If gatherers of mushrooms wish to conserve the supply and have larger beds of them next season, this can be done by leaving the stems intact and only pulling off the tops. The stems contain the spores that produce additional crops and they are only thrown away if plucked up, so why not leave them undisturbed.

The many old friends of the family in this vicinity will regret to hear of the death of Madam Mary McDonnell, the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McDonnell formerly of Watford. She died at the Sacred Heart Convent, Sault Au Recollet, Que., on Monday, 17th of September. While she had not been well for some time her death was unexpected.

Watford clay loam is noted for its production of abnormal vegetable growth which is again instanced in the prolific tomato vines in Tom Roche's garden alongside of his hotel where plants standing 9½ feet high are heavily laden with large and well formed tomatoes. Some talk of big melons, cucumbers, potatoes and the like, but if you want to see tall tomato vines call at the Roche House and the genial proprietor will tell you how to grow tomatoes and also relate other doings that will amaze you.

Next summer is a long way to look forward to, but if Watford is to have an old boys' reunion then preliminary arrangements cannot be made too soon. Who is going to start the ball rolling? Hundreds of former residents will be glad to avail themselves of the opportunity to come back and meet their former friends and acquaintances. It only remains for the home guard to issue the invitation and make the arrangements. Will some native son or daughter make a move?

Sixteen members of Lambtons 149 I.O.D.E. enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Nixon on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 9th. Mrs. Fuller's resignation as secretary was read and Mrs. Connolly appointed to finish out the year in her place. A ladies "Bridge" was planned and a committee appointed to take charge of buying prizes, etc. A report from the committee on Plays was read and this was laid on the table. Miss Smith was welcomed to the Chapter. Mrs. McLaren poured tea in the diningroom and Miss Harris assisted the hostess in serving.

LAWN TENNIS

The District Series of Inter-club Tournaments was practically brought to a conclusion last week when Arkona visited Watford, for in the four matches played before darkness intervened Watford had scored 16 points to Arkona's 12 points and by so doing made sure of being the season's highest scorers. The ladies singles with Arkona and one set with Alvinston still remain to be settled but the results will not affect the relative position of the competing clubs.

The results of the Tournament with Arkona were as follows:
Men's doubles—Arkona won 2 sets to 1 set.
Men's singles—Watford won 3 sets to nil.
Ladies' doubles—Watford won 3 sets to nil.
Mixed doubles—Arkona won 3 sets to nil. Ladies singles to play.

The courts during the afternoon were very well attended by spectators and again the ladies rose to the occasion and were lavish in their hospitality to all. The Watford club is justified in being pleased with the interest taken in the game this year and in hoping that when the new courts have settled down as they should by next season, this interest will lead to a further increase of playing members.

This season is the first in which any definite series of Inter-club Tournaments have been played in this district; they were inaugurated and the arrangements made by the Watford club and although events have shown where certain minor alterations would be for good they have been the means of providing some exceedingly sporting and friendly games and there is every reason to hope they will be continued in the future and that more clubs will join in.

WATFORD HIGH SCHOOL FIELD DAY

On Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 9th, the Watford High School held their annual Field Day in Waterworks Park. Forest High School came over and helped to make the day a success by entering heartily in all the events.

After the banquet two hard fought games of basketball were played, the Forest boys defeated the Watford boys, the score being 11-6, and Watford girls defeated Forest girls 11-8. The full list of sports will be published next week.

Corticelli and Komfort Yarns, all the new shades now in stock.—A. Brown & Co.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Ottawa reports that deposits in post office savings banks have more than doubled in the past month, or since the announcement of the failure of the Home Bank of Canada.

The people of Canada are the best creditors that Canadian Government can have. It is a most hopeful sign to see so large a proportion of the national debt held by Canadian investors.

A Spokane woman seeks a divorce because her husband has not talked to her for twenty years. One wonders if he has had a chance or if the lady simply craves those interruptions which evoke the "snappy comeback."

There is little danger of bank hold ups in Germany. The bandits would require half a dozen motor trucks to carry away a few thousand dollars. These would take so long to load that even the Hamilton police would have time to make arrests.

Belleville Intelligencer: In 1922 there were 514,657 automobiles and other motor vehicles registered in the Dominion. The statistics show the surprising fact that in periods of less than 24 hours last year 818,374 cars bearing tourists entered Canada from the United States, as compared with 490,887 for similar periods in 1921. In view of these facts it is patent that rigid regulation of motor traffic must be enforced, especially in the congested sections of Canada.

An order-in-council has been issued bringing into effect on Oct. 1, the bill respecting the testing, inspection and sale of seeds, which was passed last session. This refers to the grading and specification of grades of seed placed on the market. Thus if seeds prove not up to specified quality, the purchaser can get redress. An important provision of the bill has to do with keeping grass and clover seed free from seeds of noxious weeds.

While Canada has only about one-half of one per cent of the world's population, she produces 90 per cent of its cobalt, 83 per cent of its asbestos, 85 per cent of its nickel, 32 per cent of its pulpwood, 20 per cent of its lumber, 20 per cent of its cured fish, 18 per cent of its oats, 15 per cent of its potatoes, 12 per cent of its silver, 11 1/2 per cent of its wheat, 11 per cent of its barley, 4 per cent of its gold, 4 per cent of its copper.

A distinct type of sheep, suitable for prairie range conditions, and possessing superior wool and mutton qualities, has been developed by R. C. Harvey, an Alberta sheep rancher. After eight years of breeding, Mr. Harvey has produced what is known as the "Rommellet" by crossing the Romney-Merch with the Rambouillet. It is understood that this breed has been sufficiently developed as a distinct type to be shortly admitted to Canadian registry.

The Globe asserts that a single plunging speculator owed the Home Bank almost a million dollars. It is remembered that the Merchants Bank too, had several millions of bad debts in the shape of loans to speculators. The public would like to know how speculators "get into" the banks for such large sums when the ordinary man doing a legitimate business often finds it difficult to obtain what he considers only reasonable accommodation. A point to be noted is that the speculative loans are made at head office, while branch managers are circumscribed in their powers and have to be cautious in making loans. The moral would seem to be: If you want to speculate get in touch with the head office.

The Kansas Sentinel: We made a mistake in last week's issue of the Sentinel. A good subscriber told us about it. The same day there was a letter in our postoffice box that did not belong to us. We called for 98 over the telephone and we got 198. We asked for a spool of No. 50 thread and when we got home we found it was No. 60. The train was reported thirty minutes late. We arrived at the depot twenty minutes after train time and the train was gone. We got our milk bill and there was a mistake of 10 cents in our favor. We felt sick and the doctor said we were eating too much meat. We hadn't tasted meat for two months. The garage man said the jitney was missing because it needed a new timer. We cleaned a spark plug and it's run fine ever since. Yes, we made a mistake in last week's issue of the paper.

Norwood Register: Watford's tax rate is 62 mills on the dollar. Amherstburg's is 60 mills while Wallaceburg another progressive town finds itself with 56 mills. It is well to remember that the town with a very low rate seldom has much else to blow about.

To those who are having their confidence in Canada shaken by blue ruin stories that are now making the rounds of certain newspapers, it would be well if these doubters studied the trade situation with some degree of care and understanding. First of all let it be said that Canada holds fourth place among the countries of the world in actual volume of exports, and in proportion of exports to population this country occupies first place. For the 2 months ending June, 1923, the Dominion was a world trader to the value of $1,844,000,000, whereas the world trade of the United States during the same twelve months amounted to $7,739,000,000. Or to put it another way, while our population is roughly one-twelfth that of the United States, our foreign trade is almost one-quarter that of the United States. In a word we are per capita the largest foreign traders in the world. That does not look as if we are headed straight for the pawnbrokers.—Toronto Saturday Night.

PETROLEA

Petrolea town hall is being repainted. W. B. French of Sarnia has the contract.

The second annual meeting of the shareholders of the Peninsular Sugar Co. Ltd., was held in the Town Hall. Mr. Chas. Richmond has a new combination motor bus and delivery wagon. It is built to carry twelve passengers.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday evening Mr. H. D. Sherrin presented a report that the Citizen's Band had re-organized, the council to give a grant of $200 and that the finances will be handled by the Band Committee. He also reported having a bandmaster in view who can be secured if suitable employment is found for him.

The death occurred Sunday of Bertha Temple, wife of J. J. Thompson, florist of Petrolea, residing about a half mile west of the town. Mrs. Thompson died at 1:30 o'clock on Sunday morning in the C.C.E. hospital after an illness of about four weeks following an operation. The deceased was well known in Petrolea and is survived by her husband and two daughters.

George Edmunds, caretaker of the Petrolea Bowling greens, suffered a severe injury Wednesday afternoon when the step ladder on which he was standing while fixing some lights collapsed. He fell, breaking his wrist and cutting his jaw. Dr. C. Smith is in attendance.

LAMBTON LOAN CO. ALMOST 100 YEARS STEADY SERVICE

Offers Attractive Investment in Debentures Bearing Interest at Five and a Half Per Cent.

The issue of the new Dominion government loan has established the fact that there is an enormous amount of money seeking profitable investment, the possessors of which are often unable to find an avenue which will offer a good rate of interest and at the same time provide the unquestioned security which is vital to the average investor.

In this connection attention is drawn to the debentures offered by the Lambton Loan and Investment Co., of Sarnia, an institution which for almost one hundred years has carried on a financial and investment business, which has had few equals in the history of Canada. These debentures are for terms of one, two, three, four or five years bearing interest at the rate of 5 1/2 per cent, carrying coupons payable twice a year. They are purchasable at any time and are backed by a capital and reserve of $1,700,000.

One of Best Available
Consideration of these circumstances show that the investment offered by the Lambton Loan and Investment Company is one of the most attractive on the market today and is sure to prove of unusual interest to those who desire to place their money in channels of assured safety and at the same time reap the benefits of an interest rate of 5 1/2 per cent. The fact that this strong Sarnia institution has served the public since its foundation in 1844 is a guarantee that cannot be overlooked.

Handling Government Bonds
The Lambton Loan and Investment Company is also accepting government bonds of November maturity for the next thirty days and will allow interest either on their deposit or conversion to Lambton Loan and Investment Debentures, from October 15, which means a bonus of two weeks interest. This is an opportunity for those who desire to convert their government bonds, that will be largely taken advantage of. The company will also accept government bonds for conversion to the new government issue in the ordinary method outlined in the government plan. Readers should not overlook the advertisement on page three regarding the "Accumulative Bonds" of this company. They are backed by its entire assets. They are a very attractive and profitable form of investment.

FOREST

Dr. Rogers has entered a suit against the town through the division court for $25.20 due him as expenses for attending the provincial Board of Health meeting in Toronto. The town will defend the suit.

Leone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Salisbury, former residents of this vicinity, was seriously injured a few days ago when she was accidentally shot in the eye by a neighbor's little girl, who was playing with a gun. The family live near Chatham and the wounded girl was taken to Chatham hospital. Hopes are entertained of saving the eyesight.

S. McLelland of Parkhill, a teamster for the Forest Basket Company, had the misfortune on Friday while loading logs to have one of them roll onto his leg and break it. The injured member was set by Dr. Taylor and he was removed to his home in Parkhill the same day.

Donald J. Livingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Livingston, left last week for Toronto, to study law at Osgoode Hall. Prior to his departure the members of the Congregational boys' club met at his home and enjoyed a "sing-song" followed by refreshments. Later Don was presented with a silver Eversharp pencil.

On Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 26, a pretty wedding took place at St. James Anglican church, Stratford, when Rev. Canon Cluff united in marriage, Ellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Henry Beaumont, Stratford, to William Duncan, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. M. McKenzie of Forest.

When a mother detects from the writhing and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it, she can procure a reliable remedy in Miller's Worm Powders which will expel all worms from the system. They may cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is but a manifestation of their thorough work. No worms can long exist where these Powders are used.

JUBILEE WATFORD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A jubilee, the jubilee
A mystery of time
Since men did raise this house of praise
To teach the life divine.
The thought to me in 'jubilee'
A gracious intent
The kind and strong should right each wrong
And straighten what is bent.
God owns the land, the brick, the sand,
We're tenants every one
He makes it clear this fiftieth year
That slavery should be done.
Have we been fed with living bread
Have we imbibed the best?
Truth's crystal stream can make us clear
Then have we stood the test?
Have girls, and boys, made final choice
And took the narrow road
This church has stood for all that's good.
Stamped by Almighty God.
We can't forget dear souls we've met
Lying quietly at rest
Lying in their day did toil and pray
And gave us of their best.
Have we grown big, and deep, and wide?

With consecrated prayer

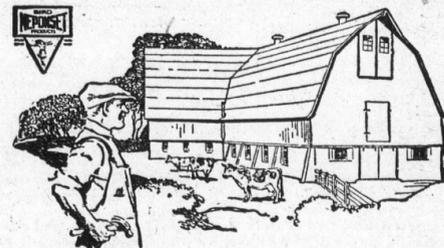

In sermon, song, known right from wrong
And found that God was there.
And do we know that sacred glow
When saints together meet?
Have sinners found the solid ground
Down at the Master's feet.
This gentle hill will find us still
With lights that ever shine
A temple fair will still declare
Man can be made divine.
Then we should see that all is free
A Jubilee indeed
And help each other, friend, neighbor, brother,
A sound and simple creed.
Sept. 30, 1923. W. B. Laws.

Angus Sutherland and son of Oil Springs, have arrived home from the far north where they have been drilling for the Imperial Oil Co. They were located at Fort McMurray about fifty miles farther north than Dawson City where the nights are six months long and where it is spoken of as the coldest day after the day before. On the coldest day the thermometer registered 52 degrees below zero, but the average was a mere 40 degrees below.

A quiet and pleasing wedding was solemnized on Friday, Sept. 21st, at the home of Mrs. Ellen Vance, 6th con., Plympton, when her youngest daughter, Jean V., was united in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. Thos. Wilkie, evangelist of Grand Bend, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. J. Stones of Wyoming, assisted by Rev. W. Raithby of Petrolea, in the presence of about forty of the immediate friends of the bride and groom.

House thieves who have been operating in Leamington have reaped a harvest by entering homes and taking nothing but money. The home of the local Salvation Army captain was rifled of $27 while the officer was holding outdoor services. At Morris' flower store $40 was taken, entry being obtained through a rear door. In some places the thieves scattered small changes about the floor, taking only paper money. The police say they have a clue.

Quite a little excitement was caused Sunday morning when fire broke out in Frank Meloche's house at McGregor. It was just church time, and as quite a crowd had assembled for the devotions there was no trouble in gathering a bucket brigade. The two adjoining houses were kept drenched and in that way were saved from the threatening flames.

The people of Wheatley having carried a by-law eight months ago for installing hydro power and lights in that town, now find themselves in the dilemma of having to vote on the question again. The Hydro Commission has found a flaw in the first by-law necessitating another vote, and the people of Wheatley are irritated because it has taken the commission so long to make the discovery. The village council will prepare for another vote at an early date.

Fire caused by the explosion of a lantern destroyed the farm buildings of William Moorhouse, concession 2, Howard Township, Sunday evening. Mr. Moorhouse was in the stable doing chores when a horse running in from the yard knocked over the lantern. Flames burst out in all directions, and in a few minutes the whole structure, which was 70 by 40 feet, was a mass of fire. The barn contained the season's crops, including 15 loads of extra fine beans, which were drawn into the building only this week. An implement shed with much machinery and a large straw stack also burned. The stock was all saved, with the exception of one calf. There was only a small amount of insurance.

Effie Duncan, seven year old niece of Mrs. Hugh Montgomery, of the Grand Union Hotel, Sombra, formerly of Plympton, may not be a very big girl, but she caused a tremendous lot of excitement in the village one evening recently. Effie had gone to school at one o'clock as usual, but failed to return home when darkness had set in. The little tot was last seen by her school chums playing by the water's edge. Every likely spot to find the youngster was searched, and men went up and down the river bank for a possible clue, but of no avail. It was eight o'clock, and practically all hope was given up of ever finding the child alive, and volunteers were about ready to drag the St. Clair river for poor wee Effie, when someone suggested searching the basement of the hotel. There they found the missing tot huddled up in a dark corner, with her clothes wet and seared to make her appearance before her aunt in case she would be spanked like she had been the previous evening for playing in the water. However, Effie has promised her aunt to be a real good little girl and to come straight home from school from now on.

The new memorial stamp in commemoration of the death of President Harding has been issued by the United States. It is printed in black and will be used on all American letters for one month. Every man should recognize himself as a factor in his home town and become a soldier of the common good. Why not? We are mutually dependent, everyone of us, from the sunrise to the sunset of life, for no man lives to or for himself alone. The utterly selfish man is a misfit in the scheme of human existence is a libel upon a beneficent Providence.

In the matter of endurance contests, an experimental test has shown some startling facts. In Chicago, an attempt was made to measure the distance of mother's daily hike. Pedometers were fastened to the more or less shapely ankles of 100 women for a number of days in succession. The experiment apparently proved that mother is "the greatest walker of them all," for from early morning till dewy eve she did an average of 14 miles every day.

A record low mark for election expenses in the Ontario Provincial elections held last June was probably set by J. H. Sproul, who was a beer and wine candidate in the electoral division of West Ottawa. According to the financial statement which J. J. Groves, returning officer in West Ottawa, has just received from Mr. Sproul, the latter's election expenses totalled $30, made up of $20 for 20,000 hand bills, and $10 for street car fare during the campaign.

Students who anxiously scan the daily papers for the results of the supplemental examinations at the University of Toronto will search in vain. The University Registrar's Department has decided that it will notify the candidates by mail only, as the work arising out of the registration of more than 5,000 students places a considerable strain on the entire staff. Most of the examination results have already been made known to the students concerned, and the remainder will be notified within a few days.

"WATFORD'S BUSY STORE"

Experts who have recently made a review of Canadian trade report that Canadian trade continues to improve in most districts and prospects as a whole are regarded as encouraging. Most of the leading wholesale centres are busy shipping out spring and summer merchandise, and a satisfactory number of orders are being received for late delivery. Surplus labor is being steadily absorbed, and the outlook in the building, iron and steel, paper and pulp, lumber, mining and other basic industries inspires much confidence in the future.

Because of complaints alleging that it was anti-British in its viewpoint, "A History of Europe—Our Own Times," has been stricken from the list of high school histories approved by the Ontario Department of Education. The criticism of the volume originated in London, Ont., and assumed such proportions there that Premier Ferguson was asked to make an investigation into the matter. The dropping of the work from the list of approved books for school use followed his inquiry. This work was not one of the prescribed texts of the Ontario Department of Education but was merely a book approved for use.

When a mother detects from the writhing and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it, she can procure a reliable remedy in Miller's Worm Powders which will expel all worms from the system. They may cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is but a manifestation of their thorough work. No worms can long exist where these Powders are used.

Internal parasites in the shape of worms in the stomach and bowels of children sap their vitality and retard physical development. They keep the child in a constant state of unrest and if not attended to, endanger life. The child can be spared much suffering and the mother much anxiety by using a reliable worm remedy, such as Miller's Worm Powders, which are sure death to worms.

Jack Frost's Victory

By Annie Salisbury Newell

She was little and sweet and fair! As Jack Frost looked down into the face of his companion, he realized that Victory St. Clair was a beautiful girl. As a little child she had been pretty and lovable, but obstinate and snappy. He remembered her in fits of anger calling him 'old Jack Frost.'

Those had been in days a decade ago, when Victory had, through the death of her only relative, been left to him as his little ward. He had just turned twenty-one then, and had no desire nor appreciation for little girls, or the honor of being guardian—even though it meant a neat income to him.

She had only been with him two months when relieving school term took her as far as he could possibly get distance between himself and his hated duty. He had placed her in a boarding school, and from there she had gradually crept higher and higher, till her graduation from college a few days ago.

He had not seen Victory since, though he had done his duty by her. He had planned her whole course, surprisingly to her satisfaction, and the credit of so young a guardian. Then the war came along and Jack Frost served his country four years. In all that time he never forgot his duty to his ward, and kept regularly in touch with her instructors.

And now Victory was coming back to him—to live with him and his old housekeeper, which was to be her chaperon.

After a decade Victory was coming back! A changed Victory! Not the little sunny curled, blue eyed, ten year old, but a wonderfully efficient, well poised lady, beautiful and sweet and lovable.

Jack Frost was pleased. He told himself that a man of seventy could not have done better by her. And Victory wasn't spoiled! All her scholarships, wealth, beauty, position and lavish admiration from her many friends of both sex, had not tended to spoil Victory. She drove there beside him apparently indifferent to her own personal charm; but alive with the eagerness of youth for adventure and a sparkle of mirth in her blue eyes.

"Victory was a dream!"

"And you're still Jack Frost?" she enquired playfully, as she reached out to catch a leaf of the shrubbery grazing the car. "I can remember when I feared you were the real stuff."

He laughed a little as he turned out for a load of hay (it was haying time). "Maybe I'm the real stuff yet."

She eyed him narrowly for a second though not seeming to do so.

She noted though his lips were firm, the glint of his brown eyes belied all severity. Too, that he was young and pleasing to look upon. Then she said "I suppose I was a little prig! I remember trying to make things hot for you the two months I was at your place."

"The fact was you pined my frozen personality; and I should have been more appreciative of your good intent."

She laughed a little, then after a long pause, "Oh, well, I've learned a little while I was away."

"Considerable by all reports," he said, a little icily. Jack Frost was given to a frosty twang.

Victory found the old house just as it used to be. The wide porches, comfy with wicker rockers, and floating hammocks and awnings. It was the same old white green shuttered, colonial house, with its green sloping shaded lawn, hedged neatly from the highways, and far, far back of the house, stretched the same sparkling, waving, inviting breadth of water, beckoning to one from between the pines. It must have been the same blue sky and fleecy clouds too, and the same birds to chant their morning and evening songs. Was ever a place with a more appropriate name 'Heart's Content.'

Heart's Content. And think of its owner being Jack Frost.

Victory met her old playfellows. There were several girls among whom were Alice and Edith McKay, and some boy friends one especially a certain Alfred Day home from college now too, and living directly across the hedge. A swell place to chat across! Folks tried at first calling her Miss St. Clair, but it didn't work somehow. Victory hadn't changed—even her wilfulness was there, and after a few vain attempts people just lapsed into the old Victory.

Mrs. Atkins, her chaperon, who loved Victory years ago, loved her yet, and watched her talking to Alfred Day. She was fond of Alfred. Many a cookie she gave him in boyhood, and even yet he wasn't loathe to eat Auntie Atkins' cookies. But she felt uneasy. Victory talked over the hedge far too much. Or maybe they sat in the lawn swing (the hedge couldn't part them long). Perhaps they motored on land or water, or chatted down by the big boulder, where Auntie couldn't see nor hear. When they chatted on the porch, they talked of very sensible things, old times, books, art, music, occasional gossip, etc. But how could she tell what under creation they talked about on the road, or water, or sitting on that boulder.

And Jack Frost didn't care! No it was rumored that there was another girl, older and possibly more sensible farther up at the resort that Jack spent his idle time going to visit. Gossip was ready to hurl all kinds of news afloat for others to take up and toss about. There was a lot of talk but they never hit the right strain.

Mr. John Frost whenever he was at home was secretly admiring Victory. He liked the way she tripped all over the house. He became dreamily spell bound when she flew her white fingers over the yellow keys of his mother's piano. He enjoyed the song, the spirit, the very lilt of her—but Jack Frost was shy, older, and more slow at making advances than the young men who trod his lawns, his bowers, his piazzas and his beach, for Victory. His house wouldn't be lonesome now since Victory St. Clair had come back.

Then came a time Alfred Day didn't come across the hedge, and Victory tried to amuse herself picking bouquets or reading, or talking to Auntie. Alfred Day sat stubbornly at home, his fine featured boyish face twisted in a snarl, and if he caught Victory's eye from her position on the Heart's Content piazza, why he suddenly jerked his head the other way.

Auntie noted all this quietly. She was secretly reading Victory. Victory was wilful as of old and didn't care.

Alice and Edith came and they all went to bathe. They splashed and dashed round and had a swell time. Shouts of merriment came up the bank to Alfred Day and Auntie—but he turned deaf ears to their sport. Then dressed in filmy white the girls betook themselves for a row. They would have tea on the lawn at five. They were certainly having a fine time! And poor Alfred sat and sulked.

Jack Frost was coming along the shore leisurely strolling. The day was growing cooler. And would you believe it the sun had gone behind a dark cloud. He had to jump clear of a wave every once in awhile, so he wouldn't get his feet wet—the waves were tossing so high. He hastened his steps around the boulder. He expected to see Victory and Day sitting there. His heart gave just a little pang. "Queer he couldn't like Day this summer! College was spoiling Day," he told himself. "No they weren't there! Probably they'd gone to the house on account of the cold. It was getting real chilly—and those waves certainly were growing rough." A shrill cry drew his attention. He looked in the direction. Three white specks were off on the perilous deep. What fools to venture out so far, and especially near those rocks! Jack Frost drew out his glass and gazed. "Victory! Alice! Edith!" He waved to them. Beckoned them to head 'e boat for shore. They seemed to have lost control.

Anchored near was a row boat, he got in and shoved away. "Would he reach them." His heart quaked. "Victory! Victory in danger! With her soft little lips and voice, and those carefree laughing ways. Victory so warm and lovable! Where was Alfred Day? Why wasn't he on hand?" He looked towards Day's landing—there he stood, hands clasped behind, witnessing it all. Frost clenched his teeth and rowed harder. Nearer—nearer he came to the helpless girls, their boat bounding, ready to overturn any moment. Horrors, it capsized! He gave a leap from his boat to save the girls. How could he save them all? The overturned boat struck Alice and she went down. He grabbed Victory, who was frightened and beginning to chill, her teeth chattering. "You've got to help me Victory!" he said imploringly. "We've got to get Alice, and here Edith, you seem perfectly helpless." He took hold of Edith as he spoke. "Edith you must help too, you can both swim. You girls hold to this boat till I watch for Alice to come up."

She was tossed over a wave. He grabbed at her. The two girls clinging desperately to the slippery overturned boat, it leaping and bounding on the billows. Jack Frost hung onto Alice with one hand, and with the other threw over the boat, the girls helping. They held it as best they could till he flopped Alice in. Then he steadied it till the girls scrambled over the sides. He hung on a few moments to keep the boat and kept grabbing for the floating oars. He captured one, and Victory, taking it, helped to man the boat. Finally after a few ludicrous and desperate efforts he succeeded in getting the other oar. Then carefully he got in and the four bedraggled, chilled adventurous ones, made for shore. Day stood watching. Victory worked over Alice. Alice sat up directly.

As they landed safely Day came over to sympathize and help the girls out. Victory took Frost's hand instead and never looked at Alfred. Alice and Edith forgot to be polite to him as they ran dripping up the bank to get dried and warmed. Day turned away.

"Coward" scorned Frost, loud enough to be heard. "Stand on dry land and let three helpless girls drown."

Auntie Atkins threw up her hands in astonishment as the four dripping creatures rushed in, raining drops all over the room.

Auntie put the girls to bed and instead of five o'clock tea on the lawn they had each a hot drink, and blinds were drawn to let them sleep off their excitement. Jack Frost phoned the girls mothers they had arranged to stay all night, and not to expect them home.

The next day after the girls were better and gone, Victory came out on the porch, a little paler, though as bright and cheerful as ever. Jack Frost arose bowing to greet her. Auntie was out of sight behind the muslin curtains, tating. This is what she saw and heard, to her satisfaction.

"Victory! Oh, Victory, I'm so glad you're around again! Victory!" he held out his arms to her, his whole attitude an appeal. Victory came to those extended arms, and they clasped closer and closer around her. "Victory, little Victory! Whose Victory are you dear?"

"I'm afraid I'm Jack Frost's Victory," she murmured happily.

VARNISH STAIN

Now-a-days inside wood work and furniture are painted with varnish stain. It is surprising how much attractiveness these stains lend to a home and at what a trifling cost. A chair, for example, will require only from eight to twelve cents worth of varnish stain, and the result will be an enormous increase in its value and length of life. Before starting to use varnish stain wipe off the article with a dry rag which has been moistened with turpentine. Next go over it carefully with a piece of fine sandpaper, and finally dust it off with a brush. Your work will turn out smooth and brilliant. When applying paint, varnish or stain, pour the required amount into a carefully cleaned can, such as a tomato can. You will find the can easier to hold and any surplus may be poured back. We have in stock Lowe's Stains and Varnishes one of the best varnish stains made. It may be had in half-pint, pint, quart and half-gallon tins and in every tint and color. A half-pint will do from two to three chairs.

For U.S. President?

When Henry Ford was asked by Montreal reporters if he would run for President of the United States, he said, "I am not running for or against anything," but when asked if he would accept nomination if proffered, the motor car king replied: "No one knows what they will do from one day to another." Mr. Ford is here seen in conversation with Mr. Grant Hall, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, at Windsor Station, Montreal.

New Lamp Burns 94 Percent. Air BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS May Obtain Relief by Enriching the Blood Supply

In the days of our fathers and grand fathers, rheumatism was thought to be the unavoidable penalty of middle life and old age. Almost every elderly person had rheumatism as well as many young people. It was thought that rheumatism was the mere effect of exposure to cold and damp, and it was treated with liniments and hot applications, which sometimes gave temporary relief, but did not remove the trouble. In these days there were many cripples. Now medical science understands that rheumatism is a disease of the blood, and that with good, rich red blood any man or woman of any age can defy rheumatism. There are many elderly people who have never felt a twinge of rheumatism, and many who have conquered it by simply keeping their blood rich and pure. The blood enriching qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is becoming every year more widely known, and the more general use of these pills has robbed rheumatism of its terror. At the first sign of poor blood, which is shown by loss of appetite, dull skin and dim eyes, protect yourself against further ravages of disease by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have helped thousands—if you give them a fair trial they will not disappoint you. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Autumn Weddings

MacDOUGALL—MacDONALD
A pretty autumn wedding took place on Wednesday evening, October 3rd, when Mary MacDonalld, youngest daughter of Mrs. Chas. MacDonalld, Wyoming, became the bride of Mr. Archie MacDougall, eldest son of Mr. John MacDougall, London road.
To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Muriel Clarke, Toronto, the bride entered the living-room leaning on the arm of her brother, Charles.
The bride was becomingly gowned in brown silk moire trimmed with gold lace, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. Little Misses Elizabeth McEwen and Donna Clements made dainty flower girls, dressed in white and pink organdie, respectively. Rev. J. C. Robinson of Wyoming, performed the ceremony. During the signing of the register Miss Helen Somerville, of Toronto, sang very sweetly "For You Alone."
After congratulations, the guests numbering about thirty retired to the diningroom where a buffet luncheon was served.
The young couple left by motor amid showers of confetti for Sarnia, Goderich, Stratford and points east. Many beautiful gifts were received testifying to the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

W. J. PHILLIPS OF SARNIA DIES AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

William J. Phillips, 19, whose parents reside at 330 South Brock, Sarnia, died in St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, of injuries sustained in a railway accident in that city. Few details as to how the accident happened are available.

Phillips, who was property man for the DeKayto shows, was riding in the property wagon, which was loaded with two other wagons on a flat car, when the accident happened. When crossing under a viaduct at the intersection of 15th and Indiana streets, Chicago, one of the girders supporting the viaduct, in some manner struck the top of the wagon in which Phillips was riding, smashing the top of the wagon and demolishing the interior. Phillips was struck by some of the wreckage and so badly injured that he died in the hospital. The body was brought to Sarnia for burial, and the funeral took place from the home of his mother, Mrs. C. Phillips on Sunday afternoon conducted by Rev. F.G. Newton to Lakeview cemetery, where the Woodmen took charge. Prior to his going to the United States, deceased was a member of the Jr. Bear Cats football team and six of his chums in the team acted as pallbearers, namely, Cap McClellan, Jack Garvin, Arthur Beauchamp, Joe Steel, Walter Burdette and Ross Canton.

At the time of his death he was property man for the DeKreko Bros. Carnival company of San Antonio Texas, who are at present wintering in Chicago where the accident happened which proved fatal to him. Besides his parents, the deceased leaves to mourn him, his sisters, Mrs. H. W. Vollis of Toronto and Miss Rubie at home. Many floral offerings were received testifying to the high esteem in which the young man was held.

The deceased was a nephew of Jack and Reginald McIntosh of Watford.

HARRY RAY

One of the kindest and most generous souls to be found in any community went to his long rest in Vancouver, B.C., on Thursday, October 4th, in the person of Harry Ray. He was born in Watford fifty-one years ago, and was of the first generation born in this village. For some years he was employed by the late Peter Dodds and the customers of that busy store were glad of his cheery smile and his gracious manner. He went west some years ago and for a time was with Mr. George Rodgers, a former merchant of Watford. At one time Mr. Rodgers sent him up to the south shore of Lake Winnipeg to look after the Indian trade. The Indians learned to appreciate him, coming for many miles to deal with him. He later went to the coast and at the time of his death was in the clothing trade at Vancouver.

He was one of a generation of Watford boys nearly all of whom have left the old town to fill positions of responsibility and trust in other places. The village ought to be proud of them. Their names would furnish a long list. The only capital they started with was honesty of purpose and a desire to give efficient service and no one better fulfilled the exacting requirements of this high standard in his dealings with his fellow men, than did Harry Ray.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Pethybridge of Watford, and one sister, Mrs. White, wife of the Bishop of Honan, China.
