A SKIRMISH IN THE NIGHT; ENEMY MINE-SWEEPERS DRIVEN AROUND

A fine feat was performed by our light forces in the night of Helligoland when a destroyer and at least two mine-sweepers were chased and severely damaged by gun fire. The sweepers were attacked while busy damaging the mine field, and exploded with great noise, as they still had many mines on hand. Photo shows one of the enemy mine-sweepers after being driven aground.

THE AUTOMOBILE MENACE GROWING

Chauffeur Says Only Those Who Understand Motor Cars Should Run Them

According to the latest available statistics, 3,978 persons were killed by automobiles in a single year in the registration area of the United States. The previous year only 2,834 suffered death from this cause. In one year, that is to say, the automobile death rate rose from 43 per hundred thousand population to 55, an increase of 37 per cent.

Had there been but seventy-five more deaths in the year of the larger total, automobile accidents in the registration area would have cost as many lives as accidents with street cars, subway trains, elevated trains, bicycles, and all horse-drawn vehicles combined.

Increased number of deaths may be attributed to increased use of automobiles. This would only mean that more automobiles were being driven by people either temperamentally unfit or lacking the necessary skill to drive them. Such undoubtedly is the case.

New York, Oct. 16.—Protesting against the action of the National Baseball Commission in holding out $1,000 of the individual shares of money of each world series player until Dec. 1, as a guarantee that they will not participate in exhibition games, members of the Chicago American and New York teams addressed a petition to the commission today, in which they said:

ENGLAND PLANS TO SEIZE WEALTH

Proposes to Take Capital for War Debt Soon After War Ends

London, Oct. 17.—England is preparing to conscript capital literally. There has been a great deal of talk about conscription of wealth in connection with the war, but it has meant only high income taxes, excess profits, taxes and levies of that sort. The British government today has practically decided to take the next step and levy directly on capital.

TO THOSE WHO HAVE THOUGHT OF BUYING A CHALMERS CAR

An arrangement has been effected whereby the Maxwell Motor Company has leased for a period of five years the properties of the Chalmers Motor Company. The immediate effect of this transaction is:

1. The Chalmers car will be continued under the Chalmers name for a period of five years.
 2. Those distributors or dealers who have been successfully marketing the Chalmers car will continue to do so.
- The appraisers of the property and their engineers report the current Chalmers model a good car and the Chalmers plant a wonderful factory.
- The first move we have made is to increase the efficiency of the Chalmers organization.
- The second move was to place behind the Chalmers car the resources of the Maxwell Motor Company.

This is a business transaction between two automobile companies of probably no more than ordinary interest to the public but important to you if you have thought of buying a Chalmers for these obvious reasons:

1. You obtain a good car.
 2. You obtain a car produced in a magnificently equipped plant.
 3. You obtain a car produced by an organization materially strengthened by the addition of able executives.
 4. You obtain a car produced by an organization materially strengthened by additional financial resources.
 5. You obtain a car from a distributor or dealer who will have the support of this organization.
- In this way all three of us prosper in the transaction.

THE NIGHT CLASSES ARE WELL ATTENDED AT FIRST SESSION

Despite Turbulent Night, 87 Students Were in Attendance

Despite the terrors of the storm, which was particularly severe at the time, the night classes at the Central Collegiate Institute, which began last night, were well attended for the beginning. Thirty-seven students presented themselves. There was a demand for commercial shorthand and matriculation classes. There was also a demand for advanced shorthand. The students were looked after by Teachers A. J. Park, Carr, and J. M. Hutchinson. The instructors were well pleased with the opening classes, and expect a very much larger attendance at the second class, which will be held on Friday night.

profits for the year, after payment of bond interest and making provision for war tax, are given as $1,338,841.16, of which sum no less than $57,829.12 came from sources other than milling. In his report, the vice-president, Mr. W. A. Black, laid some emphasis upon this division of profits as a fitting answer to criticism as to undue profits made from breadstuffs at the present time, so far as the Ogilvie Milling company is concerned.

In his report, the president, Mr. C. R. Hoerner showed that the pension fund now amounts to $142,974.74 while contingent account, after surplus profits for the year and a sum taken from profit and loss account has been transferred, stands now at $3,500,000. It was stated in the report of the vice-president, Mr. W. A. Black, that the company will pay a war tax on the year's business greater than the dividends paid to the common shareholders.

FOOD COMMITTEE HAS POWER ONLY TO EDUCATE OPINION

Scarcity of Some Lines of Food Problem, Not the Price

According to the information imparted by Dr. James W. Robertson yesterday to the food committee on food economy, the work the committee may do is limited strictly to making unofficial investigations and reporting circumstances through the provincial committee which may be bettered and educating public opinion along lines of food conservation; the utilization of substitutes, etc. The committee has no power to make investigations into food prices, etc.; it has no power to enforce the food laws; this is the duty of the police. It may, however, and should, the speaker pointed out, urge co-operation of the public with the government in matters of the nation's good, whether the public happens to be in accord with the particular government in power or not.

Regulations to Conserve.
Food restrictions were made, he said, not to lower prices, for these could not be brought below cost of production, but to conserve as much as possible for the allies and armies overseas. Prices on certain commodities, however, would be regulated, and the ultimate aim of the food controller would be to fix many prices and to take profits over a fair amount into the treasury for war purposes.

Milk and Butter Scarcity.
Little hope was held out for a drop in prices of dairy produce. The question puzzling dealers and those in power was not the price but the supply which, on account of scarcity of labor, was dwindling steadily. The abolition of ice cream, which many advocated, would not aid matters, as the profits from this kept down the price of milk. It was admitted that ice cream was not a food but a luxury as far as Canadians were concerned, but even at that affected the price of milk not at all. Its sale was to be deplored on the ground that it was a luxury and an extravagant use of money which should go towards more serious purposes.

It is a Gross Profit.
While many contended that 25 cents per barrel profit on flour realized dividends too large during war times, Dr. Robertson pointed out that everything over actual running expenses, including dividends, was paid out of that. The millers could be obtaining a profit of 25 cents per bushel and lower the price that much, but the proportion would not mean the reduction of more than one cent per bushel of bread. The public looked at things in a mass, and to the local committee would fall the work of educating it.

Lack of Understanding.
Mr. Marnick of Lethbridge, and Mr. Tweed of Medicine Hat, members of the provincial committee, were both present at the meeting. Mr. Marnick drew attention to the fact that storage of potatoes, etc., had not been provided for in Lethbridge since security and dealers figured the government after months of storage would fix a price by which they would lose.

A Matter for Women.
This was a matter for the women to take up. He also drew attention to the extravagant delivery services which women were insisting on, and which would finally mean the lack of men and boys to undertake the work.

Mrs. Spence, the convenor, stated that the food pledge cards would shortly be in Calgary for use, and some misdirection of the food had resulted in the delay in printing.

THE KOUNS SISTERS ARE LEARNING VAUDEVILLE'S LANGUAGE
There's a language that is vaudeville's very own. It's English, but comparatively few English-speaking people understand it. Nellie and Sara Kouns, the brilliant young society girl singers who were introduced to vaudeville by the Orpheum circuit management a few months ago, and who are appearing this week, have been learning the new language, which is made up of slang and technical expressions of the stage.

These girls made no secret of their enthusiasm for vaudeville, but just at the present time they are getting keen enjoyment out of alphabetically arranging the various new terms and expressions with which they are coming in contact. Before long, they expect to publish them in dictionary form. They find this picturesque phraseology knows no caste or badge, stage crowd, artist and managers alike employing it with the same facility.

When the Kouns Sisters entered a two-day house for the first time, the stage manager respectfully inquired of them: "I believe you do not act 'in ones'?" They weren't free to answer, lest they incriminate themselves by some chance. However, when the question was paraphrased to vaudeville by the manager that he was simply seeking to know whether they used the part of the stage directly back of the footlights, and not "two," "three," or "four," which are the other divisions of a stage.

At the conclusion of their first performance, which was a rousing triumph, an admiring stage hand who wished to edge his word of congratulation in, deposed that they had "a wonderful pair of pipes." They did not know whether they had been insulted or complimented until they were apprised that the gentleman

HIGH RIVER MAN FOUND NOT GUILTY

Holding that there was no evidence to support the charge, Mr. Justice McCarthy yesterday morning directed the jury in the assizes to acquit J. B. Merriam, of High River, of manslaughter. His lordship further observed that there was no authority under which a lesser charge could be laid.

The charge resulted from the death last year of Mrs. Pastro Limoges, of High River, who was an occupant of a motor car which Merriam was driving

JURY'S VERDICT COVERS ONLY CAUSE OF BOY'S DEATH

Inquest on the Death of Harry Valentine Does Not Produce Much Information on Cause of Accident

UNSATISFACTORY Evidence at Inquest Most Incomplete; Police Evidence on Measurement Differs From Sunday

That 33-year-old Harry Valentine came to his death by a motor car driven by Robert Ware, and that death was due to the ruptured ends of the trachea and the subsequent hemorrhage of the lungs by normal suspension, or by means of the lung motor which was tied, was the verdict rendered by the jury at 1 o'clock this morning after deliberating some twenty minutes on the case of the little schoolboy who met his death in a collision with the big Studebaker car driven by Robert Ware.

CALGARY LEADS THE WAY

Next to Winnipeg, which has a much larger field to draw from, Calgary leads the way to western cities in the matter of the number of reports for service forms and exemption claims filed with the military registrars.

The authorities are well pleased with the manner in which men liable to the first call are responding early by filing their papers with the postal authorities. The registrar has completed his staff, and the members in a very short period have received considerable training and are efficient. Up to last night Registrar Carson had received 710 report and claim forms from Class 1 men, and of this number 615 claimed exemption.
