountains under the protection of a shell fire and undertook several unsuccessful night attacks.

"On October 27 our bombardment was continued and much execution was done.

"Our engine corps that night was sent against the northern part of East Keekwan Mountain and destroyed the outer casemate of a projected point.

"The enemy tried every means to obstruct our work, assaulting and using bombs, at the same time working energetically in effecting repairs.

"On October 28 the bombardment was continued with good results.

"A conflagration occurred in the old city and a second conflagration was observed near Golden Hill.

bright moonlight last night to cannonade the Japanese from positions on the left wing of the central army, but were repulsed after an action which lasted several hours, during which both infantry and artillery fire was brisk and continuous until daylight.

The Japanese yesterday for the first time replied to the Russian bombardment, which has been frequent for several days past.

No Fight Yet.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—According to yesterday's advices from the theatre of war, no general engagement has yet begun. There was some skirmishing Monday, but nothing serious. No Japanese offensive movement has developed so far the official reports show, although advices from the extreme east are belated.

General Kaulbars, who is to succeed General Kuropatkin in command of the first army, has arrived here.

Kaulbars is a striking figure, a tall, stately soldier, with a bronzed face set off by a white moustache. His sixty years sit lightly upon his vigorous frame. He is considered to be a man of great energy and resource, and was commander of a corps during the suppression of the Boxer rebellion in China. Kaulbars is Kuropatkin's personal selection.

Kaulbars's reconstituted first army will include the first, tenth and seventeenth European corps, one corps of rifles, and two others to be sent out.

The second army will consist of the eighth, third, and sixteenth corps, one rifle corps, and two others not yet designated.

The third army will be composed of six Siberian corps under General Litich.

Persecution Suddenly Rescinded.

Chefoo Nov. 2.—The officers and crew of the Ryeschinski went on board the German steamer Waerts last night, bound for Shanghai, where they were to join the officers and crew of the Russian cruiser Askold. Before the vessel sailed, however, the Russians suddenly returned on shore, the Government at Peking having rescinded the permission which had been granted them to proceed to Shanghai.

IT IS IMPORTANT TO KNOW WHAT YOU ARE TAKING WHEN USING CATARRH MEDICINES.

Catarrh is the short route to consumption, and the importance of early and judicious treatment, of catarrh, whether located in the head, throat or bronchial tubes, cannot be too strongly emphasized.

The list of catarrh cures is as long as the moral law and the forms in which they are administered, numerous and confusing, from sprays, inhalers, washes, ointments, and salves to powders, liquids and tablets.

British Army Bearskins.

For more than 130 years "a tall hat of fur" has been a conspicuous article of headgear in the British army, and it was with something of a shock that people read in the papers the other day that a committee was going to sit to consider the growing scarcity of the bearskins from which are made the imposing full-dress hats of the Foot Guards.

War Office committees on clothing are dreadful things, but those that sit on hats are unutterable. Every body remembers with horror the alleged helmet which such a committee produced a few years ago. It was to be the universal head-covering of the British army, and must be serviceable and useful. The committee decided, as a first principle, that an article possessing these two qualities must be ugly. Proceeding from this premise, they gave full expression to their ideas of utility, and produced a head-covering the like of which was never before seen on earth. It is to be hoped never will again. There are members of the headquarters staff who to this day have not quite got over the sight of the experimental helmet devised by the committee. Fortunately, only one was made, or instead of only having to lament the scarcity of recruits, the nation would have found itself without any army whatever. No regular soldier or self-respecting militiaman—a volunteer will wear anything—would have put it on, and its adoption into the service would have left no service to wear it.

This much is necessary to explain the alarm felt the other day when it was announced that a War Office head-dress committee was about to tamper with the guardsmen's bearskins. Fortunately the committee has only limited powers. Its only function this time is, so to speak, to haggle with tradition. The plain fact is that bearskins are growing scarce, and the cost of providing the guards with their magnificent "tall hat of fur" is increasing yearly in a remarkable manner. Only one kind of fur is used for this purpose. It is that produced by the American black bear, and as Uncle Americans, despite the extraordinary cordiality subsisting between the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race, refuse to produce well-furred integument in sufficient quantities to cover the heads of the guardsmen at a reasonable rate, the never-failing resource of a committee has been called into operation.

It costs, on an average, £1 a head per annum to maintain the imposing appearance imparted by the bushy. The great caps cost the Government about £8 each. Those worn by the Coldstreams are a little less, but those for the Grenadiers and the Scots Guards cost more than that sum. According to the regulations, a bushy must last for eight years, but there are several reasons why the regulation "life" of a bushy, like the regulation life of a whole lot of other equipment, falls considerably short of the War Office span. One of the principal reasons is that the cap is only a home service equipment. When a guard's battalion is ordered on foreign service the big bushes—stirring battle pictures to the contrary notwithstanding—are returned to the store at the Pimlico clothing factory. They are not kept there waiting the return of their former owners, but are re-issued to newly joined recruits or to battalions returning home, so that men get what is called "part worn equipment."—London Daily Telegraph.

Ape-Like Giants of Africa.

Mr. Ewart Grogan—who traversed Africa along its whole length, from the Cape to Cairo—met with a strange race on the southern shores of Albert Edward Nyanza. These fearsome, ape-like creatures, hiding behind banana palms, are tall men, with long arms and pendant paunches.

Such is the stamp of the brute on them that they may be placed lower in the scale than any other African native hitherto seen. Their face, body and limbs are covered with wiry hair, while the hang of the long, powerful arms, the slight stoop of the trunk, and the hunted vacant expression of the face make them appear more like apes than human beings.

Northwards, near Lado, the same party came across the Dinkas, a race of giants, standing six feet six inches to seven feet in height, and magnificently developed; and, in the adjoining Toroland which swarmed with elephants of gigantic size, the natives were simply stark-naked savages of inexpressible degradation of character.

Has Won Distinction.

Major-General H. S. Gough, C.B., C.M.G., formerly of the 15th and 18th Hussars, who has been appointed Lieutenant-Governor and Commander of the troops in Jersey, has on distinction in many quarters of the world. In the Afghan war of 1878-9 he participated in the storming of Ali Musjid, and was given the medal with clasp. The Sudan was the scene of his next active service; he fought at the battles of Teb and Tamai, and was twice mentioned in despatches. General Gough was given the command of the 3rd Mounted Rifles in the Bechuanaland Expedition of 1884-5, at the close of which he received his C.M.G. At Government House, Jersey, he succeeds Major-General H. R. Abadie, C.B., whose term of office has been extended.

Arizona's Agate Bridge.

In the "Petrified Forest" of Arizona there is a natural bridge, across a narrow canyon, consisting of the petrified, or agatized, trunk of a tree, 111 feet in length. The petrified trees in this region are believed to have flourished in the Triassic age. Most of them are allied to the Norfolk Island pine (Arucaria) of today, but some resemble the red cedar. Prof. O. C. S. Carter thinks that the petrification was due to soluble silicates derived from the decomposition of the feldspathic cement found in the sandstones of that locality.

St. Catharines, Nov. 2.—The police are on the lookout for a Hungarian named Stojan Kolometric, who is accused of murder. On Oct. 19 in a dispute in a boarding house, near Falls View, Ont., where both men lived, it is alleged that Kolometric shot Stephen Mojus and Mojus was brought to St. Catharines Hospital, where he died of the wound. Kolome-tic disappeared after the shooting.

WHY CATARRH POISONS THE SYSTEM.

The Catarrhal germ excites inflammation, offensive secretions are thrown off and pass into the circulation, contaminating the river of life and thus wreck the whole body.
Every catarrh victim should use Fer-rozone, healing Catarrhozone, the surest cure for every type of catarrh yet discovered. Catarrhozone can't fail to cure, because its vapor kills the germs and removes the cause of the trouble. Then it soothes and heals, stops the cough and relieves the stuffed up condition of the nose and throat. Tens of thousands have been cured by Catarrhozone, which is guaranteed. Use only Catarrhozone.

London, Nov. 2.—Earl Grey proposes, Reuter's Agency learns, to leave England on Dec. 1, by the steamer
Parisian, to assume his post as Governor-General of Canada. Colonel Hambury Williams, military secretary to the Governor-General, will leave for Canada with his family on Nov.
3, by the Tunisian. He will have an interview with the Earl of Minto before His Lordship leaves the Dominion.

RICH COLOR AND SOFT SKIN.

may be imitated, but beauty is more than skin deep—it is hidden in the blood. Eliminate the poisonous products of indigestion by Ferrozone and complexion rapidly improves. Increase the red coloring matter in the blood, give it more nutrition and more red cells, do this and cosmetics won't be needed. Give up cosmetics, they wither too quickly. Use Fer-rozone and have your complexion firmly established. There isn't a case of blotched skin, poor complexion or lack of color that can't be quickly remedied by Ferrozone. Try it. Price

Sympathizes With Irish.

London, Nov. 2.—(C. A. P.)—John Callaghan of Boston, secretary of the United Irish League of America, speaking at Kilkenny, Ireland, thanked God that the Government of Canada from the Premier to the humblest Cabinet officer were on their side, and had taken occasion to let the rulers of England know they were in sympathy with the Irish cause.

NOTHING LOOSENS UP COLDS

On the chest and relieves that tight feeling and hard cough like Nerviline, writes E. P. Benshall, of Sutton. "I never used any other remedy but Nerviline and find it serves as a general household liniment best of all.
Children's colds and inflammatory pains are quickly cured by Nerviline, and its action on colds, coughs and sore throat is unequalled by anything I ever used. Nerviline is both powerful, pleasant and reliable." Every mother should use Nerviline. Price 25c.

Setting Him Right.

An Irish soldier was crossing a barrack square with a pail, in which he was going to get some water. A sergeant passing at the time noticed that Pat had a very disreputable looking pair of trousers on and, wishing to make a report, stopped the man and asked, "Where are you going?"
"To get some water."
"What! In those trousers?"
"No, sergeant; in the pail."

A TIMELY SUGGESTION.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over,
and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no harmful substance.
It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures.

FIVE MEN IN A RUNAWAY

Every One Injured and Bones
Snapped Like Kindling Wood.

Team Collided With Telephone Post and Finally Buried Big Through Plate
Glass Window—Horses Shied On Encounter with a Street Car—In the Mix-Up
No Fewer Than Six Legs Were Broken—
Names of Injured.

Brantford, Nov. 2.—The most remarkable and disastrous runaway in the recent history of Brantford occurred shortly before 10 o'clock Monday night. Five men had driven to Burford in a two-seated covered rig, drawn by a team of horses, and were returning via Paris road, when the accident happened. Near the car-barns on Brant avenue a street car was encountered. The horses shied and broke into a run. The rig collided with a telephone post on the side of the road, was overturned and the occupants thrown into the street.

There were five men in the outfit and all were injured. In the mix-up six legs were broken and other wounds inflicted. All were caught between the rig and the post and bones snapped like kindling wood. The injured are: John Syrett, 62 Dundas street, one leg broken, one rib fractured.
William Coleman, 177 Darling street, one leg broken.
George Walters, 99 Pearl, two legs broken.
Charles Mahler, 97 West Mill street, two legs broken.
William McLeans, 261 Clarence street, bruised knee.

All the men are maulers in the employ of the Buck Company. The ambulance was called out, the men were picked up on Brant avenue, near James street, and were removed to the hospital, where their injuries were attended to.

The team of horses dashed down
Brant avenue, turned east along Colborne and finally hurled the rig through Ald. Corey's plate glass window at his grocery store, corner of Colborne and Murray streets. The top of the rig was demolished, one wheel was smashed and the harness slightly damaged. The horses escaped unhurt. The men were doing well at the hospital yesterday.

Fatal Halloween Accident.

St. Thomas, Nov. 2.—A horse driven by John T. Evans, groom for Dr.
Guest, became frightened at the noise made by a number of young people celebrating Halloween on Talbot street Monday evening, and ran away, colliding with a telegraph pole and throwing Evans out on the pavement. He was picked up unconscious and died at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. He was twenty years of age.

Boy Accidentally Killed.

Havelock, Nov. 2.—Wilbur Davis, son of Samuel Davis, of Belmont township, living about ten miles from this place, shot himself accidentally yesterday morning. He was twelve years of age and was hunting in company with his father and brother.
His father hearing the shot,
went to him, and found the boy dead,
with a charge in his left side below
the heart and the empty gun lying near.

Two Trampmen Injured.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 2.—The C.P.R.
train, which left here yesterday morning for Montreal, ran into a special at Oxford Junction, which was on the siding. Both engines were broken up. The driver and fireman of the C.
P. R. were badly injured, but all passengers and other train hands escaped injury.

One Killed and One Injured.

Hamilton, Nov. 2.—William Moodie, Liverpool, was killed, and William Myers, Orillia, was painfully injured in a wreck on the T. H. & B. yesterday morning. While the train was coming down the mountain it broke in two, and the rear end crashed into the front portion at the foot of the mountain, near Prospect street. Six cars were smashed into kindling wood.

The Rival Nightingales.

A writer on birds, Edmund Selous, describes a song contest between two male nightingales. "Jealousy," he says,
"did not seem to blind them on the merit of each other's performance.
Though often one, upon hearing the sweet, hostile strains, would burst forth instantly itself—and here there was no certain mark of appreciation—yet sometimes, perhaps quite as often, it would put its head on one side and listen with exactly the appearance of a musical connoisseur, weighing, testing and appraising each note as it issued from the rival bill. A curious, half suppressed expression would steal or seem to steal for fancy may play her part in such matters—over the listening bird, and the idea appeared to be, 'How exquisite would be those strains were they not sung by —,
and yet I must admit that they are exquisite.'"

CHURCH RIVALRY.

Our New Governor-General Has Something Sensible to Say.

London, Nov. 2.—Earl Grey Monday opened a bazaar in connection with St. James' Presbyterian Church, Aberdeen. "It has been said to me,"
he remarked, "Why is it that you,
a member of the Church of England,
assist in a bazaar which is promoted with a view to increasing the power of rival churches? Well, I am one of those who look upon the various Protestant churches in this country not as rivals, whom we ought all to try to keep in their proper places behind us, but as comrades who want to be helped as far as they possibly can. I believe there is much greater advantage to be derived by dwelling on the points that unite us than upon points of dogma and ceremonial that divide us."

PERMANENCE OF CURE

THE CHIEF MERIT.

Many so called pile remedies will afford the user slight temporary relief, and the majority of sufferers do not expect more than this. Women especially, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of Piles, have come to the conclusion, that there is no cure except by an operation. This is rightfully viewed with dread, because of the shock to the delicate nervous system of women, and many of those afflicted, have resigned themselves to the situation with never a thought that there is any help in sight for them.

We invite the attention of all such to the experience of a lady whose address is given below.
"I feel it my duty to recommend the Pyramid Pile Cure, for after suffering ten years with a most distressing form of Piles, I am entirely cured, thanks to this remedy. Anyone desiring this can write to Margaret Burt, 156 Whitman St., Cleveland, Ohio."

Ten months later she writes: "I am glad to say that I am still perfectly free from Piles, and have not had the slightest trouble since I first used your remedy. I was well known in Cleveland and have advertised Pyramid Pile Cure extensively here.
I take pleasure in doing so as it saved me from an operation, which I always dreaded, and you are assured
the remedy can have no firmer advocate than I."

Druggists sell this famous remedy for fifty cents a package, and we urge all sufferers to buy a package
now and give it a trial to-night.

WAKEFUL CHILDREN.

For a long time the two year old child of Mr. P. L. McPherson, 59 N.
Tenth St., Harrisburg, Pa., would it very hard for her parents. Her mother concluded that the child had stomach trouble, and gave her half of one of Chamberlain's Stomach

THE BIG TREES

WONDEROUS AND AWE-INSPIRING
PRODUCT OF NATURE, FOUND
ONLY IN CALIFORNIA.

California's attractions are mostly of its own kind, peculiar to the state, and among these are the Big Trees, and it is this so emphatically true as that unique product the Big Trees. The age of these colossal trees is from 1,500 to 2,000 years. The Mariposa Grove, which can be visited while en route to the Yosemite, contains some of the largest. In the Calaveras Grove are from ninety to one hundred of huge size. Near Santa Cruz is a beautiful grove of redwood Big Trees which will employ a day's visit. These can be best reached by the Union Pacific whose fast trains from Missouri reach California 16 hours ahead of all competitors.

FILLED WITH BUCKSHOT

Herbert Goad of Toronto Fatally Shot in Parry Sound.

Gun Was Discharged While He Was Getting Over a Log—Ten Miners Crushed to Death—The Cages Got Beyond Control and 700 Feet From the Top Its Bottom Dropped Out—Other Serious and Fatal Accidents.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—The first Toronto victim of the hunting season is Herbert Goad of 351 Howland avenue, and the circumstances of his death are pathetic. He went to Trout Creek, in the Parry Sound district, to visit his brother-in-law, having been in ill-health for some time. With him were his wife and infant child. On Tuesday he was out hunting. In climbing over a fallen log, he placed the butt of his gun on the ground, the muzzle pointing towards him. In some way the gun went off, and the charge entered his abdomen, the intestines being riddled with buckshot. The unfortunate man lingered in agony until midnight. Deceased was 35 years of age and was employed with Jones Bros. & Co. The body was brought to Toronto last night.

ONE BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Dynamite Explosion Injures Forty and Wrecks Many Buildings.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Nov. 3.—A terrific explosion of dynamite which occurred here yesterday afternoon, caused injuries to about 40 persons and did damage to property that is estimated at $100,000. It is feared that one life was lost. An Italian who was guarding the box containing the dynamite, has not been seen since the explosion, and it is believed that he must have been blown to atoms.

About 35 or 40 other persons are reported to have been cut by flying shrapnel or otherwise injured, but their injuries are said to be not serious. Telephone and electric light wires are all down and the district looks as if a cyclone had swept over it.

Ten Crushed to Death.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Nov. 3.—Ten miners were crushed to death or drowned in the Auchincloss shaft of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company at Nanticoke yesterday. The victims, with the exception of one, are said to be Poles and Slavs.

The men had taken their position on the cage to be lowered into the shaft, the total depth of which is 1,700 feet. At the bottom is a sump filled with water. The shaft is a double one with two cages. When the signal was given to lower the cage, it is said, the engine got beyond the control of the engineer. One of the cages shot upward to the level at the top of the shaft and this caused the other cage carrying the men to become overbalanced and it fell to the bottom of the shaft. The bodies were horribly mangled.

THIRTEEN MEET DEATH.

Reservoir at Winston, Salem, N.C. Burst and Kills.

Winston, Salem, N. C., Nov. 3.—Thirteen people are known to be dead and many more are missing as the result of the bursting of the reservoir at this place early yesterday. One of the brick walls of the reservoir collapsed, burying the home and family of Martin Peoples. A million and a half gallons of water were released and over a mile of territory was devastated. Thirteen are dead and thirteen residences were destroyed.

Mayor O. B. Eaton is at the head of a large rescue party and search is now being made in the debris for additional victims. The colored settlement in the vicinity of the reservoir was entirely wrecked and the negroes are working diligently with the whites in the search for the missing.

The cause of the disaster was the overflow of the reservoir, and a thorough investigation will be made in order to ascertain if the negligence of any of the employees at the pump station was responsible for it. The reservoir burst without warning and the victims were drowned while asleep in their beds. One couple, a negro man and his wife, floated on their bed for 500 yards. Neither one was injured.

The water supply of the city is interrupted by the accident.

KILLED BY FALLING POLES.

Toronto Workmen Meets With Fatal Accident At Petrolia.

Petrolia, Nov. 3.—In a fatal accident at the Canadian Oil Company's refinery here yesterday, Norman Callan, an employee of the Polson Iron Works, Toronto, was the victim. The unfortunate man was at work on an agitator when struck by some heavy poles which had collapsed, causing his death. An inquest was not held, the remains leaving for Toronto yesterday afternoon.

Deceased, who was 27 years of age, had been in the employ of the Polson Company for the past nine years. He was by trade a boiler-maker, and was sent to Petrolia about a week ago with several fellow workmen to fill a contract for the repairing of a number of oil tanks. He leaves a widow and two children.

Loses An Arm.

Belleville, Nov. 3.—Nelson Smith of this city, an employee of Graham's evaporator, got his arm caught in the belting Tuesday night, and it was so badly smashed that amputation at the elbow was necessary.

The injured man is married and about 40 years of age.

Broke His Back.

Pictou, Nov. 3.—Dennis Roundall, a young man 19 years of age, working on a barn at the farm of M. B. Burr, two miles from Bloomfield, fell off a ladder Tuesday, breaking his back. He died yesterday morning.

Ten Firemen Overcome.

New York, Nov. 3.—Ten firemen were overcome by smoke and gas last night, while fighting flames which consumed a haystack in Brooklyn. Three of the firemen are not recovered, and four of the others are in a serious condition.

Twenty Students Hurt.

Boston, Nov. 3.—At least 25 persons were injured during a clash between students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and police reserves shortly after midnight this morning. Of the number 20 were students. Most of the injuries consist of scalp wounds and body bruises.

A VERDICT OF MEN.

One London Paper Sizes Up the Situation As Regards the Canadian General Elections.

London, Nov. 3.—(C.A.P.)—The Morning Post says: The result of the Canadian elections will be the nature of a national verdict of men rather than on measures. The main issue is the personality of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. After describing his services to his country and party The Post proceeds that it seems unlikely that the most grateful of democracies will dismiss him for Mr. Borden, despite the fact that the Conservative leader has not only done much to consolidate his following, but has proved himself to be a statesman by refusing to compromise any attempt to revive racial or Imperial antagonism by taking the side of Imperial common sense in the controversy brought to a climax by Lord Dundonald's "indiscretion." It has been made clear to the Mother Country and the other colonies that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Borden substantially agreed over Mr. Chamberlain's proposals for the commercial defence of the Empire.

Our Politics Beyond Them.

London, Nov. 3.—The Birmingham Daily Post says: "The mazes of Canadian politics are too devious and thorny to be readily followed by the English people, therefore the general election in the Dominion has attracted little attention on this side of the Atlantic. Referring to the Grand Trunk Pacific, The Post says: 'The refusal of the Liberal Government to work the gigantic railroad, and the popular support of that refusal, have a significance which ought not to be overlooked.'

ROSS TO THE COUNTRY.

Warrant Will Likely Be Issued On Monday Next.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—It is now certain that the provincial elections will take place on Tuesday, Dec. 6 or 13, and the warrant will be issued on Monday next, Nov. 7. The warrants for the bye-elections, would, according to the act passed in the last session of the Legislature, be issued before Dec. 14, so in order to avoid the bye-elections it is necessary for the Ross Government to go to the country before that date.

The ballots are all printed and ready to be sent out to local printing offices in the various ridings to fill in the names of the respective candidates.

The general proclamations are printed and everything is in readiness for the election.

There is one good reason why the proclamation will be issued on the 7th, by this move, the Legislature will endeavor to capture the voters' lists used in the election to-day.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

The Conservative candidate in L'Assomption, M. Caron, has retired from the contest and R. C. Laurier, Liberal, has been elected by acclamation.

A man giving the name of Frank Picotte was arrested Wednesday afternoon at Mariaville. The accusation is that he represented to be from Montreal and commissioned by Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Liberal candidate, to pay for votes. Mr. Brodeur denies all knowledge of the man, and it was at his instigation that the arrest was made.

CANADIAN CATTLE.

Correspondent to the Glasgow Herald Refutes Our Story.

London, Nov. 3.—(C.A.P.)—Patrick Gray, secretary of the Edinburgh branch of the Canadian Store Cattle on the Admission from the Association, writes to The Glasgow Herald, protesting against a previous correspondent's assertions that certain tests had proved that Canadian cattle were largely infected with tuberculosis. He says the tests referred to by the correspondent consisted of tests on foreign cattle or their offspring or on those being cattle connected with foreign cattle, as a result of which an enactment was made that British cattle should be free of the tuberculosis test. Now, according to Mr. Trotter, a veterinary inspector in Glasgow, all Canadian bullocks and cows are practically free, while British cows and a large number of bullocks to a considerable extent suffer from tuberculosis. Either man or nature kills the infected stock of Canada. British cattle bred from tuberculosis stock are constantly in contact with infected.

The Glasgow Herald in an editorial says that Great Britain desired not to debar cattle free from disease, though disease was very prevalent amongst home stock.

Got Most of the Prize Money.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—A. P. Westervelt, the Ontario live stock commissioner, yesterday received a telegram from St. Louis stating that Canadian poultry won $3,000 out of $5,000 prize money offered.

Again we talk of Overcoats.

We are so enthusiastic about the immense range of beautiful coats we are showing, that we want every man in town to know just how stylish and how good they are.

Shapely shoulders and graceful lapels, collars high and snug, backs properly hung, fronts that button smoothly and keep their shape, are effects of our tailoring.

All the smartest of the most correct styles are here, priced from $6.00 to $20.00.

LIBRARY BOARD

Politics didn't interfere with the meeting of the Public Library Board last night, as it did with the meetings of some other civic bodies. The Library Board is always good attending to business. Chairman Albert Sheldrick and Messrs. W. J. J. Twohey, Dr. Charteris, William Anderson, Capt. Smith, J. V. Thibodeau and J. W. Humphrey were present. The electric light account, $10.68, and the water rates, $9.93, were ordered paid. Some changes in the heating plant was referred to the Building and Property Committee.

The Librarian reported as follows: New books 34, books taken out 1,527, fines $3.79, card sales $1.50, and county fees 50c.

FOR A HUNTING TRIP

And one which will bring you the best results, spend a few days in the Temagami District, reached via Grand Trunk Railway. This district abounds in moose and other large game. Call on Grand Trunk Agents, or address J. D. McDonald, District Passenger Agent, Toronto, for descriptive and illustrated booklet, entitled "Haunts of Fish and Game," which gives full information as to game laws, and the best districts to go to.

J. D. McDONALD, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

It's easy enough to love your neighbors if they only keep away from you.

What you need is a good liver pill

The color of your skin shows it. Your sick-headaches declare it. And your disposition proves it. Who makes a good liver pill? The J. C. Ayer Co., of Lowell, Mass. They have been making liver pills for over sixty years. Ayer's Pills. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.
