Report of the Resident Secretary.

April and May, 1918.

During the months of April and May there has been very little change in the general conditions and little of interest to report in the general life of the Home.

Fortunately the Canadians have not been engaged to any extent in any of the heavy fighting which took place during March, April and May on the Western Front. There have consequently been very few Canadian casualties sent from France to England, and the comparatively few new patients we received were men who have been wounded in small local "raids," or some of the most seriously wounded men who have been in the "active" hospitals since the Passchendaele fighting last October and who have only now reached the convalescent stage.

Our accommodation has never been taxed to the full during the two months and in May in particular our numbers have been very low, from 70 to 80 men only, all told. A similar state of affairs fortunately exists in the other Canadian hospitals and convalescent homes; also in many of the Imperial hospitals.

The proportion of dressing and massage cases remains about the same, viz., from 80% to 90% of dressing cases and from 20% to 25% of massage cases out of the total number of patients in the Home.

The weather in April was rather cold and wet, but in May although the nights were cold, the days were for the most part beautifully fine and bright. The shrubberies, grounds and meadows at Kingswood and the surrounding country districts are now looking at their best. After the men have had their dressings and massage attended to, they are now able on fine days to spend an hour or two every forenoon in the grounds. Those who are fairly fit are able to do a little light gardening work, hoeing and weeding the borders, mowing the lawns, whilst even the cripples are eager to bear a hand and do what they can weeding the paths or flower borders. The afternoons are spent in games on the lawn, such as tennis, bowls, clock golf, croquet, etc., whilst some walk or rest beneath the trees and others who are more active, go for walks or motor bus rides in the neighbourhood.

In our vegetable garden, the exceptionally cold weather experienced last winter (the most severe for over twenty years) damaged greatly our crops of cabbage, spring greens and other spring vegetables. Notwithstanding this disadvantage we have had throughout the spring a good supply of these necessary articles, and now in May we have had good supplies of early lettuce, asparagus, radishes, rhubarb, etc. The very cold nights about the end of April worked havoc amongst the fruit blossoms, so that unfortunately the crop of all kinds of fruit this year will be very poor—we shall not have one-quarter of what we had last year. On the other hand, farm crops all over Britain promise well, especially hay and wheat; the greatly increased acreage under wheat and potatoes this year will considerably augment the home production of these necessary articles, so that the situation in regard to the national food supplies should be considerably improved.

The first summer we were at Kingswood our men were fortunate in being invited to a large number of garden parties and out-door fetes in the neighbourhood, but this summer there are likely to be few or none of these, the rationing and difficulty in securing provisions in ordinary households and the strict regulations of the Food Controller against providing refreshments on a large scale at fetes, etc., being almost prohibitive, notwithstanding the good will of our neighbours and old friends. But there are still plenty of healthy recreations and amusements for our men, and during the summer months we are arranging for a series of competitions in croquet, bowling and other games out of doors for which prizes will be provided from the special Donation Fund to which a number of the members of the staff in Toronto and London have generously contributed.

The following are the principal entertainments enjoyed by our men during April and May:

On the afternoon of 2nd April, 20 men attended one of the well known fortnightly concerts and teas at the Savoy Hotel, London, by kind invitation of Mrs. Corbett.

The same day another party of 20 men visited Windsor Castle and had lunch there, by command of the King. Princess Alice, who recently visited Kingswood, was one of the ladies of the Royal Household who helped to entertain the men, as she has done on several previous occasions.

On the 4th April, 10 men attended a matinee performance at the Coliseum Variety Theatre, London.

On the evening of 5th April, the Misses Simpson, four sisters, kindly gave a fine selection of music on the piano, violin and mandoline.

On the afternoon of 8th April, 25 men attended a matinee performance at the Apollo Theatre by kind invitation of Miss Adelina Levey. Their fares to the theatre and back were kindly paid by the Canadian Red Cross Society.

On the evening of 10th April, 20 men attended a gymnastic display by young ladies of a local Gymnastic Club.

A Royal Invitation Card given to one of Kingswood Patients.

Just outside the Nurses' Cottage.

On the afternoon of 11th April, 10 men attended a matinee performance at the Coliseum Variety Theatre.

On the afternoon of 16th April, 20 men attended another of the concerts and teas at the Savoy Hotel, again by invitation of Mrs. Corbett.

On the afternoon of 17th April, 30 men went to a local picture show and later were entertained to tea and an evening concert in a local hall, the cost of the entire entertainment being defrayed by the employees of the London General Omnibus Company in the district.

On the afternoon of 18th April, 5 men went to the Palladium Variety Theatre and were afterwards entertained to tea by Mrs. Baxter of the American Red Cross Society.

On the afternoon of 20th April, 20 men went to a concert and tea by kind invitation of the Sunday School teachers connected with the local Baptist Church.

On 23rd April, 13 men visited Windsor Castle and had lunch there by command of the King as before. Princesses Mary and Alice were amongst those who kindly helped to entertain the men.

On the afternoon of 23rd April, 20 men attended a concert and tea at the Criterion Restaurant by kind invitation of the American Red Cross Society, who also kindly paid the men's fares there and back.

On the 25th April, 10 men attended a matinee performance at the Coliseum Variety Theatre.

On the afternoon of 29th April, 20 men were taken for a drive in a char-a-banc to some of the principal places of interest in London, including the Tower, Royal Exchange, National Gallery, and they were also allowed to visit the stables and coach houses at Buckingham Palace. After the drive they were entertained to tea at a West-End Restaurant, the entire outing being arranged and provided by the Canadian Chaplains' Welfare Department, of which Captain Moseley is the head.

On the afternoon of 6th May, another party of 22 men were taken for another of these drives round London, followed by a tea given by kind invitation of the Welfare Department of the Canadian Chaplains' Service.

On the afternoon of 7th May, 20 men attended another concert and tea at the Savoy Hotel, London, by kind invitation of Mrs. Corbett as before.

On the 14th May, another party of 10 men visited Windsor Castle and had lunch there again by command of His Majesty.

On the afternoon of the 15th May, 20 men were present at a special display of drill, fire extinguishing and life-saving exercises by members of the London Fire Brigade at their headquarters. Thereafter they were entertained to tea, the outing being arranged by the Welfare Department of the Canadian Chaplains Service.

On the afternoon of 21st May, 20 men attended another of the splendid concerts and teas at the Savoy Hotel, London, again by kind invitation of Mrs. Corbett, this being now the thirty-ninth time that parties of men have attended these entertainments.

On the afternoon of Saturday, 25th May, Empire Day, was celebrated at Kingswood by Sports and Competitions on the lawn, of which Nursing Sister Northmore has written a descriptive article.

On the afternoon of 28th May, 10 men attended a concert and tea at the Criterion Restaurant, by kind invitation of the American Red Cross Society, who also provided a motor car to drive the men there and back.

VISITORS

On the 22nd May we were honored by a visit from General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., Chief of Staff of the Canadian Overseas Military Forces, accompanied by Colonel A. G. Cameron and Captain W. M. Nickle, aide-de-camp. General Turner spent about a couple of hours making a very thorough inspection of all Departments of the Home, with which he expressed the greatest satisfaction. He also chatted genially and in quite an informal way with many of the men.

On Sunday, 28th April, Rev. Geo. Pidgeon, D.D. (Toronto), and Mr. C. W. Bishop (National Secretary, Y.M.C.A. Canada), visited Kingswood and took part in the usual Sunday morning service.

On 21st May, Colonel Wyld, the new Assistant Director of Medical Services (Canadians), visited Kingswood, accompanied by Colonel Royce, the O. C. of the Canadian Convalescent Hospital, Bromley.

Winnipeg, Man., April 1st, 1918.

MASSEY-HARRIS Co., LTD.

GENTLEMEN:—My son, William Reid, was an inmate of your excellent Convalescent Home at Kingswood, London, for some months, and wrote you a letter of appreciation on leaving. Since then you were kind enough to send us at this address the monthly "Kingswood," and I have been carefully preserving them for my son should he be so fortunate as to return home.

Please accept my very best thanks for what you did for the boy at Kingswood. His letters home were full of appreciation, and his mother and I were indeed relieved to know that he had been admitted to your excellently organized Home.

Your obedient servant,
WILLIAM REID, SR.

Empire Day Fete

(Contributed by Nursing-Sister Northmore)

"Empire Day" at Kingswood was celebrated on Saturday afternoon, 25th May, in a very enjoyable way by games and races of various kinds, participated in by the Sisters, as many of the Boys who were fit, and their friends. There was also a party of twelve men the result one might expect, swinging around, and incidentally transferring a little sticky sweetness wherever it happened to touch. Many frantic efforts were made, and finally a few did succeed in capturing their Bun, creating not a little amusement, others finishing from our neighbors at Woodhall Imperial Convalescent Hoapital, several of whom won prizes. Some of the guests present were: Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Lloyd Harris, Mrs. Coombs, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dawkins, Mr. H. B. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. McDonald, and a number of the staff from the London office of the Massey-Harris Company.

The weather was perfect and Kingswood was truly at its best. Flowers were in profusion, making a beautiful combination in color schemes wherever the eye rested. Each one did his best to try at least for the time to banish the thoughts of war, and surely succeeded, for everyone was happy. But that, at Kingswood is not an unusual condition; it usually predominates.

The games, competitions and races were enthusiastically entered into. Perhaps one of the funniest was the "Bun-Eating Contest." Ten Buns were suspended, each having a small amount of treacle on it. Towels were placed around the neck of each contestant. An attempt was made to catch it in the teeth, with eating theirs by holding it in their hands. The nail-hammering contest for the Sisters was apparently interesting to the lookers on. After discovering that we had been given nails which apparently had had a small portion of the end removed, to hammer into what seemed like iron wood, we finally succeeded in getting the nails in, incidentally bruising a few unfortunate thumbs in the meantime. The First and Second Prizes were won by Sister McMechan and Mrs. Westall. The "Boot and Shoe Race" was decidedly funny. One mad scramble to find "mates," then get them properly laced up and back to the goal. The "Sisters' Shooting Contest" appeared to be interesting to the Boys, who no doubt thought none of the Sisters would shoot at all near the tree, much less the target. Fortunately the tree was a large one, and although some shots did land "somewhere in Kingswood," some did come close to the mark. Sisters Whitehead and Northmore were the nearest, the prize being won by Sister Northmore, who put a shot in the centre of the "Bull's Eye," much to the surprise of the boys.

Predictions were made by them that she might be drafted to shoot Huns.

The prizes were presented by Mrs. Lloyd Harris with very appropriate and pleasant remarks to the winners.

Owing to the strict regulations of the Food Controller, it was unfortunately impossible to provide refreshments for the men's friends, who were present to witness the games. After the departure of these friends, our own boys along with their twelve Imperial colleagues from Woodhall Hospital, sat down to a special Tea-Supper tastefully provided by our worthy Cook.

Everyone voted the afternoon had been a great success. Thanks are due to Sgts. McKay and Linfoot and other members of the Orderly Staff for arranging the bunting and preparing and superintending of the sports.

We may at least hope that next "Empire Day" be celebrated by each of us in our "Ain Countrie" under peace conditions.

PERSONALS

Lieut. T. Irving Findley, R.A.F. has been awarded the Military Cross, for "attacking troops from low altitudes."

Theo. Walters, formerly on Massey-Harris Australian Staff, who enlisted from Toronto, was a patient in Kingswood lately.

Corp. Claudius Blanc (Paris Office) of the 140th Infantry (French), has made the supreme sacrifice. He was in the Book-keeping Department upon the outbreak of the war.

Cpl. W. Oakley, formerly employed in the Toronto Factory, has not yet been returned to Canada as anticipated, but is still on light duty at the training base of his regiment in England. He received the D.C.M. for gallant conduct in the field, and in commemoration of this he was recently presented with a gold watch by the residents of his native town Dudley (Worcestershire, England).

In order to renovate the interior of the Home and keep the place looking tidy, some of the patients undertook to paint the walls and freshen up the woodwork, with the result that the appearance of Kingswood to-day is as good as when we took possession, and this is saying considerable after the length of time that has elapsed and the large number of patients that have passed through.

Pte. Raymond B. Whitaker dies in France.

now a Patient at Kingswood.

The Whitaker boys had neither mother nor father to stand behind them when they volunteered. This morning the youngest brother, Ed., back in Toronto with both legs amputated, received word that the first-born, Raymond, had died in France of pneumonia. In 1912 he joined the staff of the Massey-Harris Company, but enlisted in the Mechanical Transport in 1916. He had been serving in France for some time, but had escaped wounds. He was 23 years of age. Gunner Ed. Whitaker, a patient in Davisville Military Hospital, enlisted in 1916 with the 55th Battery. He was wounded while serving with the 22nd Howitzer Battery, when he lost both legs. He is only twenty years of age. The middle brother, Ewart, enlisted at the same time and with the same battery. He is now in England, suffering from the effects of gas and slight wounds.—Toronto Telegram June 12th, 1918.

Nursing Staff

For personal reasons Nurse Wilson and Nurse Hamilton have resigned their positions on the nursing staff of Kingswood.

Nurse Wilson has been on the staff since the opening of the Home, and has given very faithful and efficient service. During all this time she has entered very heartily into the life and aims of the Home, and will be greatly missed. We regret exceedingly the conditions which make it imperative that she should not spend another winter in England.

Nurse Hamilton joined the staff in December, 1916, and, from the first, proved to be a very valuable addition to the working force at the Home. She returned to Canada about two months since.

The vacancies caused by the resignations of these two nurses have been filled by the appointment of Nurse Mabel Joice and Nurse Isobel Harstone.

Nurse Isobel Harstone is a native Canadian, having been born at Roseneath, Ont. She is a graduate of Toronto General Hospital, and is highly spoken of by the attendant physicians and surgeons, and also by the Superintendent of the Hospital.

Nurse Mabel Joice was born at Grafton, Ont., and graduated at Toronto Western Hospital in 1915, since which time she spent about two years in France under the French Flag Nursing Corps. She comes to Kingswood with a splendid recommendation from the C.O. of Ris Orangis Hospital near Paris.

Gifts to Patients.

The Delta-Alpha Class of Immanuel Baptist Sunday School, Brantford, very kindly sent an Autograph Quilt for use on one of the beds in the Home.

A neighbor, Miss Cormack, has very kindly sent us a large number of tickets for the Zoological Gardens, which our men are delighted to avail themselves of during the fine summer afternoons.

Our good friends and neighbors, the Misses Champion, kindly sent a quantity of fresh eggs for the use of any special invalids amongst our men; also a large basket of asparagus sufficient to go round all the men.

The Canadian Red Cross Society, through their new chief Commissioner for Overseas, Colonel Blaylock, has kindly sent us recently, 20 cases of very fine apples, a great treat in these days of fruit scarcity, also two wheelchairs for the use of cripples, and a large quantity of toilet requisites and walking sticks for the men's use.

The Canadian Field Comforts' Commission kindly sent us a large quantity of Christmas parcels, which had been delayed in transit, sufficient to provide one for all of the Ontario men in the house at the time.

That the men appreciate these gifts goes without saying, and it is not only the articles themselves but the spirit which prompts the givers that makes the gifts all the more welcome.

Extracts from Letter from Lieut. H.E.
Wells (London Staff), dated 17th March, 1918.

"I suppose one seldom thinks of Egypt without thinking of heat and palms and dates and camels, etc., but at the moment of writing the air is quite chilly, a high wind is blowing, carrying some rain with it, and tents are poor resisters of wind, and consequently we are not too comfortable. True, there is sand, and one realizes it the more because of the wind. I am quite sure I would rather face rain than sand. We are situate in what was open desert, with only a little green along the Canal itself about a mile away, and so the camp is open to whatever weather may be about.

"Our journey out was crowded with strange experiences and wonderful sights, and so far the train journey through France and Italy has been the most interesting part of my visit to the East. We were eight days in the train, and travelled through some of the most wonderful parts of those countries. The train skirted Paris and travelled south-east and down the valley of the Rhone, and entered Italy via Monaco, from which you will understand that we passed through the garden of France, and saw some of that wonderful country open to those who have plenty of the world's goods. My greatest trouble was that we were confined to the railway and unable to explore the hundred and one interesting places we passed through. Even when we stopped (as we frequently did) for over an hour, nobody was allowed to leave the stations, and even the buffets on the stations were out of bounds (officially). Another disappointment was that we travelled down the East coast of Italy and not via Rome and Naples. I had looked forward to at least a glimpse of these places but did not get it.

"The journey across from Italy to Alexandria was full of excitement, but we never met any real trouble, it was just alarms. We were out for four days and three nights, and enjoyed reasonably good weather all the time. On one of each of the nights, certain people had to sleep on deck (which was quite agreeable) as a safety precaution. The whole of the voyage we had to have our lifebelts within easy reach: sleep with them under our heads, and for certain parts of the day had to wear them. We were all allotted our places, either in boats or on rafts, and at least twice a day we had to stand to our posts. I was in charge of a raft with five besides myself, and although we had decided what to do in the event of anything happening, I am not sure that we should all have arrived on the raft when in the water.

"My first impression of the country was how very dirty the people and places are, and this feeling has been more or less confirmed. Of course, in large places such as Alexandria and Port Said, there are points which are very fine, but the native quarters, which to us are the more picturesque and interesting, is nothing but dirt and rubbish, one wonders how people can live in it.

"On the whole the troops were well received on the journey, but I have yet to confirm some of the pictures published at home of English troops being loaded with gifts and received with flags; rather, prices seem to have a distinct tendency to mount whenever we wished to purchase anything."

Makes the Supreme Sacrifice.

Rifleman Richard Newberry (London Staff) of the Queen's Westminster Rifles, was killed on March 28th, 1918, before Arras. Mr. Newberry's connection with the Company dates back to 1903. He was at first attached to the Counting House, but later was put in charge of the Spares Order and Invoicing Department. He joined the Colors in March, 1917, and within three months was in France. He was married and leaves a widow and young son.
