Settlement of Coal Strike Within Sight.

Glasgow Dockers Attack Voluntary Helpers--Korfanty Gives Poles Good Advice--Outrages in Ireland Carried to Churches.

COAL STRIKE OUTLOOK.

LONDON, May 18. The sudden return of Premier George to town, is taken as a better sign of a coming settlement of the miners' strike. Sir Robert Balfour, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has undertaken delicate parleys in different directions in the last few days, and the result of these has now been reported to the Premier, who will decide whether they are sufficient to warrant the calling of a meeting of the miners' strike. Sir Robert Balfour, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has undertaken delicate parleys in different directions in the last few days, and the result of these has now been reported to the Premier, who will decide whether they are sufficient to warrant the calling of a meeting of the miners' strike. Sir Robert Balfour, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has undertaken delicate parleys in different directions in the last few days, and the result of these has now been reported to the Premier, who will decide whether they are sufficient to warrant the calling of a meeting of the miners' strike.

Kingdom now totals over two and a half millions. Nevertheless a pit pony race meeting at Doncaster was attended by 3,000 idle miners. A large body of strikers are assisting the police as special constables.

KORFANTY AND ORDER.

LONDON, May 18. Information received in official circles regarding Upper Silesia, states that the Polish Consul General at Beuthen has informed the Inter-Allied Plebiscite Commission that Adalbert Korfanty has issued a proclamation to the people of Upper Silesia to surrender their arms, resume work and avoid military contact with Germans. He declares that 10,000 men have been demobilized.

RACE RIOT.

BIRONVILLE, Ga., May 18. Two negroes are dead and one white man named Davis from New Jersey, is seriously wounded as the result of a race riot that began near here last night and continued to-day. Twenty negroes have been placed under arrest.

SALES ON TIME.

SOUTHAMPTON, May 18. The White Star liner Adriatic sailed on time to-day for New York with a full complement of stewards, half of them members of the regular staff and others consisting of men with previous experience. A large number of the clerical staff of the line worked on the quays this morning, assisting the steamer to get away. They were disappointed when their services were not required to make the voyage.

URGES AMALGAMATION.

LONDON, May 18. Shortage of London tramcars through conservation of fuel is causing much inconvenience at rush hours. There are plenty of volunteer laborers unloading Belgian coal now, which is to be used for generating power. Lord Londonderry suggests that his fellow coal owners in the Durham and Northumberland fields should undertake amalgamation of coal enterprises throughout the United Kingdom into districts, in order to reduce overhead distribution charges. He believes the scheme would reduce the price without undue diminution in the miners' wages.

CHURCHES NOW OUTRAGED.

BELFAST, May 18. District Inspector Walsh was seriously wounded by three men during service in St. Patrick's Catholic Church on Tuesday. Members of the congregation were searched on leaving the Church and eight men were arrested.

TRAINMEN HELD UP.

DUBLIN, May 18. Rebels have adopted a new method for attacks on police barracks. Travelling by train yesterday they compelled the trainmen to stop the train at Ballaghaderreen, County Mayo, and opened fire on the barracks. The police repelled, wounding one passenger in the train. Members of the attacking party were pursued by the police and the belief is expressed that one of the party was killed. A prominent District leader named Jim Hunt, was captured. Nine policemen were ambushed yesterday at Lanesborough, County Longford, and one of them was killed and three men wounded. Seven policemen ran into an ambulance at Kinnity, Kings County, on Tuesday, one man was killed and three were wounded. A royal marine named Williams was taken from a bar-room near Rosses Point, carried to the seashore and riddled with bullets.

REBELS SURRENDERED.

DUBLIN, May 18. An official announcement issued to-day, says that a party of thirteen rebels near Kilmachthomas, County Waterford, was surprised by the military and surrendered without a fight. The men handed over their arms and five bicycles.

C. L. B. Cadets.

Annual Dinner of Officer's Mess.

The annual dinner of the Officer's Mess of the C. L. B. Cadets was held last night in the Band Room at the Armoury and was an entirely successful and thoroughly enjoyable function. Amongst the guests who were present were Major Anderson (Heart's Content), Canon Jeeves, Mr. R. G. Rendell, C.B.E., ex-Lieut.-Col. Revs. Clayton and Brinton. The dinner, which was under the chairmanship of Lieut. Colonel Goodridge began at 8.30 p.m. and after a splendid repast, served by the Ladies' Auxiliary, had been partaken of. The Toast List was proceeded with. All the speeches made during the evening were of a very high order and some of the reminiscences were very amusing. In replying to the Toast of "Outport Companies," Major A. Anderson, M.D., O.C., the Heart's Content Company, gave an insight into the difficulties which beset the path of the outport officers and appealed for closer co-operation between Headquarters and the various branches. The Lieut. Colonel, in replying to the toast of the "Chairman," paid a tribute to Major Raley, M.C., C. de G., and Lieut. (Rev.) Fletcher, both of whom will be leaving the country within the course of the next few weeks. He also stated that a company of the C. L. B. Cadets was being formed at Topsail, and made a few brief remarks with reference to Major Anderson's speech. The affair was brought to a close at 11.45 p.m. by the playing of the National Anthem by the Band. Too much praise cannot be given to the Ladies' Auxiliary for the excellent dinner which they provided. By undertaking to cater, the ladies took upon themselves a considerable amount of work and the efficient way in which they overcame the difficulties which beset them is a great tribute to their capabilities. The Toast List was as follows:—

The King.—Prop. by the Chairman, resp. National Anthem.
The Land we Live In.—Prop. by Rev. Canon Jeeves, resp. R. G. Rendell, Esq., C.B.E.
Song.—Capt. J. Snow.
The Bishop and Clergy.—Prop. by Capt. C. E. A. Jeffery, resp. Rev. J. Brinton, Battalion Chaplain.
Band Selection.
Outport Companies.—Prop. by Capt. (Rev.) Clayton, resp. Major Anderson, M.D. (Heart's Content).
Recreation.—Lieut. Colley.
The Ladies' Auxiliary.—Prop. by Lieut. (Rev.) Fletcher, resp. Lieut. King.
Song.—Lieut. (Rev.) Fletcher.
Absent Friends.—Major Raley, M.C., C. de G.
The Chairman.—Prop. by Lieut. King, resp. the Chairman.
GOD SAVE THE KING.

Just Folks
PLAYING FOR KEEPS.
I've watched him change from his bibs and things, from bonnets known as "cutie," to little frocks, and later on I saw him don a suit; And though it was of calico, those knickers gave him joy, Until the day we all agree 'twas time for corduroy. I say I've seen the changes come, it seems with bounds and leaps. But here's another just arrived—his playing mibs for keeps!

The guide posts of his life fly by. The boy that is to-day. To-morrow morning we may wake to find his gone away. And in his place will be a lad we've never known before. Older and wiser in his ways and filled with new-found lore. Now here's another boy to-day, counting his marble heaps And proudly boasting to his dad he's playing mibs for keeps! His mother doesn't like this change. She says it is a shame—That since he plays with larger boys, he's bound to lose the game. But little do I mind his loss; I'm more concerned to know The way he acts the times when he must see his marbles go. And oh, I hope he will not be the little boy who weeps Too much when he has failed to win while playing mibs for keeps. Playing for keeps! Another step towards manhood's broad estate! This is what some term growing up, or destiny, or fate. Yet from this game with marbles, played with youngsters on the streets, I hope will come a larger boy, too big to lie or cheat. And by those mibs which from his clutch another manly sweeps, I hope he'll learn the game of life which must be played for keeps.

Household Notes.

Curry dressing is good on potato salad. Add ½ teaspoon of curry powder to French dressing.
Bake fruit pies in a quick oven at first to set the pastry, so that the filling will not soak in.
Add chopped walnuts to seasoned cottage cheese, spread between slices of graham bread and toast.
Foods are often better if cooked below the boiling point for a longer time than if actually boiled.

Cream soups made with greens are more appropriate for warm weather than heavy meat broths.
A bit of tar paper and roof cement will nicely patch a leak in a rainwater gutter of galvanized metal.
Pastry may be made for a week ahead, and keeps perfectly if closely wrapped in waxed paper in a cool place.

Up to the Governor.

His Excellency the Governor is the representative of the Throne of Britain in Newfoundland. As Viceroy of this Colony he is bound to protect the people from injury by Governments and to uphold the Constitution. He has no personal feelings whatever toward any person, either friendly or inimical in the discharge of the duties of his vice-regal office, but he is—if a stickler for form—bound in all cases to accept the advice of his Ministers in all matters appertaining to the administration of Government. But he also has certain powers vested in himself as Governor and Commander-in-Chief, amongst which is that of removing or suspending Ministers of State for sufficient cause. (Bourinot.) The same authority says that the Governor "may feel himself bound for powerful public or constitutional reasons to refuse the advice of his Council; but there can be no doubt that it is the right and duty of the Crown, under any circumstances, to control the most valued prerogatives of the Sovereign."

The above of course refers to the gubernatorial duties of the Governor-General of Canada, but there is not a great deal of difference between the rules set down for the direction of Canadian Governors-General and Governors of Newfoundland. Rather are they very closely associated with each other, and rules applying to the functions of the Viceroy of Canada, apply with equal force to His Majesty's representative in this Colony. Bourinot says also: "If the Crown should feel compelled at any time to resort to the extreme exercise of its undoubted prerogative right of refusing the advice of its constitutional Advisory Council of Ministers, they must either submit or immediately resign and give place to others who will be prepared to accept the full responsibility of the Sovereign's action, which must be based on the broadest grounds of the public welfare."

The public welfare of Newfoundland to-day demands that the Governor take cognizance of the actions of certain of his Ministers who occupy dual positions, which are altogether at variance with the strict letter of the Constitution. Such men cannot be unbiased advisors to the Crown. Nor should His Excellency permit them to hold a seat at his Council Board, while their connection with interests of a personal nature is maintained. Interests that must inevitably clash with the rigid performance of their duties to the Crown. Surely His Excellency the Governor of Newfoundland does not need to have an official protest addressed to him. His position is clear, and like Caesar's wife he must be above suspicion. What then does he intend to do?

Literary Club Concert and Sale.

The Hobby Sale arranged by the young men of the Wesleyan Church Literary Club, was well patronized last night, and opened by Calvert C. Pratt. The supporters of the church rallied around the young men to encourage them in their effort, and the young ladies reinforced their mothers in helping out the boys by a large contribution to the fancy work table. At the hobby table there was a good display of ingenious carving, in trinkets, gloves, and handkerchief boxes, photo frames, etc., also exhibits of the handwork of the cabinet maker, cooper and machinist, all useful articles finding ready sale. The fruit and candy tables were soon cleared off. At nine o'clock Mr. Allen Pelley, President, opened the entertainment with a short address on the aim of the promoters to assist the trustees in reducing a debt on property recently acquired by them, and on which some day a Hall may be erected for young people's work, etc. The following contributed to a good programme:—Misses Russell, Bartlett and Mrs. Guden; Messrs. Beauford, Brett, Chaplin, Gaudin, S. J. Tucker and that intimate entertainer, Mr. P. H. Cowan. A substantial supper, a feast of good things, was enjoyed at the close, and the proceeds amount to a goodly sum.—A.W.M.

Celebrated First Birthday.

We have to thank Messrs. Bowring Bros. Ltd., Local Agents of the World Auxiliary Insurance Corporation, Ltd., London, England, for copy of Report of the Directors for the period ended December 31st, 1920, showing premiums derived from Fire and Marine business, as from 18th September, 1919, to December 31st, 1920. Considering the fact that this Company has only recently celebrated its first birthday, the results achieved, are very remarkable. In passing, it may be stated that Sir John Bowring Wimble, K.B.E., is the Chairman of above Company. The Company is in a splendid position, and as the years go by, the financial position of the World Auxiliary will increase with the times.

"Officer 666".

Another Appreciative Audience. The second performance of this very amusing play was greeted by a large audience last night. The parts of Travers Gladwin by Mr. King and Whitney Barnes by Mr. Frank Bennett were outstandingly rendered. There was a continuous round of laughter from the moment the curtain went up until it fell. The C.C.C. Band played between the acts. To-night and tomorrow night "Officer 666" will be repeated.

No Session Yesterday.

There was no session of the Assembly yesterday, the House being adjourned until 3 p.m. to-day on motion of the Prime Minister. It is understood that the reason for this was the Government wished to hold a party meeting to discuss matters which arose at a consultation with the members for Placentia and St. Mary's on the supplies question.

The best play of the year. A laugh and a thrill from beginning to end. Go to-night. At the Casino. "Officer 666."

Police Court.

His Honor Judge Morris had quite a busy time in the Central District Court this morning as there were a large number of prisoners and the array of counsel was most formidable indeed.

A foreigner and a native were charged with loose and disorderly conduct. Sergeant Fitzgerald stated that he saw a fracas on the cabstand last night and he went over to investigate. The foreigner had a grip on the local man and the latter was struggling to get clear. After grappling for some time the Portuguese butted the other accused, a manner of fighting peculiar to foreigners. His Honor asked the Portuguese if he spoke English. Upon his replying in the negative, His Honor remarked "You know how to fight in English." He fined both the accused $2 or 7 days each.

Two men belonging to the district of St. John's were charged with the larceny of public funds. Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C., M.H.A., in moving for a postponement, said that this case was really on investigation into the conditions of the Harbor Main election. This time, however, it did not touch the members for that district but the member of another district who might be called the Minister of Snow Shovel-ling. His Honor "Is that a new department." With the consent of the Deputy Minister of Justice who appeared for the Crown, the case was postponed for a week.

A man against whom an order to support his wife was made out last year, was charged with again leaving her destitute. Mr. H. A. Winter, B.A., appeared for the plaintiff. Mr. F. R. Emerson for the defendant and Mr. L. R. Curtis for the defendant's father. The case proved to be rather a complicated one and took up a considerable amount of time. The defendant's father was put in the witness box and was cross examined by Mr. Winter who had a most trying time with him. His Honor said he would be pleased if a settlement were made, but if not the defendant would have to go to prison for 30 days.

To-night at the Casino. "Officer 666," by unanimous consent. The best melo-dramatic Farce ever produced in St. John's.

S.S. "Lady of Gaspe" in Collision.

S.S. Lady of Gaspe reported yesterday as having collided with another ship at sea, arrived here from Halifax shortly after noon to-day. Captain Nicholson told a Telegram reporter that his ship collided with the S.S. Hothly in a fog at 9.30 p.m. Tuesday. The blow, luckily, was only a glancing one and the only damage done was to the rail on the starboard bow. Repairs will take only a short time, and the ship will sail again for Halifax when these are completed.

League Meetings.

A meeting of the Football League is being held on Monday night next in the office of the President, Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C., M.H.A. A great deal of important business has to be transacted including the drawing of fixtures for the coming season and the election of officers for the ensuing year. Probably the greatest problem the League will have to decide at this meeting will be that of the advisability of admitting teams representing the M. G. Comrades and the C. L. B. C. Old Comrades. If these teams are allowed to enter the League it will necessitate the playing of 45 games to decide the championship. Last year 35 games were played and the series did not end until September 25th. During last season, however, the baseballers were allowed to use St. George's Field for two weeks in connection with the Grand Falls and Sydney visiting teams. If the baseballers can obtain another field, thus permitting a football game to be played each night, there would be no objection to these two applications for admittance to the League being acceded to. The Baseball League is holding its annual meeting to-night.

Six Aces to a Pack.

A fracas which might have had serious consequences occurred in a New Gower St. shop last night as a result of a game of draw poker, in which five Syrians were the participants. The game was going very well until it was discovered in one deal that one man had four aces and another had two in his hand. Naturally a considerable amount of discussion arose, as the result of this discovery, no one being able to account for the two extra aces. The argument waxed hotter and hotter and finally became a free fight in the midst of which one of the men in his hand a stick and now bears an eye which displays such a wealth of color as is to be found only in a fever garden or a rainbow. This man, however, does not appreciate the artistic decoration to his ocular member, and intends to summon his assailant if he can recognise him.

The New Charter.

That portion of the Municipal Bill which relates to Building and Housing regulations, is now in the hands of a special committee appointed by the select committee of the Legislative Council. This was done in order that the House might have expert advice on the technical parts before finally deciding. The committee appointed consists of the City Engineer, the Assistant to the Government Engineer, Jonas C. Barter, architect, John Davey, R. Curtis for the defendant's father, and Warwick Smith, Secy. Citizens' Committee. It is expected the Bill will be finalized this week and will likely come before the Chamber early next week.

Scotch Concert

A MUSICAL TREAT.

It is doubtful if the public of St. John's has ever been provided with so excellent a feast of music as that to which those fortunate enough to be able to attend the Scotch Concert held last night in the Methodist College Hall were treated. The affair, which was attended by a capacity audience, was organized by the St. Andrew's Society, and was under the patronage of His Excellency the Governor and suite, who were received on arrival and escorted to their seats by members of the Executive of the Society. The programme was an excellent and varied one and so far as possible costumes appropriate to each item were worn. Particularly was this so in connection with the good old Scotch songs, the music of which is ever welcome to our ears. Without wishing to appear invidious, mention must be made of the dainty dances by Miss Collins and Miss Wallace, which were performed in a manner, the excellence of which was all the more highly appreciated when the youth of the artists is taken into consideration. The various songs and instrumental selections were splendidly rendered by the various performers. The St. Andrew's double male quartette appeared before the public for the first time last night and was received with great enthusiasm by the audience. The excellent renditions given of the various items which fell to their lot did much to ensure a hearty welcome when they again appear on the concert platform. Too much credit cannot be given to Professor W. Moncrieff-Mayer, under whose personal direction the concert was conducted. The capabilities of this gentleman in this direction are, however, so well known, that only success can be expected to result from an affair which he conducts. St. Andrew's Society, too, deserve great praise for organizing this concert and it is to be hoped that this concert going public will soon be given another opportunity to attend a similar affair.

The programme was as follows:—

PART I.

- 1.—Part Song, "Sound the Pibroch," Roddick, St. Andrew's Double Mixed Quartette.
- 2.—Dance, "Highland Fling," Miss Collins.

- 7.—Song (in costume) "Callie Herrin," N. Gow, Miss Ida Howlett.
- 8.—Part Song, "Kate Dalrymple," T. Archer, St. Andrew's Double Mixed Quartette.

PART II.

BARTLETT-PIERCY.
At 7 o'clock, this morning, in the Church of England Cathedral, Mr. Llewellyn Bartlett of Trinity, was united in marriage to Miss Nellie Percy, one of the popular young ladies of our city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Brinton in presence of many of the relatives and friends of the newly wedded couple. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Joseph Percy, the bridesmaid being Miss Kitty Percy, the bride's sister, whilst Mr. Wm. Percy, the bride's brother, was the chief attendant on the groom. After the ceremony a wedding repast was partaken of at the home of the bride's parents, Bonclody Street, where the usual felicitations were extended to the young couple. Then by the express which left the city at 1 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett left for Trinity, where they will make their future home and where the best wishes of all will follow them for a happy and prosperous career.

Sports' Meeting and Smoker.

The event of next week will be the meeting of the Sports' of the city when resolutions will be proposed suggesting to the Football, Baseball and Hockey Leagues that, while continuing their separate existences under their own officers, they pool their revenues and funds and unite as The Newfoundland Amateur Athletic Association and take over the Parade Ground and use it as their headquarters. The effect of so doing would be far-reaching. Dominion Sports could be held and the records kept and the winners and events would be recognized by athletic organizations the world over. It would expedite matters if each League at its annual meeting discuss this question and decide either for or against it. There will also be a smoking concert, and as some of the very best talent of the country is among the sporting fraternity it should be of a very high order. Each sport is expected to bring its own smokers and a happy disposition, and a pleasant time is assured. There is no reason why this concert and gathering should not be an annual event, as in no better way could the sports be gathered together at the beginning of the season and nothing would so produce good feeling and fellowship amongst them which would be an excellent way to commence the friendly rivalry of the various competitors.

Imperial Conference.

From a recent issue of the London Times it is learned that the Conference of Premiers of the Empire is to hold its first session in London on Monday, June 20th. The principal subjects for discussion are the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty and the question of future Imperial relations between the Home Country and the self-governing Dominions. The Premiers will be met in London by the new Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Winston Churchill, and by the new Under Secretary, Major E. F. L. Wood. The latter, who is a son of Lord Halifax, recently succeeded Colonel Amery, who has been transferred to the Admiralty.

S. U. F. Ladies Hold Enjoyable Dance.

The Lodge and Club Rooms of the Society of United Fishermen, Water Street, presented a festive appearance last night, the occasion being the holding of a dance organized by the Ladies' Association. Proceedings began at 9 o'clock, the G.L.E.C. Band furnishing some very popular dance music in the excellent manner for which it is celebrated. The program consisted of 12 numbers, with an interval between the seventh and eighth, during which tea was served by the ladies, the whole company doing well-merited justice to the good things provided. Dancing was subsequently resumed and continued until 2 o'clock this morning when the strains of the National Anthem concluded one of the most successful events of the season. The proceeds go toward aiding a worthy cause, and the results were so substantial as to warrant a similar function being put on later. The organizing committee of the Ladies' Association are to be congratulated on the excellent arrangements made, and deserve the many highly complimentary expressions of the numerous guests. The new home of the Society of United Fishermen in St. John's may be said to have been socially opened last night and the "house warming" was worthy the promoters.

B. I. S. Dance.

Over 250 persons attended the card party and dance held in the B.I.S. Hall last night, under the auspices of the B.I.S. Ladies' Auxiliary. The prizes in the card tournament were won by Mrs. J. Lacey, Miss Nurse and Mr. McDonald, who had the largest number of points. The dance which followed the tourney, was most enjoyable. The committee served supper during the interval, and at 2 a.m. one of the best affairs held by the Society terminated.

Amongst the mourners were members of the Legislative Council, representatives of the Government and Opposition, the Civic Commissioners, the office staff of the Municipal Council, and the citizens Unemployed Committee.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

FRUGHT WITH DIFFICULTIES.

LONDON, May 18.

The freedom, with which Lloyd George and Premier Briand are defining the Silesian situation through the newspapers, and the strong words they are using, is causing a great stir in England. The British public is accustomed to the courteous and smooth methods of the old diplomacy, and the spectacle of a most delicate difference being handled by vigorous public debate amazes the people. The heads of the two Governments, after their numerous conferences, were expected to understand each other. Apparently each has chosen a plan of campaign which he considers most effective against his opponent. M. Briand will have his next work in the French Parliament to-morrow, and there is great interest in London as to whether he will maintain the same high key of conversation, which Lloyd George started up in his recent speech in the House of Commons. The Prime Minister's expressed statement to-day is popularly interpreted as a warning to M. Briand not to go too far in his pronouncement before the Chamber. The Westminster Gazette holds it "a grave warning to France." The Standard designates it "Premier's plain talk to French." Lloyd George's reference to Great Britain's willingness to use her fleet, followed by the declaration that Britain cannot stand by while the treaty is trampled on, is taken as significant of future developments, depending chiefly upon whether M. Briand to-morrow proclaims the widening of the gulf between the policies of the two countries, or pictures them as following the same principle. The Government is anxious to have the Supreme Council meet during the week-end, believing that any delay in Allies coming to some sort of an agreement over Silesia, and taking action thereof, will only make the situation worse. Reuters Limited says, "A regret is expressed in to-day's news from Washington that United States Government finds itself unable to participate in a settlement of the Upper Silesian question, on the ground that this is essentially a European matter. Both from an economic standpoint and from the viewpoint of maintaining law and order, the question with its possibilities of far reaching consequences, is thought to be one not only European, but of world wide importance."

ANOTHER BONE OF CONTENTION.

BERLIN, May 18.

The Reparations Commission, according to a semi-official announcement made here, is demanding the surrender of all German rights and interests in concessions mentioned in Article 250 of the Peace Treaty, by which the Commission understands all shares in mines, oil fields, stone quarries and similar undertakings specified in the Article. In the opinion of the Reparations Commission, Article 260 covers not only the territories ceded by virtue of the Treaty of Versailles, but also those ceded in virtue of all treaties concluded be-

CONFERENCE OF PREMIERS.

PARIS, May 18. The conference between Premier Briand and Lloyd George, which though possible here, will be deferred beyond the vote of confidence M. Briand expects to receive in the Chamber to-morrow, and until after the Silesian High Commissioners at Oppeln reach a tentative agreement on settlement of the controversy, so as to form an intelligent basis of conversation, either between M. Briand and Lloyd George alone, or at a meeting of the Supreme Council, whichever is ultimately decided upon. The situation, so far as Premier Briand and the new Government are concerned, officials declare, is unchanged.

UNRESERVEDLY.

PARIS, May 18. The German Ambassador, Dr. Wilhelm Meyer, called on Premier Briand to-day, and during the course of a long conference, informed the Premier that the Berlin Cabinet accepted unreservedly all the conditions contained in the note of the Inter-Allied Military Control Commission, concerning the execution, for May 18, of the serial clauses of the Versailles Treaty. The Ambassador received assurances that the new German Government was resolved to carry out all the clauses of the Allied Ultimatum.

The Irish Bulletin.

The Irish Bulletin, the daily type-written newspaper of the Irish Republic, reappeared in Dublin on Wednesday, says the London Evening News, although the secret head editorial offices were located and seized by the military on Saturday after a search that lasted two years. "Although regarded by the Government as seditious literature, it is," continued the News, "circulated throughout certain Irish circles in England within twelve hours of its publication in Dublin. "Sinn Fein has a wonderful organization of reserve centres where the paper can be produced with relays of staffs, so that if one is arrested and locked-up, the paper comes out as usual. The daily distribution in Dublin is done by hand by an army of distributors, who receive their copies from trusted agents, who, themselves, do not whence the Bulletins come."

Can the Labrador Deadlock be Lifted?

In a single issue of a metropolitan paper, I note these items: The Canadian Vickers Shipbuilding plant at Montreal will close until labor costs are on a basis which will permit the building of ships in competition with other countries. The Presbyterian Theological College at Saskatoon has decided not to proceed with the new buildings as the lowest tenders were far in excess of the college's ability to pay. From Hamilton comes the third item, to the effect that the building trades in that city will not accept any wage cuts this year.

Movie Star Makes $1,750 a Week.

If one dreams of great wealth, one should go into the movies, judging from the salaries paid the stars of that profession. For example, Conway Tearle, who is being sued for alimony by his former wife, who divorced him in 1912, is making only $1,750 a week. In 1919 Tearle saved $25,000; in 1920, over $50,000, and during the first three months of this year $21,000.

Household Notes.

When using bread flour for pastry making, add a little more shortening to overcome glutinous quality of flour. Cocoanut custard pie is excellent flavored with orange rind and served with crushed and sweetened strawberries. Canned pears are delicious drained, sprinkled with powdered sugar, sautéed until brown and served with chocolate sauce. A very nice pie is made by lining a pie plate with the pastry, putting in a layer of sliced apples, covering with custard and baking.

Household Notes.

Quite recently a noisy portion of Toronto out-of-works held a series of "field days." One man appearing before the Board of Control stated that he, the father of a couple of children, was about to be evicted for non-payment of rent. Thereupon a good-hearted Controller gave his individual cheque for a month's rent and ordered that the man be given a job at the standard civic wage for labor, $28.30 per week. "Oh, rats," remarked the man. "I won't take that. I'm a painter." That man would rather beg than work at anything but his own job at his own price. Others who appeared in the noisy

A Notable Expedition.

A remarkable East African journey of exploration has just been completed by Rev. John Roscoe, of Theford, Norfolk, who described his experience to a London Daily Mail representative. He has brought back curious knowledge and curious concrete things beyond even his own dreams. The things include fifty or so varieties of herbs—some of which seemed to effect miraculous cures of malaria and even the worst diseases—many native poisons, vast cases of fetiches, implements and instruments going back to 2000 B.C., and photographs innumerable of strange and grim ceremonies—some cannibalistic—many quite unknown hitherto.

The knowledge of ritual and custom is a yet stranger store. Mr. Roscoe, one of the greatest ethnologists, went out for the Royal Society and the government in May last, and the expedition was most generously financed by Sir Peter McKie, to whom both science and humanity owe great gratitude.

Mr. Roscoe, who is in his sixtieth year, traveled many thousand miles in the interior on foot and—of all machines—by bicycle, using native paths. He found tribes who lived wholly on milk and nothing else whatever, unless a cow died, and after feeding on that a twelve-hours' fast was imposed.

So vast are their cattle herds that a king regarded 20,000 as a small flock. Another tribe lived wholly on bamboo tips and mites! In another the relatives always ate the dead, even if they died of smallpox; but these folk, which is hardly surprising, were less healthy than the others, whose women are described as "the fattest things ever seen," while the men are thin, very athletic and often well over six feet in height. One of the cannibals stated in evidence that "Englishmen were very tough, but Indians nice and tender."

The crown of the expedition was six weeks spent with the King of Bururo. He has become a Christian and so felt it possible to give Mr. Roscoe all his fetiches, an entirely priceless collection, which throws quite new light on ceremonies going back to 2000 B.C.

He also organized a pageant of some 4000 years as no man ever saw before. Thousands of natives themselves came to see it—a sort of grand finale to ages of accumulated superstition. Since the king is also high priest and the great repository of tradition, he could give away the most mysterious and old. How to bring rain is a miracle that Mr. Roscoe achieved in a forest holy of holes and received native thanks; how to promote all sorts of prosperity—especially plenty of salt—and how to exorcise evils.

By his knowledge of local language and earlier visits Mr. Roscoe, who was all alone, penetrated many present beliefs and customs that have balked our rulers and our missionaries. For example, in one tribe girls are betrothed at birth and married at twelve or fourteen. If they are unfaithful before marriage they are killed. In the next tribe girls may do as they will until after marriage. Many most elaborate laws of marriage, of morality, of divorce and of land-tenure have been revealed in the course of the journey.

The discoveries include valuable commercial news, including an unknown graphite mine of high quality. Mr. Roscoe says he has material for five years' work at six hours a day. He is yet without most of his stores. His herbs and poisons are being tested and analyzed by Edinburgh University and by Burroughs and Wellcome. A dozen cases of ethnological valuables are going to the Pitt Rivers Museum at Oxford. Mr. Roscoe is to give a brief account of his journey to the Royal Society.

The journey started at Mombasa, and the most dangerous, difficult and richest part was west and north of the Victoria Nyanza triangle between the three great lakes. Mr. Roscoe returned by the Nile and has much to tell the Egyptologists.

She Hasn't Felt So Well in Years, Says Miss Craton

Quebec Young Lady Declares It's Wonderful Way Tanlac Restored Her Health.

"I am certainly glad I followed my brother-in-law's advice and took Tanlac," said Miss Evelyn Craton, 62 Conway Ave., Quebec, P.Q. "For since taking it my health is better than for years."

"For more than a year before I got Tanlac I hardly knew what it was to eat a meal without suffering afterwards. I had no appetite and my stomach was so weak the very sight of food made me sick. At times I had such pains in the pit of my stomach I could hardly bear it. My back hurt me constantly and it nearly killed me to bend over and straighten up. I was so nervous the least unexpected noise would almost startle me out of my wits. In fact, just everything seemed to be wrong with me. I fell off till I was hardly a shadow of what I had been, and was getting weaker all the time."

"But it's certainly different with me now, for I eat heartily and enjoy every mouthful. My digestion seems to be perfect and I have gained eight pounds in weight. I am never the least bit nervous now and in every way I feel like an altogether different person. Tanlac is certainly wonderful."

No Gold in France.

Not a single gold coin was struck at the French Mint during the whole year of 1920. "The manufacture" of silver coins, which was still being continued at the beginning of the year, was stopped when silver reached the record price of 7s. 5½d. an ounce on February 11th. Since that date only nickel and copper coins have been struck. The total output of the French Mint in 1920 was: Gold, none; silver, 3,045,677 two-franc pieces and 19,321,705 one-franc pieces; nickel, 15,108,132 twenty-five-centime pieces, 28,244,855 ten-centime pieces, and 51,821,052 five-centime pieces; copper, 4,118,821 ten-centime pieces, 8,010,587 five-centime pieces, 598,274 two-centime pieces; and 2,593,599 one-centime pieces. At the present rate of exchange it takes about fifteen centime pieces to make a Canadian cent.

He Has Used Them for Thirteen Years.

WHY A. M. GUENTHER SAYS USE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

He Says That Dodd's Kidney Pills Are All That Is Claimed for Them, and Also Recommends Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Dead Moose Lake, Sask., May 18.—(Special).—"I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills for thirteen years and have found them all that is claimed for them." Such is the tribute of Mr. Anton M. Guenther, a well-known and respected resident here, pays to the old Canadian kidney remedy, Dodd's Pills.

All that is claimed for Dodd's Kidney Pills is that they are a kidney remedy. They heal and strengthen the kidneys. They are used to treat rheumatism, dropsy, backache, urinary troubles, diabetes, and heart disease, because all these ills are either of the kidneys or caused by diseased kidneys.

Mr. Guenther has also used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and he says of them: "I can heartily recommend them to all sufferers from stomach trouble."

Ask your neighbors about the Dodd's remedies.

A Remarkable Clock.

One of the most remarkable clocks is that in Strasburg Cathedral. Every day at twelve o'clock an eager crowd assembles to see the curious evolution of the clock, for at that hour a very elaborate performance is gone through.

The clock not only tells the time of day; it tells on its calendar the month, the day of the month, and all the movable feast days of the Catholic Church. A statue of Apollo points out the day of the month and the name of the saint corresponding to that day. We can learn from it the time for the rising and setting of the sun, while the diurnal motion of the moon round the earth, and its passages over the meridian, the phases of the moon, and the eclipses of the sun and moon are all indicated.

Allegorical figures seated in chariot, representing the days of the month, drive slowly into view, appearing each day in proper order. On Sunday, Apollo, drawn by the horses of the sun; on Monday, Diana by a stag; on Tuesday, Mars; on Wednesday, Jupiter armed with a thunderbolt; on Friday, Venus; on Saturday, Saturn.

At a quarter past the hour the figure of a little child trips out to one of the galleries of the clock and strikes a bell once; at half-past, a spruce young man appears and strikes it twice; at a quarter to the hour a sober middle-aged man strikes it three times, and just before the hour a tottering old man comes slowly into view and strikes the bell four times; then a ghastly figure of death in the form of a skeleton solemnly strikes the hour.

When twelve o'clock strikes the twelve Apostles appear on the top gallery of the clock, each one bowing as he passes the figure of Christ, who stands with uplifted hands blessing each in turn. As the procession is slowly passing by, the solemn silence is broken by the loud crowing of a great cock that stands on the top of the clock to the left side. A convulsive flapping of its wings indicates to the onlooker that this famous old bird is preparing to lift up its voice, which it does at length, crowing three times in a marvellously hoarse and life-like manner.

Very Useful Tree.

What is claimed to be the most marvellous of trees grows in Brazil. It is the caranhuba palm, and can be employed for many useful purposes. Its roots produce the same medicinal effect as saraparilla. Its stems afford strong, light fibres, which acquire a beautiful lustre, and serve also for joists, rafters, and other building materials, as well as for stakes for fences. From parts of the tree vines and vinegar are made. It yields also a saccharine substance, as well as a starch resembling sago. Its fruit is used in feeding cattle. The pulp has an agreeable taste, and the nut, which is oleaginous and emulsive, is sometimes used as a substance for coffee. Of the wood of the stem musical instruments, water tubes, and pumps are made. The pith is an excellent substitute for cork. From the stem a white liquid similar to the milk of the cocoanut and a flour resembling maizena may be extracted. Of the straw foliage, hats, baskets, brooms, and mats are made. A considerable quantity of this straw is shipped to Europe, and a part of it returns to Brazil manufactured into hats. The straw is also used for thatching houses. Moreover, salt is extracted from it, and likewise an alkali used in the manufacture of common soap.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

BEING SUSPICIOUS.

When you mislay a thing do you immediately begin to wonder if someone has stolen it? It seems to me there are a great many people who have this trick. This is the sort of thing I mean: At a little Inn where I recently spent a few days, I was sitting in the office one morning when a woman came in in some excitement and told the manager that someone had taken her expensive new sweater from one of the porch chairs where she had laid it a few minutes previous.

She Was Perfectly Sure.
"Are you sure you left it there, Madam?" he asked.
"Perfectly," she said. "I thought you had a better class of guests than that." (The veranda was accessible only to guests.)

He asked her to show him the exact chair on which she had left it. She indicated one near the railing of the veranda. "Are you sure you didn't hang it on the rail instead?" he asked.

She was, perfectly, even after he had stepped to the rail and spied the sweater where it lay on the lawn below, evidently conveyed thither from the rail either by the wind or gravity.

She Didn't Explain.
I would have thought the lady might have been embarrassed, but she departed with her rescued sweater, still murmuring darkly about dishonest people, though she did not condescend to explain why the thief left his booty there.

The man who ran the Inn told me that he had that sort of thing to contend with constantly. Guest after guest will come to him assuring him that someone has stolen some article of jewelry or some piece of clothing. He will persuade them to make thorough search and 99 times out of 100 the article will be found.

And some of them will do it over and over again.

"I should think they would learn in time to suspect themselves first," he said, "but some of them never do."

It is funny, isn't it, how instinctively and quickly, honest people predicate dishonesty in others?

I have had my own experiences, you see, and been heartily ashamed of them afterwards.

You and I are honest and, as the world is largely made up of "You and I's," the chances are that the fellow is honest, too.

We Are Honest—Why Not Others?
True, you and I may not be honest enough to return a nickel when the telephone company donates it to us from a pay telephone, or to refrain from using the company's stamps now and then for private business, or to insist on paying a fare when the conductor seems willing to let us ride free, but we are honest enough not to take deliberately what doesn't belong to us, and if we work on the supposition that 99 per cent of the world is as honest as we are and resort to every other method to find the missing articles before we think of thievery, I think we shall not go far wrong.

shrieked: "Forgive me and all my coin is yours. It be hid in the owl's nest at Deadshot Gulch. Save me and it is yours." "Naw," replied Jem; "Yew must hang; yew villun." Five minutes later Bad Bill was doing the shimmy suspended from the bough of a tree. Sairy turning from the dread sight, sought consolation in Jem's arms.

MY COLUMN
JEM GUMCHREW.
The Last Instalment of my Wonderful Serial.

(Synopsis of preceding Chapters: Jem Gumchrew and Sairy Snubbs escape from the clutches of Bad Bill Blood, the desperate desperado and run up the mountain side in an old Ford car, holly pursued by the outlaw band. Suddenly engine troubles develop and the machine shoots down towards the level ground and brings up against a rock with a tremendous crash.)

CHAPTER V. (Continued).
Jem and Sairy were thrown violently into one another's arms through the force of the collision, whilst Bad Bill turned a complete somersault and landed head first into a small muddy pond. Those of the outlaws who had survived the precipitous rush of the car now gathered round our hero and his sweetheart with guns wagging, knives glinting and moustaches bristling. Sairy cowering with fear, snuggled closer to Jem's arms. Jem, holding her firmly with one arm, rose to meet the onslaught of the robber band, a monkey wrench gripped tightly in his free hand. An outlaw rushed on him with knife upraised. The glittering blade quivered in mid-air and fell swiftly in the direction of our hero's heart.

Jem coolly awaited his opportunity, and as the blow fell, he dexterously stepped aside and the wrench fell with a sickening thud on the head of the outlaw who fell backwards on his face and lay motionless and still. The rest of the outlaws prepared to rush when suddenly a volley of shots echoed out on the still mountain air, and all fell either dead, killed or mortally wounded, all that is, except Jem and Sairy.

Within the space of a few seconds a group of horsemen drew up before the loving pair and dismounted. They proved to be the Sheriff and his posse. One of the men pushed his way to the front and Sairy, with a low howl of "popper," fell into his arms. By this time Bad Bill Blood had reached dry ground and was instantly seized by the posse. A look of fear appeared over his repulsive features. "Forgive me, Jem," he cried, "I will do anything you wish. I will go to jail for ten years if you will let me see your sweet face again."

"No," replied Jem; "Yew must hang; yew villun." Five minutes later Bad Bill was doing the shimmy suspended from the bough of a tree. Sairy turning from the dread sight, sought consolation in Jem's arms.

Early Days of the British Navy.

On May 19, 1668, King Charles made a grand visit to his Fleet with much pomp and show, and found 54 ships, 8 frigates, and 24 freships—not a very goodly number, and certainly not so well manned as the fleet had been in the days of Queen Elizabeth. When James II. came to the throne, he assumed command of the Navy, but upset the whole service by appointing many new officers who were Roman Catholics, whereas the feeling in the Navy was one of strong Protestantism. In his reign, however, the Fleet was very much to the fore, for events in Ireland kept part of it busy, whilst another part was engaged in endeavouring to restrain William of Orange from landing his troops in England. At this period the names of Sir Cloudeley Shovel, Admiral Rooke, and George Byng, became famous throughout the length and breadth of the land in connection with naval matters. The great battle of Malaga was fought during this period, when the English and Dutch allied themselves against the forces of France and Spain. Our losses were heavy but the enemy losses were heavier still, and strangely enough, not a single ship was taken on either side.

The contest ending in a drawn battle, England now held the command of the world, and looked to her fleet to protect it in every part. The Navy had its work cut out, and bravely stuck to it, but the days of its most brilliant performances were yet to be. Throughout the later history of its progress, its development, and its glorious traditions, the British Navy has distinguished itself as that of no other power has done. Its proud position, its wonderful prestige, its unending fame, have all been won by the sacrifice and devotion of its sons, who, proud of their calling, steeped to the brim in its traditions and glory, have not hesitated to give of their best—even unto death—to uphold the Fleet, which is and, it is hoped, ever will be the ruler of the seas. In these days when all the battles of the past seemed dwarfed in comparison with recent events, Britain looks—and not in vain—to her glorious Navy to protect her from her foes, and rests content, knowing that on the horizon there pass the "grey spectres."

"No other butwarks does she need To guard her native shores."

Names of Precious Stones.

The names of precious stones reach so far back in the depths of time that their original meaning can not be traced, says the Kansas City "Star." This is true of the word "emerald." So far as seems to be known it is a derivative or a variant of a Sanskrit word meaning precious stone, but no doubt the people who spoke Sanskrit gave it the name because of something which the stone meant to them. It may have been given this name because of its color or its hardness, or its rarity or because of something which it symbolized. It may be that the ancient and sacred language of India adopted the word from some older language and that in the long association between the stone and its name, the first significance of the name has been lost. The Greeks adopted the word "emerald" and it seems to have had no other significance to them than to signify merely the name by which one might identify a particular stone.

The same condition is found in the case of the word "opal." It meant to the Greeks a particular and beautiful stone, just as it means to us an opal.

Water Street, St. John's,

It is argued that because we have to accept one-third of the population of the world who suffer in compensation for the services rendered by the Civil Servants in the times-to-day what the Government does for them. Servant was adequate salary to-day to meet the needs of the man. In 1914, they will be called for "ruber," the Latin word "red," but it may be that the word "ruber," meaning red, was derived from the name of the ruby.

It is stated that the Civil Servants on Water Street were paid in salary; but some of them have only 10 per cent of the salary of the men in the firm in other cases at least 25 per cent added, and some get a reduction in their salaries. Bonuses are paid to employees at the end of the year. The general salary paid by the Ministry is higher than the general salary paid in the Civil Service. The basis of salary in Canada is at least 25 per cent higher than the cost of living in England. During the war the Government gave their employees in addition to a salary a bonus. It is necessary to reduce the cost of living in order to bring the cost of living in Canada down to the cost of living in England.

Memorial to Prime Minister.

Servants Protest Proposed Salary Reduction.

It has been learnt that a reduction in the salaries of the servants in this Colony is contemplated by the Government. This proposition requested you, Mr. Prime Minister, to hear their views. The necessities of the Civil Servants are the great hardship which must be shouldered by any reduction in salaries as now contemplated.

As a matter of history that from the institution of Responsible Government up to the present time we have paid the lowest salaries of any Colony in the Empire. The salaries set in 1857 continued without any change until 1895, when in that year there was a reduction of 10 per cent. continued to 1903 and was never paid to the servants from whom wages were taken. With few exceptions there was no change in the wages until 1918, although there had been a large increase in the cost of living. In 1914 the wages were advanced and bounds until 1914 when the laborer on the wharf was obtaining a larger income than the Civil Servant. In 1914 the laborer was receiving the following wages:

General work .16c per hour
Barrowing, etc. .18c per hour

General work .24c per hour
Barrowing, etc. .30c per hour

General work .35c per hour
Barrowing, etc. .42c per hour

General work .47c per hour
Barrowing, etc. .54c per hour

It will be seen that the laborer had an increase of wages between 1914 and 1921 of over 100 per cent. Although the Civil Service for years past had an equitable adjustment of their salaries, no general advance was made until 1917-18, when the advance was by a scale which was not by the majority of the Civil Servants to be unfair. It ranged as follows:

Salaries $100 and under . . . . .50%
Salaries 200 and under . . . . .50%
Salaries 300 and under . . . . .35%
Salaries 400 and under . . . . .25%
Salaries 500 and under . . . . .10%
Salaries 600 and under . . . . .14%
Salaries 700 and under . . . . .7%
Salaries 800 and under . . . . .5%
Salaries 1,000 and over . . . . .5%

In 1919-20 a further advance was made of 25% all round and in 1920-21 salaries under $1,000 . . . . .30%
Salaries under 2,000 . . . . .20%
Salaries over 2,000 and over . . . . .15%

If the advance had been a general one of 20% all round it would have been fair and equitable to make an equal reduction; but outside of that contention, we submit that the cost of living has not been reduced 20% and in many cases it has not gone down 5%.

In 1914 the Salaries of the Civil Servants were not adequate to provide for the living expenses of the family; they were in debt in almost every case. If salaries as they now stand are reduced, as is proposed by the Government, it will be a further step towards a basis very little better than that which obtained in 1914. The reduction of the Civil Servants' salaries will be much worse than in 1914; when prices come down this year, a general item of household expenses will still be practically double what they were in 1914. For instance, butter was about $7 per ton in 1914; it is now $12 per ton. Four eggs were $1 per dozen in 1914; it will be $1.25 in 1921; it will be 12 to 14 cents this year. Meat was 22c in 1914; and it is now 40c. Milk was 10c a quart in 1914; and it will be 20c a quart of now. Potatoes were $1.30 in 1914; they are $3.00 now. Clothing was $1.00 in 1914; it is now $5.00 to $10.00. Rent today is double what it was in 1914. Tradesmen's accounts are three times to-day what they were in 1914, and so on. That is, supposing the cost of living to be reduced 20% in 1921. Tradesmen's accounts are three times to-day what they were in 1914, and so on. That is, supposing the cost of living to be reduced 20% in 1921.

It is argued that because the servant will have to accept one-third the price of his produce, that the Civil Servant will suffer in company with the merchant. This argument would apply if the Civil Servants had been given 50 per cent for their services as were the merchant; but they were not given more than an average of about 50 per cent although the cost of living has gone up so immensely. The increased value of fish enabled the fishermen to meet the increased cost and still have money over; but the increased cost to the Civil Servant could not meet with the increase of salary.

It is stated that the employees of the firms on Water Street will be reduced in salary; but so far as can be ascertained the firms that have reduced have cut only 10 per cent. These employees have an advantage over the Civil Servants in that they get their goods from the firm in some cases at cost, in other cases at cost price with a 10 per cent added, and in every case they get a reduction of 50 per cent which meant really an addition to their salaries. Bonuses are usually paid to employees at the end of the year. The general average of the salaries paid by the Mercantile Firms is higher than the general average of salaries in the Civil Service.

The basis of salary to Civil Servants in Canada is at least 20% higher than the basis in Newfoundland. The cost of living in Canada may be less than the cost of living here, but during the war the Canadian Government gave their officials a War Bonus in addition to salary. Now that the War Bonus is being reduced, the amount of the War Bonus according to the cost of living comes down. When conditions approach normal the War Bonus will disappear and the salary remain as it was, that is at least 50 per cent lower than in Newfoundland.

The Position of the Food Control Board.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—A contemptible and utterly untrue allegation is made in the Daily News this morning that the Food Board has acted in an underhand and unfair manner in disposing of the balance of Sugar on hand after May 20th.

On May 2nd, over two weeks ago, a circular was sent to all the Sugar dealers as follows:

"The Food Control Board will have between 2,500 and 2,800 barrels of Sugar to dispose of on May 20th. This is offered to the trade in lots of 50 barrels or over for immediate delivery at ten and a half cents per pound, duty paid.

"This price will hold for immediate acceptance and the trade are asked to apply at once for their requirements.

"This price will not be affected by any tariff changes."

NFLD. FOOD CONTROL BOARD.

(Immediate delivery meant delivery after May 20th).

As a matter of fact the stock remaining is about 2,500 barrels, owing to decreased consumption since May 2nd. Some firms responded at once with orders, but most of them did nothing, evidently waiting to see if they could import Sugar at a lower price. This price of 10 1/2 cents was the cost landed at the Food Control Board Sugar. Some firms made tentative offers below this price, but the Food Board would not accept any lower price. Eventually one firm bought what remained unsold. Yesterday other firms, apparently just waking to the fact that after all, the Food Board Sugar may not "hang fire," applied for sugar but had to be told that all the stock had been disposed of.

The transaction was open and above board. The circular reproduced above was copied in the newspapers, and so became public property. Each and every firm had an equal chance. If they did not avail themselves of the offer it was entirely their own fault. It is evident that the criticism of the Food Board is inspired by vindictiveness rather than a spirit of fair dealing, and this latest charge, just as unfounded as all are, represents a change from Government control to the "jungle" of free trade, in which the business firms are once more in combat with each other.

To repeat? All sugar dealers were offered this sugar. No activity was apparent in the matter for two weeks, and then because the sugar has been bought, some firms now put up a poor mouth as if the Food Board should have looked after their requirements. There is absolutely no doubt whatever that if sugar could be imported at a less price than the Food Board's offer, the sugar owned by the Food Control Board would have been allowed to remain unsold. The sugar business has been returned to the trade in an open, fair and legitimate manner, and it is regrettable that those who did not avail of the opportunity to buy sugar, now turn around and blame the Food Board for not interfering in their business.

Yours truly,
ALEX. W. MEWS,
Chairman Food Control Board.
